House' guest'

Stranger moves in while woman's away

By DIANNA F. DANDRIDGE
Staff Writer

A routine weekend trip ended in a not-so-routine way Sunday evening when Cresilla Garza arrived at her mother's house in the 200 block of Ross to find not her mother, but a complete stranger had taken up temporary residence.

Garza said she had taken her mother, Jesusita Griego, 84, to Clovis to visit relatives, while she (Garza) would go on to Albuquerque to take care of business.

Garza had made arrangements for her brother to bring Griego home on Sunday afternoon.

On Sunday, Garza returned to her mother's home to find the front door open and her mother's walker partially blocking the doorway. She entered the house to find furniture rearranged, dresser drawers rummaged through, vomit and feces on carpeting appliances, and the house in a general disarray.

Garza's first thought was her mother was at home, but was ill. When she got no response from mother, Garza called her brother in Clovis and learned her mother was still there.

Garza said she went to door and saw a strange man leaning against a building across the street, using her mother's walker. As she crossed the street to confront the man, a couple of neighbors came by to ask if someone else was staying with Griego.

They were told no, and went with Garza to talk to the man.

When the women approached him, he admitted he had been in the house. The women left him where he was and one went to call the police.

The police arrived to find 38-year-old Steven Glen Smithson of Coyle, Okla. waiting for them.

Police reports indicate that Smithson said he was ill and felt a numbness in his leg. Smithson reported that he was supposed to be taking lithium, but had lost his prescription.

When officers attempted to read Smithson the Miranda warning, he recited it nearly verbatim, according to the police report.

He was taken by ambulance to Hereford Regional Medical Center, where he was treated before being released into police custody.

Dr. Springer reported that Smithson was well enough to be entered into Deaf Smith County Jail, and wrote a prescription for lithium and phenagan to control the vomiting and diarrhea.

Garza said Smithson apparently entered the locked house from a bathroom window, which he confirmed this in a statement to the police. He later refused to sign the statement.

"You would not believe the things he did," Garza said, displaying a ruined swimsuit. "He even had clothes in the washer."

JESUSITA GRIEGO (left) and her daughter, Cresilla Garza, learned last weekend a stranger had been living in their home. Among the things apparently ruined by the unwelcome guest was Garza's new swimsuit, rugs and furnishings.

INTERSECTION ACCIDENT -- Angel and Rose Moya were taken to Hereford Regional Medical Center after the car in which they were riding was involved in a collision Thursday at the intersection of U.S. Hwy. 60 and South 25 Mile Avenue. The accident occurred when another vehicle, driven by Judy Meyers, apparently ran a red light. The Moyas were treated and released after treatment for minor injuries.

U.S. consumers boost spending

WASHINGTON (AP) - Spending by American consumers rebounded in August after falling in July because of the General Motors strikes. Income growth nearly kept up. And sales of existing homes slipped a bit from a record high.

Spending jumped 0.6 percent to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $5.84 trillion after a rare 0.1 percent drop in July, the first in two years, the Commerce Department said today.

Personal incomes rose 0.5 percent - the most in six months - to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $7.17 trillion. Incomes rose 0.4 percent in July and 0.3 percent in June; growth would have been more robust if not for the strikes and related layoffs at GM suppliers.

Taxes, interest payments and savings largely account for the difference between consumption spending and income.

"Finding their wallets brimming, households went scurrying to their favorite car lots and vacation spots," said economist Joel Naroff of First Union Corp. in Philadelphia. "In spite of the problems in the rest of the world, the American consumer remains a serene island in the roiling world economic sea."

Naroff said recent stock market volatility should reduce consumer spending in the months ahead. Stocks fell today amid concern about the near collapse of Long-Term Capital Management L.P., a private investment fund for wealthy speculators that employed sophisticated hedging strategies to bet on interest rates. The Dow Jones average was down about 35 points at midmorning.

Sales of existing homes fell 3.7 percent in August to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 4.73 million, the National Association of Realtors said. The sales pace had hit a record pace of 4.91 million in July and economists consider the August rate still very brisk.

After-tax, or disposable, income grew 0.5 percent to a rate of $6.06 trillion. The savings rate sank to an abysmal 0.3 percent from an almost-as-bad 0.5 percent in July.

The figure suggests some Americans are saving less to maintain their standard of living or still are spending some of the stock market gains they've accumulated over the past several years.

Economic weakness overseas, principally in Asia, has slowed U.S. economic growth by slashing American export sales and curbing the profits of U.S. corporations. That has triggered about a 15 percent drop in stock prices.

Americans continue to spend relatively freely and domestic demand remains strong, spurred by the lowest long-term interest rates in three decades.

The GM strike contributed to the August rebound in spending. Spending on big-ticket durable goods, items including autos intended to last three or more years, rose 1.1 percent last month after slumping 4.6 percent in July.

Georges storms across the Florida Keys

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) - Hurricane Georges lashed the Florida Keys today as the core of the menacing storm moved closer. The 100 mph winds sent waves crashing onto streets and knocked out power.

Shelters and hotels from Miami to Orlando filled up after more than 1 million people from Key West to Tampa were urged or even ordered to leave coastal and low-lying areas and mobile homes.

"The water has been sucked out of the bay. There's a boat high and dry that's gotten loose and in the flats," said Marion Sargeant, who lives with her cousin in Key Largo on Florida Bay between the island chain and Everglades National Park. "There's normally 4 feet of water where the boat is sitting - and that's now in inches."

A hail of leaves, branches and palm fronds blew across the Overseas

Highway in Marathon, in the middle Keys, and 76 mph gusts lifted rainwater off roofs.

The eye of a hurricane often brings a storm surge, and a surge of 7 feet was forecast for the Keys. Key West's top elevation is only 14 feet.

Candidates, backers already on Web to promote 2000 bids

WASHINGTON (AP) - It may be early for White House aspirants to open formal offices for the 2000 campaign, but the World Wide Web is already flush with sites that look presidential.

On some, the hopefuls coyly market themselves with pitches that stop just short of saying, "Vote for Me." On others, surrogates sing their favorites' praises or, from a contrarian point of view, bash politicians they don't want to see in the Oval Office anytime soon.

Lamar Alexander, the former governor of Tennessee, ran for president in 1996 and hasn't stopped since. Although his political action committee's Web site, www.lamaralexander.org, doesn't mention a 2000 presidential run, it drops a lot of hints.

The site displays Alexander's press clippings from a visit to Iowa, site of the first presidential caucuses, and prominently displays this campaign-like quote:

"For the new century, America needs not so much a new kind of government - not a Squarer Deal or a Fairer Deal or a Greater Society - but a New Spirit."

