

AROUND A Town

Sights and Faces Seen

A big opportunity passed someone by last week, when a door key was turned in at the Brand office. Jess Ford came in yesterday and claimed the key, which belonged to the First State Bank.

A total of $358.65 was contributed by picture show patrons to the March of Dimes collection, it was reported this week. The figure represents the collection at both the Star and Texas Theatres. Incidentally, Harold Close, chairman of the Birthday Ball Committee, says that a complete report on dance ticket sales cannot be made till next week, but judging from early reports, the total collected will be considerably more than in last year's drive.

Work in a ration office sounds like a sure ticket to bedlam, but Mrs. B. F. Marrs takes a pleasant view of the job. She says she hears so many troubles aired, she just has to forget her own.

It really looked like Hereford was making a mass evacuation to California Tuesday when Shorty Stelzer and Mrs. Orville Houser and party (about eight strong, altogether) left for San Diego. Shorty says she knows in advance that she is going to get mighty lonesome for Hereford, but it might be a strain on good old Texas hospitality if everyone who has expressed the intention really decides to visit her in California.

Hereford beauty shops are this week calling attention to the fact that in the future they plan to close on Saturday afternoon at one o'clock. The Beauty Mart will be open this Saturday for its open house celebration, but other shops will start the new closing practice this week.

Pfc. Bob Wolfington, who has been on duty with Marines in the Pacific and had been at the U. S. Naval Hospital in San Diego following his return to the States several weeks ago, arrived last week for a visit with his mother and family.

Sunday really did look like the first day of spring, and some people were so convinced of the fact that they went fishing. But the wind was just a little too much like March and the fish (Continued on Page 12)

R. L. Thompson Candidate For Clerk Position

R. L. Thompson this week authorized The Brand to announce his candidacy for the office of District and County Clerk of Deaf Smith County, subject to action of the Democratic Primary.

"It will be our purpose to continue giving the people the same kind of service we have always tried to maintain in this office," Mr. Thompson said. "We will try to make you feel at home in our office—and that this is your office—and that we are merely working for you. Naturally, our books and records are subject to inspection at any time and any interested persons are always welcome to make an inspection."

"I certainly appreciate the confidence the people have placed in me in the past and if you see fit to return me to this office, I will continue to do my best at all times."

No January Dairy Feed Payments Till Further Instructions Received

There will be no January dairy feed payments made at the local AAA office until further instructions are received from state headquarters, it was announced today by F. G. Collier. A mix-up on administrative details is causing a wait for further instructions from Washington, Mr. Collier said.

Entire Community Invited To USO Open House Saturday P. M.

As part of the celebration of the third anniversary of the national USO, the Hereford Council is holding an open house at the USO from 3 to 10 P. M. Saturday, Feb. 5, and a cordial invitation is extended to all citizens of Hereford and Deaf Smith County to visit the club between those hours.

"The USO is yours; you have contributed to it through the National War Fund and by the giving of your time to help it function," a council spokesman stated. "We are proud of our club and its equipment, of the volunteer workers who make USO a 'going' concern and of the soldiers who make the USO their Home," the council states in urging everyone to "come in and get acquainted."

Grand Jury Takes Recess For Two Weeks

The Grand Jury, which convened Monday has taken a recess of two weeks and no indictments have been returned, it was announced today by County and District Clerk Robert L. Thompson. After making a preliminary investigation, the jury will wait for further facts on one or two criminal cases before reconvening.

Members of the grand jury are Lyle Blanton, C. C. Bowman, George W. Brumley, Colby Conkright, T. B. Cox, C. H. Dyer, J. T. Gilbreath, Jr., W. G. Harris, Phillip Miller, P. B. Sowell, Wes Bradley and Ray Conaway, and under the terms of the new court procedure law, they will actually serve for two months, with power to arrest any felony (an offense punishable with a penitentiary sentence or by capital punishment). The new law is aimed at speeding up court procedure and assuring more rapid handling of all cases.

A petit jury panel has been notified for the second week of court, but Mr. Thompson reports that, on present indications, there will be few jury cases during the present court term.

District Attorney John Honts of Dalhart was here this week to assist in grand jury business.

Buy Fertilizer Early, County Agent Advises

Order fertilizer early. That is the advice of County Agent A. R. Bateman, who urges farmers to put in orders now and be assured of a supply.

Tests conducted in the county by Duke Thornton, chemist of the Texas Extension Service, show conclusively that Deaf Smith County soil is deficient in phosphates, Mr. Bateman says. Soil samples from the various sections were analyzed at two different times and showed the soil to be highest in potash and nitrogen but weak in phosphates. The fact that wheat from new land in the county shows a good supply of phosphates is attributable to the wheat root system, which extends deep into the soil and also goes out in every direction to receive all possible mineral benefits from the soil.

Indications now point to the fact that fertilizers will probably have to be allocated to counties on a priority basis, the county agent points out, and early orders by farmers can assure the county of a good rating. Orders are now being taken by two local potato houses.

Concerning application of fertilizer, Mr. Bateman states that experience has proved that fertilizer applied directly on seed will kill the embryo. It should be put below the seed an inch or two or used as a side dressing after the plants are up.

