Hereford Continues Growth, City Leaders Say

(Editor's Note: The following is the first of a series of articles dealing with the continued growth of Hereford, Tex., as seen through the eyes of persons closely connected with the city and county. Much has been said in recent years of the "slowed down" pace of boom of the '60s, but many things have gone unnoticed. This series is an attempt to bring out those "little" things that have escaped the general public's eye.)

A quote from the first edition of The Hereford Reporter (Hereford Brand) in 1901 still holds true to this day—some 71 years later. The quote said: "Hereford's growth is phenomenal—not a boom; but a gradual, steady, and sure increase of population, dwellings and business places."

Some people find it hard to believe that Hereford, after the 76 per cent increase in population during the last decade, is still growing. But there are those closely related to the city that do not find it hard to believe.

Earnest Langley, Hereford city attorney who has lived in Hereford for some 20 years and witnessed its growth, is one of those who has seen the continued upswing in the Panhandle's "fastest growing city."

"There is this about the growth we have experienced—people say that we haven't had any new large industry, such as Wilson," he said, "but just look at the little industries around that have grown during the last two or three years."

"Some of the expanded or new industries I can name off hand are the Caviness Packing Company which has recently modernized and expanded. A new industry to Hereford is the Tal-Pro Inc. Company which is a recycling plant for packing house bi-products, The Animal Health Clinic on West Park Avenue, the new building facilities of the Gebo Distributing Co., Jim's Plumbing's new building on north 385, a new business Farm Discount Lumber and Supply and Teco of Texas. Morman Manufacturing is also a new company and the expansion of the Hereford State Bank."

With the introduction of new businesses and the expansion of old businesses, comes more population and added dollars in the local economy.

One vital sign of growth is the fact that the city budget is still increasing, yet the taxes have not had to be increased to meet the increase of the budget. The reason for this is that the budget is being increased to meet the demands of the growing population. However, the cost of building and providing services for new families is covered by the new population coming in.

"I don't think that the growth in Hereford has stopped," Langley said. "One reason is because of the tremendous amount of home building in progress now and because of the number of utility increases. When I moved to Hereford the total population was less than our current number of students enrolled in the school system."

Another indication of growth is that Hereford is the second largest school district in the Panhandle and the fourth largest in the Panhandle-South Plains area. A symptom of a town that has stopped growing is that the enrollment in the schools generally falls with the stoppage of new families coming in.

Hereford experienced an average growth of 76 per cent during the last decade, which was twice the average growth of Dallas or Houston. The largest independent, non-suburban, major city growth was reported in Austin with a 34 per cent growth which was less than half of the growth experienced by Hereford.

"We can't say that we are the fastest growing town in the state," Langley said, "because a few of the 'bedroom towns' such as Mesquite, Richardson and other suburbs of large cities grew more. But as far as independent cities not connected with a large city are concerned, Hereford grew the fastest in the state during the 60's."

Hereford was established as a railroad stop by moving a few buildings from La Plata in 1898 near the railroad tracks. In 1910 the county had grown to around 2,000.

In 1910 the citizens of Hereford decided that the existing wooden court house needed to be replaced. In response to this the county commissioners proposed a bond election they thought would fail due to the high cost, Langley said. But the election was approved and the first marble court house in Texas was built in the middle of the prairie. This was the second marble court house to be built in the United States.

"There wasn't even a paved street in Hereford until 10 years after the court house was built," Langley said.

From 1910 until 1940 there was an increase in population of the city of only 800 during the 30- (See "Growth" Page 2)

Building Permits Near $2 Million

Nine new home starts during June—one for $50,000—boosted the yearly construction total in Hereford closer to the $2 million mark.

The nine new home starts, added to other building permits during the month of June, totaled $308,200 and raised the yearly total to $1,887,495, slightly ahead of this time last year.

A year ago the total permits issued through June reached $1,810,700.

The largest permit issued last month was for $50,000 for the construction of a new home. There were eight others issued for construction of homes ranging from $21,000 to $35,000.

A month-by-month tabulation of construction so far this year shows January at the lowest at $109,350, followed by February at $152,950; March, $252,100; April, $330,640; May, $374,255 and June at $308,200.

Deaf Smith County received some unsolicited national publicity in the June 19 issue of Sports Illustrated. The mention came in an article about Lamar Hunt, "Biggest Cheap skate in Big D", and was made in reference to his father, H.L. Hunt, zillionaire oilman.

When it was pointed out that H.L. Hunt takes his lunch to work in a brown paper bag, Lamar explained: "It's not an economic thing. My father likes certain foods that you can't get in restaurants. He brings sandwiches made of wheat that's grown in Deaf Smith County, Texas. It's supposed to be healthier, and my dad is 83 and very healthy."

It may be summertime, but the law is still the same on stopping for school buses. A local bus driver in the summer school program issued an appeal this week for motorists to keep this in mind, saying that he has had several near-mishaps with children getting off his bus in Hereford.

Many of these pupils are of pre-school age and not as cautious as older youngsters. Let's drive friendly and watch out for these children!

Grant Mabry, new staff writer for THE BRAND, is taking a look at Hereford through the eyes of a newcomer and he'll report some of his findings in a series of articles beginning today. How is Hereford doing? Is it still entitled to be called "hustlin' Hereford"? We think you'll find these articles interesting and informative.

Members of the Texas Press Association were told last week at the state convention that the State's entire highway program is in jeopardy. Charles Simons, a member of the Texas Highway Commission, discussed problems confronting the State Highway Department in its responsibility to construct and maintain a highway system to serve all the people of Texas.

Simons warned that the highway program is threatened by proposed environmental controls, raids on the Federal Highway Trust Fund, government reorganization, Federal revenue sharing and bureaucratic red tape.

"We propose that the Federal government finish the Interstate system as pledged, then release to the states responsibility for collection of the special highway user taxes invoked in 1956 to establish the Highway Trust Fund."

Simons cautioned that there are now "schemes to divert trust fund revenues to build mass transit systems in Eastern seaboard and Midwest cities." Texans have paid for their own mass transit systems with their highway use taxes, and we believe other states should do the same, Simons stated.

Plant Transfer Becomes Final

Final legal work was completed Friday on the transfer of the Hereford Wilson and Company plant to Armour and Company and the plant will open Monday under the name of its new owners.

The announcement of the completion of legal work was announced Friday.

Jess Nicks, Armour and Company president, said Armour will begin operation of the plant Monday and former Wilson and Company salaried and hourly employees will be retained to operate the plant.

Armour Food Company, a division of Armour and Company, will have the responsibility of operating the plant, which is located on Highway 60, southwest of Hereford.

The plant has an annual capacity of 360,000 head of cattle plus facilities to break and fabricate 200,000 head of cattle.

Albert S. Drain, executive vice president for fresh meats for Armour Food Co., says Armour plans to operate the plant on a two-shift basis as soon as construction of additional cooler space permits.

"We will expand the 190 man work force to 300 when we have the cooler," Drain said. "The Hereford plant gives us the ability to increase the sales of 'value ready' meats such as Bloc-Redi beef, Case-Redi beef, and our cutability program."

"We will be able to supply the trade with vacuum packed and boxed beef cuts, the product mix that chain stores and supermarkets are switching to from the traditional carcass orders."

"Our prime marketing area for beef from the Hereford plant will be the south and southwest, but the extensive Armour Food distributing centers and food service units around the country will assure outlets for this plant's output."

Thomas J. Hamlett has been appointed general manager of the Hereford plant. A veteran Armour manager, Hamlett was previously manager at Nampa, Ida.

The new Armour plant is of pre-stressed concrete construction, has gas-fired boilers and draws its water from Hereford. It has a continuous rendering system for both edible and inedible products.

A REAL LIVE COWBOY Cliff Harris was surrounded by young fans seeking an autograph following his speech at the first sports banquet held for boys participating in summer baseball. The banquet was termed a success with a lot of credit going to the Hereford State Bank for sponsoring the speaker.

United Fund Makes Numerous Changes

Several notable changes—including a new name—were made when United Fund board members met in Hereford last week.

The United Way of Deaf Smith County is the new name adopted by the organization, it was reported by Bud Eades, president of the board. In another big change, the board voted to adopt contracts with participating agencies in the United Fund.

Both changes, reported Eades, were aimed at "improving community confidence and spreading the base of contributions in the fund." Fund drives in Hereford have not reached their goals the past five years, falling slightly under 80 per cent the last two years.

According to a report from Texas United Community Services, the per capita giving amounted to $1.67 in Hereford last year. This compares to $2.09 for a national average. Other per capita figures around the area include: Dumas $3.36, Borger $4.46, Pampa $3.66, Perryton $4.54, Tulia $2.21, Snyder $2.16, Levelland $1.62.

Hereford's goal for the fund last year was $40,000 and the contributions, totaled $31,664. Eades said the United Way board plans to confer with community leaders and determine a realistic goal, then strive to gain the community support necessary to achieve the goal.

The contracts adopted for use with participating agencies are standard with many United Funds, according to Eades. One of the terms that may cause some concern for local agencies, however, is that they "will conduct no capital fund campaign within the campaign area without written approval of the United Fund."

The contract also calls for a governing body for each agency which serves without pay and which meets at least four times a year; quarterly detailed statements showing the yearly budget together with all expenditures and incomes; to conduct no supplementary fund raising activity except with written approval of the United Fund; and to use allocations from the United Fund for operating expenditures only, and not for capital expenditures without written approval from the Fund.

The pact includes a number of other terms, and also states the principles of the United Fund. These include a statement that books of account will be open to inspection by a representative of any participating agency, and that the United Fund will

Blood Supply Out Of Hole

As a result of a good response from Hereford citizens last week, the local blood supply at Coffee Memorial Blood Bank has "come out of the hole" and into the plus.

Hereford now stands about 35 pints to the good after just three weeks ago being some 61 pints in the hole, according to Barbara McCrary who is spearheading the drive.

"The response was real good," she said after learning Thursday that a final tabulation of Wednesday's donors showed Hereford was on the plus side of the column for the first time in several months.

The blood bank travel unit will make only one trip to Hereford during July as a result of the recent donations. That trip will be July 26.

"We hope to get about 60 more people out then so we can build up our credit," Mrs. McCrary said.

The list of donors, which until recently had only a handful of names on it, has grown to include 250 persons who have indicated a willingness to donate whenever needed.

Mrs. McCrary said the (See "Blood" Page 2)

Miss White Leaves For State Pageant

Beauty and talent to represent Hereford as the city sends its first entrant to the Miss Texas Pageant are embodied in Sherry White, who leaves today for a week of interviews, entertainments and preliminary contests to be climaxed Saturday when a state entrant is chosen for Miss America competition.

The Texas Tech sophomore, daughter of the Raymond C. Whites of 214 N. Texas, was named Miss Hereford at the local pageant April 29.

Since then, after disposing of exams to close the college term, her time has been largely spent preparing for the week in Fort Worth where she will register this afternoon at Miss Texas Pageant headquarters.

She and Mrs. Palmer Norton, who will be her official sponsor, have studied the schedule they received Wednesday. It lists activities for the week in Tarrant County Convention Center Theatre, where all contests will be staged, and in other places for meals and social events.

Talent competition in the preliminaries for Miss White's group is set for Friday.

Her talent selection will be a medley of two old American hymns, Amazing Grace and O Happy Day. Accompaniment for her song will be by North Texas State University Orchestra, selected by the pageant managers to play for all contestants.

Her soprano voice has been heard in many school, church and civic programs in Hereford, including lead roles in school musical shows and choir concerts. She chose the contest song from a repertoire of classical, popular and religious solos.

Other preliminaries to the Saturday pageant, for judging in evening gown and bathing suit parades, are scheduled Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

Judges will meet the contestants, who come from all parts of Texas, for casual interviews and on social occasions during the week. Each preliminary contest will be followed by an informal party. Almost every meal during the week will find the contestants in honoree status.

Just to assemble a wardrobe for such a crowded week has been a big task for Miss Hereford. She has had the assistance of her mother and her sister, Susan, as well as Mrs. Norton and other members of the Women's Division of (See "Pageant" Page 2)

Marketing Service Opened

As vegetable crops made good progress in the Hereford-High Plains-Panhandle areas and began to move to distant consumers, John C. White, commissioner of agriculture, Austin, announced the Saturday opening of the fruit and vegetable market news office at Hereford.

Moderate shipments of potatoes and onions will begin next week, with heavier supplies available by mid-July. The first market report will be issued July 10, according to John D. Engle, federal-state market news reporter at Weslaco. Movement of West Texas commodities is expected to continue until October 15 or later.

Engle stated that Greg Morrow will be in charge of the Hereford office, located at 116 Twenty Five Mile Avenue.

In addition to potatoes and onions, as harvest progresses and supplies warrant, reports will cover cabbage, peppers, lettuce, carrots and cantaloupes from the Pecos district as well as the Hereford area.

The market news service will be provided through cooperation of the Texas Department of Agriculture and the U.S. Department of Agricultural Marketing Service.

The Hereford reporting office is a part of USDA's 21,000-mile leased wire system connecting market news offices, which cover most farm commodities. Prices in the Hereford area are available in a matter of minutes to shippers, buyers, haulers or other interested persons in all parts of the country.

In addition to the leased wire service, latest market information may be obtained day or night by dialing the automatic answering service, Area Code 806, 364-0129.

Hereford Continues Growth.....

year period. During the next 30-year period Hereford grew by almost 12,000.

"The main factor of the growth experienced during the first part of that period was due to the development of irrigation during the 40's," Langley said, "however the first well drilled was in 1910, but slow development was a factor until 1940."

Langley said Hereford's real growth was in the early 40's and was due to four main reasons. The first of the growth factors was when vegetable growers came to Hereford.

"These people were potato farmers from Idaho," Langley said, "there were three main growers, the Barrett family, Howard Gault and a bachelor called Potato Joe Ballanger."

The second factor helping to start the growth was a great demand for food and fiber caused by World War II. With this demand more people moved to Hereford to fill the jobs established by increased production.

"Thirdly, the weather was never more favorable for farming than it was during the 40's" Langley said.

The final factor in the beginning of the growth was the influx of people into Hereford following the war.

"Among some of these people who came to Hereford during the period between 1945 and 1955," said Langley, "were Hap Caviness, Dr. A.T. Mims, Neil Cooper, Don Zimmerman, John Aikin, Wayne Thomas and myself."

