By IRVING DESFOR

AP Newsfeatures

So you're a camera fan and take pictures — but what do you do with them? Pictures that are left to accumulate and deteriorate in a box or drawer serve no pleasureable or useful purpose and are a waste of effort and materials.

By careful selection, good cropping and enlarging, your pictures can come to life and become a part of your life. They can add a personal and decorative touch to the decor of the home.

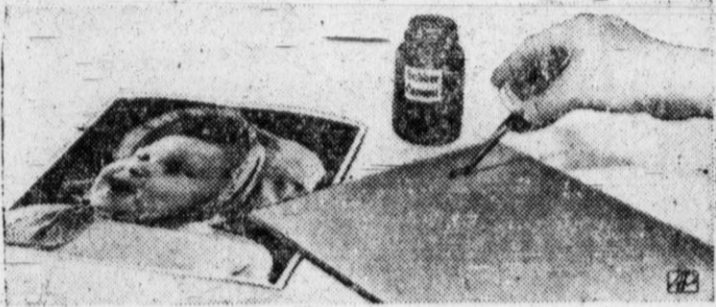

Every camera fan should have a small picture gallery or bulletin board where the best of the latest efforts can go on display. Some will be worthy of framing for durable protection.

Today, many interior decorators favor a solid grouping of many framed photos over a large piece of furniture instead of scattering them around the room. Such an arrangement adds emphasis to the photographs and can be designed for artistic balance.

Photo cutouts are another new method of displaying your photo wares in a novel manner. This consists of making an enlarged print of a figure or head with a simple outline. After gluing down on plywood or pressed board, the figure is cut out with a coping saw. The advantage of a simple outline will be understood at this point. After sanding the edges, a triangular block of wood is glued or tacked to the back as a base support to make it stand up.

Besides being one method of making messy backgrounds disappear, these photo figurines will decorate mantelpiece, book shelf, piano or baby's room with a conversation-piece touch. They might also find a practical use as place cards at the Christmas dinner or indicate the proper individual gift piles for the family at the base of the Yule tree.

Color slide fans can live with their transparencies also in picture frame view. One of the newest transparency illuminators can stand as an easel or hang like a frame. Die-cut mats are available so that up to 48 openings can be punched out to frame 35mm transparencies. Other diecut mats are

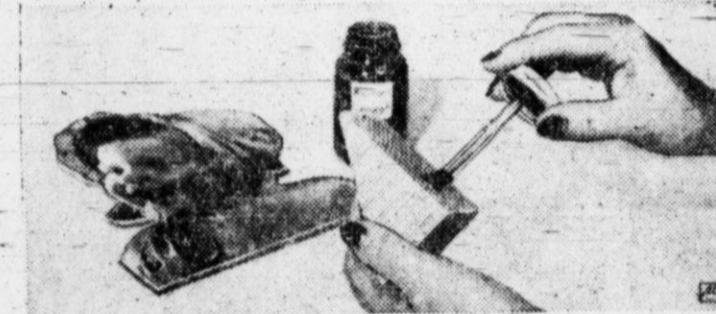

1. MOUNT print securely on heavy board.

2. CUT ground figure.

3. SANDPAPER edges.

4. ATTACH wooden triangle base to back of cutout.

5. FINISHED PHOTO figure makes charming decoration.

UNKNOWN BENEFACTOR

HONOLULU, HI — A sailor aboard the transport Renville found his wallet and $200 back, but hasn't any idea who his benefactor was.

The sailor, George Jacobs, lost his wallet in the sand at Walki. It contained $400.

A young blonde woman, out for an early dip, found it at 7 a.m. She called Pearl Harbor and was told the Renville was leaving 8:30 a.m. The woman rushed to the harbor and arrived as the ship was casting off lines.

Jacobs lowered a bucket on line and she dropped the wallet. The ship sailed away and woman drove away.

Colorado Statehouse Clerk Is a Real Party - Thrower

DENVER (AP)—You think you have a tough job with your Christmas list? The Colorado governor has a regular attendant at the festivities and picks a child personal gift.

