BEET VIRUS

Damage Persists After Exposure

Hereford area beet farmers have begun a wide-spread spraying campaign to control the spread of curly leaf virus caused by beet leaf hoppers.

The tiny insects, less than one-sixteenth of an inch long, have invaded the fields spreading the disease which can cut sugar yields in the beets to the minimum.

A number of local fields have been sprayed with phosphamidon to kill the insects. This spray is put on the beets at the same time as the fungicides which is put on at regular intervals to control leaf spot.

In the past curly leaf and the beet hoppers have been no problem in Hereford, but three times the regular number of insects survived through the mild start on this year's crop.

Spraying will kill the insects, but there is no cure for the infected plants. The spray will only keep the disease from being spread through more fields.

Farmers should check their fields for the leaf hoppers which are very small in size and white in color. The adults have wings and can fly, but the nymphs hop from leaf to leaf on the plants.

WHEN LOOKING for the insects the farmer should shake the leaves thoroughly, including the bottom leaves, because the hoppers are hard to spot on an undisturbed plant.

The disease is a circulatory virus in the insect and after he has eaten off an infected plant for one hour he will continue to spread the disease to healthy beets for the remainder of his life cycle.

Farmers can note the symptoms of the curly leaf disease in the fields by looking at the leaves closely. If the plant is infected the leaves will be a light green in color and the midrib will be curled. The outer edges of the leaves will also be curled and the backside of the leaf will have a sandpaper finish.

After the spray is applied the disease will continue to show up in the plants for a period of two weeks due to the time it makes for the symptoms to show in newly infected beets.

At least two applications of spray will be required to destroy the insects in the fields. Eggs laid in the tissue of the plants will continue to hatch out for a while after the first application of spray.

LATE PLANTED beets are more susceptible to the hoppers since the insects prefer the more tender leaves and a sunnier climate. Older beets have larger and tougher leaves and provide a large amount of shade.

Bridge Tourney Attracts Masters

Final events in the Harvest Festival duplicate bridge tournament are scheduled for this afternoon, when Team-of-Four and Salad Bowl Pairs winners will be determined. The annual tourney has been in progress at Community Center since Thursday evening.

Trophies will be presented after play ends today. Hereford Duplicate Bridge Club is the host group, with Top of Texas Unit, American Contract Bridge League, as co-sponsor for the approved sectional tournament. John Emery of Wichita Falls is tournament director and Mrs. R. E. Carver local chairman.

Finals in Open Pairs competition were played Saturday night, after the afternoon qualifying. See BRIDGE Page 2

Onions Hold Steady, Potatoes Start Slow

Onion harvest is about 50 per cent complete and prices are holding fairly steady processors said this week.

Range on prices is from $2.75 to $3.25 in a few instances. Last year's vegetable market set a high mark to match but farmers are making money this year with the trend being up, not down as harvesting progresses.

Jumbo whites are reportedly bringing the top price with yellows more plentiful and still bringing $3.

Last year saw some onions go to market for as much as $3.50 and $4.00 a sack. In no way a 'sky-high' price like last year's potato market, the onion years tend toward stabilizing the vegetable farmers' income with two strong years together.

Early reports saw blight and thrip damage as a threat to yields, but processors say that most farmers caught these problems in time to keep it from affecting yields.

Yields range from 400 bags per acre all the way up to an astounding 1100.

The 1100 bags per acre has come from harvesting 15 acres on one farm and the average could be pulled down, when the field is completed but the rest of the field looks that strong, packers said.

All considered, average yields for the season are being estimated at about 600 bags per acre.

Potatoes were just beginning to move into the sheds, this week. Prospects look as if the farmers will have to leave a sigh and remember last year if they are looking for high prices.

Prices are $2.35 on potatoes sold to points east. Range is a narrow 35 cents on each hundred pound bag.

Prices like these are considered 'a break-even' proposition.

Shippers are just now accepting potatoes so they are hoping for a rise in prices before the market goes into full steam.

Pushed by two years of high acreage to 18,000 acres with 6,000 prices, farmers upped this to 18,000 acres with 6,000 acres going into the open market.

The other acreage is devoted to chipping potatoes which are grown on contract and don't seem to affect the open market.

One processor said that he had dug 26 acres this week and that usually in full swing, he digs that many acres each day.

"The market can be kept alive if the farmer wants to," Albert Maxwell said.

There is no push to dig, he said. Quality is the best he has ever seen and farmers have the See ONIONS Page 2

City Hall Offices Refurbished For Relatively Few Tax Dollars

Hereford city officials moved back into their offices on the first floor of City Hall this week after a complete remodeling job was completed at a relatively low cost.

The project was contracted by city officials in order to cut costs, according to city manager Dudley Bayne.

Remodeling for the entire first story of the building, excluding the fire department was completed for approximately $12,000 according to Bayne.

Heating and air conditioning was installed by Brown Sheet Metal. The total cost for two five-ton air conditioning units as well as a heating system and all duct work amounted to $2,000.

Kelley Electric was contracted for all electrical work at a cost of $2,581.50 to the city.

Most of the other work on the building was done by city employees and was supervised by city officials.

Construction began on the project during the first week of June. Officials made the move back into the facilities Wednesday evening and were open for business Thursday morning in their regular places.

Construction included complete renovation of the first floor and lowering the ceiling 18 inches.

A new floor was also laid in the building as well as constructing new partitions in the building. A new room was added to the water department office for their plate cutting machine. The room was completely sound proofed to cut down the noise of the machine.

Two years ago the city remodeled the upper level of the building at a cost of $18,000 which included the renovation of the police department, city manager's office and council room as well as corporation court.

Tax assessor-collector and water department officials were temporarily located on the second floor during the remodeling process. See CITY Page 2

Budget On The Grow

Lady, your's isn't the only budget that's had to go up in these last few years. Prosperity over all the nation plus better-than-average growth in the Southwest has put the people of West Texas in a situation where everything is going up, up, up, prices and government costs being no exception.

A landmark of Southwestern growth, our own small city of Hereford goes forward to keep pace with its growing population; added strains have been made on the city's budget, and like it or not, have forced Hereford to follow the federal trend, debt-wise. Bonds outstanding now amount to some $1.4 million, and will take an upward jump with the sale of $610,000 in bonds approved by voters in April in order to take care of the municipality's expanding water and sewer needs.

Out of every dollar you gave to Henry Benson, the man behind the counter in the city tax assessor-collector's office, just about seven cents went to pay interest on the city's indebtedness in the last audited fiscal year, ending April 30, 1966. Although the debt has consistently grown as bond issues have been called to pay for demands of an ever-growing population, payments just as consistent as the issues are being made, constantly churning the bonds over and laying away the old ones marked "paid in full."

ONE SMALL ASPECT of city government that each citizen doesn't pay for usually goes by unnoticed: the blue uniforms sported by the local law enforcement officers aren't paid for directly out of the city kitty. No sir, those fellows themselves chip in for that part of their job. Otherwise, the police department took about $105,000 for its operations in the year ending in April. That figure amounts to just about $8.86 per citizen, or $35 a year for a family of four. In a lot of books, that figures out to be pretty cheap insurance for a year.

An the fire department isn't doing so badly either; that bunch of volunteers required only 2.5 per cent of the budget for this last year, which amounted to just about $24,000. That's quite a jump over the 1965 figure of some $15,000, but the big difference is reflected in new equipment for the department. Another truck took almost $3,000, and other equipment took a larger portion than the previous year.

Clothing Ensemble Wins District Competition Spot For Miss Marnell

Dorothy Marnell will represent Deaf Smith County in the District 4-H Dress Revue at Amarillo July 19, as senior division winner in the county revue which closed with a style parade in Sugarland Mall Thursday evening.

Runner-up was Cynthia Hanna, and the two top entrants in the junior division were Patsy Paetzold and Martha Ann McBride.

In its first staging on the mall, where a garden setting was arranged for modeling by six club girls of garments they had made the style show was attended by approximately 100 persons.

Miss Marnell modeled a hand-some tweed coat in a weave of light and dark blues, with blue taffeta lining, which she accessorized with small-brimmed black velvet hat, black leather bag, shoes and gloves.

She is a member of Merry Maidens 4-H Club, daughter of the F. A. Marnells, 124 Aspen. At 16 years of age she has a record of nine years in 4-H Club work, of which she says, "It has made me a more self-disciplined person, more capable of leadership than I ever thought I would be." ### Federal Gas Tax Rebate Changed

County farmers will not file their federal tax exemptions on gasoline used on the farm this year in the same way they normally have done.

Ordinarily, rebates are based on the fiscal year, July 1 through June 30. A new ruling eliminates the September filing date and requires that the credit be applied to the income tax return.

Local accountants explain that this will be handled in much the same way withholding tax is handled. According to interpretations of the ruling, this will make the term covered for the 1967 income tax return 18 months long on gasoline usage if calendar years are used. The dates for the period included are July 1, 1965 through December 31, 1966.

Instead of a cash refund on the federal tax, the sum will be handled as a credit on the individual's income tax return. When the tax return is filed in the spring next year, the person will make a note on the return of this credit, accountants explain, in a way similar to tax credited to an account with withholding tax.

Deaf Smith County Commissioners will allocate precinct paving in their regular meeting Monday. Law requires that the issue be determined at a regular meeting. The project is being jointly financed by the state and the county.

A recent bond issue for $450,000 will make the county arteries possible.

Commissioners met with Texas Highway officials in Amarillo Thursday to correlate ideas.

"We discussed the paving projects with the officials in Amarillo in general — after Monday we will have a more specific idea about what we want and then we can begin engineering and paving," said Bruce Coleman, commissioner of precinct three.

Marcus Latham, Commissioner of Precinct two, said, "I was pleased with the meeting and it helped me to iron out some of the problems which has posed a question since the project was begun."

Commissioners spent some two hours meeting with highway commission officials and were "enlightened" when the meeting was over.

"The officials in Amarillo were very cooperative and we had a nice meeting with them," said Donald Hicks, commissioner of precinct four.

Money from the bond issue was allotted for several paving projects in the county which will be completed over a period of time.

Some of the projects will be completed before others, according to officials.

The proposal has been sought for at least a decade by many county residents and was passed by a 2-1 margin in the recent election.

Commissioner Coleman said that the portion of road which he has in mind is a road across the Ponder farm and will make a direct route from Friona to Adrian.

"I feel that this portion will serve more of the people in my precinct better than any other portion which we could pave," Coleman added.

At the present time there is no road across this block of See PAVING Page 2

Teachers Added In Walcott District

Two new teachers will be added to the staff at Walcott School, bringing the total staff to four teachers.

Staff members from the school will also approve the 1966-67 budget this week for the school.

It was first thought that adding the new staff members would necessitate moving another house in for them to live in, but at the present time officials say that it will not be needed.

The small school is supported by funds from Walcott District residents and the wages for teachers are paid by taxes assessed by the school to those living in the county.