Committee Urges Support of Kids Bond Sale Drive

Do you have up one of the shields telling the world that you have bought Bonds? No doubt you are intending to buy bonds during this drive, even though you have not already done so, and when you do buy be sure and obtain the shield and put it up, showing that you have bought.

We know how easy it is to put off until tomorrow the thing we intend to do right along, but this matter of the purchase of bonds should not be delayed.

The amount of bonds sold in Deaf Smith County up to Wednesday night was $180,481.25, which is a very good showing, but we only have 13 more days in which to finish this job.

The students of the schools will be out working at this job until this drive ends, no doubt everyone will be contacted during this time, and even though you have already bought a bond, or bonds, buy an extra one when contacted by the student.

We thank each one for the support given in the past, and we feel sure with your support we will go over the top on this one. Deaf Smith County Bond Committee.

Holy Hour Services Continue to Draw Interest of Parishioners

It is already 12 weeks since the Holy Hour and the Novena to the Blessed Virgin have been inaugurated at St. Anthony's Church and the services continue to attract the faithful of the parish and other members of the community, it was stated this week by a parish spokesman. (Continued on Page 12)

Exams Scheduled for Clerk-Carrier Jobs At Local Post Office

War service regulations have been extended to substitute clerk carrier positions in the post office, Elmer Patterson, local civil service secretary, pointed out today to persons who are interested in this current examination which will be held to fill vacancies in the Hereford Post Office.

"Appointments to substitute clerk positions henceforth will be made for the duration of the war and not to exceed six months thereafter," Mr. Patterson said. "Persons who are appointed now do not receive a classified civil service status."

Persons interested in the substitute clerk carrier examination should file an application before Feb. 14 with the director, 10th Civil Service Region, 210 S. Harwood St., Dallas, Tex. Applicants will be required to take a civil service written examination which will last approximately four hours," Mr. Patterson said.

Further information may be secured at the Hereford Post office.

Returns from 17 Months Action

Staff Sgt. Bill Hall Battle Veteran at 19

Staff Sgt. Bill Hall of the Marine Air Wing will be 20 years old in March, but his flight log of action in the South Pacific reads like a history of the war since the days soon after Pearl Harbor. For Hall, a radio-gunner on a Marine Torpedo Bomber and a veteran of 31 months experience in the Marines, was on overseas duty for 17 months, has done spotting for the artillery, been on bombing operations and laid channel mines. Hall is a son of John Hall of Hereford and had lived here practically all his life prior to entering service.

He does not bragging about "close calls" but says the narrowest escape he had was at

Voters Crowd Tax Office In Poll Tax Rush

The largest vote in history is forecast for Deaf Smith County on the basis of the number of poll tax receipts issued in a record run at the tax collector's office. A total of 1958 poll tax receipts were issued, and 31 exemption receipts were made out to 21-year-old first voters, according to Miss Mary Jane Morgan, deputy in the office of Tax Collector J. O. Newell.

This figure is 230 more than the total of tax receipts and exemption certificates issued in January four years ago—and all seems to add up to much greater interest in local, state and national affairs. (Continued on Page 12)

Gala Opening Set For New Beauty Shop Saturday

One of the most attractive and best-equipped beauty shops in the Panhandle will be open to Hereford and Deaf Smith County women on Saturday, when the Beauty Mart will open in its new location at 210 North Main Street, just north of Stambaugh Cleaners.

Ona Faye Smith, owner, announces an open house at the new shop beginning at two o'clock Saturday afternoon and invites all women of Hereford and surrounding communities to come in and inspect the new shop. Roomy and modern in every respect, the shop has completely new equipment with enclosed booths, built-in cabinets, display room and office, and all arranged in a harmonizing color scheme.

"We will be able to give the best and most up-to-date service," Miss Smith states in inviting customers to come in. Three valuable prizes (two gold wave permanents and one oil permanent) will be given in connection with the registration at the Saturday open house.

What Happened to Gerry Shouldn't Happen To A Dog—but it Did

What happened to Geraldine shouldn't happen to a dog, but it did.

So now Gerry, bulldog belonging to Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Close, can be the envy of the Hereford canine world when she starts in barking about her unique medical history.

According to veterinarians at an Amarillo dog hospital, Gerry should have been dead months ago. But she lived to go to the hospital, was diagnosed—off-hand—as being slightly off her feed, rundown, etc. And then the doctors discovered that Geraldine was carrying around a vacuum cleaner handle, about six inches long and an inch thick; and the handle had been reposing inside Gerry for nearly a year.

Gerry and her vacuum cleaner handle have been the subjects for numerous x-rays and the whole case is going to be written up in the best dog medical journals.

Velavelsa. "A Zero got on our tail," Hall recalls, "and shot a 20 M. M. shell into one of our gas tanks. The engine went out—and we figured we would too—but we crippled in for an emergency landing on New Georgia."

Hall also remembers one other dangerous tangle with the Japs; though he did not realize the danger until it was past. "The Zeros dropped three series bombs on us," says Hall, "but they exploded behind us. Fact is, I didn't know they were bombs. Thought it was just flak."

