

Banking institutions see deposits climb $5.6 million

An overall easing of the money situation, the ability of banking institutions to compete with federally offered investments and a continued growth of the local economy were reflected this week in an increase of more than $5.6 million on hand in Hereford's banking facilities.

The Credit Union, Hi-Plains Savings and Loan, First National and Hereford State Bank reported a combined total increase of $5,687,035 at the close of business June 30.

Officials of each of the institutions attributed their increases to a general slackening of money across the nation as well as a continued boom locally.

Milton Durham, manager of the Credit Union, said his institution, which is up by $394,326 over the same time last year, has seen a sharp increase in loans during the past year.

Durham said in contrast to most of the savings institutions who have experienced a drop in loans, the Credit Union is up. Already since the first of the year, he said, the Credit Union is up about $500,000 and things "look real good."

Hi-Plains Savings and Loan Association witnessed a $1,237,159 increase over the same period a year ago and manager Myron Morgan said the reason for this is that savings and loan associations have become "competitive" with other investments such as government securities, which have dropped off considerably in the past year.

"Today it is quite a different story than it was a year ago—even six months ago," he said. Deposits at Hi-Plains reached a high of $9,924,937 at the end of the reporting quarter June 30. This compared with $8,687,778 at the same time last year.

Deposits at the Hereford State Bank jumped from $10,701,263 in 1970 to $12,514,843 at the end of June. This is an increase of $1,813,580.

Budget discussion by hospital board falls short of goal

The Deaf Smith County Hospital Board's special-called meeting Tuesday morning to discuss the budget for the coming year bogged down because of a lack of a quorum. Only three of the six board members could attend.

The board will meet in regular session July 20, at which time final action on the budget for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1 probably will be taken.

Carl Perrin, Tommy Carnahan and Dr. J. H. McCrary were unable to attend the special meeting.

However, members Ed Line, L. J. Straffuss and Ed Wilson and administrator T. E. Seigler went informally over some of the problems facing the hospital in attempting to keep room rates as low as practical in coming up with operating revenue for next year.

The two problems the hospital has, Seigler said, are a low patient load and a high number of patients who leave without paying.

"Whether we can absorb these costs without increasing our room rates, I don't know," Seigler said. He told the board the only way he sees to keep county and hospital taxes at a level no higher than was paid last year, would be to raise room rates by 4 1/2 per cent.

"That's to leave the overall taxes no more than they are now, which seems to be the desire of the people. That's the only way I can figure to do it," Seigler said.

Straffuss said taxpayers built the hospital and now are being assessed taxes to help take care of charity patients.

"When they come here and we charge them $45 a day, they are not going to like it," Straffuss said of a higher room rate.

"We might as well forget about raising these room rates," Line, chairman of the board, said he had hoped the county commissioners would have adjusted the county tax downward enough "to at least offset what we have to pay for bonds ($90,000 a year), but there's nothing we can do about that."

The county taxes, apart from the hospital, will be about $40,000 higher in the coming year, they said.

Straffuss said he preferred a 25-cent tax rate, which would give the hospital an estimated $120,000, he said — or about $30,000 to take care of charity cases after the money needed for repayment of bonds was deducted.

"I had hoped we could keep it under 25 cents, and keep the room rates the same, especially until we see how we're getting along this first year of the hospital district," Line said.

The board acknowledged Seigler's reminder that Congress is considering an increase in the minimum wage law, which would mean more expenses about Jan. 1.

"But if they do do that," Straffuss said, "we could raise room rates any time."

Line praised Seigler for the tight rein he has kept on expenses in the past and said his own hopes for a low tax rate and low room rate were based "on the feeling that you have done so well in the past in making the hospital pay for itself and hoping you can continue to do so."

Seigler said the hospital could decrease its services by letting employees go or by hiring nurses' aides instead of nurses, but didn't feel either the board or the community wanted that. The board agreed, saying it didn't feel the type of service at the hospital should decline because of the creation of the hospital district.

The hospital board gave its agreement to the operation of a nurse-training program, similar to one run last year, provided the hospital have a part in selecting the students. The Texas Employment Commission has a $50,000 grant for the program. Last year it chose a number of hard core unemployed as trainees, and many of them appeared interested only in drawing the weekly check of $50 or so that the program called for, and not in learning how to become a nurse. In general, the hospital was dissatisfied with the graduates of the one-year-long course, although there were some top students who also came out of it, Seigler said.

"LET ME HELP YOU, RICCI" — So says Tommy Bolling, member of the Noon Lions Club, as he helps Ricci Barbee, 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Simons, Canyon, as they prepare to meet a chartered bus in Amarillo which took these children to the Lions Camp for Crippled Children at Kerrville Saturday. Joe Angel Garcia, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Garcia, of Hereford Labor Camp; Rose Mary Pena, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pena, 311 Irving, and Roger Jobe, 14, back, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Jobe, Easter Community, also went to the two week camp.

Man enters guilty plea for aggravated assault

An 18-year-old Hereford man pleaded guilty in County Court Thursday to charges of aggravated assault on a police officer and was fined court costs and sentenced to six months in jail.

County Judge H. C. Williams assessed the punishment against Clement Zavala, 18, of Progressive Road.

Zavala was arrested Saturday night after he struck city police officer Ed Owsley several times while Owsley was attempting to search him. Police reports said they received a call of a disturbance in an alley near Whittier Street and when they arrived they found Zavala and several other men who apparently were drunk.

Officers arrested one man and Owsley was attempting to search Zavala when the man struck him. Several members of the sheriff's office subdued Zavala and he was then taken to the county jail. A second charge of aggravated assault also was handled in

Former resident dies in Canyon

Berry Orr Jacobsen, 55, of Amarillo, former longtime resident of Hereford, died Monday afternoon in Neblett Memorial Hospital at Canyon. He suffered an apparent heart attack.

Mr. Jacobsen moved to Amarillo 15 years ago from his native Hereford where he had extensive farming interests. He was employed by the Silas Mason Company Inc. as design-engineer.

Mr. Jacobsen graduated from Texas Tech University, was a member of Tau Pi Honor Society and the Texas Society of Professional Engineers. He held membership in the Southwest Church of Christ.

He married Miss Glenna Young Oct. 2, 1964 in Amarillo. He is survived by his wife; a son Lee of the home; two daughters, Jan, of the home and Mrs. Jorene Meador of Pampa; his mother, Mrs. John Jacobsen Sr., and brother Chris, both of Hereford.

The family requests memorials be made to the High Plains Children's Home of Amarillo or to favorite charities.

County Court Tuesday, but no action was taken against the man, Ray Rodriguez, 21, of 304 Irving.

Rodriguez pleaded guilty to the charge of beating his wife, but punishment was delayed until the condition of his wife becomes apparent. His wife is several months pregnant. She was taken to Deaf Smith County Hospital late Sunday and was released Tuesday.

Other cases filed but not heard were:

—Manuel E. Gavina, 17, 902 S. Main, carrying a prohibited weapon and released on $500 bond.

—William E. Sheperd, 52, 109 Ave. C, driving while intoxicated, released on $500 bond.

A fire destroyed a well house, pump and pressure tank, Monday night on the George Turrentine farm, four-and-a-half miles west of Hereford.

The fire was reported at approximately 9:15 p.m. to the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department and some 10 men responded to the alarm.

The fire was caused by an electrical short in the pressure tank, according to fire marshal Paul Hagar.

Vegetable harvest is underway

By MARKIE McBRIDE
Staff Writer

Vegetable processing and shipping sheds are expecting excellent quality potatoes and onions, with a drop in yields after getting a look at the first loads coming in this week.

Early potatoes appear to be below average in production by about 20 to 25 per cent, caused by heavy hails occurring in May, local shed owners said, but the onion tonnage is normal so far.

The majority of the sheds began processing Tuesday, and the remaining sheds are expected to be harvesting by next Monday. Harvest is expected to end the last part of August.

Ed Wilson of Colville & Wilson, Inc. said that shed workers began processing Tuesday, with 10 car loads of early potatoes reported that afternoon.

"The quantity is down considerably, but the quality for early potatoes is outstanding," he said.

Most processors are handling Red and Nargold potatoes and Yellow Grano and White Grano onions.

"The potato skins are extra good for this time of year," Dick Barrett of Barrett Produce said Tuesday after receiving their first load of potatoes.

The market for potatoes and onions are down, not the highest prices are being reported but processors said they are hoping for an increase as the harvest progresses.

The vegetable sheds are presently working normal crews of 30 to 40 workers and are shipping the products mostly to the southern, eastern, and midwestern states.

Pair arrested on drug charge

A man and woman, who gave sheriff's officers Houston addresses, remained in the county jail Wednesday after being charged with possession of marijuana.

