'No Paralysis' In J. Hampton Case

John Bill Hampton, 17-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John (Jug) Hampton, has shown no development of paralysis while he has been under observation in Amarillo since last Tuesday, according to local physicians, who said that he will return to Hereford in the near future, probably Monday.

The youngster was sent to Amarillo when possibilities of polio were indicated. The Hamptons live on the old Hoffman farm, 12 miles northwest of here.

Four-year-old Larry Frazier is still in West Texas Polio Clinic at Plainview and reports indicate that his left leg is affected, as originally diagnosed. However, friends hoped that he might be able to return home within two to four weeks.

The special drive has been scheduled, due to the staggering costs of patient care and a two-point polio prevention program, Paul Harvey, chairman of the Deaf Smith County chapter said.

Chairmen are: Mothers March, Mrs. Lawrence McGee; Teen-Age Polio, Loyd Lovel; Emergency Mail Appeal, George McLean; Coin Collectors, Tom Alderson; Advertising, Clint Formby; Talk to Civic Clubs, etc., Irving Alexander; Special Collections, H. A. Close.

C. C. Acker and Harry Caylor are secretary treasurers of the drive and any contributions may also be turned in to them.

July Water Consumption Over 58 Million Gallons

If you thought it was hot in July, you were right!

Such, at least, is the indication of water consumption records for the City of Hereford, where July, 1954, broke all previous records with an estimated consumption of 58,483,111 gallons of water. Hand in hand with gallons goes monthly water bills, which also set a new record in July with a total of $10,526.96.

In addition to the figures above are also the seven Hereford parks, the swimming pool and fire department use through fire plugs. None of this water is metered, according to City Manager Cecil Massey, who said that it would amount to quite a few gallons.

Over Last Year

Just for the sake of comparison, the previous high billing month was July, 1953, when the bills totaled $9,666.63—or 4,224,000 gallons less water used at the same period last year.

SPEECH OVER, Ralph Yarborough and Louis Woodford, local campaign manager, discuss Yarborough's blistering reply to the "Greer Letter" in his talk here Friday afternoon. They left immediately afterward for Sudan, where Yarborough was scheduled to appear at 7 o'clock.

Yarborough Hits At Smear Tactics

Ralph Yarborough brought his campaign for Governor to Hereford Friday afternoon in a brief talk generally aimed at what he termed "Shivers Smear Tactics." He also switched from his previous attack on the "small newspapers of Texas" to the larger ones, more particularly the Amarillo Daily News, which he termed as being run by "Kansas Republicans."

Arriving almost an hour behind his scheduled 5 o'clock appearance, Yarborough apologized to the crowd—for missing his previous talk, scheduled in Hereford for Tuesday.

"And it almost happened again," he said. Yarborough said that his chartered plane "went out" in Dallas, and that a substitute charter had to be arranged for the trip to Hereford.

Foremost in the candidate's speech here was his answer to a campaign letter, printed by the Amarillo News. The letter, signed by a former Amarillo resident, E. O. Greer of Port Arthur, linked Yarborough with CIO labor troubles in that area.

He also accused Shivers of blocking the Canadian River Dam and pledged his support to the project.

Holder's Of 1953 Seats Get "First Shot" At Renewal

Holder's of reserve seats in the new football stands last year will have the option of "first choice" on renewal of the same seats this season—if they act before September 1, Don Martin announced today.

The price, $3 for the season, will be the same as 1953, despite the fact that Hereford plays five home games instead of four. Persons wishing to renew the reservations should call or contact Mr. Martin at the high school.

After Tuesday, August 31, seats not reserved will be thrown open to the public for reservation. Mr. Martin pointed out. He also said that other seats are available now for persons who did not hold reservations in 1953. Proceeds from the seats are used to retire costs of the stands.

Woman Bootlegger Sells Cold Beer At 50c A Can

Women bootleggers aren't too common in these parts, despite the fact that Teodora Garcia, age 34, who pled guilty in County Court here Wednesday told the judge that she was selling beer for 50 cents per can.

She pled guilty to the charge of "possessing liquor for sale in a dry area" and, after reviewing the evidence, was sentenced to "10 days in jail" by County Judge Horace L. Schloss. She was given credit for time already spent in jail since her arrest August 9.

Teodora, a resident of this county for eight years, said that she had been selling beer at the labor camp for the past five or six weeks. She was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Charles Skelton following reports that she was selling beer and other intoxicating beverages.

Skelton told the court that she first denied the charge and asked about a search warrant. When he offered to get the warrant on the police radio, Skelton said that the woman gave permission for a search of the house. Skelton said he found 15 cans of beer in the ice box, then discovered "50 or 60 cans" in a burlap sack.

Army Of 250 Workmen, Four Diggers Streamline Harvest As '54 Potato Season Draws To A Close

Indicative, possibly, of the successful 1954 potato harvest in this area was the way it drew to a close this week on the Howard Gault place, four miles southwest of Hereford.

A congregation of around 250 workers and four diggers were concentrated on the small 25-acre tract, and gathered on the last red Pontiac from another field that consistently produced more than 300 sacks to the acre. Gault's 1954 yields were high throughout the season, running around "300 sacks—and better."

Man-Power Galore

The large crew, possibly representing the most man-power ever assembled in this area, was a combination, made short work of the harvest. Under supervision of Cameron Gault, the four diggers started work Tuesday afternoon and finished the field Wednesday morning.

Late yields have been consistently heavy, according to producers and handlers, who estimated that the 1954 season is "just about over." Average yields through the season have been good on fields not damaged too much by hail and late frosts. Near-total loss on some of the acreage, however, brought the overall average to an estimated 125 sacks to the acre. Most potato men figured around 4,200 acres of potatoes in this area, resulting in approximately $2 million from the 1954 crop.

The one bright spot for 1954, all agree, was the excellent price on Hereford potatoes. Quality was good, of course, and the result was a market price of $1.15 per bushel for a season average. A few times the market went as high as $4, and $2.85 was established as the low.

Several of the producers have indicated that they will follow their potato crop with lettuce; others will hold the land back for seeding in wheat and other commodities.

MANPOWER AND MACHINES wound up the potato season for Howard Gault with a flourish here Wednesday, when 250 workers followed four diggers to clean up his 25-acre tract four miles south of town. The crew, only a portion of which can be seen in the above picture, was possibly the largest ever assembled on such a small acreage. The field produced 300 sacks to the acre.

Around Town

State-level politics was the chief topic of conversation around Hereford this week as Allan Shivers and Ralph Yarborough swung into the last two weeks of their heated race for governor.

County Clerk Ralph Smith reported a total of 12 absentee votes here Saturday morning. This is 50 percent over the eight polled in the first primary at the same period of the race. Absentee voting will continue through Tuesday, August 24. A total of 74 absentee ballots were filed in the first primary.

A sign, "Democratic Headquarters" appeared on the office of Cecil Guseman in the hotel building on Friday afternoon, concurrent with Yarborough's appearance here. The sign, in big letters, resulted in much speculation, especially among those persons who favored Shivers.

Also creating considerable comment among observers on both sides of the race was the large number of Oldsmobiles which carried flashy Yarborough stickers on the windshields. "If I could trade my Chevy for an Olds, I might vote for him myself," one Shivers booster was heard to remark.

Bill Stanford dropped in Saturday morning to announce an FFA meeting for Monday evening at 7:30—at the swimming pool in Hereford. He urged all boys to be present, if possible.

Mrs. Frances W. ... accompanied by her daughter, Jane, and son, Ted, returned recently from an eight-week tour of Europe. They visited eight different countries while on the trip.

Don Martin, High School principal, came back from Anson Tuesday, where his father, V. L. Martin, 73, is in critical condition. Don said that he may be called back to Anson at any time.

A. G. Thompson Wednesday reviewed the history of Deaf Smith County for members of the Hereford Lions Club. "Just for protection," he brought along Claude and Vern Witherspoon, who he introduced as "real old timers."