Japs Are Gass Fighters
Concerning the character of Jap fighters, Hall says:

Old Glory 'Backs Up' Burma Yanks

You can easily see that Old Glory is "backing up" these Yank pilots in Burma as they flank Adml. Lord Louis Mountbatten, Allied commander for southeast Asia, while watching aerial maneuvers during his tour of the front.

Registry of Assumed Names Is Required, Co. Attorney Warns

Mistakes On Service Plaque Can Be Corrected

The registration of assumed names is clearly required under Texas statutes, and County Attorney Carl Gilliland this week declared his intention of enforcing the law—if necessary by filing suit against persons operating under assumed names not properly filed in the county clerk's office.

In explanation of the term, "assumed name," it is pointed out that John Doe might legally operate a business under his name of John Doe, but when the business operates under the title of "John Doe Company," the name must be filed with all requisite information on ownership, in the assumed name record.

According to the statute any person operating a business under an assumed name (that is, any but his own name) must file a certificate with the county clerk setting forth the name of the person operating the business. (Continued on Page 12)

Deputy Collectors To Be at Bank to Aid Income Tax Payers

Two deputy collectors from the Department of Internal Revenue will be at the First National Bank of Hereford on Tuesday, Feb. 29, and Wednesday, Mar. 1, to assist citizens of this locality in making out income tax returns. It will be the only visit of a deputy collector in Hereford prior to the Mar. 15, final filing date, and all persons desiring help are asked to come by on one of the two days, bringing all necessary record of income tax payments for 1942 and in-1943.

There is no charge for the assistance offered by the deputy collectors, who will be at the bank from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. both days.

"In a big bunch they are pretty good. And if they can catch a lone plane, they'll jump it every time; but they get out if the odds look equal."

Incidentally, he believes that the character of Jap aerial warfare has changed entirely within the past few months. "Just off hand I'd say their air punch has slackened off 75 per cent since I first went to the Pacific," he says. "They used to send over squadrons; now it's just a few planes on nuisance raids."

Take No Prisoners
Hall admits that the particular Jap atrocity stories released to the press last week end were not current in his theatre of operations. (Continued on Page 12)

Financial Condition of County is Tops

Deaf Smith County citizens can point with pride to the financial condition of their county, which has one of the best records in the state on the basis of the comparative financial statement published in this week's Brand. In fact, according to county Auditor E. C. Eubanks, the county perhaps holds the best position in Texas, so far as its financial condition is concerned.

Important to taxpayers is the fact that $8,712 worth of county indebtedness has been retired during the past year; and though general maintenance costs have risen and there was greater expense for personnel in the road and bridge maintenance program, as Mr. Eubanks points out, such increases are to be expected in a war year; and he points to the fact that the county has put $30,000 into war savings bonds during 1943.

Property valuations showed an increase of more than $634,000 to reach a total of $7,702,128.00, and this brings about a corresponding increase in tax receipts. Tax collections have been outstandingly good, with the percent of collections at an all-time high.

Hospital revenue has showed a sharp increase, but hospital (Continued on Page 12)

Mrs. Hodges Is Candidate for County Treasurer

Mrs. Velma Hodges this week authorized The Brand to announce her candidacy for reelection to the office of County Treasurer, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary.

"I can sincerely say that it has been a pleasure to work with and for the people of Deaf Smith County," Mrs. Hodges stated in announcing her candidacy. "I greatly appreciate the cooperation which has been shown me in my work as county treasurer; I invite you to check my record, and will appreciate your support if you think I have handled this job properly," Mrs. Hodges said.

Fox Cleaners Opens With Experienced Couple in Charge

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Moore arrived this week from Childress to begin work at Fox Cleaners, which has been closed for several weeks because of lack of help.

Mr. Moore has had 18 years' experience in the dry cleaning business, having worked in shops in Texas, California and Oklahoma. Mrs. Moore has had six years' experience in the work. They will be in charge of operation of the business, which will hereafter be open six days a week.

Guidance and discipline should go hand in hand rather than punishment for the child because of lack of training."

THIS WEEK... AT THE USO

The name of the donor has been lost but the USO received a box containing Brand New, Unopened decks of cards. Just imagine! No corners torn off and jokers in all of them. And there were 10 or 12 decks! We are grateful! We heard it was a soldier who gave them. Won't someone please thank him for us?

And the soldiers want the citizens and clubs of Hereford and Deaf Smith County, to know that they appreciated being given the tickets to the President's Birthday Ball. Over 75 tickets were turned in to the USO and redistributed to soldiers.

Some one also mailed to us two tickets to the Bond Premiere. Some soldiers will appreciate them because they were purchased through buying a bond in the present Bond Drive. We thank the donor of them very much.

We are all thrilled over the birthday celebration this week. The Council and G. S. O. sponsors attended the Lion's luncheon yesterday. Now we are looking forward to the Open House on Saturday. Come in and see us.

It has been called to our attention that there are other people in Hereford who would like to help with the USO. Will you please turn your names in to Mrs. Ed Loerwald or to the USO.

Do You Remember?

JANUARY 29, 1904

On Saturday afternoon—the farmers of Deaf Smith and Castro Counties met at the courthouse to discuss the farming interests of this section—All in all the meeting was a most excellent one. Between 80 and 100 men were present and all seemed to be fully convinced that the only things necessary to do to grow cotton on the plains are planting and cultivation.

