Blue law suit filed on Malouf

The owner of a downtown department store, filed on for allegedly violating the Sunday Closing Law, Tuesday denied the charges of the complainant and hired a local attorney to represent him in the case.

George Malouf, owner of Malouf's Sale Department Store on Main Street, said the grounds on which the complaint was filed were not based on actual evidence that can prove his store sold merchandise in violation of the controversial law.

"I was down here straightening things up Sunday, but I was not open in the sense of the word," Malouf said. "Besides, the woman (who filed the complaint) cannot produce a sales slip that shows she bought something here on Saturday and Sunday."

Malouf said his cash register has been broken from some time and the purchase date is incorrect.

A complaint was presented to the district attorney's office Monday, accusing the store of selling certain goods on both Saturday and Sunday. The complaint was filed in Justice of the Peace court by Dale Lawrence, manager of Perry's Department Store.

The complaint states that Malouf's Sales Department Store sold a pair of socks to Jean Lawrence, the Perry manager's wife, on Saturday and some bias trim on Sunday.

The original complaint was filed Monday against Hanna Malouf, former owner of the department store. When it was later learned the store was not owned by the elder Malouf, the first complaint was withdrawn and the second, against George Malouf, was filed.

"I don't think the law is right," Malouf said. "But I do respect the law."

"The way it is, the working people, for three months a year, don't have but one day to do any shopping, and that is Sunday. Now if one store is open, it is going to get all the business and that is not right."

Malouf said he would be willing to abide by the law, but only if all the other stores do the same. He said several other stores were open on Sunday but were not filed against.

One store, May Department Store, closed on Saturday and opened on Sunday, which is with and in the law.

The complaint was filed with the Justice of the Peace office and Malouf will have the option to plead guilty or not guilty. Justice of the Peace Glenn Nelson will hear the case.

Nelson said if the defendant pleads guilty the court will set the fine not to exceed $100.

If Malouf pleads innocent, he will be required to post $200 bond and the case will be taken before a jury to be heard.

"This could be a precedent case in seeing how far the law can go toward enforcing this Sunday Closing Law," Nelson said.

"In order to change laws that don't appear to be right, they have to be contested somewhere along the line, and that is the right of the defendant in any case."

CIT LEADERS—Three officials of C. I. T. Financial Corporation say in this visit at the First National Bank Tuesday they are interested in pouring $1 billion in finance money into the area cattle feeding industry. "Frankly, we like what we saw today," they said after a tour of Wilson's, Holly Sugar and some feed-

Veigel joins school board; budget OK'd

By CHARLES RICHARDS
News Editor

The Hereford School Board named Bobby Veigel, a 32-year-old farmer, Tuesday night to fill the unexpired term on the board of Lowell Sharp, who recently resigned and moved to Oregon. The action had been discussed in a special, executive session earlier this month. It was just a formality Tuesday night, and was handled early in the board's regular monthly meeting. After the nomination and unanimous vote for Veigel, the board President Hilrey Aven telephoned Veigel to come to the school administration offices.

County Clerk B. F. Cain swore Veigel in quickly after he arrived, and the newest member participated in the rest of the meeting.

Board member Hugh Clearman was voted in as vice president, a position vacated by Sharp's resignation.

The board took several actions. It approved a proposed 1971-72 budget of $3,886,400 — about $182,000 above that for the past school year — and took the final action of amending last year's budget to reflect the needed changes brought on by unexpected expenditures and receipts beyond earlier estimates.

The board was amused about the new immunization law passed by the state, requiring vaccinations for polio, diphtheria, tetanus, measles, rubella and smallpox for all students. The Hereford School Board adopted a policy 18 months ago which required the same things.

"We're glad to see the state has finally caught up with us," Hartman quipped.

Several resignations and elections of teachers were handled. Among the resignations was highly regarded vocational agriculture teacher from Oklahoma who had been hired only a month earlier. Hartman said the Oklahoma school board called a special meeting, which took place even while the superintendent was out of town, and put pressure on the teacher and McCormick was unable to get out of his contract. His students have captured top honors in state and national competition for several years running.

Marcus Phillips, who has been vocational agriculture teacher at Canyon, was hired to fill the position. The vacancy was created by the elevation of former ag teacher Richard Robinson to the post of vocational director, which Walter "Jo Jo" Bryan held before taking the superintendent's job in Baird.

Assistant Supt. Bob Holman gave a report of the pre-school in-service training for teachers that will begin Monday. His position on the state textbook selection committee has brought many book publishing company representatives to Hereford this summer. Many of them have brought top educators to speak in behalf of their books, with a big fringe benefit of many Hereford teachers getting to confer this summer with top men in various fields, in which conversations they felt they gained key insight to several things.

Through the eager cooperativeness of the book companies, who want to do what they can to win Holman's favor and hopefully his vote for their textbook, several very top people in the field of learning were persuaded to come to Hereford and speak to local teachers about various areas of curriculum during the in-service training.

"You can imagine the number of people — top people in the field — that have been in and out of Hereford this summer," Hartman told the board. The authors of the textbooks have been among the visitors.

"We're real fortunate to get these noted officials in the field of education. One textbook company had nine people in here in regard to one book, and I'm talking about experts in their field. It's a tremendous group of people we've had in here, and it has given teachers on our advisory committees an education you can't buy with money, getting firsthand the philosophy behind most of these programs. This has been a real valuable experience for our teachers."

Gyles funeral will be today

Funeral services for Frank A. Gyles Sr., 77, resident of Hereford since 1905, will be conducted at 10 a. m. today in Rose Chapel of Gilliland Funeral Home with the Rev. Russell Wingert, Presbyterian minister, officiating.

He died Tuesday afternoon in a local hospital after a long illness.

Burial will be in West Park Cemetery. Named as pallbearers are A. J. Schroeter, Charles Noland, John D. Pittman, Roy Faubian, Clint Formby and J. T. Gilbreath.

Mr. Gyles, whose home was at 216 E. Fifth, was a retired feed and flour mill owner who had earlier been in the grocery business here. He was a member of the J. E. Gyles family which came to Hereford from Missouri in 1905.

Born Jan. 30, 1894, in Missouri, he married Viola Kassahn April 18, 1938 in Panhandle. He was a veteran of military service in World War I, and a member of the Presbyterian Church.

He is survived by his wife; a son, Frank A. Gyles Jr. ofampa; a sister, Mrs. Engles Cowan of Aurora, Mo., one grandchild and one niece.

The family has requested that memorials be made to the heart fund, through First National Bank or Gilliland Funeral Home.

Westgate names new administrator

Jack Reynold, 35, former administrator of the Heritage Home in Plainview, will take over as administrator of Kings Manor and Westgate here in early September.

He takes the position left vacant by the death of Manson Waits, who died in mid-April. Mrs. Byrdie Fellers has been serving as acting administrator since then.

Reynold grew up in Levelland and attended Texas Tech. He worked with Southwest Investment Company in Lubbock for several years then with Homer G. Maxey as manager of the Plainamen Hotel in Lubbock.

He was in private business for a short time before getting into the administrative field and going to Heritage Home in Plainview where he has been since 1969.

He and his wife, the former Doris Willoughby of Hereford, have four children. She is a registered nurse.

County turns down investigator request

BY MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

The county commissioners, after a meeting Monday with Sheriff Travis McPherson and Police Chief Don Brush, shunned for the second time in two weeks, a proposal for a special investigator for the District Attorney's office.

The commissioners rejected the proposal at a meeting with Dist. Atty. Andy Shuval on July 6, saying the former district attorney got along without an investigator when he had six counties to handle so they could see no reason to have an investigator for only one county.

Dist. Atty. Mike Metcalf of Dumas, has himself asked now for the five remaining counties in the judicial district to provide him with an investigator.

The sheriff and police chief echoed the opinion of the commissioners, saying they will do all they can to help Shuval in his preparing for cases.

"I thought we had been helping him all along," said Brush. "I just don't think we are ready for a special investigator, just to be frank with you. At least not just yet."

"We've cooperated with Andy all we can, but if he thinks he needs more, we'll try and give it to him."

The commissioners also verbally rejected a proposal by Community Action Agency coordinator Lorenzo Granado for assistance with a federally financed program that would provide relief work for farm laborers out of work because of the drought.

The commissioners said they could not warrant hiring people who will be paid by the federal government and not being able to hold the reins. With the federal government picking up the tab, the commissioners said they would not be in a position to get the best work out of the workers.

Shuval had deputy sheriff Harold Wheeler doing the work of special investigator for two months, but Wheeler recently was appointed to the post of

Youths jailed on car theft charge

Two Hereford youths, one a juvenile, were placed in the county jail and charged with auto theft Wednesday after they were arrested by police and sheriff's officers late Tuesday night.

Arrested were Richard Merry, 19, who gave an address as 912 Union, and Abel Garza, 16, for whom no address was available.

Merry was treated at Deaf Smith County Hospital Wednesday morning after he was shot in the hand when attempting to escape from officers during the arrest.

Sheriff Travis McPherson said the charges of auto theft were filed against the two boys after they stole two vehicles. Other charges involving the theft of guns may be filed later, the sheriff said.