But the greatest gifts of all been permanent homes with parents for some of Miss Mattie's kids. Several members of the legislature and others who have the festivities on TV have a some of the party guests.

DO-IT-YOURSELF
EL RENO, Okla. (AP)—Grudler of El Reno does much flying he's, becoming pert at building aircraft — home shop.

Grudler, who has built sports planes and helped on a glider, now is in the middle of another project. He's building a gyrocopter.

"I hate the thought that everybody who yearns to attend 'can't' — but we do what we're able."

The party has been growing spectacularly since 1952. That was the year the Colorado lawmakers first took an interest in Miss Mattie's "kids" after hearing her rave about them for years. Now, their contributions get just a little larger each year. Lobbyists contribute to the party and gift fund. Other statehouse employees add their bit.

How does she know what each of her "kids" want?

"I know every one of them."

Beauty At Home

Q. How can I stimulate more color into a rather pale and wan-looking complexion?

A. One good way is through the medium of a honey facial mask. Put some honey in a thin film over face and throat, leave on 15 minutes, then remove with a damp cloth.

Q. Please suggest a good, simple exercise to help reduce my abdomen?

A. Sit on floor, legs outstretched before you. Then bend forward, grasping the toes while you keep your knees straight and stiff.

Q. What is a good emergency repair for a split fingernail?

A. Cut a bit of fine old handkerchief linen to the required size, then paste this down over the split with the same kind of cement you use for false fingernails. A well-applied patch will remain intact for a week, giving the nail time to grow and gain strength.

Q. Would it be proper for me to wear high heels to my college classes?

A. Yes, if you use common sense as to how high those heels are. High French, or spike, heels are definitely out of place on the campus, because they neither fit in with the kind of clothes one wears nor are practical for walking. Spectator pumps or any so-called street shoes with walking heels are the thing and should not detract from your "beauty."

Q. What is a good treatment for dry, reddened hands?

A. After first washing the hands in milk, melt a pan of pure lanolin in the oven and rub this over the hands and nails while it is warm. For protection, you can put on an old pair of cotton gloves. If you have no lanolin, you can substitute warm olive oil or baby oil.

Q. Is it all right to use cold cream as a powder base?

A. No. Among other things, all creams of this sort are made to liquefy. The warmth of your skin or the slightest heat of exertion, such as dancing, will cause the cream to break down the facial makeup, rather than to help it adhere.

Q. How can I help to remove calluses from my hands?

A. Try applying some cuticle remover to the calluses, allowing this to remain for several minutes, then rinsing off and rubbing dry with a rough towel. Repeat, if necessary.

