County Will Caliche Road To New School

County Commissioners Monday agreed to lend a helping hand to the Hereford school system and the patrons of Northwest Elementary School by putting caliche on an approach to the new school.

Otto Massie, Commissioner of Precinct Two, told the Commissioners Court that he would have his road crew put caliche down in an effort to make the school accessible during wet weather.

Caliche will be placed on Moreman Avenue from the north end of Texas Street west past the school and north on the east side of the school.

Northwest Elementary was occupied for the first time Monday but no provisions had been made for surfacing access roads.

City Commissioners earlier had passed an order agreeing to furnish engineering if Moreman Avenue was to be paved or surfaced.

Commissioners also called for bids on four dump trucks, one for each precinct. Estimated cost is about $12,500.

Commissioners voted to require monthly reports from the County Veterans' Service Officer and from the County Adult Probation Officer. County Clerk Ralph Smith also acts as Veterans' Service Officer and J. C. Reese is probation officer for the 69th Judicial District.

Around Town

Now, right now, is the time to pick up the phone and call EM4-3333. A very pleasant voice will be very happy to take your name and address and send a Hereford Jaycee out to pick up your donations for the Community Center auction. All that is required is one call and, naturally, your presence at the auction.

Danny Loerwald walked off with the $10 top weekly prize for picking 18 winners in the Brand's football contest this week. This is Danny's second win of the season, is the highest score so far this fall and is the first time this year that

Huge Community Center Auction Slated Saturday

Chamber Asks More Nominees For Directors

Board members of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Wednesday voted to accept the nomination of four persons to be placed on the ballot for the directors' election. They added that the nominating committee should meet Thursday afternoon and nominate four other persons to bring the number listed on the ballot to eight.

Already nominated are Wayne Wallace, Oliver Streu, Guy Lawrence and Bill Dameron.

Without a motion, board members approved a plan of organization and suggested board of directors for the Harvest Festival.

A new type of membership plaque was approved and manager Bill Thompson was directed to order 500 such plaques.

It was approved that Dick Ross and J. W. Robinson be given $50 each in lieu of World Series tickets, which were offered to the winning team in the recent CoC membership drive. Previously they had received Three top-flight auctioneers will start their enchanting chants at 9 a. m. Saturday, Oct. 17, on a huge auction to raise funds for the Hereford Community Center.

The day-long auction will be held in the Ireland Building, 204 West Third, from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m., according to Woody Wilson, chairman of the special event. A rummage sale on used clothing and shoes started Tuesday and will continue each day in the building through Saturday.

Rattling off the tongue-twisting chant that sells merchandise in a hurry will be Chief Youngblood and his son, Lawrence, of Amarillo; and Bill Wilson of Canyon. All are professional auctioneers.

Police Investigate Schreiner's Death

A verdict of "heart failure" was ruled by Justice Of The Peace Berry Miles Monday in the death of William H. (Bill) Schreiner, 46, manager of the Texas Hotel here. Two Hereford farm hands are being questioned in connection with the death and are scheduled to be administered polygraph tests in Lubbock Friday.

Schreiner was found dead on a couch in the lounge area of the hotel early Sunday morning, shortly after 3 a. m. No charges have been filed against the farm hands, but the Hereford Police Department and the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's office are continuing investigation into factors which might have contributed to the heart attack.

Funeral services for Schreiner were held at 4 p. m. Tuesday in the Kreig-Marcum Funeral Home Chapel here, with Father Aloysius Craven, pastor of St. Anthony's Catholic Church, officiating.

Burial was in Rest Lawn Memorial Park, under direction of Kreig-Marcum.

Hereford Police Chief Henry Aycock said police were notified of the death at about 3:10 a. m. Sunday by one of the men being held here. The man lived in the hotel.

Aycock said there had apparently been an "altercation" in the lobby of the hotel. Both farm

4 In Hospital After 2 Wrecks

Four persons were still in Deaf Smith County Hospital Wednesday afternoon following two separate one-car accidents occurring near Hereford Saturday evening and Sunday morning. Condition of two Hereford residents was listed as "serious" by hospital attendants.

In serious condition at the hospital were Mrs. Alice Leona Morton, 25, and John C. Wilson, 22, both of Hereford. They were injured when the car in which they were riding overturned 12 miles north of Dawn at about 5:30 p. m. Saturday. Wilson, who lives at the Texas Hotel, had not regained consciousness Wednesday. He received a head injury in the accident.

