County crop picture looks bright

By CHARLES RICHARDS
News Editor

County crops "as a whole are looking real good," County Agent Justin McBride said this week.

Consequently, the chances appear bright that Deaf Smith County not only will hold onto the title it took over in 1970 as the leading agricultural revenue county in Texas, but will pull farther in front.

"We've got prospects for as good a grain sorghum crop as we've ever had. It looks as good as last year's crop, at the least, and probably better," McBride beamed.

The August rains were among the biggest ever for the month, and were followed by bright sunshine.

"We've had ideal growing conditions, and insect problems as a whole came early, so that most of our farmers have got good insect control now. The only problem in the grain sorghum crop came early in a slow crop germination, but since that time everything has gone just right," McBride said.

Barring an early freeze, the across-the-board crop situation looks good. The only problem is that crops appear to be good other places too, so much so that production is high in many places.

Recent releases from the U.S. Department of Agriculture indicate one of the highest corn and grain sorghum crops in history, which can send the market price nowhere but down.

"We're real worried about what this is going to do to our market," McBride said. "Hopefully we can stabilize the market and come up with a good year for the farmers."

Here's the situation on our crops:

Grain sorghum: The crop "has made a wonderful response" to the recent rain and cool weather. Poor early germination probably will not effect stand enough to hurt too much. A few fields had to be planted over, and if the area has an early freeze, those fields could be hurt.

Corn: "Looks real good." It's a small acreage type crop in the Hereford area, but the yield should be good. "It has had less problems than usual, this year."

Beets: Looks good "if we can just hold the line on the leaf spot problem for the next three weeks or so." A weed problem developed in many fields during the rainy weather, which could cause farmers' expense to rise for weed control. Probably it will just cause farmers to leave their fields weedier than usual.

Leaf spot disease has built up some, particularly on farms with no scheduled spray program. "But so far it has not been a big problem. It looks like farmers with a spray program will be able to control or limit the problem." Open, sunny weather could help this situation yet. The combination of a good spray program and a lot of sunshine will put the crop in fine shape.

Cotton: "Shouldn't be too bad. Some cotton that was irrigated a couple of times in the summer

Mrs. Alex O. Thompson

Pioneer citizen dies

Burial services for Mrs. Alex O. Thompson, 81, of 206 Ave. E., a resident of Hereford since girlhood and a clubwoman active in state and district organizations, were conducted Wednesday morning in West Park Cemetery, after a funeral Tuesday afternoon.

Dr. Gerald Mann, pastor, conducted the funeral service in First Baptist Church, of which she was a longtime member. Gilliland Funeral Home directed burial. Pallbearers were Joe Rogers, D.C. Kinsey, Jack Kirksey, Frank Watson, Jimmie Allred and J.R. Allison.

Born Audrey Argo in Paris, Tex., Feb. 10, 1890, Mrs. Thompson came to Hereford with her parents in 1905. Her father, the late A.E. Argo, was in the grocery business here.

She was graduated from Hereford High School in 1908 and from Hereford Christian College in 1908, and married Alex O. Thompson later that year. His death occurred May 31, 1956.

Mrs. Thompson was a charter member of Music Study Club and served in offices and boards of the district and state Federation of Music Clubs. She was active in Hereford Garden Club, a life member of that group and of the County Federation of Women's Clubs.

She was a member of First See PIONEER, Page 2

New home surge still is with us

Building permits continued a sharp climb in Hereford during August, with the final figures on tornado repair sending the month's total to $482,200, the third largest of 1971.

Twenty-eight permits accounted for the total.

Three houses—owned by Dale Tinnin, D. E. McBrayer and Earnest Langley—required heavy renovation and repair to the tune of $70,000 and the $172,000 estimate on 66 other homes sent the tornado-caused repair permits in August to jump to a total of $242,000.

The extensive construction work on the three tornado-hit homes was only part of a housebuilding spree in Hereford, however.

Eight other new homes went up in August—three by homeowners and five by some homebuilding concerns—for a total of $185,600. They were for $31,000, $30,000, $25,000, $22,000, $20,000, $22,700, $19,700 and $15,200. The three tornado-hit homes make 11 new homes at $255,600.

Another $1,600 in permits was allowed for construction of carports, minor additions onto houses, etc.

The $39,900 permit for construction of a new airport terminal and the $10,000 permit for building an office building further raised the total.

The total represents an increase of almost $63,000 over August of 1970. The 1971 total in building permits now is $2,783,803.

During 1970, Hereford was second only to Amarillo in the Panhandle among cities in home building. In fact, with the exception of Amarillo and Friona, Hereford had more new homes than all other Panhandle cities combined.

The building permit total in 1970 was $5,137,800, thanks to the mammoth $1.3 million permit for the construction of Bluewater Gardens Apartment complex. Last year was second in Hereford's history, only to 1965, when Sugarland Mall and La Plata Junior High were constructed, and a $5,313,010 total.

the title as the leading agricultural revenue county in Texas. The maize is on the H. E. Bippus farm five miles west of Hereford on Harrison Highway.

California water project impresses local visitors

A delegation from Deaf Smith County joined other water-interested Texans on a four-day tour last week of the complex and sophisticated $2.8 billion California Water Project.

They returned convinced that it's possible to get water pumped to West Texas farm fields from several hundred miles away, even several thousand feet uphill, because they got a first-hand look at the same type of venture in California.

"It's beyond belief, but it can be done," Argen Draper, county home demonstration agent, said on her return.

The Hereford area feeds off water supplied by the underground Ogallala formation, but the water table decreases each year. It is estimated that by 1980, water needs will begin getting critical in many areas.

The California project brings water 3,000 feet uphill, bringing it across the state for use along the way. Its final destination is Los Angeles, which needs water for industrial use. Farmers get water along the way.

The 70 on the tour included six from the Hereford area. Going from here were Jim Lindsey, executive vice president of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce; Charles Schlabs; A. G. Flippen; Andrew Kershen, Tom Draper; and Argen Draper.

If water is imported into Texas and piped to West Texas, it would have to travel five or six hundred miles or more and be lifted from sea level to 4,300 feet, the elevation of western Deaf Smith County.

Kershen made a similar trip to California about five years ago that led to the formation of Water, Inc., on the group's arrival back in Texas.

"At that time they were working on some of this, and some of the things we saw then were completed in time. It's unbelievable what they've done in five years. Water is standing now where there was pasture," Kershen said.

"We can learn from them," Mrs. Draper said. "They thought it was a colossal undertaking but that it could be done. They had all the problems you can imagine in getting it. The engineers, designers, drafters, and

Cattlemen file in to register brands

About 50 brands were registered in county clerk's office this week under a new branding registration law that went into effect Monday.

The initial registration period is six months, and for that period anyone has the right to register a brand he has been using. After that time, anyone can register a brand not already on file, even if someone else has been using that brand for decades.

Brands have been registered every since 1891 in Deaf Smith County, and County Clerk B.F. Cain estimates that several thousand are on file. But many are no longer in use, their owners having died many years ago or gone out of the cattle business.

"This is to redo the thing, do away with the brands not used any more," Cain said, "and get everybody current. After six months, any brands not registered will be up for grabs."

The registration law protects brands only within individual counties. The same brand could be used at the same place on cattle in both Deaf Smith and Castro counties, for example. That is bad, some cattlemen feel, because when something like this year's big snow storm occurs, cattle stray and get mixed together.

The registration fee is $2, just as always. The new law requires counties to set up a new brands book every 10 years, with re-registration to get rid of unused brands.

One feedlot official came in and registered 16 brands this week.

Jury selection—here today, gone tomorrow

"We're fixing to send out the (district court) jury list for September, and when the people see it, they're going to think we're crazy. And we are," Dist. Judge Archie McDonald said this week.

The past practice was to draw a list of 65 persons to report for the start of district court criminal trials, such as is coming up the week beginning Sept. 13.

This time, McDonald gave instructions for 65 persons to be summoned for Monday, Sept. 13; for 25 more persons to report on Tuesday; for 25 more on Wednesday; for 25 more on Thursday; and for 25 more on Friday, for a total of 165.

The reason is a change the Texas Legislature put into the election laws in its last session, that has caused courts lately to lose their prospective juries in a hurry.

The revision requires that a prospective juror who is dismissed for any reason—whether for knowing the defendant in a case or because an attorney scratches him off as one of his "peremptory challenges" or because he has a familiarity with a certain case or its principal characters—must be freed from further jury service until his name is drawn again in a future jury wheel.

That's ridiculous, McDonald feels. Just because a man has knowledge of one case that would cause him to be eliminated from a jury has nothing to do with his desirability as a juror on another trial the succeeding day.

In Dumas recently, nine jurors were dismissed because they knew the defendant too well. He had been to the penitentiary and had worked in the smelter plant near Dumas for nine years. The nine who were dismissed could not be called for further jury duty, even though their acquaintance with that particular defendant would have no bearing on their decisions in other trials scheduled to come up.

Each attorney can trim as many as 10 jurors from the list indiscriminately for any reason, by the "peremptory" challenges allowed him. Losing nine jurors by cause and 10 by peremptory challenges on the first trial of a session would of course leave only 41 out of an initial call of 70. And from that 41, the same thing can happen on the next case to come up.

Before the week is up, a judge can find himself without any jurors.

"This is what one judge has called a monumental goof. Just because a fellow knows Smith on Monday doesn't mean he couldn't serve on a trial of Jones on Tuesday," McDonald said.

"The sad part is, the 12 who serve may deliberate until 11 o'clock at night, and we've got to tell them to come back the next day."

When people get a notice to appear in district court on Thursday or Friday, they may think there's a mistake, since district court always starts early in the week. But things are different now.

The legislature made other changes the district judges don't like. The legislators enacted a change requiring counties with more than 10,000 persons to do away with the jury commissioner method of picking prospective jurors and go to the jury wheel. McDonald conferred with counties in his district with less than 10,000 population and the decision was to stay with the jury commissioner method, since the legislature gave them an alternative.