You can also check out Alexander's schedule, heavily loaded with trips to Iowa and New Hampshire, site of the nation's first primary.

For another point of view, you can click on a satirical Web site called the Daily Muse (www.cais.net/aschnedr/lamar.htm), which offers such reasons to vote against Alexander as:

- America would have a president named Lamar and a First Lady named Honey.

- "How can we count on someone who doesn't know the price of eggs and milk but who does know how much it costs to dry-clean 363,000 flannel shirts?"

Former Vice President Dan Quayle, at www.quayle.org, highlights his "Campaign America" PAC, ostensibly aimed at helping Republicans get elected to Congress. It's replete with information about Quayle, his speeches and his books, and reads like a presidential platform.

So does the Web site for Sen. John Ashcroft, the Missouri Republican who is a favorite of the Christian right. Click on www.johnashcroft.org, for information about his "Spirit of America" PAC.

Ashcroft proudly announces himself "Fighting for Conservative Values." While again there is no explicit reference to the 2000 presidential race, the Web site carries this advice from Terry Jeffrey, Pat Buchanan's former campaign manager: "Look out for John Ashcroft."

Rep. John Kasich, the Republican deficit hawk from Ohio, said in Iowa recently that all signs are pointing to a presidential run. There are Web sites in place to help him along.

Kasich's site, www.pioneerpac.org, is ostensibly dedicated to helping elect "courageous" leaders who want smaller government. It also features a gushing profile and beaming photograph of Kasich.

He has at least one other Web-site maker waving banners for him. A former intern, Gregory Kinzelman, has three Web sites - www.kasich2000.org, www.kasich.com, www.kasich2000.com - blaring "Kasich 2000 for President." Kinzelman currently is a Washington antitrust lawyer.

A flashier Kasich site is www.johnkasich.com, run by Greg Trammoe of Tucson, Ariz.

Sen. Bob Smith, R-N.H., has incorporated the state's motto in his Web address: www.livefreedie.org. The site includes an Iowa Public Television interview in which Smith discusses a possible 2000 bid.

Embalming dispute heads for mediation

AUSTIN (AP) - A $445,000 dispute pitting the world's largest funeral home company against a tiny state regulatory agency is headed for mediation.

The Texas Funeral Service Commission voted Thursday to send the case, which has shaken the state's 1,200 funeral homes, to a state mediation program.

The controversy arose last spring when regulators conducted surprise inspections of two Dallas-area funeral homes owned by Service Corporation International, the Houston-based $2.5 billion industry giant.

Inspectors found what they described as evidence of unlicensed embalming companies operating at the homes. They also reported finding embalming had been performed by apprentices without proper supervision.

Man gets 40 years in deaths of mother, two children

COLEMAN (AP) - A man accused of capital murder in the deaths of a woman and her two sons has received a 40-year prison term after pleading guilty to a lesser charge.

Denis Aiken has maintained his innocence in the January 1996 deaths of 26-year-old Cari Lin Harrison and her sons, Michael Wayne Harrison, 5, and Jonathan Alan Harrison, 3.

But Aiken pleaded guilty to murder to avoid the possibility of a jury sentencing him to death.

Watch the nose, and the lips

Nazarene Church youth minister, Carol Haile, got the honors of shaving Mike Harris, with a little direction from Paul Ashcraft, at the recent grand opening of Celebration City, the church's new children's facility. Harris had his beard and mustache shaved after more than 300 youngsters showed up for the big even. For several days Harris sported a number of bandages.

The purpose of the Tierra Blanca

All conservation programs managed by the district are of a voluntary nature to the landowner or operator or other potential users of the SWCD's programs.

El Paso landowner raises stink over sewage disposal

EL PASO, Texas (AP) - A West Texas landowner has sued a neighbor and two others for more than $100,000 over their role in attempts to stop a sewage sludge disposal site planned on his property.

Byard Edwards Jr. is accusing rancher H.L. Richey and consultants Richey hired to study the sludge proposal of trespassing and causing subsequent delays in establishing the proposed Hudspeth County site, which has created a groundswell of opposition in the area.

Edwards' suit, filed last week in Pecos federal court, requests $25,000 in damages for the trespass and $40,000 - the amount he stands to make monthly - for each of the two months the site has been delayed.

It also asks for punitive damages and an injunction barring the defendants from future trespassing on his ranch near Allamore, about 110 miles southeast of El Paso.

Richey, who owns a ranch next to Edwards' property and has been organizing efforts to stop the site, said Thursday he has not been served with the suit.

Richey said he brought in the consultants to determine whether Edwards' land is suitable for sludge application. Sludge is a substance resembling potting soil that remains after wastewater has been treated. It is often used as fertilizer.

Reeve's rolls rise to 2nd

Kinsey Reeve, Deaf Smith County 4-H member, won second place honors at the District 1 4-H Better Bake Show conducted Saturday at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo.

Reeve is the 10-year-old daughter of Jan and Mitch Reeve and a member of Ladybugs 4-H Club. For her second place win, she was awarded an engraved plaque, rosette and a mixer. She qualified for the District Bake Show after winning the County-wide bread contest earlier this summer with her "Yummy, Yummy Yeast Rolls."

This year, 4-H members prepared a yeast roll recipe of their choice for the contest. Products were evaluated on appearance, color, moisture content, texture, lightness, flavor and nutrition.

The Better Bake Show is jointly sponsored by the Tri-State Fair, Texas Wheat Producers Association of Amarillo and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The bake show promotes the use of wheat, one of the Panhandle's leading agricultural commodities. In addition, 4-H members have an opportunity to learn the techniques necessary for making nutritious and delicious baked goods from wheat flour, plus the importance of grain products in a healthy diet.

Reeve's prize winning recipe follows.

Yummy, Yummy Yeast Rolls
 1 package dry yeast
 2 cups warm water, 110-115 degrees
 3/4 cup solid shortening
 1/2 cup sugar
 1-1/2 teaspoons salt
 1 egg
 4-1/2 cups enriched white flour
 1/2 cup whole wheat flour
 6 tablespoons melted butter (optional)
 Dissolve yeast in warm water. Set aside. Cream together the shortening, sugar, salt and egg. Next, add the white flour, whole wheat flour and dissolved yeast. Knead the mixture for three minutes and let dough rise until doubled. Spray muffin tins with cooking spray. Form dough into 24 balls. Tops of dough balls should be smooth. Place rolls in muffin tins. Let rise until rolls are a little above top of muffin tin. (If desired, brush melted butter on each roll.) Bake in a 375-degree oven for 20 minutes or until the rolls are golden brown. Yield: two dozen.

Dear Readers: Here's another how-we-met story for those who enjoy them. Those who don't (including my daughter in Boston) can read something else.