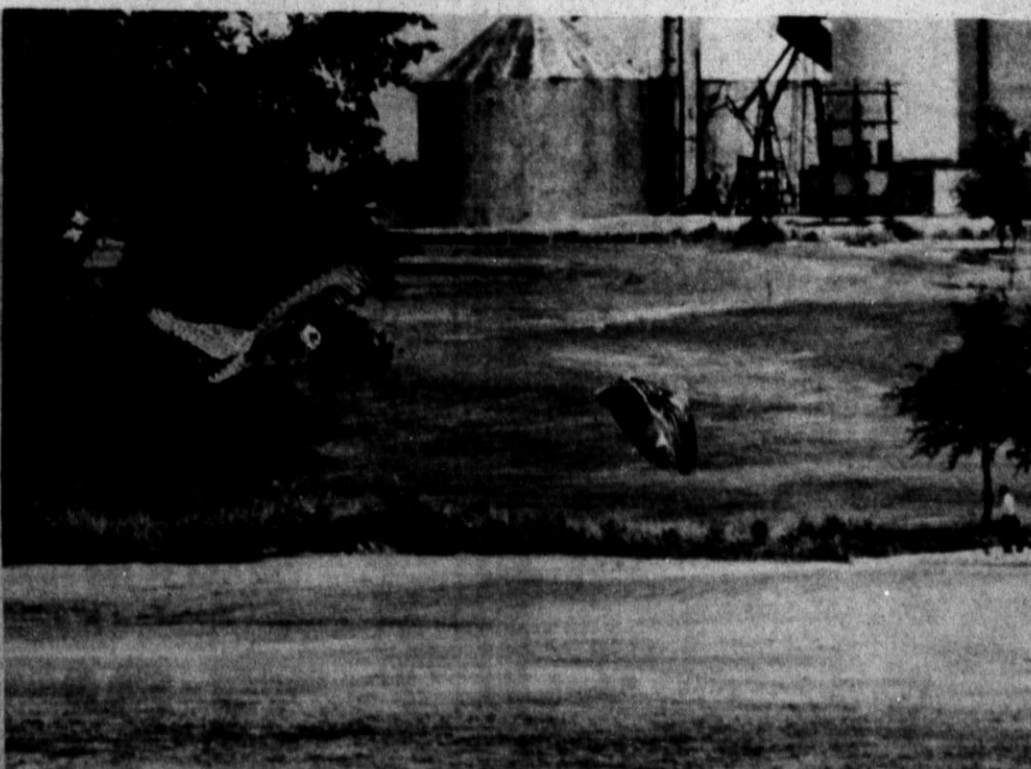

McPherson said the incident began after the two boys had returned from Amarillo with David Trevino, 19.

He said the two hit Trevino on the head and stole his GOLF COURSE WILDLIFE — Two of a family of four ground owls who live on the city golf course allowed the photographer to come within 15 feet before flying away. These small birds live in an abandoned prairie dog hole at the right edge of No. 1 fairway, about 100 yards from the pro shop.

NOT TOO CLOSE — Although the birds are rather tame and stay on the grounds during the early part of the day, they fly to other spots nearby as the course gets busier during the latter part of the day. There are two adults and two young birds in the group.

MORE WILDLIFE — Another resident on the grounds, a small ground squirrel, has his residence near the owls' home. The brave hearted fellow allowed the camera to come within five feet before he scampered into the hole visible beneath his head.

Rotary's 'Flying Governor' pays 2-day visit to Hereford

BY JANIE BANNER
Staff Writer

Dr. T. Paige Curruth, vice president for student affairs at West Texas State University and new governor for District 573 of Rotary International, and his wife, were in Hereford Sunday and Monday for an official Rotary Club visit.

Dr. Curruth attended a two-hour Rotary assembly Sunday during which local club president Ken Rogers and his board of directors discussed this year's club objectives and gave committee service reports. An ice cream social followed.

Monday morning he and his wife, Norma were given a tour of the community. "I had a most impressive tour of your Holly Sugar Plant," he told Rotarians at a noon luncheon Monday.

Referred to as "The Flying District Governor," Curruth took office July 1 and with the help of his Cessna 150, has begun a flying, 4-month tour of visits to 2,500 Rotarians in 47 clubs located in 41 cities across 26 states in the U. S.

In 1968 when Curruth had a busy agenda in speech-making throughout the area for the university, he decided flying was the only solution to his problem of travel in order that he may have more time to spend with his family. So he took up flying. Having joined Canyon's Rotary Club in 1960, Curruth proved worthy of the title of president four years later. In the meantime he served as weekly bulletin editor, club director, chairman of various committees and vice president.

During its existence, the Canyon club has produced two district governors in addition to Curruth. The late Dr. Harris M. Cook served in 1944-45 and Herschel Coffee 1953-54.

Curruth stressed in his speech Monday, as he plans to in all speeches, the 1971-72 theme, "Good Will Begins With You," introduced by Ernest H. Breitholtz, international president from Sweden.

He reminded Rotarians of the club's three main service areas—community service, vocational orientation and international good will.

"The image the community has of your Rotary Club," he said, "is due to service effort on your part.

"I hope you will take into perspective, the value of your young people in the community. If there is any area I've received some degree of knowledge, it's young people," he said.

"I've found they are reluctant with enthusiasm of life in this country and of democracy. They are not against it, only reserved on the issue. They have the inability of responsibility and lack of knowledge on how to work."

He continued, "Help your youth to learn how to work and assume responsibility with enthusiasm on the concept of democracy and patriotism."

Curruth, born in Vernon in 1931, graduated from Canyon High School, attended Texas A&M and graduated from WTSU in 1952. He married Norma that summer.

Following a year of military duty in Korea, he returned to WT where he earned a Master of Education Degree. He taught a history course for three years at Kermit High School before receiving his Doctor of Education Degree at Texas Tech in 1959.

Curruth's next position was that of assistant professor of education at WT where, two years later, he was named associate dean of men.

Curruth and his wife have five children, Alan, 17, Jerri, 14, Joe, 12, Tommy, 9, and Melissa, 6.

adult probation officer for six counties. He assumed the office Aug. 1 and the district attorney's office has been without a special investigator since then.

"It was kind of a mistake what we did with Harold to start with," said commissioner Marcus Latham. "We never intended for him to move his office in with Andy's and we never intended for it to get out of hand like it did—him working just with Andy and not with the sheriff's department."

Brush told the commissioners two of his officers do all of the follow-up work on cases to prepare them for court. This, he said, prevents the arresting officer, if he works a late shift, from having to get up early in the morning and going down to the district attorney's office to prepare the case.

"It still is a mystery to me why Andy thinks we need a special investigator," said commissioner Donald Hicks. "We had six counties before and then we bring it down to one and we all of a sudden seem to need a special investigator. It just doesn't add up."

The drought relief rural grant will be applied for by the local Community Action Program (CAP) and area CAPs have been asked by the state to seek endorsement or participation of counties, cities and chambers of commerce.

"The grant is being offered due to the drought which is causing suffering among the farm laborers," Granado said. "The farm laborers are suffering as much if not more than the farmers."

Under the proposed program, the federal government has allocated $14 million to the state of Texas and this money in turn will be distributed to the various counties, according to the number of persons suffering from drought-caused unemployment.

The program, Granado said, would last only about five or six months.

Maggie Morris dies Tuesday

The funeral of Mrs. Maggie Morris, 85, of 219 Ave. A, member of a pioneer ranching and farming family which came to Deaf Smith County before the turn of the century, will be held at 3 p.m. today in Rose Chapel of Gilliland Funeral Home.

The Rev. H.V. Fields of Grace Gospel Church will officiate. Burial will be in West Park Cemetery.

Mrs. Morris died shortly after noon Tuesday in a local hospital. She had lived here since she came as a girl with others of the J.H. Harris family from Johnson County in 1898 to settle on a section of land her father had brought just north of the cemetery.

She was born in Johnson County Sept. 5, 1885, and married John L. Morris in 1939; he died in 1959. Mrs. Morris was a member to First Baptist Church here.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Ruby Baker of Hereford, Mrs. Rosalee Pitman of Bentonville, Ark. and Mrs. Thelma Biggers of Carthage, Mo.; and three sons, Charles and Jim of Gravette, Ark. and John A. of Carthage.

car and took it into Castro County.

The car stalled on the boys, the sheriff said, so they walked to the home of Louis Dupnik, in Castro County, where they stole a rifle. From there, McPherson said, the boys walked to the Ray Howell farm in this county where they stole his pickup.

A city policeman spotted the vehicle in town a short time later, McPherson said, and chased the car down Bradley Street and into Buena Vista where the driver missed a turn and ran into a pole.

The sheriff said Garza was arrested in the car and Merry made an attempt to get away from officers. One of the officers yelled for him to stop, and when he didn't, the officer fired a shot from a shotgun and struck the boy in the hand, officers said. Merry got away, but later was arrested at a house in Buena Vista.

A second gun was found in the vehicle, officers said, but it was not determined if it was stolen.

Southwestern Public Service observes 50th anniversary

How does a company decide when it is going to celebrate its 50th anniversary year?

In the case of Southwestern Public Service Company, the decision was made last year by the simple expedient of impressing the corporate seal on a piece of plain white paper.