An evaluation of the new law, however, disclosed that while allowing the small counties to go either by the jury wheel or by the jury commissioner, another section of the law repealed the right to select by jury commission. So the only alternative to the jury wheel is something that no longer is legal.

Result: small counties and large counties have to pick by the jury wheel.

McDonald feels the small counties will find the jury wheel all right and be happy with it, except that the initial call will have to be bigger, because there was some selectivity in the past, weeding out the names of the mothers of small children who would be exempt from serving on the jury. It is illegal to throw out a name, once it is drawn. See JURY, Page 2

SUGAR BEETS — After two bad years, it appears the sugar beet crop will in 1971 enjoy a good season. County Agent Justin McBride said the combination of warm sunshine and a good spraying program over the next four weeks will assure the best crop in several years. This crop is on the George Turrentine farm four miles west of Hereford.

Crop . . .

(Continued From Page One) may have received too much moisture because of the rains, causing the crop to grow too late in the season, developing more stalk and foliage instead of fruiting, putting on bolls, as it should. An early freeze could hit the cotton before it is mature. Alfalfa: It's a low acreage type crop in this area, also, but increasing every year. It's doing well. Soybeans: "What soybeans we have got, look good." Lettuce: Producers say the lettuce crop is looking well. The acreage is relatively light, one of the smallest acreages the county will have had in several years. "What this all boils down to is that all our crops look good," McBride said.

The crop production in Deaf Smith County has experienced a gradual decline over the past several years, but the rapid increase of the cattle feeding industry had put Deaf Smith County in the No. 1 spot in Texas in total cash revenue from agriculture.

With an expected increase in crop production this year, for the first time in a while, the margin can be expected to increase over Hidalgo County, the No. 2 county in agricultural revenue.

Water . . .

One thing that struck him, Kershner said, was the contrast between a 300-horsepower motor on a well that was 900 feet deep to water, and a simple spigot several hundred feet away where a person can just turn and see the water coming out.

"They've got canals, about 200 feet across the top and 35 feet deep, water in all of them, waiting to be pumped over the mountains. The pumps, to push the water 2,000 feet over the mountains, are 80,000 horsepower, and it takes a 35,000-horsepower motor, so you can imagine the size of these things," Kershner said.

The pumping is done only at night and on weekends to take advantage of a lower rate. The rate is about half, this way. "All of them turn on automatically about five or six in the afternoon and shut off in the morning, about 7. That's all they've had to do, pump half the time, since they built this larger than necessary, figuring on the population in the future."

The water is picked up after it runs downhill to sea level. "From there, they pump it uphill a ways and then let it run downhill, then pump it uphill again and let it run down. It's so simple, it's no engineering problem at all. Just a people problem. It all depends on whether we can get the people interested in it before they starve to death," Kershner said.

The water is lifted uphill, across the state, in three different places, for the total of 3,000 feet uphill. The last lift is almost 2,000 feet.

"It's too much for me to understand," Mrs. Draper said, "but it's just like irrigation motors, works on the same order, except that it's a lot larger," she said. "That last lift is made by the largest motors anywhere."

She was most impressed, she said, by Oralville Dam, where the first water is impounded. The base is one mile wide. "They have to use rock and gravel because of the earthquakes, and they can't run water through the mountains and hills because of the quakes."

The group was in two chartered buses the four days it was in California. A plane took the group to Sacramento on Sunday of last week, and then the group flew home, from Los Angeles, on Thursday.

The group saw several dams used in connection with the project. Mrs. Draper said the dams served a recreational purpose also. They were used for boating, fishing, campgrounds, etc.

"Oh, listen, they'd just speak about a billion dollars like it was money for a coke," she said.

The water for industrial use and Ed Schroeter of Hereford and Mrs. Don R. Henslee of Colorado Springs; a sister, Mrs. Margaret Hayes of Paris, and seven great grandchildren.

costs $60 to $100 an acre foot. Farmers get their water at from $8 to $20 an acre foot through government participation.

Every 160 acres has a valve that the farmer turns on to get his water. He is limited to 160 acres per person in his household, but that has posed little problem, Kershner said, because most of the families have enough persons to spread 160 acres a piece over as much land as they can farm.

"We asked them how can they afford this high price water, since they use a lot more water than we do here," Kershner said. "They said what choice did they have, since they were almost broke before the water project started, and they had rather go broke on water than anything else."

Water in Texas costs an estimated $10 to $15 an acre foot now, Kershner said.

"This water does not have great pressure. A lot of people just put a 10-horse motor on it to push the water to their sprinkler system and so forth. There's a lot of difference between this 10-horse motor and the 300-horse motor they were using, so you can see how it saves the farmer there."

Kershner said the Deaf Smith County water group will present the whole story of the California water tour, as it sees it, at its annual meeting the first week of January.

Jury . . .

The law, while requiring the jury wheel on juries for the various courts, left in the provision that grand juries be selected by a jury commission.

McDonald feels it would be convenient to draw the grand jury from the wheel also.

"They passed all this without letting any of us know about it," McDonald said. He, and numerous other judges across the state, have written to legislators and to Gov. Preston Smith expressing their concern about the changes.

McDonald said he has urged Smith to include the matter in the matters to be discussed by the Texas Legislature in the special session it will have within the next year.

"It's chaos, that's what it is," McDonald said.

Cost of fines goes up under new law recently passed by Legislature

The new $5 surcharge on convictions in county court went into effect this week.

County Judge H.C. Williams passed along the higher fee to three persons Monday after their guilty pleas. He told them their court costs would be $47 plus the amount of the fine instead of $42, as in the past.

Jack Nix, 41, of 1308 12th, Littlefield, pleaded guilty to swindling with a worthless check and was fined $10 and court costs, on the basis he carry through with his commitment to make restitution for the four checks involved.

Farris Richardson, 52, of 141 W. 3rd, Elk City, Okla., changed his plea to guilty, on the charge of driving while intoxicated against him. He was sentenced to 15 days in jail and fined $150 and costs.

Ricardo de la Cerda, 23, 203 Ave. H, charged with driving while intoxicated, was sentenced to two years in jail and fined $50 and court costs, but the judge set aside the jail term for a probationary period of two years and waived the $50 fine.

Several other persons pleaded innocent and will return to court later.

Maurice Villarreal, 59, Griffin & Brand Labor Camp housing was charged with possession of liquor in a dry area, for the purpose of sale. A $10,000 bond had been set on him by the sheriff's office and the judge reduced it to $5,000.

Jose Lucio, 19, of Hereford Street, pleaded innocent to driving while intoxicated. Williams appointed Bruce Miller as his lawyer and set a $500 bond.

Esekuel B. Marales, 27, of P.O. Box 1065, Hereford, pleaded innocent to driving while intoxicated. Williams appointed Miller as his lawyer also and set a $500 bond.

Irene Gonzales, 24, 413 Knight, pleaded innocent on all three counts of telephone harassment filed against her. She was released on $900 total in bonds that had already been set for her.

City issues $575,000 in debt bonds

The City Commission Monday night authorized the issuance of a maximum of $575,000 in certificates of indebtedness in connection with the recent purchase of 2,900 acres of land east of the city.

The action came in a special called meeting.

The certificates put a 6 percent ceiling on interest rates. They also contain a provision that the certificates can be refunded at any time. This would allow the city to re-issue certificates in six months or so at a lower interest rate. The rate is expected to drop to about 5 1/2 percent by then.

The certificates will be used to pay the previous owner, Walter G. Russell, and to pay off an existing lien on that now has a 7 1/2 percent loan.

The land cost $375,000. The other $200,000 is for construction of a sewer land to the property. The purpose of the land is for deposit of city sewage.

The city is involved in a 50-50 agreement with the federal government on the construction costs, so only $100,000 of that additional money is expected to be needed. If the federal money is late in coming, however, the money will be available, and the city would get its extra $100,000 back whenever the federal money did arrive.

TOTAL LOSS — This car, in which Mr. and Mrs. George Malouf were injured, smashed broadside into a truck Wednesday on U.S. 385 opposite Oglesby Implement.

HOE HANDLES — The collision sent hundreds of hoe, rake and shovel handles sprawling from the truck to the highway. Its driver was only slightly hurt. The Maloufs were admitted to Deaf Smith County Hospital.

Hereford couple are hurt in car-truck crash

A Hereford man and his wife were injured Wednesday morning when their car smashed broadside into a truck that turned into their path while leaving U.S. 385 for the parking lot of an implement firm.

Injured were George Malouf, 25, and his 24-year-old wife, Yota, of the Eldorado Apartments. Their Pontiac Grand Prix was a total loss. Its front was crumpled and the windshield shattered as the vehicle rammed into the rear axle of the truck.

Hundreds of hoe, rake and shovel handles of all kinds fell onto the pavement from the massive opening in the truck's side caused by the collision.

The 78-year-old driver of the truck, John B. West of Chelsea, Okla., was cited for failure to yield right of way. His only injury was a small bruise on his leg.

The truck was going south on the highway and turned left into the path of the north-bound Malouf car. They were taken by ambulance to the Deaf Smith County Hospital.

Malouf lost several teeth and suffered face cuts. His expectant wife was admitted for treatment and observation.

Along the Frio

BY MRS. OWEN ANDREWS
Brand Correspondent

A miscellaneous bridal shower honored Miss Darlene Sparkman at Frio Baptist Church Fellowship Hall on Thursday afternoon. Miss Sparkman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T.L. Sparkman Jr., is to be married to Jerry Richardson of Miami, Florida at the Frio Church on Sept. 4.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mesdames Floyd Cole, David Yandell, Olin Parris, Harlan Barber, Lloyd Shultz, Dwane Nelson, Earl Harkins, Kenneth Frye, Weldon Stephen, Frnak Robbins, Earnest Harder, H.V. Crawford, D.C. Miller and Anderson Axe.

