

Dimmitt Girl Scouts are putting on a variety show Thursday night in the Dimmitt High school auditorium. Proceeds from their show will be used by Troop 2 to go to summer camp. Odys Echols and his Melody Boys Quartet of radio station KSEL of Lubbock will be featured entertainers. The program will include popular, comedy, western and religious numbers.

In answer to questions on what was given women guests at the Hotel Jim Hill formal opening banquet... a small gold cigarette lighter with Hotel Jim Hill, Hereford, Texas, on the side and a key chain in the end was given to each of the women present. The lighter is about 2 1/2 inches long and nearly a half inch in diameter. The men didn't receive favors.

Expenditures of $15,000 to be used in planting trees along State Highway 51 from Hereford to Vega, 34 miles, was announced by the Texas Highway Commission this week.

A note came in saying the greenbugs are pretty bad all right. They are even taking to the air. Mrs. Cawthon Bryant had her washing out and the greenbugs thought they were coming to a green wheat field when they saw her green sheets on the line. The note said a lot of the bugs stopped on the sheets but didn't say whether or not they were ferocious enough to eat them, too.

J. T. Gilbreath didn't get much consolation out of hearing the demonstrator from the Plainview Chemical Company say the bugs weren't bad in his wheat north of Dawn. There's still too many there for J. T.

Several farmers present volunteered to let them demonstrate on patches of their wheat where they guaranteed there would be plenty of bugs for anybody and everybody.

Mrs. Fred Barrett, Jr. will start as secretary of First Christian Church tomorrow. She succeeds Diana Forbes and is the former Mary Ruth Russell.

Grady Rogers is back on the job after being in the hospital. H. T. Dickens from White Deer has been helping hold things down while he was out.

Three employees were out at Eubanks this week which kinda put things behind the proverbial 8-ball. Mrs. James N. Wood, Jr., Mrs. Shirley Kirkpatrick and Evelyn Ford were all ill.

Hereford FFA Chapter conducting team members were on the Rotary Club program Friday. The team recently won second in the area meet at Amarillo and will go to the State meet later in the spring.

Hotel Jim Hill has operated at 64 per cent capacity during the first two weeks. This is 4 per cent over the mark needed to keep up RFC loan payments and is satisfactory, according to Pete Cowart, secretary of the Hotel corporation.

He added that the hotel is, as was expected, a mid-week hotel. The weekends are slowest because most salesmen go back home or into larger cities.

Harry Carter bought out Red Schneider at the Tasty Grill and is open now as the "Bachelor Grill."

We have a new correspondent in the Brand starting today. Mrs. A. L. Cross of Bellview, N.M., will report for that community. Bellview and Rosedale, which is the same thing, will move a lot closer to Hereford the day Harrison Highway is completed.

The Tower Drive-in theatre will open April 9th. Equipment is coming in every day and electricians have been working out there for about a week.

Hereford Chamber of Commerce has moved into their new office in Hotel Jim Hill. Tom Howard has moved up. (Continued on Page 6)

City Is Sued For $40,000 Damages In District Court

Mayor W. E. Dameron and City Commissioners Lyle Blanton and J. C. McCracken were named defendants, as mayor and commissioners of the City of Hereford, in a $40,000 damage suit filed in District Court February 23 by Don Webb and wife. The plaintiffs allege that their home about a mile east of Hereford has been depreciated the $40,000 amount because of the new sewage disposal plant built in Veteran's Park by the City of Hereford. They allege it was placed close enough to their house to cause odors and gasses and an unpleasant situation. Webb owns 34 acres of land on which his residence and the residence of his employees are located east of Hereford. In his petition Webb said he appeared before the City Commission in 1948 when the City was considering the construction of a sewage disposal plant across the road west of his property. At that time he appealed before the Commission, both in-person and in writing, saying the disposal plant would create fumes, odors and an unsightly situation and would deprive the right to occupy the home and premises. The plaintiff charges the City Commission disregarded the same. They constructed the plant a few feet from the house and constituted a menace, Webb says in his petition. The plaintiff undertook to enjoin the defendants by filing an injunction suit in District court. This injunction was denied on

Red Cross Drive Gets Half Of $6,050 Quota Last Week

"Dub" Reeves, Red Cross Drive chairman, said Saturday that over half of the money still not accounted for in the 1950 Red Cross Drive will probably come in early next week. Workers turned in $3,149.91 by Saturday after a strong start. The total turned in is without the benefit of Rural or Business workers. Only two Rural communities, Wyche and Westway, have finished. Wyche turned in $75 and Westway got $69. The drive will be three-fourths finished by Saturday night, Reeves thought.

Executive Secretary Dyalhia Brady will move her headquarters back to the court house Monday. She has been in Earline's Flower Shop in Hotel Jim Hill taking work reports and money from workers.

She said the drive will not end until all the money is in and that any individual or group can turn in money to her in her court house office any time. She asked that all who could bring donations to her.

The Red Cross Drive was half through on its quota of $6,050 with something over $3,000 turned in Saturday. Mrs. Brady, executive secretary said one lady gave an even $100 to the cause. That is the range of individual donations—25 cents to $100.

The first day of the drive cut the total work a fourth with the collectors turning over $1,500. By the third day, Thursday, a third of the quota was in. Friday, half of the money was in and some of the workers stated then they hadn't worked earnestly as yet.

Chairman Dub Reeves said the drive is going along about as he expected and hoped. He said several weeks ago he wanted to get it over with within seven days.

John Kelly's group was set up on a quota of $423.50. Friday he had accounted for $238.55. Mrs. Cecil Williams had half her quota of $1,633.50. Four of her workers turned in $806.04. Bruce Woodell, heading the business section had accounted for $346 of his assigned $1,512.50.

Wades Win Canasta Tourney

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wade swept through the finals defeating both the Janacek-Bednorz and Mayes-Stark teams this week to become champions of the March of Dimes Canasta Tournament sponsored by several Hereford merchants.

They downed Ben Janacek and Ted Bednorz Monday night in two straight games and then came back Wednesday to win the championship after losing the first game to Wayne Stark and Kenneth Mayes 5805 to 4495. They won a close second game 5290 to 4485 and then wound up the title with a 6010 to 2710 victory in the final game.

Bednorz and Janacek beat Stark and Mayes Tuesday night for the Men's division championship and it turned out to be for second place, also.

Virginia Hartman and Myra Witherspoon won the Women's Division in a hotly contested match with Mrs. C. B. Williams and Mrs. J. B. Jones. They won the third and deciding game 6150 to 5215.

Benny Potter and Raymond Nixon won the Teen-age division a week ago.

Mrs. Carl McCaslin and Frank Cogdell defeated Mrs. Mark Benefield and C. C. Acker for the title in the mixed team, other than husband and wife, division

Merchants Get Money Back From Salesman

Hereford merchants who paid for advertising in the Hotel directory that failed to materialize and who turned in signed receipts and cancelled checks to the Chamber of Commerce will be repaid in full within a few days, according to Pete Cowart, secretary. Cowart said the man who solicited the ads here was contacted in San Angelo and that he had written a check for $800 and some odd dollars. The local sheriff's office and the County attorney cooperated to the fullest extent, he added.

Central School Boy Is Injured In Fall

Billy Bryant, 8-year-old third grade student at Central, received possible skull fracture Friday noon when he slipped while trying to jump over one of the chains stretched across the street and fell on his head on the paved street. Dr. Clyde Rush said X-rays have been taken but no positive conclusions have been reached on injuries.

Billy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Burke Inman. Central principal D. C. Martin said the accident occurred about 12:10 Friday and the boy was taken to Deaf Smith County Hospital immediately for examination. He said Billy was unconscious when picked up by an ambulance but regained consciousness shortly after arrival at the hospital.

Dr. Rush said the patient was resting well Saturday.

Dr. J. A. Hill Will Speak To Methodist Men Wed.

Colby Konkright announced this week that the Methodist Men's Fellowship of the local church will hear Dr. J. A. Hill next Wednesday evening, March 8 at 7:30. The meeting will be the regular covered-dish affair to which the men of the local Methodist Church are invited each month.

Other men in the community are always welcome, and especially so on this occasion, Dr. Hill will speak about the United Nations organization, with which he is actively associated.

Rev. Cagle Is Re-elected to Head District

Rev. R. H. Cagle was re-elected chairman of the district board of District Nine of the Baptist General Convention of Texas during a district meeting in Hereford last week. A. O. Thompson, Hereford, was elected to a 1-year term on the Camp Board. Principal speaker of the meeting which lasted two days was Dr. E. D. Head, president of the Baptist Seminary of Ft. Worth, who spoke at three of the four meeting sessions.

Dr. Head spoke on "Evangelism Through the WMU" during the opening Tuesday afternoon session. Tuesday night he spoke on "Advancing With Christ Through Evangelism With Men" and Wednesday afternoon he chose "Advancing with Christ in a Living Union."

District Nine convention officers were elected for the ensuing term and T. M. Gilliam, Post, was elected president. Other officers were J. Henry Cox of Amherst, Sunday School vice-president; Mrs. E. R. Richardson of Sundown, Training Union vice-president; Judson Burnett of Levelland, Brotherhood vice-president; Mrs. R. E. Pottileo of Lubbock, WMU president; Mrs. Henry Heck of Idalou, secretary; Carl Nance of Levelland, director of music; Russell Pogue of Kress, vacation Bible school director.

Camp Board members newly elected were J. Ralph Grant, Lee Hemphill, Mrs. R. E. Pottileo, Mrs. Grach Knighton, Pete Fardehaye, A. O. Thompson, Joe McBrien, Oscar Stokes and Joe Molsenbocker.

C. B. Short Is Arrested On DWI Charge Wed.

Charles Barnace Short, Hereford, was arrested by Highway Patrolman Cecil McNeil the evening of March 1 on charges of driving while intoxicated. He was released the same night after posting $500 bond, according to Deputy Sheriff S. B. Berry.

McNeil said Short was weaving back and forth on the south end of Main Street when the arrest was made. Short plead not guilty and his trial will probably be set Monday along with some other DWI cases, Judge L. F. Foster said Saturday.

Three Candidates In Race For City Mayor

City politics, after simmering all week, literally boiled over Friday as deadline for filing for city offices drew near a close. The final results left three candidates for mayor and two candidates for city commissioner.

Present mayor, W. E. Dameron, pitched his hat into the ring, along with Wm. McGehee and Troy Moore, both of whom had announced earlier. On the ticket with Dameron in his race for re-election were filed S. O. Wilson and Don D. Zimmerman for the office of commissioner.

Mayor Dameron said that he is making the race at the insistence of delegations of fellow citizens and friends, who have convinced him that at least one carry-over candidate from the old commission should be included. Lyle Blanton and J. C. McCracken, retiring commissioners, had both previously declined to make the race. Mr. Dameron added that he did not expect to conduct an active campaign in seeking the office, but said if people felt as he has been led to believe, he would be willing to serve if elected.

No other names had been filed for commissioner and none can be filed after Saturday in view of new city election laws which specify that any candidate on the ballot must have filed not later than 30 days prior to the election which will this year occur on Tuesday, April 4.

Candidates previously announced in the race were not available for comment, but made general policy statements along with their original announcements.

Directors Work Out Plan For Hereford Water Future

Chamber of Commerce directors worked out a feasible program for distribution of and for protection of distributors of Hereford water in various areas of the United States Thursday night during a lengthy director's meeting.

Details of the plan will be worked out in conjunction with the City Commission. It will probably be on a royalty per gallon basis plus a stipulated amount for a franchise, secretary-manager Pete Cowart added.

Directors also heard the first formal report on the New York trip and the publicity received. Recordings of the National hook up broadcasts were replayed. In all, the Hereford delegation was on the air an hour and 45 minutes nationally and two hours on local stations in New York.

New Frigidaire Shop Is Opened by Downey

Ray Downey announced the opening of the "Goodhousekeeping Shop" featuring a complete line of Frigidaire appliances, at 144 North Main in the building formerly occupied by the Lone Star Insurance company.

Besides the sales department the concern will operate an excellent service department with Al Garrett as service man. Garrett was formerly head of the Frigidaire service department in Amarillo. He is 28-years-old and married with three children. His wife and children will move here as soon as living quarters can be obtained.

Downey moved to Hereford about the first of November. He had worked for at least a year with Frigidaire in Amarillo as a salesman.

Miss Mettie Roots will be book-keeper and Jerry Bass who has just moved here from Amarillo was formerly a salesman for Wearaver Aluminum Company.

Tentative date for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet was set as either Thursday or Tuesday in the last week of March. Efforts are being made to secure John Ben Shepherd, recently appointed secretary of state, as chief speaker.

Smith said Aviation Cadets will be paid for their insurance regardless of the fact that the government paid their premiums in the first place.

Writing Letters Will Not Hurry Dividend

Veterans Service officer Ralph Smith advised veterans who still have not received dividends not to write to the Veterans Administration because they will get around to all acknowledged claims as soon as they can.

Smith said only those who have not received their acknowledgment cards should write.

He said if when applying for the dividend the veteran failed to state both his insurance policy number and his service serial number a delay of several weeks will be due to checking records. Both numbers must be on the application to receive prompt attention and payment, Smith said. In most cases an acknowledgment card is sent out in spite of the lack of information on the application but the claim is being processed anyway, making unnecessary any correspondence, Smith added.

Canyon Wins State Basketball Title

Canyon's District 1-A Championship basketball team won the State Championship Saturday afternoon in Austin as they raced past South San Antonio 49 to 25. 2,160 Canyon fans were present in the packed Gregory Gym.

Joe Abbott scored 17 points to lead the Eagles to the championship.

Poarch Catches Hand In Rolling Machine

V. H. "Hoot" Poarch narrowly escaped losing his left hand Wednesday when it got caught in a rolling machine as he was stepping back out of the way of a falling piece of steel. Dr. L. B. Barnett said four fingers were amputated and that the machine pulled the skin off the entire hand up to the wrist.

Earl Poarch, with whom V. H. Poarch is in business with, said V. H. Poarch had just dropped the piece of steel and jumped away from it throwing his gloved left hand into the rolling machine. The accident occurred about noon Wednesday.

V. H. Poarch is still in Deaf Smith County Hospital. Skin from his stomach was grafted onto his skinned hand.

Heaviest Greenbug Infestation In Years Hits Deaf Smith Wheat

One of the heaviest infestations of greenbugs in recent years has not only taken over Deaf Smith County, with the possible exception of one or two isolated spots, but is prevalent throughout most of Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas, County Agent Hugh Clearman said Friday.

Clearman has examined wheat fields over much of the county and talked with farmers from all areas and he says the bugs are there.

In the past, all man-made measures to combat the green bugs have failed although several new chemicals have been introduced as highly effective, Clearman added.

Chemicals which have been recommended to the County Agent, but which he points out have not been proved as yet, include Vapophos Wettable No. 25, Vapoton XX spray, Parathion and TEPP.

All of these are costly, costing around $1.50 per acre for the material alone, and up to $2.50 per acre if the owner hires the spraying done. In most cases the insecticide is exceedingly dangerous and must be handled with extreme caution. A field treated with Parathion cannot be grazed for at least two weeks without possible harmful effects on the cattle.