"The town is full of them. It just grew tremendously during this 10 year period following the war."

Agricultural developments above played a major role in the development of the commercial feeding. O.E. Easley and his sons, Jim and Joe, were involved in large cattle operations, but the first major commercial yard was built by Hereford Feed Yards in 1962, with a capacity of 5,000 head.

"Since then, yards have grown and with all the feeding, the meat packing industry followed," Langley said. "This industry brought in Pete Caviness and Wilson and Company."

From this development one sees that other small industries such as packaging, construction, transport and others moved in to meet the needs of the larger industries.

"All of the feed yards are full and the prices are up," Langley said.

Langley said that Armour which recently purchased Wilson and Company's plant here, apparently is enthusiastic about coming to Hereford. He said that the taking over of the plant by Armour is anticipated to be a "shot in the arm" for the local economy.

Another factor indicating a good year for Hereford is the fact that most of the vegetable people are forecasting one of the best years for onions and potatoes considering the market and the quality of this year's crops.

"Some concern has been voiced about the water supply," Langley said. "People have been talking about the water playing out for 20 years," Langley said, "but hydrologists say that we have from 20 to 50 more years of water left at the current use. We are learning to better use our water, and I'm not ready to think it is dried up. Both Holly and Wilson satisfied themselves that there was enough water to last past the payments for their operations."

Currently the main "population drawer" is the normal growth that comes when a town grows as rapidly as Hereford is.

"With this growth, people are offered things that they once had to go to Amarillo or Lubbock to obtain. Another growth factor, now, is the expansion and growth of existing businesses," Langley said.

Langley said that another factor drawing people to Hereford is the fact that Hereford has a higher per capita income and more opportunities for young people in the businesses that exist and those that are being expanded.

Reflecting, Langley said that 20 years ago most of the Mexican-American population of Hereford was composed of farm workers who were transient. He said that this has changed now, due to the increased educational opportunities.

"With an education they are working in retail, service, construction and skilled trades," Langley said. "Both young men and women are finding job opportunities where there used to not be any for them. From there they have become permanent and responsible citizens, and are contributing a lot to the town."

Langley leaned back in his chair and gazed off recalling Hereford in the past and what it has done, and said "It's a good, healthy town—it's still growing."

has its books audited annually by a certified public accountant. The United Way agrees that all recommendations of its budget and admissions committee shall be subject to review and final approval by its board of directors.

In the meeting last week, Eades reported that the board also approved the purchase of the film to use in the campaign this year. The film illustrates some of the services of the United Way and will be shown as much as possible at club meetings.

Bob Binns of Cleveland and Kirk Moritz of Old Westbury, N.Y., will co-captain the 1973 Columbia University tennis team.

Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce, sponsoring organization for the pageant here.

Most difficult was finding a bathing suit, which must meet specifications of the Miss America Pageant. One-piece bathing suits in solid color are not high style this year and are hard to find, the Whites discovered during their search for just the right suit to model.

Dresses to wear for the talent contest and the judging in formals are important, too. Miss White chose both in sheer fabrics, with molded bodice and flowing skirt. One is a deep azure shade, and other scarlet, both intense colors flattering to her blonde hair and blue eyes.

There is another long dress of lilac hue, cut on straight lines, and another in the popular peasant style, of a patchwork print. Daytime clothes for a variety of activities finish filling her bags.

Foster Hall at Texas Christian University will be the contestants' residence through the week. Mrs. Norton will live at the Downtown Motel near the convention center.

Her father is driving Miss White to Fort Worth today but will not return until Wednesday, when the entire family will go down for the contests. She expects friends from Tech as well as several from Hereford to be in Fort Worth this week.

If judges select Miss Hereford as one of the finalists, she will compete in the televised pageant which will close the week Saturday evening.

Funeral Services Held Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. W.H. Awtrey Sr., 73, were conducted Saturday afternoon in First United Methodist Church, of which she was a member. Dr. W.A. Appling, pastor, officiated.

Burial in West Park Cemetery was directed by Claborn Funeral Home of Friona after the body had lain in state at Gililand Funeral Home.

Mrs. Awtrey, a resident of Hereford since 1955, was found dead in her home on the Dimmitt Highway Thursday afternoon. Justice of the Peace Glen Nelson ruled death due to a self-inflicted gunshot wound. Born Feb. 27, 1898, at Childress, she was Jewel Bryant before her marriage. The Awtreys lived in Wheeler

County from 1919 to 1933, then in Muleshoe before their move to Hereford. Mr. Awtrey's death occurred in 1966.

Survivors are two sons, W.H. of Ulysses, Kan., and Deon of Friona; a sister, Mrs. E.T. Ward of Arch, N.M.; two brothers, Joe Bryant of Clovis and Fred Bryant of Anchorage, Alaska; seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The $100 bill is the largest denomination of U.S. currency now being issued because of the sharp decline in use of currency in denominations of $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000.

Stores To Close

Most of the downtown merchants and Sugarland Mall merchants will be closed Tuesday for the July 4 holiday. Both banks will be closed as will the city and county offices. Business will be back into full swing Wednesday morning. The Brand doors will be locked but there will be a person by the phone during the day to handle calls.

Along The Frio

MRS. OWEN ANDREWS Mrs. J. E. Warrick and Ronnie returned home, Saturday, from a weeks visit with her children, the Darrall Culps, at Wilcox, Ariz. The other daughter, Mrs. Don Weems (Reba) and Mr. Weems spent both weekends visiting there with them also.

The Culps are parents of a new baby son, born June 14. He was named Chad Allen and weighed 7 pounds, 2½ ounces. The Culps also have an eight year old son, Keith.

While they were there Ronnie went with a group from First Southern Baptist Church, of Wilcox for a five-day camp at Sierra Vista, near the Mexican border. He helped sponsor the group.

Clifford Hargrove returned home Saturday after his release from the U.S. Army. He has been stationed near Frankfurt, Germany recently and had been slated for release several weeks ago but was delayed by a freeze of movement of Army personnel. Present plans are for Hargrove to help the Struves with farming temporarily.

Hargrove, who has been in the Army since 1969, has seen service in both Vietnam and Germany and also spent several months in Arizona. He and his wife Kita and son, Ty Lynn, will be busy getting settled in a home and getting into a new routine of living.

Visiting church at Frio, Sunday morning were Mrs. John Peeples, of Salida, Colo. and Mrs. Billye Wesson, of Dimmitt. Mrs. Peeples was a member of the Ogans church when they pastored at Salida. She was here to visit her father, N.L. Wesson, of Plainview and the other relatives.

Mr. Mrs. Eugene Baldwin, Robin and Brett went to Dallas, during the weekend to visit their relatives and bring home Eugene's mother, Mrs. B.H. Baldwin.

Mrs. Baldwin has spent several weeks at Dallas and Denton with her daughters, Mrs. Ben Dean and Mrs. Wesley Earp.

Mrs. Adolph Knabe and sons, Darrel, Weldon, Adolph Jr. and Raymond attended the wedding of the other Knabe son, Dwaine, to Miss Ellie Mae Howard at Childress, Saturday afternoon. Miss Howard's parents are Mr. and Mrs. A.W. Howard, of Childress. The ceremony was in the Howard home, there.

Dwaine is a 1967 graduate of Hereford High School and of Oklahoma State Tech in January, 1972. The bride is a senior at WTSU. They will live in Amarillo, where he is employed with Case Power and Equipment Co.

Others from here attending the wedding were Mrs. Raynold Herr, Rodney Herr, Ronald Herr and Terry Watson.

Mr. and Mrs. John Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Lindley and sons, and Mr. and Mrs. James Simpson visited Sunday, June 18 in the Clovis home of an aunt, Mrs. Elmer Gardner.

The Wesley Lindleys returned recently to Friona to live after living near Sublett, Kansas for several months. Wesley works at a packing plant at Friona.

Mrs. Clayton Jobe was injured in a car accident, Thursday morning, near the Billy Grissom home on F.M. 1055. She was resting well with bruises, but thought to have no serious injuries. Her car overturned as she swerved to avoid collision with a pickup at the crossroad.

The Grissoms live on the Charles Schlabs place. Mrs. Jobe's sister from Canyon and other relatives in the area came to see about her. Clayton was on a hauling trip to Arizona, at the time.

Visiting the Clark Andrews Friday evening were the Joe Hersheys, of Oklahoma City. The Hershey family was visiting his folks, the Horace Hersheys, and other relatives and also Joe was attending a school of instruction on seed, at Tulia. The Hersheys and Andrews were friends since being in high school together.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Warrick, Raymond and Eugene returned the last of the week from attending a family gathering at Pine Creek Dam, near Valliant, Okla. Among members of the family attending were Billy's father, J.P. Warrick of Tyler, Mr. and Mrs. Myles Powell of Tyler, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Redus of Tyler, and Mr. and Mrs. Buster Bingham and family of Valliant.

The Warricks also visited her mother, Mrs. Addie Bingham, at Valliant. Among news reports the Warricks brought back was of the wedding of a niece, Rosie Hughes to Roy Holnet, on June 1, at the Holy City of the Wichitas, Lawton, Okla. They will live at Durant, Okla. where she will teach school and he will attend college.

Miss Hughes is a niece of Mrs. Warrick and has visited often here. She is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Hughes Redus.

Another wedding also reported was that of Mrs. Warrick's sister, Mrs. Mary Hughes, of Durant, Okla. to Elmer Redus, of Tyler, on June 19. They were married in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Sue Ensley. The Redus will live at Tyler.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Warrick and sons visited the Billy Warrick and Elza Warricks a couple of days the last of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Andrews entertained a group at lunch, Sunday. Guests included her

HHS CHEERLEADERS RETURN — Returning from camp Thursday, Hereford High School's cheerleaders display the three honors received at cheerleader camp they attended the past week. Kneeling are Meredith Wilcox and Diedra Dziuk holding the spirit stick and four blue ribbons. Proudly displaying the spark plug won are from left, Nancy Barrett, Pam Garrison, Joni Charest, Janna Balden and Rhonda Stephan.

Cheerleaders' Camp Awards Brought Home

The 1972-73 cheerleaders for Hereford High School returned with three major honors Thursday afternoon after attending cheerleader camp held on the campus of Texas Tech in Lubbock.

The week began for the cheerleaders, Meredith Wilcox, Joni Charest, Janna Balden, Rhonda Stephan, Diedra Dziuk and Nancy Barrett, and Scot, Pam Garrison Saturday when they arrived in Lubbock to watch the All-American football game. Mrs. Don Clark, sponsor, accompanied the girls. Girls were taught new cheers, chants and routines. The group from Hereford also participated in a stunt night which was cited as "very successful."

The spirited cheerleaders brought back three honors they won at camp. A spark plug award was given to two of the 150 groups attending that showed the most spirit. Twelve spirit sticks were given to the friendliest groups as voted on by the 650 girls attending.

The local group received four superior ribbons, one for each day for their behavior, which was accomplished by only two groups.

OSMONDS CLAIM RECORDING RECORD NEW YORK (AP) — The Osmonds, five brothers, Alan, Wayne, Merrill, Jay and Donny, claim that they are the all-time gold record earners.

They have received 10 in a one-year period. This goes ahead of Elvis Presley, who achieved eight, and the Beatles, who gained nine, within 12 months. Creedence Clearwater Revival was presented 11 gold records at one time, after their record company joined the Recording Industry Association of America. But the records came out in a period of longer than 12 months.

The Osmonds have four albums and six singles gold. An album needs more than $1 million in manufacturer's sales and a single more than one million copies sold.

Schelter Receives Associate Degree

John Herman Schelter, Hereford student at Concordia Lutheran College in Austin, was one of the spring graduates who received the associate in arts degree at 1972 commencement exercises. He is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Herman Schelter.

He plans to study next term in Concordia Senior College at Fort Wayne, Ind. At the Austin college he was student body president, on the Student Center board, active in the choir and the intramural program.

Cordella Suttle Weds Kenneth Jeter Friday

The marriage of Miss Cordella Suttle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Suttle, 118 Avenue J, and Kenneth Jeter, son of Mr. and Mrs. K.A. Jeter, 806 West Park Avenue, was solemnized in a simple chapel ceremony at First Baptist Church of Plainview Friday evening.

The Rev. Mike Jeter of Dimmitt, the bridegroom's brother, who is a Baptist minister, conducted the wedding service which was attended by members of the two families and close friends of the couple.

Miss Debbie Gholson, maid of honor, and Sam Curtsinger, best man, were the only attendants. Miss Rhonda Tidwell of Dimmitt played wedding music on the organ.

A background arrangement of gladiolas in rainbow colors decorated the chapel. The bride chose the same colors for her gown, a carpet-length dress of sheer voile over yellow. Its print design was in rainbow shades, accented with white collar at the round neckline, and white cuffs.

The maid of honor was dressed in a summer frock of yellow. After a trip to New Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Jeter will be at home at 2514-B Nineteenth in Plainview. She recently went to that city to be employed as a dental hygienist, after completing training at Amarillo College. She is a graduate of Hereford High School. Jeter, until lately employed at Albuquerque, was graduated from Lovington, N.M., High School.

BACH JOINS MOZART NEW YORK (AP) — For the first time since it began in 1966, the annual Lincoln Center Mostly Mozart Festival will include the music of J.S. Bach. Twenty-six concerts will be given from July 24 through Aug. 19 in Philharmonic Hall. The first and second year's festivals were devoted to Mozart music. Haydn was added in 1968, while the hall was being renovated. Schubert was added in 1970.

Social Security

Q. Is it true that the Pay Board's exception for catch-up increases in scheduled to expire?

A. The catch-up exception will expire June 30, 1972. However, for those appropriate employee units where average straight-time pay rates, including benefits such as vacation and overtime, is $3.00 per hour or less, the catch-up exception will expire on November 13, 1972.

Q. I understand that my landlord must determine the base rent for my apartment before increasing rent. How can I figure out the base rent on my own?

A. The base rent for a unit subject to a month-to-month (or less) lease before the freeze is the last rent paid for that unit before the freeze. For example, if you pay your rent on the first of each month, your base rent is your August, 1971 rent.

If you were on a lease for more than month-to-month on Aug. 14, 1971, your base rent is determined by one of the following ways:

If you signed the lease between May 16 and Aug. 14, 1971 your base rent is the monthly rent called for in that lease;

If you signed the lease on or before May 15, 1971, your base rent is the rent stated in the lease plus the average percentage increase charged by the landlord for other units having leases signed between July 16, 1971 and August 14, 1971. If no leases were signed during this period, the landlord must use the leases signed during the preceding 30-day period, and if necessary leases signed in the 30-days prior to that.

