Federal Amendment May Nip Poll Tax Sales In Final Week

Cotton Farmers Backing 'Payment In Kind' Plan

Cotton growers in Deaf Smith County Saturday were, for the most part, backing a legislative stand taken Wednesday by the directors of Plains Cotton Growers.

The PCG board favored a program "for the moment" which would be the simplest and quickest way to give cotton a competitive price.

To that end, the directors voted to work for immediate legislation authorizing the Secretary of Agriculture to issue "Payment in Kind" certificates on raw cotton sold on the domestic market, leaving the details of a long-range cotton program to be worked out later.

Cotton farmers here who were asked about the movement, agreed that the "Payment in Kind" certificates probably would be the quickest and simplest way to handle the situation at this time.

George Pfeiffenberger, Executive Vice-President of Plains Cotton Growers, said "the use of PIK Certificates on the domestic market is the only provision that is included in all of the five current legislative proposals."

County Court Summons Venire For Jury Duty

For the January term of Deaf Smith County Court, Judge H. C. Williams presiding, 35 county residents have been summoned as prospective jurors. The court term begins at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

Included on the venire list are G. A. Brown, Tommy L. Carnahan, W. T. Higgins, W. T. Beckman, Artiss Edwards, G. A. Bogle, Mrs. J. R. Allison, Doc Carter, Raymond Flores, Mrs. Harry Cayler, Mrs. G. B. Hagar, Mrs. Harvey Brock, Gordon Elliott, Mrs. Ralph Hastings, Mrs. Alton Frazier, Mrs. James E. Higgins, J. E. McCabe, Mrs. James H. Bradley, Herbert E. Bippus, Larry C. Kaul, Charles Brown, Osborn Wertenberger, H. N. Bishop, Felix Abilar, Mrs. C. J. Albracht, Ivan Block, Edgar Howell, Harlan Barber, Herschell Miller, Mrs. H. E. Miller, Carl Strauss, Bruce Farrack, Manuel Rocha, Homer Brumley, and Mrs. C. A. Sauley.

He added: "Other provisions of the proposals vary widely and should be disregarded for the present in order to make cotton competitive at the earliest possible time."

The PCG board, however, came out in opposition to the USDA's acreage diversion proposal.

The views of PCG, one of the nation's biggest cotton organizations, will be presented in Senate Cotton hearings in Washington by Pfeiffenberger and John Pugh of Lubbock, PCG farmer-director.

The hearings are scheduled to begin Jan. 28.

At the same time the directors announced an all-out boll weevil battle, PCG serving "as the coordinating element between private, State and Federal agencies." The weevil control program, officially under the direction of an area-wide boll (Continued on Page 2)

With 2342 poll tax receipts issued up to Friday afternoon, courthouse officials here will be watching sales with much interest during the final five days of poll tax paying time.

Most observers had predicted the figure would reach 3300 before the Jan. 31 deadline, usual number for a general election year.

But in view of Thursday's action by South Dakota to outlaw the poll tax as a requisite to voting in federal elections, the 3300 figure may not be reached, it was pointed out.

One official put it this way: "We had thought the total might exceed the previous peak for a general election year, since population has increased since the 1960 election. We had thought the total paying poll taxes might reach as high as 3500 or 3800. But since South Dakota became the 38th state to ratify the amendment to outlaw the poll tax as a requisite to voting on federal candidates, it is doubtful that even the 1960 mark will be reached here."

This official, who asked that his name not be used, said: "Many persons paid their poll taxes who were opposed to the poll tax as a requisite to voting. Of course the final action came so late (in South Dakota) that it may not affect our total much this year. I look for the final sales, however, to drop sharply between now and next Friday."

On the other hand, many people had put off payment of poll taxes, believing that the federal enactment outlawing poll taxes for federal elections would be completed before Jan. 31. And this is exactly what has taken place. Whether these people will register under the new law and vote only for federal candidates, remains to be seen.

Only five southern states require payment of poll taxes as a requisite to voting — Texas, Virginia, Mississippi, Alabama and Arkansas.

The Texas Legislature, seeing the possibility of a federal law barring poll tax payments as a requisite to voting, had passed a stand-by law at its last session setting up a registration system for voters who will vote only in federal elections.

Under the terms of that law, which now will be activated automatically, persons who do not pay poll taxes will be issued poll tax receipts stamped "not paid." The receipts will permit voting for congressional presidential or vice-presidential candidates, but will not be valid for city, county or state elections.

Pat O'Keefe, executive director of the state Democratic party, said "what will happen now is like looking into a crystal ball." And GOP executive director, Marvin Collins said, "Anybody who is really interested in government will buy a poll tax because he wants to vote in all elections." He added that he did not think it will hurt us.

Texas voters last Nov. 3 rejected a state constitutional amendment which would have abolished the poll tax as a requirement for voting in all elections.

Under the Texas law, the "not paid" receipts will be available for 30 days after the effective date of the federal amendments. (Continued on Page 2)

Hereford Man Writes Home: Panama Picture Distorted

"It surely is a shame that the distorted stories sent from here were printed in the papers." So writes Karl Wilson Shirley son of Mrs. J. T. Gilbreath, 441 Lee in Hereford. Shirley is a mathematics teacher in Balboa, Canal Zone High School which he says is "the best high school I've ever been in."

Letters to his mother got a bit behind as a result of the Panama incident, but recently she has received a number of letters and a copy of the Canal Zone's own newspaper, "Spillway."