Dear Ann: Please let me tell you how I met my wife. It was a beautiful night at the Casino on Santa Catalina Island, off the coast of California. Freddie Martin's orchestra was playing. The year was 1939.

I looked up, and there she was, a good-looking, dark-haired cutie. The orchestra played "Tonight We Love," and I asked her for a dance. There was something magical in the air that night. We danced every number together, and I didn't let her out of my sight all evening. I asked for her telephone number and called her up a few days later. We dated several times, and after a delightful and romantic courtship, we married.

Forty years later, we celebrated our anniversary by returning to Catalina, and would you believe, Freddie Martin and his orchestra were playing that evening at the Casino. We stopped by and told him how his orchestra had provided the music for our first encounter and that it was our 40th wedding anniversary. He said, "What a coincidence. It was exactly 40 years ago that I played my first engagement in this very place."

Freddie Martin is no longer with us, but we are planning to celebrate our 60th wedding anniversary at the Casino in Catalina. We are going to request that the band play "Tonight We Love." -- Verne and LaVerne in Carlsbad, Calif.

Dear Verne and LaVerne: You two sound like a truly romantic couple and still deeply in love after all these years. I hope the band at the Casino knows your love song. I'll bet if you contact the Casino ahead of time and tell them your story, they'll have it ready for you. Thanks for writing.

Dear Ann Landers: I will be 90 years old on my next birthday and am grateful that my mind is still good and my memory is excellent.

In this era of downsizing, when so many family men are losing their jobs and becoming discouraged, I remembered this poem that my father had framed and hung on the wall in his office. It might help some discouraged people if they read it in your column. -- Ed in Newton, Iowa

Dear Ed: Thank you for sending it on. I printed that very poem several years ago, and my readers found it quite inspiring. Here it is again: The Victor by C.W. Longenecker

If you think you are beaten, you are.

If you think you dare not, you don't.

If you like to win but think you can't,

It's almost a cinch you won't.

If you think you'll lose, you're lost.

For out in the world we find Success begins with a fellow's will.

It's all in the state of mind.

If you think you are outclassed, you are.

You've got to think high to rise.

You've got to be sure of yourself before

You can ever win the prize.

Life's battles don't always go To the stronger or faster man.

But sooner or later, the man who wins

Is the man who thinks he can.

FELLOWSHIP OF BELIEVERS

How Do You Spell God? Answers to the Big Questions from Around the World is a humorous and informative book about world religions written by a priest and a rabbi. This book is being reviewed in "Forum" by the pastor, Nathan L. Stone, Ph.D. "Forum" is FOB's version of Sunday School for adults and young people.

The gospel text for Sunday is Luke 16:19-31, a text that is often used to frighten people. The preacher will not go there. Instead, he will invite folks to look at "Life Beneath the Surface."

The range of wondering will include a number of questions. "Is the day by day, observable, social order the complete and final picture?" "What experiences do the rich and the poor have in common?" "Who knows what goes on in the deep recesses of a person's heart?"

FOB gathers for coffee, morning food and neighborly conversation at 9:15. "Forum" meets at 9:30. A unique Sunday School program for children also meets at 9:30. The children's curriculum is an evolving one designed to introduce the children to a world far bigger than Hereford and to create many opportunities to express the love seen in Jesus.

FOB sings informally around the piano at 10:15. Worship begins at 10:30 and concludes no later than 11:25, in time for an early lunch and Dallas versus Oakland at 12:01.

RELUCTANT FAVORITES

TERRANCE JOHNSON of Amarillo Tascosa (84) closes in on Hereford quarterback Cody Hodges as the Rebels' Wes Malone hits Hodges Sept. 3 at Dick Bivins Stadium. Hodges is District 3-4A's second-ranked quarterback heading into tonight's nondistrict game with Canyon Randall.

Raiders will try to kickstart offense against Hereford

By BOB VARMETTE
Sports Writer

It's hard to imagine. The Canyon Randall Raiders going into their Friday nondistrict matchup with Hereford an underdog?

Randall coach Alan Cornelius thinks so. This from a coach whose team went four games deep into the playoffs in 1997?

Yep. "I think most people see us as an underdog," Cornelius said. "They've seen what's happened to us in the last couple of games."

Here's what's happened. The Raiders lost 26 lettermen from last season's 10-4 Class 4A Division I semifinal team. These aren't the Raiders of yesteryear.

Not so fast, though. Hereford isn't quite ready to assume the role of favorite.

"How can you say one's an underdog when we're both vying for a niche in this football season?" Hereford coach Craig Yenser asked rhetorically. "We've got more sophomore starters than they've got. We've got six sophomore starters."

But the Raiders are struggling, especially offensively, averaging only 230.7 yards per game. Randall is 1-2 with losses to Lubbock High in their opening game and to Amarillo Tascosa last week.

In those two losses, the Raiders scored only six points total. Lubbock High stunned Randall 21-0 in the opener and then Tascosa trounced the Raiders 25-6 last Friday.

"These kids have been in the program for a long time, but we've gone to a little more of an option attack, and our inexperience has

THE GAME -- Canyon Randall (1-2) vs. Hereford (2-1) 7:30 p.m. Friday at Whiteface Stadium.

THE COACHES -- Randall: Alan Cornelius, 7th year; Hereford: Craig Yenser, 3rd year.

THE OFFENSES -- Randall: Pro I-formation; Hereford: I-formation.

THE DEFENSES -- Randall: 5-2; Hereford 5-2.

THE INJURIES -- Randall: Deon Soria -- out (broken leg); Hereford: Daniel Fangman -- probable (ear infection), James Miller -- probable (calf contusion), Jose Garcia -- probable (knee).

THE DYNAMIC DUO -- Hereford's twin-brother passing combination of quarterback Cody Hodges and receiver Slade Hodges has begun to impress area coaches. Cody Hodges is 42-for-63 for 480 yards and one touchdown to rank second in District 3-4A in passing. Slade Hodges is tied for the lead atop the district receiving statistics with 14 catches for 283 yards -- a hefty 20.3 average.

THE OUTLOOK -- Cornelius will be the first to admit the Raiders need a win. In order to get one against Hereford, they need to pressure, but still contain Cody Hodges, and stop Slade Hodges. One plan -- look for the Raiders to jam Slade Hodges at the line of scrimmage and rough him up enough so he isn't a significant factor in the Whitefaces' aerial attack. Hereford has proved it can win even though it's running game has been slightly better than woeful. If the rushing attack continues to falter, the Whitefaces will have to live via the pass. Against a secondary that was victimized by Tascosa last week, Hereford should be able to do that.

Kenseth looks to be NASCAR force

By DICK BRINSTER
AP Sports Writer

DOVER, Del. -- When he arrived at Dover Downs International Speedway, Matt Kenseth was little more than a young man making some noise on the Busch Grand National circuit.

