Gas, heating oil costs drive up wholesale prices

By SALLY JACOBSEN Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) Skyrocketing natural gas and home heating oil costs pushed wholesale prices up 0.6 percent in November, the government said today. The gain was up slightly from October's increase and meant that, for the year, inflation at the wholesale level is running at an annual rate of 3.7 per-

If the 11-month figure holds through December, the nation would have it smallest full-year wholesale price rise since 1976. Last year, wholesale prices rose 7 per-

In November, the beginning of the winter heating season in many parts of the country, the wholesale price index recorded the sharpest rises in home heating costs since the summer.

Fuel oil costs rose 6.4 percent at wholesale, up from a rise of 1 percent in October and a decline of 1.6 percent the previous month.

Natural gas prices were up 5 percent last month, a dramatic turnaround from a drop of 0.9 percent in October and a moderate gain of 2.7 percent in September.

Not since February 1980 have natural gas prices risen so sharply in a single month.

Gasoline costs also climbed in November, rising 1.1 percent after falling 1.3 percent in October and 0.9 percent in September.

Indeed, the General Accounting Office said in a report released Thursday that retail natural gas

did in 1978, when Congress began removing price controls. The report also said that in the last decade the producers' share of industry revenues has more than doubled, while the pipelines' share has fallen.

For the third straight month, food prices were down, falling 0.2 percent, the same as in October. Food prices had fallen 0.5 percent in September. Those declines reflect the bountiful harvests.

Besides the plentiful crops, economists have attributed the general slowing of prices this year to the persistent recession and a world oil surplus.

Today's report said that for the 12 months ending in November, wholesale prices rose an unadjusted 3.7 per-

In November alone, prices overall rose a seasonally adjusted 0.6 percent, compared with a 0.5 percent rise in October and a 0.1 percent drop in September.

If prices rose for 12 consecutive months at November's rate, the yearly rise would be 7.9 percent. In reporting its inflation figures, the Labor Department bases its compounded annual rate on a more precise calculation of monthly changes than the figure the department makes

In all, the unadjusted Producer Price Index for finished goods, the official name for the wholesale price calculation, stood at 284.9 in November, meaning that goods costing $10 at wholesale in 1967 would have cost $28.49 last month.

The department gave this detailed breakdown of November wholesale price fluctuations:

-Energy prices overall rose 2.9 percent. If energy price changes had been excluded from the overall report, wholesale prices would have risen only 0.3 per-

The overall 0.2 percent fall in food prices was paced by sharp declines in prices for pork, eggs and rice. Wholesale costs also fell for fish and poultry. Increases were posted for fresh fruit, candy and bakery products.

-Automobile prices rose a small 0.2 percent after a sharp 4.1 percent rise in October. Light truck prices stayed the same, after surging 6.7 percent in October.

-Capital equipment costs rose 0.3 percent, slightly ahead of the 0.2 percent gain of October. Those costs are for machinery and transpor- costume jewelry, books and tation equipment used by business and industry.

Wholesale prices fell last month for gold jewelry and home electronic equipment. Prices soared for cosmetics, detergents.

All the increases, except for the November-to-November comparison, are adjusted for normal seasonal

Reagan to ask Poles to ease Martial Law

President Reagan is prepared to inform the Polish government he will move toward normalizing relations if that country substantially eases martial law restrictions, U.S. officials say.

The president is expected to announce the message today, linking it to the first anniversary of the imposition of martial law on Dec. 13 and today's observance of International Human Rights Day.

The officials said it is likely Poland will announce a suspension of martial law on the anniversary, three days it is not clear whether that will lead to a substantial easing of restrictions.

Military rule was used to counter the power of the independent trade union Solidarity and to intern thousands of its supporters, including union leader Lech Walesa. The head of the nowoutlawed union was released from detention last month.

Polish embassy officials were called to the State Department on Thursday and were informed of the general contents of Reagan's message, the officials said.