It is not likely that many farmers will care to spray, Clearman said, since so much depends on the weather. A good cold spell with maybe some snow and ice would cut the greenbugs back and then a sudden warm spring would probably give other insects that feed on the greenbug an excellent opportunity to catch up.

Greenbug presence can be detected by closely examining the wheat plant and the ground under and around the roots for small, green-bodied aphids with black feet, the county agent said.

This insect can reproduce at the rate of 8 per adult female per day at temperatures above 55 degrees. There are three types, two of which give birth to the young and the other lays eggs. The latter is seldom found in this area. The young commence feeding from time of birth. When six to seven days old, they begin to produce young. At this rate of reproduction, the presence of greenbugs even in small numbers is a serious threat, Clearman said.

The male is of small importance and is not ordinarily required for multiplication of the species. The bugs are probably here all year, but practically dormant most of the time. They may have as many as 20 generations a year, or more in their favored abode, which is Texas.

Clearman said the principle reason greenbugs are not prevalent every year is that the Lady bird beetle and a little wasp-like parasite that the bug in great numbers usually controls it.

Unfortunately this parasite cannot be depended upon because it only multiplies and works during warm weather, while the greenbug is not so restricted and keeps right on working unless the winter becomes severe.

Any person intending to use any of the chemical sprays were warned by Clearman that they are exceedingly dangerous and the user should take all precautionary measures.

BARGAIN HUNTER—Frontier storekeeper Jim Purcell at the old-time general store in Grand Central Palace, New York City, does some trading with a redskin, Chief Two Feathers. Occasion was the National Sportsmen's and Vacation Show which was staged by a big crowd of outdoorers.

ATTEND FORMAL OPENING OF HOTEL JIM HILL—Thrilled guests at the hotel opening a week ago included J. T. Jack Bradley Grain Company which was host to the group is on the left and County Agent Hugh Clearman is on the right of most of the group. They won the right to go by drawing one of the 25 low numbers from the 10.

Texans Like Home Garden

COLLEGE STATION—A look at last year's annual extension report on horticulture shows how important home gardens, truck crops and orchards are to the state. According to associate extension horticulturist, J. E. Hutchison of Texas A&M College, county extension agents reported that 513,047 home gardens were planted and used last year. Of this number 308,444 were farm gardens, 191,967 were city and urban gardens and 18,168 were 4-H club gardens.

Production was good, he said and some of the increase can be traced to the improved practices that were used. Inoculation and seed treatment practices were used by 19,000 more gardeners in 1949 than in 1948. About half of all the gardeners used commercial fertilizers in accordance with recommendations that came from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Truck crop demonstrations were conducted in 143 Texas counties and numbered 12,154. Principal crops involved, according to Hutchison, were tomatoes, watermelons, sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, onions, cucumbers, cantaloupes, spinach, carrots, beets and peppers. Special training schools held at agricultural experiment stations in all sections of the state were used to bring truck growers and county extension agents up to date on the latest methods of production and the new varieties of truck crop.

County agricultural agents conducted 895 plant bed preparation demonstrations and 686 demonstrations were used to introduce better strains of sweet potatoes. The Porto Rican No. 5 variety was widely used. County extension agents also conducted 271 demonstrations showing improved practices that could be used in the production of cucumbers for pickling.

More than 3,300 commercial orchard demonstrations were conducted in 142 counties during 1949, says Hutchison. Principal fruits were dewberries, blackberries, figs, peaches, plums, apples and pecans. This was an increase of 25 per cent over the totals for 1948. County agricultural agents reported working in 1,498 different communities of the state and they trained almost 2,500 local leaders who in turn passed the information on improved horticultural practices on to others in their respective communities.

Home orchards came in for their share of attention—41,

263 demonstrations were conducted in 228 counties of the state. County extension agents, says Hutchison, reported that more than one million four hundred thousand fruit trees of all types were planted in home orchards. In addition, about the same number of blackberry, dewberry and strawberry plants were set. More than 300,000 fig and grape cuttings were set by demonstrators working under the supervision of county home demonstration agents, he adds. 4-H club members were busy, too. They conducted more than 10,500 farm fruit plot demonstrations that involved the planting and maintenance of home orchards of one acre or less in size.

All of this work resulted in more and better fresh fruits and vegetables for the home table, with the surplus being canned, stored in the home freezer or trepser locker or sold. Concludes Hutchison, it all adds up to better balanced diets and improved health for rural Texans.

Warning Is Put Out To Be On Alert For Grasshoppers

It may be a little early to start talking about grasshoppers, but farmers and ranchmen are urged to be ready to stop them this year before they leave their egg beds. Once they begin moving out of the areas where they hatch, effective control becomes more difficult, says H. O. Johnston, extension entomologist of Texas A&M College, and state leader for the grasshopper control program in Texas.

He says recently completed surveys show heavy infestations of grasshopper eggs in at least three areas of the state and warns that 'hoppers can again build up to plague proportions. The weather at hatching time will materially affect the situation, he adds.

The surveys shows the danger spots to be in the Brazos valley especially in Robertson and Milam counties; in the Trinity valley in Kaufman and south Dallas county and along the Elm Creek Fork in north Dallas county and in the Panhandle. One area in the Panhandle—along the Oklahoma line—is termed by Johnston as a threatening area while the other area from the northwest corner of the Panhandle southeastward to Amarillo contains infestations of the eggs of the migratory 'hoppers. These are difficult to control because of their migratory movements. The seriousness of the situation in this area will depend upon the weather conditions at hatching time—late May—says Johnston. He urges farmers and ranchmen in that section to be ready for an all-out fight should the 'hoppers become a menace to their crops and pastures.

He says the program in Texas will operate the same in 1950 as it did last year. Special emphasis will be placed on the use of insecticides for control rather than on the bait method. Results from last year's program show that toxaphene and chlordane are excellent grasshopper killing chemicals if used at the right time. The use of these chemicals plus neighborhood and community-wide cooperation can make control of local infestations a simple and inexpensive job. He says. Every farmer in infested territory should be ready to spray or dust his field margins, fence rows and roadsides just as soon as the 'hoppers begin to hatch.

The migratory 'hoppers must be controlled before they leave the egg beds. They soon scatter over wide areas and thus control becomes a difficult problem.

Radiation May Effect Many Generations

The best information that American scientists have indicates that the soil around Hiroshima and Nagasaki, Japan, will be radioactive with particles from the a-bomb for about 1,700 years, Dr. J. C. Cross, Texas Tech biologist reports.

Dr. Cross, professor and head of the Tech biology department, says that from a genetics standpoint, no conclusions about the effects of radiation can be made until the exposed Japanese have produced a number of offspring.

"Our known patterns of radiation tell us that we can expect anything insofar as heredity is concerned," he says.

"About all you can say is that the outlook is very black," he adds. He says the use of geiger counters in connection with radiation studies "might be of doubtful value" from a genetics standpoint.

Truman for Strauss

AN INTERESTING DEVELOPMENT has taken place inside the atomic energy commission, wherein President Truman is seriously considering a Republican to be the new chairman, replacing David Lilienthal.

The Republican is Adm. Lewis Strauss, sometime secretary to, Herbert Hoover and a member of the Wall street firm of Kuhn, Loeb. It was Strauss who vigorously opposed Lilienthal inside the commission regarding the hydrogen bomb—Strauss being for the new bomb, Lilienthal being against it.

Feeling between the two men has been strained, and the President—instead of siding with his old Democratic friend, Lilienthal—has backed up Republican Strauss regarding the H-bomb, and now is even considering him for chairman.

Strauss, however, believes the chairman should be a Democrat; also says he expects to resign from government. This means that Truman will have three atomic vacancies to fill—Lilienthal's, Strauss's, and Sumner Pike's, also a Republican.

One reason for Truman's sudden coolness toward Lilienthal has been the fear that his negative ideas on the hydrogen bomb would be picked up by Moscow and used as a phony peace offensive. That was why Truman was so opposed to Lilienthal's idea of going to Moscow to try to make a deal with the Russians.

Truman feels, as the result of many attempted agreements with Moscow, that any conference of this kind would be as profitable as a Missouri hound dog baying at the moon.

Already, the White House has noted, the Russians have started a new and phony peace offensive. On January 20, at the very same time Moscow had initiated a new blockade in Germany, Prof. Eursalimsky put out the following peace overtures on the Moscow radio:

"Comrade Stalin pointed out that peaceful cooperation between the capitalist world and the Soviet Union remains in force and the possibility of peace cooperation does not only not diminish, but can even increase. The proposal to conclude a pact of peace between the U.S.S.R. and the United States, as well as the proposal of a pact of the five great powers for the strengthening of peace are fresh and convincing evidence of the peace-loving foreign policy of the U.S.S.R."

"In its international policy the U.S.S.R. is guided by the principle of the possibility of the lasting co-existence of two opposite systems—the socialist and capitalist systems—the whole of the foreign policy of the U.S.S.R. bears testimony to the fact that the U.S.S.R. is unswervingly acting as the partisan of peaceful relations with all those countries which in their turn desire to cooperate for the best of the world."

"The Unrelenting" by Constantine Dodge which deals with a school teacher had this message, "For Norval who always wanted to know what happened to Rhoda." James Street's new novel, "Mingo Dabney" is inscribed "For Jim Childres who helped me so much in so many ways."

"God Had Seven Days," by Henry Misrock carries "To Rae and Abraham who made this possible" and "A Search for the King," a legend of the 12th century, is dedicated "For Dot and Louise-Nichall." "De Lima's first novel, "Captain Beach," simply states, "For Aggie."

English writers tend to stay with the conventional formal commemoration as is found in "The Horse's Mouth," by Joyce Cary. This is a third in an independent series by this novelist.

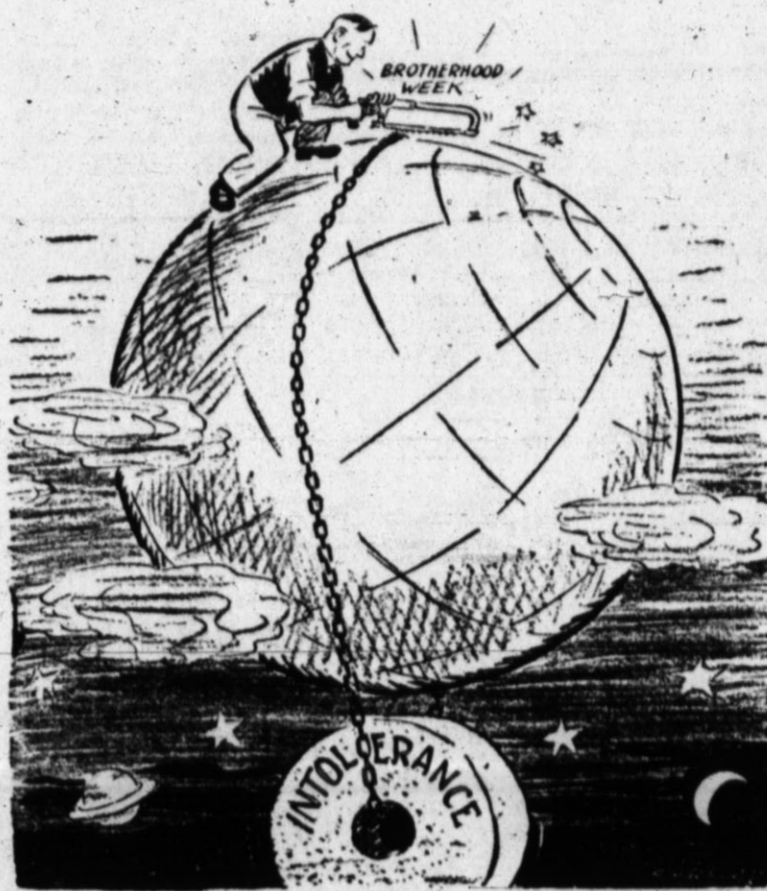

A novel titled "The Year of the Spaniard" by Henry Castor has an unique dedication "To all mothers and fathers of my generation who may be amused at being spear carriers and off stage voices in a historical novel and especially my own."

In a newspaper story by Robert Sylvester, "The Second Oldest Profession," there is not exactly a favor but a message which reads, "...and don't hire great writers for this newspaper. Great writers can't write for newspapers. They write for each other, but they think they are writing for posterity. I want men who write for today and forget what they wrote by tomorrow. The newspaper business is not an art. It is a profession... the second oldest profession."

Seldom Read Book Dedications Often Carry Author's Message

By CORINNE JENNINGS

Do you read the dedications in books?

We found in a large shipment of books just received at the library that dedications vary, and in some books there were none at all.

Checking through the mysteries, "The Knife Behind You," by Benet had this message, "To Kathleen Norris and the memory of Charles G. Norris." Brandon Bird's "Death in Four Colors" read, "To Kay and George without whom this book would have been impossible." Mabel Seeley's "The Beckoning Door" tells a short story in its acknowledgment, "To Virginia Schwarting and Mildred Moody, for the fingers they had in this pie."

Other new detective stories which carried no special favor in this form were, "Ill Wind," by Ruth Pennington; "Dead Give Away," Nelson; "My Old Man's Badge," by Findley and "So Young a Body" by Frank Bunce.

Books in fiction carried formal and informal dedications to the family, friends or to ones who had helped with the author's work, only in a very few cases was there no setting aside.

"The Unrelenting" by Constantine Dodge which deals with a school teacher had this message, "For Norval who always wanted to know what happened to Rhoda." James Street's new novel, "Mingo Dabney" is inscribed "For Jim Childres who helped me so much in so many ways."

"God Had Seven Days," by Henry Misrock carries "To Rae and Abraham who made this possible" and "A Search for the King," a legend of the 12th century, is dedicated "For Dot and Louise-Nichall." "De Lima's first novel, "Captain Beach," simply states, "For Aggie."

English writers tend to stay with the conventional formal commemoration as is found in "The Horse's Mouth," by Joyce Cary. This is a third in an independent series by this novelist.

A novel titled "The Year of the Spaniard" by Henry Castor has an unique dedication "To all mothers and fathers of my generation who may be amused at being spear carriers and off stage voices in a historical novel and especially my own."

In a newspaper story by Robert Sylvester, "The Second Oldest Profession," there is not exactly a favor but a message which reads, "...and don't hire great writers for this newspaper. Great writers can't write for newspapers. They write for each other, but they think they are writing for posterity. I want men who write for today and forget what they wrote by tomorrow. The newspaper business is not an art. It is a profession... the second oldest profession."

"It was a nice show wasn't it?" seems to be the public's general tribute to the many people who helped make the youngsters' Fat Stock Show a success.

Though we can hardly list all the names we doubt if anyone worked with more enthusiasm than Jack Wright as he helped the entrants in the poultry division preen feathers for prizes.

Stanley Slagle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Slagle was a busy person too with entries in two divisions but he still found time to assist his little brother and his little neighbor with their lambs.

Darrell Hershey also proved to be a very pleasant and helpful competitor while the lambs were in the barn.

