

That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says we all like to do "important" work, if it's not too tiring and the responsibility is not too great.

The Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association is holding a meeting here Tuesday, and officials say it could be one of the most important sessions ever held for growers and potential growers. If you are interested in the sugar beet industry, the association urges your attendance.

ON THE BUSINESS SCENE: The Brand welcomes two new firms to the community—Pant Place, a new store at Sugarland Mall, and BJM Service & Equipment Co. Also a new name for an old firm—Riverside Chemical Co. replaces the American Cyanamid Farm Service Center.

Congratulations are also in order for Boots & Saddle on its opening at a new location. Activity is upon the business scene, with construction underway for two more firms on Park Avenue.

Two topics of national interest have been in the news lately and, while both questions might be termed controversial, we would venture to say that the majority of Americans are opposed to both matters.

We refer to the subjects of aid to North Vietnam and amnesty for evaders of military service. The latter seems to have drawn more attention, perhaps most citizens figuring the question on aid to North Vietnam has already been decided.

It surprised us, a little, when Gerald Mann spoke on the two issues at the First Baptist Church Sunday night. He approached the issues with a belief that the church not only has a right, but a responsibility to speak to social and political problems.

Basing his talk, of course, on Christian principles, Mann answers "yes" to aid for North Vietnam and "no" to amnesty. Briefly, and over-simplifying the reasons, the minister points to Jesus' message of "love your enemy" for an answer on the first question. Concerning the amnesty issue, Mann points out that Jesus broke some laws, but He accepted the punishment.

We have the feeling that alot of people won't agree on giving aid to North Vietnam. Most of us have a difficult time loving our neighbors, much less showing love to our enemies.

As we grow older, we become prouder and prouder of our talented and successful ancestors, and often wish they had worked even harder so that we could feel more important and more financially secure!

The proposal to create a new judicial district for Deaf Smith and Oldham counties faces some "practical problems", according to Don Lowder, Hereford Bar Association president. He still feels there is a chance the bill might pass in this session of the Legislature, however.

Lowder, who went to Austin seeking support of the measure, said he received "favorable reaction from area legislators and the governor's office." The practical problems, Lowder explains, include an economy-minded Legislature and other judicial district requests. He believes the Legislature will "see the need for our district" however.

The Herd basketball team stunned Snyder with its first win last night.

The tax increase expected from the passage of the $1.319 million school bond issue in December went into effect last week, but many townspeople and residents of the school district will not see the increase.

The reason: the school system has elected to raise the taxes on cattle and nothing else.

The action taken will raise the value of calves to $75 and yearlings to $100. This is an increase of $25 in each.

The move will mean about a 22 cent-per head increase and, according to the latest figures, will generate about $90,000 in local taxes to be used to help retire the bonds voted on in December.

Tax assessor-collector O.L. Click said Thursday there are some 410,000 head of cattle in the school district, the largest ever reported. The tax increases will mean about $4.5 million in valuation "which would mean about $90,000 in increases in tax money."

"We are not picking on any one group, but we are trying to equalize property value throughout the school district," he said. He pointed out that most homes and other properties in the district are valued at what a person could get for it if it were sold.

"This is not the case with cattle. This $75 for calves is still pretty low. You can't even look at an animal for that price, hardly."

The increase will mean calves will be taxed at 68 cents per head and yearlings at 90 cents per head.

This still is considerably lower than in some areas, Click said, pointing out that in Stratford calves are valued at $150 and yearlings at $175.

"The school system needs money for these bonds and for the state-wide increase in salaries for employees. And, cattle is the lowest valued property on our tax roll according to actual cost so we elected to go this way with the increases."

Click said.

The tax rate will remain the same for 1973 as in 1972, which was $2.

School officials say if they had not gone with increasing the value of cattle, they would have had to upped the percentage to 50 to get enough money for local maintenance.

In determining the taxes on cattle, the school system takes 45 per cent of the value ($100 now on yearlings) and gets approximately $45. Using the $2 per $100 valuation, taxes on a yearling comes to 90 cents per head.

The placing of value on property is under the duties of the tax assessor and the board of equalization. The board of equalization, which is comprised of three members, makes the final decision as to whether to lower or raise values.

The members of the board are elected for one year terms, but the new members for this year have not been named.

Beet Seminar Slated Tuesday

The Panhandle Economic Program will sponsor a sub-area program for all area sugar beet producers in the Holly Sugar Beet production area, it was announced today.

The program will be held Tuesday, beginning at 1:30 p.m. in the Bull Barn.

The program has been designed to cover all the latest research and production problems as experienced by producers.

"The information presented will be short and to the point, we feel," said County Agent Juston McBride. "It should be of interest to all sugar beet producers."

"We are hoping that the harvest of the last fields will be completed and that the farmers can begin to give their attention to next year's crops."

The program will begin with a discussion on fertility at 1:30.

That will be followed by a report on fertilizer research at 1:50 and sugar beet disease control at 2:15.

Following a 15 minute break at 2:45, a discussion will be held on irrigation and at 3:30 an update on Holly research.

The program will conclude at 4:30 after a review of research and proposed research conducted by Dr. Steve Winter at Bushland Research Center.

For City Commission

Two Announce Intention

The upcoming city election drew its first candidates this week with incumbent H.A. (Hap) Cavness announcing for re-election to Place 2, and James T. Hull seeking election to Place 1.

Lynton Allred, whose term ends for Place 1, had previously indicated that he would not seek re-election. Hull filed as a candidate Friday, while Cavness was the first to file on Thursday.

The term of mayor also expires in April, but incumbent James H. Sears Jr. has not announced his intentions. The city election is set for April 3. Filing deadline for candidates will be March 2. Absentee voting is already scheduled to start March 14 and end March 30.

Hull, manager of Deaf Smith

Electric Co-Op, said he made the decision to announce after Allred told him that he did not intend to seek re-election.

"During the four years that I have been a resident of Hereford, I have been impressed with the fine public spirit exhibited by the members of the City Commission, and their willingness to devote their

Probation In Murder Case

A three-man, nine-woman jury returned a verdict of guilty late Thursday evening in the murder-without-malice case against Robert Rodriguez, who was charged in the Nov. 25, 1972 shooting death of Manuel Zavala, 54.

Rodriguez, 34, was found guilty and received a five-year probation sentence after about six hours of deliberation by the jury. Judge Don N. Dean, 181st District Judge out of Amarillo, presided over the proceedings in the absence of Judge Archie McDonald.

Proceedings in the case began at 9 a.m. Thursday with swearing-in and impaneling of jurors. Jim Durham, Amarillo attorney, represented Rodriguez in the day-long trial.

According to testimony, the shooting occurred after an argument between Rodriguez and Zavala and his son, Fred, who also was wounded in the incident. Rodriguez had reportedly traveled to a near-by package store with the two Zavalas earlier in the day and the argument reportedly broke out between the three when they returned to the Labor Camp.

Rodriguez reportedly fired on the two Zavalas as they attempted to enter his home. A .22 calibre revolver was later found in his possession.

Most Firms Remain Open

The two local banks and the post office will be about the only businesses to close Monday in Hereford in observance of George Washington's birthday. But, while they are closed, other businesses will be offering bargains galore for the federal holiday.

The post office will provide box and special delivery service on Monday, but the windows will be closed.

First National Bank and Hereford State Bank will be closed only for the day and will open on Tuesday at their regular time.

County offices and city offices will remain open as will merchants at Sugarland Mall, Hi Plains Savings and Loan and Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union.

"Washington's Birthday Sale" bargains are featured in a two-page portion of today's Sunday Brand. The Downtown Variety Park Merchants Association have gone together in sponsoring the pages to let the public know of the bargains available during the observance.

Billingsley Is Tabbed

Gary Billingsley, assistant principal at Northwest Elementary School, has been chosen as the conservation teacher of the year by the Tierra Blanca Soil and Water Conservation District.

Billingsley, who was considered for the award along with all teachers in Hereford's Independent School District and St. Anthony's Parochial School, was presented the award for work he has done in getting conservation education into the schools and for his work with the summer migrant school.

The award was presented by the local soil and water district as part of the Texas Conservation Awards Program conducted by the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce.

Billingsley's resume has been submitted to the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce for consideration in regional and state level award presentation.

People Speak Out

Amnesty Gets Negative Vote Here

Amnesty—always a major issue during the Vietnam years, has again gained major prominence with the return of American POWs. Locally, opinions on the amnesty question vary, but the general consensus points toward an attitude which calls for little leniency for draft evaders, and strict penalties for those who would return to the U.S.

Brand staff members questioned various local residents on their opinions, and received different reasons for about the same idea—that the men who left this country to avoid military service in Vietnam, whatever their reasons, should not be given blanket amnesty, or simply be forgiven and welcomed back as U.S. citizens.

HAROLD WHEELER
Adult Probation Officer
"If these men left this country for the purpose of avoiding the Vietnam conflict, and are presently in other countries, they should not be allowed to return. As long as we have our democratic way of government, we should abide by it, and be willing to stick by our country. All of us feel the same about it—we hate war—but if it comes to the point where our government gets involved, it is up to the people to support it, because the people are the government.

The action of these men is going beyond freedom, and they should be treated as traitors to their country."

BENNY WOMBLE
County Service Officer
"I think that these cases need to be looked into individually by an impartial board. I am in no way favorable toward blanket amnesty—simply forgiving everyone who decided not to serve—but I believe in amnesty with conditions. I think we've cheated on all the men who have served, or ever will serve with honor in our armed forces if we grant blanket amnesty. When people really study this, I think we'll realize that we'll have to look at each case individually in order to be fair."

REV. GERALD MANN
Pastor, First Baptist Church
"I am opposed to amnesty. We have the means within our system to change laws which we think are unjust. I think there are times a Christian might feel justified in breaking a law, but he must be willing to accept the punishment. Christ provides the example—He broke some of men's laws to show the Christian way, but He accepted the consequences."

JUDGE H.C. WILLIAMS
County Judge
"I am strongly opposed to amnesty for evaders of military service. To do otherwise would severely weaken our governmental system. Man cannot pick and choose those laws which he will obey, nor the wars

Committees, Work Outlined For Chamber Of Commerce For 1973

Jim Conkwright, president of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, announced Saturday the program of work for the organization in 1973, including major projects being considered and the names of committee chairmen.

Looming large in long range planning is the thought for a Civic Center Complex, or a Citizen's Center. Other major goals in the program: Have each committee function to its fullest potential; to be concerned with our agricultural economy and to sponsor programs designed to establish a closer relationship between the business and farming communities; to work for a more beautiful and cleaner city.

Another area of responsibility, just as it was in 1972, said Conkwright, "is that every member will be given the opportunity to participate in Chamber activities." He said quarterly meetings of the membership will be held, encouraging active committee participation.

Conkwright also pointed out that the Hereford Diamond Jubilee will offer "not only an opportunity for some Chamber involvement, but there will be places for each and every group and individual in Hereford to plan, serve and enjoy."

In discussing a civic center complex, the C of C president said the board thought it should be a facility to serve the present needs of the county, yet be such that it could be enlarged and its functions and services expanded to serve future needs. Among the ideas listed:

(a) A coliseum to comfortably handle 1,200 to 1,500 people at a dinner. This facility would have innumerable uses.

(b) Ample meeting, conference and convention rooms to handle groups from 5 to 200 or more. The larger groups would use the coliseum and auditoriums.

(c) An auditorium to seat 200 to 500 people. This would be used by groups for conventions, assemblies, theatrical productions, recitals, etc.

(d) An auditorium to seat up to 2,000 people for large gatherings, conventions.

(e) A "Living Center," composed of a media center, art center, and possibly other areas. The media center might include a community library, stocked not only with books but with film, other reference materials for special interest groups, the blind, and those with limiting afflictions.

(f) Adequate facilities for handling all meetings of Hereford's many civic clubs.

(g) Ample parking and accessible arteries for easy and convenient traffic flow.

Conkwright added that the ideas "are as limitless as are the needs." This type project probably will not be built at one time, the board feels, but over a period of several years.

The program of work is divided into four divisions—internal affairs, business development, community development, and governmental affairs. There are 17 committees working under these four divisions, with directors assigned to assist each committee.

