LYNDA DONES AND KATHY WILSON
...Win high honors at teen pageant

Strong Showing Given By Pair At Pageant

Grabbing high berths in the Miss Texas Teen-Ager Pageant at Clarendon this weekend were Miss Kathy Wilson and Miss Lynda Dones, local girls who competed among 40 entrants from across Texas.

Miss Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Wilson of 336 Douglas, won two $500 scholarships in essay competition and was first runner-up for the pageant title. The daughter of Mrs. Joy Dones of 116 Hickory, Miss Dones' essay was judged eighth and she was given fourth place in the running for the crown.

The Texas pageant is the official state finals for the Miss National Teen-Ager Pageant to be held in Atlanta, Ga. during August. Contestants were judged on scholastic achievement, poise, personality and beauty. There was no swimsuit or talent division and each entrant recited a 100-word essay on the subject, "What's Right About America."

Miss Wilson, who was making her first attempt for a pageant title, won a $50 grant to Clarendon Junior College and a $500 scholarship to Maury Junior College at Atlanta, Ga. Sponsored by KPAN Radio, Hereford State Bank and Ralph Owens and Associates Inc. she will be a sophomore at Hereford High School this fall.

While attending La Plata Junior High School, the blond was a cheerleader and participated in forensic duet acting programs. Her hobbies include reading, dancing, gardening, cooking, sewing, sports and playing the piano.

Miss Dones was supported by E.C. Reinauer and Sons at the recent pageant. The tall brunette will be a senior at HHS in the autumn and she is a member of the drill team. She enjoys tennis, singing, playing the guitar, swimming, writing poetry and painting.

Legal rhetoric pervaded over any definitive action Monday evening as the Hereford Board of Education convened at a hearing requested by Wayne Woodward, a former English teacher at La Plata Junior High School, to review an earlier decision by the board not to renew his contract for another year based on a recommendation of Pat Hughes, La Plata principal.

During the three hour session held in the cafeteria in the administration building, most of the verbal exchanges were between Robin Green, an Amarillo attorney representing Woodward, and Earnest Langley, attorney for the school board. The hearing originally was scheduled to be held in the regular board meeting room but it was moved to the cafeteria to accommodate the 100-person plus crowd, including about a dozen students, gathered to view the proceedings.

THE BOARD MEMBERS met in closed session for the first hour of the hearing to confer with Langley and again later for a period of about 35 minutes to reconsider the open session proceedings. Afterwards Jim Conkright, board president, said he would entertain any motions to renew Woodward's contract, but no motion was forth coming.

Based on this reaffirmation of the original board decision, Greene said after the hearing that, "we will file the case in U.S. District Court...soon."

The attorney referred to American Civil Liberties Union and The National Education Association as "our resources" for both financial and legal support. Before the case is filed, the case petition will be reviewed by the NEA, Greene indicated.

However, school officials said they learned Tuesday that the NEA had not made a decision on the matter. Since no word had come from the national organization, an administrator called the NEA office and talked with Terry Herndon, executive secretary.

He confirmed that Woodward had made application with the DuShane Emergency Fund, administered by the NEA, and that the case was being reviewed. No decision had been made on the application as of Tuesday.

THE OPEN HEARING began shortly after the pre-publicized time of 5 p.m. with an explanation by Langley of the hearing's purpose, which was to hear any presentations by Woodward or his representative.

He asked if a closed hearing was desired, but Green said the public hearing was fine. Also Green was denied a request to question school administrators because Langley said it was not a "fact finding proceeding" and not in which the administrators had to be subjected to cross examination.

Woodward, who taught in Hereford schools for six years, was not recommended for contract renewal during the April school board meeting. It is the regular procedure for all teacher contracts to be considered each year since no continuing contracts exist.

As Woodward sat calmly by, his attorney rolled up his sleeves and began his presentation.

"THE BOARD had got problems as this is not your ordinary case," Green said. "We don't really even know what we're charged with."

He said the exact reasons for Woodward's dismissal were not revealed by the administration, referring specifically to Hughes and superintendent Roy Hartman.

"We would like to be able to settle the matter right here," Green continued. "We have some evidence with documentation in black and white. It's enough to hold ourselves up in federal court."

Part of this evidence included a letter written Feb. 12, 1975 from Hughes to Hartman. In it, Green quoted, portions saying that Woodward displayed "hostile attitudes" and supposedly taught material that had not previously been approved by the administration.

The attorney then explained the NEA does not consider a teacher's attitudes as any business of a principal.

"WOODWARD is a good teacher and I would beg for someone like him to stay in my school," Green said. "The only material we are aware of that is being questioned is a pamphlet handed out to one girl."

Next he alluded to evidence he had that someone in the school system was lying in reference to an incident in which pressure was alleged to have been applied. It involved a high school student who began circulating a petition in support of Woodward.

The student was then said to have discontinued the petition after being told he would not be recommended for a scholarship if he continued.

"If it was just for the financial thing, we wouldn't be here today. But we're here as a matter of principle," Greene said.

He explained that the problems the school board have deal not with Woodward but with students being exposed to administrators who are "worried with petty politics."

As an example, he said teachers were questioned about ACLU memberships and when the answer was yes, the teachers were put on probation.

Again referring to strength of his case, Green said that the letter written by Hughes was a favor to them as it represented strong evidence.

Claude Ricketts, who came to this county in a covered wagon with his parents in 1900, was dead on arrival at Deaf Smith General Hospital Monday after suffering a lengthy illness.

Services were conducted Tuesday afternoon by the Rev. Gene Brink, pastor of First Christian Church, at First United Methodist Church. Burial was in West Park Cemetery under direction of Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home.

BORN MARCH 21, 1889, at Midlothian, Mr. Ricketts came to this area as a child, attended local schools and was a member of the first football team Hereford ever had at the Penhall Christian College. In 1913, he was hired at The First National Bank, but his employment there was interrupted from 1917-April 1919 while he served in the U.S. Army during World War I. Before entering the service, he organized the first troop of Boy Scouts in this community and was Scoutmaster.

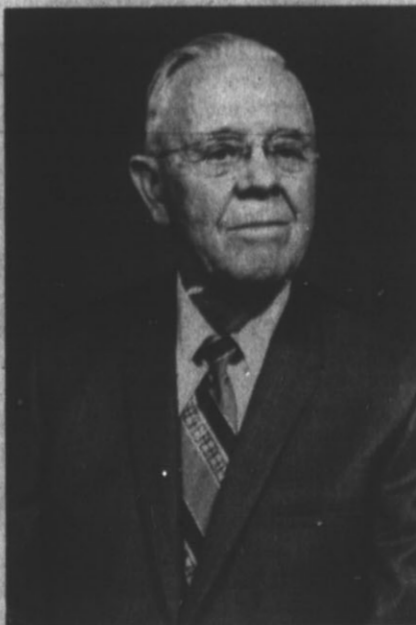

Mr. Ricketts and Mr. J.E. Hill opened a real estate and loan firm in 1925 and the former continued to manage the business after Mr. Hill's retirement in 1945. He was instrumental in the formation of the Texas Association of Realtors and the local Board of Realtors, of which he was a lifetime member. His professional concerns earned him recognition throughout the state.

CLAUDE RICKETTS and Lavinnel Neal were married Dec. 21, 1919 and they had no children. She died Oct. 21, 1962. He married Mrs. Pearl Wington, a widow who was employed at Hereford State Bank, on Oct. 15, 1970 at Farwell. She survives him.

Mr. Ricketts' contributions to this city were recognized in 1972 when he was selected Pioneer of the Year.

A 50-year member of the American Legion, Mr. Ricketts served as county chairman of the bond drives during World War II when each campaign goal was reached.

City Studies Need for Continued Pioneer Natural Gas Rate Hikes

By JOE LACKEY
Brand Staff Writer

A decision to write a letter to Pioneer Natural Gas Co., asking for justification of continuing rate increases on natural gas used in Hereford developed during a regular session of the Hereford City Commission Monday night.

Should the justification presented by Pioneer be deemed insufficient by the City Commission, the governing body may contemplate passing an ordinance restricting future rate increases, it was indicated at the meeting.

Mayor Jim Sears stressed that an investigation of rate increases would be necessary before any definite action is taken. He also said that if Pioneer can justify the increases, then the gas company is entitled to them.

DUDLEY BAYNE, city manager, described the gas rate situation as a "pet peeve." He indicated that gas rates over the past year and a half, since Pioneer was granted a monthly pass-through increase amounting to 100 per cent of the company's costs, have increased by approximately 200 per cent.

In other action, the Commission was told that the city body does not have the authority to reduce speed limits on a large portion of West Park Avenue from 55 to 30 MPH, because the avenue is a state highway. Also bids were let for resurfacing of the city tennis courts, and plans were made to have the city sprayed for mosquitoes.

Most of 1 1/2-hour session was devoted to an extended discussion of increases in natural gas rates. Bayne described the rates situation as a "rakeoff," and said that the entire situation is a "real shame."

Bayne suggested that the city body pass an ordinance restricting future increases. He suggested that the ordinance be based on the January 1974 cost of gas.

Bayne went on to suggest that there be no rebates on back payments since January of 1974. Although he strongly urged the passing of an ordinance, such action was not forthcoming at the meeting.

CITY COMMISSIONERS expressed concern over the possibility of a court fight between Hereford and Pioneer Natural Gas.

Bayne said that if Hereford restricts gas rate increases, then other cities in the Pioneer territory might adopt similar action.

City commissioner Frank Barrett expressed the opinion that Pioneer is "playing both ends," since Pioneer's customers, under the pass-through system, are paying for the cost of new gas, whether they're using this new gas, or actually using old gas owned by Pioneer.

Pioneer's rate of return, according to Bayne, probably exceeds 12 to 14 per cent. Bayne also said it's possible that Pioneer might contest city action in court to "teach other cities a lesson," but also said he doubts that court action would result from city action.

Mayor Sears noted that Pioneer can't Pool hours are 2-6 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday, and the pool is also available for parties seven nights a week from 7:30-9:30.

Industrial Foundation Funds Drive Past Halfway Mark

A drive to provide funds for the newly-formed Hereford Industrial Foundation, Inc. had climbed past the halfway mark here Wednesday, and officers were confident the goal of $50,000 to $60,000 would be reached by the end of the week. Ray Cowser and Jake Webb, leaders of the fund-raising campaign, announced at a meeting of volunteer workers Wednesday afternoon that more than half of the goal was assured. The contributions from business firms and individuals are to be used by the foundation in attracting new industry to the community. A minimum of $30,000 was required to finance a current project—providing a plant facility for a garment company out of Dallas.

The foundation has negotiated with Sue Ann, Inc. to provide a building and lease the property to the corporation. The local foundation will own the building and land, and the firm will have the option of buying the plant over the lease period of 10 years.

Cost of the project is estimated at $130,000 and the foundation will need $30,000 to finance the construction. The foundation will borrow $40,000 from the Texas Industrial Commission at a prime interest rate, and secure a loan with local lending institutions for the remainder.

Directors of the foundation set a goal of $50,000 to $60,000 in order to have additional funds available for seeking other industrial prospects. "Volunteer workers are attempting to contact all businesses and have a wide community participation in the funding campaign. Contributions are tax deductible.

All persons or firms who contribute more than $15 will be members in the foundation. The board of directors is composed of 16 persons, with five coming up for election each year. Membership dues will be $15 a year. The foundation is chartered with the state as a non-profit corporation. The chartering board elected Tom Burdett as president.

Judicial District Proposal Goes Down Austin Drain

By O.G. NIEMAN
Publisher

Deaf Smith County's hopes for a new judicial district—reported as a shoo-in Saturday—went down the drain on a point of order as the Texas Senate rushed to complete its business before adjournment Monday night.

The proposal to create a new judicial district composed of Deaf Smith and Oldham counties was included in an omnibus bill along with 23 other new courts, and "last-minute" manipulations killed the whole package.

"We are very disappointed... that's about all I can say," Mack Tubb, president of the Hereford Bar Association, responded Tuesday. "We had received some misinformation Saturday that the bill was approved; we thought we had our new district."

Tubb said the action probably eliminates any hope for a new district for at least two years—until the next regular session of the legislature. The local bar association, with the support of the county commissioners and Oldham County officials, had requested the new district because of the heavy case load and large geographic area of the present 69th District.

Tubb reported that he had called State Sen. Max Sherman Tuesday to determine what had happened to the bill. According to Sen. Sherman, said Tubb, the bill was passed by the House after a delay on an amendment to include a court in Jones County.

The Senate got the bill late Monday, on the last day, and it was killed on a point of order brought by Sen. Oscar Mauzy. The point of order was on procedural methods—a move that could have been used to kill many bills in the last-minute rush, according to Sherman.

Tubb added that Sherman felt the bill would have passed if the Senate had received it earlier and had time to work out a compromise on areas of disagreement.

Andy Shuval, criminal district attorney, was also disappointed on learning of the fate of the bill. He was very active in supporting the bill and had high praise for Sen. Sherman and Rep. Bill Clayton, Speaker of the House, for their support of the proposal.