If no leases were signed in the 90 days before the freeze, your base rent is the rent for your unit on May 25, 1970, plus 5 percent, or the rent immediately before August 14, 1971 whichever is higher.

In most cases, if you are on a lease your rent may not be increased until the current lease expires.

Q. My landlord charges a fee for automobile parking spaces. Is this considered rent under stabilization regulations?

A. It is considered rent if the parking space is used in connection with your residence. If not so used, however, it is not considered rent. In the latter instance, this kind of activity would be considered a service and your landlord would be subject to the price controls on service industries, unless exempt from controls because of the small business exemption.

Q. Do service organizations have to post their base prices?

A. No. Service organizations do not have to post base prices or base price information. The requirement to post base prices applies to retailers. Though many types of service organizations, such as dry cleaners or TV-repair shops are located in street-level stores, they are not retailers as that term is used in the price regulations. To be considered a retailer, a business must purchase a product and, without substantially changing its form, resell it to the ultimate consumer.

Service organizations, if they are not exempt from controls because of the small business exemption, must maintain base price records for inspection by the Internal Revenue Service. For more information of the price controls on service organizations, see IRS Publication S-3017. It's available free by dropping a postcard to your IRS district office.

Q. Do all forms that have to be filed with the Price Commission have to be signed by the chief executive officer of the firm?

A. The Price Commission has determined it to be permissible for forms submitted to be signed by any corporate officer if an accompanying certificate is filed (signed by the chief executive officer) certifying the signer of the form to be an officer of the corporation.

Veteran's Affairs

Veterans disabled from military service may find it cheaper to buy a specially-equipped new car this year than it was two years ago Jack Coker, Director of the VA Regional Office in Waco, advises. Coker explained that those who purchased a car with special adaptive devices since January 1, 1971, may find they have money coming from the Veterans Administration.

This reminder was issued by the Veterans Administration to call attention to new VA authority contained in Public Law 91-666. The 1971 law raised the amount of the VA grant for purchase of a car to $2,800, and for the first time gave VA authority to pay for replacing and maintaining adaptive equipment on automobiles previously acquired by disabled veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict.

To be eligible a veteran must have suffered the loss, or loss of use, of one or both hands or feet or both eyes in the military

Just-Wed Pair Travels To Home In Colorado

Before a flower-decked arch in St. Anthony's Catholic Church, Miss Carmen Rodriguez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abel Rodriguez of 121 Norton, and Sp 5 Manuel Torres exchanged marriage vows at mid-afternoon Saturday.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Venancia Saucedo, Route 1, and Manuel Torres Sr. of Corpus Christi, is stationed at Pueblo, Colorado, where the couple will be at home after a short trip through the Colorado mountains.

The Rev. John Kiesling, associate pastor of St. Anthony's, conducted the wedding ceremony in which the bride's father gave her in marriage. Church decoration included small bouquets of peach, pink and white pompon mums with fresh leaves marking pews where the attendants were seated.

Miss Hope Rodriguez was her sister's maid of honor and Harold Garcia of Dallas was best man. Velora Ann Tijerina, niece of the bridegroom, and Armando Rodriguez, the bride's brother, were junior attendants, Brenda Tijerino of Amarillo and Ernestine Coronado the flower girls.

Gift-bearing attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tijerino of Amarillo, Messrs. and Mmes. Juan Guillen, Juan Casarez, Eluterio Mariscal, Pablo Villarreal, Jose Ruiz, Albert Pena Jr., Louie Torres, Manuel Valdez and Miss Carmen Tijerina.

Bridesmaids in the procession were Misses Josie Ramirez, Becky Ramirez, Eva Liscano, Margot Salazar, Geneva Pena, Delia Ruiz, Cecelia Gamez, Janie Lemus, Esperanza Peralez, Linda Camarillo, Mari Torres and Sandy Trevino.

Groomsmen were Frank Perez, Junior DeLaPaz, Paul Liscano, Tony Limas, Johnny Sanchez, Johnny Rodolfo, Joe Rodriguez, Frank Gallegos, Freddy DeLeon, Ramond Zepeda, Porfirio Trevino and Sammy Rodriguez.

Wedding music by Mrs. Allen Evers, organist, included the selections, Twelfth of Never, We've Only Just Begun, I Believe and Wedding Prayer.

A portrait gown of organza over layers of tulle was worn by the bride. Lace trimmed the cameo neckline and full sleeves of the figurine bodice above a bouffant skirt which had added back fullness with tiers of wide ruffles extending into a chapel train. A butterfly bustle marked the back waistline. Sequined lace matching that on the dress fashioned a headpiece beaded with crystals and seed pearls, and edged the tiers of tulle in a shoulder-length veil. Her bouquet was white carnations with crystal flowers and ribbon streamers. Attendants dresses were in two colors, the bridesmaids' of dotted Swiss over Kelly green taffeta with lace trimming the cuffs and wide ruffles around the bottom; the feminine gift bearers' of peach lace, A-line style with trim of white braid and buttons.

A reception in Knights of Columbus Hall followed the ceremony. Bouquets of wedding party members decorated the lace-covered table where Anita Castillo and Mary Mariscal served cake and punch. Guests were registered by Liz Torres.

Mrs. Torres has been employed in the ASCS office here; she is a 1970 graduate of Hereford High School, where she was a member of DE and VOE Clubs. Torres, who has served tours in Viet Nam and Germany during his five years of service in the U.S. Army, attended HHS before he enlisted.

His father was among out-of-town guests for the wedding. Others came from Amarillo, Plainview, Lubbock and Laredo.

Queen Candidates Are Announced

The queen candidates have been announced and the voting date set for the annual Mexican Independence Day Celebration, scheduled Sept. 15 and 16.

The queen candidates are Mary Lou Madrigal, Mary Christine Castaneda, Alicia Mendoza and Lucy Stugeon. The election will take place at a dance at the Roller Rink, Aug. 26 and the coronation will be Sept. 15 during the Mexican Independence Day Celebration dance at the Bull Barn.

An additional highlight of the celebration will be the paraded Sept. 16.

"We would like to have the support of the entire town in this celebration," said Bernie Griego, spokesman for the celebration committee and St. Joseph's Organization of Men, which is sponsoring the festivities.

"We ask for the community's cooperation because, after all, our main goal is unity," he added. "The funds from the celebration will be used to support various projects in the community and to support St. Joseph's mission."

Small Talk

BY SUE COLEMAN

SOME WORK ON A paper, I can get tired of, but one thing that's always a pleasant experience is talking with someone from another country — either a native or an American who has lived there long enough to get a good idea of the place.

This week's bright spot was being invited by Elaine Rains to meet Arlene Bernard, here from Tehran, Iran.

With her husband, Charles, and daughter she is visiting a son who is working here this summer, also making a repeat visit with the Rains, friends of several years' duration.

Georgia Sparks, who met Arlene on a previous visit, and Elaine gave a coffee for the visitor Friday morning at the Sparks home. There were bright summer flowers on the table, with a candle in an amusing ladybug holder.

Mary Herring and Ruth Black served the coffee and fruit. Guests talked all morning and got acquainted with Arlene and daughter Simone.

In the crowd were Billie Hale, Pat Montgomery, Joyce Allred, Sandra Honea, Dorothy Mercer and her mother-in-law here from Kentucky, Ann Sims of Lubbock, Betty Owen, Mary Sue Hull, Winnie Wiseman, Karen Crump, Costilene Lee, Gladys Merritt, Adell Tull of Plainview, Pete Hodges and Nita Hart.

VISITORS IN THE home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilhelm this week were the Rev. Charles Fischer and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fischer of Winnesboro, Ky. They are the parents and brother of Mrs. Harry Wilhelm. They came Thursday afternoon and left after mass, and breakfast in the Wilhelms' home, Friday morning.

Sold Two-Cent Stamps

Postmaster 44 Years At Summerfield Quits

BY LORI HOPSON
Brand Staff Writer

FROM THE TWO-CENT postage stamp to the present eight-cent rate; from crane mail delivery to the modern trucking system, Mrs. L.B. Lookingbill has seen many changes since her appointment as postmaster of the Summerfield community in 1929.

Retiring after 44 years of service as U.S. Postmaster, Mrs. Lookingbill books back to the time she began as an employee at the Summerfield General Store in 1927.

She became acting postmaster when her employer, Ray Morland, finished his term. In 1929 she received her official appointment as postmistress. The title was later changed to postmaster for both men and women serving in the office.

MRS. LOOKINGBILL recalls many instances when she or her husband would run to the mail crane to hang the mail to be caught by the iron arm of a passing train, or to flag the train down to dispatch parcels or even passengers.

Mrs. Lookingbill gives much of the credit for her years of service to her husband, who has served as acting postmaster at different times through the years, and who has shared in running the postoffice in addition to his work in the Summerfield store, which he owns.

The first general store, which also housed the postoffice, was located about a city block east of the present site. During this time the Lookingbills lived in the back of the store, working full-time on postoffice business and running the store.

DURING HER YEARS of service as postmaster, Mrs. Lookingbill has been a confidant and friend of the Summerfield community. Incidental to her duties at the postoffice she has been called upon to answer such requests as "Will you look in my mail box and see if I have a letter from so-and-so?" or "Do you mind watching the children when the school bus runs until I can come by and pick them up?"

She has been asked for advice on everything from the signs of the zodiac to the proper time to wean a baby, and says it's all part of her job. "The people are just a part of us," she adds.

FAVORS TO POSTOFFICE patrons are a daily routine to Mrs. Lookingbill, who says "We count every one of our patrons as a friend," and refers to her career as an "exciting, interesting life."

In addition to getting the mail at all hours both Mr. and Mrs. Lookingbill have been kept busy with their duties in the postoffice and the store, and they eat most of their meals on trays at the store.

The Lookingbills always have an extra plate for a neighbor, and have been known to serve home-made sandwiches across the counter.

The Lookingbill's 22 grandchildren who live in the surrounding area, also their neices and nephew and other children of the community spent every spare minute with Mr. and Mrs. Lookingbill and call the store a second home.

UPON HER RETIREMENT Friday, Mrs. Lookingbill's husband was named officer in charge of the postoffice, and will serve as Postmaster until a new officer is appointed.

The Lookingbills laugh over this and Mrs. Lookingbill says, "He's helped me all these years, now I'll be able to help him."

By coincidence, Mrs. Lookingbill's retirement fell on the 44th anniversary of her wedding. "I retired then because June 30 ends the fiscal year for the postoffice department. We didn't plan it, that way; we just picked a date and got married."

Eva Noland came to the Summerfield community with her family in 1917 from Lockney. She was born near Waco at McGregor.

Appointed acting postmaster in May of 1927, she was married to L.B. Lookingbill June 30. They were the first couple to marry in the Summerfield Baptist church, which they still attend.

IN 1928 THE Lookingbills built their own store, and when she was named postmistress in 1929, they moved the postoffice into this building.

In 1949 the store burned down and the Lookingbills' home with it. The family moved to the old Summerfield school which was at that time a community house because the school had been moved to Hereford.

They remained here until the completion of the present store and the Lookingbill home, just a few feet away.

Eva, as she is called in connection with her work, is the oldest of five brothers and a sister. She has five children; Bradley of Amarillo, Jim of Bovina, Bill of Hereford, Mrs. Jamie Clearman of Ovalo and Fred of Friona, who spent much of their childhood in the Lookingbill store, or with their mother in the postoffice which occupies one corner.

MRS. LOOKINGBILL stresses the fact that she intends to stay busy in spite of her retirement; in addition to enjoying her children and grandchildren she plans to have plenty to do with hobbies — sewing and crocheting — taking up much of her time.

She has made and given each of her married sons or daughters a large afghan, and one each to two grandchildren for graduation. With 20 more still to make, although she may be retiring she has some work ahead.

The Lookingbills have been members of Summerfield Baptist Church for 50 years. Eva has been active as pianist and was in charge of the nursery for 12 years.

She is a member of the Summerfield Federated study club, and has served as chairman on the project and cheer committees.

ALTHOUGH THEY HAD for some time planned to retire last year, they decided not to. Eva says, looking at her husband, "if he'd have let me, I'd have backed out again . . . it's been very hard for us to make up our minds, and I have mixed emotions about getting out of the postoffice and store . . ."

In spite of their reservations, the Lookingbills have a good outlook for the future. Lookingbill has always missed his days on the farm as a child, and intends to go back to farm work.

Eva will keep busy working on her hobbies, and they intend to travel to Ovalo as soon as possible to visit their daughter. Though they plan to retire in the near future, the Lookingbills agree that their retirement will not be idle.

"We intend to stay active," says Mrs. Lookingbill; "We plan to retire from one thing to another busy life."

OUTMODED JOB — Putting outgoing mail sack on the crane where a passing train could pick it up, and taking the sack of incoming mail from the crane, was a routine task for Mrs. L.B. Lookingbill for many of the 44 years she served as postmaster at Summerfield before her retirement this week. In recent years, though, mail has been carried in special trucks instead of by rail.

Students To Wed

Engagement of Miss Darla Jean McBride and Daniel K. Anderson is announced by the bride-elect's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Vearl G. McBride of Quincy, Ill.

Anderson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenton O. Anderson of Star Route. The couple plan to be married July 20 at Provo Temple of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints.

Miss McBride is a senior student at Brigham Young University, majoring in English.

Anderson, a graduate of Hereford High School, is attending BYU and studying pharmacy. He served a two-year mission in the northern states for the Latter-Day Saints church.

Pickle Eating Is A Pleasure

By Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

PICKLE EATING is a year round pleasure. However, most serious pickle eating is during summer months. The outdoor season splurges with days of poolside pleasures, picnics—and pickles.

Pickles have climbed in popularity in recent years. In 1960 the average consumption was 4.5 pounds. In 1970 it averaged 7.6 pounds, an increase of 3.1 pounds over the ten-year period.

Based on an average-sized pickle, that's about 90 pickles for each of us. Did you eat 90 pickles last year?

Not too many years ago a person buying pickles had only to choose between the few dill or sweet jars available in the store. But now many markets stock half of the side of an aisle with pickles and relishes.