Local Resident Accident Victim

Condition of Ruben Mosteller, 60, of Hereford, who was injured Monday morning in a pickup truck accident near Edmonson, was listed as "satisfactory" Wednesday morning at Veterans' Hospital in Amarillo.

Mosteller was pinned in the overturned vehicle, in which he was travelling alone, on Farm Road 194, about two miles northwest of Edmonson.

The injured man was unconscious when he arrived at Plainview Hospital and Clinic by ambulance, but later regained consciousness. He was transferred to the Veterans' Hospital Tuesday.

LETTUCE HARVEST continues in Deaf Smith County this week in a day-and-night operation. Lettuce farmers launched an attack on fields about two weeks ago and harvest went into full swing last week. The crop will probably be processed here until the early part of November. Quality and yields this year is good, shed operators reported this week. (Staff Photo)

Stop-And-Go Harvest Stops Again As Moisture Falls

Deaf Smith County went into another stanza of its stop-and-go harvest when a slow, steady rain placed a temporary halt to harvest of county crops, Tuesday morning.

While lettuce cutters work at a steady pace, maize and cotton growers are still awaiting a frost to start shooting for a peak of harvest.

With carrot harvest more than half complete, field hands work whenever possible to feed a market which is gaining strength. Yield remains under par while quality is reportedly good.

Moisture content of maize remains on a border line. Much of it is "just a little bit" too wet to go into storage at local elevators.

One elevator manager said Tuesday that harvest of the small grain is still below 10 per cent.

"A hard freeze followed by a few cloudless days would really put a push into harvest for this season," he said. Harvest continued over that week end, but came to a stop with the rainfall Tuesday.

Most maize growers expect a bumper crop this year, quality high and good yields. Some expected the number of acres planted to be as great as in past years. Less optimistic growers expected the drop in

Conduct Rites For James M. Gililand

James M. Gililand pioneer resident dies

Funeral services for James Madison Gililand, Hereford resident for 56 years, and operator for Gililand Funeral Home, were conducted Wednesday at 2 p. m. in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Howard Scott, pastor, officiating.

Mr. Gililand, 74, died at 11 p. m. Monday at his home, 411 E. 3rd., after an illness of several months.

He was born Jan. 13, 1885 in Burns City, Cooke County, Tex. He came to Hereford with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gililand, in 1903.

After helping his father operate a hotel on lower Main St. for a year, he went to work for the Rayzor-Deatley Real Estate Co. He took prospectors on trips around the Hereford area.

Later he worked in the Deaf Smith County clerk's office, and handled transfer of county records to Parnerton, west of Fri-

$2 Million Increase In School Property Valuation

Valuation of property in the Hereford Rural High School District increased by almost $2 million during the past year, according to a report submitted to school trustees Tuesday night.

Total increase was $1,965,219, which makes the valuation stand now at $30,995,777.

The report was one of several items taken up during a three-hour session of the school board. Acreage in the district decreased about 527 acres, due primarily to sub-divisions which were platted. Valuations increased as follows: acreage is up $78,060 to $11,934,750; city valuation is up $709,520 to $10,197,340; personal valuation up $1,151,800 to $6,265,920; banks, railroads and utilities are up $24,539 to $2,500,357; oil leases up $1,300 to $98,410.

Total tax receipts issued increased 275 to 3,986, which will increase tax income by $33,408.71, to a total of $526,945.20.

Orpha B. Click, district assessor, made the report. He said the normal amount of valuation increase was from $500,000 to $750,000 each year.

He then asked the board to consider a $50 per month raise for himself. After deliberation, the board voted to increase Click's salary from $400 to $450 per month.

School board members Tuesday night paid all bills except for the West Texas Tile Company of Lubbock. Payment on this bill, submitted for installing tile in the classrooms and corridors of the old Stanton Junior High building, was held up pending settlement with the company for failure to complete its work.

Trustees said the company failed to finish final cleaning and waxing.

George H. Hill, band director for Hereford High School and Stanton Junior High, submitted a detailed report asking that the board give its permission for the organization of a voluntary private study program, which would be supervised by Hill.

Board members expressed their pleasure with the band

Hereford Boxers Host Two Teams On Friday Night

Fighters from the Hereford Athletic Club will show their skills at home for the first time this season when they host squads from Levelland, Pampa and Clovis, N. M., Friday.