Reagan's statement also is away. They added, however, keyed to a communique being issued today on the Polish situation by NATO foreign ministers, who are winding up their three-day semiannual meeting in Brussels. Secretary of State George P. Shultz is representing the United States at that meeting.

The officials, who asked not to be identified, gave no details about Reagan's statement except to say that it expresses an American willingness to respond to a substantial dismantling of martial law rule

Watergate prosecutor Jaworski dead at 77 By KEN HERMAN ed as special prosecutor in

Associated Press Writer

WIMBERLEY, Texas (AP) - Leon Jaworski, the special prosecutor who persuaded the U.S. Supreme Court to order the disclosure of Watergate tapes that led to the resignation of Richard Nixon, has died of a heart at-Jaworski died Thursday at the place he loved most - his 440-acre ranch here in the rolling Texas Hill Country, where he often came for peace and solitude. The 77-year-old lawyer died while cutting firewood in a grove of Spanish oak trees, and his body was taken to Geo. H. Lewis and Sons funeral home in Houston. Ranch foreman John Clayton was with Jaworski, about two miles from the Circle J Ranch house, when Jaworski collapsed about 3:30 p.m. Thursday. "I'm sure if he could have chosen a way to go this would have been it," Clayton said. "He was in high spirits and was doing what he liked to do best.'

Jaworski was pronounced dead at 5 p.m. by Peace Justice Sonny Gold, after Clayton spent an hour trying to revive him.

Jaworski had not been in a courtroom since 1974, when he served as Watergate special prosecutor and successfully secured tape recordings linking Nixon to the Watergate scandal.

"You just don't argue another case after you've argued 'the United States versus Nixon' before the Supreme Court," he said.

When Jaworski accepted the job as Watergate special prosecutor, he remembered, 'It was something where my friends thought that my mental health had failed me, that my head should be examined. You don't know how many calls I got.'

He said he voted for Nixon and "shuddered" when he heard the White House recordings and "realized he (Nixon) was right in the middle." "For a moment, I wished

Appeals court disallows claim

HOUSTON (AP) - A woman who claimed to be Howard Hughes' illegitimate daughter has lost an appeals court bid for a share of the late billionaire's fortune.

The 14th Texas Court of Civil Appeals Thursday turned down the challenge by Claire Benedict Hudenburg, upholding a July 1981 ruling by Probate Judge Pat Gregory.

Ms. Hudenburg, of Las Vegas, claims she is Hughes' illegitimate daughter. She argued she had not been given enough time to prepare responses to allegations made by 21 first cousins later declared heirs to Hughes' estate.

The three-judge panel rejected her

Ms. Hudenburg's claim was one of more than 400 heard during four separate trials in 1981 to determine the legal heirs to Hughes' fortune, valued as much as $2 billion.

The claims were swept away, and in November 1981 Gregory declared 16 first cousins on Hughes' mother's side and five on his father's side should share the wealth.

Couple files suit against Bank

MIDLAND, Texas (AP) - A Midland couple has filed a $100 million class-action lawsuit that challenges the loan practices of the First National Bank of Midland and contends lower interest rates are unfairly awarded to some customers.

Burgess Wade, an attorney with the Midland legal firm representing the bank, said Thursday neither the firm nor the bank had seen the suit and could not comment.

The suit, filed Wednesday on behalf of Dale A. Paul and his wife, Joan, claims the bank has damaged at least 5,000 customers with "illegal and unlawful" lending practices.

The Pauls, who said they have two $50,000 loans with the bank, contends in their suit that the bank's lending practices "highly are discriminatory."

The suit claimed notes are signed without the borrower knowing what the prime rate or prime floating rate will be. The couple also charged that "preferred and favored customers" unfairly are awarded a lower interest

The Pauls said the bank never has given any criteria for determining the prime rate or the prime floating rate, and that the rate "has borne no reasonable relationship to any actual or anticipated economic harm to the bank caused by the fluctuation of the so-called prime interest rate."

