

AROUND TOWN

Sights and Faces Seen

Today is the Glorious Fourth, and unless all records fall and the Millennium suddenly arrives, more people will get themselves killed diving into lakes, shooting firecrackers and guns, and driving automobiles before sundown tonight than were killed during all the years of the War for Independence which we're celebrating. Americans take their holidays seriously and violently.

Hereford's celebrations today are confined largely to the wheat fields and potato grounds and most business houses are keeping their doors open to accommodate the harvest rush. Altogether, it's a safer and saner Fourth of July than most places are observing.

If you must have fireworks, there'll be a big display at Buffalo Stadium in Canyon tonight—staged by Canyon veterans. The program also includes ball games and a band concert. There is also a ball game slated in Hereford tonight at the softball park, where the Firemen will tangle with KC's in a Muny League scramble.

Jack's Garage, owned and operated by Jack Rasberry, has moved to a new location at 101 Bennett, at Lee's corner on Highway 60. The announcement came in too late to catch his ad this week, so friends and customers please note.

Lyle Stanton sprouted a few grey hairs last week when the airliner on which he was flying.

Vega Man, Friona Woman Injured in Amarillo Crash

H. H. Denny of Vega and Mrs. Sherman D. Dufur of Friona were treated for facial lacerations at the Northwest Texas Hospital Sunday afternoon as result of an automobile accident at the intersection of 10th and Lincoln in Amarillo.

Denny, who was riding in a car driven by Jack DeWees of Vega, received cuts on the chin, and Mrs. Dufur, riding with her husband and two children, was treated for facial cuts.

Petition for Bond Election Goes to Court on Monday

A petition asking for a county-wide bond election to vote on issuance of $350,000 in bonds for construction of additions to the Deaf Smith County Sanitarium will be presented to the County Commissioners Court next Monday, according to Sylvester Slagle, chairman of the hospital board of directors.

The petitions have already been signed by nearly 200 Deaf Smith county taxpayers.

Proposed additions would more than quadruple the present bed capacity of the hospital, bringing its capacity up to 65 beds.

Plans also include re-modelling and modernization of the present hospital building.

Bovina Gets Dial Phones; Friona System Is Next

Installation of a modern dial telephone system in Bovina had been virtually completed this week, but a similar system, scheduled for installation at Friona, is still being held up by material shortages, employees of the local office of Southwestern Bell Telephone company reported this week.

The new dial system is already in operation in Bovina, although a number of telephones remain to be installed and the switchboard is already overloaded.

Installation of a dial system at Friona was planned to be made at the same time the Bovina system was set up, but difficulties in obtaining necessary material and equipment are delaying the project.

Anywhere from 30 to 90 days may elapse before the Friona system can be installed, company linemen predict.

Last Rites For Burren Vassey Held at Bovina

Funeral rites for Burren Vassey, 52, well-known Bovina farmer, were conducted at the First Baptist Church in Bovina at five o'clock Tuesday afternoon, July 2. Rev. W. C. Bryant, pastor, was in charge of the services.

Interment was in Bovina cemetery under direction of E. B. Black Funeral Home of Hereford.

Mr. Vassey died Saturday, June 29, at Clovis, New Mexico, following a six-day illness.

He had lived in Farmer County for 22 years, moving there in 1924.

He was born on March 30, 1894, in Grayson county, Texas, and was married to Alma Beach at Odell, Texas, on January 23, 1919.

He was a veteran of the first World War.

He is survived by his wife, three brothers, E. B. Vassey of Odell, J. B. Vassey of Beville, and B. B. Vassey of Chicago, Illinois; and five sisters, Mrs. Reagan Tunney of Bovina, Mrs. Ronald Berggren of Bovina, Mrs. Max Wade of Groom, and Mrs. Louis A. Morot and Mrs. Walter Simpson, both of Chicago.

Full bearers at the services Tuesday were Aubrey Brook, Roy Hawkins, Lee Green, Horace Moody, Troy Armstrong, and Earl Ware.

VFW Commander Issues Warning to Beware of Solicitors and Salesmen

A warning was issued to citizens of Hereford this week by Earl Wood, commander of the local post of Veterans of Foreign Wars, to beware of salesmen and promoters operating in the city under the alleged auspices of local veterans organizations.