He left as one of the hottest drivers in NASCAR.

"It's just one race," he said. Actually, it was two, and they spoke volumes about the ability of a 26-year-old racer who found himself in the right place at the right time.

Now, he is much more than just the guy whose name appears one line below that of leader Dale Earnhardt Jr. in the Busch series standings.

"Matt Kenseth is a great young racer," said Mark Martin, who won the MBNA Gold 400. "It was a great, great, great day."

Martin was speaking in part about his own record-setting effort Sunday. But he also was acting like a proud parent who'd just seen his son score a game-winning touchdown -- in this case a sixth-place finish by upstart Kenseth in that same race.

When Bill Elliott had to attend his father's funeral, team manager Mike Beam knew a replacement driver would be needed for the weekend. Jimmy Fennig, Martin's crew chief, suggested Kenseth.

"I said, 'I don't know him,'" Beam recalled. "And he said, 'Let's go see Mark.' Mark is kind of Matt's mentor."

Martin sold Beam on Kenseth. Robby Reiser -- whose Busch car Kenseth drove to victory the day before his Winston Cup debut -- gave his approval. The Elliott team had itself a stand-in.

Two days later, the stand-in found himself in contention. At one point, Martin -- who led a record 380 of 400 laps -- looked in his rearview mirror and saw his protege running second.

"The only time I really got emotional was when I passed Rusty Wallace, and Mark was the only car in front of me," Kenseth said. "Then I got a little goofy for a few laps and thought about catching him."

But Kenseth, who had nursed a loose car to victory in the Busch race, came to his senses. He knew Martin was unreachable, and soon settled into a more reasonable pace.

Afterward, Beam was convinced that Kenseth's knowledge of setting up a car makes him a force to be reckoned with.

"For as young as he is, and for his knowledge of race cars, he's the next Jeff Gordon," Beam said. "He knows these race cars from end to end, and he even builds his own shocks."

But Kenseth says he has much to learn.

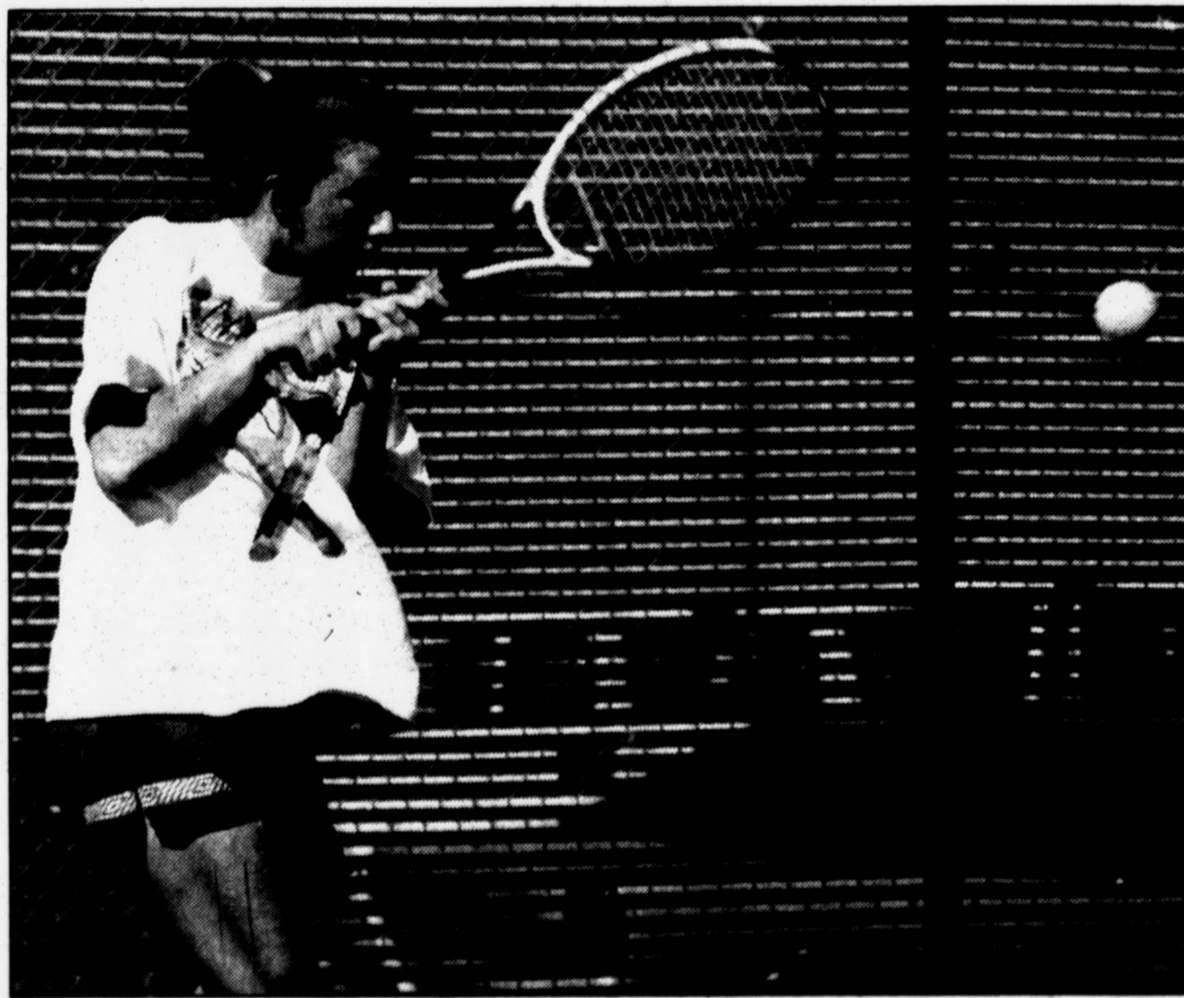

"They've got so much more experience than me," he said of NASCAR's elite. "They sort of took off there at the end and left me."

But Kenseth hopes he learned enough to be competitive the next time an opportunity arises. At least he has begun the learning curve and absorbed one piece of valuable information.

"You have to run hard every lap, and when you think you've got it figured out, they're able to make better adjustments," he said.

He'll get plenty of opportunities to learn how to make his own adjustments. Kenseth is under contract to Roush Racing as a test driver for the likes of Martin and Jeff Burton -- two of the top Winston Cup stars.

Hurricane Georges cancels UCLA-Miami

By STEVEN WINE
AP Sports Writer

MIAMI -- Even before Hurricane Georges reached South Florida, the storm took a toll on the sports schedule, including Saturday's game between third-ranked UCLA and the Miami Hurricanes.