Q. What technique of makeup will help to increase the apparent size of my eyes?

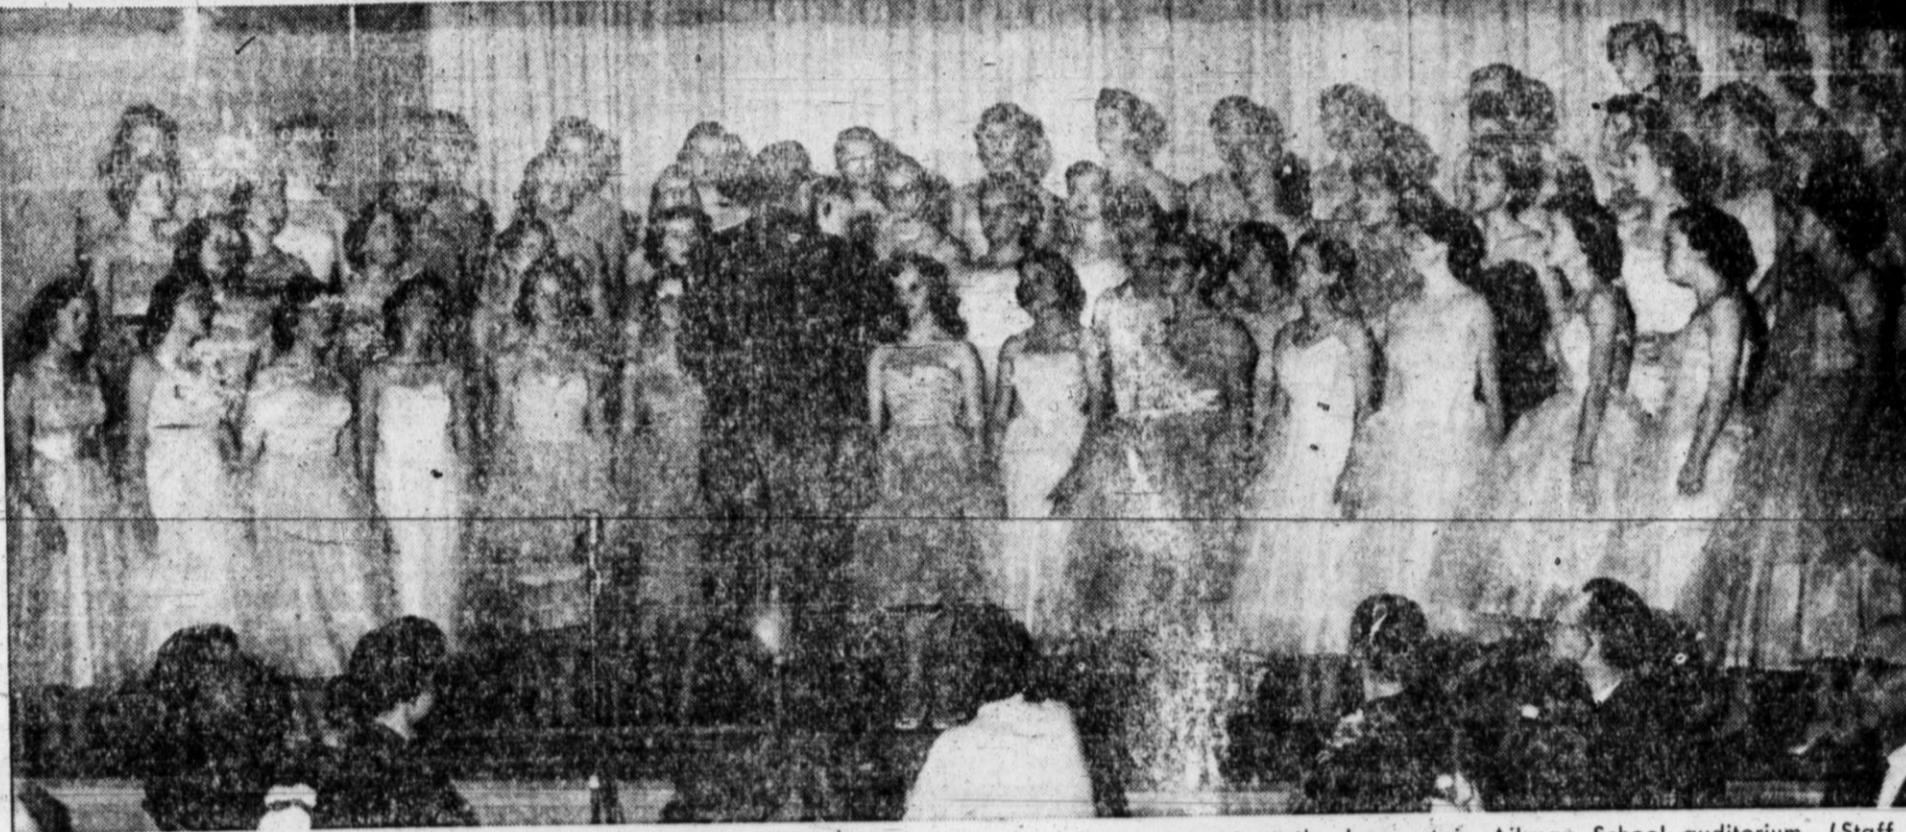

A. Draw a fine line with the eyebrow pencil just below the lashes on the lower lid. Then rub with the fingertip until it becomes just a shadow. Use mascara on the upper lashes.

Q. I have a very ruddy, flushed and florid complexion, and there are visible veins around my nose and on my cheeks. Is there any way I can make up to disguise this?