For a feller who just likes pie the Camp Fire Girls Sale had him in a pretty tough spot tryin' to decide which one looked the best.

We sometimes wonder if the next generation will even know how to cook but anyway their Mamas still do.

Mothers busy behind the counters those three days were Mrs. Bob Wilton, and Mrs. Urin Stren and Chairman of the different committees other than these ladies were Mrs. Opal Bookout, coffee; Mrs. Earl Plank, pies; Mrs. O. H. Culpepper and Mrs. Cecil Wilkins, sandwiches.

A flyin' saucer wouldn't have been much more of an out of this world phenomenon than the sudden snow flurries last Thursday mornin' were to one of the tame rabbits runnin' about our place.

The particular bunny less than a year old was on her way to the house when the first flakes came pepperin' down and she squatted dead in her tracts and didn't move again for ten or fifteen minutes.

Looks like we may have to begin takin' the children back east so they can see it rain.

Course some new comers may still have a tendency to get excited and look for moisture when the thunderheads begin to boil up in the west, but if they stay around long enough they will discover they are just empties goin' over to Oklahoma after a load of sand.

Ever notice the expression on the butchers face as he wraps up a piece of beef from a Club Calf for you. The scoundrel he knows what we have been havin' to tussle with the rest of the year.

To Keep Germany Disarmed

The policy of the United States toward Germany is that that country should be "fully integrated into the common structure of a free Europe" but that to keep Germany deprived of the means of waging war and to prevent the development of German aviation which could become a threat to the peace of the world.

These aims are being progressively developed in the hope that the German people will proceed along democratic lines to a close association with the free peoples of Western Europe. Important as this objective is, however, there is to be no amelioration of the conditions imposed on Germany for the purpose of preventing the development of a political condition or a military potential which would threaten the independence of other nations or the peace of the world.

No "Divine Right" for Kings

The divine-right of kings, so vigorously asserted in European countries in past centuries, does not come into the discussion that is going on in Belgium over the question of King Leopold's return.

As the King awaits the decision of his country, the Belgian Chamber of Deputies debated the proposed referendum which, it is believed, will be held sometime in March. Recognizing the right of the people, the King has agreed to abdicate if he receives less than fifty-five per cent of the vote.

This procedure indicates the end of the "divine right" of kings in the nations of Western Europe. Of course, among tribal people and undeveloped areas, the rulers still contend that they hold office by the hand of God and that their people, if they worship God, should, likewise, worship the ruler.

Panhandle Race For Congress

"What kind of government do the people want?"

Recent resignation of Representative Eugene Worley may perhaps answer the acute question which seems to be bothering more and more Panhandle people. Immediately following Worley's announcement, four individuals threw their hat into the ring, and present indications are that others may follow.

Today you hear literally hundreds of people from all walks of life complaining about government, costs of administration, high taxes and farm subsidies. Some of these people are bitter, some are passive; others are boosting the Hoover Commission. All over the country this condition exists.

Out here in the Panhandle, however, the question has been thrown back in our teeth. America's democratic form of government allows the people to select a representative who will express their thoughts and wishes in the nation's capital. There is no excuse for the people to be hoodwinked. Any candidate for the office of congressman will, and should, openly express his views upon the subjects in which you are personally interested. Write and ask each of the candidates for an open direct answer. It is a duty and privilege to yourself and to your neighbors.

After you secure complete information then, and then only, make up your mind as to how you will vote. The people have always controlled elections in this country through this means. There is certainly no use to shirk your own duty, and then complain.

On the other hand, if you do these things—and still lose, it is a good time to take inventory of yourself. It is possible that "every one might be out of step except you."

We do have confidence in the American people and in the democratic form of government which, up to now at least, has represented the desire and wishes of the American people.

Attorneys Deserved Conviction

The nine-month trial of the eleven members of the Communist Party in New York, which resulted in their conviction, was followed by the sentencing of six defence counsel to serve terms in jail for contempt of court.

The attorneys have asked the courts to deny the service of their sentence. This may be in line with American judicial precepts but if ever attorneys deserved conviction for contempt, the counsel for the Communists got what was due them.

During the long trial, they persistently badgered Judge Harold R. Medina, making every effort to disrupt the proceedings and create a mistrial. They were disrespectful, sarcastic and insolent. In addition, they attempted to obstruct justice and sabotage the judicial system. They used the courts as a propaganda machine and did not hesitate to disregard the repeated warnings of the court.

The present argument of the attorneys is that the judge had no power to act because he waited until the end of the trial. This is patently absurd because the trial would have been disrupted if the judge had sentenced the attorneys to jail during the proceedings. The trial would never have been completed and the objectionable tactics of the attorneys would have accomplished their purpose.

Five Hold the Bag

Postmaster-General Jesse M. Donaldson, who came up from the ranks to occupy the highest job in the postal service, is surprised that people can be so gullible. He had reference to the stamp-investment "bubble," which recently exploded and cost a $10,000-a-year postal official his job.

It seems that his scheme promised "big profits" from the purchase of commemorative stamp issues to corner the market and, by holding them, get a profit on the increased price. The idea, however, seemed to have been sold to the customers without the purchase of many stamps.

The U. S. Government has authorized so many commemorative stamp issues in the past eighteen years that it annually makes a considerable profit out of the resale. Stamp collectors go after them with avidity and, very often, in the course of a year or so, a particular issue will sell at a premium price. Theoretically, the scheme involved the collecting of such a profit but the customers came in so fast that the promoter found it necessary to pay them out of money advanced by subsequent customers.

While it does not appear that the customers have been guilty of any wrong-doing in seeking to acquire a profit through the manipulations of the postal official, the Postmaster-General estimates that the total losses aggregated $200,000 and that five persons "seem to be holding the bag."

The scheme worked only because of the tendency of human beings to get rich as quick as possible and as easily as possible. Those who are willing to work for what they acquire and are satisfied with reasonable profits from well-known business activities do not lose money in "schemes."

The next time somebody comes around with an "easy scheme," offering a considerable profit in a hurry, the reader might as well remember that, with rare exceptions, wealth does not come to individuals in a sub-100 way!

the BOOTLEG philosopher

(Editor's note. The Bootleg Philosopher has a preposterous idea this week, as you'll see from reading his letter.)

Dear editor:
From time to time, as I read about it, I been writin down on my kitchen wall the various enterprises which is guaranteed by the government to get a minimum price:

Cotton, corn, rice, tooth paste, talcum powder, maize, wheat, tobacco, throat gargle, eggs, chickens, cows, hogs, face powder, sewing machines, all kinds of cloths which the government allows the manufacturer to price-fix, and a lot of other items down near the floor where it was hard to write and the wall paper was torn anyway, and on top of that labor is guaranteed a minimum wage, manufacturers are protected by tariffs, etc.

In fact, it looks to me like about everything is guaranteed, except fishing.

You take the ordinary fisherman, he can spend a whole afternoon usin every kind of bait and lure he can lay his hands on, and what guarantee has he got he'll catch anything? Might spend a whole week and have nothin to show for it.

This seems to be a field of endeavor which the government is overlookin, and I'm calling on you now to use your influence in it. It's not right for a man to risk spending a whole day sittin in a boat or leanin against a tree on a bank fightin insects and watchin his cork or tangle on up his reel which I never use myself and riskin comin home with nothin.

The Federal government ought to guarantee a man would catch at least four pounds of fish on any two days out of any week he fishes. Don't know how this could be worked out, but I believe it could be done, with maybe a system of coupons in lieu of fish, as naturally it wouldn't be practical for the government to keep men on every creek bank and fishing resort standin by to hand out fish. Fish won't keep that long. A coupon good for 4 pounds worth of fish at the nearest market would be all right, although there ought to be some additional pay to offset the lack of a thrill in pullin in the fish. Imagine though any number of people in Washington could work out a system of compensation - in-lieu-of-a-disappearin-cork - with naturally more pay if you was after black bass than say a gaspergou, although I personally ain't got nothin against any kind of fish.

Will appreciate you gettin to work on this right away. I fished all day yesterday and didn't catch a thing.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Letters to the Editor

Dear editor:
Don't know how, but I finally got home last night. I've lived in the same house for twenty-four years, but I found out today I don't live there any more. It seems like nearly everyone I know just moved. I'm still trying to locate some of my closer friends, and if I don't miss my guess they are trying to locate their houses or businesses depending on the time of day or night.

Oh—by the way! If it doesn't cost anything extra I'd like to have a small truck come by. I realize this should go in the classified ad section, but I'm busted. You see I keep spending twelve and fifteen cents a letter on postage. It used to be two (Continued on Page 4)

SUNDAY'S CURRENT QUESTION

Opinion Is Divided On Showing "Stromboli" In Hereford Theatres

Do you think "Stromboli" should be shown in Hereford?

Mrs. Jack Welty: Oh, I don't know. I'm not particularly fond of Ingrid Bergman, anyway. It doesn't make much difference to me one way or the other. I think if the people want to see it they ought to be able to see it. They shouldn't criticize the picture because of what the actors do. I don't think the picture should be banned anymore than some others.

Mrs. George Suggs: I know there has been some question about the picture. I believe they should treat this show just like they treat any other and if the people want to see it they should be able to. There have been some shows shown that, in my opinion, should have been banned more than this one. I don't see how this particular show should be any different from others.

Mrs. E. M. Allen: I think Stromboli should be banned. I have no other reasons than moral reasons. I base my opinion on the advertisements I have seen about the picture. I really enjoy the movies but I think they should be kept on a higher level. I go to the better shows but I pick them with great care. I enjoyed "I Remember Mama." That is the only one I have seen in recent months.

Mrs. John S. Albracht: I don't think the show should be shown in Hereford. I don't think so because of the reputation of the actress, Ingrid Bergman. I go to the better shows and enjoy them. I saw "Joan of Arc" in which Ingrid Bergman was starred and I enjoyed her very much. I admired her as an actress before this came up. I think Stromboli should be barred in every theatre.

Mrs. Billie Stevens: Well, I think there has been so much publicity about the show and so many write-ups a lot of people will want to see it out of curiosity. I don't suppose it will have the right kind of influence in a lot of cases, though. I have no definite opinion on whether it should be banned or not.

BOOKS

Allen Roberson, a woman who can keep still, as witness Birchwood, Dorchester, Widmere and Naubinway.

Several books were dedicated to some one in the author's family, as Catherine Hubbell who wrote, "Frances" had this message, "To my mother, Mary Modemann Hubbell"; Denker's new book, "My Son, the Lawyer" states briefly "To my father" and Helen Hayes and Mary Kenedy dedicate their new book, "Star on Her Forehead" with "To our daughters with love."

Dedications are found however in other non-fiction as "The American Historical Novel" by Lelsy which reads "To my wife;" Ruth McKenney's "Love Story" fittingly reads "For my husband" while Marporie Lawrence in the story of her life, "Interrupted Melody" feelingly dedicates it "To my husband, Tom, without whose devotion and loving care, the melody might have remained interrupted."

Ralph W. Sockman's new book, "The Higher Happiness" has this message, "To Kathy, who makes the Beatitudes more believable." Mary Brandt's "Decorate Your Home for Better Living" is set aside "To my husband" and Elswyth Thane's "Reluctant Farmer" is dedicated to rather famous personages, "To Billie and Roy Chapman Andrews."

Besides these there are other new books just arrived says librarian Mrs. J. J. Boydston, for children and young people, as well as adults, both in fiction and non-fiction.

When James Mason was offered the role, opposite Lana Turner, in "A Life of Her Own" he refused it, saying, "The part is so typically mid-Western American, one crisp British accent would throw the whole thing out of key." Wendell Corey will get the role.

Eighty Teachers Get Homework, Too

Off-duty sailors are teased for renting row boats, but nobody is kidding 80 school teachers who are taking classes themselves at Texas Technological college each Saturday morning for three hour stretches.

The teachers are attending courses offered as a special concession to persons who are teaching school and want to continue work on advanced degrees or merely catch up on the latest ideas in education.

Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, acting head of the education department, said the courses "are not extension classes in any sense of the word."

"These are regular college courses with resident credit. By attending them, and with just one summer's work, many teachers will be qualified for the master's degree," he added.

Teachers attending the courses come from Slaton, Littlefield, Levelland, Brownfield and a number of other South Plains communities. Courses offered this semester are "problems in research," "activity programs for elementary schools" and "educational and vocational guidance."

Tech Aggies Acquire Hereford From Firm

LUBBOCK, March 5.—Texas Technological college's agriculture division is scheduled to acquire another yearling Hereford steer early this month as a gift of a Lubbock-San, Angelo mercantile firm.

Dean W. L. Stangel said the Hemphill - Wells department stores are donating the yearling. It will be purchased at San Angelo by Grady Mitcham, manager of the department store there. William Piper, jr., Walnut Springs senior and Tech herdsman, will help Mitcham choose the steer.

Dean Stangel said the steer will be named "Sir Spencer, XII." The firm has donated 11 other steers to the Tech herd in past years and each has borne the name, "Sir Spencer."

Holstein Cow Tested Over 365 Day Period

LUBBOCK, March 5.—Tech Premier Alcartra, a registered Holstein-Friesian cow owned by Texas Technological college, has completed a 365-day production test of 583 pounds of butterfat and 17,373 pounds of milk made in Herd Improvement Registry.

The cow was milked three times daily and was 4 years, 7 months when she began her test period. The report came from the Holstein-Friesian Association of America, Brattleboro, Vt.

or three cents and I haven't adjusted my budget to the new system. It seems you put three cents on a letter and mail it. Then you get it back with a cancelled stamp and marked "insufficient address." Then you go over and spend two cents to find out the right address. Then you go back; put another three cent stamp on the letter and mail it. Well—this wasn't so bad was it? Of course not; but! Here they come again. Everyone has moved again so in final desperation I get in the car and I start my own pony express. I drive for hours, burn gallons of gas, and finally with the help of our old friend "Bill" get the important letters delivered.

Oh well, it was all in the day's work. Only thing—like I say, I'm busted and I've got a small truck load of letters returned that I'm too tired to deliver personally, and this is the only free way I know to advertise. Incidentally, I understand there are several others in need of a small truck or pickup, and I'm sure they would appreciate and help you can give them, or are you too busy with your own disposal problems. Thank you for your help, and any old truck will do. Dave Beavers.

Impartial Inquiry Should Follow McCarthy Charges

By Edward H. Sims, Hereford Brand Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON, March 4—Senator Joseph R. McCarthy, (R-Wis.), has made charges that should interest every American. He says the State Department harbors, or has harbored, 81 Communists. That is a big statement and, on one side, administration supporters have pooh-poohed it, and on the other anti-administration politicians have accused the State Department of being Communist-dominated. Of the two, it is safer for the United States to have men who over-emphasize the danger than under-emphasize it. That is why many congressmen on both sides of the aisle welcome the congressional committee investigation to be held soon. They want to know the truth. There is so much confusion in Washington about un-American investigations that many shocking actualities pass almost unobserved on Capitol Hill. This confusion is not just happen-so. When the house un-American Activities Committee some time ago adopted tactics that were mere publicity stunts, the committee did this country a great disservice. But the criticism heaped on the committee was more than was justified. Some of the extreme left would have us believe that every loyalty investigation, e v e r y un-American investigation, and ev-

'Show Me Texas' Program Theme

"Show Me Texas" was the theme of the study and musical program enjoyed Tuesday afternoon by members of the Pioneer Study Club as they met at the Camp Fire Hut with Mrs. A. L. Manfrot and Mrs. Tandy Legg serving as hostesses.