Last year only two teachers were on the staff, and the two additional teachers were added to accommodate the growing student population in that area.

Average attendance for the school was 96.7 students each day, but the attendance was over 100 many days at the school.

Students attending the school range in the first eight grades of school and when they have finished the first eight grades they enter school in Hereford.

Each year the school officials set up a budget for the coming year which is approved by Deaf Smith County Commissioners.

Commissioners also set the tax rate for the school. During the past year the tax rate was $1.65, but the rate has not yet been set by the local commissioners for the coming year.

Women's Pairs were won by the defending champions, Mrs. F. W. Hill of Hereford and Mrs. John Emery of Wichita Falls, at the opening session Thursday evening, when a team from Clovis, N. M., Warner Wilson and Fred C. Smith, won the Men's Pairs.

Mrs. Donald Shipley and Mrs. Ann Woodward of Hereford placed second for women, Mrs. Walton Hale of Floydada and Mrs. Jack Vick of Amarillo third. Runners-up in Men's Pair Bill Dye and John E. Mc. Cleskey of Hereford; in third spot were Curtis Bell Sr. and E. R. Baker of Amarillo.

Hereford women swept the Early Bird Pairs Friday morning, with Mrs. Bill Waldrep and Mrs. Jimmie Gillentine teamed for first place, Mrs. Noble Ballard and Mrs. Pat Robbins second.

Mrs. Greeley Warner of Pampa and Mrs. F. W. Hill of Hereford took first place Friday night in the Master's pairs, followed by Mrs. E. C. Crouse and Mrs. H. L. Patton of Clovis. In third place in Master's were Mrs. Jack Vick and Mrs. Pat Norris of Amarillo, tied with Mrs. G. V. Boet and C'bell McKee of Clovis.

Mr. and Mrs. George Oberg of Amarillo were leaders in the Friday night pairs, followed by Mrs. Max Leon and Mrs. Kenneth Coker of Hereford. In third position were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dollar of Lockney.

Sugar Beet pairs Friday afternoon had as first place winners Mrs. J. D. Neill and Mrs. Max Leon, both of Hereford, followed by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dollar of Lockney, Mrs. C. F. Smith and Mrs. Jo Jackson, both of Clovis, were third.

Mrs. Bill Waldrep and Mrs. J. M. Gillentine, both Hereford bridge players, were first in the Saturday morning Irrigation pairs. Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Webb of McLean were second, and R. R. Wright and Henry Blain of Lubbock were third.

to see that taxes don't necessarily make the biggest chunk of the income pie in the city's revenue menu. Services rendered by the city produce about the same amount of income.

All the garbage, trash and sewage services — although they certainly don't make any profit for the city — bring in a good part of the operating revenue. Bills paid to the city throughout the year account for 42 per cent of the operating costs; taxes contributed only slightly more than this figure. Perhaps the only benefit of a dry year could be the extra revenue brought in by the water department.

Although the city dads have led the Hereford citizenry along a path towards more debt, the situation is well in hand as efforts are made to reach out and take care of the needs of a growing city. The debt ratio of 2.14 will rise to about 4.6 with the sale of the bonds approved in April by voters. Experts have advised the city commissioners that such a ratio is perfectly acceptable; as a matter of fact, a lot more bonds could be sold as long as the debt ratio stays under about 10, considered a "safe" figure. Hereford is well below many other cities of comparable size, several of which have ratios upwards to about 8. A debt ratio is figured by the taxable value being divided by the total debt of the city.

Another pleasant aspect of the situation arises when one realizes that Hereford's tax rate is among the lowest in the state; several years ago found Hereford in the lowest 25 per cent, and it is believed to still occupy approximately the same position.

Overall, per capita cost for services rendered by the city government amounted to about $80.92 apiece last year. That includes taxes, water, sewer and all those etceteras, too. It takes a larger figure for actual operation, since bonds have to be retired.

Figure what it's all worth, and person may decide that he's getting a pretty fair deal in 'city government.'

 hope of a little better market as digging progresses. The usual trend, however, follows early market indications, shippers said.

Value estimates for the 1965 crop were near the 4 million mark. 1965 jumped to 6 1/2 million and the crop this year is roughly estimated at 2 1/2 million.

Those gross figures are deceiving since this year's crop comes from such a large acreage. One acre with a yield of 200 bags last year was grossing 800 or better. This year, the gross per acre is cut about half.

The junior winner, daughter of the Edward Paetzolds, is 12 years old and a member of Merry Maidens Club. Her dress was of textured cotton in forget-me-not blue with solid blue bows at the top of a pair of front skirt pleats.

Martha Ann's calico print dress of red, gold and black cotton was worn with a black straw sailor, patent shoes and bag. She is in the Willing Workers 4-H Club daughter of the Justin McBrides.

Joette and Cynthia Hanna and Martha Ann McBride were narrators for the show, as the models walked along a path bordered with white garden furniture set before a mock white brick wall. Potted plants and grass carpet added to the outdoor effect.

Cynthia Beene and Billee Goetsch were in charge of the entrants' record books. Ushers were Pam Winget, Janice Turrentine, Beverly Cole, Pamela Tomasi and Rosemary Dupnik.

In addition to the winners, contestants in the senior division were Maura and Teresa Mc-

Andrews, Jane Witkowski, Joetta Hanna and Joyce Beemer.

Juniors who entered simple dresses included Sandra Fry, Mary Kay Wagner, Lisa Williamson, Becky Hickman, Cheryl Cole and Kay Clearman; more advanced work was shown by Patricia Herr and Mary Kay Atchley, also Mary Ann Vance, who was on vacation and did not model her dress.

Skirts which they made were modeled by Beth Bezner, Margie Paetzold, LaNita Herr, Karen Scott, Christine Marnell, Julia Urbanczyk and Mary Helen Estrada.

Beginners in club clothing projects, who modeled aprons, were Carmela Burges, Layne Young Debbie Armstrong, Grace Vasak, Maria Ramirez, Albia Estrada, Susan Hickman, Darla Payne, Lynette Clearman, Taffy Herr, Joan Paetzold and Paula Haug.

Damage Medium In Two Accidents

Accidents Wednesday and Friday caused moderate damage to vehicles involved, a check of police records shows.

The first accident, at 7:15 p. m. Wednesday at the intersection of Witherspoon and Third, occurred when a vehicle driven by Hermelinda Longura collided with a vehicle driven by Jon Merlo Leasure of Amarillo. Miss Longura was attempting to make a left turn onto Witherspoon, and Leasure was traveling west. Damage was $240 to both vehicles.

Blevins and Park was the scene of another mishap Friday at 6:30 p. m., when vehicles driven by Felipe Hinojosa Olvera and Roberto M. Mendoza collided. Mendoza, facing north, was stopped for a stop sign; Olvera had pulled across the intersection when his vehicle collided with the Mendoza sedan. Damage to Olvera's late model Impala was estimated at $200, and damage to Mendoza's '66 Mustang was estimated at $260.

Boat Ramps Financed With Boat Number Fees

AUSTIN — The Texas Highway Commission today approved the 1966 Boat Ramp Program which will increase the number of State-maintained launching facilities for thousands of Texas pleasure boats by more than one-half.

Thirty-three new ramps were authorized in the program. Another is slated for widening and reconditioning. The work, to cost an estimated $141,832, will bring to 94 the number of boat ramps built or planned by the Texas Highway Department.

The program is in line with the Highway Department's efforts to furnish access to and encourage the use of recreational areas. The Department also constructs park roads affording access to and within state parks.

The program also illustrates the new role being played by the Texas Farm — and Ranch-to-Market Road system in development of the recreational potential of the State. Twenty of the projects are adjacent to FM or park roads.

The Farm-to-Market Road system, originally conceived to "get the farmer out of the mud," now also serves hundreds of thousands of holidaying urban residents. Many Farm-to-Market Roads can now be considered "city to lakeside" roads.

Funds for constructing boat ramps come from Certificate of Number fees collected from owners of motorboats in Texas. The Texas Highway Department was given responsibility for the program by the Texas Water Safety Act.

One existing ramp, in Rains County at the east end of the Lake Tawakoni Bridge, adjacent to FM Road 35, will be widened and reconditioned at an estimated cost of $3,000.

New facilities, including construction of boat ramps, parking areas and access roads are:

- Hunt County — On Duck Creek adjacent to FM Road 751, 5.1 miles south of FM 35, estimated cost $10,000.
- Jack County — On Lake Jackboro adjacent to State Highway 24, $8,000.

Stephens County — On west shore of Hubbard Creek Reservoir adjacent to U. S. Highway $6,632.

Officials are also discussing the possibility of organizing both fast and slow pitch teams this year.

LAST YEAR eight teams were organized in the league during the first six-week session and six more teams played in a second six-week session.

Names of players will be taken Tuesday at the park and team assignments will be made later in the week.

OFFICIALS said that as many teams would be organized as there are men to fill them.

The first session of play will begin Monday July 18 with the first game of the season.

ON DOTTED LINE — These Hereford Camp Fire Girls have signed up early for the annual summer camp in the New Mexico Mountains, which will be held in August, so they need no reminder that registration deadline is next Friday. Mrs. Philip Barkley, in charge of the Camp Fire office here, is taking registration information for, from left, Leigh Ann Allen of Lu-Ta-Ko-Ki group, Billie Jo Witherspoon of the Starliters Horizon Club for older girls, Kim Wilson of Tando group and Linda Collins of Oh-Ta-Wa-Ten-Ya group. Mrs. Lewis Lea, who will again be camp director for the Hereford girls, urges those who plan to attend camp to register immediately.

Camp Fire Girls Near Summer Camp Deadline

Summer camp time in New Mexico will begin Aug. 7 for Hereford Camp Fire Girls. About 90 of them will leave by bus that day for Camp Summer Life in the Pio Pueblo Valley, accompanied by a dozen guardians. Mrs. Lewis Lea will again be camp director.

Registration is still open, but will close next Friday when final arrangements must be made with the camp, Mrs. Lea announces. The cost to each camper is $21 for a seven-day camping trip.

Horseback riding, swimming in a heated pool, hiking, riflery, archery, trampoline, dramatics, outdoor and nature crafts, Indian lore, nature hikes and campfire singing are activities listed for the girls. A Camp Fire ceremonial is planned for the final night.

All the campers will visit an old Spanish mission and the Kit Carson Memorial Museum in Taos. In a special program a United States Forest Service ranger will show pictures and speak on Conservation.

Summer camp has been a high spot in the Camp Fire Girls program here for a number of years, and is expected to be as well liked this year. Girls who will go on the camp Fire bus are to meet on the west side of Dameron Park by 12:30 p. m. Aug. 7, a Sunday afternoon. The bus will be there ready for loading to begin, at 12:15. It is necessary to leave on time to reach the camp for 6 o'clock supper, Mrs. Lea reminds the prospective campers.

