

'Depressed' ruling due soon for city

Representatives of the Housing Urban Development agency will come to Hereford in the near future to determine what areas of the city will be classified "depressed areas" to allow the city to receive federal funding for the development of a park along the Tierra Blanca Creek.

The decision to have the representative come here was made when the city commissioners voted Monday to have city manager Dudley Bayne begin work on getting any federal funds that are available to the city. Bayne just recently returned from a trip to Dallas where he met with HUD officials and found that agency would provide up to 50 per cent of the funding needed to construct a park in South Hereford.

"We can't classify the whole city as a depressed area," Bayne said, "because of the per capita income. But, they will have a representative come in here soon and designate certain areas as "depressed" and we can get the federal money we need."

Bayne said there is one HUD official who is familiar with Hereford and he assured Bayne the city would have no trouble getting areas classified as "depressed."

Monday's meeting was the second meeting in the past month that dealt primarily with the development of the park. The first meeting, at which some 20 local persons appeared on behalf of getting an addition to the golf course, ended with only disagreement between citizens and the city.

Tempers flared briefly again Monday when Charles Skinner, one of four citizens attending the meeting, told the commissioners the local golf course is not comparable to many mainained by smaller cities in the area. He and commissioner Bartley Dowell exchanged words when Skinner said the putting greens of the Hereford course do not compare with those of the Farwell course.

"That's a bunch of crap," Dowell said. "And besides, we're not interested in building a professional golf course. What you're talking about is a high-powered country club."

"No I'm not," Skinner retorted. "The course we have now is 25 years old and we don't need to build another one that is 25 years old. We need one that is modern."

The city has repeatedly said it is financially unable to go right in and build nine more holes to the present golf course. The aid from the federal government cannot be used in the construction of a golf course.

"They feel if a person can play golf, he can't qualify as living in a depressed area. That is why they won't have anything to do with helping us with the golf course," he said.

Skinner suggested the city get a detailed plan of the park and the golf course and put it before the people of Hereford and let them decide what they want.

"I'm interested in a golf course, but a modern one—I mean the best money can buy but without going overboard," he said.

"If Hereford continues to grow as it has we are going to need this, so I say why not get a plan and present it to the people and see what they want to do."

Mayor Jim Sears said the response to such action probably would only be a "deafening silence."

The only way the city can get federal assistance is by declaring the city a depressed area.

There was another alternative—a Master Plan—but Hereford does not have a Master Plan.

The city officials hired a planning firm several years ago to do a Master Plan of the city, but after spending several thousand dollars, the city received a plan it called "ridiculous." The plan showed the best possible location for a city swimming pool was on Main Street where a large grocery store now is located. The plan also had several streets going one way to a dead end at Main Street.

Since then, the city has not involved itself with a Master Plan.

"This one man with HUD has strongly recommended a Master Plan," Bayne said, "because he says it won't be long before the federal government will look only at these cities with the plans to give money to."

Manor gets big gifts at dinner

BY SUE COLEMAN

Announcement of a $35,000 gift to Kings Manor from a Dimmitt church climaxed the retirement home's annual Founders Dinner Monday evening.

The First United Methodist Church of Dimmitt designated the money for the building of a memorial garden activities center.

Total contributions and pledges this year through the Founders Association reached $54,207.20, far exceeding the goal of $40,000. Shirley Garrison, president, announced. Beef to the value of approximately $5,000, contributed by feeders of this area, is included in the 1971 total.

The contribution from the Dimmitt church, announced by Earl Harrison of that city is made with the provision that matching funds be secured from some other source. The activities center it will provide is a part of long-range building plans for the Methodist facility.

"We'll get the matching funds, somewhere or other!" Garrison promised as he accepted the gift from the church of which the Rev. Jim Pickens is pastor.

The annual dinner was served to 320 persons in First United Methodist fellowship hall here. Garrison was reelected president of the association after serving a one-year term; Pete Buske of Friona was named vice president and Mrs. J.T. Gee of that city secretary-treasurer for another term.

Knox Parr of Amarillo and Buske are new directors elected at the dinner, replacing Ed Jacobson and J.T. Gee who retired after serving on the board as long as by-laws permit.

Life memberships in the association were presented to Dr. John English, executive director of the United Methodist retirement home, and Mrs. English; Mrs. W.O. Stacy of Tahoka, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Thompson, Vega; and Mr. and Mrs. Guy McGill, Andrews.

Gifts of $1,000 or more make the donor eligible for life membership, whether given at one time or over a period of years.

Also recognized were resident founders, residents at the Manor who have contributed $10,000 or more.

These are Mrs. L.N. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. S.O. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. John Heard, Mrs. Jesse Stanford, Mrs. A.M. Jones, Miss Frances Dameron, Mrs. Leota Moore, all now living in cottages on the Manor grounds.

Robert Thompson, chairman of the association's education and publication committee, presented special awards to contributors in the "beef-of-the-month" program, Friona Stockyards, Mr. and Mrs. Buske and Dimmitt Feed Yards.

Similar citations were given feeders who have pledged beehives: Pitman-Easley Industries, Champion Feeders, Texsun Feed yards, Hereford Feed yards, Pre-Feeders, Southwestern Feed yards, High Plains Feeders, Pioneer Cattle Buyers and Big Tex yards.

Dr. Clifford Trotter of Amarillo was the dinner speaker, who stressed that Kings Manor Founders are "people concerned not so much with an institution but with the people who live there."

Kings Manor is not an "old folks home," he said, nor a nursing home which "takes care" of patients although it does have a nursing unit, Westgate. It is rather a place which "cares about people," and which alters environment so older people may live as they please.

He mentioned that 54 residents now live active lives in the cottages and the Manor proper while the 51 who reside at Westgate are by no means all confined to bed or chair.

The Rev. Albert Lindley of Friona was master of ceremonies who introduced special guests, many from other cities. He paid a brief memorial tribute to the late Manson Waits, administrator at Kings Manor, and introduced Mrs. Waits as a special guest.

The new administrator, James Reynolds, who lately came from Plainview to the post, was introduced also.

Hospital to change its name in battle against charity load

BY CHARLES RICHARDS
News Editor

The Hospital Board next month will change the name of Deaf Smith County Hospital and consider changing its admission policy. Both moves are aimed at reducing the hospital's number of no-pay patients.

The name almost got changed Tuesday, in the board's September meeting, except that board members couldn't agree on a name that "rings a bell."

Two names "Western General Hospital" and "Deaf Smith General Hospital" actually were offered in the form of motions. The first died for lack of a second and the second was tabled, for 30 days, before coming to a vote.

The feeling was unanimous that the name needs changing. The "county" in the current title leaves the connotation with people that it is a facility for anyone wanting free medical care, they said.

The policy change being considered is one that would admit out-of-county patients only if they could show ability to pay. Board members said the charity load at the local hospital has worsened in recent months, as hospitals in adjacent counties strengthened policies about admitting persons, even in their own counties, only after they had shown evidence they could pay for their hospital care.

Persons from Dimmitt, Friona or Bovina—refused from Dimmitt and Friona hospitals because they couldn't pay—have been coming to Hereford for their free medical care.

Neither residence or ability to pay would be considered in emergency cases such as serious automobile accidents or heart attacks, the board emphasized. They were considering patients who leave their communities and come to Hereford for medical care instead of to their own community facilities.

Ed Line, chairman of the board, suggested a policy putting the burden of proof on the patient. If the patient could show no ability to pay, he would have to prove he is a resident of the county before he could be admitted.

The board put the matter aside for the time being until Line could request an attorney general's ruling concerning what guidelines and standards the hospital could require on its admission policy, since the hospital now is a hospital district.

Without making degrading remarks on Mexican Americans, the board said it is the migrant community which is chiefly responsible for the charity load at the hospital.

Accordingly, board members ruled out "Tierra Blanca" and "La Plata" as part of any new name for the hospital, since they are of Spanish origin.

The word "Memorial" as part of the title also was nixed, because it might be construed as meaning a gift, or something free.

So, board members then began experimenting with "General" in the title. Several names were mentioned, including a flock of "Plains" suggestions, such as West Plains, South Plains, North Plains, etc. Most of those names already are in use on area hospitals.

"How about Western General Hospital? Let's call it that," board member Tommy Carnahan said.

Some of the board members thought it might be a good idea to leave "Deaf Smith" in the title, to honor the man for whom the county was named.

Line then proposed letting county residents pick the new name, through a contest of some sort.

"I mention this in a public relations way. I think it would strike the people favorably to get to make the decision on this," Line said.

That suggestion was dropped after Carnahan indicated his opposition.

"No, when you do that you just make a big issue out of nothing and stir up a lot of trouble," he said, arguing that people would be unhappy when the name that was chosen was the one they favored. "If we change it, they'll accept it and that's that."

Word is out: local hospital an easy touch

Last month, a woman went in to labor in Colorado and drove all night to get to Hereford.

She went to the Deaf Smith County Hospital and three hours later, her baby was delivered. She gave doctors three names. She couldn't afford to pay the medical bills, she said.

Was she from Hereford, doctors asked her.

No, she replied, she was from the Valley.

Was she on her way to the Valley?

No, she was on her way to Hereford, she answered. And as soon as she was released from the hospital, she drove with her baby back to Colorado again.