When the resulting impression read, "Incorporated, 1921," 1971 became the electric company's golden anniversary year.

Up until that decision making moment, five different years could make some kind of a case for being the birth year, with one of them going all the way back to 1894. The others were 1904, 1925, and 1942, and the winner, 1921.

1921 won the battle because, in addition to being the year that came up on the seal, it was also the year of organization of the company which, 4 years later, took on the name of Southwestern Public Service Company.

The 1921 company which became today's Southwestern, was the Roswell Public Service Company. Among its incorporators was H. J. Dow, well-known New Mexico pioneer and a director and general counsel for Southwestern Public Service Company until his death in 1969.

The name change to Southwestern Public Service Company came in 1925, which was also the year that expansion began with the purchase of electric systems in Artesia and Carlsbad.

1925 was also the year the company first began operations in Texas, with the purchase of the electric systems in Amarillo, Pampa and Panhandle.

The 1920s are the most interesting years in the electrical development of this region.

The region was then, basically, a cluster of small towns, each of which had its own inadequate, and usually antiquated, electric supplier. There were few, if any, interconnections, with other communities or electric systems. Most of the towns were only large enough to be served by a single circuit, and if something happened the whole town was out of power until it was repaired.

This was an era which also brought some communities electric service for the first time. In late 1926, for example, Southwestern built a transmission line from Amarillo to Pampa and brought electric service to White Deer, Texas for the first time—on Christmas Eve.

There was still considerable fragmentation insofar as electric service was concerned and parts of seven companies, each of them a subsidiary of at least one holding company—were serving throughout the area.

It was apparent, then, that the electric service needs of the area could be met even more efficiently and economically if it were served by a single, independent, operating company, devoid of holding company ties, locally managed and immediately responsive to area needs.

In short, the region, which had fairly common agricultural and business bonds, lent itself to integration, in the electrical sense of that word.

The Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and cooperation between government and business made this integration possible.

The holding company subsidiaries which had been serving the region were merged into a single entity, Southwestern Public Service Company, an independent, integrated operating company. It was the first such company, incidentally, to result from the application of the Holding Company Act.

Thus it was, as the area embarked on the most rapid period of its growth—immediately following World War II, it was served by a single electric supplier prepared to meet the electric service needs that growth brought on.

Southwestern serves a 45,000 square mile area which starts in the southwest corner of Kansas, crosses the Oklahoma and Texas Panhandles, moves down onto the South Plains of the Lone Star state and then moves westward to include the Pecos Valley

Wilhelm family reunion held Sunday in park

Several Hereford families attended an annual family reunion Sunday in Thompson Park where approximately 180 persons gathered for the usual second-Sunday-in-August event.

Attending from Hereford were:

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wilhelm, Mrs. H.J. Wilhelm, Mr. and Mrs. George Wilhelm and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wilhelm and families.

Other relatives traveled from Nazareth, Happy, Umbarger, Amarillo, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Michigan to join in the picnic fun.

and Clovis-Portales regions of New Mexico.

There haven't been any power shortages in this area in the past and the folks at Southwestern don't envision any in the future. To make their visions become reality, the company is adding to its investment at an average annual rate of $20 million. The total investment will pass the 500-million dollar mark in the early 70's. Incidentally, it was $9-million dollars, the total investment, that is, when the company took its present form in 1942.

The ecological and environmental problems that have haunted some utilities have not yet interfered with Southwestern's progress, and, assuming a reasonable approach to the environment and ecology, they shouldn't in the future, either.

Insofar as air pollution is concerned, sulfur dioxide, in particular, the least efficient plant on Southwestern's system is discharging into the atmosphere only one-tenth of the sulfur dioxide that is accepted as o.k.

Southwestern doesn't make much of a contribution to thermal pollution of water, either, inasmuch as it uses cooling towers rather than discharging hot water into rivers or streams. There's one exception to that broad statement at the Carlsbad, N.M. power plant where the condensing water is discharged into the Pecos River, but the temperature increase is within the limits of the state law. The Carlsbad residents who use the beach or fish close to the plant location seem to feel that the warmer water improves rather than hurts their recreational activities.

At the other plants, with their cooling towers, the discharge that you see in the air on a cold day is nothing more than water vapor, and isn't polluting the air one bit.

Newcomer officers installed

Mrs. Robert Emery, retiring Newcomers Club president, presided over a business session Tuesday morning prior to installing officers to serve the club for the next six months.

Mrs. Richard Reich was installed as president with Mrs. Leland Pinkerton and Mrs. Earl Green as vice presidents to serve with her, Mrs. William Farran secretary, and Mrs. Dale Krows treasurer.

Going out of office are Mrs. R.W. Eades and Mrs. Reich, vice presidents; Mrs. Charles Carey, secretary, and Mrs. Charles Richards treasurer.

Mrs. Reich proceeded to welcome new members, Mrs. Garry Jones and Mrs. Larry Jackson, and invited the guests who were present to return.

In remaining business the group discussed tentative plans for a fall fashion show. Hostesses for coming meetings were appointed.

The next meeting will be a luncheon Sept. 14 at the Community Center.

Community forms Green Valley 4-H Club

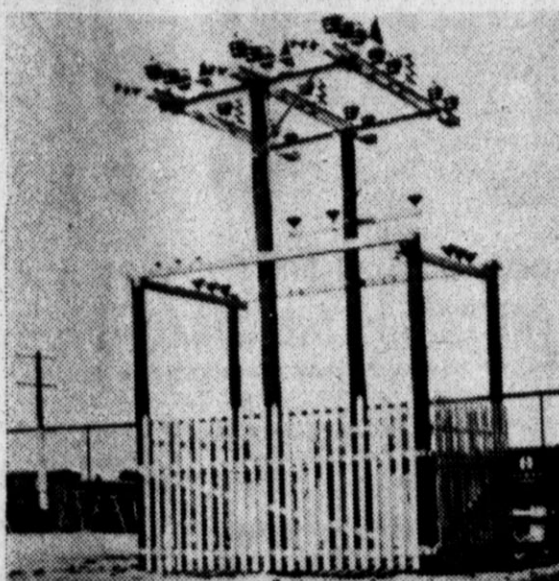

The first meeting of newly-organized Green Valley 4-H Club of Dawn, was held Monday afternoon when officers of the new club were elected.

Wesley Strain will head the group as president, with Wayne Boren vice president, Rhonda Hagar secretary, Doug Robinson treasurer, Dan McCabe reporter, and Kelly Robinson parliamentarian.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Smith are club leaders, who along with Mrs. Edgar Sowell, accompanied the youth on a fun day trip Wednesday afternoon to Wonderland Park in Amarillo.

The next meeting date will be some time in September after school activities have begun, according to McCabe, reporter.

Drivers of disabled cars in London are given exemptions from parking restrictions.

In 1921, the year Southwestern Public Service Company was born, "environment" was the atmosphere in which you raised children and "ecology" was a word to stump kids in a spelling bee and electric substations looked like the one pictured on the left. But "environment" and "ecology" had new meanings in 1971, the electric company's 50th anniversary year, and substations now are beginning to look like the one below.

cheek approach, you could say that the air which flows over the cooling towers is better because it gets a little moisture added and also gets washed. But, it's not really a large percentage of the atmosphere in the region.

Southwestern is working to retain the fresh water resources of the region, and at two of its power plants, Nichols Station, near Amarillo, and Jones Station, Southeast of Lubbock, uses reclaimed sewage effluent as cooling water. This conservation practice saves 6,000,000 gallons of fresh water a day and that's enough to meet the needs of a city in the 20,000 range population bracket.

The oceans of the world will provide the fuel source for electric generation in the future, if research in which Southwestern is participating comes to fruition.

This would be thermonuclear fusion, the fusion of light atoms into heavier elements, and a child's pail of seawater would provide enough fuel to generate the electricity for the average home for a year.

There is, incidentally more energy available from the hydrogen atoms in 7 1/2 square miles of seawater than from all the fossil fuel reserves in the world, and that, in itself, makes the research exciting.

But the excitement of thermonuclear research goes far beyond its potential as a source of electric power.

The fusion process for making electricity will require ionized gases at temperatures of millions of degrees. These ionized gases—they're known as plasma—may be used as a fusion torch to vaporize waste materials of all kinds, turning them into electrified particles of their constituent elements, and making possible the recovery of basic raw materials for recycle into new products.

In other words, instead of letting our waste materials rust or rot away, we'll reclaim them. What's more, we'll separate the elements. Figuratively speaking, we'll put all the iron in one little neat pile—all the aluminum in another—and so on and so on. We may even be able to make new combinations with the protons and neutrons and electrons and make the old alchemists' dream come true and turn a base metal into gold.

Meanwhile, getting down to earth and the electric power business—for today and tomorrow. The crystal ballgazers are saying that the American people are going to demand as much electricity energy in the next 10 years as they have used in the last 90. That would be 18-trillion kilowatt-hours, and it looks like this when you put all the zeros in it—18,000,000,000,000.

Southwestern's share of that load is still an unknown quantity but on their record in the past, the company says it will meet it—with power in reserve.

Before return to Africa

Missionary will speak at church

Preparing to return later this month to Africa for missionary duty, Sandra L. Goodwin, who has lived in Hereford the past four years, will be guest speaker at Sunday morning and evening services at the Assembly of God Church, Union and Ave. G.