Mrs. Marlin Gilliland, guardian of Wetomachek Camp Fire Girls directed their program of songs when they presented "Texas, My Texas," "The Eyes of Texas," and "Deep in the Heart of Texas."

Two interesting films were shown by W. H. Patton, the first Red Cross at work at Texas City, and the other a film of Texas Parks and Industries.

Girls in the Camp Fire group were: Marlene Gilliland, Carolyn Viden, Daline Tinnin, Linda Reese, Merlene Legg, Loaro Jahe Lamm, Mary Katherine Huckert, Norma Jean McMillan, Dorothy Faye Daniels, Betty Woolsey.

Members of the club attending were Mesdames: Fred Barrett, A. G. Bell, J. E. Beyer, Bonnie Brumley, H. A. Close, Noah Ewton, Burl France, N. E. Gass, J. M. Gilliland, J. B. Jones, E. O. Jordan, F. M. Kester, John Patton, Wirt Phillips, Mary Seigler, F. L. Terrell, Al Werner and hostesses.

North Hereford Club
Roll call was answered by members listing work simplification practices when the North Hereford Club met with Mrs. R. A. Fullwood Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. H. E. Pettyjohn gave the council report and members voted to contribute to the 4-H club fund.

Mesdames Frank Wilde, R. A. Fullwood and Oscar Vaughn were named to a committee to prepare a history of the club and Mrs. Fred Saltzman, president of the club, was nominated for delegate to the district meet in Borger in April.

Mrs. Saltzman led the program on "Work Simplification" and homemade rugs were displayed by Mesdames R. A. Fullwood and Oscar Vaughn.

Mrs. R. E. Barrett will be the next hostess for the club.

L'Allegra Club Plans Spring Activities At Hilton Higgins Home

Plans for spring activities were discussed at the L'Allegra Club meeting Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Hilton Higgins was hostess with Mrs. Walter London, Jr. assisting.

Plans were made for a supper party to be given in the near future when husbands will be honored guests, and plans for raising funds for the Bluebird group sponsored by the club, were discussed. Mrs. Richard Ireland was welcomed as a new member of the club.

Mrs. O. G. Hill, Jr. was in charge of the program and she introduced Mrs. Tom Draper, CHDA, who spoke briefly on "Interior Decoration." Mrs. Draper placed emphasis on color and harmony in decorations for the home and recommended bright shades for use in the home and for clothes regardless of the age of the individual.

Attending were Mesdames Jack Brown, Gerald Gollehon, O. G. Hill, Jr., Francis Hill, Lee Kent, Walter London, Jr., Marlin Pierce, Leroy Price, Earl Stagner, Bill Waldrep, Richard Winget, Jerry Stoltz, Floyd Ross, Otho Nolan, Richard Ireland and the hostess.

Mrs. Clara Shore Gives O. E. S. Study Club Lesson

Order of Eastern Star Study Club met with Mrs. Ollie Brady for a continuation of the study of the Order's constitution and by-laws. Mrs. Clara Shore conducted the lesson for the day.

Mrs. Mary Ott Celebrates Birthday At Wyche Sunday

Mrs. Mary Ott (Mother Ott) celebrated quietly Sunday as she observed her 89th birthday at the home of her son, Ira Ott, in the Wyche Community.

She and Mr. Ott came to Running Water, near Plainview from Potosi, Wisconsin on St. Patrick's Day in 1910. They settled on a farm and when her husband died six years later she continued to operate the farm. But in 1917 she sold the land and bought the farm in Deaf Smith County where she now lives with the son who later purchased the farm interests from her. She has spent most of her time here since 1917 except for a few months with her daughter in Wisconsin when both of her sons were in service during World War I.

She likes to travel and has made three trips, alone, to Oregon since her 80th birthday. Last fall she made an automobile trip to Wisconsin and Iowa with her son and his wife and reached their destination as spry as any youth. She visited the old home where she was reared and married and other landmarks, recalling much of the history of Wisconsin. The memory of Governor Dewey, Wisconsin's first governor, is still vivid, as are her early recollections of those long looked for events. Feuch of July picnics. "Father would fill the wagon with hay and we'd all climb in and away we'd go," she remembered, "and I wore white stockings."

She is interested in world events and marvels at the changes that have come to pass, especially on the farm. "I never dreamed I'd live to see the day when farm houses were lighted with electricity, had hot and cold water, gas heat and modern bathrooms. I made my own candles for light and carried water from a spring."

In the morning she is up as early as anybody on the farm and likes to gather the eggs from the 300 laying hens on the farm. Since her eyesight has failed she cannot read and sew but she hears as well as she ever did and enjoys the radio. Her favorite program is "The Quiz Kids" and friends have learned not to "intrude" from 2:30 to 3 Sunday afternoons.

Relatives from Plainview here for the observance Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Lockhart, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Seipp, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Seipp, and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Ann. Also calling were Mr. and Mrs. Witkaski and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Coconougher, Hereford.

Mrs. Cecil Malone Is Hostess To Study Club

Continuing a program on "The Psychology of Elementary School Children" comparisons of experiences of members in dealing with their own children were given emphasis at the meeting of the Young Mothers Study Club Monday night. The hostess was Mrs. Cecil Malone.

Mrs. Joe Reinauer opened the discussions on "Little Fidgets Have Big Needs" and then mothers gave their own experiences. Mrs. Leroy Aven read Eddie Rickenbacker's "Guide Post for Lent," and during the business session Mrs. W. L. Davis, Jr. was welcomed as a new member.

Those attending were Mesdames: Leroy Aven, Delbert Balmum, Richard Barnard, Bartley Dowell, Norman Gray, Chas. Hill, Lee Kent, Don Martin, Joe Reinauer, John Winkler, Neal Young, John Schneider and the hostess.

ATTEND AMARILLO MEETING
Mrs. Dorothy Ross attended a Credit Association meeting in Amarillo Wednesday. She took as guests, Mr. Ureslin Sireu, Wayne Evans and Floyd Ross.

Mrs. Bob Lawrence Leads Music Study Club Program

Mrs. Bob Lawrence was leader piece for the Music Study Club program Monday afternoon at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. H. K. Fox.

Using the study book "Playing the Piano For Pleasure" by Charles Cooke as a basis for her dissertation, she recommended one of the oldest and soundest ideas—that of working especially hard on difficult passages, marking off each piece of music and patiently practicing until each isolated passage is transformed from the weakest into the strongest passage in the

DIANE J. JACKSON

Curly-Headed Youngster Wants A Birthday Party

This blond curly-headed little girl wants a birthday party. That's the sum and substance of her troubles right now because a birthday party is about the most important event in a little girl's life and she has to wait four whole years before she can have one, and then she will have to wait four more years before she can have another one. She is Diane Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Bob Jackson and she was 2 years old February 29, except there wasn't any February 29 this year. She has the promise of sharing in her sister Marilyn's fifth birthday party on March 10 but she wants a party all her very own with birthday cake and candles and everything.

There doesn't seem to be anything anybody can do about it. Leap year day babies are just out of luck. An aunt, Mrs. Stuart Long of Austin, also has a birthday on February 29, and although she tries to console Diane she isn't much help because she thinks it is awful, too.

Of course Diane has parties but they are not like real birthday parties. Her older sister, Carolyn 7, says she can share in her party when the time comes, and all her little cousins invite her to theirs, but none of those answers seem to fit.

However unhappy the situation seems to be, it looks like Diane will have to wait until 1952 for her first birthday party. And her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Jackson, are as unhappy as she is about the whole thing.

Mrs. W. J. Reeves Is Hostess Monday For El Nino Study Club

Mrs. W. J. Reeves was hostess for the El Nino Study Club meeting held Monday night in her home.

The program leader was Mrs. Byron Durham who spoke on "Progressive Education" dealing for the most part with a guiding course for High School students. She stressed the importance of science courses in high schools and stated that a scientific age has brought about the need for broadened science courses.

She emphasized the need for young people to study how young people in other lands live and also pointed out the need for better international relations.

A round table discussion on the program subject was led by Mrs. Durham after her program. Members attending the meeting were Mesdames Ivan Block, Jim Bookout, T. J. Clay, Paul Coneway, Byron Durham, Will Graham, John Jacobsen, Jr., John Kelly, Stanford Knox, Leona Blood, Bruce Wooddell, Sam Nelson and the hostess.

Surprise Party Given For Mrs. H. N. Reeves

Mrs. H. N. Reeves was treated to a surprise birthday party in her home Thursday night by her children and grandchildren who brought all the trimmings.

The party featured a Basket Supper on Mrs. Reeves' 54th birthday. Gifts and flowers were also brought by the children. Canasta was the game chosen for entertainment.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Reeves with Colleen, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Clay with Jean and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis from Happy.

Grandma Bell, True Western Pioneer Celebrates Ninety-Fifth Birthday

Ninety five years young—is Mrs. B. T. Bell. Grandma Bell, as she is affectionately called by relatives and friends.

There was a time when women (lovely and beautiful women at that) considered themselves old after fifty and would sit around and knit in the chimney corner, but times have changed, and Mrs. Bell, typical pioneer of the Panhandle has kept abreast of these changing times to these many years.

Remarkable woman that she is, Mrs. Bell is the widow of Barclay Townsend Bell, ranchman of Castro County in the early nineties. Perhaps her sturdy Scotch ancestors are responsible for her pioneer spirit which enabled her to override the many obstacles that beset her and her husband's path in those long ago days, or perhaps Grandma Bell gives the solution when she tells of those hard days when to look ahead only meant disillusion, for she said: "It was only by faith and prayer that we were able to meet one day at a time."

She recalls many events relating to the Civil War, although she was just five years old when it began. Her mother stripped a her house of every sheet and pillow case and gave them to the Confederate hospitals. These were replaced by homespun woven on a loom set up by her father, the first loom in Brazoria County. Mrs. Bell and her two sisters spent many hours sewing up the long seams in backstitch with coarse white twine. Every child learned to sew and knit for the soldiers. "I can't remember when I couldn't sew or knit," Mrs. Bell said. "I learned more geography before I was ten years old than I ever learned afterward. There was a huge map of the United States that hung on the dining room wall and we would trace the routes followed by the armies."

Marries At 19
When she was nineteen years old, she became the bride of Barclay Townsend Bell, the grandson of Josiah H. Bell of Austin's Colony. They were married in the parish of East Baton Rouge, Louisiana on May 5 1874. She was Miss Lillian Grafton Alsworth and both were born in West Columbia in Brazoria County, Texas and knew each other as children. One family later moved to Louisiana and the other to Austin, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell came to Texas and settled at the Bell place on Brushy Creek four miles from Round Rock in 1874. They had ten children, nine of them being born at Brushy. It was a desire to find land and work for his sons that led Mr. Bell to the Panhandle of Texas in 1894. They traveled seventy five miles from Amarillo to Dimmitt in a hack, camping at the half-way house—or Umbarger.

Mrs. Bell became the leader of the community around Dimmitt and one of the first social affairs which she organized was the annual "Bell Picnic" an all day celebration ending with a party at night. A union Sunday School had already been organized and had the distinction of being the largest organization of its kind in the Panhandle. "We had the finest preaching in the world, if it hadn't been for that I don't believe I could have gotten by," Mrs. Bell said. The people took advantage of every opportunity to get together in those days; everyone went to church, singings, picnics and dances and every other kind of gathering.

Ladies Egg Society
In 1898 Mrs. Bell organized the Ladies Aid Society for all denominations. Money was scarce, so the dues were paid with eggs. A dozen eggs a week were required of members of good standing. It wasn't long before it was nicknamed the "Ladies Egg Society" but whether Aid of Egg Society, it was a factor in the religious life of the pioneer women of Dimmitt for many years.

She solved the problem of securing an organ for the "singings" with a turkey supper. After everybody had been busy for weeks killing turkeys and getting (Continued on Page 7)

Lone Star Study Club Hears Talk On Personal Appearance Technique

Interesting facts about personal appearances formed the program theme for the meeting attended by members of the Lone Star Study Club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. John Jacobsen, Jr. with Mrs. Ed Warren serving as assistant hostess. Members answered roll call with references to defects in attire which cause the individual anxiety, although not observed by others.

Mrs. Vivian Major told of "Personal Appearance Values" remarking that "appearance is what others see in us and what we see in ourselves. The external is evidence of what we are inside. One's appearance conveys the ability to make the most of his or her attributes."

"Cleanliness inside and out is one of the techniques of self-made beauty," Mrs. C. O. Wilkins pointed out as she gave a discussion of Beauty Technique. Good posture, proper application of make-up and dressing according to personality are points to keep in mind she said and warned that it is always better to be underdressed than overdressed.

Mrs. Major was in charge of the business session when plans for the next meeting were arranged. The program scheduled for March 28 will be presented and Mrs. V. E. Dodson will be hostess.

Members present were Mesdames E. L. Adams, R. G. Blue, V. E. Dodson, W. S. Fluit, H. E. Henslee, Robert Lingensfelder, Vivian Major, Guy Newsum, Earl Phillips, Robert Thompson, C. O. Wilkins, Lawrence Wombie, Jim Higgins and the hostess.

Texans in Washington

Washington (AP)—A search for figures to show how much money Texans pay into the Federal treasury and how much they get back spotlights the complexity of our government.

You can't find a clear cut answer to the question. You can pretty well determine how much is paid in, but not what Texas or any other state gets back for its tax dollars.

No one can figure, for example, how much a state receives as its share of national defense dollars or indirect benefits from the billions spent in Marshall plan Foreign aid. Fifty cents of each tax dollar goes into those two programs alone.

Taxes indirectly paid by consumers show up from the state of origin of the commodity; the whisky and cigaret taxes Texans pay is collected by the government largely in Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia and the Carolinas.

Last year Texans paid a total of $1,417,124,034 in direct taxes into the treasury, including $797,422,373.89 in individual income taxes, $416,392,905.90 in corporation taxes, $81,803,610 in employment taxes and $161,505,144 in miscellaneous taxes.

Texas paid only $132,352,083 in direct taxes into the U. S. Treasury in 1949. Its 1949 payments were almost a third as large as large as the total national collections of $3,340,452,546 in 1949. The total federal collection of such taxes in 1949 amounted to $40,463,125,018.

The national debt increased from $48,000,000,000 (b) on June 30, 1940, to $256,000,000,000 (b) on Jan. 1, 1950.

As for ascertainable direct benefits to Texas in dollars and cents in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1949:

The total amounted to $372,826,879. This figure does not include hundreds of millions of dollars spent annually to maintain the numerous army, air force and naval installations in Texas. Each of these means large payrolls and purchases of supplies, which brings business to local merchants and indirectly helps the whole community.