The schools decided Thursday to cancel the game, and it won't be rescheduled.

Thursday night's game between the Florida Marlins and Philadelphia Phillies was postponed and rescheduled as part of a doubleheader Saturday. Friday's program at Calder Race Course was canceled, and many high school events were postponed.

Everyone who entered the Hereford Brand football contest this week will get at least one game right. Due to Hurricane Georges, the UCLA-Miami game was cancelled. Entrants will receive credit for a correct pick no matter who they picked. The Fearless Forecasters don't get off so easy. The game will be thrown out and the forecasters will go with 24 games.

The Miami Dolphins have no game this week. Coach Jimmy Johnson canceled Friday's practice, and many players made plans to spend the weekend out of town.

Georges was forecast to hit the Florida Keys on Friday, with the effects of the storm expected to felt in Miami and beyond.

The cancellation of the UCLA-Miami game was announced shortly before the Bruins were to leave Los Angeles for Miami. A crowd of about 42,000 had been expected for the nationally televised game at the Orange Bowl.

CBS, which had been scheduled to broadcast the game, will fill the time with local programming.

"While it is extremely disappointing that we will be unable to play this game, the importance of responding to the conditions raised by Hurricane Georges were primary in our decision," Hurricanes athletic director Paul Dee said.

Miami president Edward Foote, UCLA chancellor Al Carnesale and both athletic directors were involved in the decision.

Hereford frosh squads split games

From staff reports
BORGER -- Isiah Valdez returned a second-quarter kickoff 94 yards for a touchdown, but that was all Hereford could score as Borger downed the Whitefaces 25-6 Thursday night in freshman "A" football.
The Bulldogs went up 13-0 before Hereford was able to score on the Valdez kick return. Borger would add a pair of touchdowns in the second half -- one each in the third and fourth quarters.
In Hereford, Jerry Coronado scored three touchdowns to lead the Hereford freshman "B" team past the freshmen from Amarillo Palo Duro 19-6 Thursday afternoon.

Coronado tallied twice in the first quarter to post the Whitefaces to a 13-0 lead, scoring on runs of 10 and 25 yards. Coronado added his third touchdown in the second quarter on a four-yard run.
Rodrigo Rodriguez added one extra point for Hereford.
Josh Rodriguez recovered two fumbles by the Dons to lead the Hereford defense and also picked off a pass and returned it 45 yards.
The Hereford freshman "A" team will travel to Dumas next Thursday with kickoff scheduled for 5 p.m. The Hereford freshman "B" squad will be idle next week.

Whiteface edge Raiders in JV game

From staff reports
AMARILLO -- Tim Dudley caught a five-yard pass from Cody Marsh for Hereford's only touchdown as the Whitefaces edged Canyon Randall 7-6 Thursday in junior varsity football.
Trey Madrigal kicked the extra point for what proved to be the margin of victory.

The Raiders scored their lone touchdown in the third quarter.
Nathan Horrell and Rick Bordayo each recovered a fumble to lead the Whiteface defense.

Ags control destiny in spite of forfeit

By MARK BABINECK
Associated Press Writer
COLLEGE STATION -- It's not clear exactly how many more games No. 17 Texas A&M must win to secure a bowl bid now that they've had to forfeit one of their two victories.

All the Aggies know is this: They control their own destiny regardless.
"Hopefully, as the season plays out (the forfeiture) will be moot," Athletic Director Wally Groff said Thursday.

The NCAA normally requires teams to have six Division I-A victories and a winning record to be eligible for a bowl. But because the Aggies are playing 12 games, they'll have to be at least 7-5 to qualify.

The last time A&M scheduled 12 regular-season games was 1996, when the Aggies finished 6-6 and missed the bowls.

A&M had been looking just fine at 2-1 heading into their last non-conference game Saturday against winless North Texas. That changed Wednesday when the Aggies announced D'Andre Hardeman was academically ineligible when he played in a 28-7 victory over Louisiana Tech on Sept. 12.

Hardeman scored three touchdowns in that game and has four of A&M's six rushing TDs this year. He was held out of the Aggies' 24-6 victory over Southern Mississippi last Saturday after a clerical error made by the registrar's office was discovered Sept. 16.

Though the mixup occurred outside his department, Groff said his academic officials should have caught it before Hardeman stepped on the field.

"This error should have been found in August," Groff said.

He is out for the rest of the season. The senior fullback with 30 career touchdowns never redshirted, however, meaning he could come back next year if he repairs his academic status.

Though A&M spokesman Alan Cannon said the Aggies' record stands at "2-1 with an asterisk," the Aggies are essentially 1-2 in bowl terms. If A&M wins just five more games, Groff said they'll appeal to the NCAA to have the forfeit lifted.

Groff added that he believes a program of A&M's caliber shouldn't be worried about winning six more games. When coach R.C. Slocum asked his team after practice Wednesday if they thought they could win six more, they responded with a rousing, "Yes!"

"Not a whole lot has changed for our team other than we've lost a very good football player," Slocum said. "Hopefully that won't wreck our whole season. There's ample opportunity for us to qualify for a bowl game if we're good enough."

Mark Jones, an NCAA enforcement director, said no one around his office could remember another instance when a team caught an error midseason and immediately forfeited the game.

Offense

shown up," Cornelius said. "These kids need to have a full understanding and that's our job as coaches."

Despite the struggles, the Raiders aren't quite ready to concede the season to youthful inexperience.

"We're showing improvement," Cornelius said. "Our kids are proud of the tradition we've built here. We're excited every day. Sure, we miss those kids... But we're excited about this group, too."

Cornelius will start Travis Willard at quarterback. Willard is a 5-9, 152-pound junior who hasn't exactly had stellar stats so far -- 15-for-38 for 228 yards and no touchdowns with three interceptions.

"They're trying to do a lot with him," Yenzler said. "He seems to be growing each week... They like to option, they like the multiple formations, spread you out. He seems to be picking it up better each week."

Also starting in the Raider backfield are senior fullback Tyson Erwin (5-7, 171) and junior tailback Justin Bryant (6-1, 170).

Further complicating matters offensively for the Raiders is the loss of Deon Soria. Soria -- a senior tailback -- broke his right leg in Randall's lone win over Amarillo Palo Duro. Cornelius said he's expected back in two weeks.

"It is hard when you lose a player like him," Cornelius said, "especially with Deon. His presence is important. He has so much determination that it just brings everybody else up. (But) We'll miss his ability, too."

While the Raiders are still struggling to understand their offense, they'll face a team that is quickly beginning to grasp theirs. The Whitefaces are literally flying behind a passing game that has pushed Hereford to the top of the District 3-4A total offense rankings after three games.