The honoree was assisted by her mother, sister, Mrs. Eugene Baldwin and sister-in-law, Mrs. Tommy Sparkman to open gifts. The refreshment table was covered in green, overlaid with white lace, and the centerpiece was of white roses held in silver container. Serving the pink and orchid decorated cakes with the banana punch from a silver service were Mrs. Harkins and Mrs. Axe. About 45 ladies came for the event.

Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Warrick are at home on the Warrick farm here following their marriage on Aug. 17 in Wilcox, Ariz. The 6:00 p.m. ceremony which took place in the home of the bride, Nadine Hall, was conducted by Rev. Grover Garrett, pastor of the Wilcox First Southern Baptist Church. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Lee Renner. Only close friends and members of the family attended. The bride is a former resident of the Easter Community, having lived there several years with her family before moving to Wilcox about five years ago.

Mrs. Warrick's son, Ronnie, a junior in Dimmitt High School, will make his home with them also.

Billy and Eugene Warrick went to Wilcox, attended the wedding and helped move part of Mrs. Warrick's furniture and other things on the return trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Baldwin and sons, Randy and Andrew of Temple Hill, Maryland, came Friday to visit relatives here several days. His mother, Mrs. B.H. Baldwin, and aunt, Miss Viola Keene, who had spent about a month with them, came home with them also. On the way, they visited the Robert Baldwins at San Antonio, the Darold Baldwins at Wilson and other friends along the way.

Last summer community activities included a group attendance of Paul Greene's "Texas" sponsored by Frio Homemakers Club. Twenty six persons made up the group.

The Leon Voglers of Houston, were here recently, visiting their relatives, the E.F. Voglers and others of both their families.

Among students going off to college are Cheryl Cole to Oklahoma State at Stillwater. Her parents were helping her get settled during the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Marsh Pitman moved to Norman where they will be enrolled in Oklahoma University.

Karen Armstrong, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Jake Armstrong, of Olympia, Wash., has enrolled at Wayland Baptist College. Mr. and Mrs. Olin Parris, who are sponsoring her, were helping her get settled during the weekend to begin her freshman year. The Armstrongs are former residents of Friona, where he pastored Calvary Baptist Church, before going to Washington to Mission work.

Mr. and Mrs. Elza Warrick and granddaughter went to Alamosa, Colo. Thursday to visit their daughter, Mrs. Les Drabes and family.

A recent visitor of the Elza Warricks was Mrs. Grace Henson, a relative, from Englewood, Fla. She was here a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. O.C. Buckmaster and son of Ogden, Utah were recent visitors of Ted Bush and other relatives.

Mrs. Laura Littrell and W.H. Andrews have been visiting their sister, Mrs. Bell Hart, in a Clovis hospital. Mrs. Hart underwent surgery Friday morning.

Mrs. Owen Andrews, Mrs. Herbert Bruns and children recently visited a couple of days with the Glenn Andrews at Etter. The Bruns also went to near Griggs, Okla. to visit the J.C. Henderson family. The Hendersons moved there to farm about a year ago from their former home north of Dimmitt. Mrs. Henderson is the former Loretta Fowler, assistant HDA., who shared an apartment with Mrs. Bruns a couple of years while they were both single. The Hendersons farm about 1600 acres on the Okla-Texas line. Two of their children, Howard and David, attend school at Plainview, Okla. The other children are Linda, 5, and Michael, 2 years of age.

The Ogans have word from their son, Sammy, that he is now living, for three weeks, at Hotel Matterhorn, 6 miles from the foot of the Swiss Alps, while he studies the Italian language in an intensive course. He will on Sept. 9, go to Fiorano, Modena province, to live with the Cavani family for several months, as he is participating in the Foreign Exchange Student plan.

Former resident buried Tuesday

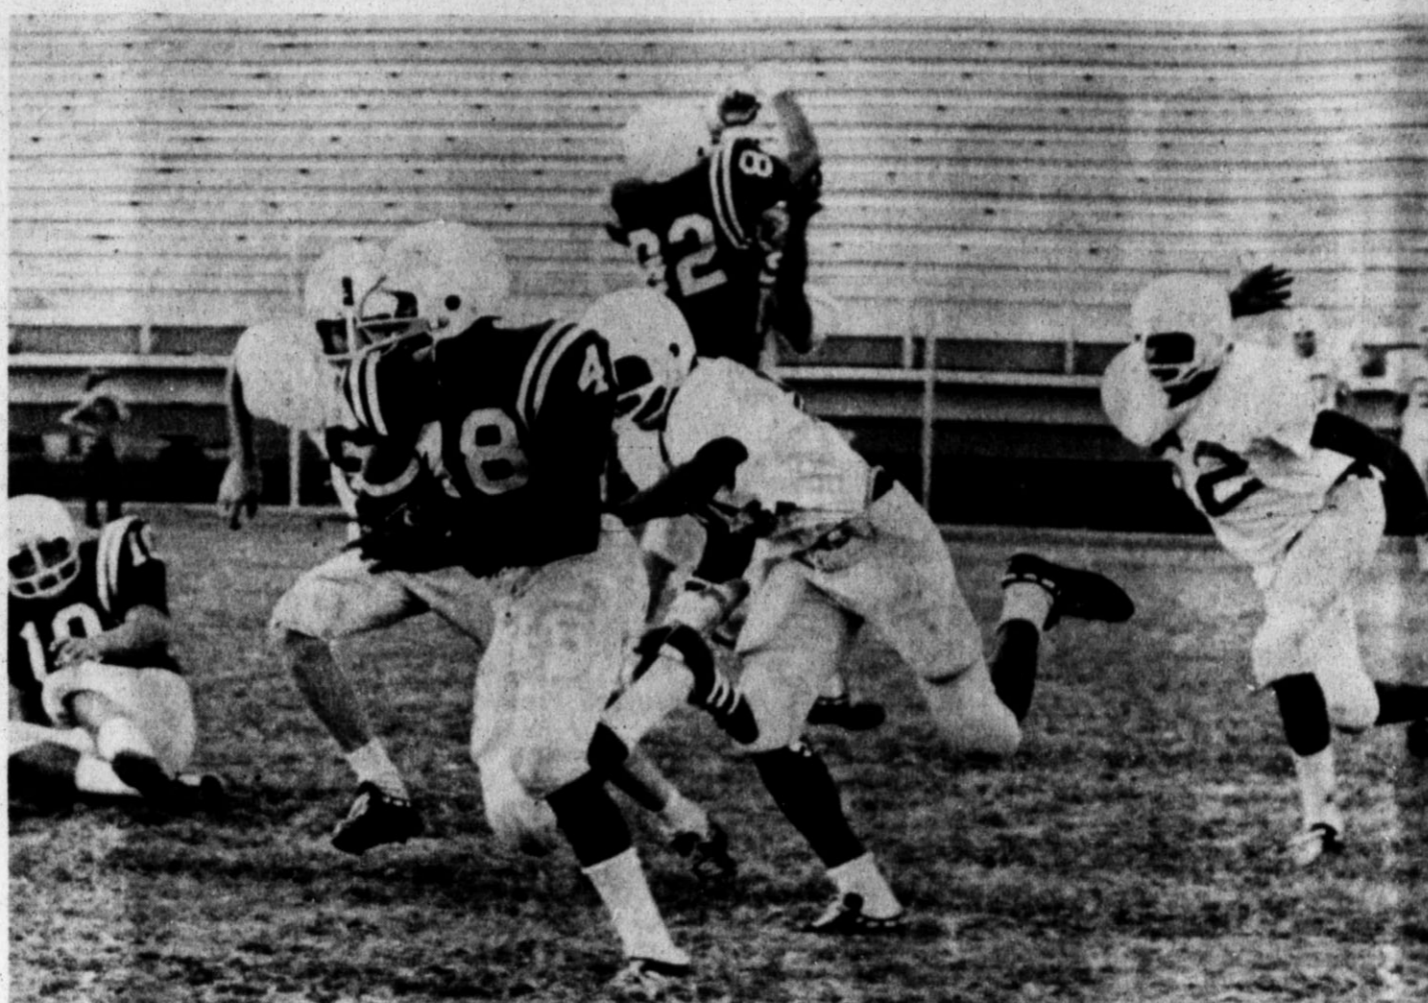

Funeral services for Alvin D. Christian of Abilene, a Hereford resident in the 1940's were conducted in Abilene and burial was in McLean Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. R.L. Ethridge of this city attended the funeral.

Survivors include Mrs. Christian, of 2326 S. 19th, Abilene.

MASS MURDER

Swine short course for adults will begin Tuesday at high school

A swine short course for adult farmers will be held Tuesday through Friday of next week under the sponsorship of the Hereford High School vocational agriculture department, according to Supt. Roy Hartman, and agriculture teachers Marcus Phillips and Jess Robinson.

Earl Behrens, swine specialist with the Vocational Agriculture Division of the Texas Education Agency and the Department of Animal Science at Texas A&M University, will instruct the course. He is headquartered at Texas A&M.

Behrens holds a B.S. Degree in Agricultural Education from Texas A&M University and Master of Education Degree from Howard Payne College. He has been a teacher of vocational agriculture for 17 years specializing in swine improvement and has had experience as head of swine management for Parker George Company, Brownwood.

The short course at Hereford High School is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. in the vocational agriculture building, each of the four evenings.

During the days the short course is in progress, Behrens will be available to assist enrollees with individual problems and provide on the farm instruction, Phillips and Robinson said.

Persons interested in attending the short course should write or call the vocational agriculture department at 364-0624. An entry fee of $2 will be charged. Swine Production Short-course Certificates are to be present-

Miss Leasure is complimented

Honoring Cynthia Leasure, whose marriage to Jimmy Allison will take place here Sept. 18, a shower-tea in Hereford Country Club Tuesday afternoon was one of the big parties of the week.

Dozens of friends called during the afternoon and were greeted by the bride-to-be; her mother, Mrs. C.E. Leasure, and grandmother, Mrs. Ercel Young; the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. J.R. Allison, and sister, Mrs. Mack Canaler.