Next week will find a lot of Hereford merchants in Dallas for the annual market reviews. Among those who have announced that they will attend are: Mr. and Mrs. Pick Harmon, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Alexander, Mrs. Arthur Thompson and Mrs. Bess Moore.

Back to politics. Mel Ruth Alken, along with several other fans, are boosting for Judge Few Brewster for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, Place 1. A former employee as a "briefing attorney" in Judge Brewster's office. Mrs. (Continued on Page 5)

TOWNSEND DOUGLAS

Townsend Douglas Succeeds Allison As Bank President

Purchase of a substantial block of Hereford State Bank stock by Townsend Douglas of Abilene was announced this week, along with his election to the position of president of the bank.

Mr. Douglas succeeds J. R. Allison to the post, effective immediately, and will move to Hereford with his family around August 30 to become actively associated with the business. He said that no personnel changes are planned, leaving the following officers in addition to the new president: W. M. Decker, executive vice president; Roy Phillips, vice president; Cliff Estes, cashier; Doris Lindsey and Betty Turpen, assistant cashiers. Directors are: Townsend Douglas, J. R. Allison, Howard Gault, W. M. Decker and W. N. Hodges.

"We would like to get to Hereford sooner," said Douglas, "but the trade was made pretty fast, and I have a lot of loose ends at Abilene which have to be straightened out." In addition to Mrs. Douglas, he will be accompanied here by a son, Wade, age 14, and a daughter, Sue Ellen, age six. "We are all looking forward to the move," he continued, "chiefly because it is like coming back home." The Douglas family previously resided in Amarillo, and Mr. Douglas was reared in Tulla, Texas.

Mr. Douglas has a long record of experience in the banking business. For the past two years, he has been vice president and director in the Farmers and Merchants National Bank at Abilene and, from 1949 to 1952, he was executive vice president of the American National Bank in Amarillo. He was also engaged in the implement business in Amarillo for a brief time and is familiar with the industry and general interests of this area. Prior to his association with the Amarillo bank Mr. Douglas spent six years with the Production Credit Association of Texas, two years as assistant secretary and treasurer, and four years as credit examiner out of the Houston office.

He moved to Tulla when he was 12 years of age, attended the Tulla public schools, graduating there in 1927. He later attended the University of Tulsa and Texas Tech (Continued on Page 2)

Shampoo And Set? "No, Thanks.. Just Looking Around."

Driving a car into a beauty shop might indicate that some woman was in a hurry to get her hair done, but not so in the case of Donald Ray Shaw, 292 Avenue K, who Wednesday afternoon drove a 1937 Chevrolet over the curb in front of the Beauty Mart and erected the builders glass under the display window. This time it was merely a case of faulty brakes.

Shaw had turned into an angle parking space in front of the Beauty Mart on the west side of Main Street about 150 feet north of Second Street and, when he attempted to stop, his brakes failed.

Very little damage was done to the beauty shop and about $5 damage was done to the Chevrolet.

at Lubbock. In addition to his banking interests, Mr. Douglas also operates his farm at Tulla.

J. R. Allison, retiring president of the bank will remain on the board of directors. He assumed the office of president on Jan. 3, 1950, and continued in the post until this week. Assets of the bank, during this period have increased from $2 million to $34 million.

"I foresee continued growth of the bank," Mr. Allison said, "and have enjoyed working with the present organization. However, I feel that I have a full-time job in handling the affairs of my own farming and cattle business. It is a real pleasure to turn the presidency of the bank over to a man like Mr. Douglas, who has a substantial investment in the organization, and who plans to make his home here as a citizen."

Mr. Douglas is a member of the Baptist Church, belongs to the Masonic Lodge and to Kiwa Temple Shrine in Amarillo. He is also a member of the Kiwanis Club in Abilene and has been active in community affairs in the towns where he has lived.

Yarborough.. Teachers.....

For Water Conservation
Yarborough used up so much time in his defense against Shivers charges that he was unable to go into his own campaign program for governor. However, he did cite water conservation as one of his objects and reviewed a proposal for "50 big dams" in the lower part of the state, along with "a lot of little dams" in this country.

Yarborough was introduced by Joe Cowan, Dimmitt real estate man, who heads his campaign in this area. Cowan also attacked the Amarillo News "Open Letter" and referred back to the days of Herbert Hoover.

He said it was once: "Hoover vs. Roosevelt," but now the people can choose between "Tom Connally and Wes Izzard."

During some 45 minutes delay in Yarborough's arrival, Lon Smith, Yarborough's campaign manager in Amarillo, also addressed the crowd. He was introduced by E. S. Ireland. Following Yarborough's message, I. L. Whitfield appealed to the group in behalf of the school teachers of Texas. Mr. Whitfield said that he was forced to "farm on the side to make a living," due to low pay scales in the profession. He also said that he is acquainted with the Yarborough family.

The crowd, estimated at 300 by the Amarillo News, was a source of considerable argument among spectators during the afternoon. Some placed the count as low as 75, and Buryl Elliston said he "counted 10,000, then quit." General estimates, however, were 125 to 150 persons, scattered over the entire south lawn of the courthouse.

after that, the rate is 9 cents per thousand.

Heavy consumption this year was attributed to hot weather and increased population. Anyway, it is a lot of water — "under the bridge" — on the lawn, or in the tub.

CORN CASSEROLE A GOOD HOT WEATHER DISH.

Food experts recommend one hot dish per meal during the summer months. Mrs. J. R. Allison has a good recipe to use for that one hot dish, and it's the kind anybody can fix. It's inexpensive and it doesn't take much time to prepare and its simple ingredients give the body to a meal that summer menus need.

Mrs. Allison has used the recipe since she has had a home of her own. Originally it was a special dish prepared by her mother, Mrs. H. G. Conkright, who learned about it in Kentucky, her home before coming to Texas. Fresh corn off the cob, frozen corn or canned corn may be used, but while there is an abundance of fresh corn, it makes an easy way of using fresh vegetables while in season.

Corn Casserole

- 1 No. 2 can of whole kernel corn salt and pepper to taste
- 1 small onion minced
- 1 small green pepper minced
- 1 heaping tablespoon butter
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 cup sweet milk
- 2 level tablespoons flour
- 2 well beaten eggs

Mix ingredients well and pour in buttered casserole. Bake in 350-F degree oven until top puffs and is browned.

Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Kaul, Larry and Walter returned home Wednesday night from points of interest in South Dakota, Wyoming, and Colorado. At Sturgis, S. D., they visited the Grady Wilson family and drove out to the Wilson Ranch near Faith. Three of the Wilson boys, Junior, Donald and Larry, live at the ranch, which is more than 90 miles from Sturgis. The Kauls and their hosts attended the Deadwood Rodeo and the Black Hills Passion Play at Spearfish. At deadwood they also visited relatives of Mr. Kaul. En route home they visited Mr. and Mrs. Lee Andrews at Denver and the Bill Jones Ranch near Monument.

The dry weather which continues in this vicinity is keeping farmers busy irrigating. A few have taken advantage of the few remaining days before school begins to get in a vacation in the cooler areas. Sweet corn at the Merlin Kaul and Jack Renfro farms is being picked and marketed this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Landers and Ross Joe are spending several days at their ranch near Los Vegas, N. M.

Mrs. Gilbert Fox of Austin and Mrs. Mary Barnes of Roswell, N. M., are in Hereford to be with their mother, Mrs. Sallie Carter, who has been ill at the home of her son, Jess Carter. Mrs. Barnes was accompanied by her niece, Florence and Kathy Moore of Roswell.