Neither the VFW nor the American Legion, either locally or nationally, authorize any such operations, Wood said.

Last week a young man, wearing a discharge emblem and claiming to be representing the VFW, was making a house-to-house canvass of Hereford selling subscriptions to "veterans magazines".

Not long ago, a pair of "ex-servicemen" operated briefly on Main Street in Hereford, displaying a truck-load of "war souvenirs" and taking a collection to aid war veterans. Local citizens were bilked of several hundred dollars in a couple of Transient laborers who have been pouring into Hereford by the hundreds for the past two weeks, began moving into quarters at the POW Camp Monday as the City of Hereford, in cooperation with the Potato Growers Association, finally reached an agreement with the Federal Land Bank of Houston for use of the POW camp housing facilities.

A contract has been signed with the Land Bank, which has jurisdiction over the federal property, to lease Compound No. 4 at the camp until October 1 for the purpose of housing transient farm laborers.

J. W. Robinson has been appointed supervisor for the camp, as a field assistant for the Texas Farm Labor Board, which is aiding in handling the local labor situation.

The POW Camp buildings have been leased to the City of Hereford, but the entire cost of the project is being underwritten by the Hereford Potato Growers, according to Mayor W. E. Dameron, and the project is not costing the city a penny.

Terms of the contract call for payment of a rental cost of $500 per month for the 75 buildings making up the compound, with an advance payment of three months rental, or $1500, due on July 1. Funds for making the advance payment were made available by the Potato Growers, Dameron said.

Each of the 68 barracks in the compound contains five three-

First 1946 Spuds Reach Warehouse Here on Tuesday

W. N. Hodges Jr. brought in the first carloads of potatoes harvested in the county this week as spud harvest began to get underway.

Hodges delivered two carloads to the Hereford Potato Growers Association warehouse Tuesday. Into the loading bins during the day went potatoes from W. N. Hodges Sr. and Otto Olson farms.

A full crew was on duty at the Association warehouse Tuesday, as first of season's operations got underway. George T. Jones is manager of the plant.

Olson, who is raising red potatoes, reported his harvest is running about 150 sacks of No. 1 potatoes per acre.

Potato prices remained steady, and well above government support prices in spite of reported bumper yields throughout the nation. U. S. is bringing $3.25.

Spud harvest should be in full swing by the first of next week, according to local growers.

HAILED-OUT WHEAT MAKING BUMPER CROP

That field of wheat in the picture above represents, conservatively, a couple of thousand dollars in cold cash and a near-miracle.

On the morning of May 20, following the disastrous hailstorm of the previous night, it was leveled to the ground and rated a 100 percent loss. The photo above, taken last Friday, shows what has happened since.

Located on the L. L. Arnold farm 10 miles south of Hereford, and just over the line in Castro county, this 40-acre field promises now to cut a good 25 bushels to the acre.

County Agent Hugh L. Clearman (right) and farmer Arnold

look it over and seem pleased with the results.

Following the big hail storm, Arnold viewed the ruin of his crop (which was not insured, by the way) and decided to try something. He turned on his irrigation pumps and flooded the field. The sucker-growth above is the result.

Another field, looking just as good as the wheat, contains 100 acres of hailed-out barley that will make 50 bushels to the acre—barring another hail.

The grain is well headed out now, and the heads are full of grain. Clearman seconded Arnold's own estimate of a 25-bushel yield.

Summerfield and Firemen in Tie for Muny League Lead

Summerfield softballers defeated the hapless Lions last Thursday night to move back to first-place tie with the Firemen.

League standing otherwise remained unchanged, except that the Sunday School forged ahead of the Lions Club, exchanging positions at the top of the second division, and DeMolay dug a little deeper into the cellar.

Summerfield steam-rolled the Lions Club Thursday night to the tune of 19 to 4, collecting 17 hits off Pitcher Harold Close and taking advantage of 13 errors committed by the rattled Lions. Baize pitched a seven hit, the Lions scoring all their runs early in the ball game.

Friday night's game was postponed. The DeMolays were to meet the KC's in a bitter battle for the cellar on that evening.

