

Hospital Board Makes Election Plans

New Doctor Plans Medical Practice Here

By BOB NIGH
Brand Staff Writer

The announcement of the addition of another family practice physician to the Family Medical Clinic, action on an extension request by the construction firm responsible for the new surgical unit, and the formulation of plans for the calling for the election of board members highlighted the monthly meeting of the Deaf Smith General Hospital Board of Directors Tuesday morning.

Hospital Chief of Staff Dr. A.T. Mims revealed to the board that Dr. David Carruth, originally from Tulia, will be joining the staff of the Family Clinic during the latter part of July.

"DR. CARRUTH is currently in the military, and will finish his tour of duty in mid-July," Dr. Mims told the board.

Dr. Carruth is a family practice physician, and brings the total number of family practice physicians in the area to four.

In addition Dr. Mims reported that the Physician Recruitment Committee had entertained two additional physicians over the weekend.

In Hereford for a visit were Dr. Mee Shai, an internal medicine specialist from Detroit, and Dr. Dennis Cannon, a family practice physician from Arizona.

Acting upon a recommendation by the board's Executive Committee, the board approved a 108-day extension to the construction contract for the surgical wing.

The decision to extend the contract time was made after the board considered reasons submitted by the contractor for the loss of time as acceptable, Hospital Administrator Ron Welty indicated.

IN HIS OPERATING REPORT for the month of January, Welty appointed out that a reduction in the number of live births had decreased from the number in January of 1976.

The hospital had 95 births in January 1977 as compared to 127 the same month in 1976.

"This accounts for a large part of a decline in our total patient days as compared to 1976," Welty said.

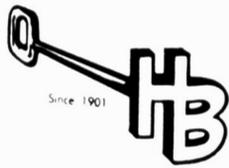

It may also be due to the results of a reduced staff six or seven months ago when expectant mothers had to go elsewhere to find physicians," he added.

Welty added that he felt the number of births would be on the increase within the next six or seven months due to the addition of new physicians in the last few months.

The board voted to allow Administrator Welty to secure an election judge for the

THE WEST TEXAS Chamber of Commerce has done a lot of effective work over the years in the field of legislation and regional leadership, and in inspiring pride and interest in its area as a place where quality of life is good and getting better.

One of their recent projects was to put strong support behind legislation requiring the teaching of the free enterprise system in Texas high schools. A couple of generations ago it would have seemed totally unnecessary to teach so obvious a basic, but over a period of time the trends in economics and educational philosophy have swung toward a different attitude-- that "big brother" knows best and that government can spend our money and solve all the problems better than individuals.

The free enterprise system was taken so much for granted, in fact, that schools had difficulty finding textbooks and materials that explained the system. The WTCC has been helpful along these lines, too. They have provided teaching "kits" on the free enterprise system, and have encouraged businesses to purchase them and give them to schools. We support the project... it's time to become vocal in stressing the virtues of self-reliance and free enterprise to our young people during their formative years.

IN ONE OF HIS first moves to reduce the size of big government, President Jimmy Carter issued an executive order to heads of government agencies to reduce the size of their legal staffs. Too many lawyers, theorizes the President, makes it too easy for executive agencies to get lawyers to write their rules, which means that more lawyers are needed to interpret those rules.

Some folks have argued for years that we have too many lawyers in the Texas Legislature, making laws that only other lawyers can understand. Twenty-one of the State's Senate's 31 members are lawyers, and 58 of the House's 150 members are lawyers. Let us hastily add, however, that the voters have selected these lawyers to represent them.

Lawyers are not exactly an endangered species. According to a current State Bar publicity release, there were 11,700 members in 1953; the number increased to 28,000 in 1976, and the Bar figures to double that figure by 1990 at the rate they're going.

Cloud Seeding Resolution Passed

County Purchases Two Motor Graders

The Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court Monday accepted two bids totaling almost $100,000 for motor graders during a regular session at the county courthouse.

Also approved was a resolution against cloud seeding, a new method of earning interest on certificates of deposit, a $220 expense request from the Juvenile Probation office, and the appointment of members to a county Employee Grievance committee.

The bids were both awarded to West Texas Equipment Company, which has offices in Amarillo and Lubbock. They amounted to $49,800 for precinct one (Alfred Smith) and $48,900 for precinct two (Austin Rose). Added to the first bid was a $1,260 tilting moar board while the second bid was accepted as is. The bids were based on two trade-ins.

ALTHOUGH THE BIDS were among the highest of eight submitted on the two machines, Rose and Smith voiced preference for the quality of the Caterpillar graders (maintainers) which are distributed by West Texas Equipment. Along with the support of County Judge Sam Morgan and Commissioner James Voyles, the court agreed that past experience with the different machines has proven they were more dependable with repair service more readily accessible.

You can look at bills for past repairs and see how much it has been costing," Rose said. "It will save more in the long run."

Other bids rejected according to county precinct are as follows: Precinct 1- Plains

Machinery Co. ($35,138); Dechard Machinery Co. ($39,496); and Consolidated Equipment Sales ($45,486). Precinct 2- Plains ($32,762) Dechard ($37,489); and Consolidated ($43,586). Plains distributes Galion graders while Dechard handles John Deere machines, and Consolidated carries Fiat-Allis maintainers.

For the third straight year the court approved a resolution asking for action in the state legislature against cloud seeding in the area. A program by Better Weather Inc. has been conducted in Panhandle counties to commence with a "hail suppression" project to produce more rain.

It requests a local option vote to forbid any seeding activity over the county. As it now stands, a firm may proceed with it without authorization from local residents unless a vote is taken to ban it. Morgan said he thinks the law should have required a vote to permit the seeding rather than the other way around.

CONCERNING THE DEPOSITORY of funds, Jack Wilcox of First National Bank told the commissioners that either a straight five per cent interest return on deposits or a floating interest method could be approved. The later method is new and would peg the interest rate to the interest being paid on federal treasury bills. The bank would allow a floating rate in-between 6 3/4 and 4 3/4 per cent.

The commissioners opted for the floating rate on the assumption that more was to be gained than could be lost. With only a fourth per cent difference in the drug information charts to distribute to parents, students and other interested citizens. He will buy 1,000 charts for $220 and court amended his budget as such.

Appointed to the Grievance Committee five per cent rate and the minimum on the floating rate, the court felt fairly safe.

Chamber Board Selects New Executive Manager

Robert G. Duckworth, 36, of Hobbs, N.M., has been named as the new executive vice president of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, it was announced today by Joe Shollenbarger, C of C president.

Duckworth, currently serving as the chamber executive in Hobbs, was unanimously selected by the DSCCC board to succeed Bill Albright, who recently resigned to move to Big Spring. The new executive plans to assume duties here March 15.