Shower hostesses were Mesdames Dave Hopper, W. H. Kitchens, Dennis Lomas, W.H. Gentry, Eugene Sparks, B.F. Cain, Bob Renfro, G.C. Merritt Jr., Raymond White, Danny Martin, Joe Story, Pete Caviness, Lynn Kester, R.B. Hutson, Taft McGee, Wayne Thomas and Cecil Hart. Also Mesdames Charles Hoover, Ed Line, Bill Willis, R.G. Peeler, Steve Clements, J.W. Sewell, W. T. Carmichael, Bobby Owens, Lonidean Edmonson, R. C. Anderson, H.E. Miller, Herb Dones, Paul Harvey, Palmer Norton, John Sevier, James Mercer and Otis Lee.

Summer floweres in shades of purple and magenta, colors chosen for the wedding made a centerpiece for the serving table. At small tables where guests were seated, grapes and green leaves circled the bases of votive lights.

Mrs. Ronnie Gray and Mrs. Jim Durham of Amarillo served tea while Mrs. Bob Renfro registered callers.

Concert group listing members

With emphasis on renewal of memberships, the drive to enrol Hereford Community Concert members for the 1971-72 season is under way this week under leadership of Mrs. J.H. McCrary and 10 captains who are directing workers' efforts.

Captains are Mesdames Gene Cope, Richard Ottesen, Rudy Metz, Danny Martin, Bill Walden, Pete Caviness, Lynton Allred, Jack McKinster, Ken Rogers and Wes Fisher.

For the first time in Hereford, this preliminary enrollment is being conducted in advance of official membership campaign week, which will open with a kickoff dinner Oct. 11.

After that week, memberships will be closed for the season and only those listed through that period will be admitted to concerts. The fee remains at $10, the same as in past years here.

One of the programs which members will hear in the coming season will be a concert next April by Stan Kenton and his orchestra, who have been booked as the "hold" attraction.

At least two other concerts by nationally-known artists will be added at the close of the membership drive. They will be chosen by the Concert Association's local board after the year's budget is fixed by enlistment of members.

In the past three seasons, members have heard artists of the caliber of the Norman Luboff Choir, Peter Nero and a Clebanoff String ensemble. Admission to concerts is by membership card only but use of a card is transferable so if a member wishes he may permit another in his family or a friend to use his card.

"Home again! The sweetest, kindest, most lovable and understanding mother a kid could have."

We'll see you Tuesday

We hope you have a chance to relax away from your routine chores . . . a trip to the beach with the family or camping out in a park.

Whatever you do, wherever you go, remember to DRIVE FRIENDLY.

The Governor's Office and the Texas Department of Public Safety urge you to obey state and local traffic laws, plan your travel so you won't have to rush or drive when fatigued, and avoid drinking and driving. In other words, maintain a friendly driving attitude toward the other families who are also enjoying this holiday.

Most of the six million Texas drivers will be on the road at some time this holiday weekend. Think about your responsibilities every time you take the wheel. This weekend DRIVE FRIENDLY and we'll see you Tuesday.

This Labor Day weekend DRIVE FRIENDLY and we'll see you Tuesday.

CATTLE BRANDS EFFECTIVE DATE AUGUST 30, 1971

AN ACT

Relating to the recording and re-recording of livestock brands and marks; and declaring an emergency.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. (a) This Act shall apply to every county in this State. In all the counties each owner of any livestock mentioned in Chapter 1 of Title 121 of the Revised Civil Statutes of 1925 shall within six months after this Act takes effect have his mark and brand for such stock recorded in the office of the county clerk of the county. These owners shall record the marks and brands whether the brands and marks have been previously recorded or not.

(b) The owner shall have the right to have his mark and brand recorded in his name who according to the present records of the county first recorded the brand and mark in the county, or in event it can not be ascertained from the records who first recorded the brand and mark in the county, then the person who has been using such mark and brand the longest shall have the right to have the brand and mark recorded in his name.

(c) After the expiration of six months from the taking effect of this Act all records of marks and brands now in existence in the county shall no longer have any force or effect and after the expiration of six months only the records made after this Act takes effect shall be examined or considered in recording marks and brands in the county.

Frontier as it used to be sets novel

A novel of the old West is among the new books in Deaf Smith County Library. This exciting story of pioneer days is Eli's Road by Lucas Webb.

This book is available at the library on the first floor of the Deaf Smith County Courthouse.

ELI'S ROAD

By Lucas Webb

The lusty spirit of the pioneers pulses through every page of this authentic and graphic novel of the Old West. Eli's Road is the hardy tale of one Eli Russell, Union militia captain, Indian-fighter, U.S. marshal, womanizer, part-time philosopher and full-time wandering boy.

From his birth in the Kansas territory around 1850, Eli's life is one continuous adventure whose highlights include his conversion to abolitionism at the hands of a Boston minister, his fights against the Missouri slavers, the taking of a wife (and later another), the killing of a notorious Texas gunfighter, and his final journey west to California.

Surrounding the irrepressible Eli are other unforgettable characters: his father Tom, an intellectual horse trader, dreaming of Hegel, Kant, Harper's Weekly and the perfect Arab mare; his unpredictable brother Frank, who could find it in himself to ride both with John Brown and the outlaw Ratzon Tuckman; Atlas Boocy, a polished, London-educated black seeking a home in the West—and of course, Eli's women.

Eli Russell lives every moment all the way up, like Hemingway's bull-fighters, and his story is told by him with all his lusty humor and orneriness.

Rich in the color and detail of early America, Eli's Road is a fast-paced chronicle of the relentless westward flow of American civilization, a vibrant portrait of the frontier as it truly was—and never again will be.

THE EARL

By Cecelia Holland

Cecelia Holland, still in her twenties, has been called by Orville Prescott of The New York Times a "literary phenomenon" for the five brilliant historical novels she has already written, ranging in background from eleventh-century Ireland to the Mongol invasion of Europe.

Now, for the first time, she has set a novel in England, the England of the twelfth century, whose political and social fabric is rotting as two rival claimants to the throne—King Stephen and the young Henry Plantagenet, Duke of Normandy, husband of Eleanor of Aquitaine—tear the country apart in civil war.

At the center of the book is a great Norman noble, the Earl of Stafford, a complex, intelligent, and troubled warrior-knight, whose private emotions and ambitions are not always in accord with his otherwise profound commitment to the restoration of sanity and structure to the body politic.

Behind everything in Stafford's life—his edgy encounters with Henry, his tragic conflict with his older son, his rueful respect for his clever, ugly wife, his brutal rivalry with his traitor uncle, his always shifting relationships with the other great Norman nobles—is high political strategy, and the moral ambiguity that goes hand in hand with it.

Again in The Earl, Cecelia Holland demonstrates that the novel of history can incorporate the most serious purpose with the excitement and color of large adventure.

Shower honors bride

A bridal shower honoring Mrs. Jimmy Murray, the former Eliza Bridges, was given recently in the Community Room of First National Bank.

Hostesses were Mrs. Linda Farley, Mary Collier, Sandra Collier, Mrs. Jimmy Harris, Sandy Fields and Mrs. Donnie Cornelius.

Serving cake and punch were Patricia Collier and Mrs. Cornelia.

Receiving guests were the bride's mother and mother-in-law, Mrs. Joe B. Bridges and Mrs. G.H. Morgan.

The centerpiece was made of feathery blossoms and buds matching the corsages of the hostesses and bride in pink and purple.

The honoree wore a lavender empire dress with white lace trim and daisies.

Registering the 36 guests was Linda Sims.