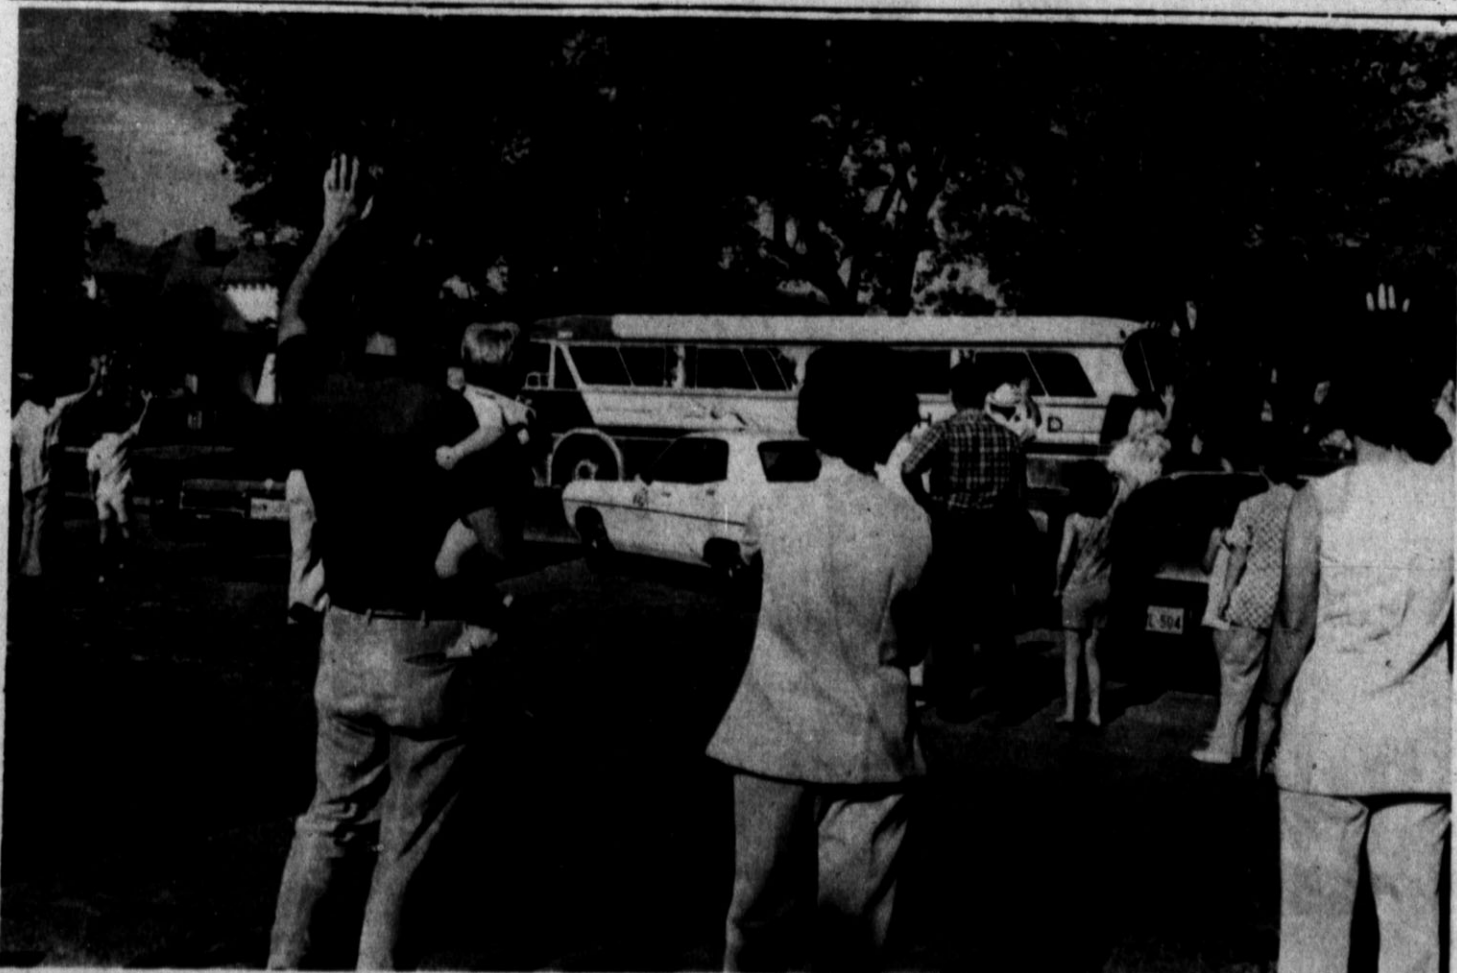

Bond for the man, Gary Jack White, 23, was set at $5,000 and bond for the girl, Martha Ann Letney, 18, was set at $3,000.

The two were arrested shortly after midnight Saturday when officers from the sheriff's department found them behind a building on 25 Mile Avenue. Sheriff Travis McPherson said officers found the two in their car and both appeared to be drunk.

Officers, after a search of the car, said they found a "lid" of marijuana in the car. The "lid" contained enough marijuana to make about 20 or 25 marijuana cigarettes, McPherson said.

BEAUTY PRESENTS AWARDS — Brenda Box, "Miss Texas Universe," from Amarillo, rode in Saturday's parade and afterwards presented awards to the winners during a rick ceremony at the courthouse. Rick Reich, right, was named to be next year's parade marshal for the third time.

FOLLOWING A BUSY WEEKEND — A number of Hereford citizens said goodbye Monday morning to nearly 40 American Field Service students who spent the weekend in their homes. The students, on a final tour of the United States before returning to their native lands, were treated to a swimming party, picnic, dance and a trip to the stage production of Texas at Palo Duro Canyon.

It's official—18-year-olds can vote

All 18, 19 and 20-year-olds who registered this year to vote probably won't have the opportunity to try out their new power this year unless some type of special election is called.

More than 200 Deaf Smith County young people below the 21-year-old registration age, registered to vote this year. These will be the only young people eligible to vote in any election during the coming year.

County Clerk B. F. Cain said the voter registration certificates issued to persons under 21 years of age will be useless to them "unless a bond issue is called by the city or school or a special state or national election is called."

Those who did not register this year will have to wait until October before registration begins again. Those who register then, however, will be unable to vote until 1972.

Cain received a letter from Martin Dies, Jr., Secretary of State, which made official all persons 18, 19 or 20 years of age who are presently registered to vote for federal elections only may now vote in all elections in the county and other political subdivisions.

The 26th Amendment to the United States Constitution lowering the voting age to 18 in all elections was ratified last week by the state legislatures. Some 38 states were required to ratify the amendment before it could become law and Ohio became the 38th state late last week.

The bill became law July 1 and registered 18, 19 or 20-year-olds may now vote in any election whether it be federal, state, county, city or other political subdivision.

Cancer, an increasingly familiar disease to surgeons

(Editor's Note: James Presley, winner of the 1971 award for best writing in the field of medicine, wrote the following story as part of a series on cancer.)

Last week I asked a surgeon what percentage of his operations involved cancer or suspicion of cancer.

The surgeon checked his records for the past two months and came up with an astonishing discovery that left even him a bit surprised.

One month he had done 13 operations related to cancer, out of a total of 27. Another month, one-third of all his operations were for cancer or suspicion of cancer.

"Thirty-five per cent is a pretty good figure," he concluded.

He believes this percentage is representative of how often other surgeons deal with cancer in the operating room.

That there is an epidemic of cancer in the United States is nothing new to a surgeon. He has been whittling on the problem for many years. Whittling is a good word to use in this connection, for like radiation treatment, surgical treatment of cancer also has its limits.

There are at least two types of cancer that surgery, and everything else, is likely to fail at. The surgeon said, "Cancer of the pancreas can almost never be cured—you can't say never, but it's unusual. Cancer of the liver is the same. In cancer of the pancreas, there's no radiation therapy. You're thrown back on chemotherapy almost entirely.

"People tend to get their hopes up too high, but then sometimes patients will fool you. It's a lot more subtle than statistics tell. I've seen a woman come in with just a tiny lump,"—and the surgeon held up his fingers, barely separated, to demonstrate how small he meant—"in her breast, and die within a year. On the other hand, I've seen cases of breast cancer much more advanced and although the patient didn't survive, she lived for another five or six years.

"There are all kinds of weird cases. Cases where the lymph nodes are taken out, but we can't find the primary source. It sometimes seems as if there were a strange relationship between the person and the cancer, and one or the other wins. There are many weird things about this disease.

"Then there are some types of cancer that can be cured. The cancer of the cervix is the bright spot, because of the effectiveness of the Pap smear. But this is the only type for which we have a test for such very early detection. We use a Pap smear on sputum, to check for lung cancer. But it's not as effective as that of the cervix.

"There are some cases that can be cured. There is a type of kidney cancer that occurs in children that appears to respond to a combination of surgery, radiation, and chemotherapy.

"There are individual differences and regional differences in cancer. Skin cancer becomes so common here in Texas it gets to be a nuisance. But in Minnesota it's much less common. This is thought to be due to greater exposure to the sun in this latitude.

"And there are group differences. Jewish women almost never get cancer of the cervix, but they do get cancer of the body of the womb. It was thought this was because Jewish men were circumcised, but now that isn't so certain any many authorities doubt that it's the reason.

"Breast cancer tends to run in families. When a mother has breast cancer, it is more common later on in her daughters."

Would the surgeon take us through what might be considered a representative case history of cancer?

"Yes," he said, "Let's take a case of cancer of the colon, and start at the beginning, with diagnosis.

"A fellow starts having a little diarrhea or constipation or both, perhaps with blood in his stool. He may have a little discomfort in his abdomen.

"He may think he has hemorrhoids.

"After three or four months of this, he gets around to seeing his doctor. His doctor diagnoses with a sigmoidoscope or proctoscope or X-rays that it's cancer of the colon. (A sigmoidoscope or proctoscope is a tube-like apparatus with a light in it that is inserted through the rectum to enable the physician to see inside the colon and rectum.)

"The next step is to clear up the patient's general health, to make sure he has no complicating factors for surgery, such as heart trouble or diabetes. Then we empty the intestinal tract by a combination of diet and enemas. If there is a chance of infection, we may use antibiotics at the time.

"Then you have removal of the tumor, which in most cases doesn't change the bowel movement but in cases involving the rectum it sometimes may require removal of the entire rectum and installation of a colostomy. The period of hospitalization is from 10 days to two weeks.