The woman was one of 90 "walk-ins" the hospital has handled this year in the obstetrics wing of the hospital. A walk-in is a woman whom doctors have never seen prior to the day she shows up at the hospital for her child to be delivered.

The Colorado woman is an example, local doctors say, of how the "word is out" on Hereford's hospital as being a haven for those who want free medical care.

There have been more than twice as many walk-ins for the first nine months of 1971 than for all of 1970.

"The word is out. We're doing all the walk-ins from Hereford, Dimmitt, Friona, and even out of state, like Mississippi and the lady from Colorado," Dr. Hugh McCrary told the Hospital Board Tuesday. He said the increase in deliveries of women who have had no pre-natal care is getting out of hand.

"We've got to do something. It's gotten to be a real problem."

In another case recently, a doctor told a nurse to prepare a "walk-in" from Bovina for delivery and the nurse discovered the woman had already been

"prepped," or shaved. When they questioned her they learned she had been in the Friona hospital and came to Hereford after they dismissed her for inability to pay.

"The thing is, for our doctors to be burdened with out-of-town cases when they have the facilities over there," said Dr. A. T. Mims. "And these persons, who have had no pre-natal care whatsoever, are the ones who have the complications due to pregnancy. I think we're going to have to come to the point where out-of-county girls with hours to go in their labor will have to be sent back to the hospital in the town they came from. Of course that would be a tricky thing. We would be running the risk of putting the girl on the highways," Dr. Mims said.

"It seems to me Castro and Farmer County could absorb their own. And they may be, I don't know all the facts," Mims said.

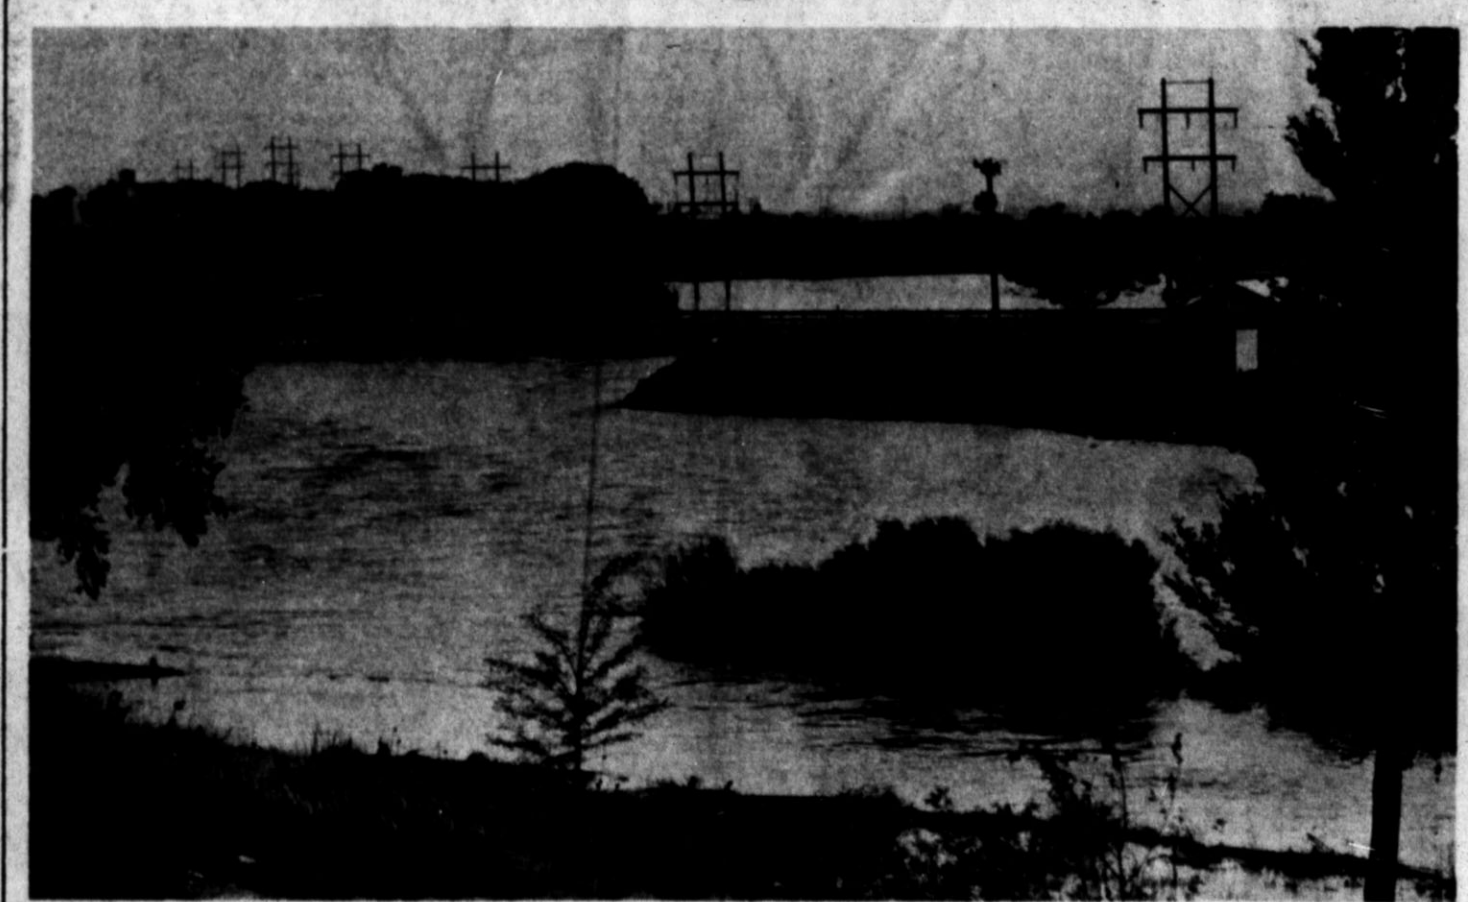

"In Dimmitt, they had a program where migrants could see various doctors. When we opened this public health clinic, they dropped theirs. Sometime you can't afford to be a nice guy," McCrary added.

"They don't pay, but it's not that. We expect to absorb charity cases in obstetrics, but we don't expect it to double," McCrary said.

"It looks like 25 per cent of our babies this year are going to be delivered without any pre-natal care, and that's a bad situation," McCrary said.

Since Deaf Smith County is one of the most affluent in Texas, if it has 25 per cent here, other counties should have 50 per cent, but that is not the case, McCrary added.

The Public Health Clinic is not doing obstetrics any more, McCrary said.

LAKE HEREFORD — Tierra Blanca Creek overflowed its banks Wednesday from 3.75 inches of rain that fell in torrents Tuesday night. The downpour raised the total for the past week to five inches and for the year to almost 20 inches, already over the 12-month average for Hereford. This view is looking west from the golf course as the creek flows under a bridge on U.S. 385.

Herd, Clovis clash Friday

Hereford's Whitefaces are a two-point favorite over the Clovis Wildcats Friday night in a 7:30 p.m. encounter at Whiteface Stadium.

The Herd will go with essentially the same youth-filled lineup that battled Palo Duro a week ago.

Keith Kitchens quarterbacks an all-junior backfield. Wesley High is at tailback, Larry McNutt at fullback and Danny Harris at wingback.

McNutt, who ran for 104 yards last week against Palo Duro's Dons, is Mr. Inside and High, who told coaches the past week he's "got a few moves I haven't even shown yet," is Mr. Outside.

All three backs are good receivers, along with ends Bruce Barrett and Alan Cornelius. If Kitchens is on target, that means Clovis' secondary will have to be on its toes.

Hereford's defense will be put to the test again. Clovis is not in the same speed category—no body under 10.0—as the first two teams the Whitefaces met this season, but the Wildcats are still quick.

"They have several kids who can run under 10.5, and on the line and everywhere the speed is good," Hereford coach Larry Dippel said.

"We think they've got better backs than a year ago, including three who started against us a year ago. The strength of their defense is their linebackers. They've got three good ones. And they do have good speed in their secondary."

The Clovis quarterback is a two-year letterman, Woody Jones. He was second-string last year but played the whole game against Hereford when the starter was injured. He played well, Hereford coaches feel he "is a good thrower and a dangerous runner."

Ronny Hubby, a dangerous runner and a threat on kick returns, is in one of the backfield slots for Clovis. He's 185 pounds and short, about 5-foot-9. David McPherson, who specialized on defense as a linebacker a year ago, also is in the backfield.

"What impresses us the most is that they're tough. They gang tackle well. They're just a real physical team. They get a lot of people around the ball."

The starting offensive line for Hereford will be Barrett and Cornelius at ends, Mike Dawson and Jay Henderson at tackles, Alan Hair and Wayne Moton at guards and Dale Hollingsworth at center. The two tackles and Barrett are seniors and the other four are juniors.

Charles Allison, a senior defensive halfback, suffered torn ligaments in his leg last week and will be out for at least three weeks for Hereford.

In his place, Dippel is inserting junior Terry Champ, who saw heavy duty last week at wingback. The three other secondary spots are held down by Danny Charest, Eugene Suttle and Barry McNutt.

Rosie Gonzalez and Wynn Short are linebackers, Richard Sierra nose guard, Ralph Waits and Ike Graves at ends and Steve Clark and Alberta "Ozo" Garza at tackles.