Named as committee chairmen for 1973 were: Pauline Howard, publicity; (See "Chamber" Page 2)

if which he approves. The rule of law must be upheld."

MRS. DALE REINART
"Now that we've gotten the peace treaty signed, they're crying to come home, my husband was over there, and it could just as well have been one of those men in Canada instead of him. Maybe my opinion is biased, because I lost my brother over there, but I don't feel they should be allowed to come back. I don't think it's fair for them to want to come back and have the advantages everyone has here, without having to fight for them."

time to the welfare of this community," Hull stated. He added: "I would like to be a part of a group like this, and want to make such contributions as I can to the future and growth of this fine community."

Hull, 42, will be seeking his first political office. Born in Navarro County, Hull graduated from Sam Houston State College and did graduate work there and at Texas Tech. He has been in the rural cooperative business for about 16 years, serving as manager of the REC at Colorado City before moving to Hereford.

Hull and his wife, Mary Sue, reside at 620 Westhaven and have two sons—Mike, 15, and Kevin, 9 months. The Hulls are members of the First Baptist Church.

Cavness, 49, will be seeking his second full term on the city commission, after being appointed to replace Don Baugous in July, 1970. Cavness, a dentist, has lived in Hereford 22 years. His wife, Gladys, is employed at the First National Bank as a bookkeeper.

A native of Cherokee County, Cavness attended the University of Texas and graduated from Baylor Dental School. He practiced in Austin one year before coming to Hereford. The couple has two children—Cindy, who will graduate from Trinity University this spring, and Steven, who will be a junior at Trinity next fall.

district loss here Friday night, and loyal fans couldn't help but think that this should have been Hereford's year to wear the 4-AAAA cage crown. The team had unusual height and a strong bench, but injuries to several key players and some narrow defeats killed their hopes. The Herd lost four league games by a total of 10 points—games that could have gone the other way with a little luck.

We salute the Herd cagers on a fine season and, most important, a great team effort all the way. And, while we're passing out bouquets, let's not forget the Hereford cheerleaders. The girls had individual "posters" for each player on the gym walls Friday night, topping off a season of great support by the cheerleaders.

The team, we think will be the first to admit they had the backing of the fans, cheerleaders, band, pep squad, and drill team. But, the basketball team, as well as the football team, learned that the ball doesn't always bounce your way!

Opportunity Plan Director To Visit

Milton "Buff" Morris, director of the Opportunity Plan, Inc. at West Texas State, will be in Hereford to present a program Monday at the high school auditorium.

The program will begin at 8:30 a.m. and parents of high school students are urged and invited to attend.

Morris will present a program on financial aid available to graduating students who want to attend college.

Morris also will be available to see students and parents Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in the counselor's office at the high school. Parents wishing to learn more about the program and the aid available to students should call and make an appointment at the Vehicle registration is moving along at a snail's pace despite a probable record number of vehicles in the county, tax assessor-collector Nell Miller reported Friday.

With the registration period nearing three weeks already and with just six weeks remaining, only 1,098 vehicles were registered as of last Thursday. This is more than 200 below the number registered at the same time a year ago.

"We can sum it up in one word—slow," Mrs. Miller said. The deadline for registering vehicles is April 1 at midnight.

However, the deadline will be earlier than that since April 1 falls on a Sunday and the tax office will be closed.

Mrs. Miller estimated there are probably about 18,300 vehicles in the county that will need to be registered. This is up over the 17,940 registered for 1972.

"This includes everything that requires tags. Everything from trucks and cars to farm trailers," she said.

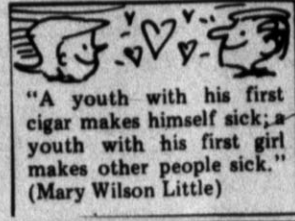

There are two lines formed at the tax office on the second floor of the courthouse. One line is for persons who received their renewal notices. The notices must be brought to the tax office before tags can be issued.

The other line is for persons who did not receive a renewal notice. Those persons must bring with them the title to their vehicle and the 1972 license receipts.

Persons still can mail in for

Rites Planned In Drumright, Okla.

Arrangements for the funeral of Levi Ross Mullin, 55, of 1505, E. Park Ave., are pending with Smith Funeral Home at Drumright, Okla. Mr. Mullin died at his residence Thursday after a short illness. Local arrangements were by Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home.

He was a veteran of U.S. Army service in World War II and had lived in Deaf Smith County since 1966. He was born Sept. 25, 1917, in Bristow, Okla. Survivors include a daughter in California and two brothers, Robert Mullin of Drumright and Eugene Mullin of Tulsa.

Farm And Ranch Club Has Party

A family night party was enjoyed by members and families of the Farm and Ranch Club Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Paul Rudd.

An informal hour of visiting with refreshments being served was the program for the evening.

Woodward Now In Denmark

Marine Lance Corporal, Bruce A. Woodward, son of Mrs. Joe Martin of Amarillo and grandson of Mrs. Thelma Chisum of Kings Manor, is presently serving in Copenhagen, Denmark after having recently completed Marine Security School.

Woodward will be in Denmark for two years where he will study the Danish, French and Jordanian languages. He is the only Texan at the American Embassy in Copenhagen.

Woodward entered the Marine Corps in October, 1971 and completed basic training at San Diego, Calif. He went from there to Camp Lejeune, North Carolina and graduated from supply school. From there he was transferred to Palms, Calif. for three months then to Arlington, Va. for embassy duty training.

While taking the embassy training, Woodward was trained on protocol security and various other phases.

Woodward completed his high school education while at Arlington.

He has a brother, Mark, who also is in the Marines, stationed at Camp Pendleton, Calif., and a sister, Kathy Spearman, who lived in Hereford prior to moving to Carlsbad, N.M.

'Faces Crown Snyder Tigers

BY O.G. NIEMAN
Publisher
 The hustlin' Herd closed out its home basketball season with a "sweet" victory Friday night, knocking off the Snyder Tigers by a 72-61 score.

The Whitefaces, frustrated by narrow defeats in the 4-AAAA race, handed the Tigers their first district loss of the season with the decision. Hereford was eliminated from the title race, however, as Monterey downed Plainview Friday night to set up a showdown for the crown between the Plainsmen and Snyder. The two meet Tuesday night in Snyder.

Big Dan Vander Zee registered 24 points for Hereford, while Terry Scott and Mike Mayberry chipped in 15 and 12 points, respectively, in leading the Herd to its 22nd triumph. Hereford is 3-1 in the second round of loop play and 22-10 on the season. The Herd ends the season at Lubbock Coronado Tuesday night.

Coach Ron Mayberry was highly pleased, to say the least, over the victory. "The kids really got after it... they deserved this one," he stated moments after the final whistle.

"I was real proud of their effort, but I can say that about every game this season," he emphasized.

Mayberry thought Snyder didn't look at its best, but he also commented that "maybe our defensive effort had something to do with that." James Harris and Vander Zee, the only two juniors on the squad, turned its great defensive games but it was a real team effort. Scott, Mayberry and Gary Hicks were standouts in the win. Vander Zee fouled out of the contest with a couple of minutes left and received a standing ovation in the final home game of 1973. Coach Mayberry pulled the other four starters in the fading minutes, and Whiteface fans greeted all with a rousing ovation.

Mayberry, the player, turned in another fine job of offense as he broke the pressing Snyder defense and fet the ball for open shots to Vander Zee, Hicks and others. Hereford led all the way, opening with a 16-10 lead in the first period and stretching it to 32-20 at halftime.

Snyder had its best rally in the third period, cutting the margin to nine points, 49-40, at the start of the final period. Then Mayberry hit Vander Zee and Hicks for open shots, and Hicks followed with a rebound shot and two free throws as Hereford moved back to a commanding 68-51 lead with about two minutes left in the game.

Coach Mayberry's "second platoon"—all seniors—finished the game with Luther Mays, David Duvall, Alan Cornelius, David Tipps and Ralph Scott taking over for the starters. All of the players were introduced at the start of the game, including Keith Kitchens—who had the cast taken off his broken foot Friday.

Snyder's great outside shooter, Jerry Brooks, led the Tigers with 20 points, and Kevin Jones hit 18. Snyder is 3-1 in the second half and can win the title outright with a win over Monterey Tuesday.

Snyder recorded a win in the preliminary game, beating the Hereford Junior Varsity by 61-44. Andrew Wingert was high for Hereford with 14 points, while Doug Charest and Mike Munnerlyn had 8 points each. The Whiteface basketball queen, Katherine Emerson, was presented prior to the game, along with her attendants—Sharon Powell, Susan Wartes and Melissa Henry. The coronation ceremony was held Friday afternoon at the pep rally.

WHITEFACE TRACK LEADERS—The Hereford Whiteface track team recently elected three captains for the 1973 season. Shown with track boss Don Cumpston are the three senior letterman leaders—Barry McNutt, Steve Nieman, and Joe Sheffy. The track team has its first action next Saturday in the Bulldog Relays at Plainview.

Volleyballers Win 1, Drop 1

The high school volleyball team jumped off to an early season rampage, playing two Amarillo schools and in a tournament last week, but it found the going a little rough.

The team played in the West Texas Tournament Friday and Saturday, but final results were not available at press time.

The volleyballers will host Amarillo Tascosa Monday in the high school gym with the junior varsity game scheduled for 6:30 p.m.

The varsity girls dropped to a 2-4 season mark Thursday when they fell to the Caprock team in three games. Caprock won the first match, 15-5 and Hereford won the second, 15-10.

The host Caprock team nipped the locals in the final match, 13-11.

Earlier in the week, Amarillo High provided the competition much to the liking of the Hereford squad. Hereford won two matches, 15-13 and 12-9 to take the game.

The junior varsity fell to Caprock, 15-3 and 15-9 Thursday night and also dropped their encounter with Amarillo high, two matches to one.

Dogies Win Two From La Plata

The Stanton Dogies won the annual battle of the junior highs Thursday by taking two of three basketball games with the La Plata Mavericks.

The Dogies won the seventh and ninth grade games while the Mavs took the eighth grade game.

Stanton's awesome seventh grade team won its 13th in a row with a 43-35 victory over the Mavericks. Randy Marrs had 16 points and Kelly Kitchens had 12 in leading the charge.

The seventh grade's record for the year ended at 17-2. The ninth grade went was a top-sided 52-37 victory for the Dogies as Vance Hennington connected for 21 points and Robert Scott was close behind with 14.

The win upped the Stanton record to 12-7 and prompted Stanton coach James Self to say the game "was probably the best we have played all year."

But, it was the Mavericks in the eighth grade contest as Roy Martinez and Terry Brady proved too much for the Dogies in leading the La Plata team to a 56-39 win.

Baseball Meeting Scheduled Monday

An organizational meeting for Boys Baseball, Inc. will be held Monday and persons interested in helping with the program are urged to attend.

The meeting will be at 8 p.m. in Pioneer Natural Gas Warehouse on east U.S. 60.

Plans for the coming baseball season will be discussed, according to a spokesman for the league.

Linksters Get 10th In Meet

The Hereford High golf team finished in 10th place among 18 teams entered in the Roswell, N.M. schoolboy tourney held Friday, coach Jim Holmes reported Saturday.

Hereford had a team total of 343, while the tourney winner was Amarillo High with a 322 score. Other team scores included Palo Duro 327, Tascosa 326, and Caprock 343.

Individual scores for Hereford were O.H. Seamands 83, Joe Priddy 83, Bill Carrothers 87, Shane Lockhart 90, and John Jorde 91.

The Whiteface golfers travel to Andrews for a tourney Friday and Saturday.

U.N. asked to join fight against crime

Holman-Huckert Wedding Read In Evening Service

The wedding of Miss Sylvia Holman and Robert Huckert was solemnized Wednesday evening with the Rev. John Keising officiating at St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

Miss Holman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holman south of Hereford. Huckert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Huckert of Summerfield.

The church altar area was decorated with two floral arrangements, made of white gladiolas, blue and white carnations with a white satin bow in each one. Two candelabra stood behind the bouquets.

The bride's father gave her in marriage. Miss Jeanette Holman, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and David Huckert, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Ken Walser and Mrs. Glenn Thomas.

