

Sheriff . . .

(Continued from Page 1) county and Panhandle," Skinner continued. "I am not running for a two year term only. I want it for a long time. I am interested in what law enforcement can do for the people."

During the question and answer session, the three candidates were asked if there is any reason for them to emphasize cooperation among the law enforcement agencies. Cole said, "the reason I stressed this is because the county commissioners felt it is very important and asked how I felt on it. As far as I know, we get along fine with the other departments."

Roberson said "there has been some dissention at times and probably will be again, but I think it has been caused by a breakdown in communications. The co-operation has been stressed because of past experience."

Cole also added that "stories of the nominations of Ed and myself and the reports on the county commissioners meetings may have given the impression that we are not getting along. We have had differences. You can't work with someone every day without having some kind of disagreements, but there is no dissention between us."

The candidates next were asked "What is the biggest problem facing the sheriff," Roberson said, "the biggest problem facing not only the sheriff, but all law enforcement officials, is that the court decisions have used our hands in ways that have always been honorable."

Cole first quipped that "two deputies campaigning is the biggest problem," then agreed that the handling of prisoners with the court decisions is the biggest problem. "The prisoner's statement is real important to us. The sheriff must have qualified people who can take the statement and then see it stand up in court."

Skinner said "the sheriff's department is one big machine. You can't single out one big problem and work on it. The sheriff has to be himself and do the job so that he can get the people of the county behind him. You've got to have the support of the people."

"Do you have any changes in mind so that the department can handle these problems," the candidates were asked. Roberson said, "I have no drastic changes. I would like to have a department that has functioned as smoothly as this one has for the past year."

Skinner stated that "every new man will have new ideas. He will accept some of the ideas of the old sheriff and use some of his own. I don't know what policies are presently being used, so I really can't say what changes I would make."

Cole also said that "none of my ideas are drastic. I think we have had an outstanding department for the past three years. Close supervision of the department is important to me and this is about the only way I feel different than Loweik."

The program was the final in a series of "Know Your Candidates" programs sponsored by the Jaycees.

Wind . . .

(Continued from Page 1) to fall shortly before 11 p. m. turned to a wind-driven sleet, and then became a short-lived snowfall. Fire Marshall Terry Hale verified the badness of the elements when he shivered and said "it was mighty cold out there."

An estimate of damage to the shed and its contents was set at $49,900, but it was expected that loss: actually would run higher in replacing the building and machinery. Cause of the fire was not known.

The towering flames also licked dangerously at a nearby oil shed owned by Mrs. Jack Renfro but firemen kept the fire from spreading.

Mrs. Renfro told the Brand Wednesday that "if those high winds had still been blowing during the fire, it could have really been terrible. I don't see how those firemen kept it from spreading."

Mrs. Renfro said she had talked to several people living near the potato shed following the fire, and was told that they believed the fire had started north of the shed.

Also aiding in the man-against-fire battle were members of the Boy Scouts Emergency Squad of Troop 52. Frank Ford is Scoutmaster of the City . . .

(Continued from Page 1) will be done mostly in the main part of town, will enable city workers to expand more into the less congested areas on Saturday.

The committee has already located several trucks and pickups which will be used to load the city's trash, reported Mrs. Jack Renfro at the noon meeting Tuesday.

The city has donated a number of trucks, as have county officials. Individuals have also offered the use of their vehicles for the clean-up day. In addition to drivers of the trucks and pickups, the committee needs people to ride on them and help lift trash cans, etc.

The biggest problem facing the campaign is man-power. All the Boy Scout troops which the committee had hoped could provide needed help in the campaign, will be attending an out-of-town district meeting on that day, thus will be unable to work.

Thompson said "this is going to be our weakest spot and I don't have the answer." The group discussed issuing a plea for help to the Future Farmers and the local 4-H Clubs. Members of these organizations would provide much needed help in lifting trash cans, and larger items. The smaller children are useful in gathering cuttings and small bits of trash.

Mrs. Milton Adams, committee chairman, reported that one local Bluebird group has offered to stand at a local grocery store all day Saturday and remind customers of the clean-up day next week.

Firemen remained at the scene to quell any flareups until 3:30 a. m. Tuesday.

Pictures and stories on the other Halloween activities are in today's issue of the Hereford Brand.

Thompson suggested that the committee have flyers telling of the campaign placed in all grocery stores, and ask that they be given to each customer at the check-out counter. This was agreed upon by the members.

The committee asks that all people who have rocks, dirt, concrete blocks, or other heavy trash to put them in fairly small boxes so that each may be lifted by one man. Mrs. Adams asked that people not put extra trash in dumpsters.

Mrs. Jack Renfro suggested that the committee plan to send thank-you letters to all those who help with the campaign and this was discussed by the committee.

Faces, Demons Favored Teams This Weekend

The District 1-AAA field should be narrowed to a two-team race this week as both Hereford and Dumas are favored in their games.

The Whitefaces travel to Mule shoe to do battle with the Mules and Dumas tangles with Tullia in the Hornets' back yard. Perryton meets Canyon on the Eagles' home field in the other conference contest.

Tullia, Hereford and Dumas currently are tied for the district lead with two victories each. Coach Jack Meredith has warned his team against taking the Mules too lightly after their losses to Tullia and Dumas.

"They have a better ball club than the scores indicate," said Meredith, "because touchdowns against them came in the last few minutes of play."

School . . .

(Continued from Page 1) He also pointed out that the state would not approve an additional route, therefore the larger buses were necessary.

The district now has 23 routes approved by the state. J. C. Morrison, a long time member of the county board had this to say: "Those are awfully big buses, but the school district is just like we are out on the farm. When we get into trouble we just do the best we can."

Morrison, Straffus and Floyd Brown were the only members of the county board present. The group voted 2 to 1 to table the action on the matter until Nov. 21, their next scheduled meeting date.

Meanwhile an effort will be made to determine whether or not the county board has authority to refuse the request of the Hereford Independent School District concerning the new buses.

Jury . . .

The court also reaffirmed its policy of eradicating bindweed along the county right-of-way and in the bar-ditches next to farms where the land-owner is also making an effort to eradicate the troublesome weed. "We want to cooperate with any farmer in Deaf Smith County who is trying to rid the county of bindweed, one commissioner said."

Price . . .

(Continued from Page 1) country start standing up for what's right, be he Democrat or Republican. We need men to come out and say "Tr. for America."

Price also urged that something be done about Cuba, "where guerrillas are being trained by the Communists to send to Southeast Asia. Cuba is a greater threat to the national security than any country thousands of miles away!"

Strengthening of the courts so that a criminal can be punished was stressed by the candidate, who also said he would support the prayer amendment for schools.

Concluding, Price said, "The issue in this race is whether the people of the Panhandle want a man in Congress who will be obligated to vote for more Federal programs, or whether they want to elect me on a platform of reducing Federal spending in order that local governments can do the things that are needed here at home."

"We are winning this race," Price declared, "and are going to win it on Nov. 8."

Entertainment for the rally was provided by the Hereford High School Brass Sextet and the Pampa Belles, Master of ceremonies was Roy Faubion of KPAN Radio who also presented a recitation on Viet Nam which was enthusiastically received by the audience.

Introduced were three of the candidates for Deaf Smith County Sheriff, Pete Cole, Charles Skinner and Kenneth Maxwell. Ed Roberson, the Democratic candidate, did not attend.

Bands Compete In Junior High March Contest

Hereford's two junior high school's Stanton and LaPlata, competed in class CC at the band marching contest in Buffalo Bowl Tuesday. Stanton came home with a I rating and LaPlata received a II.

Team directors for the junior high bands are Ben Gollehon, Jim Priest and Lynn McClarty. McClarty is responsible for LaPlata and Priest for Stanton. Gollehon said that the splitting into two school this year hurt LaPlata and that their band was actually too small to be able to make a I rating.

He said, "both bands are coming along fine, it'll just take a couple of years to develop LaPlata." Judges for the competition were Charles L. Emmons of the University of Missouri, Eldon Sonnenburg of Sherman High School and Merlin Jenkins of Texas Christian University.

Stanton's music was "Daughters of Texas" and "New Colonial" while LaPlata played "On the Street" and another march. The junior high twirlers did not compete.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

These Are Your Questions

CAN the artificial sweeteners in foods and drinks be harmful if taken over an extended period of time?

The United States Food and Drug Administration has actively studied the safety of artificial sweeteners. Saccharin and the cyclamates have been used for many years to reduce the caloric content of foods and drinks. These are labeled as "foods for special dietary purposes."

It was found that the cyclamates may have a slight laxative effect when taken in quantities larger than five grams a day.

The FDA will continue to do more studies. At the present time they believe "that there is no evidence that cyclamates at the present use levels are a hazard to health."

Sometime ago you wrote about the danger of boric acid for the rinsing of baby's diapers. Why is it dangerous to infants?

It is now well-recognized that it is dangerous to rinse the diapers for infants with boric acid. Boric acid has long been used in this way to prevent diaper rash.

Boric acid can be absorbed into the body of an infant and produce a dangerous degree of boric acid poisoning.

Dr. B. B. Kumar wrote in a recent book on pediatrics, "It is not sufficient to ban boric from nurseries and hospitals; there seems no reason to permit the sale of this agent in drugstores for any purpose whatsoever, and it is high time that we prohibited its sale entirely."

Are there any new forms of treatment to prevent or relieve gout?

Gout is a disorder in which there is an increased accumulation of uric acid in the blood stream, in the joints and in other tissues of the body.

Preventive medicine, therefore, aims at avoiding those foods which are known to have a high purine content. For uric acid is a by-product of this substance in foods. There are many drugs like colchicine that can be used to relieve the pain of gout. There are others that help to excrete uric acid in the urine.

A new drug, Allopurinol, is being greeted with great enthusiasm. It is being studied all over the country and appears to be one of the most effective treatments yet devised to lessen the complications and discomfort of gout.

The drug seems to have little or no toxic side-effect and, after thorough surveys are made by the Pure Food and Drug Administration, it will be released for more general use.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH—Everyone should learn the simple standard rules of first aid.

GEHL MIX-ALL

Grinds! Mixes! Delivers!

The Gehl Mix-All, with economy plain feeder and exclusive crusher-feeder attachment, grinds, mixes and delivers the most uniform on-the-farm feed.

Here's proof: Samples of feed grains, ground by Gehl and competitive mills, were compared in a "sieve-shaker" analysis (a grinding uniformity test used also by commercial feed manufacturers). In test after test, Gehl samples were the most uniformly ground. And, the more uniform the grind, the better the mix!

In the Mix-All hammermill, 66 thin, alloy-steel hammer surfaces cut... not pound ingredients on a big grinding surface for faster feed flow with reduced "fines." Come on in for a close-up look at all the Mix-All features, including the swinging auger-feeder.

ANOTHER HOBBY FLOWER
THE ROSE: WORLD'S FAVORITE FLOWER

There is nothing in nature as lovely as a lovely rose. Toethe expresses this universal appeal in his lyric, The Wild Rose.
"A boy espied in morning light,
A beautiful rosebud blowing;
'Twas so delicate and bright
That he came to feast his sight,
And wonder at its growing,
Rosebud, rosebud, rosebud,
Rosebud, brightly blooming."
Writers, horticulturists, and other authorities have agreed that the rose is easily man's favorite flower. Pampered, cherished beyond all others, to its beauty and appeal man's heart beats responsive: its loveliness and fragrance are enhancing qualities.

The Rose flourished in the gardens of ancient Greece and Rome, in Persia and in China. Mention is made of its in the Bible, and it was also known in pre-historic times. Real evidence has been found that roses existed long, long ago. Fossil remains estimated to be thirty-five million years old have been discovered in Oregon.
The Rose has played a large part in the fine arts of the world, namely painting literature and music. It is no exaggeration to say the rose occupies more printed pages of the world's literature than do all other flowers mentioned. This appeal cannot be pin-pointed but it is conjecture that the versatility of the rose, is the answer. History records its use not on ly as a beautiful flower but also as an ingredient of everything from soup to love potions. Perhaps the reason is, it traveled from country to country and its universal appeal served as a bond between peoples. Again the rose was a thread — a horticultural one — that linked the gardener of today with the poet of ancient times.

History had an enormous influence on the spread of rose growing. The Romans as they conquered country after country, including England, brought with them roses as well as architecture, law and language. Roman writers and warriors did much towards the culture and growth of roses. The rose like music leaps national boundaries and is truly international in appeal and admiration, this has been evidenced throughout history.

Another historical event in which Roses played a dramatic lead, was the War of Roses during the fifteenth century in England. The houses of York and Lancaster fought a series of battles for control of the English throne. The symbol of the house of York was a white rose and that of Lancaster was a red rose. During my childhood I would listen intently and wide-eyed with amazement when my father (who was of English descent) would tell me of the War of Roses and that one of our ancestors fought in this war. He was Lord Howton of the House of Howton. I hope some day to have growing in my garden a York rose, (white) and Lancaster (red) or perhaps the rose which is a combination of the two.

There are instances in American History in which roses were featured. The Red Rose Rental Deed, for instance. This custom stemmed from English feudal times when tenants paid a symbolic rent of one red rose. The best known tradition in our country perhaps is the deed between the William Penn family in 1731. This is commemorated by a bronze marker erected in Pennsylvania in 1947 in front of the Red Rose Inn at Jennersville.

The marker reads: "In 1731 John Thomas and Richard Penn proprietaries, granted 500 acres to William Penn, grandson of the founder of Pennsylvania, subject to the rental of one red rose on the twenty fourth day of June yearly if the same be demanded." William Penn granted this tract to William Allen in 1742 and it was subject to his 'paying the red rose' aforesaid yearly. This marker is on the Samuel Cross property "Today this same property is owned by one of the country's largest growers, the Conrad Pyle Company.

I learned that this custom is still being carried out. Red Rose Rent day is celebrated yearly, and a red rose is "paid" to a direct descendant of the original Penn family. Yes America is rich with many, many interesting traditions.

Another historical event of interest is that of the PEACE Rose. As I remember it the story goes something like this.

"During World War Two when the German army was sweeping through France, M. Francis Meiland, who had originated or invented the rose called it Madam A Meiland, as an honor to his wife. Meiland was France's greatest rose grower. During these wartime days he was seeking some way to send budwood of that rose variety out of the country to prevent its seizure or destruction. He persuaded the American Consul at Lyon, France to take with him a pound package of the budwood. The Consul consented and brought it to America in his diplomatic pouch. In the meantime Meiland lost trace of the budwood, sent to America, but the American growers-Pyle had secured the budwood and was growing the Madam Meiland Rose, however he had named it PEACE. In 1945 the Peace rose made its debut at the United Nations meeting in San Francisco. When the Charter of the United Nations was adopted each member received a PEACE rose. The day the Peace rose was given to members at the United Nations meeting PEACE, also reached France. IT WAS V-DAY!

Several years ago the PEACE rose was officially adopted as Hereford's Official flower. It was the hope and plan at that time that every resident of Deaf Smith County, and especially those residing in Hereford would plant one or more Peace Roses. This is still a most worthy objective, and it is our hope that it will come to pass. We now have Peace, Chicago Peace, and Pink Peace. All of these grow beautifully in our area and are a gardener's delight.

Yes historical events have stimulated the growth of roses, not only in America but in other countries. Two events in Europe had enormous impact on rose growing by the common people. One of these occurred at the end of the War of Roses, when the two warring factions were united through marriage. And it was at that time the Rose was chosen as the royal emblem of England, thus giving impetus to rose growing through out England. (The rose is the State Flower of four of our states.)

Another event was the interest shown by Empress Josephine, when she sent messengers all over Europe instructing them to bring back every known variety of rose. Results were a surging national interest in the growing and use of roses for decorative purposes. The listing of roses in the catalogue immediately changed from 2,000 varieties to 5,000.

es Grown In America' — next week.

REMINDER: Rose growers should make plans to overwinter their roses. Some do nothing, but it is advisable to groom and put your roses to bed for the winter. This can be done by removing all foliage which is diseased and burn them. This will help to eliminate blackspot and mildew infestations for another year. If you don't, these will have a good start for next year — especially blackspot. To protect from winter kill, mound soil over the crown of the plants, and give a light feeding of a recommended soil builder. Tamp soil and then mulch. Use care that there will be good drainage, thus preventing deep freezing.

HAVE YOU SEEN? The Burning Bushes, at Mrs. O. G. Hill's home, 801 N. Main and

THANKS... to all of you who have written, called, or spoken to me about GLAD'S GARDEN. you have encouraged me, and I am most appreciative. I am always open for constructive criticism, and other garden hints or items of interest.

Debbie Stringer wins trophies galore

EXPERT RIDER AT 10

Debbie Stringer Starts Young As Prize Winner

By SHERRIN BETTS
Staff Writer

There is a young lady in Hereford who at the age of 10 is not only an expert rider, but has a hoard of trophies, belt buckles and ribbons which she has won in her short riding career.

Her latest addition is a first place plaque for winning the potato race in the Finals for the American Association of Sheriffs Posse and Riding Club at Dallas.

This little girl is Debbie Stringer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Stringer, Rt. 5, and she has been riding since she was four years old. When she was only six, Debbie won her first All-Round Championship in a Dumas rodeo.

Beginning with a Shetland pony, Debbie is now riding a registered quarterhorse named Brent Bar. He is a grandson of

Facial Makeup Demonstration Given For Club

Transformation of a member of Young Homemakers Home Demonstration Club into a young matron looking glamorous enough for a party, was achieved on an entertaining program for the club in First National Community Room Tuesday morning.

Mrs. John Hammett was hostess, and was used as the subject for a demonstration on facial makeup by two guests, Carolyn Axe and Betty Mae Kreighshauer. Mrs. Lloyd Smith, vice president, was in charge of a short business session.

Mrs. R. H. Trowbridge was a new member present with Meses Huey Lowrie, Tom Crawford, Max Rieman, Carl Armstrong and Kenneth Bryant.

Three Bars, a famous workhorse.

In order to qualify for the National Rodeo one must be high point winner in district competition and must be a member of a junior riders club. This was Debbie's first time to go to the national rodeo. In addition to the first place plaque, she and her sister, Vicki, won 4th place in the ribbon race.

Debbie felt very happy about the two wins, especially since her horse was lame upon first arriving at the rodeo which caused a bit of trouble. The rodeo, in which were entered about 2600 contestants, was approximately 32 hours in length. Both Debbie and her father seemed to feel that 32-hour rodeos are tiring.

Events of the rodeo were divided into three age categories, peewee, junior and senior. Naturally Debbie competed on the peewee level. This is not always the case, however. Her father says that she always competes with the high school students at the Friona Rodeo.

Debbie's father, who says he "used to rodeo" when he was younger, takes her to all the nearby rodeos during the summer. She has participated and won prizes at rodeos in Canadian, Pampa, Friona, Great Bend, Kansas and Guymon, Okla.

One of the rodeos Debbie attends during the school term is the Guymon Rodeo at which place she has won the All-Round title for the third consecutive year.

Stringer says of the Junior Riders Clubs, "I think it is real good for the younger group. They're really doing a good job with them." He also feels that junior rodeos are good for the youngsters. And so, with full approval of her family, Debbie will continue her unusual hobby of collecting trophies.

Humor Is Club Subject

Light reading, purely for pleasure, was recommended to fill occasional needs by the speaker at La Afflatus Estudio Club Tuesday, Mrs. B. A. Reddell. She reviewed a humorous book, The Crickets All Look Alike, by Bill Davidson.

Mrs. Emmett Hale was club hostess in her home and served refreshments after the program. Mrs. Reddell prefaced her review with remarks about light reading in general, showing some of Bill Davidson's cartoons to illustrate.

Others present were Meses A. B. Higgins, Walter Johnson, T. W. Roberson, A. H. Cook, B. F. Markham, Al Lee, Louie Olson and George Suggs.

Wife Of Former Resident Passes

Funeral services for Mrs. Kenneth Rayzor, wife of a former Hereford resident, were conducted in Los Angeles Oct. 28 after her death in that California city after a long illness. She was a sister-in-law of Mrs. Charles Newell of Hereford.

Mrs. Rayzor was the former Florence McLain of Perryton. Her husband is a member of a pioneer family, the W. H. Rayzors, who came to this county in 1900. He survives her, as do two sons, several grandchildren, sisters and brothers.

H.D. Council Nominating Group Selected

A nominating committee to submit a slate of 1967 officers for Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration Council was elected at a recent meeting in the county courtroom. Meses A. L. Hollingsworth, J. C. Morrison and John A. Smith are members.