The junior class has a dinner at the high school cafeteria from 5 to 7:30 p.m. The class has invited fans to eat dinner with them and then go to the game.

(Continued From Page One) I move we change the name to Western General Hospital." After a pause of several seconds, Dr. Hugh McCrary, another member asked "What does 'Western' mean to you?" "It expresses a general location, the Western part of the state, a rural community, I wouldn't consider it a city," Carnahan said.

"I don't know, it doesn't ring a bell with me," McCrary said. "It does with me," said another member, L.J. Straffuss. "Deaf Smith General Hospital sounds good to me," board member Ed Wilson offered. "If you make the motion, I'll second it," McCrary replied. "I think we ought to leave Deaf Smith out of it. All the Mexicans know Deaf Smith by heart," Straffuss said. After a little more give and take, Wilson formally made the motion for "Deaf Smith General Hospital" and Carnahan seconded it. "Think about it a month?"

More than 2,500 gallons of water may evaporate from an acre of forest in just one day.

McCrary said then, saying it looked to him there were too many different opinions. Line said he preferred a name without "Deaf Smith" in it, but would prefer Deaf Smith General Hospital over anything else that had been suggested. "I just wonder, too, if we have thought about it enough." The motion by Straffuss that the name proposal be put off for 30 days then carried. A final decision is to be made then.

McCrary agreed. He attributed the increase in walk-ins to the rising number of out-of-county maternity cases and to inflation. "As hospital and medical expenses go up and up and up, more and more girls are just taking the chance of going without medical care," McCrary said.

As far as the local problem is concerned, McCrary said it would help "if we could just cut it down to our own."

Accordingly, the Hospital Board is looking at a possible change in admission policy. "Absent any threat to life or accidental emergency, I feel we should have the right to make a determination of residency, to decide if a given prospective patient were legally admissible. If he shows up without the

"The squeaky wheel gets the grease, and the main thing all of us need to do now is keep squeaking," State Rep. Bill Clayton advised Tuesday night to someone who asked what West Texans need to do to get water imported into the High Plains.

Clayton, executive director of Water, Inc., headed a water meeting in the Civic Club Center that featured a slide presentation of the California Water Project.

The California project is similar to the one envisioned in Texas in that it pumps millions of gallons of water uphill over several hundreds of miles, from places that need water for industrial, municipal or farm use.

"I'd hate to tell you the picture is brighter than it is," Clayton said. "We have a rough row to hoe.

"But we have got some drawings and studies that will show the feasibility, the impact on the rest of the nation and that there is, for a fact, a surplus of water available.

"With all of these things going for us, the main thing we can do is to keep unity," he added. It's a long process, he said, in that "if we start digging ditches tomorrow, it will still be 15 years before we could start delivering water."

One of the best ways Hereford can help in the attempt to get water imported here is to support Water, Inc., in its annual membership drive which starts Oct. 9.

There are about 600 members of Water, Inc., including about 200 in Hereford. Memberships are $5 each on an individual basis with the fee graduated to what each firm feels it can pay.

Otherwise, he said, tell your neighbors how important it is that this area have plenty of water.

Girlstown gift box is project

A box of gifts for residents at Girlstown will be sent each month of this club year from members of Kappa Iota Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, they decided at a chapter meeting in First National Bank Community Room Monday evening.

Contents of the box will be collected during the month, and will be a variety of items which girls of all ages will find useful, Kappa Iotas plan.

The chapter contributes to support of the girls' residence home at Whiteface through a Beta Sigma Phi state project, but members wanted a more personal part in assistance to girls living there. This will be a major service project of the Kappa Iota season.

An annual fund-raising project, a benefit bridge party to finance service and social activities, was scheduled for Oct. 13 as another item of business. It will begin at 8 p.m. in Community Center.

Mrs. Fred Ruland gave the program Monday evening, one of a series on the year's topic, Paths to Loveliness, which will comprise a study of literature, drama, music, painting and architecture. Her subject was Prose Writing and Speech.

Two members from other chapters of the sorority, Mrs. Archie Dwyer who has lately moved from Dallas and Mrs. Fred Mulkey Jr. from Stratford, were introduced as guests.

Hostesses were Mrs. Kenneth Ruland and Mrs. Carl Skaggs; other members present were Mmes. Robert Jones, Kirk Owsley, Tom LeGate, Arvell Williams, Gary Tyler, Edward Allison, Paul T. Buchanan, Terry Caviness and Gary Gore.

Luncheon talk open to public

Bringing a speaker well known over the Panhandle for his scheduled topic, Patriotism, the Women's Division of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce will open its membership meeting Oct. 5 to the public.

Bob Watson of Amarillo will give the address; residents of this area are invited to hear him. Reservations may be made in advance for the lunch at Hereford Country Club at 12 noon Oct. 5, the date of the regular fall membership session of the Women's Division.

Mrs. S.G. Townsend, president, has announced that decision to open the program to the public was made because the subject is of general interest and the speaker is in demand not only in his home city but in other West Texas areas.

He became widely known for his broadcasts of editorials from an Amarillo television station of which he was manager from the 1950's until recent years, when he became associated with an advertising agency.

Reservations for the lunch will be made on a first-come basis, Mrs. Townsend says.

Hereford should defeat Clovis, according to system

LETTUCE GROWERS — Sid Woods of Yuma, Ariz., one of four men who helped put together a proposed lettuce marketing order, goes over its provisions with area lettuce growers and shippers Tuesday night. The local county agent's office is seeking names and addresses of all local growers over the past decade so they can participate in the vote on the order.

The Harris Rating System, although it does not give power ratings for New Mexico schools, indicates the Hereford Whitefaces are favored over the Clovis Wildcats who visit Whiteface Stadium Friday night.

Harris has Lubbock Dunbar, a AAA school that defeated Clovis last week, 13-8, shown with a power rating of 116.0. The system has the Whitefaces with a power rating of 115.8, or less than one point as powerful as Dunbar.

On that assumption, it would appear the Whitefaces should defeat the Clovis team by about the same margin as did Dunbar.

Hereford was rated as the No. 189 AAAA school in the state prior to last week's game with Palo Duro, but by virtue of its performance in the contest, Hereford climbed to the No. 174 spot. The Whitefaces are ahead in the rating of Borger, at 175, and Lubbock High at 183. It's the first time this year Hereford has been ranked ahead of any other area Class AAAA teams.

Lubbock High dropped from last week's 172 spot because it barely squeaked by Odessa Ector, a Class AAA team, 3-4 last weekend.

Other teams in district 4-AAAA are Lubbock Monterey at No. 42, Plainview at No. 109, Lubbock Coronado at No. 133, and Lubbock High at No. 184.

New law sets penalty for ignoring police signal

The first case has been filed on a new law requiring a driver to stop when signaled to by an officer.

It was filed against Johnny Coulter Monday in County Court. City police said he disregarded their signal. Conviction could result in a jail sentence of 30 days to six months and a fine of from $100 to $500, or both.

"We're getting a rash of complaints about this, and I think the public should know this is a new law and not just a $25 fine, as in the past," Dist. Atty. Andy Shuval said.

The charge of "failure to stop" still exists, with a fine of up to $100 possible in corporation court, Shuval said, but aggravated cases will be filed under the new law in county court.

"What we've been having lately is a rash of teenagers who seem to think it's some sort of a game they can play with police cars. The problem is that police cars don't always know who they're chasing. This is the type of thing that can end up in a high-speed chase where somebody can get hurt."

If a car is fleeing from him, an officer doesn't know that it's not a dangerous criminal who doesn't want to be caught, Shuval said. Consequently, if he sees a broom sticking out of the back seat and thinks it is a gun, shots could be fired.

"The policeman isn't malicious about this, but they have a right to protect their lives, too. Fourteen policemen were killed in Texas last year."

Two Hereford men are free on bond after being charged with burglary.

They are Moses Garcia and Ben Garcia, both about 30, of North Progressive Road.

Deaf Smith County deputies searched their house Tuesday after getting a search warrant. A Parmer County deputy participated in the search.

As a result of goods found in the house, the two men were charged with burglary in Parmer County and Ben was charged with felony theft in Deaf Smith County.

Bond was set at $5,000 each in Parmer County and bond of $500 was set for Ben Garcia here.

Merchandise stolen in Deaf Smith County was recently recovered in Clovis, where it had been pawned.

Several other cases were handled this week in county court.

The individuals and charges against them, were:

—Wesley High, 41, North Progressive Road, driving while intoxicated;

—Benjamin O. Vasquez, 202 SE Ave. C, Seminole, driving while intoxicated, pleaded guilty, fined $150 and costs, sentenced to 15 days in jail, bond set at $2,500;

—Manuel Aguerro, child desertion, $500 bond set;

—Joe C. Mayo, 18, 205 W. 6th, driving while license suspended, bond set at $500;

—Domingo P. Pena, 55, 408 Ave. D, driving while intoxicated, bond set at $500;

—David Wilson, Jr., 50, 13175, Drake, Perryton, driving while intoxicated, bond set at $500;

—Charles Raymond Vasek, 39, Box 542, driving while intoxicated;

—Eliseo Rivera, driving while intoxicated;

—Carlos E. Gonzales, driving while intoxicated;

—Norman L. Wilfong, driving while intoxicated, fined $150 and costs, sentenced to 15 days in jail;

—John Richard Tyner, driving while intoxicated, fined $50 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in jail, probated for one year.