PICKLES RANGE from tiny midget on up to extra large, with five sizes in between. Pack style is also varied. Pickles are packed whole, sliced crosswise with smooth or waffled surfaces, sliced lengthwise in halves or quarters, cut into chunks, finely cut or chopped and prepared as various relishes.

While many kinds of pickles are available, the majority belong to one of the three groups: dill, sour or sweet.

Dill pickles are cucumbers seasoned with dill herb and may or may not be fermented. Kosher dills are highly seasoned with garlic, onions and peppers.

Cucumbers fermented first then cured in a salt brine make sour pickles. They are removed from the brine desalted and refreshed. Sweet pickles start out like sour pickles but a mixture of vinegar, salt, spices and sugar is added.

PICKLE PRODUCTS come in a range of prices. Ones that take a longer time to process usually carry higher price tags. Smaller pickles such as baby gherkins or baby dills often cost more than larger ones.

Size of container, brand and style are other factors in determining prices. Experiment with the various kinds to find out which are economical buys for your household according to the planned use. Why chop a pickle when relishes or chopped pickles will serve your purpose?

Pickles have some nutrients but in my opinion the big value of pickles is making beans and meat taste better. Relishes and pickles add zip to every meal. Pickles add calcium, Vitamin A and ascorbic acid. A large dill or sour pickle has 15 calories and sweet pickles add 30 calories.

A TASTY RELISH to add interest to the diet, use either fresh or canned corn in relish. If you use fresh corn, boil on the cob for 5 minutes. At any rate, measure 10 cups corn kernels.

CORN RELISH
10 c. corn
1 c. chopped sweet red pepper
1 c. chopped celery
1 c. chopped green pepper
1 c. chopped onion

If fresh corn cut from the cob is used for the relish, add 1 tablespoon salt. If canned corn is used add no more salt.

1½ c. sugar (or substitute)
1 T. mustard
½ t. turmeric
2 c. water
1½ T. mustard seed
1 t. celery seed
2½ c. white vinegar
Combine all ingredients and boil 15 minutes. Seal in hot jars the size to suit family needs.

FONDUE IS THE NEWEST food craze. It's fun and nourishing. Cheese fondue means easy, casual entertaining. Serve unusual "dippers" such as raw fruits—apples, pears and pineapple—and favorite raw vegetables—carrots, green peppers and cauliflower flowerettes.

Ask Sue Shirley how popular her fondue has been in her crowd. Fondue was the demonstration she gave at Texas 4-H Round-up.

Cheese biscuits are delightfully different for dinner. Make them with prepared buttermilk biscuits, or biscuit mix you've made. Simply place the biscuits about one-fourth inch apart on a baking sheet.

Brush them with milk and sprinkle the tops with finely shredded cheddar cheese. Then bake as usual. If you want something really good, cook sausage until it crumbles and add to the biscuit mix.

EVER HEAR A BUTTER LOVER boast that it tastes like margarine? Of course not! Fresh creamery butter has a delectable flavor all its own. Butter makes bread, rolls, muffins and biscuits taste even better.

On a diet? Dairy foods are a dieter's most valuable helpers. Milk is a leading source of body-building calcium and protein, riboflavin and vitamin A.

Low-calorie dairy food dishes stick to your ribs and let you stick to your diet. Milk and other dairy products are especially in the spotlight during summer promotions.

PLANNING ON HAVING sweet corn for your next barbecue? Buy ears that are well-covered with bright, plump kernels and husks that are fresh and green.

If you buy corn ahead of time for your cook-out, store it unhusked and uncovered in your refrigerator. Try not to buy more than two days before planning to use.

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

BY CRAWFORD C. MARTIN
Attorney General of Texas

When is a bargain not a bargain? Unlike the old riddle game, there's no pat answer. Actually, it's hard to tell the real thing from a put-on.

The Federal Trade Commission has set down guides to savings claims that it hopes merchants will follow. Most of them do, too. But some don't, and that's what causes problems. In fact, some businesses make it a regular practice to advertise fictitious savings.

Ideally, this is what the various terms should mean as set up by the FTC: "Regularly" is the price at which an item sold during the normal (usual) course of business; "original" means the price at which the item sold when first placed in stock; "formerly" is the price immediately preceding the present one; "value or list price" is the usual selling price for the exact same item in this trade area at other stores—not necessarily the advertiser's price; and "comparable" means the price at which the like grade and quality of merchandise is actually being sold for in that trade area.

Unfortunately real life situations don't follow these guidelines in all cases. Some gypsters trick consumers into thinking they are getting a phenomenal bargain when they are actually ending up with something worth less than they paid for.

One common ploy in the advertising of bogus bargains is to describe a certain price as "marked down" from the former price. This is fine, if the merchant really sells the item at that price for a period of time. But some merchants buy up goods, mark the prices up for a few days, and then drop them to "terrific bargain levels."

The terrific bargain level happens to be what they were planned to sell for all along. Manufacturers' list prices are commonly quoted to deceive consumers about the amount of savings they're getting. Since list prices are often substantially higher than most items are ever sold for, when a merchant advertises a reduction from the list price the saving is not as great as it seems at first glance.

Consumers should also be wary of bargain offers that promise a "free bonus" gift along with the purchase of an item. For example, if you get a "free" set of plastic bottle caps with your soft drinks, make sure you're not paying for the gift with a slightly higher price.

Shoppers should keep several principles in mind when bargains are on your mind. Remember that phenomenal bargains are a rare species. Savings of "50 per cent or more" are hard to get. The reason is that manufacturers costs alone are usually that much.

800 Show At Finale

The 1972 Boys Baseball Incorporated season drew to a successful close Friday night with a sports banquet featuring Dallas Cowboy Cliff Harris.

John Bunch, president of the program said that an estimated 800 persons attended the banquet.

Harris, a free safety for the world champion Cowboys, spoke to the crowd about his personal experiences during the time that he has been a Cowboy. He explained to the baseballers that the only way to be No. 1 is to think No. 1. After he spoke he showed a film featuring highlights of the 1971 season, from the first game to the final game—Superbowl Six. Following the film, Harris answered questions from the audience.

Then came the most important part of the season for the baseballers—awards presentation. Bunch stood to thank everyone involved in making the season and banquet a success. A certificate of appreciation was awarded to David McDonald for his efforts in helping with the banquet. Sheriff Travis McPherson was given a certificate in appreciation for his allowing his staff to work with the teams during the season. Umpires during the season also were given certificates.

One boy from each league was given the Sportsmanship Award Robert Scott of the Pony League was named as the sportsman in his league. The sportsmanship award for the Major League was awarded to Kent Ellis. Ronald Plummer was named sportsmanship recipient for the Minor League and Pee Wee leaguer Shane Ritter received the award for that league.

Coaches of the year were Fritz Backus, of the Pony League, Eddie Allred of the Major League, Max Goforth of the Minor League and Bobby Byers of the Pee Wee League.

Teams winning the championships of their leagues were the Pony League Orioles, Major League Dodgers, Minor League Angels and Pee Wee League co-champs Braves and Yankees.

Members of the Pony League All-Star team were Dave Charest, Kirk Spain, Chris King, Roger Pickens, Roy Martinez, Richard Moya, Archie Crim, Albert Gonzales, Mike Artho, Hector Ramirez, Dennis Artho, Keith Shore, Vance Hennington, Tim Sandoval and Kelly Kitchens. Coaches for the team will be Red Durham and Fritz Backus.

All-Star members for the Major League team are Ernest Rodriguez, Greg Hennington, Mike Line, Greg Dement, Don Johnson, Kent Ellis, James Mays, Barry Crouch, Miles Goforth, David Arney, George Gonzales, Rudy Coleman, Kevin Bunch, Henry Torres and David Nolen. Alternate players are Bryan Brooks and Tommy Weaver. Coaches for the team will be Jimmy Bell and David McDonald.

Following the banquet, Harris signed autographs for the baseballers and visited with the parents of the boys. W.M. Lindley, a state Bronco League official from Fort Worth was on hand to congratulate the All-Star teams and wish them luck in their bids for the World Series.

Borger Meet Scheduled

The West Texas AAU Junior Olympic Track and Field Championships, scheduled for July 8-1972, at Bulldog Stadium, Borger, Texas, is creating good interest throughout the West Texas District.

The Borger Chamber of Commerce announced today that the deadline for entry forms has been extended to 5:00 p.m. July 6, 1972. This extension of the deadline was made in order to accommodate people who are involved in the July 4 holiday.

Officials of the West Texas AAU Association will be in Borger on Friday night before the Meet and will be available at the Stadium on Saturday morning to process application blanks for individual memberships in the West Texas AAU.

Mr. E.J. Webb, Meet Director, announced today that the preliminaries for the running events will begin at 10 a.m. on Saturday, July 8. The finals for the field events will also begin at 10 a.m. The finals for the running events will begin at 3 p.m. July 8.

Of special interest to track fans throughout the West Texas Area will be a "special" 220 yard race. Randy Lightfoot and Tim Son of Plainview, both well known track figures, will be two of the participants. Borger Texas' Willie Johnson, will also be running in this special event. Invitations have been extended to other outstanding dash men to participate in this race. This Meet will serve as a qualifying meet for the Region IX AAU Junior Olympics Meet to be held in San Antonio, Texas, on July 22, 1972. The first two finishers in both the intermediate and senior divisions will be qualified to enter the Region IX Meet. From there contestants will qualify for the National Meet to be held in Spokane, Washington, on August 15-18 of this year.

Interested persons may call Dr. Joe Whitley at his residence 364-2276 for additional information.

Baseball turned into "funny ball" Thursday night with girls playing against boys, and men playing against donkeys.

To wrap up the season for Boys Baseball Incorporated, three games were played pitting boys in the program against Campfire Girls. Some questions concerning rules and scoring procedures made the outcome of the games undecidable. However, both the girls and the boys seemed to enjoy the game.

To more evenly match the teams, the boys were required to play with the opposite hand than they normally played with. At the same time the umpires made no bones about being partial to the girls teams, and allowed girls to occasionally steal base from the dug outs.

At the same time, man and beast turned the game into a semi-rodeo as the Riders Club took on the Jaycees in a donkey baseball game at the Riders Arena.

It seemed that the mounts got the best of both teams. Although there were no serious injuries, there were reports of bruised ribs, shins and other parts.

history, the girls will field seven teams this year.

The season, starting next Thursday, will last through August 24. Games will be held at the Bronco League field starting at 7 p.m.

Start Cleaning up the ole driver, the Men's City Tournament is set to start the first round on Saturday, July 5 at Pitman Golf Course.

Cal Garrett, local golf pro, said that this year the tournament would be played in match play, or hole for hole. Entry fee for the tourney is $10, and all contestants must be signed up by July 5 at the Golf Shop.

First round will last from July 5 through the July 8. The second round will run from July 8 through July 12, with the third round lasting until the July 15. The finals will be played on July 16.

Also there will be a consolation bracket for those who lose out on the first round. Players will be flighted according to their handicaps.

"Rarer than a hole in one" was the description golf pro Cal Garrett gave in reference to a double eagle made by Dick Sims last week at Pitman Golf Course.

Sims is the second person to double eagle at Pitman. He did it on hole number 9 with a driver and a 2-iron, his second shot sailed about 225 yards into the hole.

Sims was playing with Lewis Herron.

Baseball season is not over on the local scene.

Women's softball will start on July 6. Termed the most successful registration in its Summer finds many men sweating in the sun, 40 hours a week for a reasonable living, while at the same time another man is signing a $2.5 million contract to play a game for four months a year.

The lucky man — Bobby Hull — ex-Black Hawk hockey ace. Now Hull is the proud owner of the largest contract ever signed by a professional player.

Ali, Clay or whatever he is going by this week, bounded back into the heavyweight boxing spotlight when he pounded Jerry Quarry into the canvass last Tuesday night.

The ex-champ managed to give the crowd half a fight's performance, lasting 7 rounds and 19 seconds. From all indications, the fight proved to be the typical heavyweight bout, with few punches and a lot of "ring around the roses."

The amazing fact is that these slow-moving, few-punched giants make more money for hopping around a ring and taking a few punches, than most pro-football players make in a season or two for taking more actual contact.

Anyway it is my opinion that more good boxing can be seen when the unknown lightweight fighters climb into the ring after the so called "big fights."

At the same time, Terry Funk, professional wrestler, climbed into the ring where he exchanged "serious" blows using chains with his opponent to capture another title — chain champ.

Then two more of these "professionals" climbed into the ring to decide who the brass knuck king was.

Bob Grossman, Maryland junior right handed pitcher who hurled two no-hitters this season, was voted the player of the year in the Atlantic Coast Conference. He's a Salona Beach, Calif., native.

Girls Participate In State Program

Rainbow Girls participated this week in the 49th session of Grand Assembly of Texas Rainbow Order in Houston. Several of the 16 members from the Hereford Assembly who went to Houston; had parts on the program.

Karen Scott gave a tribute to the Rainbow flag and, along with Kathy Roberts, sang in the 200-voice grand choir.

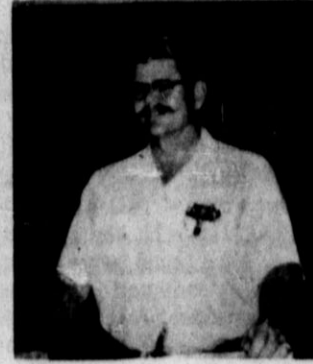

Receiving her majority certificate was Kay Ann Euler. It was presented by Martha M. Whitfield, Supreme Inspector in Texas.

Misses Euler, Roberts, Scott and Cindy McWhorter took their vows as Masters of the Grand Cross of Color. Mrs. Roger Ruland also took her vows for the honorary award given for outstanding service.

They returned Thursday morning with Lanna Clark, Jettie Watts, Michelle Moore, Janet McWhorter, Lynette Cawthon, Teresa Locke, Patty Johnson, Joan Josserand, Carole Vogel, Elizabeth Sawyer, Patsy Brownlow and Melissa Johnson.

Four adults accompanied the girls; Mrs. J.A. McWhorter; mother advisor, Mmes. Ruland, Charlie Brown and B.H. Roberts.

SPEAKER — Bill Brady, a member of the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department and Civil Defense coordinator for this area, presented the program at the Friday morning Whiteface Breakfast Club meeting. Brady discussed the new tornado warning system

VISITORS FROM IRAN — Guests in the home of Mrs. Elmore Rains, left, this week are Mrs. Charles Bernard and her daughter, Simonne, whose home for more than three years has been in Tehran, Iran. Bernard is with a gas company there. Simonne attends the Tehran American School and after graduation plans college study at Denver.

