Candidates File For City, School Posts

Villarreal Last of City Commission Candidates

Less than one hour before the deadline, a fourth candidate filed for place 2 on the Hereford City Commission providing the only contested city race.

The deadline was 5 p.m. Friday.

The newest candidate is Pablo Villareal, 43, of 618 Ave. F. in place 2 he is up against Emory Brownlow, a local general contractor.

· Villarreal, owner of the City Tortilla Factory and Bakery, joins Brownlow and incumbents Mayor Jim Sears and Commissioner Paul Abalos, place 1, 4n the race for City Commission positions. Sears filed early Wednesday for re-election after no one else filed in the mayor's race.

It is Villarreal's first bid for public office. He said an interest in "helping to bettter the City of Hereford" was the reason he wanted to run.

"I just want to do my best as a (City) sioner," Villarreal said.

As a self-employed person, the candidate explained that no prior public office experience is a hinderance since, "I have been working with the public all my life." He expressed no specific issues for which he is running.

HEREFORD will be well represented at the West Texas Congressional Reception in Washington Monday. ## City Surprised With Sales Tax Revenues

The City of Hereford got a surprise Thursday when the State Comptroller Bob Bullock sent out quarterly city sales tax payments a month earlier than usual. The local net share of the $64.1 million state quarterly total was $73,832.72.

"I said we would speed up the payments and we did," Bullock said. The payments covered the October-

Snyder Provides Another Contest in School Races

Contested races for two of the three Hereford School Board seats were assured this week when Clifford R. (Bud) Snyder filed Friday morning as a candidate for Place 3.

Dr. Joe Whitley had previously filed for Place 3 while incumbent James Arney is up against two opponents for the Place 2 position. They are Dwaine Walker and the Rev. Jose Gilligan. James Gentry is the only candidate to file for Place 1.

Deadline for filing as a trustee candidate is Wednesday, March 5.
Absentee voting is scheduled March 17-April 1 and election date is April 5.

Snyder, 36, is general manager for E.C. Reinauer & Sons and has resided in Hereford since 1964. He and his wife,

Sheriff, Feedlot Call For All Stray Cattle

The blizzard like conditions which hit the Hereford area last weekend left a lingering effect which still has not become fully solved - stray cattle which have not all been identified nor returned to their respective owners.

The stray cattle, estimated to have numbered in the thousands over the whole county, have mostly been returned to owners through easily identifiable brands. But brands were not as easily visible or readable on the other strays.

PERSONS who have stray cattle or can not account for their own lost cattle are being asked by Deaf Smith County Sheriff Travis McPherson and the area feedyards to bring those cattle to reserved pens at the Champion Feedyards. Champion has set aside a number of pens as a central gathering point for cattle.

"Those who still have strays may bring them to the Champion Feedyard and those who are looking for cattle may come by and pick up those which belong to them," Dave Hopper of Champion

He said that the cattle which Champion had collected right after the storm, had all been returned to their owners except for three as of Friday.

"MOST OF the cattle had easily recognizable brands which could be identified after the cattle had settled down and the snow had melted off their hides," he said.

State brand inspectors from the Texas-Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association have been in Hereford this week trying to sift out the cattle to the right owners. Although they have been called to different parts of the county, the inspectors will be available if needed at Champion, Hopper said.

Most owners lost only six to eight head of cattle but combined the total number that strayed was large. Cattle not only strayed in Deaf Smith County but Oldham County as well.

"If some cattle strayed a far distance and no means of transportation is available, then we will furnish a trailer to haul the cattle to Champion," said

Jurors who were called to serve for three jury trials starting Monday in the 69th Judicial District Court will not have to appear since all cases involved have either been settled or passed over.

However, this does not excuse jurors who were called to serve on county court juries for the coming week. No cases have yet been scheduled for jury trial but the jurors for county court are still required to appear according to District Clerk Lola Faye Veazey.

Originally a total of 14 cases were scheduled in District Court, but all were either settled or postponed. District Judge E.E. Jordan was scheduled to hold District Court beginning Monday. School business is big business and, more importantly, it plays a vital role in Schools Week in Texas has been proctained for March 3-7, and citizens are being urged to visit their local schools and learn more about their operation.

The Hereford Independent School District is comprised of 704 square miles located in Deaf Smith, Castro and Parmer counties. The current budget for the school system is approximately $5.9

REVENUES listed for the current budget reveal that 40 per cent comes from local sources, 43.6 per cent from state funds, and 16.4 per cent from federal programs. The percentage of state and federal funds has been increasing in recent years. In 1967, for example, local funds supplied 50.9 per cent of the costs for operating the public schools in this commun

As might be expected, instructional services account for the major portion of expenditures in the budget with 72.5 per cent assigned for those services in the current budget. Average daily attendance in the Hereford school system now stands at 5,149.

The school system has a total of 584 employees, which includes 358 certified teachers or administrators. The faculty includes 112 teachers with master's degrees. The annual payroll of the school system is approximately $4,476,000.

OF THE MORE than 5,400 students enrolled, figures show that 1,533 are transported by bus and these vehicles log about 2,409 miles per school day. The school cafeterias serve an average of 3,423 lunches daily with the free-lunch program carrying about 1,760 of the

The enrollment by grades: Four-year-old pupils—111, kindergarten pupils— 332, Grades 1-6—2,659, Grades 7-9-1,454, and grades 10-12-991. The ethnic group enrollment figures show 2,886 Mexican-Americans; 2,523 Angloes; and 134 Negroes.

The school system includes nine campuses—one high school, two junior highs, and six elementary facilities. A new elementary school is soon to be completed just off W. Park Avenue and it will replace the old Central Elementary campus. Central was constructed in 1910 and has had frequent renovations over the years. Enrollment at Central is about Hereford High School was completed in 1954 with a bond issue of $850,000. Additions since that time have included a 10-room wing on the north, girls' P.E. facilities, vocational ag and shop areas, band hall and choir room, vocation school, and a new library. The building trades classes aided the expansion by building two portable buildings. HHS enrollment is currently about 948.

Stanton Junior High is housed in the old high school building on Park Avenue. The original structure was built in 1926. A new addition and major remodeling were included in a 1958 bond issue, which also provided for the cafeteria building and administration offices now located between Stanton and the high school building. Other remodeling programs have been made since that time. Stanton's enrollment is about 727.

La Plata Junior High was constructed in 1966 to provide for the increase in junior high students. Both junior highs use 7th, 8th and 9th grades. A cap improvements bond issue was passed in 1964 for a total of $2.4 million and the portion expended for La Plata was ximately $1,125,000. The building cludes a cafeteria and a varsity Shirley Elementary is the second oldest elementary building in the system. It was built in 1949 and six classrooms were added in 1950. Two more classrooms were later provided in a house built by the building trade class of high school. A portable building was later provided for kindergarten classes. Enrollment is 416.

Aikman Elementary was originally built in 1956 at a cost of $325,000. Eight classrooms were added in 1969 during the same year that Bluebonnet was built. A 52 million bond issue made possible the building of La Plata, Bluebonnet, the Aikman addition, the high school band hall, the vocational wing, the bus barn, and several major remodeling projects.

Aikman's enrollment stands at about 512.

Northwest Elementary was originally constructed in 1959 as an eight-room facility under the administration of Central Elementary. In 1963, major additions of 17 rooms, offices and cafetorium were made. The bond issue also included a new field house and additions at high school. Enrollment at Northwest is about 475.

Bluebonnet Elementary was built as part of the major improvements program in 1964. Cost for this building was approximately $650,000. It is located on the north edge of Hereford. Enrollment is about 420.

Tierra Blanca has been in operation since the 1970-71 school year and was built on the south edge of Hereford at a cost of about $650,000.

This open concept, non-graded elementary school was named a model school for individualized instruction in the state for 1971-72 and 1973-74. It is in use 12 months of the year, housing the summer migrant school. Enrollment is about 443.