Jury rules hospital not responsible

DALLAS (AP) - A Dallas psychiatric hospital could not have prevented a discharged patient from killing his mother during a shooting rampage in his El Paso home, a jury has ruled.

The family of Ronald Love, 24, had sued the Timberlawn Psychiatric Hospital for $2 million, claiming Timberlawn and its doctors were negligent in not preventing Love's April 1979 shootings.

Timberlawn officials said their treatment of Love was at a standard. accepted throughout the mental health profession

State District Judge Sid Fitzwater had instructed jurors that if they concluded the doctors chose a recognized treatment method and administered it properly, they could not find the doctors negligent merely because the treatment did not work.

The state district court panel, after nearly four days of deliberations, ruled in favor of the defendants. The jury began deliberating the case Monday morning and ruled in favor of the hospital at 1:30 p.m. Thursday.

The suit named as defendants the hospital, a psychiatrist, a psychologist and a psychiatric social worker. The Love family contended the defendants should have supervised Love more closely after his release from the hospital.

Bullet meant to turn stampeding cow

SAN DIEGO, Texas (AP) - A cowhand trampled by a stampeding cow was shot by another man trying to frighten the animal, but authorities did not realize the man had been hit by gunfire until funeral home employees found a bullet hole in his back, a sheriff said.

Duval County Sheriff Raul Serna said Thursday he now thinks Daniel Gaitan Jr., 20, accidently was killed by a gun fired in a desperate attempt to frighten a charging cow.

Serna said Gaitan and five other men had rounded up some cattle and placed them in a corral when cow jumped the fence and charged directly at Gaitan. One of the cowhands had a pistol holstered at his side, he said.

49ers, Eagles picked to win

By BRUCE LOWITT AP Sports Writer

Don't nail the coffin closed. The Philadelphia Eagles aren't dead - yet.

They've got that endangered-species look about them, but a dose of the New York Giants should revive them temporarily Saturday.

The San Francisco 49ers welcome San Diego to the Bay Area. They won't be the most gracious hosts, sending the Chargers back home with an additional loss.

Eight teams - Pittsburgh, Dallas, Cincinnati, Miami, Green Bay, Washington, the Los Angeles Raiders and the New York Jets - take 4-1 records into this weekend's National Football League action. Eight will come out of it

Like many a president Brazil over some tight times. before him, Reagan has discovered that domestic problems are just unbelievably difficult to solve.

Reagan has his economic program pretty much in place, but it hasn't yet produced the recovery he hoped. About all Reagan can do now is direct his troops to keep fighting in the trenches on Capitol Hill to cut social spending more and to protect defense outlays and the tax

Such in-fighting doesn't excite people much, doesn't have many political benefits and doesn't get the incumbent on the evening news doing positive, interesting things.

"Many who used to be liberal have moved decisively to the left, both in substance and style," says a new, independent lay Catholic journal, Catholicism in Crisis, edited by Ralph McInerny of South Bend, Ind.

Complaints also are raised by other recently formed Catholic groups Washington, D.C., which assail the bishops' objections to U.S. nuclear policy.

On the mainline Protestant scene, some who term themselves "liberal" have formed the Institute for Religion and Democracy which voices similar criticisms of major ecumenical organizations:

The main target is the National Council of Churches and leadership of the mainline denominations that are members

Their "pattern of leadership" suggests a "betrayal of the liberal tradition" and "an abandoment of the ecumenical task" of unity, says the Rev. Richard Neuhaus, a Lutheran and an Institute leader.

The Institute claims the mainline churches and cooperative council display a leftist tendency, going easy on Soviet oppression but being overly critical of conditions in democratic America.

The Rev. Edmund W. Robb of Marshall, Texas, a United Methodist who heads the Institute, says the council and mainline churches overlook 'crimes of communist despotism' but give "obsessive attention" to U.S.

The Institute sees links between Christianity and American freedom.

'Don't Go to Sleep' airs tonight on ABC

NEW YORK (AP) - For people who hope for quality in their TV fare, the sight of Aaron Spelling's name amid the credits may be more gutclutching than his horror movie on ABC tonight, "Don't Go to Sleep.