In his letter of Jan. 18, Shirley sums up the situation like this: "If you have kept up I think that by now you can easily see that except for the flag incident (which should have been settled by the Zone authorities if the Panamanians had kept out of it) there has been nothing done whatsoever by the U.S. other than to protect its property and lives of its citizens."

He adds: "I think this is borne out by statements by responsible people in Washington; there would have been trouble even without the flag as this is an election year and there was a bus strike going on right at the same time which would have given them an excuse to start something, except for the flag business being a quicker reason."

In the same letter Shirley was critical of the way U.S. news media handled the flag incident in Panama. He said: "The only papers we see are those printed in Panama and they were full of almost nothing but lies and distortions for several days; even now they are not much better. The U.S. News and Time gave fairly good reports, but I'm sorry to see that, nevertheless, they have been written by a Latin or at least by someone who didn't bother to make more than a haphazard survey of the situation."

Even the school principal, Shirley says, (where the entire incident was sparked) has been unable to give out the correct story, "but he has orders not to do so; therefore he just suffers seeing all the untruths being printed but unable to do anything about it."

Shirley told his mother he is pleased with the way Americans in the area acted during the troubled days. "You will just have to take my word for it," he wrote, "that everyone here has acted in a manner of which any U.S. citizen could be proud. I am certainly not ashamed of the kids who, like my teenager, get excited rather easily..."

News in the Panamanian paper of the flag incident was credited by Shirley as "kicking off" the rioting that resulted. In a letter dated Jan. 10, Shirley wrote: "I did know that the kids at school were very upset about not being able to fly the U.S. flag in front of the school, but I fully expected all the excitement to be over by the first of the next week. In fact, yesterday I heard statements to the effect that it was all getting a little boring as after the first time the flag was taken down no one bothered the kids at all. Also if there had been nothing in the newspapers about this, the Panamanian kids would never have gotten the idea of coming over to put up their flag. I understand it was to have been just a protest demonstration, but like most of those things, a group of rabble-rousers tagged along and got things going good. It seems to me that the police did everything they could to keep things orderly, but when people get excited they do a lot of stupid things. I've even seen people today who I think, have better sense who told me they went to see some of the events. Well, you don't have to worry about me, even (Continued on Page 2)

Around Town

Sale of tickets to the general public for the Feb. 8 annual banquet of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce will start Feb. 1, Chamber Manager Bill Thompson said Saturday. Sale so far has been limited to members only, and up to Saturday noon, 206 of the 850 tickets had been sold.

Sherry Patterson of Hereford has been named costume mistress for the Abilene Christian College production of "The Tea House of the August Moon." She is a 1960 graduate of Hereford High School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Patterson, 810 E. 5th.

Lynda Sue Hewitt, Hereford, with a grade average of 3.37, has been named to the Dean's Honor Roll for the 1962 autumn semester at South Plains College. Thirty pupils made the roll.

In the stories dealing with the history of The Brand, "The Reporter" has always been credited as the first newspaper published here, started in 1901 by Frank L. Vanderburgh. A card from Claud Higgins in Amarillo says: "I believe if you will check you will find that D. R. Goss had the first paper in Hereford. He moved it from Tulsa to Hereford, and it was called 'The Searchlight.' It had a very short life in Hereford."

U. S. Highway 69 Association's house organ, which is printed in Hereford, has a new offset printed publication depicting scenes along the highway. The organization's national convention is to be held in Fairview, Okla. April 26-28.

Charges Against Amarillo Man Are Dismissed

Charges of driving while intoxicated, a first offense, filed in December against Robert N. Carnahan, an Amarillo man were dismissed Thursday in Deaf Smith County Court, Judge H. C. Williams presiding, "due to insufficient evidence to sustain a conviction."

In the motion for dismissal presented by Edward Line, County Attorney, it was brought out that there was insufficient evidence to sustain a conviction. Highway Patrolman Rex Smith reported when he filed the case, "that he had two witnesses who were traveling the highway behind the defendant; who saw the accident and would refute the defendant's story."

The motion presented to Judge Williams continued stating that the patrolman "reports he had no witnesses to the accident and that he cannot prove the defendant drove the car on a public road."

"And further," the motion concluded, "that his testimony would be that the defendant was injured in the accident and that he didn't have a case against the defendant." The charge was filed in Deaf Smith County Court on Dec. 6 following an accident near Wildorado.

Dumas Demons Upset Herd; Defeat Whitefaces 44-62

Hereford's Whitefaces were knocked out of the lead and into a tie with Levelland again for the lead in the District 1-AAA basketball race as the Dumas Demons handed the Herd their first defeat 44-62 in district play.

In the game played Friday at Dumas, the Demons could do nothing wrong as their defense kept the Herd's sharpshooters outside and controlled the boards.

A big factor in the upset for the Demons was Halon Kirkland, 6-5 guard for the Demons, who netted 15 points in the first half. Kirkland has been on the bench for the past month with a back injury, but returned to the squad to pace the Dumas victory.

With Dumas controlling the boards and tightly defending their goal, Jim Haney and Earl Jackson, the Whitefaces leading scorers, were able to drop only 10 points each through the basket. In three other district starts, both teams honors as top scorers. From the start, the Demons were in control, limiting the Whitefaces to only eight points. Seven of these came at the charity line with Jackson sinking the only goal for the Herd in the final seconds of the quarter. Score at the end of the first stanza was 8-15.