The Department of Defense said it would be virtually impossible to determine exactly how much actually is spent in the overall maintenance of all military installations in Texas.

In this connection the Democratic national committee presently is engaged in a compilation of figures by which it hopes to show, for political purposes, approximately how much money goes to east state, or at least to principal congressional districts, in upkeep of military centers. The data is being gathered for use in this year's political campaigns.

As an example, the unofficial estimate is that the Sheppard Air Force base at Wichita Falls means an annual payroll of approximately $25,000,000.

Other military establishments in Texas:

Air Force—(14 bases) Bergstrom, Austin; Biggs, El Paso; Brooks, Kelly, Lackland and Randolph, San Antonio; Carswell, Fort Worth; Ellington, Houston; Goodfellow, San Angelo; Perrin, Sherman; Pyote, Pyote; Sheppard, Wichita Falls; Conally, Waco; Reese, Lubbock.

Army—Fort Bliss and William Beaumont General Hospital, El Paso; Fort Sam Houston, Brooke Army Medical Center, Fourth Army Headquarters, San Antonio General Depot, all at San Antonio; Fort Crockett, Galveston; San Jacinto Ordnance Depot, Houston; Red River Arsenal, New Boston (Texarkana); Fort Worth Quartermaster Depot, Ft. Worth; Camp Hood, Killeen and Temple; Cactus Ordnance Works, Etter (Dumas).

Navy—Corpus Christi Naval Air Base, Cabanis Field and Naval Hospital, Corpus Christi; Orange Naval Station, Orange; Naval Air Station, Dallas.

Budget bureau officials have calculated that 44 cents of each tax dollar goes for national defense, 18 cents for foreign aid, 13 cents for veterans, 13 cents for interest on the national debt, 6 cents for social welfare, health, social security and 18 cents for general government.

The following programs account for $372,826,879 in direct returns to Texas in the year ending June 30, 1949:

Agricultural Experiment stations, $263,213; Research and Marketing Act of 1946, $160,800; cooperative agricultural extension work, $1,871,133; national school lunch program, $4,470,657; National forests fund, shared revenues, $103,403; sub-marginal land program, payment to counties (shared revenues), $16,522; forest fire cooperation, etc. $173,892; exportation and domestic consumption of agricultural commodities, $1,606,146; Department of Commerce: Civil Aeronautics Administration federal airports program, $1,424,994; federal aid, wildlife restoration, fish and wildlife service, $254,585;

Payments from receipts under migratory bird conservation act and Alaska game law, shared revenues, $3,492; American Printing House for the Blind, $5,800; colleges for agriculture and mechanic arts, $143,212; cooperative vocational education, $1,376,783.

Venerable disease control, $991,057; tuberculosis control, $166,530; general health assistance, $541,900; mental health activities, $106,372; hospital survey and planning, $1,020,761; maternal and child health services, $463,757; services for crippled children, $373,778; child welfare serices, $199,307; Department of the Army: lease of flood control lands, shared revenues, $11,491; emergency maternity infant care emergency grants, $4,341; flood control, $23,313,000; navigation, $5,992,100.

Old age assistance, $55,067,370; aid to dependent children, $6,158,039; aid to the blind, $1,709,507; unemployment compensation and employment service administration, $1,844,537; office of vocational rehabilitation, $630,199; public works advance planning and emergency grants, $74,923; veterans' educational facilities emergency grants, $1,146;

The total number of federal employees in Texas, including military and naval personnel, is not readily available from any one source.

Senator Tom Connally recently received a request from a constituent for a list of all federal establishments in Texas. The inquirer wanted to direct a job application to each one.

The senator called on the Civil Service Commission to furnish him such a list. It ran for a dozen pages but did not include post offices. For example, the list did show the following number of "federal establishments" in each of these cities: Amarillo, 21; Austin, 24; Brownsville, 17; Corpus Christi, 22; Dallas, 81; El Paso, 46; Fort Worth, 32; Harlingen, 14; Laredo, 12; Lubbock, 10; San Antonio, 41; Texarkana, 16; Waco, 15.

There is no breakdown of the federal funds that go into operation of government-owned synthetic rubber plants in Texas, nor contracts to private concerns for defense and foreign aid orders.

Tax collections in Texas in calendar year 1949 included in the excise field $1,010,560 on furs, $9,414,091 on jewelry, $3,197,939 on luggage and $3,850,412 on toilet preparations.

The President's tax program calls for cutting these taxes in half.

Sims HD Club Meets C. W. Edwards Home

The Sims Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. C. W. Edwards Wednesday. The meeting opened with the members singing the club song, "Beautiful Texas."

Mrs. C. R. Hollabaugh was leader for the day and gave an interesting talk on "Simplifying Your Work." Mrs. C. W. Edwards demonstrated table setting and dishwashing as she does it every day. She gave possible simplification of the methods. The business meeting followed and an auction sale was held to pay for the new community house scrap book.

Refreshments were served to 14 members and two visitors. Attending were Mrs. Jane Guseman, Mrs. E. A. Edwards, Mrs. Glen Burrus, Mrs. Jack Dean, Mrs. V. L. Reece, Mrs. A. O. Alexander, Mrs. Cord Hammock, Mrs. Glen Hetzler, Mrs. Homer Brooks, Mrs. Marion Ferguson, Mrs. J. A. Crofford, Mrs. C. R. Hollabaugh and hostess Mrs. C. W. Edwards.

Visitors were Mrs. F. E. Roebach and Mrs. George Paschel.

FIVE STAR HIT IN Nylons!
Fontenelle

Fontenelle Hosiery Construction is TOPS . . . because:

1. TOE: 40 denier nylon—constructed to give real comfort.
2. POCKET HEEL: 40 denier nylon—features the cup effect which holds the hose firm to the foot and keeps the seam straight. Narrow French heel adds to beauty of stocking.
3. PIN SEAMING: A very thin straight seam, which is double-locked—for the trim, slenderized silhouette.
4. WELT: The top part of the stocking—knit of 50 denier nylon where strength is required. The welt is knit to lend more elasticity. Also featured is the dainty picot edging.
5. SHADOW WELT: This is under the welt, and serves as a reinforcement between the welt and the leg . . . used to give more elasticity in the knee—thus preventing runs.

And this is very important! For the first time, Fontenelle exclusively features the PLASTILEX FINISH. This combines the magnificent, soft smoothness of the finest crepe silk stockings with the strength of nylon! Plastilex finish adds 30% more wear with a maximum of snag-resistance. Featured in a range of Fashion's newest Laundry-Fast Colors.

TEXAS TODAY

Veterans Are Learning Fast

By MAC ROY RASOR
Battle-wise Texas veterans are still on the conquest.
This time they are conquering lands right at home—making "worn out" soil "magically" give forth bountiful crops that bulge the eyes of oldtime farmers.

That "magic," every vet knows, is just plain "know-how." It won battles. It's raising crops. It has been coming to veterans in scores of on-farm training programs, complete with subsistence payments, through the G. I. Bill of Rights.

Since the program started July 1, 1946, some 32,000 Texas farmer-veterans have parked the tractor, finished the chores a little early, and gathered at some community center to learn the tricks that take many of the tears out of farming.

The results: "The most tangible any government training program can show," says Sam L. Adams, the state vocational education board's overseer of the program in Texas.

Adams has completed a voluminous survey to prove his point:

The farmer-vets in training have invested more than $100,000,000 (m) in homes, land, stock and equipment.

$25,400,000 of it went for 750,062 acres of land.

$28,000,000 went for 12,981 tractors and 72,500 items of other farm equipment.

$10,550,000 bought 3,500 homes.

$5,663,900 went into 30,978 livestock; and poultry buildings.

$30,000,000 went for breeding stock.

They employed approved methods of cultivation, fertilizing, crop rotation and soil conservation.

These are some of the results Adams' survey shows:

Eugene W. Mitchell of Lamb county rose from a wage earner in 1942 to owner-operator of a 195-acre-farm, producing as much as 102 bales of cotton on 80 acres.

Curtis Lehde of Burleson county started with $1,500, a wife and a model K pickup. He now owns a 191-acre farm with improvements, despite setbacks of his home burning.

C. J. Bridges of Quitman has produced 142 bushels of corn per acre.

James E. Youngblood of Hamilton county increased his farm inventory $10,000 in three years despite the war having left him crippled.

Ralph Roebuck of Ellis county made 20 acres of madrid clover yield $200 per acre in beef gain and seed.

Billy Blanton of Hewitt admits he entered the program for the subsistence payments but is proud of the year in which he terraced 100 acres of land, put out 5,000-pounds of superphosphate, 21 tons of chicken manure fertilizer and planted 30 acres of winter peas followed by sudan grass that 30 cows couldn't keep trimmed down.

Albert Kissman of Lee county took a shunned farm, fertilized, and in 1949 produced 485 bales of sweet sudan hay from four acres. 1,400 pounds of hubam clover seed from four acres and 115 bales of alfalfa from 2 acres in two cuttings with a third cutting uncounted.

Walter McDonald, 60-per cent war disabled, bought 112 acres of Houston county woods, began clearing the land, built his modern home himself without previous experience, and is the only farmer in the county with all his cultivated acreage in legumes this winter.

"I've lived on a farm all my life but I have learned things in these classes about keeping up the land and taking care of soil that I never even heard of before," he told Adams.

Scores of other case histories attest to the results of the farm training programs, Adams said, adding:

"What does it all mean? It means that many a returning veteran who started out with his mustering out pay, a wife and a baby, a hound dog and a pair of bed springs has anchored himself to the soil to the point that he can now stay.

"Hundreds of these men have told me they couldn't have started out without this program."

Edward Young Starts Air Cadet Training

Edward Young, 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Young, Hereford, reported to the Connely Air Force Base in Waco Thursday for the initial stages of aviation cadet training, according to Hereford recruiting officer, Sgt. H. M. Riddle. Young served with the United States Navy during the war. He was in Italy. He graduated from Hereford High School, in 1944 and attended University of Texas for a year.

At the time of his enlistment into the Air Corps he was working with his father in Hereford.

He is now stationed with the 3565 Basic Training Wing at the Waco field.

MRS. E. R. KELLERSBERGER Dr. E. R. KELLERSBERGER

Couple Will Talk At Methodist Luncheon Wednesday On Leprosy

The Christian approach to the religious, social and medical problems of leprosy will be presented here by Doctor Eugene R. Kellersberger and his talented wife, Julia Lake Kellersberger, at a covered dish luncheon at the Methodist Church on Wednesday, March 8 at 12:45 p. m. The public is invited to attend.

Doctor Kellersberger is General Secretary and Mrs. Kellersberger Promotional Secretary of American Leprosy Missions, Inc. an auxiliary of more than forty Protestant boards through whom financial assistance is given to hundreds of missionaries in the specialized field of leprosy cure and prevention in twenty-nine countries.

Drawing on her wealth of human interest stories gained from her personal experiences in leprosy colonies around the world, Mrs. Kellersberger will give an address, followed by an illustrated lecture by Doctor Kellersberger showing pictures that he personally has taken in leprosy colonies in the Orient, South America and Africa.

During his work in the Belgian Congo, Doctor Kellersberger became an expert in the field of leprosy and other tropical diseases, notably African sleeping sickness, for which he was twice decorated by the Belgian Colonial Government, but he regards himself first and foremost as a Christian missionary. His patients named him, "Nganga Baku Bukitu," meaning "The Doctor not afraid to touch us."

In addition to his position in the American Leprosy Missions, Doctor Kellersberger holds membership in the U. S. Public Health Service Commission on Leprosy, the American Society of Tropical Medicine, and the International Leprosy Association, among many others. As a medical missionary, and ordained minister of the Presbyterian Church (U. S.) to the Belgian Congo from 1916 to 1940, he founded the Bibanga Medical Service and Hospital, and the Bibanga Agricultural Leprosy Colony.

First Christian Church Plans Picture Show Program Tonight

Roy Ford, pastor of the First Christian Church, said Friday services of that church Sunday evening will consist of two films produced by the Church World Service as part of a United Appeal March 12 for aid to displaced persons and refugees in several countries over the world.

Rev. Ford added the Church World Service is now working with refugees and displaced persons in Asia, Germany, Greece, Japan, Italy, Palestine, Burma, China and other places.

Stressing overseas need, a number of Protestant churches are cooperating with the Church World Service on the United Appeal, Rev. Ford said. Over ABC network stations March 9 a program on the subject will be aired from 10:30 until 11:00 a. m. EST and on March 11 another will be broadcast over CBS stations from 6:30 until 7:00 p. m. EST.

Bands Give Concert

Hereford High School Bands presented a musical concert at the P-TA meeting held Thursday night in the high school auditorium.

One film to be shown Sunday evening in the First Christian Church is entitled "Daybreak." Its leading character is not a movie star but an actual refugee who was released from a German POW camp and escaped the country. Church World Service sent cameras overseas to get on-the-spot scenes. All film scenes are taken in the place the events happened and nothing is faked, Rev. Ford said. It will be a review of the leading film character's troubles.

The program arranged by H. V. Stanton, program chairman, was under the direction of Purris Williams, band director. Three selections were presented by the Junior High School Band and four by members of the High School band.

Rev. Ford said there are still about 700,000 displaced persons in Germany, Austria and Italy. The second film is entitled "We Walk This Row." It is the account of the Church World Service all over the world. It shows the actual work being done.

Mrs. H. H. Caraway, president, presided during the business session, announcing that a vote on the new constitution and by-laws will be taken at the April meeting. Mrs. George Graham distributed copies of the constitution and by-laws for study.

The sound films will be shown at 7 o'clock Sunday evening.

Mrs. M. T. Rutter, chairman of the health committee, urged all parents to return to her their questionnaires on immunization. D. C. Martin, speaking for the radio committee, announced that a series of transcribed programs has been arranged for presentation over Radio Station KPAN.

Plainview Police Nab Man With Stolen Guns

Billy K. Armstrong is in the county jail on charges in connection with the robbery of Landrum Hardware in Hereford last January. He was arrested in Plainview Saturday and confessed the burglary to Police Chief F. S. Buckalew and Plainview Police Chief Hoyt Curry.

The series, entitled "The Inquiring Parent" was begun Saturday morning March 4 at 9:15 and will continue to be broadcast at that hour for twelve consecutive Saturdays.

Armstrong was picked up by Plainview police on investigation and on searching his room they found a shotgun hidden in his bed. Buckalew went to Plainview Sunday and located the other six guns stolen from Landrum.

Mrs. Caraway introduced Mrs. Roy D. Pyeatt of Hart, second vice-president of Eighth District Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers who spoke briefly on the forthcoming Eighth District Convention which will be held at Dumas April 11 and 12. She also announced the nomination of Mrs. M. J. Patterson as a candidate for the Eighth District second vice presidency, and urged that the Hereford P-TA delegates attend.

Armstrong was placed in the county jail Thursday and charges of burglary were filed against him. Bond was set at $2,000.

Austrian police used newsreel films as evidence against 20 people arrested in disturbances at Graz, Southern Austria.