A native of Longview, Duckworth attended high school at Bastrop, La., and Oxnard, Calif., before graduating from Drumright High School in Oklahoma. He was employed with an oil company in Oklahoma for several years before entering chamber work in May 1973. He was chamber manager at Pawnee and Tahlequah, Okla., before going to Hobbs.

Duckworth served in the U.S. Navy for four years, and he is an elder in the Church of Christ of Latter-Day Saints. He has completed four years of organization management, attending institutes at Texas Christian University, University of Delaware, and Southern Methodist University.

He and his wife, Rena Maye, have three children-- Cindy (15), Brenda (13), and Steven (10). Duckworth is currently serving as vice president of the Permian Basin C of C Executives.

Shollenbarger said the board felt "fortunate in securing a man with the record posted by Duckworth in chamber work. We feel he will be a great asset to our community and that he has the ability to generate fresh ideas and creative solutions to difficult problems."

Directors conducted a personal interview with Duckworth last week, after the selection committee had chosen him over seven other applicants. Directors voted unanimously Friday to offer the position to Duckworth, and he announced his resignation in Hobbs yesterday.

Campfire Girls Hold Annual Dinner Meeting

The first annual Celebration Dinner honoring volunteers in the local Camp Fire program was held in conjunction with the 32nd annual meeting of the Board of Directors of Hereford Camp Fire Council Monday night at K-Bob's Steak House.

The main concern during the business session was the election of board members and officers. Buddy Peeler was elected a third term as board president and received an engraved gavel from Mary Hamby in citation of his continuing service to the Hereford CFG Council.

Other officers of the board will include Alex Schoeter, vice president; Sely Metz, secretary; and Lois Turpen, treasurer.

UNDER THE DIRECTION of Peeler, board members revised the council by-laws to implement the "New Day" structure into the local program's format. The New Day is a nationally-sanctioned concept which will enrich the opportunities of Camp Fire Girls, Inc.

In relation to this new strategy, two women who will serve as New Day consultants here were introduced. Norma Nowlin of Oklaunion and Charlotte Clark of Hereford are National Volunteers in the New Day prospect.

The Council's fiscal year was discussed and Peeler expressed satisfaction with the 1976 support from the United Way, which provided approximately $13,000 for the local program. Camp Fire Girls is a United Way agency.

Appreciation was expressed to those local individuals and businesses who support Camp Fire Girls with special gifts. Recognition was given to Mrs. Eleanor Renz, Mr. and Mrs. William Igal, Natural Gas Pipeline, J.M. Hamby, Armor Packing and Hereford Rotary Club.

SERVICE FROM VOLUNTEERS was cited by members of the Horizon Club, the senior chapter of Camp Fire. Honored for her work in the field of administration was Karoll Rettman. Also praised for participation in area service teams of school programs were Helen Cherry, Phillis Dawson, Sandy Burrus, Paula Eubanks, Mary Sledge, Cindy Norvell, Rosie Griffin and Dorothy Brownlow.

In other volunteer awards, Betty Drake, chairman of the volunteer development committee, was called forward to accept the outstanding committee award for her task force.

Ann Landers Youth Essay Repeated

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Recently you printed an Essay on Youth. The sender said he had found it on a bookmark and the author was "anonymous."

May I throw a little light on the subject? That essay was written by Gen. Douglas MacArthur -- in case you want to set the record straight. -- O. City.

DEAR ANN: The Essay on Youth was written by my grandfather, the late Samuel Ullman of Birmingham, Ala.

Twenty years after my grandfather's death, a journalist who was interviewing General MacArthur at his Tokyo headquarters in 1945 was impressed by a framed poem on his desk. It was called "Youth" -- and the author apparently anonymous. The general said this essay had been sent to him years before and he found it so inspiring he took it wherever he went.

I later learned the essay appeared in print under the title, "General MacArthur's Credo."

So, Ann, will you kindly run the entire essay in your column as my grandfather, Samuel Ullman, wrote it? It would make those of us who loved him

proud. -- Samuel Ullman III

DEAR III: It is with great pleasure that I run the complete essay as it was written by your grandfather, Samuel Ullman. Thank you for providing me with the facts.

YOUTH

By Samuel Ullman

Youth is not a time of life; it is a state of mind; it is not a matter of rosy cheeks, red lips and supple knees; it is a matter of the will, a quality of the imagination, a vigor of the emotions, it is the freshness of the deep springs of life.

Youth means a temperament of predominance of courage over timidity, of the appetite for adventure over the love of ease. This often exists in a man of sixty more than a boy of twenty. Nobody grows old merely by living a number of years. We grow old by deserting our ideals.

Years may wrinkle the skin, but to give up enthusiasm wrinkles the soul. Worry, fear, self-doubt bows the heart and turns the spirit back to dust.

Whether sixty or sixteen, there is in every human being's heart the lure of wonder, the unfailing child-like curiosity of what's next, and the joy of the game of living. In the center of your heart and mine there is a wireless station; so long as it receives messages of beauty, hope, cheer and courage, you are young.

When the aerials are down, and your spirit is covered with the snows of cynicism and the ice of pessimism, then you have grown old, even at twenty. But so long as your aerials are up, to catch the optimism, there is hope you may die young at eighty.

DEAR ANN: Does a girl HAVE to accept a date to an important party from the dude who asks her first? A guy I'll call The Bore trapped me twice by calling two months in advance and I am -- Fedsville

DEAR FED: If a girl doesn't want to go with a dude she should say "No" when he asks -- and take her chances. If she doesn't get a better offer she's better off at home with a good book.

Don't gamble with your life. Ignoring the risk factors of heart attack and stroke is really taking a chance. Free information from your Heart Association will tell you why.

At Wit's End

By Erma Bombeck

I have a friend who has been trying to sell her house for six months and frankly, I'm worried about her.

The other morning, while having coffee, I excused myself to use her bathroom. She threw her body across the door and said, "Do you really have to use this? I mean, you couldn't wait and stop at the service station on the way home, could you?"

"Get hold of yourself, Florida," I said. "Ever since you listed your home you've developed a clean fetish."

"Are you finished leaning back on that pillow?" she asked, grabbing it and punching it up with her fist.

"See what I mean? You're going crazy with neatness. What happened? We never see a newspaper at your door anymore. We never see garbage cans at your curb. I almost hate to ask, but where are your children?"

"I laundered and stored them until after we move," she said, grabbing the cup and saucer away from my lips and rinsing them under the faucet. "Fact it. No one buys a house that looks like it's inhabited."

"That's a dumb thing to say."

"It's true. Take your average model home. The light switches might not work, the walls smell like paste, there is no water, and the doors are hung backwards. No problem. The house will still sell. But if the lids are up on the bathroom commode -- for get it!"

"I don't believe that at all."