Life In Iran Is Fine But America Is Home

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

A FLIGHT BACK to her home in Tehran will begin Monday for the Charles B. Bernard family after six weeks of visiting in the United States, and Mrs. Bernard says she won't venture to predict how much longer they will live in the Iranian capital where they have been the past three and a half years.

"It doesn't matter; because we love it there. We've lived in 35 different states, Mexico and Canada before my husband's work took us to the Middle East, and we've found that we can enjoy living just any place, so long as there is home for us to come back to."

Home, she adds, just means somewhere in the U.S.

"THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE THE UNITED STATES. It has lots of faults, but nothing like the rest of the world. Living and traveling in all parts of the world is interesting, and fun, but we still want to come back. In fact, we've become so patriotic you wouldn't believe it!"

It could be difficult for the Baraards to decide just which spot in the U.S. is their real home, since they've lived in so many places. Bernard is with the National Iranian Gas Co. now and has worked with gas production and pipeline firms, the kind of job that means frequent transfers.

Arlene Bernard says she is always ready to go where he goes, and their children, Simonne, now in high school, and Michael, a college junior, have benefited rather than been hurt by their diverse homes.

Mike is working here this summer at the Armour & Co. plant, formerly Wilson Co. He completed junior college study at Denver this spring and will attend Utah State University in the fall.

THE BERNARDS and Simonne came to visit him, and also visit in the home of Elaine and Elmore Rains, who have been their friends for a number of years since both couples lived on the Navajo Indian reservation in Arizona.

Arlene and Charles Bernard both grew up in South Dakota and have relatives in that state, but her mother now lives in Los Angeles and they have been visiting there.

Huge cities are not her idea of the best places to live in America or elsewhere.

When she flies into the Tehran airport, she says, she can easily manage to get the three or four miles to her home although her ability to speak the language is sketchy, but when she arrives at the Los Angeles airport and faces the 45-mile ride to her mother's home, "I just sit and wait until someone comes for me; if they didn't I'd spend my entire visit at the airport."

SPEAKING THE LANGUAGE is a minor problem in Tehran, Mrs. Bernard says, because so many residents there speak English at least passably. She has attempted to learn their Persian language but admits that her lessons have not been too successful, although her children have picked up a fair knowledge of the tongue.

However, she can make herself understood, and understand, enough for ordinary purposes where no English-speaking persons are present. Their Iranian acquaintances want them to speak English, however, because they want to improve their fluency in our language.

"What they want to learn is not English, but American," Mrs. Bernard laughs. "They admire things American; and believe that Americans have everything. They especially hope for the educational opportunities we have in the U.S., and take advantage of those given them."

"EDUCATION FOR GIRLS is a new thing in the Middle East and with other innovations is being stressed in the Shah's program to advance the people of Iran. Progress is being made, in the few years we have lived there we can see it."

"In addition to his ability as a leader, the Shah has a real interest in the people—something that is not true in all the countries of that area. We feel that we are living in the best part of the Middle East."

The Bernards do not reside in an American section of Tehran as do many who work with U.S. firms there; their neighbors are mostly the Moslem natives, whom Mrs. Bernard describes as "charming and gracious people."

The city is cosmopolitan, however, as witness a party the couple recently attended, with 16 couples from 11 different countries.

IT WAS THERE, she chuckles, that they met an Englishman with his Australian wife who were a little worried at receiving a foreign assignment from the oilfield service firm for which he works.

"We were happy to assure them," she relates, "that they should have no trouble adjusting to life in Duncan, Oklahoma!"

What she misses most from America is the food, even though the whole family and especially Michael likes Iranian food. She has become accustomed to Tehran's social customs, like dinner served at 10 p.m.

"The first time I nearly starved before food appeared; now I just eat a sandwich before leaving home," she explains.

On trips back to America each year the Bernards travel various routes to see as many different places as possible. They think all foreign countries are "wonderful to see and study about, but there's really no place like our U. S. home!"

CANYON—The House Appropriations Committee approved Wednesday a budget of almost $7.25 million dollars for West Texas State University for the fiscal year beginning Sept. 1.

The proposed budget, which includes four amendments by State Rep. Bryan Poff of Amarillo, is $50,500 more than requested by the university. Total proposed budget is $7,242,956.

—The Canyon News
LITTLEFIELD — Representatives from General Telephone Co. of the Southwest will meet tonight in a special session with Littlefield's city council, and representatives from the Spade, Whitharral, Anton and Amherst communities to discuss a proposed telephone rate increase.

The five cities would be affected by an up-coming rate increase. If the rates are enforced, the present rates of one-party residence phones in Littlefield will go from $5.45 to $9.15.

FRIONA—Friona's fourth annual independence Day celebration will be held Tuesday, sponsored by Friona Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

The main program—which features a speaker, musical entertainment and a fireworks display—will begin at 8:30 p.m. at Chieftan Field. Earnest Langley, Hereford attorney, will deliver a patriotic address.

Miss Golden Girl will be the appropriate title conferred upon the winner of Olton Women's Golf Association beauty contest to be held Tuesday, July 4 in connection with the ORC barbecue and July Fourth celebration.

"Miss Golden Girl" will be chosen at poolside July 4 in swim-suit competition that gets underway at 8 p.m. High school girls of the area are eligible to enter.

PERRYTON—Yield of 95 bushels per acre on irrigated wheat in Ochiltree County, reported by Edwin Malaney on a 135-acre cut in fields southeast of Perryton, appears to be the frosting on a wheat harvest cake, which has far exceeded expectations.

—The Perryton Herald
WELLINGTON—There is a strong possibility that screwworms will be found in Collingsworth County cattle, and owners are urgently told this week to take all precautions possible. The federal sterile fly program is in effect again this summer, but the flies are available to a county only after a case of screwworms has been confirmed.

—The Wellington Leader
STRATFORD—Sherman County's abbreviated wheat harvest got into high gear this week, hampered by rains, beset by rains and hail, but those who were lucky enough to have wheat to harvest found what they had turned out fairly well. A survey of wheat elevators shows they expect the wheat harvest to be 90 per cent finished by the end of the week if the weather holds.

"EDUCATION FOR GIRLS is a new thing in the Middle East and with other innovations is being stressed in the Shah's program to advance the people of Iran. Progress is being made, in the few years we have lived there we can see it."

"In addition to his ability as a leader, the Shah has a real interest in the people—something that is not true in all the countries of that area. We feel that we are living in the best part of the Middle East."

The Bernards do not reside in an American section of Tehran as do many who work with U.S. firms there; their neighbors are mostly the Moslem natives, whom Mrs. Bernard describes as "charming and gracious people."

The city is cosmopolitan, however, as witness a party the couple recently attended, with 16 couples from 11 different countries.

IT WAS THERE, she chuckles, that they met an Englishman with his Australian wife who were a little worried at

STANTON, Mo. (AP) — There's piped music throughout Meramec Caverns on U.S. 66 here but you won't hear any rock and roll.

Bob Hudson, cave manager, states that type of music interferes with the tours.

"When tourists hear rock and roll they tend to rush things and get in an excited mood which makes it extremely difficult for the cave guides," Hudson says.

"The guides lost control of tours."

Mrs. Michael Gilbert
Former Deana Townsend of Omaha

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Floyd Seager of Amarillo announce the engagement of their daughter, Lesley Ann, to Fredric J. Anderson. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kendon O. Anderson of Star Route.

Miss Seager is a 1972 graduate of Caprock High School. A 1971 graduate of Hereford High School, Anderson attended Amarillo College and is currently employed at Missouri Beef.

The couple plans an October wedding.

Home Wedding Ceremony Conducted For Miss Bell

A home ceremony at the sunset hour Saturday united in marriage Miss Rebecca Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bell, and Kenneth Williams of Longview, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Williams of that city.

Dr. W.A. Appling, pastor of First United Methodist Church, read the wedding service in the Bell home on Harrison Highway. Snapdragons and majestic daisies filled urns set on white pedestals to mark an improvised altar as the setting for the ceremony. Mrs. Roger Owen of Oklahoma City, matron of honor, and Bob Hill of Longview, best man, were the couple's only attendants. Her father gave Miss Bell in marriage.

She wore a dress of street length, in white polyester knit with trim of gold and pearl ornamental buttons. A ring belonging to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Tom Lair, was her heirloom piece, and her flowers were daisies and yellow roses in a nosegay.

More of the summer blossoms made a corsage for Mrs. Owen, who was dressed in yellow knit.

Sisters of the bride, Misses Sara and Kathi Bell, served the wedding cake and punch at a reception in the home after the wedding. The dining room table was centered with a memory candle based in a spreading arrangement of majestic daisies.

For a honeymoon trip to Houston, enroute to a home in Longview, Mrs. Williams wore for travel a white pique pants ensemble.

She has attended East Texas State University at Commerce where Williams was a 1971 graduate. Her high school studies were completed in Hereford with the graduating class of 1969. Williams is employed by the Longview Daily News.

His parents and a brother, Larry Williams, were out-of-city wedding guests, as were the bride's paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Bell of Truth-or-Consequences, New Mexico, and Roger Owen of Oklahoma City.

Couple Married In Church Here

Miss Bobbie Jane Walker became the bride of Michael Jay Beauchamp in a Tuesday afternoon ceremony conducted at First Christian Church by the Rev. Eugene Brink.

Miss Walker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Walker, 603 Irving. Beauchamp is the son of Mrs. Harold Beauchamp and the late Mr. Beauchamp.

An archway was decorated with red and white gladiolas and daisies and Mrs. H.E. Owens played traditional wedding selections on the organ.

Attending Miss Walker as maid of honor was Miss Vickie Alford. Donnie Fangman was best man with Bobby Jones, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Barry Jones, cousin of the bridegroom, ushering guests.

The full length bridal gown of sheer nylon acetate was styled with an A-line skirt and Juliet sleeves. The illusion yoke was trimmed with ribbon and lace daisies.

Miss Walker's veil, made by her mother, was of net attached to a pearl headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white gladiolas and red roses on a white Bible, borrowed from her sister.

The bride wore a necklace belonging to the bridegroom's mother and carried a hankie belonging to her great-aunt.

Her attendant was dressed in a formal length red gown accented with white trim. She wore a white hat and carried a basket of white daisies and red gladiolas.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Walker selected a coral suit with white accessories. Mrs. Beauchamp wore a pink knit dress and had pink accessories. Both mothers wore gladiola corsages.

A reception in the church fellowship hall followed the ceremony with Mrs. Lynn Worthington, sister of the bride, registering guests.

Miss Teresa Brisco, cousin of the bridegroom, poured punch and Mrs. Wanda Brisco, his aunt, served a three-tiered cake decorated with red roses from a table covered with white net and centered with a red and white flower arrangement. Mrs. Bobby Jones, sister of the bridegroom, assisted in serving.

For a wedding trip to Albuquerque, Mrs. Beauchamp wore a red double knit dress with white accessories. The couple will be at home on Route 5 after July 4.

The bride is a 1972 graduate of Hereford High School where she was a member of Office Education Association and the Rodeo Club. She is employed at Thames Pharmacy.

Beauchamp, a 1969 graduate of HHS, is self-employed and a member of Hereford Riders Club.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Rutter and Mr. and Mrs. W.W. Cummings of Dallas, bride's grandparents; Lynn Worthington and Pamela

Bride-To-Be Is Honored With Afternoon Shower

A prelude to her wedding on Saturday, a shower honoring Becky Bell, bride-elect of Kenneth Williams of Longview, was hosted in the Ward Parlor of First United Methodist Church Thursday afternoon.

Receiving guests were the honoree and her mother, Mrs. Charles Bell, with Mrs. Roland Hairgrove, Mrs. Tom Lair of Kings Manor and Mrs. C.C. Bell of Truth or Consequences, N.M., grandmothers of Miss Bell.

Susan Lair of Canyon, cousin of the bride-elect, was at the registry. Sara Bell, the honoree's sister, and Kima Marsh served cake and punch from a table decorated with flowers in Miss Bell's selected colors, aqua and yellow.

Hostesses for the shower were Mmes. Earl Holt, John Gooch, Lewis Lea, Fred Mulkey, Fred Mercer, Gene Brink, Howard Gore, Aubyn Hodges, Gwynne Owen, Merlin Kaul, Art Baker.

Also Mmes. Bussy Kaul, Roy Boyer, Joe Frank Clark, David Hamblen, Sam Ratcliff, John Torbit, Bob Hamman, Bill Walden, Ray Simpson, Tommy Blasingame and H.V. Crawford.

Bride And Groom At Home Here

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hammock Jr. are at home following their recent marriage in St. Thomas Episcopal Church with the Rev. William Lang officiating, assisted by the Rev. Joseph Fasel of St. James Episcopal Church of Clovis.

The former Miss Katherine Wood is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arvin B. Wood of Broadview, New Mexico. The bridegroom's parents live at 215 Fir.

Miss Wood wore a gown of embroidered silk organza with a veil extending over the chapel train. Her bouquet was a cascade of roses, daisies and stephanotis.

Mrs. Michael Wood attended and her as matron of honor; David Wheeler was best man, David and Roger Brown the ushers. Miss Linda Gilbert, organist, played wedding music.

At a reception in the parish hall Misses Sandra Rush, Coletta Queener, Judy Northcutt and LaNell Lindsey served refreshments.

Mrs. Hammock is a 1972 graduate of Grady, N.M., High School. Hammock attended Hereford High and is an employee of Southwest Feedyard.

Before the wedding the bride was honoree at two showers, one at Broadview and another in Hereford with Mmes. N.A. Brown, Wayne McLemore, Ernest Brown, Eldred Brown, Kenneth Osborn, Vachael Ridley and Jim Monroe, and her as matron of honor; David Wheeler was best man, David

Miss McDermitt Is Complimented

One of a series of courtesies for Donita McDermitt was a miscellaneous shower Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Bill Allen, prior to the honoree's marriage to James Henson planned for Saturday.

In the receiving line with the honoree were her mother, Mrs. Woody McDermitt, Mrs. Allen and Sally Bayne. They each wore a daisy corsage with multi-colored streamers.

Registering guests was Judith Dement, cousin of the bride-elect. Punch and cake were served by Kathy Duncan and Darla Springer from a table covered with a lavender cloth and lace overlay. An arrangement of pastel colored flowers centered the table.