One of the outstanding fights of the night is expected to be between heavyweights Bill Lunsford of Plainview and James Stepp of Clovis.

work and authorized Hill to investigate the availability of advanced college students to teach the private lessons on Saturday. They emphasized that the program must be completely voluntary and very closely supervised.

A request by Hill asked that bond credit be raised from one-half unit to one unit each year as an incentive measure. He also asked the board to consider allowing students to substitute band for the presently required physical education courses.

Driver Education in the junior high school was studied by the board. Superintendent Fred Cunningham said that driving instruction outside of school hours was needed to keep up with the current enrollment.

After classroom training is finished, some seven hours per week will be needed outside of school hours during the first semester and 12 hours per week during the first semester and 12 hours per week during the second half of the school year.

Trustees agreed to pay Tyler Romine, driver education teacher, $3 per hour for outside instruction in order to avoid a backlog of students with not enough driving experience to complete the course.

A new cesspool for Parkview Negro Elementary School was approved and trustees agreed to investigate putting caliche on the Northwest Elementary school campus for bus drive-ways.

There was a brief discussion about the need for an assistant principal at Stanton Junior High School but action was deferred until Cunningham makes a report at the next meeting.

Trustees expressed their displeasure that a decision made in June that walls of Stanton Junior High restrooms would be painted instead of tiled had been ignored. Cunningham said he understood the tile had been cut out because of cost and that the architect super-

County tax collector Dave Alexander has taken up the trend to merchandise with sales and specials. Winners of the top prizes, outdoor gas lights, at the Pioneer Natural Gas Company open house for their new building Saturday were J. D. Harlan, 228 Ave. D, and Mrs. J. C. Mayes, 406 Blevins.

The trustees expressed the opinion that the decision to install tile should have been referred to the board for its reconsideration after trustees had decided to forego the tile in favor of terrazzo floors.

hands were there when Sgt. C.L. Lynch of the Hereford Police Department arrived to investigate.

Justice Of The Peace Miles said Schreiner's face and head were cut and bruised. When police arrived to investigate, Schreiner's knees were extended over the armrest of the couch, located near the clerk's desk.

An autopsy was ordered by Miles early Sunday morning. The autopsy report released Monday said death resulted from heart failure, Miles said. The autopsy was performed in Amarillo.

Schreiner was born Feb. 3, 1913, in Poland. He was married to Myrtle Ward in Clovis, N. M., in 1955, and the couple moved to Hereford in 1957 from San Antonio.

Survivors include his wife; three sisters, Mrs. Virginia Messina and Miss Leona Schreiner, both of Chicago, and Mrs. Matilda Tuohy of North Hollywood, Calif.

Extent of the injury still has not been determined.

Mrs. Morton received a back injury in the accident. She also received a lacerated scalp and chest injuries.

In the other accident, which occurred at 9:30 a.m. Sunday about 20 miles north of Hereford on U. S. 385, the injured were K. W. Evans and Richard Thomas, both of Odessa. Condition of both was listed as "good" Wednesday morning.

Attendees at the hospital said Evans received a compound fracture of the left arm and a back injury. Thomas received a head laceration and minor bruises.

Investigating highway patrolman said the car in which Wilson and Mrs. Morton were riding apparently left the highway to the right and while traveling south, cut back across the road and overturned in a plowed field. Both were thrown from the car.

Evans and Thomas were riding in a pickup truck and were pulling a jeep, according to investigating officers, when a tire of the pickup blew out. The pickup overturned, pinning Evans beneath it.

Merchants and residents are donating items to be sold. All proceeds will go into the Hereford Community Center fund, which still lacks about $20,000 in order to have the building paid for by the end of this year.

Persons who have anything of value to donate are asked to call the Chamber of Commerce office, EM 4-3333. A note will be made and the Junior Chamber of Commerce will come by to pick up the items. If they wish, persons may bring the items to the Ireland building, where they will be sorted and classified.

Among items already received for the auction are slide projectors, lamps, electric skillets, boxes of groceries, yard lights and luggage. Many more items are expected to be donated Thursday and Friday.

Approval of the measure drew unanimous vote of the commissioners. Fate of the project now depends on whether or not the Texas Highway Department agrees to shoulder $30,000 more than it had originally planned.