"It's true. Take this house. Please. It was a model home when we bought it. I'm here to tell you a virgin house is the most beautiful sight in the world. There was even a bowl of waxed fruit on the coffee table. Then we moved in. First, it was a basketball in the foyer, handprints around the light switches, a cardboard box in the utility room to hold the dog, cup dispensers on every wall, a calendar over the stove, notes on the refrigerator, an ironing board in the dining room, a boot in the flower bed, rolled-up newspapers in the spouting, 50-pound bag of fertilizer on the porch, a bread card in the window..."

"And the waxed fruit?"

"It's still in the bowl with initials carved into it, along with a brush roller, two marbles and a transistor battery. The illusion is gone."

Just then the realtor came up the drive with a prospective couple. "Quick," yelled Gloria, grabbing her sweater. "Put the coffee pot in the oven, the mail in the freezer and follow me to the basement. Just pray they don't slip on the driveway. I waxed it yesterday."

Aging Elvis Still 'The King'

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP)—Ruth Blumel, who at 55 sleeps with a picture of her long-time idol over her bed, dragged her 70-year-old husband into the shrieking throngs to see Elvis Presley.

"He's the king," said Mrs. Blumel. "No way I was going to miss this."

The king, his paunch packed into white bell-bottoms and a sequined vest, burst on stage before 14,700 southern Florida Fans Saturday night to deafening roar that drowned out his music.

His gyrations didn't quite reach the legendary pitch of the 1950's, but Elvis didn't need to do much more than twitch his hops to teen grandmothers, mothers, teen-agers and even some males into a frenzy.

"I waited 20 years to see him," Shirley Impresa, 31, said as she clutched a bouquet of red roses in hopes of handing them to Elvis.

"He's so sexy," she said. Sexy at 42 with a weight problem. Incredulous, she looked toward the stage, saying "It doesn't matter, it doesn't matter. He's Elvis."

Frank Marcello of Margate, a 22-year-old truck driver, and his wife, Lydia, camped all night in front of the Hollywood Sportatorium to get front-row tickets. An electric heater plugged in by a kindly guard kept them warm.

Frank is the Elvis fan. "There's only one Elvis," he said. "He's great. I may only have been a kid when he was starting, but I had Elvis diapers."

There were just so many seats in the front. But once the patriarch of rock 'n' roll hit the stage, fans surged forward, creaming "Elvis", waving teddy bears and clambering over seats. Dozens of fans who were caught in the crush stalked out; some demanded their money back.

As Elvis sang "Jailhouse Rock" and "Don't Be Cruel," fistfights broke out near the stage as his worshippers tried to catch autographed scarves he tossed into the crowd. A crying Kathy Herrmann of Miami Shores had her thumb wrench in the frenzy.

Career Women Exchange Ideas

WTSU--West Texas State University's Feb. 9 brown bag luncheon for women brought in a federal women's program coordinator with advice on "The Realities of Working."

Carol Sivright, who works with the US Department of Health, Education and Welfare in Dallas, offered tips as to how to make a woman's transition into the career world easier.

She has been successful in combining her own career with family and other personal obligations. The wife of an electronics firm president, Mrs. Sivright is a business woman, lecturer, teacher, student, editor, writer, wife and homemaker.

"Be enthusiastic," Mrs. Sivright said, and be conscientious about your appearance.

"The first impression is the lasting one," she said.

"Learn very early in your career to ask questions," she continued, because employers appreciate it and it helps you learn what is expected of you.

"Stay nice, pleasant and in control, but direct your own career," she said, "and accept responsibility for your own self-improvement."

Much of the pay and work opportunity equality that women gained in the last several years has eroded, she pointed out.

"You are going to have to expect to take a lower pay salary," Ms. Sivright said. "But stay out front and keep on fighting."

A career can be worth it though, she noted, but to be successful you must have your family's sanction.

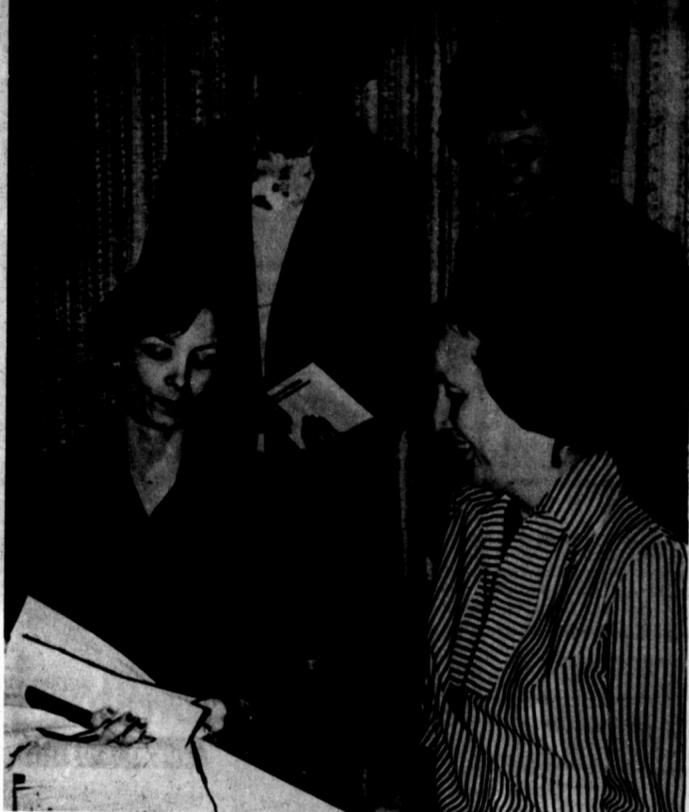

Money is not the primary thing for me, but neither is fulfillment. You will find that seventy to seventy five per cent of your job is really not going to fulfill you," she said. "It will be something you have to do whether you like it or not, but if you are enthusiastic then it will carry you through."

Mrs. Sivright followed her brown bag presentation with an in-depth self-appraisal and goal-setting exercise on personal career development.

Career Quandary

Mary Aguilar of Hereford, a student at West Texas State University, discussed the problems facing career women with Carol Sivright, at right, federal women's program coordinator. Mrs. Sivright, who works with the US Department of HEW, was keynote speaker Wednesday during a brown bag luncheon on the WT campus.

Red Cross Plans First Aid Class

Plans for conducting a basic first aid class here were announced yesterday during a luncheon meeting of the Red Cross Uniformed Volunteers in the home of Ora Morgan.

Betty Henson, newly-installed as executive secretary of the local Red Cross Chapter, stated that the first aid instruction will be held here next month. She also related other current Red Cross activities on the local and national levels.

Mrs. Morgan, president of the volunteer unit, lead the group in discussion of altering the date of the monthly meeting. It was decided that the volunteers will convene on the second Thursday of each month. A meeting place will be selected and announced later. The next meeting is scheduled March 10.