MR. DEMOCRAT

IF YOU DID NOT VOTE IN THE FIRST PRIMARY, make up your mind now you will go to the polls on August 28th., and VOTE, but before you go, consider the fact that the real issue in this Campaign is NOT the Tideland, the Korean War, Communists in Government, nor the danger of Texas being turned over to "Outside Radicals", who we have been told are Pouring Out Money and propaganda to defeat Mr. Shivers. Have you seen any evidence of a Deaf Smith County slush fund? or have you met any of these undesirables who are spreading propaganda? The MOST IMPORTANT ISSUE IS, Will we deliver Texas into the hands of Mr. Shivers again to be delivered by him to the Republican Party in 1956? He tells us he wants to serve us another two years in order to solve our water problems, and says he is calling on the 300,000 farmers of the State, and wants suggestions from all persons, whether they voted for him or not.

Since he announced for his THIRD Term, he has made no reference to what his plans are for 1956, however, prior to that time, he let it be known if the Democratic Convention in 1956 did not suit him, he would bolt the party again which throws some light on what his intentions might be. Then too, his Republican friends seem to be interested in him. Mr. Jack Porter, Republican Committeeman injected himself into the first primary in his interest; Also, according to The Ft. Worth Star-Telegram of July 29th., the Republicans of Dallas County, scratched their own candidate whose name was on their Primary ballot, and gave him a majority vote by writing in his name as their candidate. All this may not mean anything, but should their own candidate, Mr. Tod Adams, withdraw, Mr. Shivers would become their Nominee for Governor, and legally so. Should he accept their nomination, he would still be in the Governors Race until November Election. Will he accept if defeated by Mr. Yarborough August 28th. and Mr. Adams withdraws?

If you believe in the many beneficial laws enacted under Democratic Administrations, and want to retain them.

MRS. STEVE BAVOUsETT

MRS. JAMES ALSTON

Mary Frye Is Bride Of Steve Bavousett

Miss Mary Frye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Frye of Dawn, became the bride of Steve Bavousett of Friona in a double-ring ceremony at seven o'clock Saturday evening in the Immanuel Lutheran Church in Hereford. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Bavousett of Snyder.

Rev. Harold Kaestner, pastor, directed the impressive service as the couple and their attendants stood before the altar facing the large cross which forms the mural wall at the west end of the church. Pyramiding tapers formed a center arch, backed by tall palm trees and fernery with tall altar vases holding bouquets of white asters. The immediate altar was flanked by seven branched candelabra and graduating baskets of white chrysanthemums and gladioli. Flame tipped candles gave illumination from the windows that line the side walls of the church.

Gwyneth Bigham of Muleshoe, organist, played pre-nuptial selections as the guests were arriving, including "Barcarolle," "Schubert's Sonata" and "Clair de Lune" and accompanied David Goldston who sang "O Promise Me" and "Because." Wagner's "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" was played as the bridal party entered the Mendelssohn's Wedding March was used as the recessional. A white aisle cloth was laid for the entrance of the bridal party.

Attendants

Mrs. Richmond Hales of Canyon served as matron of honor, Mrs. H. T. Duff of Slaton was bridesmaid and the bridesmaid was Miss Billie Cluck of Dimmitt. They wore identical gowns of ice blue satin and faille fashioned with sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice and very full skirts worn over ermine. Half-hats were of blue maline and velvet and they carried nosegays of soft pink asters.

Nan Neal and Sara Bavousett lighted the tapers; the girls wearing blue nylon and organdy floor-length dresses with ermine-trimmed skirts. Candles were held in a nosegay of pink Sweetheart rosebuds.

Lynn Bavousett of Hobbs, N. M., served his brother as best man and ushers were Ray Rampy of Lubbock and Dwight Nowlin of Friona.

Escorted By Father

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. Her traditional wedding gown was fashioned of shimmering satin and Chantilly lace with bodice of lace over ivory satin featuring high scalloped neckline and traditional pointed sleeves—the full skirt was a soft spill of satin made with center front panel of lace and terminating in a Cathedral train. Her tiered finger-tip veil of silk illusion was caught to a shell cap of satin, edged with pleated net ruching embellished with simulated pearl trim, and artificial orange blossoms worn by her Grandmother Frye at her wedding 73 years ago. The bridal bouquet was of white rosebuds and stephanotis, arranged with maline tufts and white satin streamers.

Mrs. Frye chose a black silk suit dress with pink accents for her daughter's wedding and her corsage was of pink Sweetheart roses. The bride-groom's mother wore a navy sheer with pink Sweetheart rose corsage.

Reception at Church

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held in the church parlor. The bride's table was done in all-white with the floral center piece arranged of white asters and maline tufts in a crystal container.

Members of the wedding party were Mrs. R. A. Frye, Mrs. Roe Bavousett, Sallie Womble, LeRoy Johnson, Mrs. Bill Carthel, Mrs. Bill Rossi, Mrs. R. L. McAnally and Miss Billye Jones.

When the couple left on a short wedding trip in Colorado, the bride was wearing a Lilli Ann suit of blue silk mohair with gauntlet cuffs set off by hand-cut Austrian jewels. Her corsage was of Sweetheart rosebuds.

The bride attended the University of Colorado and holds both B. S. and a Masters degree from West Texas State College. She was a member of Alpha Rho Tau, the A-Capella Choir and the Women's Chorus. She taught in the public schools of Haines City, Fla., the past year.

Mr. Bavousett is a graduate of Texas Technological College, Lubbock, and attended John Tarlton for a time. While at the Lubbock school he was a member of Alpha Chi, Alpha Zeta the mixed choir and mixed glee club.

After September 1, the couple will reside in Friona, where he is work unit conservationist for Farmer County. Mrs. Bavousett will be a member of the Friona Public School faculty.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Henry and children of Lexington, Okla., are guests in the home of her sister, Mrs. Leroy Aven.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McCracken left Friday for Taos, N. M., where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mauer at their ranch.

Club Activities Provide Interests In Community

MRS. HILTON HIGGINS

The increasing number of young women in Hereford's long list of club presidents has proved that the younger generation is not only mindful of its own interests along cultural and educational lines, but that they are completely aware of their responsibilities in the welfare of the community.

Mrs. Hilton Higgins, new president of L'Allegra Study Club, is proud of that club's record and, with September not too far away, is looking toward plans for the fall opening of the club season.

Organized in January of 1946, the club had as its purpose the promotion of friendship and happiness, along with the provision of a medium of co-operative study. Maintaining happy homes was also a goal set by the group, which strives to live up to its name, "L'Allegra" meaning: The Merry Ones.

Programs each year have been built around the club motto "Mind Employed is Mind Enjoyed" to coincide with current interests of members.

This year's course of study has to do with "Living Together in the Home" with a miscellaneous program dealing with art, music, and religion and current topics of timely interest. Mesdames J. W. Robinson Jr., Bill Waldrop and George McLean served on the year book committee.

Opening Meeting

Schedules call for the first meeting of the year to be held on the first Thursday in September, when a Coke party will be featured and work for the coming year discussed. During the season a covered dish supper will be held for husbands, a guest-day tea will be held and an informal Christmas party when an exchange of gifts will highlight the holiday season.

Several projects have been sponsored during the year. In 1952 a check for $532.00 was sent to

Baptist Church Scene Of Sharp-Alston Rites

Before an altar, banked with greenery and center-arrangements of white gladioli and white Mariposa daisies, Miss Shirley Sharp became the bride of James Alston Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. Seven branched candelabra held pyramiding tapers at either side of the nuptial space augmented by tall baskets of gladioli and chrysanthemums with graduating baskets of the white flowers completing the setting.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Sharp and Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Alston.

The double ring ceremony was read in the First Baptist Church with the pastor, Rev. Howard Scott, directing the vows.

Mrs. Howard Scott, organist, presented a concert of wedding selections including "Love's Greeting," "Indian Love Call" and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life." Goldston, soloist, sang "I Love Thee, Dear" (Grieg) and "O Promise Me" (De Koven), accompanied by Mrs. Scott. The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional.