Monday night, the High School moved up within shooting distance of the leaders by nipping the Lions 5 to 4 in a close battle. Stagner was the winning pitcher, allowing 7 hits, while the Scholars collected 9 bingles off Pitcher Close.

Tuesday night Sunday School took a close decision from the DeMolay in a 15-14 slugfest. The Masons clipped Wilson and Black for 14 runs, but the Sunday schoolers made their 12 safe hits count.

Standing to date:	W	L	Pct.
Fire Department	6	1	.857
Summerfield	6	1	.857
High School	5	2	.715
V F W	4	3	.571
Sunday School	3	5	.375
Lions Club	2	6	.250
K. C.	1	4	.200
DeMolay	1	6	.143

The schedule: July 8: Summerfield vs Fire Department; July 9, KC vs VFW; July 11, DeMolay vs High School; July 12, Lions vs Sunday school.

Noel Higgins Buys Pick-Up at Pantex

Noel S. Higgins, Route 1, Hereford, was among the veterans of World War II who purchased surplus automotive vehicles at the special invitation sale conducted at Pantex Ordnance Plant, near Amarillo, Thursday, by the Fort Worth regional office of War Assets Administration. He purchased a 3-4-ton International pick-up truck for $222.00.

Wheat Is Up; Merchants Plan To Hold Price Line Locally

The OPA and the Atomic Bomb exploded almost simultaneously Sunday and with approximately the same effect in this area.

No devices developed in the paving on Main street, and with minor exceptions, no major breaks have appeared to date in price levels.

Wheat was up about 10 cents over former OPA ceilings on the Hereford market yesterday morning, No. 1 wheat bringing $1.80 per bushel at local elevators.

Local merchants, almost without exception, have announced that they intend to hold the price line "unless manufacturers and wholesalers boost prices".

Practically the only immediate and noticeable effect of the OPA demise on prices locally was at restaurants and soda fountains, where menus were revised early Monday to allow price increases on many items. Milk drinks at local soda fountains were up 5 cents over Saturday prices.

Local groceries and markets reported no unusual increases in food prices at mid-week. Local markets, short on meat for weeks, report no price increases yet, but believe there will be some increase on the basis of prices now being paid in eastern markets.

No Livestock Moving
Brumley's Stockyards report that there has been no trading in hogs this week. Top offering on hogs at local market was $14.25 yesterday, with no trading; although Brumley reports that the yards are offering to buy at that price now and mail a check to the seller for the difference if the hogs can be sold at higher price.

No quotations on cattle prices were made. However, most livestock has already been shipped from this area due to feed shortages, and little trading in the livestock market is expected locally.

A boom in cattle and hogs was reported on the Chicago market. Top price on hogs was reached at $18.50 Monday, but the market was off to $17.50 at Tuesday's close. Cattle were bringing $22.50 in Chicago yesterday... highest price on record. Previous high was $21.50 in 1919.

Local automobile dealers report that no increases will be

SUGAR RATION HOLDS; SPARE STAMP 10 VALID

Sugar rationing will continue, despite expiration of OPA controls. Sugar, last of war-time scarcity foods to remain under rationing, is controlled by authority from the Department of Agriculture.

Spare Stamp 10 from War Ration Book No. 4 became valid Monday for 5 pounds of additional sugar for canning purposes.

Local Price Control Office Stays Open to Wait for Further Orders

The local OPA office, serving Deaf Smith, Farmer and Castro counties, remained open this week in line with policies laid down by OPA authorities and a request from President Truman for all employees to "stay on the job" until Congress has time to act on the Presidential veto of the OPA Bill.

"I served on this job as a volunteer for several months at the beginning of the war", Mrs. Gracye O. Marrs of the local office said Monday, "and I guess I'll stay on in the same capacity a while longer if necessary."

E. B. Holloway, district OPA director at Fort Worth, wired employees of the local office on Monday morning to keep the office open as usual, although "business as usual" is not the order of the day.

"The Agency has authority to continue to operate within limits during an interim period", Holloway wired. "Employees should not worry as to the availability of funds for pay during

Forced Sale of Wheat Ends With OPA Is Report

The forced sale order on wheat delivered to elevators came to an abrupt end with the collapse of OPA controls Sunday, according to information from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

No official information regarding the order had been received by local elevators yesterday, however, and the wheat picture was still muddled.