Spelling, perhaps best known as the creator of 'Charlie's Angels," is the executive producer of six series on ABC this season, all of which do well, but none of which do the medium proud: "Dynasty," "Love Boat," "Fantasy Island," "Hart to Hart," "Matt Houston," and "T.J. Hooker." - Almost everything Spelling touches turns to trash, turns up on ABC - and turns a profit for the network.

Tonight, Spelling offers the same priorities for the television movie genre. "Don't Go to Sleep" is a tasteless effort to match the recent success of theatrical hair-raisers such as "The Fog" and the "Halloween" sequels. But even if torment television is your thing, it takes good writing and creative special effects to accelerate the old ticker. "Don't Go to Sleep" has none of that, resembling in style and sophistication that party gag of coiled "snakes" springing from a peanut brittle can.

For scares and suspense, this effort relies on screams and musical crescendos. Only Valerie Harper and the daffiness of Ruth Gordon provide some class. Why they agreed to perform in it is more baffling than the movie.

Miss Harper ("Rhoda") and Dennis Weaver ("Mc-Cloud") head a family tortured by guilt over the death, in a car accident, of their eldest daughter, who returns from the grave to console younger daughter Mary (Robin Ignacio)

One by one, members of the family are dying. Grandma (Miss Gordon) dies of a heart attack after the family's iguana climbs in bed with her. And so on and so on, ad nauseum.

The movie ends appropriately enough, with Miss Harper seen shrieking in fear with a close-up of her face frozen beneath the superimposed production credits. The first name is Spelling's. So that's why she was screaming

NOTICE TO ALL PERSONS HAVING CLAIMS AGAINST JOHN J. PAET-DECEASED

Notice is hereby given that original Letters Testamentary upon the estate of John J. Paetzold, deceased, were issued to us, the undersigned, on the 7th day of December, 1982, in the proceeding indicated below our signatures hereto, which is still pending, and that we now hold such Letters. All persons having claims against said estate which is being administered in the County below named, are hereby required to present the same to us, respectively, addressed to Walter John Paetzold, Route 3, Hereford, Texas 79045, before suit upon same is barred by the Statutes of Limitation, before such estate is closed and within the time prescribed by law. DATED this 8th day of December, 1982.

s James Leroy Paetzold s Walter John Paetzold Independent Executors of the Estate of John J. Paet-

> zold. Deceased No. 3182, in the County Court of Deaf Smith County, Texas

NOTICE BY PUBLICATION STATE OF TEXAS To: Henry Schultz GREETINGS:

YOU ARE HEREBY COM-MANDED to appear and answer before the Honorable 222nd Judicial District Court, Deaf Smith County, Texas, at the courthouse of said county in Hereford, Texas, at or before 10:00 o'clock a.m. of the Monday next after the expiration of 20 days from the date of service of this citation, then and there to answer the petition of Alice Gilleland Petitioner, filed in said Court on the 19 day of July, 1982 against Nina Barbian and Henry Schultz Respondents, and said suit being numbered DR-82G-119 on the docket of said Court, and entitled in the interest of Aron Gilleland, a child the nature of which suit is a request for Orders in suit affecting the parent-child relationship. Said child was born the 2 day of February, 1978, in Hereford, Texas. The Court has the authority in this suit to enter any judgment or decree in the child interest which will be binding upon you including but not necessarily limited to, the termination of the parentchild relationship, the determination of paternity, and the appointment of a conservator with authority to consent to the child's adoption. Issued and given under my hand and seal of said Court at Hereford, Texas, this 7 day of December, 1982. Lola Faye Veazey Clerk of the District Court, Deaf Smith County, Texas

Clements steers questions away

Gov. Bill Clements says he has said all he intends to say about the nation's first execution by lethal injection, and he threatened to cut short a news conference unless reporters stopped asking about it.