If found and treated in time, colon and rectum cancer is highly curable. More than half can be cured.

But the surgeon, although surgery is his profession, doesn't see surgery as the end-all for cancer. He thinks the significant breakthrough, when it comes in cancer, will come in the area of chemotherapy, out of the study of enzymes.

"The crux of the problem, and the reason surgery is not the answer, is seen in the weird behavior of the disease. Some cancer, strangely enough will regress automatically. For some reason they will disappear. Why? Why do some patients with breast cancer this "bird-indicating smallness—" die in a year and another with breast cancer, much larger, will come in—and live five to six years?

"You can quote statistics in a thousand cases, sure, but when old Joe Blow's over there, you don't know where he'll go.

"In some cases we don't think we can cure, but we can extend the patient's life or can add to his productive life with reasonable surgical maneuvers.

"I think any statistical data based on information from death certificates is not very accurate. Most statistics are not based on autopsies or exact information."

How does the surgeon deal with informing his cancer patients of their serious condition, especially the terminal cases?

"My psychology is, if the patient asks me, I tell him straight. I never volunteer it. Those who don't want to know will never ask. I'm never dogmatic about their chances. They'll fool you. I don't see any point in my generating pessimism."

Enrollment peaks for music camp

Enrollment for the 19th Annual Instrumental Music Camp at West Texas State University has reached a record total of 1,100 students.

The two-week camp is scheduled for July 11-23 and students from throughout Texas and surrounding states will be attending. Nine bands, an orchestra, and a choir will comprise the performing organizations.

A faculty of sixty-two highly qualified directors from the entire midwest and southwest have been invited to serve on the faculty.

Featured guest conductors are H. Robert Reynolds, Director of Bands at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, who will conduct the Honors Band and Harry Lantz, Chairman of the Department of Music and Director of the Orchestra at the University of Wisconsin, Kenosha, who will conduct the Camp Orchestra.

Other conductors of performing organizations will be J.R. McIntyre, Odessa; O. T. Ryan, Plainview; W. A. Anderson, n, Abilene; Harris Brinson, Pampa; James Nail, Odessa; Norvell Howell, Clovis, N.M.; Dan Gibbs, Monahans; G. T. Gilligan, Kermit; David Ritter, WTSU; and Hugh Sanders, WTSU. Dr. George Umberson is Camp Director with Donald Baird serving as Assistant Camp Director.

In addition to participating in their band or orchestra, students may choose electives such as stage band, music theory, music appreciation, choir, reading band, twirling, drum majoring, private lessons, and woodwind, brass and string and percussion ensembles.

All nine bands and the orchestra will first appear in concert on Friday, July 16, beginning at 1:30 p. m. in the Fine Arts Theatre. A Faculty-Student Recital is scheduled for 7:30 p.m., Monday, July 19, and the Camp Choir, Brass Choir, and Directors' Band will present a concert at 7:30 p. m. on July 21, in the Fine Arts Theatre.

All bands and the orchestra will again appear on the Final Concert beginning at 1 p. m. on Friday, July 23, in the Fine Arts Theatre.

The public is invited to all these programs and there is no admission charge.

LVN receives volunteer pin

Sally Farmer of 410 Ave. I, received a Licensed Vocational Nurse (LVN) pin Wednesday for volunteer service in the local Red Cross orientation course she completed two years ago.

Mrs. Farmer completed the course in 1969 but moved away before the pins were presented. She just recently moved back and Winnie Anderson, nursing chairman for the local Red Cross Chapter, presented the pin.

The pin is presented to a person who has given at least 20 hours of volunteer service to the community.

Mrs. Farmer is employed as an LVN at Deaf Smith County Hospital.

CHEMUNG, N. Y. — When George Knapp, 33, came before him on a littering charge Chemung Town Justice John Schamel decided to let the punishment fit the crime.

Knapp was arrested for tearing up an insulated drinking cup and scattering the pieces.

Justice Schamel sentenced Knapp to policing an area of Rt. 17 near the hamlet, on both sides of the highway. Schamel said he would supply bus-bag in which Knapp could deposit the refuse.

lane highway will soon be built from Austin to and beyond this particular area. In other words, if you haven't retired yet, you can still get into the city and your job in about 20 to 30 minutes. When you get back in the evening, you have your own private golf course or, if you prefer, you can get the boat out of the slip and do a little fishing. It makes sense, and the developers are making the most of it.

zette, a weekly paper in a city of 15,000 people. She seems to be enjoying the work very much and appears to be getting along fine. She was very busy too, since the newspaper was hosting a party for visiting newspaper men prior to the big July 4th Street festival that is held in Seguin every year. We understand that people come from miles around to take part in the big celebration.

ford. It was a comfortable 92 degrees in the capital city Saturday, while Lubbock and other towns on the South Plains and High Plains were recording temperatures of 100 degrees and above. We understand it was 104 in Lubbock Sunday. For that matter, it hit 103 in Hereford Tuesday, and 107 in Dimmitt. Now that's hot.

wood. We wonder if they're using the "hard sell" method.

And Gene Brink, pastor of the First Christian Church, has been catching flak from members of his congregation — and club as well. Ivan Block, a member of the Christian Church says he's been paying the preacher but apparently the preacher hasn't been sending it in. At least it isn't bringing the rain.

thought he would make motel reservations for this fall's Aggie-Texas Tech Football game. He discovered however, that the motels not only were requiring the first night's rent in advance, but were also forcing the patrons to rent the facilities for two nights — Friday and Saturday.

Bill figures, and rightly so, this is blackmail. We're accustomed to hearing about such things in the north and along the seaboard, but it's a practice that's unheard of in the southwest. Particularly in this part of Texas.

We believe the motels have made a mistake and that it will backfire.

By the way, some one told us recently that heavyweight champion Joe Frazier could not sing worth a hoot. We agree. But who's going to tell him?

by MELVIN YOUNG
Developers have been having a heyday around the state's man-made lakes. Even Lake Meredith, which probably hasn't a tree per acre, now has several developments being pushed. Presumably, most of these are for the people who wish to spend the weekends on the lake, fishing and just taking it easy. A lot of the homeowners are probably from Amarillo, but many are from much further away. There are some Hereford people who own property around the lake and we're betting that many more will within a few years.

Downstate, and particularly in the Highland Lakes area along the Colorado River, it is becoming a way of life. On Lake Travis above Austin — and within easy driving distance to Austin — developers have bought up about all the shoreline and communities are being established along the lake. One such development, Lago Vista, has built a motel, a golf course, a marina, put in a water system, paved roads and are now selling lots like hotcakes. All the way from $5,000 to $20,000, depending on the location, and a number of beautiful homes have already been built. A lot of the people who have purchased lots in this development are from Austin, but many come from Houston and a number from the northern states. We assume these folks have had a pretty effective sales organization up north.

Unlike the retirement communities that are so popular in Arizona, these are simply becoming "planned cities" along the lakes. Most developers are providing shopping centers within easy reach of the homesites, and we're told that a four

Noon Kiwanis club seeks to help young people

ONE OF MANY — The mop-and-broom sale is one of many of the fund raising projects that the Noon Kiwanis Club is active in. Here a few members are selling their goods on the parking lot of Gibson's Discount Center. The Key Club boys also help in this project.

BY MARKIE McBRIDE
Staff Writer

Participating in civic work has been the trademark of the Noon Kiwanis Club, but helping and working with the young people of Hereford has been the main concern of its members for more than two decades.

Sponsoring youth clubs, giving scholarships, and creating youth activities are among the active projects the club provides for the youth of Hereford.

"Our main service is to become involved with the youth of our community. Also we help our city through community wide fund raising and civic projects. We stress high christian ideas among our members, encouraging them to attend church regularly. We feel that belonging to our club is one of the best and strongest ways to serve our community," Rodney Laubhan, incoming president said.

Established April 27, 1950, the club has grown from 26 members to the present enrollment of 72 members. It is through these members that the organization has been strongly active with youth and civic activities to make Hereford a better community.

The club's main project is sponsoring the Key Club, a high school organization for boys. The Kiwanis Club assists them in their flag raising project and other activities, and provides advice to the boys when needed. Two or three boys attend Kiwanis every week to better unite the two clubs.

The Key Club won the Key Club-Kiwanis Relationship award at the Texas-Oklahoma Key Club Convention last year for having the best relationship and unity between a Key Club and its sponsoring Kiwanis Club.

A $350 scholarship is given each year to a deserving graduate. This year's recipient was Mike Emerson. Other youth programs include monthly donations to the Satellite transportation fund and to the Day Care Center.

In the past, the Kiwanis Club has helped contribute to the American Field Service program, which sponsors teenagers from different countries.

This year the club, led by Rev. Eugene Brink, sponsored Cub Scout troop 146, furnishing it with a scout master and financial support.

To keep young people involved, the organization annually holds a grade school track meet for children in the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades. This ends the after-school physical education program held by elementary schools.

They help sponsor Operation Drug Alert (ODA), which is a series of television programs informing people about the drug problems of our area.

The club donates to Camp Wigwam, a summer camp for retarded children.

Other ways Kiwanis aids the community is through many civic projects, like helping buy furnishings for the Bull Barn and Camp Fire Lodge. They also buy glasses for grade school children who cannot afford them.

To help beautify the city, Kiwanis members planted trees around Bluebonnet, Alkman, Tierra Blanca, and Northwest elementary schools.

Fund raising projects held by the club include the sale of firewood, mops and brooms, Halloween candy, and as a new activity, the club will sell Christmas trees this coming season. They also hold a pancake and sausage supper each year.