The 69th District includes the counties of Deaf Smith, Moore, Dallam, Sherman, Hartley and Oldham. Deaf Smith has the heaviest court load and pays more of the expense of the district, with Moore and Dallam ranking next.

District Judge Mike Metcalf of Dumas presides over the six-county judicial region. He was appointed to the bench in late April following the death of Judge Archie McDonald of Dumas.

Appointment of a judge for the proposed new district had already been discussed to some extent. Informed sources listed Hereford attorney Rex Easterwood as a prime choice, with the names of Bruce Miller of Hereford and Dick Brainerd of Vega also mentioned.

buy out-of-state gas; thus, in-state shortages can drive the price of gas up.

THE ACTION TAKEN by the city is of an investigatory nature only, Mayor Sears stressed. He said that the letter to Pioneer will state that the city is thinking of changing the rates situation, but that increases or decreases in rates will not necessarily follow.

At the meeting Bayne expressed the opinion that Pioneer has "broken faith with cities all over its territory," and that "a 100 per cent pass-through is like saying go out and write your own ticket."

Mayor Sears said the city "must be very careful in the situation," and that the city commission must not "get in a position of accusation."

Relating to possible changes in speed limits on West Park Avenue, Bayne told the commission that the state would take a speed count on the portion of the avenue where speed changes are being contemplated. After the speed count is taken, the state will make a decision on whether to allow speed limit changes on the Avenue.

The city will be permitted, however, to set a 20 m.p.h. speed zone immediately in front of the new school.

BIDS WERE LET at the meeting for resurfacing of the city tennis courts. Bids will be due in the office of the city manager by 2 p.m. on June 16.

Bayne said he has not heard from the airplane pilot who is to spray the city for mosquitoes. He said that he expects to contact the pilot within a few days.

It costs nearly as much for the city to do the spraying as it costs to hire the pilot, Bayne said, and the pilot gets a much better kill than the city could.

All commissioners were present at the meeting.

Officers Make Drug Arrests

Hereford police arrested six persons for possession of marijuana here Sunday.

The arrests were made at the Wishing Well ballroom and came after officers stopped a van and obtained permission for a search.

Adults arrested for possession of marijuana were Manuel Vasquez, 17, of Rt 2, Slaton; Refugio Torres Pena, 27, of 2311 Second Place in Lubbock; Francisco Morales Garcia, 24, of 309 North Avenue; and Francis Villareal, 23, of 504 13th, Hereford; and Erasmo E. Vega Jr. 25, of 3020 Binton, Clovis.

Two juveniles were also arrested. Officers found approximately 9 1/2 grams of marijuana while searching the vehicle.

Police reported a relatively quiet weekend here with no DWI arrests and only two arrests for drunkenness.

Local Man Hurt In Rollover Sunday

A 22 year old Hereford man was injured in a one car rollover just west of the city early Sunday morning.

Juan Perales Hernandez, 22, of Rt. 5, Hereford was taken to Deaf Smith General Hospital after his westbound 1973 GMC pickup overturned.

According to investigating officers, Hernandez apparently lost control of the vehicle. The pickup went through the median on Highway 60 and entered the eastbound lane, rolling over 3 1/2 times. Hernandez was treated for bruises, abrasions and lacerations.

closed session, Green asked the board to reinstate Woodward's contract and provide the reasons why he was dismissed. The board took no action and Hartman was asked if any further action was necessary concerning Woodward's employment.

Hartman replied, "Everything has been attended to."

Green then wanted to know for the record if all avenues of appeal had been exhausted through the school system. Langley said that even though he didn't hire out to advise Green or Woodward, he clarified that no other course of action was available through the schools.

Woodward's attorney said his client was not rehired for legitimate reasons and that the case had to be fought. "There will be no winners down the line," since it will involve a lot of tax payers' money as well as those of the client's resources to fight in court, Green said.

Conkright said the board would take note of the evidence presented and adjourned the hearing.

Woodward made no statements through the hearing but said afterwards he would refrain from any statements until court action was in process.

No official statements were offered by school officials following the hearing.

More State Aid Possible

Finance Legislation May Cause District to Pay More Funds To State

By BOBBY TEMPLETON
Brand News Editor

The public school finance legislation passed by the Texas legislature Monday will have broad effects upon school districts but here, it is expected that significant increases might be needed from local sources to operate at the present level.

In an interview Tuesday with Hereford school superintendent Roy Hartman and Bill Phillips, administrative assistant, the Brand learned that the local school district will have to fork up the maximum amount specified by the law for its Local Fund Assignment, the amount school districts pay into the Minimum Foundation Program. These funds are, in turn, redistributed throughout the state according to the Average Daily Attendance ADA and the level of school personnel in a district.

"OF COURSE the information we have today is only tentative as guidelines will be sent us (from the Texas Education Agency) on how to use the information included in the bill," Phillips said. "There were 13 amendments added to the original bill before it was finally passed by the House without having to go into a conference committee."

However, the bill states that the amount paid by local school districts to the state will not be more than double what was paid into the program during the 1974-75 school year. Hereford paid $582,000 this year, so the school officials feel they will have to pay in $1,164,000 based on information known now.

At a school board meeting last week, an estimated amount of $1,313,000 was anticipated as next year's portion of the foundation program. Since that figure was more than double, the district lowered its estimate.

Of course, it doesn't mean that the local resources will suffer by the total increase due the state.

"WE WILL NO DOUBT receive additional state aid through the maintenance and operating fund," Phillips explained. This amount is presently estimated at as much as $440,000.

"That's increase of about $270,000 over the present amount," Hartman said.

Other increases in state aid include a possible $57,000 amount for transportation and about $70,000 for the Educationally Disadvantaged Program, which begins next year. Hereford receives $40 per pupil for the program.

Also the bi-lingual education program is expected to receive increases for next year when it will probably have to be taught in the first and second grade and possibly in kindergarten and third grade.

Again, Hartman emphasized that these are only projections and that the actual figures won't be known until specific guidelines are decided.

Phillips indicated that new personnel allocation as outlined in the bill will affect the district. The bill states a new method of figuring these disbursements. Basically it begins with the ADA, from which a certain number units is figured based on the following ratio of teachers per pupils: 1-19 in grades K-3; 1-21 in grades 4-6; 1-20 in grades 7-9; and 1-18 in grades 10-12.

FROM THIS TOTAL, the school district figures its allotment for teacher and administrative salaries based on the employees experience and level of education.

"This allows more flexibility than before and is actually a fairer system since we are paid exactly for the experience of the teachers we hire," Phillips explained. Before, districts would receive payments for more experienced personnel and then hire a beginning teacher.

Of course, the legislature granted all teachers a $140 a month increase in salary for all levels of experience bringing the beginning salary for a first year teacher with a bachelors degree up to $8,000 a year. It had been $6,600. No increases were approved for yearly raises.

Presently Hereford pays a teacher $800 above the state minimum for a bachelors degree and a $1,000 for a master degree.

When asked, Phillips said it is not known whether these would be continued because they might have to be adjusted to makeup for any losses in local revenue.

"However, I'm sure this will be a last resort of the school board," he added.

ANOTHER ASPECT of the bill is an equalization factor, which doesn't affect this district much. Actually the bill included no provisions for property evaluations as they were included in another bill not approved by the legislature.

The district, however, is operating under a two year measure authorized through the governor's office, for the next two academic years, the districts are to value property at 100 per cent of fair market value, which was decided from estimates furnished the state by the districts.

In two years, a permanent state-wide property method of evaluating property is to be instituted. This eventually could hurt the Hereford district as it has maintained lower than average property values.

The school board recently readjusted its assessed valuation figure at 60 per cent of fair market value as opposed to the previously used 45 per cent. This will allow the district to compensate for any adjustments needed for local taxes this summer.

Of course no prospects were given for possible tax increases, but Phillips said one might be necessary after all factors are considered including the bill and the depressed tax base.

State Bill Exempts Teachers From Unemployment Benefits

The confusing question of whether teachers and other public school employees would be eligible for unemployment insurance benefits during the summer months is apparently settled with the school finance bill passed this week by the Texas legislature.

The bill, passed by the legislature on Monday includes an amendment which exempts teachers and others working for public schools from applying for and collecting unemployment benefits during the summer months when they are usually unemployed.

The state law will now overrule a previously accepted ruling by Texas Attorney John Hill, who supported the interpretation that teachers were included under the Federal Unemployment Assistance Program, which was created by the economic measure signed into law by President Gerald Ford on Dec. 1, 1974.

Basically, the law allowed all those, not previously covered, to apply for unemployment insurance benefits. A job classification not covered before was that of public employees including those working for public schools.

The question plaguing teachers was whether they would have qualified for the insurance since some might be paid on a 12-month basis but work on a nine or 10-month basis. Hill ruled that payment received during the summer months did not affect the claims filed by public school employees.

Another complication for teachers was the ethics of accepting unemployment benefits. Local professional educators were unhappy with the law and expressed opinions that it wasn't right for teachers to accept unemployment benefits.

"My pride wouldn't let me file for unemployment insurance," one teacher said.

However, some teachers weren't of the same opinion as the Hereford Texas Employment Commission (TEC) office received applications from six teachers and 10 other public school employees. Another 25 or 30 application form packets had been picked up according to Lester Rape, TEC director here. Some were from Friona.

The local TEC official had said earlier that his staff had geared up to handle a volume of the claims, but now not near as many are expected. The federal law left it up to states to decide on the teacher situation, but Congress is now considering legislation which would take public school employees out from under the unemployment insurance umbrella.

Had benefits been given to teachers, most would have qualified for the $63 per week maximum. The minimum is $15 a week depending on the base salary received for the 52-week period preceding the initial application date.

Rape said, "We will still take unemployment claims from teachers, but they probably won't be approved based on the state legislation."

Others like city and county employees are apparently still covered if the requirements of normal unemployment are met. Qualifications include reporting amounts of work done each week (part-time work can be performed), certifying each week that claimants are "available, ready, willing and able to accept work," and showing that no job applications or offers are refused.

Other qualifications are that no wages were received in lieu of notice, vacation pay or holiday pay; the applicant was not self employed, farming or attending school; and no funds were received for workmen's compensation, old age benefits, or railroad retirement.

Applications and other information for unemployment insurance may be picked up at the TEC office.

Penalties for false claims include cancellation of payments, a $500 fine and up to one year in prison.

Volunteer workers who are involved in the Hereford Industrial Foundation fund-raising drive were highly pleased with the reception given them by most business men in the community the past week. Most business leaders consider the contribution an investment in the community and were ready to do their part.

The volunteers were not really surprised, however, for Hereford is blessed with progressive, forward-looking men and women who have pride in their hustlin' community and want to keep things on the upswing.

Bike-A-Thon Winners Named

Winners in the various divisions of the Deaf Smith County American Cancer Society's have been named according to Dale Jones, local unit members.

Trent Thomas was named as the top money raiser in the fund raising project as he collected $512 for the ACS. Thomas received a Yamaha MX bicycle as his prize.

Second place fund raiser was Steve Spangler, who collected $234.75 and received a 10 speed bike as his prize.

Damon Jones, who collected $212 received an honorable mention as third place money raiser.

The Duane Wyly family received the family participation prizes of a Gibsons gift certificate and a meal for two at the Caisón House.

Curtis McNaney received a gift certificate from Cardinal House of Kawasaki as he took the honors for having the most sponsors with 51.

Linda Minchew received a K-Bob's meal for two as the adult woman who finished the 20 mile endurance ride.

Taking youngest rider honors were Whitney Drake, Rodney Torres and Don Cad Tardy. All three will receive trophies.

The bike-athon project closed June 3 with participants turning in their sponsor lists and money and completing the 20 mile endurance ride.

Jake Webb, president of the Deaf Smith County unit of the American Cancer Society has verified the list, and according to Jones, project participants raised approximately $5,000 for the American Cancer Society.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sirs:

On March the 19, 1975 our Agency (Man power Education and Training, formerly Llano Estacado Farm Workers of Texas) had asked for the use of the Community Center, which we were to use the 19th of April. We were welcomed and with a lot of courtesy shown around. At this time we were told no other people had made any reservations so we could the whole building.

On the 19th of April 1975, it was a very beautiful day and instead of using the Community Center we were left out and had to receive our out of town guests in the Park. O.K., another black mark on Hereford is not going to make that much difference. What hurts is that for one whole month I and our Secretary had worked real hard to establish a career day for people interested in finding out what we had available in our area of Education. This was mostly for low income people who had never in our lives known what advantages are available, and how to take advantage of them.

These made me so angry and boy did I complain. It went back and forth saying it is his or her fault. Yes it is his or her fault but to me it is not his or her fault, it is our fault for having irresponsible people in our staff. Our office is open 8 hours daily and our phone is on our telephone hook. All it took was an early telephone call. But of course if Spanish-Americans (and I mean this through experience) is to use any part of our belongings we are going to be refused or given a no good go around.