According to reports issued by the Commodity Credit Corporation in Kansas City to H. G. Stinnett, president of the Panhandle and Texas Feed and Grain Dealers Association, the Department of Agriculture cancelled the bitterly denounced "forced sale" order Monday.

Latest interpretation of the ruling issued yesterday, and contradicting an earlier report on Tuesday, was that all wheat delivered to elevators after June 15 would be considered freed of the 50 percent forced sale provision.

If this interpretation is correct, no wheat delivered this year in Deaf Smith county would be subject to the forced sale order, which provided that 50 percent of wheat delivered to elevators must be sold at current prices (within a 15-day grace period) and half of that amount delivered to the CCC.

This represents a complete about-face from the government's attitude on the order a week ago. In response to a telegram from Chambers of Commerce in Hereford, Castro county, Friona, Bovina, Farwell, Sudan, Muleshoe, Littlefield, and Clovis Melrose, Portales, and Tucumcari, New Mexico, requesting that the forced sale order be set aside in these areas, an official of the Production Marketing Administration of the Department of Agriculture had made an emphatic denial.

The telegram, copies of which were sent to Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson, Senators Carl A. Hatch, Dennis Chavez, W. Lee O'Daniel, and Tom Connally and Representatives Gene Worley and A. M. Fernandez, urged that the forced-sale provisions of War Food Order 144 be set aside for these areas, due to a critical

First of a series of articles on the scientific background of the safeguards against polio.

With epidemics of infantile paralysis now prevalent in many communities and impending in others, attention is being focused on the precautions which parents have been given by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to safeguard themselves and their children from serious attacks of the disease.

Simple as these precautions are, many persons take them too lightly and do not consider them of real value. However, strict observance of them may mean the difference between non-infection or a mild, non-paralyzing infection and a serious, paralyzing or perhaps fatal attack.

These precautionary measures which have been advised by The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis represent the results of the scientific research of many keen investigators.

Take these safeguards for instance: 1. "Avoid over-tiring and extreme fatigue from strenuous exercise."

2. "Avoid sudden chilling such as would come from a plunge into extremely cold water on a very hot day."

These two simple but valuable rules have an interesting scientific history. A few years ago scientists were confronted with a puzzling problem. Time and again, research investigators established the queer fact that although many persons had the virus of infantile paralysis in their bodies, relatively few of these persons had symptoms and became acutely ill with the disease.

Scientists engaged in solving the mysteries of infantile paralysis were frankly perplexed and put forth theories to answer this baffling problem.

To Doctor Sidney C. Levinson of Michael Reese Hospital in Chicago, the problem was a worrisome challenge. As a doctor whose practice was devoted almost exclusively to the care of children, such a disease as infantile paralysis was most important to him. In addition, Doctor Levinson was a trained scientist much of whose time has been spent in research laboratories fighting disease.

Doctor Levinson developed a theory as to why some did and some did not get acute attacks of infantile paralysis. He was impressed with the possibility that lowered body resistance induced by fatigue and chilling might bring on serious, acute attacks of the disease.

He selected a group of about one-hundred monkeys and carefully studied them for weeks to make certain they were in healthy condition before he embarked on his scientific adventure. Finally satisfied that his animals were normal, Doctor Levinson began his experiment by injecting billions of live infantile paralysis virus into each monkey.

Five days after the challenging injection Doctor Levinson and his workers took the first step in their experiment. Fifty of the monkeys were taken from their warm cages and placed in a pool of cold water. Thoroughly chilled in thirty minutes in the cold water, the monkeys were returned to their cages. The other fifty animals were kept in their cages as controls, and protected against chilling.

For the next several days all the monkeys were observed with keen interest. Soon the results of this novel experiment began to unfold. Monkey after monkey of those chilled in the cold water, became seriously paralyzed by infantile paralysis. More than twice as many of the monkeys which had been suddenly chilled by the cold water plunged developed infantile paralysis as did the monkeys of the control group which had been protected against sudden changes in temperature.

There was yet one more experiment for Doctor Levinson to do. He had already shown that sudden chilling such as would come from a plunge into cold water on a hot day could develop a more acute and paralyzing attack of infantile paralysis. But what about the fatigue that comes from over-exertion?