Special guests at the shower were the honoree's grandmother, Mrs. O.C. Cummings and her aunt, Mrs. Raymond Dement.

Hostesses were Mmes. Dub

Curtsinger, Willodyne Brooks, L.R. Boyer, Ernest Flood, Wilbur Gibson, Armon Lauderback, Rex Lee, Edgar Lemons.

Also Mmes. Elmore Rains, W.W. Thomas, Ervin Ward, Dale Young, Donnie Laughlin, Layton Sawyer, Buddy Bloomer and Alvis Jolly.

Townsend-Gilbert Vows Exchanged In Missouri

The William S. Gilbert family of 127 Liveoak traveled to Rock Port, Mo. to attend the marriage ceremony uniting Miss Deana Townsend and their son, William Michael Gilbert, Saturday evening in First Christian Church at Rock Port. Miss Townsend is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Townsend of that city.

The Rev. Ed Cox of Shenandoah, Ia. conducted the ceremony.

The altar where the couple knelt was decorated with an arrangement of spider mums, pompons and daisies. Candles entwined with simalax and surrounded by rings of daisies lined the aisle and lighted the altar.

Miss Mary Gilbert, sister of the bridegroom, sang It Seems I've Always Loved You, accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Rolla Clark of Rock Port.

Miss Janice Jackson of Rock Port attended Miss Townsend as maid of honor and Steve Gilbert, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Miss Jayne Petersen of Des Moines and Miss Carol Falk of Omaha were bridesmaids with Kenneth Justice and Niles Culp attending as groomsmen.

Guests were ushered by Mark Struther and Edward Jackson of Rock Port. Carol and Cheryl Nelson of Council Bluffs, cousins of the bride, were flower girls. Candles were lighted by Tom Graves, a cousin, and Gordon Van Meter.

Miss Townsend wore a bridal gown of embroidered silk organza featuring a lace panel centered with self-covered buttons. Rows of Venice lace accented cuffs of the fitted sheer sleeves, hemline, high collar and sheer yoke.

Her floor length veil of illusion was bordered by rows of Venice lace and flowed into a chapel train. She wore a diamond necklace, gift of the bridegroom and carried a cascade of miniature carnations and yellow roses.

The gown worn by the maid of honor was of yellow voile with a bolero effect produced by white of Flagler, Colo.; Bobby Hawks of Denver. Also Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Aten of Lelia Lake; the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Ed Hawkins, and Mr. Hawkins of Amarillo, Mrs. J.L. Jones and children of Dumas and Mrs. Ted Brisco of Amarillo.

embroidered lace. It featured long sleeves and plain skirt.

Bridesmaids' gowns of green voile were in similar fashion. They carried nosegays of daisies and babybreath tied with white ribbon streamers.

Following the ceremony was a reception in the home of the George Chamberlains. Miss Linda Gilbert, sister of the bridegroom, registered guests as Miss Mary Gilbert, also a sister, poured punch.

Mrs. Byril Brown of Omaha and Mrs. Ed Nelson of Council Bluffs, both cousins of the bride, served the bride's and groom's cakes.

The table was covered with a white linen cloth centered with an arrangement of daisies, babybreath and green candles. A cascade of roses was centered between the two cakes.

Miss Carol Gilbert, bridegroom's sister, and Miss Jamie Brown, cousin of the bride were other members of the houseparty.

For a wedding trip to Colorado, Mrs. Gilbert wore a green and white double knit dress with white accessories. The couple will be home after July 9 at Casa de Warren Apartments in Amarillo.

The bride is a graduate of Rock Port High School and attended a school of commerce in Omaha, where she majored in accounting. She has been employed at WOW-TV station in Omaha.

A graduate of Hereford High School, Gilbert is enrolled at West Texas State University and will be employed at Interstate wholesale in Amarillo.

Francis Lay of Sioux City, the bridegroom's brother, was an out-of-town wedding guest along with the Gilbert family.

With Glad

By Mrs. Art Manjeot

Howdy-do! Am just so GLAD to be at home!

Hope everyone of you readers are busy in your gardens and are enjoying the fruits of your toil both in the flower and vegetable gardens.

Everything looked real well at 303 West Haven Drive. Especially good to me. Jeff Dull had proven a good keeper of the lawns, flowers, shrubs etc. I had to look everything over, and there was a special welcome committee of worms to greet me.

After one of the showers I went out to the front and was checking the lilies, roses, ground covers and shrubs, when lo! and behold there were worms and more worms. Little tiny fluff balls, and long busy ones. Yes! I soon had Mr. Hutton spraying everything, and Jeff and I got busy too.

Worms all gone now, but the weeds are! The hoes have to be sharpened and kept busy to make things spick and span 'round here. Also some planting had to be done. Beets, carrots, marigolds, (several varieties) and gladoli.

Remember July 15 is the last practical day to plant glads for fall flowering. I will be planting some more on that day, as I have a few corns of Miss America and Cameo as well as Prairie. Fire and Swan to get into ground for the fall flower show entries. Yes, Mrs. Brooks, the bachelor buttons were also planted, am looking forward to the white, pink and blue blossoms.

I also want my friend who gave me the tuberose and white gladoli to know that they were all planted and that the tuberose are up and doing well. I may have them planted too close, but I so wanted them to do well, I put them where I could watch them carefully.

The glads are growing nicely, each of the corns has two spikes and the bloom buds are starting to make. Am looking forward to the lovely florets. Glads are my favorite flower.

While we are discussing glads I would like to remind you that after the glads put on at least five leaves they should be fed, and must be watered consistently. at least once a week, deep. Should also be cultivated lightly. Their root system is rather shallow, so care should be used in cultivating them.

Mrs. Deward Roberson has had some beautiful gladoli. The arrangement at the church altar Sunday was very appropriate. (I especially noticed the co-ordination of color of the soloist's blouse and the throat of the glads.)

The unexpected thing usually happens and it did to me. I had to go to the D.S. General Hospital for a few days. To all who rendered deeds of kindness to me, I am most grateful. My sincere thanks! All helped me to get well. One of the very choicest flowers that grows in our life's garden is that of friendship.

Am sure that all of you wish I would quit writing about Virginia, myself, etc. and write about something relevant, in other words get down to the nitty-gritty of gardening and kindred subjects.

WHAT TO DO IN JUNE. This is the time to keep the garden growing and free from pests and diseases. It is very important to keep the plants growing; if you do not they will become stunted and will not produce as you hope.

In the vegetable garden, the cut-flower garden, the flower beds and borders, frequent shallow cultivation of the soil is of great aid. If there are ground covers, or if plants are growing in grass, and for plants which have shallow roots growing very near the surface, do not cultivate. Especially after rain and watering the soil should be stirred to keep plants growing and producing.

Watering is an important aid to growth and production. Correct watering is of the utmost importance. Slow, thorough watering, which will have depth and reach the roots is best.

Surface sprinklings at frequent intervals are ineffectual. However it is good when plants become dusty and the foliage needs attention to cleanse by spraying, but be sure to do this when the sun will dry the foliage out thoroughly before nightfall.

Spraying in the late evening time will often cause black-spot, mildew and other diseases. If plants are kept too wet they will not develop properly either, and the moisture causes snails and other insects which harm the plants. Do not water until the plants show signs of dryness and need.

Many of our plants are ready for the aid of a little fertilizing. The roses should be fed after they have been groomed and watered well. Shrubs perhaps need a boost. Tomatoes and some of the other vegetables also need some extra attention now. Here, "little and more often" is a good rule to follow, rather than heavy applications at frequent intervals.

An eager, awake gardener is what we should be, as diseases come quickly sometime, insects take over, and other things damage our gardens. To care for these, we must be alert. Many have called me, telling me of insects and diseases so all be aware and exercise care towards our garden friends.

Check all house plants, and those that need re-potting. Some can go into the ground and then be lifted for fall houseplants. Watch temperature where plants are kept, also sun exposure. I almost lost some plants by not being alert to the extreme heat Sunday. Results were sunburned leaves and some sick-looking begonias. They are better now, and I am glad.

With hot weather the lawn will need to be cared for. It is time to raise the cutting blade on the mower for the blue grass. Also be sure the blades are sharp so the grass will not be mistreated as it is cut; a quick sure cut is what is needed.

Bermuda grass suffers from close mowing due to its structure. Destroying all of the leaf that is a rather long stem, leaves only stem that must struggle to form more leaves.

Water lawns deeply; shallow watering does not strengthen the root system, just promotes quick growth and draws from roots unnecessarily. Keep up a consistent treatment for dandelions, wild-clover and other foreign grasses and weeds. Do your best to control them, and then when fall comes a through spraying of a potent spray will put the lawn in good shape for the winter sleep.

To those who have called, asking about care for asparagus (a delicious vegetable) I have studied and found the following information in my Garden Encyclopedia.

If roots one year old are planted, asparagus should not be cut until the third year; if roots two years old are put in, the produce should not be cut until the second year. Roots three years old will provide asparagus the year following planting.

Cut when shoots are showing green a few inches above the surface, but before the bud begins to expand, use a sharp knife, preferably one with a thin blade.

Make a quick sharp cut, turned inwards vertically to sever the shoot rightly; use care and do not cut near the crown. Asparagus should not be cut for table use after the third week in June. However the bed should be kept moist in hot dry weather.

A light sprinkling of salt as on food, over the asparagus bed, will aid plants or roots and an occasional watering with liquid fertilizer or light feeding of your selected fertilizer will prove helpful in assuring the development of strong plants and root system.

Stray seedlings should be uprooted. If the plant grows profusely and takes too much garden space, trim tops slightly or fasten stems and sprays to ground. Watch plants and if they put on seeds remove these.

Later in the season the leaves will turn a lovely golden yellow, then brown, they then should be cut to the ground. Groom soil about the plants, removing all fallen berries and dropped stems. In the fall after the grooming has been done a light top dressing should be applied.

This can be of decayed manure (well) or compost, then this should be covered with a little soil taken from between the beds. If the soil is clayey, the top-dressing should be put on in April or when the roots begin to show growth.

An asparagus bed can be started from purchased roots or those shared by friends, or seed can be planted in a shallow drill and plants transplanted later to the selected bed for future growth. The later is a slower process, but in time it will pay off in good return.

The seed could be planted in a hot-house where other bedding plants are started for early spring planting, or forced under lights.

BEAUTY, there are many beauty spots in Hereford. Seems to me there are more well cared for lawns, and lovely flowering plants and shrubs this year than I have seen in many years. (Maybe I just think my home town is extra after having been gone for several months).

I have been greatly pleased at the new interest shown in plantings and landscaping of non-resident places. The new home for The Chamber of Commerce is a very attractive addition and after the landscaping am sure it will be eye-catching.

For fear that I will leave out some of the prettiest, I am not going to name the beauty spots this week. You go out and see for yourself. Late evening or early morning is a delightful time to visit and see your neighbors' gardens, lawns, trees and to have a rare treat, chief of which will be beauty.

Oh! yes, take care of those weeds...they grow even without care. The chief garden pests now are the mosquitoes...they are bad...I cannot work outside either early morning or late evening; they attack me and I am really afraid of them.

HAPPINESS is showing—gratitude. Share, be kind, neighborliness is un-measurable.

Benefit Coffee Slated In WSCS

Postponed because of the July 4th holiday, the monthly coffee of First United Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service will be a special program, open to guests, at 9:30 a.m. July 12.

Mrs. Elmer Kimball, president, announces that women of the church and their friends are invited to a silver coffee at that time in Ward Parlor of the church. This is an annual event to raise funds for work of the society.

Mrs. Robert Strain will review the book, These First Called Him Master, by Earl Porry.

You can use yogurt as a dressing for chicken salad. In this case you may want to add curry powder and onion powder plus minced fresh parsley to the yogurt to make the dressing.

Recital Set For Student

A voice student of Mrs. Dolson Palmer the past year, with a background of piano lessons and school choir participation, Caye Clearman is to be presented in recital at her teacher's home at 2 p.m. today.

Her family and other guests have been invited for tea and a program of vocal solos. Miss Clearman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Clearman will sing Italian, French and German selections as well as English. The aria, Come Unto Him, from Handel's Oratorio, The Messiah, will be the first number heard. To follow are Italian songs, Se Tu M'Ami, by Pergolesi and Vittoria Mio Core! by Carissimi.

In another group of solos are Wie Melodien and Dort in Den Weiden, both by Brahms; Debussy's Beau Soir and Gavotte by Massenet. Modern pieces in a final group include a lullaby and the rollicking folk song, Shortnin' Bread.

A 1972 Hereford High graduate, Miss Clearman sang in school choirs from the seventh grade through high school and was chosen for the all-region choir in 1971. She had roles in four student musicals, the feminine lead as a ninth grader.

First runner-up in the recent Miss Hereford pageant, she has been an HHS cheerleader and was named to Who's Who as a senior.

BOTTLES RECYCLED
NEW YORK (AP) — More than 211 million used glass containers have been reclaimed and recycled into new bottles and jars during the first three months of 1972. It is reported by the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute.

This compares with 96 million bottles and jars collected by the public in the January-March quarter of 1971. The institute also reported that more than 1 billion bottles have been recycled into new glass containers and other secondary products since the reclamation program began about two years ago.

See Here Uncle!

The cost of government is literally eating the country out of house and home. In 1970, Americans spent $14 billion more for government than for food, shelter, clothing and new cars combined.

Isn't it scary that the cost of government increased by 67 per cent from 1958 to 1971? That's almost twice as much as the cost of consumer items. Uncontrolled Federal spending looms as a continuing threat to the economy. The inevitable results are government deficits, inflation, increased taxes.

What to do? We suggest to the President and Congress—put government on a strict diet. Set up strict spending guidelines. Exercise strict controls on the Federal budget. As a start, we recommend five reforms:

1. Project all major spending over a five-year period.

Show total costs as well as detailed spending. Such projections should list separately both actual spending and spending that has been authorized but not yet spent. Then Congress and the taxpayers will have a yardstick for measuring new and continuing programs. The costs of new programs initiated in the 1960's increased 300 per cent during the first five years. If the taxpayer knows the future costs, he will think twice about the true worth of the program.

2. Evaluate all spending programs at least once every three years.

Determine their need and effectiveness and see what costs can be eliminated. This is zero-based budgeting, which means that an appropriation for a program must be justified from scratch. If needed it should be re-enacted. If not, eliminated. As it stands now, almost $175 billion of the proposed $247 billion budget for Fiscal 1973 would be spent automatically—about $2,650 per family.