Cycle accident injures woman

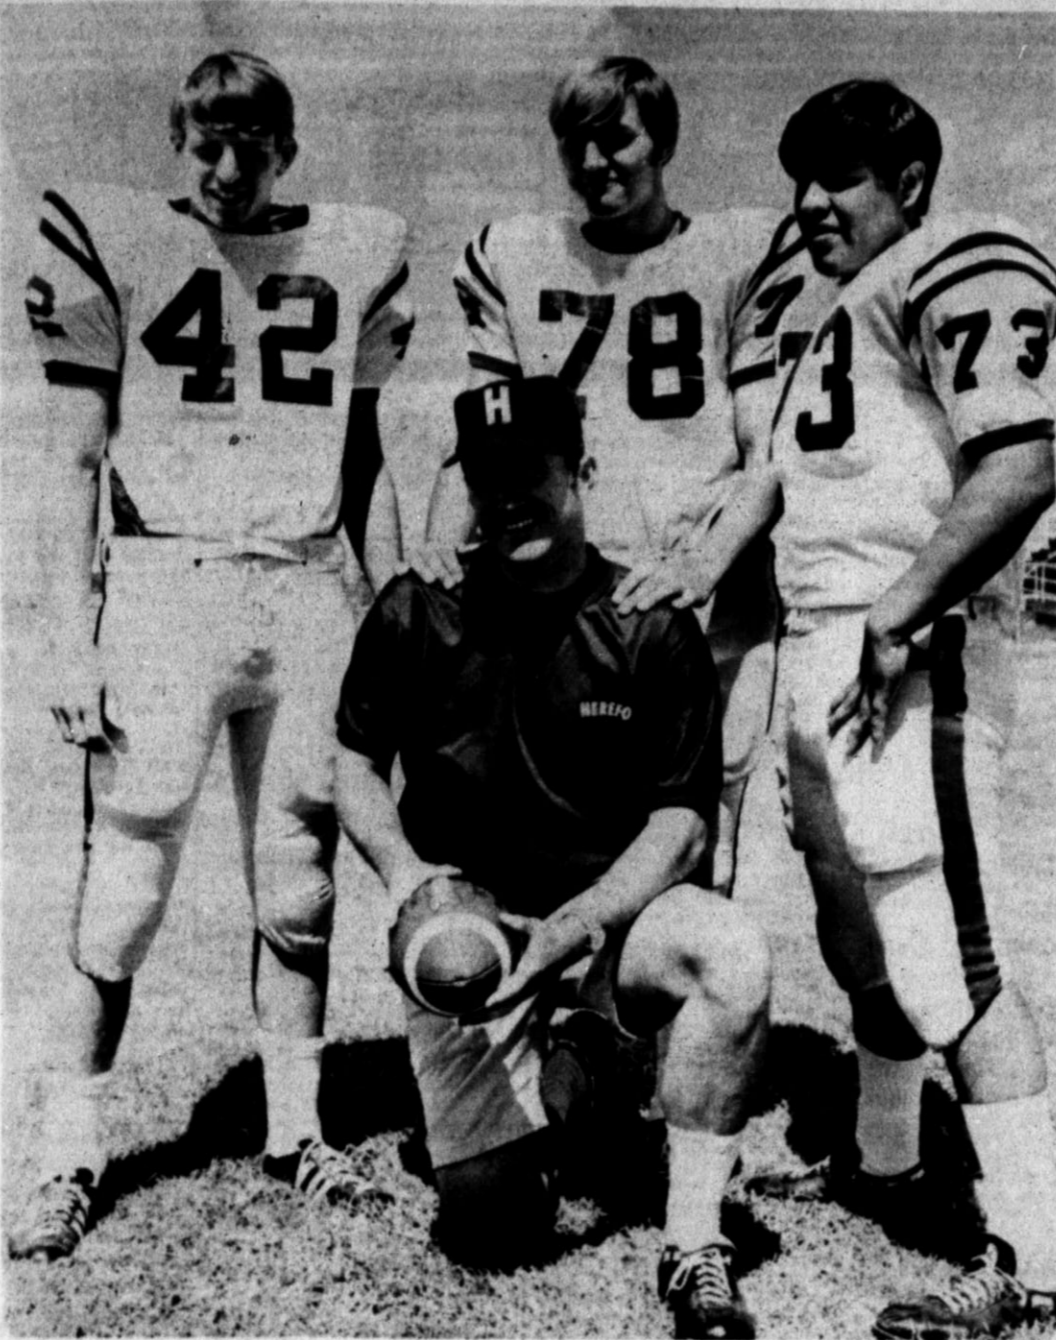

A Hereford woman was listed in improved condition in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo at mid-week after suffering head and shoulder injuries in a fall from a motorcycle Sunday.

Linda Warren was in satisfactory condition. She fell from the rear of the cycle driven by her husband, 24-year-old Lynn Warren, on Interstate 27, just south of the Amarillo city limits about 1:30 p.m. She had been listed in serious condition Monday.

Department of Public Safety officers said she probably would have died had she not been wearing a safety helmet.

Her husband lost control of the motorcycle after she fell. The vehicle hit a reflector post, and he hurt his foot. He was treated and released from Northwest Texas Hospital.

Good grazing, hay likely for state

COLLEGE STATION—Prospects for good grazing and hay from recent rains should please stockmen over the state. And they can boost forage production even more by applying fertilizer, says Al Novosad, pasture specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Perennial grass pastures should be fertilized now for increased fall production and quality. If pastures have not been fertilized since spring, plant nutrients, especially nitrogen, have been depleted, and an application now will correct this situation, advises Novosad.

There is still plenty of growing time over much of the state for good production from bermuda, Klein, buffel, love, bahia, and other grasses. Forage from these grasses can be utilized for grazing or hay or left standing and grazed after frost.

Soil moisture must be available for top production and at present is adequate over most counties although some still report a shortage. Also, prospects for additional moisture look good for the next two months, points out Novosad. A check of rainfall records from 34 stations over the state, covering a 46-year period, shows the chances of receiving two inches of rainfall in September ranges from 50 to 90 per cent in the eastern two-thirds of the state. This probability increases as you move from west to east. About the same probability exists for October.

With the improved moisture situation this year, the specialist believes that fall pasture fertilization will be a good practice. Most of the state enjoys a long growing season for perennial warm-season grasses, but lack of fertilization usually limits the production of quality forage in the fall. In many areas, annual fall pasture fertilization should prove profitable. It is especially important this year, Novosad emphasizes, because of the short forage situation.

Community fete at Easter slated

Residents of Easter community and their friends are invited to the monthly 42 party at Easter Community Building at 8:30 p.m. Friday.

Persons who attend the party are asked to bring dominoes and card tables for the games. Women of the community provide refreshments.

Mrs. Guy Walser and Mrs. Earl Harkins are hostesses for the September party.

Grand jury indicts 11; 2 are sentenced to penitentiary

A county grand jury returned 11 indictments Monday, no-billed five cases and passed two.

The names of two of the indicted were kept private, because the individuals are at large.

Charges were dismissed, by the grand jury's refusal to indict, against Adam Morales, charged with driving while intoxicated; Tommy Perez, charged with possession of marijuana; Weldon Pace, charged with swindling with a worthless check; and Hoyt Coleman, charged with child desertion.

Indicted were Mrs. John F. Baber, degrading with a worthless check; Lino R. Hernandez, driving while intoxicated, subsequent offense; Raymon F. Guerra, driving while intoxicated, subsequent offense; Ricky L. Fletcher, charged with auto theft and also forged and passing, two indictments; Gary Jack White and Martha Ann Letney White, charged with possession of marijuana, same indictment; Reymundo Guerra, theft; Richard Marry, auto theft; and Dionicio B. Castillo, driving while intoxicated subsequent offense.

Paul Harvey is foreman of the grand jury. Also on the panel are John Gilliland, Vernon Inmon, Dean Herring, James J. Boyd, the Rev. C.W. Allen, Ms. E.C. Reinauer Jr., Luther Lesly, L.J. Clark, Mrs. Raymond Higginbotham, Edd Lemons and Dwayne Cassells.

Dist. Judge Archie McDonald heard four cases in the past two weeks, including two Monday. Two sentences to the penitentiary resulted.

Truman Sims was arraigned Monday on a charge of forgery and passing. He pleaded guilty and McDonald sentenced him to three years in the pen.

Joe Olivio Jr. pleaded guilty to burglary Monday and was given 10 years probation.

Two criminal cases came before McDonald on Aug. 19. He revoked the three years probation against Jose Casanova Tijerina Jr., who had been convicted in April of 1970 of driving while intoxicated. He was picked up in Canyon on a DWI charge recently. Tijerina gave notice of appeal, and McDonald set a $2,000 bond.

Mary Helen Hunt Gaynor pleaded guilty Aug. 19 to theft over $50 and got three years probation.

Three persons were charged this week with felonies.

Robert A. Treadway was charged Tuesday with burglary of a private residence at night and with violation of federal firearms laws; Candido S. Pina was charged Monday with driving while intoxicated, subsequent offense; and Frances Edward Gaetz was charged Monday with driving while intoxicated, subsequent offense.

Fill your spring grazing gap with amazing new DEKALB Wintergraze Brand 9290

Been taking livestock off small grain pasture in March? Move to new 9290, the palatable wheat-by-wheatgrass hybrid. Put abundant growth in spring grazing — right up to June.

Plant 9290 early. Properly managed, it can be grazed in the fall. In March, move your cattle back from wheat to 9290, and watch them thrive on this abundant, seed-sterile forage.

9290 furnishes the grazing of wheat with many other better features . . .

Plant a few acres and see more grazing in fall, winter and spring.

Daughters of American Revolution was made when the famous entertainer and his orchestra arrived in Amarillo Friday for their concert.

A resolution to honor Welk for his contribution to patriotism through music, was adopted by the Hereford DAR group last year and became a reality when he accepted the plaque at Amarillo airport.

Mrs. Jess Robinson, regent, made the presentation and members who accompanied her were Mrs. Joe Reinauer, chaplain; Mrs. Tom Carter, registrar; and Mrs. Jeff Smart, public relations chairman. Mrs. E.S. Brainerd of Amarillo, recording secretary of the Texas DAR Society, was also present.

Inscription on the plaque reads "In appreciation of your great work in keeping beautiful music alive in the hearts of Americans, especially for your album of Patriotic Music for Young America and Posterity, Los Cibolecs Chapter DAR, Hereford, Texas."

Small talk

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor
THE WEDDING ANNIVERSARY of a Dallas couple was celebrated here when Dr. and Mrs. Lee Alexander were up to visit their daughter, Mrs. Joe Reinauer Jr., on the weekend. It was the Alexanders' 29th anniversary.

Another daughter, Lorri, and her husband, Dr. Paul Borrico and baby daughter, Kathy, were also here from Ft. Walton, Fla. They all visited Linda and Joe Jr., and with the senior Joe Reinauers and other family members in the area. The men went out to the Reinauer ranch in the west part of the county while "the girls" talked.

Art Reinauer came home from Lubbock, where he had just registered at Texas Tech, to help his father, Joe Sr., celebrate his birthday Thursday, then stayed over the weekend with the family.

Going to the Lawrence Welk show at Amarillo Friday was a part of the weekend activity for the Reinauers, and after the concert Linda and Joe Jr. had supper with Guy and Rona Hoffs of the Welk troupe. The two men saw Army service together.

The Lewis Blocks were also in the supper party.

PLANNING TO LEAVE tomorrow morning after several days here are Mr. and Mrs. George Branham of Sun City, Ariz. They visited in the homes of her daughter, Marie Cogdell and son, Walter Seeds. Mrs. Branham is a former longtime resident of Hereford.

A FRIED CHICKEN supper was the occasion for a get-together of the Paul Hoffs' family at their home Wednesday night. Guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. George Marks of Canoga Park, Calif., who have been visiting the Hoffs several days. They have been in Hereford a number of times in the past and have many acquaintances here. They are old friends of the Hoffs, former neighbors when they all lived in Chicago.

FRIENDS IN THIS area are invited to attend a reception Sunday afternoon honoring Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Vaughn of Mesa, Ariz., on their golden wedding anniversary. The Vaughns ranched many years near Holllene, N.M., and are the parents of Richard Vaughn of Rt. 2, Friona—that's the mail address of a lot of western Deaf Smith County residents.