Groomsmen were Joe Frank Huckert, brother of the bridegroom, and Ken Walser. Ushering guests to their seats were Eddie Gallagher, Tim Gallagher and Charles Vasek. Jana Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Johnson, was flower girl and Hayden Hopson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E.D. Hopson, was ring bearer. Lighting the candles were Barbara Poindexter and Angela Hartman.

Wedding selections were Love Story, Speak Softly Love, Ave Maria, The Lord's Prayer, and How Great Thou Art, sung by Ben Gollehon accompanied by Mrs. Jim Cramer, organist.

The bride was gowned in a full length, sky blue satin dress, fashioned by her mother, with bands of white rabbit fur circling the neckline, at the wrist of bell sleeves and bordering the redingote train.

Her veil was attached to sky blue pillbox hat, trimmed with the fur. She carried a white Bible with a small bouquet of white orchids and English ivory.

Her attendants wore dark blue velvet dresses with empire style waist and A-line, full-length skirt. The long sleeves were cuffed and full. They carried nosgays of white and blue carnations with a white bow and streamers.

The bride changed to a maroon skirt and white blouse under a white and maroon striped jacket accented with white boots as a traveling costume. The couple left for a trip to Mexico.

They will be at home after Feb. 18 at Summerfield.

The bride graduated from Robert E. Lee High School in Midland and attended East Texas State University at Commerce and West Texas State University, studying elementary education with music concentration. She sang with Charlie Bell's Band. She will continue studies at WTSU.

The bridegroom graduated from Hereford High School and attended West Texas State University, and is presently farming at Summerfield.

Comedy Presents Safety Lesson For Wyche Club

An amusing skit, Foolish Kates At The Pearly Gates, emphasized a lesson on caution in using household cleaning agents, at a meeting of Wyche Extension Club in the home of Mrs. W.P. Axe Thursday afternoon.

Mmes. Wayne Jones, J.H. Holden, Frank Duncan, Ira Ott and C.F. Newsom were actors in the skit, a meeting of housewives seeking entrance to heaven after they had failed to heed instructions on cleaner packages, mixed chlorine bleach with cleaning powders or other foolish acts.

Mrs. E.C. Hewitt Jr. gave a report of the January meeting of the County Home Demonstration Council and reminded members of the annual appreciation luncheon Feb. 26, when the County HD Woman of the Year will be presented.

Mrs. Holden presided for the brief business period.

Shells Displayed In Club Program

Shell collection is not a modern hobby; ancient peoples gathered these "gems from the ocean deeps" and used them for ornaments, tools and in some cases for onymoney, the Rev. William Lang told members of Bay View Study Club Thursday as he showed shells from his collection and talked of his favorite hobby.

Mrs. Jack Wilcox was club hostess in her home. Mrs. Keith Simmer introduced the speaker, who is vicar of St. Thomas Episcopal Church. He has acquired shells in various ways and from many parts of the world, some by picking up on beaches, some by gift or purchase.

He traced the history of shell collecting, saying that prehistoric tribes used them for utensils or implements, artists of all ages have used their graceful shapes as patterns still popular in architecture.

Technical information on types of shells and their origins was given also.

Members of the club admired the beautiful specimens shown, and the speaker answered their questions after his formal talk. Mrs. Lang was also a guest at the meeting.

Mrs. R.W. Eades, presiding for business, announced that members may invite guests for the March 1 program at Hereford Country Club, where Dr. William H. Moore of West Texas State University will be the speaker. Reservations for guests are to be made with Mrs. Homer Garrison or Mrs. Si Darling.

Other members present were Mmes. W.E. Golden, Austin Rose Jr., Ansel McDowell, Juston McBride, Robert Josseland, Jimmie Gillentine, W.J. Gilliland, John Gilliland, D.N. Garner, Herman Ford, H.L. Benefield and J.R. Allison.

Songs Entertain Guests At Dinner

Songs, chiefly with the Valentine theme of love, entertained guests and members of Hereford Study Club at a holiday party in Dickies Restaurant Thursday evening. Bill Devers was the soloist with Mrs. Devers as piano accompanist.

He sang a group of favorite songs, mostly from the American musical stage, and closed with the request selection, Old Man River from Show Boat. Dinner was served in the party room of the restaurant at tables decorated in Valentine color. The door prize went to Joe Story.

Hostesses were Mmes. Cawthon Bryant, Richard Winget and Story. Guests were the members' husbands. In addition to the hostess couples, those present were Messrs. and Mmes. Don Robinson, T.E. Braddy Melvin Thompson, R.N. Yarbro, Bob Poston, Labry Ballard, Art Stoy, B.F. Cain, Ed Wilson Jr., Merlin Kaul, S.L. Garrison, Maurice Tamahill, Sam Long, and W.H. Gentry.

MEETING TIME CHANGED
Cultural Extension Club will meet at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday in the home of Mrs. M.W. Sumner, instead of its usual meeting day, Friday. Argen Draper, county agent, will give the demonstration on Creating Cleaning Agents In The Home.

Linda Collins...now in state competition

Homemaker Of Tomorrow In HHS Is Linda Collins

Linda Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Collins of 806 Miles, has been named Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow. She was chosen on the basis of scores in a written examination given to high school seniors here and throughout the country Dec. 5. She will receive an award from General Mills, sponsor of the annual competition and she remains eligible for state and national honors.

Miss Collins plans to continue her education at Amarillo Junior College. This year is her first as a homemaking student and she says, "I like it a lot and wish I had taken more of it."

She is a member of the National Honor Society and Who's Who in HHS, also of Tri-Hi-Y, a club at HHS. She is active in her church and works in the conference level in the United Methodist Church, on a committee of youth ministries and on the conference Council on Ministries.

She is employed at the Hereford Brand in the circulation department, where she has worked four years.

For the first time, the national homemaking contest was opened for boys this year; the only requirement for entry was being a senior in high school.

The Texas Homemaker of Tomorrow, to be selected from all school winners in the state, will receive a $1,500 college scholarship and a 20-volume reference work. Annals of America, will be awarded the winner's school. The second ranking student in the state will receive a $500 scholarship.

State winners will enter the national contest and the highest ranked four will win $5,000, $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 scholarships.

Social Security

Q. I worked under social security for 31 years before I retired last year at age 65 and started getting monthly retirement checks. Now my neighbor tells me that my checks might be increased because of a new social security law. Is he right?

A. Recent changes in the social security law may mean an increase in your social security payment. The law now provides a special minimum benefit for people who have worked regularly under social security for more than 20 years. Since you worked regularly under social security more than 30 years, your minimum benefit could be as much as $170 a month beginning in January.

DYNASTY FASHION JEWELRY
The fastest growing prestige line of fine fashion jewelry is seeking part-time and full-time representatives in the Hereford area.

NO INVESTMENT REQUIRED
You will be given over three hundred dollars worth of beautiful jewelry in a professionally-styled showcase. This elegant jewelry collection will be yours...to show and enjoy.

NO DOOR-TO-DOOR
You demonstrate and show our products in a pleasant, dignified environment. No canvassing. No inventory required. We handle most administrative details for you. Ideal for a woman who needs to choose her own working hours. No age limit. No sales experience required for part-time representatives. We provide training.

GENEROUS EARNINGS
This is an exceptional opportunity for ambitious women who would like to earn a substantial "second income". Or begin a full-time executive career in the fascinating jewelry industry. Our compensation plan is exceptionally generous and can lead to annual earnings into five figures.

SEE FOR YOURSELF
Our Jewelry is of the finest craftsmanship and quality, and yet is reasonably priced. It has proved immensely popular where it has been introduced. But don't take our word for it. Call today to receive complete information describing the position we are offering. You'll receive a complimentary sample of our products at your private interview.

Letter To The Editor

In the Thursday Brand it stated that a request was made for a community room in the new library. Wasn't our beautiful community center built for a civic-center-type facility? I'm all for the new library and the growth of Hereford, but it seems we are out-doing ourselves on unsuitable community buildings for which our tax dollars are used.

The Brand also carried on article to the effect that the Chamber of Commerce

Executive is investigating a YMCA for Hereford. I would like to see our city commissioners consider a sponsored activity center or back

Mr. Jim Lindsey in the YMCA project before deciding on another community room. Any citizen interested in this project, please let your feelings be known to the proper authorities.

Sincerely,
Mrs. John Warren

Heart disease is found to be responsible for no less than 40.4 per cent of all deaths among residents of Deaf Smith County. That is the local average, based upon figures compiled by the U. S. Public Health Service and released in its last three annual reports.

The extent of the problem, locally and elsewhere, has been brought into sharp focus by the recent death of President Johnson and by the fact that this is National Heart Month.

Heart disease, comprising all ailments of the cardiovascular system, continues to be the major hazard to life in the United States, dwarfing all other diseases by a wide margin.

Although there have been important gains made in the fight to control it—through new anti-coagulants, pacemakers, open heart surgery and various other techniques—the dramatic cures for which medical scientists have been searching still elude them.

The 40.4 per cent mortality among Deaf Smith County residents is somewhat lower than the United States average, 53.9 per cent. It is lower, also, than the State of Texas rate of 49.6 per cent.

A series of major endeavors to reduce the heart toll has been undertaken by the National Institutes of Health and others.

The big push is to find out how to prevent arteriosclerosis, or hardening of the arteries, which was the cause of President Johnson's death. It is the primary culprit in heart disease.

Doctors know that it is something that begins early in life and progresses steadily as deposits of fat form in the walls of the body's arteries, destroying their flexibility. Eventually, the passageway becomes too small for blood to flow through freely. Trouble follows.

To counteract this, doctors are advising people to cut down on fatty meats, shell fish and fat-rich baked goods and candies and to substitute, wherever possible, products prepared with unsaturated fats.

Among residents of Deaf Smith County, according to the vital statistics reports covering the three years, the number of heart deaths per year averaged 46 out of a total annual mortality of 114. This is exclusive of deaths locally of non-residents.

Guests Included At Club Meeting

A program by Argen Draper, county extension agent, was given to North Hereford Extension Club Thursday afternoon.

Creating home care products was her topic.

During the business meeting the members discussed the County appreciation luncheon to be held Feb. 26.

Four guests were honored, Mmes. Jim Vines Jr., Ron Bridges, Rick Cross and Roger Kindler.

Members present were Mmes. Viola Williams, T.E. Siegler, Roger Williams, J.A. Crofford, T.E. Brisendine, Paul Hoff, Iva Saltzman, Tony Hoffman, Mack Tucker, Gylon Bryan, and Miss Roberta Campbell.

Church Has New Pastor

Rev. Robert Foster has assumed duties of pastor of the Thompson Memorial Mexican Baptist Church.

Rev. Foster, his wife Mary and three children, Robert, Jr. 9; Sarah, 7 and Faith 1½, recently moved to Hereford from Lockney, Tex. where he served as pastor of the Mexican Baptist Church for six years. He is a graduate of Wayland Baptist College of Plainview.

Insurance Is Available For Cotton, Sorghum

With production costs rising and the margin of profit growing smaller, the business of farming is becoming more rather than less risky. Each year, with each crop, there is more at stake.

Rex Spake, and Leonard H. Terrell, field representatives for the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation from the county office at Amarillo, say insurance protection is now available on 1973 cotton and grain sorghum in the county to help guarantee a cash return at harvest.

In 1971, insured farmers in Deaf Smith County received more than $43,000 in crop losses. The losses that were paid were due to freeze and hail. Insured farmers receiving the money were greatly assisted in meeting their financial obligations despite losing their crops.

Even in good years, some farmers have serious crop losses taking away a prime source of income and forcing their farming operations deeper in debt or digging into past profits.

Farmers are using Federal Crop Insurance not only to protect crop investment dollars, but to strengthen credit, to reduce specialization risks, to aid in long-term financing of expansion programs and to allow maximum use of operating capital. Complete details about the insurance program, sponsored by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, may be obtained at no obligation by contacting Spake or Terrell. They may be reached through the Federal Crop Insurance County Office, 317 E. Third Avenue, Box H-4396, Room 1105 Herring Plaza in Amarillo or by calling 806-376-5151, Ext. 2269.

EAGLE SCOUT—Ronny Ohlig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Ohlig, received his Eagle Scout award last week during ceremonies at Northwest Elementary School. Ohlig is one of three brothers who have received their Eagle awards. He is a member of Troop 50 and his scout master is Gary Billingsley.