Reports were given by Mrs. E. C. Hewitt on the Holly Cook-Off, which H. D. members helped judge; Mrs. Charles Brown on Rural Homemakers Day at Amarillo; and Mrs. Argen Draper, county agent, on the fair at Vega, where she was a judge. Mrs. E. C. Hammett presided. Members were asked to take newspaper subscriptions through the Council. Clubs represented were Progressive, North Hereford, Messenger, Cultural, Westway, Wyche, Bippus, Dawn, Young Homemakers and Ford.

NOW CARS

Now—at the Auto Show! More than just "new" cars. More than new makeup on old faces. The Now Cars are designed from scratch for today's driving by today's drivers. Cars with engines that never existed before. Cars with more room, more power, more safety, more flair. The Now Cars. Cars on top of today from the company on top of today: The 1967 American Motors. See them!

5/50,000 ON ENGINE AND DRIVE TRAIN
2/24,000 ON THE ENTIRE AUTOMOBILE
Now—this great new warranty: In addition to 2-year or 24,000-mile warranty on the entire automobile, American Motors Corporation warrants the engine block, head and internal parts, water pump, intake manifold, transmission case and internal parts (except manual clutch), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle, differential and every 24,000 miles, whichever comes first. The owner must change the engine oil and filter cap (filtered type) and carburetor air cleaner element every 4,000 miles and replace it Dealer every six (6) months and have him certify its receipt and the car's mileage. Further miles, whichever comes first, will be repaired or replaced, without charge at an Authorized American Motors Dealership. Owners are responsible for deterioration, misuse and normal maintenance.

REBEL Now—the first Excitement Machines in the intermediate class! Cars for Now that never existed before! Hardtop, convertible, wagons, sedans—all with big Six or Typhoon V-8 power! With more people space than any other cars their size!

AMBASSADOR Now—full-size luxury cars created for today for the young man who wants his luxury car now! New 118" wheelbase. Interiors now as spacious as the most expensive full-size cars. Choice of 5 smooth, silent V-8's and Sixes.

RAMBLER AMERICAN Now—Typhoon V-8 thunder comes to the low-priced economy champs! America's only complete line of compacts!

District Music Clubs Will Convene Friday

Music Club members from over the Panhandle will arrive in Dawn tomorrow morning for the annual fall convention of District 1, Texas Federation of Music Clubs, to find women Music of Dawn Club waiting to welcome them.

Preparations for entertaining the district convention have been under way several months by the hostess club, headed by Mrs. William Wimberley, president. Mrs. Steve Bavousett, immediate past president, and Mrs. R. E. Miller Jr. are convention co-chairmen and Mrs. Robert Strain program chairman.

Since the district president, Mrs. Carl Wimberley, is also a member of Dawn Club, practically all details of convention

Opening at 9:15 a. m. after a host locality.

Preparation have been made in registration and coffee hour, the program will concentrate on business during the morning, closing with a memorial service.

These will be in Dawn Baptist Church, and luncheon will follow in the nearby Community House. Mrs. Dellon Bumgardner of Carthage, state Music Federation president, will speak then. Conference sessions for club officers and chairman are scheduled in the afternoon.

Intervals of music will include a short organ concert by Margaret Heiny of Amarillo in the morning session, and at 3 p. m. the Performing Arts Recital by pupils from the music department of West Texas State College, open to the public.

Junior Music Club members will have their convention and program Saturday.

Dawn Music Club began its hostess plans last spring when it was designated the convention city, and Mrs. Wimberley took the president's office. She has been an active member of the club several years, also participates in church and civic affairs.

Teacher of an adult class and the primary-age Sunbeam Band, she is also treasurer of Dawn Baptist Church. She has served on the county United Fund board and as a board member of the county Red Cross chapter. She is now on the Fine Arts Council recently formed in Deaf Smith County. She holds membership in Pioneer Study Club of Hereford.

Not only the hostess chairmen, but every member of Dawn Music Club has worked on a committee for the convention. They include Mmes. Clarence Betzen, J. B. Caraway, Leo Criddle, R. E. Curtsinger, Matsy Heck, Walter Lemons, Edgar Lemons.

Also Mmes. Melvin May, Pat Miller, H. V. McCabe, Jim McSmith, Edgar Sowell, R. T. Stewart, Eugene Suttle, L. W. Toolsey, Ted Wimberley and Miss Bertha Frye.

Gifts Sent Girlstown Residents From Club

A visit to Girlstown at Whiteface was made recently by five members of Mothers Needle Club, who took quilts and clothing which they had made or collected for use of the girls resident there.

Mrs. Ralph Paul served as chauffeur for the group in her automobile. Also in the party were Mmes. W. T. Gunnstenson, J. L. Shirley, H. E. Lindley and Annie Springer. They were shown over Girlstown while they were there, saw the girls' living quarters, dining and recreation rooms and food preparation equipment.

Inquiring into needs of the girls, they learned that towels, dish towels, clean rags, clothing and all types of food especially gifts. Girlstown is operated as a home for girls who have no families to care for them, or Digging of sugar beets in Kansas, Colorado, Texas and New Mexico began late in September. Per acre yields and sugar content generally are good. Processing of beets at Santa Fe served plants at Rocky Ford, Colorado and Hereford, Texas is expected to continue into early 1967.

SEND A BRAND-GRAM TO A FRIEND OR RELATIVE IN VIET NAM

The Hereford Brand, in co-operation with the Military Affiliate Radio System, now makes it possible for you to send a message to a friend or relative in Viet Nam, free of charge.

The coupon below, mailed to the Brand, starts a 6,000 mile communications chain to send your 25-word message. The message will be relayed to a MARS station and transmitted to Viet Nam.

In Viet Nam, your message will be decoded and delivered to the serviceman. If he's in an inaccessible area, it will be read to him over the telephone.

If you want to send a message, fill out the coupon and mail it to the Brand. Be sure to include your serviceman's full name, rank, serial number, and the name and number of his military unit and APO number.

The message and signature should be no more than 25 words, not counting the address.

This Brand public service is not intended for emergency messages, but only those of a personal or "morale-building" nature.

While neither the Brand nor the MARS network can absolutely guarantee delivery in that volatile area, every effort will be made to do so, if the form is filled out completely. Messages can be delivered to land-based operations only, and not to ships in waters off Viet Nam.

BRAND GRAM TO VIET NAM

Print or type exact name, rank, etc. of serviceman. Please keep text of message to 25 words or less. This message will be sent without charge via the Military Affiliate Radio System. Neither MARS nor the Brand can guarantee delivery, but every effort will be made to do so as soon as possible. No emergency messages, please.

THE CHURCH I LOVE IS THE IMAGE (LIKENESS) OF CHRIST

"And we all, with unveiled face, beholding (reflecting) the glory of the Lord, are being changed into his likeness (image) from one degree of glory to another;" (2 Corinthians 3:18).

We do not know the physical features of Christ, nor is it important. But we do know the spiritual qualities and characteristics of the Son of God, and it is all important that we take on his spiritual likeness and image.

Christ is the Son of God; and it is important that we become children of God. This we do when we experience the "new birth" of being born of "water and the Spirit." (John 3:3-5).

Christ was without sin. We may get our past sins removed. The apostle Peter told the multitude on Pentecost, "Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins; and you shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit." (Acts 2:38).

Jesus described himself as "meek and lowly." "He humbled himself becoming obedient." The Lord had compassion for all men. "He went about doing good." He did the will and work of his heavenly Father, not his own. His heart was filled with love. If we are to be Christ-like (this is the meaning of the term Christian), we must take on these characteristics of the Christ. We must be in his likeness, his spiritual image.

Jesus said, "I am the light of the world; he who follows me will not walk in darkness, but will have the light of life." (John 8:12). When we take on the brightness of Christ, the beauty of his spiritual likeness, reflecting his true light; then, we also become the "light of the world." (Matthew 5:14, 16).

AWARDS RECEIVED — The annual awards banquet of the Young Farmers of Texas and Young Homemakers of Texas, held Saturday evening, was the occasion for presentation of citations to the outstanding member chosen from each chapter and the "workhorse" of the YFT. The latter award is being received by Floy Driver, left above, from Don Waters, representing Hereford Butane Co., which gives the plaque. Mrs. Clark Andrews, right, is holding her plaque denoting YHT honors. She has just completed a term as president of the Hereford Chapter. The Outstanding Young Farmer award went to Bobby Viegel.

Convention Tops Special Events Of November For Legion Auxiliary

Special events of this month were planned at the American Legion Auxiliary meeting Tuesday evening in Legion Hall. Attendance at the District 18 convention in Memphis, Tex. this week headed the list. Announcement was made that Mrs. A. Rafferty of Gruver, district president, is resigning and that her successor will be elected at the convention, which will be held Saturday and Sunday. A Thanksgiving dinner for Legion and Auxiliary members and their families was scheduled for 7:30 p. m. Nov. 15 in the Legion Hall. This is an annual entertainment, and colored slides of convention scenes will be shown.

Hereford members will head the hosts; members of District 18, for a party honoring Mr. and Mrs. Jack Flynt of Dimmitt at the Knights of Columbus Hall here Nov. 19. Flynt was elected state Legion commander and Mrs. Flynt state Auxiliary president at the Texas conventions last summer. Guests from over the state have been invited for the party.

Time of Auxiliary meetings for the winter months was changed from 8 p. m. to 7:30 p. m. Mrs. Bill Gilleland, resided for business.

Mrs. Ira Ott presented the program on Veterans Hospitals in Texas, saying that the first such hospital in the U. S. was built in 1925 by the American Legion, before the Veterans Administration was established.

Texas now has nine hospitals administered by the VA. One is in Amarillo, dedicated in 1940. A new one is being built at San Antonio. The first hospital for mentally disturbed veterans was that in Waco. In the state, 2,280 patients are served by the VA hospitals, and about 130,000 veterans are in hospitals over the nation, the speaker said.

'I'LL TAKE IT'
LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Dorothy Ritz telephoned an airline office to reserve a ticket to St. Louis. "Please call back in an hour," a harried clerk said. "Our electronic computer isn't working." An hour later she called back and a young woman answered. "The computer's still off," she explained. "You mean I still can't make a reservation?" "No," replied the clerk, obviously a computer-hater, "I'll take it."

Educators View School Problem Of Southwest

Two faculty members from Hereford schools worked Sunday and Monday at Tucson, Ariz., with colleagues from five states on study of techniques to upgrade the school program for Spanish-speaking children.

Miss Della Stagner, elementary coordinator, and Don Blakenship, elementary school principal, went to the meeting with two elementary principals and a special reading teacher from Dimmitt. Mrs. Helen Richardson Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Skinner.

Several hundred educators and school officials of the Southwest heard government officials, teachers, school administrators and Dr. Irvamae Applegate, president of the National Education Association, speak of ways to help the 1.6 million Spanish-speaking children in the area.

They studied school programs in operation, the recruiting and training of Spanish-speaking teachers, how best to aid children who are semi-literate in both Spanish and English, and the roles local, state and federal agencies can play in developing new programs.

Community Beauty Is Board Topic

From local to national scope, beautification programs in progress over the United States were discussed and pictured on film to board members of District One, Texas Garden Clubs, at the fall board meeting in Lubbock recently. Mmes. O. G. Hill Sr., district governor; Mrs. A. L. Manjeot, district treasurer; Mrs. R. L. Ethridge, anti-litter chairman, and Mrs. R. N. Yarbro, scholarship scrapbook chairman, were board members who attended from Hereford. Mrs. Yarbro is a member of Bud to Blossom Club here, the others of Hereford Garden Club. Community Betterment was the subject of a workshop conducted by Mrs. Mary Kittell, national chairman of civic betterment and beautification. Mrs. Lena Odell, district chairman, presented and discussed plans for landscaping of grounds at the Texas governors' mansion by garden clubs of the state, a project in which officers and members of District One will assist.

Mrs. Kittell added to this discussion and also showed slides of beautification work in this and other states, done by garden clubs and various civic groups as part of a national clean-up and beautification campaign.

"Beauty is good business; any town that is assisting and seeking to beautify its surroundings is a growing town and will prosper," she said. "Beauty is contentious and is catching on throughout the nation."

Mrs. Hill also attended the annual board meeting of Texas Garden Clubs, Inc. at Odessa last week, and brought official greetings from District One as its governor.

RETURNS FROM VISIT

Mrs. W. H. Awtry Sr. returned Friday from a visit with her son, W. H. Awtry Jr., and his family at Ulysses, Kan. Harvest was in full swing on the Kansas farm, she says, with corn the crop being harvested at present. The milo harvest is complete, and sugar beets are not gathered until later, as cold weather improves the sugar content.

Membership Drive Launched For VFW Post

The 1967 membership drive of Roy Wederbrook Post No. 4818, Veterans of Foreign Wars, is well underway, Commander Harry A. Burke has announced.

"While our Post is still lacking a few members at this time," said Burke, "It is believed that we can easily exceed our quota for this year."

Burke added that he "would like to see this VFW Post become so outstanding in its charitable enterprises that everyone in West Texas could be justifiably proud of it for its work. To do this we need the help of old members as well as new, and eligible, interested veterans."

The sale of Buddy Poppies is scheduled to begin Nov. 11. The ladies Auxiliary will be assisted in the sale by the Veterans, Junior Nurses Aides. Proceeds from the sale will go for Veterans Service and Rehabilitation, the V. F. W. Childrens Home at Eaton Rapids, Mich., and local charitable projects.

Annual dues in the organization are $8, and membership from any member or by writing Commander Harry A. Burke at 234 Centre, or John Green, Quartermaster, Box 649, Hereford.

Transfer Rule Puzzling

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Texas Interscholastic League Legislative council meets next week and one of the items to be considered deals with transfers.

This rule, which forces a boy to lay out of athletic competition for a year, has been a bone of contention ever since it was put in back in the twenties.

Most of the static has come from the parents of boys who have had to move because of transfers in the armed services. There also are the parents who have moved because of transfers in the ministry or for professional reasons.

It is argued that these boys are penalized because they are losing a year of competition in athletics for something over which they have no control. The Interscholastic League admits that there are cases of hardship because of the rule but it is necessary to prevent the recruiting of athletes in high school.

In other words, rules are made for the general benefit and can't be framed to help the minority, through fear of hurting the majority.

There probably are 200 boys a year coming under this category — their parents have to move to other sections because of the military or professional service. This means boys who could make the A team in football; there are many more transfers in which the boy is not an athlete or couldn't make an athletic team anyway.

A sizable number of school people favor a change but none can suggest one that will prevent recruiting such as they had in the days of the old Oil Belt in Texas schoolboy football. That was back in the twenties when the transfer rule didn't apply when a boy's parents moved.

Entire families were moved in this area — Ranger, Cisco, Eastland, Breckenridge, Abilene — and the fathers were given jobs. It was legal, however, until the rule was tightened up to include the parents.

The rule applies only to football and basketball and does not distinguish between the two sports. If a boy plays basketball at a school, then transfers to another, he is ineligible for both football and basketball for a year.

Big Quail Crop Stretches Season

AUSTIN — Upland game hunters will have one of those rare opportunities afield that ordinarily is left for the imagination when the expanded quail season opened in twelve south Texas counties November 1.

An amazingly abundant crop of bobwhites and blue quail prompted the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission to advance the opener 12 days.

Land owners and biologists had observed the extraordinary quail population and agreed that only an extended harvest would prevent loss to natural attrition of many of the fleet birds.

Department biologists said the longer harvest would mean legitimate taking of quail that simply would not survive. They explained that quail is the most explosive game bird, population-wise, and is also very susceptible to a short life span.

can transfer and immediately compete in either sport at another junior high school, but they can not if they go to a senior high school.

The reason is that once there was quite a traffic going on in recruiting junior high school athletes for senior high schools.

It is argued that if a boy is the son of a military man or minister, he never is recruited, but the League finds that there have been instances of it.

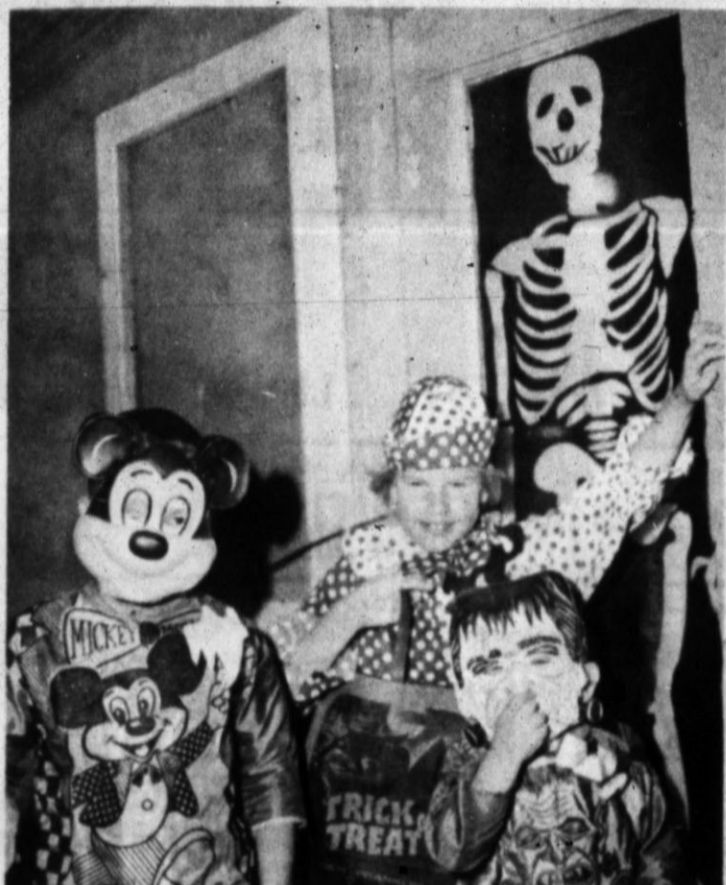

Just what rule can be worked out to take care of only the worthy boys has everybody puzzled, but the school people sure would like to.

If any plan is advanced, it will have to be air tight which means something that never has been thought of before.

It's quite doubtful that the school people will want to put it on an individual basis. They would spend mos of their time checking and then would have no assurance they were handling it for the benefit of the majority — something that's necessary for any rule.

Work Without College Sent Bankers' President To Top

ABILENE — Walter Johnson ascended to banking's top echelons the hard way: by hard work.

Now 49 and the president of the Texas Bankers Association, Johnson stepped into a major bank presidency at the age of 37.

That's pretty young as such things go, especially for a man who never had the chance to go to college.

He began his career as a bottom-of-the-ladder bookkeeper at the Raymondville First National Bank in 1934, when he was 18. Three years later, he had advanced to the position of cashier.

He has been advancing ever since, and has been president of Abilene's oldest bank, the First National, since 1954.

Johnson was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross during World War II. He enlisted as a private and came out four years later a captain with 44 combat missions over Europe to his credit.

Speaking of how he got the DFC, he brushes heroics aside, saying it was simply the result of "wanting to stay alive."

It happened on a bombing mission when was a bombardier with the 9th Air Force. One of the bombs in the plane failed to fall clear over the target and got stuck in the bomb bay. Johnson calmly de-fused the bomb and rendered it harmless.

"It was just one of those situations you get into where you have no choice — you have to get out of it."

Before the war, he worked out of Dallas as an assistant examiner of national banks.

He helped organize several new Dallas banks in the late 1940s and early 1950s, then moved to Abilene to become president of the First National, then known as the Farmers and Merchants National.

A native of the small South Texas town of Lyford, he attended school there until his father died when he was 13. Then he and his three brothers had to go to work, precluding college.

Johnson finds time for various civic projects and is a trustee and vice chairman of the board of McMurry College.

While a lieutenant stationed at Hondo Air Force Base, he went to Bandera for a weekend and met the former Virginia Pearce of San Antonio. They married a year later, and now have two sons. He wants both his boys to go to college, for, as he says: "In the present world, a man needs all the education he can get."