The Whiteface Breakfast Kiwanis Club and the Dimmitt Kiwanis Clubs were formed by Hereford's Noon Kiwanis Club. The new clubs were given financial help, initiative, and the help in finding members to begin the club.

Laubhan will be assisted this next year by Don Lane, 1st vice president; Tom Burdett, 2nd vice president; R. C. Hoelscher, secretary; and Bartley Dowell, treasurer, with Diana Zinser replacing Patty Nowatny as club sweetheart.

Kiwanis meets Thursdays at the Civic Club Center. It is in division six of the Texas-Oklahoma district. Last year a local Kiwanis member, Dean Herring, served as Lt. Governor of Division six and Dowell is presently running for the same office.

Mrs. E. Vance reelected as Aux. president

Mrs. Elbert Vance was reelected to the office of president for the American Legion Auxiliary Tuesday night at the Legion Building when thirteen members were present.

Elected to serve with her are Mrs. J. G. Gandy and Mrs. W. J. Smith, vice presidents, Mrs. S. T. Wiseman secretary, Mrs. Gilliland, sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Hazel Sparks, assistant sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. R. O. Stark, chaplain and Mrs. J. E. Young reporter.

Two members-at-large elected by the group were Mrs. Grant Hanna and Mrs. Elsie Nelson.

Mrs. Vance, presiding officer, discussed with the women the annual Harvest Dinner to be held Friday, August 13 at the Legion Hall. It was declared "a lucky day," by members.

Delegates to the July 23-25 convention in Dallas were selected. They are Mmes. Vance, Ott, Wiseman, Hanna and Smith. Alternates are Mmes. Gandy, Sparks, Mable Wagner, Charles Hood and LeRoy K. Williamson.

Wilson names C. A. Barbour vice president

DENVER—C. A. Barbour has been named Vice President, Beef and Lamb operations of the Denver-headquartered Wilson Beef and Lamb Company, one of several new appointments announced by E. A. Trowbridge Jr., president and chief executive officer.

Barbour was formerly vice president in charge of beef and now assumes broader responsibilities for lamb operations.

Trowbridge also announced the following promotions: Don Godby has been named Director of Lamb Procurement, C. Jack Malone has been named Director of Lamb Sales and Harold Harper is the new Head Lamb Buyer at the Denver plant.

C. A. Barbour, 49, is a veteran of the beef and lamb industry with over 22 years of service with the Wilson companies. He was named a Director and Vice President of Wilson Beef & Lamb Co. when it was formed in 1970. He began his Wilson career in 1949 with the Omaha plant's beef sales department. In 1953, he was with the Kansas City beef and small stock department and later handled similar responsibilities in the Los Angeles plant. In 1964, he was named manager for the Denver plant.

Don Godby, 36, joined Wilson in 1966 as head lamb buyer-Denver plant, a position he held until his present promotion to Director of Lamb Procurement. Prior to joining Wilson, he was an assistant manager-lamb and veal for an Iowa meat packer. Godby is a graduate of the University of Kentucky.

C. Jack Malone, 56, originally joined Wilson in 1938 and has over 30 years of service in the beef and lamb industry. He began his career with Wilson's New York branch operations and in 1944, became Manager Small Stock Department at the Harlem facility. In 1956, he assumed new duties in carload and bulk sales for lamb and veal in both the Washington, D. C. and Chicago offices. Malone continued in this position when Wilson Beef & Lamb Co. was formed and moved to Denver.

Harold Harper, 33, has been with Wilson since 1966, initially as lamb buyer in the Omaha plant and later with the Denver facility. Prior to joining Wilson, he was a lamb buyer for six years with an Iowa meat packing operation. A graduate of Purdue University with a degree in Animal Science, Harper now assumes the position vacated by Don Godby as head lamb buyer for the Denver plant.

Wilson Beef & Lamb Co. is a subsidiary of Wilson & Co., Inc. Its common stock is traded over-the-counter under the NASDAQ symbol, WBEL.

Organic farming program offered to area farmers

Arrowhead Mills, a locally owned mill that deals in organically grown, whole, unfragmented food, has made an offer to area farmers to pay them a premium price for crops produced through the company's soil-building program.

The soil-building program of organic farming is designed to work with nature using natural methods to encourage a high human content in the soil. It also insures good earthworm and desirable bacteria populations and the avoidance of any materials which might have a negative or harmful effect on the soil or what it produces.

"This year several area farmers grew wheat organically with highly satisfactory results," said Boyd Foster, an employe of the mill. "These farmers sold their wheat to Arrowhead Mills and were paid a premium of 15 cents over market price, and when the test weight exceeded 63 pounds per bushel, they received an additional premium."

"Optimum yields are possible the natural way and much more goes along with it—a satisfaction of producing a superior product without any harmful effects to the environment."

Fletcher Sims of Canyon is working with Arrowhead Mills and interested area farmers on soil analysis and fertility. He studied under Dr. William Albrecht of the University of Missouri and uses the Pfeiffer method of composting manure with nitrogen and phosphorous forming bacteria.

The composted manure is a more "complete" fertilizer than manure alone although manure will give noticeable results if applied early enough for decomposition to be well advanced by the time of planting, Foster said.

"Each farmer interested in signing up for a three year program of soil building will be aided in any way possible to build up the human content of his soil to 3 per cent or more," Foster said. "Depending on soil conditions and the timing of application, a recommended amount of composted manure could be applied over a layer of feed yard manure."

Composted manure costs an average of $5.33 per care per year over a three year period during which a total of one ton per acre will be applied. Some 1,000 pounds will be put down the first year, 600 pounds the second year, and the remaining 400 pounds the third year.

The agreement to become an organic farmer is not binding.

Plans are now underway for organizing tours of successful organic farms in the area for farmers wishing to investigate this method further.

"Life begins with the soil and if we have a healthy soil we will have healthy plants, animals, and people," Foster said.

"The economic life of the area can be extended through conditioning the soil to absorb water more readily and contain it longer for use by the crops. Also, the whole area could benefit from premium prices paid for wheat, corn, soybeans, alfalfa, rye, mung beans and other crops which can be grown locally."

Services held for baby boy

Roger Dale Syms, 3-month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Syms of Vega, died Sunday in Deaf Smith County Hospital following a brief illness.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Church of Christ in Vega, with burial in Vega Cemetery.

The infant is also survived by two brothers and one sister.

Veteran's affairs

Editor's note: Veterans and their dependents are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veteran's Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q—My husband, a WW II veteran, died recently. I applied for the proceeds of his National Service Life Insurance, only to be informed by the VA that I was not the beneficiary. Is this money lost to me?

A—It may be. The VA must pay the proceeds of NSLI policies to the beneficiary last designated by the insured. Many veterans neglect to keep their beneficiary designations up to date. In your case, the situation can be resolved in your favor only if the named beneficiary recognizes the unfairness, and can be persuaded to assign all or part of the proceeds to you.

Q—I am receiving pension under the so called "old law." May I change to the "new law?"

A—Yes. You may change; however, before changing, it is suggested that you discuss it with a VA representative.

Speaker candidate seeks changes

DALLAS — State Rep. Price Daniel Jr. has appealed to Gov. Preston Smith to include in his special session called by the governor a bill Daniel said would save the taxpayers of Texas millions of dollars.

Daniel's proposed law would prohibit the 10 House and Senate conferees from adding money to the state appropriation bill that had not been considered or approved by a majority of the House and Senate membership.

"This limitation would prevent in the future many of the problems Governor Smith recited in vetoing the second year of the appropriation bill and would go a long way towards curtailing runaway spending," Daniel said.

"The 10 conferees add items to the appropriation bill that never would have been approved by a majority of the House and Senate; my proposal will stop this practice," Daniel added.

The law advocated by Daniel is one of four statutes that he announced recently as his platform in his campaign for Speaker of the House of Representatives, 63rd Session.

Daniel, who calls himself a moderate Democrat, has launched a statewide grassroots campaign seeking support for the four statutes, which he describes as, designed to "clean up the mess in the Texas House and restore control of that legislative body to the people of Texas and their elected representatives."

New rules affect boats

AUSTIN — Boat owners in Texas will operate under new rules as a result of actions by the 62nd Legislature.

Of immediate interest to boaters is the new law requiring children 12 years old or under riding in a Class 1 or Class A motorboat while underway to wear life preservers of the sort prescribed by the regulations of the Commandant of the Coast Guard.

The only such approved life preserver is a U. S. Coast Guard approved life preserver. If a boat is underway, and if the child does not have the life preserver, the operator will be ticketed.

The new law does not apply to canoes, rowboats or sailboats, but these boats after Sept. 1, are required to have a Coast Guard approved life-saving device on board for each person. These boats were heretofore exempted from this requirement.

Also new is the requirement that after Jan. 1, 1972, all motorboats must be registered with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, regardless of length or horsepower.

BONANZA BAPTISM
WHITLESEY, England — Tom Neancy and his wife Caroline couldn't decide whether or not to have their children christened. He is a Roman Catholic and she a Congregationalist and they evaded the issue for 17 years. Now the kids have decided for themselves. The vote was unanimous — a bumper christening ceremony for all 10 at the local Cambridgeshire Congregationalist church.

Women's C of C plans reception

The Women's Division Chamber of Commerce for Deaf Smith County met Tuesday and discussed hosting a reception later this month in honor of new Chamber manager, Jim Lindsey of Durant, Okla.

Lindsey will assume duties July 19 in place of Bill Thompson who resigned to take the position as executive vice president at Leavenworth, Kan. C of C.

In other business conducted by Mrs. Shep Townsend, president, the women voted to send three representatives to the annual Women's Division C of C Western Conference Aug. 18-19 in Amarillo.