Again he took a group of monkeys and injected live virus into their bodies sufficient to produce infantile paralysis within a week or two. Half of these animals he kept in cages as controls, the other half he placed in a pool of warm water and let them swim about for two or three hours, adding lead weights to their bodies until they had reached a point of exhaustion.

Again, twice as many of the monkeys who had been strenuously exercised succumbed to severe, paralyzing attacks of infantile paralysis as did those which had remained quietly in their cages. There was no denying the scientific evidence. Doctor Levinson and his assistants had proved that fatigue from over-exertion and sudden chilling of the body increase susceptibility and leads to a more serious type of infantile paralysis infection.

Since then, this bit of monkey science has been amply confirmed by doctors reporting human cases who came down with severe attacks of infantile paralysis a day or two after being chilled and exhausted. The advice of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is sound: "Avoid over-tiring and extreme fatigue from over-exercise. Avoid sudden chilling such as would come from a plunge into cold water on an extremely hot day."

Mrs. Arlie Dean returned to her home in Nara, Va., N. M. after a visit in the farm home of her son, Jack Dean. Mr. Dean will remain until wheat harvest is over.

Texas Aggies Adopt New Mascot; Pup Is Found as Successor to Reveille

COLLEGE STATION, July 1 (A&M) — Rusty, a little black mongrel pup with white paws, a white tip on her tail and an odd way of looking just like she's carrying a torch for you, has been officially adopted by the Texas A. & M. College Cadet corps, to take the place in Aggie hearts left empty when nationally-famous Reveille died in January, 1944.

Only 4 months old, Rusty was officially given to the corps by her owner, Tom Westbrook, Aggie veteran student from Waco, who noticed the similarity between the white markings on Rusty and those on "Rev." A write-in ballot, sponsored by "The Battalion", student newspaper, brought an immediate response from the students, and after a formal announcement in the paper, Rusty came into her own at Aggieland.

Most Texans are familiar with the stories, almost legend, about Reveille, the black pup which was brought to the Aggie campus in 1931, and in 13 years of parading before the equally famous 220-piece Aggie band, did about everything any pooch could ever desire to do. "Rev" had the run of the campus, the mess halls and the dormitories, traveled all over the Southwest, appeared in the Universal picture, "We've Never Been Licked," had a "double" in Hollywood and had a pet aversion for T-model

In 1944, Reveille figured she had seen enough for one dog, and after having her portrait painted by a well-known Texas artist and hung in the Texas A. & M. College library, she died on January 17. She was buried on the grounds of Kyle field, the Aggie stadium, and a marker erected by the Cadet corps is a reminder to puppy posterity of her greatness.

Rusty seems to realize that a change has been made in her life. Instead of being doomed to the life of an ordinary house pet, she has ascended the throne. Out at Bryan Field village, Rusty's original home, and around the campus, she captured the hearts of young and old with her friendly playfulness. Like Reveille, she will chase sticks as long as anyone will throw them, and although the days of the T-model Ford seem past, Rusty will no doubt follow her more famous predecessor's footsteps in other ways.

Come fall, and this little dog will really discover what being mascot to the Texas Aggies will mean. With the beginning of the fall semester, she will be taken in charge by the members of the Aggie band—she will learn to prance in true majorette fashion, and will be fitted to a wardrobe of the sportiest thing in maroon and white blankets. Seeing that she is properly

One-Day Meeting On Farm Housing Planned July 25

Because of the interest on the part of farm families in improving the farm home or planning new farm homes, a one-day meeting has been planned on farm housing at West Texas State College in Canyon on July 25, Doris Leggett, district agent, groomed and attired when she ventures forth in state is a prime function of the head yell leader at Texas A. & M.

So this fall, look for Rusty out there in front. Look for a dapper little pup with her hair freshly combed, a maroon and white "T-AGGIES" gracing her blanket, and a 220-piece band behind her. Call her by name, pet her—she shows no favoritism and is friendly to all. It is rumored, however, Rusty is being groomed to ignore people waving pennants of orange and white!

has notified Miss Sadie Lee Oliver, county home demonstration agent.

"Even though construction is being delayed by the scarcity of building materials, now is the time to plan for a more satisfactory home when materials are available," Miss Leggett has pointed out.