Commitments were handed down this week on several cases filed earlier in the month or year. They concerned:

—Irene Gonzales, charged Aug. 26 with three counts of telephone harassment. She was sentenced to 30 days in jail on each count, with each term being set aside for a probation period of one year;

—Maurice Villarreal, charged Aug. 30 with possession of liquor in a dry area, sentenced to 90 days in jail and fined $500 and costs;

—Ricky Cordova, charged Aug. 24 with aggravated assault, sentenced to 45 days in jail;

—Roger E. Edwards, charged July 12 with driving while intoxicated, fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in jail, with the term set aside for a probation period of six months;

—Glenn Harold LaPlant, charged Dec. 31, 1970, with driving while intoxicated, fined $200 and costs and sentenced to 60 days in jail, with the term set aside for a probation period of one year.

Computer can help Hereford WT prof says

The head of the computer science department at West Texas State University made a pitch in Hereford this week for participation in a regional data storage operation that could supply this county with useful information.

"We are involved in the organization of a data bank at West Texas that could make available in one place, data that would be valuable to people throughout the Panhandle," said Dr. Phillip Ginsler.

It will provide an inexpensive way to get information useful in wooping industry, Ginsler added.

"What we want to do is establish a data bank for the Panhandle—principally the 25 counties of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission. We made a study for the PRPC called an economic base study. That study has been completed and will be available soon," he said. Census information also will be available.

To help cut down on the cost involved, West Texas has entered into a cooperative agreement with Texas Tech. Both schools have some of the same problems and have the same information available to them, he pointed out. Tech will handle several phases of the project and West Texas will handle several.

The cost to a community for information would be the cost of printing and the computer time. Information on farm and non-farm earnings in Deaf Smith County probably would cost an estimated $50 or $60, he said.

"We will continue to try to develop a data bank, but it will be of no use unless communities like you come to take advantage of it. We are anxious to work with you, because West Texas State should be the hub of research within the Panhandle, Right now, it isn't. Perhaps we haven't provided you the type of material you've needed in the past or perhaps we haven't cooperated with you."

If Hereford were interested in a particular type of industry, the computer at West Texas would be capable of supplying names, addresses, job titles, telephone numbers and other essentials of every company in that industry, the West Texas professor said.

Judge appoints lawyer for Nanninga case

Dist. Judge Archie McDonald has appointed Tom Burdette to represent Prehn Nanninga in the upcoming hearing in district court on the question of whether Nanninga's eight-year probation should be revoked.

Nanninga, who pleaded guilty last year to the $40,000 jewelry burglary of Spangler's Diamonds, Ltd., was arrested in Lubbock Sept. 10 for failure to report to his probation officer monthly.

Harold Wheeler, adult probation officer, said Lubbock County officers have indicated they wish to question Nanninga on a bad check charge when the action here is finished.

Nanninga, who took part in the burglary the day he was to graduate from high school, is in Deaf Smith County Jail. A person for whom revocation procedures are pending, can not get out on bond. His hearing probably will come next month.

Police officer is club speaker

Drug abuse is more prevalent in the Hereford area than most residents realize. Capt. Edward Owsley of the city police department told members of La Afflatus Estudio Club Tuesday afternoon when he was guest speaker at a meeting in Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

Introduced by Mrs. Glen Nelson, the police officer gave the first program of a series in which changing patterns of life in the 1970's will be studied by the club.

Legitimate use of drugs, as well as their abuse, was discussed by Owsley, who spoke of increasing drug use by various age groups, especially adolescents. He reviewed suggested solutions to the problem, adding that he sees the most effective solution through education.

Mrs. T.W. Roberson was hostess for a social period. Members decided to assist with transportation of residents at Kings Manor on shopping trips next April. Those present included Mmes. A.B. Higgins, Glenn Witherpoon, Emmett Hale, Walter Johnson, S.C. Ramey, B.F. Markham, Al Hewitt and Earl Clark.

Soybean yield higher with better methods

COLLEGE STATION—Soybean producers can put a few extra dollars in their pockets this fall through proper harvesting practices, contends R.J. Hodges, agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Harvest losses generally average three bushels of soybeans per acre," notes the agronomist. "Proper harvesting could cut these losses by two-thirds, and, at current prices, this could mean a saving of $6 or more per acre."

Nationwide, one of every 10 bushels of soybeans produced is lost at harvest time, inflicting a loss of more than $350 million on the industry. A loss of four seeds per square foot is equal to about one bushel per acre.

"With soybeans in strong demand this year, careful attention to the harvesting operation is especially important," points out Hodges. "Producers should first of all check the moisture content of the beans and begin harvesting when it reaches 13 percent. Operating the combine at a slower ground speed and keeping the cutterbar close to the ground also bring in more soybeans."

The combine should be properly adjusted before taking it into the field, says Hodges. Once in the field, it should be operated at a ground speed of 2½ to 3 miles per hour. Reel speed should be slightly greater than the combine's ground speed. The reel should be run deep enough in the beans to control the stalks and should be 6 to 12 inches ahead of the cutterbar.

Harvesting during the early morning when the straw is damp from dew can reduce shatter loss. Under such conditions, the combine's cylinder speed should be increased (800 rpm's for a 22-inch cylinder).

"Remember that harvesting losses in soybeans can be reduced sharply by using a little more care and taking the time to make necessary adjustments in equipment," reminds Hodges. "And every bushel saved at harvest is clear profit."

At the meeting afterward, Joan Josseland was initiated to membership in the order. Karen Scott, worthy advisor, presided and a full choir took part in the ceremony, with 30 Rainbow Girls present.

Sponsors at the meeting were Mrs. J. A. McWhorter, mother advisor, Mmes. D. H. Culpepper, Arthur Clark, Edward Robinson; Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hershey, L. J. Clark and Cecil Oglesby.

El Llano to mark birthday

The silver anniversary of El Llano Study Club will be celebrated with a coffee Saturday morning in the home of Mrs. Ivan Block, 200 North Texas.

Special guests will be members of Hereford Study Club, the mother club which sponsored the organization of El Llano. Presidents who have served in the past 25 years will also be honorees at the morning party, which is scheduled at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Pete Caviness is president of El Llano Club for its silver anniversary year.

Bill Murray will get a second cash crop off this milo field.

Mr. Murray farms around 1,000 acres near Panhandle, Texas.

When he cuts his grain sorghum, he leaves the stalks high. Because those stalks keep making money for him until spring.

Mr. Murray's formula for extra profits? Stalks plus cattle plus T-E Liquid Feed Supplement.

Last year for example, he had 150 steers on the stalks for 150 days. They gained 225 lbs. or an average of 1.5 lbs. per head per day, on nothing but stalks and free-choice T-E Liquid Feed Supplement, consuming .4 lbs. of the supplement per head per day.

It added up to a nice profit, even though Mr. Murray explains, "They were out in bad snow storms for several days."

Mr. Murray buys his steers in August, keeps them on pasture until harvest, turns them in on the stalks and puts them on wheat pasture in the spring. He keeps T-E Liquid Feed Supplement in front of them the whole time; because he knows self-rationing T-E provides whatever supplement they need, whatever the grazing conditions.

Considering his experience with T-E Liquid Feed Supplement over the past few years, Mr. Murray concludes, "It seems to me a farmer has just got to run some cattle."

Chrysler-Plymouth introduces the 1972's. Built to stay new longer.

We've made quite a few changes in our cars for 1972. A lot of them you can see right away. Like the new looks of our Fury. And the new interiors and options we're offering this year. But more important are some of the things you can't see. The kind of things we're doing to fulfill our commitment—we're dedicated to building cars that will run better and last longer than any car we've ever built before.

So whatever Chrysler-Plymouth car you're interested in—from the little Cricket to the compact Duster, from the mid-size Satellite to the luxurious Chrysler—you can be sure it was built with this commitment in mind.

Coming through with the kind of car America wants.

Sorghum loan, support rates may increase

Congressman Bob Price said he has requested increased yield protection for cotton farmers and increased loan and support rates for grain sorghum growers and feels confident that the Department of Agriculture will act favorably on his suggestions.

Price said he had made the requests in a letter to Secretary of Agriculture Clifford Hardin.

"I strongly support action to give 100 percent yield protection to cotton farmers who are unable to harvest their 1971 crop because of drought or other natural disaster," the House Agriculture Committee member said.

"At the present time if a farmer loses a cotton crop due to natural disaster, the yield upon which his government support payments are based is reduced 10 percent the following year. "This is an inequity which the Secretary can correct, and I certainly hope he will do so,"

Price said. The Congressman also urged Secretary Hardin to fully implement an amendment sponsored which was added to the Agricultural Act of 1970 setting the loan and support for grain at 95 percent of the feed value for corn.

"I have previously submitted data which documents the contention that grain sorghum provides at least 95 percent the feeding value of corn. A recent feeding test conducted in my district provides additional support for this position," Price told the Secretary. He added that this new information and my previous documentation should convince the Department to increase the grain sorghum loan and support rate to 95 percent of the rate for corn in 1972.