Holidays Are Spent At Mountain Resort

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Clark spent the July Fourth holiday period as guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Block in their cabin at Eagle Nest, N. M. The Blocks, former Hereford residents, now live at Sunray.

Other weekend visitors at the mountain resort cabin were the Clarks' son, Leaton Clark, and his family, and Mrs. Ida Block, mother of B. F. Block. They are all from Amarillo.

La Plata Leader Busy As Homemaker-Teacher

Never missing a meeting of service in office as she begins La Plata Club since she joined it three years ago, Mrs. Philip Shook has a record of constant presidents of Hereford women's clubs who are looking forward to the fall season, meantime assisting with summer committee work including the framing of next year's programs.

Mrs. Shook's aim for her tenure as president is to "keep the members working together, staying busy for the betterment of themselves and the community."

La Plata Club will work on two projects continued from last year, giving the Viola Christolm Art Award in memory of a late member, and installing a plaque at the new La Plata Junior High School to call attention to place of the vanished town of La Plata in the history of Deaf Smith County.

A teacher in Stanton Junior High, wife of the Shirley Elementary School principal and mother of three daughters, vivacious Mrs. Shook fits her club work into a busy schedule.

She is a member of First Methodist Church and does substitute teaching in the children's department. She served as the first president of Young Homemakers Home Demonstration Club but says she has "too many irons in the fire" to be a member now although she is still interested in its program.

Making clothes for her young daughters, Kaye, Kristi and Karol, gives her an opportunity to exercise her interest in sewing. A part of her teaching assignment which she also counts as a hobby is acting as cheer leader sponsor at SJHS.

Her home town was Denver City, where she grew up and completed high school work, as did her husband. She has earned bachelor's and master's degrees from West Texas State University. She taught a short time in San Antonio while Shook was in military service, and both have been on the Hereford faculty since.

Mrs. Philip Shook has enviable club record

Former Residents Are Parents Of Son

Birth of a son is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Lynton Allred of 2218-22nd, Lubbock, former Hereford residents. NEW OFFICERS — A term in office began last month for this trio, pictured at a recent coffee in Ward Parlor of First Methodist Church. Mrs. Robert Strain, center, is new president of the Woman's Society in the church; Mrs. Roland Hairgrove, right, is vice president and Mrs. A. T. Mims, secretary.

Farewell Coffee Given By Club

Before she leaves for a home in Sidney, Mont., Mrs. Al Brown was honored at a coffee by members of Bud to Blossom Garden Club, which she has been serving as secretary. The Brown family, 107 Fir, expects to move about Aug. 1.

The coffee was in the home of Mrs. Pat Robinson, 206 Ranger, a former member of the club and neighbor of Mrs. Brown. Mrs. Sam Long, club president, and Mrs. R. N. Yarbrough were assisting hostesses.

Gift of the club as a remembrance to Mrs. Brown was a basket containing for flower or fruit arrangements. Mrs. Robinson and her daughters, Mrs. Mike Justice and Miss Kathleen Robinson, presented a dessert cookbook as their farewell gift.

In a called business session of club members, Mrs. Melvin Cordray was named to complete Mrs. Brown's term as recording secretary, serving the final year of a two-year term. Tentative plans for a club flower show were discussed informally.

Members present included Mrs. Bruce Brown, Bob Cooper, A. L. Manjeot, Ernest Kendall, Frank Battenfield, Calvin Edwards and R. A. Daniels.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Brown are returning to the state where they grew up, when they make the move. With their twin sons, Morry and Terry, they moved here about two years ago from Hardin, Mont. Brown is with Holly Sugar Corp.

Newly-Wed Couple At Home Here

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Williams are at home at 118-A Fuller after their marriage here June 30. The bride is the former Miss Linda Schilling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Schilling of Friona and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Williams.

C. B. Miles, justice of the peace, conducted the wedding ceremony in his office at Deaf Smith County courthouse. Attendants to the couple were Miss Sandra Hodges and Gary Royal.

The bride wore a white two-piece costume with all white accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations. Miss Hodges was dressed in blue and her flowers were blue and white.

Employed in First National Bank of Hereford, Mrs. Williams is a graduate of Friona High School and attended Sacred Heart College in Wichita, Kan. Williams attended Hereford schools and is an employee of Winget Pump Company.

Amateur Radio Meets Tuesday

The newly organized Hereford amateur radio club will begin classes Tuesday night in basic radio and code. Classes are designed for beginners interested in working towards an amateur radio license.

Instructors for the course Tuesday night will cover basic theory of electricity but all instruction will be pointed directly towards the FCC examination requirements.

Instructors will be Dr. Roy Grubbs, Berl Lunsford, Bill Thompson and Marvin Kearns. Other amateurs in the area are invited to participate. No prior knowledge of code or of radio theory is necessary but those interested in obtaining their license through this instruction should be prepared to attend regularly on Tuesday evenings for twelve weeks minimum. The club will meet at the Chamber of Commerce office until more suitable quarters are found. Classes will be 8:30 p. m. There will be no charge for the instruction but students will need to purchase two books which will be used in the course.

Both books are published by the American Radio Relay League and are entitled LEARNING THE RADIOTELEGRAPH CODE and UNDERSTANDING AMATEUR RADIO. Another basic reference book published by the HANDBOOK OF AMATEUR RADIO.

National Meet Report Presented

Key happenings at the recent national assembly of the Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service in Portland Oregon, which she attended as a delegate from the Northwest Texas Conference WSCS, were summarized by Mrs. Grant Hanna for First Methodist WSCS Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Hanna, a member of the Hereford society, is conference vice president. She was one of some 8,000 women at the 25th anniversary assembly. Theme of the program was Called to Renewal and Service, she said, and it centered on a review of the awakening in today's church to the ecumenical movement.

Mrs. Hanna also attended a meeting of the South Central Jurisdictional WSCS, held at Portland at the time of the national meeting.

Mrs. Robert Strain, who became president for a new term last month, presided for business Mrs. Norman Gray was program chairman who introduced the speaker and with Mrs. Joe Hamilton conducted a litany. A vocal solo by Mrs. Hamilton completed the program.

The meeting in Ward Parlor of the church, began with a coffee hour. Hostesses were Mrs. T. E. Seliger, T. W. Alderson, A. E. Cooper, S. S. Williams and Hamilton, who served coffee and cookies at a table centered with an arrangement of dahlias.

OUTFITTERS FOR THE FAMILY — SINCE 1921

Along The Frio

By MRS. OWEN ANDREWS
Brand's Frio Correspondent

Word has been received of the death of the Rev. L. T. Field, 70, of Stoneburg community near Nocona. He was the first pastor of Frio Baptist Church, coming here in 1930 and remaining as pastor about two years. The family then lived at Plainview, where he was a ministerial student at Wayland.

Rev. Field was pastor of a church in the Stoneburg community at the time of his death, last Sunday. He had been stricken ill Friday, and died in a Nocona hospital. His funeral was held Wednesday in First Baptist Church, Nocona.

He is survived by his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Charles Newton, Amarillo; four sons, Billy of Muleshoe, Glenn of Littleton, Colo., Raymond of Pampa and Frank of Foss, Okla. Mrs. Field is staying at the home of Billy, Route 2, Muleshoe.

Mrs. Bob Lawrence, LaNelle and Donnie of Denver spent Tuesday night with the Sam Ogans. The Lawrences visited other friends Wednesday in Hereford, and went on to Plainview to visit his mother and to Breckenridge to be with Mrs. Lawrence's relatives a few days. Mrs. Ogan and Mrs. Lawrence have been friends since both were college students in Stephenville before either was married. The two families have kept in touch through the years having lived in neighboring communities after they moved to Colorado from Texas a few years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Buchanan, Rebecca and Stanley, and Mrs. Buchanan's sister, Mrs. Williams from Manteca and Stockton, Calif., visited their cousins, Mrs. T. L. Sparkman and Mrs. A. T. Jones, Saturday. They had visited relatives in Oklahoma and at Plainview and were on their way home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace White, Brenda, Mike, Gary and Rhonda left for home in Biloxi, Miss. Tuesday. Mrs. White and the children had visited her parents, the E. B. Berrymans, and sister, Mrs. Clark Andrews and family for the past month. White came two weeks ago to visit and take his family home.

Mrs. Leon Vogler continues to improve in Deaf Smith County hospital, where she has been since being injured in an automobile accident last Saturday night. As she was going home after closing the cafe she operates in Hereford, the car overturned on a curve and rolled over several times, throwing her out. She suffered a fractured knee and some internal injury but is steadily improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Warrick of Great Falls, Mont. spent the weekend visiting his brothers, Billy and Elza Warrick and families. Sidney has been in USAF service 4 years. They were on vacation visiting relatives in Texas and Oklahoma and planned to visit her family in Illinois before returning home.

Mrs. Laura Littrell and Miss Alma Andrews accompanied by Nickie Ledford, Mrs. Littrell's niece from Comanche, Okla., returned Saturday from a three and a half week trip covering more than 3000 miles. They visited mostly in California, including the San Diego area, spent a weekend with Doris Jean Andrews at El Cajon, and at Orange visited Mrs. Littrell's daughter, Mrs. Leon Williams and family. They attended baccalaureate and graduation exercises for the Orange high school class. Lonnie Williams was one of the graduating members. Also they visited friends and former neighbors of Mrs. Littrell who had lived there several years. At Fresno they visited her other daughter, Mrs. Earl Allgood, and members of her family in the area and in San Francisco they visited her granddaughter, Mrs. Jim Exum, and niece, Mrs. Leonard Rogers and their families. Also they went to the redwood forest and Yosemite National Park. They spent Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Andrews at Elter and visited the Charles Kings at Amarillo Saturday, as they were on their way home.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Price, Floydada, and Dorothy Johnson, Midland, were weekend guests of Mrs. H. M. Mobley and Austin Mobley. Saturday night they and Don Mobley and sons, and Jana, Bill, Cheryl and Beverley Cole were guests of the D. C. Millers at a cookout. On Sunday the same group, also including

Mrs. Don Mobley, had dinner with the Floyd Coles.

Mrs. B. H. Baldwin and Miss Viola Keene spent Friday until Wednesday visiting Mrs. Baldwin's sister-in-law, Mrs. Lewis West and family at Albuquerque and other relatives in the area. They also saw Mrs. West's mother, Mrs. Anna Bakwin, who now lives with her daughter. On Sunday afternoon they attended the wedding at Sandia Baptist Church of Sid West to Miss Peggy Garris, also of Albuquerque. Sid was a ministerial student at Wayland last year and visited the relatives here several times. He plans to continue with school, so the young couple will live at Plainview. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis West.

Recent visitors of the Homer Wests were his aunts, Mrs. Edna Richardson and Deanna, and Mrs. Mary Lee Simmons, all of Mar'na, Cal. They took Linda and Donna West with them to visit Homer's sister, Mrs. Z. G. Newberry and family at Hale Center. On Sunday, the Wests went to Hale Center to visit and bring home the children. The Newberry's daughter, Virginia, came home with the Wests to visit a few days.