The Herd, trying to catch the

Mail Schedule Change Is Told By Post Office

All outgoing mail must now be in Hereford Post Office by 7:30 p.m. each day in order to avoid a 12 to 24 hour delay, depending on its destination, announced Nolan Grady, postmaster, Thursday.

The change in out-of-town mail service to patrons of Hereford Post Office was brought about by a change in the bus schedules, he explained. Before the change, letters could be dropped at the Post Office as late as 7 p.m., and be (Continued on Page 2)

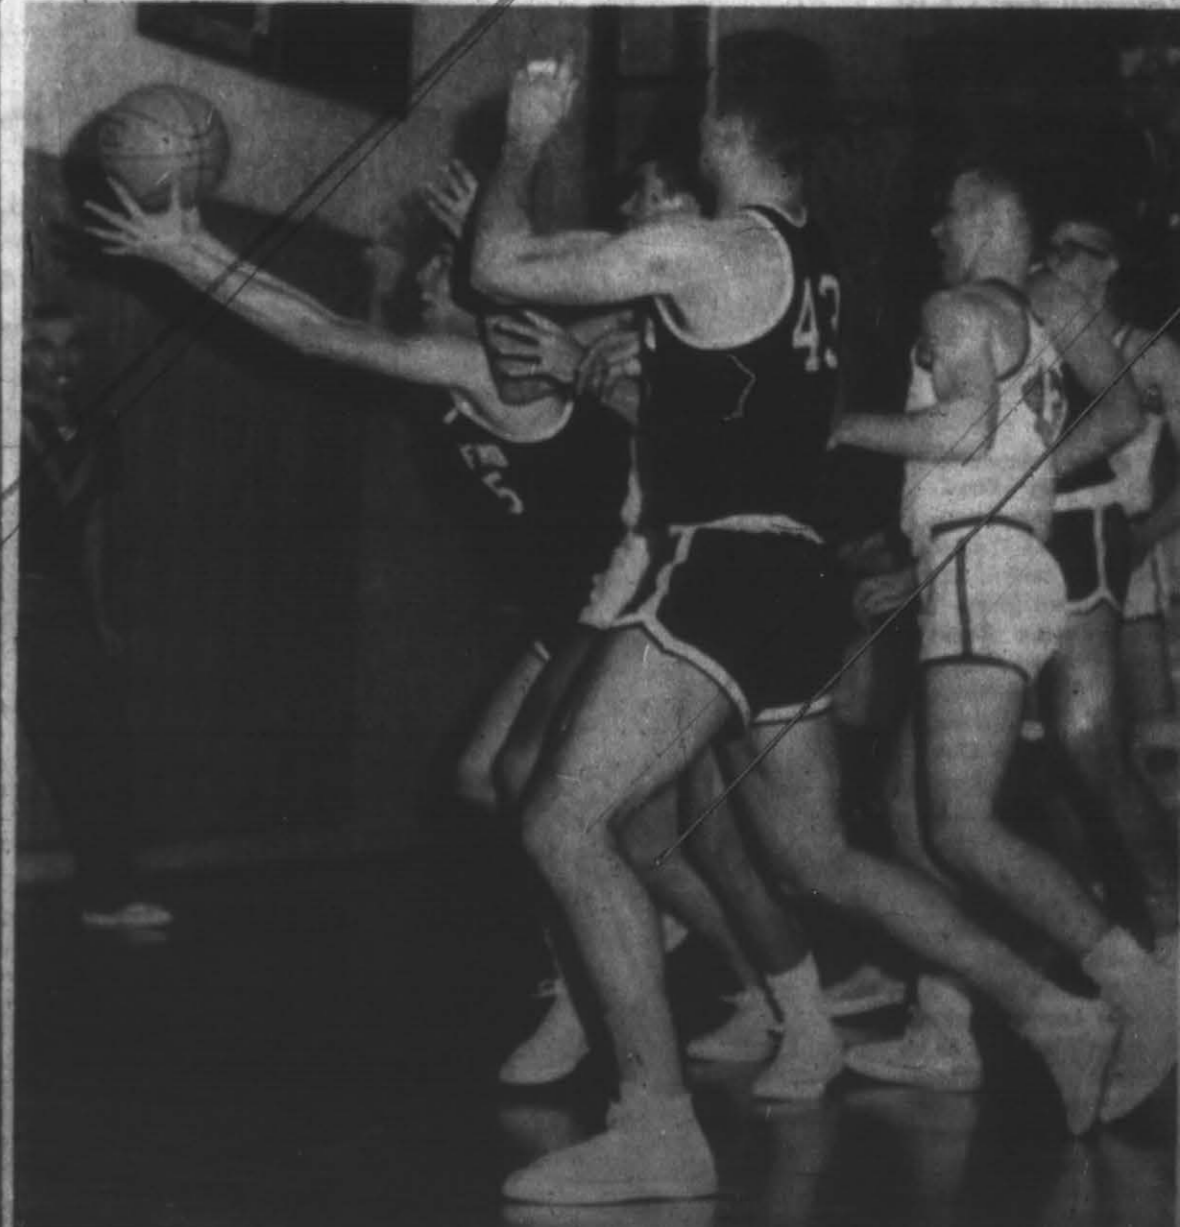

Demons in the second period, put on their best effort of the night scoring 16 points. But the Demons were able to maintain the lead they grabbed from the game's opening whistle and stayed eight points out in front of the Whitefaces.