With her husband, the late Rev. Sidney R. Goodwin, she spent two years in Ghana, West Africa, in missionary work for the Assemblies of God.

After he was killed in an explosion, she and her daughter, Gwenda, now 11 years old, came to a home here. He was the son of the Rev. H.T. Goodwin, pastor of Hereford Assembly of God, and Mrs. Goodwin.

Her daughter will accompany the young missionary teacher back to Africa. This time she will work in Tanzania, West Africa, teaching in a Bible school at Arusha, a town of about 25,000 population.

Before her departure, she has been speaking in churches of the Assemblies of God, describing the mission work and raising monthly support for a four-year term in Africa. She also has a BA degree in Bible and religious Assemblies of God College at Waxahachie.

The public is invited to hear her in the special missions rally

Sunday, when she will report on work in Ghana as well as the needs in Tanzania.

The Goodwins worked in the northern bush country of Ghana as well as in the central jungle area, with ministry in villages, working with women's and youth organizations.

The Northern Tanzania Bible School where she will teach has over a dozen tribes represented as students. She will teach young adults who are preparing for ministry, and help in area church supervision.

Arusha is located in the heart of the continent's big-game country, near Mt. Kilimanjaro and about 170 miles from Nairobi, Kenya. The altitude is high and temperatures average 72 degrees.

Before she begins her task, Mrs. Goodwin and Gwenda will attend a language school in East Africa to learn Swahili, a Bantu language with 15 main dialects based on Arabic.

She is a graduate of West Texas State University with a BS in sociology, she also has a BA degree in Bible and religious Assemblies of God College at Waxahachie.

Small talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

A VISITOR from Paris—France, not Texas—spent last week in the home of Nita and Hicks Roberson and being shown over the Hereford area. She is Ann Marie Fraysseix, and her stop in Hereford on an American tour is part of an interesting story.

During World War II a company of battle-weary U.S. soldiers was stationed for a rest period in the home of Mme. Odett Marshgay. Hicks Roberson was one of the group, and was so grateful to his hostess and her children for their kindness that he kept the friendship alive by correspondence.

After he returned home his mother, Linnie Mae Roberson, also wrote to Mme. Marshgay, and when the latter came to the U. S. in 1950 she visited the Robersons. Ann Marie is one of the daughters of the family, and followed her mother's example when she in turn came for a U. S. tour.

She was delighted with trips to farms and ranches of this vicinity, to Boys Ranch, cattle sales barns and feedlots—all the "real western" sights the Robersons could think of to make her feel she was actually in Texas!

BACK HOME AFTER a visit in Roswell, Gladys Smith says her son-in-law, Howard Turner of that city, is recovering nicely after major surgery. She spent several days with her daughter while he was in the hospital. He has frequently visited in Hereford and has many acquaintances here.

RECENT VISITORS in the Elmer Patterson home were their daughters and families, along with other relatives and friends.

They included Mrs. Virgil Bennett with Mr. Bennett and children, Jeff, Becca and Greg of Orange, Calif., Mrs. Joe Coldwell and Mr. Coldwell of Tulsa.

Also Miss Mary Frances Chambers and Mrs. Wayman Davenport of Amarillo, R.E. Chambers of Canyon, Miss Edna Daughtee of Pampa who is a former first-grade teacher in Hereford schools, and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Franklin of Troy Mich.

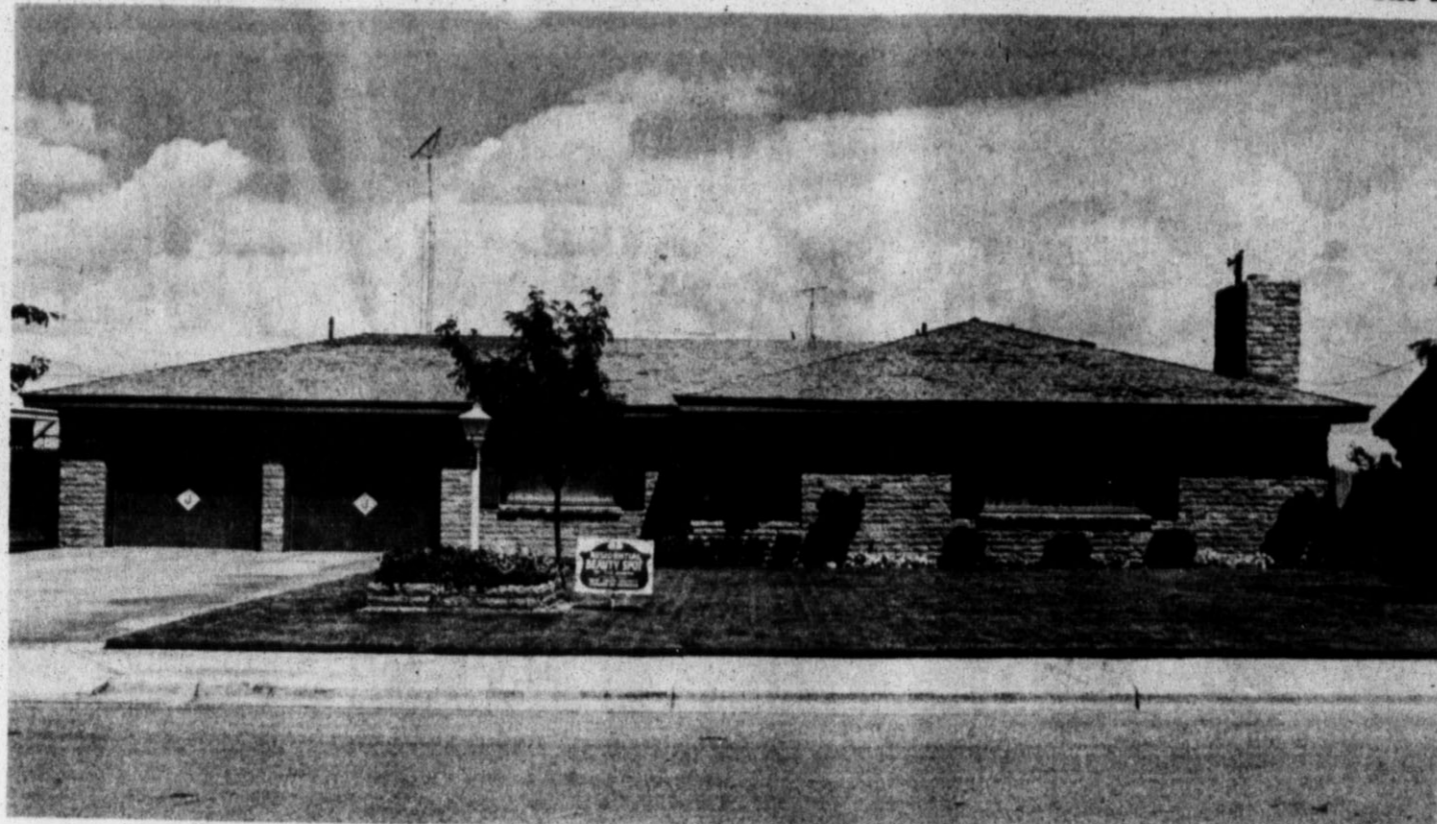

SOME "KISSING cousins" from Baton Rouge, Mr. and Mrs. Noel Morris, spent the weekend with Audrey Thompson and her family. Mrs. Morris is the former Josephine Jolly, who with her twin sister Alma first visited in Hereford when they were 16 years old and Audrey's daughters were about the same age.

Now Mrs. A.J. Schroeter and Mrs. W. T. Carmichael, those daughters were hostesses for a family reunion honoring the visitors at the Carmichael home. daughter of Lubbock were with Mrs. George LeFleur and daughter of Lubbock were with the Morrisses, who were enroute home after a visit in California.

Family members at the reunion included the Alex Schroeters, and daughters, Denise and Debra, the Paul Schoretters and Edwin Schroeter.

IF YOU HAVE some empty Polaroid cartridges you probably don't have any use for them, but there are some people here who do — and would like to have them.

Jan Dean given bridal courtesies

Jan Dean, one of the numerous August brides-elect in Hereford, was honored with a shower Saturday in the home of Mrs. Henry Solomon. Miss Dean is to marry Ken Leach Aug. 20.

With her mother, Mrs. M. E. Dean, and Kathy Jo Good, who will be her maid of honor, she received shower guests who were registered by Diann Brindine. Those in the receiving line were presented daisy corsages.

Becci Helms served cake and Suzanne Solomon poured punch. The white-covered table was centered with an arrangement of daisies with peacock blue satin puffs, set between tapers of matching blue.

Hostesses were Mmes. Boyd Collins, Art Cummins, Gene Brownlow, Barnard Worthan, Florence Vought, Annie Springer, James Priddy, Wayne Lady, Elise Nelson, Danny Marun, Lloyd Thomas, Bonnie Bradley, Charles Springer and G. R. Smith.

Miss Dean was dressed for the party in forget-me-not blue knit with stitching detail as front trim.

children at the Labor Camp. Polaroid fans who empty film cartridges this week will do a real favor to the school workers if they will phone Mrs. M.H. Richie, who will call to collect them.