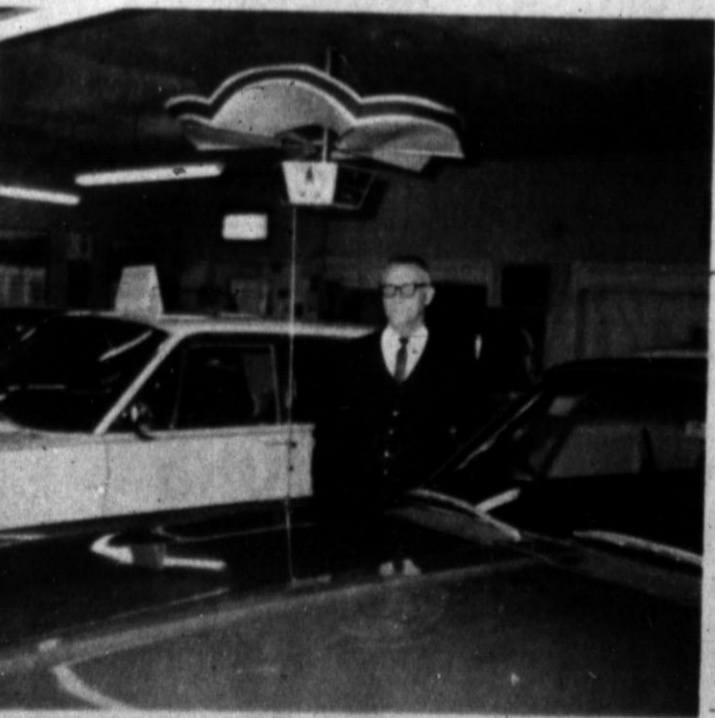

Calvary Baptist Revival Begins

Revival services will begin Friday and continue each day through Nov. 13 in Calvary Baptist Church, with the Rev. Jack Badgero of Second Baptist Church, Vernon, as evangelist. Songs will be directed by Bob Reed, music and youth director of Calvary Church, at each service. Preaching hours will be 6 a. m. and 8 p. m. daily at the new Calvary Church building on North Hy. 385.

The Rev. Clarence F. Powell, pastor, invites the public to all the revival meetings. A nursery will be open for young children.

Farming 'For Reasonable Dollar' Wins Outstanding YFT Award For Veigel

"We don't try to push for the biggest yield, but try to farm for the reasonable dollar."

The above mentioned farming method is one of numerous reasons Bob Veigel has been named Young Farmer of the Year. The award was presented Saturday night during a banquet of the Young Farmers and Young Homemakers.

The quiet, rugged-looking Veigel works with his father Robert Veigel, on four sections of land about 10 miles north of Hereford on U. S. 385. He and his wife, Ella Marie, live in a spacious, all-modern farm home with their two children, Steve 5, and Holly, 2.

Nearly 1,300 acres of Veigel land is cultivated. A breakdown shows approximately 1,000 acres of milo, some 240 acres of soybeans and 25 acres in the two pecan orchards.

"We usually have only one main crop," said Veigel. "In the 1950s, dad first started the government — allotments with wheat. He was hailed out three years in a row so he switched over to milo, which is a lot better crop."

"The last three years," he continued, "we have raised the soybeans. The first two years, we weren't too happy, but we've averaged over 40 bushels an acre this year and think they're a pretty good crop." The milo crop this year has averaged about 7,700 pounds per acre, the best the Veigels have ever had. "It's really not outstanding, but is good enough."

Veigel, 28, graduated from Texas Tech University in 1962 with a bachelor's degree in animal husbandry. "He started out to take a degree in engineering," said his mother, "but after the first semester he switched over to his first love — agriculture."

Having grown up on the farm, Veigel has worked with the land and animals all of his life. "The work hours vary," he explained. "In the summer, I usually work 12 or more hours a day. During the winter, I put in a normal working day of eight or nine hours."

Bob himself has numerous livestock in local feed lots, and his father is raising 600 head of yearlings.

Bob and his father, who lives at 511 N. Roosevelt, seem to have their differences on only one thing, Bob says "Dad makes all the decisions." Dad, however, says, "We usually talk about things and decide together. Bob has some very good ideas and I am real proud of him."

In explaining some of the farming methods utilized on Veigel land, Bob said, "the best thing about this farming is the way we irrigate. We make good use of tailwater and try to make it go as far as we can."

He also said that the farming is done on narrow rows which are 28 inches apart instead of the regular 40 inches. "The main advantage is that it takes less time to soak out a row and you have less tailwater waste."

A tail ditch has been constructed at the bottom of the field, allowing water to bank against it and soak better before draining. "Not everyone can do that," said Veigel, "because the land here is flat enough on bottom to allow it."

No big improvements are planned on Veigel land, although some changes are forth coming. "Another 300 acres will be coming out of the government feed grain program next year, and we'll probably put down another well or two and more underground piping to tie the wells together."

The family's two pecan orchards, believed to be the only ones in Deaf Smith County, also are expected to produce their first harvest of Schley paper shell pecans. "We've had part of them four years and part of them three years and they would have produced this year, but the freeze nipped the buds" Seven acres of pecan trees front the farm home and 18 acres have been planted behind the residence.

Veigel doesn't confine his activities to the farm. Besides belonging to the Young Farmers he is a member of the T-Bone Club, is secretary-treasurer of the Deaf Smith County Grain Producers Association, and is active in the First Christian Church. Ella Marie Veigel presently is taking two courses at West Texas State University, where she is only 16 hours away from a degree. She also is a member of L'Allegria and the and the Young Mothers Study Club.

"I am very proud of the honor," said Veigel in describing Saturday night's presentation, "but it is as much an honor to my father and the men who work on the farm."

TFB Convention Set Next Week

A delegation from Deaf Smith County will be among members of the Texas Farm Bureau who will formulate policies for the next year at the 95,000-member organization holds its convention in Corpus Christi Nov. 13-16. Votes on resolutions will be the main order of business.

The county organization here will have six voting delegates. Robert Jacobson is county president and Frank Ford Jr. vice president.

Some 2,000 persons — farmers ranchers and their families — are expected to attend the 33rd annual meeting of the state's largest general farm organization. The four-day session culminates the Farm Bureau's policy development process on the state level.

More than 800 voting delegates from 203 organized county Farm Bureaus will take part in adoption of state policies for next year. They will also make recommendations on national issues to the annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation which will be Dec. 4-8 in Las Vegas.

Registration for the TFB convention will get under way 2 p. m., Sunday, Nov. 13, in the Driscoll Hotel. The program that day features discussion meet and talent find competition for Farm Bureau young people. TFB President C. H. DeVaney of Waco will make his annual address Monday morning.

Special conferences are slated that afternoon. These include meetings on livestock, field crops, research and education, transportation and related subjects, natural resources, farm labor, dairying, poultry, and membership services.

District caucuses are also scheduled for Monday afternoon. The annual TFB Queen Contest will be that evening in the Memorial Coliseum.

Outstanding guest speakers highlight the Tuesday morning session. Voting on resolutions begins

Tuesday afternoon, and will continue next day until all proposed recommendations have been considered.

Recommendations on state and national issues are sent in. See TFB, Page 3)

'67 Stock Show Entertainment Star Engaged

FORT WORTH (SpI) — Bewiskered Ken Curtis, better known to RV audience as Festus Haggren of "Gunsmoke", will be the guest star of the Fort Worth Stock Show and Rodeo, Jan. 27-Feb. 5, reports W. R. Watt, president and manager.

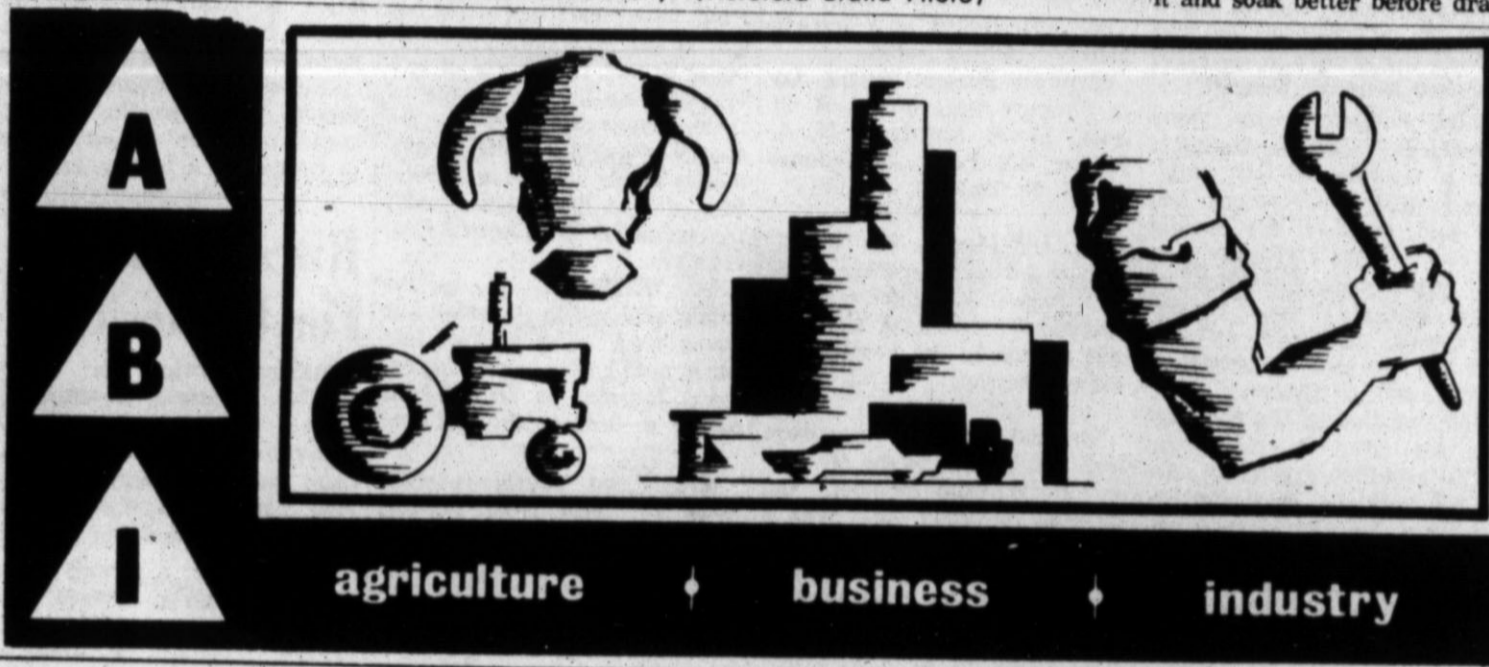

Mail orders for Fort Worth Rodeo tickets are now being accepted by the Stock Show office. Tickets will be distributed in December.

Premium lists for the 1967 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show are being mailed to all previous exhibitors. Others wanting a copy may write the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, P. O. Box 150, Fort Worth, Texas 76101.

Watt noted there are quite a few changes in the 1967 premium List and suggested prospective exhibitors carefully study the book to see which ones affect them.

Some of the class changes for the 1967 Show are: the addition of a commercial female competition for Angus, two new classes in the Angus Junior Breeding Beef Heifer Show, and the addition of a Junior Breeding Sheep event.

Premiums for the 1967 Show will be approximately $224,000. Livestock exhibitors will have until December 15 to submit entry cards for cattle, horses, sheep and swine. Entries for poultry, rabbits and pigeons close January 15.

ALL AMERICAN MADE

Accessories For Industrial Plants Found In Big Stock

"We don't have any inferior products," says O. R. Sanders, manager of the Hereford branch of the A. D. Gugenheim Company, "it's all first class." He says all of the products his company offers are "American-made," with no foreign-manufactured goods being sold at Gugenheim.

Founded in 1939 by A. D. "Gugie" Gugenheim, Sr. the first A. D. Gugenheim Company was located in the Herrington Hotel in Amarillo. A shop was opened in Hereford in the early 1940's but later closed. The present branch was opened in February of 1965 and is located at 309 S. Main. In addition to the Amarillo and Hereford companies, the Gugenheims have a half interest in the Diamond Industrial Supply at Plainview.

Sanders has been with the local company since its opening last year. He says that due to his past experience in farming and such jobs he was "fairly familiar" with the items the Gugenheim Co. specializes in.

Before taking up the position of manager of this business, Sanders was required to take a correspondence course supplied by the company. When speaking of this business which he's become engrossed in, Sanders says, "I have enjoyed it immensely. I even enjoyed the correspondence course."

Since his father died in 1958, A. D. Gugenheim, Jr. has watched over the businesses of the Gugenheim estate. Present officers of the company are: Mrs. A. D. Gugenheim, Sr., chairman of the board; A. D. Gugenheim, Jr., president; S. J. M. Chunn, vice president and Mrs. Betty Ann Manheim of Shreveport, La. secretary-treasurer.

Gugenheim says of his business, "We are stocking distributors and between three stores have over a quarter of a million dollar inventory." Sanders mentioned that his stock includes about $6000 worth of industrial V belts for transmission of power.

In the store a customer is offered anything from a bearing to a fire extinguisher to a draper chain to a conveyor. Gugenheim says that his store sells various types of drives, chains, belts, etc. Also all types of material handling equipment.

He says, "Our customers are elevators, feed mills, vegetable sheds and industrial cooperatives in and north of Amarillo." Also available in the shop are parts for harvesting and digging machines used on farms.

The main office of the Gugenheim company remains in Amarillo. Gugenheim devotes most of his time to sales. Covering the entire Panhandle and part of New Mexico, he works out of the main office in Amarillo, spending one or two days there each week.

Gugenheim says his store 'also sells for direct shipment on items not commonly stocked merchandise."

Sanders does most of the exhibits and displays in the shop, though a few items do come in. See ACCESSORIES, Page 4

Semi-Arid Land Crisis Called Science Problem

LUBBOCK — Seven internationally known speakers, including Gov. John Connally and Sec. of Interior Stuart Udall, called for more education and scientific use of natural resources to solve the problems of arid and semi-arid lands.

The speakers gave their views on the subject during Tech's symposium on "Arid and Semi-Arid Lands — a Preview." The symposium, said new Texas Tech president Dr. Grover E. Murray, is the first of a series. The second one will be held in Mexico and another is being planned in Australia.

Gov. Connally said, "Civilizations have flourished or declined as a result of improper exploitation of land and water resources."

"The long history of the lands in the eastern Mediterranean demonstrates the decline resulting from the lack of knowledge and the lack of foresight in coming to grips with specific and broad problems of land and water resources in an arid and semi-arid environment."

Connally said that research institutions such as Texas Tech are needed to study the problems of the arid and semi-arid environments as they relate to Texas. He stressed the importance of cooperative planning and pledged an attack through basic and applied research on the many water problems facing the state — particularly in West Texas.

Sec. Udall said, "the problem is no longer how do we stretch our usable waters. It is rather, how many times can we re-use waters. The task is not an exercise in mere national water cleanliness — it is one of sheer survival."

"The west has long been alerted to its dependency on water. Right here you face all the water problems of the rest of the nation with a few extra ones, peculiar to your state, thrown in."

"At the federal level," Udall continued, "we are continuing to look for scientific solutions to many of these problems. Our research ranges from weather modification and massive desalination programs to acid mine drainage. We are attempting to intercept rivers in the sky and unplug them over our reclamation plumbing system. We are making progress at wringing fresh water from the salty seas and the underground brackish reservoirs."

Dr. William T. Pecora, director, United States Geological Survey, said "it is geoscience which will provide for the resources and energy required to keep our civilization viable in future years. For any life species to persist on this planet a successful adjustment must be made between population and collective arrangement. This is to say that critical mass and critical distribution are both required to prevent extinction."

"The complications of our modern world and the problems of living in this technological age See ARID, Page 4

Cattle Raisers, Feeders To Meet

Lubbock will be the site of the quarterly directors' meeting of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, Dec. 4-5.

Committee meetings are scheduled Sunday afternoon and the general session is slated at 9 a. m. Monday with TSCRA president Ben Carpenter of Dallas presiding.

The directors' meeting will be held in conjunction with the sixth annual Southwestern Cattle Feeding Conference which each year is sponsored by the TSCRA Cattle Feeders Division. Opening sessions of the Conference will be on Monday afternoon.

The feasibility of using cattle futures trading in hedging operations and as guidelines for management and marketing decisions will highlight discussions at the Feeding Conference.

Stanley Waldner, livestock specialist with Clayton Brokerage Company, Kansas City, Mo. will review developments in cattle futures trading during the past two years.

Waldner is one of several authorities who will present information designed to help cattle feeders in management and marketing areas. A panel moderated by Jack Tompkins of Amarillo will discuss operation of custom feedlots.

Also featured at this year's conference, which each year is sponsored by the Cattle Feeders Division of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, is a talk by Dr. Ray Cerniga, a nationally known veterinarian. See CATTLE, Page 3

Girl Rider Wins National Honors

Individual high-point winner in the junior girls division of the National Finals of the American Association of Sheriff's Poses and Riding Clubs Playdays, held in Dallas over the weekend, was Candy Poarch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. H. (Hoot) Poarch who live southeast of Hereford.

Miss Poarch, 15, won first place in the junior girls division of the Potato Race, first in the Poles for junior girls and first in the Barrels for junior girls to take the top award.

The Hereford girl is a frequent winner in junior riding events.

Debbie Stringer, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Stringer, won first place in the Potato race for pee wee girls, then joined forces with her sister, Vickie, 11, to win fourth place in the Ribbon Race for pee wee girls.

A total of 2,600 contestants from all over the nation participated in the finals, held Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Fair Park Coliseum in Dallas. The Hereford Riders Club is in District II of the association. District II is made up of the Rolling Hills Riding Club and Will Rogers Range Riders Club of Amarillo, Randall County Sheriff's Posse, Hereford Riders, Tulia Riding Club, Sagebrush Riders of Fritch, Vega Horsemen, Spearman Riding Club, Leather and Lace of Borger, Canadian Riders Club, and the Plainview Sheriff's Posse.

New Cars Going On Display

Hereford automobile dealers will put their new models on display during the Hereford State Bank's third annual Auto Show, which begins at 7:30 a. m. Saturday.

A minimum of 20 new cars and an airplane will be housed under a large circus tent on the bank's parking lot for viewing by the public, said Dean House, bank vice president.

"The show," said House, "will continue Saturday night as long as possible." See CARS, Page 3

Reporter Reports Slight Damage

EDITOR'S NOTE: Newspaper reporters rush to cover accidents. When they are in one, it can be embarrassing, but true to the policy of this paper, all events are covered with equal diligence — well, almost equal. Perhaps this reporter got carried away on his particular event.

Ever had one of those days? Sherrin Bette of 506 Ave. J had her's on Friday. And what a day it was!

Besides having a car wreck, which was enough to leave her a nervous wreck, Sherrin was fined twice — once for DRIVING A VOLKSWAGON — had her picture made by a fellow employee, had a "warrant" issued for her immediate arrest and was heckled by fellow workers, her little sister and the Hereford Police Department. Most important, she will have to tell her brother the wrecked his car.

Sherrin, 19-year-old staff writer for the Hereford Brand, had hurried home about noon Friday to take some groceries for dinner. It had been the usual type day until that time, but THEN IT HAPPENED.

Leaving the driveway of the family home, Sherrin backed into the path of an oncoming car and WHAM — a battered right rear fender.

Calmly and deliberately, telling herself all the while that she wasn't going to get upset and cry, Sherrin went into the house to call the newspaper to say she would be late in returning to work, and her mother to tell her of the wreck. She broke up on both calls to further embarrass herself.

To add to her woes, the policeman who arrived at the accident scene was one with whom Sherrin talks every day while checking the police beat. She had almost prayed that an officer she didn't know would cover the accident.

Then her fellow employee made an appearance with his camera, laughing up his sleeve as he reveled in the scene.

Sherrin had barely, and shakily, reached the office when a message from the Police Department was delivered to her desk saying that a warrant for her arrest had been issued. With coat tails flying and Volkswagen rattling, Sherrin sped to appear before Corporation Court Judge Jim Neill.

With a straight face, Judge Neill presented Sherrin with two tickets — one for causing the accident and the other for DRIVING A VOLKSWAGEN. Slightly dubious, Sherrin asked about the second ticket and was told she would have to see Chief of Police Marshall Padgett.

Chief Padgett, going along with the gag, told Sherrin that it was a violation of city ordinance to drive a Volkswagen and she said, "well, if it's against the law, I guess I'm guilty." At that point, Judge Neill took the ticket and tore it up as the entire department broke into laughter. "It was awfully embarrassing," admitted Sherrin.

Thinking that at last her worries were over, Sherrin returned to the office only to be met by the hecklers, who gleefully harassed her for the remainder of the day. Then one smart-aleck got the idea to write a story about the entire incident.