Also approved was an identification of personal belongings project. The project was explained by the education committee and will be discussed in the future as plans unfold.

Mrs. Elmer Patterson introduced the program, John Messenger, chairman of the legislative committee for Deaf Smith County C of C.

Messenger gave the group a report on the projects of his committee and resolutions passed in Congress affecting this area.

He told them how they can help the small businessman find success in Hereford, stressing, "Trade with him."

"The biggest problem the small businessman faces is financing his business. The Small Business Administration sets requirements on their loans, which are of great help to these men."

In speaking on how an increase in the minimum wage may affect this county, he said, "Such an increase may deter the availability of jobs for high school aged kids during the summer because employers would hire as few employees as possible."

"Some business decreased in profits due to the last increase from $1 to $1.60."

Messenger reminded the Vote Campaign sponsored by the C of C and gave special recognition to Buddy Peeler of Radio Station KPAN and Charles Richards, news editor of the Hereford Brand, for publicity which boosted the successful drive.

Messenger is accountant with Kernaghan-Harvey and Company.

GUEST SPEAKER—John Messenger was guest speaker at the Women's Division Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce luncheon Tuesday at Big Daddy's Restaurant. Messenger, chairman of the legislative committee for DSC C of C, spoke concerning the county's economy. He was introduced by Mrs. Elmer Patterson.

Lloyd Bentsen's weekly column

One of the major issues facing the Congress this year was debated and voted on last week and that was the extension of the draft. The wide margin of approval by the Senate did not reflect the deep division of opinion on the matter, and it was debated for over seven weeks.

The Armed Services Committee, on which I serve was the Committee charged with the responsibility for carrying the bill on the floor.

I voted to extend the draft for two years, but I take no great pleasure in my vote. I do feel it is necessary to maintain the draft for the nation's security. Today, you find only four percent of those persons in combat units being volunteers. I simply do not believe that the all-volunteer concept will work in times of conflict. But I do think we can bring it about in times of peace. I also feel that we need some time to try to bring about the changes in the Army along with the increases in the military pay to try to encourage the volunteers.

There were several votes on various amendments during the debate, including some which called for immediate withdrawal of all U. S. forces from Southeast Asia. I have said that I do not want to tie the President's hands in his efforts to withdraw from Vietnam, and bring the war to an end consistent with U. S. interests. Thus, I voted against those amendments which I felt were restrictive of the President's trying to wind down the war and free our prisoners.

There was one amendment on concluding the war which I favored, and for which I voted — the Mansfield Amendment.

I voted for the Mansfield Amendment because it expresses my feelings about concluding this war without tying the hands of the President in his negotiations with the North Vietnamese. It expresses the sense of the Senate that we want this frustrating conflict to end; that we fulfilled our obligation to the South Vietnamese; that we have left them with a capability and the capacity to defend themselves. Whether they have the will to do it or not — that depends on them. That's something we can't give them. But I felt that our expression showed our sharing of the responsibility of policy that is set forth in the Constitution. The President is given that authority under that Constitution on the conduct of the war, and the Senate is given the responsibility to advise and consent.

I am hopeful that our action, and the President's expressed policy, will be effective in bringing our troops home faster and ending the conflict consistent with United States interests.

Bentsen urges higher priority for '72 education

WASHINGTON — Senator Lloyd Bentsen, saying the Nixon Administration's budget request for education for next year are clearly inadequate to meet the pressing needs of schools, has urged the President to accept the Congressional increases approved by a Senate-House conference.

Congress added $393 million to the Nixon budget request for schools. The appropriation is before the President for signature.

"Even the President has said that cuts in the budget must not come in the school area, and there is no more critical investment by government," Bentsen said. "It is apparent that support for education at the same level as last year represents a reduction because of inflation."

He said elementary, secondary and higher educational funding is necessary to maintain adequate facilities and instruction.

The senator said increases approved by Congress for environmental education, drug abuse education, and bilingual education are particularly meaningful for Texas.

Congress appropriated $5.146 billion for the 1972 educational programs.

THE FOUR M'S — Four factors considered critical to the Army's approach to the future — Mission, Motivation, Modernization and Management — are described in an exhibit which will open in Sugarland Mall July 12 and continue for four days. The exhibit, which is free, uses pictures, artwork, copy and special audience participation devices to help visitors learn more about the Army. The exhibit will show how the Army deals with technological, political and social changes, as well as military objectives. Since 1902 when President McKinley was assassinated, the U. S. Secret Service has been charged with guarding the President. The Suez Canal is 106 feet wide and 31 feet deep.

Preliminary payments set for 1971 wheat producers

Wheat producers will receive $1.20 per bushel in preliminary payment on their 1971 crop, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announced today.

The preliminary payment will be made as soon after July 1 as possible and amounts to 75 per cent of the estimated face value of domestic wheat certificates. The final face value of the certificates will be the difference between 100 per cent of parity on July 1 of this year and the national average wheat price received by farmer from July 1 through November. Final payment will be made after December 1.

Preliminary payments under the feed grain and cotton programs were previously announced.

"These preliminary payments, which represent part of the total payments due farmers under 1971 programs, are made to reimburse farmers for the costs of idling productive cropland acres and to help assure a return to farming sufficient to maintain the productivity of U. S. agriculture," a USDA official said.

Corn producers will receive a preliminary payment of 32 cents per bushel, and sorghum producers 9 cents per bushel, based on this year's 20 per cent set aside requirement. The payment is calculated by multiplying the rate per bushel by the yield established for the farm times one-half the corn and grain sorghum base. Participants in the 1971 feed grain program are guaranteed a national average of $1.35 per bushel on the production from half their corn base and $1.24 per bushel for sorghum.

Cotton producers will receive a preliminary payment of 15 cents per pound. Payment is made on a quantity of upland cotton determined by multiplying the acreage planted within the farm base acreage allotment by the payment yield established for the farm. Participants in the 1971 cotton program are guaranteed a national average of the higher of 65 per cent of parity or 35 cents per pound. If market conditions are such that final payments are due under the law to feed grain and cotton producers, they will be made for cotton after January 1, 1972 and for feed grains after March 1, 1972. Refund will not be required if the preliminary payment proves to be higher than the full payment due the farmer.

Preliminary payments under the three major commodity programs will be made to about 2,035,000 farmers and will total approximately $2.5 billion, USDA reported.

USDA announces loan regulations

The USDA recently announced amendments to Commodity Credit Corporation Loan Regulations on cotton, grain and similarly handled commodities which will permit producers to enter into contracts to sell these commodities without loss of eligibility for loans.

The amendments provide that a producer shall be eligible for loans if he enters into a contract to sell, or gives an option to sell, his commodity if, under the contract or option, he retains control, risk of loss and title to the commodity.

Loan regulations previously provided that commodities which producers agreed to sell were ineligible for loans even though the producer still retained title, risk of loss, and control. This restriction has tended to hold down marketings and has limited the producer's freedom to agree to sell his commodity at the best price obtainable, USDA officials explained.

The manner in which loan collateral is released to the buyer remains unchanged under the new regulations. In the case of grains and similarly handled commodities, loan collateral will be released only upon the written request of the producer and written authorization by the county office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service at the time of release. In the case of cotton, a producer who gives written release of his warehouse receipts to a buyer or other person to whom he transfers his stocks must present the release to the ASCS county office within 30 days. The county office as in the past, will not release CC's security interest in the loan collateral until the loan has been repaid.

Mrs. George Jowell
... quite a collector

Let's cook something

She is happiest while cooking in the kitchen

By JANIE BANNER
Staff Writer
Amidst fantastic collections of coins, arrowheads and antiques, Mrs. George Jowell treasures her collection of cookbooks. "I could stay in the kitchen all day," she said, "cooking, baking, whatever, I just love it." Cleaning house and sewing are opposite factors in the question. "I hate to do those things!" she said firmly. However, if you want to know how to make "the most delicious brisquet sandwich in the world," Mrs. Jowell will gladly tell you this: "Get your butcher to cut a brisquet. Salt and pepper it and lay it in a flat pan lined with heavy foil. Put it in the oven for at least seven hours at 250 degrees. "The secret of cooking it is not to cook it too fast," she warns. "Never use an oven hotter than 250 or it will ruin. I brush the brisquet occasionally on each side with barbecue sauce to give it a charcoal flavor." Jowell, who farms northwest of the city, takes his lunch, and states it makes a far more delicious sandwich than roast. "It used to be a very inexpensive cut of meat," said Mrs. Jowell. "But not anymore. It lasts us about a week for sandwiches though." If you prefer not to make sandwiches with the brisquet, Mrs. Jowell says it is a matter of your own taste what you eat with it. Anything is good. Mrs. Jowell, teller for the past 11 years at the First National Bank, says "I love it there. From the lowliest job in a bank it is still very fascinating work. Such a good group of people work there." Without a doubt the Jowell's favorite sport is football. "We love to watch the Dallas Cowboys play. I can hardly wait for the games to start again," she said. "We try to go to as many games as we can during the season." Croquet, a game which Mrs. Jowell hasn't played for 40 years, is fast becoming another of her loves. They play each Sunday with son Buddy and wife from Amarillo. Buddy is a senior West Texas State University student. The Jowells' daughter Kay, her husband Sal Cortello, and three children live in Dallas. "Hereford is home to the June bride is shower honoree

Mrs. Charles Atchley, the former Miss Sue Crosthwait of Colorado City, was an early Monday shower honoree in Summerfield Baptist Church Fellowship Hall. The couple was married June 12 in the First Baptist Church at Olney. The couple's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Crosthwait and Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Atchley, Summerfield. Mrs. Earl Lance Jr. greeted guests who were received by the honoree with her mother and and her husband's mother. Kay Atchley and Mrs. Arnold

Powell, sisters of the bridegroom, registered guests and served spiced tea, coffee and cookies decorated in yellow and white, the bride's chosen colors. Fifty guests served themselves fruit from a silver bowl. A silver bowl holding an arrangement of summer flowers centered the serving table, which was laid with an ivory cutwork cloth. Other hostesses with Mrs. Lance were Mmes. J. B. Noland, Mack Noland, Earl Lance Sr., Kenneth Christie, Guy Walsler, George DeLozier, Clayton Sanders, Gene Streum and Perry McMinn. Also Mmes. Juston McBride, Ray Johnson, J. R. Euler, W. C. Beene, L. H. Lookingbill Sr. and L. B. Lookingbill, and Miss Thelma McMinn.

children," said their mother. "They grew up here and visit as often as possible."