Lots of the cartridges are needed, so don't hesitate to call her.

Double reunion honors visitors

Two families met in a double reunion Saturday, inspired by the visit here of Mr. and Mrs. L.R. Blevins of Carmichael, Calif.

The Blevins spent the past week in Hereford visiting his mother, Mrs. W.H. Blevins, and her sister, Mrs. Elmer Patterson. In their honor, members of the late W.H. Chambers' family and the Blevins family met in Thompson Park at Amarillo for a picnic meal.

Six of the eight Irvin Chambers children attended: Miss Mary Frances Chambers and Mrs. Wayman Davenport of Amarillo, W. D. Chambers, with Mrs. Chambers, of Clarksville Ark., R.E. Chambers of Canyon, Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Blevins.

Also present were two step-brothers, Harry and Jack Inman, with their wives and the Jack Inman's daughters; an aunt, Mrs. Veva Chambers, with her son George, and his wife, all of Amarillo.

Of the Blevins family, those present were L.R. Blevins' father, L.R. Quarles of Vernon; his sisters and families, Mrs. Lavada Reed and her daughter, Ava Ruth of Amarillo, and Mrs. Henry Johnson with her husband and daughter and sons of Iowa Park; and brothers, Manuel Quarles of Amarillo and Mackey Quarles of Iowa Park, with their wives.

FEEDYARD DEAL — Virgil Marsh center, and Eddie Reinauer Jr. clinch the deal that put Three-R Feedyards, Inc., into the hands of a new corporation known as Champion Feeders, Inc. The Reinauer family owned Three R and are among stockholders in Champion Feeders, whose principal stock is held by Southwest Feed Yards, Inc. Marsh is president of the new company. Charles Hoover, left, general manager of Southwest Feed Yards, also will be general manager of Champion Feeders, Inc.

Three R Feed Yards gets new ownership

A group whose principal stockholder is Southwest Feed Yards, Inc., acquired Three R Feed Yards, Inc., Wednesday in a purchase agreement that amounted to more than $1 million.

Three R Feed Yards, on U.S. 60 just northeast of Hereford, will be known in the future as Champion Feeders, Inc., it was announced.

The former owners of the feedyard—Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Reinauer Sr., their two sons and daughter—own stock in the new corporation.

Charles Hoover, general manager of Southwest Feed Yards, also will be the general manager of Champion Feeders, according to Virgil Marsh president of Champion Feeders.

Three R has owned and operated a custom cattle feedyard with a capacity of 28,000 head since Jan. 2, 1968. The combined capacity of Champion Feeders and Southwest Feed Yards will be 63,000 head.

Other board members of Champion Feeders besides Marsh are Bill Gentry, E.C. Reinauer Jr., George Jones, Shirley Garrison, Ed Weick and Frank Begert.

Besides Southwest Feed Yards, the principal stockholder other stock is held by Marsh, E.C. Reinauer Sr., Frank J. Bezner, Dave Hopper, N. D. Bartlett Jr., Neil Cooper, Frank Begert, George Jones, Clay Cooper, Harold R. Stewart, William S. Reinauer, Cecilia Ann Reinauer, Castro Feeders, Inc., E.C. Reinauer Jr., Marsh Cattle Co., E.B. Reinhardt, G.W. Duncan, Thomas E. Braddy, Mrs. N.A. Brown and Sons and Hall Cattle Co.

Gentry, president of Southwest Feed Yards, said Southwest Feed Yards "is pleased to be a part of the further growth and development of the cattle feeding industry in the Hereford area, the resulting economic benefit to the producers of milo and stocker cattle, as well as our whole economy." He praised the E. C. Reinauer family and the other stockholders as being knowledgeable in the cattle feeding industry.

"We are also very pleased to have an energetic capable type person as Virgil Marsh as the president of the new corporation."

Eddie Reinauer Jr., president of Three R Feed Yards, said that he and the other members of his family are enthusiastic about the new ownership and the Reinauer family's interest in the new company.

"We were primarily motivated by a desire to obtain more management and be able to better serve its customers or its feeders. This will allow our family to become more involved in the feeding of cattle," he said.

Charles Hoover, who will serve as General Manager for both Champion Feeders, Inc.

and Southwest Feed Yards, Inc. said the joint management of Southwest Feed Yards, Inc. Champion Feeders should make for a more efficient service to feeders and customers.

"Southwest is most appreciative of support given by the community and hope we can be in a position to help the community in return," Hoover said.

"We want our customers to know that we shall continue to improve our service to them."

The sale was made and handled by Ralph Owens & Associates, Inc.

REDMEN SCORE AGAIN NEW YORK (AP)—St. John's University's baseball team this spring compiled a 24-5-1 record, third best in Coach Jack Kalsner's 16 seasons with the Redmen.

Boy attending special camp

Joey Mazurek, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Mazurek of Hereford, is attending a week-long muscular dystrophy camp at Leuders, about 30 miles northeast of Abilene.

Joey is one of about 60 children stricken with muscular dystrophy who are attending the camp.

Each of the children are accompanied constantly by volunteer workers during the week they are at the camp. Joey's volunteer worker is Pat Silcott of Pampa.

The week-long camp began Sunday and will end Saturday when all of the children return home.

During their stay at the camp, the children participate in all types of activities.

This is the second year Joey has attended such a camp. Last year he attended the camp held at Floydada.

Aikman will try non-graded plan

The non-graded format, introduced in the Hereford school system a year ago at the new Tierra Blanca Elementary School, will be implemented in Aikman School this year on the first grade level, Supt. Roy Hartman announced Tuesday night at the School Board meeting.

Aikman will be operating the program out of traditional, individual classrooms instead of in mammoth single classrooms for one grade, as is done at Tierra Blanca. Consequently, the school will be unable to fully use the team-teaching effect which educators consider a major part of the program.

Aikman principal D. C. Martin approached Assistant Supt. Bob Holman earlier this year and asked that his school be allowed to introduce the non-graded format on a limited basis this year.

Earlier in the summer, the administration received requests from the principals of Central and Shirley Schools, Bill McCarty and Howard Birdwell, to convert part of their curriculum to non-graded format. Those programs were proposed with an eye to tearing down a number of walls in moving to the big classrooms and were put aside for the time being because of the cost factor.

"We think the non-graded program can be modified to the traditional classroom, although we don't think it will be nearly so effective," Hartman said. "But we also think that when someone is interested in trying it, it is worth giving a try."

The announcement came informally, during a session of the meeting that concerned the success of the summer migrant school program at Tierra Blanca. Teachers from throughout the local school system taught the summer school and Hartman said the summer program was beneficial both to students and teachers.

Teachers going back to their regular schools this fall will in many cases be modifying their programs to put them more in line with goals pursued at Tierra Blanca, Hartman said.

Martin and Holman sat down and determined the classroom materials they would need for the program, and those materials have been ordered, Hartman said.

Martin, contacted at Aikman Wednesday morning, said the change will mean first graders at his school will not receive report cards this year. Instead it will be a matter of the teachers having conferences with the parents on the child's progress, similar to those Tierra Blanca initiated in the past year.

"Actually, our situation will be very similar to that at Tierra Blanca except that we won't have the students all in one area, and we'll consequently have less team teaching than at Tierra Blanca," Martin said.

The children will be grouped in levels of approximately their equals in each subject, Martin said, with the children being moved into other groups as they progress.

"We have a better opportunity to put children doing similar work together. We feel the children will be happier that way, and teachers will be able to do more for children all along. We have so many children here who are migrant and who come here all along, throughout the year. We need to put them in groups where we can work with them a little more, give a little more attention to them."

Holly agriculturists continue with 4-point beet program

Holly Sugar Corporation agriculturists are working daily on step two of the four point sugarbeet quality improvement program, Bob Ginn, agricultural manager for the Hereford factory district announced today.

Holly agriculturists are collecting the stems of the sugarbeet leaf from all sugarbeet fields in the Hereford district area. These stems, or "petioles," are sent to Holly's testing laboratory at the Hereford factory where they are analyzed for nitrogen content.

This information tells Holly and its growers how well the sugarbeet plants are supplied with nitrogen.

"To produce high quality beets, the nitrogen in the petioles should be down to at least one thousand parts per million four to six weeks before harvest," Ginn explained.

Ginn said that this approach helps Holly's agriculturists to advise growers on the amounts and kinds of fertilizers to use for the production of high quality beets.

Prior to growers planting sugarbeets this spring, Holly agriculturists measured the amount of nitrogen in the soil, which was the first step in the beet quality improvement program, Ginn explained.

He said that two more petiole tests will be made this summer on the growing beets. In addition, when the sugarbeets are delivered to the factory this fall, the burl, or pulp, will be analyzed for nitrogen as well as for sugar.

According to Ginn, every sugar sample going through Holly's tare laboratory this fall will be tested for nitrates.

"High sugar content is associated with low nitrogen content and conversely low sugar is associated with high nitrogen," Ginn explained.

Following the 1971-crop harvest, agriculturists will collect soil samples to the four foot depth from all fields which produced sugarbeets this year.

"This will give us a measure of the amount of nitrogen and other elements required for the production of sugarbeets which the 1971 crop removed from the soil. Knowing this, more accurate nitrogen fertilization can be made for a high quality crop in 1972," Ginn said.