Now we have asked for the Bull Barn for the 16th of Sept. first. We are still being given the go around. Up to this date, we have used the Bull Barn and have never gone out of order. But again with a lot of go around.

We have been required to sign a contract to use the Bull Barn which has not been the case before and it is not required of other organizations. In this contract we are asked to provide security and to cleanup after its use. I feel this is very unfair!

Well let me tell you Mr. Sam Morgan and county commissioners, we were created by God like you were, and if the President of U.S.A. has to go all the way, so do we, and if we have to sign a contract and attend your monthly meetings in order to use the Bull Barn, we will.

But Mr. Commissioners one of these days you are going to go and pick your own crops because we will have more cultured people in the years to come.

No matter how much water and city rights we will be denied by the city commissioners and by the county commissioners. For we know you bunch of people want golf and parks and beauty around you. But for you good pack these things and make sure to dig a big grave so you can take them along with you.

Because with all this luxury we are not going to help this problem in labor camp or the people who are trying to better themselves. Yes we have a world of fame in this town—"Nasty and dirty Mexicans"—but I am the proudest person in the whole wide world to be one.

Do unto others as you want them to do unto you.

Committee To Aid School District

An advisory committee on Community Education has been formed to help Hereford Independent School District make the program more relevant to the needs of the community, it was announced this week by Richard Robinson, vocational director for the schools.

Robinson has been involved in the concept of community education through the school district for several years. A variety of adult vocational and self-improvement courses have been offered in the past.

Attending an introductory meeting at noon Tuesday were Jake Webb, Mary Thomas, Roy Faubion, R.C. Hoelscher, Bud Eades, C.W. Allen, and Speedy Nieman. The group viewed a film, "To Touch A Child", which outlined the success of a community education program in Flint, Mich.

Robinson also told the advisory group that a state grant of about $1,200 was available for the program this summer. Cliff Sless, supervisor of adult vocational education from Amarillo College, was also

Almazon, Finley to Attend Boys' State

As the school year draws to a close more than 885 high school junior boys will assemble on the Campus of The University of Texas in Austin, June 11 for the 1975 session of American Legion Boys State, James W. White, Department Commander, has announced.

Included among these outstanding young men will be two Hereford youths, Sam Finley and Manuel Almazon. They have already attended an orientation session in Amarillo, and will leave Hereford for Austin on June 11.

Delegates will converge on Austin and commence registration at 2 p.m. Wednesday, June 11, at Jester Center. Following an evening meal the new citizens of Boys State will assemble for orientation in their respective Boys State cities.

Highlight of this year's program will be the appearance of top leaders of the Democratic and Republican parties.

The program sponsored by The American Legion, Department of Texas, is an annual event in which the organization teaches boys the responsibilities of citizenship in actual "do it yourself" type program from which comes its motto, "Learn by Doing."

The approximate 885 boys will be housed in 18 Boys State Cities with each city further divided into two precincts, one for the Federalist and one for the Nationalist political party. Each Boys State City is named in honor of a Past Department Commander of the Legion who is now deceased.

F.C. McConnell of Austin Post No. 76 is Chairman of this year's program and Dr. Firman Haynie, also of Austin, is Director.

The American Legion is stressing its belief that youth should be offered a better perspective on the practical operation of government; that the individual is an integral part of, commensurately responsible for, the character and success of his government. Boys State is an activity of high educational value, born out of a need for youth training in practical citizenship.

Citizens must remember that whether we of this generation like it or not, the young men and women attending high school and college now will eventually be the chosen leaders of this land. Boys State brings future goals within sight by developing civic leadership and pride in American citizenship; by arousing a keen interest in the detailed study of our government; by stressing the importance of maintaining our form of government and by bringing a full understanding of our American traditions and beliefs in the United States of America to the more than 28,000 youths throughout the nation who participate this year.

"Boys State is one of the outstanding youth training programs of the Americanism Commission of The American Legion," Commander White stated. "Not only do the youths learn more about the functions of government but also they see the importance of the role played by each good citizen in discharging his basic citizenship responsibilities in voting. They soon discover how the quality of government is related directly to active interest of each citizen."

On Tuesday, June 17, the citizens of Boys State will visit the State Capitol and actually sit in chairs of the office to which they were elected and run the state government for a day.

Tornado Film Shown To Rotarians Monday

Tornadoes form quickly and move unpredictably, but buffers do exist between potential victims and the nature's destructive forces.

This protection is awareness of when pending danger is near through warning of the U.S. Weather Bureau and a knowledge of the actions to take when danger is sighted. A part of the weather bureau's attempt to inform the public is through films and Hereford Rotarians viewed one at their weekly luncheon Monday.

The descriptive color film showed the procedures used in detecting tornadoes and violent storms such as tracing weather activity at five elevations and recognizing the conditions which would result in a tornado. The weather watch goes on 24 hours a day through the Kansas City storm forecasting center.

Once a storm or tornado situation is spotted, alerts are inacted for specified areas. It was advised that residents tune to radio or television for forecasts and take the proper cover. This includes in a storm cellar, in the interior room of a home or in a ditch if caught out in the open.

Precautions were emphasized throughout the film by extremely close scenes of a tornado and the aftermath if left on a town. The film was distributed through the Environmental Services Administration of the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Johnie Price, president-elect of the Rotary club, announced that Roland Saul had been selected as secretary-elect and Richard Crider as a director-elect. They take office with the other officers on July 1.

AC Enrolls For Summer Term Soon

Amarillo College will conduct advance registration for the second summer term June 9 through July 11. Those unable to take advantage of advance registration may enroll July 14.

Advance registration is open to currently enrolled students as well as new students. Second summer session classes will begin July 15 and end August 15.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

An experiment in pre-paid medical insurance among migrant families in Laredo may provide information on which a national insurance program can be adopted.

The Laredo plan, now in its third year, has been expanded to include 700 families—some 4,500 persons—who are now moving out across the country following the crops. In its first year in 1973 only 100 families were covered, but the number was increased to 450 families last year.

The plight of the migrant has been told many times. Life of the modern-day gypsies is characterized by lack of social and educational attainments, and lack of medical care.

The Comprehensive Health Care Plan is a mechanism designed to utilize both the public and private health care sector in making a spectrum of medical care services available to the transients on their travels around the country.

Laredo was first selected as a special study area because of a big migrant project already underway and the enthusiasm of the Laredo-Webb County Health Department.

The original project was proposed by officials in the Health, Education and Welfare regional office in Dallas. Answers were being sought to several questions regarding pre-paid medical care. It was suggested by the HEW office that 100 families be given complete medical and hospitalization services to determine the costs, actuarial figures, utilization patterns and other information.

"This was a new approach to migrant health care," says Jose L. Gonzalez, administrator of the Laredo Health Department and project director.

Gonzalez discussed the matter with the late Dr. Leo Cigarroa, at that time chief clinician with the Laredo Health Department. Inspired by the potential scope of the health project, Dr. Cigarroa immediately telephoned an executive of a leading nationwide health insurance company (Blue Cross-Blue Shield) and invited them to join the program. This resulted in a contract between the agencies.

Much of the development planning as well as the evaluation and interviewing protocols were established in conjunction with the University of Texas School of Public Health.

The work of enrolling the families went to the Laredo Migrant Health Program, a section of the Laredo-Webb County Health Department headed by Roland Nanez, section chief who serves as project director.

Last year and this year the job grew with the introduction of more families into the program.

Gonzalez says utilization of the program has been great. "The families haven't abused the privilege by unnecessary utilization of services. This has allowed the study to continue and to bring in more people," he said.

The program is described as an excellent one. "We hope at this point to later enroll the entire eligible migrant population of Laredo under this program," said Gonzalez. There are some 1,500 migrant families in the Laredo area. All types of medical problems are being treated under the program. It may be broken arm suffered by an enrollee in Colorado, a persistent fever in a small child, or injuries suffered in an automobile accident en route to the next job.

Each family carries a packet of information with it. Included is a medical insurance card for each family head, and a listing of the dependents by age and sex.

There also is a list of instructions for the health provider who treats any family member. Benefits are spelled out to the provider. Instructions are given in both Spanish and English.

The health program also functions in Laredo. "If the family is referred to a physician in Laredo by the Health Department, the doctor is paid 100 per cent of the usual charge," said Gonzalez. "If the family goes on its own, then the program pays only 75 per cent of the doctor's charge and the family pays the other 25 per cent."

Gonzalez says another state—Florida—has investigated the Laredo program and now has started one of its own.

Eventually, all the migrants in the country could be covered by an insurance plan—probably one in which the families pay a minimal amount for coverage. And, it is possible that the statistics compiled in the comprehensive Laredo study, says Gonzalez, will provide at least part of the final answer to the attainment and assurance of adequate health and equal medical care for all.

New Auto Dealer

Bob Goss became Hereford's new Chevrolet-Oldsmobile dealer Monday when he assumed ownership of Doyle Johnson Chevrolet-Olds. Goss purchased the dealership and is now the sole stockholder. The firm now sports a new name, "Cowboy Chevrolet-Olds Inc." Goss has been a Ford and Mercury dealer in Ennis for the past three years and was a Ford dealer in Dimmitt for five years. Goss explained that he chose the new name for the company "because it fits in well with the local economy."

Customs Advises: Know Rules

The Ranching Heritage Center at Texas Tech University now has on site a three-story elegant house, built a century away at the turn of the century.

The house was willed to the center by Mrs. Josephine Barton whose home it became when she was married in 1917 to Jack Barton, the son of the builder, Joseph James Barton.

The Ranching Heritage Center is a part of The Museum of Texas Tech University. It is an authentic outdoor exhibit depicting the real story of the history of ranching in America's West. The Elegant House is the 18th Historic structure moved to the 12-acre site, and it complements log cabins and dugouts, box-and-strip houses, a bunk house, blacksmith shop, carriage house, meat and milk house, among others.

Companies and agencies which helped during the three-day moving process included South Plains Electric Cooperative, South Plains Telephone Co-op, Amoco Oil Company, Southwestern Public Service, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway, Lubbock Power & Light Company, General Telephone Company, the Texas Highway Department, Texas Tech University College of Agricultural Sciences, the city of Lubbock, and Hale and Lubbock counties.

The Junior League of Lubbock is contributing $25,000 toward completion of the authentic furnishing of the house and the League's Ranch Research Committee is preparing background material for use in restoration.

Members of the Jack Barton family have contributed some home furnishings used by their parents.

Cable TV Develops Christian Telethon

A telethon to keep Christian television programs on the air in the Hereford area for the next year will be held on KXTX-TV, Channel 35 and on the local cable TV system carrying that station.

A special "pre-telethon program" will be run Monday through Thursday, June 9-12th at 7 PM, the regular time for "The 700 Club" crisis-counseling television program from which the telethon takes its name. Then the telethon will get into full swing Friday through Sunday, June 13th, 14th, and 15th during afternoon and evening hours.

All proceeds will be used to keep the crisis-counseling outreach, and the television program functioning in this general area.

The telethon will feature some of America's top Christian entertainers.

Telethon host will be M.G. "Pat" Robertson who hosts the nationally-syndicated "700 Club" program seen regularly on the station and carried by the local cable system.

The heart of the ministry is "The 700 Club" crisis-counseling TV program.

"But I bought it in a 'duty free' store," is a statement that is heard frequently by U.S. Customs Service officers.

Many travelers are shocked to learn that U.S. Customs duty may be collected on items purchased in "duty free" stores.

U.S. Commissioner of Customs Vernon D. Acree advises travelers that it is best to know before you go, and Customs stands ready to help. Here are some pointers on "duty free" stores that may save you trouble when you return from a trip to another country.

In the United States, the term "duty free" refers to a store in which a variety of items is offered for sale without tax and duty. This merchandise is sold on the condition that it will be consumed outside the U.S. Should it be returned to this country, full tax and duty must be assessed. And since the items were not acquired in a foreign country they cannot be included in the $100 exemption granted to U.S. residents. If the merchandise is acquired outside the U.S. and accompanies the resident on his or her return from a trip to a foreign country, it may be claimed free of duty and tax under the $100 exemption. A resident must have been out of the U.S. for at least 48 hours, with the exception of Mexico and the Virgin Islands, and must not have claimed the exemption within 30 days.

Postal Service Plans Space Stamps

The U.S. Postal Service today announced plans for providing several philatelic cancellation services during the joint U.S.-U.S.S.R. Apollo-Soyuz space mission in July.

The Postal Service will provide pictorial cancellations marking the link-up of the spacecraft, scheduled for July 17. The cancellations, depicting the spacecraft, will be applied in Houston, Texas and at the Kennedy Space Center.

In addition, the Postal Service will provide pictorial cancellations depicting the spacecraft in connection with the Apollo splash-down, now scheduled for July 24. There will be separate cancellations for the Atlantic and Pacific recovery operations. Any covers already submitted to the U.S. Navy will be forwarded to the Postal Service for servicing at the appropriate location.