Mrs. Allie Burris and Zadine.

Texico, came to visit the W. H. Andrews Tuesday. Mrs. Burris returned home Wednesday, but Zadine remained to visit several days with the relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lamb of Austin, visited Wednesday and Thursday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Andrews.

Kristi, Mendie and Cherie Mason, daughters of the Gary Masons, visited Sunday until Tuesday with their grandparents, the R. M. Masons of Westway.

Red Cross Swim Classes Still At Peak Enrollment

Registration in the Red Cross swimming program has dropped off during the second session due to the cutting in size of beginners classes by officials.

In the first session some 129 students were enrolled in all the classes as compared to 145 enrolled in the second session.

Officials cut the beginners classes in order to teach those taking the classes proper swimming techniques more thoroughly.

The demand for the classes has increased with beginners classes already filled for the third session which begins later this month.

A TOTAL OF 245 students are enrolled in the swimming program this session.

The biggest increase in classes was in the adult session which is held at 6:30 p. m. in the evenings. During the first session only 17 participated in the class, but 49 are registered in classes for the second session.

Mrs. Bruce Miller, Red Cross

swimming coordinator, said this week, that volunteers to help in teaching the lessons were still needed and that if anyone is interested in helping they should contact her.

Students And Families Named

Names of foreign students who will attend Hereford High School under the American Field Service program this year have been announced, although confirmation on one is awaited from the New York office.

Elia Presenti of Genova, Italy will be the girl student, who will live in the R. Lloyd Pool home during the school year. Thomas Graf of Germany has been accepted to make his home with the Leo Witkowskis but the final papers had not been received Saturday.

In an exchange of sponsoring organizations, Hereford Lions Club will sponsor the girl student this year and FHA chapters in the high school will act as sponsors for the boy.

For complete privacy and genuine rustic beauty specify CEDAR-RUSTIC

- MACHINE-TRIMMED EDGE FOR TIGHT PARALLEL FIT
- RUSTIC SURFACE ON BOTH FACE AND BACK
- GENUINE WESTERN RED CEDAR

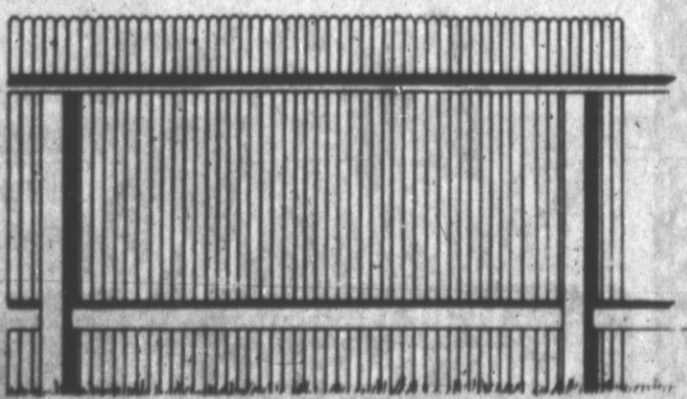

Cedar-Rustic Western Red Cedar fencing blends well with today's modern home exteriors plus giving complete privacy and protection.

The low initial cost, simple construction method, and minimum maintenance qualities are just a few of the many wonderful features of this Western Red Cedar Fencing.

Because of the precision-cut 6' lengths and uniform machine-cut edge, Cedar-Rustic is ideal for the "do-it-yourselfer". Each panel of approximately 2 1/2" in width goes up fast. No trimming is necessary.

When galvanized or aluminum nails are used, Cedar-Rustic will weather to a delightful natural color without showing nail stains. This is in contrast with other wood facing which turns dark with age. Cedar-Rustic never needs paint, stain, or sealer of any kind.

Imagine . . . . . a permanent fence with no upkeep!

YWA Girls Give Program For Church Women

Girls of Avenue Baptist Young Women's Auxiliary gave the program for the Women's Missionary Union at this week's meeting in the church. Mrs. Howard Johnson directed presentation of the topic, Cults of America.

YWA members taking part were Terri Townsend, Lawanna Vines, Debbie Rickman, Phyllis Williams and Linda Thomas. The opening prayer was by Mrs. Jim Tollett and the calendar of prayer for missionaries was read by Mrs. Johnny Townsend.

It was announced that Mrs. Jessie Mason will lead Bible study at the next meeting, at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Refreshments were served by Terri Townsend to those on program and Mmes. Jack Hudson, Zane Foster, Bell Grimes and Carl Schroeder.

Study Club Picks Theme Of Program

In a series of informal meetings since the end of the club season, a program for Summerfield Study Club has been drafted by a committee headed by Mrs. Guy Walser and including Mrs. Thurman Atchley and Mrs. Earl Lance, working with Mrs. R. E. Lance Jr., president.

Knowledge Is the Treasure but Practice Is the Key, is the title chosen to designate the year's theme. The subject conforms to the emphasis on education placed by the new president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. B. F. Seay of Andrews.

Summerfield Club federated with the state organization, will begin its 1966-67 season with a coffee Sept. 2. Its officers are at mid-point in a two-year term.

Miss Smith Is Honoree

Miss Janice Smith, who is to be married to Johnny Brownlow next Saturday, was complimented with a lingerie shower Thursday evening by Mrs. Bill Phipps and her daughter, Miss Sylvia Phipps, in their home at 429 Star.

Blue candles lighted the table covered with lace over a blue cloth, where Miss Patti Roach assisted the hostesses in serving refreshments. Miss Smith was presented a corsage of carnations in pastel and deeper shades of blue.

Gift packages from some 30 friends were opened. Miss Smith was previously honored at a miscellaneous shower in the home of Mrs. Gwynne Owen.

Frances Carver has come from Lubbock to Deaf Smith County Hospital. She will be vocational education director, which means she will be the instructor for a new vocational nursing class soon to be organized. She's the friendly type and will likely be known to a lot of Hereford people before long.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

The D. A. Sutters drove to Dallas the first of the week to meet their 13-year-old daughter, Vicki, as she returned by plane from three weeks in Washington, D. C., visiting in the home of her brother, James E. Sutter, and seeing the sights of the nation's capital.

James Sutter recently began training in Washington for service with the FBI, and while he is studying Mrs. Sutter will be employed in the FBI office there. He has been a deputy on the sheriff's staff here, and she was in the Pioneer Gas Company office.

NOTHING IS BETTER than a touch of snowy white to give a cool-looking spot for relief in the wiling world we've had recently.

Beds of daisies in yards over town rest the eyes nicely as you drive around, and other white flowers help, like a row of pure gladiolus that caught my attention out on Avenue B, and an edging of ruffled white petunias across the entire front of the handsome house at 208 Texas

— the Howard Gault place, I believe.

Midsummer brides all seem to be planning wedding decorations in blue and white, with reason enough since those colors suggest ice and snow and that suggestion is most welcome these warm days. Anyway they make a refreshing combination in flowers at the parties and showers which are leading up to another flurry of weddings.

THE FRONT PORCH at 402 Roosevelt (Isn't that Edith Shepard's home?) is abloom with a fine collection of oleanders, reminding me that you don't see too many of those fragrant flowers nowadays.

Once as popular for indoor plants as are rubber trees and such foliage plants now, at least one tub of oleanders used to be owned by anyone claiming a slightly green thumb.

They usually had to be carried to the cellar in winter, unless the owner had an especially freeze-proof house; then were brought up to bloom in a sunny window or on a porch all summer. Maybe they lost their popularity because geraniums and begonias, which also bloom indoors, aren't so heavy to carry.

THAT'S AN APETIZING looking garden in the backyard at 611 North Main, an answer to the statement you often hear, that you can't have a garden in town without a fence to keep out stray animals and neighborhood baseball players. Nothing seems to have bothered those neat rows of vegetables.

A NEWCOMER met this week.

EVEN CLIMATE IS ODD

Texans Adjust To Isle

Adjustment to life in the Virgin Islands began for a West Texas couple with the climate, says Mrs. Henry H. Williamson. She is visiting here this month in the home of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Williamson, 301 Ave. B.

Equable is the word for the climate in that West Indies resort area, with the temperature so consistently ranging from 70 to 90 degrees that some hotels do not charge their guests for rooms on days which register higher or lower.

The Williamsons went a year ago from Dalhart, accustomed to the widely varied Panhandle temperatures, to St. Croix in the U.S.V.I., a territory of the United States. He is with the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Soil Conservation Service and she teaches in a school maintained by the Episcopal Church.

St. Croix, with its French name, is the easternmost city in a U. S. territory. The second word in its name is pronounced "Croy." The island of St. Croix is the largest of three which are U. S. possessions in the area. St. Thomas is more populous, however, with its tourist industry better developed, while St. John, the smallest, has the fewest people.

Lack of air conditioning is another characteristic of their new home which was noticeable to the Texas couple. Some stores are now installing cooling systems, but homes are not constructed so that it is practicable, Mrs. Williamson says.

Usually of cement, with terrazo floors, houses are built in open style to allow the greatest circulation of air in the very humid climate. Rainfall averages about 40 inches a year and the rain comes all year around, not in special seasons.

Predominately English-speaking, the islanders also may speak Spanish, French, Danish or other languages. The area has been under rule or influence of various nations, and has attracted residents from many places because of its even climate, so many nationalities are represented.

High literacy, 98 percent, is boasted for the 20,000 inhabitants.

Tourism is becoming the big industry, since sugar production is no longer a profitable business, Mrs. Williamson says. Cane is still grown to some extent, but much of the land is being returned to grass for cattle raising.

New industry is coming to the island, with an aluminum plant and an oil refinery being built.

"We live near one of the plant construction sites," Mrs. Williamson says, "and lately we have not been homesick for West Texas dust; there has been plenty of dust from the work."

Good hotels care for tourists now and more are being built, and all sorts of recreation is offered to visitors, especially the fishing, boating and underwater activities possible on a tropical coast.

Mrs. Williamson, who has been a teacher in Dalhart, learned that many more children attend private schools on the island.

Williamson, who is expected to arrive later this month for a visit with his parents, works on all three of the U. S. islands. This is the couple's first visit since they went to St. Croix. They will go in August to a Soil Conservation Service meeting in Albuquerque, where he will take part on the program. They are also including visits with their son, a graduate student at Texas Tech, and his family, also other relatives while they are back in Texas.

TO WED IN AUGUST — Engagement of Miss Rena Kay Cox to Darrell Dean Garrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Garrett of 810 Brevard, Hereford, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Cox of Amarillo. The wedding is planned for Aug. 27 in Trinity Baptist Church of that city. Garrett, who attends Texas Technological College, is presently employed in Amarillo. He is a 1962 graduate of Hereford High School. Miss Cox attended Amarillo College after graduation from Tascosa High School in Amarillo last year.