Each member reported the number of hours which she had devoted to community service this past month. In attendance were Bea Hutson, C. Ora Cockrell, Audine Dettmann, Mrs. Arthur Dettman, Gladys Braly, Isabel Claudio, Jerry Jackson, Nell Culpepper, Mrs. Henson and Mrs. Morgan.

Pair Joins Ceramic Art Club Here

Two guests of Ceramic Art Club were added to that group's membership rolls Monday during a meeting at the Community Center.

Introduced by Nell Culpepper, the two guests included Mrs. Ed Barrett and Mrs. Jim Lower.

Members discussed plans to participate in the Fine Arts Festival here March 26-27. The Festival is sponsored by the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce and Mrs. Herschel Black is chairman of the event.

During the project session, members worked on lava glazes in their ceramic work.

In attendance were Belle Hromas, Ethel Stengel, Helen Kirkeby, Elaine Holly, Anna Katherine Huckert, Lorraine Wallman and Mrs. Culpepper.

HD Council Report Heard

Mrs. Richard Paschel reported information concerning the Home Demonstration Council Thursday during a meeting of Young Homemakers HD Club, who met in the Jeff Deavenport home.

Mrs. Larry Paetzold presided over business and reminded each member to bring a covered dish to the HD Appreciation Luncheon, scheduled here Feb. 28. Also, Mrs. Joe Wallace was appointed as the club's nominee for service as district delegate.

Sherry Harder, assistant county extension agent, was introduced as the guest speaker. She presented a program, "Fashion with Scarves," and invited members to practice tying various scarf styles.

Guests in attendance included Oleta Whaley, Jean Hancock, Josie Ramirez and Mrs. Galen Friemel. Also present was another club member, Mrs. Dan Gorman.

The next meeting will be held in the Paschel home on March 9 with members assembling at the Community Center.

The patient may refuse to admit even to himself that they are very ill or having a heart attack. The decision to obtain help therefore should not be left to the patient alone. It is also the responsibility of the spouse, a relative, or a friend.

When describing the condition, give every clue about the pain that can be given: what the person was doing when the pain first occurred; where the pain is located and to which areas it spreads; whether it is a sharp or dull pain, and how severe the pain is; and whether it comes and goes or it is constantly present.

The doctor will probably suggest bringing the patient to his office or directly to the hospital emergency room. While transporting the patient to the hospital or waiting for the doctor, reassure the patient. Have him avoid physical exertion, and keep him as comfortable as possible.

Heart of It

by Janita Oswald,
Nutrition Task Force Chairman
American Heart Association

How do you recognize symptoms of a Heart Attack? Pain may be the most prominent symptom of a heart attack. This particular pain, usually in the center of the chest behind the breastbone, may be accompanied by pallor, weakness, nausea, sweating, shortness of breath, and often a feeling of impending disaster. The pain may radiate to the arm, neck, or jaw.

The severity of pain a person feels during a heart attack will vary according to the person's ability to recognize or feel pain. In some cases, the pain is mild and may feel like tightness or pressure on the chest; in fact, many people describe the discomfort of heart attack as "indigestion". In other cases the pain may be unbearably intense.

Unfortunately, too many people do not report their symptoms promptly. By failing to call a doctor when unusual symptoms exist, they place their life in danger or may cause unnecessary damage to their heart.

Act quickly if you suspect that a member of your family, an acquaintance, or you yourself are having heart attack, call your doctor immediately, and give him as much information as

Carter's Sister Explains Beliefs

President Jimmy Carter emphasizes the politics more than the religion but his sister Ruth Carter Stapleton puts more importance on religion as is obvious in her evangelism across the country and world.

Her ministry came to Hereford this weekend as she conducted a faith healing seminar and press conference at Wesley Methodist Church.

Based on questions from reporters, she said, "I am a social activist and I believe that Christians have a duty in politics. I find so many Christians who are proud that they have nothing to do with politics."

Since her ministry takes her far and wide, Mrs. Stapleton requires secret security protection now and then, especially abroad. Once her brother became president, she had to cancel three overseas engagements due to the country's political views. These trips were only temporarily postponed.

She has fought SS protection stateside and does not use them. "I find overseas ministry, more rewarding than here because so many times I want to talk with people who have never heard anything about religion. Their minds are not already cluttered and prejudiced."

Some of her best audiences are the Communist universities since she said Christianity sounds so much better to them than the doctrines of their country.

When asked about the controversial Playboy magazine interview with the President, she said, "I agreed with it and this may surprise you but I tried to secure an interview with Playboy before they approached him." She saw the value in reaching the magazine's readership.

Mrs. Stapleton claimed a bit of triumph over her famous brother when she noted that she had traveled more miles in her work than Jimmy Carter did in his presidential campaign. She said it gets tiresome answering questions "about Jimmy, not from the secular press but from other Christians who ask about his religious beliefs."

Concerning her own beliefs, she said, "I believe that a person must be first emotionally and spiritually healed, then they may be physically healed through prayer."

upcoming election of three hospital board members, and to try to secure one centrally-located polling place for the election.

THE ELECTION will be held April 2, and the board will issue a formal order calling for the election at its next regular meeting in March.

Persons wishing to have their name placed on the ballot for a board seat must have turned in a petition containing the signatures of 50 qualified voters before March 8.

Petition forms are available at the administrator's office, and need to be turned in to the hospital office in care of board secretary, Dr. Hap Cavness.

County

Heard a proposal by a Southwestern Bell official in reference to a PBX phone system which could channel all county calls into a central terminal and then direct them by operator to different offices. It would allow for system expansion, but the commissioners fairly well agreed that its costs was prohibitive as compared with installation of new cables underground.

Approved the elimination of the NYPUM mini-bike program of the

Dinner

Three seats on the board will become open this election with the terms of Dr. Cavness, Tommy Carnahan, and Isaías Gamez expiring.

Due to reasons of economy the board requested that a central location for the polling place, such as the Community Center, be found.

"We also need to point out that absentee voting for those who live in the outlying areas of the county will be available," Welty said.

The county clerk's office was mentioned as the probable place of the absentee balloting, pending the approval of County Clerk B.F. Cain.

House Approves Court

As was expected, the Texas House of Representatives gave its full approval Monday for a new state district court here as a part of Gov. Dolph Briscoe's "emergency" bill creating 23 new courts in Texas.

It breaks up the 69th Judicial District which encompasses a six-county area. The new court will include Deaf Smith and Oldham counties while the 69th district will retain Hartley, Sherman, Moore, and Dallam counties.

The bill is now ready for the governor's signature to become law. It will go into effect on April 1 according to local sources.