A BETTER WAY TO CLEAN CARPETS?

OF COURSE THERE IS...! Yes, for years "scrubwomen" used scrub brush and soap. Her replacement, so called "shampoo" machines, used motor driven scrub brush and shampoo. Both only "surface cleaned", but didn't remove dirt from deep in carpet fibers. Brushes caused extra wear, matted carpet pile, changed texture, and left sub-surface dirt in the carpet. Carpet was only half clean.

COMEDY STAGING SCHEDULED FOR FRIDAY-SATURDAY

HEREFORD COMMUNITY PLAYERS will present a comedy, Come Blow Your Horn, Friday and Saturday evenings with an in-the-round performance in the former Yardstick location, Sugarland Mall. An exhibit of paintings by area artists will be hung for viewing by play-goers.

IN THE SPIRIT of last year's successful Players production, Barefoot In The Park, this comedy is by the same author, Neil Simon, and is concerned with the affairs of young residents of a big city and some of their elders. Instead of a newlywed couple, Come Blow Your Horn features a pair of bachelor brothers, with the girls in their lives and their harassed parents.

LEVEL-HEADED BUT handicapped by the fact that she really loves the sophisticated elder brother, Connie, enacted by Paula Haug, pays a visit to the apartment.

TWENTY-FIRST BIRTHDAY of Buddy, played by Gordon Gearn, is celebrated by his leaving his parents' home for the swank bachelor apartment of his older brother, Alan. A welcoming drink is handed him by David Moxon as his senior in the family.

A FEEL FOR THE PART is discussed by Polly Bullard, seated, with the director, Meredith Wilcox. Mrs. Bullard appears as the mother, who is able to find a little misery in the best of things but is sure that a good meal is the best remedy for any trouble.

BACKSTAGE HUDDLE on set and lighting arrangements is held by Hank Haug, John Claypool and Viola Moore, a few of the Players who will not be seen in the performance though their work will be quite evident.

REHEARSAL TOUCH-UP to Denise McCullar's hair is given by Joyce Haug. Miss McCullar has the role of an over-eager admirer of Alan, also over-ambitious for a movie career. Mrs. Haug, who added so much to the comedy of Barefoot In The Park as the bride's mother, has a smaller role as Aunt Gussie.

Church Women United Plans Special Events

Two community service activities of Church Women United, both scheduled in April, as well as the three days of prayer held each year to coincide with national observances, have been planned in recent board sessions of the organization.

A spring fashion parade to benefit Meals on Wheels is slated for 1:30 p.m. April 5 in Lamar garden room of Kings Manor retirement home. Residents of the manor will be special guests. Tickets will be on sale at participating businesses, both Hereford bands and the six churches represented in CWU.

The annual Easter art festival at First United Methodist Church will be broadened this year and sponsored by CWU. Theme of the exhibit will be Joy O Living, and work of all area artists in any medium may be displayed.

A reception from 3 to 5 p.m. April 15, opening day of the festival will have CWU members as hostesses. The exhibit will be on view, free to the public from 9 to 5 p.m. daily April 16-21.

First of the three annual celebrations observed with regular meetings of the CWU will be the World Day of Prayer, with a program at 10 a.m. March 2 in Wesley United Methodist Church. The national theme, Alert In Our Times, will be used with emphasis on local and national issues that face Christians today.

Next will be the May 4 observance of May Fellowship Day, with a lunch at First Christian Church. Tommy Bowling, counselor in the Hereford school system, will speaking on recreational needs for youth here.

The third nation-wide celebration is World Community Day; the local program is to be given in First Presbyterian Church Nov. 2. Mrs. Claude McDougal is Key '73 chairman for the CWU, to direct the group's part in this national evangelistic effort in cooperation with Hereford Ministerial Alliance. Goal of the year-long program is to reach every person on the North American continent with the Christian message.

Board members of CWU represent each of the six member churches: Mrs. Paul Zinser, president, St. Anthony's Catholic; Mrs. Ed Reinauer Jr., vice president, First Christian; Mrs. E.W. Dettman, treasurer, Presbyterian; Mrs. Bruce Terry, secretary, Wesley UMC; Mrs. Frank Ford, First UMC, and Mrs. Howard Johnson, St. Thomas Episcopal.

Church Women United is a national ecumenical organization with the purpose of bringing Christian women together in prayer, friendship and action.

Bicentennial anthem being promoted

A campaign to make "America the Beautiful" the official Bicentennial anthem is being conducted by Edward J. Sherry of Falmouth, Mass. His endorsements so far include the Bicentennial Council of the Thirteen Original States, the state Bicentennial commissions of Alaska and Colorado, and Colonial Williamsburg.

Mrs. Linney Is Honoree

The bride in a ceremony here last weekend, Mrs. John E. Linney Jr. was honoree at a shower Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W.T. Carmichael. She is the former Mary Wheeler.

Mr. and Mrs. Linney will make their home in Arlington, where both are students in the University of Texas. Guests at the shower were received by the bride and her mother, Mrs. G.S. Wheeler, and her grandmother, Mrs. E.B. Moseley. Mrs. Carmichael was at the door.

Two sisters of the honoree, Mrs. Stan Sigman of Lubbock and Mrs. Pat Gallagher, served tea from a table centered with an arrangement of white and yellow spring blossoms which was later presented to Mrs. Linney.

Houseparty members wore daisies in corsages, repeating the yellow and white motif which had been stressed in wedding decoration.

Hostesses included Mmes. Ed Line, J.P. Jones, Sam Nunnally, C.E. Rush, Larry Walterscheid, N.E. Tyler, Jack N. White, Lynn Kester, Charles Owens, Ray Todd, Lester Wagner, Ross Latham, Benny Womble and Joyce Lyons.

Spring Fling For Dancers Set

Along The Frio

BY MRS. OWEN ANDREWS

About 35 persons from Frio Baptist Church group were skiing at Red River, last weekend. They arrived home safely, Sunday afternoon, with no reported serious injuries or accidents.

About 80 persons visited the T.L. Sparkmans Sr., Sunday, to congratulate them on arriving at their 60th wedding anniversary. The visitors consisted mostly of relatives, with a few long-time friends included. Their children, and grandchildren helped host the party, with great-granddaughters, Ann Zetsche and Lynette Andrews serving the tiered wedding cake and punch. Gay Zetsche registered the guests.

Mrs. H.M. Mobley was honoree at a birthday party at her home, on Sunday afternoon. All her children were there. They include Austin Mobley, Nell Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mobley, Farmington, N.M. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Reno, Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Don Mobley, Farmington. Grandchildren there were Mrs. Herman Vinson, Pampa, Mrs. Dean McLaughlin, Farmington, Kirk Mobley, Farmington, also Bill and Beverley Cole.

Also attending were Herman Vinson, Dean McLaughlin Also Mrs. Mobley's sister, Mrs. Claude Prive, Floydada, their brother, J.W. Taylor and his wife, Odessa and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Boothe (parents of Mrs. Don Mobley) from Hollis Okla. Mrs. Raymond Mobley's relatives there included her sister, Mrs. Darrell Kenmore and her daughter, Paulette, and Mrs. Ronnie Kenmore, all of Dimmitt.

Another visitor was Mrs. La Nelle Brantley, of Midland, who also visited her mother Mrs. J.J. Lindsey, and other relatives at Hereford during the weekend. She accompanied the Earl Renos. About 60 persons, including friends from around the area came to wish Mrs. Mobley "Happy Birthday"

About 20 of the Mobley relatives had supper with the Floyd Coles, on Saturday evening.

Several ladies from Frio Church called at the Gregg Jones home, at 245 Beach St., Hereford, Wednesday afternoon for a "Housewarming", the Jones having only recently moved to the home. Helping host the party were Mesdames Kenneth Frye, Tommy Sparkman and Clark Andrews.

The Floyd Coles and Beverley spent the weekend of Feb. 3-5 at El Paso, where Beverley had her calf entered in the South West Livestock Show.

Mrs. John Simpson is getting around with difficulty, after having suffered injury in a fall in her home recently. Recent visitors there were his brother, Joe Simpson and his wife from Wellington.

Mr. and Mrs. T.L. Sparkman Jr., recently visited the Glenn Andrews at Carthage, Mo. and the Finis Hunters at Navada, Mo. They report it is a wet, wet winter, even for Missouri.

evening, were his brother, Alvin Shultz and Mrs. Shultz, from Roscoe. Lloyd is home from the hospital now and gradually improving from his several weeks illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Struve moved recently into Hereford, locating on Fir Street. They recently sold their farm to the J.E. Warricks, who plan to move there in the near future.

Members of the H. L. Lindley family were in Wellington during the weekend. His step mother, Mrs. Alice Lindley passed away at a Nursing home there on Friday. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Pat Robbins and son, seven pound Randy Lyle, came home from Deaf Smith County hospital Sunday. The baby was born there on Feb. 8. Mrs. Robbins has been a teacher at Tierra Blanca Elementary School. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Free, of Newkirk, Okla.

Mrs. Andy Axe recently spent several days with their daughter, Mrs. Tommy Needham, Rev. Needham and family at Vinson, Okla. The Needhams are parents of a son, born Jan. 26. He was named Craig Thomas. The Needhams also have a four year old son, Gary. Rev. Needham is pastor of the Vinson Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis and two year old daughter, Angela, are moving back to the Hereford area to live. She is the former Vicki Axe. They have been living at Kileen while he was in the Army.

Frio Homemakers Club ladies and husbands had a Valentine supper at Pioneer Gas Flame room, on Monday evening, Feb. 12. A red and white carnation center piece was featured on the table arranged with buffet style food dishes. The meal was eaten by candle light. After the meal, games of "42" and "Rook" made up entertainment. Couples attending included Messrs. and Mesdames Harlan Barber, Bill Struve, J.E. Warrick, T.L. Sparkman Jr. E.F. Vogler, Frank Robbins, Eugene Baldwin, D.F. Yandell, Sam Ogan and Jackie Andrews.

Doing More Harm

Defend the landlord? Wow, what a job! Landlords are as inherently unlovable as Internal Revenue Service agents, traffic police, charge account computers, and all birthdays after the 29th.

And judging by recent evidence, a few of them are striving to enhance their unlovability. Some unhappy tenants in the Washington area got hit with big rent increases almost before the ink was dry on Phase III. I suspect that similar developments have occurred elsewhere.

Predictably—and understandably—the increases have generated demands that Phase II-type controls be reapplied to rents.

What would happen if rent controls were reinstated? To see that, it's necessary to look at things from the point of view of a landlord, which is difficult for most of us, since there are a lot more tenants than landlords. Nevertheless, let's give it a try.

The landlord started as a man with some money to invest. Naturally, he wanted to invest it where he could get the best return—we're all like that. After considering the possibilities open to him—and the risks involved in each—he decided to put his money into an apartment building. He based his decision on the return other landlords were getting on similar investments at the time.

So the landlord used his own money, and probably some borrowed from the bank, to create new apartments.

Now, what happens when rent controls are applied? Inevitably, the landlord will begin to make less money compared to other—uncontrolled—investment opportunities. This situation leads to problems even more serious than rent increases.

First, no new apartments would be built. The investors who might have built them would be deterred by the limited rate of return under controls. The halt in apartment construction would soon lead to a shortage of apartment units, since our population is still expanding. People who needed new housing would then either have to get on a waiting list for an apartment, or find the means to buy a house. But the price of houses would increase, because there would be more demand for them. (As if it wasn't increasing fast enough already.)

What about the people already in an apartment? The services they receive would decline. The landlord would know that they couldn't find another place to go, and cutting expenses would be his only remaining hope for making any money.

What of the landlord himself? His apartment building would be worth less on the market than it would have been before controls, because potential buyers would not be attracted by the low rate of return. In effect, then, the government, by imposing rent controls, would have taken some of the landlord's money without compensation.

Why didn't these awful effects show up in Phase II? Fortunately, it didn't last long enough. But they would have. That was a big reason for ending Phase II.

Paradoxically, high rents have exactly the reverse effect from this gallery of horrors. If landlords can get a good return, more apartments will be built. When there are more apartments than tenants, rents stay down.