The Herd scored nine points from the free throw line and eight from the field while the Demons dropped in 17 points 13 from the charity line and two field goals.

Scoring for the Hereford High quintet were Haney with four on a bucket and two free tosses; Jackson on four consecutive charity tosses, Billy Hill with two from the circle, Danny Cates, a two-pointer, Neal Lush, a free throw, and Charlie Moreno with two goals.

In the third period, both teams cooled with the Hereford High quintet only scoring eight points and Demons netted 13. However, it was enough to give Dumas a good 3 point lead as the game went into the final stanza.

During the second and third periods, the Herd put on an effort to catch the Demons and (Continued on Page 2)

They pointed out that the boll weevil, once practically unknown on the Caprock, moved 20 miles farther north during the 1963 season.

(Continued from page 1) though it is a temptation as I know the best thing to do is just hear about it over the radio or see it on television."

In a letter dated Jan. 13, Shirley wrote: "I don't believe the people of the United States have anything to be ashamed of in the action of U.S. civilians and troops here. It is true that the high school kids disobeyed an order, but it was done as an act of pride and faith in our country rather than to be disobedient. Every thing else is the result of mob violence from the Panamanians who have been misled by hoodlums and communists."

As to the violence itself that resulted, Shirley told his mother: "There are great numbers of people who took advantage of this to loot stores and do just as they wished. There has been no violence of any sort in the Zone except in places that only as deep as rocks can be thrown. There has been sniping from buildings in Panama, but mostly directed against a few border Zone buildings."

"Everyone has pretty well stayed at home during this time unless they were working or doing necessary shopping."

As to experiences of people who fled to the Zone from Panama proper, Shirley wrote: "I am sure some of the people who came in from Panama had some narrow escapes, but I'm also sure that some of them managed to exaggerate plenty. I personally know people who were helped by their neighbors. There are cars around with evidence of damage, but not too many."

As to the Panamanian people themselves, the Spillway (the Zone's own newspaper) wrote: "A very few American civilians were attacked by mobs along the boundary line in Colon and Panama City. Such mobs, incited to a frenzy by agitators and mass communication media, are scarcely representative of their countrymen."

"By far the majority of reports from individual families indicate that in the areas in which they reside their Panamanian neighbors reassured them of their deep friendship and advised them that their Panamanian neighbors would protect them from the mobs."

Governor Robert J. Fleming, Jr. of the Canal Zone offered this advice to Zone citizens: "Keep your blood pressure down, ignore unfair and slanted publicity and continue to do your work to the best of your ability. This will be a major contribution from each of you."

Sharp...

In a statement to The Brand, Sharp said: "Hereford has been my home for a number of years and I am currently operating a business here. I am interested in Hereford's future both from the standpoint of a residence as well as a business man. I have no special interest in this post other than a genuine desire to contribute my service toward the future development and betterment of the city I have chosen as my home."

"If elected, I will spend whatever time is necessary and do the job to the best of my ability."

Dumas...

(Continued from page 1) closed the point spread several times to within four points. But Dumas, forced the Whitefaces to shoot from the outside and effectively controlled the boards.

As the fourth quarter drew to a close with Dumas out in front by a wide margin, both Hill and Haney fouled out for the Whitefaces. Coach Euby Kitchens pulled his three remaining starters from the field sending Gary Roberson, Gary Stagner, and Kenny Justice out on the court.

Moreno and Stevens were already in the game filling the slots vacated by Haney and Hill.

As the final buzzer sounded, the Demons owned an upset victory over the Herd, 44-62.

creased by as much as 25 percent.

Gov. Connally Saturday urged "all citizens of Texas" to pay their poll taxes anyway to qualify them to vote in all elections.

Most state officials, however, expressed fear that he amendment banning poll tax payments as a requisite to vote for federal candidates will seriously curtail this week's poll tax payments here.

One official put it like this: "We have many citizens now living in Deaf Smith County who have come here during recent booms. They will be eligible to vote by next November anyway, but they will not be interested in city or county elections. For this reason, doubtless we will see many of the 'free' poll tax receipts issued between now and March 15."

Pupils Buckle Down For New Term After Busy First Half

By Joyce Curtisinger
Tuesday, Jan. 21 started a new semester for the students and teachers at Stanton Junior High. The first semester and first half of the school year was completed Thursday, Jan. 16 and Friday, Jan. 17 with the taking of semester tests. Although the students had a holiday Monday, the teachers were hard at work making out the report cards. The first semester was not only busy, but exciting. Some of the more outstanding events we review are these: Open house took place on the evening of Nov. 14, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Invitations were sent to all parents and a great number turned out. Exhibits were displayed in all the rooms. The event was determined a success. Earlier in the semester the homeroom officers were elected, the Red Cross executive committee was elected and cheerleader try-outs were held. After the run-off it was determined that the cheerleaders were Patsy Smith, Deborah Thomas and Jan Miller for the eighth grade and Patricia Hill, Margaret Phipps and Suzanne Oglesby for the seventh grade. The cheerleaders have led some roaring assemblies during the football season and it looks like the student body has carried the traditional school spirit over into the basketball season. The Dogies played some great football games and we are looking forward to seeing more thrilling basketball games. The Stanton Junior High marching band went to contest in Canyon and received a I rating. We wish them luck in the coming contest this spring. They presented the school assembly program on January 10. Mr. Mercer formed a science club for the students who wanted to join. They hold their meetings on weekdays after school and study all points in science. Russell Phillips was elected assistant editor for the Dogie. He is a seventh grade student this year and will be the editor of the Dogie during his eighth grade year. Many colorful and enjoyable southern assemblies were presented throughout the first semester. They were varied from puppet shows to singing and bell ringing.