Legion Auxiliary Names Officers And Delegates, Hears Guest Speak

Returned to the presidency for another term, Mrs. Bill Gilleland heads 1966 officers of the American Legion Auxiliary who were elected at a recent meeting. Delegates were named to the department convention July 22-24 in Corpus Christi, and a date set for the annual Harvest Dinner.

Mrs. Leroy Williamson was re-elected secretary-treasurer; new officers to begin terms in October are Mrs. Grant Hanna and Mrs. J. D. Love, vice presidents; Mrs. J. E. Young, sergeant-at-arms with Mrs. Charles Hood assistant; Mrs. R. E. Draper, chaplain and Mrs. Mabel Wagner reporter-historian.

U. S. flags have been re-ordered for continued sale by the Auxiliary, Mrs. Hazel Sparks reported as she said 76 flags have been sold.

Miss Claudia Loerwald, Hereford High School student who represented the Auxiliary here at Girls' State in Austin last month, was introduced by Mrs. Ira Ott, program-chairman, to report on her trip.

She said 40 registered for Girls' State, the annual program designed to teach girls of Texas about state government in sessions held in the capitol, and give information also about city, county and national government.

Mock political campaigns and elections were held, in which Miss Loerwald was elected chief of police, and mock legislative sessions were held, in which she served in the house of representatives.

Classes were held daily, and speakers included Sen. John Tower, discussing Texas government, and Assistant Attorney General R. T. Davis, who told of the work of his office and also of the Youth Conference sponsored by the Attorney General. For recreation there were swimming, a talent show and baseball game.

Mrs. Ed Loerwald was a guest with her daughter, Mrs. Sparks was hostess.

The Harvest Dinner, a yearly fund-raising project of the Auxiliary, will be held Aug. 18.

Convention delegates elected are Mmes. Gilleland, Hanna, Ott, Williamson, Hood and Love. Alternates are Mmes. Wagner, Sparks, F. S. Smith, Lawrence Carlson, Cecil Wilkins and Young.

Marching Band Clinic Set For July 23-24

CANYON — A two-day marching band clinic, with William C. Moffit, director of the Michigan State University marching band, will be conducted at West Texas State University July 23-24.

Widely known innovator of marching band techniques, Moffit is the author of a book, "Patterns of Motion," and is a featured lecturer at clinics throughout the nation.

His appearance at WTSU is his only clinic in Texas in 1966. Registration fee is 2, and dormitory housing is available.

The special clinic is being conducted simultaneously with the 14th annual West Texas Music Camp, July 17-29, on the campus, when a band director's workshop is also slated. Directors may earn two semester hours graduate credit for the workshop, which will also feature a course in "The Concert Band," to be taught by James Matthews, director of bands at the University of Houston.

Mrs. H. V. Stanton, Corpus Christi is a house guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Reese who live north on Highway 385. She is also visiting her brother, V. O. Hennen and Mrs. Hennen, her aunt, Mrs. J. N. Jacobsen and other relatives and friends.

Mrs. Stanton, a former teacher, is now a substitute teacher in Corpus Christi schools. Her son, Jack, his wife and two children also live there and Jack is geologist for an oil company. The children are now six and eight years old.

Son David is associated with the radio department of Oklahoma University, Norman.

The Stantons were former Hereford residents and teachers, and the late H. V. Stanton taught at the school which has since been named for him, Stanton Junior High.

Mrs. Stanton flew from Corpus Christi to Amarillo — her first flying trip — and will fly home the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barbian and daughters, Stephanie and Andrea, Wichita, Kan. were guests last week in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Springer. Mr. Barbian preached on Sunday at Immanuel Lutheran Church and at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Plainview last Sunday. He has been serving as vicar of Holy Cross Lutheran Church in Wichita this summer and will remain until September. He and his family will then move back to St. Louis, Mo. where he will complete his work for the ministry at Concordia Seminary.

Mrs. Earl Springer is not only the "fond grandma" but she is sure that this Fourth of July no one could boast a more patriotic citizen than her two and a half year old granddaughter, Stephanie Barbian. Mrs. Barbian recently heard Stephanie repeating some words that sounded quite familiar. When asked what she was saying, Stephanie said, "T. V. taught me this" and she immediately put her hand over her heart in salute and said every word of "The Pledge of Allegiance."

Miss Sandra Roberson visited last weekend in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. DeWard Roberson. Working on her Master's Thesis in English this summer at Baylor University, she came to Lockney to attend the wedding of a friend, Debbie Freeman. She will return in September to Lubbock, where she teaches English in Coronado High School. Miss Freeman was her roommate at Lubbock last year.

Mrs. Wayne Swiney and baby who have been at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don Robinson, for an extended visit left this week to join her husband. They are uncertain as to where they will be stationed. They have been in Germany for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lamb went to Stephenville last weekend to attend a reunion of her family. The two-day affair was held at the home of a brother, Sterling Dearden. Thirty members of the family were present including the parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Dearden of Lubbock. One daughter of the Deardens was unable to be present as she was hospitalized in Lamesa.

Carroll Don Martin, AUSTIN came to spend last weekend with his parents Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Martin and his daughter, Jennifer. Jennifer has been visiting here with the Martins and with her maternal grandparents, the Marcus Lathams for the past four weeks. Her mother spent last week here to be with her mother Mrs. Latham who has been hospitalized. She and Carrol Don returned home to Austin Monday. Jennifer remained here to spend a couple more weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Mize, Topeka, Kan., Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Broadbooks, Erick, Okla. and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Durstine, Friona were guests Wednesday afternoon in the Merlin Kaul home. Mrs. Mize and Mrs. Broadbooks are twin sisters and the Kauls are former residents of Sabetha, Kansas.

Mrs. Doug Bartlett was hostess at a coffee last Thursday morning at the home of her mother, Mrs. J. J. Durham honoring Mrs. Lynn Boomer. The Boomers moved last week to a ranch near Madill, Okla. They left their young son, Marsh Taylor, here with his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Bert Boomer for a couple of weeks while they are getting settled.

Guests present for the coffee included Mrs. Wesley Smith of Dimmitt, Wayne Swiney, Joe Neeley, Tommy Carnahan, Joe Henry, Larry Paschal and the honor guest.

Teena May returned home last Sunday on the Santa Fe Train after spending four weeks in San Diego, Calif. with her brother, Kenneth May and Mrs.

SIGNS OF PROGRESS — Watering a school yard may not look like progress but any school child or teacher in elementary school — watering is important but particularly a 'sign of progress' at Blue-bonnet where the first year of school was spent without grass or landscaping. May. They took her to Los Angeles, to visit Knott's Berry Farm, Disneyland and other places of interest.

Mrs. Paul Kincaid and daughter, Alta, Swink, Colo. were luncheon guests on Monday of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Crawford and Kee. They were enroute to Kerrville where Miss Kincaid is counselor in a summer camp. In September she will go to Bloomfield, N. M. where she is a homemaker teacher in the High School.

Johnny Jesko lost a few acres of wheat in a field fire last Thursday afternoon at his farm at Westway. Fire trucks from Hereford and Friona answered the call and prevented much crop loss. However J. E. McCather Sr., lost his pickup in the blaze, when attempting to aid in fighting the fire.

Spending the Fourth of July vacation at New Mexico lakes were Mr. and Mrs. James R. Coleman and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Coleman and family and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ricketts and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Benton Bolin and children are here from Arizona and have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Thomas at Westway and other relatives here. ZeAnn and Mark Bolin arrived from Williams, Ariz. the first of the week to visit in the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Owens.

Holly Announces Plant Expansion In California

Board of Directors of Holly Sugar Corporation approved the building of a new sugar factory at Tracy, California. With a rated slicing capacity of 8,000 tons of sugar beets a day, Holly's projected new Tracy plant will be the largest beet sugar factory in the United States.

Russell T. Tutt, Holly Board Chairman, and Dennis O'Rourke, President and Chief Executive Officer, said that engineering for the new factory would proceed immediately so that ground-breaking and construction could begin early in 1967. They expect the new factory, where Northern California operations will be consolidated, to be completed in time to process sugar beets early in 1970. Cost of the plant would be near $30 million.

The new Tracy factory will be the second large, new factory project recently undertaken by Holly Sugar Corporation. In the fall of 1964, Holly completed a large, 6,000 ton a day mill in Hereford.

Holly officers said that they expect production at the new Tracy mill to be substantially greater than production at the Texas factory and stated that "Results from the new factory are expected to be second to none in their importance to the future."

Holly Sugar Corporation presently operates eleven plants: in Northern California, in the Imperial Valley and Santa Ana in Southern California, and in Colorado, Montana, Texas, and Wyoming. The Corporation's main offices are in Colorado Springs, Colorado. West Coast headquarters are located in San Mateo.

HOLLY'S NET income for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1966, excluding investment tax credit, was $3,459,338, or $5.25 per share of common stock. This compares to $4.58 per share of common stock, excluding investment tax credit, for the previous year. Sales for the fiscal year totalled $96,847,397, up some $17 million from the previous year.

Also, during the fiscal year just completed, Holly's record production of dried beet pulp again placed the Corporation in the forefront of the industry for that important by-product. With eleven factories scattered in five states from Sidney, Montana to California's Imperial Valley, Holly was again the only American company manufacturing sugar in every month of the year.

According to a report issued by the U. S. Department of Commerce, state governments spent $45.5 billion in fiscal 1965, including $4.2 billion paid in unemployment compensation and other insurance trust systems.

Damages Mount In Accident Investigations

Four mishaps within the city limits caused moderate to heavy damage, with no persons injured in any of the minor collisions.

An accident at 4 p. m. Friday in the 300 block of Sampson street occurred when a late model sedan and pickup collided resulting in $220 damage, $200 to a sedan driven by Ann Falcon Horta and $20 to a pickup driven by Carroll Reid Hagar.

The collision occurred when the pickup, backing out of a parking area, and the sedan, going north on Sampson St., collided.

Another mishap Friday night in the 200 block of E. 3rd St. occurred as a vehicle driven by Wood Vaughn struck door being opened on a parked sedan. Damage to the Vaughn vehicle was $75, and damage to the parked vehicle, occupied by David Dominguez, was $50.

Sunday at 8 a. m., an accident took place when a vehicle driven by Timmy Kilpatrick collided with a parked vehicle, owned by Frances Eddy. Kilpatrick was traveling south in the 200 block of Ave. K, with the parked vehicle facing south when the collision happened. Damage to the Kilpatrick vehicle was $250, and $200 to the Eddy vehicle.

Moderate damage, $450, was inflicted upon a late model pickup driven by Darwin C. Miller, when it collided with a late model sedan driven by Antonio G. Castillo of Raymondville. The Castillo sedan received $150 damage.

Miller, traveling west on First St., collided with Castillo, traveling east, as Castillo was attempting to make a left turn on to Main St. The accident occurred about 8 a. m. Tuesday morning.