While there is a very sound economic argument against rent controls, I cannot help thinking that some of the precipitate rent increases at the end of Phase III were just plain stupid. They risk rekindling the "inflationary psychology" which was, itself, feeding inflation before the freeze in August 1971. They create pressure for new controls. They also create a temporary hardship for the tenants affected. A gradual phasing-in of necessary increases would make more sense in the longrun, all around.

'HENRY, THE NEWSPAPER SAYS THE CRIME RATE IS DOWN'

Senate Is Stepping Stone To High Office

MAIN STREET, U.S.A.

BY BERT MILLS

Washington, D.C.—One hundred of the best jobs in the world are held by U.S. Senators, whose position commands instant prestige, job security, a high salary plus many benefits and a generous pension, and also an opportunity to become President or Vice President.

Four of the last five Presidents have used the Senate as a stepping stone to the White House. Five of the last six Vice Presidents have been ex-Senators, and back in 1832 Vice President John C. Calhoun resigned in order to become a Senator.

Senators reach their lofty roost at the Capitol by various routes. Usually only successful politicians who have held a lesser elective office make it to the Senate. Of the 13 freshman Senators now serving, all except one had held a lower elective post, as a U.S. Representative, governor, mayor, state legislator, or even a member of a city or county council.

Senators need a state-wide reputation and that requires an organization already in being well before election day. It takes big money to win a Senate seat from even a small state. Unknowns do not attract the kind of money necessary to run. Occasionally a candidate is rich enough to finance his own race but even the Kennedy brothers have used other people's money to pay political expenses.

Sometimes unusual circumstances produce unexpected results, even in the Senate. Example A of such a case is the story of Senator Dick Clark, and Iowa Democrat elected in a big surprise last November. The incumbent loser, Jack Miller, had served for 12 years, had carried all 99 counties in his last election, and appeared unbeatable.

Rep. Culver Plays It Safe

Odds being long against a Democratic victory in Iowa in 1972, the party had trouble finding a candidate to oppose Miller. The logical choice was Rep. John D. Culver, a 40-year-old former legislative assistant to Senator Edward Kennedy who had served four terms in the House. Culver could have had the Senate nomination by simply saying "yes."

Although Culver had been preparing to make the Senate race for many months, at almost the last minute he decided to play it safe and run again for re-election to the House. Incidentally, he won but ironically his relatively obscure assistant, Dick Clark, accepted the Senate nomination and was elected.

Clark was a 43-year-old professor who had worked for Culver for seven years. He had never held office. He was stationed in Culver's district office back home, for the dual purpose of organizing Culver's Senate campaign, and then running for the House seat that Culver would vacate.

When Culver pulled out of the Senate race, Clark began getting calls suggesting he run himself. He knew his party was desperate to find a candidate but at first he thought it preposterous that it should be himself. Upon reflection, he decided he had nothing to lose and became a candidate, privately estimating the chances against his winning at 30 to 1.

"Less than one-half of one percent of the voters knew who I was," he told an interviewer. "I had to do something to get my name known." To achieve recognition, he went on the road for four months, visiting Democratic leaders in every community, and calling on every newspaper and broadcasting station in Iowa.

In May, a newspaper poll showed Miller leading Clark 57-20. The situation was desperate. Then a fellow politician suggested statewide walk-and-listen tour, a technique successfully employed by others, including Senator Lawton Chiles (D. Fla.). Clark bought a pair of hiking boots and began walking on June 29.

He walked until October 5, in the country, in the suburbs, in the cities. He seldom talked politics; mostly he listened to the voters. He learned a lot while logging 1,313 miles, and he was no longer a stranger to Iowa voters. He still trailed in the polls but by a reduced margin. In the final month of the campaign, he began attacking his opponent.

Economic Disaster

Increase prices for American consumers.

Fuel inflationary fires.

Reduce United States Exports.

Sounds like the scenario of a nightmare, doesn't it? Actually, these are just some of the things that the "New York Times" gloomily expects to happen if the protectionist Burke-Harke bill ever becomes law.

In an editorial, the "Times" declares that passage of the bill "would pile extra costs on American consumers, reduce competition, worsen inflation, damage United States export industries by drastic slashes in import levels, hamper foreign investment and world economic development, and almost certainly provoke a trade war."

The "Long Beach (Calif.) Independent Press-Telegram" chimes in with a critical view from the West Coast. It warns editorially: "The Burke-Harke bill would not only be catastrophic for foreign industry, it would be seriously damaging to American employment. It would hurt American consumers, who would have to pay higher prices for a more limited range of goods."

Hobart Rowen, business-financial columnist in the "Washington Post," writes that the Burke-Harke bill "is probably the worst piece of protectionist legislation to come before Congress since the dark days of the 1930s."

He adds that the bills quota controls "would do irreparable damage to all consumers. Even more important, it would be a new step toward an inward-looking world that someday might spell the difference between war and peace."

And from mid-America the "Denver Post" sounds this note: "Protectionism, after all, flows two ways, and resort to it in Washington will only lead to similar actions in the capitals of Japan and Europe."

The Burke-Harke bill was reintroduced in the 93rd Congress. Senators and Congressmen could very well favor this measure unless the public tells them how they feel about higher prices and more inflation.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Dear editor:

When Henry Kissinger gets back from his trip to Hanoi, Peking, and wherever else he's going on his current missions he may think he's through traveling for awhile but he may not be.

There are 14,883 American cities which, according to an article I read in a newspaper last night, may have to be visited if we're going to have peace in our time in the U.S.

According to the article, the U.S. Conference of Mayors and the National League of Cities, representing practically all the cities of the nation, 14,883, are as mad as the farmer who found his subsidy check eliminated, or as mad as the airlines would be if their's was dropped.

It seems that the cities, rubbing their hands in delight over the big revenue sharing checks they're getting from Washington to spend as they please, have now found out that shortly after the checks arrived, the national budget came out cutting off Federal aid in a lot of other areas, so that in the final adding-up they have less money than before.

Now it's one thing to have farmers mad at you, they're only about 8 per cent of the population and it's sometimes too wet to get to the polls anyway, but you get 14,000 cities mad at you and it's going to take all the ingenuity Mr. Kissinger has to negotiate a peace settlement with them.

The fact the cities haven't been able to make it on their own is beside the point. They're there and something has to be done about it.

I haven't been able to get anywhere with it, but my notion is that we have too many cities, just as we once had too many farmers. There's just a surplus of them, piled up all around the country and not two-bits worth of difference in any of them.

The answer is to let the cities, now holding about 90 per cent of the population, dwindle, just as farmers dwindled from about 90 per cent 100 years ago down to the present 8. What we'd do with the abandoned cities I don't know. I said this was the answer to the problem, not the solution.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Talk of Texas

BY JACK MAGUIRE

DOWN MEMORY LANE—It was 45 years ago that the President of the United States invited a Texas horned toad to visit him in the White House. The toad was named Old Rip and he gained a kind of immortality by supposedly surviving for more than 31 years while sealed in the cornerstone of the Eastland County Courthouse. His owner, a child named Will Wood, put him there when the courthouse was dedicated on July 29, 1897. Dignitaries on hand for the occasion personally sealed the frog in the stone.

In 1927, workers began demolishing the Eastland courthouse. On February 18, 1928, Will Wood was there to see the cornerstone removed. When it was opened by county officials while 1,500 citizens watched, Old Rip sat there blinking.

The fact that the frog apparently survived more than 11,000 days without food, water, air or light made him an overnight celebrity. President Coolidge insisted that Will Wood bring Old Rip to the White House for a visit. En route to Washington, 40,000 people turned out in St. Louis hoping to glimpse him.

Travel, however, proved too much for old Rip and he lived only 11 months after he was freed from his prison. When he died on January 19, 1929, his body was embalmed and placed inside a glass case in the Eastland courthouse. Hundreds of visitors still visit his "grave."

WHAT'S IN A NAME?—Normangee, which sits on the line of both Leon and Madison Counties, was christened by its founder, Norman G. Kittrell. He simply gave it his first name and middle initial.

INDIAN GIVER—In their efforts to route the Red Man, the Texas Rangers weren't above using psychology instead of their guns when the occasion demanded it.

During the Civil War, some Tonkawa Indians, fleeing stronger tribes, moved to a spot on Horde's Creek in Coleman County. A Baptist revival was in progress with the Rev. William (Choctaw Bill) Robinson exhorting the sinners. Evangelist Robinson, welcoming souls of whatever color, converted the Indians and baptized most of them.

The newly Christian redskins decided to make a more or less permanent camp at the revival site—a decision which disturbed a Texas Ranger company whose assignment was to keep them moving. Rather than use a frontal attack on the Indians, however, the Rangers persuaded them that their sins, washed off by baptism in the same creek from which they now drank, would enter their children and make them ill.

The tribe took the health hint and moved their encampment out of the Rangers' area.

IT'S A FACT—El Paso, Texas, and Juarez, Mexico, together form the largest bilingual, bicultural metropolis on any international border in the world.

TIRE TALK

Petroleum-based solvents should not be used to clean tires as they may cause damage to rubber, but it is permissible to use steel wool cleansing pads and approved detergents available at auto supply counters.

David Cole, associate director of the Regional Education Service Center, was guest speaker for the weekly luncheon meeting of the Hereford Lions Club Wednesday at the Civic Club Center.

Cole, introduced by program chairman Earnest Langelly, outline the role of the center in aiding schools and briefly mentioned some of the services and programs provided for 69 member schools in the region.

Cole said the education center provides media materials and resource and technical assistance through various programs. The center has some 4,500 films on deposit for use by the schools, as well as a materials library. It also offers general elementary and secondary teaching skills for teachers.

Club president Nolan Grady presented Cindy Crider and Kirk Spain as "students of the six weeks" from Stanton Junior High.

Raymond White, Lions district governor from Hereford, spoke briefly to the club concerning a proposal to expand services at the Lions Crippled Children's Camp in Kerrville. He is urging all clubs in the district to vote for an increase in dues to the camp, in order that services might be increased. The camp has programs for crippled children and the adult blind, and recently initiated a program for diabetic children.

White also read a challenge from the district membership chairman, who reported that Dumas had replaced Hereford as the largest club in District 2T-1. Hereford has 181 members and Dumas recently topped that total.

Grady announced that the club's annual Pancake Supper had been scheduled for March 1 in the Bull Barn. General chairman will be Buddy Evans and Ed Wilson. Tickets were issued to club members and sales will begin immediately.

Libby Word presented the Leo Club report from high school. Several guests were introduced at the meeting.

Small Talk

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

THE TIME HAS COME for me to dust off the old soapbox and step up for my periodic declamation of Woodman, Spare That Tree!

Not with any lurking illusions about my influence in these matters, but just to clear my conscience it seems necessary every once in awhile to protest the whacking down of perfectly good shade trees, as badly as this country needs shade trees, simply because a few branches of said trees are broken.

Sure, I know this winter's ice storms broke quite a few branches, and of course the trees do need trimming—but not down to the bare stump! And lately, with the first faint hints of spring, the tree whackers are about their business.

LIVING AS I DO in the older part of town, where a lot of Chinese elms are getting old and really in need of pruning, it is my said lot to watch numerous trees cut down or lopped off every year—and the town is the worse for it.

As long as it takes to grow a tree, and as short of trees as we are here on the plains, it seems to me wicked to chop down a whole row of trees because one dies and should be removed. Or to butcher all the branches because a few are broken by ice.

No doubt the tree haters will go ahead with their work and pretty soon we won't have rows of shady trees on the curbs of any of our streets. In my own neighborhood right now some fine tall trees that must be 40 or more years old, are being slashed back so that it will take many years for them to take any shade at all again.

No ecology nut, I'm sort of tempted to join that movement when the tree-cutters unleash their power saws.

FROM TROPICAL weather to a fresh norther and snow, Mrs. J.D. Love came home this week after spending two and a half months in Port-of-Spain, Trinidad.

She was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Orville Gaiter, and family who live in that Caribbean area. An extra good place for a winter visit, I'd say.

A COED AT EAST TEXAS State University from Hereford, Sandy Fry was lately initiated into Alpha Delta Pi social sorority on the campus of the school at Commerce.

She is a freshman at ETSU, majoring in home economics, and is the daughter of the Stanley Frys of 118 Ave. E.