In the same letter, Price urged the Secretary to make every effort to manage the supply of government controlled commodities in a manner which will not depress the market price received by farmers.

Letter to the editor

Dear Editor:

Here is a little food for thought:

"If your dollar won't do as much as it once did, consider: Are you doing as much as you once did for a dollar?" I found this stored away in some old containers of knowledge. I do not know how old it is but I believe it is still digestible.

Small talk

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor
SEVERAL GUESTS from other cities were listed with local guests at Bay View Club's delightful style show-lunch last weekend, and it occurred to me that it might be nice to identify them further.

Mrs. Dan Wall of Sumter, S.C., most of you know is the former Suzanne Langley, who came to the lunch with her mother, Helen Langley, a member of the club. Mrs. Hazel Davis of Rule is Mary Garrison's mother and Mrs. Terry Mosley of Plainview is her daughter.

Meredith Wilcox and Mrs.

Garrison had as their joint guests, Mrs. Pat Malone, a new resident who moved lately from Amarillo, with her mother, Bernice Cohen, and sister, Joy Mislewiz, of San Diego.

Mrs. Dick O'Daniel of Tulla can also be identified by a number of Hereford friends as Donna Vander Zee's mother. Donna was one of the attractive models who wore fall costumes in the fashion parade.

IN CASE YOU are waiting for it breathlessly, autumn begins officially at 11:45 this morning and if you haven't dug out a warm jacket or two yet, it will be o.k. to do so then. And you can switch off the cooling system, too, if you wish.

Of course you'll probably have to switch it on again pretty soon, and hang that jacket back in the closet. But then you've probably been wearing the jacket and even heavier coats already, and had the furnace lighted up for our chilly days.

So much for calendar seasons in West Texas!

IT WAS PROBABLY both the Langley girls, Camille and Carolyn, whom I saw giving the car a cleanup in their driveway the other day, but only one red head was visible above hands lifting a vacuum cleaner out the door.

Another figure, or rather the edge of somebody's back, was barely to be seen to indicate that somebody else was hunched in the floor between the seats, getting right down to what I believe is proper to call the nitty-gritty.

Looked like that car was going to be the neatest in town.

BERTHA HOOD reminded me when she was my neighbor at a club lunch recently that her family is looking forward to celebrating the 100th birthday of her mother, Mrs. C.L. Williams, on Oct. 14.

Mrs. Williams lived here in Mrs. Hood's home a number of years, but has been lately in a nursing home at Wichita Falls, where several of her family live. Mrs. Hood plans to be there for the birthday, a really notable occasion. Although a good many people nowadays live past 90 years, few achieve the 100 mark.

Phelps manager at Furr's store

Donald Phelps, 28, has taken over as manager of Furr's Supermarket at Sugarland Mall. He replaced Willie Wilcoxson who was manager for several years before going into another line of business recently.

Phelps has been with Furr's for the past 10 years, beginning with a Lubbock store at the age of 18. He was store manager at the Lubbock store for three years prior to coming to Hereford.

Phelps and his wife, Elena, have two children, a boy, 7, and a girl, 9.

The family has not moved to Hereford, but will in the near future.

Surprise party entertains girls of S. S. class

Surprised early Saturday morning when their teacher called for them without notice, girls in Mrs. R.I. Ethridge's class of First Baptist Sunday School were taken to her home for a come-as-you-are breakfast.

Costumes of the girls, who went to the party in just what they were wearing when Mrs. Ethridge called, added to the fun of the informal breakfast.

Cheryl Crider was a guest with class members, Sherry Wells, Christi Pottinger, Shawn Fry, Pam Cosper and Ann Bradley.

The average family of four in the United States eats about 1,000 pounds of fruits and vegetables each year.

HEAT FOR A COLD DAY — When volunteer firemen arrived Friday afternoon at the house owned by Jack Messer one mile southwest of Hereford, smoke was spilling from the roof. Fire Marshall Paul Hager, left, donned an air pack to enter the smoked filled house while other firemen inspected the roof of the home occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Jacky Messer. Cause of the fire was a penny that had been placed in the fuse box, and results were extensive wall and smoke damage.

Season launched for educational secretaries

Goals for the 1971-72 season were outlined by Peak of the Panhandle Educational Secretaries, meeting in the homemaking parlor of Hereford High School Monday evening. Mrs. Clyde Ray Davis of Dimmitt, president, conducted business.

Composed of secretaries in schools of Hereford, Springlake-Earth, Farwell and Dimmitt, the association plans to work this year toward professional standards certification to meet requirements of the national association.

Women in secretarial positions of all these school systems are invited to join the group. Inquiries by Hereford residents may be made to Dorothy Mercer in the school administrative offices. After business, members toured the Body Shop in Sugarland Mall, seeing its facilities for physical fitness and trying some of the exercise equipment. Dimmitt members will be hostesses for the next meeting, Oct. 18, in the high school building there.

Thoreau play is scheduled at West Texas University

Henry David Thoreau's spiritual evolution after his sojourn at Walden Pond is the subject of "The Night Thoreau Spent in Jail" to open Sept. 29 at West Texas State University.

The play by Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee, authors of "Inherit the Wind," will be presented at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 29, through Friday, Oct. 1, and at 2:30 p.m. Sunday Oct. 3 in the Branding Iron Theatre.

The drama, which the authors describe as "a mystical experience which probes Thoreau's inner self," relates the Concord transcendentalist's brief imprisonment in 1846 for refusing to pay a poll tax he felt would support the Mexican-American War, which the philosopher believed to be immoral.

Leading the cast is Travis Dean, junior from Amarillo, as Thoreau—not the authors say, "the bearded, weary-eyed Thoreau of the recent postage stamp," but a "blazing, contemporary outraged with the insanity and inanity of civilization around him."

Rabbit raisers to meet Friday

The Caprock Dental Assistants Society, to which several Hereford persons belong, held its first meeting of the year recently in the Southwestern Public Service Building in Plainview.

Dolly Conley of Hereford is the president-elect of the organization. She is replacing Francine Underwood of Plainview. Lynn Marler of Floydada is the secretary.

Dr. J. Irvin Gaynor of Plainview spoke to the assistants at the first meeting, discussing "Oral Cancer."

Cast in the role of Thoreau's fellow Concord titan, Ralph Waldo Emerson, is Forrest Baldwin, Amarillo senior. Lydian Emerson, his wife, will be portrayed by Cindy Newman, Canyon senior. Thoreau's illiterate cellmate, Bailey, is played by Harrell (Pinkle) Floyd, Canyon junior.

Tickets are priced at $2 for adults and $1.50 for non-WTSU students. Admission is free for faculty and WTSU students with Activity Cards. Tickets are on sale at the Branding Iron Theatre box office, open from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays.

Miami of Coral Gables, Fla., will play nine football games at night.

University of Texas at El Paso has nine night football games.

promotion
Time

IT'S Promotion Time . . . Sunday School Commencement time. Every youngster longs for this time of year. They have done well and must be promoted. They are moving ahead, making progress in the teachings of God. In that there is delight.

Perhaps Promotion time should be just as important to adults as to the young. Maybe we should check our progress in Christian living. If we had to earn our yearly promotion where would we be? Are we going to church more? Have we increased our giving? Do we help more in various church programs? Do our lives reflect deeper religious beliefs? Would my pastor O. K. my promotion? Would my family give me a card? How about my relatives, friends and business associates? It is Promotion time and can we meet the challenge? Can we truly say it is Time for us To Move Up.

Quite a change . . .

A new Aggie joke was born during the recent tour by league sportswriters of the SWC teams. Sports scribe Burle Pettit of the Lubbock A-J shared in the wit in the pressbox between halves of the Texas Tech-New Mexico game Saturday, night. Seems Gene Stallings, under fire to reverse the Aggies' losing ways on the football field, called his players together the other day and told them there were going to be some changes made. "And one of the first things we're gonna change is underwear, once a week," Stallings told his charges in no uncertain terms. "And we'll start right now. Jones, you change with Smith. And Davis, you change with Brown. And Gaines, you . . ."

Nobody can challenge you if you call the Hereford Whitefaces a young team. Eight of the 11 offensive starters are juniors. Jay Henderson and Mike Dawson at the tackles and Bruce Barrett at tight end are the only exceptions.

Of the eight juniors, only Danny Harris, trying out the wing-back job this week, was on last year's varsity. Injuries limited his action.

Eight seniors—including tri-captains Eugene Suttle, Steve Clark and Richard Sierra—start on defense, with three juniors.

Chances look good this week for Hereford to give home fans their first look at a winner in two years.

The Whitefaces' two victories of 1970 came at Plainview and Lubbock, which means some folks have never seen Hereford triumph in Class AAA football. Clovis has lost this season to Canyon, 15-14, and to Dumbarr, 21-18. And now, here comes another Texas team.

Looks like a good time for a prediction. Make it 27-20, Hereford, with the Whitefaces' passing game playing a strong role.

La Plata club hears review

Review of a witty and pertinent survey of housing in America, "The Domesticated Americans" by Russell Lyons, was presented by Mrs. J. D. Neill as the program for La Plata Study Club Tuesday evening in Mrs. Phillip Shook's home.

The author asks, "Who has domesticated the Americans?" and answers by discussing architects and builders, and factors which have influenced trends in home styles through the years, Mrs. Neill said.