City Commission Schedules Meeting

The only governmental body to meet this week is the City Commission at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the city hall.

On the meeting agenda are an order and notice for the upcoming city election, consideration of city insurance coverage, a resolution correcting an error in the tax roll, a consideration of Park Ave. as a four-lane street and a budget hearing and

Prior discussion on the insurance dealt with the calling of bids from the different agencies to handle the city's whole policy. The city attorney had been investigating the feasibility of this in reference to existing laws.

The commission already approved Park Ave. for a four-lane street so that the Texas Highway Department could proceed with marking it as such. As it is with only two-lane markings, confusion and accidents have resulted since drivers are not clear which lanes to travel in.

March Slogan Adopted For Business Promotion

"We Appreciate Your Business" is the 1975 slogan adopted by the retail business committee of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, and a busin promotion campaign will be launched this month with a "Most Courteous Employee" contest.

Hereford and area shoppers will be asked to nominate the most courteous employees, and the top three vote getters will win merchandise prizes of $100, $50

Clete Corlis, chairman of the retail group, announced the committee's plans this week and reported that The Brand and KPAN Radio will co-sponsor the "Most Courteous Employee" contest. Ballots will be printed in The Brand, and will be available at the chamber office, the KPAN office, and participating C of C member firms.

Customers will be asked to vote for ballots. All ballots must be turned into the C of C office not later than 5 p.m. on March 31. Ballots can be mailed to the Chamber, 701 N. Main. Participating firms may also collect the ballots and take them to the Chamber office.

Corlis said members of the retail committee feel that some employees do an outstanding job of public relations for their firm and the city and should be recognized for their friendly, courteous and helpful attitude.

"Repeat business is the secret of success for a retail business, and it is up to employees to make people want to return," Corlis added. The committee wants to promote the slogan, "We Appreciate Your Business," all during the year of 1975.

He asked shoppers to look for employees who are enthusiastic about serving them and providing needed information, who flash a special smile and go the "extra mile" in making their. shopping visit more pleasant.

A twist of luck and an alert eye aided the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department in apprehending a couple of rather careless burglars Wednesay on charges of stealing an estimated $3,000 in assorted tools and equipment.

Marvin Raymond Kuper, 29, and Stanley Ray Smith, 36, of Dalhart were arraigned in Dalhart for burglary of 11 different items from a barn, located about three miles north of Hereford on U.S. Highway 385. The complainant is Charlie Hill of 116 Elm in Hereford.

Smith was formerly employed by Hill according to sheriff's records. At the scene, Burton said he found a checkbook from Citizens State Bank of Dalhart and a sales invoice that is thought to bear Smith's handwriting.

Art Burton, chief deputy, received the call and went to investigate the theft at about 8:15 a.m. Wednesday. He noted on the sheriff's department reports that it appeared forcible entry was used since the knob on the outside of the barn door was kicked, forcing the facing to split. The escape was through the same

The writing on the invoice was checked against writing on other invoices Smith had filled out while in Hill's employment. Burton confirmed that the samples were the same.

Smith is employed by the B and P Pipeline Co. here and works out of the Dalhart office. But on the night of the theft, Smith was placed in Hereford by a company representative.

The Speaker Reports by Bill Clayton

The creation of a ablic utilities commi public utilities commission has become one of the most controversial proposals to be debated this se Emotions have been running high on both sides of the issue with recent allegations against Texas Power and Light, Southwestern Bell and Coastal States Gas

These recent incidents may have created a climate favorable to a utilities commission, but hopefully this session of the Legislature will not let the emotionalism of the issue get in the way of a fair and responsible solution.

There are several questions we need to consider when debating the establishment of another regulatory commission.

First, is whether we really need a commission to regulate utilities, Included within that broad question is whether a statewide commission would be duplicating existing local regulatory functions, and do these existing regulatory councils want a statewide

Presently, Texas has no statewide authority to regulate utilities. To a limited extent, regulation is carried out by city councils of incorporated municipalities. Their only power is to either grant or not grant rate hikes to utility companies. Unincorporated towns do not have the power to regulate utilities in any way. And at the present time there is not intrastate long distance regulation for either incorporated or

There are several bills that have been proposed that would limit statewide regulation to only unincorporated areas, or would allow incorporated cities to exempt themselves through public election.

If controls are ipevitable, I have always favored them being implemented neatest to the people. Adding layers to our ever-increasing bureaucratic government has only served to further alienate the citizens of this state and keep them from participating in decisions that direct y affect them.

One of the most controversial questions we must address ourselves to is, how effective would a utilities commission be?

The main goal of any regulatory commission should be to make impartial decisions, free from political influence. However, history has shown us all too often that regulatory agencies usually become captives of the industries they control.

A number of solutions have been offered regarding this hazard. Prohibiting a person who owns or whose immediate family owns a financial interest in a utility company from serving on the commission would be one way of eliminating conflict of interest.

Suggestions along the same line are to prohibit former employees of utility companies, persons with an interest in a business related to activities under regulation, and persons who have a financial interest in a competing industry from

The questions of whether the commission should be appointed by the Governor and subjected to Senate approval or whether the members are elected are other vital considerations.

In the past, I have opposed the creation of a utilities commission. I think there are some alternatives to outright regulatory control, like a corps of rate-making experts employed by the state to counsel local authorities when requested: This would keep the depision-making procedure at the local level, while giving local officials access to vital information and analysis. Of course, this suggestion will be considered along with the 19 House and Senate bills that have been introduced thus far.

As Speaker, I will not take an active role in either promoting or opposing any piece of legislation that is presented to the House.

I will, however, do my part to assure that all sides of the issue are debated thoroughly so that this session can act responsibly in addressing itself to the needs of this

NEWS REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

Reagan & Ford-Kennedy & Jackson-John Glenn-

WASHINGTON, D.C .- With the major party conventions just sixteen or seventeen months away, presidential politics is now at fever pitch in the national capital. The latest rumors are that former Governor Ronald Reagan (California) may challenge President Ford for the Republican nomination in 1976, and that Senator Henry Jackson will name Ted Kennedy as his running mate if nominated by the Democrats.

If Ford is challenged by Reagan; he is the odds-on bet to repulse the challenge. Only if the economy In recent days reporters have is mired in economic crisis noticed Kennedy and Jackobviously impossible would Reagan or some other candidate be able to win the nomination from an incumbent President. There's still talk of a George Wallace-Reagan coalition but Reagan has discouraged it in recent weeks. The Alabama Governor is now ready to make another presidential bid and this complicates Democratic maneuvering. He is also being linked to Jackson, though the latest electric rumor is that Kennedy would accept Jackson's secondplace draft, because at 43 he is still young enough to wait eight years, if necessary, to get his shot at the top. Also, the Vice President's office has taken on added luster in recent years.

Jackson, of course, was an early backer of the late John F. Kennedy and he is liked by the entire family. so deep Ford's election is son cooperating closely on key legislative efforts. While there probably is no deal, it's true a Jackson-Kennedy ticket would give the Democrats a strong drawing card at the polls.

> The presidential candidacy bug is strong this year and there's even talk on the Hill that Senator John Glenn (D-Ohio) is a potential candidate. (Some wonder how flying in a space ship qualifies one for political office but Glenn has parlayed his "first" in this area into a Senate career.)

Then, too, there are those in Washington who now believe the economy will be picking up by the end of the year and that President Ford will be hard to beat in 1976. with Nelson Rockefeller on the ticket with him. So the presidential race in 1976 is sure to be a humdinger.