The choirs presented a Christmas program for the public and also for the school assembly. They have also presented the program at some of the civic clubs.

The second semester will be highlighted with the election of new homeroom officers, the remaining part of the basketball season and the coming track season. National Library Week, Texas Public School Week and more southern assemblies as well as homeroom and pep assemblies will be held during the coming months.

Cy Moore And Steve Sigman Are 'Students Of Six Weeks'

By Linda Jacobsen

Cy Moore, the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Don W. Moore, born August 29, 1951, is the second "student of the six weeks" for the seventh grade. Cy's favorite color is blue, his favorite movie was "Ben Hur" and his favorite piece of music is Symphony No. 6.

Cy enjoys his hobbies of rock collecting and homework. His favorite food is banana pudding and his favorite book was The Quest of the Sea Otters.

Cy likes to think of himself as being something like Van Cliburn. Cy's family includes his mother and father, two sisters, Mandi 16, and Sandra 20; two brothers, Ted 24, and Pickens 27. Cy thinks getting "student of the six weeks" is quite an honor.

Steve Sigman, the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Sigman, 127 Ave. F, was born November 10, 1949. Steve is the second student to be chosen "student of the six weeks" from the eighth grade. His favorite color is red, his hobbies are stamp and coin collecting. Some of these date around 1900. Steve must have enjoyed The Great Escape for it is his favorite movie and the "Great Escape

Steve's family consists of Stan, his father; Margaret, his mother, D'Shaun his sister, who is in the sixth grade and Stan Jr., his older brother. His first reaction to the question "What do you think of being student of the six weeks?" was to say he thought it is quite enjoyable.

Student Office, Library Staff Picked for Term

Girls who will help Mrs. John Sims in the office this semester will be Kandis Hill, Patsy Smith, Jennifer Barnett, Deborah Thomas, Elaine Stovall, Sherril Marsh, Jan Miller, Katherine Miller, Susan Ballard, Sherril Damron and Mary Ellen Marshall.

These girls will replace Suzanne Hart, Regina Hampton, Cathy Young, Wanda Furtman, Jan Scott, Carrol Todd and Mary Stoy who worked in the office during the first semester. Some of the many tasks which these girls perform are picking up absence slips, answering the telephone and keeping the office neat.

Librarians for the second semester will be Phyllis Richardson, Linda Brooks, Shannon Watson, Susan White, Linda Glenn, Cynthia McMinn, Joyce Curtisinger, Levenie Benefield, Cheryl Solomon, Mary Ellen Robinson, and Jean Keeth. They will replace Cynthia Hanna, Terri Townsend, Linda Jacobsen, Sherry Rush and Marsha Hardwick who were student librarians during the first semester.

These girls are the ones who help the students find the books they need, keep the library neat, checking out books and many other jobs.

This semester will be the first time the library has had audio-visual assistants to help with the audio-visual machines. The audio-visual assistants are Chris Hutcherson and Bill Don Hair.

tion of books, games, cross-word puzzles and toys for the hospital, children's wards and veterans.

We hope the public enjoyed our International Art Show at the community center in November and also the showing of local work by the Junior and Senior High school art groups.

Fodder Box

Ernie Williams, Jimmy Childers, and Johnny Cornelius presented the third place trophy to Mr. Quattlebaum in the school assembly Wednesday, Jan. 22. The trophy was presented on behalf of the eighth grade basketball boys and their coaches. The boys won third in the Clovis Friendship tournament Jan. 17.

The Stanton Junior High tournament will be held Feb. 6-7-8 in the Stanton Gym.

On February 6, will be the next southern assembly program which will feature Tommy and his Alaskan Huskies.

The Texas history and geography students have been busy with their projects. The results of their work may be seen in the classrooms. Mrs. Mildred Ramey, Mr. Jesse Geron and Mr. Clyde Coleman are the Texas history and geography teachers.

Letters to the student body at Stanton have been received from Boys Ranch and the Whiteface Girls Home for the money which the students sent to them just before Christmas.

The March of Dimes Assembly will be held February 25, in the Stanton Auditorium.

MANY PROJECTS at Stanton are portrayed shown with the house she constructed for in art work or in miniature designs such as Texas history program. (Staff Photo)

Assembly Programs Offer Variety Of Entertainment

By Wanda Fahrman
Mr. and Mrs. Bud Imig appeared at the Stanton Junior High School auditorium last month, presenting a musical program of novelty instruments. Imig is a versatile entertainer and offered something different in music with inexpensive instruments he had made himself. He discovered by carving out pieces of redwood that they could be tuned to a diatonic musical scale and played like a xylophone.

Imig also collected cow and sheep bells, tuned them and put handles on them making another novelty instrument. Filling bottles with water and blowing across them also presented another unusual instrument of music. Some other instruments he had made were musical skillets, tin cans and organ chimes. Imig has pleased many audiences through television and radio with his individual contribution and musical personality.