He had worked at several places in Hereford as a painter and body man but his home was in Denton, where he graduated from college, according to Buckalew.

Grandma Bell

ting ready for the supper, a terrible rain storm blew in just before the set time and all the tables which had been placed out under the trees had to be moved into the Bell house. But the people came, and spent the night, eating, playing games and dancing. Nobody could go home because it rained all night. The next morning the mud had to be raked off the floor with hoes, but Mrs. Bell had the money for the organ.
Mrs. Bell still enjoys telling about those days, especially the big Christmas and Thanksgiving dinners which were welcome Plains attractions. And the fun the young people had. The boys would steal the chickens off their mother's hen roosts and take them to a central meeting place and the girls would manage for the rest. "They weren't fooling anybody," she recalled.

She likes to tell about a double wedding when Ellen and Lizzie Carter became the brides of Pres Burnam and John E. McIntyre. Judge C. F. Kerr, now a resident of Hereford, who performed the ceremony, was so nervous that he got the names mixed up and part of the ceremony had to be repeated a second time. And the prairie fires which the sheep men constantly dreaded. She remembers several times that their sheep were saved through the quick actions of their sons. Once when the fire came close she placed all her bedding on the water tank. In 1899 a fire swept across Castro County and the whole community fought the blaze all night. While the men were fighting the fire Mrs. Bell was getting chickens, hot biscuits and hot coffee ready and served the whole community an early breakfast.
One of her duties as the wife of a pioneer sheep man was supplying "cover" for the sheep camps. She never threw away a piece of material and would tack 18 or 20 comforts at a time. One of her boys remarked, "Mother tears up all our old clothes to make 'cover' and then when we need clothes, she tears up the cover and makes us clothes again." There was no end to the demand of her resourcefulness and while times were hard she is quick to remind her listeners, "I enjoyed it all for the people that came along to settle this great Plains country were all rather special. They weren't just ordinary folks."

After Mr. Bell's health failed they bought a house in Dimmitt and then traveled for many months seeking his health. They located at El Paso but it was so far from their children that neither one was happy. It was on a visit to the home of their daughter, Mrs. E. S. Ireland in Hereford, that Mr. Bell fell and broke his hip. Mrs. Bell nursed her husband for seventeen years—the last nine of which he spent in a wheel chair. He died at his daughter's home in Hereford on July 29, 1930.

Since that time Mrs. Bell has divided her time in the homes of her daughters, Mrs. Ireland and Mrs. Harvey Cash of Canyon. She is still active, helps with light housework and last summer helped with her beloved flowers and garden. She attributes her continued good health to the active outdoor life she has lived. She has made dozens of quilts, bed spreads and crocheted tablecloths, and has just completed making a crocheted rug.
She and her family were charter members of the Dimmitt Presbyterian Church and she never missed a service until recently. When a child, she formed reading habits which help her "keep young." Her Bible is always close by and she keeps informed on current affairs. When a young mother, she wrote a series of stories for the amusement of her children about her own interesting childhood, entitled "The Little Girl Named Lily." These stories are exceedingly fascinating to her grandchildren and great-grandchildren.
Six of her ten children are living, the two daughters and four sons who are: Calvin and Albert of San Diego, California; Barclay of Los Angeles and Grayson of Albuquerque, N. M. She has 22 grandchildren and 29 great-grandchildren.

95th Birthday

Thursday Mrs. Bell celebrated her 95th birthday and friends and relatives came to share her birthday cake and extend greetings. She received flowers, gifts and scores of greeting cards, but she has raised the hyacinths and jonquils for the luncheon table.
Those registering in her memory book were Mesdames: Ed Harrell and Harvey Cash, Canyon; C. F. Kerr, Clay Ridgway, W. B. Beach, Ida Bennett, Wallace Cox, H. H. Marshal, J. M. Gilliland, Maude Hall, Elizabeth Bonesio and Mickey, Pete Cowart and Lou Ann and Lillian, Fieda Galley, Lester Galley, Donald Henslee and Donny, Miss Lillian Bonesio and Rev. Russell Wingert, her pastor, who called in the afternoon.

Long Time Ago

45 Years Ago
Week of March 10, 1905
 Hereford had a cotton gin, electric lights guaranteed, a first class college building, an experiment station and enough moisture in the ground to produce an unlimited amount of anything farmers saw fit to plant, but they needed something else, according to The Brand editorial writer. The next enterprise the community needed was a canning factory. The Brand said fortunes had been made from canning factories in other parts of the country, less favored by nature than the Panhandle. The Brand said it would never rest until the canning factory came into reality in Hereford because such a step was progressive just as was Hereford.

G. W. Robinson pulled the unusual by shipping cattle from the Panhandle to northern markets during March. He shipped a car which he had been feeding near Boom. Captain H. Trow shipped five cars which were finished at his ranch north of town. Both shipped to Kansas City.

Deaf Smith's first tragedy (according to The Brand) was when J. L. Underwood was shot. He died as a result of the wounds according to The Brand.

Mrs. M. B. Daniel and Miss Anne Blackwell entertained a group of friends in Mrs. Daniel's home.

T. M. Coulson & Co. improved their place of business with an up-to-date and expensive soda fountain and were planning to serve cold drinks.

T. J. Davis moved from Memphis back to Clarendon and rented the White building next to Dr. Gray's office.

Among the most recently organized businesses in Hereford at that time was the Southwestern Colonization Company. The company was composed of C. G. Witherspoon, L. Gough and J. P. Snyder. Its aim was to settle that portion of the Panhandle surrounding Hereford with good farmers. C. G. Witherspoon was in charge of the organization which had the main office in Hereford.

Erastus Gamble purchased the transfer business of W. T. Smith and was planning to continue the business as usual. Smith accepted a position on the ranch of W. A. Higgins west of Hereford.

C. S. Garrison and Conner Jewell visited Amarillo.

Harmon Beach came in from Dallas where he had been going to business school. Mrs. Beach and he planned to make Hereford their home.

Rev. H. B. McGee was planning to go to Missouri and other northern states and continue his immigration work. McGee was waiting for parties who were to come to Hereford shortly.

M. S. Acuff and his family came to Hereford from Lubbock to make Hereford their home. They bought the J. C. Coker place in West Hereford.

J. C. Newman, manager of Hereford Lumber Company, improved the company's office by applying a coat of paint on both the inside and outside. He set an example for others to follow in making Hereford beautiful.

W. E. Robertson, dentist, moved to the Dameron building to get more room to work.

Drawing was being taught in every grade of Hereford Public Schools.

Other school news said that any young man or boy desiring to know how to manipulate a washing machine could get the needed information from Elmer Dameron at the high school.

A general tree planting was planned at the college to which all citizens were invited to participate.

W. G. Ross and W. H. Rayzor announced arrangements had been made between the necessary parties to bring a phoned weather report to Hereford every day. You could get it by calling Central at 10 o'clock each morning.

Graves and Elliston were still advertising that 2-year-old jack at a bargain.

Mrs. Jack Higgins Gives Fairview HD Program

Fairview Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday, February 23, 1950 at 3:00 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Joe Gill. The meeting was called to order by the vice-president and a song was sung as the opening exercise. Seven members answered the roll call with "Clothing Improvements." Mrs. Jack Higgins, clothing demonstrator, presented a program on "Body Measurements." "Most patterns need to be altered in some way for a good fit," Mrs. Higgins said, and showed members how to measure themselves in regards to altering a pattern.

During the business meeting the club voted against sending a nominee to the H. D. Council in March to compete for the post of district delegate. Mrs. Byron Campbell was elected to serve as assistant reporter.

Those present were Mesdames: Byron Campbell, R. L. Campbell, Jack Higgins, Wayne Higgins, La Noy Tooley, E. W. Womble, Jr., and Joe Gill. The next meeting will be on March 14 with Mrs. Jack Higgins.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Sheppard is Mrs. Sheppard's mother, Mrs. C. D. Sorrows and Mrs. Sheppard's sister, Mrs. Arthur Wickard. Donny, son of Mrs. Wickard, is also here. All the visitors are from Clovis.

They Say . . . AN HONEST CONFESSION IS GOOD FOR THE SOUL

This is the most difficult theatre advertisement I ever had to write. I want to tell you about a truly remarkable motion picture, but the adjectives of show business are shopworn. And so, instead of the usual "super colossal" type theatre ad, I am simply going to trace the events which led to the booking of "NOT WANTED" for the Texas Theatre, for March 12, 13, 14, with a special matinee for women only Monday, March 13, 2:00 P.M.

We knew very little about "NOT WANTED." It was an independent production, starring three unknown young people. Frankly, we were skeptical — chiefly because the story dealt with the extremely delicate and usually hush-hush subject of teen-age girls who have babies out of wedlock, a tragedy that frequently touches every community, large and small.

But one fact could not be overlooked; "NOT WANTED" had been produced by a young woman whose integrity has never been questioned—MISS IDA LUPINO. We could believe her published statement as to why she had made the picture and we couldn't help doubting that she had produced it shabbily, with tawdry overtones.

So . . . we asked to see "NOT WANTED" at a private screening. We were in for a surprise and a shock. The conservative Parents' Magazine said: "A GOOD PICTURE for adults, too mature for SOME young people —" and, of course, unsuitable for children. A national church organization did not flatly condemn it, but stated it was "Objectionable in part" — which was understandable.

Then came the shock! Without any reservations, the highly respected LOOK MAGAZINE frankly said: "A FILM FOR ALL TEEN-AGERS AND THEIR PARENTS TO SEE — AND THINK ABOUT!"

If I have aroused your interest in "NOT WANTED," I am glad, because I know that anyone with a spark of humanity in his heart will see it with a lump in his throat and come out of the theatre with a deep resolve to be more understanding in the future of young unwed mothers whose only mistake was to be humanly err but once.

This ends the strangest theatre advertisement I have ever written. It is not an ad, but a prayerful plea from the hearts of 100,000 unhappy teen-age American girls.

Home Demonstration Club Activities

West Hereford H. D. Club Mrs. Roy Boyd was hostess for the West Hereford Home Demonstration Club Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Elton Brooks directing the recreation period. Roll call was answered with clothes storage items and the club constitution and by-laws were read by Mrs. Elton Brooks. Mrs. J. W. Witherspoon was nominated for delegate to the district convention which will be held in Borger in April. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Vern Witherspoon.

Members present were Mesdames Vern Witherspoon, R. N. Yarbro, Travis Caraway, Roy Boyd, A. L. Thomas, Carlos Vaughn, Jack Flowers, John Jacobsen, Sr., Jimmy Mercer, Elton Brooks, J. W. Witherspoon, Howard Gore, and Miss Evelyn Bell.

quiz on materials in the recreation hour and roll call was answered with items emphasizing clothes storage.

Mrs. Glenn Gripp was in charge of the program and Mrs. Tom Draper, CHDA, gave a demonstration of laying the pattern on materials and told about shrinking materials before using. Committee reports were heard and Mrs. H. O. Markley won the penny gift. The next program which will be on lampshades, will be held with Mrs. J. H. Dobbs on March 9.

Present were Mesdames: Frank Robbins, Floyd Cole, E. H. Little, W. A. Springer, H. F. Benson, J. H. Dobbs, H. E. Lindley, D. E. Chisholm, Glen Gripp, Tom Draper, Owen Andrews, Sam Lindley, H. O. Markley and the hostess.

Ford Club Studies Lampshades
"Your attic or basement may hold hidden treasures for you," members of the Ford Home Demonstration Club were told Wednesday when a meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Hardy Benson.

Mrs. May Hall Clare displayed a lamp found in her mother's attic during the Christmas holidays and showed a hand-painted lampshade which she had made to match. After wiring for electricity the lamp became serviceable as well as beautiful.

A demonstration on making lampshades was presented by Mrs. Earl Dyer who suggested matching the lampshade to draperies or wall paper.

During the business meeting reports were heard from the H. D. Club Council and committees and group singing was enjoyed.

Miss Hilda Straffuss will be hostess for the next meeting which will be held on March 15. Refreshments were served to Mesdames E. E. Bishop and daughters, George Epting, Doris and Geraldine, Earl Dyer, Lawrence Jentzen, L. J. Straffuss, Herman Both, John Spinhirne, May Hall Clare, Misses Hilda Both and Hilda Straffuss and the hostess.

Borger Baseball Team Ivory Hunt

BORGER—Special)—An ivory hunt for baseball talent will be on when the Borger Gasser baseball club of the West Texas-New Mexico Class C League holds a baseball tryout camp in Borger for five days, beginning March 15 and ending March 20.

The school for high school graduates or youths whose classes have graduated will be conducted by the former St. Louis Cardinal, Manager Mickey Burnett of the Gassers. He will be assisted by Eddie Carnett, Gasser business manager, and in all probability other Gasser players who report early for Spring training.

Winding up the five day camp will be a game on Sunday, March 20, with those having pro-ball ambitions doing the playing.

Any youth who is of the proper age (a high school graduate or one whose class has graduated as specified in National Association baseball rules) may become a candidate. It is requested by the clubs that candidates furnish gloves, shoes, caps, as well as uniforms if possible. The club will furnish balls, bats and catching paraphernalia.

First session will open promptly at 10 a. m. on March 15.

Interested boys with baseball ambitions are requested by the Borger management to write the Borger baseball club, Borger, Texas, Box 1226; stating their previous experience if any, and their age.

The ball club will answer all letters, Carnett points out the Gassers desire to contact as

Chairman Asks For Help From All

This year's Red Cross Drive started off with a bang. Saturday the workers reported to me over one-half of the money is in. We still need that other half—bad.

Now I feel certain the rest will come in within the next few days. We all have to dig once in awhile when something comes along with nothing but voluntary support to depend on for survival. I know several other drives for very worth-while causes have already been successful and that all of you have done your best. But we mustn't forget this American Red Cross. A great number of people right here depend almost entirely on Red Cross for their subsistence. We can't let our fellow men down.

This is the last major drive which will approach the people for quite some time. Let's everyone try to help out and get this Drive over within the next two days. We need YOUR help now.

Mrs. Graham Gives Study Of 'Point Of No Return'

"Point of No Return" by John P. Marquand was reviewed by Mrs. Will Graham during the meeting of the Calliopean Club Thursday night when the group met in the home of Mrs. Millard Nobles.

In presenting the program Mrs. Graham began by discussing the plot of the story which is that of small town and middle class Americans of the 20th Century. Influence of background and a characterization of the people who desired social prominence was given in detail and their attitudes toward their goal, from which there was no return, were described.

Members present were Mesdames Richard Barnard, L. E. Barnett, J. T. Carroll, Clyde Cave, Paul Conaway, Pete Cowart, Wayne Evans, Alton Fraser, J. T. Gilbreath, Jr., Will Graham, J. E. Kirby, D. C. McWhorter, N. E. Milburn, Elizabeth Womble, Misses Genevieve Eberle and Nell Spradley and the hostess.

Buy Quality Eggs For Best Results

The egg is one of the most valuable of foods, for it has high nutritional value. The mild, delicate flavor, availability and the versatility which can be used in cooking eggs add to its advantages as a food.