Profits Cure Inflation

One of the main conclu which have come from President Ford's recent conference with economists is that there is widespread agreeto end inflation, but also disagreement as to how quickly it should be ended. Inflation can be ended, but only by slowing down demand and increasing the capacity to produce goods. De-mand can be slowed by the government reducing its spending, or private spending reductions achieved by slower monetary growth which reduces borrowing, or by higher taxes. Plant capacity to produce goods is in-creased when business firms and others invest to build new plants, expand old ones, dig new mines, plant more crops and similar en, farmers and others invest in new capacity only when they expect to earn an adequate profit on their

The disagreement over the anti - inflation program arises from fear of a deep recession or a depression. If demand is reduced too quickly or too sharply, unemployment would rise, profits would decline, and investments

KESTER'S IEWEIRY Across from the Post Office in added capacity would slow down. The deeper the recession or depression the harder it will be to restimulate the economy later. The moderates also fear that if the brakes are kept on too long, the present investments in new capacity will slow down or stop. We have critical shortages today in many basic industries such as petrochemicals, fertilizers, steel, and agricultural products. These shortages must be eliminated if we are to avoid inflation later, and this requires added capacity. Professors Mil-ton Friedman of Chicago and Kenneth Galbraith of Harvard argue, however, that the inflation added risks and keep the brakes on demand longer if there is to be any hope for ending inflation. The moderates, such as Professor Paul McCracken of Michigan, who are in the large majority seem to be winning the argument.

LAKELAND, FLA.--Raiph Houk, hard-pressed to improve on his pitching (the worst in the leagues last year) has called on the-former pitching coach of the Yankees, Jim Turner, to help sharpen Tiger hurlers this spring at Lakeland.

our pitching failed badly." What hopes has Detroit this year, with New York adding Catfish Hunter and Baltimore, the 1974 divisional winner strong, and Boston, another strong challenger? It's hard to guess. But Willie Horton will be back this year-the Tigers' best hitter who was out practically all of 1974.

And there's the rookie sensation of last season Ron LaFlore. Al Kaline's gone-though he's at Lakeland helping younger Tigers learn to hit; he won't travel with the team and isn't a coach. Like Mickey Mantle, the Tiger brass just wanted him around for the class he reflects on the club.

Questions and-Answers

BY TRAVIS C. BRIGGS

Travis C. Briggs, District Manager, Social Security Ad-ministration, 317 East Third Street, Amarillo, TX 79101. You will receive an answer in this dumn or by mail.]

Q. I am a widow with small children, age 4 and 7. We get monthly social security payments on my late husband's earnings record. Recently my 4-year old daughter has been modeling children's clothes for an advertising agency. I know that if I earn over $2,520 this year it will affect my social security benefits, but what about my little girl? Will the money she's earning reduce her payments?

A. Yes If it looks like your daughter will earn over $2520 for 1975, you should let social

However, you daughter will get her full benefit if for any month she doesn't earn over $210.00 no matter how much she earns for the year.

> Q. I've been completely disabled for the past 10 years. My only income is the amount I earn making plastic flowers at home. I think I might be eligible for supplemental security incomè payments, but I have a savings acount of $900. Would that keep me from getting supplemental security income payments?

A. No It would not. If you are eligible in all aother respects for montly supplemental security income payments, you can have as much as $1500 in resources and still get payments.

Neanderthal man first ap on 81-million gallons of nuclear peared on the earth only 75,000 years ago. The Nuclear Age is barely one generation old (about 33 years) and already we have produced nuclear waste that will remain deadly for up to 250,000 years. Nuclear power has given us an almost in exhaustable source of energy. But the price we must pay for this blessing to mankind is a vigilence and awareness of the harmful effects of the by-products of that energy. So far, the government, while actively promoting nuclear power, hasn't come up with a working program for getting rid of the nuclear wastes which nuclear power produces.

Radioactive wastes are created when spent nuclear fuel is removed from commercial (electric power plants) and military nuclear reactors. The material is dissolved in acid and the reusable fission products are reclaimed. The residue, containing strontium, cesium and plutonium, is a highly toxic brew of liquid wastes with an incredibly long life.

Both strontium and sesium take 600 years to decay to harmless levels and during that time they emit radiation that can cause cancer. Plutonium is deadly for 250,000 years. The government is now sitting waste from its weapons programs and is adding to that amount at the rate of 7.5 million gallons annually. Very little commercial nuclear waste is being generated now but after two plants, built to reprocess nuclear fuel, are opened in 1978, the Atomic Energy Commission estimates that 60-million gallons of commercial waste will be produced by the year 2000 and 238-million gallons by the year 2020, less than 50 years

Can these nuclear wastes be safely stored? Yes and no. been stored successfully in Idaho and Georgia. But, at the Hansford, Washington AEC facility, 430,000 gallons of waste leaked into the soil.

Officials claim that none of the wastes have penetrated the local water table, but environmentalists point out that the wastes will be potently dangerous for many years to come and will have plenty of time to contaminate the ground water and even enter man's food chain. Critics are having a field day while the AEC is trying to figure out what to do with nuclear wastes. One solution is to store them in a large salt bed near Carisbad,

Dr. Rush To Speak About Emphysema

Dr. Clyde Rush of Hereford will speak on 'EMPHYSEMA-THE FACTS" at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, March 4, at the Community Center. A new film of a physician-presented discussion on the disease will be featured in addition to Dr.

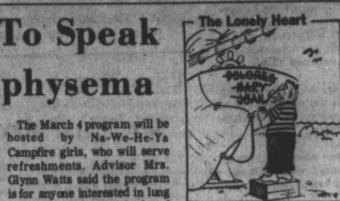

Sponsoring the program is American Lung Association of Texas, formerly know as the Tuberculosis Association. The Christmas Seal group is giving new emphasis to emphysema with its public and professional education program, as well as research projects, in an effort to stem the rapidly-rising incidence of the disease.

Current statistics show emphysema to be the fastestrising cause of death in the U.S., with over a half-million new cases of it per year, and the rate is doubling roughly every five years. At present emphysema is the number two cause of all social security disability payments, usually striking well below Medicare age, resulting personal improverishment.

To prevent the disease, the Lung group is urging an educational program against the use of tobacco among students, and advising parents Military nuclear wastes have to stop their smoking both as a means of avoiding lung disease for themselves and setting an follow. Lately, I noticed that people had trouble hearing me. Not until it was brought to my attention that my voice had changed perceptibly, that I'd become quite hoarse, did I realize something was wrong.

As I'm the type of fellow who doesn't procrastinate, I made an appointment with the best throat specialist around. After careful examination, he found a tumor on one of my vocal cords,

He advised immediate operation, I've had the thing removed. Fortunately, it wasn't a malignancy that required extensive operation. So now I'm lucky enough to still have most of my voice and all of my life.

I am thankful, I write this note for the benefit of your readers who may suffer from hoarseness. Don't put off examination. If it turns out to be a serious cause, time is not on the side of the patient who puts off examination and treatment, - Mr. N.

For example, we know that cancer of the larynx (voice box) occurs more often in males over 40 years of age. In addition to hoarseness, the early symptoms may be a cough and difficulty in swallowing.

But by the time these symptoms are present, it is possible that cancer is so extensive that the patient may require a laryngectomy (surgical removal of part or all of

Any unusual stubborn hoarseness deserves early diagnosis and treatment.

Of course, the trouble may be due only to dry skin. She may need oil applied after her bath,

The Social Security system is financially sound and healthy despite a "managable" long range need for more income, five former HEW secretaries and three former Social Security commissioners reported.

The council's proposal would leave the ers having their full wages taxed automatic benefit escalator in tact for those who are already retired, but would base benefits for future retirees on average earnings rather than on rising prices. Thus, if the recommendations are adopted, people retiring after the year 2,000 might receive as much as 30 percent less than they would under the present formula. However, the council is also recommending that the earnings limitation be raised so future retirees would be allowed to earn more without losing such a large share of their benefits. At the same time, in another proposal, sure to provoke heated discussion, the council is calling for additional general tax revenues to be used for financing Medicare hospital benefits. While this would represent a departure from the system's original trust fund philosophy, it would not constitute that great a conflict since some general tax revenues are already being used for this purpose-and the move would free current Medicare funds to be used for retirement benefit payments to more than 30 million pensioners. Initially, the council had intended to recommend raising to $24,000 the wage base or amount of wages on which a worker pays Social Security (of FICA) taxes, but it recently changed its mind in favor of the general revenues proposal. If the wage base were to be raised, more people would pay more money into the system during their working years, and then presumably collect more during parison, the present wage base is $14,000, having risen just this year from $13,200.