Covers submitted for any of the cancellations—except the first day of issue—must have first-class or airmail postage stamps affixed. Cash, money orders or checks in lieu of the correct postage will not be accepted.

The KSC cachet offered by NASA is strictly limited to five covers per individual. No limitation exists for the other cancellations.

However, in connection with the first day of issue, the Postal Service will affix stamps to no more than 200 first day covers per individual.

Collectors should enclose a filler in each envelope to assure clear cancellations and to prevent damage to envelopes.

Mail orders for mint U.S. Apollo-Soyuz commemoratives will be filled only by the Philatelic Sales Division. Collectors desiring these mint U.S. stamps should send their orders to "Apollo-Soyuz Stamps," Philatelic Sales Division, Washington, DC 20265.

Remittance must include a 50-cent handling charge and be in the form of a money order or check.

Law Firm Announces Association of Green

The law firm of Witherspoon, Akh, Langley, Woods & Gulley this week announced the association of a new attorney, Richard E. Green, an Assistant Attorney General in Austin the past two years. James G. Witherspoon made the announcement, saying that the firm was very happy to secure the services of an attorney with the experience and background offered by Green. Green, 31, already had ties to Hereford since he lived here in 1924 and attended elementary school at Shirley. He also worked here several summers during his college years, and he is the nephew of Earnest Langley, well-known Hereford attorney. Green and his wife moved here over the weekend. His wife, Vicki, is a registered pharmacist and has been employed by the Ideal Pharmacy here.

A native of Sweetwater, Green graduated from the University of Texas and the SMU Law School. He served two years in the U.S. Navy and was employed with a Dallas law firm for two years before joining the attorney general's staff. As an AG assistant, he was in charge of litigation and charitable trusts for the state. Soviet ready to guarantee Israel's existence.

Plans Develop to Expand Astroworld

Exciting things are happening at Houston's Astroworld as it prepares to begin daily operations on May 31. Six Flags, Inc., one of the nation's leading theme park operators, recently acquired the 65-acre family entertainment center. Three new and exciting rides will immediately be added to Astroworld's lineup of attractions, and the park will undergo extensive general improvements. An estimated $2 1/2 million in capital improvements are also planned over the next two-year period. Included in these plans are such attractions as The Red Baron, a children's ride featuring individually controlled World War I-type fighter planes; an as yet unnamed roller coaster which will be the largest of its kind in the world, and a third ride which will remain a "Super Secret" until its unveiling later this year. The Abundant Life Worth The Effort even though there may be some fleeting thought about doing so. The wise conditioning of our minds, according to the facts of life, will surely help us to be able to "hold on".

This is not abject passiveness, but must be the most enlightened positiveness of which we are capable. Such action will not always be easy, but there is no reason to expect it to be easy; but it is possible, and this is the point.
"Not in Achievement, but in the endurance of the human soul does it show its divine grandeur, and its alliance with the infinite God."-Chapin.
There will be setbacks, and other difficulties; but there is no reason for permitting these to overcome us. We know beforehand that these are going to occur, once in awhile.
WE CAN KEEP TRYING and this should be our resolution from the very beginning. The resolve to continue sensible and knowledgeable efforts is the only acceptable approach to life.
We will keep remembering that, along the way, adjustments will be necessary, now and then; but we will "hold on".
We are not defeated by the happenings of life, unless we decide that this is the way we want it to be.

PRPC Forms New Alliance

Because of the growth in alcohol and drug related agency services in the Panhandle the past few years, the Alcohol Drug Abuse Board of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission has proposed the formation of a consortium (an alliance) of such agencies.
At the present, there are 16 primary alcohol-drug abuse agencies in the Panhandle, 15 primary live-in rehabilitation facilities and nearly 100 support agencies.
The prime purpose of the consortium should be a fellowship for mutual benefit of member agencies, according to the PRPC.
A meeting to formulate the organization of the regional alcohol-drug abuse consortium will be held at 12 noon June 13 at the Towne Crier Steak House in Amarillo, between Georgia and Western streets on I-40 West.
Lunch will be served on a "dutch treat" basis.
James H. Rademacher, President of the National Association of Letter Carriers: "It's highly discriminatory to give home delivery to some people and not to others."
AMTRAK GRANT
The House has approved $1.12-billion in grants to Amtrak, the national passenger train network for new train equipment and to make up deficits expected through Oct. 1, 1977.

Maintaining our interest in the aspects of life which are essential to the best of living is a big personal challenge for all of us. In fact, this is the test that we must pass; if we are ever able to make a satisfactory life for ourselves, and make ourselves desirable to other people. It is easy for us to decide that "it" is not worth the effort. This means that we must be on guard, and be very careful about the decisions we make. We must keep remembering that many things are "worth the effort" because of their intrinsic value, and some because of special value to us. The point is that there are a number of truly worthwhile things.
OUR VALUE SYSTEM will determine, in large measure, how much effort we are willing to put forth for the purpose of accomplishment. It will help us to keep in mind the fact that there will be some differences in accomplishments, even when it seems that all of us put forth about the same efforts. This is to be expected; however, this difference is never justification for not doing our best; for not trying.
The goals we set for ourselves must be realistic and reasonable. It is possible for a goal to be worthy, but to be completely beyond our reach. No amount of effort helps us. This kind of situation can cause great discouragement, but we must not let this happen.
We can know when a goal is out of our reach, and it is a tragedy to continue the destructive behavior of trying for goals that are unattainable.
WE CAN SET UP another unfortunate situation by trying to do too many things at the same time. This causes us to spread ourselves too thin. As a consequence, we grow weary and will eventually decide that "it" is not worth the effort.
It is much better to correctly judge what is reasonable, and what should have priority; and concentrate our efforts accordingly. Thus, we have a fair chance to maintain a workable level of interest and exertion.
FOR THE BEST OF LIFE, we must determine what is possible for us to do; make the correct plans for doing these things; and be convinced that the doing is "worth the effort". This possible and reasonable accomplishment will require perseverance and diligence.

and is certainly worthy of our very best.
"In all departments of activity, to have one thing to do, and then do it, is the secret of success."-Anon.
Many of the things in the areas of what we should be, and should do are certainly within our reach; and "worth the effort".
WE MUST NEVER forfeit our well-being by losing interest and failing to sustain reasonable, continuing effort.
HOLD ON
"These are times that try mens souls" is an observation that has been made many times, in different generations. Sometimes the words have been different, but the conclusion has always been the same; and has been justified.
We live in such times, but this in itself should not be alarming. Those who lived before us lived during trying times, and those who live after us will live in trying times.
It should be very clear to all of us that life is not easy. It is admitted that there are some people who manage better than others, and, for some, the life situation is more favorable; but all of us will be tested and tried. Even after making allowances for the fact that living is not the same for each person, living is still a time of testing; but there is nothing wrong with this arrangement.
"HOLD ON" is certainly appropriate exhortation, and is generally expressive of our personal need; the need to be courageous, determined, tenacious; and just as wise and knowledgeable as we can be. All of this is to be accomplished within the framework of the very best set of values. The better the values we choose for ourselves, the easier it will be to "hold on".
Many people give up, because they feel completely overwhelmed. They lose their perspective, or perhaps they never did have a proper one. Some of these persons just let themselves decide that "it's not worth the effort", their thinking becomes more and more one-sided, and wrong sided.
This is not an inevitable fate for anyone, because we do have a choice.
WE MUST NOT GIVE UP, Canada to reduce military role in Europe.

Clues Found For Extending Life Of Foods

Increasing the storage life of foods is one way agricultural science is seeking to add to the world's food supplies.
Food scientists at the University of Maryland are working on a substitute process for pasteurization that may prolong the shelf life of milk indefinitely.
Agricultural scientists at Cornell University have identified a natural plant hormone that may prevent vegetables from sprouting while in storage.
Maryland researchers are testing a milk sterilization process developed by a dairy equipment manufacturing concern. Under the process, milk is passed through a steam chamber and immediately heated to 300 degrees. It is held at that temperature for no more than two seconds, and then quickly cooled in a vacuum chamber.
By contrast, present pasteurization methods heat milk to 161 degrees for 15 seconds. If the new sterilization process does kill all living microorganisms as the company claims, scientists say it will be a significant breakthrough. Theoretically, the shorter heating time should destroy fewer nutrients.
From a consumer standpoint, a vital question will be whether people like the fresh milk flavor after being accustomed to the taste of cooked milk.

Rodeo Pays Well

Professional Rodeo, as one of America's oldest sports, has also become one of the largest paying to its top contenders.

1974 seem to bethought of as a poor year in most countries, and regarded by most media in the United States as a disastrous year for all economy on the home front. However, even with high fuel prices, increased costs of automobiles, and away from home living expenses scoring, the nations professional cowboys did well.

As in most large cities, commuter reports show car pools becoming the answer to traffic problems and a help to conserve fuel, rodeo contestants have followed in somewhat the same suit. Numerous cowboy contestants have pooled their finances and are traveling three or four to a car.

To allow greater advantage for the new travel concept, the Professional Association of Rodeo Cowboys now has a program devised called the "Buddy System." Within it's laws, a pair of contestants in the same event may enter a particular rodeo on the buddy plan and are guaranteed to compete at the same performance. In the case of Calf Ropers or any timed event situation this has also cut travel costs of hauling less roping horses.

Riding event cowboys, many who are pilots of small aircraft, have been able to travel as many as six per plane, and as many as four rodeos per week many be entered by most of its passengers.

Cowboys travel approximately 144 million miles annually not including nearly 2 million dollars spent for air transportation. Total expenditures have been statistically recorded for the year of 1974 at $32,219,931.00 This figure is to include car expense, food and lodging, insurance, telephone, Western wear, tack and equipment, horses and horse trailers.

As your community progresses with the success of professional rodeo, include your weekend entertainment within the 5th Annual Pioneer Days Rodeo, June 6th, 7th, & 8th, to be held in Clovis.

AL Baseball Team Begins Play Friday

The final session of tryouts for Hereford's American Legion baseball team will be held Friday at 6:30 at the high school baseball field, according to coach Ken Hagar.

Hereford's baseballers will see their first action Saturday night at 7:30 at Pampa and will make it a full weekend by hosting Borger at 4 p.m. Sunday.

The first five games of the season are only practice sessions and won't count in conference standings according to Hagar.

The team is a young one with nine 16 year olds, one 15 year old, two 17 year olds and one 18 year old.

Here's the American Legion Baseball schedule:

June 7, 7:30 at Pampa; June 8, Borger, 4:00, here; June 10, 6:30, at Amarillo; June 14, Perryton at Amarillo, 4:00; June 15, Dumas, here, 4:00; June 17, Caprock there, 6:30; June 21, Amarillo, there, 8:00; June 22, Memphis, here, 4:00; June 24, at Plainview, 7:30; June 28, Canyon, here, 5:00; June 29, Caprock, here, 4:00; July 1, Amarillo, here, 6:30; July 5, at Memphis; 4:00; July 6, Plainview, here, 4:00; July 8, at Canyon, 7:30.

The district tournament will be held July 21-26. All Amarillo games will be played at Memorial Stadium and all Hereford games will be played at the high school field.

Times for Hereford's home games are tentative according to Hagar.

First Half Bronco Play Ends, Young Stars Excel

By JOE LACKEY Sports Writer

Decades ago the grace, speed, power, and general skill of the big-league baseball player made the summer game the national pastime.

And during the past decade or two wherever baseball fans have gathered an argument based on the quality of the game the way it is played today, and the way this quality compares to the caliber of play many years ago, has raged. Those who maintain that baseball action see today is superior to the play of the old-time player point to the many modern baseball programs involving America's youth to support their arguments.

These people claim that such programs as Hereford's Bronco baseball program make possible the development of superior play among youngsters, which in turn eventually results in better play in the big leagues.

The first half of the 1975 Hereford Bronco baseball program has ended, and local fans wonder whether some of the kids who have excelled this summer will be the Mantles, the Clementes, the Aarons of the future.

The 1975 Bronco season will end June 20. The winners of the first half will play the winners of second half action to determine the champion of each league.

The All-Stars will be announced at the Baseball Banquet.

In Boys' action, the Pee Wee division, the Giants came in first with a 7-0 record. The Dodgers were a close second at 6-1, with the Braves at 5-2, the Astros, 4-3, the Angels at 2 1/2-4 1/2, the Yankees, 2-5, the Cubs 1 1/2-5 1/2, and the hard-luck Cardinals at 0-7.

In the Minor League, the Angels stormed home with a 6 1/2-1/2 record to take first. They were followed by the Cubs at 4 1/2-2 1/2; the Astros, 4-3; the Giants, 3 1/2-3 1/2; the Cardinals, 3 1/2-3 1/2; the Dodgers, 3-4; the Yankees, 2-5; and the Braves, 1-7.

The rugged Major League action saw the Yankees and Giants battle to a tie with identical 5-2 records. The Astros followed at 4-3; other teams included the Braves, also at 4-3; and the Dodgers at 4-3, making it a three-way tie; the Angels at 3-4; the Cubs with a 2-5; and the Cardinals at 2-5.