The feminine attendants were: Mrs. Jack Miller of Panhandle, aunt of the bride, who served as matron of honor and bridesmaids Patsy Jackson and Sue, Scarth. Their floor length dresses were of taffeta and net in colors shading from the deep rose worn by the matron, to pale pink. Fashioned identically, the dresses had taffeta bodices worn with basque and redingote of white lace. Pink ruffles outlined the edge of the redingote skirts. They carried hand bouquets of orchid asters tied with net and ribbon streamers.

Kern Grandstaff of Panhandle served as best man and ushers were Joe Hershey and John Dale Kelly.

Tulle, Lace Over Satin

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was in a gown of white Chantilly lace and tulle, made over matching satin, designed with fitted bodice of lace which met the skirt in a point in front and buttoned in the front with tiny satin-covered buttons. The very full skirt, worn over hoops, was dramatized with a wide panel of lace in the back, ending in a chapel length train. Her tiered veil of French illusion was attached to a braided satin cloche accented with seed pearls. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom, and she carried a bouquet of white rosebuds and stephanotis tied with white satin streamers.

The bride's mother wore a beige shantung frock and the bridegroom's mother chose a navy dress with navy accessories. Both wore corsages of sweetheart rosebuds.

Reception At Bride's Home

The bride's parents were hosts immediately following the ceremony, at a reception in their home. The bride's table was centered with a tiered arrangement of orchid and pink asters and a single tall taper at the back. Betty Ramsey and Dixie Young presided and Mrs. Clinton Massie registered the guests.

When the couple left on a short honeymoon trip to points in Colorado, the bride was wearing a pink dress with bolero jacket and a corsage of Sweetheart rosebuds.

Mrs. Alston is a graduate of Hereford High School and for the past two years has been employed as secretary of the First Baptist Church. While in high school the bride was a member of the High School Sextet, was named personality queen, and most outstanding student her senior year and she served as the Kiwanis Club Sweetheart for two years.

Mr. Alston, also a Hereford High School graduate, has been a student at Texas A&M College for the past three years. They plan to return to Hereford for a brief stay before going to Bryan, where he will complete his work at A&M. He served as president of the sophomore class in Hereford High School and was named "Personality King" and most outstanding student during his senior year.

FANCY AND PLAIN

By Kent Sware

The brochures put out by the various universities, pertinent to, and descriptive of, their football facts and hopes, are all well done and, of course, are indispensable to sports writing type of wretches. Just occasional, along comes one, that, for info purveyed, or humor protruding, or for both, is outstanding. In such category falls the '54 brochure of the Oklahoma Aggies. This information piece is the handiwork of Otis Wile, Sports Publicity Director of said school. While I don't have his sanction to reprint parts of same here, since it is redone verbatim, as far as material used is concerned, I doubt that he will protest, adversely. Cousin Otis, as he labels himself and as such, is affectionately referred to by many sports writers, is a deft publicity man and a humorist of the first water. I envy his ability and I hope that his beloved Aggies have such an eminently successful '54 season that he will not have to expend any of his excellent wit in redemption thereof. The following is quoted from the Oklahoma A&M Football Sportswriters Work Book for 1954: "Press Tickets: A sheet of paper enclosed is your ticket order blank. It is for use by newspaper and radio and TV folks. Read it carefully and then fill it in and don't ask for more than your allowance. It is the most liberal press policy in the nation already. Enclose your check as indicated on the blank and we'll mail your tickets in advance. Working Press tickets in the press box are absolutely non-transferable and if you give them away and non-newspapermen show up in the box with your ticket you go on the "Goodbye Albert" list from now on. This is for your protection of a privilege only you have earned but some of you have disregarded it. Don't do it again, buddy, or the book will break your plate. . . . (The Princeton influence was strong in the A&M faculty in the '90's, which may have accounted for the colors chosen and the early nickname of the varsity teams, "Tigers," this latter nickname being dropped about 1920. Also dropped was the sometimes slogan for A&M as "the Princeton of the West.") (It is understood here in the red hills that Princeton now regards itself as "the Oklahoma A&M of the east.") . . . Nicknames: Aggies, Cowboys, Cowpokes, Pokes and Punchers, Farmers and sometimes Okies, although the latter designation is not popular with native Oklahomans and its use has been known to create business for the internes on night duty when the word Okie is used without smiling by rival fans. Most heartily disliked, however, is the term "Sooner Aggies" sometimes applied to A&M teams, unwittingly by out-of-staters. The University of Oklahoma teams are referred to as "Sooners" and it was the name applied to squatters in the early days who illegally entered Oklahoma Territory before the opening runs. (Mayhap I should have asked permission from Harold Keith before exposing this). All A&M forebears were legal settlers who paused at the border to ask, "Which way to Oklahoma A&M

We hope it will prove to be helpful in your coverage of A&M football. It is not elaborate, nor filled with pictures. Our budget isn't elaborate either and we aren't trying to get out the senior annual. If it isn't in here and you need it, write Otis Wile, Sports Publicity, A&M. Candidate Scores Small-Town Press

With Texas entwined in the midst of what is possibly the state's "hottest" and bitterest gubernatorial race, it is only natural that Texas newspapers should come into the line of fire from one, or both, of the candidates. Anyway, it happened this week when Ralph Yarborough aimed both barrels at the small-town press of Texas.

As for the other 600-odd small-town newspapers in Texas, we cannot authentically speak. Concerning The Brand, however, we would like the candidate to know that our editorial policy is not "for sale". This includes the money Mr. Yarborough might have from the big labor bosses back East, along with the Shivers fortune and the entire Sharry Estate.

Use of the press as a "goat" to divert attention from his own short-comings was first successfully employed in Texas by W. Lee O'Daniel. Since then, it has become a popular pastime and cover-up policy with many candidates, especially the "left-wing" type, which places election above truth, as well as the general welfare of the state or community.

We do grant that a giant percentage of the small-town press of Texas favors Gov. Shivers. Knowing a great percentage of the publishers personally, we also feel that there is a reason. That reason is because they are interested in the welfare and in the future of Texas -- and good government.

This does not mean that The Brand classifies Mr. Shivers as being perfect, nor does it mean that we endorse or approve a third term. It does mean, however, that we have looked at the vote in the strong labor-dominated boxes; that we have noted the heavy Negro vote in favor of Yarborough. -- It also means we noted with interest that Mr. Shiver's home box at Mission gave him an endorsement of 6-to-1 in the first primary. We also noted that Mr. Yarborough's home box, where he has lived for a number of years, Voted Against Mr. Yarborough by a margin of 3-to-1. These were people who best knew the candidates and their habits well.

To say that all newspapers are dishonest is just like saying that all college professors are communists, just because one or two happened to be exposed as such. There are possibly a few dishonest newspapers in Texas, but we sincerely doubt if one-tenth of one percent could be "bought" -- at any price. Several of the newspapers are supporting Mr. Yarborough, including at least two in the Panhandle. We believe they are honest and sincere -- despite the accusations of their candidate.

From actual observation, it appears to us that practically 100 percent of the press of Texas has been fair and impartial in presentation of news regarding both candidates. The newspapers of Texas have also made their advertising columns available to both candidates and to supporters of both candidates. Editorial columns are reserved and designed for expression of the newspapers. Furthermore, the fact that most of the editors and publishers have, after careful investigation, openly supported one candidate or the other, indicates that they are doing the very job for which "freedom of the press" was established in the Constitution of the United States. Just because a newspaper does not endorse a candidate is definitely no justification for the candidate to classify all newspapers as dishonest. On the contrary, in fact, it merely brings out a lack of characteristic stability necessary to good leadership in government.

The newspaper fraternity, especially the small-town group as we know them, will make mistakes from time to time; they may, as individuals, be misled and, frequently, they find themselves running contrary to public opinion. However, regardless of Mr. Yarborough's opinion, they are generally honest in their convictions and will usually be found looking toward the welfare of their communities, their state and their nation.