We Must Avoid Social Security Crisis

By Bernard E. Nash

In the months ahead, we are going to be hearing many arguments about preserving the integrity of our nation's Social Security system, and I wouldn't be surprised if the discussion at times reaches the intensity of the great debate during the 1930's over the system's very inception.

Fanning the flames of the current controversy are public fears for the continuing stability of the system, and

While there appears to be no immediate danger of the system going broke, there are indications that long-range problems exist which must be dealt with before they can develop into a potent threat to the security of

At the root of these problems are the increasing size of Social Security benefits being paid to a growing population of retirees and other recipients, and a lowered birth rate that will in time reduce the number of active workers paying into the system. Put these two factors together, and you have more money going out of the system in the future than will be com-

Members of the Noon Kiwanians will go on auction Thursday, March 6. The slave will then work one day for the buyer and the proceeds will be directed into the Tom Duncan Memorial Fund and the Kiwanis Foundation. Anyone interested is invited to join the bidding.

Rev. Manning told the group that he was happy to be in Hereford because it was "a motherlode of characters." He said that there were many individualists in Hereford, a trademark that fascinated him.

The Baptist minister then related a story of a couple on the verge of divorce whose problems stemmed from anger that was never released. He said it is important in a marriage to know how to get mad right and to fight fair.

In most marriages, Rev. Manning related, there are those who shout and those who pout. The pouters are most often those who have marriage

DEAR MR, TAX MAN: If my tips are less than $20 a month, that means I don't have to report it to my employer, but when do I include it in my in-come? That's important at the end of the year. WAITER

DEAR WAITER: Indeed it is, Tip income is includable in income in the year in which it is reported to the employer. That means that tips earned in December 1973 which must be reported to the employer in January 1974, are to be included in 1974 income. If you made no report to the employer, the tips are taxable in the year you received them.

Protein is essential to nutrition is decreasing. In human nutrition and is in growing demand from a constantly increasing world population. Yet even with millions of people near star-vation, many million pounds of nutritious protein is largely unused for human food.

One such overlooked source is blood from slaughtered animals. These blood proteins can now be recovered in the form of white powder by a method used by scientists with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

"This powder is more than 95 percent pure protein and is odorless and tasteless in the bargain. But added to some tasty food, it can radically raise the protein content," says Dr. W. A. What are the ingredients which cause tornadoes? Do they sometimes occur in clear weather, in a cloudless sky? Does dry or moist air prove more conducive to tornado development?

If the day is clear, especially clear with dry air. you need worry little about tornadoes -- as long as this condition holds. Even without the dry air, a clear day indicates the danger of tornadoes is nil.

The weather condition which should give cause for concern is one in which squalls or thunderstorms are frequent-especially when the approach of a cold front is expected. If the air is moist and conditions unsettled, in spring or early summer, these weather signs should be seriously heeded as possible breeders of a tornado, or tornadoes.

lately and from what I've heard Wouldn't it be the commit clouded issues lets take a look at of their resources to help your the whole picture. Industrial business succeed. You bet it activity which promotes economic growth of a comdollars into town and is usually in the number of jobs.

that eighty per cent of the new jobs in a community are the will change-communities that pansion of businesses and in-dustry-if they're willing to that town; while the remaining 20 percent comes from new industries or business moving

In 1974 we had some rather significant expansions of our existing industries as I reported in this column in November, 1974. Contrastingly, our success at attracting new industry has been some what limited over the past several years. The question is frequently askedwhy? Why don't we get some new industries in town? Are Reported we doing anything to bring new industry in? Why do other communities get new industry and we don't get any?

Let's take a look at some of the answers to these and other well intentioned, but often $90,000,000 and net income per poorly understood questions. First of all if you were an owner of a manufacturing plant and looking for a location, what single motive outweighs all others? In other words why are you in business? Why to make a profit, Of course! You might be seeking a friendly, quiet place with all the elements that compliment a good life and all the factors that are essential to the operation of your business; a good labor supply, adaquate available raw materials, transportation arteries, a physical plant in which to manufacture your goods. There is a great deal of risk involved in setting up a new business in a new location and of course a very large expense, so everything must be carefully considered. Let's assume that we're interested in someplace in the Panhandle of Texas and we want to move our operation into a town between 15 and 25 thousand population. Let's look at each of these communities rather carefully. First of all Hereford could be eliminated on a technicality if we were looking at reference material that lists population by 1970 census since we were only 13,414 thenhowever we are now over 17 thousand, so we qualify.

Most places have friendly good schools, reasonable taxes, adequate shopping facilities, clean air and all the other things that we so often take for granted. Of course exceptions exist, but most West Texas towns meet these basic requirements what then makes the difference most other things being equal?

A.L. Duckwall, Jr., Chairman of the Board of Duckwall Stores, Inc., estimates that the Kansas based variety and discount chain has sales in excess of share of $1.55 to $1.60 for the fiscal year ended January 31, compares with This $73,300,000 in sales and $1.40 per share reported for the previous

Duckwall stressed that the estimate is based on preliminary and unaudited data, but said that he was confident that these indicated increases would be confirmed by the final figures. For the nin months ended October 27, 1974, Duckwall had reported only $0.47 versus $0.60 for the comparable period in 1973

However, sales were higher by approximately 11 per cent during the traditionally strong fourth quarter and Duckwall stated that more effective inventory and cost controls, instituted earlier this year, resulted in substantially improved profit margins. These factors combined to raise fourth quarter net profit by more than 4 per cent.

Parish Carnival To Support School

Directing some carnival activities are, from left, Mrs. Leroy Berend, prize chairman and movie; Mrs. Allen Evers and her husband, dart games and the country store; Gary Kriegshauser, country auction. The public is invited to attend the benefit project.

Similar to the country fairs of yesteryear, St. Anthony's Parish Carnival will offer a variety of old-fashioned entertainment this afternoon on the parochial school grounds.

The public is coadjally invited to attend the annual bazaar which will begin at 12:30 p.m. today. All proceeds will be used for Christian education, it was announced by John Warren, general chairman.

A country store, featuring intricate handmade items, will be a spotlighted attraction. An auction and a number of colorful booths will be benefit activities.

Included at the carnival will be a wheel of fortune, cake walk, penny pitch, bean bag throw, fish pond, bingo, dart games, a movie and milk bottle

Refreshments will be available in the school cafeteria.

Booth activities, including bean bag throw, fish pond and bingo games, will be directed by Roger Albracht, left, and Marcel Fischbacher. Funds from the camival are earmarked for Christian education needs.

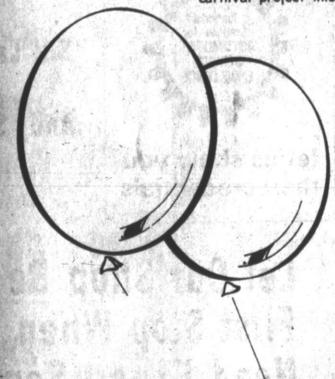

Mrs. Raymond Gerk and Mrs. Vincent Walterscheid, seated, are co-chairmen of a carnival project this afternoon. Mr. and Mrs.

Freddy Gamboa and Al Simnacher have worked on various booth activities. The bazaar will begin at 12:30 this afternoon at St. Anthony's School.