Those who advocate a large role in sports for members of the fairer sex will take heart in the girls' division of Bronco activity.

In the girls' Minor League, the Astros took first with a 6-1 record; the Dodgers finished with 5-2; the Angels, 4-3; the Cardinals, also at 4-3; the Yankees at 4 1/2-2 1/2; the Cardinals at 3-4; the Angels at 2-5; the Dodgers, also at 2-5; and the Cubs at 1 1/2-5 1/2.

In the girls' Major League, the Astros took first with a 6-1 record; the Dodgers finished with 5-2; the Angels, 4-3; the Cardinals, also at 4-3; the Giants, 3-4; the Yankees, also at 3-4; the Braves, 2-5; and the Cubs, 1-6.

Free Entry To Be Available At Parks

On June 2, persons 65 years of age and older are eligible for free entry to state parks in Texas.

The 64th Texas Legislature recently passed an act which gives such persons access to parks without paying an entrance fee.

Parks authorities at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department are prepared to issue a "State Parklands Passport" to those 65 and older who can verify their age. A driver's license, birth certificate, military discharge papers or other suitable identification must be presented to verify both the age and identity of the individual at the time of passport is issued.

A holder of a state Parklands Passport will be admitted to a park when the windshield sticker passport is displayed or a Parklands Passport registration receipt is presented.

BALL PARK

Candy Sale Participants

Lisa Connally, 8, a member of the Minor League Giants and Brad Waiser, 8, a member of the Pee Wee Angels show scorekeeper Joyce Kaul some of the candy which softball and Pony League youngsters will be selling in a special project here Saturday. Approximately 1200 youngsters will be going from door to door selling chocolate bar candy at a price of $1.25 per bar to help raise money to finance a new ball park complex here. Mothers are to pick up the candy at St. Anthonys school between 8:30 and 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

Dory Jr. To Appear

The Hereford Lions Club presents Former World Heavyweight Wrestling Champion Dory Funk Jr. at the Bull Barn Saturday night in a tag team match. His wrestling partner is the Canadian Adonis, Nick Kozak, known as the "Burt Reynolds of the Mat World." They meet Don Fargo, "The Body Beautiful" from Hell's Kitchen in New York City, and Bobby Jagers. Jagers is a former Washington State Lumberjack.

Zociac, a 260 pound masked man, meets newcomer Billy Ravens, who stands 6'6" and tips the scales at 280 pounds.

In an opening match, a 300 pound black wrestler hailing from Atlanta GA makes a debut against Alex Perez. The Black Behemoth is Ray "Candy Man" Candy, who has already excited Panhandle crowds.

Dory Funk Jr. held the World Title longer than any other man-a matter of four and a half years.

Chamber Women Boost Singers

Hereford Chamber Singers are $200 closer to a San Antonio performance due to action taken Thursday at the Country Club by board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce-Women's Division.

The contribution, which was proposed and accepted at the monthly meeting, will help pave the Singers' way to the annual convention of the Texas Choral Directors Association in August. The Choir, which was organized this past autumn, was the only community group in Texas to receive a special invitation to sing at the 1975 assembly.

Mrs. O.G. Nieman, who presided at the business discussion, issued a challenge to local clubs and civic organizations to match this donation by contributing $1 per member. These gifts can be made by contacting the Chamber Singers director Bill Devers, Mrs. Ken Walser, or the Chamber of Commerce Office.

Mrs. Joe Henry described the forum discussion on interior decorating which is planned during the July general membership meeting. Linda Yocum had volunteered to coordinate the panel, which will include Ann Orr, Leatrice Clark and Par Clark.

This meeting will be held June 30 so as not to conflict with the patriotic program to be presented July 1 by the Chamber Singers. During the General membership meeting, Miss Hereford Monica Herring will model the evening gown given to her by the Women's Division. She will also perform the piano selection which she will enter as talent competition in the Miss Texas Pageant scheduled July 9-12 at Fort Worth. Donna Kendall, Miss Teen Hereford, will also be on the entertainment agenda.

Mrs. Nieman reminded members that tickets for the state pageant should be ordered through the Chamber office so that a delegation of Hereford residents can obtain a block section for the event. A season ticket for all four nights may be purchased for $16. Checks or money orders should be payable to "Amusement Ticket Service."

In other business, Mrs. Melvin Hoover, chairman of public affairs, reported that the Summer Youth Program begun this week has gathered a good crowd of local youngsters. She told other board members that Miss Cindy Hairgrove, a past Miss Teen Hereford, has been hired part-time to help with SYP activities at Community Center.

Mrs. Hoover continued her report, switching to the self-improvement course which is scheduled 7:30-10 p.m. here on Sept. 15 through sponsorship of the Women's Division. Encompassing a career charm girl clinic, the course will be keynoted by Micky McDonald, national director of American Beauty Charm Schools. Further details will be announced at a later date.

Bill Albright, executive vice president of Deaf Smith County

C of C, addressed the women briefly, congratulating the auxiliary organization on their assistance with the recent All Girl Professional Rodeo.

In addition, Mrs. Nieman stated that a certificate of appreciation was sent to the Women's Division from Jo An Dwyer in behalf of Big Brothers-Big Sisters Inc. of Hereford. The executive director expressed gratitude for the help at the recent BB-BS appreciation banquet, Mrs. Nieman said.

Other news from the Chamber office was given by Mrs. Percy Willson, who reported that Debbie Moore, a high school student, is the newest addition to the C of C staff. Miss Moore is sponsored by the Hereford High School Vocational Office Education Department.

Recounting membership, Mrs. Joe Railey said that the registry had dropped to 197 since the previous meeting.

Attending the Dutch luncheon were Albright and Mmes. Nieman, Hoover, Henry, Railey, Waldo Baxter, Bill Johnson, Rocky Lee, Ed Jessup, Roy Faubion and Willson.

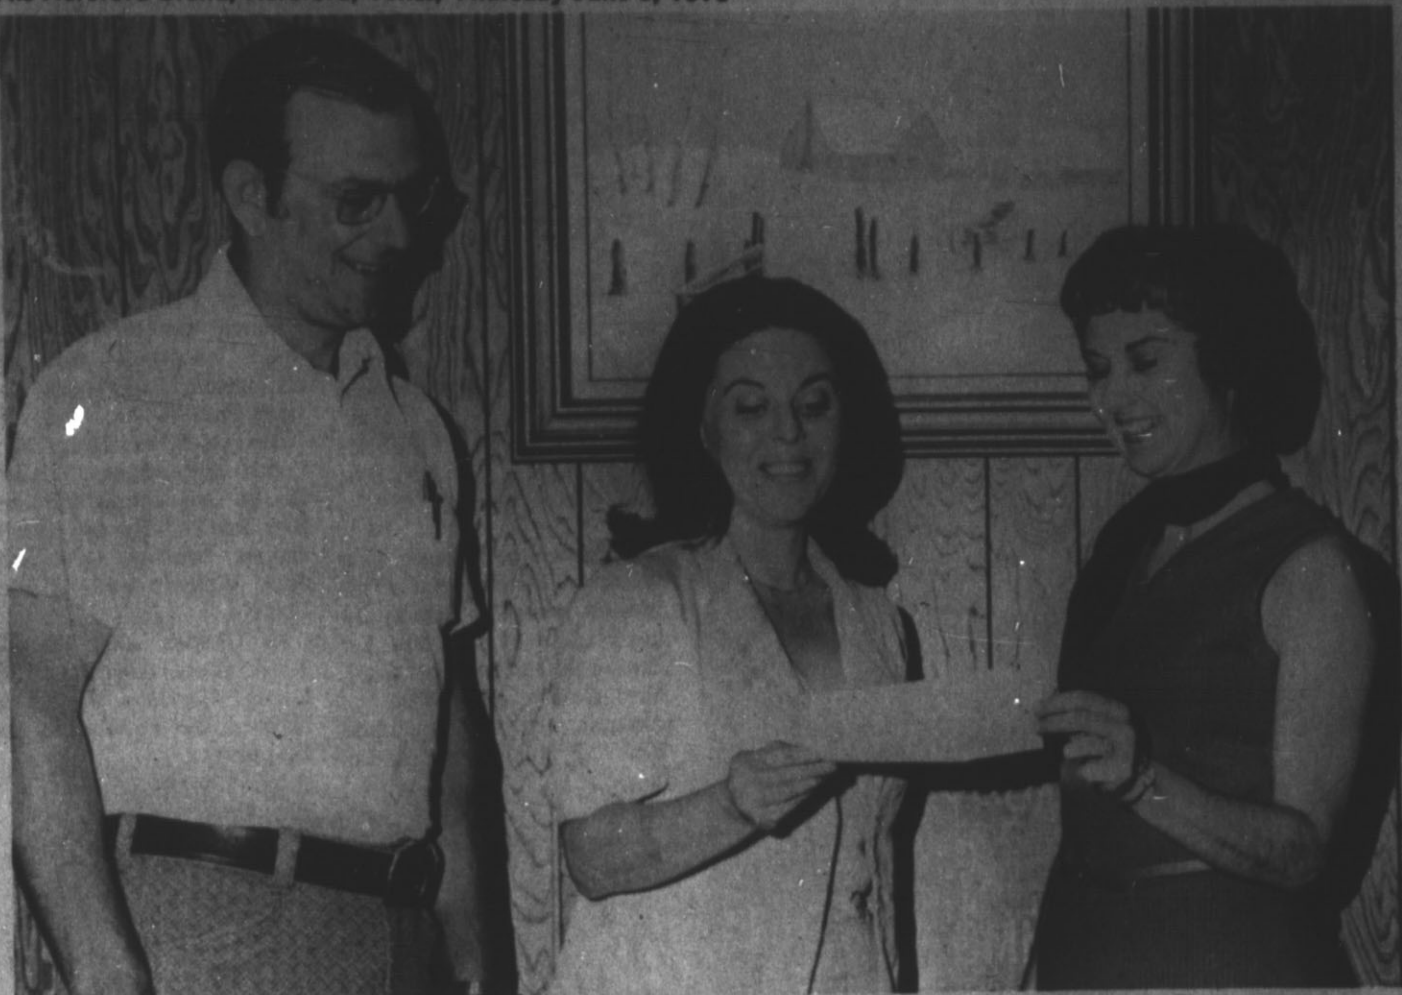

Installation Ceremonies To Be Held

The public is invited to attend officer installation ceremonies for Order of the Eastern Star at 8 p.m. Saturday evening in Masonic Hall. Refreshments will be served in the dining hall after the ritual.

Mrs. Charles Brown will be installed as worthy matron and Deward Roberson will be inducted as worthy patron.

Directing the installation will be Mrs. Tom Draper, installation officers; Mrs. Bill Hutson, marshal; Mrs. Johnny Latham, organist; Mrs. J.B. Noland, chaplain; Mrs. O.H. Culpepper, secretary.

Ticket To San Antonio Performance

A check for $200 was presented Tuesday to Hereford Chamber Singers from the Women's Division of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. Making the presentation was Mrs. O.G. Nieman, at right, who is president of the Women's Division. Accepting on behalf of the Singers are Bill Devers, choir director, and Mrs.

Wesley Gulley, chairman of the board of directors. The funds will be used to defray travel expenses for the group, who have been invited to perform at the Texas Choral Directors Association convention at San Antonio in August.

POST-NUPTIAL FATIGUE IS OUR only excuse for the mistake concerning the Order of the Eastern Star installation story which appeared in Sunday's edition. We sort of jumped the gun because Wanda Brown and Deward Roberson have not yet been officially installed as worthy matron and worthy patron, respectively. They will be inducted during formal ceremonies Saturday evening at Masonic Temple and ten p.m. is welcome to attend the annual ritual. It starts at 8 p.m.

A BACHELOR OF SCIENCE degree in education from Texas Tech University was recently awarded to Miss Suzanne Solomon with highest honors. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Solomon of 500 Star St., she is a 1971 graduate of Hereford High School.

At Tech, the local woman was included on the Dean's list each semester with a 3.82 grade point average on a 4.0 scale. She was active in Mu Phi Epsilon, a professional music sorority, the Music Educators National Conference and Advancement of Childhood Education programs. Miss Solomon has served as a Girl Scout leader during the past four years.

CHILDREN AND GRAND-CHILDREN OF Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wilhelm, Erie, joined their parents for a family picnic in Palo Duro Canyon recently. Attending from out-of-town were their three daughters, Beatrice, Cecelia and Jane, and their families. They included Dr. and Mrs. John Nishimuta and sons, Kevin and Stephan, of Huntsville, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. John Hines and daughter, Holly, of Kansas City, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Ronaki George of Frankfort, Ky.

Also joining the group were the Wilhelm's two local sons, George and Joe, and their clans.

THE WOMEN'S DIVISION of the Chamber of Commerce made a generous donation to the Chamber Singers, who are preparing for a "command performance" at the Texas Choral Directors Association convention at San Antonio in August.