In a regular meeting held in September, the commissioners were forced to table a proposal that specified the city's half of paving cost would run approximately $108,527 for rebuilding Highway 60 from the highway's intersection with U. S. 385 to the east city limits (Benefield's Corner).

Even when they took into consideration a cut of $18,000 from that cost for curb and gutter assessments to be paid by property owners, the Commission saw no immediate way of supplementing its present $50,000 allotment for the project.

Under the proposal outlined by the commissioners Monday, the city's share in the project would be about $78,000; minus the $18,000 for curb and gutter assessments, the city's amount would be $60,000.

If officials in Austin agree with the commissioners' proposal, the city will procure the extra $10,000 needed from the budgeted contingencies reserve, which was allotted $21,000 for emergency use last February.

During first negotiations on the project two years ago, highway officials had estimated that the city's share would run about $42,000.

To provide a little elastic in the estimate, $50,000 was held out from a $100,000 bond issue for street improvements early in 1958.

But when Charles "Chill" Smith, district engineer from Amarillo, announced that the city's half of paving would be more than 100 per cent greater than earlier estimated, the commission voted to hold off on immediate action.

Proposed plans are to widen the highway from U. S. 385 to Lawton St. to 62 feet in width, and from Lawton to the east city limits to 81 feet. All would be divided four-lane highway. Assessed against property

Success of the "wets" in Precinct 4, Castro County, has fanned anew interest in Deaf Smith as well.

In the 1956 election, Ford was the only box to vote wet - and that was by the bare margin of 24 to 22 votes.

Table with 3 columns: Name, Dry, Wet. Lists names like No. 1 Cthse, No. 2 Cthse, Mitchell, Sims, Ford, Dawn, Garcia, Bippus.

Tom McFarland, former C. C. secretary and current High Plains Water Board manager was in town this week.

This is something I never could understand, considering the cost of pumping water.

to ponder carefully.

This area will be well represented in South Dakota when the pheasant season opens Saturday at noon.

It is funny how quiet Kenneth Coker, Wayne Edwards and some of the other Sooner boosters get when Texas wins the annual football game.

Optimist sponsored showing of the 12 Disciples in sculpture this week drew wide attendance.

1. John died of extreme old age in Ephesus.

2. Judas Iscariot, after betraying the Lord, hanged himself.

3. Peter was crucified, head downward during the persecution of Nero.

4. Andrew died on a cross at Patrae, in Achaia, a Grecian colony.

5. James, the younger brother of the Saviour, was thrown from a pinnacle of the Temple and then beaten to death with a club.

6. Bartholomew was flayed alive in Albanapolis, Armenia.

7. James, the elder, son of Zebedee, was beheaded at Jerusalem.

8. Thomas, the Doubter, was run through the body with a lance at Coromandel, in the East Indies.

9. Phillip was hanged against a pillar at Hieropolis, a city of Phrygia in Asia Minor.

10. Matthew was slain by the sword, in Ethiopia.

An estimated 400 bales of cotton thus far, according to reports compiled Tuesday. Recent rains have caused little damage to quality, ginner reported, and some fields should yield as much as two bales per acre.

More than 10,000 acres of cotton were estimated to have been planted this year. Quality is reportedly good, and weather should not harm cotton as most of it is near maturity.

Strippers should go into action in about two weeks, one ginner estimated. Peak this year should be after the middle of November.

Currently, cotton growers are awaiting the first frost to put strippers, or mechanical harvesting, into operation. Some growers complained Monday of needing more boll pickers.

State employment representative Pat Patterson said that about 300 field hands will soon be needed for cotton and carrot harvesting. About 10 combine operators are needed for maize harvest.

A quick money crop this year is lettuce, which is being harvested as fast as cutters can wade through the fields, if necessary. In a day-and-night operation, processing of the crop got into full swing last week and will probably continue through the first week in November. Harvest is more than 25 per cent complete, and quality this year is excellent, shed managers report.

Wheat growers are taking advantage of moist subsoil to continue planting operations for the 1960 crop.

More than 16 inches of moisture have fallen in most parts of the county this year, but much of it fell during the latter part of the season for crops being harvested now.

Wheat planting was considered in full swing last week after slow, soaking rains which fell during the previous week. Planting should be finished by the first of November.