Executive directors of the carnival met recently to finalize plans for the benefit bazaar. General chairman is John Warren, standing behind Mrs. Leonard Walterscheid, bank chairman, and Edward Schilling, assistant to Warren

IF MRS. ALLEN Cansler and Mrs. Allen Evers were not such cious women, there would be a builet out with my name on it.

In a story which appeared Thursday about the WTSU Friends of Fine Arts, Mrs. Evers name was inserted where Mrs. Cansler's should have been. Of course, as many residents are aware. Mrs. Cansler has worked actively in the non-profit organization several years. Mrs. Evers is also influential in community work and her name was substituted during a lapse of consciousn at the typewriter.

It should be stressed again, however, that the Friends of Fine Arts has been a ficent asset to WTSU, which encompasses numerous local youth. Through individual contributions, Friends supports wTSU programs dealing with art, music, theatre and speech.

The endowment program annually provides $7,500 in fine arts scholarships, plus sponsors an artists-in-residence series. We had our first bean supper in 1973 in order to help raise noney to build a State 4-H Center at Brownwood. We fulfilled our monetary obligations after the 1974 Bean Supper. Proceeds from this year's event will help finance 4-H members and adult leaders who attend training and workshops at the center.

I had the opportunity to tour the center during January while attending a State Committee Meeting at Brownwood. The facilities are very well planned for practical, educational and recreational purposes. The entire center overlooks Lake

It will be completed and opened for occupancy in April. It's open for educational organization's use and for family use. For more details about reserving for camps, etc. please call our office.

A State Audit 4-H Leaders Forum will be held April 2-5 at the center. We'd like to send several leaders from Deaf Smith County to that special event. We appreciate the help and support we've received from our friends in the past. We feel that this Community effort is excellent for all involved.

WE EXPERIENCED another successful H.D. Appreciation Luncheon Monday. Congratulations to Mrs. Bobby (Elizabeth) Kendrick on being selected as the 1975 H.D. Club Woman of We'd also like to congratulate the other five finalists - Mrs. State Norvell, Mrs. Arnold Fangman, Mrs. Dean Watson, Mrs. Grady Parsons and Mrs. Huey Lowrie. Guest speaker, Roy Faubion, was really outstanding! Hats off to you, Roy, for a job well done!

I'm beginning to have a problem with my 17-year-old son's drinking. It started out innocently enough right in our own home when we permitted him and several of his friends to have a beer while watching television in our finished basement, Now he comes in two or three times a week drunk, I know he's drinking harder stuff than beer, but I don't know how to nip this problem in the bud,

Since you used the collective noun "we" in your letter, I assume you mean your flusband. Let him handle this initially - and then bring you in for supportive talks. Something may be bothering your son and rather than face it he's avoiding his problem by drinking himself out of reality, You're right to try and solve this problem now - it's as serious as any drug addiction hang-up.

Why should I shrink from Winter, which but leads me to Spring?"

I stood at the picture window, and watched the winter snow, and the wind in its fury sweep across the lawn, bow down the trees, leaving them swaying. The snow swiftly covered the yellow blossoms of the crocus and wrapped a blanket of whiteness around the other new growths that the warm days of February brought.

In fact, the storm and cold wasn't all bad. Because I have a feeling that the Master Gardener has fitted the new growths which come in early spring with a lot of nature's anti-freeze." Really this cold blast which moved across our area will probably prove a blessing, in that "nature year. needed a brake" to temporarily stop the early spring growth.

Moisture came with it and the air was cleaned, which will aid in abetting the flu epidemic (we hope). In a few weeks we will be grateful when the wheat starts ARBOR DAY will be observed by organizations in Hereford, April 25. National Arbor Day is the last Friday in April. Either or both dates, Jan. 17 or April 25, can be observed. The past few years Arbor Day in Hereford has been observed on the last Friday in April.

The birthday of J. Sterling Mortin, Founder of Arbor Day is April 22. The week in April which contains his birthday was established as National Garden Club Week by The National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc., on April 10, 1956.

Hereford's Bicentennial Committee is sponsoring, as one of several projects, the planting of trees. It is their wish that every resident in Deaf Smith County would plant a tree, on this day. If not then, sometime during the

When fou plant a tree, select a species that will grow in your area. Consider the rapidity of growth, shape, temperature tolerance, disease and insect resistance. Bonus features are flowers, berries, fruit, colorful autumn foliage, picturesque habit of growth and peeling trunk texture.

It is vitally important that you select a good tree, one which you will like and will fill your needs. Also it must be planted correctly and then receive proper care after planting. There is always the matter of maintenance after we plant anything, whether for food beauty or other attributes.

Trees are necessary for man. They play many important roles in our lives. That straight, spindly tree you select to plant may not look like much at first, but give it time and care. Someday it will provide shade, beauty and relief from concrete

Then too, it will become a shelter from the sun and a play area for children under its sheltering shade and protection. It will provide a spot where one can relax and dream a bit, while

There is strength in a combined effort of planting idded to other trees which will be planted through the USA will produce oxygen, buffer winds, erosion, raise property values, provide wildlife habitat and reate beauty.

Trees are our air condition The cooling effect of a healthy tree is equivalent to 10 room-sized air conditioners operating 20 hours a day. Air may be as much as 20 degrees cooler under its canopy and in its sheltering shade.

Trees provide excellent screening of ugly, unsightly things and, if properly planted, can reduce traffic noise 60 per cent. Authorities say the sound from a heavily traveled highway can be reduced to equal that coming from a suburban street in the quiet of the evening. Trees, shrubs and hedges will pay of in well-earned and appreciated dividends.

If you need further information on tree selections, or suggestions for an informative program or ceremony, write Texas Forestry Association, Box 1032, Lufkin, Tex. 75901, or Texas Forest Service, College Station, 77843.

Points to remember: select a tree which does well here; study location carefully; select the best stock; prepare site where tree is to be planted, and have soil well prepared; also have water nearby for watering; study all suggestions and look at trees which are growing near you or elsewhere in this county. Give the tree good maintenance after planting. This is

A good book for reference and to stimulate you to plant a tree, is "Famous Trees of Texas," published by Texas Forest Service. The Moody Foundation has made it possible for free copies of this book to be placed in public libraries in Texas.

Mrs. Jessie Robinson loaned me her book and it has been great to read and study. Also, if you like history, it is filled with historical information.

m. Re-set little plants which collected around shrubs and other plants, should be emoved, and the soil tapped firm around the base of them.

Peonies should be checked, d stalks cut down and the crowns drenched with bordeaux oil. Also treat the soil around the crowns with same mixture; this will tend to keep down botrytis disease which is prevalent to peonies.

Compost should be turned or scattered these around plants and cover or bury them in the garden which is to be plowed.

Do not get in too much of a hurry to prune. Good Friday is a very good time to start pruning roses and other shrubs. Also plant the first gladioli. This month trees and shrubs (not evergreens) should be sprayed with a dormant spray.

This will aid in keeping down disease and insects. It really pays off. It has an oil base which causes it to seal the bark and lants so that if there are insects rnating for winter, they will be killed. Also aids as a preventive for spring insects and summer diseases.