The biggest development to arise after the bill's passage is the appointment of a new district judge. Briscoe has that responsibility. He has about six weeks to do it, but is expected to do so within about a week. Those vying for the position are local attorneys Rex Easterwood, Wes Gulley, and Bruce Miller, D.A. (Dick) Brainerd, Oldham County attorney, also seeks the post.

The month of January traditionally marks the beginning of many things. This past January, a new business was established in Hereford. Paramount Welding Supply Co. opened their newest distributor located at 144 W. First St. (Hwy 60 W) during the month of January, 1977.

Paramount is a full line welding supply company offering the welder a complete assortment of welding equipment from goggles to powerful electric arc welders. Ray and Beale are active members of the Temple Baptist Church and both enjoyed motorcycle riding, CB radios and when time allows, hunting.

The Sanders invite all their friends to come visit as let them show you the complete supply line for the both professionals and hobbyist welders.

Outcry Against TV Sex Grows

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - An outcry against the pervasive violence and cheapened sex on television is swelling across the country, with many churches and other groups planning specific resistance -- a week of blanked-out TV screens.

Involvement "is snowballing," says the Rev. Donald E. Wildmon, a Southaven, Miss., pastor who sparked the strategy to challenge TV brutality and distorted trivializing of sex.

"People are just plain fed up with this trash," he says, shuffling through piles of correspondence pledging participation in "Turn the Television Off Week" Feb. 27-March 5. "The only language the networks understand is profits -- and we're speaking in that language."

He says more than 1,000 churches, synagogues and civic associations throughout the country already have indicated participation in the week of darkened TV sets. He predicted tens of thousands will join in by the target date.

"The response has been absolutely fantastic from all across America," says the Rev. Mr. Wildmon of Southaven's First United Methodist Church. Citing groups mobilized from Connecticut to California, Roman Catholic, Jewish and Protestant, he adds, "The movement is not confined to the Bible belt."

"This is one cause on which the vast majority of Americans agree," he says. "For years concerned citizens have pleaded in vain with the networks to stop the deterioration in programming that is corroding the mental and moral climate of our society."

"Now we are no longer asking. We are telling them. We are going to hit them in their pocketbooks. If the networks don't respond, the battle has just begun. We won't quit until we get results."

He released results of a week's monitoring of prime-time TV by members of his congregation, recording 29 instances of TV sex liaisons and 133 other references to sex affairs, 90 per cent of the cases involving sex outside marriage.

He also cited figures that the average child, by the time of completing high school, witnessed 18,000 TV murders. The minister says TV offers some quality programming, but much of it is distorted and anti-social.

Weather Modification Battle To Resume Wednesday In Lubbock

BY JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

Members of Citizens for Natural Weather, an organization of approximately 2,000 Panhandle-area agriculturalists, will present testimony in opposition to proposed weather modification activities during two hearings on applications for permits to engage in weather modification activities in the 99th District Court in Lubbock Wednesday at 1 p.m.

PLAINS WEATHER Improvement Association of Plainview is seeking a four year permit to conduct activities to increase precipitation and decrease hailfall within a target area on the High Plains. The Plains Weather permit would expire in December of 1980.

Atmospherics Inc. of Littlefield contracted agent for Better Weather Inc. of Plainview, is also seeking a four year permit which would expire during October of 1980.

Plains Weather intends to conduct cloud seeding operations over portions of Hale, Lamb, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe and Floyd counties, while Atmospherics would conduct cloud seeding flights over portions of Deaf Smith, Randall, Farmer, Castro, Swisher, Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Cochran, Hockley and Lubbock counties.

The issue of so-called hail suppression is a highly controversial one, with those favoring cloud seeding claiming that the action reduces hailfall and increases precipitation, while dryland farmers complain that hailfall is not reduced and that the cloud seeding destroys moisture-bearing cloud formations.

RESEARCH HAS not revealed conclusively whether cloud seeding increases or decreases rain or hailfall, but both factions in the argument feel strongly about their viewpoint.

The Citizens for Natural Weather was formed at a meeting in Littlefield and is financed through contributions from farmers and businessmen.

It is the organization's contention that weather modification efforts have caused a reduction in rainfall while the amount of hail which has fallen has not decreased noticeably.

The strong opposition of the group toward cloud seeding for hail suppression was expressed by Hale Center farmer W.L. Reese during a hearing on Feb. 10, 1976 when he stated he intended "to put up the first $50 to buy an anti-aircraft gun."

MEMBERS OF THE CNW want a

"right to vote" law which would give farmers in individual counties the right to cast ballots on whether they desire weather modification activities carried out in their county.

However, if the permits are issued Wednesday, the passage of a right-to-vote bill would have no effect on the decision, and it would be 1980 before area agriculturalists opposing the cloud seeding would have an opportunity to vote their convictions, provided the voting bill was approved.

CNW members are requesting that the Texas Water Development Board withhold any decision until the Texas Legislature has had ample time to consider the right-to-vote bill currently being drafted.

The two hearings will be conducted simultaneously Wednesday. According to Gen James Rose, executive director of the TWDB, the hearings will continue as long as necessary in order to allow anyone wishing to speak to do so.

PASEDEAN, Calif. (AP) - The 40-year-old Richter Scale that is used as a measurement of ground motion in an earthquake has been revised, changing the ratings of previous great earthquakes.

New Manager Named For Fabric Center

When you enter the Fab-Rific Center, located in Sugarland Mall, you may see a new person busy helping shoppers and placing fabric on display. When that person comes up to you and asks if you need any help choosing a particular fabric, chances are that you will be meeting the new store manager, Mrs. Reba Vaughn.

Mrs. Vaughn has recently been employed with the fabric center as the manager. She is well qualified to serve in this capacity and able to assist you in any fabric or sewing need you may have. Mrs. Vaughn received her sewing training through practical experience in her own home sewing for three active daughters, and also for herself.

Mrs. Vaughn, her husband Bob and their family moved to Hereford nine years ago from Roswell, N.M. and established their home on Route One, Hereford. The family is active in the Ave. Baptist Church where she teaches Sunday school for the two and three-year-olds. As a family, the Vaughns enjoy family style camping and picnics, especially in the mountains.

Mrs. Vaughn's husband Bob stays busy in his business as a welder and maintenance technician with the local feedyards. Away from the business, Vaughn is active in the local Veterans of Foreign Wars chapter.

Mrs. Vaughn makes a special invitation to the mothers of school children and other ladies that may be on their way to work around 9 a.m. She stated that these ladies may come to the back door of the fabric center and do some early shopping for when the need for last-minute items arises. She also invites everyone to come by the store and see the beautiful new spring fabrics now on display and to get acquainted with the new store manager and possibly to just get acquainted with the store since it is one of the newest additions to the fast growing Sugarland Mall.