"We will also collect soil samples to the four foot depth from all fields which are to be

Texas Tech's Jim Carlen is already taking his place among the top coaches in college football. The young Red Raider gridmaster ranks among the 20 winningest active major college coaches with his career mark of 33-17-3, a .651 percentage.

Red Raider defensive tackle Milton Hibler believes in keeping busy. In addition to his scholastic load, Hibler and his wife Susan managed an apartment complex in Lubbock this summer. Hibler took his job seriously, doing all necessary maintenance and repair work himself.

Texas Tech will appear on regional television twice this year, first against Arizona Oct. 2 and then versus SMU Oct. 23. Both games are on the road.

Fifty-five of the 61 players listed on Tech's varsity roster are Texans. Included are 14 from Lubbock, Fort Worth, Corpus Christie and San Antonio.

The Red Raiders have two varsity players named Ingram and both excel in the classroom as well as in the field. Kicking specialist Dicky Ingram, who booted a 48 yard field goal last year as well as setting the single game extra point record with seven against UC Santa Barbara, had a perfect 4.0 grade average last semester. Center, Russell Ingram, a pre-season All-SWC pick, has made the Dean's Honor List three of his four semesters at Tech.

Randy Jeffers, sophomore animal science major from Amarillo, will be Tech's masked rider this fall. The masked rider tradition was born in the Red Raiders' first Gator Bowl engagement Jan. 1, 1954 when fans were thrilled with the way the team streamed onto the field behind the masked rider and his horse.

GOING TO CONFERENCE— Mrs. S. G. Townsend, center, president of the Women's Division, Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, with Mrs. Lynn Kester, left, and Mrs. Stan Knox will represent the Hereford group at a state meeting of Women in Chambers of Commerce at Amarillo this weekend. Mrs. Townsend will give a report at the Saturday morning conference session.

C of C women to attend meet

Three members of the Women's Division of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce will attend the third annual Texas Conference for Women in Chambers of Commerce this weekend in Amarillo and Mrs. S.G. Townsend, president, will give the report of activities here.

Mrs. Lynn Kester, vice president, and Mrs. Stan Knox, director, will be the others to go from Hereford, it was reported at the August executive meeting at a luncheon in Hereford Country Club Tuesday noon.

Conference sessions will begin with a banquet Friday evening and continue through breakfast, business meeting, style show luncheon and tour of Amarillo Saturday, dinner that evening and a closing brunch Sunday when Bob Mills, public relations director of Pioneer Gas Co., will speak on women's role in Chambers of Commerce.

Assistance to the Chamber of Commerce in host duties for the annual dinner for new teachers in Hereford Public Schools was discussed at the luncheon.

It was announced that a tour of the Hereford area for a group of women from Stratford has been requested, and will be arranged by the tour committee.

Project identification, now being sponsored by the Women's Division, is well under way, Mrs. Milton Adams reported. This is a project to encourage residents to stencil their drivers license numbers on appliances, furniture and other articles which might be stolen.

Tools for doing the stenciling are made available through the Women's Division and may be rented for a fee of one dollar, with a $10 deposit required until the tool is returned to the Chamber of Commerce office.

Aim of this program is to mark articles with a number which affords certain identification in case they are stolen. Cards to notify a possible thief that the article is so marked, are affixed to the article. The

Cindy Lea is shower honoree

State Norvell's Aug. 28 bride-elect, Cynthia Lea, was complimented Tuesday afternoon with a shower and tea in the home of Mrs. Homer Crim on the Dimmitt Highway.

Miss Lea, her mother, Mrs. Lewis Lea, her fiancé's mother, Mrs. Luther Norvell and Miss Janet Tipps, who will attend the bride in her wedding, received guests.

Shella Lea, sister of the honoree, invited guests to register. Hostesses with Mrs. Crim were Mes. John Alkin, Ivan Block, H.M. Boozer, Robert Brown, David Brumley, Herschel Burrus, B.F. Cain, Tommy Carnahan, Albert Cherry, Ray Coleman and Edward DeLozier. Also Mes. Herman Ford, John Gooch, Robert Hickman, Bob Hughes, R. M. Layman, Ted Panciera, Jess Robinson, Glenn Watts, Jerry Weldon and Carl Williams.

Lime colored cake squares centered with daisy sugar flowers were served by Stacie Lea, sister of the bride-to-be, Lisa Williamson and Denise Williamson.

The serving table, covered with a white linen cloth held an epergne arrangement of daisies tied with lime green ribbon.

For the evening the honoree wore a yellow knit A-line style dress with white beaded choker and white accessories. The dress was accented by a daisy corsage.

Trip to Alaska taken by woman

Relatives in Alaska and Washington were visited by Mrs. Jewel Awtrey in a trip to the Northwest which included side tours for sightseeing and her first plane trip. She returned home on the weekend.

With her sister, Mrs. E.T. Ward and Mr. Ward of Portales, she went first to Kennewick, Wash., by car to visit in the home of a brother, Wayland Bryant. They were joined there by another brother, Joe Bryant of Clovis with his wife and their son, Jake of California.

She and Joe then flew to Anchorage, where they visited a third brother, Gene, a sister-in-law, Mrs. Rosina Bryant, and her sons and families. While they were there, Gene Bryant engaged a bush pilot to fly them for a close-up look at Mount McKinley and a landing to visit a mine in which he was interested.

Their return to Anchorage was slower, on a train of none-too-modern vintage which carries freight and tourists to the area. "Not at all like the Santa Fe Superchief," Mrs. Awtrey described it.

She returned home via Seattle and Denver to the Amarillo airport.

Visits are made by Rainbow Girl

Visits to two Rainbow Assemblies in nearby cities have been made recently by Kathy Roberts, a Hereford Rainbow Girl who this year is serving in a state post, junior member of the grand music committee.

One of her duties is to pay official visits to other groups. She was accompanied by Cindy McWhorter and Kay Hagar of the Hereford Assembly when she went to Canyon Tuesday evening for a business meeting of the girls there.

She visited Silverton Rainbow Girls Monday evening, with Sue Roberts, Janet McWhorter and Lynette Cawthon.

Hunter safety course to begin soon as possible

Chuck Cosper, local Parks Wildlife official, said anyone interested in joining a course in hunter safety should contact him at his office in the courthouse as soon as possible.

Cosper said he and other licensed National Rifle Association instructors are trying to get the course going and completed before Sept. 1, before the first hunting season begins.

The course will consist of four, two-hour sessions and will be for the benefit of hunters under the age of 21.

A new state law which may go into effect next year, would make it mandatory for all hunters under the age of 21 to participate and pass the course in hunter safety. The course will be NRA sanctioned and handled through the Parks and Wildlife department, Cosper said.

NO WEE DROP

DUBLIN, Ireland — Irishmen drank 48 pints of beer per capita in the year ending March 31, the Eire Revenue Commission reports.

That amounted to 143 million pints of beer, compared to only 1.5 million gallons of whisky and 1 million gallons of wine.

The tax take from that beverage was $150 million.

VEGETABLE SPAGETTI?— Danny, Gerald and Curtis Brinkley, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis J. Brinkley of 506 Lee St., discuss the new squash they are growing at their farm garden 8 miles south of Hereford. The boys say that when the Vegetable Spagetti is boiled whole, and then opened, it resembles cooked spaghetti in appearance, but tastes like other squash. The plant voluntarily reseed each year after planting.

Prelims to CCA drive scheduled

Date for the orientation coffee for workers in the annual Community Concert Association membership drive is Aug. 26, and the place is the Harlan Vander Zee home, it was announced by Hazen Woods, local president after an executive meeting Monday.

In the fall shortly before a new season of programs.

Community Concert Association programs are open only to members; tickets are not sold for individual concerts. Members are assured of at least three concerts by nationally-known performers each season. Already engaged for one of the 1971-72 programs here is the famed Stan Kenton orchestra, to appear April 23. The remaining concerts will be booked at the end of the drive, when the budget is assured.

This plan is followed in the Association to assure that there will be no deficits; only the money which is raised through memberships is spent each year after the amount is determined to provide a bigger budget, added concerts may be booked.

Preparing for the orientation, drive captains met in the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce office Monday to list prospective members and arrange material for the workers' packets. A group of local Campfire Girls met there Tuesday and prepared the packets.

TOPS Club has supper guests

Queens of the week were Mrs. Elmore Rains and Mrs. Bill Gilleland, in a tie.

A salad supper was served, featuring the low-calorie foods which help members in their goal of Taking Off Pounds Sensibly. Mrs. Bartley Dowell and Mrs. Rains were hostesses.

Mrs. Jesse Licon and Mrs. Larry Jackson were welcomed as guests.

Belva Lockwood was the only woman ever to run for president.

Officially, the high seas begin three miles from shore.

HOLD ON

How we love to watch these trapeze artists perform! We watch them in amazement, though feeling some peril in their doings. We can almost hear the crowd say "Hold On!" It is a parable of you and me. God is the strong member of the team. We live every day in peril and difficulty... we hang from His hand.

We must hold to the hand of God if we win. Prayer is our aid to keep his hand in ours. We read The Book and attend His church for courage and strength. But a closer look will give us hope. We are "holding on" to God but better still God is "holding on" to us.