ON THE DEAN'S honor list for the fall semester at McMurry College is the name of Charles Allison, a freshman from Hereford. His average was 3.52 grade points of a possible 4.

Allison is an HHS graduate, the son of Daisy Allison, 107 Beach.

ICT STUDENT OF THE WEEK—The Industrial Cooperative Training student of the week is Bob Castro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Noe Castro of 821 Blevins. Castro, a senior at Hereford High School, is employed at Northwest Plains Printing Company under the supervision of Bill McKinney. After graduation, he plans to go into commercial art.

David Schmidt
...with bond

Aikman Student National Winner

David Schmidt, a fourth grader at Aikman Elementary, received a $50 savings bond last week after his story of a ghost organist was judged in a national contest as one of the top stories.

David, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lenoard Schmidt, also received for his fourth grade class a set of encyclopedias and a digital clock for the room. He is a student in Mrs. Clifford Kerr's class.

David received word of the selection Thursday morning when the school received a letter from the Young Readers Press, Inc. of New York. The company sponsored a Discovery '73 Writing Contest which Mrs. Kerr entered students' stories. The stories were sent in for judging in October.

Shower Is Given For Kerry Hall

A miscellaneous shower in honor of Kerry Hall, bride-elect of Jim Monroe, was given Saturday afternoon in the home of Meredith Wilcox. The couple plans a March 2 wedding here.

Party Is Given

Kiddie costumes were worn to the party given by Alpha Iota Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Thursday evening in Pioneer Gas Flame Room, with members' husbands and other guests included.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Walser won a giant box of crackerjacks as the prize for best costumes. Games of big-top poker and 31 were played, with the award going to Mike Sooter; he received a stuffed purple donkey.

Special guests at the party were Messrs. and Mmes. James Peterson, Floyd Neil and Ken Gill; also Dorinda Powers, Karen Coffey, Carla George and Betty Danley.

Members and their husbands included Messrs. and Mmes. Gerald Sledge, Jerry LaFrance, John Fink, Fred Ruland, Bill Drake, Clyde Whitaker, John Burkhalter, Coy Mason, Gary Tyler and Sooter, Mmes. Chick Holbert, Jimmy Bell, Lee Kimball and Robert Williams; also Linda Wilhite.

CowBelles, Guests To Hear Experts

Five men of the Plains area, concerned with various facets of the cattle industry, are scheduled as speakers on a panel at a guest luncheon of the Hereford CowBelles Tuesday.

Husbands of members will be guests for the lunch at Dickies Restaurant beginning at 11:45 a.m. The panel subject is Livestock Marketing.

Jim McNeese of Amarillo, director of the southwest region of the National Livestock and Meat Board, will act as moderator.

Others to take part in discussion are Bob Carter of Plainview, president of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association; Ed Campbell of Lubbock, director of meat operations for Furr Food Co.; Dr. Charles Smallwood, dean of West Texas State University's school of agriculture, and Pat Malone, vice president of First National Bank of Hereford.

Members of the CowBelles are to make reservations for themselves and their guests to the telephone committee.

They will receive 1973 yearbooks at this meeting, and eligible members will sign the charter of the organization which was formed here last fall, a unit of the National CowBelles. Women with interest in any phase of the cattle industry are invited to become members.

New Members And Guest Welcomed

A report on an ill member, was given during the Mothers Needle Club, and a card was sent to her from the members.

Mrs. W.T. Gunstenson hosted the meeting Thursday afternoon. A guest honored at the meeting was Mrs. Neva Hennington. Mrs. Mable Wiseman and Mrs. Ellis Carter were honored as new members.

Members present were Mmes. J.L. Shirley, H.E. Lindley, Verdie Benson, Adam Flowers, C.N. McClure, Ralph Paul and Annie Springer.

RUBINSTEIN BORN
Pianist Arthur Rubinstein was born on Jan. 28, 1889.

New Service To Shutins Planned By Red Cross

A new service to elderly or ill residents of Hereford who live alone was instituted by the Red Cross Uniformed Volunteers this week, with final plans made at their February luncheon

Thursday at K-Bob Restaurant. Planned to meet the needs of persons unable to leave their homes, and without families available to run errands and perform other services for them, the new program will provide a volunteer at the local Red Cross office each Monday through Friday, between 9 and 10 a.m.

Persons in need of such service as someone to shop for groceries and take them to the home, or to bring medicine, or to take a message to someone who cannot be reached by telephone immediately, or perhaps to supply chauffeur service to a doctor's office, may phone the Red Cross office, 364-3761, during this hour.

Volunteers will attempt to meet all legitimate needs, said Mrs. Sam Morgan, president of the group, and if there are indications that the service should be expanded, perhaps to continue on weekends, efforts will be made to do that.

Mrs. Morgan presided for business at the luncheon, when members reported various activities of the past month with a total of more than 60 hours of community service.

Wagner Attends Aetna Course

Charles J. Wagner, a representative of Aetna Life & Casualty at Hereford, has recently attended a special casualty and property insurance course at Aetna's home office in Hartford, Conn.

The five-week course provides comprehensive instruction in all forms of individual and business insurance protection, stressing new developments and methods of meeting changing conditions. Wagner, a graduate of Southwest Texas Junior College, is associated with the Lone Star Agency. He lives at 240 Hickory St.

The only thing that can be done well in a hurry is nothing.

Sealed bids for seal coating airport runway and taxiway for the City of Hereford, Texas, will be received by the City Manager at the City Hall, Hereford, until 2:00 P.M., March 5, 1973, and then at said place publicly opened and read aloud. All proposals shall be accompanied by a cashier's or certified check upon a national or state bank in the amount of five per cent (5 per cent) of the total maximum bid price payable without recourse to the City of Hereford or a bid bond in the same amount from a reliable surety company, as a guarantee that bidder will enter into a contract and execute performance bond within ten days after notice of award of contract to him. The bid security must be enclosed in the same envelope with the bid. Bids without check or bid bond will not be considered.

The successful bidder must furnish performance and payment bonds upon the forms which are attached hereto in the amount of 100 per cent of the contract price from an approved surety company holding a permit from the State of Texas to act as surety or other surety or sureties acceptable to the Owner.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids and to waive any informality in bids received.

Plans, specifications and bidding documents may be secured from the office of the City Manager, City Hall, Hereford, and Bill R. McMorris & Associates, Inc., 6300 Canyon Drive, Amarillo, Texas 79109, on deposit of Twenty five dollars ($25.00) per set, which sum so deposited will be refunded provided: (1) All documents are returned in good condition to Bill R. McMorris & Associates, Inc. not later than 48 hours prior to the time for receiving bids; or (2) The Contractor submits a bid and all documents are returned in good condition to Bill R. McMorris & Associates, Inc. not later than five (5) days after the time that bids are received.

Communication Is Club Topic

Swearing in of two new members and an informative talk on communications were highlights of the Thursday luncheon meeting of Hereford Kiwanis club at the civic club center.

Ted Lockhart, new Southwestern Bell Telephone wire chief, and Wayne Swopes, now associated with Glover, Graham and Brown, were installed as Kiwanians by membership development chairman Lee Umsted. These two men bring the total so far in the club's annual membership drive to three.

Kiwanian Bill Wells was also awarded a pin by president Don Lane for four years' perfect attendance in the club.

Communication, how to improve it, and different types of transmission and reception of thoughts were discussed by Herman Ford, recently recognized by Southland Life Insurance company in a special "Herman Ford Appreciation Day".

Ford stressed the importance, and the problems, of communicating in everyday life. He gave examples of both verbal, and non-verbal communication, and different ways in which intended messages may be garbled by inattentive listening, communicating through a third party, or poor choice of words. Ford urged members to strive to improve their communication skills, saying that "everyone could use a little improvement" in the area.

President Lane announced in other business that the club's annual mop and broom sale would take place March 16 and 17.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

This is presented for those for those who are concerned about yesterday or tomorrow.

TWO GOLDEN DAYS

By Robert S. Burdette

"There are two days of the week upon which and about which I never worry. Two care-free days kept free from fear and apprehension. One of these days is yesterday; with all its pains and aches, all its faults and blunders, it has passed forever beyond the reach of my recall. Save for the beautiful memories, sweet and tender, that linger like the perfume of roses in the heart of the day that has gone, I have nothing to do with yesterday. It was mine; now it belongs to God.

"And the other day that I do not worry about is tomorrow, with all its possibilities, adversities, its burdens, its perils, its large promise. Its sun will either rise in splendor, or behind a mass of clouds.

"There is left for myself, then but one day of the week-today. Any man can fight the battles of today. Any woman can carry the burdens of just one day-with God's help.

"Therefore, I think, and I do, and I journey for but one day at a time. And while faithfully and dutifully I run my course, and with my appointed task on this one day, God the Almighty takes care of yesterday and tomorrow, and helps me through today."

Submitted by Cora Johnson, 301 East 6th Street

Dear Editor,

In answer to Mrs. F.A. Marnell's letter in the Thursday Brand, I would like to pat her on the back. I have had these same complaints for several years, but I am not as good as she at putting my thoughts on paper.

If these businesses she is referring to would send someone out to the farms where some of us women farmers are working, we could improve on a lot of their ideas.

Being one farmer's wife who can operate a tractor, or combine, or ensilage cutter, or what have you, as well if not better than some men I know, while my husband takes time to eat or change water or look after the cattle, I think it is time some of these businesses gave the ladies a supper or breakfast away from home.

After all, who is it that gets up in the morning to fix breakfast and then comes in late at night after a long hard day in the field and does a day's laundry and cooks supper? I'm sure it's not the husband.

One way these businesses could improve their sales would be to let the wives in on these meetings to show they are appreciated just a little.

It is certain that if a wife knows nothing about the merchandise she is certainly not going to encourage her husband to buy. And I think I am safe in saying that these husbands need a lot of encouraging a lot of the time.

Think it over businessmen.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Henry Kuper
A Lady Farmer

Guest Day Tea Given

Fifteen guests were present with members of Summerfield Study Club Thursday afternoon at a tea in Summerfield Baptist Church fellowship hall.

The program was a film presented by Deaf Smith County Chapter of the American Cancer Society. It was shown by Mrs. Alex Schroeter and by the latter, a registered nurse who answered questions from her audience.

Mrs. Ray L. Johnson, club president, had arranged the tea table with a springtime centerpiece of white and yellow blossoms with fresh foliage.

Joan Waters Presents Top Essay

Joan Waters, the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Waters of 224 Ave. E, has submitted the winning entry in the Tierra Blanca Soil and Water Conservation District's essay contest.

The selection of Miss Waters' essay was made by the board of directors of the conservation district from 235 essays entered from schools in the Hereford Independent School District and St. Anthony's Parochial School.

Miss Waters will be presented a plaque from the Tierra Blanca Soil and Water Conservation District at the annual Hereford High School awards assembly this spring.

The top three essays entered from each school will receive a ribbon. Submitting the top essays from Northwest Elementary school were Mahota Manning, first; Scott Formby, second and Rebecca Rudd, third.

The top essayists from St. Anthony's were Melinda Reinart, first; Chris Valasquez, second and Chris Schumacher, third.

Aikman's winning essays were submitted by Gina Inman, first; Ester Flores, second and Bret Hallows, third.

Dalene Henson submitted the only essay from Central Elementary School as did Ronald Plummer from Shirley, Sandra Thomas from Bluebonnet and Richard Waters from Stanton Junior High. Miss Waters' essay, which will be submitted for regional and state competition, follows.

NATURAL RESOURCES MEETING THE NEEDS OF PEOPLE

by Joan Waters

Wildlife, forest, fertile topsoil, minerals, pure air and pure water are major natural resources to man's welfare. None of these can be taken for granted!

Man depends upon natural resources to keep him alive. But, natural resources depend also upon man. If man destroys the resources, he is killing his environment. He has used many resources to live; he has developed medicines and has eliminated many diseases. He has learned how to make his environment yield him food, lumber, wool, and cotton. But, while using all of this, he needs to learn to use the resources correctly and to replenish the supply.