Briscoe Lobbies With Policy Makers On Energy

WASHINGTON (AP) - Texas Gov. Dolph Briscoe lobbied with the Carter administration's energy policy makers Monday, but he apparently did not hear any firm commitments from them about the deregulation of natural gas or the protection of Texas consumers.

Briscoe was in town to attend

Hobby Wants Money Cut From Highway Bill

AUSTIN (AP) - Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby said Monday he hoped the Senate would cut money out of Gov. Dolph Briscoe's $561 million highway funding bill that zipped through the House.

Such quick passage, he said, was "not the wisest course." Hobby told a news conference that dedicating so much tax money so early in the session to a particular program "is a step backward. We need more dedicated taxes like Custer needed more Indians."

Hobby said allocating so much general revenue to highways would "have a very, very adverse effect on public education."

The Senate Finance Committee will consider the highway bill today, Hobby said.

Monday night's state dinner for Mexican President Jose Lopez Portillo. He met with Federal Energy Administrator John O'Leary, presidential energy adviser James Schlesinger, and several White House officials.

Briscoe said he found them pleasant and cooperative but not yet ready to spell out what the administration's long range energy policy will be.

The governor called the talks "pleasant and productive" and said they covered a wide range of energy issues. He declined to be more specific, although he indicated he was pushing for the same ideas he expressed in testimony before a House committee two weeks ago.

The policies Briscoe favors are embodied in natural gas legislation introduced by Sen. Lloyd Bentsen and Rep. Robert Krueger, both Texas Democrats.

The legislation would remove federal price controls on new gas sold in interstate commerce, which currently is held to $1.42 per thousand cubic feet.

It would, however, protect consumers against a sudden surge in intrastate prices caused by out-of-state companies bidding up the price of gas now reserved for the intrastate market.

Under Bentsen and Krueger proposals, gas now used in intrastate commerce would be held to the price of gas in interstate reservoirs of the same "vintage" or year in which production started.

Sources close to Briscoe said that the administration officials he spoke with expressed no opposition to those ideas, although they did not endorse them, either.

Briscoe's visit, meanwhile, inevitably touched off some political speculation, although he was not scheduled to see president Carter privately.

Briscoe said he was not interested in a federal post for himself and would not take one if offered. The only federal job he is pursuing is that of deputy secretary of agriculture, which he wants for Texas Commissioner of Agriculture John White.

White's appointment reportedly has been held up by background checks. But Briscoe said he still expected an announcement of it soon.

When this tree is 25-feet high, the Gas air conditioning you install now will still be in warranty.

Now...there is a 10 year warranty on Gas Air Conditioning!

Install Gas air conditioning now and forget about major cooling problems for at least ten years. And, ten years is a loooong time. Time for children to finish junior high, high school and graduate from college. That's a lot of summers for you to enjoy a cool, comfortable home without worrying about expensive maintenance to your cooling system.

How can we give a 10 year warranty on Arkla-Servel Gas air conditioning when the other kind offers only five?

The answer is in quality construction and Gas air conditioning's simple operating system. Most of the important parts in an Arkla-Servel are stainless steel and they are put together by craftsmen. And, there are fewer moving parts to wear out. Gas air conditioning lasts longer, lasts better.

Install Gas air conditioning now and be ready for next summer . . . and the next . . . and the next . . .

Call for a free cooling survey. There is NO OBLIGATION.

A manufacturer's limited warranty on the sealed unit only. Valid on ACB series residential units purchased after January 1, 1977, through August 31, 1977, only.

Kentucky is the No. 2 basketball team in the nation. Unfortunately, for the Wildcats, they also are No. 2 in the Southeastern Conference.

The Wildcats demolished a strong Florida team 104-78 Monday night at Lexington, Ky., raising their season's record to 19-2 and their SEC record to 11-1. But Kentucky still trails 14th-ranked Tennessee, which beat Mississippi 87-75 and has a 12-1 conference record.

Florida Coach John Lotz has little doubt that Kentucky is the top SEC team, however.

"They have the talent to win the national championship,"

Lotz said after Kentucky's backcourt combination of Larry Johnson and Truman Claytor combined for 47 points. "I don't think San Francisco (the top ranked team in the country) could come in here and play them. I'm not sure that San Francisco could beat them anywhere."

Tennessee stayed in first place in the conference, as Bernard King scored 22 of his 35 points in the second half after Mississippi had taken a 44-42 halftime lead. Ernie Grunfeld added 23 points for the Volunteers.

Elsewhere, ninth-rated Marquette lost for the second time in eight days as DePaul stunned the Warriors 77-72 in double overtime. No. 15 Detroit beat Western Michigan for the first time in history 86-64, 19th rated VMI clinched the Southern Conference regular-season championship with an 83-68 victory over Davidson, Notre Dame took Butler 97-74 and Indiana State, Ind., won its 20th game of the season, easing past Eastern Michigan 87-68.

DePaul outlasted Marquette, as Dave Corzine poured in 26 points and Ron Norwood added 23. The game was tied 60-60 with 3:17 left in regulation when Norwood hit a jump shot.

Marquette held the ball until 30 seconds were left, when Gary Rosenberger missed a layup.

Norwood's shot with five seconds remaining was short and Corzine's rebound shot rolled off the rim, forcing the overtime.

Bo Ellis tied it 66-66 with 18 seconds left in the first overtime, but Gary Garland's four points and Corzine's two free throws put DePaul ahead for good in the second extra period.

The Titans won their 20th consecutive game, lifting their record to 21-1, the best ever for a University of Detroit team. John Long scored 28 points, including 18 in the second half, and Terry Duerod added 19.

The VMI Keydets drew a bye in the first round of the Southern Conference post-season tournament thanks to their 21st straight triumph. That winning streak is a state record and the team's 22-1 mark is a VMI record.

Ron Carter led VMI with 26 points, but it was Will Bynum who keyed the victory.

Notre Dame hit on nearly 60 per cent of its shots in downing Butler.

Larry Bird of Indiana State scored 40 points as the Sycamores won their 20th consecutive home game. Bird, a 6-foot-9 sophomore and the third leading scorer in the nation, hit for 24 points in the second half.

Bulldogs Test Herd Tonight

By BOB NIGH
Brand Sports Editor

The Plainview Bulldogs, mired in a two-game district slump, come to Hereford tonight in a key District 4-4A match against the Whitefaces, winners of three league contests in a row.

The Bulldogs, secure in the knowledge of a first-half district title, have been a direct contrast of their 4-0 first half performance, losing 52-33 and 68-65 decisions to Monterey and Lubbock High respectively.

Meanwhile, the Whitefaces opened the second half with a 58-50 win over Coronado in Lubbock Friday night, a victory which saw the Herd post its third district win in succession after two consecutive two-point losses the first round.