ARC BOARD TO MEET

The board of directors of the Deaf Smith County Chapter, American Red Cross, will meet at 10 a. m. Nov. 8 in the Community Room of First National Bank. Recognitions and reports on various phases of the chapter's work in this county are on the agenda.

The community has been having Indian summer the past few days. Has been a nice fall for fall harvesting. Most of the farmers have finished their maize cutting, hay baling and stacking. Every one would love to see some moisture, since its getting very dry and dusty. Some of the wheat is beginning to turn yellow and farmers say its dry weather.

The Messenger H. D. Club members made a tour of Hereford Friday morning. They toured King's Manor, a gift shop and had lunch at the restaurant in the mall. Later the women visited Mrs. Billie Brown at West Gate and presented her with a gift. They toured Dolly Textiles and saw interesting items there. They saw the homecoming parade, toured a Hereford furniture store and had some refreshment at a drive-in before returning home.

Members present for the day in Hereford were Mmes. H. D. Base, Elmer Northcutt, N. A. Brown, Bill Page, John Jones and S. N. Thweatt.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Thweatt were in Amarillo on Wednesday. They visited Joe Colman in the hospital. Joe is doing well, but will remain in the hospital for some time yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Page were host and hostess to the Messenger H. D. Club members and families Saturday night with a Halloween party. There was 42 and lots of visiting. Mrs. John Jones, who came masqueraded as the bell of the party. Cookies, cakes, doughnuts, coffee and punch were served to Mrs. and Mmes. Loyd Sever, John Jones, S. N. Thweatt, J. E. Legion Post Adopts Resolution Concerning U.S. War In Viet Nam

The American Legion Post 182 of Hereford, in its regular meeting Tuesday night adopted a resolution concerning the war in Viet Nam, to be taken to the district conference scheduled for Memphis, Texas, November 5 and 6 and appointed delegates to that convention.

Appointed as delegates to represent the Hereford Legion Post were Grant Hanna and Ira Ott. The men will have a total of four votes at the conference.

The resolution, which will be presented to the District at the conference reads as follows:

WHEREAS, it is inconceivable that the people of the United States should with the members of their Armed Forces to be sent into combat without every protection available to them;

AND WHEREAS, Our Armed Forces are now engaged in a conflict which has extended over a period of years, with increasing casualties and steadily mounting manpower requirements;

AND WHEREAS, Our fighting men, under existing conditions are in an ambiguous position, being denied their right of unpaid support by the people of their homeland; subject to the charge of being guerrillas or criminals by the enemy; and therefore, denied their rights under the terms of the Geneva Convention;

AND WHEREAS, It is the height of injustice to permit our young men, being drafted into our Armed Forces, or having enlisted therein, to be used as pawns to further the political schemes, domestic or international, of individuals or factions in our Nation;

AND WHEREAS, We believe the people of the United States are willing and desire — to meet the Nation's treaty commitments in an honorable and open manner, facing the Nation's treaty responsibilities for the use of armed force committed to victory or honorable defeat.

AND WHEREAS, Once committed to the use of our armed might, we have the obligation to those among us who offer their bodies, minds, and lives in our behalf, to delegate the conduct of our cause to those trained for this purpose, that we may attain Victory at the earliest moment and with the least cost in men and material;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the American Legion, with the utmost persuasive power at its command, urge the Congress to enact legislation as required whether by Statute or Constitutional amendment — making a formal Declaration of War a condition precedent to the sending of any member of our Armed Forces to combat in a foreign land.

Rites Conducted For Ex-Resident

Funeral services for Hiram Painter, 58, former Hereford resident, were held Tuesday in Memorial Park Cemetery in Amarillo. A number of relatives from Hereford attended the funeral.

Mr. Painter, a former baker for the Hereford Bakery, died Monday morning at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. Among survivors is his wife, Odessa. The couple married in Hereford about 1930. Mr. Painter was a baker for the Silver Grill at the time of his death.

He also is survived by three sons, three sisters, three brothers, his mother and six grandchildren.

 from county conventions held in October. From these 2,000 or more proposals on scores of subjects a state resolutions committee drafts tentative resolutions which are submitted to the voting delegates.

Counties with outstanding accomplishments in membership acquisition and public relations will be honored during a Recognition Pageant at the Coliseum Tuesday evening. Theme of the dramatic pageant is "Frontiers of the Future." A dance will follow this event.

 Directors will be elected by the delegates to fill six positions for two-year terms on the board of directors. Directors whose terms are expiring this year are H. L. King, Brownfield; J. T. Woodson, Gober; Claude Anderson, San Angelo; Dr. G. Kendrick, Jr., Marlin; Sidney Dean, Victoria; and J. H. West, Bishop.

Following adjournment of the convention, directors will elect a president, vice president and secretary-treasurer from among their own number for one-year terms.

 as someone wants to see the cars and will be open Sunday from 1 to 5 p. m.

Each of the six new car dealers in Hereford will display their different models. Participating will be Kinsey-Osborn Motors, Dishman-Hale Chrysler Plymouth, Inc., Warren Motors Company, Hi-Way Pontiac-GMC, Hedrick Dodge, Stephens-Hudson Motor Co., Whiteface Aviation and Orsborn Chevrolet-Olds.

Presently on display in the bank lobby is a 1931 Model A Ford Victoria owned by Glenn House of Amarillo, brother of Dean House. The antique car, said House, has been kept in excellent condition by his brother.

"It is 100 per cent original, even the upholstery." The auto has passed the state inspection each year and has 1966 tags. A 1967 Cessna 150 will be displayed by Whiteface Aviation. A spokesman for the firm said another plane probably will be exhibited but they won't know until the final day.

There will be no charge for the show and refreshments will be served.

Plains Cotton Harvesting Hits Stride As Strippers Operate

Cotton classed at the USDA Lubbock Classing Office during the week ending October 28th was somewhat lower in quality than cotton classed the previous week, according to W. K. Palmer, in charge of the Lubbock Cotton Classing Office.

Cotton harvesting on the South Plains continued to increase daily as more machine strippers began operating. Approximately 4,000 samples were received Friday at the Lubbock, Brownfield and Lamesa Classing Offices.

The Lubbock office classed 8,700 samples during the week ending Friday, October 28th. This brought the total classed for the season to 12700 compared with 49,000 by the same date last year.

Middling made up 32 per cent of the cotton classed, Strict Low Middling 15 per cent, Middling Light Spotted 30 per cent and Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 11 per cent. Average staple length declined sharply during the week and averaged approximately 15/16 of an inch. The average staple during the previous week was better than 1 inch. Thirty per cent of the cotton was 1 inch and longer last week compared to 49 per cent the previous week.

Micronaire readings also declined. Seventy-six per cent of the cotton "milked" in the Lubbock office was in the desirable category of 3.5 and better. The previous week 86 per cent was in this category.

The Consumer and Marketing Service of the USDA reported light trading in the new crop cotton with prices steady. Average prices for the most predominant qualities in the 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire range were: Middling 29/32-19.55, Middling 15/16 - 20.00, Middling 31/32-20.60, Strict Low Middling 29/32-17.75, Strict Low Middling 15/16-18.25, Strict Low Middling 31/32-18.65, Middling Light Spotted 29/32-17.95, Middling Light Spotted 15/16-18.40 and Middling Light Spotted 31/32-18.90.

Prices paid farmers for cotton seed ranged from $65 to $70 per ton.

Mrs. Noland Has State OES Post

Mrs. Charlie Noland was appointed deputy grand matron for District 2, Section 3, of the grand chapter of the Order of Eastern Star, when she was one of a dozen Hereford representatives at the annual state meeting in Houston last week.

In this office she will represent in certain duties the worthy grand matron of the Texas organization, by whom she was appointed. Mrs. Noland is an active member and a past worthy matron of Hereford OES Chapter. She will conduct a school of instruction here next spring for District 2, Section 3. Mrs. Marple Cline, present worthy matron, headed the group from Hereford to the grand chapter meeting, serving as official delegate. Mrs. J. K. Baker, Mrs. Vivian Majors and Mrs. O. H. Culpepper were members of the grand choir at the convention.

Mrs. Cline and B. E. Roberson, associate, patron of the Hereford Chapter, participated with other worthy matrons and patrons in the grand opening ceremony and in the march at the installation of grand officers including Mrs. Noland.

They had a part in the welfare program, which is limited to chapters with a record of 100 percent contributions to welfare work of the order. Mmes. Cline, Art Lewis and Baker were among those in the Pink Lady Drill.

Also going from Hereford were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hromas, Mmes. Roberson, C. P. Worthan and R. B. Hutson.

The spring school of instruction will be held in Hereford March 30, for officers and members of the 16 chapters which comprise Mrs. Noland's section.

Beta Sigma Phi Rituals Held

Ceremonies traditional in Beta Sigma Phi Sorority were conducted Tuesday evening to initiate five autumn pledges into Kappa Iota Chapter, advance three of last spring's pledges to the Ritual of Jewels, and mark the progress of five members to the exemplar chapter, Xi Epsilon Alpha.

Mmes. Jack Straw, Irving Alexander, Max Goforth, Larry Summers and Duke Powell formed the hostess committee which arranged impressive settings for the rituals at Community Center. The City BSP Council, of which Mrs. Harold Kids is president, was hostess.

Yellow roses, the sorority flowers, filled a bowl centering the ritual table, which was decorated in BSP colors, black and gold. Mrs. Straw, Kappa Iota president, conducted rituals for the pledges; Mrs. Clete Corlis, president of the Xi chapter, the ceremony to receive the members entering that group.

Those going into the exemplar chapter after completing the full program of the primary chapter were Mmes. C. D. Fitzgerald Jr., Pat Ferguson, Arliss Edwards, Preston Hagans and Joe Neely.

Mmes. Rudy Metz, Bob Pugh and Lowell Hill comprise the trio which had met requirement of ritual chapter membership. Initiates were Mmes. O. H. Majors, Glenda Perkins, Gene Larsen and Roger Shipley.

After the ceremonies, for which the members were formally dressed, refreshments were served from a table covered with white linen cutwork and decorated with an elongated arrangement of autumn fruit and orange candles.

display cases. One of his favorite displays is a plank of wood on which is arranged several different items which may be found in the shop, including sprockets, a roller chain, link of draper chain flange bearings, and draper chain bearings, etc.

An invention of Sanders and Gugenheim is a cutter-of-a-sort which is used to cut conveyor belts. A conveyor belt is sometimes too wide for satisfactory use of the customer, so Sanders uses his cutter to reduce the conveyor to a more suitable size. Sanders says of the cutter, "we dreamed that up and made it. It works real fine."

Sanders says Gugenheim does most of the ordering of items for stocking, though Sanders does order a couple of items which are used more in Hereford than in the other areas.

The items ordered specifically for Hereford are Bearings and chains. The draper chain is widely used in processing of produce, letting all foreign matter fall off the chain as the good produce remains on the chain.

Sanders says that most of his merchandise is supplied by Browning Manufacturing Company. He says that few companies have heat-treating facilities, which are necessary for manufacturing certain items such as the chains.

Gugenheim began working with his father in 1940, after having worked as a salesman for a paper company in Dallas. He and his wife, Mattie Ruth and their 16-year-old son, Paul Lewis live at 4001 Terrace in Amarillo.

The Gugenheim estate also includes a farm near Hereford, which is farmed by Bob Hicks. It is situated eleven miles north and three miles east of the city.

Sanders and his wife, Johnnie live at 400 W. Park. They have two children, Mrs. Verita Silver-tooth lives in Amarillo and Carson, a pilot in the U. S. Navy.

have tended to obscure the simple fact that the crust of the earth has been the immediate or ultimate source of all man's material needs. Shelters, water supplies, fuel, metals, soils all have their source in the crust beneath our feet.

"There are vast areas — both on land and under sea — that have not yet been explored. Even in areas which have been explored there is wealth below the surface which lies waiting to be discovered and exploited by use of more refined techniques and instruments and through the greater understanding of the geologic factors controlling their concurrence."

John W. Gardner, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, said "The problem of arid and semi-arid lands is part technical and part human. And the two parts — what to do about the land and what to do about the people who live and work on the land — are inseparable. Basic literacy is the ticket of admission to the modern world. It is folly to suppose that one can build modern technology without modern men."

"Education must be counted upon to implant certain attitudes and values that are absolutely essential to an effectively functioning modern society. Americans who have gone out to provide technical assistance in many parts of the world report that in many areas their greatest obstacle is neither ignorance nor poverty nor hostility but a kind of passivity and fatalism."

"That fatalism is a complete and all-smothering obstacle to purposeful effort and therefore to learning and therefore to any self-improvement."

Heavy Session Faces Legislators Of Texas

By LARRY FUHRMANN
Hereford Brand
Austin Bureau Chief

Texas lawmakers might try working out some this month and the next to get themselves in shape for the upcoming legislative session, destined to be a big one for the State of Texas. Representative Bill Clayton says that legislation dealing with the State's water problems will be on the top priority list. Also to get attention in the session will be these issues: "Salaries of State employees. At the present time, the State of Texas is short 180 highway patrolmen, and short 200 highway engineers. These are only two departments. Great expense is incurred by the State, Clayton said, in the training of State employees. Pay scales better than what the State can presently offer have been draining off potential manpower. Also, Clayton points out that a definite shortage is seen in the "in-between" age group; a large number of employees will reach retirement age soon, with only young inexperienced personnel to fill their places.

*Revenues. This item naturally affects all others; an extra $200 million is going to be needed to run the State government this next biennium. The figure is above the expected tax revenues.

*Education. Pressure is mounting for an increase in tuition at the State's senior colleges and universities. Clayton says he believes he would favor a tuition hike in view of the fact that the Texas Opportunity Plan has been established to help those students who have to have financial assistance.

*City sales taxes. Increased demands by municipalities for the right to impose their own sales taxes are increasing. Representative Clayton says. Clayton had introduced a bill in the last legislature which would have made provisions for City Fathers, but the legislation did not pass.

WATER BILLS PENDING
On the water front, things look "much better than what they did," Clayton explains. As a member of the House interim study committee on Texas' water problems, he has been working along with others on legislation which will go before the lawmakers when they convene in mid-January.

Bills which will clarify existing legislation will be introduced, and also bills dealing with strictly new legislation. Perhaps the most controversial will be the Water Adjudication Act. A part of this act will determine that "in considering trans-basin diversion, the consideration will be determined by whether the benefits to the receiving basin are greater than benefits to the original basin."

Opposition to the adjudication act may come from East Texas opponents, whose water supplies are destined to help water other areas of the State.

A Civil Penalties bill will define powers and rights of the various agencies dealing with the water problems in the State.

Clayton said that U. S. Representative George Mahon had had a public works study include the study of bringing water to Texas from the Missouri River. The figure amounted to $200,000. Other State feasibility studies have already been started, and may be completed by mid-year.

Governor Connally has named Clayton to represent Texas in a water forum to be held in Scottsdale, Ariz., December 4 and 5.

Teachers in attendance at the annual conference of the Texas Association for Mental Health were challenged to find the disturbed children in their classrooms. "We can use the 'third ear' to hear the meaning of a child's words from his point of view," said Dr. Natalie C. Baraga, special education associate professor in visual handicaps. Dr. Claude H. Marks, special education assistant professor in emotionally disturbed children teaching and associate director of the new University of Texas

Special Education Instructional Materials Center for teachers, said it is more important for a teacher to identify a child's problem than to restrict treatment with an attempt at medical classification.

Dr. Marks said some signs of emerging emotional problems are slow, deliberate, labored speech; contempt, disdain, scorn outbursts; evasiveness or guarded reactions; acting out to attract attention; hostility, apathy; over-activity; instability; a feeling of being wronged or cheated. These signs should be measured against the normal child development pattern.

The annual conference, which attracted 200 delegates to Austin this year, will be held in El Paso next year.

STUDENTS RECOGNIZED

Although a field goal in the last minutes of the Texas-SMU broke the hearts of many (particularly seniors) at the University of Texas, two were at least smiling when they were named outstanding man and woman at the University. The presentation of awards was made at the 19th annual Dads' Day observance. The two seniors, Jack LeRoy Howe Jr. of Houston and Mary Ann Mellenbruch of Austin, were recognized for leadership in campus activities and service to the university community.

FUTURE POLICY VIEWED

Horace Godfrey, ASCS administrator from Washington D. C., told ASCS committee members gathered in San Antonio last week that the ASCS will become more important in the years ahead "during his time of transition and change."

Godfrey made these points regarding future farm policy and the 1967 farm programs:

*The importance of farm programs is in no way diminished. Farmers will continue to need programs. The public requires them.

*Through success of present programs, a new era in farm policy has been reached. Higher production in grains can be counted on next year.

*Cotton, the only real surplus remaining, had a better-than-expected program this year.

PRAYERS ELIMINATED

Pre-game prayers have been eliminated at the University, as the Student Assembly turned down 19-8 a resolution urging the reinstatement of the custom at home games. A line-up of different religious and other groups was seen on both sides of the issue.

LEAGUE TAKES STAND

The League of Women Voters of Texas has taken a stand for Amendment No. 8, and against Amendment No. 7. "The poll tax is not the issue," says Mrs. William E. Joor, president of the league, regarding Amendment No. 7. "The real issue is the requirement in the body of the amendment that every voter must register annually."

"A permanent list system would allow citizens to register once and so long as they vote at least every year, or every two years, depending upon the system, they do not have to re-register," Mrs. Joor said. "However, names will be removed from the polls if persons fail to vote within some specified time. A good permanent registration system would allow registration year round, except about thirty day before an election."

The League of Women Voters hopes Amendment No. 7 will be defeated and thus indicate to the Legislature that the citizens of Texas support a more efficient, economical, safe and convenient voter registration system," Mrs. Joor asserted. She also explained that voting for Amendment No. 8 will permit citizens who have resided in a county less than six months prior to an election to vote for state-wide officials and amendments.

CHURCH PANEL NAMED

The Most Rev. Robert E. Lucey, Archbishop of San Antonio and General Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Texas Catholic Conference, has named an eight-member committee to study possible membership in the Texas Council of Churches on the part of the Catholic church.

The naming of the committee is a follow-up to action taken by the Board of Directors of the Texas Catholic Conference last month.

The board took official notice of an unanimous resolution passed by the 1966 General Assembly of the Texas Council of Churches, wherein the Catholic Church and other churches not previously identified with the Texas Council of Churches were urged to become "full constituent members" of that organization.

ches, wherein the Catholic Church and other churches not previously identified with the Texas Council of Churches were urged to become "full constituent members" of that organization.

The Board of bishops were favorable "in principle" toward membership in the Council, but were reluctant to take any immediate action in order to allow time for a study of the situation.

BRAZILIAN VIP VISITS

Dr. Juscelino Kubitschek, former president of Brazil and founder of the city of Brasilia, has been in Austin as a University of Texas Visiting Fellow this week. Dr. Kubitschek attended a history class, toured Austin and the campus, and was honored guest at several receptions and dinners.

Dr. Kubitschek was president of Brazil from 1956 to 1961.

WINTER WHEAT LOOKS

GOOD: In the Santa Fe-winter wheat territory most of the intended acreage has been planted and is up to a good stand. The only exceptions are a few areas where surface moisture was short at seeding time or where seeding has been delayed to assist in controlling insects or diseases more prevalent in early seeded fields. Moisture since mid-October should bring late planted fields up to a stand and set roots so most fields can be grazed without danger of plants being pulled up. Some early seeded fields were already being grazed by the end of the second week in October.

Women's Activities Head Named In WTCC

"Woman on the go" would describe the Plainview clubwoman, Mrs. John J. Kirchoff named to head the Women's Activities Committee of West Texas Chamber of Commerce, according to John Ben Shepperd, of Odessa president of WTCC, when he announced her selection.

Her presidency of the Woman's Club of Plainview, life membership in the PTA, service to Girl Scouts of the Caprock Area, active direction of youth activities in the First Christian Church, her avid support of Texas Tech (her Alma Mater), Little Theater work, teaching in a "Headstart" class and her husband and two teenage children contribute to keeping her "on the go."

The Women's Activities committee will assist in organization of women's groups within local chambers of commerce. These members will serve actively on industrial, tourism, cultural, educational and all other local committees. The "women's viewpoint" will thus be utilized to strengthen the work of each committee.

Promotion of the use of West Texas products will be one important activity. These will include manufactured products as well as products of farming and ranching. Special lists of these items will be prepared by the groups in cooperation with growers, manufacturers and processors.