Migratory Labor

For no good reason there seems to have arisen an undeclared war between some produce handlers and some retail merchants of the community. Perhaps it is a normal outgrowth of expansion but, to most people, it appears childish and unnecessary.

We are referring to the more or less "taboo" question of who is responsible in behalf of migratory labor. Some processors, handlers and growers feel that the town people should assume all responsibility for welfare, social improvements and general condition of the migrant. They are in the minority, of course, but they are quick to point out that every merchant in Hereford benefits, directly and indirectly, from the presence of the seasonable labor. Furthermore, no one can honestly deny that the argument has merit -- even to the point of furnishing employment for individuals in the various firms.

Some few merchants, on the other hand, feel that the vegetable people make money through importation of the labor and, therefore, should assume the entire responsibility. "No vegetable people worry about my help," they will tell you, then add: "They didn't ask me about bringing them here." Still others are prone to blame school expansion, increased city and county costs upon the influx of migrant workers.

The answer, of course, is simple. The problem is everyone's problem. Hereford is a growing community. Property values are increasing here, while in many other towns they are going down. Just as Harlem increases police, education and hospital costs in New York City, so does migratory labor increase costs here. Likewise, just as Harlem contributes much toward making New York the world's largest city, so does migratory labor contribute heavily toward a bigger and more prosperous Hereford.

Working hand in hand, the produce industry and the retail outlets of the community can accomplish much toward discharging the responsibility in a manner beneficial to all concerned. Disregarding the economic phase of the question and viewing the moral obligations on both sides, it appears that the Christian attitude should be that of working for general improvement in behalf of humanity, regardless of the source of responsibility.

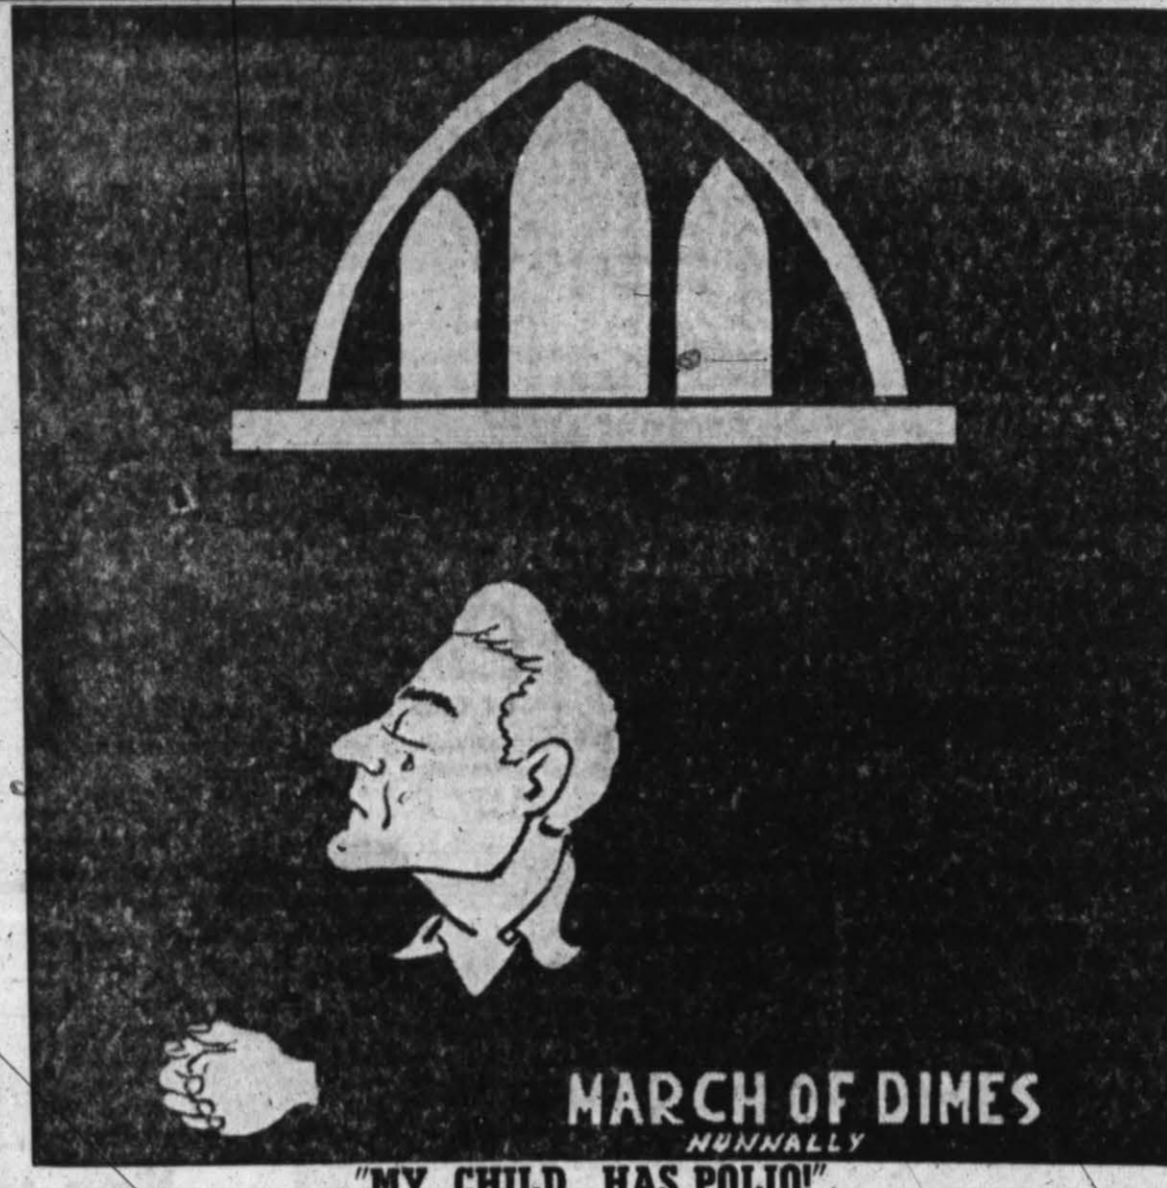

March Of Dimes

Disaster must strike sometimes before a citizenry is aroused to action. Such will no doubt be the case with the 1954 Emergency Polio drive which opens here tomorrow.

Two actual cases on record in Hereford this week will, to say the least, give additional thought on the subject for many local citizens -- especially those whose children were given gamma globulin shots after having been in direct contact with the two polio victims.

When you add such local experience to the overall humane picture as presented through the national March of Dimes, it would be difficult, indeed, to say "No" to such a worthwhile cause.

"Why does an Editor use the word 'we' in writing an editorial? The following explanation was published in the Williamstown Advocate over 100 years ago: A country Editor -- is one who reads newspapers, selects miscellany, writes articles on all subjects, sells advertising and subscriptions, sets type, reads proof, folds papers, and sometimes carries them. . . . As he preforms the work of so many different persons, he may justly. . . . say 'we' on all occasions and in all places!" STANFORD, KY., INTERIOR JOURNAL.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Emergency Polio Drive Is Given Approval By Hereford Citizens

A second Polio drive has been scheduled for Deaf Smith County August 16-31. Do you have any comments or suggestions which might help make the drive a success?

CHARLES LANE:
"I believe that if the people in our community could see some of the polio patients in some of the larger hospitals that they would realize how serious this thing is and give more generously to the second polio drive."

PAULINE YOUNG:
"I think it is a good idea to have another polio drive. I believe that we should do all that we can possibly do to further the development of a cure for this disease. If people would take it upon themselves as a personal matter I believe that it would help a great deal in this drive."

MRS. A. PETEREN:
"I certainly am in favor of another polio drive for this community. I can't help but think that something like that could happen to one of my own grandchildren. This isn't something that one person can cope with; it takes everyone in the community."