Final chapters of the book comment on the current fashion for mobile homes for a nation on the move, she concluded. A gift of money was voted to the Wycliff Society in a brief business meeting. This will be given to the national organization in the name of Judy Henslee, a Hereford resident who will work in Colombia as a representative of that society.

The '72 Oldsmobiles are here.

You'll like the changes you see in the showroom. The ones you feel on the open road. And one you may discover in your local supermarket parking lot.

DELTA 88 ROYALE There's more built-in toughness. A new front bumper absorbs minor parking lot impacts: it flexes, gives a little—then returns to position. On the road, its "G-Ride" System helps deliver exceptional ride and handling, with Supershocks, computer-matched springs, and other interrelated components. And Delta 88 now includes more standard equipment: power steering, power front disc brakes, power ventilation, automatic transmission—and a long list of GM safety features. Delta 88: Strong. Tough. Smooth. Not just another pretty car.

CUTLASS SUPREME You want real luxury, comfort and room—but not a big car. You want handling and maneuverability, but not a compact. Cutlass Supreme gives you what you want on a 112-inch wheelbase. Formal roofline. Room for six. Deluxe interiors. Under the hood, a Rocket 350 V-8. A "little limousine"—priced within your reach . . . that's Cutlass Supreme. What a step-up, holy cow! If your friends could see you now.

TORONADO The one personal luxury car that puts it all together in quite a different way. Toronado's Rocket 455 power goes to the front wheels to pull the car over the road with superb traction, ride and handling. Inside, Toronado is spacious and comfortable. There is ample room for six, including their feet—for there is no hump on the floor. In luxury, in styling, in quality, it is uniquely Toronado. There's nothing common about it.

AAUW eligibles are invited to help form branch

Women eligible for membership in the American Association of University Women or who wish to inquire about eligibility, are invited to telephone Mrs. S. G. Darling, Flo Dickinson or Mrs. Jim Bookout for information or reservations to an organization dinner Friday. A branch of the national organization for women college graduates is to be formed at the dinner, which will begin at 8 p.m. in the Cason House. Mrs. B.H. Shelby of Waka, a state chairman, will be here to assist with creating the Hereford branch. Women who are graduates of accredited colleges may become members; area women who have previously been in the AAUW in other cities, or who now hold membership elsewhere, are especially invited to join this group.

Some who have been found ineligible in the past may now be eligible for membership, the organizing committee says, since the national organization has expanded its list of colleges; for instance, some schools of music have been added.

Study and service opportunities are offered to women who become members.

RECEIVES HONOR — Justin T. McBride, right, Deaf Smith County agricultural agent receives the Texas Superior Service Award from Dr. John S. Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. McBride is cited for his outstanding Extension agricultural and 4-H programs in this county, which boasts the highest gross agricultural income in the state.

McBride recipient of service award

Justin T. McBride, Deaf Smith County agricultural agent, was the recipient of the Texas Superior Service Award at the Tri-District Conference of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Lubbock September 15-17.

McBride, who has served in his present position since November, 1964, was cited for conducting an outstanding Extension educational program.

The award was presented by Dr. John E. Hutchison, director of the Extension Service, following a banquet at the KoKo Palace the first evening of the conference.

The citation which accompanied the award to McBride stated: "For exemplary leadership and resourcefulness in developing outstanding well-balanced educational programs in crop and livestock production, agriculture, and in 4-H youth and adult activities while serving as county agricultural agent in Deaf Smith County."

The county agent was instrumental in organizing a water resource committee and has employed all educational methods to inform producers of improved means of production, management and marketing as indicated by current research findings, said Hutchison. Further indication of McBride's dynamic leadership ability is the fact that Deaf Smith County leads the state in total agricultural income and is the third fastest growing county in this respect in the United States.

McBride attended Tarleton State College and was graduated from A&M University with a BS degree in animal husbandry. He served in the U. S. Army for three years and was then appointed as county agricultural supervisor for the Brown County Vocational School. After managing several farms in Raleigh, North Carolina, he was appointed county agricultural agent for Oldham County in 1962 where he served for two years.

Bertelsen closes on rushing record

For Jim Bertelsen, Texas was once a name on a list of faraway places he hadn't even been dreaming about... but today Longhorn football fans figure to dream about him for a long, long time.

The Hudson, Wis., all-American candidate started his senior season at Texas with another stellar performance, rushing for 124 yards on 23 carries against UCLA.

The yards made him the third leading rusher in Texas history, trailing only Chris Gilbert (3,231) and Steve Worster (2,353). Bertelsen, with 1,755 yards, is well within shooting range of his old teammate Worster.

He has been called by Texas coaches "perhaps the best back ever" to wear the orange and white. He has excellent speed, can run tough inside and is a top pass receiver.

But perhaps the most devastating factor about him is his blocking, which was exemplified by a corner-clearing block that leveled two Bruins as teammate Dan Steakley romped for 25 yards on Texas' crucial fourth-quarter drive in the 28-10 triumph.

While Bertelsen's fame has grown at Texas, he finds it a bit ironic to look back to 1967, when he was recruited by many schools. An aunt in Grand Prairie, wishing to help him come south to warmer weather, sent him a letter listing schools in the Southwest where she might try to help him.

Jim marked only Texas, and he isn't sure why.

"It was kind of like I closed my eyes and picked a number," he says. "All I knew about Texas was that they had a good team in 1963. I don't think I had even heard of Chris Gilbert, or anybody else.

"After I visited Texas and Colorado, I came away a little more impressed with Colorado. But Coach (R.M.) Patterson was a big influence, and I changed my mind.

"I remember the night I was supposed to make the big decision, we went over to my coach's house. He thought it was a crazy idea to come down here. After visiting all evening, Coach (Don) Kadidilo said, 'There is no use talking about it anymore... all you and your dad have talked about all night is Texas, so I guess Texas is where you are gonna go.'"

Bertelsen began his football playing on a farm near Hudson, a city of 8,000 about 15 miles from Minneapolis.

"The footing was a little rough," he recalls, "but it was fun."

Bertelsen used to like basketball the best of all sports but he's changed that now.

His favorite sport now? "Baseball."

Women keglers to meet today

All women interested in bowling are invited to the meeting to discuss the organization of the leagues.

CARIBBEAN JEWS
WALTHAM, Mass. (AP) — Roots of the 300-year-old existence of the Jewish community in the Caribbean may be completely lost unless American Jewish institutions help keep it going, says historian Malcolm Stern. He says synagogues and other marks of Jewish life there are "rapidly disappearing."

Kitchens, Short lead grid statistics

Quarterback Keith Kitchens, through the second week of football, maintained his percentage lead over the other district 4-AA passers who have thrown for more than 100 yards, while Winston Short, a Whiteface defensive man pulled farther ahead in the tackle category.

Kitchens after two games in which he has passed for a total of 123 yards, has hit on .384 per cent of his passes (10 of 26). He leads Paul Meriwether of Lubbock High (.357), Glen Yarborough of Monterey (.310), Steve Hamlett of Coronado (.286), and Mark Foote of Plainview (.286).

Kitchens is behind Jesse Owens of Monterey who has a .417 percentage, but Owens has only thrown 12 passes and completed five for 55 yards.

Hereford's junior field general is third in the district in total offense with 29 yards rushing and 123 passing for a 78.0-yard per game average.

Short, also a junior, grabbed the lead among defensive tacklers the first week and strengthened the lead to five tackles over Larry Hart of Coronado at ter the second game. Short has 35 tackles to his credit and Hart 30.

Hereford's Eugene Suttle is in third place among tacklers, tied with three other players from the district's teams. Suttle, Roy Trevino of Lubbock, Danny Rushing of Plainview and Joey Howell of Plainview all are tied with 25 tackles.

Rosie Gonzales is tied at eighth with 23, Steve Clark is tied at 10th with 22, Charles Allison is tied at 13th with 21 and Richard Sierra is tied at 16th with 20.

Hereford's Alan Cornelius, with five receptions, is fourth in the district with 47 total yards and one touchdown. He has averaged 9.4 yards per catch. Tom Ellis of Monterey leads in receiving with six catches for 113 yards and an 8.8 average and two touchdowns.

Hereford climbed from fourth in total offense to third after last week's game with Palo Duro. The Whitefaces have rushed for 306 yards and passed for 123 for a 431 total and a 215.5 game average.

Monterey is ahead in total offense with a 278 average from 351 yards rushing and 201 passing. It is followed by Lubbock High with 240 rushing and 198 passing for a 219 average.

While the offense was climbing the ladder, the Whiteface defense fell from fourth to fifth in the standings. The defense has given up 573 yards rushing in two games and 61 passing for a 317 average per game. Lubbock High's defense is the best so far with an average give-up of only 172.5 yards per game.

Hereford also boasts the No. 3 and No. 4 rushers in the district in Larry McNutt and Wesley High. McNutt is rated No. 3 with 16 carries for 121 yards and a 7.5 average and High is No. 4 with 21 carries for 101 yards and a 5 yard per carry average.

Kitchens, who also sees punting duty for the Whitefaces, is the No. 3 punter among league players with an average of 33.2 yards per boot. The league's leading punting punter is Mark Foote of Plainview with a 40-yard mean.

School, manages a Burger Chef establishment in New Albany.