You can be sure that anytime their mother knows they will be in town to visit, she will have baked them some of their favorite cookies.

"The kids like them best hot from the oven," she said. "They get quite crisp after they've cooled, and are so simple to make." She is talking about PEANUT BUTTER COOKIES

1 cup brown sugar
1 cup white sugar
1 cup peanut butter
1 cup butter
3 eggs
2 1/2 cups flour
2 teaspoons soda
1 teaspoon salt
Mix fat and sugar until soft. Add peanut butter and eggs. Beat well. Add flour which has been sifted with salt and soda. Roll into balls the size of marbles. Lay in greased pan and press down with fork that has been dipped in water. Makes about 130 cookies. Bake about 10 minutes in 350 degree oven.

Prisoners of war--what can you do to help?

(Editor's Note: Vickie Miller, who was a member of the staff of the Hereford Brand while living in Hereford, has become involved in the effort to win the release of American prisoners of war. She has written this article concerning their plight.)

BY VICKIE MILLER

Specifically, what can you do to help our POWs-MIAs? At the moment, the most effective tools we have are letters —letters to North Vietnam officials, the United Nations, President Nixon, congressmen, newspapers, friends, merchants, schools, clubs and civic organizations.

You can get others interested in the POW-MIA (Prisoners of War and Missing in Action) campaign, and you can wear a POW-MIA bracelet. The POW-MIA bracelet honors the man whose name is inscribed and includes the date he was lost. Information on distribution is given below.

"There is a chance—possibly a good chance," writes Louis R. Stockstill in the October 1969 issue of the Air Force and Space Digest, "that world opinion might force Hanoi to honor basic codes of human decency."

Over seven years have passed since the first American was captured in Southeast Asia. No American in any previous war has ever been a POW so long.

In Mr. Stockstill's interviews with government officials, representatives of the Red Cross, members of the armed forces and next of kin of the prisoners, all agreed that a four-pronged letter campaign could produce dramatic results. The letters should be sent to:

1. Representatives of foreign nations;
2. Newspapers and magazines in foreign nations;
3. Members of the U. S. House and Senate; and

4. Xuan Thuy, chief North Vietnamese negotiator in Paris. Letters to foreign nations and the press should urge that pressure be brought on Hanoi to live up to the Geneva Conventions' rules on the treatment of war prisoners. Letters to Xuan Thuy should demand the same points. Emphasize that the resolve of the American public on the POW-MIA issue will only be stiffened, not weakened. Letters to congressmen should call for a joint resolution demanding proper treatment for the prisoners and missing men.

For a list of ambassadors of foreign nations whose assistance could be crucial and a list of selected foreign newspapers and publications, send a postcard to Air Force-Space Digest at 1750 Pennsylvania Avenue N. W., Washington, D. C. 20006.

The POW-MIA bracelet is distributed by VIVA (Voices in Vital America), a non-profit, non-political national student organization at 1211 Westwood Boulevard, Los Angeles, Calif. 90024. The bracelet costs $2.50 for nickel and $3 for copper. The money is used by VIVA to help print and distribute material for their POW-MIA program.

VIVA has eight suggestions for persons wishing to help POWs-MIAs:

1. Write letters expressing your concern to:
 - The President
 - Democratic Republic of Vietnam
 - Hanoi, North Vietnam
 - Madam Nguyen Thi Binh
 - 49 Avenue Cambaceres
 - Verrieres-Le Buisson
 - 91 Essonne, France
 - Prince Souphanouvong
 - Chairman of the Neo Lao Hak Sat
 - c-o NLHS Information Bureau
 - Hanoi, North Vietnam
2. Send a telegram or letter to the President stating that you as an American can accept no less than a confirmation of the status of all MIAs by a neutral inspection team such as the International Red Cross and that our government cannot accept as official the word from Hanoi that any man is dead until the day all are accounted for.

3. Contact all friends, merchants, companies, schools, clubs and civic organizations to solicit their help in distributing POW-MIA information and material or having a POW-MIA speaker or program and letter writing campaign. (VIVA will help with ideas for the program)

4. Be sure to sign and return the sample letter printed in the newspaper. If possible, use any facilities available for reprinting any of this material.

5. Circulate a petition for humane treatment, addressed to all heads of state in care of U Thant, which is available, as are all other materials upon request to VIVA, 1211 Westwood Boulevard, Los Angeles, Calif. 90024.

6. Urge support from your local news media, (newspapers, television and radio) and company or club newsletters.

7. Help VIVA obtain any new contacts who would be interested in helping in this cause.

8. Wear the POW-MIA bracelet as a visible display of your concern and as a means to bring the plight of the POWs to the attention of others.

Most of all, don't forget that over 1,500 Americans are missing or prisoners of war in Southeast Asia. Writes Mr. Stockstill: "An occasional newspaper editorial is not enough. Limited news coverage of developing prisoner stories is not enough. An infrequent letter-to-the-editor is not enough. A business-as-usual attitude on the part of the American public can only make apparent to Hanoi that these men who have given so much to their country have indeed been forgotten by those for whom they made the sacrifice."

Washington report: from Bob Price

The House last week again refused to go along with the Senate in setting a final date for withdrawal of American troops from Vietnam. I joined with 218 other members in defeating a Senate amendment which would have called for U. S. withdrawal within nine months if the Communists agreed to release all American prisoners.

While this amendment had more support than any previous

"end the war" amendment in the House, I believe that the President is doing his best to get us out of Vietnam at the earliest possible date and Congress should give him a chance to do it in the way he thinks best. Mr. Nixon has kept ahead of his troop withdrawal schedule and I still have confidence that our combat role in Vietnam will be ended in the near future.

Two appropriations bills for the fiscal year which began July 1 were approved by the House last week. One of the bills set government expenditures for the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), Space, Science, Veterans, and other Independent agencies. Also was adopted was the Department of Interior and related agencies money bill.

HUD spending was set at $18.1 billion which was $1.1 billion above last year. The Veterans Administration received a $950 million increase to $10.5 billion; while the National Aeronautics and Space Administration had its appropriations cut by $41 million to $3.2 billion.

The Department of Interior got a $153 million increase for the new year to $2.16 billion.

The House approved two bills last week which I wholeheartedly supported because of the health needs of the people of this Nation.

The Nurse Training Act of 1971 provides for a three year extension of the existing nurse training program and authorizes a total of $710 million over the three year period for assistance to schools of nursing and to students at those schools.

During debate on this legislation I pointed out that more than 150 small hospitals in Texas alone were nearly forced to close their doors last year because of a shortage of registered nurses. I emphasized that this legislation is greatly needed, its costs are reasonable, and its purposes are eminently worthwhile.

Also adopted was the Comprehensive Health Manpower Training Act of 1971. This provides for a three year extension of the existing program under which grants are made to aid medical schools and other schools training health professionals, and under which assistance is provided to students at those schools.

In my opinion, this program is a much better way to meet the health needs of our Nation than some of the socialized medicine schemes now before Congress. It is a part of the means to the end we all seek—adequate health services tailored to fit the financial and medical needs of the American people.

Both of these bills now go to the Senate for their consideration.

(Editor's Note: The following is a recent newsletter from Cong. Bob Poage of Waco on the welfare bill)

Dear Friends, Late this week the House passed, by a very substantial majority, a welfare bill which attempts to give every citizen of the United States a guaranteed income. As justification the proponents said they were going to make every able-bodied head of a household work in order to draw assistance.

But as I read the bill, it does nothing of the kind. The Public Works bill we passed last week, and for which I voted, does provide a great reservoir of jobs. This second bill (H.R.1) provides no new jobs and does not actually require people to take jobs when offered.

It says on page 562 that "Every individual who is registered... shall participate... in employment... as provided by the Secretary of Labor."

Experience being what it is, I don't believe that the Secretary of Labor will be very ardent in enforcing work. But to further make sure that this does not actually require any real work, Subsection (2) on the same page reads: "No individual shall be required by paragraph (1) to accept employment if... (D) the individual has demonstrated capability, through other available training or employment opportunities, of securing work available to him that would better enable him to achieve self-sufficiency."

By the time all these exceptions are interpreted by the courts, I think it is clear that we won't have much work but we will have millions of people living off the work of other people because the government can't support anybody without taking from someone who does work.

It must also be perfectly clear that the amount of the unearned income which the government offers will be increased before each election. Indeed even now on member of the U.S. Senate has proposed that we should spend $22 billion more than the House bill offers.

Of course, the bill which is 687 pages long has sound features. It would be almost impossible to write this much without putting in some good ideas, but I simply cannot vote to change all those goals, ambitions, and aspirations which have made the U. S. the greatest nation on earth. I voted "NO."