BIBLE BAPTISM

Sincere preachers of various churches have been so overwhelmed by His love "wherewith He loved us," and by the greatness of his grace so freely bestowed, that they have announced sinners have nothing to do in order to be saved. But no matter how sincere those preachers are, if you do not do something, namely, "obey" the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ, you will be punished "with an everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord." [II Thess. 1:8-9]. But men should not have to be threatened to get them to obey Him who did so much for us. They should be eager to hear the good news, the gospel, that someone died that we might live, the just for the unjust, was buried, and rose the third day. Paul said three facts are the gospel: the Lord's death for our sins, his burial, his resurrection [f Cor. 15:1-4]. Have you "obeyed the gospel?" Approved of the Almighty are they who have "obeyed from the heart that form of doctrine" [Rom. 6:17]. What is the form: Paul says baptism is a form, a "likeness" of the el: in it we "were baptized into his gospel: in it we were baptism," raised from the water "in the likeness of his resurrection." [Rom. 6:3-4] Isn't that a beautiful service? Everyone should be eager to obey "that form" or mold of pattern of the

If you have only been sprinkled for baptism you have not been "buried with Him by baptism," nor shown "the likeness of his resurrection." If you were baptized when you were a baby, you could not have done it "from before you were baptized, you have not realized what Paul said in Romans 6:16-18; before baptism, you were "servants of sin;" then you obeyed the form of the go "then" you were "made free from sin" 'servants of righteous conversion," you have falled to ren ast be "from the heart." Thus when you, old enough to believe in Jesus with all your heart, convicted enough to repent of every sin from the heart, go down in the watery tomb, and rise to "walk in newness of life" you have obeyed the gospel and are saved by His blood.

quent minister told his hearers he would like to go to the Holy Land, find the very tomb in which our Lord lay, and there lie where Christ had lain, thus showing the whole world he was not ashamed of his Lord. Yet that preacher had only been sprinkled for baptism. Christ has not con in the Jerusalem tomb, but he has commanded us to lie in the watery grave.

> Buried with Christ and dead unto sin; Dying but living, Jesus within. . . Risen with Christ, my glorious Head, Holiness now the pathway I tread. . .

Few other facets of our society have as much influence on your life, and the life of your children, as our education system. Public Schools expenditures account for the single largest portion of the state tax dollar. Even more ently, the education our children receive in public schools will determine the quality of life for all of us in the years ahead.

Each of us, then, has a responsibility to learn all he can about public education in the community and state. The Brand attempts to present as much school information as possible through the year, and "covers" school board meetings in order to keep the public informed on administration and policy-making actions.

We cannot have quality education on any level without individual concern and parficipation on the part of each citizen, parent and non-parent. The observance of Public Schools Week, March 3-7, provides citizens an opportunity to learn more about their schools. We believe you'll find that we have the concern and participation in our community that makes for one of the finer school districts in the State of

The Networks & News

The easy way to check on the news is to sit in front of a television set for a free word and picture report from one of the network news rooms in New York, the "show" generally lasting half an hour.

In that half hour "check" one is fed a necessarily limited number of stories (the ones the network people deem important, or desirable to present) and need only react. He doesn't know what news items were selected out (missed) and has no chance to pursue those items which most interested him (as in the newspaper). (Because television time is so expensive, only brief snatches of statements, speeches, quotes, etc., again selected, are possible on television news.)

Because film coverage of the news is more difficult and expensive, and far from major television trunk lines, few live stories from the "backwoods" make network television news programs. This distorts television news.

Then there is a tendency among network news executives to decide among themselves, often, what is to be played up and what isn't. That is disturbing because there are only three major networks.

Therefore, in keeping abreast of the news, there's no substitute for a newspaper printing all the news, supplying hours of reading for those who wish to be fully informed. The easy television check won't keep one really informed on the issues of the day.

The Voice of Business

U.S. Chamber Of Commerce

Jefferson wanted the U.S. to remain a ation of small family farms; Alexander Hamilton insisted we were destined to become a major industrial power. Hamilton retained a sentimental attachment to the family farm down to this day.

Now some people believe the family farm is threatened; that new developments in agriculture may make it as extinct as the passenger pigeon. Personally, I think this fear is ridiculous. I'd give anybody odds that the, family farm will be around as long as America remains a free country, economically and politically, because the independent farmer is both a proof of what free men can accomplish and an important bulwark of that freedom.

But farming will continue to change, as does everything else in this world. The proportion of our food produced by the smaller family farms may well decline. However, such a change would not necessarily spell hard times for the family farms. Rather, it would be a reflection of world food demand so high that meeting it will require the best efforts of all of America's agricultural enterprises - large

AS DEMAND increases, pressure for greater efficiency will also increase. Larger farms — incorporated or not — may prove more cost-effective in the production of some additional commodities.

But by any reasonable measure, really large corporations do not now directly produce a very large share of U.S. farm production. However, some people become alarmed by any trend toward larger farms so alarmed that there have been attempts, at both the state and federal level, to prohibit farming by large corporations.

Although such legislation is usually couched in terms of "preserving the family farm" (like a bug, in a bottle of formaldehyde:), what it really amounts to is a plea by some for special protection from their competitors. Small farmers are not unique in seeking legislated protection from competition - many other businesses, large and small, believe that they deserve similar treatment, for a variety of reasons.

Even though the reasons may occasionally have some validity, protection from competition seldom serves well the economy at large, the consumer, or ironically, even those who request it.

The fact is, much of the toughest competition for the small family farm today comes from larger, more efficient family farms. Many of these larger farms may be corporations technically (for tax and other advantages), but they are still held and operated by members of one family (of more than 21,000 corporations in farming, 92 per cent are closely held family units). And most of them don't suffer in comparison to anyone when it comes to efficiency.

YET MUCH of the legislation being drafted to keep large corporations out of farming would cause problems for these "family corporations" and even for unincorporated, small family farms. Some of the potential dangers:

-Family-held corporate farms with substantial nonfarm investments could be forced out of farming.

-Mortgage money might become difficult for all farmers to get if lending institutions could not hold an interest in the land by mortgage. -Large agribusiness firms probably could not supply dealer credit in return for a lien on the property sold to a farmer, or for inputs provided to produce a crop.

-Contracts with large processing corporations would not be available. The family farm as an institution has survived and prospered for hundreds of years. It can survive and prosper for a few hundred more without the formaldehyde treatment.

Ouotable Quote

"Tyranny, like hell, is not easily conquered; yet, we have this consolation with us, that the harder the conflict, the more glorious the triumph. What we obtain too cheap, we esteem too lightly; 'its dearness only that gives everything its value. Heaven knows how to put a proper price on its goods; and it would be strange indeed, if so celestial an article as Freedom should not be highly rated." — Thomas Paine.

Talk of Texas

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY-University of Texas alumni gather around the world on Texas Independence Day because of an incident on the Austin campus 82 years

The student body had petitioned Dr. George Tayloe (correct) Winston, the UT president, to declare March 2, 1893, a holiday. Winston, a transplanted North Carolinian who thought that July 4 was the true Indenpendence Day, refused.

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Deaf Smith grass farm on Bootleg Corner discusses economists this week, without much luck.

Dear editor:

An economist in boom times is like a coach with good material and a winning season—everybody hails him as a smart hombre and wants to give him a raise, but let a recession set in or the material play out and the public turns thumbs down in a

With times what they are, I guess the reputations of the country's economists are in the worst shape they've ever been in. You know, one says the way to stabilize things is to balance the budget, another says forget the budget, cut the taxes; another says yeah, cut taxes by 12 billion dollars, another says no, cut them by 20 billion. One says things will get better in the third quarter of the year, another says he sees improvement by the fourth quarter, another says it won't happen till 1976, another won't answer his phone and hopes nobody remembers what his prediction was.

BUT NOT a one that I can find told us six months ago what was fixing to take place right now.

In other words, economists, if you listen to enough of them, turn out to be as confused as the rest of us. In short, they're in the wrong profession, and I got to thinking.

Now we've got enough unemployment as it is without adding all the economists to the ranks, so I've been trying to figure out what other line of work they'd be suited for and I have come up with the answer: they ought to become weather forecasters, where nobody expects you to be right more than 10 per cent of the time.

BUT, YOU may argue, wouldn't that throw the regular weather forcasters out of work?

Come to think of it, I guess it would, which just goes to show that I don't know anymore about solving the country's economics plight than anybody else you're hearing from. I know so little about it I'm almost Congressional material.

Yours faithfully, J.A.

Undaunted, the students stole a cannon from the State Capitol grounds, hauled it to the campus and began firing it at high noon on March 2. Classes were disrupted and soon the entire student body, their professors and even President Winston had gathered on the mall. Winston was asked to speak. He

"I was born in a land of liberty, nursed on the bottle of liberty, rocked in the cradle of liberty, and grew up a son of liberty, but the students of The University of Texas take more liberties than anybody I ever saw."