Members of the Women's Division are challenging local clubs and civic groups to contribute at least $1 per member of their individual organization for the Singers' trip. Several groups have already responded to this need but more funds are required for the performance.

The Choral Directors Assn. requests only one community choir in the state to appear at the annual assembly and the local Singers were invited on the sole merits of their director Bill Devers.

ERNESTINA ROMO GARZA of Hereford was one of 450 students of Texas A&I University, Kingsville, to be included on the Honor Roll for the spring semester. Requirements for this award are a 3.5 grade average on a 4.0 scale with a minimum of 12 hours completed.

Presbyterian Bible School To Be Held

Bible study, craft projects and games have been planned activities during Vacation Bible School at First United Presbyterian Church.

Children between the ages of 2-12 years old are invited to attend the school which will be held 9-11 a.m. each day during the week of June 9-13. Church members as well as other youngsters in the community are welcome to participate.

IRANIAN GIFT GENEVA—A gift of $500,000 from Empress Farah of Iran to the World Health Organization was announced at the beginning of the United Nation's agency's annual assembly.

Child Development Center Holds Graduation Exercises

The Hereford Child Development Center had their graduation exercises Friday night in the High School Auditorium with some 60 students participating. The Headstart program, sponsored by HEW, has prepared the children to enter public schools.

The program has been in existence in Hereford for four years and plans have been made for this summer to have a summer program for incoming migrant children from the ages of three months to five years. This program will be held at Central Elementary during July and August. Hopes are that the program can continue to have Central School for the fall session. Funds have been received from HEW for the fall program but a place has not been designated.

Special guests at the graduation included Sister Rachel Cavazos, executive director for the program, Rev. Pablo Garcia and Jose Griego. The staff at the center is Irma G. Medina, director; Mrs. Eloise Beltran, Mrs. Bessie Mendoza, Mrs. Aurora Ramirez, Mrs. Mary Mondragon, Mrs. Janie Campos, Mrs. Lydia Vallejo, Mrs. Gloria Mendez and Mrs. Rosario Camenz, all teachers; Jose Trevino, busdriver and Natividad Ruk, cook. Hereford Migrant workers would like to thank all the parents for their cooperation. Dr. Whitley, the Public Health Clinic, Jose Griego, and Wesley Methodist Church for the use of their facilities.

Veterans Director Issues Reminder

Noting that 355,000 veterans died during fiscal year 1974 and that 206,000 of these deaths were World War II veterans, Jack Coker, Veterans Administration Regional Director, issued a reminder to veterans to make certain their survivors know what VA benefits they may be entitled to when death comes.

"Not only should the veteran and his wife discuss the subject of death," Coker stressed, "they should make known locations of important family documents, and make sure they are protected from fire, theft and damage." Also, survivors should be briefed on what to do in case of the veteran's death.

The veteran should tell his family about possible survivor's benefits such as VA's dependency and indemnity compensation for service-connected death, or non-service-connected death pensions for widows, or for children when there is no widow, or when a widow is ineligible because of excessive income.

Burial benefits for wartime and certain peacetime veterans should not be overlooked. These include a maximum $250 burial allowance, plus a plot allowance not exceeding $150 for veterans buried outside national cemeteries. For veterans who die of service-connected disabilities, in lieu of the other benefits, there is an $800 burial allowance.

For those who don't have all the information and for those who do, Coker offered this final advice to survivors: "Don't forget to turn to VA offices, veterans county service officers and veterans service organizations when assistance is needed after the death of a veteran. They stand ready to help in any way possible."

Prune your rambler roses immediately after blooming unless you need the foliage for shade or screening.

Shower Honors Miss Brittain

The home of Mrs. J.V. Perrin was decorated with spring flowers recently for a bridal shower honoring Miss Mariellen Brittain.

Miss Brittain will be the bride of Jerry Homfeld of Adrian on June 14 at Groom.

Apicot-color corsages were presented to members of the receiving line, who included the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Leo Brittain of Groom, her sister, Mrs. George Ann Hinsen of Amabillo, her fiance's mother, Mrs. C.F. Homfeld of Adrian and Mrs. Perrin. Punch was served from a table centered with an arrangement of iris by Mrs. Doris Pinnell.

Hostesses assisting Mrs. Perrin were Meses. Pinnell, George Grubbs, S. McCown, Ray Brown, Hardy Harris, Jimmie Bradley, G.V. Hall, Jack Weaver and Charles Higgins.

Also Meses. Bill Guggell, Elmo Hall, Joe Brownell, Edwin Morrison Jr., F.A. Kromer, Jake Fortenberry and Cal Jackson.

Library Exhibits Tool Collection

Sharp edged tools which have carved man's progressive history have been assembled by Judge Sam Morgan and are now on display at Deaf Smith County Library.

The collection will be featured throughout this month. Included in the exhibit is the knife, which Morgan describes as one of man's oldest tools.

"His companion in peace and war," the knife has been used to hunt and as an eating utensil, Morgan commented. The pocket knife, "a must for daily use," became popular in the 1830-75 period. "A man or boy simply was not dressed without his pocket knife," the judge said. "Even today, many people still carry them."

Other items in the collection are hunting knives, wood cutting equipment and kitchen utensils.

"I am deeply interested in our early day history," Morgan commented. "These tools are a vital part of that history. Each of them has a fascinating story to tell."

OES Installation To Include Rainbow

Members of Rainbow for Girls met Monday at Masonic Temple and received an invitation to attend installation ceremonies of Order of the Eastern Star on Saturday.

Mrs. Charles Brown will assume her position as worthy matron at this ritual and Deward Roberson will be installed as worthy patron. Rainbow Girls will help serve refreshments at the annual occasion.

Members were also asked to help Masons during a meeting June 26 when 25-year pins will be presented.

As fund-raising project, the Rainbow assembly will operate a fireworks stand July 4.

Presiding over the business discussion were Rainbow officers.

Recognized as guests were Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hershey, Mrs. L.J. Clark, Mrs. Charlie Brown and Mr. and Mrs. E.A. Hartley.

Recital Caps Year

Culminating a year of piano lessons, students of Mrs. Joe Hacker were presented in recital Sunday at First Christian Church.

These pupils are from private and group instruction. Their next performance will be a patriotic program July 31.

Bicycle Safety Important

Economic and health benefits from bicycling have increased the number of riders lately.

So it's more important than ever to remember that Always Be Careful is the ABC of bicycle safety, reminded Dorothy Taylor, family life education specialist.

"Bicycling shouldn't be a game of chance, nor should the ride end in the hospital emergency room if bicycle safety rules are observed," the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said.

More than 15 per cent of bike accidents are caused by mechanical and structural problems. This makes it important for the rider to observe safety rules—but it's also his responsibility to ride a safe bike, she said.

Bicycles come in different sizes, just like people.

--Sidewalk bikes are for beginners (children) and may have training wheels to steady the child's balance.

--A middle-weight bicycle has one or two speeds, balloon tires and coaster brakes. It offers stability and strength for everyday riding.

--High-rise bicycles usually have high-rise handle bars, banana seats and are small in size. High-rise bikes are fun and easy to handle, but are hard to pedal long distances.

--Lightweight bikes have more gear, complex parts and hand brakes. They're easy to ride over hills and long distances.

--Adult-size tricycles are three-wheeled bikes with balloon tires, coaster brakes and no gears.

"Riders should select a bicycle that fits them in size, transportation needs and riding skills," Miss Taylor said.

Safety features to check are reflectors on back and front and on wheels; lights for night riding; pedals with treads; no protruding or sharp points that snag clothing. Also hand and foot brakes that hold; wheels that do not wobble; and bike parts such as spokes, chain, handlebar grips, brake pads and cables that are in good, not worn, condition.

Special care should be taken to avoid long coats, loose-legged pants or blinding caps when riding. Stunting on bicycles or failing to observe traffic rules are poor riding habits, she said.

You can't be cool when your feet are uptight.

Bridal Candidate Receives Shower

Miss Marcia Marie Tiefel, who will marry Danny Boyer at First Christian Church Saturday evening, was given a bridal shower Friday afternoon at Hereford Country Club.

Wearing a corsage of white daisies clasped with blue ribbon, the honoree received guests with her mother, Mrs. Arthur Tiefel, Mrs. Wesley Easley, Mrs. J.J. Lindsey and her fiance's mother. Each received a corsage similar to the one given to the honoree.

A blue vase of daisies and babybreath marked the guest registry table where Miss Suzanne Hewitt presided.

Three candles nestled in an arrangement of blue carnations, white daisies and babybreath as a focal point on the serving table. Cakes squares decorated with miniature wedding bells, fresh fruit and punch were offered by Mrs. Wayne Winget and Miss DeAnn Dickson.

Other hostesses included Mmes. Bartley Dowell, Palmer Norton, T.D. Holbert, Troy Moore, Eugene Hendon, Alma Scott, Glenn Watts, P.B. Sowell, G.C. Graves, H.A. Cavness, Marvin Coffey, John Schneider, Charles Laing and Howard Gore.

Laughter has its springs in some kind of meanness or deformity.

Bridal Coffee Held

Miss Sheila Lea, bride-elect of Thomas Michael Hall of Vega, received a miscellaneous shower at a coffee Saturday morning in the home of Mrs. T.E. Seigler, 216 Centre. Greeting guests were, from left, Mrs. Thomas Gerald Hall of Vega, the prospective bridegroom's mother, Miss Lea and her mother Mrs. Lewis Lea and Mrs. Seigler. The engaged couple will be married June 28 at First Christian Church.

Rebekahs Elect New Officers

Officers for the coming term were elected Tuesday night by members of Rebekah Lodge 228 at the regular meeting in IOOF Hall.

Named to office were Mrs. Jim Shaw, noble grand, and Mrs. Muri Bridges, vice grand.

In other business, plans were finalized for the "L'il Grand Ol' Opry" which is scheduled at 2:30 p.m. June 29 in IOOF Hall.

Lynon Allred will be master of ceremonies.

Musicians wishing to take part in this program should contact Harold Manning, Lewis McCustian or Mrs. R.E. Curtisinger.

Also, Rebekah Lodge members will serve supper to the Odd Fellow Circle meeting Monday. The official Odd Fellow Memorial Day will be observed at the next lodge meeting with a special service planned.

Mrs. Curtisinger reported the visit she and Mrs. Leonard Davis made Monday evening to Friona Rebekah Lodge.

Forty visits to sick individuals and 11 greeting cards were reported. Mrs. Fay Brownlow served as hostess to 18 members present.

New rates for long distance calls within Texas.

With Discount Periods and a new One-Minute Rate, you may be able to save money.

Rates for Long Distance calls within Texas have just changed.

For you—the telephone customer—it means most rates are going up.

But you may be surprised to learn that rate changes won't necessarily bring higher telephone bills.

Because with our new discount for dialing your own calls, you can better control your Long Distance costs.

In some cases, you may be able to save money on your Long Distance bill by taking advantage of these rates.

For example, there's a new one-minute rate on all calls that you dial yourself—without the operator's help.

Under the old rate, the initial rate period was for three minutes. Now on One-Plus dialed calls the initial rate period is one minute.

That means you can save by reducing the length of your call.

	Mon	Tues	Wed	Thurs	Fri	Sat	Sun
8 a.m. to 5 p.m.	Day Rate Period Full Rate
5 p.m. to 11 p.m.	Evening Rate Period 25% Discount						Eve. 25% Discount
11 p.m. to 8 a.m.	Night and Weekend Rate Periods 35% Discount

NOTE: The Evening rate applies all day on the following holidays: New Year's Day, July 4, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas Day, except in instances where the holiday falls into Night/Weekend period. In this case, the lower rate applies.

*On operator-assisted calls, the same rate applies at all hours on all days.

Nights and Weekends there will be a 35 per cent discount.

So, if you call later in the day or night, or on weekends, you're going to get the lowest rates possible.

But if you place calls through an operator, rates for these Zero-Plus calls will be higher, at any time—night or day. These include calls from a coin phone, collect, credit card and calls billed to a third number.

The initial rate period of three minutes will continue for these and other operator-assisted calls.

And, person-to-person calls will cost more than any other type call.

	#One-Plus	Each Additional One-Plus Minute
DAY RATE	50c or less	42c or less
EVENINGS 25% Discount	38c or less	32c or less
NIGHTS AND WEEKENDS 35% Discount	33c or less	27¢ or less

#One-Plus charges for 1 minute.

NOTE: One-Plus rates also apply on station-to-station calls placed with an operator where One-Plus facilities are not available.

*Rates quoted do not include taxes.

Simply put, if you dial the call yourself, you are going to get a lower rate. If you place your call through an operator, it will cost more.

Now our new rates offer you a choice.

By dialing your own calls and by taking advantage of our discount rate period, you can still get low rates and fast service.

Southwestern Bell

Also, for the first time we are offering flat percentage discounts for Evening, Night and Weekend One-Plus calls.