A. To my way of thinking, the best thing for you to do is consult your doctor and have him recommend some dietary changes. Usually, a condition, such as yours is due to enlarged capillaries near the skin's surface, caused by over-stimulation of foods, liquids, heat or cold.

Q. How can I make my lip coloring more lasting?

A. After coloring and blotting your lips, press a light application of powder over your rouged mouth, and then go over your lips with a second application of lipstick. Again, blot off all the excess — and your mouth should have a good degree of "permanence."

Their's Not To Reason Why; Their's but To Wrap and Tie

By HUGH MULLIGAN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Before the last drop of cheer drains from the wassail bowl, won't someone please propose a toast to those unsung super-numeraries of the holiday season: the Christmas help.

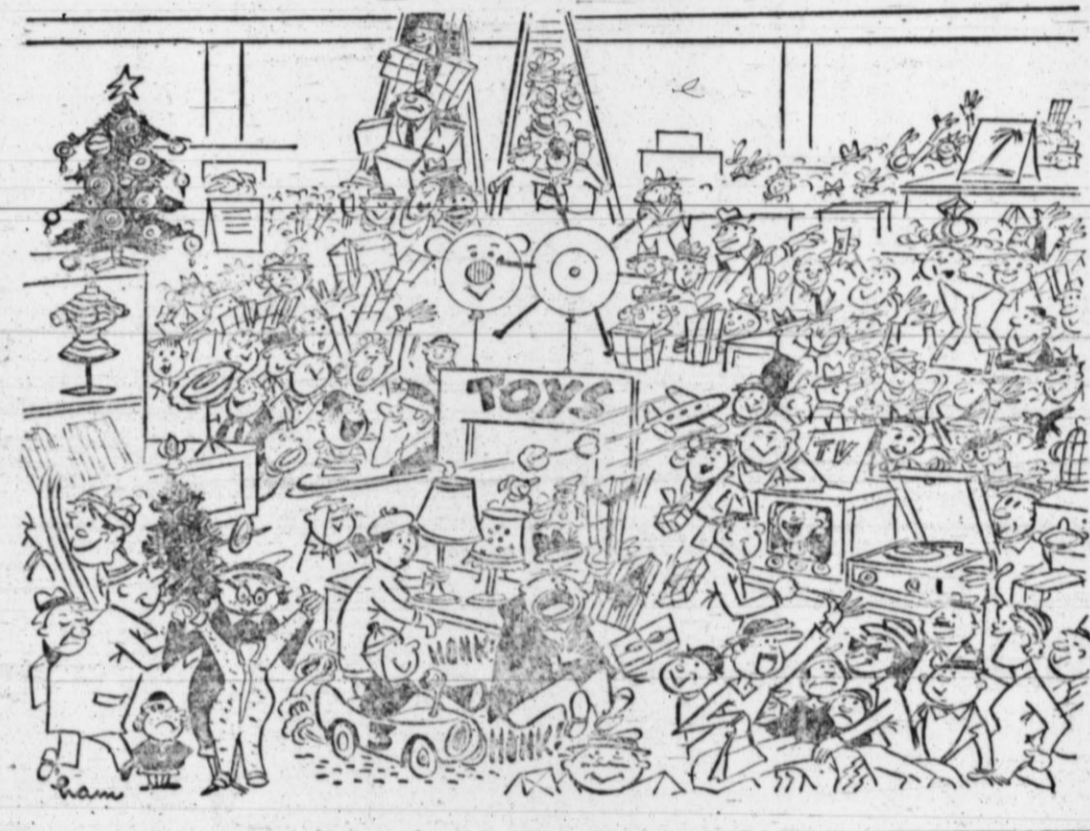

Through thick and thin, cash and credit, children lost and parents found, address unknown and C. O. D., bargain and exchange, they've managed somehow to move the mighty mass of Santa's cargo out of the warehouse, under the tree.

Customers abuse them, knowing their transitory status. The regular crew shuns them, like reservists on a summer cruise. Floor walkers and supervisors browbeat them. Small children, most of all, sense their disciplinary inadequacies and mark them fair game for harassment.