In last week's 31-28 nondistrict win over Wolfforth Frenship, Hereford accumulated 259 yards through the air. Whiteface sophomore quarterback Cody Hodges went 17-for-24 for 235 yards, including seven tosses to his twin brother Slade Hodges for 147 yards.

"You can really tell their twin brothers," Cornelius said. "They're on the same page. That's so important in the passing game. When you live with somebody, you get to know each other even better. They just know each other."

While Hereford's offensive resurgence has taken some by surprise, Cornelius is not one of them.

"We played them in the same district for so long," he said. "We've played them at every level. And we have a lot of respect for coach Yenzler and his staff. They made a really good choice. They're really utilizing Cody's abilities."

While the Randall coaching staff is figuring out just how to stop Hereford's flying circus, Yenzler and his assistants are busily trying to determine what the Raiders are going to try to do to stop them. Yenzler said that the Raiders -- along with most teams they've scouted -- haven't seen anything like Hereford's offense, and that makes it difficult to gauge an opponent's defensive plan.

"Nobody does what we're doing," Yenzler said. "This week's emphasis was looking at delayed blitzes... Pretty quick, I expect somebody to drop several and see if they can cover. It might not be this week, but we've started preparing for that."

Texas clinches AL West title tie by sinking Seattle, 9-3

SEATTLE (AP) -- The Texas Rangers clinched a tie for the AL West title Thursday night by beating Seattle 9-3 for their fourth straight victory.

The Rangers, coming off a three-game sweep of Anaheim, lead the Angels by three games with three remaining. Anaheim stayed alive with a 10-6 victory over Oakland earlier in the night.

Texas can win its second division title with one more victory or one more Anaheim loss.

Ivan Rodriguez hit his career-high 21st homer and Aaron Sele won his 19th game for Texas, which had lost 26 of its previous 31 games against Seattle.

Sele (19-11), who allowed three runs and eight hits in six innings, was backed by a 15-hit attack that included a 3-for-4, two-RBI game by Royce Clayton.

The Rangers had eight extra-base hits, including two doubles by Juan Gonzalez.

Mariners pitchers walked nine Rangers, one shy of the Texas club record.

Rodriguez hit a 418-foot shot over the center-field fence to give Texas a 9-2 lead in the sixth.

Georges

"After a general discussion... regarding the safety of students, fans and everyone concerned, it was mutually decided that it would be a mistake to play the game," Foote said.

The Marlins and Phillies are scheduled to conclude their seasons with a four-game series. If Friday's game is also postponed, the teams will try to play back-to-back doubleheaders Saturday and Sunday.

Cotton Bowl will match Big 12, SEC

DALLAS (AP) -- Beginning in January, the Cotton Bowl will feature a matchup of teams from the Big 12 and the Southeastern Conference.

Game officials announced Thursday a four-year deal to match up representatives from both leagues in the New Year's Day game.

The Big 12 will send its runner-up after providing a team for the Bowl Championship Series.

Kenseth

Kenseth wants to drive in five Winston Cup races next year before going full time in 2000.

He's come a long way from the short tracks of his native Wisconsin, where he cut his teeth as a racer. But stardom isn't so far from the high-banked Monster Mile in Dover, where many a veteran driver has done what Kenseth didn't in 600 laps last weekend -- kiss the wall.

"Was he intimidated?"
"No, never when I'm running," he said. "But I haven't seen the video tape yet."

Tape revisited

President's TV prowess on display again

By FRAZIER MOORE
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - At the official kickoff of the new TV season, a much-anticipated fall show landed with a thud.

Not "The King of Queens" or "The Secret Lives of Men." Not "Two of a Kind" or even "Vengeance Unlimited."

No, it was last Monday's world premiere of the 4-hour, $40-million "Clinton: Up Close and Way Too Personal," taped last month by independent counsel Kenneth Starr and financed with his version of an NEA grant.

The chance to see Clinton's secret video testimony before the Starr grand jury had fired the public's imagination since the House Judiciary Committee scheduled the tapes' airing three days earlier.

And why not? According to Starr's congressional advance men, viewers could expect to hear language that would make Howard Stern blush. They would see Bill Clinton buckle under the weight of Starr's interrogation and his own carapace of lies.

Nice try. Particularly when measured against its breathless buildup, the tapes were dullsville - and, as event programming goes, a Nielsen flop.

Broadcast start-to-finish by at least a half-dozen networks Monday morning, Clinton's testimony drew 22.5 million viewers. That's less than one-third the audience that watched the "Seinfeld" finale, even with no prospect of a presidential meltdown.

More confounding from Starr's standpoint, broadcast of the videotapes inflicted no damage on Clinton's job approval rating. To the contrary, it seems to have given him a 7-point bump.

Why should we be surprised? Besieged and humiliated, Clinton was fighting for his political life on Aug. 17 when he seated himself before that camera in the White House Map Room. But there is no better battle station for this TV president than in a TV camera's sights.

Disembodied voices may have hectored him with questions, but Clinton was never challenged for face time as he made the best of this lousy situation to exhibit, by turns, remorse, indignation, pain, respectful obstinacy, and, of course, world-class hairsplitting ("It depends on what the meaning of 'is' is").

Think of Br'er Rabbit, who despite his protestations was at home in the briar patch. Receiving TV's undivided attention, Clinton, however troubled, was right at home.

What an anti-climax for viewers! But any shock value from the testimony had been undone 10 days

'Certainly no one can accuse Bill Clinton of bringing much in the way of civility or class to the presidency, but it remained for Ken Starr to force-feed us a media diet of self degradation.'

- Peter Bart, publisher, Variety

earlier by Congress' breakneck release of the "Starr Report," with its prurient accounts of presidential monkeyshines. Starr had scooped himself; we couldn't be shocked by the same thing twice.

Besides, the spectacle of TV newscasters navigating that report's racy details packed far more punch than when Clinton confronted them. After all, the typical network anchor strikes a much more presidential pose than Clinton, whose chosen style is not so much Chief Executive as Chief TV Host.

So where does this lowly lowdown leave us citizens and viewers? Grossed out, for sure. Violated by topics we could easily do without. And, for many of us, plagued by hard-to-answer questions from our kids about those sordid White House goings-on.

Don't blame Howard Stern or "The Jerry Springer Show" for bringing issues like cigars-as-sex-aids to the national debate. Instead, thank some of the fiercest critics of media vulgarity and trash TV: Starr and his enablers in Congress who voted to make public the report and tapes.

A victory for the free flow of information? In the case of Starr, who fancies himself a latter-day Sgt. Friday from TV's long-ago "Dragnet," it just doesn't wash. On any less convenient occasion, he and other morals cops would likely be keen to stamp out the very subject matter they have now dumped upon us.