Paul J. Siebenmann appeared at Stanton Junior High December 12. He presented the students an entertaining yet truthful program on alcoholism and narcotics. He was dressed as the "tall Texan". Siebenmann is 6 feet, 4 inches tall, giving him the reputation of being a tall Texan since he is from San Antonio. The past 12 years he has been working with youth and faculty in schools helping to solve the problems of teenagers becoming alcoholics and dope addicts.

Siebenmann used David Brink, Chris Hutcherson, Carol Todd and Deborah Thomas as his assistants.

Using entertaining props and good stories mostly about Texas, he won the audience's attention and also gave them some advice about alcohol, narcotics and tobacco. Siebenmann stated in one of his poems "Remember more is learned from eyes that see, and ears that hear. Attention is the word! The Romance of Tomorrow a book of poems written for Texas youths by Siebenmann, was presented to the Stanton Junior High Library.

Red Cross Ends Active Season

The Junior Red Cross has been active during the Thanksgiving and Christmas season. We have made 100 place mats like a checker board, favors for Thanksgiving and large wall decorations of turkeys, fruit and pilgrims.

We have as our "special" project Miss Charlene Nelson who is a patient in Methodist Hospital, Lubbock. She is there as a result of a car accident, leaving her the only survivor. The Red Cross sent her a gift of pajamas, and each homeroom has taken a week to send her a card of cheer. Some of our students have received mail from her over the holidays. We are continuing our collec-

GROWING UP!!!

By Kathy Fooks

You think growing up is easy?
It's as hard as a still day being breezy.
It's a thing we do because we must,
And we feel we have to do it or we'll bust.

First comes changing up our hair do—
Up-sweep, down sweep, oh my, pooh!
Shall we rat it, flip it out or under?
Is growing up wath all this I wonder.

Our lips become as pale as death we say—
We must start wearing lipstick right away.
Our lashes aren't becoming, not a bit—
It's mascara that we need to make a hit.

Bobby-socks to wear for dress??? Not us!
It's silk hose that we need or make a fuss.
And last year's sweaters simply do not fit,
The style is wrong — we need the bulky knit.

Our posture needs some changing up, we feel,
Then walk, head high — don't slouch and be a wreck—
Of course your ankles may give way,
And you may break your neck.

You think growing up is easy?
It's as hard as a still day-being breezy.
It's a thing we do because we must,
And we feel we have to do it or we'll bust.

OH, BEAUTIFUL STAR

By Cy Moore

So long ago — this very night,
There was a star which shone quite bright;
It shone on the shepherds far below,
Who watched their sheep on the moon-lit snow.
It led three men who came that night,
To a new born king — "The Lord of Light."
It warmed the angels who came from above,
To offer prayer, and give their love.

The shepherds as they watched their sheep,
Were drawn by the star to the manger keep,
They brought no gifts of bronze or gold,
But in their hearts the praise they told.

They left the manger there that night,
Returned to their sheep and told of the light.
The story they told, should help us tonight,
To go to all nations and tell of the light.

The kings had heard of the new born child,
And traveled far in the night so mild,
They brought their gifts of myrrh and gold,
And as they came their story told.

This "Prince of Peace," this "Lord of Light,"
Has helped us as we came tonight,
To praise his name and do the right.

The angels as they came from above,
Were welcomed down with warmth and love.
Though in a manger crude he lay,
He helped all those who went his way.

He loved all those who loved not him,
And while he lived, his life was dim.
Should we not let our light shine bright?
Like that star that wister night?

by Melvin Young

A friend recently remarked: "Things never get dull around a newspaper office". Of course, he didn't know the half of it. We recently completed moving the Brand to its new home on West Fourth, and things have been a little hectic around the place to say the least. Naturally, after moving in and getting the machinery set, we called in the electricians to complete their work; the plumbers and carpenters to pick up the loose ends; move the things that could not be moved until we vacated the old building, and a dozen of other little details that could not be done beforehand. All went fairly well until one of the boys in the mechanical department informed us that the water cooler was spouting "hot" water. Sure enough, when we started checking, every faucet in the shop contained only hot water — no cold — just hot.

The cause of the malfunction was finally discovered. In connecting the water from the old building to the new construction, the plumbers tied on to a hot-water pipe rather than a cold. They couldn't tell the difference, they said, since the water heater had not been lighted.

But then, that's just one of the many problems that we have faced over the past week. For the most part, things have gone along pretty well, and we're real happy to be in our new building. It is rather comical however, to see grown people wandering around with that dazed look, scratching their head and wondering where the pencil sharpeners might be . . . or, for that matter, where in heck are the pencils?

And speaking of moving, we have noticed that Jimmie Roberts is about to complete his move. Jim has leased the building that once housed the old Furr Food store on West Third. The structure has been completely remodeled and sports one of the most unusual fronts that we have seen recently.

In visiting this week with Mrs. Phil Barkley, campfire counselor, we discovered a fact that we're sure most people have overlooked.

This year, according to Mrs. Barkley, is the 18th year for the Campfire girls to run the concession stand at the annual Jr. Livestock Show. The campfire organization, sponsored in Hereford by the Rotary Club, started the concession stand the same year that the Rotarians took over the calf show, and have continued it with the new organization. The girls appreciate the opportunity to make a little extra money for their group and really turn-out for the event.

And while writing the above, we discovered another interesting fact. When you're referring to someone as a "campfire girl," then "campfire" is one word. If you're speaking of the organization . . . Camp Fire Girls of America, then campfire is two words. Confused? So are we, and frankly, we'll probably get it wrong the next time we write it.