Tourist development, one of the most important phases of the WTCC work program, will be aided by women who organize special tours in their communities. Special attention will also be given to civic improvement in all physical, educational and cultural assets of the area.

More than 1,500 women have been invited to the first meeting of the Women's Activities Committee in Denton November 20th. Mrs. Kirchoff will preside and will introduce the program of work that is scheduled for her co-workers on the local and regional basis. Sessions begin at 1:30 p. m. at Texas Woman's University.

"We are exceedingly fortunate to obtain the leadership of such an outstanding person for this important assignment. Mrs. Kirchoff will bring to her new committee the enthusiasm and organization that is so vital to its success," Shepperd said.

DEMO CAMPAIGNER

Carr Ending Race With Forecast Of Democratic Sweep For State

AUSTIN — Waggoner Carr winds up his U. S. Senate campaign and goes home to vote Tuesday claiming new evidence for a Democratic sweep at the polls.

Carr took a 52 per cent lead in the latest statewide poll by Joe Belden and Associates, Texas public opinion research organization. Republican Senator John Tower had 39 per cent; a Constitution Party candidate 2 per cent; 7 per cent were undecided.

The Democratic nominee, who is supported by party leaders from over Texas, said the surveys "shows what all of us, including John Tower, know — Texas Democrats are united and working together for a victory that will be significant throughout this nation."

Carr re-enforced his charge that rich eastern Republicans — particularly those in Connecticut, New Jersey and New York — are pouring money into Tower's campaign. National news magazines (Time, Newsweek) and syndicated columnists have reported large sums being sent to Texas. One columnist (William Buckley) described New Jersey's GOP Senator Clifford Care as being "hurt and appalled" that money needed for his campaign was going elsewhere.

Pointing also to Tower's 30 per cent absentee record on Senate roll call votes and quorum calls, Carr asserted, "Texas cannot afford the luxury of an empty Senate seat. I will be a fulltime Senator representing all the people of my state."

Carr will close his campaign with a Houston rally Monday night, then go to Lubbock with Mrs. Carr to vote and receive election returns.

He carries campaign endorsements by President Johnson and Governor John Connally, former Governors Price Daniel and Allan Shivers, the Texas Congressional delegation, many daily and weekly newspapers and Democratic officials throughout the state.

Sandhill Crane Hunt Underway Near Muleshoe

The Muleshoe Jaycees announce that their 1966 Sandhill Crane hunt began October 29. Approximately 40,000 birds are now inhabiting the Muleshoe Game Refuge with another 40,000 expected in the near future.

Sportsmen are invited to Muleshoe, — crane capital of the world to participate in the exciting and challenging hunt. The season, which began October 29, will end November 27. Shooting hours are thirty minutes prior to sunrise to sunset. The Texas Hunting License is the only license requirement.

Two cranes daily and four in possession are the limits and hunting leases are available from the Muleshoe Shooting Preserve at $10 per season permit and $3 for a daily permit.

Headquarters for the hunting preserve is the Corral Drive-In, 1008 West American Blvd. on the Clovis Highway. The Heaviest Bird Contest is being sponsored by Muleshoe Jaycees. Prizes will be $50 for the top winner, $20 — second prize, $10 for third place winner, $5 for fourth and $2.50 for fifth place winner.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

It's a pleasure to welcome members of District 1, Texas Federation of Music Clubs, to their convention in Dawn tomorrow and Saturday. Not just the residents of that community, but the whole county is happy to have the visitors here.

ALL OF US OWE a great deal to music club members. In any city they are almost invariably active, not only in studying about music and in helping make music themselves but in encouraging youngsters to develop musical talent, and in bringing musicians to town for everyone's entertainment.

Where there is a community chorus or orchestra, an annual concert series or a symphony society, you can figure that the start was made by music club women, no matter who is in charge now.

Hereford joins Dawn in wishing a successful convention and a very pleasant visit to the clubwomen who are coming Friday and the juniors who will follow them Saturday.

Women of the Dawn club are to be commended for their decision that, although they are in the smallest town of the district, they are quite able to entertain the visitors with their community facilities. Hospitality has nothing to do with size, they aver, and the welcome will be as big as it would be in Dallas.

THE NAME OF THE town of Dawn, incidentally, like that of Sundown and some others indicating a time, can give trouble to a careless writer, resulting in a headline like Music Clubs Convene at Dawn, which could sound very gruesome to a delegate who doesn't like to wake up so early.

Not long ago I was driving through Dawn just as the sun was going down, and glanced at my rear-view mirror to see a picture which would have inspired me if I were a painter. One of our fine blazing sunsets was in progress, with the sky a bright apricot hue streaked with slate-gray wisps of clouds.

Below that was a blue haze in which buildings of the town — the tall grain elevators, church spire and houses — were in silhouette. In the foreground, some Santa Fe boxcars lined on a railroad switch were reflecting the sun's rays from their sides as though they were gold-plated, a dramatic accent.

But when I thought, if that picture were painted it would almost have to be titled Sundown at Dawn, and even a masterpiece couldn't survive a pun like that.

A CROWD OF COLLEGIANS at home for the weekend enjoyed not only some HHS homecoming fun, but a party at the Larry Summers home Saturday where they could talk over their experiences since they were together early in the fall. Mrs. Neal Young and Mrs. Howard Gore were hostesses with Mrs. Summers. They are mothers of three of the students, Judy Summers, who goes to Tech, Jimmy Young and Gary Gore, from Oklahoma State University campus.

Others in the crowd were Tech students Patty Roach, Jo'In Perrin, Jimmy Cooper, Brant Knox and Mike Harvey. Their respective parents are the Curtis Roaches, J. V. Perrins, Neil Coopers, Eugene Knoxes and Paul Harveys, whom the students were here to visit in the time they had between catching up with friends.

SEVERAL OF THE props in the old-time schoolroom scene which made an attractive float in the HHS homecoming parade Friday afternoon were authentic articles used in schools of the past.

The bell being rung by the teacher belonged to Bruce Miller, I'm told, and was used by his great-grandfather as a country school teacher back in the past century.

School children looking at such scenes today find them amusing, of course, but as unbelievable as enchanted forests and fairy palaces. Lately a high school student appealed to me to support his belief that his mother was just kidding when she

SPAIN — "Around the World in 80 Days," theme of the 37th annual Homecoming celebration at Texas Lutheran College, will be held Nov. 4-6 with a variety of events.

Starting the three-day event is the student directed Queen's Coronation Friday night in Memorial Gymnasium, with Miss Donna Luedtke of McGregor reigning over the "Court of Mysterious Worlds." Reigning with Miss Luedtke is King David Smith of Longview. Miss Audri Miller of Dawn is chairman of the reception to follow the coronation.

Presentation of the queen and her court of princesses and dutchesses will be assisted by the TLC Concert Band providing the background music. The reception will be held in the Student Center for the queen and her court. This is followed by the traditional pep rally and bonfire north of the athletic field.

A full day of events is scheduled for Saturday. Registration for alumni is planned during the day in the Student Center. A reception for parents, alumni, students and faculty starts the day at 10 a. m. in the Gold Room of the Student Center.

The Ex-Student Association Board of Directors will hold a luncheon meeting in Riebe Dining Hall at 11:30 a. m. with Rev. Henry Treptow of Fredericksburg presiding. Honored guest is Dr. Martin L. Cole, president of TLC.

said she walked to a Hereford school from a farm two miles outside town.

He still looked skeptical when I told him it was not only possible but probable, and that kids who lived across town from the school always walked instead of demanding a car of their own or at least chauffeur service from their parents.

From the dark ages, that's me!

DELAYED PAYMENT

WICHITA, Kan. — After an illness confined Lucille Flynn of Wichita to a hospital she received a hospital bill for five cents.

Health insurance paid the balance but Mrs. Flynn delayed her payment.

"I hate to use a five cent stamp and a check which costs something to pay it," she said. "I'll drop it off some day when I'm in the neighborhood."

GOP CANDIDATE

Tower Claims Victory Trend Toward Senate Campaign Close

The following are remarks of Senator John Tower at a press conference in Houston last week: "I am most pleased with the victory trend so obviously running in my re-election campaign.

"Everywhere I go I see added strength and enthusiasm. Today's poll supports that view. Scores of Texans have told me in recent days that they feel I am doing a good job for them. I deeply appreciate that, and I believe this public view is reflected in my growing electoral support.

"Because of my obvious gains, I expect my opponent to make next week a last ditch, desperate attempt to save his losing candidacy. I expect he will appeal to many stronger men to help him, but strong men cannot transfer their prestige to weaker men.

"Texans plainly view this race as one between John Tower and Waggoner Carr.

"I promise to maintain for Texas strong, independent representation in the Senate. Texans made up their own minds when they elected me in 1961. I am confident their November 8 decision will be the same."

Mrs. Tower, wife of the Senator, has traveled extensively in the state the past 10 weeks herself of her husband's re-election to the Senate.

Vivacious Lou Tower has been received in over 100 Texas cities by overflowing crowds and tributes from the press.

Mrs. Tower has been honored at coffees, teas, luncheons, dinners, and evening receptions. She has greeted Texans on court house lawns, in city parks at county fairs and at civic clubs. She has led parades, ridden in motorcades and shaken thousand of hands.

Mayors have proclaimed "Lou Tower Day" and Chambers of Commerce across the state have made her an honorary member. She has visited hospitals, homes for the elderly, agriculture research centers, libraries, schools and universities. She has toured national shrines and places of civic pride.

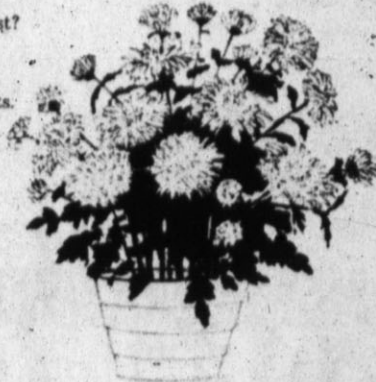

Through it all, Mrs. Tower has remained poised, enthusiastic and sincerely interested. "It has been a richly rewarding experience," she recently said. "I have drawn great strength from the warmth and sincerity of those who have received me across the state. It is of course a tribute, not to me, but to my husband. People are aware of John's record. They know what he has done for Texas. And they know that John has been honest with them."

Dates Set For Annual Project Of Poppy Sale

Sale of poppies made by disabled war veterans, an annual project of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, will be conducted here Nov. 11 and 12, Mrs. Orpha Nickerson, president, announces.

Mrs. Harry Burke will serve as poppy chairman this year, and will head committees responsible for sale of the flowers in downtown Hereford, Sugarland Mall and other business sections. About 2,000 of the big bright red paper blossoms will be on sale.

Members of the VFW Post here will assist the Auxiliary in the sale, which each year raises funds to aid families of men disabled in American military service. The project is set for the weekend of Veterans' Day, Nov. 11, which commemorates the end of World War I.

HAVEN'T BEEN HERE SINCE

LIBERTY, KY. (AP) — An elderly man charged with drunkenness appeared before County Judge Garfield Griffin.

When he saw the judge, the defendant walked over and remarked:

"Hello, Garfield. I haven't been in this office since your daddy was judge. I hope you treat me the same way he did."

Judge Griffin took a look at the man's condition and replied: "I guess you'd better go over to see Jailer Overstreet for a while."

"You know," the defendant said sadly, "that's just what your daddy told me."

Tech Preserving History With Early Pictures

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech, young as universities are reckoned, is keeping an eye on its past through a unique pictorial collection as it plunges headlong into the future.

The Lubbock institution, which admitted its first class of 910 students just 41 years ago this fall, is mindful that it must preserve its heritage on a current basis; or run the risk of losing some priceless records forever.

The answer? "Pictures for Prosperity." Texas Tech Vice President for Business Affairs M. L. Pennington, a prime mover behind the project, explains the concept this way, "Through 'Pictures for Prosperity,' we are attempting to bring together as many original prints and negatives as possible which depict the early days of Tech.

To insure that we maintain a current pictorial record, we simply add contemporary photos as they become available."

The concept, now entering its second full year of realization, has received the wholehearted support of campus groups and organizations, as well as friends of the university.

The Tech chapter of Mortar Board, women's senior honorary the Southwest Collection, The Department of Student Publications and the Department of Public Information, all play key roles in keeping the idea alive and vibrant.

Mortar Board, with Nan Faulkner of Lubbock serving as chairman of its 'Pictures for Prosperity' committee, devotes many hours each week to recording and documenting contributions to the collection.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Fincher of Amarillo visited the Jack Finchers and Mrs. Julia Fincher over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shuyler of Woodward, Oklahoma spent the weekend with the Wilbur Harris family.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Lee Petty were in Brownfield Saturday visiting his grandfather, who was in a car wreck.

Mrs. N. L. Jacobson received word that her long time friend was killed in a car wreck Sunday night near Quitaque.

Brent Murry of Panhandle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Murray, died Monday morning after a long illness. The Murry's are former residents of Adrian.

Audubon Society from Amarillo were out last Sunday afternoon and Mrs. Marie Gruhkey and Mrs. Noreen Garrison took them on a bird-watching tour on the Masten Ranch. They saw a lot of rare birds. Professor Galloway of Amarillo College was among the group. There were around 30 people. Mrs. Easter Banks is a member of the Society and her son Lee is an honorary member.

The Adrian PTO sponsored a Halloween Carnival Friday night in the schoolhouse. Door Prizes were won by several. Mrs. Hardy Harris won the T. V. and the electric knife was won by Mrs. Bob Ivy. The Ivys also won the ship clock for having the most Bingo's for the night. Winning the Queen and King contest were Nancy Amason and Wayne Whaley, seniors and the first grade-Queen Dana Sue Betts and King Randy Lloyd. The Adrian PTO Thanks everyone for their time, work and donations.

BOB PRICE... the family man

Bob Price is a man whose interests are centered around his family. It's his desire to help create a better America for his children that led Bob Price into seeking the office of Representative to Congress. Bob and his wife Marty, along with their children, Janice, Carl and Grant, are a family we can be proud to send to Washington.

BOB PRICE... wants to stop inflation

Food, clothing and house payments must be paid out of take home pay after taxes. Inflation makes this more and more difficult for every family in the Panhandle. As a man operating his own business, Bob Price knows the effect of inflation on earnings.

a man known for his vital interest in water

Bob Price's family started ranching in the Panhandle in 1907. Following in his father's footsteps as a businessman and rancher, Bob Price knows that we must use greater water conservation to raise food and to attract new industry to the Panhandle. City and County alike are concerned with this problem. Bob Price has the knowledge and experience to plan ahead for our future water needs.

BOB PRICE...

knows about war... he's been there

As a jet pilot, Bob Price experienced first hand the effects of war on the young men of today. This knowledge acts as a guideline to decision in regards to foreign policy. Experience is a valuable teacher.

BOB PRICE... keeps in touch

Over the past 2 years, Bob Price has talked to citizens of every county in this district. He has learned the problems facing us today and has the experience to work toward their solutions. Bob Price owes no debt to any single group and can give all of you representation in our nation's capital.

Church Appeal For Food Made In World Crisis

NEW YORK — The world food crisis has spurred U. S. Protestant churches both to greater efforts and new directions in their attempts to alleviate hunger and starvation overseas.

James MacCracken, director of Church World Service, Protestant overseas relief agency which is launching the 13th annual (Share Our Substance) appeal of the churches, said:

"New developments forced upon us by the crisis include stringent priority allocation of severely reduced quantities of U. S. surplus foods; maximum utilization of available foods, leading to development of new food products; and intensified efforts to help increase food production in countries of hunger."

The SOS appeal, to be observed in churches and communities throughout the nation during the Thanksgiving week, seeks $1 million for field and final distribution costs of food in programs carried on by the churches through Church World Service in more than 40 countries.

Surplus commodities, long the mainstay of overseas feeding programs of Church World Service and other voluntary agencies, are now in seriously short supply, MacCracken said.

This has forced CWS — for the first time in its 20-year history — to establish strict priorities in favor of disaster victims, including famine, and refugees; those most vulnerable to disease specifically, infants, young children and expectant and nursing mothers, and persons engaged in food-for-work projects of community betterment, some of which may help food production.

"Recent food relief for Hurricane Inez victims in Haiti reveals priorities in action," said Mr. MacCracken. "All food was focused in Haiti by Church World Service at the time of the disaster — more than 100,000 pounds — was made immediately available to survivors."

"Meanwhile we are shipping 180,000 pounds of corn and wheat from CROP, the community food appeal of CWS, to be used in food-for-work projects. Some of this food will be earned as wages by Haitians who help to rebuild hospitals, clinics and schools."

Dwindling commodity supplies have taxed ingenuity and have led to creation of new foods, Mr. MacCracken said. Some of these are being tested by Church World Service under the guidance of its nutrition committee. One such food, developed as an alternate to milk as a source of protein, combines corn, soy and milk. An all-soy beverage, and other uses for soy, are also being formulated.

"Perhaps the most dramatic effort of the churches to help a famine-plagued country increase its food production is the program called AFFRO in India," said Mr. MacCracken. "AFFRO — Action for Food Production — is a joint Protestant-Roman Catholic organization in India for coordination, support and technical guidance of food production projects of church-related and voluntary agencies."

"A mobile well drilling rig and auxiliary equipment was purchased and shipped to India by Church World Service and is now being used to make water available for crop irrigation. Further purchase of drilling equipment is presently being negotiated by CWS."

"Eleven thousand tons of high analysis fertilizer have been purchased by CWS and shipped to India for the AFFRO program, which is designed to produce more food immediately, and to avoid further pauperization of the Indian farmer by reducing from year to year his need for outside help."

Simultaneously with these efforts to help India increase food production, Mr. MacCracken said, the churches have been carrying on emergency feeding programs in areas of severe food shortage, doubling former programs.

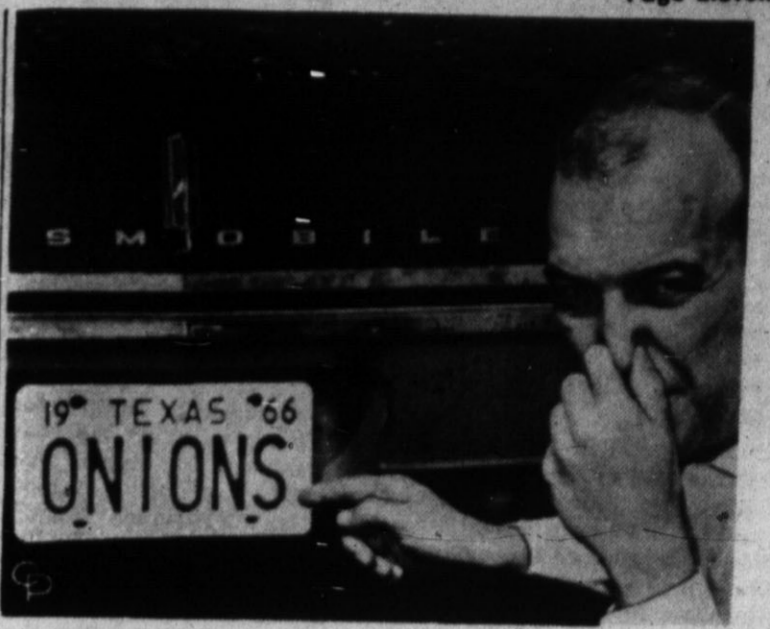

Peace Corps Test Set For Nov. 12

Hereford area residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps placement test at 9 a. m. on Saturday November 12, at Amarillo Room 322, Post Office.

The Peace Corps uses the placement test to determine how an applicant can best be utilized overseas. The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, not education or achievement. (If test scores indicate a limited language-learning ability, for example, the Peace Corps tries to place the applicant in an English-speaking country). The placement test requires no preparation and is non-competitive — an applicant can neither pass nor fail.

The application form, not the placement test, is the most important factor in the selection of Volunteers. Persons interested in serving in the Peace Corps must fill out an application, if they have not already done so, and present it to the tester before taking the test. Applications may be obtained from local post offices or from the C. 20525.

The placement test takes about an hour and a half.

Waning 1966 Appears Good Year For Farmers

COLLEGE STATION — In another three months, 1966 will be in the history books and farmers should be able generally to report it has been a good year.

John G. McHaney, Extension economist at Texas A&M University, reports that farmers have continued to benefit from the high levels of economic activity in the nation. Income-wise he says, 1966, could go down in history as one of the better years on record.