The twins, Amy, and Jane Brown, whose mother was formerly Claudia Haug of Hereford and now Mrs. Mark Brown, celebrated their birthday at the family home in Houston, where Brown is studying dentistry.

Haug announce first grandson

The words September and grandchildren are synonymous for Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. (Hank) Haug of 417 Avenue J.

A first grandson was born Tuesday, on the eve of the Haug's twin granddaughters' third birthday.

Fredrick Henry Haug II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haug of New Albany, Ind., was born in a hospital there, weighing 7 lbs. 2 1/2 ozs.

Other grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jenkins of that city.

The baby's father, a 1967 graduate of Hereford High

District race could change, coach feels

When the picture was painted earlier this year, Lubbock Monterey was colored the team to beat in the race for the district 4-AAAA title, followed by Coronado, Hereford, Plainview and Lubbock High. Now, after two weeks of play and each team with two games under its belt, Hereford's head coach and athletic director seems to think otherwise. "I definitely believe we have a chance in district play," Larry Dippel said during the Rotary Club meeting Monday. "I believe we can win it, but there are some things we need to do first and we've got to get started on them this week." The strong Monterey team was surprised in its season opener and lost to Big Spring. Coronado also was dumped in its first game by Wichita Falls and again last week fell to the No. 1 team in New Mexico, the Hobbs team. Lubbock High is at 1-1 after losing to Midland Lee and defeating Odessa Ector. Plainview is 0-2 after it lost to Lubbock Estacado in the opener then to Tascosa last week. "We've played two good ball games. I thought they (Palo Duro and Pampa) were both good teams and we played hard in both games," the head coach said. "The biggest thing now that we have to do is try to eliminate two things. Fear is one of them—fear of failure. "The boys all thought they could win but it hasn't turned out that way and we have to eliminate that fear of failure this week." The second thing, Dippel said, that coaches must do is eliminate the word "if." "We must eliminate this because we feel it denotes uncertainty and uncertainty resembles confusion and confusion on a football team, or anywhere else, is no good," Dippel said. Dippel, in his first year as head coach, will take his charges against the Clovis Wildcats on Friday and he anticipates another close game like last year's. "Clovis is a talented football team. They've got some backs that can run fast. They are a very physical football team and they get after you on the field," he said. In summing up the Hereford athletic program, and particularly that of football, Dippel told the Rotarians that football should be looked at as something other than a contact sport. "It is an educational experience," he said. "Sometime it is considered an extra curricular activity, but I don't think you can justify saying this. "It offers a boy an educational experience they can carry through life with them. It helps develop human relation skills, offers them loyalty, discipline and the concepts of justice." Dippel said football also serves as a social experience for both the players and the spectators because it brings them together. "Primarily, football is an education that a lot of people don't see."

Harmon Poll favors Texas by 24 over Red Raiders

The first Harmon football forecast ratings for 1971 definitely have a 1970 flavor. For that matter, you could say they also have a 1969 flavor, a 1968 flavor, etc. Any strange faces? Not really. They've just been shuffled around a bit. Notre Dame takes over the Number One spot, starting the season with a power quotient of 122.7. Nebraska and Texas are second and third respectively with P-Q's of 117.3 and 116.0. Top honors for games that will be real coronary provokers Saturday have to go to two in particular. Sixth-rated Auburn meets 8th-ranked Tennessee, and Colorado, No. 7, clashes with Ohio State, No. 10. Of the four, the Buffaloes provided the most fireworks two weeks ago when they upset LSU. To accomplish the same feat in Columbus would blast skyrocket all the way back to Boulder. However, we're going to biker a very small sparkler and pick the Coloradans by one. The winner of the Tiger-Volunteer struggle will, as usual, have an inside track to the Southeast Conference title. And we think Auburn will be on that truck. (The Tigers by eight points. The high-flying Georgia Bulldogs, ranked 11th, go after win number three against Clemson. After clobbering Oregon State and whipping Tulane, it doesn't look as though the Tigers can slow them down. Georgia by 33! And if Pittsburgh's recent upset of UCLA means the Panthers are loaded, 12th-ranked Oklahoma will provide part of the answer Saturday. The Sooners meet Pitt in Pittsburgh and Oklahoma's favored by 21 points. On paper, Alabama shouldn't have too much trouble from Southeast Conference foe Florida. However, when upsets occur, it's that "friendly" conference opponent that'll do it. The 13th ranked Tide will stop the Gators of Florida by 24 points. The two apparent West Coast powers (at least for the moment), Stanford and Washington, will pass their tests Saturday. The 9th-rated Indians run into stubborn Oregon, still smarting from their drubbing at the hands of Nebraska. The Hus-

Mrs. Pat Malone . . . in den of new home

Just moved to Hereford

West Texan 19 years is west coast native

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

A CHILD ON EACH level of school from elementary to college gives a wide variety to Mrs. Pat Malone's interests and will naturally broaden her field of acquaintance as she begins her residence in Hereford.

The Malone family moved earlier this month from Amarillo to a new house at 313 Sunset, after being delayed a couple of weeks for final touches by workmen.

They had already waited several months for the move after Malone came here in May to begin his duties as a vice president of First National Bank. The dark brick ranch style house was built for them in the interim.

In the family are three teenagers, Kathleen, who goes to Texas Tech this year; Mike, 16, a high school junior and Kevin, 14, a freshman in junior high; also the grade-schooler, eight-year-old Colleen.

CONTRASTING WITH the history of many moves for a great number of newcomer families to Hereford, the Malones have been firmly established in Amarillo since their marriage more than 19 years ago, and Mrs. Malone lived in only one other city before then.

Born in San Diego, she grew up and attended schools in that West Coast location and was employed by a radio station there before her marriage. Family members still live there; her mother, Mrs. Berenice Cohen, and sister, Joy Misiewicz, are visiting her now from San Diego.

They laughed when Mrs. Malone mentioned her work in the radio field, and said she underwent a period of family teasing when she announced that she was choosing study toward a career in radio-television on entering junior college.

"WHAT COULD YOU do in radio?" her father joked, but she proved that she was in earnest by becoming traffic manager of the station which employed her.

"And I liked the work very much," she adds. Homemaking has been another rewarding career as Mrs. Malone has followed her children through all their activities, "specializing in Boy Scouts," she says, "but not forgetting Girl Scouts and Little League and P-TA and teaching Sunday School."

Family recreation has included camping and fishing, but Mrs. Malone has declined an active part in some of the more strenuous sports that interested her children, such as Kathleen's skiing.

SHE SHOWS A DECIDED bent toward art although it was not developed until her adult years. She joined a garden club in Amarillo because she wanted to learn more about arranging, not growing, flowers.

"But I lost interest with the trend to abstract designs the last few years," she confesses. "What I like is lots of flowers, mass designs, with lots of color to look beautiful—not symbolic."

She prefers painting now and a number of her paintings decorate her home although she has followed the hobby only four years. She began with toile painting because she likes to refinish and redecorate old furniture and home accessories, then "graduated" to oil painting and began taking lessons.

LANDSCAPES AND still life are her subjects; she has painted western scenes with figures of cattle and horsemen at the request of her husband and sons, and believes she may achieve the confidence to attempt portraits some day.

Sewing is another way she expresses her liking to make

At the library

Two new novels vary in theme

Among the new books at the Deaf Smith County Library is one concerning modern industrial struggle and an exciting murder mystery novel.

things with her hands; she makes draperies and other items for the house as well as dresses. She was a member of an arts and crafts club in Amarillo.

Her efforts at redoing furniture have resulted in attractive pieces for the home. Most interesting is an old-fashioned kitchen cabinet which her mother used years ago before built-in cabinets were installed. Now given an antique finish in teal blue, it is a handsome addition to the game room which opens from the den and holds the pool table.

A LAMP BASE MADE from a small milk can is about the only example of her toile painting Mrs. Malone has left, after giving away numerous items. Although she does not claim to be and owns enough to make at a collector, she likes old glass tractive displays in a den window and over the kitchen sink.

Now that she is settled in the house, Mrs. Malone has a new yard ready for plantings to take her attention. At present, though, she says the family pets "just love getting good and dirty" in the grassless back yard.

There are three of the dogs, Heidi, a small dachshund, and Molly, who must be mostly wire-haired terrier, along with a cute black pup, the remaining of Molly's litter of eight.

ry Sundown, tells of working people and the liberals who espoused their cause in that strange and ominous time between the New Deal and the New Frontier.

The time is the fifties and the place is a northern industrial town dominated by one plant. The story centers around Mish Lumin and his struggles for his political, economic and emotional life in a union local that has cast him aside, in a company that wants either to co-op him or fire him, and with his wife, Priscilla, whose University-bred idealism makes its own difficult demands.

The narrative moves from the assembly line to the top tower executive office, to the bargaining sessions in a New York hotel, to the local city council chambers as Mish and Priscilla try to make sense of their marriage and their hopes while the men and women around them inch inexorably away from the common good and toward the middle class.

Bursting with life and drama, Between the Hills and the Sea is an ambitious and distinctive novel that illuminates the tensions and ambiguities of the industrial civilization in which all of us consume and live.

GUILT WITHOUT PROOF
By Peter Alding

"Fans will want more Aldings," predicted the San Francisco Chronicle Examiner in a review of Murder Among Thieves. Now our Inspector Fusil and the talented Constable Kerr are back in a top-notch successor.