Boat Infractions Tabled In State

AMARILLO — N. E. Glover, regional enforcement supervisor for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department reported during one month, 885 boats were contacted by Panhandle wardens on High Plains lakes in violation of some phase of the new Texas Water Safety Act.

Infractions reported on seven Panhandle lakes were: 212 — on no bat registration; 169 boat numbers displayed; 84 — no life preservers; 71 — pulling skiers without a rear view mirror; 51 — improperly displayed numbers; 5 — improper lighting after dark; 47 — reckless and dangerous boat handling; 31 — no fire extinguisher on boats with enclosed fire hazards; 16 — faulty life preservers present but inaccessible to occupants.

Competition In Laxity

When the Federal Reserve last week didn't crack down on its member banks hard enough to suit the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, the Board quickly came up with a counter-move: it eased up on savings and loan associations it supervises.

This strange competition surely is fresh evidence that it's high time to overhaul regulation of the nation's financial institutions. The present setup endangers not only the institutions and their customers but the health of the whole economy.

The current interagency feuding centers on the competition for savings and, of all the combatants, the Federal Reserve seems to be viewing the matter in the broadest and clearest perspective.

For one thing, the Fed appears to be aware that banks and savings institutions aren't the only places where individuals and corporations can place their idle funds. In the first quarter, in fact, individuals put a good deal less money into both banks and savings and loan associations than they had a year earlier, and at the same time invested record sums in Government securities and mutual fund shares.

In that sort of situation, a cut in the banks' savings interest rates — urged by the savings and loans as well as some Congressmen — might have mainly speeded the flow of savings into Treasury and other securities. The S&Ls, whose limited funds have led them to cut back on home mortgage lending, might have been helped scarcely at all. And there's no question whatsoever that the banks would have faced something of a crisis of liquidity.

Thus the Federal Reserve, concerned about the safety of savings and the soundness of the banks, only required member institutions to increase their reserves behind savings accounts. The Home Loan Bank Board, attacking the Fed's move as "minimal," first authorized some savings and loan associations to offer savers higher rates — and later abandoned its efforts to regulate payments.

Perhaps most associations can safely pay higher rates. All the same, the Bank Board evidently feared that some S&Ls, after years of exuberant expansion encouraged by Washington, might still be a little overly aggressive. It actually thought it was necessary to warn the associations not to raise their rates unless they really could afford to.

The savings squabble, of course, is only the latest in a long series of battles among the regulators. The agencies argue over mergers, proper bank investments and many other matters. Whatever anyone's viewpoint happens to be on any banking issue, he probably can find some regulatory body to espouse it.

As things stand now, this confusion is practically unavoidable. Haphazard Federal legislation has scattered bank regulatory powers among the Comptroller of the Currency, the Federal Reserve System and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. — and allowed the Home Loan Bank Board to go its own way. Frequently regulatory rules overlap, so that neither the agencies nor the institutions know precisely where they stand.

Although the problem is compounded by conflicting and often-archaic regulation at the state level, an overhaul logically should start by pulling Federal regulation together into a more reasonable framework. It would be a little unfair to expect the states all to start a sensible course while Washington continued to sail off in all directions.

Where the safety of the public's money is involved, some form of governmental supervision is essential. But that safety is only imperiled when any group of institutions usually can find some regulatory body willing and eager to urge them on to greater growth no matter what. In the past the banking agencies have hardly been less expansion-minded than the S&Ls' Home Loan Bank Board.

In most areas of the economy, competition is both healthy and desirable. When supervisors of financial institutions compete in laxity, however, it's at the expense of the public and the price can get exorbitant.

—The Wall Street Journal

'Powers' Or Progress?

One of Webster's definitions of power is "the possession of sway or controlling influence over others." The thesaurus offers these synonyms, among many others: "domination, authority, command."

Small wonder, then, that the chant of "black power" in Mississippi has triggered a nationwide reappraisal of the civil-rights movement.

How different is this chant from "liberty, fraternity, equality." How far removed from "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

The French and American Revolutions were waged not to establish sway or controlling influence over others, but to bring one of man's dearest dreams to reality — to enable man to govern himself through a government of, by and for the people.

"Black Power" is the battle cry of Stokely Carmichael, who at age 24 has wrested control of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee from John R. Lewis, 26. Lewis is not only out of office, he has also washed his hands entirely of the SNCC, or "Snick."

Says Lewis: "There is a danger in SNCC of fumbling the ball." That's putting it mildly. Carmichael says, "There is no reason for anyone in this country to get scared of black power. Everybody else has theirs."

"Everybody else" may include the vast majority who don't belong to a nonviolent group that starts riots, who march only to the ballot box and back, who kneel in church and lie in bed, not in the street.

This overwhelming majority that Carmichael calls "everybody else" does indeed have power. At the polls, in fact, it has ten times as much power as the Negro populace that would presumably constitute Carmichael's power bloc.

So far "everybody else" has generally regarded the civil-rights movement as a struggle of a disadvantaged part of society to elevate itself. Now, however, a key question is heard from the "everybody else" sector that has been most sympathetic to the cause:

Who will lead?

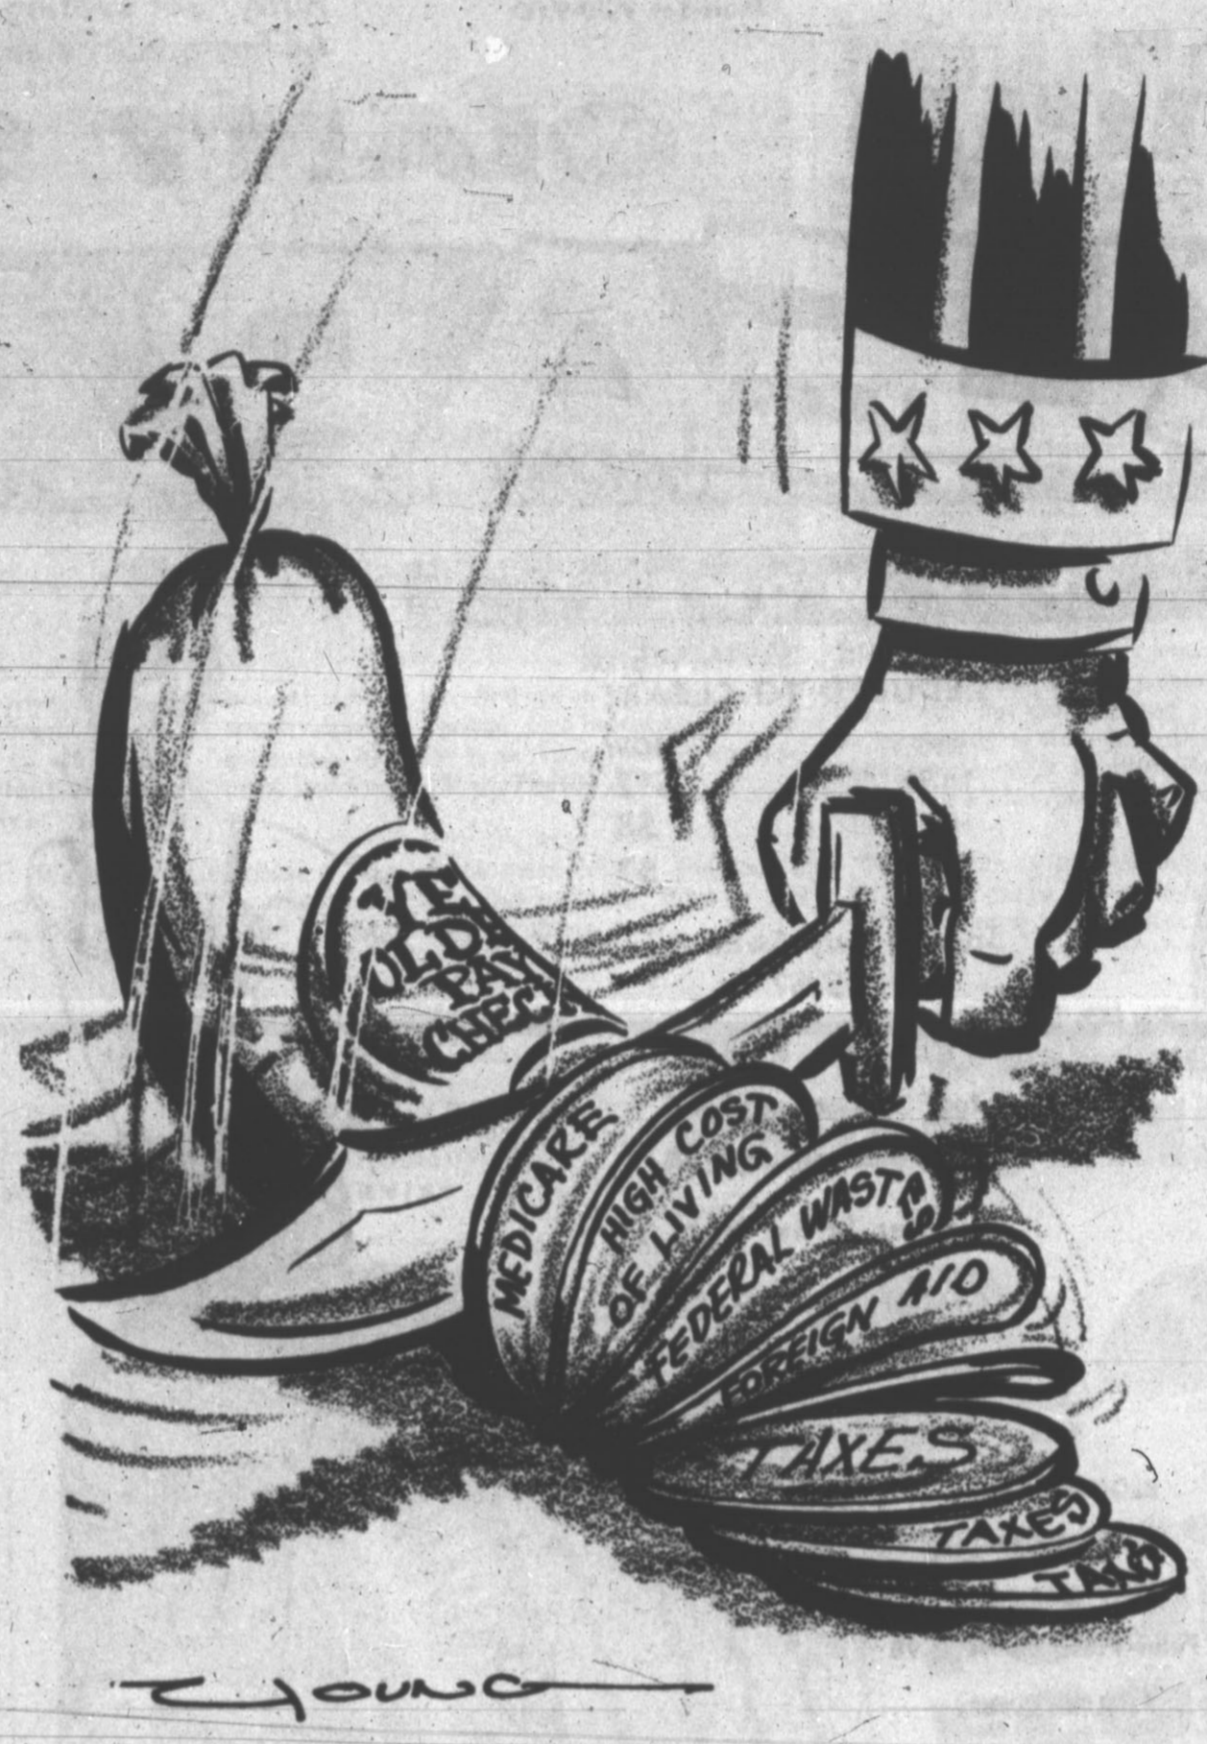

Will it be a Martin Luther King, who hedgehops to wherever the action is? Will it be a Roy Wilkins, whose course of moderation has amassed victory after triumph in the courts and legislative halls?