Estimates now call for an increase in realized net farm income of about $1.5 billion over 1965 to bring the total for the nation's farmers to $15.7 billion. Net farm income for the first half of the year was running at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $16 billion and was up 19 percent for the same period of 1965, he notes.

The domestic market for farm products during the year has continued to expand and per capita consumption of food products will average slightly higher than for last year, he says.

Demand for feed grain will reach a record level during the current feeding year. Export demand for U. S. farm products was very strong during the fiscal year which ended on June 30 and exports were up by 10 percent to bring the total to $6.7 billion.

Feed grains, especially corn and sorghum grain, were in heavy demand by foreign countries while wheat, soybeans and soybean meal were also in strong demand.

With the exception of corn, rice, some vegetables and fruits and tobacco, production will be below the 1965 levels, the economist says.

Total livestock output should show a slight gain over 1965 with pork production during the SOYBEANS: As with the corn crop part of the soybean acreage in Santa Fe served territory is showing wide variation in per acre yields because of hot dry weather during the early summer. Total U. S. soybean production is expected to again set a new record of over 925 million bushels, about 10 percent over the 1965 crop of 843.7 million bushels and 40 percent above the 1960-64 average of 537.8 million bushels.

COTTON: As picking of the 1966 cotton crop gets under way on the Texas High Plains and in adjacent areas of New Mexico and Oklahoma it now appears the three states may not produce more than 3,900,000 bales, about one-fourth less than the 5,265,000 bales produced in 1965. Most of this reduction is due to farmer participation in the USDA program aimed at reduction of the burdensome surplus of cotton which has built up during the past few years.

Rains during August gave much of the non-irrigated acreage a boost but cooler than normal temperatures during September and early October slowed development. In most of Texas, except in High Plains counties, harvesting of cotton in near completion but has been delayed by intermittent showers. Rains have reduced the grade of much mature cotton which has not yet been harvested.

go down as a good year, especially for the efficient agricultural producers of the state and nation.

Cutting of lettuce in the Hereford, Texas area continues with good quality and per acre yields. Lettuce will be available until harvesting is stopped by below freezing.

FEED GRAINS: Favorable weather throughout most of the main corn producing states during September and early October permitted most of the corn acreage to mature ahead of frost. This helped push total production; however, yields vary greatly in Santa Fe served areas as the result of dry, hot weather during June and early July. Total U. S. corn production in 1966 is expected to be just over 4 billion bushels, slightly below the 4.1 billion bushels produced in 1965.

Another record grain sorghum crop is apparently being harvested in 1966 with total U. S. production expected to exceed 725 million bushels. Favorable growing conditions since mid-August pushed most of the grain sorghum acreage to maturity, the exception being some non-irrigated fields where sucker heads may have been damaged by mid-October cold weather.

OTHER CROPS: Cutting of a record lettuce crop in the Mesilla Valley of New Mexico began the first week in October. Yield and quality are reported to be good. Acreage for harvest is estimated at 2,700 acres. A total of 2,500 acres of fall lettuce was harvested in this same area in 1965.

Digging of carrots in the Hereford Texas area continues with good yields and quality. Digging of carrots in New Mexico in the Grants, Roswell and Artesia areas under way since early October, is nearing completion.

Proposed Texas Amendments In Brief

Proposition 1 on the ballot land to be assessed on consideration of only those factors relative to agricultural use.

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "the Constitutional Amendment to provide that all land owned by natural persons designated for agricultural use shall be assessed for all tax purposes on the consideration of only those factors relative to such agricultural use."

This Amendment would exempt farmers and ranchers from paying full taxes on high priced land so long as they use the land for raising livestock or growing crops, fruit, flowers and other products of the soil. These products would have to be grown under natural conditions and the owner would have to be conducting the farm or ranch as a business venture for profit.

The wording is vague and in conflict with other constitutional requirements that all taxation shall be equal and uniform, and that all property in the state shall be taxed in proportion to its value. Its lack of clarity might void the amendment for all practical purposes but if the courts can resolve its conflicts and vagueness, it might create serious tax and bond problems for cities, towns, schools and other local districts.

In effect, this amendment is an exception to the basic constitutional requirement that taxation shall be equal and uniform. The exception would apply for all tax purposes—both state and local. It would affect local districts more since the Constitution already gives the owner of a homestead exemption from state taxes on $3,000 of assessed value. The homestead exemption applies to all property owners; this exception for agricultural use would apply to a restricted group.

The valuation and assessment of any minerals or subsurface rights to minerals would not be affected by this exception for agricultural use. They would be subject to full assessment and taxation the same as if they were on land not designated for agricultural use.

The exception could be claimed only by an owner of property, and a natural person rather than a corporation. The owner's primary occupation would have to be raising livestock or growing products of the soil. This would also have to be the owner's principal source of income. For example if the owner's income from oil or other minerals, or income of any other type, either from his land or from other sources, exceeded the income from his ranching or farming operations, he could not claim the agricultural exception.

How land would be assessed for agricultural use is not well defined. It would be assessed "on the consideration of only those factors relative to such agricultural use." The factors to be considered are not named and there is no formula for determining what is "relative." The application of these terms would have to be spelled out in future court decisions or the amendment could prove meaningless because of vagueness.

For each assessment year in which the owner wished to qualify his land as agricultural he would have to file with the local tax assessor a sworn statement in writing describing the use to which the land was devoted.

The tax assessor could require such evidence as was necessary to determine whether the agricultural use designation should apply. He could require some sort of tax return, or information, about all of the owner's income in order to determine whether raising livestock or growing products on the land involved was the owner's primary source of income.

No land could qualify for the agricultural designation unless for the last three consecutive years it had been devoted exclusively to agricultural use, or had been continuously developed for agriculture during that time.

Each year the tax assessor would make a note on his records of what the valuation would have been if the land had not qualified for a lower valuation due to agricultural use. If the designated land should be sold or used for another purpose, it would become subject to the full valuation which the assessor had noted on his records. This would apparently apply even though the land was sold to a person who would continue its agricultural use. An additional tax would be collected for the difference between the tax paid and the amount of tax payable if the land had been assessed at its full value. This tax would be collected for the preceding three years. Until paid, the additional tax would be a lien on the land. Such a lien could make financing difficult and produce problems in event of sale.

Those in favor of this amendment believe a farmer or rancher should not be forced to pay taxes on the actual worth of his land if he is not going to use it for the purpose which makes it more valuable. They point out that farming has always received special consideration and that it has value as a way of family life which this country wants to preserve. In addition, some argue that this would keep land values from snowballing too fast and would make development around cities more orderly.

Those who oppose the amendment believe it is fundamentally wrong to extend exemptions from taxes to any special group or groups of citizens to the disadvantage of others. They point out that most, if not all, local districts affected are paying off bonded indebtedness based upon a tax rate which assumes that all property will be taxed according to its real value, and they predict that in some counties there might be a very substantial reduction in the assessed value of property being held for residential, industrial or other development. They suggest that every land speculator might become a "farmer" so he could escape paying taxes on land held solely for speculation. They object to the tax collector assuming the job of investigating the incomes of all farmers who would claim the exemption, and they say the "valuation which would have been made" noted on his records by the assessor would not be checked until the time came for selling or changing the use of the land, at which date it might be too late to protest.

Proposition 2 on the ballot creation of airport authorities.

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "the addition of Section 12 of Article IX of the Constitution, authorizing the Legislature to provide by law for the creation, establishment, maintenance and operation of Airport Authorities composed of one or more counties, and authorizing the levy of a tax not to exceed Seventy-Five Cents (75 cents) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100) valuation of all taxable property within such Airport Authority except the property of state regulated common carriers required by law to pay a tax upon intangible assets, after approval of its voters."

Immediately involved in this amendment are the cities of Dallas and Fort Worth, which were instrumental in securing its submission. The amendment would add a new Section 12 to Article IX of our State Constitution. It is proposed as a result of federal pressure for the development of regional airports.

The Legislature would be authorized by this proposal to provide by law for the creation, establishment, maintenance and operation of airport authorities composed of one or more counties.

The airport authority could be given power to issue general obligation bonds or revenue bonds, or both, for the purpose of acquisition, construction, repair or renovation of an airport or airports. This would include authority to provide landing fields and runways, airport buildings, hangers, facilities, equipment, fixtures, and any and all other property, real or personal, necessary to operate, equip, and maintain an airport.

The governing bodies of cities whose airport facilities were served by certificated airlines, and whose airport facilities were being acquired by the airport authority, would choose whether the Board of Directors of the authority should be appointed or elected. If directors were appointed, the appointment would be made by the County Commissioners' Court. If they were elected, election would be by the qualified taxing voters of the county. Where the airport authority covered more than one county, one county might choose directors by election and in another county they might be appointed by the Commissioners' Court. In case of appointment, Commissioners would be required to secure the consent to their appointment from any city whose airport was taken over by the authority.

Directors would be selected on the basis of the proportionate population of each county according to the last Federal census. They would serve without compensation for a term fixed by the Legislature and not to exceed six years. They would be residents of the county which elected them. No county would have less than one director.

There would have to be an election before any county could take part in an Airport Authority. The Commissioners' Court would call the election upon petition of 5% of the qualified taxing voters. Elections would be held on the same day if more than one county were involved in the Authority. Not more than one election could be called in a county until after the expiration of one year. If an election failed, a petition signed by 10% of the qualified taxing voters would be required before the Commissioners' Court could call another one.

If two or more counties were voting on the proposition of creating an airport authority a majority of the qualified taxing voters in each county would have to vote in favor. An airport authority could be created, however, composed of the county or counties that voted in favor of its creation if provision for such were submitted at the time of vote. An additional county could be added to the Authority later by a favorable vote in the county and approval by a two-thirds vote of the then existing board of directors.

The Authority would be required to assume any general obligation bonds or revenue bonds outstanding against publicly owned airport facilities it acquired.

The board of directors of the Airport Authority could levy an ad valorem tax not to exceed 75 cents on the $100 valuation of property. It would appoint an Assessor and Collector of Taxes, and the tax rolls would be approved by the board. State regulated common carriers required by law to pay a tax upon intangible assets would not be subject to taxation by the Authority.

This amendment does not create any airport authorities; it merely authorizes the Legislature to provide the means and mechanics for the creation of them through the action of the electorate in later elections which may be called for such purposes.

How high an ad valorem tax the authority may need, how much of its operating costs and bond payments can be met by revenues, and what federal assistance may be anticipated, are questions which will be raised at the time a specific airport authority is proposed and submitted to voters in local county elections.

Proposition 3 on the ballot with drawing Arlington State College from the A&M University system under the permanent University fund.

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "the Constitutional Amendment withdrawing Arlington State College from participation in the Permanent University Fund."

This amendment completes the shift of Arlington State College from the Texas A&M University System, and the change in financing of permanent improvements at Arlington.

Last year the Legislature passed a law providing that Arlington State College "shall be under the direction of the Board of Regents of the University of Texas," but specifying that "it is the intent of the Legislature that future building needs of Arlington State College shall be financed from some source or sources other than the University of Texas' share of the principal and/or interest of and from the University Permanent Fund."

The Legislature carried out this intent by including Arlington State College in the list of state institutions of higher learning which finance their permanent improvements from a special state ad valorem tax. It was included in an amendment of that section of our Constitution which was adopted last fall.

Arlington and four other schools were added and the tax rate was increased from 5c to 10c.

With these transfers, both administrative and financial, Arlington State College will no longer receive any building money from the Permanent University Fund. The purpose of the current amendment, to be voted on in November, is a technical one. It will clean up the wording of our Constitution by removing the college from the Permanent University Fund list.

Proposition 4 on the ballot terms of office of directors of conservation and reclamation districts.

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "the Constitutional Amendment changing the maximum term of office of directors of conservation and reclamation districts from two to six years."

This proposed amendment would add a new Section 30c to Article XVI of our State Constitution to permit the Legislature to fix the term of office of directors of conservation and reclamation districts, not to exceed six years.

The amendment would apply to persons serving on the governing bodies of political subdivisions created for the purpose

Amendments . . .

 es of Section 52, Article III and Section 59, Article XVI of our Constitution. These include irrigation districts, navigation districts, drainage districts and districts for construction, improvement and maintenance of rivers, creeks, streams, pools, lakes, reservoirs, dams, canals, and waterways. They are generally referred to as conservation and reclamation districts.

Another section of our Constitution, Section 30a of Article XVI, provides six year terms for "such boards as have been or may hereafter be established by law." It was adopted in 1912 in an attempt to attract men of high qualifications and ability to serve on such boards. But our State Supreme Court has held that this applies only to boards of state agencies, and in 1964 the Attorney General ruled that many conservation and reclamation districts are not state agencies. That meant their directors would be limited to two year terms.

All statutory provisions relating to terms of office of such directors enacted before adoption of the amendment would be validated, so long as they did not provide for terms exceeding six years. The proposal would clarify a confusing situation in favor of longer terms.

Proposition 5 on the Ballot, authorizing a state wide system of retirement, disability and death benefits

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "the Constitutional Amendment authorizing the Texas Legislature to establish a State-wide Cooperative System of Retirement, Disability and Death Benefits for the officials and employees of the various counties or other political subdivisions of the state, or political subdivisions of a county; authorizing the Legislature to provide for a voluntary merger into the system authorized by this Amendment by those officers and employees covered by the provisions of subsection b) of Section 62 of Article XVI of the Texas Constitution as now existing or may hereafter be established; providing that costs of this System shall be borne by the counties and other political subdivisions of the state and of the county electing to participate therein and the officers and employees covered by the System; and forbidding the Legislature from making any appropriations for the operation of this System."

This proposition would add a new subsection c) to Section 62 of Article XVI of our Constitution, giving the Legislature authority to provide a statewide system of retirement, disability and death benefits for all officers and employees of a county or of any other political subdivision in the state. The retirement system would include elective as well as appointive officers.

There is already a constitutional provision for Retirement, Disability and Death Compensation Funds for county employees. Eleven of the larger counties in the state have adopted their own systems under the provisions of Article XVI, Section 62 (b). This subsection requires a majority vote of qualified taxpayers to authorize a retirement system for their county. It limits the county's contribution to not more than 5% of an employee's compensation and not more than $150 in one year for each employee. Subsection (b) also requires that all funds of a county system must be invested in bonds of the United States, the State of Texas or counties or the State, or in bonds issued by any agency of the United States government if payment of principal and interest is guaranteed by the government.

There also are statutory provisions permitting pension funds in other political subdivisions such as Municipal or City employees, firemen, policemen and Navigation District employees. The language of the proposed amendment is very broad. Apparently these could be merged into the proposed state-wide system. It appears there might be a considerable overlapping of possible pension benefits and that in the case of county employees, there might be a duplication of benefits.

Under the proposed state-wide system the governing body of a county, or political subdivision would determine whether it would participate, without a vote of the people. The cost of the system would be determined by the Legislature but the county or political subdivision would pay all the cost. The amendment would specifically provide that the Legislature "shall never make an appropriation to pay the costs of this Retirement, Disability and Death Compensation System."

The Legislature would be free to establish the kind of system it deemed best, to decide the kind of investments which could be made with the funds contributed, the type of board which would administer the system, and the amount of contribution for employee, subject to the limitation that the amount contributed by the county or other political subdivision must "equal the amount paid for the same purpose from the income of each officer and employee." All of these indicate a system with all funds and controls centralized at the state level.

Provision is made for the governing body of a county which has its own retirement system to make an agreement for a voluntary merger into the state-wide system provided by this amendment. If this were generally done, the present constitutional provision, and its limitations, for county retirement plans would be superseded and abandoned.

The addition of a Subsection (c) to Section 62 of Article III apparently would not affect the present Subsection (a) which sets up a retirement, disability and death compensation system for state employees. Subsection (a) restricts the amount contributed by the state for the retirement of its employees to not more than five percentum (5%) of the compensation paid to each person, it limits the type of investments which may be made by this fund and it requires a sufficient amount to be kept on hand to meet the immediate payments likely to become due each year out of the Fund. There is also a state retirement plan for judges, who are not eligible to participate in the State Employees Retirement Plan. Qualified members of the Teachers Retirement System are, however, entitled to credit for service rendered as state employees, and similarly, qualified members of the Employees Retirement System of Texas are entitled to credit for service rendered to the public schools, colleges or universities covered under the Teacher Retirement System.

The result of Proposition 5, if it should be adopted, would be that state officers and employees, judges and college and university employees would be members of separate and restricted systems, while officers and employees of counties, cities and the various other political subdivisions could have available to them a state-wide system, virtually without constitutional restrictions. Apparently the proposition would allow school districts to be eligible for the new state-wide system, although such a shift would probably not be practical for many reasons. A school district would have to pay the cost of the program under the new system, while the State pays the costs under the present Teacher Retirement System.

There is also a broad statement that it is the further intention of the Legislature that officers and employees of counties and other political subdivisions "may be included in these systems regardless of whether their County or political subdivision participates in the state-wide system or participates in a county retirement under Article XVI Section 62 (b) such language might allow the Legislature to bring officers and employees under the proposed state-wide retirement system even though the governing body of their political subdivision had not chosen to participate. Or it might establish a constitutional right for an individual employee or officer to adopt the state-wide plan and force the governing body to match his contribution. The two possibilities mentioned are only by way of illustrating that the language employed is vague and confusing so that the exact import of this proposed amendment, if adopted, will probably have to await an interpretation by the Legislature or the courts.

Proposition 6 on the Ballot authorizing payment by the state to spouse and children of law enforcement officers, custodial personnel of the Texas Department of Corrections, or full-paid firemen, who suffer violent death in the course of their duties.

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "the Constitutional Amendment providing for the payment of assistance by the State of Texas to the surviving spouse and minor children of law enforcement officers, custodial personnel of the Texas Department of Corrections, or full-paid firemen who suffer violent death in the course of the performance of their duties as law enforcement officers, custodial personnel of the Texas Department of Corrections or as full-paid firemen."

This proposal would authorize the Legislature by general law to provide for the payment of assistance by the State to the surviving spouse and minor children of law enforcement officers, or of law enforcement officers, or of full-paid firemen, or of custodial personnel of the Texas Department of Corrections. The authority to pay such aid would be restricted to cases where violent death was suffered in the course of the performance of duty.

Authority granted by the Legislature would not be limited to employees of the State but would apply to all law enforcement officers and full-paid firemen to whom the Legislature might be willing to extend it. Any provisions made by the Legislature would, in the case of people who are not employees of the State, be in addition to insurance or other arrangements for survivors that might be made by cities, or counties, or other governmental agencies which might have law enforcement employees or full-paid firemen. The policy of this amendment involves selectivity as to who will be the recipient of State aid. It chooses a certain class of public employees for this special treatment. It would allow the Legislature to make further choices as to whom it would assist. It is permissive and would not require that the Legislature appropriate money or provide for assistance to all the people designated in the amendment, or any of them. It would apply only to those who suffer violent death in the performance of their duties, and in the case of firemen, it would apply only to full-paid firemen. It would not apply to volunteer firemen and presumably would not apply to part-time firemen.

This would be another exception to the general prohibition in Section 51 of Article III against granting public money to any individual or association of individuals or municipal or other corporations. Exceptions have been made to allow aid to soldiers and sailors and their wives and widows, Texas Rangers and their widows, the needy aged, needy blind, needy children and needy persons who are totally and permanently disabled. This would be a new Section 51-d of this same Article III.

It has been argued that local governments do not usually make sufficient provisions if any, for survivors of law enforcement officers and firemen, but same serious questions have also been raised about the wisdom of the State's interference with decisions which ought to be made at the local level.

Proposition 7 on the Ballot, providing for annual registration of voters without payment of a fee. You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "repealing the poll tax as a requirement for voting."

This proposition would take out of our Constitution the requirement that a poll tax must be paid before a person can vote. This is really no longer an issue since court decisions have nullified the requirement. The proposed amendment would require annual registration of voters without payment of a fee. It would provide that "before offering to vote at an election a voter shall have registered annually," and that the Legislature "shall provide by law for the registration of all voters."

These historic changes would be accomplished by amendment of Sections 2 and 4 of Article VI of our Constitution. Unless this amendment is adopted, it is doubtful that there would be any constitutional authority for state-wide registration, in that the present Constitution, Art. VI, Sec. 4, provides that the Legislature "may provide by law for the registration of all voters in all cities containing a population of ten thousand inhabitants or more." The proposed amendment would substitute the word "shall" and would eliminate the restrictive language in italics. Thus, it would be mandatory under the proposed amendment for the Legislature to provide for registration of all voters wherever they reside. The provision quoted above was adopted in 1891 but after its adoption there were repeated charges that special interests were controlling many voters. In 1902 the amendment requiring payment of a poll tax was adopted; this wrote into the Constitution a mandatory provision for registration of all voters twenty-one to sixty years of age.