A truckload of whiskey is hijacked, and less than twenty-four hours later a body is discovered in the burned-out cellar of a wine shop. The police are soon sure of a direct link between the two crimes.

Fusil is certain that the stolen whiskey is being sold openly through one of the two liquor distributors in Fortrow. But a Fraud Squad check proves him wrong.

A lot of painstaking work, a little luck, and some rule-bending lead Fusil and Kerr to the truth, but they still need proof of guilt. That comes at the end of a split-second chase, which is an attempt to foil a getaway.

Peter Alding—the name is the pseudonym of a British author of suspense novels and thrillers—surpasses himself in Guilt Without Proof, and no fan will want to miss it.

Comfort is...

Fresh, warm air gently circulating from floor to ceiling . . . down-to-earth dependability . . . easy-on-the-budget operating costs. Comfort is gas heating. There's no heat more comfortable.

And there's no heat cleaner than gas. Gas burns clean. It's one energy source that doesn't dirty the air.

Air-circulating gas heating systems also give you the first-half of a built-in gas air conditioning system. Adequate heat ducts can carry cool air to your whole house too — so you can add-on gas cooling right away or later if you prefer. Together, gas heating and gas cooling are an unbeatable combination for year 'round total comfort.

If you're building a home or planning to replace an out-dated heating system, choose thrifty gas heat. Check with your heating contractor.

Mrs. William H. Zecek . . . nee Becky Long

Sunday wedding vows announced

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Long, 235 Avenue D, announce the marriage of their daughter, Becky, to William H. Zecek of New York City.

DAR group goes to area lunch

Seven members and two guests of Los Cibeler Chapter Daughters of American Revolution went to Amarillo Friday for the Constitution Day luncheon of Panhandle DAR chapters, marking the start of national Constitution Week.

Mrs. Jess Robinson, regent of the local chapter, gave the invocation at the meeting in Amarillo Country Club, attended by more than 150 members from over the Panhandle.

J.C. Phillips, publisher of the Borger Herald, was the speaker who discussed present danger of this nation losing its constitutional form of government.

The greatest menace to the constitution is from public apathy, he stressed, saying that history shows most great nations of the past overthrown from the top by power-seeking leaders.

In addition to Mrs. Robinson, Hereford members at the luncheon were Meses L.W. Norvell, H.M. Boozer, T.J. Carter, Ray Carlisle, Leroy Williamson and Miss Mildred Elliott. Their guests were Mrs. Carroll Newson and Mrs. Ira Ott.

The couple is at home in Plainview, where both are employed in Central Plains Mental Health and Mental Retardation Center, and the bridegroom is also a student in Wayland Baptist College.

In addition to the bride's parents, her brother Ricky, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Grover of Hereford attended the wedding.

Mrs. Zecek received a BS degree from Wayland in May and is a psychiatric technician at Central Plains Center where her husband works in the drug abuse program. His parents are Harry L. Zecek of Tulla and Mrs. Claire Zecek of Union City, New Jersey.

The bride attended high school in Hereford.

CHURCH IN CHILE

LIMA, Peru (AP)—There is no discord between the Catholic Church in Chile and the new Marxist government of President Salvador Allende, say the Rev. Thomas Golden and four other Maryknoll priests working in that country.

BY MELVIN YOUNG

Noticed in an area paper Tuesday that American Beef has announced another plant in the Texas panhandle—this time at Dumas.

We hope, for the sake of the Dumas economy that the deal goes through. However, if our memory serves us correctly, this is the third time American has announced intentions to build a packing plant in this area and we haven't seen any ground-breaking yet. The folks up at Perryton even voted bonds for airport expansion based on the belief that American Beef Packers would build a plant there. Of course, they probably needed the airport expansion anyway, so we suppose they really haven't lost anything.

And the Dumas area, suffering from the loss of their smelting industry, desperately needs new industrial facilities. There were about 400 people displaced by the closing of the smelter—that's 400 jobs according to the information we have received—and it will take a pretty good sized industrial plant to put that number of people back to work.

Actually, we suspect the equipment at the smelter was old, out-dated, and very inefficient and again, we suspect the company's officials welcomed the chance to close it. Plants do wear out. But, there needs to be something to fill the void. We hope the meat packing plant will be the answer to the problem.

Understand that the First United Methodist Church of Dimmitt has pledged $35,000 (on a matching fund basis) to King's Manor for improvements and expansion.

King's Manor has been one of the nicest things that's happened to our city in many years, and we're real proud of the fine institution. It has filled the needs of a lot of older people who still want to be independent, yet don't necessarily want to live alone. At King's Manor, they have all the advantages of living alone (privacy when they want it) plus the fellowship of others if they desire. You can't beat a deal like that.

A few years ago, through long and diligent effort on the part of a lot of people, Texas Tech managed to get into the Southwest Conference—and some people in the athletic department thought there would never be another bad day. The key to success, so to speak. And they didn't do too badly. A couple of years ago they slipped up on the University of Texas and defeated the Longhorns. They didn't have too bad a season last year either. In fact, things were looking so bright that the motel operators in Lubbock decided it was time to exploit the situation by requiring payment for two nights' lodging for those who would normally come to the games and spend only one night in the city—the nearest thing to piracy on dry land that we've ever witnessed. The University also hired a new head football coach and announced their plans to dominate the Southwest Conference.

Well sir, this is 1971, and Tech's plan isn't falling into place like it's supposed to. They've just finished playing their "breathers" and lost both of them and Saturday will travel to Austin to meet the Longhorns. And if Eddie Phillips is off the injured list, brother Carlen might as well keep his Red Raiders in Lubbock. They'll be a lot safer there.

But they shouldn't get discouraged. Some day we may be able to revive the old Border Conference, and we're sure Tech can regain its berth there.

New 4-H Club hears program

Poster board-making was demonstrated to Walcott 4-H Club at a recent meeting of the new group in Walcott School. Mrs. Richard Fortenberry showed how to make the posters and also how to make a friendship quilt. Teena Self conducted the business meeting.

Also present were Melle and Sherry Blasingame, Renee Russell, Rhonda Hall, Brenda and Lisa Duggan, Michelle Butler, Kay Whitson, Linda and Nita Fortenberry, Renee Charles, Becky Mungia, Debra Rogers, Estelle Anders, Patty Harris Brenda Robison.

Comings and Goings at King's Manor

King's Manor opened bids for the new addition to Westgate September 8, 1971, with Page and Werts having the low bids of $163,494.00. A contract will be signed before the end of September and work will begin immediately.

Mr. Jack Reynolds, our new administrator, has already endeared himself to our people at King's Manor. We bid him Godspeed!

Feed lots in the Dimmitt, Friona and Hereford environs, are planning to furnish us 13 beeves per year. Our profound thanks.

Mr. Merlin S. Webber, north of Hereford, has given us permission to gather potatoes from his fields. Dr. English and Mr. Reynolds gathered and stored for us some 500 lbs. of potatoes.

The family of Nettie Green has given the Manor her TV set. King's Manor flowers are unusually pretty this year. Hats off to our landscape person, David Hill, David is now on vacation.

Mrs. Carrie Hendrix is visiting relatives at various points; Mrs. Bertha Hudson and Mrs.

deared himself to our people at King's Manor. We bid him Godspeed!

Mrs. Carrie Hendrix is visiting relatives at various points; Mrs. Bertha Hudson and Mrs.

Mae Voss are in Deaf Smith County Hospital. Mrs. Voss' daughter, Mrs. John F. Piatt of Hood River, Oregon, is staying in the Manor to be near her mother; Mr. J. C. Surret has returned from near Tulsa, Oklahoma, where he has been fishing. He brought us 35 lbs. of frozen fish; Mrs. Maggie Hamilton, our dining room hostess, is visiting a brother and family in Bluefield, West Virginia.

Mrs. Lena Menefee took her turn at entertaining the Bethany Sunday School Class from the First Baptist Church in Hereford. They assembled at the Manor for the meeting and refreshments. Mrs. Martha Davies was the speaker.

Mrs. Ellen Lloyd of College Station, Texas, is our most recent resident at the Manor. Welcome Mrs. Lloyd!

Visitors and residents of Westgate are made happy to see the results of memorial contributions to Mr. Steve Williams. Mrs. Williams and others put out a row of lovely pink fashion roses and other shrubs. The project also included installation of a lamp post near the north entrance.

Westgate and the Manor continue to have many guests as shown by the numerous entries in our registry books.

Houston will play 10 of its 11 football games at night.

Long Beach State College has scheduled 12 football games this fall.

The highly rated Clovis Wildcats will invade Whiteface Stadium Friday for a 7:30 p.m. contest that promises to be as close as the encounter between the Whitefaces and Clovis last year.

The Wildcats started the season rated the No. 2 team in New Mexico, but since their opening game win, have dropped two games to Texas teams. They were nipped by Canyon, 15-14 and last week fell to Lubbock Dunbar, 13-8.

Blessed with an abundance of running backs, the Wildcats hope to repeat their 20-12 win over the Whitefaces last year.

The Whitefaces, on a two-game losing streak, are looking for their first win of the year after dropping a 19-12 decision to the Palo Duro Dons.