BEAUTY QUEEN GUARDS TREASURE — Standing guard over a "pirate" treasure here is CavOllcade Queen Ann Brannon of Port Arthur. CavOllcade is Port Arthur's annual community festival, sponsored Oct. 15 to 18 by the Chamber of Commerce, and a treasure hunt is conducted each year in connection with it. Clues are published in the local paper beginning Oct. 12, and, judging by past performances, several hundred persons are expected to be on the scene the day of the final clue, Oct. 18, digging for the $250 prize. At Budget Bottom? Just Try Elegance

By Cecily Brownstone
You can be as thrifty or as elegant as you please when you serve French cold hors d'oeuvre as part of a lunchtime meal.

Ever meet up with these appetizers? They are often served in small rectangular glass dishes that are the compartments of a tray.

On the thrifty side, mackerel becomes positively glamorous when it is filleted and simmered in white wine, lemon and herbs before chilling.

Herring looks cool and attractive, when banded with pickled onion and canned pimiento rings.

Eggs are often part of the cold hors d'oeuvre. After being hard-cooked their yolks are mashed with mayonnaise and seasonings, beaten to a creamy fluff, then swirled back into the cavities of the whites and garnished as fancy dictates. Or whole hard-cooked eggs, as is, are bedded down in jellied consommé with a decoration of fresh tarragon leaves.

Small dried white beans, cooked until tender and dredged with oil, vinegar and seasonings then sprinkled with minced parsley are sometimes included.

Red ripe tomatoes may be sliced and dressed in a savory fashion.

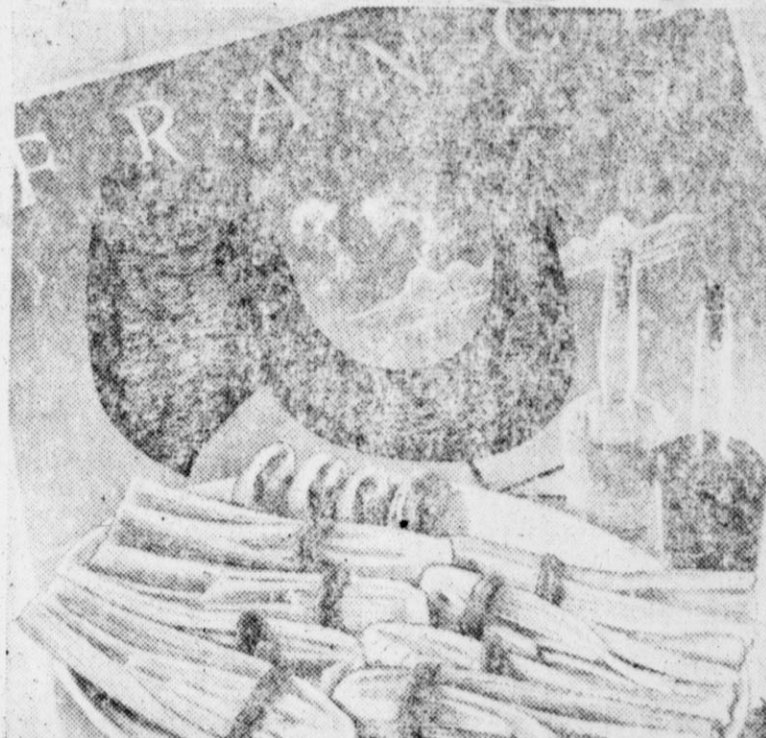

Then there are the everyday fresh cooked vegetables—perhaps strips of carrot or whole green beans in sauce vinaigrette. Or on the elegant side, marinated artichoke or celery hearts.

In this country we are particularly fond of serving raw celery as an appetizer, with olives or stuffed with a cheese mixture. But celery is also delectable cooked in broth and chilled in a marinade.

CELERY IN MARINADE

Ingredients: 3 hearts of celery, 2 cups consommé or bouillon, 1 clove garlic, 2/3 cup olive oil, 1/3 cup white wine vinegar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon white pepper, anchovies or hard-cooked egg or tomato wedges (if desired). Method: Wash hearts of celery without separating stalks. Cut lengthwise into 2 or 4 pieces, depending on size; trim off most of the leafy top. Cook covered, in a deep 10-inch skillet in consommé until tender. Lift out celery carefully, drain well, and place in a shallow dish to cool. Meanwhile, smash garlic lightly and allow to stand in oil. With a fork beat oil, vinegar, salt and pepper together; pour over celery. Cover and chill, turning celery occasionally. Before serving, remove garlic and lift celery from marinade. If desired, garnish with anchovies, hard-cooked egg, or tomato wedges. Makes 6 servings as a first course or a salad. Note: Celery cooking liquid is delicious used as a soup base. Strained leftover marinade may be used on salads.