This early-day student demonstration so impressed the Board of Regents that they voted at their next meeting to declare Texas Independence Day a class holiday in the future. And Texas Exes have celebrated it each year since.

For fees ranging from nothing to $10, sportsmen are invited to join rattlesnake hunts in Jacksboro, Sweetwater, Brownwood, Ballinger, Big Spring, Gainesville and Lometa at various dates during March. Most of the rattler round-ups will include the crowning of a local beauty as Miss Snake Charmer and will close with a dance.

For those too timid to hunt the snakes, spectator tickets are available. From the sidelines one can watch their more intrepid friends "milk" the rattlers and engage in contests to see who can and sack the deadly snakes the fastest. And for gourmets, restaurants will serve up rat-tlesnake steaks and reasts as a part of the round-ups.

Ag Income Key To Economic Woes

By Arnold E. Paulson Nat'l Organization for Raw Materials

Why is there a projected federal budget defict of $52 billion?

Based upon projections for the coming year, this is the amount that the economy will be short to get the economy moving again. However, deficit spending vanishes like the spring snow, so nothing is accomplished. Agriculture, to be at parity, was underpaid approximately $52 billion in 1974. Ag income prices and gross income precedes the rest of the economy by one full year. The shortage of

Had agriculture received the $52 billion it was short changed in 1974, and farm prices held at parity during 1975, the economy would have generated all of the national income necessary for the government to balance its budget and to employ our unemployed labor ag income in 1974 short changes the economy force, plus retain profits necessary for business and industrial expansion. Our problem simply boils down to what is called the "exchange equation." This deals with the production and distribution of all goods and services. When a balanced economy exists, meaning a balanced pur-chasing power between segments of the system, then sufficient buying power exists between each segment to buy and consume the goods from one another, thus maintaining full employment and markets for all of the

If farmers must have full honest prices for their production, then consumers must have the buying power to buy at those prices, We can drag down farm prices to such a level that the unemployed can afford to puchase, but doing this will break all of our agriculture. Therefore, the solution must be a program that will elevate everything to balance, and not tear everything down to a depression to balance.

All we need is a very simple law, similar to the minimum wage, where Congress rules that the Trades must pay an honest minimum price for farm commodities at the market place. There is no subsidy payments required, nor will the government have to buy any of the commodities.

With all farm prices at parity, it will become necessary to increase the minimum wage to a level that will permit the lower income wage earners to buy at those prices. It will be necessary for Congress to increase the minimum wage law and make it equal to the price of a bushel of corn at parity. Why? Corn is the basic crop and key factor to fatten cattle. If the cattle producers and grain farmers want a market for their production, then the masses of people must have the in-come to buy and consume the production.

The next move by Congress must be to enforce the tariff laws and not permit any goods from entering the U.S. for less than American prices. Rather than putting the tariff funds in the treasury, those dollars could go into a special account for the ex-porting nations to buy American goods at full American prices. The importers would pay the tariff, but the nations would collect all of it back in purchase of goods. It would be impossible for either side of the transaction to have an imbalance of payments in trade.

Organized labor also needs minimum wage that will assure these millions of workers the income to support the jobs in the factories. The opposition claims that if the minimum wage law is increased, then labor will merely go on strike again and upset everything. But it wouldn't happen.

If organized labor tried to dislocate the economy, they would lose through paying higher prices and more taxes and gaining nothing. If wages go up, so does the consum prices. The only rewards would come from efficiency in production.

This program won't cost anything. Everyone will gain and everyone will win. We will see tax reform by taxes being cut; we will see the size of federal government reduced; we will see buying power restored through earned income and not dependent upon federal deficits and excessive debt expansion; we will see economic stability and solvency restored.

Agriculture Census Cooperation Asked

report forms have been mailed to farms and ranches in the 50 States, according to Vincent P. Barabba, Director of the Bureau of the Census which conducts the census. The Bureau is part of the U.S. Department of Commerce's Social and Economic Statistics Administration.

Nation's 20th farm census in a series that started in 1840, will update data most recently obtained in 1970 for 1969 operations. Primary emphasis will be on obtaining information about farms and ranches with annually. Such operations products sold in 1969.

Cost accounting is the basis for allocating resources to improve resource efficiency, points out Parker. Management decisions based on cost accounting are much more likely to be profitable than decisions based on impulse or hunch. Other uses of accounting are tax reporting and obtaining neces-

The economist notes that the Extension Service provides two types of accounting systemsthe Farm Record System and the Texas Electronic Farm Accounting System (Tel-Fac).

The Farm Record System contains 10 sections which include farm business expense, farm and non-farm income, payroll record, accounts payable and receivable, continuous depreciation schedule, farm inventory, financial and profit and loss statement, hours and per cent of equipment use, enterprise summary and analysis, and field treatment and performance record. Appropriate sections may be combined to fit each particular farm or ranch situation.

The Tel-Fac System has cost accounting as its primary objective. This system has four component parts: financial and production data, inventory and depreciable schedule, profit and loss statement, and enterprise analysis. Financial and production data are processed each month while other parts of the system are processed annually.

According to Parker, the basic difference in the two systems is that the Farm Record System is totally manual while Tel-Fac is computerized. However, the computer does not compensate for incomplete or inaccurate data, emphasizes the econom-

Minimum Tillage Can Cut Farmers Expenses

Minimum tillage or double operations per trip are ways the farmer can cut his expenses, according to West Texas State University plant science professor Dr. Jimmy Green.

'The concept of minimum tillage is to produce a crop with as little cultivation and cost as possible." Green said.

Minimum tillage involves seeding in the residue and use of herbicides to control weeds instead of normal cultivation practices, the professor said.

'The secret of minimum tillage is the ability to control weeds without cultivation." asserted.

In places where the weeds are no problem minimum tillage works fine, Green explained, but when weeds are heavy, this practice can not be used as much as people would like.

"The primary change in equipment is in planters," Green stated, "to those that use fluted coulters instead of shovels for furrow openers so trash can be handled easier."

The idea is not to use the plow nor possibly the lister, the professor continued. However, he noted, if it is irrigated land, they must establish water furrows and listing is a good means of doing so. Several studies have been done on minimum tillage, and some have been successful and some have not. "No doubt economically it so high," Green asserted.

"Farmers can go to double or triple operations all in one time over the field if he is unable to use minimum tillage or does not wish to," Green said.

Farmers are limited in how many and what things can be done in one operation, the professor stated. The operator can only do so many at one time.

"If too much is going on the operator will run out of seed or fertilizer unless he is really concentrating," Green assert-

Texas Tech scientists and engineers in Lubbock are currently working with the U.S. Coast Guard in simulated sea tests to pursue earlier findings in the lab.

"Wasties are the lowest market grade of cotton," said Brian Jones, associate director for textile chemistry research at the Cotton Incorporated Research Center at Raleigh, N.C.

"Wasties bring growers only one-third the price of a good grade of cotton," Jones pointed out. But the fibers show a peculiarly superb quality for collecting oil. And when wasties become oil laden, they do not sink. This allows wasties - and oil - to be skimmed off the surface of water.

"It's a low-cost way of retrieving tremendous amounts of oil," said Jones.

Studies at Texas Tech show that cotton can pick up 50 times its own weight in oil and stay afloat for at least six weeks in salt or fresh water.

Dr. George F. Meenahan, chairman of the department of chemical engineering at Texas Tech, says cotton wasties are from 15 to 250 per cent better in sorption rates than synthetic materials now used.