The reception will be in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Perle Duncan, Rt. 1, Texico, and will begin at 3 p.m. New

Let's cook something

She pretties-up cakes

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

"JUST A FRUSTRATED artist!" Mrs. Lynn Pittard describes herself to explain her interest in cake decoration as a hobby.

She employs her aptitude at drawing and use of color to turning out cakes which are art pieces in sugar icing, but still hopes to get back to painting "some day when there is more time."

Mother of four children from first grade to high school age, involved in their activities and in youth and children's programs of her church, Barbara Pittard is a little short of spare time just now, but foresees a day when she will be at leisure to use those art lessons she had as a youngster, and enjoy the hobby that is "so beautifully relaxing!"

THE CAKE DECORATING she does now can be used in current activities; she began by prettying-up cakes she made for the children's birthdays and other family occasions, then for special events at church, in Campfire Girl and Cub Scout groups.

Shortly after Hereford women with a like hobby formed the Sweet and Fancy Decorating Club she joined it, about two years ago, and now she creates elaborate cakes for weddings, parties and gifts to friends. Also, she is vice president of the club for the coming year, responsible for its twice-a-month programs.

Responsibilities sort of gravitate to Mrs. Pittard, probably because she accepts them graciously and works hard to carry them out.

SHE AND HER HUSBAND are both active in First United Methodist Church and she has led elementary and youth groups as her children grew up. Now she is in charge of Youth Fellowship suppers each Sunday, is a Choir Mother to aid children's choir work, and a member of the Ladies Bell Choir.

Interest in music dates back to her childhood but she had to choose between art and music lessons and is not sorry that she took the basic instruction in drawing and painting although she plans to learn more about music as opportunities come.

The former Barbara Brooks, she was born in Brady and since her father's business was concerned with oilfields, she lived in several towns before returning to Brady to complete high school.

She was taking a secretarial course at an Abilene business college and working as a switch-

Mrs. Lynn Pittard with cake decorating equipment board operator for the newspaper there when she met Pittard. She had been promoted to secretary for a department manager before they were married.

WHILE HE COMPLETED military service and college she continued secretarial work, and was a stenographer in the president's office at Texas A&M. There was little time for painting in those years and less after her children came.

The family includes a daughter, Laurie, in the fifth grade, and three sons, first-grader James, Michael, who is in junior high and Joel, a high school soph. Car pools, ball games, Campfire and Boy Scout activities keep the mother as well as the children on the go.

Not just decorating cakes, but making them is one of the home duties Mrs. Pittard likes. This recipe, for a cake which is rather like candy, she got from her grandmother and is a favorite for holiday time in the household. It keeps well and freezes well, she says.

whole; chop dates and pineapple in medium sized pieces. Sift together 1 cup sugar and 1 cup flour. Mix well with the fruit-nut mixture.

Beat 4 eggs and pour over the flour mixture. Blend well and bake in greased paper-lined pans at 275 degrees. Baking time: 2 hours in tube pan, 1½ hours in small loaves, 40 to 50 minutes in cup cakes.

Ski club in city planned

Are you interested in the formation of a Snow Ski Club in Hereford?

The course is being charted for creation of such a group, which would meet periodically to hear speakers talk about ski techniques and would also plan group outings, at discount rates, to ski resorts.

Anyone interested should contact Clyde Whitaker at 364-2313. Among the plans is to have several ski trips, including one big trip each year to a place such as the famous ski slopes at Vail or Aspen, Colo.

"Some of the advantages would be room discounts, ski discounts and the association of other persons with similar interests," Whitaker said. There would be several programs involving knowledgeable ski personnel, concerning such things as equipment, techniques, films,

Sen. Tower opens series of programs

A report on national defense by Republican U. S. Sen. John Tower of Texas will open a series of nine special programs at West Texas State University Sept. 7.

The offerings are being presented under auspices of the university's Special Programs Committee, headed by Dr. John Green, dean of the School of Fine Arts. The Department of Military Science is co-sponsoring the Tower appearance.

Now in his 10th year in office, Tower was the youngest Senate member when he came to office in 1961—the first Republican elected to the Senate from Texas since 1870.

He served as chairman of the Nixon-Agnew Key Issues Committee during the 1968 campaign and headed the GOP Senatorial Campaign Committee during the 91st Congress.

Tower now serves on the influential Senate Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs Committee and the Armed Forces Committee. The Houston-born Senator holds a bachelor's degree from Southwestern University at Georgetown, Tex., and a Master's Degree in political science from Southern Methodist University. Graduate studies were undertaken at the University of London. He holds honorary doctoral degrees from Southwestern, Howard Payne College at Brownwood, Tex., and Alfred University in New York.

Prior to assuming his Senate seat, he was an instructor in government and political science for nine years at Midwestern University at Wichita Falls, where he makes his home. He is now a trustee of SMU and Southwestern, where a John Goodwin Tower Chair of Political Science has been established.

Tower has made six tours of South Vietnam and other Southeast Asia nations. He has headed for the past four years the U.S. delegation to the International Wehrkunde Meeting, a NATO defense study conference held annually in Munich.

No admission will be charged students and public for Tower's 8 p.m. appearance in the Activities Center. However, tickets for admission must be secured in advance at the Activities Center office, Dr. Green said.

Other offerings include the Preservation Hall Jazz Band of New Orleans, Sept. 20; publisher-humorist Bennett Cerf, Oct. 18; the Taneo Wakayama repertory company of Edo Festival Music and Pantomime, Oct. 25; chamber music ensemble the Warsaw Wintet, Jan. 31; English international affairs authority Donald Grant, Feb. 28; baroque music group, the Philidor Trio, March 20, and American Broadcasting Co. science editor Jules Bergman, April 19.

In addition to these, three other notable personalities will appear this year at the University. They include pianist Willi-

Contest . . .

A tabulation will be kept in the Hereford Brand office on cumulative correct predictions throughout the season. The top two guessers at the end of the year—those who have the largest total of correct predictions—will receive two tickets each to the Cotton Bowl on Jan. 1, 1972.

Three professional rating systems will appear in the Hereford Brand each Thursday, beginning each week, through the football season. Two rate and predict the outcome of college and professional football games and one rates and predicts the outcome of high school games.

If enough persons indicate interest in forming a ski club, a meeting will be announced for organizational purposes, Whitaker said. It is hoped at least 30 or 40 persons will respond.

SHIFTS TEST SITE
TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The Marine Department of Underwriters' Laboratories, formerly the Yacht Safety Bureau, has moved to new quarters here from Westwood, N.J. The shift makes it possible to test marine products the full year. The new site is adjacent to Gandy Bridge in Tampa Bay.

HOMER HAPPY
DETROIT (AP)—The players who started in the All-Star baseball game, exclusive of pitchers, showed 198 home runs or the first half of the season. The National League fielders had 112 home runs, the American Leaguers 86. Each team hit three home runs in the game and the AL won 6-4.

BY MELVIN YOUNG
The folks up at Milo Center are making preparations for their annual Labor Day free barbecue. According to Bobby Owen, unofficial spokesman for the community, festivities will begin at 6 p.m. Monday and everyone is invited to attend. Pitman Grain Company and Pioneer Fertilizer Company will furnish the beef and trimmings (baked potatoes, by the way) and the meat will be cooked at Jim Enaley's place.

Owen also tells us that Woodrow Dutton is currently serving as mayor of Milo Center.

We're not sure just when they have their mayoralty elections up there but have a sneaking suspicion that these fellows are railroaded during one of the coffee sessions. Anyway, the Mayor cordially invites you to attend.

And those of you who plan to go to the Boys Ranch Rodeo Monday might want to drop by Milo Center on the way home. The Boys Ranch Rodeo, the 27th annual, will begin at 2:30 p.m. both Sunday and Monday and the boys are expecting another capacity crowd this year. If you've never been to one of the shows, you've really missed something. It's great.

For the benefit of you newcomers in the area, Boys Ranch is located 25 miles north of Vega on 385 and Milo Center is just 11 miles north of Hereford on the same highway.

Now that school has started,

28 FILMS IN 1971
BEVERLY HILLS, Calif.
(AP)—A record 28 films will have been released this year by American International Pictures.

July releases include "Bunny O'Hare," and "Murders in the Rue Morgue," "The Return of Count Yorga" and "Chrome and Hot Leather" are scheduled for an August release.

"The Year of the Cannibals" and "Some of My Best Friends Are..." are listed for September. October releases are "Tam Lin" and "Dagmar & Co." "Lizard in a Woman's Skin," "Carry on Camping" and "Wild Artie" are slated for November. Three December films will be "Gingerbread House," "Wild in the Streets" and "The Wild Angels."

More than 4,000 persons were arrested for drunken driving in New York City during 1970.

Incidentally, we notice now that a new State law which became effective August 30, will no longer permit Texas motorists to stop and then pass a school bus which is loading or unloading children. You'll just have to wait.

According to the release, Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, has said the new law passed by the 62nd Legislature, applies in both cities and rural areas and requires motorists moving both directions on the same roadway with a school bus to stop and remain stopped as long as the flashing lights on the bus are in operation. Under the previous regulations, which applied only in rural areas, drivers were required to stop for a stopped school bus, but then could proceed around it at a speed of no more than 10 miles per hour if safe to do so.

The new law will not require those vehicles on another roadway or a divided highway to stop, and stops are not required if the bus has stopped in a loading zone of a controlled access highway where pedestrians are not permitted to cross.

And another little item of interest... Motorists may now be fined up to $300 for leaving the keys in the ignition switch in an unattended automobile!

The Hereford and District Chamber of Commerce (Hereford, England that is,) now has a new manager and we received the following correspondence from the gentleman this week: "Having recently been appointed to take over the duties of Secretary to the Hereford and District Chamber of Commerce, since the recent death of Mr. Comley-White, I have noted how regularly the Hereford Brand has been arriving at this office.