Modern civilization has done much to change the environment. It is very important for man to find ways to reuse old cars, refrigerators, cans, bottles, and other materials now collecting as waste. Until man can find ways to reuse these materials, he needs to know how to use the resources he now has with care and consideration. Man is changing the environment too rapidly for new life forms to replace life that cannot adapt to the changed environment. Saving the environment does not mean that man must give up his modern technology. But man must learn to live within nature's cycle. But we cannot leave all the solutions to the scientists.

Every individual can help to prevent waste and litter. A serious effort can save the earth for use by all life that exists today.

America must pay its debt to the past by reclaiming the purity of its air, its waters, and our living environment. It is literally now or never. Americans must learn how to master nature but how to master ourselves, our institutions, and our technology in order for our natural resources to meet the needs of the people.

Music Heard At SS Dinner

A Valentine week event for young adults of Temple Baptist Sunday School was a sweetheart dinner Thursday evening with decorations in the holiday theme.

Musical entertainment by Tonya and Company was the program feature after dinner. Mrs. Butch Grover spoke briefly, welcoming guests.

These included the Rev. J.L. Bozeman, pastor of the church, and Mrs. Bozeman; Bill Lamm, Sunday School superintendent, and Mrs. Lamm, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer White.

Last year, growers who planted mono-hy monogerm beet seed increased their profits an average $15 an acre.*

This year, it's available for YOU!

Maybe growers in other areas under contract to GW have told you about MONO-HY. Developed in the Great Western Sugar Company Agriculture Research Center, introduced in limited quantities in 1971, this new hybrid has outperformed them all in field and yield tests. Now we have enough seed to supply Holly growers here in Texas as well as our own. That means YOU can share in the higher profits others have enjoyed these past two seasons.

New Cooking By Microwave

By Argen Draper

Home Demonstration Agents

It is predicted that microwave ovens will be the leader in sales of large household equipment in 1973. We learned Friday morning that cooking can be much faster and easier, but microwave cooking will not replace other appliances.

THINGS TO REMEMBER
The microwave oven is better suited for some foods than for others: Here are some hints:

BEVERAGES can be heated right in the serving container: mug, pitcher, glass, cup, or paper cup. Milk boils over easily so don't fill containers too full.

FISH AND SEA FOOD retain moistness and delicate flavors. Fillets require only about eight minutes on the average.

CHICKEN PIECES must be cut a uniform size in order to get done at the same time. Unless a sauce lends color, pre-browning is desirable.

BEEF AND PORK from the more tender parts of the animal are the best choice. Rolled or standing rib or loin roasts are recommended. If using a less tender cut, such as rump roast or pieces of round steak, a tenderizing marinade is often recommended. Again pre-browning is desirable.

HAM cooks to moist doneness but it is important to start with fully cooked forms.

EGGS present a problem because the yolk cooks faster than the white. (Eggs may even explode when you hard-cook them.) Scrambling is the best method because yolks and whites are mixed together.

SOUPS heat very quickly when cooked in small amounts or in individual servings. However, large quantities of soup cook no faster than on the range.

FRESH VEGETABLES retain their flavor and color exceptionally well. Cook, covered, with very little water. Some vegetables, such as artichokes and corn on the cob, require no water, and may be simply wrapped in waxed paper for cooking. Frozen vegetables may be cooked right in their paper carton or cooking pouch, or in a covered dish.

BAKED BREADS can be heated quickly on paper toweling or in a basket lined with a napkin. However, bread dough does not brown or form a crisp crust.

RICE and other pasta require about the same time as when cooked on the range because they must be hydrated.

COOKIES which are dropped or sliced must be baked a few at a time, and have a different texture than those baked conventionally. Bar cookies bake quite satisfactorily.

CANDY cooks quickly, but a thermometer cannot be used during cooking. Turn off oven to check temperature, or use the cold-water test.

CAKES rise faster in the microwave oven and have a more porous texture. Upside-down cakes with a fruit-sugar layer on the bottom work best, because the sugar attracts the microwaves and the cake cooks more slowly. Remember to fill cake pans no more than half full.

PIES will not have browned crusts. Because pastry and fillings cook at different rates, it is best to cook them separately for one-crust pies. Two-crust pies may be started in the microwave oven and browned in a conventional oven.

HISTORY ESSAY WINNERS—First places in their respective grades were won by these three pupils in the 1973 historical essay contest conducted by Los Ciboleros Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution. From left are Christie Beene, fifth grade; LeAnne Hughes, sixth grade, and Richard Waters, seventh grade. The contest is a part of the chapter's observance of February as American History Month. Subject of this year's essays was A Patriot of 1773; each of the three winners chose a different patriot of the American Revolution.

Humor Is Note At Party

Cartoon films and refreshments of popcorn were included in the entertainment offered members' husbands when L'Allegria Club was hostess at a dinner Thursday evening in the Ed Reinauer Jr. home.

Humorous roadrunner figures decorated tables, and roadrunner cartoons were shown at the movie hour afterward. Various games and casual talk around the fireplaces were other amusements.

On the hostess committee with Mrs. Reinauer were Mmes. Cameron Gault, Burns Hamilton, Dennis Lomas and Don Lowder.

Dinner was served to Messrs. and Mmes. Bill Warrick, Bobby Veigel, John E. Smith, Alex Schroeter, Steve Coneway, Terry Caviness, Tommy Carnahan, Jim Carnahan, Buddy Bloomer, Danny Martin, Rudy Metz, Gerald G. Payne; the hostesses and their husbands and Mrs. David Gibson.

Dog Care Project Begins Wednesday

A program in dog care and training will begin Wednesday at 4 p.m. at the Community Center.

The project, sponsored by Deaf Smith County 4-H, is open to all youngsters between the ages of 9-19.

Emily Ogle, 4-H leader, will provide instruction with help from such resource people as Dr. Aaron Hutto, area veterinarian, and others. The program will include training in feeding and caring for the animal as well as obedience training. For further information contact Robert Devin, ACEA or Emily Ogle.

Dental Program To Aid Welfare Recipients

Children in Texas who seldom have an opportunity to receive treatment from a dentist will benefit in 1973 from a new Medicaid program of the Texas State Department of Health and Texas Department of Public Welfare.

Welfare families with children will be eligible for the dental program when it begins early this year.

The State Health Department will administer the program. Initially, the program will be for children under the age of six years—approximately 100,000 children in Texas. Beginning on July 1, the program will be expanded to cover all welfare children up to age 21—more than 300,000 children.

The program has dual goals. In addition to the dental program, Medicaid Title XIX funds also will be used to provide a medical screening and treatment program. The medical screening services will be highlighted in next week's Accent on Health.

The two segments of the program—medical and dental—will share centralized administrative, data processing and fiscal facilities. However, operation of medical and dental programs will be under separate directors.

The dental program will operate under the Health Department's Division of Dental Health in Austin. It has been described by the Division staff as "a tremendous challenge and a meaningful opportunity to provide for the needs of many children who have been disadvantaged for so long a time."

Limited portions of this target population have received services in programs of local public health dental clinics, and others undoubtedly have been seen by dentists who volunteered their services.

Dentists under the new program are selected on a volunteer basis. Any Texas licensed dentist who wishes to participate may do so by completing a brief application with the Division of Dental Health and filing a fee schedule with his dental association.

Once an application is accepted, the dentist's name will be provided to the local and county offices of the Department of Public Welfare. Welfare social service staff workers, called caseworkers, will determine the eligibility of consumers for services under this program and enter names on a section of a dental invoice. Once a child is found eligible, a dental appointment can be arranged. In consultation with a caseworker, the family designates its present dentist or chooses a dentist from a list of those participating.

Once the choice is made, the caseworker arranges for an appointment and then follows through so both the consumer and the dental invoice get to the dentist. The voucher serves as a treatment record as well as a payment voucher.

The dentists treat the patients in the same way that he treats his private patients. His services most likely will include an oral examination, diagnosis (including radiographs as needed) and whatever corrective or preventive treatment is indicated up to a specified ceiling amount.

Should more extensive treatment be needed beyond this maximum, a toll free call can be made while the patient is in the dental chair for instant authorization to continue.

As the initial treatment is made, the dentist fills in the dental invoice which has sections for oral examination findings, treatment given and recommendations for further treatments on subsequent visits.

The dental invoice is audited in the central control office on its receipt and processed for payment of the normal fee-for-service based on private practice charges.

In five high-consumer population counties, a special pilot project is planned to determine the feasibility and effectiveness of using specially-trained dental Community Service Aides in the program. These aides would assist in the welfare and consumer areas. However, they could go beyond this to provide basic oral health maintenance instructions to families in their homes.

Dental advisory and peer review committees will review and monitor the dental program with an eye toward bettering the services to provide the best possible dental care for the less fortunate children of the state.

Mrs. Fortenberry Club Hostess

Cleaning supplies for various household tasks can be made at home from inexpensive ingredients, many of them available in the average home. Mrs. Jimmie Bradley told Bippus Extension Club members at a meeting Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Jack Fortenberry.

She demonstrated several mixtures for different cleaning purposes and showed their use, giving suggestions for making cleanup chores easier.

Also present were Mmes. C.F. Burk, Wayne Sifford, C.F. Homfeld and Kenneth Homfeld. The next meeting, March 14, will be with Mrs. J.V. Perrin.

It'll cost you more than ever to grow a crop this year.

It'll be as easy as ever to lose the whole bundle.

The cost of everything you buy to make a crop has climbed sharply.

You're investing more hard cash than ever. Many growers spend double what they did 10 years ago... on chemicals and fertilizer, seed, tractor fuel, hired labor, taxes... etc.

You'll probably borrow money from the bank (or out of the kid's college fund, or your own retirement nest egg) to produce your crop.

Are you prepared to stand the loss of this money—in case some disease comes along or there's a freezeout... or a plague of bugs? Or you name it?

There could be some lean years if you're wiped out now.

The financial side of farming has changed. Perhaps it's time you re-thought your need for Federal Crop Insurance—which has made some changes, too, in keeping with the times.

This may be the year to listen closely when the FCIC man comes around.

Only ALL-RISK Federal Crop Insurance GUARANTEES you'll get your money back... whatever happens.

With Glad

By Mrs. Art Manjeot

YESTERDAY AFTERNOON after I returned home from the counsel of the fine arts committee, I decided I would go outside and give the new box-wood plants some attention.

There was good moisture underneath but the top soil was dry and packed so I turned the water on and gave the boxwood a thorough washing down. Left the water to soak into the soil, then walked around the garden paths and lo! and behold I found a beautiful clump of crocus.

Yellow was the predominant color, but the whites and blues were lovely too. Many new plants were breaking through the ground and soon there will be a real garden bouquet. Always thrills me when I find the first crocus blooms.

In returning to the house I noticed a red-golden glow in the west and walked where I could get a good view of the sunset. Was a beautiful, wonderful sight. The lovely blend of sunset colors, red, gold, and amber were so intermingled that I just stood and drank in the beauty of the iridescent nature creation.

There is never anything quite so beautiful as a sunset on the high plains. As the sun slowly slipped out of sight the silhouette of the trees, both the evergreens and the naked trees were aglow with the red sunset. Seemed the whole sky was alight with splendor.

I wished that I could catch the wonderful scene on canvas. Would certainly have been a very fine subject for our artist friends. When I went into the house and turned on the lights, I thought how silly I had been; why didn't I take a picture with my new Instamatic camera? (A Christmas gift).

While in Virginia my granddaughter Beverly and I did quite a bit of picture hunting, and candid shots. I am indebted to her for being so kind to me in teaching me the rudiments of my new camera. She was so sweet and patient with me and we had fun taking snapshots.

The sunsets there were also beautiful. Several afternoons I stood and watched the sunset behind the tall graceful pines. Am hoping that some of the pictures taken will turn out well.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY. Do you have a green plant growing in your home? If so, have you taken time to be thankful for it? We owe an incalculable debt to green plants.

Each time I come into the house and look at my plants I am so thankful for them. They are almost like one of the family. They are company when the hours get long and lonesome, add a cheery welcome and are an attractive note for the house.

In every room I have either an ivy, ferns, air-plant, kalanchoe, coleus, also verda, succulent, or a terrarium of exotic plants. Many of these I grow in water, others in soil.

Am especially indebted to my neighbor, Mrs. R. W. Mitchell for the tender loving care she gave the plants while I was away. The Christmas poinsettia is very pretty, has six beautiful blooms, and the foliage is green and crisp.