ARCH DOBBINS:
"I don't believe that I have any suggestions as to what might make this drive a success, but I feel that everyone knows that the people of this community should do more in this drive than they have done in the past drives if it is to be successful."

MRS. CHARLES SHORT:
"I always thought that it was a good idea when the mothers got out and helped raise money for the polio drive. I am always willing to do my part in a drive of this sort since I have three children of my own and I want to do everything I can to be sure that they are taken care of in an emergency of that type."

MRS. R. P. CONEWAY:
"I think that it would be most worthwhile to have another polio drive and that it should be supported by everyone in the community. I don't believe that I have any suggestions as to how the drive should be carried out, but I believe if we all work it will be a good thing."

LEATON CLARK:
"It seems as if the jars that have been put out in the drug-stores in the past drives have worked pretty well. People put their coffee money in these jars and everyone around here drinks a lot of coffee."

'Tater Peelin's

Well for the next couple of weeks all the old adjectives and maybe a few new ones will be put into print as candidates make a last minute bid for votes. Funny how soon after election all the scoundrels described by their opponents become respectable citizens again.

Children still suffocate in abandoned ice boxes, but we notice some cities making an all-out war on the deathtraps, which are being dumped and buried so there won't be any chance for a child to crawl inside. It seems pretty bad to think that 81 youngsters have smothered to death in them during the past six years because of somebody's carelessness.

Another report we noticed in the daily papers lately is that investigation has proven that the rise in coffee prices is due to speculation, rather than any actual shortage. Maybe the distributors didn't come out as well as they had figured, because sales fell off in spite of the general belief that people weren't going to do without their coffee. Looks as if the old adage "You can push people just so far" still may be holding true.

No wonder we are creeping into old age. -- Wedding announcements for Shirley Sharp, Betty Lou McGaughey and Janice Craig who, it seems only yesterday, were freshmen in high school.

I'll Never Forget

By Miss Lula Botsford

We lived in the good state of Iowa where the corn grows tall and the watermelons grow sweet and delicious in the sandy soil. For sometime it was obvious that a move should be made for a number of reasons. Rather than move to another place in the same state, our father had his eyes on Texas. He made a trip through Texas to Brownwood but decided he liked this part of Texas the best, so we sold our home and all of our possessions -- except our clothing and some bedding.

Then in 1907, learning that an immigrant train was bound through to Summerfield, we made arrangements to be a board that particular train. It was in April of that year and some of our relatives carried us to Marshall Town, where the start was to be made. We said goodbye to all our friends and relatives and got aboard the train with all of the luggage we could carry off. We started on the journey to the place we hoped would be our new home.

This was a new experience for me. It was almost my first ride on a train and I never had slept on one as it sped through the night. It was quite a novelty as night came on watching the porter make up the beds. Sheets and pillows and blankets were applied and with a curtain drawn, we had it all to ourselves.

After several days we arrived at Summerfield. We spent the night on the train but in the morning we had to be up and doing for ourselves. Father got Mr. Eddy, who lived right in Summerfield, to take us back to Hereford.

The man had a team and wagon bed and either didn't have a wagon box or didn't want to bother to put it on. Anyway, long benches were placed on either side of the bed and we sat on them with our feet dangling off. That wasn't exactly a joy ride as I remember it after all these long years. Just when I thought we couldn't stand a bit more of that terrible jolting we were at Hereford. There we waited most of the day for the tent, which had been previously shipped, to arrive.

It came in before dark and we pitched it on some ground about one-half mile south of Hereford. With the tent set up and a small cook stove on which to prepare our food, we could then turn our attention to sleeping arrangements for the night. Straw or bundle stuff was procured and arranged on the ground to the back of the tent. We had sheets and blankets over us. It was as simple as that. That tent was our home for the next two weeks. That is what pioneers are supposed to do, isn't it, get along anyway they can?

In the meantime our father had contacted W. P. McMinn and rented some land from him. McMinn's place was about three miles west of Summerfield. Father had also gotten him a team and wagon. The old tent was pulled up and loaded on the wagon with all of the other things, ourselves included, and we started west for the McMinn farm.

NEW ELEVATOR AT HAPPY
Pouring of the barrels for the new Harman-Toles 433,000 bushel elevator began last week in Happy. When finished, it will be the tallest structure in Happy, with 145 foot barrels. The barrels were approximately 40 feet high at press time of the Herald, last week. They are being pulled by 80 electric jacks at 8 to 10 inches per hour. This elevator is expected to be completed by September 15. Chalmers Borton, of Hutchinson, Kans., is the contractor, with E. W. Worth supervising. -- The Happy Herald

DIMITT RODEO, AUG. 19 - 21
An action packed, three-day rodeo is scheduled for Dimmitt Aug. 19-20-21. Special features of this year's rodeo will be a free barbecue, parade and dancing. The barbecue will be at 4:30 p.m. of the first day of the rodeo. Riders from throughout the Panhandle-South Plains area are expected to enter the various events. All stock for the performances will be furnished by W. W. Branscum of Muleshoe. -- The Castro County News.

WELLINGTON CEMETERY IMPROVED
Water pipe has finally been laid in the old Wellington Cemetery. "The water pipe, which has long been sought by persons having lots in that cemetery, was financed by funds of the local group," Zook Thomas, chairman of the Wellington Cemetery Association, announced. "We are proud of this advancement in watering facilities and now those that want to water their lots may do so, whereas, in the past, this was impossible," Mr. Thomas stated. -- The Wellington Leader.

INCREASED WATER USE
In spite of the fact that water use for two days, July 26 and 27, following the showers, was way down, Floydada people used a total of 33,107,000 gallons a day during July. Meter figures given out the first of the week by Water Superintendent B. V. Carver showed the above figure as the total run for the 31 days, the average daily run being 1,065,000 gallons. -- The Floyd County Hesperian

NO SEGREGATION AT FARWELL
Colored students of the Farwell district who last year attended Lincoln-Jackson colored school in Clovis under a special arrangement, will this year attend classes on the Farwell campus, school officials announce. The decision by the United States supreme court this summer setting out that segregation is unconstitutional, upset the arrangement of the Clovis schools, resulting in an ending of segregation there. -- The State Line Tribune.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm takes a dim view of some atomic scientists' plans; his letter this week reveals. He's probably an authority on surviving with the least amount of effort or equipment.

Dear editor:
I read the other day in a newspaper I picked up on the highway after it fell out of a car which sideswiped another on the way to a traffic safety meeting where a bunch of atomic scientists in New Mexico, out where they make the bombs, have been working, sort of as a pastime I guess, to get their minds off their heavier work, on survival kits.

Since they know more about the effects of an atom bomb than the rest of us, naturally their minds have been turned to thoughts of how they're gonna survive after a few of the things have been dropped, in case they are, and I suppose they will be, as up to now I have never seen a dictator with a new weapon who sooner or later didn't get around to trying it out.

But aside from all that, I was more interested in what these scientists thought a survival kit ought to contain, to enable them to live off the land in case civilization went up in smoke.

The main items on their list were a rifle and ammunition, matches, flashlight, candles, knife, axe, needle and thread, fish hooks and lines, soap, salt, blankets and canned food.

I have read this list over carefully and I do not believe it will do the job. For example, I believe man has now reached the point where it would be impossible for him to survive without a lawnmower. Also, nowhere on the list do I find an electric refrigerator, or a can opener, or any directions for repairing a faulty parking meter. Some races on earth might survive without these necessities, but I don't believe we could swing it in this country.

Also, I notice them scientists have included a rifle and I suppose they figure on living off game, but most of the game in this country is now confined to zoos and most zoos are in cities, which are generally considered the places where the bombs would fall. Seems to me they'd better leave room in the trunks of their cars, where they're storing their kits, for a walkin plow and a grubbin hoe, although the more I think about it, the less reason I can find for even countin on keeping their cars, unless they can refine gasoline in a tin can over a camp fire.