Using the Day rate as the base, the Evening rates will be 25 per cent less. And, on

TIPS ON HOW TO SAVE ON LONG DISTANCE

To save on your Long Distance calls within Texas, follow these tips:

- (1) Dial all your Long Distance calls the One-Plus way. Dial 1, plus the Area Code, if it's different from your own, plus the seven-digit number.
- (2) The new one-minute rate for One-Plus calls is in effect 24-hours a day. If you talk 60 seconds or less, you pay for only one minute—not three.
- (3) When possible, call Nights and Weekends the One-Plus way. You'll be getting a 35 per cent discount from the Day rate.
- (4) If you call Evenings, you will save 25 per cent from the Day rate on One-Plus calls.

Putter Presentation

In a humorous presentation at the Hereford School District's end-of-school luncheon Thursday, Supt. Roy Hartman had a surprise presentation for Jim Holmes, an administrative assistant. The "gift" was a putter, covered with mud, grass and moss, which was reported to be a golf club that Holmes threw in Tierra Blanca Creek after missing a short putt. Holmes declined comment on the authenticity of the tale.

Beef Prices Creep Upward

Beef prices jumped up a bit this week, and poultry is holding last week's price levels or creeping a "shade higher."
 One observer cites lighter weight cattle coming to market for the beef increase.
 "Lighter weight cattle mean less meat is available," Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said.
 University System, said.
 She termed chuck roasts and steaks, round steaks, some boneless roasts, ground beef and liver "best values."
 "Also, some economical buys still may be found on turkeys, and canned tuna, particularly at sale prices, is another good protein buy."
 At vegetable counters cantaloupes are more plentiful with lower prices. Items with "attractive" price tags include bell peppers, okra, some salad greens and snap beans.

 "Watermelon prices remain relatively high, and dry onion prices are holding to high levels due mostly to a reduced supply."
 "High-quality vegetables on the market are squash (yellow, zucchini and white (potatoes, corn, cabbage, beets, collards, mustard greens, cucumbers, green onions and radishes," Mrs. Clyatt said.
 Fruit buys this week range from lemons and oranges to bananas, strawberries, pineapples, avocados and apples.

CONSUMER WATCH
 WORDS: Ice cream packed in an ordinary waxed cardboard carton will keep quality longer in a home freezer if you wrap the carton in heavy aluminum foil.
 Also, be sure the freezer is holding a 0 degree F., or lower, temperature.

Don't Gulp Drinks, Scientists Say

Drinking alcoholic beverages slowly rather than gulping may be a sign of responsible drinking.
 According to the Distilled Spirits Council's Research Division, two University of Oklahoma scientists report that not only is a quick drink more potent than a slow one, but a test on 40 volunteers showed that the gulpers retain alcohol in the blood longer than the sippers.

 Ben Morgan Jones, associate director of Alcohol Studies, and Dr. Oscar A. Parson, Psychiatry Professor at the University, not only observed that a quick drink is more potent than a slow one, and the effects last longer, but that the drinker's subjective experiences are also significant.

Honey Compared To Sugar

Honey is often touted as "much better for you" than other sugars. But is it really?
 Sally Springer, foods and nutrition specialist, said that honey is actually no more practical than sugar as a source for adequate daily intake of necessary nutrients.
 "A tablespoon of honey provides more calories and carbohydrates than the same amount of granulated, powdered or brown sugar."
 "It has less calcium, phosphorus and iron than brown sugar. Honey contains minimal amounts of thiamin, riboflavin and ascorbic acid," the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said.
 She explained that there are only small differences in the amounts of vitamins and minerals in honey and other sugars.
 Honey is invert sugar formed by an enzyme from nectar gathered by bees. It's composed of different kinds of sugars, including dextrose, sucrose, levulose and maltose, she said.
 "Honey varies in composition and flavor, depending upon the source of the nectar—clover, orange blossom, sage—and is sweeter than common table sugar."
 The man who was boasting of his love for hot weather some months ago should be satisfied.

"What therefore God hath joined together, let no man put asunder." Matthew 19:6
These words, so familiar to us all, are too often forgotten in today's marriages. Unfortunately, there is a great loss of faith in the institution of marriage. Put God back in your marriage. Make the church the center of your life. Attend church as a couple this Sunday.

Cowbells Suggest Beef For Fathers Day Recipes

When beefed up, a simple salad can become a substantial luncheon entree, for adding cubes of roast beef increases food value as well as flavor. You'll see it happen when you prepare this inviting salad that stretches meat value with macaroni, according to Reba Staggs, National Live Stock & Meat Board.

- Curried Beef Salad
- 1 pound cooked beef, cut in 1/2 to 3/4-inch cubes (approximately 4 cups)
 - 2 cups cooked elbow macaroni
 - 1 medium-sized onion, chopped
 - 1/2 cup diced celery
 - 1/2 cup diced green pepper
 - 1/4 cup sweet pickle relish
 - 1/2 cup salad dressing
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 to 1 teaspoon curry powder
 - 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 - 6 tomatoes, cut in wedges, if desired
 - 6 lettuce cups
 - Chopped peanuts, if desired
 - Flaked coconut, if desired
- Combine beef cubes, cooked macaroni, onion, celery, green pepper and sweet pickle relish. Combine salad dressing, salt, curry powder and pepper. Lightly stir seasoned dressing into beef mixture until combined. Chill thoroughly. Serve in lettuce cups on tomato wedges, arranged petal fashion, if desired. Sprinkle chopped peanuts and/or flaked coconut over top of each individual salad, if desired. 6 servings.

Beef Certificates Designed For Dads

Beef gift certificates negotiable at grocery markets are described by Hereford CowBelles as "perfect gifts for Dads on Father's Day June 15." These certificates can be purchased in any amount and are recognized by food firms throughout this area, stated Mrs. Jim Perrin who is directing the Beef For Father's Day campaign with Mrs. Elmo Hall. These unique items are available locally from Mrs. Dick Coupe at Hereford Cattle Sales Inc. 136 E. 3rd.

Beef certificates will be prizes in a drawing to be held prior to Father's Day. Residents, particularly men, are urged to enter by registering at Hereford barbershops.

Swine Short Course Slated At Tech

Nutrition, management and the latest findings in research will highlight the 23rd annual Swine Short Course at Texas Tech University June 26 and 27. The two-day short course will bring together professional pork producers, animal scientists and educators for discussion and reports on the latest practices in the pork industry. Sponsors of the short course are the Texas Pork Producers Association; the Texas Pork Production Board and the Department of Animal Science at Texas Tech.

Registration for the meeting will begin at 9 a.m. in the foyer outside Auditorium 38 in the Tech Chemistry Building. All short course meetings will be in Auditorium 38. Short course sessions begin at 9:30 a.m. June 26 with opening remarks by Dr. Grover E. Murray, president of Texas Tech.

Program topics for the short course include: "Future

Outlook for Livestock Industry in the Southwest," by Dr. Don Agnew, U.S. Department of Agriculture economist, Washington, D.C., 9:40 a.m.; "Future Impact of Current Misuse of Antibiotics," by Dr. Jim Miyat, Elanco Technical Veterinarian, Indianapolis, Ind., 10:15 a.m.; "Producing Feeder Pigs that Meet Swine Feedlot Requirements," by Dr. Gilbert Hollis, Texas A&M University Extension Service, 10:45 a.m.; "Value of Cottonseed Meal, Sunflower Meal and Peanut Meal in Swine Diets," by Dr. D.H. Baker, University of Illinois, 11:05 a.m.; "Current Status of Market Cooperatives in West Texas," by James Mitchell, president, South Plains Swine Marketing Assn., Lubbock, and Ron Davis, Texas Agricultural Marketing Development Assn. of the Texas Farm Bureau, Amarillo, 11:25 a.m. The afternoon June 26 session will be concerned with Problems in Confinement Rearing of Swine. Topics include: Breeding Difficulties: Glits, Sows, Bows," by Dr. Ray Washam, Ralston Purina Co., St. Louis, Mo. 1:15 p.m.; "Breeding Herd Nutritional Requirements and Feeding Methods," by Dr. D.H. Baker, 1:45 p.m.; "Breeding Herd Management" a panel discussion featuring Lacy Montgomery, Memphis, Elwyn Glenn, Kress, and Danny Cure, Olton, and Gilbert Hollis, moderator, 2:30 p.m.; "Big or Little Kind?" by T.D. Tanksley, animal scientist, Texas A&M University, 3:35 p.m.; "Swine Waste as Fertilizer," by Dr. John Sweetep, extension agricultural engineer, Texas A&M University, 4:05 p.m.

June 27 sessions will include research reports from Texas Tech University at 8:30 a.m. and a discussion at 10:10 a.m. of "Who will Produce Breeding Stock in 1985" including "What the Commercial Producer Requires" by Leon Midgley, commercial producer, Clint; "Role of the Purebred Breeder," by Larry Tackitt, Happy; and "Role of the Breeding Company," by Dr. Earl Lasley, Farmers Hybrid Companies, Inc., Hampton, Iowa.

The short course will conclude with a report from the Texas Pork Producers at 11:40 a.m.

The course will include a banquet Thursday, June 26, at 7 p.m. in the University Center Ballroom at Texas Tech. Following the banquet the Texas Pork Producers Association and the Texas Pork Producers Board will hold meetings of their boards of directors.

The Texas Porkettes women's auxiliary of the Texas Pork Producers will hold a meeting concurrently with the Swine Short Course. Porkettes activities will begin at 10 a.m., June 26, in the University Center.

Middle East Citizens Eating More Ag Produce

New wealth in the Middle East is having this predictable result on food buying patterns: The citizens there are eating more meat, poultry, and fresh fruit and vegetables.

Dr. Ronald E. Farris, agricultural economist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, says Iran is indicative of future developments in food buying among the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC).

Farris has just returned from Iran, where he presented a paper during an animal products marketing seminar in Tehran.

He said Iran is one of the larger and more progressive Middle East countries. The desire to eat better foods is universal, and a substantial portion of the population in that oil-rich nation is buying more and better foods.

"This means an increase in demand for meat and poultry and more processed foods," the economist said. "This will influence world markets in a variety of products."

Increased meat demand, he said, is being serviced by imports and expanded domestic production. Lamb and mutton, the most popular meats, are being imported from neighboring Turkey and from Australia and New Zealand.

Poultry is coming in from Europe. A small volume of steaks is being brought in from the United States.

"This expanded demand will tend to increase international meat prices, but the direct effect will probably be translated to more exports of U.S. grain because Iran is making large investments in poultry production, sheep feedlots and processing plants. Much of the feed grain to service this expansion will have to be imported," Farris said.

The Experiment Station researcher, a professor in the Texas A&M University Agricultural Economics Department, was the U.S.

representative for the week-long seminar in Iran. Sponsor of the event was the Economic Secretariat of the Central European Treaty Organization (CENTO).

Other seminar participants were from England, Turkey, Pakistan and Iran.

Farris is editing the papers which will be published by CENTO as a book.

Fair Schedules Feeder Barrow Show

For the first time at a major show, a feeder barrow show and sale will be held at the 1975 State Fair of Texas. The sale will be under the direct supervision of the Parker County Swine Breeders Association.

"This added attraction is being held to give swine breeders an opportunity to compete with one another with feeder barrows and to assemble a larger number of good quality barrows for Vocational Agriculture Teachers and County Extension Agents to purchase for the spring shows," stated Don Clark, Livestock Manager. "This activity also ties the breeding swine show to the Junior Market Barrow Show and exposes Fair visitors to a different aspect of the Swine industry."

Breeders will compete for premium money and trophies in eight weight classes that will be judged by Dr. T.D. Tanksley, Jr., Texas A&M University. Entries are to arrive at the State Fair on Thursday, October 9, and will be released on Saturday night, October 11. Entry fee is $2.00 per head for the show with a sale fee of not less than 5 per cent nor more than 10 per cent depending upon the gross sale receipts. Pigs must weigh at least 40 and not over 100 pounds. The top 250 pigs will be sold in the auction sale.

For more complete information and a premium list, write to Don Clark, Manager, Livestock Department, State Fair of Texas, P.O. Box 26010, Dallas, Texas 75226.

Oldham County Quarterhorse Show Slated

The Oldham County Quarterhorse Show will be held Saturday at the JHA Arena in Vega.

The judging starts at 10:00 a.m. with the Open Divisions and the youth show will follow the completion of all the open classes.

Judge of the entire show will be Jack Streun of Summerfield. This show is approved by the American Quarter Horse Association and the Golden Spread Association.

The Glorious Yam Sweet potatoes aren't actually potatoes, but members of the morning glory family. But, regardless of their ancestry, they're nutritious. One medium-sized yam supplies twice your daily requirement of vitamin A and one-third of your daily need for Vitamin C.

Acreage Reports Are Required For Upland Cotton

By DON A. TATUM
County Executive Director

ACREAGE REPORTS: It should be considered that ACREAGE REPORTS ARE REQUIRED FOR program purposes for all upland cotton FARMS PLANTING COTTON. Producers planting cotton should certify acreages by AUGUST 1ST. This report is required in order to be eligible for deficiency payments.