Myrtle Murray, extension specialist in home marketing of Texas A&M College, points out in a new leaflet that the careful buying of eggs deserves the attention of the homemaker who plans and prepares meals.

"Quality eggs may be bought directly from a farm family or from a retailer," she points out. "An informative or descriptive label on the carton is the best guide you have as to the quality of eggs."

Eggs may be graded according to federal, state or private standards, the leaflet says: Only eggs officially graded according to U. S. Standards, by an official grader, may use the prefix "U. S." on the label.

The leaflet gives a description of U. S. Grades, suggestions as to how to know the quality of eggs and how to keep the eggs after they are bought.

Miss Murray suggests that it is well to compare the price in relation to the amount of food value. "Large eggs weighing 2 1/2 ounces to the dozen contain 1 1/2 pounds of protein rich food, and if these eggs sell for 60 cents per dozen, you are really paying only 40 cents per pound for protein rich food," she points out.

The leaflet, "How to Know Quality Eggs," No. C-273, may be obtained through county home demonstration agents, or from the Texas Extension Service, College Station.

Holland had the biggest fruit crop in her history last year—900,000,000 pounds, compared with an average prewar crop of 340,000,000 pounds.

ATTEND O.E.S. MEET

Members of the Hereford chapter of the Order of Eastern Star who attended Friendship Night held by the Bovina O.E.S. Chapter Thursday night were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hromas, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hershey, Mesdames Bessie Jones, Vivian Major, John Patton, Nell Culpepper, Ada Higgins, Myrtle Witherspoon and Jessie Terrell.

Main speaker of the evening was Dr. Floyd Golden, president of Eastern New Mexico College, who gave an address on "Friendship" and made the statement, "This world has no ill that friendship, fellowship and brotherhood cannot cure."

Pat Boone of Littlefield, past grandmaster, also spoke on Friendship.

Band To Play Contest Music During Concert

Hereford High School Band Director Purris Williams said the Annual Band Concert March 31 will feature some of the contest numbers the band will play while at the Interscholastic League contest West Texas College late in April. The Annual Concert is open to the public and no admission will be charged.

Williams said the Senior Band will be featured and one or more of the younger band groups will play. The Senior Band has already played one or two of the contest numbers for the public Thursday night during the P-TA meeting. The Junior High Band played at that meeting also.

The Annual Concert will give the public a chance to look over progress of the younger bands which have been receiving instructions since the start of the 1949-50 school year last fall.

A variety of numbers will be played. The concert will be in the High School Auditorium.

Annual Jr.-Sr. Banquet In Hotel Jim Hill Friday

The Annual Junior - Senior Banquet of Hereford High School was held Friday evening in the banquet room of Hotel Jim Hill. "An Old-Fashioned Garden" was the theme of the banquet and decorations carried out a "moonlight and roses" atmosphere.

As the couples entered the banquet room they stepped through an arch-way decked with flowers. Around the room was a rock wall, entwined with a galaxy of spring blossoms which seemed to enclose the "garden." The tables augmented the garden theme of spring flowers with small bubbling fountains with candle light from candles.

The programs were place cards. On the programs were an old fashioned couple in a moon-lit garden.

harmony between the Junior and Senior Classes.

L. T. Hawks gave the Senior Class will as he told about "Garden Memories."

"Moonlight and Roses" was sung by the Sextet.

Mac Buckner gave the class prophecy in "Garden of Tomorrow" and the program closed with the singing of the school song, "Hail Hereford High School."

About 225 guests attended the banquet. Members of the High School faculty and their husbands and wives were invited as special guests.

Sponsors of the Junior Class are Bill Stanford and Charlene Wilder. Senior Class sponsors were Pat Sullivan and Mrs. Eleanor Hudspeth.

Organize Texas Wheat Growers

Over 75 enthusiastic Texas wheat growers from 16 counties in the Panhandle area met in Amarillo, February 20, and formed the Texas Wheat Producers Association. Carl Kuper of Dalhart was elected president; R. C. Buckles of Stratford, vice-president; and Kenneth Kendrick of Stratford was elected secretary and chairman of the Steering Committee. This is the outcome of a series of meetings held in the High Plains area during the last two or three years.

The purposes of the new producers' organization as set forth in the Articles of Incorporation include the finding of new outlets and new markets for wheat to alleviate the impending surplus, to cooperate with existing research and experimental programs in finding and expediting distribution of new and improved varieties of wheat, to foster a wheat improvement program for Texas, to influence national legislation favorable to the wheat grower, and to advise the public of the merits of the wheat industry.

It was decided that each wheat growing county in the state would form a County Wheat Growers Association, the president of which is to become a director of the state organization. Voluntary contributions of 1/4c per bushel will be requested, to be collected at the time the wheat is marketed or placed under the loan. It is planned that the organization shall be non-profit.

Collections of the contributions will start when the 1950 crop starts to move in June. Mr. Kendrick will spend the time between now and harvest helping form County Wheat Growers Associations and perfecting forms and publications for the handling of the program.

Mr. K. E. Soder, director of the Texas - Oklahoma Wheat Improvement Program, was one of the speakers at the meeting. He explained the aims of the Oklahoma Wheat Research Foundation, and worked with the Steering Committee in perfecting the organization. "This is a new and vital approach to the wheat growers' problems. Through this organization wheat-growers will be supporting their own research work both for new uses and new improved varieties. The leaders of your organization are to be commended for their vision, seeking to increase the demand for wheat and thus to make their industry more stable and more prosperous," advises Mr. Soder.

The next meeting of the Texas Wheat Producers Association has been set for March 20 at Amarillo, and will be open to all Texas wheat growers.

Wheat Variety Identification schools will be held in Amarillo March 9 and 10 at San Jacinto Methodist Church and the 11th a Grain Grading school will be held at the same place with Claude Goodnight in charge.

Pat Garner's game is golf. "It's wonderful," says the 21-year-old Midland, Texas, girl. "Pat is one of a number of young women golfers that may give Texas a monopoly on cups and trophies in women's tournaments in the next few years."

"I'm no world beater," says Pat real seriously, "but I'd like to get to the top."

To get to the top Pat has set for herself a sort of "five year plan." She's got a couple of years in on it already.

"I want to shoot for the top the next three years. I plan to concentrate on just that. But, shoot, I don't say I'll make it. I don't want to win all the time. All I want to do is to be able to qualify in the championship flight and maybe win a few."

Pat really started playing golf a couple of years ago. She's placed in a number of tournaments and hopes to do the same in a number this year.

"I try to play every day," she says. "I've quit trying to 'murder' the ball and try for accuracy. I'm working on my iron shots now."

Pro A. G. Mitchell of Rivercrest course in Fort Worth is tutoring Pat and thinks she's a fine prospect.

Biggest bugaboo for the Texas Christian University senior—and for Betty Dodd of San Antonio, Lesbia Lobo of San Antonio, Lesbia Rawls and other young Texas women golfers—is that people might expect too much too soon.

"Your friends are pulling for you so hard if you don't come through a tournament, you feel you've let them down," she says.

Pat plans to make the West Texas Open and the Broadmoor Country Club tournament at Colorado Springs, Colo., as well as other tournaments this summer.

She hopes to make a regular tournament swing the next three years of her "five year plan."

And just why this plan?

"I'm like any other girl," she explains. "I hope to get married some day. And when I do, I won't want to try and make a tournament schedule."

So she plans to make the swing this year, the next and the next.

Use The Home Freezer Or Locker For Eggs

Right now eggs are plentiful and compared with other high protein foods, they are a good buy. The homemaker who is hunting bargains in food and has the freezing and storage facilities will be wise to take advantage of the present situation, says Lucille Shultz, associate extension foods and nutrition specialist of Texas A&M College.

She says eggs can be stored in the home freezer or freezer locker for six months or more and still be as good as fresh eggs. Only clean eggs should be used, she warns, for dirt from dirty shells may drop into the eggs during the breaking process and spoil the keeping quality. She says the fresh clean eggs should be broken into a clean bowl then mixed thoroughly but do not whip in air. Fill moisture, vapor-proof containers with the egg mixture and they are ready to freeze and store.

If the yolks are separated from the whites and frozen separately, she says you'll want to use corn syrup, sugar or salt to prevent a gummy condition. For each cup of yolks, add one tablespoon of syrup or sugar or one teaspoon of salt. Mix thoroughly and use the same type of containers as recommended for the whole egg mixture. Whites frozen separately need nothing added and no mixing.

Longhorns Roam Range Now They're Africandas

Longhorn cattle are roaming the Central Texas range again. But they're not the scrawny critters made famous by legend and ballad.

These cattle are a giant African breed. And the man who is breeding them says a great future lies ahead for their use as beef animals.

Jim Tanner, writing about the cattle in the Temple Telegram, says they have proved resistant to insects and diseases that are harmful to the more common U. S. strains. Called "Africandas" (or Africander) the big red animals are being bred and cross-bred with other strains by W. S. Parks on the 777 ranch eleven miles south of Killen.

He has a herd of about 20 animals, which he purchased from the Kennedy ranch in 1945. The Kennedy ranch has purchased the cattle from the King ranch, which had imported them.

Parks says the animals will dress out 60 per cent of edible meat. A fine-boned animal, the Africanda will outweigh a Hereford several hundred pounds at maturity, Parks says.

A drawback is the fact that the cattle are slow developers, needing nearly six years to achieve full growth.

But, says Parkes, "If you fed the Africanda heavily, they would get so fat they couldn't walk."

Most people at first would classify Africandas as Brahma crossbreeds because of a hump. But a close check will show that the hump lies on the neck instead of the shoulder.

The horns tend to acquire shapes like those of the fabled longhorns. They differ slightly, however, by tending to turn concave. They are comparatively slender and long with a downward and backward twist and upturned tips. Horns of the longhorn turned up and out.

When cross-bred with Herefords or Jerseys, the Africanda color and size predominate, although the horns become shorter.

A strain very similar to the Africanda is the Santa Gertrudis, fairly well recognized in the United States. The latter is considered a true breed of American cattle.

The Africanda is a good forager and is not bothered by red or cancer eye and hardly knows that flies and mosquitoes exist.

Parks is experimenting with crossbreeding of Santa Gertrudis, Africanda, Herefords, Jersey and Brahma cattle.

He even has a shaggy Scottish Highlander calf and may do something with it.

Parks says he finds his Africanda and Santa Gertrudis cattle are becoming more and more popular. Most shipments are going to Florida, which has peculiar insect and climate problems.

The Santa Gertrudis breed also is resistant to most diseases and insects.

Parks' entire output of Santa Gertrudis for the coming year is going to Florida and he is booked solid up to 1952 on all bull calves.

Happy Helpers Learn Of Japan's Children

Happy Helpers, first, second and third grade boys and girls in the missionary study group of the Methodist Church, will be busy little workers during the month of March. Meetings will be held each Wednesday afternoon from 2:30 to 3:30 and the theme for the month will be "Living and Learning in Japan."

Next Wednesday marks a special celebration for boys and girls in Japan and in keeping with that celebration the girls will bring their dolls dressed in the best Japanese fashion to the meeting at the church and the two dolls being judged the best dressed will receive the honor of being Emporer and Empress. Others will be placed in order of importance. Prizes will be awarded.

The boys, who have completed their study of the Japanese boy's day, will also compete for prizes at the Wednesday meeting. They plan to decorate a shrine according to Japanese custom for "The Iris Festival." On that day in Japan large carp banners or kites are flown from each home where there is a boy.

Those present for last week's program were: Nancy Parsons, Doris Willoughby, Fred Lee Drury, Alvadee Buttrell, Carolyn Newell, Marilyn Newell, Darlene Sexton, Don Coconougher, Lynell Best, Jimmy Conkwright, Larry Edwards, Linda Hair, Marilyn Jay Jones, Robert Neelley, Stevie Slagle, Stephen Bagwell, Verna Dean Brown, Jimmy Lynn McCathern.

Leaders of the group are Mrs. Cecil Malone, chairman, and Mrs. R. P. Coneway and Mrs. C. E. Shellhouse.

Mayor W. E. Dameron, who has served as teacher of the Fellowship Class of the First Christian Church for the past 30 years, was honored Tuesday night when members of the class entertained in celebration of his birthday.

The party was held in the home of his sister, Mrs. A. M. Jones, with games of forty-two providing diversion. Lovely gifts were presented as tokens of appreciation and the decorated birthday cake was featured.

Mrs. C-Ora Cockrell has been substitute teacher for the past year because of Mr. Dameron's recent illness.

Those in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ricketts, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Clark, Mayor and Mrs. Dameron, Mesdames Nona Jowell, C-Ora Cockrell, Allen Bell, Claude Witherspoon, C. R. Smith, Miss Frances Dameron and the hostess.

The entertainment and the cake was green and white with pink candies.

Refreshments were served Loretta White, Sonja Hudson, Jeanette Hudson, Gwendolyn Gully, Izetta Lynch, Leta Parvin, Wanda Stayton, Deloris Trisdel, Mary Lee, Betty Mae Grimes, Glenna Hargett and the hostess.

Hamburg, Funkstown and foggy Bottom were names applied in times long past to the Potomac-Columbia about where the stately Lincoln Memorial now stands.

DON'T WORRY, MY DEAR~ WHEN THAT RAPACIOUS BLACKMAILER LEARNS YOU ARE GOING TO BE MY WIFE AND HAVE DECIDED TO AUCTION OFF ALL THE PRIZES, HER ANGER AND GREED WILL BETRAY HER~

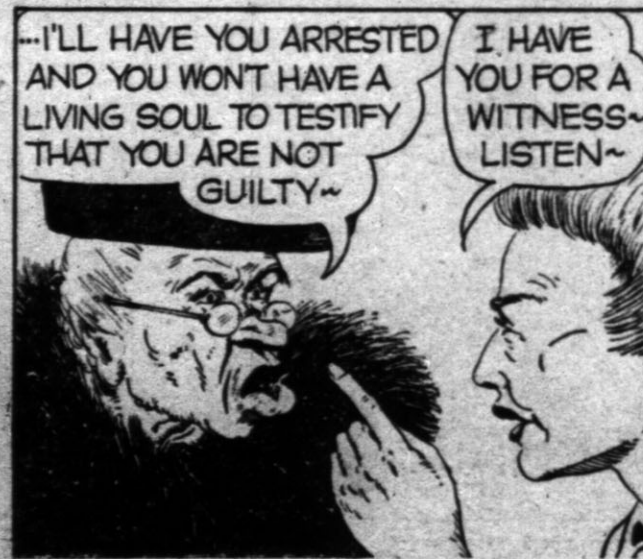

I DON'T BELIEVE IT~ IF YOU DARE TO SELL THE PRIZES AND GIVE THE MONEY TO AN ORPHANAGE, I'LL TELL THE POLICE HOW THAT ORPHAN BRAT WON THE CONTEST AND THAT YOU ARE A COMMON THIEF~

AND I'LL TELL THEM YOU ARE A BLACKMAILER.