In fact, the more you think about this, the more items you pile up and before long you find it'd take a six-wheel trailer-truck to haul the average family's survival kit, and it seems to me it would be a little smarter and a lot easier not to have an atomic war in the first place. There aren't enough trailer-trucks to go around.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

First Buttermilk

We were perched on top of the load. It was a chilly day and mother and I got very cold. It took most of the day just walking the horses all the way. When we got there, Mrs. McMinn took us in to get warm and then gave us our supper. It was the first time anyone ever offered us sour milk to drink at meal time and I thought it queer. I cannot now remember anything else that was served for supper but the sour milk or buttermilk.

Mother had been sick that day so Mrs. McMinn put her to bed and let mother and I sleep in the house. Father and the boys set up the tent and slept out there. Again the tent was our home until better arrangements could be made. Mr. McMinn moved in an old shack from somewhere and we used that old shack for our kitchen to cook and eat in. We used old nail kegs for chairs for a while. It was then the tent and the old shack. The shack had a window and a door in it. After awhile Mr. McMinn built on another room with a loft in it under the eaves and one window. When it was done we took possession of it and moved in. It had two windows and a door. It would hold one bed and the dining table and some chairs. Our only means of access to the loft, where we had our beds, was a ladder. I can remember yet climbing that old ladder and backing down.

After awhile Mr. McMinn built some stairs and enclosed them, but they were too narrow to take anything up or down. We had to take them, in or out of the window that was over the shack. The old tent was used to keep grain in until the wind tore it down. We had two small hen houses. I think that we built them out of old boxes.

First Dust Storm

While on the McMinn place we became acquainted with and introduced to our first dust storm in February of 1908. That was a new experience for us. We had never seen anything like it before.

Great billowing, blinding, choking clouds of dust swept by and a fierce north wind rose heavenward. It entered the house by every nook and cranny. It filled the window sills and rolled off on the floor. The air in the house became musky with the dust. Lots of times we hated to eat because of the dust. During some of the most fierce storms we had to light the lamps to be able to see. The wind piled the dirt to the tops of the tallest fence posts. It blew up great ridges in the fields. I have carried dirt out of the house by the bucket full after one of these storms.

Had To Carry Water

We had no well and had to carry all of our water for cooking and drinking purposes. It was hauled for stock and washing clothes. We stayed and farmed with the McMinn for two years, then wishing for more room and better living conditions we left them and moved to Brother Monroe's place. What ever happened to that old shack that had been our home for two years I never knew, but I understand it had been moved away.

We went to church and Sunday School at Summerfield. At that time they had a Baptist Church and a Union Sunday School and church services. We went to the Union Sunday School. Our groceries were bought at Summerfield store and we traded eggs and butter at Hereford. I suppose if we had gone to Hereford for church services we would have gotten to know more of the Hereford old timers. But going to Hereford was more like a business trip for us—and it was right in and right out.

Buick's biggest hit brings you a 3-way bonus

1. You get the car that's in step with tomorrow

From stem to stern, Buick today is styled a year ahead—with long, low glamor lines, with the very look of tomorrow, and with that broad panoramic windshield that many other cars won't have till 1955. Equally important, you get in Buick advanced V8 power, big room, luxurious comfort, the famed Million Dollar Ride—and all for prices that start just a few dollars above those of the so-called "low-price three." Is it any wonder, then, that Buick today is outselling all other cars in America except two of these "low-price three"?

2. You get the car that's a sure high resale value

Buicks have always had a high trade-in value. But the 1954 Buick has an extra advantage in its year-ahead styling. That means your Buick will stay well up in the style parade for years to come—will stay fresh and new-looking well into the future. So you're bound to be way ahead in actual dollars when trade-in time comes.

Come see for yourself why—

3. You get a bigger allowance from our volume business

Every month's sales figures this year have firmed this fact: Buick sales are soaring; Buick is outselling all other cars in the nation, regardless of price range, except two of the "low-price three." So with this tremendous volume, we can—and do—offer higher trade-in allowances. Come in, see and drive a new Buick—then check for yourself that our volume business really does mean a far bigger allowance for you.

Camp Fire Girls Prepare For Annual Camping Trip

Alarm Clocks To Ring Early For 90 Girls And Leaders Monday Morning

Alarm clocks will be ringing early Monday morning when some 90 Camp Fire girls and their leaders will leave on their annual one-week encampment this year at Inlow Youth Camp, located seven miles south of Tajique, N. M.

Camp trips were first begun July 27, 1947, and have continued to be a highlight in the activities of each year. The first year the group camped at Gallinas Canyon, which was rather a primitive set-up. The past two years the group has gone to Western Life Camp near Las Vegas, N. M.

The girls will participate in hiking, craft, sports and games, field trips and several nature hikes. There will be no swimming this year.

Five Indian Tribes
The camp will be divided into five tribes, each having an Indian name. There will be one adult tribe mother with each tribe and each day one tribe is responsible for the kitchen and three meals. Names of the tribes are Duta, To-be, Taka, Sa-pa and Neha-ne.

Mrs. F. L. Alexander will be general chairman for the trip and Mrs. Glenn Anderson will serve as the registered nurse.

Senior counselors for the trip are Frankie Culpepper, Dolly Paetzold, Sue Channer, Martha Bookout and Joan Fowlkes.

Junior counselors are: Betty Ferguson, Carolyn Knox, Eugenia Alexander, Jane Bookout, Ann Caraway, Linda Hair, Melba Gay Lawrence, Mary Lynn Morrison, Linda Kay Noland, Betty Paetzold, Nona Marie Strange, Donna Witherspoon, Carol Ann Newell, Virginia Witherspoon and Christine Thomas.

Koochas are: Dolly Jo Prowell, Carolyn Kirby, Rosa Strange, Kay Scott, Jennie McCatheryn, Sheila Williams, Judy Coffin, Sheryl Patterson, Sandra Robertson and Bonnie Craig.

Counselors-at-large are Gracie Fotheringham and Cecelia Wilkins.

Committees Named
Committees are: program and schedule, Mrs. Homer Brumley, Gracie Fotheringham and Betty Culpepper; finance, Mrs. H. H. Caraway; food, Mrs. Louis Woodford, Mrs. Jimmie Gillentine, Cecelia Wilkins and Melba Gay Lawrence; crafts, Mrs. Jack Winget, Mrs. Hank Williams, Marion Jo Wilson, Linda Hair, Sandra Robertson, Patricia Howard and Sue Channer and Linda Shaffer; sports and games, Elmer Patterson, chairman, Phyllis Coetsch, Sheryl Patterson, Patsy Cowart, Berena Parker, Carolyn Kirby; music, Martha Bookout, Linda Phillips, Linda Kay Noland and Sheila Williams. Housing, Mrs. Jack Gilliland and Frankie Culpepper; flag and ceremonial and devotional, Mrs. Wayne Edwards, Christine Thomas, Virginia Witherspoon, Bonnie Craig and Linda Parker; grand ceremonial, Cecelia Wilkins.

Senior and junior counselors and koochas not serving on committees will serve in cabins.

Leaders attending are: Mesdames Homer Brumley, H. H. Caraway, Louis Woodford, Jack Winget, F. L. Alexander and Jack Gilliland.

Other adults attending are Mrs. Hank Williams, Mrs. Maud Montford, Mrs. Coy Phillips, Mrs. Ky Lawrence, Mrs. Jim Kirby, Clarence Morrison, Mr. Gunn and Herbert Haseloff.