It should be noted that deficiency payments, if applicable under the upland cotton program, are made only if cotton is planted, whereas, deficiency payments under the wheat and feed grain programs may be made even though the crop is not planted. (Deficiency payments are made on wheat, barley, grain and cotton to producers on participating farms when the higher of: 1) the national weighted average market price received by farmers is less than the established target prices for these commodities, OR 2) the loan rate is less than the established target prices for these commodities). Although wheat and feed grain acres need not be reported, except under disaster requirements, it might be a good idea to report these acres when you come to the county office. The acreage you report must be measured acreage and must be as accurate as possible. Also, you will report the acreage that has been irrigated and the acreage grown on non-irrigated land. Remember, THE REPORT OF LOW YIELD AND IN-

SPECTION MUST BE WITHIN 15 DAYS FROM THE DATE THE CROP IS HARVESTED. This 15 day period will be applicable for all crops. This is 15 days from the completion of harvest of each crop—cotton, grain sorghum, corn, wheat or barley—and while evidence of the disaster is still apparent. WHEN DISASTER STRIKES FEED GRAIN, WHEAT OR UPLAND COTTON CROPS, AND THE FARMER CHOOSES NOT TO CARRY THE CROP THROUGH TO HARVEST, HE SHOULD REPORT THE DISASTER TO THE COUNTY OFFICE OF THE AGRICULTURAL STABILIZATION AND CONSERVATION SERVICE. THIS WILL PERMIT AN APPRAISAL OF POTENTIAL PRODUCTION. ONCE AN APPRAISER COMPLETES A DAMAGE EVALUATION, AND

THE ACREAGE IS RELEASED, THE FARMER MAY DEVOTE THE ACREAGE TO OTHER USES. REPORTING PROGRAM CROP ACREAGE IS STILL IMPORTANT THIS YEAR FOR DISASTER BENEFITS. PRODUCERS WHO HARVEST A DAMAGED PROGRAM CROP, SUCH AS WHEAT, MUST REPORT THE ACREAGE WHILE EVIDENCE OF THE CROP IS APPARENT, BUT NOT LATER THAN 15 DAYS AFTER IT IS HARVESTED. FINAL PLANTING DATES: The suggested planting dates in Deaf Smith County are: Cotton—June 1; Grain sorghum—June 20; Wheat and Barley—November 15. You may plant as late as you wish and could normally expect to make a crop. Producers who are prevented from planting crops must report the acreage within 15 days of the county normal planting dates. Final reporting dates are as follows:

Cotton—June 16
Grain Sorghum—July 7
Any applications approved for prevented planting must have been acreage that had intended to be planted. Every effort must have been made to get the crop in. The County Committee will take into consideration land preparation, seed purchases, crops on neighboring farms, etc. 1975 CONSERVATION PROGRAM: The 1975 ACP program has been developed. The guidelines for funding and SIGN-UP DATES ARE SCHEDULED AS FOLLOWS:
1ST PERIOD—JUNE 2ND THROUGH JUNE 11TH

2ND PERIOD—AUGUST 16TH THROUGH AUGUST 29TH
Applications will be taken during the sign-up dates. If designated funds are available at the end of sign-up, producers may continue to request cost-shares until that period funds are obligated. The maximum per-person limitation is $20,000. Deaf Smith County will cost-share on the following practices. THESE PRACTICES ARE LISTED IN THE PRIORITY THAT APPROVALS WILL BE ISSUED, with the per cent figure representing the Federal cost-share.
RE-1 50 per cent Establishing Permanent Vegetative Cover
RE-2 50 percent Improving

Permanent Vegetative Cover
RE-3 50 per cent Water Impoundment Reservoirs
RE-7 50 per cent Constructing Terrace Systems
RE-8 50 per cent Constructing Diversion Terraces
RE-11 75 per cent Constructing Sediment Retention, Erosion or Water Control Structures
RE-12 75 per cent Constructing Waterways
RE-14 50 per cent Installation of Tailwater Recovery System
S-2a 50 per cent Pipelines for Livestock Water
S-2c 50 per cent Wells for Livestock Water
RE-14 50 per cent Reorganizing Irrigation Systems
DELIBERATE BURNING

OF ANY ANNUAL CROP RESIDUE WILL MAKE YOU INELIGIBLE FOR 1975 ACP PAYMENTS. IF YOU HAVE A CONSERVATION PROBLEM—VISIT WITH THE OFFICE AND SEE IF WE MAY ASSIST YOU. 1975 SUGARBEEETS: The Sugar Act of 1948, as amended and extended, terminated December 31, 1974. Unless new legislation is passed, no payments will be made to growers. The non-employment of child labor and payment of fair wages to workers were also a part of the Sugar Act. You may wish to certify your beet acreage—so that it will be a part of our records, if and when a sugar bill should be passed. ASC COUNTY COMMITTEES GIVEN AUTHORITY TO DETERMINE EMERGENCY CONSERVATION NEEDS: Authority to determine the need for and eligibility under the emergency conservation measures (ECM) program has been delegated to the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) county committees. Subject to availability of funds, an ASC committee may, without prior approval from Washington, implement the ECM program under which eligible farmers may receive federal financial assistance to alleviate conditions resulting from natural disasters and to restore agricultural lands to productive capacity. Formerly the designation of areas for ECM aid was made by the Secretary of Agriculture.

PUBLIC NOTICE BECAUSE THE PEOPLE MUST KNOW

PUBLIC NOTICE The undersigned in behalf of the Commissioner's Court of Deaf Smith County, Texas, and being duly authorized thereto, will sell at public auction on June 20, 1975 at 10:00 A.M., the North 140 feet of the East 100 feet of Lot No. 4 in Block No. 3 of Womble Addition to the Town of Hereford, Deaf Smith County, Texas, exclusive of improvements, the East 25 feet of said property is now a part of Knight Street in said city, and such sale will be on the front steps of the Courthouse of said county. This is pursuant to resolution of the Commissioner's Court of Deaf Smith County, Texas, duly adopted on May 27, 1975.

SAM MORGAN County Judge Deaf Smith County Texas t-43-3c

Magazine Describes Bicentennial Activities

Celebration of the American Revolution Bicentennial is off to a gallop across Texas with a spectrum of activities as broad and diverse as the character of the state.

And the July issue of Texas Highways, the state's colorful, newly designated official travel magazine, has done a notable job of corralling the spirit of things.

The 32-page, photograph-packed July magazine is solely devoted to the thousands of ways that Texans will commemorate America's 200th birthday over the coming 18 months.

In April, the State Legislature passed a resolution naming Texas Highways, a monthly publication of the Texas Highway Department's Travel and Information Division, as the state's first official travel magazine, something Texas has long needed.

In years past, Texas Highways has been circulated primarily within the ranks of the Texas Highway Department. But its outside readership has gained steadily since May, 1974, when the magazine altered its scope and format to include material of general reader interest.

"Texas Highways beautifully interprets the scenic, recreational, historical, cultural and ethnic treasures of the state and interestingly recalls the best of our Texas heritage," reads the Legislature's resolution.

The July issue is one in which all Texans could take a measure of pride because their state has been one of the most actively involved with the 200th anniversary of America's independence.

Included in the July issue are articles by Mrs. Brownrigg, a noted public speaker, which list the reasons to be zealous in Texas about America's birthday, and by Dr. Joe Frantz, historian, author and ARBC commissioner, who has written a reflection of life in Texas at the time of the American Revolution.

The tiny North Texas town of Granbury warranted a section in the publication because of its bold and beautiful city-wide restoration program, a project that has marched far into the lead under the Bicentennial Banner. And Odessa, a city so revved up over its day-to-day birthday plans for America's freedom anniversary that it has rated national headlines, is also given special treatment.

Texas Highways is available by subscription at $5 per year by writing to T.H. Circulation, Travel and Information Division, Texas Highway Department, Austin, Texas 78701. Advance orders for the July issue are being taken at 50 cents per copy while they last.

Books Characters Woven In Diverse Backgrounds

The hypnotic tale of a 16th-century abbey in England and an inspiring story of pioneer struggles in the rough Texas hill country are being promoted this week by Deaf Smith County Library.

"The Miracle At St. Bruno's" by Philippa Carr is a novel depicting the questionable birthright of an abbey and its coveted treasure. Entangled in the mystery is Damask Farland, who grows up in the abbey's shadow and finds herself inexplicably bound to a brooding and ominous man raised by the monks there. The setting for the book is an era of vicious corruption and deep tenderness presided over by one of England's most colorful and infamous rulers, King Henry VIII.

A profound love for nature is evident in "Hard Scrabble" by John Graves, who is the subject of the book. He tells of bringing his family to Texas to tame 400 acres of rough hill country. He chronicles his gradual commitment to this countryside which is wrought with traces of Indians, cotton farmers, bootleggers and loggers. Deaf Smith County Library is open free to the public 9 a.m.-9 p.m. Monday and Thursday; 9 a.m.-6 p.m. other weekdays and until noon Saturday.

THE MIRACLE AT ST. BRUNO'S by Philippa Carr

"I was born in the September of 1523; nine months after the monks had discovered the child in the crib on that Christmas morning. My birth was, my father used to say, another miracle: He was not young at the time, being forty years of age. . .

"My mother, whose great pleasure was tending her gardens, called me Damask, after the rose which Dr. Linacre, the King's physician, had brought into England that year."

Thus begins the story narrated by Damask Farland, daughter of a well-to-do lawyer whose considerable lands adjoin those of St. Bruno's Abbey. It is a story of a life inextricably enmeshed with that of Bruno, the mysterious child found on the abbey altar that Christmas morning, and raised by the monks to become a man, at once handsome and saintly, but also brooding and ominous, tortured by the secret of his origin, which looms ever more menacingly over the huge abbey he comes to dominate.

This is also the story of an engaging family, the Farlands, of a father wise enough to understand "the happier our King is, the happier I as a true subject must be," a wife twenty years his junior, and a daughter whose intelligence is constantly at war with the strange hold Bruno has upon her destiny. What happens to the Farlands against the background of what is happening to King Henry and his court during this robust period provides a novel in which suspense and the highlights of history are wonderfully balanced.

As Damask and her two cousins, Kate and Rupert, pass from childhood into adolescence, the peace that has lain for years over the big gabled Farland house as over England is shattered. At home, the restless Kate has found the ivy-covered door in the abbey wall, and, inevitable, curiosity leads to a confrontation with the mysterious boy Bruno and the knowledge of the perilous secret of the hidden treasure of the abbey. And beyond the Farland gates England's King has cast his covetous eye on Anne Boleyn, and soon Sir Thomas Moore's severed head adorns London Bridge and a power hungry Cromwell covets the abbey riches.

The disappearance of Bruno and the treasure of the abbey and the betrayal of Damask's father to a hostile crown set forces in motion that threaten tragedy as Damask finds herself impelled by a force she cannot recognize, let alone cope with, to discover the secret of the missing abbey treasure and the truth surrounding the handsome, almost mesmerizing man whom she has always loved.

Damask and Bruno's story, the story of a questionable birthright of the abbey and its coveted treasures, The Miracle of St. Bruno's is also the story of sixteenth-century England--and era of vicious corruption and deep tenderness, when periods of violent brutality follow times of deep contentment, presided over by one of England's most colorful rakes and rulers, Henry VIII.

This long and richly entertaining novel is written with power, clarity and a superb sense of the suspenseful and dramatic.

HARD SCRABBLE by John Graves

John Graves named it Hard Scrabble when he bought it--400 acres of rough Texas hill country at the far edge of what used to be the old Cotton Kingdom until overcropping, drought, and hard winds stripped away most of the good dirt. Here Graves brought his family, built a house, raised goats and cattle, struggled with hardwood brush, cultivated some fields, leaving the rest to the dominion of the wild.

In this book he makes us feel and understand his gradual commitment to this countryside--how, little by little, he came to feel a part of it, came to know its rocky ledges, earth and growing things, its scrub, cedar, and johnsongrass, its wolves, snakes, and wheeling buzzards, its special idiosyncrasies of light and weather.

Always there is a sense of its past "weighted with human remembrance" --of Indians who long ago camped there, of bootleggers hiding out, of cotton farmers, of loggers. There are wonderful stories of local people like old T.J. Mayes, "the fairest of the Laws" and Bill Mcauley, who, in a fight would "get him a bear hug on a man and then commence to eating"--all of them, like the author himself, living lives inextricably bound to this "patch of land."

"Inside me," Graves writes, "there had always been the incipient disease of the land. I had never managed to purge myself of the simple yeoman notion that grass and crops and trees and livestock and wild things and water mattered somehow supremely, that you were not whole unless you had a stake in them, a daily knowledge of them."

This knowledge he now shares. Profoundly knowing, set forth in prose as sinewy as the tough cedar standing on Somervell County hillsides, his new book--like his wonderful "Goodbye To A River" seems to be a new classic.