But when the rush is over, when the commissions and bonuses have been handed out to the permanent staff, when the Old Man makes his inevitable Christmas speech, they'll be left standing alone and unwanted, like a broken ornament fallen from the tree.

Come, is there none to sing them a carol, send them a card of even wish them a Merry Christmas?

How could there ever be a Christmas without them? Who would wrap the gifts, tote that mail, drive the trucks and man the cash registers?

Who would push the ludicrous line of Christmas ties, hold back the savage attackers at the bargain counter, get the Madisons Ave. types into their trench coats by Christmas?

Who could be enlisted, on such short notice, to trim the town tree, bough deck the lamp posts in the business district, tinkle the charity bell or laugh like an idiot for eight hours a day so some unknown and pitherto unseen child can carry his belief in Santa Claus into another year?

None but the Christmas help.

True, there may have been a few hapless souls among them who brought dishonor to the regiment, but by and large they were a marvelous lot.

Perhaps one over-zealous Santa did besmirch his bearded dignity and wind up in court with tottering step and suspicious breath.

Perhaps one part-time postal carrier, weary unto death of barking dogs, unreadable addresses and penny postage dues, had the unfeeling temerity to strap a bag of Yuletide mail down a sewer and spend the remainder of his shift recumbent under a tavern table.

Maybe one toy train salesman, woefully weary of saying "don't touch please" and constantly putting cars back on the track, was moved to end it all with management by deliberately dispatching a fast freight down a track already occupied by the Panama Limited.

Perhaps somewhere in this favored Christmas land, one neophyte clerk dared to find the customer wrong, trample on the floor walker's earnings or boldly return the fire when somebody's darling advanced on him with a water pistol.

But what are these among so many dedicated denizens of the December payroll?

Won't someone please find it in his heart at this happy time of the year to wish the best and many more to all these unnamed heroes who signed up for a short hitch in Santa's party-time army?

If there is none, then please allow me:

Before the last drop
Drains from the cup
Please allow me
To humbly stand up
And taking my glass
Hold it aloft
In honor of those
Who'll soon be laid off.

From each permanent employe
Each walker of floors,
From each of the bosses
With names on their doors,
From each sassy shopper
Each mischievous whelp
We bid "Merry Christmas"
To all Christmas help.

Messenger H. D. Party Friday

By MRS. S. N. THWEATT

The Messenger Home Demonstration Club members are re-joined of the club Christmas party which will be Friday, at 2:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Elmer Northcutt. Everyone will bring a gift to exchange. This will be the last meeting of this year.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Smith visited with Mrs. Ruth Coleman last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brown and son and Mrs. Josie Busley were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Coleman.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Burks of Westway and Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Brown visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Thweatt Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. N. A. Brown entered the Osteopathic Hospital, Washington and 10th in Amarillo, Monday for a minor operation. N. A. Brown will also receive treatments during the time Mrs. Brown is in the hospital.

Mrs. W. L. Potts of Rosedale is in a rest home in Clovis and is reported to be doing fine. The report is she may be able to return home around Dec. 20.

Mrs. J. E. Rouse attended a party at Mrs. Bob Wyly's home recently.

The N. A. Brown brothers and families went Christmas tree hunting Sunday.

...about Moons and Ministers

This is the day of man-made moons and other outer-space objects. First man reached for the clouds, then the stratosphere and now he is reaching for the moon. The very thought of these accomplishments "rattles" our nerves, makes us weak and an unexplainable nausea sets in. We think what next? But only one thing we know. God said, "Be ready, for we know not the day nor the hour." The day may be near when your account will be checked. Your record will reveal what your interests have been. Whether you have supported His church or helped a needy soul will be made known. Above, you see a severe storm with broken clouds lighted by lightning flashes. But what makes it worse... there goes a man-made moon. All this strange phenomenon makes it very clear that we should be about the Master's business... we should be ready... we should attend church.