3. Pilot test every proposed major Federal program.

See if it will work before full-scale operations are funded. If it works, then and only then should Congress put it into nationwide operation. This procedure will avoid many expensive projects that look good on paper but don't solve the problem. As Senator Abraham Ribicoff said in urging that the proposed Family Assistance Plan be pilot-tested: "Right now we have 168 programs at a cost of $31 billion to alleviate poverty, and we've got more poverty in this country than we had last year."

4. Designate a joint Congressional Committee to evaluate the Federal budget in terms of priorities.

Today no committee is responsible for the total budget picture. The Federal budget is a thing of bits and pieces—a scrambled multibillion dollar jigsaw puzzle. Each committee has a favorite piece and tries to squeeze it in somehow. No committee evaluates the budget in terms of balancing tax receipts and expenditures. Excess costs are simply added to the national debt. A total review by one committee, to be made public, could help balance the budget.

5. Subject special Federal programs, such as Social Security, Medicare and Highways to the discipline of controlled spending just as other tax-supported programs are.

There are over 800 trust funds, which do not come under the annual appropriations review. An annual look might change priorities substantially as times change.

These five points can bring the budgetary process under control. Until the American public insists on steps like these, election results will be meaningless. What's needed is millions of Americans talking to their friends, neighbors, colleagues and public officials about ways to bring spending under control.

The Work Ethic

Not long ago the New York State Controller reported widespread "under-utilization of employe time"—in other words, goofing-off at taxpayer expense. The report was denied, of course, yet it obviously hit pretty close to home.

Several months ago "Engineering News-Record," McGraw-Hill's construction weekly, published an extended analysis of the sort of restrictive labor union practices and low production quotas that, according to the publication, waste from 15 per cent to 40 per cent of every construction dollar.

For example, one master mechanic, who in accordance with a union requirement that he be paid for every hour that any man is working on the job (either one of his mechanics or an outside service man), was paid more than $94,000 one year — $18,000 in base salary and a whopping $76,000 in overtime. Coffee breaks not uncommonly erode 15 per cent of a seven-hour day. Jurisdictional disputes over things like which union is responsible for holding the nozzle on a fuel truck during fueling operations have caused hundreds of stoppages and cost hundreds of thousands of dollars in delays.

In both the private and public sector, the work ethic — the belief in the dignity of honest toil, the feeling of accomplishment at having helped produce something worthwhile — clearly has fallen on hard times. We worry that the greatest effect of this is on the character of a people. Work is not always enjoyable, and certainly loafing has been known to all times and ages. Yet work is necessary to progress, and we wonder how long a society can remain viable if too many people are content to get by without effort.

Depletion

Well, at least it was worth a try. Oil fields and copper deposits play out and their owners can claim "depletion" allowances in federal income tax returns. It is one of those "loopholes" everyone talks about.

But a 76-year-old California lawyer, Francis Heiser, figured other things play out too, like the human body, for example. So he filed a tax claim for depletion of himself and his wife.

A U.S. appeals court upheld a lower court's disallowance of the claim, ruling that human bodies and skills are not the "natural deposits" the tax laws had reference to. Still, human bodies and skills are a rather important natural resource. If the tax authorities are unwilling to grant depletion allowances they might at least try to reduce tax complexities.

A good many human beings are undergoing substantial wear and tear these days just trying to fill out their tax forms.

George McGovern, A Political Accident

BY BERT MILLS

Washington, D. C. — George McGovern is either a political accident or the most astute politician of today, a man who has found the key to a mass appeal that not even the disillusioned voters who support him can understand.

Whichever role historians decide to assign Senator McGovern, it is clear that his 10 primary victories have earned him the right to be his party's nominee for President. The odds are overwhelming that the delegates assembled in Miami Beach on July 12 will recognize this fact and give him the chance to unseat President Nixon.

State primaries are not the most efficient way to sort out men but they do serve to eliminate those who lack widespread appeal. Senator McGovern first knocked off the pre-primary favorite, Senator Edmund Muskie, and then the 1968 Democratic nominee, Senator Hubert Humphrey. Other aspirants were snowed under along the way.

So unless justice is thwarted, the relatively obscure junior Senator from the relatively unimportant state of South Dakota — which has never produced a President — will be Mr. Big among Democrats at least until next November. It did not figure to happen but strange events often occur in the political world.

One of the strangest aspects of McGovern's primary is that this most liberal of all Democratic candidates attracted many votes from conservatives. This fact has been attested by Frank Mankiewicz, one of his principal managers.

Many Don't Know McGovern It is apparent that many voters do not know Senator McGovern, or how to peg him. Dr. George Gallup recently published a poll which showed that 34 percent of the voters had not decided whether McGovern is a liberal or a conservative. By contrast, only 10 percent were unable to place President Nixon on either the liberal or conservative camp.

Assuming McGovern's nomination, more voters are going to become acquainted with his program before Election Day. Republicans are sure to try to pin the term "radical" on their opponent, and they have a lot of ammunition to fire. Probably they will quote Senator Humphrey and his attacks on McGovern in the California primary.

Senator McGovern has been endorsed by Americans for Democratic Action, the ultra liberal faction of the Democratic party. In a letter to all A.D.A. members soliciting funds, McGovern proposed "a new coalition" comprised of these groups:

"Peace advocates heartsick over Vietnam and our bloated defense budget; women rightfully demanding full equality with men; small farmers being driven off the land by giant agribusiness; idealistic young people fighting for a better future; Blacks, Chicanos, Puerto Ricans, Indians, and other minorities."

Also "blue-collar workers squeezed by cold-war inflation; environmentalists and zero-population-growth advocates fighting to save our planet before it's too late; consumer advocates demanding quality, honesty and value; civil libertarians alarmed over unconstitutional crushing of crime and dissent; educators concerned over the austerity budgets of most of our schools; enlightened business and professional people who want a healthier, happier country."

Coalition Includes Everybody That "new coalition" outlined in the words above includes practically everybody. If Senator McGovern can get a majority of the people included in all these groups to support his candidacy, he is a cinch to be the next President. But it will take some doing.

President Nixon will enter the campaign as the favorite. He has the priceless advantage of occupying the White House. To many voters who are neither strongly Democratic or strongly Republican, he will be the "safe" candidate, a known quantity. History shows that incumbent Presidents are rarely refused a second term.

In fact, the Republicans will have to guard against over-confidence. Their spokesmen are on record as favoring McGovern's nomination, on grounds he will be easy to beat. That remains to be seen. A number of leading Democrats thought the same way only a few primaries ago.

Talk Of Texas

BY JACK MAGUIRE

ONE WAY TICKET — Every week of the year, a converted passenger bus, painted a gleaming white, leaves the State Penitentiary at Huntsville and roams Texas county seats. When it returns at week's end, it delivers up to 65 convicted felons to the Department of Corrections.

It is known to prisoners as the "Tumbleweed Wagon," a name given to it before the turn of the century when it was a high-wheeled van drawn by four horses and manned by a guard riding shotgun. Today the "Tumbleweed Wagon" is motorized, but it still is little more than a closed, thick-planked box where prisoners ride chained to wooden benches on either side of the passenger compartment.

Since county sheriffs rarely deliver prisoners to Huntsville, and since convicted outlaws almost never report on their own, the "Tumbleweed Wagon" makes its weekly trips to county jails to pick up prisoners destined for the state prison. It's a one-way free ride, however. When a prisoner serves his time and is released, he gets home on his own — with a bus ticket furnished by the state.

NOTE TO TOURISTS — Outsiders don't usually think of Texas as a land of forests, yet the state has more than 200 species of trees. And 38 trees rank as the largest of their kind in the country.

The Texas Forest Service at College Station keeps track of such things and issues an official Registry of Champion Big Trees.

LAST MAN — Alphonso Steele, one of the few Texans to suffer a wound in the battle of San Jacinto, also was the last survivor of that historic fight. He died July 8, 1911, at Kosse, Limestone County.

Steele was only 19 when he enlisted in Captain James Gillespie's company in Colonel Sidney Sherman's regiment. In the first two minutes of the Texian's attack on General Santa Anna's Mexican army at San Jacinto, Steele was hit by a musket ball. He recovered and wrote a 31-page reminiscence of the battle which has been of much value to historians.

The old soldier farmed in Limestone County until his death. He is buried at Mexia.

PETS FOR SALE — In New Harp, Montague County, there is a ranch that breeds, surgically descends and sells skunks to pet fanciers at $13.50 per head.

50 YEARS AGO

W.H. Ray, local jeweler walked into a neighboring store one day this week and faced an older brother, M.A. Ray of Covington, Tenn., whom he had not seen in nineteen years. He recognized him without hesitation, however, to the chagrin of another brother, J. Ray, and Judge Jno. P. Slaton, who had framed up to take M.A. Ray into his brother's store and ask for a fitting of glasses, believing W.H. Ray would never know his brother after so long a lapse of time. And so another practical joke was spoiled.

35 YEARS AGO

Most of the people of Hereford have turned to dogs or rats for pets, but not Jack Rose. He carries a pet snake around in his pocket for his amusement — and the dismay of theirs . . . One of the most unique baseball teams in the United States in the boast of Bellview, New Mexico. The team is composed of 11 brothers . . . With second half tax payments due on or before June 30, and a heavy penalty effective on 1936 delinquent taxes on July 1, J.O. Newell, sheriff-tax collector of Deaf Smith county, this week urged all residents to pay their taxes before June 30, if possible . . .

20 YEARS AGO

We had an average per cent attendance in all schools this year of 93 per cent plus. A total of 144 students was promoted from the sixth grade into Junior High; approximately 210 students will enter the first grade next year. This means the number of students entering first grade in elementary schools will be about 60 more than those leaving . . . Heavy winds and lightning accompanying the thunderstorms that broke the back of the 12-day heat wave on Thursday and Friday also caused a lot of property damage in the area . . . Most of the damage was done from straight winds, observers said, although the debris of some of the damaged buildings look like a twister was at work . . .

10 YEARS AGO

An Amarillo contracting firm Tuesday night was awarded the job of building a new athletic fieldhouse. The agreement was reached after Hereford Rural High School District trustees had opened, read and discussed seven bids on the job . . . Despite an apparent "building slump" in Hereford during June permits for new construction issued by the City of Hereford for new construction, repairs, and additions still showed a gain for the first half of 1962 over the same period a year ago . . .

Anne Frye Bride Of Ronnie Reiter

Miss Anne Elaine Frye and Ronnie Allen Reiter were united in marriage Saturday evening in a wedding ceremony conducted at First Baptist Church.

The Rev. Homer Hanna of First Baptist Church and the Rev. John Kiesling of St. Anthony's Catholic Church officiated for the service.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Frye, 144 Liveoak, and Mr. and Mrs. C.J. Berend of Route 2.

Two large bouquets of yellow snapdragons and majestic daisies in pink, green and blue decorated the church along with three candelabra.

Miss Janet Frye attended her sister as maid of honor with Tommy Reiter, brother of the bridegroom, attending as best man. Mrs. Bob Paetzold, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Shawn Frye, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids.

Groomsmen were Ray and Phil Berend, brothers of the bridegroom. Ushering guests were Daniel Koenig and Douglas Sanderson.

Beth Frye, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid and Leann Paetzold, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Paetzold, was flower girl.

Candles were lighted by Marty and Jimmie Ingram of Hinton, Okla., cousins of the bride.

Miss Carol Scott provided music with Miss Donna Coker accompanying at the organ. Miss Scott sang For All We Know, Twelfth of Never and The Lord's Prayer.

Miss Frye wore a formal length gown of sheer organza with Venice lace covering the high rise bodice and forming cuffs on the bishop sleeves. Deep scallops of lace accented the front of the A-line skirt. The gown was designed with a detachable train with lace medallion appliques.

Net attached to a headpiece made of the same material as the dress made the veil worn by the bride. She carried a bouquet of pink, yellow, blue and green daisies.

Miss Frye wore a diamond necklace and ring given her by the bridegroom and for luck she had a sixpence in her shoe given her by Mrs. L.C. Hewitt.

Embossed silk voile made the attendants' dresses with stand up collar and long cuffed sleeves. A ribbon at the empire waistline matched the daisy nosegay each attendant carried.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Frye wore a mint green suit of silk and worsted designed with jeweled stand-up collar and long sleeves. Jeweled gloves and bag complemented her attire.

Mrs. Berend selected a gold crepe A-line dress with jeweled front, completed with bone accessories. Both mothers wore white carnation corsages.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church fellowship hall with Mrs. Roy Reinart and Miss Marsha Ingram registering guests.

Misses Julie Vogel and Sue Klechak poured punch and coffee from a table covered with beau de soie cloth overlaid with net. The table was centered with a silver epergne holding candles and flowers in pastel shades.

A five-tiered wedding cake topped with traditional bride and groom figurines was served by Misses Gay Womble, Kathy Roberts and Lynne Inmon.

An orange and white sleeveless dress with empire waistline was worn by Mrs. Reiter for a wedding trip. She had white accessories and wore a white and orange daisy corsage.

The couple will be at home at 612 Irving, Apartment 40, after a short trip.

The bride is a 1972 graduate of Hereford High School where Reiter graduated in 1969.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Mrs. Leona Smith of Verden, Okla., bride's grandmother; Mr. and Mrs. C.G. Frye of Chickasha, bride's grandparents; Mrs. Mike Newell of Oklahoma City; Mr.

and Mrs. Orval Wilkerson of Bixby, Okla.; Dewayne Sexton of Wichita Falls; Dr. and Mrs. Marshall Ingram and family of Hinton, Okla.

Also Glen Reiter, brother of the bridegroom, and his family of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Tony Wimmer, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Wimmer, Leo Haverkamp, and Mr. and Mrs. Doc Reinart, all of Muenster; Mr. and Mrs. Tony Reiter and Mrs. Henry Luttmer, Gainesville.

Songs To Be Heard

Solos by Dr. Duffy McBrayer, baritone, will be presented for an audience of friends invited this evening to the home of Mrs. Dolson Palmer, with whom he studies voice.

Dr. McBrayer, a practicing physician here the past four years, counts music among his hobbies which include hunting, fishing and golf.

His recital will begin with two songs from the early seventeenth century. Ben Jonson, Elizabethan poet, wrote the words for the first, Have You Seen But a Whyte Lillie Grow?, set to a tune by an unknown composer. Star Vicuio was composed by Salvador Rosa, who was born in 1615.