The following is a list of the towns with which the Hereford Telephone Exchange makes connection: Amarillo, Canyon City, Clarendon, Childress, Estelline, Giles, Goodnight, Memphis, Newlin, Panhandle, Rowe, Umbarger, Washburn, Hollis, Leger, O. T. Mangum, O. T., Haskell, Paducah, Matador, Swenson, Floydada, Dickens City, Benjamin and El Dorado City.

For some time there has been floating about in the atmosphere the building of several brick stores in Hereford, but now this has thrown off the guise of a rumor and assumed the form of a reality.

W. B. Dameron has let the contract for the erection of a two-story brick on his corner lot adjoining the F. Merron building on the south and T. J. Graves has purchased the three lots adjoining it on the north and will begin the erection of three bricks at once.

Numerous reports from Tucumcari are to the effect that the people of that town are wild with excitement over recent discoveries of gold about 15 miles east of that town.

JANUARY 29, 1924

The dense pall of silence which has enveloped real estate activity in this section for so many months was split wide open this week by the announcement of the hustling real estate firm of Hill and Ireland, that, in partnership with Kerr and Johnson of Dimmitt, they have signed a contract with Col. G. T. Herring of Amarillo whereby the north half of the great Herring ranch in Castro county, sixteen sections in a square, will be thrown open to farm settlement.

Cordell Hull, of Tennessee, chairman of the National Democratic Committee, has already established headquarters in New York and started organization for the National Convention there in June.

Captain Buford B. Farmer, and Lieutenants A. L. Biegs and B. F. Dixon of the local Texas National Guards, went to Amarillo Friday afternoon to attend an officers banquet at the Amarillo Hotel set for Friday night.

INCOME TAX (Strictly 1924 information)—Who? Single person who had net income of $1,000 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more and married couples who had net income of $2,000 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more must file returns.

Mrs. Carl Jennings and little son Ralph of Amarillo, reached Hereford Saturday morning.

Saturday show at the Star Theatre was Jack Holt and Bebe Daniels in "North of the Rio Grande."

But don't forget... while you are only lending a few spare dollars... thousands of our gallant fighting men are giving their lives for you! Show that you're backing them up 100%. Invest in extra War Bonds to the limit of your ability. And display the 4th War Loan Emblem at home!

Fountain Pen Salvage Drive Time Extended; New Deadline Saturday

The fountain pen salvage campaign conducted by the B & P W Club has been extended until Saturday, Feb. 5. It was announced today, as a special appeal was issued to school children to gather up old pens, which will be repaired and sent to servicemen overseas. More than 200 pens have already been sent in, with a large part of the collection contributed by the children in Mrs. Sadie Hazelwood's room at Hereford's Central School.

The drive was originally scheduled to close last week but instructions from state salvage headquarters permitted the extension, according to the local club sponsor. All pens may be left at The Brand office.

Latest information from the Texas Salvage Committee is that hereafter not all repaired pens will be sent overseas. Each returned disabled service man at McClosky General Hospital at Temple will be given one of these rebuilt pens.

his brother Marine Cpl. Reese Kesler, from somewhere in the Pacific. The ring is made of aluminum from the fuselage of an airplane, the top is neatly inlaid with red plastic from a tooth brush and the sides of the ring are inlaid with gold which was taken from the teeth of a dead Jap. In addition to its sentimental worth, the ring represents a nice bit of craftsmanship. It is highly similar to some of those turned out by Italians in the Prisoner of War Camp here. Next time you see Elbert be sure and get him to show you the ring.

Arthur Wright of Dallas, Texas, is a fellow we don't know, but who has a heart of gold. Mr. Wright was listening to a shortwave broadcast direct from Germany. He heard the name of G. T. Jones listed as a German prisoner, along with the town of Hereford, Texas. Not knowing anyone here, he called the Hereford Brand with the information. We got in touch with Earl Springer, an uncle of George Jones, and told him about the phone call. The War Department had already notified the Jones family but we all figure that Mr. Wright is a right guy.

Incidentally, the government probably got their information about George over the same broadcast heard by Mr. Wright. That is the method used to inform enemy countries of prisoners taken in this war. This saves much time as compared with clearing the information

JUDY GARLAND and MICKEY ROONEY provide a graphic picture of what ought to — but seldom does — happen to a successful Broadway musical when it goes through the Hollywood mill. It's George Gershwin's "Girl Crazy" — and as George Gershwin wrote it with the talent of Rooney and Garland to add up to the best film musical of their successful careers. Gershwin tunes include "I've Got Rhythm," "Embraceable You," and "Bidin' My Time." The picture comes to the Star Theatre on Feb. 6, 7 and 8.

Russell Whitehead is already employed as a printer on one of Uncle Sams big carriers and is using this same new process. Maybe you've had some experience in trying to get help. If not, you have likely heard some talk that there really is a help shortage. The following clipping was brought in by Mrs. Burl France and it gives a slight idea of the situation:

"Is you the lady who wants a maid," the burly woman asked, pushing her way through the door and sitting herself down on the settee.

"Why, y-e-s," stammered the housewife.

"Well, I gets $12 per week to start out. I gets Thursdays off, and I never washes. Is there children?"