God does not faint or grow weary. Then "hold on" to Him, for "He shall renew thy strength."

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

in green holders were placed at intervals, each surrounded by fern leaves and a few blossoms of yellow asters and deep red snapdragons.

Meeting studies tornado effect

LUBBOCK — A week-long shortcourse on design of structures to resist tornadoes and hurricane winds will be held at Texas Tech Aug. 16-20.

Civil engineering Prof. James R. McDonald, director of the short course, said the increasing incidence of wide spread destruction caused by tornadoes and hurricanes each year has led engineers to seek ways of designing structures to be more resistant to extreme winds.

"The old concept that a structure cannot be designed to resist the destructive force of a tornado is being re-evaluated from a point of safety and economy," Dr. McDonald said. "There is today a trend to include design criteria for tornadoes and hurricanes in both local and regional building codes."

to present a comprehensive study of the nature of tornadoes and hurricanes and to relate their behavior to the structural response of various types of building systems.

All sessions except the tours will be held in the Business Administration Building room 168 at Texas Tech from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. Aug. 16 through Aug. 19. The program for Aug. 20 will end at noon.

Fee is $200 per person. Registration may be mailed to Dr. James R. McDonald, Department of Civil Engineering, P. O. Box 4089, Texas Tech University, Lubbock, 79409.

Spice-rice party fetes bride-elect

A dozen close friends of Miss Connie Hoover, Aug. 19 bride-elect of Jerry Sublett, gathered Monday evening in the R.N. Yarbro home at 121 Kingwood for a spice and rice party.

Rice bags to be distributed at the wedding reception were filled with colored rice and tied with matching ribbon in colors of aqua, green and yellow.

Hostesses, Judy Yarbro, Jane Zinser and Joy McCathern alternated in serving refreshments, informally.

The round serving table laid with a green cloth edged in lace, held round party sandwiches stacked in the shape of a cake surrounded by a floral arrangement of yellow daisies.

Mothers of the soon-to-wed couple, Mrs. Charles Hoover and Mrs. V.D. Sublett, were among guests.

State TSTA meet draws Hartman, Huber

AUSTIN — Two Hereford educators, Roger Huber and Roy Hartman, were among some 350 local, district and state leaders of the Texas State Teachers Association who held their 1971 Local Association Presidents Conference here at the Villa Capri Convention Center.

Participants included TSTA state officers, committee members and staff members, presidents from many of the 20 districts and more than 400 local associations of TSTA, and representatives of affiliate organizations. Chief order of business at the conference was planning for the 1971-72 organization, activities and objectives of the 139,000 member association of Texas teachers, particularly as related to the local groups. TSTA has set a membership goal of 14,000 for 1972.

Directing the conference were TSTA state officers: Mrs. Patsy Duncan of Amarillo, president elect; Mrs. Jewell Harris of Abilene, immediate past president; and L. P. Sturgeon of Austin, executive secretary-treasurer.

TSTA President Archie Roberts of Beeville is in Kingston, Jamaica to attend a world-wide meeting of educators.

Huber, a teacher at Tierra Blanca Elementary School, is president of the Hereford local unit of TSTA. Hartman is superintendent of the Hereford ISD and is membership chairman for District XVI of TSTA.

Young-Malouf vows Solemnized Tuesday

Wedding vows uniting Miss Cathy Sue Young and Tony Malouf were conducted Tuesday evening in First Presbyterian Church by the Rev. Timothy McDonald of St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Neal Young of 428 Avenue I, and Mr. and Mrs. Hanna Malouf, 500 Brevard.

Mrs. Charles Jones and Larry Kuper presented musical selections including The Lord's Prayer and theme songs from Romeo and Juliet and Love Story.

Vows were read as the couple stood before an altar colorfully flanked by floral arrangements of gladioli, daisies, cornflowers, roses and carnations in lavender, pink, yellow and orange. Matching bows marked the ends.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white crepe gown featuring tucks on the bodice and long sleeves. A ruffle of lace accented the neckline and beginning of sleeve puffs.

Her sheer cathedral length veil, edged in lace to match the gown, fell from a two-tiered organza bow. She carried flowers similar to those in the altar arrangement.

The bride wore a ruby and pearl lavalier, a gift to her grandmother from her grandfather in 1919.

Attendants, Miss Cindy Ince of San Antonio, and Miss Carmen Malouf, sister of the bridegroom wore printed crepe shirts and yellow voile blouses with gathered necklines and long sleeves.

The skirts, featuring elastic waistlines, were underskirted with yellow voile ruffles. Pink, yellow and orange print flowers were scattered on a purple background. They carried orange roses.

George Malouf, brother of the bridegroom, served as the couple's best man. Karl French was groomsmen. Gary Goodin and Jim Childers ushered.

A reception followed in the home of the bride's parents where Miss Sylvia Malouf, sister of the bridegroom, registered guests.

Mrs. Leon Massey of Friona, Mrs. Jim Young of Tulsa, and Misses Souad and Emil Malouf, sisters of the bridegroom, served cake and punch from the bride-and-grooms' tables.

For a wedding trip to Acapulco, Mexico, the bride wore a blue and white printed voile dress.

The couple will be home after Sept. 5 in Tucson, where Malouf will study at the University of Arizona.

Both 1968 graduates of Hereford High School, Mr. and Mrs. Malouf attended the University of Texas at Austin where Mrs. Malouf pledged the Alpha Lambda

HARVEST DINNER MAKING'S — Ten different varieties of vegetables grown this year in Deaf Smith County are in this collection which members of the American Legion Auxiliary will serve at their annual Harvest Dinner Friday. There will be two or three others, along with beef from the county's feedlots and cobblers made with fruit from local orchards. Area residents look forward to this dinner each summer, and all are invited to dine between 11:30 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. in the Legion building near the entrance of Veterans Park. Mrs. Ira Ott, right, general chairman, discusses the supply of vegetables with the Auxiliary president, Mrs. Elbert Vance, center, and Mrs. Clyde Gilliland, who was in charge of securing the produce from vegetable growers.

Legislature aids freshmen at church colleges

Senate Bill 56, called the "tuition equalization grant," will aid students attending private and independent colleges and universities in Texas.

The appropriations bill passed both houses included $4 million for the grants during the next two-year period. The bill will apply to freshmen only in the 1971-72, freshmen and sophomores in 1972-73 and all classes by 1974-75.

Five eligibility requirements were recommended: (1) Texas resident; (2) full-time student; enrolled in at least 12 credit hours per semester; (3) a student with freshman standing (less than 30 semester hours) at the beginning of the 1971-72 school year; (4) attending a school accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools; and (5) no student on any kind of athletic scholarship is eligible.

In addition the student must establish financial need. The Coordinating Board is expected to use regulations similar to the Hinson-Hazlewood College Loan Fund Act in determining need.

Freshman students at Lubbock Christian College that have financial need will be eligible for the $600 grant. Many other financial assistance programs for freshmen and all other students are available.

Additional information can be obtained from the LCC administrative office.

CAPTAIN GETS DEGREE

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. — Capt. Alfred F. Blair, who left college 31 years ago to join the Navy, finally got his bachelor of arts degree at Penn State.

The Pittsburgh native, now commanding officer and director of the Antisubmarine Warfare Tactical School in Norfolk, Va., took a nine-month furlough from the Navy to enroll at the Ongontz campus of the university near Philadelphia. While at sea he worked on correspondence courses and he studied languages with private tutors.

Capt. Blair, 54, said "I wanted to wrap up that college degree before all five of my children beat me to it."

In the last 10 years, Communist Hungary spent $4.35 million on restoring churches and the art in them.

NEWCOMERS CLUB OFFICERS INSTALLED—Mrs. Richard Reich, left, was installed Tuesday morning to serve the upcoming six month term as president of the Newcomers Club. Mrs. Robert Emery, retiring president, also installed, continuing to the right, Mrs. Leland Pinkerton, vice president, Mrs. William Farran, secretary, and Mrs. Dale Krows, treasurer. Not present was Mrs. Earl Green, second vice president.

Kitchen shower Given at coffee

Kitchen accessories were the gifts presented to Nancy Martin, bride-elect, at a coffee Saturday morning in the home of Mrs. W.L. Davis Jr.

Honoree at several pre-nuptial parties recently, Miss Martin is to be married Saturday to Capt. James Cwelch at Denver, where she has been a teacher the past two years and he is associated with the U.S. Air Force Titan Missile Program.

Mrs. Earl Stagner and Mrs. Wayne Phillips were hostesses with Mrs. Davis for the kitchen shower, where gift packages were presented informally, and opened so guests could inspect the contents.

Mrs. Fred Martin of Dawson, sister-in-law of the bride-to-be, poured coffee at a table decorated with pink roses.

Guests with Miss Martin and her mother, Mrs. Don Martin, were Mmes. Labry Ballard, W.T. Carmichael, Norman Gray, M.W. Nobles, J.B. Pool, Joe Story, Ed Wilson Jr., Richard Winger and J.B. Noland; Misses Patti Nobles and Pamela Winger.