Super forward James Mays posted a 21.3 average in the first half, and improved on that mark with a 23-point night against Coronado.

While Mays has been virtually unstoppable within eight feet of the basket, the rest of the team has provided coach Barry Arwine with more than ample backup.

Kelly Kitchens added 10 points against the Mustangs, while Mike O'Rand and Jim Lawson kicked in seven apiece. David Schumacher added six. Kenneth Mercer, three, and Blake Autry, two.

Lyndsey Dye, and Greg Hearn, both 6-5, will make things tough inside for the herd offensively, while James Poarch, a 5-10 senior, will take it to the Faces with his outside shooting.

Greg Bassett (6-3) and Gene Davis are the other two probable starters for Plainview coach Bill Phillips.

While the Dogs tangle with the Herd tonight, another key district matchup takes place in Lubbock with Monterey meeting Lubbock High.

Monterey currently shares the second half lead along with Hereford after their big win over Bulldogs.

The Westerners are 1-1 after the Plainview win and a 58-45 loss to Coronado.

Should both the Plainsmen and Whitefaces emerge victorious tonight another "Key" matchup would be on tap Friday evening as the two teams meet in Lubbock.

Action tonight begins with sophomore and junior varsity games at 4 p.m. and 5:45 p.m., with the varsity clash to begin at 7:30 p.m. in the La Plata gym.

Skier Overcomes Back Condition

BY JOHN NELSON
AP Sports Writer

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (AP)—There was real doubt whether Phil Mahre would be able to make the second run of the men's giant slalom. He was so stiff after the first run he couldn't even bend over to unbuckle his ski boots.

He had strained a lower-back muscle in the first run, which he won by more than one second over twin brother Steve. And team physician Dr. Richard Steadman had whisked him off to his condominium to apply ice packs.

Phil, a 19-year-old from White Pass, Wash., and undoubtedly the class of the U.S. men's team, returned to the course only hours later and won the men's giant slalom Monday at the U.S. National Alpine Championships. He turned in a two-run time of 2 minutes, 30.08 seconds.

Brother Steve, who had the fastest time of the second run 1:16.38, was second in 2:30.93, followed by Cary Adgate of Boyne City, Mich., in 2:31.23.

"I didn't feel any pain on either of the runs until I finished," said Phil, who won international acclaim by capturing the first race of the season on the World Cup tour. "Then, it locks up on me when I stop."

Pete Patterson was fourth in 2:31.53, followed by Bob Hill of Rutland, Vt., in 2:32.14.

Becky Dorsey, 19, Wenham, Mass., part of the Alpine team's contingent of Little Women who are threatening to take over from the older women, won the women's giant slalom in 1:20.42.

Viki Fleckenstein, 21, Syracuse, N.Y., the defending combined women's champion, was second in 1:20.59. Trailing her were 19-year-old Jamie Kurlander McAfee, N.J., in 1:21.24; Heidi Preuss, a 15-year-old from Lakeport, N.H., in 1:21.35, and Christin Cooper, 17, Sun Valley, in 1:21.82.

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP)—The Texas Rangers announced today that the "player to be named later" in their recent acquisition of pitcher Darold Knowles from the Chicago Cubs is outfielder Gene Clines.

Texas also paid cash in the deal.

Clines batted .276 and drove in 38 runs in 116 games, mostly as a leadoff batter.

Pastorini Requests Trade To Los Angeles

BY MICHAEL A. LUTZ
AP Sports Writer

HOUSTON (AP)—Houston Oiler quarterback Dan Pastorini, stung by fans criticism and frustrated by what he terms unkept promises, said he no longer feels loyal to Oiler fans and wants to be traded to a team with a winning a tradition—specifically Los Angeles.

"I'm at the end of my contract and I really don't want to play here anymore," Pastorini said in an interview with The Associated Press. "I'm tired of waiting for promises to be kept. I've confronted Bum Oilers Coach Phillips with it."

"I've told him it wouldn't be fair to the city of Houston, the Oiler organization or my teammates to make me play here against my will."

Pastorini has been quoted several times recently as saying he wants to be traded. Oiler officials have said the outspoken quarterback was either just momentarily upset or was laying groundwork for a new contract.

But those explanations aren't valid anymore. "I really don't want to renegotiate and I think the feeling is mutual," Pastorini said. "They haven't asked me about a new contract either."

Pastorini said his disenchantment with Oiler fans started last fall after he was involved in an early morning car accident on a Houston street. Pastorini said public reaction to the accident had given him a "salty" attitude.

"I've taken a defensive approach to the public ever since then," Pastorini said. "I almost lost my life in that accident and all people wanted to know was why I was out at 4 a.m., was I drunk and who I was with."

Pastorini, who received the brunt of criticism for Houston's 5-9 record last season, said he no longer owes any loyalty to Houston fans.

"What does an athlete owe to anyone who is cheering him one minute and then literally ready to tear him apart the next?" Pastorini said. "The only loyalty I owe is to the Oiler organization and to my teammates."

Pastorini said if a trade can't be arranged with the Rams he will play out his option this year and seek a new team next season. "I'm just tired of waiting," Pastorini said. "I don't think we were a 10-4 team in 1975 to be honest, we got a lot of breaks but they caught up with us last year."

The Oiler quarterback said he has been promised year after year that the offensive personnel will be improved but that hasn't happened. Pastorini has been under four head coaches and five offensive coordinators.

"I've had my hopes built up too many times and then had them dashed," Pastorini said. "I'd rather go somewhere that has a winning tradition and the same coaching staff every year."

WTSU, Borden Will Fete Buff Alumni

WTSU— West Texas State University and Borden, Inc. will join together for a "Family of Champions" WTSU alumni reception after the final WTSU basketball game of the season against Bradley Feb. 19 in the Amarillo Civic Center.

All WTSU alumni and friends are invited to attend the reception, which will be in the auditorium lobby area, according to Jim Edd Wines, executive director of the WT Alumni Association.

"We cooked this up mainly as kind of a pep rally," Wines said.

Borden will supply the refreshments, and WTSU's new football coach, Bill Yung, will be on hand along with representatives from the Alumni Association and from Borden.

Information about WT's Alumni Association will also be available at that time.

The alumni Association assisted local boosters in the recent successful telethon to collect funds for WT athletics.

The $120,000 collected in the 18-hour session insured the $308,000 needed to keep WT athletics at the current level.

"I think that the telethon was the greatest thing that ever happened," Wines said. "It was something that was needed and it came at the right time."

Wines' responsibility was to organize groups in area towns to assist on the local level in the fund-raising, a practice he hopes to continue for the Alumni Association.

"The main thing we are going to try to do is set up active alumni chapters in area towns" he said.