"No, but—" the housewife tried to butt in.

"I only cooks one meal a day. I comes at 8 and leaves at 4. If there is any parties, I gets time and a half—and I don't work on Sunday. Saturday I only works half-day, and I gets two meals."

"Well," the housewife said, "And I don't do lifting," the prospective maid interrupted.

"Well," said the housewife, "now do you sing?"

"No, m'am," the p. m. said puzzled.

"Well, do you play the piano?" asked the housewife.

"No, m'am."

"Well, I'm afraid you would not do," said the housewife. "I want someone to entertain me while I do the heavy work."

And that, we think is just about the best of the stories concerning the servant problem. And it's true, every word.

H. H. S. Provides New Courses for Students

This semester three new courses have been added to the regular schedule: algebra II, Texas History, and advanced arithmetic. These courses were scheduled purposely for the seniors, who dropped civics; however some from the other classes are taking them also.

Miss Hall is teaching algebra II and it seems that she can not get but thirteen to class each day, although fourteen are supposed to be present. At the present time they are reviewing elementary algebra, but during the course they plan to study logarithms, trigonometric functions, and if time permits they plan to learn how to use the slide rule.

Advanced arithmetic is being taught by Mr. Ford. It seems that Mr. Ford has the largest class with thirty students. Advanced math was designed purposely to give seniors a final round of math before they enter college or whatever profession they undertake.

Texas History, a very interesting subject especially to all loyal Texans, is being taught by Miss Estner, who has twenty-two students. The purpose of the study of Texas History is to get an over-all survey of the state and to examine the industrial possibilities of the state.

'Roving Fever' Leads Students of H. H. S. To Other High Schools

In Hereford High School seven students have withdrawn this six-weeks to other schools. It isn't because they didn't like the school or their acquaintances; it seems it is just because they got the "roving fever."

Leroy and Duane Foster have moved to California. Lynn Morrow moved to Washington. Charles Skelton, who lived here all of his school life, checked out January 21, to enroll in Carlsbad High School. Jo Ann Rosson, who also started to school in Hereford Public Schools, moved to Kerrville, Texas, just before Christmas. "The Hereford Capital of the World"—Amarillo (in case you haven't heard) is now the home of Kenneth Rea. Incidentally, "I imagine we will see Jessie Ann with a few letters from or to Amarillo for that is also to be John L. Lookingbill's address after this week. It is unknown as yet what Jessie Ann is going to do without him.

Everyone hopes that each one likes his new home and his new friends as well as he did those left behind. The best of luck to all of them.

F. H. T. Plans Special Programs and Banquet

The regular F. H. T. program of January 27 was conducted by La Nelle Oakes. Questions were asked on proper table manners. Many of the girls learned a lot which they did not know.

The club decided on February 29 as the date for an assembly program.

The date of the annual Sweetheart banquet was changed from February 18 to March 17, and plans are well on the way

HOME MADE CANDY HOT DOGS - COFFEE COLD DRINKS SCHOOL SUPPLIES Visit Us Often Candy Kitchen

Another week has rolled by now, and still no one who isn't on Miss Rigler's "black list" has done anything drastic or exciting enough to rate the headlines. In case you have forgotten, she keeps a little black book in which the names of all students who appear in the paper are kept. If nothing else, Bill Brady and Clifford Kerr could turn flips down the halls.

About the cutest thing I've seen all week was Mrs. Beene, gaily tripping down the corridor on the second floor, carrying three coke bottles. It seems that she had been gossiping with Miss Kirby in the library and was returning the latter's collection of coke bottles back to the machine. Anyway, she looked cute to those sitting in sixth period study hall at the time.

Something else Homer and I are trying to figure out—why is it that every time a group of the senior boys see Elizabeth Benson, they all start singing, "She's a Dangerous Critter, I Know—?"

This week, the Senior Personality column has been started. Lee Roy Burges is still "gunning" for the bright person who said that the seniors didn't have any personality.

We hear that Naomi Brumley is a regular listener of the radio program which features the Barber Family. (And it isn't because she has an infatuation for Margaret Barber.) Some friend of hers from out of town seems to be the victim. Nettle Hood has been boiling all week because she wasn't brought around for an introduction to Mr. Barber.

L. W. Bridges and Teddy Higgins seem to have eyes for the same red-head (although she swears its Auburn). Could it be the band's first chair trombonist?

Every time a school banquet takes place, some people are always surprised. They often discover hidden romances or ambitions among their friends which would never have been brought to light had it not been for the banquet. Take examples like Norma Harmon and Carl Hennington, Marie Williams and David Sowell, and Helen Tucker and Duane Williams.

Something else we've discovered among our freshmen: Upperclassmen aren't the only ones who "get around." Jimmie Whitaker and Cameron Gault do pretty well for themselves. Ask Dolores Phillip what goes here. Did you ever notice what a sweet smile Marjorie Hutcherson always has for everyone? Wish it were contagious so more people would do the same.

If you were given the key, it would be possible to open Miss Hall's steel locker and find out who the new pep leaders are going to be. The girls voted by secret ballots which have not been counted yet but will be announced at the banquet. If you are the curious type (and aren't we all?) just keep guessing.