Or will it be a Carmichael, whose harangues smack more of Negro nationalism than nonviolent coordination?

The answer to this question will spell success or failure for the civil-rights movement. "Black power" that seeks to put itself above and apart will fail. Responsible leadership of intelligence and integrity is best not just for the Negro but for the nation as well.

If the Negro chooses to follow the opportunist who covets personal power over all else, there will be no "black power" — only dark disappointment.

Panhandle Paragraphs

How would it feel to be sitting in a darkened movie theatre, minding one's own business, and have the President of the United States tap you on the shoulder?

One night a movie was showing at a Washington Theatre which President Kennedy especially wanted to see. So he had a Secret Service man slipped off after dark in Jackie's Pontiac and went to see the picture, without being recognized. After his eyes adjusted to the darkness, he noted that Orville Freeman was sitting directly in front of him. Tapping the startled Secretary on the shoulder, he asked, "Is this where you solve the problems of agriculture?"

On another occasion, the President and Jackie attended a Broadway show in New York. The cast was so ill at ease it turned out its most mediocre performance. However, Kennedy set something of a record that night. For the first time in the history of show business every eye in the house was trained on a man making his way to the men's room.

New Mexico's state bird, the Chapparral, paid a visit to the landscaped campus of Eastern New Mexico University yesterday.

He showed up, appropriately, at the University theatre, and when pressed by curious drama students, went into his act but selected the wrong background.

He dropped to the ground, stretching out immobile, in an effort to blend into the background and escape detection. But it's pretty hard for a Roadrunner to blend in with a concrete sidewalk. As a result, it was no trick at all to capture the bird, and the sympathetic students assumed that the bird was ill. Dr. Lyle Hagan, director of the campus theater, placed the bird under the care of a veterinarian.

Today Dr. Martin Hinderliter reported the bird was apparently not ailing, and he was holding the bird in a cage awaiting further word.

Collingsworth farmers and ranchers may cut hay from and graze cropland taken out of production under the soil bank and diverted acres programs of the Department of Agriculture, due to the acute drought situation, Congressman Walter Rogers notified The Wellington Leader Tuesday, July 5.

Darling," said the prospective groom, "now that we are getting married, you should give up your $50 a week job." "Of course I will," the blushing bride to be beamed, "that is a great idea." "The way I figure it," her soon to be spouse said, "you'll have to make a hundred at least."

Holiday spirits, temperatures of up to 103 degrees, and still, sunny days prompted an all-time record breaking attendance of 41,851 visitors to the Lake Meredith recreation facilities over the three-day July Fourth weekend period.

The July Fourth holiday period of 1965, just after the Panhandle lake opened its doors to the public, counted just over 25,000 visitors to Lake Meredith, little more than half of the 1966 holiday total.

The National Park Service advised that while crowds were at a premium over the weekend, there were no major accidents. Chief Park Ranger Hugh Beattie said, "It was extremely gratifying. It was just a safe and happy group of people."

Nation Is Preoccupied With Oldsters Problems

By BERT MILLS

Washington, D. C. — One out of every 11 Americans is 65 years of age or older and almost every person has at least one close relative in the senior citizen group, which now numbers more than 18 million.

Since 1900, the number of people in the U. S. who are past 65 has increased six-fold, and the trend is still upward. The percentage of the population in the elderly bracket was 4.1 at the turn of the century and is now 9.4.

The importance of this growing group has not been lost on elected and appointed officials of the Federal Government. Each year new programs are adopted for their special benefit. The most conspicuous example is Medicare, the first part of which has just taken effect.

The Senate, a number of its own members being past 65, now has a special committee on Aging. It is headed by Sen. George A. Sathers (D., Fla.), who is only 52 but whose state ranks second only to Iowa in the proportion of its citizens who are beyond 65 — about one out of eight in each case.

The Senate Aging Committee has 20 other members and a staff of 13. It boasts six subcommittees concerned with housing, employment and retirement incomes, Federal, state and community services, frauds, health, and long-term care.

Elderly people even have their own national association, Senior Citizens of America. It has Washington headquarters and a national membership. Among its functions is to lobby for the special interests of the over-65 age group in the halls of Congress and the department and agencies.

Famphlet Gives Facts

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare now includes a bureau called Administration on Aging. It recently published a pamphlet, "Facts About Older Americans," which is available for 10 cents from the Superintendent of Documents U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20462.

The pamphlet contains facts from a variety of sources which help to explain the many problems associated with advancing years. For example, Census Bureau figures show that generally speaking women outlive men. There are about 129 older women for each 100 men of comparable age.

Life expectancy at birth is now 73.7 years for females and 66.9 for males. The trend is for the life span of the average woman to continue to increase faster than for men. A Census projection points to a ratio of 148 older women per 100 older men in the year 2000.

Because women marry younger than men and live longer, the marital status of those over 65 varies greatly between sexes. Only 36 percent of ladies beyond 65 have a husband, and 54.4 are widows. On the other hand, 71.3 percent of men over 65 have a wife and only 19.5 are widowers. There are almost four times as many widows as widowers.

Some elderly persons run counter to these statistics by getting married after their 65th birthday. Using Public Health Service data, Administration on Aging estimates that there are at least 35,000 marriages a year in which the bride, the groom, or both, are over 65. However, two-fifths of the married men over 65 boast a wife who has not reached that mark.

Most senior citizens live with their families, and only one out of 25 is confined to an institution. However, about one-third of the women and one-sixth of the men live alone or with non-relatives.

Half Are Impoverished

Income statistics for the elderly are of 1963 vintage and based on samples but the evidence indicates that over half of elderly couples have annual incomes under $3,000 — which is the poverty level used by the government. Three out of five who do not live with relatives have incomes under $1,500.

About one elderly person in six is still "in the labor force," meaning that he or she is either working or actively looking for a job. A large proportion of those who do work are in low-pay jobs.

In view of these statistics, more Washington welfare programs for the aged are a sure bet for the future.

TEN YEARS AGO

Bond Issue Is Presented To Hereford Area Voters

Three workmen narrowly escaped injury when an explosion ripped much of the outer walls from a metal building early Tuesday at the Hereford Grain Co., just east of the city.

The Bi-State Water Commission, a group of irrigation farmers and businessmen organized to conserve irrigation water in the South Plains area, this week launched a long range program.

It's the Midway cry, the hawk's herald and it will ring in the vacant lot north of the Bull Barn beginning Friday night when the Lions Club opens its annual carnival.

A proposal to ante-up $139,500 through a bond issue to match an equal amount earmarked by the Civil Aeronautics Authority for building an airport here may be presented to local voters.

Another new department store will open in Hereford this fall when Montgomery Ward initiates its catalogue order store here.

Seven boys, ranging in age from 12 to 16, were arrested Monday and Tuesday by Sheriff Lowell Sharp after investigation of a Sunday night burglary at the Hereford Fruit Market, 218 North 25 Mile Ave. The boys reportedly admitted the burglary to sheriff's officers.

Precinct conventions are slated again. This time they are the state series of conventions as contrasted with the presidential series which met in May.

The Ethics Of A Christian Civilization

The conflict in the world today is between Western civilization and communism. The surest way our system can win is to prove that our way of living and our code of ethics and morals are superior to that of the irreligious communists.

When we write of our "civilization" we envisage the wide range of virtues it teaches including honesty, justice, unselfishness and self-denial. Unfortunately human nature is weak and there is an addiction to trickery, greed, selfishness and corruption, not only among people, but among governments.

It is a canon of our civilization that the individual must be free to strive for perfection, and that the state exists to serve the people and not to have dominion over them. No matter how far this principle may have been transgressed if practiced it is still the one great prize which Western man has won. It can be lost only through his shortcomings.

If we only lived up to the ideals of our civilization the result would surely be in our favor. The menace lies in the spread of immorality, the decay of religious faith and the undermining of the dignity and sanctity of the home.

THE BOOTLEG

—Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his hindwood farm defends the mail system, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

According to three different articles I've read in three different newspapers I've found out here in the past week, a lot of people, especially in cities, are complaining about the mail service. They say it's too slow.

According to one article, a man living on one side of New York sent a letter to a friend on the other side. At the same time, another man in Australia sent the same friend a letter, and he got them both on the same day. One crossed the ocean while the other was crossing New York. Some Congressman up there even got on a horse and proved pony express was faster than the regular system.

Another article claimed mail service in London is three times as fast as it is in big cities over here, said you could mail a letter there in the morning and it'd be delivered before noon.

Of course there are reasons for such things. Take London. London is a very old city and the postmaster probably knows everybody in town. No trick to that. Postmaster Nolan Grady probably could beat London, if it ever became necessary, although I figure if anybody in Hereford needs to communicate, with somebody else in town that fast, he could phone or walk across the street.

Personally, I have never been too concerned over how fast I got my mail. Half the letters could never have reached me at all and I'd probably been better off. Anybody who can't wait till the 1st to get a bill, can always go in ahead of time and pay it in the middle of the month.

Furthermore, I don't know of a thing I need to tell anybody now that day after tomorrow wouldn't do just as well, even if he never heard it, he'd probably be just as well off, and I don't know anybody who has any information for me that I'd be any less confused by getting two days late I've never understood all this crazy for speed.

Say, my copy of The Brand got here a day late last week. Wish you'd speak to the Postmaster about it.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

SOCIAL WORKER'S CAREER

Job At Casa De Amigos Holds Exciting Variety

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

From chauffeur to counselor, from recreation director to record keeper, an assortment of duties makes up the everyday routine for Miss Eunice Vasquez as suggested by her job title, director of activities at Casa de Amigos.

SOCIAL WORKER, teacher and friend to the many Spanish-American residents who are served by the Hereford Migrant Ministry through Casa de Amigos, she uses techniques she never learned in the secretarial studies which launched her career.