Lloyd Sharp, local business man and long time resident of Hereford area, has announced his candidacy for the City Commission. Sharp will seek election to Place 4, while Bill Howard, incumbent commissioner, will try for reelection to Place 3. Howard filed earlier this week. To date, Howard and Albert Maxwell are the only candidates to file for Place 3, while Place 4 seems to be getting a little crowded. Sharp, latest to file for the post, will be opposed by Gerald Hale and Mike Justice.

Millard Shivers, candidate for Texas Commissioner of Agriculture, dropped by the office this week. It seems that the state candidates are beginning to stir, and we might possibly have some interesting races on this level.

Shivers, 46 years of age, hails from Waco and has been serving as Director of Organization for the Texas Farm Bureau, a position which he held from March, 1956, until January of this year. He has resigned to seek the office of Commissioner of Agriculture. He is a Democrat and will probably oppose incumbent commissioner White in the May primary.

Don't forget to pay your poll tax. Since the ratification of the 24th amendment by North Dakota, the poll tax will not be necessary for voting in national election, but if you plan to cast your vote for state and local office seekers, then you will need the poll tax receipt. Many people will be confused on this, and it is possible that many will not go to the polls because they do not know exactly what to do. But the man that holds a poll tax receipt has nothing to worry about. He's eligible to vote in both state and national contests.

A detailed explanation will be carried elsewhere in this issue of The Brand.

The gentleman stopped to talk to the wee girl who was making mud pies on the sidewalk. "My word," he exclaimed, "you're pretty dirty, aren't you, my little girl?" "Yes," she replied, "but I'm prettier clean."

Mrs. Byrd Celebrates Her Ninety-Fourth Birthday Friday

CELEBRATES 94th BIRTHDAY — Mrs. Robert H. Byrd was honored on her birthday Friday afternoon with an open house in the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. V. McCabe, Dawn. About 20 guests gathered to help her celebrate. Mrs. Byrd came to Texas from Arkansas by covered wagon in 1887. (Staff Photo)

The 94th birthday of Mrs. Robert H. Byrd was celebrated with an open house Friday, Jan. 24, in the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. V. McCabe, Dawn. About 20 guests called to pay her honor.

Mrs. Byrd was born in Hindsville, Madison County, Ark., in 1870. The town was named for her mother's family. Her father, a veteran of the Confederate Army, came to Hindsville from Alabama to teach. Her mother was one of his students before their marriage. "I was rocked in the cradle of the Confederacy," laughs Mrs. Byrd.

In 1887 the family arrived by covered wagon in Bartlett, Texas. In 1888, she and Robert H. Byrd, a farmer, were married in Miami. They moved to Panhandle in 1916 and had one daughter, Mrs. McCabe. He died in 1928.

During the span of Mrs.

Byrd's years, there have been 17 presidents. She is an ardent admirer of President Johnson.

She reads the daily papers and is well-informed on current issues, and she maintains a strong interest in politics. Since her husband's death, Mrs. Byrd has lived near Dawn with her daughter. She has three grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

"To be a good homemaker, you must think, plan, and be consistent," Mrs. Clark Andrews told members of Young Homemakers of Texas at their meeting Tuesday evening in the home economics laboratory at the high school.

Mrs. Andrews' topic was "Household Hints." She warned members that the accumulation of too many household aids could be an error. She suggested planning menus by the week to avoid last minute confusion. She also urged her audience to plan their work carefully after consideration of all tasks.

Mrs. Kenneth DeHart conducted the business meeting. Mrs. David Brumley and Mrs. George Zetsche gave reports on the state convention held recently in Austin. Kathy Boston was presented her Little Sister Certificate, which was brought from Austin by the delegates.

Mrs. Woodward discussed the sense of touch, particularly the skin as a sensory organ. She diagrammed a cross section of skin and explained each area.

The functions of the skin, she noted, are protection, heat regulation, secretion and excretion, sensation, and absorption.

"Understanding Art" was the topic chosen by Mrs. Cramer. She named the three schools of thought in art, explained each school, and showed examples of each. "Realism is the painter and the world around him, expressionism is the painter and the world he creates, and abstraction is the painter and the world we never see," she said. Using colored slides of trips to Red River, Cimarron and Conchos Dam made by her family, Mrs. Schneider demonstrated points she made in her discussion of natural enjoyment.

Mrs. Harold Beauchamp and Mrs. Bill Kendall were hostesses for the meeting. Guests were Mrs. Anna Bailey, Mrs. Greg Garvy, and Mrs. Jessie Nicholson, Dimmitt. Members present were Mrs. Floyd Walton Jr., (Continued on Page 2)

The temperature at the time of spraying should be no higher than 40 degrees, she continued. Roses should be watered during the winter, and all leaves should be removed and burned.

During the business meeting, members voted to give $16 to the March of Dimes and $35 to King's Manor for yard labor. Mrs. Leo Witkowski presented the program, "Let's All Add Spice to Our Lives."

The club met in the home of Mrs. E. W. Young, with Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill as co-hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Capener ... In Eskimo Garb

Missionaries To Alaska To Speak In Hereford

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Capener, who have been missionaries to the Eskimo area of Northern Alaska since 1944, will be guest speakers at the Assembly of God Church, Union and Ave. G., for morning worship today.

The pastor, the Rev. V. W. Marcontell, said Saturday the public is invited to hear the Capeners.