A drastic mistake was made concerning the name of a particular club. The name printed in this column was merely a guess, and I've been given severe notice by all the members to correct this error. The name given was not right, but the girls say it's a pretty silly name, but nevertheless, still a secret. (T. F. W.)

Maybe I'll give some more gossip later, but now, I'm going out to see who the boys are who keep running around out in front of the building. It might be that they are still repairing the pipe line, but personally I doubt it. It's a good way to get out of class, so Homer will let you know later how it works.

for a well-prepared banquet. The meeting closed by the group singing "Sing Your Way Home."

Hi-Y Has Guest Speaker

At Hi-Y meeting Tuesday, January 25, Miss Kathryn Davies was the guest speaker. The subject of her very interesting speech was boy and girl relationships. She gave some of the guide-posts that boys should follow in dating and in all boy and girl relationships. She also told some of the things that girls appreciate in boys who are dating them and the things they dislike.

Are You Guilty?

Do you know what procrastination means? Many people do not know, yet they procrastinate each day. Procrastination means "to put off doing for a length of time."

Is it not so that many people put things off? Students of Hereford High put off getting their lessons; forgetful people put off returning things they have borrowed, and many people put off things that are almost compulsory to be done at once.

What if the boys who are fighting for us put off shooting a Jpa they see till they get good and ready; or what if the men and women working in defense plants put off riveting and welding necessary parts of fighting materials into place? Our fighting men and women cannot afford to do that because of the safety of our country, and we, the students of H. H. S. cannot afford to put off our lessons and the necessary things to do in high school. We are the future builders and workers of America. Putting off things now will not make us the best rulers and workers for the future world.

In the future, each of us should practice "doing today what could be done tomorrow" and make this world a better place in which to live.

Senior Personalities

Beginning this week, the senior personalities will be printed. In this column, the reader may find practically the entire life of his brother, sister, sweetheart, enemy, or his best friend; so watch this space in the paper for further interesting data about each senior.

In Deaf Smith County hospital on December 28, 1927, the world welcomed little green-eyed, brown-haired Kathryn Acker into its midst. Kathryn has grown up to the full height of 5 feet, 7 inches, and instead of being called by her given name, she is usually called "Katy."

Katy has lived in Hereford all her 16 years and has named Hereford elementary and high school as her preferable schools. Everyone has an ambition in life and Katy's is to become a nurse.

If you ever hear anyone shoutin' Yeek, Muriel! you'll know that is Katy because that is her favorite saying. Reading and knitting are her hobbies. "Begin the Beguine" really "sends" her as that is her favorite song. To end a meal up right Katy thinks that apple pie has to be present. Her pet peeve is two-faced people, and with this, Katy wished to say adieu.

Can you imagine a person that is fond of the color green, eats fried chicken, likes all of his subjects and especially algebra? This person weighs 135 pounds and 2 ounces and is 11 inches and 5 feet tall. This is John David Dwell.

John David, better known as Johnny, first opened his pretty little gray eyes in Hereford, Texas, and has never seen the light, yet. He has brown hair all over his narrow head.

John David was born May 15, 1925, and entered high school as a freshman. Since being in high school, he has been a member of the Hi-Y and B. S. P. organizations. He was parliamentary officer of his class the junior year. Johnny has been a very ardent supporter of all of the high school activities and a cordial friend of everyone.

If you ever happen to hear someone singing "San Antonio Rose" then search around for awhile, you will probably find it to be Herman Dewey Buse, Jr. Herman is the little senior boy easily recognized by his deep dimples, five feet, five inches of height, brown hair and green eyes. He was born about 20 miles southwest of town on July 31, 1927.

After graduation, he intends to go to A & M for awhile. At least until he becomes "draftable", then he plans to join the Air Corps. If he keeps on eating his favorite food which is chocolate ice-cream, he will certainly achieve his aims.

ed, and the meeting closed with the Hi-Y benediction.

Our boys must keep on fighting—we must keep on buying WAR BONDS until victory is won. Keep on BACKING THE ATTACK.

Tri-Hi-Y Plans Investigation of Recreation Center

Juvenile delinquency was the topic of much discussion as the Tri-Hi-Y Club met Tuesday night, January 25, 1944. In a world where there was no war, no poverty or slums, no vicious or ignorant parents, there might conceivably be no juvenile delinquency. We live in no such world, however, and here are the biggest causes of today's juvenile delinquency.

The club discussed things that could be done to help prevent cases of juvenile delinquency in Hereford. Betty Jane Robinson served as program chairman. The group sang "Yield Not to Temptation," followed by sentence prayers. Marcella Blue read the scripture, Job 3:12-16. Rosemary Phillips gave a talk on "Youth Tackles Its Own Crime Problems." In her talk she pointed out things that different cities are doing to decrease the number of juvenile delinquents. Most of the plans consisted of keeping youths contented and occupied in their spare time with suitable recreation. In some cases, the young people themselves are playing a vital part in planning and carrying out programs for combatting juvenile delinquency.

Ellen Posey gave a talk on "What Juvenile Delinquency Is." She brought out points as to how the Tri-Hi-Y Club can prevent juvenile delinquency.