Mrs. DELMAR THOMAN with son, Derek

Chef at age 12

BY JANIE BANNER Staff Writer
EVEN AT AGE 12, when Judy Thoman began cooking complete meals, she got no complaints from her 7-member family. "At least they didn't express any complaints if they had them," she laughed.

Now married and mother of 8-month-old Derek, Judy still lists cooking as her favorite pastime. Of the two, cooking and baking, Mrs. Thoman has no preference. "I like doing both just the same," she said.

One of the Delmer Thomans' favorite desserts, however, is:

CHERRY DESSERT

Beat 3 egg whites until stiff. Gradually add: 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 cup nuts, chopped, 24 small, individual soda crackers, crushed. Fold above together. Spread in 9 x 13 x 2 inch pan. Bake at 325 degrees for 20 minutes. Remove from oven and cool. Whip two envelopes Dream Whip, 1/2 cup sugar and an 8-oz. package cream cheese. Spread on top of cooled crust. Spread can cherry pie filling on top and serve.

Mr. and Mrs. Thoman are newcomers to Hereford, and Texas, after moving here in March from Newton, Kansas on a transfer to the local Duckwall store, where Thoman is manager. They reside at 812 1/2 Brevard.

COMPARING TEXAS to Kansas, Judy said "Texas is dry and not as green."

While living in Kansas the couple had ample time to do the things they enjoy most—skiing and horseback riding. Next in line would be sports, whether it be baseball, football, or any other type.

IF THOMAN COULD spend all his time where he pleased, he could most likely be found on his grandfather's farm in Kansas where he has a few head of cattle.

Misti, the Thoman's poodle, was their first child, muses Judy, explaining, "She takes as much care as the baby and thinks she's human."

Sherman wins appointment to court committee

LI. Gov. Ben Barnes has announced the appointment of Senators Charles Herring of Austin, Jim Wallace of Houston and Max Sherman of Amarillo to the interim committee studying the Traffic Court System in the State of Texas.

Created as one of the largest interim committees, this 18-member board will investigate the mechanics of traffic court procedure. By eliminating the unnecessary elements that tend to bog down the legal process at the citizen's expense, they hope to make the traffic court system one which operates not only efficiently but in a personal manner.

The remaining members to be appointed by the governor and the speaker have not yet been announced.

AIRING THEIR VIEWS
HOUSTON, Tex. — When students at Rice University wanted a radio station, the Board of Governors approved if it did not cost the school. So this summer, using donated equipment and a $2 head tax which 2,000 students voted on themselves, KTRU went on the air, broadcasting on the FM band.

Tech researchers study space pics

LUBBOCK — Getting a good picture back from outer space involves more than the click of a shutter. Pictures arrive in strips, and where the strips join there are lines. These must be removed. Flaws and focus, also affected by transmission, need correction.

This can be done in minutes by computers or in split-seconds by lasers.

The speed with which lasers work is their big advantage, but for every type of correction which must be made a new filter is necessary.

Researchers working in Texas Tech University's Department of Electrical Engineering believe that the filter disadvantage might be overcome, that in the future the adjustment of turnable knobs may do the work of filter changes.

Already they have designed and built an apparatus to split a laser beam and put it back together again without scrambling it, and this is a major step in their progress.

The researchers for the summer terms are visitors in the department working under direction of Prof. Marion O. Hager.

Projects assigned to students and teachers are under the direct supervision of faculty in electrical engineering, and they cover such broad research areas as solid state science and technology, laser science, coherent optics, controlled thermonuclear fusion and communication. All are working on a 1-1 student-teacher ratio.

Heart patients could benefit from the project undertaken by Clifford A. Meyer, electronics teacher at Gadsden State Junior College at Gadsden, Ala.

His project is the design and development of a miniature device to make emergency diagnoses for heart attack victims.

The device, about the size of a small transistor radio, could be placed against the chest of the patient, and it would give an electronic reading on the immediate condition of the heart, and so indicate the type of emergency treatment called for.

UPS AND DOWNS

LONDON — Britain's Foreign Office estimates that the cost of running the foreign service will drop by $24 million in the next fiscal year.

The cost reduction will come from increased receipts from the issuance of passports and visas, and from smaller payments for special services including defense aid, military assistance and training for commonwealth countries and former colonial territories.

DEPOT IS MUSEUM

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo. — Five railroads served this once-bustling mining center at one time, but now the old depot serves as a museum with tourism the main source of income for Cripple Creek's 600 population.

U. S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen's weekly report:

MAIDEN SPEECH RECOGNIZED

The United States Senate is known as the world's greatest deliberative body which means, than the 100 Senators from the 50 states have the opportunity to speak often and at some length on the Floor of the Senate. The rules generally permit lengthy discussions or deliberations, as Senators prefer to say, on every subject which comes before the Senate.

One of the customs of the Senate is the maiden speech of new Senators. It is not as formally ritualized as it was in years past, but it is still a method for a new Senator to try his wings as an orator in what is considered the toughest oratorical pit in the world. I joined the company of those who have given what is called their maiden speech on the Floor of the Senate this week.

Actually, I had participated previously in debate on the Floor several times. But this was my first formal request for delivery of a speech.

Because there are hearings underway on bills on the subject, including a measure which I introduced, and because the Senate will soon be considering the bills, I chose as my topic the separation of powers of the Executive and Legislative branch in wars.

RESTORE AUTHORITY TO CONGRESS

My bill is aimed at restoring Congressional authority on the commitment of U.S. troops overseas. Without pointing the finger of blame at any past or present Administrations, I am seeking to restore to the Congress, the body closest to the people, the powers to declare war as outlined in the Constitution. That power has been permitted to flow to the Executive branch because of the failure of Congress to act decisively in the role envisioned by the framers of the Constitution. While there are many differences today compared to the days when the Constitution was drawn, the basic premise that no one man should have the right to send our sons to war without the consent of the elected representatives of the people remains valid. Neither the Executive, nor any committee chairman should have that power. In my speech, and in testimony before the Foreign Affairs Committee, I stressed that the inactivity of Congress, really the abdication of their authority through failure to act, had left the decisions to the President. The Constitution provides for a sharing of those decisions, and the responsibilities.

them, is the best way to maintain open debate and a sharing of the responsibilities of great decisions which can command the continuing support of the people.

CONGRESS SHOULD PARTICIPATE

Paramount to the issue of who shall decide to send our sons to war is the limit of the President's power vis a vis the Congress. The President should not have the authority to commit our troops to foreign soil without the specific approval of the U.S. Congress.

The question is one of deep passions today because of the widespread differences over the Vietnam War. It was not my intent to debate the decisions of that war, but the longer range trend of power flowing to the Presidency because the Congress failed to exercise its prerogatives with the authority given it under the Constitution. It was, on the part of Congress an attrition through negligence. It is my hope that Congress now re-exerts its authority. The people have to fully participate, and the Congress must be fully informed and participate, if we are to expect the support of the people for difficult decisions.

Fear on both sides of the Iron Curtain

A dramatic story concerning international espionage, fear and suspicion from within and outside the Iron Curtain is now available at Deaf Smith County Library. You're sure to enjoy this one. Check it out today.

THE TAMARIND SEED

Defly plotted and set against the glamorous background of diplomatic circles in Washington and New York and on exotic Barbados, here is the dramatic story of a beautiful woman who falls in love with a Russian and finds herself trapped in a web of suspicion, violence, and international espionage.

Judith Farrow, a young British widow working for the UN, goes to Barbados to recover from an unhappy love affair and returns with a tamarind seed—a souvenir of her brief romance with Feodor Sverdlov, a Russian intelligence agent whom she met on the island.

Their innocent flirtation unleashes a tidal wave of suspicion and fear on both sides of the Iron Curtain that plunges the lovers into a violent and dangerous adventure and changes each profoundly.

When British Intelligence learns that Judith spent her holiday with Sverdlov, they immediately suspect her of having been recruited as a communist agent and send one of their men to investigate.

Suspecting the same of Sverdlov, the Russians recall him to Moscow for interrogation. But by far the most dangerous consequence of their meeting is the reaction of "Blue," a prominent Western official who has been leaking information to the Soviets and fears that Sverdlov's defection will destroy his clandestine operations.

In the Tamarind Seed, the author weaves a complex and chilling tale of suspense and tells the moving story of two lovers whose innocent romance sets off an explosive international affair.

BLACK SUN

Black Sun, a beautiful, bitter-sweet love story, is about a forest ranger (loner, iconoclast, lover of the rugged life) who falls for an utterly beguiling freckle-faced "American princess" half his age.

Like Lady Chatterley's lover (and with splendid humor and warmth), he initiates her into the rites of sex and the stark, hidden harmonies of his wild wooded kingdom and canyons; she, in turn, awakens in him the pleasures of loving and being loved—until her sudden disappearance transforms his refuge into a prison of solitude he can no longer support.

If the ending is sad and haunting, the book is not; it's a lyric, jubilant, unforgettable romance with the kind of shimmering dialogue, passion and scenery that Abbey alone can conjure up.

THATSA LOTSA ZUCCHINI — Gwen Wilhelm, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilhelm, who live southeast of Hereford, soon grew tired of posing with this oversized squash produced in her mother's garden. Mrs. Wilhelm says she has many more like this 17-inch product.