The Capeners, Assembly of God missionaries, have established churches in five northern Eskimo communities—at Nome, Point Hope, Wainwright, Barrow and Eaktovik. "These areas," Mr. Marcontell says, "are literally in the words of Acts 1:8, at the uttermost part of the earth."

Fur clothing worn by the Eskimos, and other interesting artifacts will be on display during the service. Mr. Capener will tell of his ministry to these people as well as detailing some interesting facts about the Eskimo way of life, Mr. Marcontell explained.

Beavers Scarce But Still Around

BROWNWOOD, (AP) — Texans are not well acquainted with beavers, and the little animals, on the other hand, are not too experienced in using concreted-lined streams.

Beavers are such a rarity in Texas these days no one really knows how to deal with them.

Some time ago, N. E. Trostle, manager of the Brown County Water Improvement District No. 1, received an anonymous call from a woman fishing on Lake Brownwood. She said some vandal had cut down a tree and put it in the canal carrying water from the lake to the city reservoir.

The next morning they returned with a bulldozer. To their amazement, the entire tree was in the canal, floating downstream, the top ahead.

Beavers, they decided. Only beavers could plan and execute the fall so precisely and push the entire tree into the water.

They looked closer at the stump and it appeared that beavers' teeth had cut the tree. The area of the remaining stump was tracked well by little feet.

More small trees nearby also had been cut down and placed in the top of the larger, floating tree.

Trostle called George Neeley to check the report. Neeley called G. V. Holamon, after his inspection, and asked help in removing a 25-foot tree lying across the canal at right angles.

The two tugged at the tree but couldn't budge it.

What the beavers didn't understand is the canal's concrete lining. They apparently expected the loaded branches of the tree to snag on the sides of the stream, giving the beavers a base on which to build a dam.

But their key tree simply floated downstream.

Walcott PTO Has Meeting

Walcott PTO met Jan. 17 at Walcott School. The program was presented by Lucile Ford, Lubbock, who showed films she and her daughter, Susan, made while touring Europe last summer. She was introduced by Mrs. Elton Sorrells.

Mrs. Harold Bass was presiding officer for the business meeting. Mrs. Elmo Hall gave the financial report and reported that Messenger Home Demonstration Club had offered to help the PTO with its political rally and pie supper. The offer was accepted.

Two years ago, beavers constructed several dams on Willis Creek in the area. The animals built the dams almost table high, just tall enough for water to flow over the top.

The tree finally was hauled out of the canal. Although admiring the work of the furry engineers, city officials decided a dam would upset the water supply system.

Lawsuit Totals Set New Record In '63, Carr Says

Attorney General Waggoner Carr Saturday released figures for the year of 1963 which reflected an all-time record in number of cases handled in a one-year period.

The office disposed of 3,389 law suits for the period of Jan. 1 through Dec. 31, a 69 percent increase over the preceding year when 1,998 cases were closed. Of the record number of cases, Carr's office won 2,638, lost 122 and 629 were disposed of in some other manner.

The Attorney General also pointed out that a record number of cases, 3,288, were filed during the same period which named the State as a party. This figure represented a 41 percent increase over 1962 when 1,998 cases were filed.

Mr. A. V. Tippé's son, who is a football coach at the University of Washington, visited her last week. . . . Guests of Mrs. D. C. Stokes recently were Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Alsop, Harrison, Ark., and Joan Shaffer, Victoryville, Calif.

Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. Hanse. . . Viola Bowles, Big Spring, had lunch with Mrs. Davis Sunday. . . Mrs. Petterman, Andrews, called later in the evening.

We're happy to have Mrs. Davis back at the home after her long stay in the hospital. Although her leg is still in a cast, she is doing well. . . "Pappy" Hays, 93, will be greatly missed at the home. He has been moved to Coon-Memorial, Dalhart, because of illness, but we hope that he will be back with us soon.

Maurice P. Garner, who will be the manager of a new retirement home in Panhandle, spent several days in the home. He stated that he hoped to create an atmosphere in the new home as much like that at King's Manor as possible.

Children from Lazbuddie Baptist Church presented a program and cookies for the residents. . . Materials are arriving daily for the construction of the hospital addition. . . We are happy to have on our staff Mr. and Mrs.

W. G. Copelan, formerly of Muleshoe.

Other recent visitors have been Gertrude Weeks, Guyton, Okla.; Lola Hughes, Ropesville; Jim Riddleburger, Lubbock; Eva Hammond; Lubbock; Aaron DeBose, Hale Center; Joe Revere, Friona, and Velma Sanders, Edmond, Okla.

CHEVY II by Chevrolet

You don't need a big car to get big performance. Not any more. You'll quickly see why when you check the '64 Chevy II.

There are two new higher performance optional-at-extra-cost engines for you to pick from. One is Chevrolet's strapping 155-hp Turbo-Fire V8. The other is a new chrome-trimmed 155-hp Turbo-Thrift Six.

New brakes match this power, too. Bigger, to dissipate heat faster. Self-adjusting, to save you money. Other easy-care features include Delco-tron generator and a fully aluminum muffler.

Chevy II is smartly styled outside, comfortable inside. There are a lot of models to choose from. A lot of extra-cost accessories to customize it just about any way you'd like. And a whole lot of fun to look forward to. At a very low cost. Test drive Chevy II at your Chevrolet dealer's soon. You'll like it!