"I feel that, on behalf of the Hereford Chamber, I must write to thank you and the Hereford, Texas, Chamber for making available this most interesting newspaper.

"For your interest, I am sending a copy of our Hereford Times under separate cover. "I do hope that we can correspond from time-to-time with exchanges of mutual interest to our two cities, with particular reference to agriculture and livestock, and any information service which we can offer."

The letter was signed by M.G. Cobbold.

The sending of the local paper to Hereford, England Chamber of Commerce was initiated by former Mayor

Ray Cowser many years ago and is now being continued by Mayor Jim Sears. A copy of the Hereford Times also is being mailed here. We'll pass Mr. Cobbold's letter on to local Chamber Manager Jim Lindsey, who is a newcomer himself, and perhaps he'll want to send the gentleman some of our latest propaganda.

By the way, it would be nice if some of our nomadic citizens who wander all over Europe could stop by Hereford, England and visit awhile. Don't know whether this could be considered a "cultural exchange" or not, but we'd surely be happy to have some of the citizens from our sister city visit here.

Understand that eight of our local citizens have recently taken a tour of the California irrigation project and would suggest that the civic club program chairmen take note and invite these folks to speak at the weekly luncheons. We might learn a great deal about what has been done in California and what can be done in Texas.

Jim Lindsey was on that trip, as well as Andrew Kersten, Tom and Argen Diaper, Charles and Edmund Schlabs, Steve Messenger and A. G. Flippin, a Ford Community farmer.

Letter to the editor

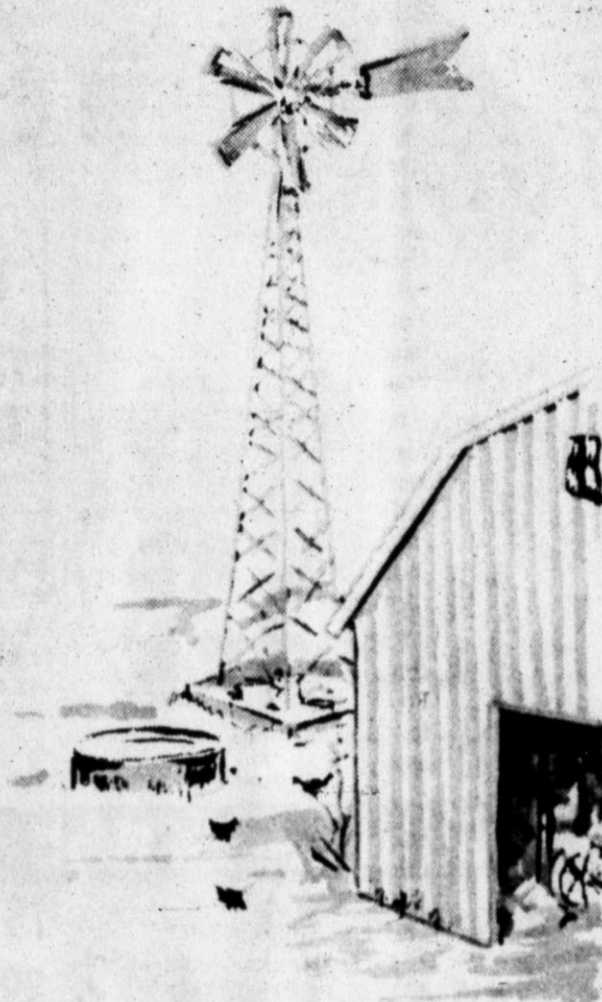

Dear Editor:
The price of auto insurance to drivers violating simple traffic rules is unjust because penalties are imposed upon the driver twice for the same violation; first, when he is fined by one of the local courts; second, by the insurance companies which raise his premiums so much for each violation.
The State Board of Insurance is certainly a party to these inequities and has been the interests' protector for these companies.
I do believe minor traffic violations should be and are the sole responsibility of the local courts to mete out the penalty. Only violations which result in bodily and material damages may give the right to auto insurance companies for adding to the premium rate.
Will our lawmakers rise to remove the inequity of placing an 'accident' at par with minor traffic violation?

Rest from Labor

Labor Day--the day we celebrate how hard we work by not working at all. Our forefathers would have thought this a luxurious idea, for their only respite came when the sun went down. Only then could they hang up their hat, coat and breeches and sit down to rest. They knew nothing of paid vacations, weekends off, overtime, retirement, or other benefits we take for granted.

Labor Day must surely seem facetious to the unemployed. We fuss and gripe about having to get up each morning, but we should be thankful that we have something to get up for.

Amidst the holiday fun, laboring people should give thanks for the good things this country has given her workers and resolve to help her correct her inadequacies.

Committee studies freeze effect on farm markets

COLLEGE STATION—President Nixon's new economic program for dealing with inflation, employment, and the world position of the dollar has all sectors of the economy guessing as to the eventual implications.

Two major questions are (1) what will happen after the 90-day period and, of particular interest to agriculture, (2) how will the agriculture domestic and export markets be affected?

These questions were posed by Dr. Carl E. Shafer, associate professor of agricultural economics, and a committee of Agricultural Extension Service and Experiment Station economists in the Department of Agricultural Economics at Texas A&M University. The committee, headed by Shafer, was recently appointed to determine what effects the new economic program is having on Texas agriculture.

Shafer's committee reminded Texas producers that "all farm level unprocessed products are exempt from the price-freeze provision while retail food (except for unprocessed items like eggs and lettuce) and fiber product prices are subject to the freeze. Of course, prices of items farmers buy are controlled. This should restrain the cost part of the price-cost squeeze dilemma farmers have had to face."

The committee of agricultural economists indicated that "farm level prices could vary selectively depending on the strategy of food marketers as dictated by current cost and margins. However, with retail and wholesale food prices frozen, there is little reason to expect farm level prices to increase to any extent."

By the President's Executive Order No. 1165, prices were stabilized for a 90-day period at levels not greater than the highest of those pertaining to a substantial volume of actual transactions during the 30-day period ended August 14, 1971.

Section 202 "A" of the Economic Stabilization Act of 1970 authorizes the President to issue orders stabilizing prices at levels not less than those prevailing on May 25, 1970. Therefore, in cases where prices have dropped below those of May 25, 1970, these prices may increase. But, the prevailing price cannot be higher than the highest price established in the mentioned time periods.

"Possibly the most significant aspect of the new programs could be the psychological effect to the turn-about in the administration's economic policy," pointed out Shafer. "If confidence in the economy is renewed, inflation is restrained, and unemployment drops significantly, then the demand for food could increase. This would result in sales at the stabilized retail prices."

The agricultural economic group cited an example. If the demand increases for high consumer preference items such as beef, there might be some increase in cattle prices due to buyers bidding for the given supply. But, again, cattle prices could not rise much because of marketing costs and fixed retail prices.

"The President's moves to strengthen the U.S. trade position via the 10 per cent surcharge on imports and temporary suspension of the dollar convertibility into gold should make our agricultural products even more competitive in domestic and world trade," said Shafer. "The world trade question, however, hinges on the response of agriculture's big customers like Japan, Canada, and the European Economic Community EEC to the import-restricting moves of the President."

About 14 per cent of U.S. farmer's income comes from sales in foreign markets and 49 per cent of U.S. agricultural sales are to the six EEC countries, Japan, and Canada.

Japan, our largest customer, accounted for 16 per cent of U.S. farm export sales for hard currency. The new 10 per cent surcharge on imports will reduce somewhat the demand for Japanese goods in this country. Furthermore, should Japan have to increase the value of its currency, our commodities will become increasingly competitive with their's in world markets, the committee reported.

"In 1970, Japan took 66 per cent of our grain sorghum exports, 29 percent of the corn, and 25 percent of our soybeans and was also the number one customer in cotton and wheat," Shafer reported.

The Texas A&M committee of agricultural economists contended that "Japan could, of course, look elsewhere for these commodities but will probably not do so because the U.S. remains an excellent market for Japan's manufactured goods."

WILDWOOD SCENE

WILDWOOD, N.J. (AP)—"Going Home," directed and produced by Herbert B. Leonard for MGM, is being filmed in this seaside resort town with Robert Mitchum and Brenda Vaccaro in starring roles.

Sylvia Miles, who starred in "Midnight Cowboy," will join the company in Pittsburgh, Pa., where her role in "Going Home" will be filmed.

H. D. club year beginning anew

After a two-month vacation, Home Demonstration Clubs in Deaf Smith County begin meetings this month for programs outlined in the new yearbooks which will be distributed at opening sessions.

Scheduled for meeting the first week in September are North Hereford and Wyche Clubs on first and third Thursdays of the month, Dawn Club, first and third Fridays, Progressive Club, first and third Tuesdays.

West Hereford Club holds its regular meeting on second and fourth Tuesdays, Bippus on second Wednesdays, Westway on second Thursdays, Cultural and Messenger clubs on second and fourth Fridays.

Young Homemakers and Ford clubs meet on third Tuesdays. Fourth Mondays are reserved for County H.D. Council sessions each month.

Mrs. Jimmie Bradley of Bippus Club is council chairman this year, with Mrs. H.L. Hershey as vice chairman, Mrs. E. C. Hewitt Jr. secretary, Mrs. Wayne Sifford correspondent, Mrs. Homer Holden treasurer, Mrs. C.F. Newson parliamentarian and Mrs. Roger Williams reporter.

Mrs. Paul Corbett, county chairman of Texas Home Demonstration Association, will be succeeded Jan. 1 by Mrs. Paul Hoff. In previous years, local club and council officers' terms ran through a calendar year, but a change this year begins their terms in September.

Mrs. A.E. Hodges of North Hereford Club is president this year of Texas H.D. Association, which gives members in this county an added interest in the state convention to be held later this month in Dallas.

Since Texas is hostess this year to the National H.D. Association, and that convention will immediately follow the THDA meeting, several members are expected to represent Deaf Smith County Clubs at both, as delegates or visitors.