"It is the righteous right that has now dropped the ultimate pollutants into the nation's media bloodstream," writes Variety publisher Peter Bart in his current column, headlined "How Ken Starr Out-Smuted the Media Elite."

"Certainly no one can accuse Bill Clinton of bringing much in the way of civility or class to the presidency," Bart continues, "but it remained for Ken Starr to force-feed us a media diet of self-degradation."

Are Ken Starr and Jerry Springer so far apart, then? They're so far apart, they meet on the other side.

Writing Want Ads that really sell!

Unsure how to write a Classified Ad that will get results? Follow these pointers and you'll soon have an empty space in your storage room and cash in your pocket.
 For starters, look at ads which offer the same item/products. Get a sense of going rates and ideas for how to make your ad stand out. Once you're ready to write, begin with exactly what you're selling: "Dining room set, maple, six chairs." Then, remember these hints:
 --Give the price. A newspaper consultant says 70 percent of classified readers won't respond to an ad with no price.
 --Use key words to describe what you're selling. The key words for a car are make, model, year, body style, color, mileage and price. If it's a house, key words are location, type of construction, number of bedrooms and baths, and condition.
 --Don't use abbreviations. It's tempting to abbreviate and save money if ads are billed by the line. Brand ads are billed by the words, so spell them out so readers won't be confused trying to figure out abbreviations.
 --Don't be misleading. Think accurate and factual when you write. Be sure to include a phone number and the best times to reach you.

CLASSIFIED ADS
 Classified advertising rates are based on 15 cents a word for first insertion ($3.00 minimum), and 11 cents for second publication and thereafter. Rates below are based on consecutive issues, no copy change, straight word ads.

2 days per word	.26	5.20
3 days per word	.37	7.40
4 days per word	.48	9.60
5 days per word	.59	11.80

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY
 Classified display rates apply to all other ads not set in solid-word lines-those with captions, bold or larger type, special paragraphs; all capital letters. Rates are 5.10 per column inch.

LEGALS
 Ad rates for legal notices are 5.10 per column inch.

ERRORS
 Every effort is made to avoid errors in word ads and legal notices. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. In case of errors by the publishers an additional insertion will be published.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Religion in brief

Reformed Church head: Clinton should resign
NEW YORK (AP) - The chief executive of the 300,000-member Reformed Church in America, the Rev. Wesley Granberg-Michaelson, has called on President Clinton to resign.

His statement said "the personal moral failure and persistent dishonesty of President Clinton" have created a political crisis, and Clinton's continuation in office would perpetuate a "damaging segregation of personal morality and public responsibility."

Granberg-Michaelson is the former director of church and society for the World Council of Churches.

Leading clergy who had previously urged resignation include: John Hurst Adams, senior bishop of the African Methodist Episcopal Church; Herbert Chilstrom, retired presiding bishop of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America; and Paige Patterson, a religious right leader who heads Clinton's own denomination, the Southern Baptist Convention.

Graham planning another crusade
ST. LOUIS (AP) - The Rev. Billy Graham is bringing his religious crusade here next year for a four-day event despite the preacher's failing health.

The evangelist announced Tuesday that he would hold the Greater St. Louis Crusade on Oct. 14-17, 1999, at the TWA Dome. It will be his first major crusade in the city since 1973.

Graham, 79, continues to hold crusades despite suffering from Parkinson's disease. His son, the Rev. Franklin Graham, usually accompanies his father.

Crusades also are scheduled next month in Tampa, Fla., and next year in Indianapolis. The events are free.

Graham, who has counseled presidents and led faith crusades around the world, is consistently listed by polls as one of the world's 10 most admired men.

Russia limiting visas for religious workers
MOSCOW (AP) - Foreign religious workers may remain in Russia for three months maximum, unlike most other foreigners who can have their visas renewed for a year without leaving the country. But according to religious workers, when they seek to renew their visas, they are told they must go to a Russian Embassy or consulate abroad for quarterly renewals.

Russia came under international criticism last year for a law that limits foreign religious groups, and the latest regulation could further complicate the work of missionaries and churches abroad.

"It will make it all much more expensive," said Donald Jarvis, head of the Mormon church's Yekaterinburg mission in central Russia. Jarvis runs a mission with more than 100 missionaries, most from the United States.

Peanut bans stun Georgia industry

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) - Peanut butter bans at some New York schools are spreading bewilderment in Georgia, where most of the nation's peanuts are grown.

Prompted by parents' warnings of lethal peanut allergies and the fear of lawsuits, a handful of private New York schools have declared war on peanuts and peanut butter, foods wildly popular with even finicky youngsters.

Kids who are stuck on "PB&J" are out of luck: Some schools have banned the foods outright, while others have set up peanut-free zones or formed committees to study the issue.

"It's a very emotional issue for people who have young children in school," Mitch Head, executive director of the Atlanta-based Peanut Advisory Board, said Thursday. "It's unfortunate that in most cases emotions have overridden logic."

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention reported 88 deaths from all food allergies between 1979 to 1995.

But the Fairfax, Va.-based nonprofit Food Allergy Network - supported by allergists - believes the deaths are underreported and estimates 125 people die annually from food allergies, mostly to peanuts.

Milder forms of peanut allergies can cause hives, coughing and wheezing and upset stomachs, doctors say.

Under a recent Transportation Department directive, airlines must set aside at least three rows where no peanuts could be served whenever an allergic passenger has made an advance request.

The allergy network doesn't support peanut bans in schools but does support airlines' peanut-free zones, said Anne Munoz-Furlong, founder of the group.

The airline directive prompted protests from peanut-belt lawmakers, and Transportation Secretary Rodney Slater has ordered a review of the policy.

"People are going to be allergic to things. To have peanuts singled out seems unfair," said Jerry Ustry, executive director of the Georgia Peanut Producers Association.

Head said he knew of no such bans in Georgia, where the peanut generates revenues of about $500 million a year as the state's second-highest cash crop behind cotton.

Jeannette Anderson, president of the American Peanut Council in Alexandria, Va., said the industry supports research aimed at developing vaccines against peanut allergies and developing allergy-free peanuts.

Most of the copper produced in the world is used by the electrical industry, chiefly in the form of wire, because copper is the best, low-cost conductor of electricity around.

WHITE ZOMBIE

LOS ANGELES (AP) - The heavy metal rock group White Zombie is throwing itself onto the junk heap. "After 13 years, White Zombie has accomplished everything we set out to do and we all felt it was time to move on," band members Rob Zombie, Sean Yseult, John Tempesta and J. said in a statement announcing the group's breakup Thursday. The statement did not elaborate. The band's dozen albums include "Supersexy Swingin' Sounds," "Astro Creep: 2000" and "Songs of Love."