The question of juvenile delinquency created much interest among the members of the club, for they believe there are definite and specific methods by which delinquency can be cut in any United States community.

Because the club believes that delinquency goes up when recreation facilities go down, the club wants to work out a plan to provide entertaining recreation for the youth of Hereford. A committee, consisting of Wanda Allmon, Ellen Posey, and Ruth Tucker are to work with Miss Crawford to make plans for a recreation center in Hereford.

During the business meeting the club voted to send a mirror and a picture to Mrs. Grace Hodge for her boy's dormitory. The club wishes to do something to show their appreciation to her for speaking in an assembly to the students. Further plans were made for the "Talent Hour" which will be given in a few weeks sponsored by the Tri-Hi-Y Club. Everyone who is interested is urged to attend morning devotionals and be reverent.

Comical Answers Give Teachers Big Laugh

No one gets more laughs than do the teachers. One time that they especially get some good laughs is when they are grading papers. One cannot imagine some of the comical answers that come out on the examination papers.

If there is a question on definitions, there will always be some queer answers. Two of the many examples are: nostalgia (homesickness) means nostrils and a moron—a person resembling Madelle Beavers.

One teacher cited an instance when a girl told that rayon was made by an artificial silk worm. There was the question asked, "How may one obtain a good posture?" The country boy wrote: "Keep the cows off it and let it grow up awhile."

One student was answering the question: "How may you improve your reading?" He told the teacher that to help his reading "I must have your mind on what I am reading." Student, you must let the teachers know what you are reading about.

Then on the history test, the teacher wanted to know what song was written during the war of 1812 and is popular today. One brilliant student said that it was "Pistol Packing Mamma."

There was the brilliant science pupil who, when asked "Why does the earth turn round the sun on its axis?" replied, "Because it don't want to be roasted too much on one side."

Maybe you don't believe such answers were given in H. H. S., but just ask any of the teachers and they probably can tell you some brilliant (?) answers that make these seem mild.

Three High Honor Roll Students for Third Six Weeks

For the first time this year there are three students on the high honor roll. These students are Ruth Moreman, Helen Acker and Lonidene Martin. Ruth made the high honor roll for the third six-weeks and for the semester average, while Helen and Lonidene made it only on the third six-weeks.

There were eight freshmen on the honor roll the third six-weeks and nine on the semester average. John Dyar, Bill Goldston, James Higgins, J. L. McFarling, Barbara Ann Burney, and Anne Morgan made both honor rolls. Betty Morrow made it the third six-weeks. Nina Beth Hartman and Cordelia Hutcherson made it on the semester average.

There were six sophomores on the honor roll the third six-weeks and four the semester average. Madelle Beavers, Jessie Ann Buckner, Charlene Davis, Barbara Smith, Jackie Wright and Joe Bishop made it the third six-weeks. Jessie Ann Buckner, Charlene Davis, Helen Tucker and Jackie Wright made it for the semester average.

Nine juniors were on the low honor roll the third six-weeks. They are Juanita Upton, Doris Goldston, Betty June Euler, Naomi Brumley, Marcella Blue, Lloyd Manjeot, Lyle Fluit, Billy London and V. C. Hopson. The seven juniors who made the low honor roll on their semester average are: Juanita Upton, Lonidene Martin, Naomi Brumley, Marcella Blue, Helen Acker, Lloyd Manjeot and Lyle Fluit.

The senior class had six on the low honor roll for the third six-weeks and five for the semester average. G. P. Owen, Marie Moreman, Ellen Posey, Christine Smith, and Ruth Tucker made it both times. Alne Waldron made it the third six-weeks.

Whitefaces Whip Camp Team 27-20

The Hereford Whitefaces played the Hereford Internment Camp last Tuesday night in a thrilling game of basketball. Only four fouls were called in the whole game. The last time these two teams met the H. I. C. whipped the Whitefaces to the tune of 45-18. In this game it was different. The Whitefaces never were threatened very badly.

The game went along well until the last quarter. In the last quarter H-I-C began to get desperate; they began shooting long passes down the court. Some of these helped; some did not. The Whitefaces whipped the cagers from H. I. C. to the tune of 27-20.

The starting line-up for Hereford High was: Lloyd Manjeot, J. W. Robinson, B. London, C. W. Reeves, and V. C. Hopson, Lloyd Olson and Johnny Knowles were subs. High point men for each team were as follows: H. H. S., Manjeot, 9; Robinson, 8; Reeves, 4; Olson, 4; Knowles, 2; For H. I. C. there were Cross 12 and Wiles 4.

Crutchfield Is New Professor of Ag.

The new teacher of agriculture is Mr. Paul Crutchfield. Mr. Crutchfield got his B. S. degree from Sam Houston State Teachers College at Huntsville, Texas. He majored in vocational agriculture and minored in science. Hereford is the first place he has taught. His home is in Singleton, Texas. He doesn't have anything in particular that he dislikes. He likes anything that pertains to agriculture. Mr. Crutchfield says that he likes our school and the town of Hereford, but he doesn't like the shortage of apartments.

The students of Hereford High want to welcome Mr. Crutchfield into our school and we hope that both Mr. and Mrs. Crutchfield like Hereford and enjoy their stay in Hereford.