ACCUSATION IS NOT PROOF~ I'LL DENY EVERYTHING~

HOW WILL YOU ACCOUNT FOR THE PEARL NECKLACE, WRIST WATCH AND~

...I'LL HAVE YOU ARRESTED AND YOU WON'T HAVE A LIVING SOUL TO TESTIFY THAT YOU ARE NOT GUILTY~

I HAVE YOU FOR A WITNESS~ LISTEN~

I'LL TELL THE POLICE HOW THAT ORPHAN BRAT WON THE CONTEST AND THAT YOU ARE A COMMON THIEF~

GREAT HEAVENS! MY OWN VOICE!

I'LL HAVE YOU ARRESTED AND YOU WON'T HAVE A LIVING SOUL~

IT'S TRICKERY~ IT'S A LIE~ I NEVER SAID~

NO, MA'AM~ THE RECORDER IS TERRIBLE HONEST~ WHAT YOU SAY, IT HEARS~ AN' WHAT IT HEARS IT TELLS~

I'LL PAY YOU FOR THIS, YOU SNEAKING, SPYING LITTLE BRAT! I'LL HAVE YOU DRAGGED BACK TO THE ORPHANAGE WHERE YOU BELONG!

WILL YOU WALK OVER TO EPHRAIM'S WORKSHOP WITH ME? I'VE BEEN THINKING PERHAPS I WAS TOO HARD ON HIM... AFTER ALL, SCIENTISTS ARE DIFFERENT FROM PEOPLE...

HE'LL BE SO GLAD TO SEE ME... POOR BOY, HE MUSTA-
 -NEVER SPEAK TO HIM AGAIN! NEVER!
 HEY! ISN'T THAT A WOMAN'S VOICE --?

IT IS! WHY, THAT-THAT-
 -AND WHEN I SAY "NEVER," I MEAN NEVER!!
 THAT PHILANDERER! I HARDLY TURN MY BACK, AND HE HAS ANOTHER GIRL IN HIS WORKSHOP!!!

I CAN JUST IMAGINE WHAT KIND OF A GIRL SHE IS, - DID YOU EVER HEAR SUCH A SILLY VOICE...
 SO SHRILL AND AFFECTED!

YOU CAN TELL FROM HER VOICE THAT SHE'S A VERY IMMATURE PERSON... NO POISE, BUT SIMPLY NONE AT ALL -
 WHAT HE SEES IN HER - HMPH!
 HE CAN'T BE VERY DISCRIMINATING.
Hilda Teusz

YOU STILL FOOLING WITH THAT RECORDING WE MADE OF TEENA'S VOICE LAST WEEK... DIDJA GET ANYTHING OUT OF IT?
 BOY, I'LL SAY... IN THE MIDDLE OF THAT SECOND "NEVER," SHE GOES INTO THE PITCH THAT ONLY DOGS CAN HEAR... LISTEN!

Synopsis: PRINCE VALIANT AND HIS PARTY REST FROM THE HARDSHIPS OF THEIR LONG SEA VOYAGE, WHILE A MESSENGER IS SENT OVER THE HILLS TO THE KING OF THULE.

IN HIS GREAT HALL THE LONELY KING HEARS THE MESSENGER TELL OF HIS SON'S RETURNING AND HIS EYES GROW MISTY.

"I MUST ARRANGE A HUNT SO MY SON AND I MAY ONCE AGAIN RIDE SIDE BY SIDE! AND YOUNG PEOPLE MUST BE INVITED TO COME AND STAY. A BANQUET! I MUST HAVE HIS ROOMS PREPARED.....!"

".... AND ALETA WILL COME TOO, TO UPSET MY QUIET WITH HER LAUGHTER AND SILLY SONGS, TO MEDDLE IN AFFAIRS OF STATE AND TO TEASE ME LIKE A MISCHIEVOUS SMALL SUNBEAM!"

AGUAR, KING OF THULE, LETS OUT A ROAR THAT BRINGS HIS STAFF ON THE RUN. — "CLEAN UP THIS UNSIGHTLY STABLE! WASH DOWN THE WALLS! SCRUB THE FLOORS! POLISH THE FURNITURE! HANG FRESH TAPESTRIES! SHINE UP THIS OLD BARRACKS UNTIL IT IS FIT FOR THE FUTURE QUEEN OF THULE!"

DOWN BY THE SEA OLD FRIENDS BID FAREWELL. THERE IS MUCH LAUGHING AND LOUD TALK TO HIDE THE SORROW OF PARTING.

TILlicum SITS QUIETLY APART, HER FIERCE EYES FIXED ON THE MAN WHOSE LIFE SHE HAD THREATENED, WHOSE RAID SHE HAD FORBIDDEN. BOLTAR STRIDES TOWARD HER....

....AND FROM HIS NECK TAKES A HEAVY GOLDEN CHAIN AND DROPS IT IN HER LAP. — "I WILL RETURN!" HE WHISPERS.

MANY RIGHTEOUS PEOPLE WILL NOT APPROVE OF BOLTAR, THE PIRATE. BUT HE LIVED IN THE BOISTEROUS DAYS WHEN THE RAIDER WAS LOOKED UPON AS A RESPECTABLE BUSINESSMAN WHO MADE HIS PROFITS BY RISKING HIS LIFE RATHER THAN BY SHREWD TRADING.

An Open Letter to the Picture Show

If it were not for the picture shows, the average families would not have any recreational privileges at all, especially we farming people. I know because I am a farmer's wife, and on a farm it is work from dawn until dark and if we didn't have our theatres that we can go to after a hard day's or a week's work it would be a dull life for us and also our children. I believe that I would almost forget how to laugh, if I didn't have the opportunity to attend a good comical picture show once in a while. It helps forget our worries and hard work, and the high taxes we have to pay are unfair and unjust as it keeps lots of people from seeing shows, especially the poor. Very often through our picture shows we can keep up with the world affairs and the latest news. Not only hear but see it. Also all the sports of the world and see right before our eyes the most beautiful places on earth, also see and hear the most prominent people of our country, such as our law makers.

If it were not for our movie shows, thousands of our Americans would not have the opportunity of even knowing what our President looks like. Through our picture shows we see foreign people—countries—and cities. We see their customs and ways of life, and we also can see and hear and learn what our U. S. and State officials are like, and we learn the past and present and future business transactions by seeing the newsreels at our picture shows. Therefore, I feel that our picture shows are a necessity to our well-being, also educationally to all, young and old. There isn't any thing on earth that can give more pleasure and pastime to our common class of people than our picture shows.—Name omitted by request.

LUCKY THIS BABY ISN'T ARMORED LIKE HIS LAND COUSINS OR THIS STUFF WOULD BOUNCE OFF HIM LIKE PEANUTS!

UNBEKNOWN TO JOHNNY, GABBY AND THE BARONESS START SHINNYING DOWN THE TANK CABLE AS JOHNNY CLIMBS THE MOUNTAIN TO RESCUE THEM! SUDDENLY THE GIANT PTERODACTYL GRABS HOLD OF THE CABLE AND STARTS SWINGING IT...

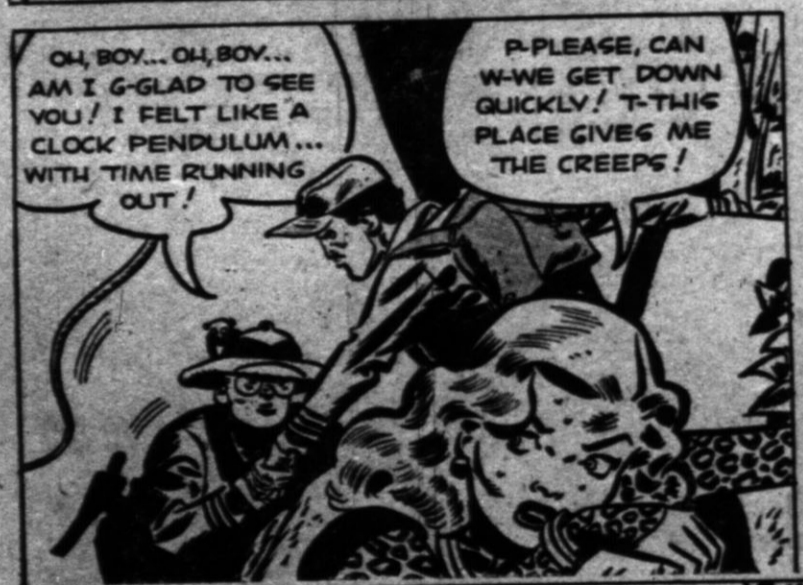

HO! LOOKS LIKE BARONESS FLAME AND GABBY BEAT THIS RESCUE TO THE PUNCH... B-BUT HOW?!

SUFFERIN' SUSIE! THAT OVERGROWN PHEAGANT WASN'T PLAYING FOR FUN! EVERY TIME HE PLUCKED THAT CABLE HE SENT THEM SWINGING!

HEY! OVER HERE! GRAB HOLD! I'M ON YOUR SIDE!

OH, BOY... OH, BOY... AM I G-GLAD TO SEE YOU! I FELT LIKE A CLOCK PENDULUM... WITH TIME RUNNING OUT!

P-PLEASE, CAN W-WE GET DOWN QUICKLY! T-THIS PLACE GIVES ME THE CREEPS!

WHERE'S JOHNNY? DIDN'T HE COME ALONG?!

HE WENT UP TO TAKE CARE OF THE TROUBLE AT THE TOP! SHOULD BE STARTING DOWN BY NOW!

EVERYBODY OKAY?!

YEAH, JOHNNY... PRESENT AND ACCOUNTED FOR!

FINE! LET'S GET GOING... BUT FAST!

I-I DON'T WANT TO SOUND UNGRATEFUL, JOHNNY... B-BUT IT'S GETTING AWFUL DARK! THIS JUNGLE CAN BE MIGHTY UNCOMFORTABLE IN THE BLACK... NOT TO SAY DANGEROUS!

MANDRAKE THE MAGICIAN

BY LEE FALK & PHIL DAVIS

ON PERIL ROAD: MANDRAKE, NARDA AND LOTHAR ARE AMAZED TO SEE A BOWLING GAME WITH EIGHT-FOOT BALLS AND TEN-FOOT PINS!

WHAT KIND OF GAME DO YOU CALL THAT?

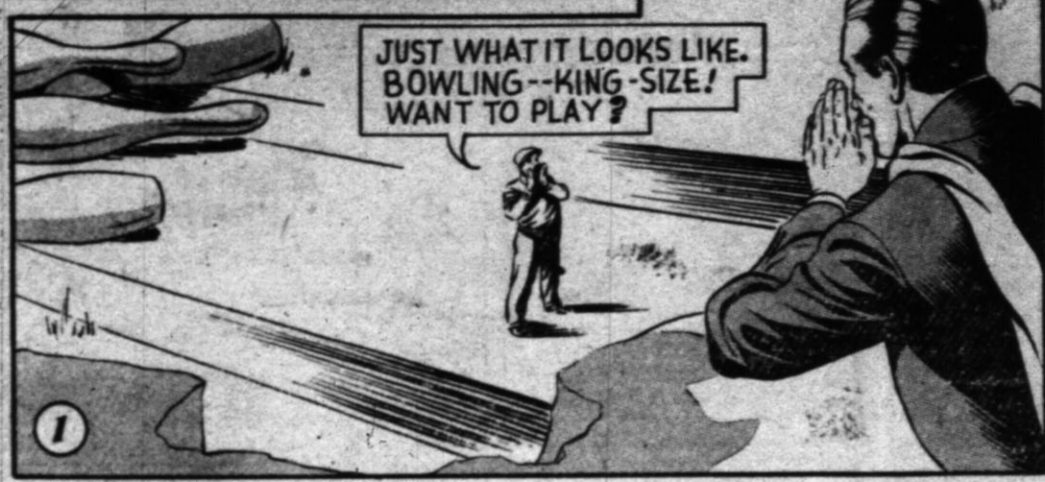

JUST WHAT IT LOOKS LIKE. BOWLING--KING-SIZE! WANT TO PLAY?

SURE, WHY NOT?

OH, MANDRAKE, MAYBE WE SHOULDN'T. I FEEL AFRAID--

GOOD! COME ALONG AND PLAY!

THE FAT MAN PASSES A BUTTON--

--AND A TRAP DOOR SUDDENLY OPENS UNDER THEM!

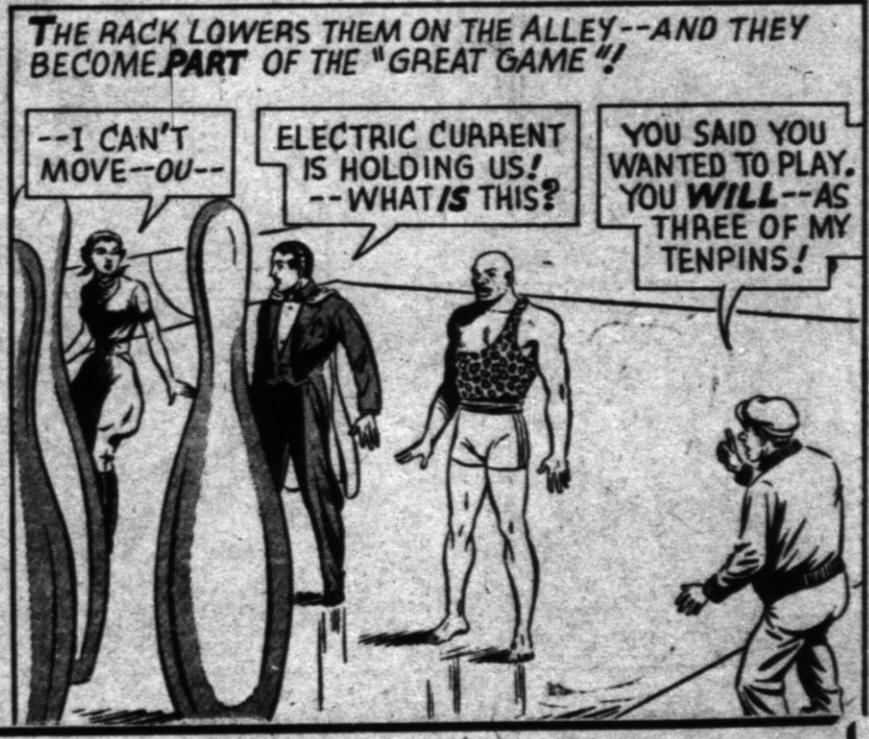

THEY FALL ONTO A MOVING BELT THAT CARRIES THEM FORWARD RAPIDLY.

THEY SHOOT OUT OF THE TUNNEL, INTO THE TENPIN RACK THAT HANGS OVER THE BOWLING ALLEY--

MANDRAKE--WHAT'S HAPPENING?

I DON'T KNOW--oops--

THE RACK LOWERS THEM ON THE ALLEY--AND THEY BECOME PART OF THE "GREAT GAME"!

--I CAN'T MOVE--OU--

ELECTRIC CURRENT IS HOLDING US! --WHAT IS THIS?

YOU SAID YOU WANTED TO PLAY. YOU WILL--AS THREE OF MY TENPINS!