CHRIS WALLACE

NEW YORK (AP) - The son of "60 Minutes" may be about to hire the son of a "60 Minutes" legend. Chris Wallace, Mike Wallace's son, is being considered for a role on the spinoff newsmagazine "60 Minutes II," according to TV Guide. CBS executives are also courting Charlie Rose, talking up a deal that would let him continue his shows on public television, TV Guide said. Wallace, who works for ABC, had no comment. Neither did CBS. Rose was not immediately available for comment, a spokeswoman said. Dan Rather is expected to contribute some reports to "60 Minutes II," possibly relinquishing his anchor role at "48 Hours," TV Guide said.

LARRY FLYNT

GARDENA, Calif. (AP) - Larry Flynt has the approval of the City Council to build a $23 million card casino. "Good luck to you," Councilman Jim Cragin told Flynt representatives after the 4-0 vote Tuesday. "I hope you make this so the whole city's proud of you." Councilman Steven Bradford said a casino would bring more jobs and tax revenue into Gardena, 15 miles south of Los Angeles.

LORENZO LAMAS

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) - Lorenzo Lamas took the city by storm. Streets were reduced to muddy, trash-strewn paths with Hollywood supplying the hurricane, including lightning, rain and wind, in order to transform the coastal community into a fictitious Central American country for the new syndicated TV series "Air America." "We want to give our audience 'A-Team' quality action with 'Moonlighting' quality humor on half the budget of 'ER,'" Lamas said Wednesday. The actor stars with wife Shauna Sand Lamas and mother Arlene Dahl. "Air America" is loosely based on the 1990 Mel Gibson movie of the same name, about two pilots during the Vietnam War.

BETTE MIDLER

LOS ANGELES (AP) - A brush with an excited fan led to "Bathhouse Betty," the title of Bette Midler's first album in three years. "I was in my house down in Orange County. I was all by myself and I was nervous because I don't like to be alone. It's kind of scary," Ms. Midler said in this week's Billboard magazine. "Somebody knocked on my door and it was a fan. He started shrieking, 'Bathhouse Betty! Bathhouse Betty!' and I thought, 'Oh my God! How mortifying.' "It was pretty scary, but I said, 'I'm going to call the cops!' and he ran away," she recalled. "But he left me with Bathhouse Betty, and how could I forget that? He was giving me an homage to my days playing the bathhouses."

Clinton, Jones lawyers discussing settlement

WASHINGTON (AP) - At the same time impeachment proceedings are moving forward in Congress, an effort is under way to revive settlement talks in the Paula Jones sexual harassment lawsuit against President Clinton, according to sources familiar with the effort. One source said Mrs. Jones' lawyers have sent at least one letter to Clinton's legal team exploring the possibility, and that the president was considering the idea. A second source confirmed there was some form of contact exploring possible settlement talks but declined to be more specific. The sources spoke only on condition of anonymity.

Mrs. Jones' sexual harassment case, dismissed by a judge earlier this year, is being considered by the 8th Circuit Court of Appeals, which is scheduled to hear oral arguments next month in Minnesota. The lawsuit was summarily dismissed in April by U.S. District Judge Susan Webber Wright, who ruled that even if the facts alleged by Mrs. Jones were true, she had not shown proof of any professional harm. The president has denied the incident ever took place. One of the sources, familiar with Clinton's defense, said Mrs. Jones, a former low-level Arkansas state employee, offered to settle the case if the president would pay her legal fees - about $800,000. The source said Mrs. Jones, who claimed Clinton made a crude sexual pass at her while he was Arkansas governor - and thus her employer - no longer was requiring a statement of apology from Clinton.

Earlier, she used an appearance at a Sheridan, Colo., school to castigate Republicans for being too fixated on investigating her husband. "They'd rather spend their time dividing our country, diverting our resources, doing anything but focusing on the real problems of America," she said. Mrs. Clinton isn't burdened by the negatives that President Clinton carries, and she is willing to work - two reasons she is in great demand among Democrats. She is a popular, risk-free alternative to the party's scandalized titular head.

First lady hits road for Demo candidates

WASHINGTON (AP) - It's Hillary Rodham Clinton to the rescue.

She's working the phones on behalf of her beleaguered husband, telling wobbly Democrats she's "very proud" of him, and taking shots at Republicans as she campaigns for Democratic candidates in congressional and statewide races. Thursday night at a campaign stop in Seattle, she criticized congressional Republicans for "doing stuff that doesn't amount to a hill of beans in the long-term future of America."

The first lady has always been a big draw for Democrats, appearing at 35 fund-raisers since January - three a day on some occasions. She made appearances Thursday in Colorado for senatorial candidate Dottie Lamm and gubernatorial hopeful Gail Schoettler, then headed farther West to help others.

New drug apparently reduces flu's effects

SAN DIEGO (AP) - An experimental new pill appears to reduce a typical four-day bout of the flu by about a day and a half while making you feel better, too.

It is one of two closely related drugs in development - one given as a pill, the other as a nasal spray - that could offer important new weapons against the ubiquitous wintertime misery.

Two other flu medicines are already on the market, but they are ineffective against one of the two major varieties of the flu virus. The two medicines in development appear to work against both kinds.

If they eventually win approval from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, they could serve as a kind of backup to the flu vaccine, which will remain the most important defense against the disease.

Researchers were to outline the results today of the first large-scale human testing of a medicine code named GS4104, being developed by Gilead Sciences Inc. and Hoffman-LaRoche.

Committee eliminates federal funding for TVA

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) - A congressional committee has cut $70 million from the Tennessee Valley Authority's budget, eliminating funding for programs such as dam maintenance and flood control.

Unless TVA supporters find another source of money for the 1999 budget, the agency will be without federal funding for non-power programs for the first time in its 65-year history.

Southern Baptist pastor dismissals decline

NASHVILLE (AP) - Congregations asked fewer Southern Baptist pastors to leave their churches last year, according to a survey of 35,812 of the denomination's 40,877 churches conducted for the state Baptist conventions. In 1997, 892 pastors were fired from leadership posts. That's a 29 percent drop from the previous year.

Among the problems most commonly cited were disagreements over who would run the church and pastoral leadership style. In some cases, the study noted, the churches were in conflict before the pastor arrived.

Police investigated the house and found dirty dishes in the sink and other signs that someone had been living in the house for a number of days. Garza determined most of a whole large watermelon, some window cleaner, lemonade, peanut butter and jelly, numerous canned and frozen goods and $150 in cash were missing. Police records indicate Smithson has been arrested numerous times and charged with prowling, public intoxication and disorderly conduct. Justice of the Peace Johnnie Turrentine set bail at $5,000 and a lithium test is scheduled for Monday. Smithson remains in custody.