The poll tax requirement for voting was held invalid in February of this year by a three judge federal court (United States of America vs. State of Texas, 252 F Supp. 234, D. C. 1966). It based its ruling on the due process clause of the Federal Constitution. The court said this requirement was equivalent to a charge or penalty imposed on the exercise of a fundamental right, and it indicated that any charge for registration would be illegal. The United States Supreme Court affirmed the decision.

Immediately following the three judge decision, the State Legislature was called into special session and it adopted a new registration act. The major change in the law was that registration with the County Clerk should be without any charge. Under the law passed in February voters will register annually, as they have previously done, during the period October 1 through January 31. A temporary registration was allowed during March, 1966, but this was a one-time provision in order to clarify the immediate right to vote without payment of poll tax.

The section of the Constitution which levies the poll tax would not be repealed by this amendment. As a practical matter, collection of the poll tax may drop very substantially as a result of this change. This tax produced $1,972,150 in 1965.

Hello there...

WE'RE THE HEDRICK BROTHERS

Amendments

poll tax payment in order to vote were submitted in 1949 and in 1963. On both occasions the proposed amendment was defeated by the same percentage of voters; the vote against the amendment was slightly in excess of 56% each time. One major argument against these proposals, and apparently a successful one, was that they did not require annual registration of voters.

Since the use of the poll tax as a registration requirement is now legally dead under the court decisions, the crux of the problem is (1) whether we should require the Legislature to provide for statewide registration which would apply alike to all citizens wherever they reside and (2) whether such registration should be permanent or annual. This amendment would, in a word, require annual statewide registration.

Most citizens apparently would agree that registration of all voters on an equal state-wide basis makes sense. There are differing schools of thought as to whether registration should be permanent or should be annual. Some people oppose any registration and it would be possible, if this amendment is not adopted, for some future legislature to repeal the registration provisions of our election laws since our Constitution would then allow, but not require, the Legislature to provide for registration.

Most of those who oppose this amendment do so, however, because they think that permanent registration, or registration good for a period of years, would be more in keeping with the national trend of liberalizing voting requirements.

Those who favor this amendment argue that a right so fundamental as the right to vote should be clearly protected by statutory provisions of our Constitution to prevent voting the names of dead people and people who have moved, and repeat voting and other fraudulence. They believe our population is today so mobile, people move so much from city to city, state to state, and job to job, even within the same company, or into government service and back to private employment, that annual registration is the only way to keep an accurate, up-to-date record on who is entitled to vote.

Proposition 8 on the Ballot Voting by persons temporarily disqualified by reason of residence.

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "The Constitutional Amendment permitting persons qualified to vote in this State except for the residence requirements in a county or district to vote for Presidential and Vice Presidential Electors and for all state-wide offices, questions or propositions, and permitting citizens of the United States recently arrived or departed from the State to vote for Presidential and Vice Presidential Electors."

A proposed new Section 2a to Article VI of our State Constitution would alleviate some problems of citizens who have been temporarily disfranchised.

It would authorize the Legislature to enact laws and provide a method of registration to permit a person fully qualified to vote in this State except that he had not resided six months in his county or precinct, (1) to vote in federal presidential elections, and (2) to vote for all offices, questions or propositions which are decided by a statewide vote.

It would also authorize the Legislature to enact laws and to set up a method of registration in federal presidential elections for people who are otherwise qualified but who do not meet residence requirements, if they have resided anywhere within the State for at least thirty days preceding a general election in a presidential election year, or if that person had been a qualified elector in another state immediately prior to coming to Texas or would have been eligible to vote in that state if he had remained there until the election.

It would allow the Legislature to provide a method of registration for absentee voting for Presidential and Vice Presidential electors who have otherwise qualified electors who have moved from Texas to another state. This particular privilege could be granted only for enough time to permit the former resident to meet residential requirements for voting in the state to which he moved. In no case could it be granted for more than twenty four months.

It has been estimated that about 75,000 persons are disfranchised at each election because they are unable to meet the six months residence requirement in their county and that about 100,000 new residents are unable to vote because they have not lived in this State the required one year.

The State Attorney General's office held in a 1960 opinion that a person who does not meet the requirement of six months residence within the district or county is not entitled to vote for any office. This construction is not followed in some counties, which allow voting for statewide offices although these district or county residence requirements are not satisfied. Many people do not realize that a voter can temporarily lose his right to vote when he moves about within this State from one county to another.

A great deal of national attention has been given to the plight of those who move from one state to another. Congress passed a resolution in 1956 urging states to meet this problem so citizens could vote in presidential elections. A number of measures have been introduced in Congress during the past decade which would regulate this subject but none has been adopted. In 1962 the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws approved a uniform act for voting by new residents in presidential elections. By early 1965 eighteen states had adopted legislation of that nature.

Some people have doubts about this amendment because they fear increasing mobility of citizens would add greatly to the difficulties of holding elections and projecting ballots from fraud. There is a growing realization, however, that an increasing number of people are being disfranchised and denied the right to vote on state and national questions which are not restricted to any single district.

Proposition 9 on the Ballot Increasing the Court of Criminal Appeals to Five Judges.

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "The Amendment to the State Constitution providing for a Court of Criminal Appeals of five members, and prescribing the term of said court."

This amendment would increase our Court of Criminal Appeals from three Judges to five Judges.

The Court now operates with three Judges and two Commissioners who are assistants to the Judges, but have no authority as members of the Court. The two present Commissioners of Appeals would become Judges and hold their offices, one for a term of two years and the other for a term of four years, beginning the first day of January following the adoption of this amendment. The Judges could, by agreement one with another, designate which new Judge would serve two years and which would have a term of four years.

The Governor would designate one of the five Judges as Presiding Judge and at the expiration of his term, and each six years thereafter, a Presiding Judge would be elected.

The Constitution now provides that the Governor shall, in case of a vacancy in the office of a Judge in the Court of Criminal Appeals, fill the vacancy by appointment until the next succeeding general election. The amendment would make two changes in this procedure: it would require the Judge's appointment to be made with the advice and consent of the Senate and the appointment would be for the unexpired term.

The Court of Criminal Appeals is now required by the Constitution to sit for the transaction of business from the first Monday of October to the last Saturday in June in each year. This proposal would allow the Court to sit for approximately the full twelve months "from the first Monday in October to the last Saturday in September."

It would also require the Court to conduct its business at the State Capitol. At present, this is the law but the Constitution would allow the Legislature to designate two other places where the Court might sit.

The proposal would amend both Section 4 and Section 5 of Article V.

Proposition 10 on the Ballot School District Taxes.

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "The Amendment to Section 3-b of Article VII of the Constitution of Texas providing that taxes or bonds previously voted in any independent school district or in any junior college district shall not be abrogated, cancelled or invalidated by any change in boundaries and authorizing the continuance of the levy of taxes after such change without further election."

In 1962 a provision was written into our Constitution to correct a situation which had proven a serious impediment to the efficient and economical administration of the schools, but it was limited to Dallas County. Under the law, adjustment of school district boundaries, however desirable, wiped out rates and invalidated unissued bonds. The 1962 constitutional provision was to the effect that a change of any kind in the boundaries of an independent school district (in Dallas County) would not abrogate, cancel or invalidate taxes for the maintenance of public free schools, or any bonds which had been voted but were unissued. It specified that the maximum tax rate after such a consolidation or annexation would be the maximum rate already voted in the district having the greatest scholastic population, and similarly, that only the bonds of the district having the greatest scholastic population could be subsequently sold and delivered.

Proposition 10 would amend that section of our Constitution, which is Article III, Section 3-b, to make it applicable to any independent school district or junior college district in Texas.

Proposition 11 on the Ballot extending state water program to include filtration, treatment and transportation of water and authorizing an additional $200,000,000 in Bonds.

The benefits in fiscal management permitted school districts in Dallas County would be extended to the remainder of the state with junior colleges, which are in part governed by the general school laws, added.

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "The Constitutional Amendment authorizing the issuance of an additional $200,000,000 in Texas Water Development Bonds and providing for further investment of the Texas Water Development Fund in reservoirs and associated facilities."

This amendment would be a further implementation of the concept that the State should encourage the construction or enlargement of dams and reservoirs "for conservation of the public waters of the state, which waters are held in trust for the use and benefit of the public."

This proposal would allow the state to expand and round out its program for conservation and maximum development of its water resources. It would authorize acquisition and development of systems or works necessary for filtration, treatment and transportation of water. It would approve the issuance of $200,000,000 more in state bonds to finance this enlarged program.

In 1957 our Constitution was amended to create the Texas Water-Development Board, and to authorize the issuance of general obligation bonds from which aid could be given political subdivisions in the conservation and development of water resources. This was the beginning of a program designed to assist local communities in development and ownership of water facilities for drinking, fire-fighting, irrigation and industrial uses. Money is loaned to local authorities under this program at an interest rate at least 1/2% above the cost to the state. The program is self-liquidating.

In 1962 a further amendment extended state policy on water development to include the construction or enlargement of reservoirs by the State of Texas itself, or acquiring conservation storage space in reservoirs on Texas streams constructed by federal or local governmental agencies. The purpose was to insure that reservoir sites were developed to their optimum potential and also to preserve state and local authority in areas being developed by the federal government.

The water storage program, adopted in 1962, is not immediately self-liquidating. There is a delay between the time money must be expended to acquire storage space and the date on which construction of a reservoir will be completed and there is sufficient water to fill it. Even after water is available in storage, there often will be further delay until the growth of an area creates demand for the water.

When the 1962 amendment was adopted, it was recognized such a storage program could not normally be undertaken by a local government because it would not be able to finance it. The state, through its program, was underwriting the future needs of its people. Eventually, the excess storage in a reservoir will be sold and the state will receive payment either in cash or in notes and bonds, or both. In the meantime payment of principal and interest by local governmental agencies to whom loans have been made will help in carrying the cost of interest and retirement of bonds for all purposes.

It is anticipated that during the fiscal year ending August 31, 1967 and in some succeeding years, part of the cost of this water storage program will have to be met out of the state's General Revenue Fund. The years in which general revenue funds will be needed and the amount cannot be exactly anticipated.

The proposed new program to be administered by the Texas Water Development Board would not be immediately self-liquidating either. Obviously, if the state is going to invest in facilities for filtration, treatment and transportation of water from the point of storage to the point of treatment and filtration and if it is going to distribute this water, there will be a time lag between the investment of funds and the date when sale of water or sale of a whole system will return some of the State's investment — a time lag during which the additional payments on state bonds will have to be paid in part from the General Revenue Fund. The Board will guard against this as much as possible. It is not likely that it will undertake a system of transporting water or build a facility and associated work unless there is an immediate demand for them.

Section 49-d of Article III, which this proposal would amend, authorized issuance of $200,000,000 in bonds. To date the Board has issued $85,000,000, the last issue being $15,000,000 in February of this year. As of June this year the amortized value of loans amounted to $43,827,150 and the cost of storage, facilities purchased came to $14,998,209. Commitments for additional loans came to $2,385,000 and commitments for purchase of storage amounted to $6,241,791.

The additional $200,000,000 in bonds, which would be authorized if this amendment is adopted, could be issued by the Board only when, and in the amounts, approved by a two-thirds vote of the elected members of each House of the Legislature. The Legislature would also, under this proposed amendment, provide terms and conditions under which the Board could sell, transfer or lease any reservoirs and associated systems or works the Board has financed in whole or in part. This requirement already exists as to storage facilities acquired by the Board and the right to use such facilities but our Constitution has the additional requirement as to these storage facilities that their sale, transfer or lease may not be for less than the direct cost of the Board in acquiring them.

The Legislature in its last session gave the Board the duty of preparing a comprehensive State Water Plan, including a definition and designation of river basins and watersheds as a separate unit for purposes of water development and inter-watershed transfer. The water plan is to be a flexible guide to state policy for the development of state water resources, with the Board instructed to make such modifications and amendments as experience and changed conditions made advisable. The Legislature also created the Texas Water Rights Commission and gave it the duty of acting on all applications for permits to appropriate public water for beneficial use or storage, or to construct works for the impoundment, storage, diversion or transportation of public water.

This amendment would prohibit use of the Texas Water Development Fund, or any other state fund for water development, for financing any project that would remove from the basin of origin any surface water necessary to supply the rest.

TEXAS IS ON THE MOVE!

In virtually every field of endeavor, our state has made dramatic progress the past four years under the strong leadership of Governor John Connally. His administration's bold, yet sensible programs have helped provide new opportunity and a better way of life for all our people.

IMPROVED EDUCATION — Since 1963, state investment in higher education has doubled, and faculty salaries have increased 40%. State support of local public schools has increased 44% in four years, including a $100 million teacher pay raise enacted in 1965. Technical and vocational training programs have been vastly increased; junior college enrollment doubled during the current biennium. Special literacy programs for migrant workers and their children have been expanded. A college student loan fund of $85 million has been established. And a special Governor's Committee on Public Education currently is studying all facets of elementary and secondary education.

WATER RESOURCES DEVELOPMENT — Long range planning and development have been given top priority. $100 million in bonds have been issued for development of needed storage facilities; authorization has been granted to expand this program to $200 million for the next two years.

CONCERN FOR THE AGED AND NEEDY — Since 1963, assistance to our elderly has been increased 27%. The Governor's Committee on Aging is continually working for the benefit of our senior citizens.

OUTDOOR RECREATION — More than $2 million has been invested in improving ten of our most attractive state parks during the past two years to provide additional recreational facilities.

INDUSTRIAL EXPANSION — A record 855 new industrial plants have been established the past three years, moving Texas into second place in the nation in industrial expansion. Last year, more than 23,000 new jobs were created in manufacturing alone — the best year ever for the Texas labor force.

INCREASED TOURISM — More than 12 million tourists visited Texas last year, adding more than $900 million to the state's economy, and creating 140,000 new jobs. The state's tourist advertising program has been sharply expanded.

MENTAL HEALTH AND MENTAL RETARDATION — New emphasis on prevention of mental illness and mental retardation has been achieved through establishment of new community centers, replacing the former practice of "warehousing" patients. Investment for research into causes of mental disorders has doubled the past four years.

BETTER HIGHWAY TRANSPORTATION — Texas has more farm-to-market roads than any other state — more than 35,134 miles. We lead the nation in construction of interstate highways, at a cost 40% below the nation's average.

COMBAT AIR AND WATER POLLUTION — New legislation for public health, "The Clear Air Act of Texas," provides state action to combat air pollution. Similar vigorous action has been initiated to control pollution of Texas streams, bays and estuaries.

NEW CULTURAL GROWTH — The Fine Arts Commission was established in 1965 to nurture the cultural enrichment of Texans. The state's cultural heritage will be preserved and portrayed in the state's pavilion at HemisFair '68 in San Antonio.

BUSINESSLIKE ADMINISTRATION — With unprecedented teamwork, our state government has operated responsibly and efficiently. The Legislature has finished its work on time in each session. Following a pay-as-you-go policy, we have maintained a healthy surplus in the general revenue fund without curtailing essential services.

HEALTHY, GROWING ECONOMY — Business activity rose 11% last year, as Texas continues one of the brightest growth areas. Employment and income are at an all-time high, unemployment at an all-time low. Despite increased responsibilities, our state government costs only $168.78 a year per citizen, fourth lowest in the nation. No broad-based tax has been enacted the past four years. Texas still has no personal income or payroll tax, no corporate income tax, and is one of few remaining states with a limited sales tax of 2%.

 notably foreseeable future water requirements within the basin for the next ensuing fifty year period. This would not prevent the transfer of water on a temporary, interim basis.

Proposition 12 on the Ballot providing the method and manner for dissolution of hospital districts.

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "the constitutional amendment providing the method and manner for dissolution of hospital districts."

The first constitutional authority for hospital districts was adopted in 1954. Under it the Legislature was authorized to create county-wide hospital districts in counties having a population in excess of 100,000 and in Galveston County. The Legislature was authorized to establish the manner in which the district could be created, the district's power to issue bonds and to levy a tax not to exceed 75 cents on the $100 valuation.

This set the pattern for other constitutional amendments to cover additional counties in 1958, 1961 and 1962. In 1962 also there was adopted a constitutional provision by which the Legislature could create hospital districts in any county.

As is often the case, this current proposal was precipitated by an incident which pointed up a deficiency in the basic law. In 1965 an attempt was made to abolish the hospital district in Jasper County. The Attorney General was asked for an opinion as to the procedure and the authority for such a dissolution; and he ruled that there was no existing statutory or constitutional authority for it.

The purpose of this proposal, an amendment of Section 9, Article IX, is to remedy this situation and to provide the basic conditions which must be included in a law, or laws, the Legislature is authorized to enact for dissolution of hospital districts.

The Legislature would have to provide a process for determining whether a majority of the qualified voters of the district want to dissolve it. No election to dissolve a district could be held more often than once each year.

Assets could not be disposed of or transferred except for due compensation unless they were transferred to another governmental agency, such as a county, embracing the district to be dissolved and using such transferred assets in such a way as to benefit citizens formerly within the district.

Proposition 13 on the Ballot consolidating some functions of government.

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "the Amendment to the Constitution authorizing the Legislature to provide by statute for any county having one million, two hundred thousand (1,200,000) or more inhabitants to consolidate the functions of government and for such counties or any political subdivisions located therein to contract for the performance of functions of government."

This proposition would authorize the Legislature to enact a statute which would apparently be limited to counties having a population of one million, two hundred thousand (1,200,000) or more. Harris County is the only one presently having such a population. The second paragraph of the amendment might have broader application. Authority for such legislation would be incorporated in a new Section 63, which would be added to Article III of our Constitution.

Paragraph (1) of Section 63 would in general authorize the Legislature to provide by statute for the consolidation of some functions of government of any one or more political subdivisions comprising or located within the county, provided, an election must be had within the subdivisions involved, and such consolidation must be approved by a majority of the voters. Paragraph (2) of the proposed amendment would in addition authorize the county government, or any political subdivisions comprising or located in the county to contract one with another for the performance of governmental functions which are required or authorized by the Constitution or laws of this state, under such terms and conditions as the Legislature might provide. The term "governmental functions" as it relates to counties would be defined as including all duties, activities and operations of statewide implications in which the county acts for the state, as well as those functions of local importance.

The caption of this proposed amendment and the words which appear on the ballot indicate both paragraphs are restricted to Harris County, but each paragraph in the body of the proposed amendment deals with a different subject and paragraph (2) does not contain any such limitation on its application. The question is raised as to whether paragraph (2) would apply only to Harris County, or whether it could be construed to apply to any county in the state.

The impact of this amendment if adopted, would in large part depend upon the extent to which the Legislature implemented it with legislation. Should the implementation be broad, it might produce economies that would set a statewide pattern for the future combining of many of the functions of local government, either by contract or by outright consolidation.

Proposition 14 on the Ballot deleting the limitation on voting by members of the armed forces.

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "the Constitutional Amendment to allow members of the Armed Forces who are residents of Texas to vote."

This proposed amendment would remove from Article VI, Section 2 of our Constitution a limitation on voting by a person who is a member of the Armed Forces of the United States or component branches, or in the military service of the United States. The result would be that these servicemen would be able to vote if they met the requirements of age, citizenship and residence necessary to qualify voters.

Actually, the adoption of this amendment would serve only to take out of our Constitution some wording which has little or no effect at this time. In 1965 the United States Supreme Court (Carrington v. Rash, 390 U. S. 89) reversed a decision of the Supreme Court of Texas, and held that the restrictive wording in our Texas Constitution preventing a serviceman from acquiring residence in Texas for voting purposes was no less than an "invidious discrimination" in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment.

Disqualification of military men was introduced into the Constitution in 1876 on the theory that Texas was not necessarily the free choice domicile of men in active service, and that permitting them to vote could lead to domination of civilian affairs by the military. In 1932 the disqualification was eased somewhat to allow members of the Texas National Guard, members of the Reserve Corps and retired members of the armed forces to vote provided they could vote only in the county in which they resided at the time of entering service. This is the remaining provision on the subject in our Constitution and it would be eliminated by this proposed amendment.