GO PARIS! Serve celery hearts, simmered in broth and then marinated, as a Parisian appetizer or a salad.

It's Not Hard To Be Fancy With Fryers'

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
THERE WILL probably always be arguments among cooks about the best way to fry chicken. So let's not even try to force a meeting of taste buds and agree to agree that there are different methods.

There's deep-fat fried chicken and the pan-fried variety. What you do with the bird before it goes into the kettle of deep fat or skillet (with a small amount of fat) is also momentous. For deep-fat frying the electric fryer is perfect; one of our own holds a whole bird cut into quarters. Many cooks pan-fry chicken, then finish cooking to toothsome tenderness in a moderate oven.

For pan-frying, half a cup of butter or vegetable shortening used in a 10 or 12-inch skillet is ample, but more or less fat may be used.

Most popular of all coverings for the bird is flour mixed with salt and pepper and perhaps other seasonings. Paprika, for example, always helps give a bird good ruddy color. Dry mustard also helps color and adds zippy flavor.

Batter for deep-fat fried chicken is often made with flour, egg, milk and seasoning. Our trick with this—and one that produces results our family favors—is to separate the egg used in the batter and fold in the stiffly-beaten egg whites.

Other coverings for chicken (either fried in deep fat or in a small amount in a skillet) are those made with dry bread crumbs, fine soft white bread crumbs, cracker crumbs or cornmeal. In recent years prepared biscuit mix has also come into favor as a coating.

FRIED CHICKEN WITH TOMATOES AND RIPE OLIVES

Ingredients: 1 broiler-fryer (2 1/2 pounds ready-to-cook weight), 1/4 cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, 3 tablespoons olive oil, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons water, 1 medium-sized onion (cut into thin strips), 1 green pepper (cut into thin strips), 1 clove garlic, 4 medium-sized (1 pound) tomatoes (peeled and seeded and diced), 1/4 cup sherry (any type), 12 to 16 pitted ripe olives, 2 tomatoes (peeled and quartered).

Method: Have chicken cut into 10 pieces; wash and dry. Mix flour, salt, pepper and paprika; coat chicken pieces with mixture. Heat olive oil and butter in 12-inch skillet; add chicken and brown. Add water; cover tightly and cook until tender—30 minutes or longer. Remove chicken and keep warm. Add onion, green pepper and garlic to drippings; stir and brown lightly. Add diced tomatoes and sherry. Add salt and pepper to taste and 1 tablespoon olive oil if desired. Cook quickly, stirring often, until tomatoes disintegrate. Return chicken to skillet with quartered tomatoes and olives. Reheat. Makes 4 servings.

Note: If pitted ripe olives are not available, cut regular ripe olives into large pieces and use.

THE WISHFUL PUBLIC

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cancer Fund is $18.94 richer because of the public's penchant for tossing coins into fountains. The Renault display at the recent International Automobile show included a lily pond, which although not intended as a wishing well, turned out to be just that. The money was donated to the Cancer Fund.

UNSOLICITED THANKS

DENVER (AP)—Edward Hirschfeld, a director of the Jewish National Home for Asthmatic Children here, caught a taxi during a New York trip. When the cab driver learned he was from Denver, he said "my kid raves about it. They practically saved his life in Denver." Then he handed a folder of matches to Hirschfeld. It bore the name of the Jewish National Home.

In the long ago an inquirer asked of Jesus, "Who is my neighbor?" Do you suppose Jesus told him only the people who live next door? Six of the Ten Commandments are concerned with how we treat other people... our neighbors. In the light of the Golden Rule, anyone could be my neighbor. For it reads, "Do unto others," and not just to the people whose lots join mine. Neighborliness is certainly one of the finer virtues, but if we would have good neighbors, we must first perform like one. Here in this Sunday school class men are searching the book of Luke for better ways to become neighborly. Are you a good neighbor?

The stones are large flat table-tops on which pages are assembled before they are sent to the press for printing. Long decided to clean them, found it was too big a job and decided to turn them over to use the other side.

REP. WALTER ROGERS WRITES:

Was P. T. Barnum Right In Showmanship Theory?