ABILENE — Levenie Benefield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Blankenship, 308 Jowell, Hereford, has been named to the dean's honor roll for the 1971 spring semester at Abilene Christian College.

The 1968 graduate of Hereford High School was one of 426 students who met the minimum requirements of 12 semester credit hours and a 3.45 grade average on a 4.0 system.

She is a sophomore history major at Abilene Christian.

Local families back from 4200 mile trip north

Mr. and Mrs. Brad Johnson, 606 Union, and Mrs. Johnson's brother, Tommy Stoy, returned Saturday from a two-week trip that took them 4200 miles.

Their first stop was a visit with Mrs. Johnson's sister, Patsy and her husband Captain Bill Spencer at McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey.

They spent the following few days sightseeing in New York City. Their ventures took them to the Empire State Building, United Nations Building, Rockefeller Station and Broadway.

The trio then went to South Carolina where they visited Mrs. Johnson's grandparents and picked up a passenger, her mother, Mrs. Art Stoy of Hereford.

Mrs. Stoy and her husband, who had gone earlier, took the same route. When they get to S. Carolina Mrs. Stoy stayed and Mr. Stoy returned to Hereford. Their son John accompanied them.

Johnson is employed by Garison Seed Company and his wife, Mary, is secretary for the Hereford Police Department.

Letter to the editor

Dear Editor:
This is to the Negroes and Mexicans of Hereford, Texas. It seems like you have forgot. Look back around you. You fail to see the alleys in the back of the popular people who make such accusations as made that we live in this trash.

I am afraid that the one that made this statement doesn't even know the definition of the word trash. There are 13 different definitions of that word in Webster's dictionary. One of them was dirt. She is, and all of us were, made of dirt. One is waste matter. The whole creation was made of matter and material.

Now let us lay aside the comedy and face facts. Whoever you are and wherever you live, you come forth from the same blood that the Negro and Mexican came from. That same God that made you, made the Negro and also made the Mexican.

This person no doubt is boasting and trusting in the race and color. Stop long enough and tell me what race and what color was Christ. From what side of the Red Sea did Christ come? This side or the other side? And from what side were the Ethiopians, and was Christ a Caucasian or an Ethiopian? Which of the nations was called trash? Which was a curse? And which was a blessing? Read first from the Acts of the Apostles 10th verse through the 39th verse. Also read second Kings fifth chapter, beginning at the 9th chapter and begin at the 20th verse through the 27th verse.

I know that the woman that made such a statement is a sinner. I don't care how many churches she belongs to, she doesn't know any better. It is not a sin to be poor, just inconvenient. Reading from 1st Corinthians, 4th chapter 11th verse. Even until this present hour, we both hungry, and thirst, and are naked, and are buffeted and have no certain dwelling place, and labor working with our own hands. Being reviled we bless. Being persecuted, we suffer it. Thirteenth verse, being defamed, the lady that said this would not know what this word meant, but I will tell you because I want you to know. It means to injure, destroy your reputation by false reports.

We entreat, we are made as the filth of the world, and we are the offscouring of all things until this day. These are Bible facts. Read. We are just waiting till God gets ready. That's early enough. Let each if us stop long enough to think, what do we profit in this world, so little even when we do our best, and nothing when we fail, we become destructive tearing down that which has been built by someone that is worthwhile. Do good to all of the people, all the time, as long as you can, whenever you can, as long as you can.

Noon food programs prevalent

Most U. S. school children have noontime food programs available to them, according to a report issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

USDA's Economic Research Service conducted a sample survey of 3,873 public and private elementary and secondary schools in March 1968 to measure participation in lunch programs and to evaluate trends in programs. At the time of the survey, 63 percent of the Nation's school-age youngsters had lunch services regularly available to them.

Participation rates in the National School Lunch Program per day averaged about 51 percent of the public school pupils and 56 percent of the private school enrollees. Daily participation rates in plate lunch or a la carte food services outside the national program were about 35 percent in public schools, 42 percent in private institutions.

Lower lunch prices encouraged higher daily participation. The ERS researchers found almost two-thirds of the pupils in public elementary schools in the National School Lunch Program ate meals priced at 25 cents, but participation dropped back to 38 percent at a charge of 40 cents.

Tyler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Vance of 135 Beach St., and husband of the former Renee Beckman of 244 Elm St., is a photographer for the Amarillo Daily News and formerly worked for the Hereford Brand.

He has been attending West Texas State University.

At the time of the ERS survey — March 1968 — most youngsters paid 30 to 35 cents for their lunches. These low prices were made possible by contributions from Federal, State, and local agencies.

"Open" lunch periods generally cut participation in noontime food programs. Seven percent fewer students ate school lunches in public schools that permitted pupils to leave the premises, compared with schools that required attendance during the lunch period.

A copy of "Lunch Programs in the Nation's Schools," AER 210, is available free on postcard (please include zip code) or telephone request (DU 8-7255), to Office of Information, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. 20250.

Highlights and Sidelights From Your STATE CAPITOL by Vern Sanders

By BILL BOYKIN
AUSTIN — July 1 turned out to be a costly date for Texans. Not only did the nearly $1 million-a-day ($604 million biennially) tax bill take effect, but property owners got notice of hikes of up to 25 per cent in their insurance rates. And just the day before (see below) the State Insurance Board staff recommended an average 2.8 per cent increase in private auto insurance coverage effective September 1.

Tax bill raises the general sales tax from 3.25 per cent to four per cent statewide (five per cent in many cities which also levy a local sales tax); adds three cents a pack to cigarette taxes; increases liquor tax about seven cents a fifth; raises beer tax a fraction of a cent a bottle; jumps sales tax on new cars to four per cent (bringing porate franchise levy $1.25 per in car rentals) and jacks up corporate tax to 10 per cent.

A new kind of "surtax" takes effect September 1. It will cost moving traffic law violators $2.50; other misdemeanor violators tried in county court, $5 and those convicted of felony, $10.

Raise in homeowners' and other kinds of property insurance came without formal announcement other than notices to local agents.

Homeowners' rates rose 25 per cent along the seacoast (hit by Hurricane Celia last August) and in tornado-struck north-northwest territory of the state. Central area homeowners' rate jumped 22.1 per cent, too.

Extended coverage of all classes went up 25 per cent on the coast, 24.5 per cent in north-northwest and 19.7 per cent in the central area. Extended coverage for dwellings is up 25 per cent on the coast and north-northwest, 19.3 per cent in central part of the state.

Fire insurance coverage increases 5.2 per cent — or 7.1 per cent for dwellings.

AUTO INSURANCE UP AGAIN? — State Insurance Board staff recommended an average 2.8 per cent statewide passenger car insurance rate hike effective September 1.

Board heard recommendations at a public hearing here June 30 and indicated a decision will be made about mid-August.

Industry, which won a 14 per cent boost in rates January 1 after asking 27.7 per cent, is asking 9.8 per cent increase (average statewide) on passenger car coverage.

Seven state legislators and the state AFL-CIO president argued that a decline in accidents justifies lowering rather than raising rates. Since rates are fixed by territories, not statewide, some areas under Board staff recommendations would receive reductions in certain lines of coverage.

MORE WELFARE WOES LOOM — A top court decision declaring needy non-citizens eligible for assistance, threat of increasing finance burdens from federal legislation and rising medical costs put the State Board of Public Welfare on red alert again last week.

Board was told the federal bill would "save" the state $57.1 million in existing payments — but might double the number of Texans eligible for medical care benefits (which will cost $135.7 million next year).

Supreme Court decision on aliens would add 20,000 to state welfare rolls overnight at a cost of more than $10 million a year, Deputy Welfare Commissioner Herbert Wilson estimate.

New Welfare Commissioner Raymond Vowell said negotiations are under way to place limits on runaway medical care costs, while maintaining adequate services.

19-YEAR-OLDS CAN VOTE — Texas 18- and 20-year-olds who are registered to vote can participate in any election starting this month, Secretary of State Don Barnes Dies Jr. points out.

Enacted by the 38th state of the voter constitution placed it in to effect immediately, Dies said.

Any election which is now in progress "just allow those 18, 19 and 20 years old to vote if they are presently registered," Dies, chief election officer for Texas, advised.

Young voters not now registered must wait until registration period reopens October 1.

COURTS SPEAK — First case in which the Nixon administration sought to force busing in the desegregation of public schools, a federal judge at Austin gave Austin schools and U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare until July 16 to come up with a compromise plan "minimizing busing." Court found no official segregation against Austin Mexican-American pupils.

Third Court of Civil Appeals here ordered a new trial of the case involving authority of former Sharpstown State Bank president to check out bonds of loan. Now-defunct bank brought suit to recover its $470,000.

Both State Supreme Court and Court of Criminal Appeals did not meet last Wednesday, due to State Bar convention in Dallas.

AG OPINIONS — Texas Water Quality Board may contract with the federal government for increased percentage limitations on federal grants for waste treatment facilities with approval of the governor, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

"Regulations adopted by Texas Department of Public Safety Director consistent with safety standards of U. S. Department of Transportation for movement of hazardous materials can be enforced by criminal penalty provisions. Legislature validly delegated to DPS authority to prescribe duties and ascertain conditions under which law on hazardous substances may operate to impose criminal penalty.

"County may deposit all tax money collected in one general fund without regard to purpose or source of each tax, but bonds proceeds may not be deposited in general fund.

"Sellers of "earmolds" to individuals for use with hearing aids is not exempt from the requirement of being licensed by Texas State Board of Examiners in Fitting and Dispensing of Hearing Aids.

*State Comptroller is not authorized to issue a duplicate warrant for payment of unemployment compensation benefits to initial payee more than year after the original date of issuance.