"We hope that good number of both farm men and women and others interested in rural housing will attend from the counties of District 1," she added. "It is our opinion that material dealers, and builders, especially, would be interested in this meeting."

Further information regarding the program will be announced at a later date, Miss Oliver said.

Mrs. L. B. Taylor and sons of Margaret and Mrs. Orton Carter of Abilene are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Bryant, while their husbands are attending a pastor's school field this week in Dallas. Rev. Taylor is pastor of the Methodist church at Margaret and Rev. Carter is district superintendent and they live at Abilene.

Miss Bettye Jane Robinson, student nurse at the University of Texas Medical school at Galveston, spent Saturday and Sunday here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wallace Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bell and son David, and Mrs. Bell's aunt, Mrs. Ben Termin, all of Dallas will arrive today to spend a week with Mr. Bell's mother, Mrs. A. G. Bell.

Bumper Fruit and Vegetable Crops Offset Shortages

Deaf Smith County residents will offset short supplies of meat, wheat, fats and oils by consuming nearly 3,300,000 lbs. of the nation's bumper fresh fruit and vegetable crop to maintain high nutritional standards this year, it was predicted today by a leading food distributor.

"Fresh fruits and vegetable will adequately supplement the limited supplies of many foods now available", said Harvey Baum head of produce-buying operations for a nationally known grocery chain. "Increased use of perishable produce will permit shipment of other foods to those hunger-ridden nations now subsisting on daily diets ranging from 1,000 to 1,500 calories as compared with an average of 3,300 calories for this country."

Part of the fresh fruits and vegetables consumed by Deaf Smith County residents comes from this county's 854 farms and neighboring growers. Large amounts of perishables are received from other sections to meet the county's year-round needs. The development of more efficient distribution methods, Baum said, has helped double fresh fruit and vegetable consumption in the past 25 years and makes possible a greater selection of foods necessary for a well-rounded diet and a higher standard of living.

Based his estimates on preliminary indications of food production and consumption for 1946, Baum said that each person in the county will eat an average of 1,695 pounds of food this year. This represents a 10 percent increase over the 1935-1939 average, with fresh fruits and vegetable accounting for nearly one third of the food to be consumed, he added.

TO OUR MANY CUSTOMERS:

Twenty years ago, Kemp Lumber Company re-established its lumber yard at Hereford, Texas. During that time which has intervened, we have had the pleasure of serving you, and have attempted to do so to the best of our ability. We have not been accused at any time of excess profiteering. During this time we have made money and lost money, depending on the times, just as our customers have made and lost money. We have tried at all times to be fair with you. We are satisfied that we have given you the best quality of goods which we could buy. We have not up-graded any of our material, but have delivered to you, graded material as sold us. "Its higher at Kemps, but its better" has been our reputation and one we want to maintain in the future. We cannot govern the cost of material sold to us, but we can assure you, we will not increase our percentage margin above the margin we had been in the habit of using prior to the War. Inflation can be controlled by intelligent buying by you, in a much better way than by legislative restrictions. We want to work to that end with you and not against you.

As manager of Kemp Lumber Company, I have lived here for nearly fifteen years. There is no one, here or elsewhere, with whom I have done business, that I cannot look squarely in the eyes and trade with again. I want to continue that way, and the only way I can continue is to shoot just as square with you as always. We are trying to re-stock our sheds now, and when we do, we want you to buy your merchandise with the same confidence as in the past.

My personal pledge is: That I will give you as good merchandise, at as reasonable cost to you, as I have always done in the past. Let's work together to make Hereford as good (if not a better) a place to live in as it has always been.

War Assets Agent to Meet Veterans In Amarillo on Monday and Tuesday

Local World War II veterans who desire to obtain surplus property from the War Assets Administration will have an opportunity next Monday and Tuesday, July 8 and 9, to ask questions and complete the necessary paper work for certification at the Veterans Information Center, 110 East Fifth Street in Amarillo.

Both a certifying officer and an experienced veteran interviewer from the veterans division of the Post Worth office of the War Assets Administration will be in Amarillo July 8 and 9, it was announced today by Hamilton Morton, WAA regional director.