To the people of the 18th District:

P. T. Barnum, of the famous circus team of Barnum and Bailey, and probably the greatest showman in the history of this country, or perhaps the world, was once quoted as saying: "There's a sucker born every minute."

He proceeded to prove the statement by amassing several fortunes on the gullibility of man, as well as his desire to be entertained. There are many people in show business who believe this statement is still true, and, with the increase of population, a much more fertile field for operation is provided; that is, if the fixed, rigged, and phony television quiz shows can be considered a yardstick.

For the past several days the Subcommittee on Legislative Oversight of the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, of which I am a Member, has been listening to testimony from a varied group of characters, some of whom have openly admitted they committed perjury before a New York Grand Jury, some of whom feel very badly about participating in shows which deceived the American public, and some of whom openly admitted they engaged in these practices of deceit and false representation but felt they were all right, not immoral or immoral in any degree, and would still be doing it if they had not been caught.

Some openly admit they obtained the services of minors in the carrying out of this shady, deceitful and morally fraudulent practice. The general justification on the part of most of them seems to have been that their job was to provide entertainment and sell a product. They take the position that so long as they were doing this, all other matters were secondary, including the moral issue surrounding the fixing of a contest.

A woman contestant who won several hundred dollars, in answer to one of my questions, stated she could see nothing wrong with the fact that the program had been fixed, that the producers knew what the outcome would be, that she was a party to the scheme and aided and abetted in carrying it out.

She based her conclusion on the fact that she was having a good time, the American public was enjoying the show, the sponsors and producers were happy, so why should anyone worry? This appears to be the general trend of thinking of a great number of those participating in these programs.

These testified they could not see any similarity between the fixing of a basketball game, a baseball game, a football game, or a boxing match, and the fixing of a battle of wits in a television program.

They stated there was a great deal of difference, but none came up with even a remote basis for that conclusion. One witness testified the difference was in the fact that a television program had a sponsor, while a boxing match had none.

Another stated the difference lay in the fact that in a baseball game the players are salaried, while the contestants in a television quiz program are after prizes. I must confess these reasons do not make sense to me as being even remotely connected with the question of honesty and dishonesty.

The fact of the matter is that the American public has been led to believe these quiz programs were fair and honest contests between two unrehearsed contestants in a battle of wits or mentality.

A boxing match is a physical contest between two individuals who employ their fists, under certain rules. The physical activities coupled with the mental processes could be applied to all other contests. They are all performed at least partially for entertainment. The American public is entitled to assume that neither of the contestants has been afforded an unfair advantage.

Any arrangement creating a contrary situation is a fraud upon the spectators, whether they be sitting in the stands of a football stadium or in a comfortable chair in their living room watching television, and any person who is a party to such a scheme or device, whether he be the owner of the show the sponsor, the network, the station owner, or a contestant is guilty of a flagrant, dishonest misrepresentation to the viewers of the contest or the program.

The main concern of a number of these people seems to be the possibility of criminal prosecution, rather than their moral responsibility and obligation. It is entirely possible they may not be held criminally liable because of the absence of particular statutes on this subject.

However, it is my belief these hearings will result in the adop-

COZY SETTING . . . The coffee table buffet in a small apartment makes entertaining a breeze. The glass table accessories are attractive enough to display in a room divider. Cushions are for seating.

Budget Entertaining Is Fun For Newlyweds

By VIVIAN BROWN
NEWLYWEDS should not postpone entertaining their friends just because they live in small quarters. The modern home is designed for that emergency, and clutter becomes almost a chic coziness in small abodes. It has great appeal eventually, even to those young people who have come from large homes.

There is the smart idea of providing your guest with cushions, everyone sitting on the floor, around a fireplace or coffee table.

There is the room divider where china, glass and other serving accessories may be displayed, making up for the lack of storage space.

There is the popularity of the tion of legislation which will control the activities of those who seem to believe that anything is all right as long as you can get away with it.

One of man's greatest jobs has been to protect himself from himself. Hence, if Barnum was right, we "suckers" need some laws to protect us.

AGING PLACE
ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) —

Workmen clearing the way for construction of a hotel discovered a heavy concrete door leading to an underground hideaway.

Beyond the door was a tiny room still stocked with dozens of crocks and jugs, hidden all these years from law officers. The jugs were empty. Only the speakeasy aroma lingered on.