The oil recovery process with wasties involves sorption, not absorption. The oil is not soaked into the fiber, Meenaghan explained; it is held between look at the December meat production figures, for example, and look, too, at the cow slaughter picture. Both in Texas and throughout the nation, production of red meats is increasing. In Texas, commercial production during December was up 38 per cent from a year ago, and 13 per cent higher than 1973. Nationwide, red meat production is seven per cent more than a year earlier. Beef production is up eight per cent. Cattle kill is up 13 per cent. Cow slaughter--the beef industry factory--is also on the increase. Cow slaughter in 1974 totaled 7,600,000 head. It is projected that will increase at least a third more during 1975. All of this means we are making progress in reduction of beef supplies. But until they decline even more, the livestock picture is not going to be bright.

Per capita consumption of beef continues to increase, too, but unfortunately, beef production is still ahead of consumption. It's estimated that we will produce about 125 pounds per capita of beef while consumption is projected at around 116 pounds per capita.

Beef is now perhaps the best food buy around; look around and you'll see that beef prices to the consumer finally are showing some relation to the price drops suffered by the producer for the past year or so.

OFF-FARM grain storage capacity in Texas as of Jan. 1 is down 33,000,000 bushels from a year ago, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes. Off-farm storage totaled 719,000,000 bushels.

By regions, West Texas capacity dropped from 445,000,000 to 416,000,000; North Texas capacity dropped from 167,000,000 to 154,000,000; and South Texas capacity increased from 140,000,000 to 149,000,000

Meanwhile, farmers should consider locating storage now for grain crops in view of projections of increased acreage, especially for grain sorghum.

Do not be timid about asking for help when you need it. This is a good time to put official forms, resumes or notices in the mail. Change plans willingly, if they are requested, but it's no time to change habits or resolutions. Overcome tendency to brood. Look to the future instead of wondering what might have been.

Gemini May 21 - June 20 Mercury 0 Take care of your well-being religiously. You have a tendency to neglect personal comfort. Aim at regular meals. Be more active and get plenty of fresh air. You could meet with surprising good money success. Some are anxious to know your plans. It's wise, however, to be somewhat secretive.

HE Cancer | June 21 - July 22 | Moon @ You'll probably look at the brighter side of things. You'll have good reason to be more optimistic. Good news is likely which will benefit your personal affairs. Protect your hard-earned money and consult a trusted advisor about finances. Broaden your horizons. Appeal to more people more of the time.

Leo July 23 - Aug. 22 Sun 🔾 Try to keep expenses down. Revise your budget more tightly and save more, starting this week. ## Two Energy Tax Policies

By JOHN TOWER

U.S. Senator In my two previous radio reports, I have discussed with you different ideas for developing a national energy policy. This week I want to discuss two tax policies as they relate to energy. The first is a tax deduction for the oil and gas producing industry; the second is a tax on the profits of the industry. Whatever you may call a tax deduction. It allows homeowners to deduct mortgage interest in calculating their income tax. This deduction encourages American families to own their own homes. Many liberals would call this a subsidy. I prefer to call it an incentive. The precentage depletion allowance is an incentive for the production of oil and gas. While the percentage depletion allowance is a term most people are familiar with, very few really understand what it

A principle of tax equity is that only income, but not capital, should be taxed. Included as part of the selling price of a good or service is an amount intended to recover the capital invested to produce that good or service.

The amount of recovery is allowed as a deduction because it represents capital which should not be taxed. In most cases that deduction is known as depreciation. Just as machinery in a factory is a capital asset, so is a reservoir of oil. However, unlike that machinery, the value of that reservior cannot be determined precisely until all of the oil has been recovered. Neither can the value of that reservoir be divided up and recovered over a period of time in the same way depreciation is recovered. Instead, a certain percentage of the seiling has been determined to represent recovery of the capital invested in the reservoir. That number is the percentage depletion allowance. The percentage allowed was 27½ per cent until

1969, when it was lowered to 22 per cent. Percentage depletion allowance represents the recovery of a real economic cost. That cost presently is borne by the general taxpayer. However, if the percentage depletion allowance is repealed, ne additional cost to the oil and gas producer would have to be picked up by the consumer through increased prices.

The second result would be a decline in exploration and production of oil and gas. This is because loss of the depletion allowance would fall more heavily on the independent producer. Small producers find and develop most of our domestic sources of oil and gas. Many of these producers in

Texas have told me that if the In my view, neither of these allowance is abolished, they cannot afford to stay in

The oil and gas industry is not the only industry which receives the needed incentive of a depletion allowance. Other extraction industries, such as coal mining and timber, receive similiar tax treatment. In my judgement, repeal of the percentage depletion allowance would not be in the best interest of the people of Texas, nor in the public intersest of the nation.

Another tax policy that is important for you to understand idea is to take away from oil companies the excess over normal profits. According to proponents of the tax, these excess profits are the result of charging excessively high prices during the shortge. The concept of the windfall profits tax is based on two assumptions. First is the assumption that those excess profits are not being put to good assumptions is valid and a windfall profits tax is not justified. The percentage of the increase in profits can be misleading. For example, if a profit return increases from one per cent to three per cent, that is an increase of 200 per cent. But in this case, that investment still would return less than a deposit placed in savings ac-

The profits of the oil industry have followed this same pattern. The oil industry has had a high percentage of in-crease in profits since late 1973. However, the U.S. Department of Commerce reports that, for the past year, the average profits of the twenty largest oil companies were less than the average profits of comparable

There is another reason why I am against the windfall profits tax. Those profits do not flow through to the pockets of fat-cat oilmen, as some liberal politicians would have you believe. Those profits are plowed back into more exploration and drilling.

Good Locks and Doors Provide Crime Defense

"Good locks and doors are a sinessman's best defense ainst burglary," said Dean otcher of the Deaf Smith County crime prevention unit in an interview directed toward prevention of crimes against commercial establishments.

"BUT A LOCK is not effective unless it's used," he added, "so the first thing to remember is to lock all means of access securely. There are many types of locks available, and each has its own best purpose. If a businessman really wants to be safe, he should contact one of our professional Consultants Against Crime at Deaf Smith County Sheriff Department. We'll send a specially trained officer to his establishment to examine his locks and doors and advise him on effective, economical ways to improve security."

Low Cost Life Insurance

An estimated 2.7 million program is designed as interim

All double and single doors locks and doors, the better the should have an auxiliary protection. Ideally, doors deadbolt which is keyed from should by solid core or steel; but both sides. This way, if an indeadbolt which is keyed from both sides. This way, if an intruder isn't locked out, he can at least be locked in. The lock casing should be set flush with the door to avoid its being wrenched off.

EVERY DEADBOLT lock should have a hardened cylinder guard so that it can't be cut, twisted, pried or sawed.

If door hinges are exposed on the outside, they should have non-removable hinge pins. Door frames should be installed properly to avoid forced spreading or prying.
"Double doors and garage-type doors are just as important as other outside doors," Butcher cautioned. "A single lock on the outside offers little protection. Another lock or padlock should be added on the inside for use when the building is empty. A top center hasp works well with a padlock, and security bars on the inside of doors make it hard to get in, even with a pryingdevice."

Because of their construction, sliding glass doors and windows are easy to force, so Butcher suggests the installation of secondary key ed locks in the top and-or bottom track. The surest protection for a glass door or window is a good alarm

Swinging double doors should fit close together, making them difficult to pry. The deadbolt used to secure such doors should be long enough to resist spreading, and a flang should be installed over the deadbolt to guard against sawing and prying. All swinging doors should also be secured at the tip and the bottom.

"SINCE BOTH effective hardware and proper installation are needed to make a commercial establishment as immune to crime as possible," Butcher said. "I strongly urge every Deaf Smith County businessman to contact our Consultants Against Crime and take advantage of our advice."

The commercial crime prevention program conducted by Sheriff's Department is part of the Panhandle Regional Crime Prevention Program partially funded by the Governor's Office.

Anyone wishing to learn more about the crime prevention programs sponsored by Sheriff's Department should call Dean Butcher at 364-2312.
