Rumors get around a lot faster than real news. At least that is the opinion of Mrs. Leonard who says that many friends and neighbors have been visiting her to offer sympathy on the basis of a story that her son, Pfc. Wilbur W. Davis, was injured in action in New Guinea. Actually, according to Mrs. Davis. Wilbur wrote a letter stating that he was suffering no inconvenience "other than being bombed every other night." And somehow the story got twisted to mean that the bombs had scored a direct hit.

AROUND Erickson Talk Well Received By Audience

A capacity audience filled the county court room last Friday night to hear A. W. March Bond Quota

We know the people of this community had a feeling of a job well done at the close of the Fourth War Loan Drive, when the county was reported as over on all quotas.

We now drop back to our monthly quota, and for the month of March the quota assigned to Deaf Smith County is the sum of $32,000.00 to be made up by the purchase of Series E, F or G Bonds.

This quota may look a little high following right after the Fourth War Loan Drive but we are just putting it up to the people of the county and so far you have always done the job when called on, and we believe you will this time. So let's get busy with our regular purchases and any extra we can spare.

Mitchell's Guitar Has "Homing" Instinct

It wouldn't happen this way again:

J. C. Mitchell of Hereford, like a lot of other soldiers, found leisure time enjoyment playing his guitar. In fact that guitar turned out to be a real life-saver when he was stationed in the Aleutians. But when he got back to the state of Washington, he gave the instru-ment to a friend.

Immediate emergency tillage is the only answer to the most serious wind erosion problem which has faced Deaf Smith County in recent years; and though listing now can stop much of the land from blowing, the problems this spring again present the need for a farming system which will provide year-round cover for the land. Dry Fall Dangerous This is the opinion of County Agent A. R. Bateman and Soil Conservationist Bill Clutter, who agree that much of the land where wheat was "dusted in" last fall has become a serious blowing hazard. Present conditions, according to Clutter, provide an object lesson in the fact that wheat should not be planted unless fall moisture conditions are favorable. This column this week is beginning with an apology and an appeal. The apology is for our boys and girls away from home who read these items each week for news of what goes on at home and who have been complaining at their absence. Since I've been in school it has become increasingly hard for me to get the news.

Hence the appeal, which is directed to all the people of the community. When Cousin Mamie and the kids come to spend the week end or when you and the famiy visit grandpa and

THE IMPORTANCE OF FUEL CONSERVATION MUST NOT BE MINIMIZED

The fuel used in American homes is a drain upon our limited resources of labor and transportation. The necessity of conserving it is great since the production and distribution of all fuel-coal, oil, electricity and gas -depends on manpower which is in itself becoming scarce. The more fuel used by civilians, the less of these resources there will be to fight the war.

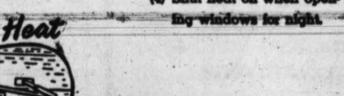

THESE SEVEN DO'S are seven ways in which you can conserve gas and not cause any loss of heat or inconvenience to your household.

Would your car take-off and fly with 100-OCTANE GASOLINE?

"I had a strange dream last night," said the A-Card Driver. "Somehow I got a tankful of 100-octane gasoline; and when I left the gas station, my 1939 puddle-jumper had such fantastic pep and power that it took-off and sailed right over the head of the traffic cop."

Strange dream is right! Because strange as it seems, today's 100-octane aviation gasoline will not greatly improve the performance of today's cars. Your present engine was designed for the gasoline which was available at the time you bought your car, and 100-octane would add little or nothing to its satisfactory operation.

When victory comes, however, automotive designers will undoubtedly develop smaller, much higher compression engines which will deliver remarkable mileage and power with post-war super fuels.

When that day arrives, Phillips will be ready as a because Phillips was one of the first, and remains one of the largest makers of high octane aviation fuels. Phillips present production of 100-octane gasoline could fuel enough Flying Fortresses to drop 600 tons of bomba on Berlin daily. And soon the figure will be stepped up to an equivalent of gasoline sufficient to drop 800 tons of bombs per day on the German capital.

Actually, this American super fuel is not gasoline made by ordinary refinery processes. It is a true synthetic chemical, made by chemical processes which rearrange the petroleum hydrocarbon molecules.

That is why we say: Every time you see the Phillips 66 Shield, let it remind you that Phillips refineries, in addition to producing gasolines, lubricants, and fuel oils : : 1 are also gigantic chemical plants pouring out weapons for

HEREFORD

The chief object to being in the newspaper business is that you never hear about things until everyone else knows about them. Just for instance, I was really surprised this week when someone mentioned that Eva Pitman is leaving the City of Hereford office on April 1.

Eva has been on this one job for almost 17 years, a fact which is within itself a real tribute to her efficiency, disposition and ability. Her disposition has no doubt been a little thread-bare at times down through the years, as people fussed about water bills and taxes, but I have never yet gone into the City office when Eva didn't have a smile or a laugh. Just think, she started even before Roosevelt; he only began his twelfth year hast week. It sure isn't going to seem like the City office for quite awhile. Mabel Barnhart is going to take Eva's job and she is a mighty nice, capable young lady-but she will just have to out up with us until we get accustomed to the idea of Eva not being there. If she stays on the job 17 years (1961) she will know how we feel about losing Eva.

However, I have to admit that Eva needs a rest and I hope she enjoys it-especially the 10th day of every month and during tax assessing time. She sure has done a swell job and every resident of this community thanks her.

Donald Henslee, who is with the United States fleet somewhere in the Pacific, writes a few interesting sidelights of fishing in that area:

PUBLIC OPINION

In the past, it has been said dents, we are willing to back any plans made. The time is right for us to obtain a recreation center for our high school boys and girls which would give them something to do in their leisure time. Only cooperation and sup-port can make these plans a reality and a success. Some ideas on the question "What do you think of having a recreation center in Hereford?" are given below:

The evening meal was served at Randall Hall. A very informal entertainment was given there, chiefly piano music. The All-Star Band played from 8 until 9:15; then the group was dismissed.

Those from Hereford playing in this band were: Ellen Posey, flute I, first chair: Jack Brumley, bass clarinet, first; V. C.