"If there are no other questions on any other subject, the press conference will be over," Clements said Thursday, after saying at least nine times he would not talk about Tuesday's execution in Hunt-

Clements was the last person who could have saved Charlie Brooks Jr. after the convicted murderer's final court appeal failed Monday

"I believe in the death mind about that," Clements said.

He then read a statement he had released Tuesday, in which he said Brooks' case had been reviewed at 13 hearings by a total of 23 judges over a five-year period.

On other topics, Clements blamed his re-election defeat Nov. 2 partly on what he said were last-minute threats to minority communities, and said the Legislature should not impose any new taxes.

"If I were looking forward to another term - that's another way of saying had I won the election - I would be standing here at this podium telling you there would not be any tax increase," Clements

POLLY'S POINTERS

DEAR POLLY - I live in a very damp climate (Florida) and I can't keep sugar from getting sticky, even though I keep it in a tightly sealed container. Is there any way to keep my sugar dry? - NAN DEAR NAN - Try that old fashioned remedy that everyone's grandmother used to use for salt (before they invented additives to keep it free-running!). Add a handful of raw rice to the container of sugar. The rice absorbs the excess moisture and keeps the sugar less sticky. It also helps to keep a smaller container of sugar available for daily use so that you don't have to dip into the main canister every day. The less frequently the main supply is opened and exposed to dampness, the less moisture will have a chance to creep in. Here's

DEAR POLLY - While getting ready for college this year, I was looking for material to make a hanging laundry bag when I found an old dress that was out of style but in about the bleach spots, I decided to bleach the entire pair of pants. I placed them with bleach in the bathtub and all of the color came out leaving a beige color. The pants were beige all over and very evenly colored. They looked as if that were the color they were supposed to be. This may not work for all fabrics, but is good to try if the pants are unwearable as

"Texas government has an obligation to the taxpayers to cut the pattern to fit the cloth," Clements said. He said Comptroller Bob Bullock has projected $5.3 billion more revenues than for the previous two-year budget.

"There is no reason why Texas state government cannot live within that increase.' the lame-duck Republican governor said. "All these agencies should be taking a quirements. Some of the requests are just unconscionable.

He said on Nov. 2 the Democrats "did a whale of a job in turning out their voters. It essentially was the minority vote that made the difference." But he said some Democrats, namely U.S. Rep. Mickey Leland and Sen. Craig Washington, both of Houston, spread the word in minority neighborhoods especially in Houston - that "if you don't go to the polls Democratic ticket, you will lose your Social Security, your food stamps, your voting rights. And in the Valley, they added a fourth, which was you will lose your job."

Clements denied he appointed Texas Supreme Court Justice Jack Pope to be chief justice of that court for political reasons.

Pope, a long-time Democrat, was appointed after a coalition of Democrats in the Senate told Clements to leave the chief justice appointment to other people.

harder look at their re- and vote a straight Gov.-elect Mark White and threatened to block all Clements appointees if he did not accede to their demands.

"The hallmark" of his fouryear term, Clements said, has been quality appointments. Judge Pope was a quality appointment.'

After leaving office, Clements said he plans to return to Sedco Inc., the Dallas oil drilling business he founded, and serve as a 'policy-only' chairman, leaving the day-to-day details of running the company to

Questions pulse procedure

DEAR DR. LAMB - I heard a physician on TV dis-cussing the best way to take your pulse after exercising. He indicated that most people take their pulse on one of the major arteries at the front of the neck. He said you should not hold the artery too long or you could cause damage to the brain, and that you should never hold both arteries down at the same time Typically I take my pulse after exercising. Although I usually press on one artery in my neck I have on occasion used both arteries simultaneously.

To say the least, I was frightened by the doctor's comment, thinking that I may have done irreparable harm to myself. What are the dangers in taking your pulse this way'

DEAR READER - The fact that you had no discernible problem is proof enough that it didn't cause you any harm. But I don't recommend pressing on both neck arteries at the same time,

The arteries pulsate and you do not need to press down hard on them or obliterate the pulse to count your heart rate. Just let your fingertips feel the natural beat. The arteries you are asking about are the carotid arteries on each side of the windpipe, about the level of vour voice box.