On a recent visit to Amarillo, details were worked out in cooperation with Tom Nelson of the Veterans Information Center and Rhea Smith, County Service Officer for a series of four two-day visits to render more personalized service to veterans residing in the 26 counties of the Panhandle.

Charles J. Foster and Marvin M. Calvin, both veterans of World War II, are the two WAA representatives assigned to the Amarillo area who will be available for consultation by veterans next Monday and Tuesday. Other trips to Amarillo are scheduled for July 22-23; August 5-6; August 19-20.

Veterans should take with them their honorable discharge or certificate of satisfactory service, or if on terminal leave, their terminal leave papers, to enable Foster to complete the necessary papers certifying them for such surplus property as they wish to apply for.

Many items of surplus property, including tractors, trucks, much farm and construction machinery dental, surgical, medical and veterinarian instruments are "set aside" for sale exclusively to veterans. They can all be purchased for personal use.

In addition, veterans hold a priority, second only to that of federal agencies buying for their own use, on all other categories of surplus property. A veteran can be certified for any article which he shows is needed in his own small business, agricultural or professional enterprise.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mountz returned Tuesday from Detroit, where they visited Mrs. Mountz's sister, Mrs. Riddle Jones.

Santa Fe Wheat Estimates Up As Crops Come In

Wheat estimates, which are issued monthly by the Santa Fe Railway Company, were up sharply on July 1 from the June report, and the nation's total production of winter wheat is now estimated at 809,067,000 bushels, as compared with an estimated 742,588,000 on May 1 and 774,588,000 on June 1.

The latest estimate for Texas wheat is 46,156,000 bushels, a sizeable jump from the May 1 estimate of 35,666,000 bushels.

Estimates on the 1946 crop at month's end were generally back at the level of the 1945 crop, with the yield in western states now slightly higher than in 1945.

A change in weather about May 10, according to the report, sent the crop yield climbing back into the bumper class.

Although the drought is still holding on in Northwest Texas, wheat estimates are up by nearly 10,000,000 bushels over the May 1 estimate for the area. Fields that formerly looked worthless are accounting for 10 to 15 bushels per acre, yields on summer fallow are making from 20 to 30 bushels, and irrigated fields are summing 40 bushels and more.

Grain is high in test weight and shows fair average protein content.

Farmers are storing all the wheat they can, the report adds, in the hope of better prices.

Lots of people are getting air borne these days. E. C. Eubanks left Monday by plane to attend an accountant's meeting at Houston. Cloven Field has a long list of qualified and qualifying airplane drivers (see Page 5, Section 2).

Jim Snelson believes in keeping both feet close to the ground. Turned up at Lions Club luncheon yesterday on his kid's bicycle, claiming it was the fastest available transportation when he discovered he was about to be late for lunch. On him it looked good.

made in the prices of new automobiles, or in charges for mechanical repairs and parts, except for any increases in manufacturers' prices which may be passed on.

Potato Market Firm Potato prices remained firm, with no big increases showing as result of OPA closing. The market locally stayed above the $3.00 mark on U. S. No. 1s, well above support prices, but was slightly weaker on whites.

Howard Gault, president of the Hereford Potato Growers Association, said he could not predict what prices may do as the harvest begins to roll here next week. Potatoes were already coming in this week, and harvest is expected to be in full swing within a few days.

The 220-foot fuselage of Howard Hughes' 200-ton flying boat Hercules, biggest plane in the world, crawls down highway on truck dollies en route from Culver City, Calif., plant to graving dock at Terminal Island, 28 miles away. The Hercules is an all-wood cargo plane capable of carrying 750 fully equipped soldiers non-stop from Honolulu to Tokyo. Hull is 30 feet high, 25 wide; wingspread is 320 feet. The Hercules requires more than a mile for the eight 3000-horsepower motors to get her into the air.

No complaints have been received at the local price control office about increases in rents locally. Hereford has never been under rent control, and rents in this city are not expected to be affected one way or another by OPA activities.

room apartments. These apartments will be made available to laborers and their families at a fixed rental which will be collected by the Potato Growers Association. Out of rentals, the association will pay the lease installments and insurance on the property as specified in the contract with the Land Bank. Mexican laborers, who have been camping in and around the city under conditions which have been a threat to the health of the entire community, were, for the most part, enthusiastic about moving to the new quarters.