Next he will sing two German lieder, Du Bist die Rue, by Schubert, and Zueignung by Strauss. Also on program are two songs from In a Persian Garden (Lehamnn); the American folk song, Water Boy, by Robinson, and finally a hit tune from the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical South Pacific, Younger Than Springtime.

Sheik Shakbut, the former ruler of Abu Zaby who allowed slave-trading in his Trucial State until 1964, feared modernization would ruin his land and tried to refuse payment for oil found there. Forced to accept the money, he kept it under his bed where rats gnawed through a fortune in banknotes before he was deposed in 1966.

School Menus

MONDAY — Breakfast: cooked cereal, raisins, milk. Noon: fish stick, Harvard beets, creamed potatoes, hot rolls, butter, milk, ice cream cones. Snack: birthday cake, milk.

Texas School Children Among Best-Immunized

When the school bells ring this fall, Texas school children will be among the best-immunized in the country.

The reason, according to State Health Commissioner Dr. James E. Peavy, is the state's compulsory immunization law.

Under the regulations, grade school level children (and those attending day care centers) must be immunized against five communicable diseases—diphtheria, tetanus, poliomyelitis, measles and rubella. Measles immunization is not required if there is a history of measles illness. And smallpox, which originally was a required immunization, was removed from the list by the State Board of Health, which sets immunization, was removed from the list by the State Board of Health, which sets immunization guidelines for the schools.

Junior high school, high school and college-level students have lesser requirements for immunizations, said Dr. Peavy.

The Health Commissioner noted that immunizations should have been started by last January 1 and must be completed, according to age levels, before starting school this fall.

"I feel that almost all school children will have completed these requirements," said Dr. Peavy. About the only misunderstanding in the regulation was in the college level, he said. "If a collegian is 19 years of age or over, the only requirement is for the adult type tetanus-diphtheria immunization, or a booster shot within the past 10 years."

Dr. Peavy said local health units throughout the state contributed toward meeting the large demand for immunizations, and private physicians have boosted the total. In 1971 almost 4.5 million doses of vaccine were administered to Texans during regular local health unit clinics and special campaigns.

Dr. Peavy said the immunization law is a good one—one that had been needed for a long time. It forces parents to protect their children and in so doing protect themselves, their friends and relatives from these preventable diseases.

"We are anxious to have children immunized long before they start to school," said Dr. Peavy. "In fact, they should start in the first year of life," he said.

"I feel that the immunization results will be reflected in the preventable disease total," said the Health Commissioner. "From past experience, we have seen a steady decline in preventable diseases—except venereal disease," he said.

Dr. Peavy said it was imperative that the very young children receive immunizations since a lot of diseases appear in those two years of age and younger. "The best prevention is early immunization," he said.

Dr. Peavy said there has been good cooperation from everyone concerning the mandatory immunization law, which has co-sponsorship of the Texas Medical Association.

The law even allows exclusions from compliance for religious reasons, or where a physician licensed by the Texas Board of Medical Examiners feels that immunizations are medically contraindicated.

Many school districts had varying immunization requirements, but none were standard. "Some just had smallpox, while others required several immunizations. Now, however, they will be uniform throughout the state," said Dr. Peavy.

All schools will be required to maintain records of the immunization status of individual students, and this is a king-size job. Total registration for special education, kindergartens and grades one through 12 is expected to surpass 2.8 million students. Of these, almost a quarter-million will be entering first grade.

The end result of the mandatory program will be reflected in better health for all Texans, a goal of the State Health Department in its immunization program, said Dr. Peavy.

Spanish Surname Population Totals Are Given By Bureau

Preliminary 1970 census totals for persons of Spanish surname in five southwestern States were announced recently by the Bureau of the Census of the U.S. Department of Commerce's Social and Economic Statistics Administration.

The Spanish surname total in the five States—California, Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, and Texas—was 4,667,975, a gain of almost 33 percent over the 1960 total of 3,513,684.

Nearly half (47.6 percent) of the 1970 Spanish surname total—2,222,185—lived in California, where they accounted for 11.1 percent of the State's population total. Texas was second in number with 1,663,567. New Mexico's figure of 324,248 was the highest 1970 proportion of the total population with Spanish surname—31.9 percent.

Persons of Spanish family name were identified on 1970 census returns from a list of more than 8,000 names compiled originally by the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service and updated by the Census Bureau.

Earlier this year, the Bureau released preliminary counts of persons of Spanish language and persons of Puerto Rican birth or parentage. The population of Spanish language is composed of persons who reported Spanish as the language spoken at home during childhood and all members of a household related to a head or wife reporting Spanish as their mother tongue plus other persons of Spanish surname.

Spanish surname is the only category of data comparable to 1960 census data for the five southwestern States. Increased interest in and by persons of Spanish heritage resulted in more detailed breakdowns of 1970 data.

Hospital Gets Accreditation

Deaf Smith General Hospital was approved by the Board of Commissioners of the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals for a two year accreditation.

Requirements, set by the joint commission, must be met by hospitals seeking accreditation. A representative from the commission visits the hospital periodically to inspect its facilities and staff.

Patient care is the main concern of the commission, and involves the inspection of all aspects of patient care. Certain numbers of nurses are required to be on the regular staff, based on the size of the hospital and the number of beds in it.

Without accreditation, the hospital would lose federal money set up for use by hospitals.

Member organizations of the joint commission are the American College of Physicians, American College of Surgeons, American Hospital Association and American Medical Association.

Firemen Attend State Meeting

Five members of the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department returned recently for the State Fireman's and Fire Marshals' Convention held in Galveston.

Those attending were Ted Higgins, Albert Maxwell, Keith Munnerlyn, Jap Dickerson and Bill Bradley.

The five men participated in four days of meetings where new officers were elected and advanced in rank. The locations for the next three years' conventions were set and they will be: Brownsville for the 1973 convention, Laredo for the 1974 convention and Houston for the 1975 convention.

JESSE JAMES COMES TO ENGLAND
BUXTON, England (AP) — Risks of armed robberies on banks are so high these days that clerks are entitled to danger money, says the president of the Bank Employers Union. At a conference in Derbyshire, Don Earl estimated the danger element in the job had trebled in recent years. "It is high time the public realized the increasing risks from raids that all bank men and women have to face," he says.

Prince Valiant

IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR
BY HAL FOSTER

Our Story: IN THE MORNING PRINCE VALIANT GOES OUT TO VIEW THE CITY OF ATHELDAG. HIS WALK IS INTERRUPTED BY A CRINGING OFFICIAL.

"SIR KNIGHT, THE KING COMMANDS YOUR PRESENCE. COME THIS WAY, AND QUICKLY, FOR THE KING DOES NOT LIKE TO BE KEPT WAITING."

THE PALACE IS QUIET, COURTIER SPEAK IN WHISPERS. A NERVOUS CHAMBERLAIN SAYS: "THE KING IS RESTING, YOU MUST WAIT." "SO, THE KING IS A FRAUD," MUSES VAL, "HE MOANS THAT HE CANNOT SLEEP AT NIGHT AND NO WONDER, HE SLEEPS ALL MORNING!"

KING DASHAD AT LAST RECEIVES VAL. "AT THE CITY GATES LAST NIGHT THE HIGH PRIEST OF TONDAG HO SAID: 'MEN HAVE SACRIFICED CONTENTMENT FOR GREED,' BUT YOU MAINTAINED CONTENTMENT IS BUT THE END OF AMBITION! NOW WHY CANNOT I, WHO CAN DEMAND EVERYTHING I WANT, BE CONTENTED?"

VAL SAYS NOTHING, SO THE KING CONTINUES: "I AM A GENIUS, AN ARTIST, MUSICIAN AND POET, A BUILDER OF PALACES, WISE IN COUNSEL AND A MIGHTY HUNTER, YET I AM SAD. COME, I WILL SHOW YOU SOME OF MY WORKS."

"I BUILT THAT COLONNADE, SETTING MY PILLARS ON SOLID ROCK." HERE, HE GESTURES WITH HIS HANDS AS IF HE HAD PLACED THEM THERE HIMSELF.

DEAR HELOISE:
Another "hooray" for Grandmas!
Our little girls like to sew, so their Grandma makes her used greeting cards into sewing cards for them.
She punches holes through each card, outlining the figures on the illustration. If the card is not made of sturdy paper, she glues it shut, thus making a double thickness.
She wraps an assortment of yarn pieces around a ribbon pool or length of cardboard tubing. A short section of pipe cleaner (with one end bent over the yarn to form an "eye") makes a needle that holds the yarn securely for sewing.

We think these cards are

SWEET 'N SOUR
DEAR HELOISE:
I like lemon in my ice tea, so I bought some of that instant tea that already has lemon and sugar in it, but it was so strong with lemon that I didn't care for it.
Then I came across the idea of putting just a little bit of lemon tea mix in my pitcher of regular iced tea.
It's delicious and I get a lot of compliments on it.
The mint flavor mix is good this way also.

GOLD COMFORT
DEAR HELOISE:
When making a cold beverage in a large cooler, we mix it the night before we plan to use it and draw off about six paper cupsful and put them in the freezer overnight.
The next morning, we take them out of the freezer, remove the frozen beverage from the cups (a quick roll between the hands will free them), and put them back in the cooler.
They melt slower than regular ice cubes and they don't four or five ice-cream cones with only two of you to do the carrying?

Well, it's easy if you cut four or five cross-slits in an empty cereal box and insert the cones in the center of each cross-slit.
I keep one in the car, as I frequently bring home a treat to the kiddies, and the box stays upright easily with no one to hold it.

Make sure the jug isn't quite full when you start, as you will get more due to expansion.

THIRSTY THEORY
DEAR HELOISE:
On our last car trip, we filled our vacuum bottle with water from home for the first day of travel.
The second and all following days I used packages of pre-sweetened drink mixes to flavor the strange taste of the water in other towns.
It satisfied us and we didn't have to make so many stops along the road. Sure saves a lot of headaches when driving in a strange town.
Lois Luker

DEAR HELOISE:
During the summer months I put a piece of driftwood laden with artificial flowers in the fireplace so I won't have that black hole staring at me.
Mrs. P. Crawford

CASUAL CAMPERS
DEAR HELOISE:
At our house not everyone enjoys camping, so we have struck a happy medium.
We often pack a basket the night before with everything we need to cook a hearty outdoor breakfast. Then at the crack of dawn we head for a nearby favorite lake for breakfast, fishing, etc.
An old quilt spread under a comfortable tree, a portable radio and the morning paper, and the non-campers are happy.
We have the best of both with our "instant camping" and it keeps peace in a family with divided tastes.
It's not quite like sleeping under the stars, but then it doesn't involve a lot of work, travel, or expensive equipment either.
Lee DeLoy

DEAR HELOISE:
Here's an idea for you, compliments of my handy husband:
He took our old lawn mower which didn't work, and removed the engine, blade, etc., leaving only the frame, wheels and handle for pushing.
Next, he placed a 55-gallon drum on it, bored holes in the sides of the drum for air, and tied it to the frame of the lawn mower.
We use this to push around our enormous yard to collect leaves and trash. Then we can burn it on the spot.
Kati Foster

LETTER OF LAUGHTER
DEAR HELOISE:
Remember those net wind bonnets with ties that were so popular several years ago? Well, I'm sure lots of us still have some tucked away.
They're great for camping trips, as you can use one to cover your hairdo during the day and wear it reversed at night to protect against mosquitoes.
Men could use the idea, too... wear one facing forward and one facing backward. Sure, it will look funny, but it's better than being a midnight snack for those mosquitoes!
Anyway, a camping trip is for funnies, not for fashion!

● SAFETY is a good word to remember on a holiday weekend, or any time. Just for fun, see if you can find ten-words of four or more letters in the word SAFETY. STAY and SAFE, for instance, are two.

● A Latin phrase appears on the face of the Great Seal of the United States and on all U.S. coins. Can you state this phrase and give its meaning?

● Jane Hake, age 7, of Monsey, N.Y., asks: "If a farmer raises 100 bushels of wheat in dry weather, what does he raise in wet weather?" Give up? "An umbrella," says Jane.

Hey kids! If you have a Bulletin Board item, send it to Junior Whirl, c/o this paper. It may appear here.

ARE YOU AWARE of how much strength you have at your fingertips? Here's a good way to demonstrate. Stand with your elbows bent and your forefingers touching, as illustrated above.

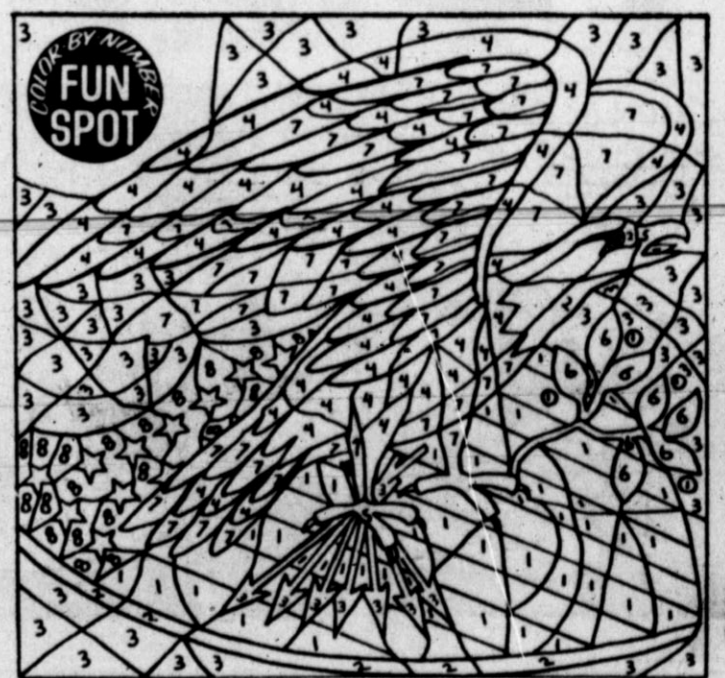

Defy someone with strength about equal to yours to pull your hands apart. Unless your friend possesses unusual strength, he or she is not likely to succeed, regardless of effort.

Your fingers may separate, if one hand is pulled up and the other down, but not by pressure exerted outwards.

HOT DOGGITY! "Hey, come back here!" cries the chef above, but to little avall. Connect dots to complete the picture.