*Comptroller may issue warrant to contractor or seller of supplies to the State which are purchased through State Board of Control without seller's certification of correctness on invoice.

UNEMPLOYMENT UP — Texas unemployment increased 15,500 from mid-April to mid-May to a total of 196,500 Texas Employment Commission reported.

During last year, unemployment increased 28 per cent, and number of claimants for jobless benefits jumped 42 per cent.

Seventeen of the major areas reported unemployment growth during the past month. Four had a decrease, and one remained unchanged. Unemployment rate (as percentage of work force) was 4.1 per cent compared with 3.3 per cent in May 1970 and 3.8 per cent in April.

LAND SALE SET — Leases on 97,726 acres of state-owned land in West Texas will be offered at public auction September 22 here by Board for Lease of University Lands.

Total of 316 tracts will be sold to the highest bidder in Andrews, Cooke, Crane, Crockett, El Paso, Gaines, Pecos, Reagan, Terrell, Upton, Ward and Winkler counties. Oil and gas leases are being offered for the first time in El Paso County (block of 12,000 acres). More than 44,000 acres in Deep Gas Trend in the Delaware and Val Verde Basins also will be up for bids.

SHORT SNORTS
State general revenue deficit dropped from a peak of $173.5 million April 29 to $11.9 million June 24 and will go into the black by August 31, State Treasurer Jesse James reports.

Bids on the second phase of construction of the $3 million water exchange pass across Mustang Island will be opened July 12 by Parks and Wildlife Department.

Reading meet set for WTSU next month

Numerous teachers from Hereford will be among the conferees at the 19th conference of the Texas Association for the Improvement of Reading (TAIR) at West Texas State University Aug. 3-4, Supt. Roy Hartman said.

Two outstanding educators in the area of reading are Mrs. Catherine S. Franklin, associate professor in the graduate school of library science at the University of Texas, and Dr. Gilbert S. Schiffman, coordinating director of instruction for Prince George County public schools, Upper Marlboro, Md.

Hereford educators may be called on as consultants for part of the conference, pertaining to reading in a non-graded school.

In addition to the general assemblies at which Mrs. Franklin and Dr. Schiffman will speak, the delegates will have a choice of seven section meetings to attend each day.

Topics to be discussed at the section meetings include comprehension, releasing children to literature, the role of special reading, storytelling, as well as reading in a non-graded school.

TAIR was organized in 1947 as a department of the Texas State Teachers Association to better reading programs in the Texas public schools.

Between 400 and 500 educators are expected to attend the conference, said Mrs. Beth Posey of Canyon High School planning committee chairman.

Other committee members are William H. Henry of the Amarillo public schools, Dr. Ruth Lowes, professor of education at West Texas State, and Dr. Hellon Wilbur, assistant professor of education at the university.

Mrs. Posey said a $6 fee will be charged for attending both days of the conference and $3

Freud's struggle to make man free

This man's struggle to free man is extraordinary due to the extent to which he goes to accomplish it. The story can be checked out today at the Deal Smith County Library.

THE PASSIONS OF THE MIND

by Irving Stone
In the 1880's, Vienna was the glamor capital of Europe, and it was in that gay and brilliant city that Sigmund Freud began his long struggle to free men everywhere from the blindfolds and chains of their unknown natures.

The Passions of The Mind is the story of that extraordinary man-a story upon which Irving Stone has lavished his talents as a biographical novelist and five years of tireless research and writing.

Sigmund Freud was one of Vienna's most distinguished neurologists. He gave up a life of respectability and influence to become a daring researcher of uncharted seas in an effort to change forever man's understanding of himself, his motivations and his world.

He was a pioneer explorer of the dark and fearsome frontiers of the sexual nature of man, for which he was made... a pariah! The Passions of the Mind takes the reader back to Freud's obscure beginnings, his development as a promising pathologist; his training under a famous neurologist in Paris; his discovery of male hysteria, for which he was cast out by his Viennese psychiatry chief; his training in hypnotism in Nancy; and then the slow, shattering discovery of the unconscious and the science of psychoanalysis.

There are delightful portraits of Freud's wife, Martha Bernays, and of the witty Tante Minna, who lived with them; of his close friends and followers, Lou Andreas-Salome, mistress of the poet Rilke, and the philosopher Nietzsche; Prince's Marie Bonaparte of Greece, who ransomed him from the Nazis; and his small band of disciples: including Alfred Adler, Ernest Jones, A. A. Brill, and the man Freud chose to become his Crown Prince and successor, Carl Jung.

Freud shocked the society of his time with his theories of the sexual origins of neuroses. Mr. Stone leads us convincingly into this hitherto little-known world, showing through hundreds of incredible interwoven cases the astounding new scientific and human horizons that had been opened up.

MALINCHE AND CORTES

by Margaret Shedd
This is the story of the beautiful, ruthless Indian woman who was Cortes' mistress, mother of his son, his god and his conscience, the key to a partner in the incredible conquest of Mexico.

In this biographical novel, her little-known story is finally told as the magnificent classic it really was; the dramatic clash of two powerful, passionate figures, and an empire traded for love.

Malinche was her name "Whore of the Spaniards" she was called, and her name entered the Mexican language as the word for... treachery.

Margaret Shedd recounts the dramatic course of events as the fabulous Aztec capital, Tenochtitlan, turns into Mexico City, burgeoning to become the vital center of the New World, until the day when Malinche once mistress of a continent, finds only terror and chaos left.

Cortes is gone; a great civilization is gone; glory and triumph are gone, and love. Only the product of love is left; Martin, the son of Malinche and Cortes. And in the end it is Martin's dark mestizo blood that writes for Malinche the terrible truth of her great adventure in passion and power.

BLESSINGS!

But just who amongst us could count them? Do you still get a thrill when our grand old flag goes by, when it is raised over a school or public building? Does your quiet inner pride bubble over? If so, then America is still the greatest despite all the frustrating variances. Your belief in your country helps build that greatness. Your belief in the democratic process and the pioneering spirit makes you a part of it.

For every soldier over seas, countless students back home are studying governments, for every fire bomb thrown in anger, thousands of kids are throwing footballs; and for every man on strike, multitudes are happy on their jobs.

So the chances are a thousand to one that America is still the greatest. Maybe you should "love it or leave it." The boys over seas believe in it. The great majority of students believe in it. The industrialists believe in it and you too can believe in it. Believe in its democratic ideals which foster change. Believe in the guidance of God, the innate godness of man, and the vibrant strength of your own will.

It's a good time to start counting your blessings right now. God isn't stingy. His world is at our disposal.

Count your blessings and your neighbors blessings on your way to worship this week.

Debbie Patton of Odessa, Miss Teenage America of 1970, will be guest speaker for the workshop. She will speak to the girls on Friday, July 16, in a question-answer session following her talk on "The Unique You."

A get-acquainted party at the YWCA will be hosted that afternoon by the Dr. Pepper Bottling Co. for the girls enrolled in the course.

The five-day workshop will cover such topics as make-up techniques and skin care, weight control, exercising, fashion and wardrobe for the four basic figure types, hair care, and styling, developing the potential, grooming, and developing the personality and intellect.

Sponsors of the course, which costs $10, are Colbert's and the South and West Rotary Clubs. Enrollment will be limited, so reservations should be made as soon as possible, either by writing or calling the Amarillo YWCA, 1006 South Jackson, 372-3224.

Miss Patton, a 1970 honor graduate of Permian High School in Odessa, is now attending Baylor University as a communications major. "Getting through college is my main interest," she said, adding that her goal is "discovering what God wants me to do."

She spends much of her time at youth crusades giving her testimony as a Christian. She names Billy Graham as the person she would like most to meet because "his influence has transformed the lives of many into productive and rewarding endeavors." Miss Patton spoke on June 22 at Hereford's Encounter '71 Crusade for Christ.

Miss Patton, who had traveled only in Canada and the Western States before winning her title, has now flown coast-to-coast and border-to-border and is the most well-traveled Miss Teenage America in history.

Before the 1970 Miss Teenage America Pageant began, Miss Patton replied, when asked her reason for wanting to become Miss Teenage America:

"The teenagers of America are the most aware, the most expressive, and the most intelligent collective group of young people in the world. Representing these people—the core of America's productive future—would be one of the greatest honors imaginable."

Outstanding among her achievements during her reign was being chosen as winner of the American Academy of Achievement's Golden Eagle award for the "Promise of Greatness." Only people in their top fields, 13 in all, were so honored, among them Jerry Lewis, H. Ross Perot, Shirley Temple Black and John Wayne.

Miss Patton, who had been notified that she was an alternate to the Miss Teenage America contest, learned nine days before the pageant that one of the girls was ill and could not attend and that Miss Patton was to take her place. She was the first girl from Texas or the South to win the coveted title.

"Finishing Touches" sessions begin on Monday, July 12 at 9 a.m. with a program on fashion and wardrobe, to be conducted by Cindy Dodge and Kathy Brandon of Colbert's junior department.

At the Tuesday session Van Paschall of Colbert's cosmetics department will present a program on skin care and cleansing, followed by Sylvia McDade, who will speak on weight control.

Wednesday, Mrs. Paschall will speak to the girls on make-up techniques, using a volunteer from girls attending the workshop. Next, three beauticians from the Lady Faire Beauty Salon Brenda Patton, Linda Hodges and Teri Bowman, will speak to the girls on hair care and styling. Concluding Wednesday's program will be a talk on grooming by Millie Kirkland, Amarillo College modeling instructor.

On Thursday, Mrs. Kirkland will speak to the girls on "De-