Movement of families into the compound began at noon on Monday.

During this month and next, as the potato and vegetable harvest reach peak, more than three thousand laborers are expected to be in the Hereford area.

In previous years, when no housing facilities were provided, sanitary conditions have been so bad that city and state health authorities had become alarmed.

City officials, the Potato Growers Association, the Deaf Smith County Food Products Company, and health officials have been negotiating for several weeks for the use of the POW camp property this summer to relieve what threatened to be an acute housing and sanitary condition in the city.

Texas War Veterans Are Training in Vocational Schools Under V. A. Now

Approximately 8,000 Texas war veterans, training in peacetime skills in county-sponsored vocational schools, will be benefited by the contract between the Veterans Administration and the State Board for Vocational Education, to become effective July 1.

Under the contract terms, the administration of some 75 approved county vocational schools will be centered with the State Vocational Board, with the VA retaining supervision of veterans enrolled in the schools.

By this agreement more facilities for training veterans in agriculture, business, trade and industry will be provided. Centralization of administrative control with the state is expected to raise and make uniform the standards of the county schools and to speed up VA tuition payments to schools.

The VA is to pay $29 per veteran per month, all but $4 of which is to be channeled to the particular school involved. The State Board will retain the $4 to pay additional administrative costs imposed by the contract, but this cost is expected to decrease sharply when the program is a few months old.

By September 1 the VA predicts the number of county-sponsored vocational schools will increase to 100, eventually growing to 150 with an average enrollment of 100 veterans. It was emphasized by the Dallas branch director of vocational rehabilitation and education that "schools will be set up when and where they're needed."

Veterans enrolled in agricultural training must devote at least 36 hours a week to their programs and a minimum of 200 hours per year in classroom instruction, the course of training taking three years to complete. Men in trade and industrial training must spend a minimum of 30½ hours a week in training. Classroom instruction is allotted 12½ hours weekly, and the veteran must spend not less than 16 hours weekly working on the job under supervision of the school coordinator. Veterans enrolled for business training in county vocational schools will also be trained by a plan calling for classroom instruction in addition to actual on-the-job activities.

The trainee-farmer will study in actual farming operations as well as in the classroom—farm management, farm shop, crops, soil science, home gardens and orchards, food preservation, homestead beautification, agricultural and arithmetic and farm forestry. The veteran can study general farming or specialize in livestock, dairy, poultry, or truck and fruit farming.

Some of the business occupations for which a veteran can train in county schools are salesman, displayman, teller, advertising man, hotel clerk, buyer, credit man, receiving and ship-

Forced Sale

"This area in desperate need of relief from set-aside provision WFO144," the telegram stated. "Last year we raised fair wheat crop but no grain sorghums or corn. However, we had small reserve carried over from 1944 crop. This year we have fair wheat crop again, but no reserves and no prospects for other grains due to drought. This is second year of practically no rain, and livestock have been shipped out in large numbers and such will have to continue unless we get relief from set-aside provision. The cow, sow, and hen will have to go to market, and these have been backbone of this area, unless we can feed them. To feed them, we will have to keep this wheat. We should also be included with those states (small grain producing states already included in set-aside provisions of order). Even our foundation livestock and livelihood of many farmers at stake. Action must be immediate as wheat is now moving."

This matter was referred by Senators and Congressmen to the Department of Agriculture, and a strongly worded denial was sent out by Wm. McArthur, administrator of War Food Order No. 144.

"We do not believe the relief requested for the Texas and New Mexico counties is presently necessary or justifiable in the light of the over-all program to furnish food grains to the starving people of the world," McArthur wrote.

A considerable amount of the 1946 wheat crop in this area has been stored in farm granaries to avoid the force-sale order. Farm granaries and private elevators in Deaf Smith county alone have an estimated capacity of 750,000 bushels.

Local elevators, however, estimate that approximately 70 percent of the wheat that has been cut to date has been delivered to the elevators.

Training in more than 60 different skills is offered in the county schools' trades and industrial program, such as baking, cabinet making, dry cleaning, engraving, furniture repair, photography, plumbing, watchmaking, welding, carpentry, cosmetology, boot and shoemaking.