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCHGOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Topic for Sunday, Dec. 15: "The Heralds of the Lord's Judgment Day." Text: Mal. 4:1-6.
Lest We Forget: "All flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away, but the Word of the Lord endureth forever." And this is the Word which, by the Gospel, is preached unto you. The Covenant of grace and peace in Christ is everlasting and sure. Our happiness, which is bound up in Him, is secure. He is the strength of our heart and our portion forever. Realize your union with Him in all emergencies, feebleness, and dangers. The eternal Christ is our refuge, and underneath are His everlasting arms.
A most cordial welcome to you.

PODRES LOOKS BETTER THAN EVER

BROOKLYN, N. Y. — The consensus of opinion among baseball experts in the National League is that the Dodgers' Johnny Podres is a better pitcher than when he hurled Brooklyn to its only World Series triumph in 1955. The Yankees feel the same after the way Podres handcuffed them in spring exhibitions.

Podres still has his fast ball and change up, but his curve seems better than ever. And he still has that good pick-off motion to first base.

RAILROADERS ALL—Sis joins Junior this year in the model train fan club, with her own pastel electric train.

Whole Family Now Takes to Railroad

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Don't be surprised if you see Mom and Sis working on the railroad this Christmas, along with Pop and Junior. The model train fan club now takes in all the family, with the introduction of new pastel-colored electric trains designed especially for girls.

The toy train empire this year includes blueprint-perfect replicas of 26 of the nation's leading railroads, as manufacturers of real railroad equipment supply the toy train makers with specifications for new models long before they are actually in service. So whenever you see a brand new locomotive or a new type train streaking across country, you can be sure it has a toyland replica in miniature.

In addition to the trains themselves, there are many new accessories to supply thrills for the young railroader. There's a remote-controlled illuminated dispatching board with an attendant who hurries across a catwalk in front of the board and changes train arrivals and departures. There's a news stand with a dealer who moves back and forth at the flick of a button while a newsboy sells his papers and a miniature pup chases his tail around a fire hydrant. There's an operating fork-lift platform with a truck that loads and unloads boards from a lumber car.

One company puts out a "how to do" booklet to encourage Mom to landscape the toy train right-of-way. It explains how to use coffee grounds mixed with varnish to simulate a plowed field, how to make bushes and trees from tinted sponges, how to make lakes and rivers from clear plastic.

This year the electric train layout has become a family project.

National Safety Council tip: It takes a car traveling 15 mph on glare ice the same distance to stop as it does a car moving 50 mph on dry concrete.

United Nations Women Knit World Together

AP Newsfeatures need no interpreters. An example of this takes place regularly in New York City, when women of the United Nations meet to knit garments for the world's children. Racial and national differences are forgotten as women from Pakistan and Haiti, from Yugoslavia, and Japan, from Africa and America get together over their knitting needles.

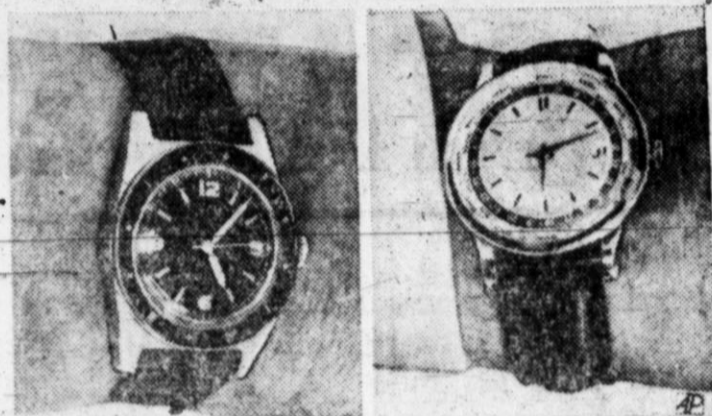

The United Nations Women's Guild provides a common meeting ground for wives and daughters of delegates from all countries, and the busy fingers of the members have turned out thousands of warm knitted garments for children all over the world.

While heated debates and fierce arguments take place among the U. N. delegates, their wives meet in friendship to engage in woman-talk and "knit the world together."

FOR ENGINEERS—This Swiss watch of stainless steel has outer rim that turns to permit calculations, can divide, multiply, figure cube root and also act as a stop watch.