Club presidents for the new year are Mrs. Kenneth Homfeld, Bippus; Mrs. J.G. Gandy, Cultural; Mrs. Pat Smith, Dawn; Mrs. Jose Gonzales, Ford; Mrs. Gene Bradley, Messenger; Mrs. W.J. Lueb, North Hereford; Mrs. H.L. Hershey, Progressive; Mrs. E.M. Cox, West Hereford; Mrs. T.B. Thomas, Westway; Mrs. Wayne Jones, Wyche; Mrs. Allen Evers, Young Homemakers.

Bud to Blossom yearbooks ready

Yearbooks for the 1971-72 season will be presented by the program committee at the initial meeting of Bud to Blossom Garden Club at 9:30 a.m. Friday in the home of Mrs. B.W. Sisson, 114 Liveoak.

Hostesses for a brunch will be the committee, which is headed by Mrs. Sam Long and has Mrs. Jess Robinson and Mrs. W.H. Gentry as members with Mrs. Sisson.

Mrs. R.N. Yarbro, new president of the club, will conduct business featuring adoption of projects for the year, announcement of committee chairmen and new members.

Attractive covers, hand-lettered, invite attention to the yearbooks which list officers of the local club and its affiliations up to the National Council of Garden Clubs as well as program schedules for the season.

Continuing projects are also listed, including as local projects sponsorship of Ta-Wa-Si Campfire group, work at landscaping Kings Manor retirement and aiding residents in gardening, care of the peony beds at Hereford Community Center, a plant exchange and annual flower show.

Date of the flower show is Oct. 15, and the new Flame Room of Pioneer Gas Co. will be the place. Theme is Potpourri of the Golden Spread, Mrs. Wayne Porter is general flower show chairman, with Mrs. Bill Nelson and Mrs. Gaylon Bryan on her committee.

Before the show the two regular club meetings will be devoted to preparation, with a workshop on artistic arrangement set Sept. 17 in the Flame Room, another on horticulture Oct. 1 in Community Center.

Studies of landscape design and artistic design will alternate in programs for the remainder of the year. Special programs will be a Christmas brunch in December and a tour of members' gardens to close the year May 19.

Officers serving with Mrs. Yarbro are Mmes. Long, Porter and Bryan, vice presidents; Mrs. Bruce Brown, secretary; Mrs. Lloyd Sharp, correspondent; Mrs. Sisson, treasurer; Mrs. Ray Polan, Federation council delegate; Mrs. Gentry, reporter and Mrs. Nelson, parliamentarian.

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—Cadets in their first year at the U.S. Military Academy now may participate in varsity athletic competition in all sports except football, basketball and hockey.

The new policy is in line with recent announcements by the U.S. Naval Academy and the Ivy League schools that limited freshmen varsity competition will be permitted starting this fall. The U.S. Air Force Academy already allows freshmen to compete in most sports.

Rules of the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference now permit freshmen to compete in all sports except football, basketball and hockey.

The observation tower in West Virginia's Pipestem park is 3,100 feet high and provides a 50-mile view of the Allegheny and Blue Ridge Mountains.

Two views of Mideast reward couple on trip

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

MORE TRAFFIC on the streets, more tourists traveling in Iran and a consequent revival of the ancient culture and arts—these were the changes Malook O'Donnell of Hereford noticed in her native country when she visited there after seven years' absence.

The O'Donnells, Tom, Malook and their baby son, Sean, have returned from a six-week trip which took them westward across the United States, then back by plane to the east coast and overseas to Europe and the Middle East.

Mrs. O'Donnell visited her parents and other relatives for the first time since she came to the U.S. as a schoolgirl seven years ago. She and her husband met when both were students in Wayland College at Plainview and she remained to become a Hereford housewife and beauty shop owner.

WHILE SHE WAS enjoying the reunion with her family and showing off her son, O'Donnell was observing and being impressed with facets of Iranian life which she hardly noticed because they were a matter of course to her.

"Hospitality in Iran must be absolutely unmatched!" he says. "I've been in quite a few countries, in the Navy and in other travel, and never saw anything like it. Not only Malook's family and friends, who might be expected to welcome us, but even people in the streets seem happy to see Americans and like them."

His main problem, he added, came after telling people he was from Texas; their next question was invariably, "Where are your boots?"

He was amazed at the heavy traffic, "with no apparent rules for driving. It's mad!"

HE FOUND EVIDENCE of the old Persian culture, fascinating, as do most tourists, and the Iranians have discovered that interest and are now capitalizing on it. Iran is the former Persian empire and has numerous ruins thousands of years old, as well as art of more recent ages.

"Of course we knew the ruins and the carvings and buildings were there," Malook says, "but they were just a part of the country and our people didn't see their real value until tourists discovered them.

"Now there is a new interest in them, especially as the nation is getting ready to celebrate its 2500 years of history with a year-long festival."

FOR THIS CELEBRATION, the cities are lighting up. Streets, shops and homes are to be especially lighted. Center of the festivities will be at the ruins of Persepolis, the ancient capital 30 miles from the present city of Shiraz. A dramatic production based on history will be presented there.

Mrs. O'Donnell's family lives in and around Teheran, capital of Iran and a city of some seven million. They stopped in Beirut, Lebanon, and spent 10 days on a side trip to Ispahan and Shiraz during which they went to Persepolis.

In addition to ruins, they saw more recent buildings elaborately decorated with carving and tiles, not to mention the country's crown jewels including the throne which is encrusted with diamonds, rubies, emeralds and other gems of fabulous value.

THEY ENJOYED shops and cafes in the cities, where the owners have found that colorful old national costumes and furnishings appeal to Iranians as well as tourists. O'Donnell even tried puffing on a traditional water-pipe.

They watched weavers at work on centuries-old patterns in Persian rugs, and ordered rugs for their home at 810 East Third. Other items, especially in carved bronze, were bought and are being shipped back. Mrs. O'Donnell hopes to add more pieces on later trips, until she can have her home furnished in Persian style.

ON THEIR WAY back home the couple spent a few days in Paris and Mrs. O'Donnell took a short course in hair styling to learn the latest Parisian fashions. She also observed dress styles here and in London.

One musical ends, another begins in Palo Duro Canyon

For the first time in history, the theatre in the Palo Duro Canyon will close one great production and open another during the same week.

A new show, "They Came From Spain," starts tonight.

"Texas," the spectacle describing the life on the plains in the 1880s by Paul Green, closed Saturday after its summer season. The rains which came after two years of drought cancelled only two performances, and left the Canyon so green and beautiful that they added measurably to the appreciation of the beauty of the place.

In answer to queries made of the audiences from time to time, it was learned that about a third of the audience was returning to see it—often for the fourth or fifth time. Although information about the production was obtained through many media, the overwhelming majority—at least three quarters—said that they had come on someone's personal recommendation.

Thanks to the vigilance of William and Margaret Moore, the directors, the show remained swift and sparkling throughout the season, in spite of a few minor misadventures.

The cast members created an "Impy" award to be granted to the person making the biggest error and it went on various occasions to the man who lost his horse, to the dancer in the fire ballet who became so involved that she danced over the edge of the stage and to the man who gave the great flag of the United States such a swing that the pole broke in his hands.

More than 75,000 persons attended "Texas" during the 1971 season—raising the total to 415,000 people. Final count almost exactly 76,000 people.

"They Came From Spain" will be staged each Thursday, Friday and Saturday night in September and October, with special Sunday performances set for this Sunday and for Oct. 10.

Flaming torches and floating banners will transform the Pioneer Amphitheatre in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park for tonight's gala opening of the new production.

Mounted against the merging colors of the 600-foot bluff behind the stage in the twilight, the brilliant colors of the Spaniards' costumes will remind the audience of the picture they made when they first made their way across the plains and into the great canyons in the 1542.

Telling the story of the creation of the canyon, then of the dramatic days they spent within the shelter of the walls, "They Came From Spain" will use all the Sound and Light resources of the theatre to tell the story: Sound and light film and live action. This will be another opportunity to experience sound in this unusual acoustical situation.

As part of the gala opening, the backers and friends of the theatre, and their special guests led by the Mexican consul for the area, Ignacio Otero Arrieta and the vice-consul Luis Felix Pacheco will enjoy a Spanish meal.

Starting with Paella—the famous rice dish which sometimes has as many as 68 ingredients—ending with Sevillian cookies with their special flavor drawn from sugar dissolved in a very dry liquor.

The $10 fee will cover attendance at the festivities, the Spanish dinner and the first performance of the new production, "They Came From Spain."

The director, Eddie Thomas of Dallas has drawn together the making of costumes, the making of armor, the making of tents and weapons, the directing of the cast for the filmed section, the direction of the cast for the live sections, the taping of the voices, the technical processes carried on from California to Florida and the adaptation of the script to heighten the dramatic emphases.

There was excitement in the Canyon in 1542—and it will be recreated tonight. For tickets write Box 268, Canyon, Texas or call 804-655-2182.

BSP opens year at pig barbeque

A pig roast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Fowler marked the Day of Beginning for Beta Sigma Phi chapters of the city Saturday evening, when members, their husbands and other guests were entertained.

Each year the new season is opened with a social for all three chapters, which will begin separate programs at September meetings.

A whole pig was barbecued by Fowler for the supper Saturday and each member brought a salad, vegetable or dessert to complete the meal. Members and guests played pool, danced and talked through the remainder of the casual evening.

Members and husbands present included Messrs. and Mmes. Kenneth Ruland, Tom Buchanan Joe Fand Huckert, Gary Gore, Arvel Williams, Bob Vaughn, Fred Ruland, Gary Tyler, Hicks Roberson.

Also Messrs. and Mmes. Max Stipe, Harold Beauchamp, Joe Pat Cassells, Delbert Bainum and Cliff Jones and Miss JaLene Mote. Guests were Connie and Craig Bainum and Mike Sooter.