It is true that if you occlude the artery, or particularly both arteries, that you may interrupt enough blood flow to the brain to cause a problem. This is very unlikely in young people. And if you had a clotted artery you could dislodge a clot.

More likely is that even by "stroking" the artery you can set off a carotid reflex that slows the heart or may cause fainting. Some people have a hyperactive carotid reflex and may faint from having a barber tighten the cloth around their neck.

You might find that you can take your pulse just as well from your temple artery just in front of your ear, or your radial artery in your wrist just above the base of the thumb (palm side). A little practice usually makes it easy to get a pulse from either location.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I am 54 years old and I have what my doctor called a spermatocele in my left groin. Please explain in layman's terms what this is. Also what are the symptoms I might feel from this problem? What can I do to correct this? Is surgery necessary?

DEAR READER - It is just a cyst. It is attached to the cord part of the testicles and it is full of sperm cells. It is not dangerous and will not cause any symptoms. The only ones that ever cause symptoms are those might become not from growth but from distention. That is quite rare and the symptoms are simply the mechanical problems that could result.

Most spermatoceles never need treatment. If a person wants to eliminate a medium-sized to large one it would have to be removed surgically. Only the cyst is removed. Simply draining it with a needle would allow the cyst to fill again.

Jewish holiday to be observed Saturday

While Christians make plans and continue preparations for Christmas, Jewish families around the world will be celebrating Hanukkah the first recorded battle in history for religious freedom

Dr. Henry Liebermann, spiritual leader of Congregation Agudas Achim in Laredo, said the Bible does not mention Hanukkah. Rather, the story comes from the Book of Maccabees.

"For many years, Jews had lived in Babylonia (now Iraq), driven there after Palestine had been conquered and the Holy Temple in Jerusalem destroyed," Liebermann said. "After many years of exile they returned to Jerusalem and Palestine, then under Syrian

"He placed idols in the Holy. Temple and throughout Palestine, along with guards to enforce his wishes," Liebermann said. "Many Jews fled to the hills and hid in caves, rather than submit to this demand to worship the idols."

However, many Jews were put to death for refusing to worship as Antiochus ordered, Liebermann said.

name 'Macabee,' which means 'hammer' because he and his followers struck down the enemy suddenly and swiftly, like a hammer,'

"They fought much like guerilla fighters, under the cover of night and were swiftly able to make their way to Jerusalem, destroying the Syrians along the way and capturing their weapons. The Syrian army became smaller and victory soon came for the Jews," said Liebermann. After the Jewish army entered Jerusalem, the city's walls were rebuilt and the Holy Temple was restored and dedicated, according to Liebermann. "The word 'Hanukkah' mean's 'dedication,'" he said. But there was not enough oil to light the Menorah - a candalabra with nine candles, Liebermann said.

However, one small jar expected to last only one day burned for eight days, providing enough time to prepare new pure oil. This event became the symbol for which the Hanukkah celebration is based," said Lieber-

Hanukkah is observed for eight days and the first can dle will be lit Friday, Liebermann said. One candle is lit for every night of the celebration and two blessings or praises are said to God each or young and old, Christmas represents the climax of the year and the glittering jewel of the winter season; yet amid all the excitement of presents and barties we should never for one moment lose sight of its origin and purpose. Let us remember that what we are celebrating is the most important birthday in all the history of mankind: of Someone who, from an obscure corner of the world, was destined to teach us all how to live in peace, brotherhood and love. Most of our good character traits and whatever spiritual happiness we may have achieved we owe in some measure to Him, through the Bible and the many Church denominations which expound His teachings. Attend yours this Christmas, and learn how the true spirit of it came about.

'For unto us a child is born.

and his name shall be called...The Prince of Peace."

-Isaiah 9:6

O holy Child of Bethlehem,

Descend to us, we pray;

Cast out our sin and enter in;

Be born in us today.