Both this proposal and Proposition 7 would amend the same section of our Constitution. To avoid confusion, this amendment is submitted with a provision that "if any other amendment to this Section, being for a different purpose is adopted, at the same election, the adoption of this amendment shall not be construed as nullifying the changes made by such other

as you would

...continuing with the Golden Rule. And it is doubtful if any words of Jesus have been quoted more and with approval. It strikes our conscience and our reason. Therefore, "As You Would." That puts the Rule on a very personal basis... better take a look at yourself before you look at your neighbor. Do you know your mind? What do you want for yourself... health, wealth, honor, knowledge, favor and forgiveness of God? If you had three wishes that would be granted, how would you select them from the myriad claims upon your devotion? Paul lists the ends for which he strove... "love, joy, peace, patience, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self control." Was he wise? Would you put material values above these personal virtues? What goods are necessary and which of them could you do without? Perhaps it would help to reflect on your record. Actually, it will be decided exactly... "AS YOU WOULD."

Amendments . . .

Proposition 15 on the Ballot authorizing state acceptance of money from private or federal sources for assistance of physically or mentally handicapped people.

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "the Constitutional Amendment authorizing assistance to the blind, crippled, or otherwise physically or mentally handicapped, in the form of grants of public funds, obtained from private or federal sources only, to local level or other private, non-sectarian associations, groups and non-profit organizations for establishing and equipping facilities to assist the handicapped in becoming gainfully employed, for their rehabilitation or restoration, or for providing other services essential for the better care and treatment of the handicapped."

This would, if adopted, be an amendment of Section 6, Article XVI of our Constitution.

The wording of this proposition is broad and ambiguous. The language which will appear on the ballot, quoted above, indicates that state agencies would be allowed to receive money from private or federal sources which they would then pass on to local level or to other private, non-sectarian organizations, which would use the money for vocational rehabilitation of physically or mentally handicapped persons.

The wording of the amendment itself is much broader in scope. It would allow the money to be used (1) in establishing and equipping facilities for assisting those who are blind, crippled or otherwise physically or mentally handicapped in becoming gainfully employed, (2) in rehabilitating and restoring the handicapped, and (3) in providing other services determined by the state agencies to be essential for the better care and treatment of the handicapped. The inclusion of "other services" apparently would bring under the amendment several state agencies which provide services to the blind, crippled, and physically or mentally handicapped.

ped as well as to the aged and to children; for example, the State Department of Health, State Department of Public Welfare, State Commission for the Blind, State Education Agency, Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, etc.

Article III, Section 51a of our Constitution, for example, is the authority for payment of assistance to the aged, to the blind, to the disabled, and on behalf of the children, and it also provides for medical assistance on behalf of these needy people. This section provides for "rehabilitation and other services" for these people. And further, to be able to receive federal funds for aid to the aged, the blind and on behalf of children, and for medical assistance, the Department of Public Welfare must furnish "services" on behalf of these people.

The proposed amendment states "money accepted under this sub-section is state money." This would make the money subject to state auditing procedures, with regular accounting the same as for other public funds, but it might jeopardize federal assistance. There is a serious question as to whether money received from the federal government by state agencies may be considered state money.

The proposal also says that no other money may be spent by state agencies for these purposes. Would this mean that, when money is accepted from the federal government or from private sources, no state money could be used in providing services to the handicapped? Also, would it, because of conflict with Article III, Section 51a, raise a further question about the use of state funds for any aid or medical assistance to the disabled, or to the aged, or the blind, or on behalf of needy children?

The proposed amendment would allow money accepted for these purposes from the federal government or from private sources to be expended without the necessity of an appropriation "notwithstanding any other provisions of this Constitution." The money could not be expended for any purpose other than the purpose for which it was given. The Legislature could prohibit state agencies from accepting money, or regulate the acceptance and expenditure of the money and the purposes for which it could be expended but, if the Legislature did not act, the wording of the amendment would be full and specific authority for expenditure by the state agency.

Money contributed for the purposes and in the manner contemplated by this proposed amendment might be handled by any one of a number of state agencies. These agencies are authorized by a patchwork of law and constitutional provisions, passed at various times. The vagueness of the proposal might jeopardize some existing programs.

Proposition 16 on the Ballot establishing the date when newly elected members of the legislature take office.

You will vote FOR or AGAINST: "the Constitutional Amendment establishing the date on which newly elected Members of the Legislature shall qualify and take office."

This proposition would write into the Constitution a definite date on which Senators and Representatives would qualify and take office. It would amend Sections 3 and 4 of Article III to provide that the term of office of both Senators and Representatives shall begin on the day set by law for the convening of the Regular Session of the Legislature.

The day on which the Regular Session begins is set by law under authority of Section 5, Article III. It is the second Tuesday in January of the odd years.

Our Constitution does not specify the date when a Senator takes office. It had previously been the opinion that a Senator began drawing pay vouchers when he took his oath of office. This was several days after the actual election because he could not take his oath of office until after the Secretary of State had certified the results of the election. This date was the basic issue in a suit (Spears, Relator v. Davis, Respondent, 391 SW 2d 921, Tex. Sup. Ct. 1966) to determine whether the names of two Senators could appear on the ballot as candidates for Attorney General in this year's Democratic primary. In ruling on that case the Texas Supreme Court held last January that a Senator's term begins and ends on the day of the general election.

Our Constitution now provides that the two-year terms of Representatives date from the day of their election.

Confusion over the exact date when Senators' terms of office begin has been a major obstacle to special sessions of the Legislature in the period between a general election and the next regular session in January following. It arose when annual salaries were voted. This amendment would clarify these and many other questions.

First meeting of a new year was held for the 4-H Club Public Speaking Group recently in Community Center, to organize and elect officers. Alex Petersen will again be subject matter leader for this group, with Mrs. Juston McBride as assistant.

Kenneth Justice was elected president, Martha Ann McBride vice president, Sue Shirley secretary, Thelma Warren topic master and Larry Justice parliamentarian.

Members present in addition to those officers were Sandra Frye, Mary Kay Wagner, Anita Warren, Betty, Barbara and Jimmy Pierce, Mark Busby, Mary Linderman, George and Maurice Decca.

When Money Won't Do

By winning his lodge's annual golf tournament, Roger became entitled to the traditional silver loving cup. But to his chagrin, the previous winner refused to part with it. When Roger filed suit, the other man told the court:

"This cup can be duplicated for about $95. If I am wrong in keeping it, suppose I just pay him the $95 and we will call it square."

But the court ordered him to hand over not $95 but the cup itself. The judge said the trophy had, over and above its cash value, a unique sentimental value. Hence, mere money could not be a satisfactory substitute.

Whenever money damages would not be "just as good," the law may insist upon what it calls "specific performance" — that is, performance of the actual obligation rather than just damages for non-performance.

Specific performance is decreed most often in cases involving real estate. Suppose you make a contract to buy the lot on the southeast corner of Maple and Spring, and then the seller backs out.

You could probably get a court order commanding him to transfer that specific property to you. For there is no other piece of land in the entire world exactly like the one you bought. Money damages would not make you come out even.

Will a court always order specific performance, whenever money damages would be inadequate? No, because sometimes it is simply not practical. For example:

When an opera star broke his contract, the management asked a court to force him to sing. True enough, money damages were no substitute for an actual performance.

Yet, the court refused a decree. The judge said he would have no way of telling whether the star, if forced to sing, was singing as well as the management had a right to expect.

Besides being impractical at times, specific performance may also be unjust.

Say a girl's fiance breaks their engagement. Money damages, even if available to her, would not be the equivalent of a husband. But no court would literally make the man get married. As one judge explained:

"It is abhorrent to public policy to force a man or woman, under penalty of contempt of court, to enter into a marriage that is objectionable."

REP. ROGERS WRITES

War In Viet Nam Dates To Pre-Kennedy Days

Dear Fellow Texas: Decisions made by the Eisenhower Administration and later upheld by the administrations of Presidents Kennedy and Johnson are responsible for U. S. military and economic involvement in Vietnam.

Australia, France, New Zealand, Pakistan, the Philippines, Thailand, and the United Kingdom. The treaty contained a protocol which designated Cambodia, Laos, and the free territory of Vietnam as part of the area in which aggression by armed attack would be considered as endangering the safety of each member.

In 1954, the Geneva Agreements ended eight years of hostilities between French and Communist forces and dissolved the former French colonial empire in Indochina. The Geneva accord divided Vietnam into two independent parts along the line of the 17th parallel.

At a meeting in Washington in May, 1957, President Eisenhower assured the then South Vietnamese president, Ngo Dinh Diem, of U. S. willingness to continue military and economic aid.

sory group from 227 to 685 at the end of the year. Thus the foundations were laid for successive actions during the Kennedy and Johnson administrations for increased U. S. assistance, both military and economic, as the Communist threat intensified.

While a basic U. S. objective — containment of Communist expansion — applies to Vietnam as it did to Korea, the situations which led to U. S. armed involvement are not similar. In Korea, a sudden full scale war was launched when Communist North Korean troops, supported by Russian equipment and advisers, struck across the border into South Korea on June 25, 1950.

These are the facts. Sincerely, Walter Rogers, Your Congressman

Growers Urged To Choose Seed For 1967 Crop

Right now is the time for cotton producers on the Plains to begin thinking about a supply of good planting seed for 1967, while they still have most of the 1966 crop from which to choose.

This is the advice of Dr. Levon Ray, agronomist at the South Plains Research and Extension Center north of Lubbock. Ray says special care in the selection and handling of planting seed from this year's crop will be even more important because of the early freeze and the high incidence of verticillium wilt, angular leaf spot and bacterial blight.

First, Ray says producers should arrange to get seed from cotton in the most mature, disease free field available.

Second, the seed roll at the gin should be dumped before this cotton is ginned. It is not possible to maintain varietal purity in any other way, he cautioned.

Third, in processing, the seed should be graded more closely than in normal years. This may result in cutting as much as 50 to 60 per cent of the lighter seed in some cases, but the seed loss is not so great when it is considered that by close grading the amount of seed needed for planting will be reduced.

Fourth, the seed should be properly treated and stored under dry conditions to prevent heating and loss of germination.

RECORDER

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Imagine the turmoil that can be created when six children are crowded into a car with their parents during a vacation trip. A couple of Bob Streicher's youngsters were fighting; others were crawling back and forth over the seats; and one had become car sick.

"I wish I had a tape recorder," said Streicher. "Why?" wondered his wife. "So I could record this trip," he explained, "send the tape to the Pope and get canonized."

Causes Of Food Price Hike Sought In Study

By VERN SANFORD, Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Gov. John Connally has given three of Texas' leading universities a hurry-up research assignment — a detailed analysis of food costs in the state and of the causes of recent price increases.

Connally set December 1 as target date for reports by the Tech College. He gave the assignment to the heads of the three schools and left it up to them how to conduct the study.

I share the concern of Texans with the dangers of inflation," Connally said in announcing the study. "And I am particularly disturbed about mounting food prices, and their effects on the homemakers of our state."

Connally said, "While rash judgments and emotionally based opinions as to blame are inevitable, they contribute little toward determining cause, or a sensible course of action for improvement of the situation."

Detailing his request, the governor asked for a determination of what part of the consumer's food dollar goes to the producer or grower, to the retailer, and how much goes for such things as transportation, advertising, sales incentives, added services and whatever other costs are involved.

He asked for that determination both on long- and short-term bases, expressed both in absolute dollars and in percentages.

He also suggested that the food cost study be related to other consumer costs.

GAS TRANSMISSION

Texas' big gas pipeline operators disagree with their smaller colleagues over whether the state should assume regulation of the pipelines so the Federal Power Commission will not.

Major interstate gas transmission companies contend that they are doing well under the present regulations of the USA Standards Institute under sponsorship of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. But the companies which transmit gas on a part-time basis want state regulation.

Both sides are to file written statements with Texas Rail.

road Commission by November 25. Commission then will consider all arguments and reach a decision.

COURTS SPEAK

State Supreme Court rejected City of San Antonio's appeal for supplemental water from Canyon Dam reservoir on the Guadalupe River. Decision backed a 1958 award by the predecessor to the Texas Water Rights Commission (and affirmed lower court decisions) providing 50,000 acre-feet of water a year to Guadalupe Blanco River Authority for municipal use.

Cities of New Braunfels, Seguin, Gonzales, Cuero and Victoria, along with Calhoun and Refugio Counties, joined GBRA in fighting the San Antonio application during the prolonged, historic-water fight.

High court reversed the lower courts and ordered a retrial of the Lubbock land condemnation case where the jury awarded $48,000 to owners without holding a hearing.

Texas Court of Criminal Appeals set November 9 for hearing on whether it should uphold, rather than reverse, the death penalty for Jack Ruby in the slaying of presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald. On October 3 the court held that Ruby should get a new trial.

ROAD REVENUE HIGH

Texas Highway Department has been informed that Texas is expected to reap $456,000,000 in State highway-user tax revenues this year.

This would make Texas third among the 50 states in road revenue. California is expected to take in $641,000,000 in 1966. New York's income will hit $497,000,000.

Road-user taxes include state fuel and vehicle registration taxes, but not toll fees or parking-meter money.

AIR POLLUTION CONTROL

Texas' new Air Control Board came up with a tentative plan for regulating air pollution starting in 1967.

Plan includes air quality surveys and continuing studies particularly in urban areas, assistance in developing local programs, procedure for investigating complaints and plans for public education on pollution hazards.

Board is thinking about a graduated set of standards for industrial emissions from cotton gins, petrochemical plants, dry cleaning establishments and any other that could possibly add pollutants to the air.

Although the plan is directed toward pollution from smoke and particulate matter, board members indicated it would be made to apply to other air pollution sources after six to eight months compliance notice.

TEACHERS SEEK RAISE

Legislative committee of the Texas State Teachers Association has proposed a new plan calling for $61 to $100 per month raises in teacher pay minimums. Proposal would cost $85,000,000 the first year with the state paying $68,000,000 and local school districts $17,000,000.

TSTA committee also recommended increased benefits to retired teachers, minor retirement system change, clear legal status for voluntary teacher-school board consultation agreements, sick leave benefits, and a continuing contract and professional employment practices law to strengthen job security.

TSTA spokesmen said proposals are needed to combat teacher shortage.

SHORT SNORTS

Page Nineteen Governor Connally announced approval of $112,607 Head Start project grant for Del Valley Independent School District, Travis County, and $147,300 for South Park Independent School District, Jefferson County. State Building Commission announced plans to expand the State Capitol area eastward several blocks to Walker Creek. Property will be beautified and used for recreation purposes until needed for building.

Western Fire and Indemnity Company and Mid-Continent Insurance Company, Lubbock have been rehabilitated and released from receivership, says Insurance Commissioners Clay Cotton.

Two new opinions by the attorney general held that Childress County or its hospital district may have custody of interest and sinking funds to retire hospital bonds and that separate columns on the same assessment blank may be used for assessing values of different local taxing units.

Rep. Gene Fondren of Taylor will head a new House committee to investigate feasibility of group insurance for state officials and employees.

ALWAYS GREEN

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — When the time comes to repaint James O'Connor's home, there is never any question about the color.

It's been green ever since 1907.

O'Connor's father picked out the color when he built the house and the family has stayed with that choice for nearly 80 years.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING!

Girl's Cookies Win

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

When she was eight years old Patsy Paetzold learned to bake and now the eighth-grader is reaping prizes for her cookies and other tempting oven products.

She placed third in the contest for cookie-makers in the recent Holly Sugar Bake-Off here, competing with cooks from over the entire High Plains area who had already won awards at regional fairs.

PATSY ENTERED plate of chocolate crackles, a moist, fudge-type cookies. Last year she won the Holly award at the Amarillo Tri-State Fair in her age division for oatmeal crisps, another type of cookies.

The blue-eyed schoolgirl's baking is not limited to cookies. "She makes better pie crust than I do," says her mother, Mrs. Edward Paetzold, "so she usually makes the pastry and I make the fillings for pies at our house."

A share of her proficiency in cooking making she credits to the appetites of her two big brothers, who create a constant demand for cookies at the Paetzold home on Austin Road. She makes many different kinds.

BESIDES HELPING her mother with cooking, gardening and other home chores, Patsy likes to sew and makes many of her own clothes. Her favorite summer recreation is swimming but she says school activities and some home duties keep her pretty busy through other months of the year.

She is a member of Merry Maidens 4-H Club and takes time for its programs, working in the public speaking group as well as on clothing and favorite foods demonstrations.

It was through 4-H Club work that she began learning to bake, and she has participated in a number of its foods- and nutrition contests, presenting a demonstration in a district contest last year.

SHE WON first place in district competition in the Favorite Foods contests, the past three years. This contest entails a demonstration of food preparation and serving, as well as a test on knowledge of nutrition.

She was a county winner in the 4-H clothing contest last year and modeled her costume in the district style parade, but as a junior entry she was not eligible for a district award.

Born in Deaf Smith County, Patsy has attended St. Anthony's School since first grade. She plans to study homemaking as a part of her junior high and high school education, and looks forward to a career as a homemaker rather than as a professional in food or clothing.

Just now she is most interested in completing her work in the eighth grade and continuing to improve her skills in baking and sewing, with hope of more awards.

Here is her prize-winning cookie recipe:

CHOCOLATE CRACKLES
3 squares (3 oz.) unsweetened chocolate
1/2 c. salad oil
2 c. sugar
4 eggs, unbeaten
2 tsp. vanilla
2 c. sifted all-purpose flour
2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 c. chopped nuts
1 c. powdered sugar (about)

Melt chocolate in double boiler. Remove and blend in oil and sugar; add eggs one at a time and beat well after each addition. Add vanilla. Sift flour, baking powder, and salt; stir into chocolate mixture, add nuts and mix thoroughly.

Chill soft dough several hours or overnight. Shape into balls and roll in powdered sugar. Bake on greased sheet at 350 degrees 10 to 12 minutes.

The powdered sugar coating cracks apart, giving an interesting effect. This recipe makes six dozen two-inch cookies.

News About Area Men On Duty

SAN ANTONIO — Airman Robert H. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard H. Jones of Rt. 5, Hereford, Tex., has been assigned to McChord AFB, Wash., after completing Air Force basic training.

The airman, a 1966 graduate of Spade (Tex.) High School, will be trained on the job as a fire protection specialist with the Air Defense Command.

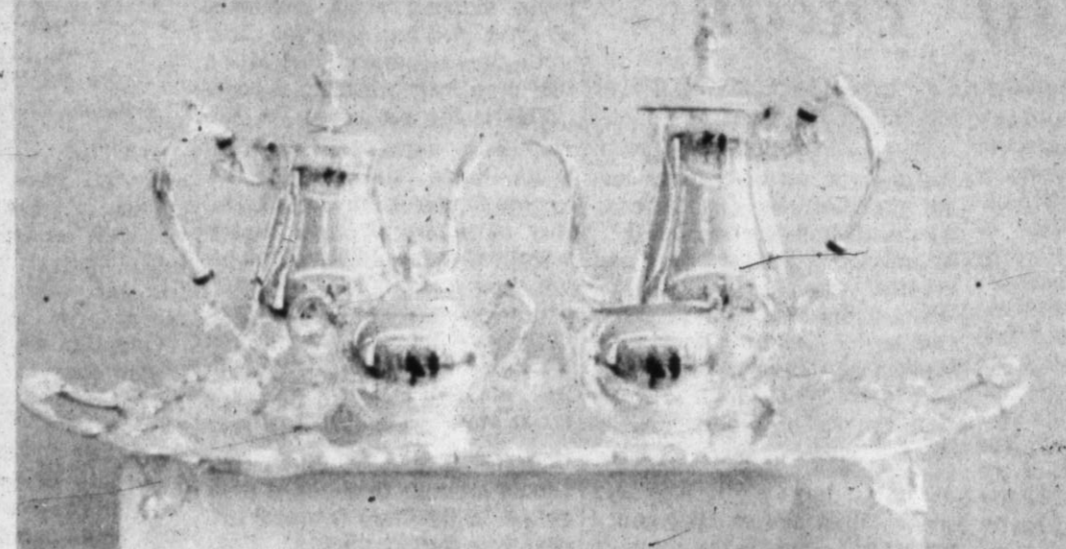

WATCH THOSE HOLIDAYS

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Holidays seem to be a jinx for 9-year-old Donna Myers.

She celebrated one Christmas with measles and another with chicken-pox; one Easter with measles again and another with mumps. Last Labor Day, she was rushed to the hospital with an arm injury.