Children's activities comprise a big part of the Casa's program; the building is open from 9 to 11:30 a. m. and from 2 to 6 p. m. so the children can come in to play or read, since most of the homes of migrant workers near the Casa are too crowded for those simple childhood pleasures.

Educational activities of various types are planned, chiefly with the aim of helping the children become familiar with the English language and learn to cooperate in preparation for school. Children are grouped by ages for these programs.

KINDERGARTEN is conducted during the school term, and a summer school is held in August by women from the five Hereford churches which maintain the Migrant Ministry.

Recreation and other activities for teenagers and adults are also carried out.

In addition, Miss Vasquez is available to give information and advice to families, many of them living in the United States for the first time and knowing little, if any, English.

She helps mothers enroll their children in school, take them to a doctor or hospital in case of illness, find stores, playgrounds, churches and other places not easily located by a stranger.

WHEN SHE WAS interviewed, cheerful Miss Vasquez was helping give a sewing lesson to two girls and planning to drive to Lubbock, taking a family in which one parent was American born and the other a native of Mexico, to arrange for filling citizenship requirements.

Those are just samples of services she is asked to perform, and she never knows what the next request will be.

As the most unusual, she tells of a telephone call after bedtime one night, from a mother alone in a farmhouse, who had given birth prematurely to a baby and did not know who to call for help. No midwife, Miss Vasquez reassured the frightened woman and then quickly called a doctor to attend her.

FEW OF HER DUTIES concern emergencies, however.

Most of the time for the 17 has worked steadily with children and others who use the Casa facilities, helped women of the sponsoring churches with their projects including weekly rummage sales, and assisted with paper work in the office of Virgil Dodson, director of the Migrant Ministry program. Born in the state of Nuevo Leon, Mexico, Miss Vasquez is the daughter of a Methodist minister who served a number of churches, mostly in northern Mexico, while she was growing up. She first came to Texas as a student in business school at Austin.

During her secretarial course she began work as secretary at a Methodist Church for Spanish-speaking residents of that city, where she met the head of the Texas Migrant Ministry.

SHE WORKED with the Migrant Ministry during vacations, and on assignment with a program sponsored by United Church Women of Hereford she came here one summer eight years ago.

Later study in a Methodist school in Mexico City was interrupted by the death of her father. She went to Piedras Negras, then the home of her family, and was employed as a telephone operator until she was remembered when need arose for an activities director at Casa de Amigos.

Miss Eunice Vasquez with pair of young friends

She lives in an apartment at the Casa and her mother is here to share it with her. Assisting in her work this year are three VISTA volunteers, and she has other help, including a student group from West Texas State University which directs an adult recreation period weekly, volunteers from churches of the city and a Camp Fire Girl group working with girls of elementary school age.

WHERE THE GIRLS WENT

MELBOURNE (AP) — A staff employment expert, Malcolm Riddle, has gone to Britain to lure Australian secretaries back to Australian business and industry.

Riddle said before he left here that many Australian girls were working for low wages in Europe, but could get highly paid jobs in their homeland. They had gone to Europe on working holidays and got themselves into a rut, he said.

As well as persuading Australian girls to return, Riddle hopes to encourage European girls to come to Australia on working holidays or to take permanent positions.

There's nothing new about the automatic vending machine. In fact, it's 2,000 years old. A recent article in a magazine titled "Food Marketing in New England" pointed out that in 219 B. C. a Greek priest introduced a form of automatic vending. He devised a machine that dispensed holy water when activated by a coin. And, in the 10th century a Chinese inventor rigged up a bamboo pole so that a coin dropped in a slot released a pencil.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor (and who ever will read this):

In listening to Preachers preach and Sunday School teachers teach the Bible and think of the mistakes and wrongs done by the People in Christ's time, we wonder how anyone could do many things they did and not realize that they were wrong. Christ said that some of them in speaking of things of the Past had referred to their fathers killing the Prophets and said if they had lived in those times that they would not have done that while at the same time they were trying to think of some way to get rid of Jesus and did crucify Him. The Prophets in the past had told the People that they did some things that were wrong and the People couldn't take it, so they killed the Prophets, Jesus told the Pharisees that they were wrong in some things and that is why they killed Him. I am wondering what would happen if Jesus would come back to Earth today. What would the People of today do?

We study about how the Israelite People would drift and worship other Gods, I am wondering how many of us are worshipping other Gods and what are those Gods? We don't see much of graven images but there are many kinds of Gods that we can worship, are we like Judas worshipping 9 pieces of silver or is our God that new home or new auto or some other selfish desire. God could be anything that we are more interested in than in doing Gods will.

I have made many mistakes and more than likely you have to, do we realize those mistakes and try to do better, or do we just go on and not care. If some one tells me I did wrong should I tell them to tend their own business or should I thank them for telling me, I am sure the Christian way is to thank them. We should be thankful for two reasons, I am sure we all really want to do what is right, so if we do something wrong and fail to notice it our self, then we should be glad some one thought enough of us to tell us. If they just think we are wrong then we may be able to explain and show that we are not wrong. If we get mad and tell them it isn't any of their business then it indicates we don't want to do the right thing and that makes us double wrong.

Sincerely,
Ole T. Larson

William Howard Taft said: "To obey the law is to support democracy. If every man thinks every law must suit him in order that he shall obey it, he does not support democracy but destroys it. The basis of good government lies in the fact that the people are willing to obey the law as they have determined it to be."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

By every measurement, the 4th of July ceremony on the south side of the court house was successful; except, maybe the crowd could have been larger. Of course, we are hog-ish, we wanted everybody there. We were well-satisfied with the number present and every one who participated.

The ceremony was most impressive. Chills ran up and down spines; eyes were filled with tears, and love for Old Glory welled up within hearts as it has but few times before.

In addition to the ceremony, there is another thing that has left a lasting impression on me. I shall never forget the splendid cooperation of every citizen from the County Judge and City Mayor to the lovely little Camp Fire Girls dressed in uniform and the fine Boy Scouts of America. When the citizens of any community work in harmony to reach a common goal, as did the citizens of this community to accomplish this program for patriotism, they'll get the job done.

We all certainly can be grateful for the large reservoir of very excellent talent in Deaf Smith County. The master of ceremonies, the readers, the color guard, the honor guard, the community choir and the band all performed in a manner that would do credit to any city.

If you could have seen the harmonious work of the radio station and the newspaper, the grounds committee and decorations committee it would have done your heart good.

Many have expressed the desire to do a repeat performance July 4th, 1967. Others want it to become an annual celebration and spread into other communities in the Golden Spread. This all sounds great to me.

Thanks to every one for your cooperation and encouragement.

ONE MINUTE, PLEASE

THE CHURCH I LOVE IS WARNED OF THE POSSIBILITY OF FALLING AWAY

"Take care, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil, unbelieving heart, leading you to fall away from the living God." (Hebrews 3:12).

This warning is given to Christian brethren. It is possible for those who believe to turn from their faith and develop an evil heart of unbelief. There have been instances of people having a strong faith in Christ Jesus while at home, but when they leave home, they get with the wrong crowd or are taught by unbelieving teachers, and give up their faith. As a result they fall away from the living God.

Paul, the Apostle, warns Christians of the possibility of falling when he tells of God's chosen people who "were baptized into Moses in the cloud and in the sea, and all ate of the same supernatural food and all drank of the same supernatural drink. For they drank from the supernatural Rock which followed them and the Rock was Christ. Nevertheless with most of them, God was not pleased; for they were overthrown in the wilderness. . . . They "indulged in immorality . . . and twenty-three thousand fell in a single day . . . Therefore let any one who thinks that he stands, take heed lest he fall." (Corinthians 10:1-2).

"To the churches of Galatia," Paul wrote, "You are severed from Christ, you who would be justified by the law (of Moses); you have fallen away from grace." (Galatians 1:2&3:4). Also to "God's beloved in Rome," Paul wrote, "Note then the kindness and severity of God; severity toward those who have fallen, but God's kindness to you, provided you continue in his kindness; otherwise you too will be cut off." (Romans 1:7 and 11:22).

NEWS IN WASHINGTON

Book Is Issued On 'King Fisher'

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON — West Texas Rep. Clark Fisher, author of several books dealing with his part of the Southwest, has just finished reading proof on a new volume dealing with a kinsman who was assassinated during the shoot 'em up era in Texas history.

Entitled "King Fisher-His Life and Times," the book is to be published by the University of Oklahoma Press, Norman, Okla., about September.

King Fisher, born in Collin County in 1854, died in March of 1884. He was shot down as he came out of a vaudeville theater in San Antonio. He was a first cousin of Jobe Fisher, the San Angelo lawmaker's father.

Although King Fisher had been indicted several times on murder charges, and tried in some cases, he always was acquitted. He often travelled with rough characters on the range, and heated arguments sometimes arose over livestock ownership.

King Fisher had been a gun toter from youth and was said to have had several niches carved on his pistol handles, says Rep. Fisher, but just two years before his death had reformed. He was acting sheriff of Uvalde County when shot down by a man who held a grudge against him.

Fisher said he has had to cut out a lot of copy from his original manuscript and eliminate all of a large collection of relevant and interesting old photographs he has been collecting for years.

Around the Capital: D. B. Hardeman, former state representative from Sherman and a former aide to the late Speaker Sam Rayburn, has just completed a year on the staff of Trinity College here as an instructor in government. He plans to take time out from teaching during next fall's semester so he can complete his biography of Rayburn, who had made all his papers and other personal materials available to Hardeman several years before his death.

Ed Shelton of Austin has recently taken a position with the newly created "National Pollution Control Foundation" with headquarters in New York. He plans to divide his time between New York and Washington promoting the goals of the foundation, which seeks to coordinate private and governmental interests in combatting both air and water pollution.

Count Underway As Fall Hunting Season Nears

AUSTIN — Curiosity about the prospects for the fall antelope season in Texas is reflected in an increasing flow of letters about the fleet game animal received by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Some of the writers are under the impression that the old public drawing system still is used to determine the sportsmen participating in the hunts.

A Department spokesman explained that this method was dropped several years ago in favor of having landowners issue permits direct to the hunter. This system, he said, has proved satisfactory to the persons on whose land the hunting is authorized and to the hunters themselves.

The Department reports that the antelope herds are now being counted, primarily in the Trans-Pecos where most of the pronghorn speedsters roam with the Panhandle next on the schedule. Generally, permits also are issued for a modest number of antelope to be taken in the Permian Basin regulatory area

When the population has been determined, said the spokesman, wildlife biologists will establish the surplus available for harvest and permits issued accordingly.

The Department has been advising early-bird inquirers that they might choose now to contact Chambers of Commerce in Trans-Pecos cities like Alpine, Marfa, Van Horn and Sierra Blanca for names of ranchers who normally receive antelope permits.

This might have the advantage of gaining priority in a sport that has grown to appeal to more sportsmen than there are antelope to go around.