Juvenile Problems Topic of Speech By Policewoman

"There are no problems today more pressing than those of young people," said Ruth Tucker in introducing Mrs. Grace Hodge in assembly Tuesday morning. Mrs. Hodge, policewoman of Amarillo, spoke to the faculty and students of Hereford High on "Juvenile Delinquency" at the invitation of the Tri-Hi-Y Club.

Mrs. Hodge, who has had twenty-six years of public work with women and girls, has had training in Oklahoma City, Kansas City, St. Louis, Missouri, and Washington D. C. She once worked with the Federal Bureau of Investigation under J. Edgar Hoover in Washington, and in May, 1943, was appointed the first policewoman of Texas.

She now has charge of children, boys and girls, of all nationalities. Throughout her talk, she mentioned numerous instances of delinquency with which she has had to deal during the past year. "The war has not caused juvenile delinquency," said Mrs. Hodge. "It has only brought an increase child crime and has brought such happenings to the eye of the public more than ever."

"Many cases with which I come in contact are not caused by delinquent children but by delinquent parents. I just hope and pray that I may always judge fairly and as He would have me to judge these children. Out of nine-hundred cases on my record books I can truthfully say there is not a single one from Hereford, Texas."

In closing, Mrs. Hodge had the student body stand and repeat with her the pledge to the American flag. Following this she recognized Miss Pattie Flynn, who is the youngest policewoman in Texas and who was here with Mrs. Hodge.

Mrs. Hodge reminded us that the young people of Hereford have quite a record to live up to. Let us hope this record may not be marred.

Men are dying...are you buying?

If YOU'RE inclined to say, "I can't afford any more Bonds," just take another look at the casualty lists. At least $100 extra in Bonds—over and above your regular buying—is needed as your part in putting over the Fourth War Loan. At least $100, $200, $300, or $500 if you can possibly scrape it up. Look at those grim lists in today's paper. Buy your Bonds while the names are still fresh in your mind.

Captain Joe Foss, famed Marine Ace, was executive officer of Hall's squadron when he first went to action, and of Foss he says "One swell guy—he really is one of the best Marine pilots; and they're all good."

Hall's own pilot was a fellow Texan, Lt. Robert L. Milling of Fort Worth, and Hall says "If you take Texas out of the war, there wouldn't be much left; it's that way in the Marines, the Navy and the Army."

Hall's ship, with himself and Lt. Gillings. The turret gunner was Staff Sgt. Rodney G. Benson of Clinton, N. J.

"Not only do you meet Texans everywhere in the Pacific, but you'll even run onto a few from Hereford," states Sgt. Hall, pointing out that he met three Hereford boys during his tour of overseas duty. They were Joe L. Hamilton, seaman on a cruiser, Clyde Brock, member of a naval aviation overhaul unit, and Jack Russell, a Navy corpsman attached to the Marines. He met Russell while on his way back to states and says Jack will probably be coming home soon.

The list of Hall's theatres of action in the Pacific would make a good "battle theatre spelling lesson." Besides being at Guadalcanal from Oct. 13 to Dec. 13, 1942, and again in August, and September of last year, he has been at Munda, on bombing missions to Kolombangara, Vellavala, Bougainville, Buka, Balal, the Marcus and Florida Islands—and "maybe a few more I wouldn't remember without looking it up in the log."

Of life in the islands, he reports that it might be all right—if there weren't any war going on. The food is practically all dehydrated, canned or condensed, and Hall recalls, "We ought to have eaten Argentina out of corned beef." Also, he confesses that a bombing mission against a Spam factory ought to come under the heading of a patriotic enterprise.

No Dottie LaMours
"The natives like Americans," Hall states, "But they sure don't trust us with their women. They take the girls up into the hills and keep them strictly invisible while the Marines are around."

However, according to Hall's disparaging statement, "Who wants to see 'em anyway?" He goes on to imply that the native belles are no Dottie Lamours for looks, and a Marine would have to be pretty hard up for female companionship to want to associate with the ladies of the South Pacific.

The natives generally like Americans, and they pick up the language easily, according to Hall's report, which goes on to corroborate the opinion of most returned servicemen that natives have a native-born talent to gyp the visiting servicemen. "They're really good at bargaining," he declares.

Concerning future plans, Young Hall expects to be in the States for a time. After that, he hopes to be sent to China. "I want to see something new," he states. "And I figure I've just about exhausted the scenery out in the Pacific."

Hereford Brands for breakfast.

May not sound very appetizing but that was the request of three year old Robert Charles Kinsey one morning this week when his dad, D. C. Kinsey, was serving as breakfast cook while Mrs. Kinsey helped out some neighbors who had illness in the family.

When Mr. Kinsey still wasn't convinced after Charles Robert made his second request for "Hereford Brands," the three-year-old went to the kitchen shelf and pointed out some Post Bran. Not much difference in name, but it would probably take the discovery of a new "Brand vitamin" to sell the idea of Charles Roberts new cereal.

Jack Russell, who has spent the past 14 months on duty in the South-Pacific, arrived this morning to spend part of a 30-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Russell and family. Jack is a pharmacist's mate, 1st. class, in the Navy Medical Corps attached to the Marines.