Roosevelt Raceway in Westbury, N.Y., sought to spur attendance during its fall harness race meeting by cutting back to $2 wagers on exactas. They had been $3.

Dwayne Davidson led the Raiders with 22 points after a 12-point fourth period performance, while Rodney O'Rand was just behind with 20 points.

103-Year-Old Banker Cites Money Problems Of Youth, Farmers

By JUDITH KINNAIRD
Associated Press Writer

LEBANON, Tenn. (AP) - He's known as Mr. Walter here. And at age 103 he is the unquestioned dean of Lebanon's financial community, a self-made man who says young people face too many obstacles today to repeat his success.

"I walked four miles to the country store, said I wanted to work, and they sent me behind the counter to straighten the calico," said Walter Baird. "That's how I got into business."

He says it's rare to get a chance today without funds or formal training.

"It used to be that a boy could work, do some job and get along pretty good...or start a business with $20,000. He'd be considered a wealthy man."

"Nowadays, it takes an expert and a bunch of money to put up a Kroger store."

Baird is the chairman of First Federal Savings and Loan Association in this financial community of 13,000 in middle Tennessee.

He has seen his company assets grow to more than $45 million from the $300,000 in assets when he joined the institution in 1934 -- at the age of 61.

He is a handsome man, with a shock of white hair, expressive hands and the look of a man the age of his "younger friends" in their 70s.

He lives with his son and daughter-in-law and keeps up with what's happening in the world primarily by radio, not that his eyesight has dimmed.

The last of nine children raised on a farm nearby, Baird voiced concern about the farmer, whom he says is a dying breed.

"We've got to live off the farm," he says. "That's the basis of the whole thing. We can't get along without the farm."

"But now, it takes about $100,000 to fit the farmer out," he says, shaking his head. "People don't have that kind of money."

Except for a stint at Cumberland Law School, Baird has almost no formal training. He says hard work and persistence are the best teachers.

Recalling his first days as a banker, he confesses: "I remember opening the vault door in the morning and wondering what's going to happen today."

"But day by day, things went along and the business commenced to growing," he says. "And the Lord has been our silent partner."

Baird, born while Ulysses S. Grant was president, no longer goes to his office every day. But, he attends all the monthly financial meetings.

"I've come to the point where I can't work, plan and advise people like I like to," he says. "But, I plan to be around July 3 for my 104th birthday."

"I like life."

Tax On Utility Bills Could Be Repealed Soon

AUSTIN (AP) - The House Ways and Means Committee Monday approved legislation repealing the 4 per cent state sales tax on residential gas and electric bills and providing inheritance tax relief.

If the committee has its way, the sales tax repealer would take effect July 1.

The bill would exempt from inheritance taxation the first 200,000 of an estate, with heirs dividing up the tax on the rest according to how much they get. Present law exempts only $25,000 of each heir's portion.

Rates would start at 1 per cent on taxable inheritances up to $50,000, escalating to 6 per cent on amounts of more than $1 million.

Revenue loss to the state would be $28.3 million.

Combining the sales tax and inheritance tax relief, the committee cut $256.8 million from anticipated state revenue for the next two years, assuming the legislature passes its recommendations.

Students In Training Prepare For Scandal Ridden Grain Jobs

HOUSTON (AP) - They are young, graduates of agricultural colleges throughout the nation, and now attending classes in a school born of scandal.

The 75 men and women are trainees for federal grain inspection jobs at ports and inland grain elevators where they will replace private inspectors who were the center of a congressional investigation last year.

The probe revealed charges of bribes, cash kickbacks and the adding of dirt, dust and trash to grain shipped to overseas buyers. This resulted in creation of a federal grain inspection service under the wing of the U.S. Agriculture Department.

Training programs were started and the latest is now underway in Houston.

In years past, the grain inspectors were hired by private firms, boards of trade and state agencies. By law they couldn't be federal employees.

An inspector was required to make sure that anyone shipping grain overseas complied with the U.S. Grain Standard Act. But buyers began to complain that corn was being delivered with broken kernels and that dirt was finding its way into other grain shipments.

Brady Hughes, 22, a graduate of McNeese State University in Louisiana, said he was attending the school "because it offers a great opportunity. It is a job where I can do something with that agricultural degree. It is a challenge to make sure that buyers get what they have paid for."

John Gibson, 24, with a master's degree from Rhode Island University, said the chance to become a grain inspector "was the best, most solid offer I have had since graduation. I think the opportunities for the future are unlimited as long as you do your job and you do it right."

The two weeks of schooling include courses in grain inspection, weighing services, and background on the Agriculture Department.

In a recent session, the trainees were informed of some of the abuses of the past, including a shipment of grain to Russia that contained 18 per cent crushed seashells.

Newly trained federal inspectors already have taken over at the port of New Orleans, Toledo, Ohio, Saginaw, Mich., and Chicago.

The Port of Houston is scheduled to make the change-over March 12 with Beaumont, Galveston and Corpus Christi to follow later in the year.

Vance To Seek Out Palestinians

WASHINGTON (AP) - Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance is headed for the Middle East to see if the Palestinians are prepared to accept Israel's existence.

On his six-nation tour, Vance also intends to promote an arms reduction in the region and to encourage a resumption of the Geneva peace conference before the end of the year.

His first stop today, after refueling in the Azores, was Israel.

The one-week trip also will take Vance to Egypt, Lebanon, Jordan, Saudi Arabia and Syria.

Before departing from Andrews AFB late Monday, Vance promised to work for "a just and lasting peace in the Middle East." He said the trip demonstrates President Carter's interest in achieving a settlement.

While in Israel, Vance will register U.S. objections to oil exploration in the Gulf of Suez. State Department officials said Monday that under international law, Israel has no right to begin a new project in occupied Egyptian territory. A department spokesman said the venture was "not helpful" to peace negotiations. Other U.S. officials said, however, that it would not interfere with Vance's mission.

Vance, in an interview last week with Israeli correspondents that was released at the start of his trip, said, "I am not going to engage in shuttle diplomacy at this time."

"What I am trying to do is to ascertain as clearly as I can what the views of the key leaders are so that I can return to the United States and report to the President. We can then develop our views as to how we can be most useful in trying to promote peace in the Middle East."

Other U.S. officials said the question of Palestinian participation in peace talks insoluble until now, is one of Vance's overriding concerns. The administration supports Israel's right to exclude the PLO from negotiations, but if the Palestinian National Council revises its covenant next month, that would open new possibilities, the U.S. officials said.

The PLO charter now calls for destruction of the Jewish state.

Vance, in the interview, said PLO participation in peace talks "would be out of the question" so long as the PLO is unwilling to accept the "framework" of United Nations resolutions that recognize Israel's sovereignty and call for a peaceful settlement. He said he will ask both the Israelis and the Arabs to reduce their arms purchases.