FOR SKIN DIVERS—This jewel-ed-lever watch stands pressure 300 feet under sea has timer showing how long diver has been under and dial that glows in the dark.

FOR TRAVELERS—Calendar watch, made in Switzerland, is stainless steel, self-winding and has movable edge to adjust a 24-hour dial. Tells time around world.

AP Newsfeatures For the deep-sea diver there's a waterproof watch which withstands 300 feet of pressure under the sea and has a marker showing how long the diver has been under water. For the world traveler, there's a calendar watch which adjusts to tell time anywhere. For the absent-minded husband, there's an alarm watch, for sports car fans a chronograph with a split-second dial.

December Wedding Date Is Announced

Announcement of the forthcoming marriage of Miss Rhe Cates to Don Veigel has been made by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clark Cates of Lockney. The future bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Veigel, 511 N. Roosevelt.

Vows will be exchanged in the Joseph A. Hill Chapel at West Texas State College, Canyon on Dec. 21.

Miss Cates is a student at West Texas. Veigel, a graduate of Hereford High School, was graduated from Texas Christian University last year. He is now engaged in farming and the couple plan to make their home in Hereford.

WHEAT AND SMALL GRAINS NEED NITROGEN!

For the nitrogen your crops need, apply Phillips 66 Ammonium Nitrate. The nitrogen and other plant foods removed by last year's crops must be replenished to maintain higher yields and profits per acre. Wheat and other small grains respond quickly to nitrogen to help stimulate early growth... produce and support bigger heads per plant and more plants per acre.

For fall-seeded small grains, apply nitrogen this spring before plants reach the jointing stage. For spring-seeded small grains, apply nitrogen before seeding or as a top dressing early in the season.

LA BELLE BESEIGED: France Dismayed by English Invasion

By STANLEY JOHNSON

PARIS — With the franc falling, North Africa in revolt and a state of barely controlled chaos prevailing politically, France has still another major preoccupation these days. It's called "The defense of the French language" and is aimed primarily against such subversive English imports as "cocktail," "rush," "pick-up" and "star."

The literary weeklies and the serious dailies devote column after column to this subject every week, but seem to be making little or no progress. The French language keeps picking up more English as day follows day to "le weekend."

The conceptions of French and English speaking persons about language are basically opposed. English-speaking persons think of the language as a continually growing thing adopting new words and modes of expression as a matter of course. The French consider their language a finished, perfect thing which should be guarded almost like the treasures of a museum.

And some "intellectuals" here are convinced that Britons and Americans are determined to invade this treasure house as part of a plot to supplant French influence in all fields throughout the world. The spread of Frenchified English words appears based on two fundamental reasons: words in English and are adopted; and "le sriobism." Many upper-class and would-be upper-class French delight in imitating the British aristocracy.

But the way they do it makes English-speaking persons laugh. Just recently, for example, the newspaper "Figaro" lamented that with the perfectly good French word, "announcer" to describe a radio announcer, the French broadcasting and television networks instead of using "the English form of speaker for a man and speakerine for a woman."

"Le Monde" asked this week why French news agencies said "flash" instead of the equivalent "clair" and why one comes into an airport on a "beam" instead of the "faisceau herzien." But the same issue of "Le Monde" backslid a little by reporting that Algerian Minister Robert Lacoste was consulting "les leaders du gouvernement" and might address "un meeting."

Describing a holiday trip, a young Frenchman wrote of listening to "les smash-hits" on "le pick-up" before going out for "un hamburger et un milkshake au snack-bar" dressed in his "shorts et pull-over." He had been reading "un best-seller" and also found time to see "un Western musical en cinemascope et technicolor" with "une star" and "des pin-up girls" whom he particularly admired.

A professor said many of these could be called "Anglo-Saxon behavior words" and suggested some of them be adopted completely. He urged the French to write "coquette" (pronounced coke-tail) for guess what and "vequand" (pronounced vay-kan) for those few free days at the end of the week. But he asked, why say the "vequand" is for "le relax" when the language already possessed "detente"?