My prime motive for growing potted plants is not entirely aesthetic, or that they are company for me but rather for the idea that lives are dependent upon them. We should all be thankful for plants, green trees, and shrubs.

The miraculous process of photosynthesis is at the heart of the food production chain. It is the process whereby the energy of the sun is combined with water from the soil and carbon dioxide from the air in chlorophyll to produce sugar—the basic food.

Sugar may change forms many times within a plant or within the animals which subsequently ingest it. Fats, starches, and proteins are built from the sugar molecule.

We, therefore, get our food as steak, milk, apples, spinach or hundreds of other forms and packages—but let us always remember... and remember with thanks that it all began in a green leaf.

From the same process mentioned above relative to photosynthesis, comes another vital element for man's existence—it is oxygen. After millions of years of life on this planet with enormous quantities of oxygen being burned up by animals, there is still vast amounts of it in the air we breathe and live on. Where does it come from? Green plants.

In planning your garden and the further development of your landscape design, plan to continue to grow and plant foliage plants, trees, shrubs and vegetable for your enjoyment, to enhance environment, provide therapy, calm and relaxation.

But don't forget to look beyond these charms, or ever fail to be grateful for the greater significance of green plants. Our very lives depend on them.

Some have said to me, "Well I think we will practically cover our yards with cement or asphalt. It is too much trouble and expense to have lawns, trees, vegetables, cut flowers, and shrubs."

My reply is, "Yes it is expensive, and trouble, but what would we do if everyone had the same idea. How would we breathe and what kind of world would we have?" Think on these things.

YES AND NO: If you have spring flowering bulbs which you have not planted, go ahead and plant them. The soil is moist, pliable and not frozen, so be sure and plant your bulbs.

In so doing you can save your bulbs and perhaps they will flower for you. Several years ago I failed to get the bulbs planted on schedule and they were planted in late January. The tulips bloomed while the roses were blooming. Both were beautiful in the garden and combined they made very nice arrangements.

NO—Do not remove the glass jar that you have over the rose cuttings, even though they have started growth. In removing the jar you will break the seal made in the soil by the jar placement. Freezing temperature will kill the plants if exposed.

Later when the danger of frost and freezing is past and the sunshine is warm the jar can be removed gradually and replaced at night. When sun becomes hot on the jar, cover with a board or other object to keep the young leaves from burning.

Keep the soil around the plant moist but not wet. Remember that the removing of the jar from over the plant is a gradual process; leave it off for a short time at first then gradually increase the time as weather warms and plant becomes well established and has set a growth pattern.

NO—Do not start pruning any plants now. In so doing new growth will be put on and freezing temperature can kill it back, and also harm can be done to the plant. Also do not side feed plants now with fertilizer; the same thing can happen as above mentioned.

Also a light dressing can be placed on lawns which have been thoroughly cleaned of old grass and other foreign items.

However I would caution that gardening processes should wait, even though we do have some days when the outdoors really invites us to come out.

DO—Clean up around the iris. Aphids find a good place for winter housing down in the heart of the plants. After cleaning away all of the dead and broken leaves a strong spray from the garden hose will help to dislodge many of the unwanted insects.

If you prefer, the clean-up process can be followed by spraying with malathion. However malathion applied at this time will only be effective on those aphids that are moving about.

DO—Examine any eunonymous you have. Scale insects are moving about and some of them can be gotten rid of. If scale is found, spray with a dormany spray. This should be done before buds burst open and new leaves start growing.

The dormant oil spray places a smothering coat over insects that are on the plants, trees and shrubs. The dormant spray is also good preventive for mealy bugs, mites and others which hibernate for the winter.

The dormant spray should be applied on a windless, sunny morning when temperature is between 40 and 60 degrees. Use a very fine mist spray and do not overdo the strength of the preparation.

The most common spray is dormant oil, mixable with water, there are other active ingredients also. Consult garden shop personnel relative to kind and content. Read directions carefully, also recommendations.

Douglas fir and other needle evergreens should not be sprayed, but fruit and shade trees, also roses can be benefited by such a spray.

Vera Deason states in her column, that if roses are sprayed with dormant spray it will save much of the spraying in spring and summer.

Drifting of the spray can be harmful to barberry and other plants, so be sure that it is still windless day when the dormant spray is applied. Read carefully the directions on container. Do not leave for children or pets to find and handle.

CORRECTION: In column last week it should read, "Lloyd Sr. volunteered to assist with orchid plants".

THINK ON THIS—Thinking keeps open the doors to an expanding life.

TB Program Cut May Hurt

Top of Texas Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association today revealed that proposed budget slashes may destroy effective efforts by the State Health Department to control the spread of infectious tuberculosis throughout Texas.

Local directors of the TB-Respiratory Disease Association are Mrs. Jewel Smith, Dr. Clyde Rush and Lorenzo Granado.

Seay stated that the Association, in its role as an advocate of the patient, must oppose the budget cut, amounting to over a million dollars per year for both 1974 and 1975.

Attorney Tom Seay, president of the area organization, said the cut in the Health Department's Division of TB Control would result in a lack of funds for medication, case-finding, and medical supervision. "I don't believe the legislators proposing the cut fully realize what results of the budget-slash will be," he said. "The one to suffer most will be the TB patient himself. He will be cheated of his chances for earlier diagnosis and subsequent chances for a full recovery. The proposed cut in program would be a gigantic leap backward, with tragic results for the sufferers of tuberculosis."

Bullish on central air conditioning? Consider investing just a little more in a long-term, blue chip Gas air conditioning system.

Only a Gas air conditioning system pays you regular dividends for many happy years. That's because the heart of a Gas cooling system is a simple gas burner, rather than an electric, mechanical compressor. A clean-burning gas flame doesn't wear out—so there's less to go wrong, fewer maintenance calls, a longer life with no loss of original cooling capacity. And because natural gas is the prime energy source, you'll also save money on operating cost.

Our Story: IN THE RIVER THE VIKING SHIP IS MOORED ABOVE TIDEWATER AND DEFENDED BY A PALISADE; IN THE ESTUARY LIES THE STRANDED MERCHANT SHIP BLOCKING THE WAY TO THE SEA. AS BOTH SHIPS CARRY PRECIOUS CARGO THEY DO NOT TRUST EACH OTHER. PRINCE ARN AND BOLTARSON HOLD A MEETING WITH THE MERCHANT CAPTAIN.

"WE NEED TIMBER TO FLOAT OUR SHIP," SAYS ALSADA, THE TRADER.
"WE NEED FOOD FOR A LONG SEA VOYAGE," ANSWERS ARN. "SHALL WE TRADE?" ALSADA GLARES AT THE BOYS: "NO, SEND US TIMBER OR STARVE!"

"WE COMMAND THE SOURCE OF TIMBER," ANSWERS ARN. "AND WITH EACH TIDE YOUR SHIP SINKS DEEPER IN THE SAND." AS THE TWO BOYS ARE RETURNING, THEY NOTICE A BOAT LOADED WITH WATER CASKS ROWING UP THE ESTUARY.

THE VIKING SHIP IS MOORED IN THE RIVER ABOVE TIDEWATER. BELOW THE ESTUARY IS BRACKISH AND UNFIT TO DRINK. WHEN NEXT THE BOAT ROWS UP TO FILL THE CASKS WITH FRESH WATER A LOG BOOM BARS THEIR WAY AND ARCHERS PREVENT A LANDING.

THEY HAVE NOT LONG TO WAIT. THE MERCHANT CAPTAIN ARRIVES AND THE BARGAINING BEGINS: SO MUCH FOODSTUFF FOR WATER, SO MUCH FOR TIMBER.

THE VIKINGS CUT THE TIMBER AND ROLL THE LOGS INTO THE RIVER. THEY WORK FROM DAWN TO DUSK, FOR THEIR SCOUTS HAVE BROUGHT THEM DIRE NEWS.

HELP FOR HOMEMAKERS

hints from Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

In our family—we like to make our gifts for our grandparents. This is what we did last year for their birthday presents:

We took a piece of oblong light cardboard in a size long and wide enough to hold the number of pictures we had. These can be the latest school pictures or snapshots, or both. We marked this piece of cardboard one inch from each side. Then we measured and spaced our school pictures even distances apart. We then glued them to the cardboard. We bought some velvet ribbon about one inch wide. This was cut and glued in between the pictures. Then we glued the velvet ribbon around the edges, cutting it diagonally at each corner. Now it all looked like frames around the pictures.

We put this cardboard under some books to dry. After it dried we took it out. Then we cut a short piece of ribbon from what was left of the velvet.

This piece of ribbon was put through a gold curtain ring and glued to the back of the cardboard, about one-quarter inch from the top. This gave it something pretty to hang it by. It was really beautiful and our grandparents liked it, too.

Lori

WHAT'S TATTING?

DEAR HELOISE:

While redecorating the upstairs bedroom with some pieces that had belonged to my grandmother I got an idea.

The thought came to me that it would be a shame for my grandchildren to grow up and never know what tatting was. It seems that it is almost a lost art.

I took a round tatted doily, mounted it on six thicknesses of nylon net and framed it in a round frame. Then hung it on the wall by the old hall coat tree.

The net gives such a shimmery, delicate background that the tatting shows up beautifully.

Another winner for nylon net!

Mrs. Rhea Lomax

25TH ANNIVERSARY

DEAR HELOISE:

We just celebrated our 25th wedding anniversary. At our party we did something a little different.

I had a crystal cake plate that had been a wedding gift. And it didn't have any chips!

With silver ink we inscribed our names and dates and then asked each of the guests at the party to sign their names with the silver ink.

We have a nice memento of our party and a record of the guests. Everyone thought it was a nice idea—hope your readers do, too.

Betty Pivovar

P.S. I'm going to try to keep it unmarred and use it again for our 50th—with gold ink!!!

IT'S THE TOPS!

DEAR HELOISE:

Here is a cute idea for young homemakers who have to live on a budget:

One clothing item that usually gets discarded for minor defects is brassieres.

But, while they may not be "right" for daytime wear, they can be covered with any number of soft materials and laces for nighttime wear.

In fact, it's better if they are a little loose so they'll be comfortable.

P.J. bottoms can be made to match from the same material in so many styles—from bikinis to bell bottoms. Cotton prints are pretty and so are bold stripes...

Sylvia Zoerner

FLOWERY TALK

DEAR HELOISE:

I put my artificial flowers in vases, fill the vases with sand or a flower holder and then pour melted wax over the sand.

This keeps the arrangement firm and properly in place. The flowers can be easily washed without falling out of their vase.

And, if you desire a change, simply dip the entire vase in a container of hot water. The whole thing slips out of the vase and you can begin again.

Mrs. E. Harrod

LETTER OF THOUGHT

DEAR HELOISE:

When you have problems or decisions to make, look to the Bible for help.

It's really amazing how much the verses written so many centuries ago can apply to experiences nowadays.

They help you to decide what is the best and right decision to make.

J. A. W.

NO SOFT SOAP

DEAR HELOISE:

We have built-in soap dishes in our bathroom. When our grandchildren come to visit us, I notice that when it's time to wash their hands they make the soap all soft.

Of course, the next day when I clean up after them the soap has hardened on all the grooves and I have to scrape it with a knife. I thought up an idea:

Simply place a small piece of foil over the grooves so that when the soap is soft and gooey, it will stick to the foil instead of to the soap dish.

Now, no more scraping. Just put on a fresh piece of foil each time.

Just thought I would send this in—it may save young mothers a lot of rubbing and scraping

Mrs. P. Switzer

GREAT SHAKES!

DEAR FOLKS:

I don't happen to like gelatin dessert as such, but recently discovered a way to serve it that can't be beat and even my family agrees that it rates—bring on some more!

Take a pint fruit jar and put in one small box of gelatin, any flavor, (I happen to like strawberry) and then fill half full with boiling water.

Stir until the gelatin is completely dissolved. Fill the rest of the jar with small ice cubes and then pour it in the blender. Be sure to put the top on the blender and let it beat away.

In a few seconds pour from blender into a tall glass and serve immediately with two straws.

It is a delicious drink and looks like a yummy frosted soda.

If you have any left over, pour it back in the jar to be eaten the next day. You'll find that the next day it makes a beautiful frothy dessert.