Who Will Go

Camp Fire girls who plan to make the trip are: Jane Bookout, Carol Ann Newell, Dolly Jo Prowell, Eugenia Alexander, Donna Witherspoon, Linda Kay Noland, Ann Caraway, Betty Paetzold, Patricia Howard, June Owen, Nona Marie Strange, Mary Lynn Morrison, Linda Hair, Melba Gay Lawrence, Virginia Witherspoon, Carolyn Kirby, Patsy Cowart, Phyllis Coetsch, Betty Ferguson, Martha Bookout, Linda Parker, Dolly Paetzold, Carolyn Knox, Sue Channer, Betty Kropff, Phyllis Sumner, and Tina Witherspoon.

Sandra Robertson, Sheila Williams, Judy Coffin, Sheryl Patterson, Kay Lynn, Bonnie Rae Craig, Rosa Strange, Jean Terry, Jenny McCatheryn, Ann Smith, Sandra Childers, Linda Shaffer, Verena Parker, Kay Albraast, Donna Nafziger, Cherry Holt, Tommie Kay Robinson, Donna Lovel, Gwendolyn Sheppard, Edith Hayes, Mary Beth Ricketts, Patsy Woodell, Colleen Reeves, Suzanne Yarbro, Ada Mae Bettis, Judith Raye Haseloff, Sandra Brumley, Linda Sue Witherspoon, Lou Anne Higgins, Hallie Culpepper, Kay Caraway, Jean Ann DeShazo, Rita Latham, Karen Sue Daniel and Pam Clay.

IMPROVING THEIR SKILL on some of the crafts that will be done at camp is one of the last minute items that the Camp Fire girls must think about. A few of the things the girls will make are ear screws, blue prints of grasses and leaves, jewelry boxes, two different types of necklaces and different colors in pine cones for the ceremonial fires. At the left Jean Ann DeShazo, of Mrs. F. L. Alexander's group, is stringing beads for one of the necklaces they will be making. Sue Channer, in the center, of Mrs. Homer Brumley's group is working on a set of ear screws and Tammie Kay Robinson of Mrs. Jack Winget's group is working on a jewelry box. (Staff Photo)

LAST MINUTE RULES and schedules for the trip are being worked out by Christine Thomas of Mrs. Emil Dettman's group, left, Mrs. F. L. Alexander, general chairman, and Joan Fowlkes of Mrs. Homer Brumley's group. Christine is helping plan the flag raising and lowering exercises for each day while Mrs.

Alexander types up the last minute rules and organizes the work that each chairman will do. Joan, senior counselor, is looking over ideas for the camp patch. The cabin submitting the most fitting name will have the honor of naming the camp this year. (Staff Photo)

HURRYING TO IMPROVE their skill on horseshoe pitching before leaving for camp, Linda Edwards, left, of Mrs. Jack Gilliland's group, and Beverly Boyer of Mrs. Jimmie Gillentine's group are practicing to cinch their cabin's winning the camp horseshoe pitching contest. Sports, as usual, will play a big part at camp. Other sports the girls will participate in are baseball, vally-ball, table tennis, washers, badminton and mumblepeg. Of course, hiking could be included as a sport and the girls will do plenty of that. Friday the group intends to have a sports contest between the five different tribes at the camp. (Staff Photo)

SPENDING THEIR LAST spare moments practicing on some of the songs that will be sung from the official Camp Fire songbook, Joyful Singing, are Jane Bookout, left, of Mrs. H. H. Caraway's group; and Sheila Williams of Mrs. Louis Woodford's group. It has been said that "a singing group is a happy group" and the girls hope to prove this is true at Inlow

Camp this year. Patriotic songs will be sung each morning at the flag raising and also around the ceremonial fires. A singsong will be held sometime during the day. Two places have been designated for singsongs at the camp. They are the craft hall and Inlow Lodge. (Staff Photo)

At The Movies

"Hell's Half Acre"
Showing Sunday and Monday at the Tower Drive-In, stars Wendell Corey, Evelyn Keyes and Elsa Lanchester.
Would you like to take a trip to Honolulu, the fabulous Hawaiian Island City, visiting such famous landmarks as Waikiki Beach and Diamond Head, the International Airport and downtown Honolulu?
All of these places are used as backgrounds for the spine-tingling drama, "Hell's Half Acre." There is gaiety and glamour, interwoven with the sordidness of life outside the law.
It is a powerful story of Wendell Corey, handsome, respected citizen of the Islands and owner of a lavish nightclub, whose sordid past rises up suddenly to threaten his happy respectability.

CARD OF THANKS
We thank all our friends and neighbors with all our hearts for their kindness, beautiful flowers, food and gifts at the death of our husband and father. May God bless all of you.

FEATURING HIS PAL
ROSCO SWEENEY
By ROY CRANE

THIS IS ALL YOUR FAULT! YOU TOLD ME I COULD STOP MY WIFE FROM BUYING HATS BY PRETENDING I WAS BANKRUPT. NOW LOOK WHAT'S HAPPENED!

ISN'T IT WONDERFUL? SHE'S OPENED A HAT SHOP TO HELP YOU MAKE MONEY.

Distraction Hats

SHE'LL SPEND MONEY JUST TWICE AS FAST! THIS IS INSANE! DO YOU EXPECT WOMEN TO BUY DIZZY THINGS LIKE THAT?

SIR, I'LL HAVE YOU KNOW I JUST BOUGHT THIS HAT. FURTHERMORE, I THINK IT'S SIMPLY ADORABLE.

THEY'RE SO NOVEL... SO ORIGINAL.

I THINK ALL HER HATS ARE ADORABLE.

ESPECIALLY THIS RAIN HAT.

MY DEAR, SHE'S A GENIUS.

HOW MUCH IS THIS ONE?

SIR, ARE YOU THE MANAGER? IF SO, I'D LIKE A DOZEN GOLDFISH MODELS, TWO DOZEN FLOWERPOTS, SIX DOZEN RAIN HATS, AND TEN DOZEN...

DOZEN DID YOU SAY?

MAKE IT HUNDREDS. I'M A WHOLESALE BUYER AND I'LL TAKE ALL THE HATS YOUR WIFE CAN MAKE.

ISN'T IT WONDERFUL, DEAR? I'M A SUCCESS ALREADY. I'M GOING TO BUILD A FACTORY.

IT JUST GOES TO PROVE THAT ALL WOMEN ARE CRAZY.

ON THE CONTRARY, SIR, IT PROVES YOU DIDN'T APPRECIATE YOUR WIFE'S GENIUS. WHAT LOOKS LIKE GIDDINESS IN A WOMAN IS OFTEN GOLD.

MAGICIAN

BY LEE FALK & PHIL DAVIS

IMPOSSIBLE! THIS WORLD ALWAYS THOUGHT THE CENTAUR WAS A FABLE--A MYTH! THERE HE IS! IS HE THE ONLY ONE?

THE ONLY ONE I'VE SEEN, SIR HARRY. THERE MAY BE--LOOK!

A FEMALE!

AFTER THEM! THEY'RE FABULOUS--PRICELESS--

WAIT! WE HAVE NO GUNS! REMEMBER THE SKULL ON THE BEACH! THEY'RE FLESH-EATERS--PROBABLY MAN-KILLERS--

IF I COULD HAVE SEEN THEM MORE CLEARLY--ALMOST DARK--BUT I DID SEE THEM! THE GREATEST CATCH IN HISTORY! I MUST GET THEM--

YOU CAN! THE OWNER KNOWS NOTHING OF THEM--HE THINKS IT'S A WORTHLESS ISLAND--YOU CAN BUY IT--

I MUST HAVE THEM! BUT WOULD IT BE FAIR TO BUY THE ISLAND CHEAPLY--WITHOUT TELLING THE OWNER ABOUT THEM?

DON'T BE SILLY, SIR HARRY! YOU PAY ME A NICE COMMISSION--I'LL MAKE THE DEAL FOR YOU. BUT KEEP IT TO YOURSELF.

WELL, SIR HARRY, SEE ANYTHING--INTERESTING?

ER--NO--JUST HAD A LITTLE RIDE--

WE'LL SEE THE OWNER TOMORROW, SIR HARRY.
