

Pollution Control Cooperation Evidenced Locally

Local Industry Officials Seek Problem Answer

Hereford area public officials and industries are continuing their investigation into possible means of controlling pollution of Tierra Blanca Creek.

Officials in Austin announced this week that they have received pledges of cooperation from several sources here as they continue their investigation into complaints charging pollution of the creek.

No definite plans have been revealed by the Austin-based Texas Water Pollution Control Board, which last week announced it would take steps to correct any pollution problems which might exist along the Tierra Blanca, which stretches through southern Hereford and Deaf Smith County.

It was reported from Austin that Deaf Smith County Health Officer, Dr. Clyde Rush, has promised any cooperation needed in helping to evaluate the problem.

THE REPORT continued that Dr. Rush said in a letter to board officials that Hereford businessmen have assured him they will cooperate in taking necessary steps to curtail the problem.

The water pollution control board has sent letters to industries in the Hereford area, asking them to be sure they comply with water pollution control statutes.

TENNIS, ANYONE — With a questioning glance at the sky, 18-year-old Jani Brumley decided there was plenty of time for her first tennis game of the year Saturday afternoon as the thermometer neared the 70-degree mark. So off came the cozy winter coat and on came the tennis game.

But clouds were already gathering over the Panhandle area, which still had signs of last week's heavy snows. Jani, a senior at Hereford High, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Brumley of Hereford

Sugar Beet Growers Host USDA Official

Sugar Dept. Head Visits Set Monday

The director of the United States Department of Agriculture Sugar Division will visit the Texas-New Mexico beet growing area Monday to meet with executives of Holly Sugar Corp. and area farmers.

Tom O. Murphy, director of the USDA sugar division, will talk over current status of beet production and processing in the Hereford area in informal meetings with growers.

He will also meet with Dennis O'Rourke, president of Holly Sugar Corp., and other company officials.

Hosts for his first visit to Hereford are directors of the Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association, who recently invited the director of the sugar-policy staff to visit the Hereford beet growers.

S. L. Garrison, newly-elected president of the beet growers association, told the Brand that Murphy's visit will be informal in nature.

"WE MERELY wanted an opportunity to show Mr. Murphy the beet growing area here and what we are doing with the acreage we have," Garrison explained.

It is planned that the USDA official will visit the Merrill E. Shoup processing plant west of Hereford, and the Deaf Smith, Castro, Farmer, and Curry county areas during the day with stops in Dimmitt, Clovis, and other points.

A MEETING has also been scheduled for 3:30 p. m. Monday in the Community Room of See SUGAR BEET, Page 2

Metcalf Becomes Candidate For Commissioner

Paul W. Metcalf has announced his candidacy for the office of county commissioner, precinct 4, subject to the May 7 Democratic Primary.

He will oppose incumbent Donald Hicks, who recently announced he would seek re-election to represent the northern Deaf Smith County precinct.

In making the announcement, Metcalf said, "I have been a farmer of Deaf Smith County since 1943. If I am chosen as your Democratic Nominee, I will pledge myself to serve you personally and at any and all times I am needed.

"I will do my best to serve faithfully, honorably, and with respect to the office, and to the people who so honor me.

"I shall make every effort to contact each voter personally before election. I wish to take this means of requesting your vote and support in the Democratic Primary."

Viet Nam Veteran Talks

The most important six months of a 30-year-old pilot's life will be explained to citizens of Hereford Tuesday night.

THE PILOT is Capt. Buren C. Galbraith, and the six months represents the time he spent in actual combat in Viet Nam.

After graduation from Bradley University in his hometown of Peoria, Ill., Capt. Galbraith was commissioned through the ROTC into the Air Force. Now with a total of nine years in the Air Force, the last three at Cannon AFB in Clovis, he is filling the slot of both jet pilot and safety officer at Cannon.

The period between July to December, 1965, was not the Captain's first overseas duty, but his first time to encounter combat.

NOW BACK home with his wife and two small girls, Capt. Galbraith is anxious to show his slides on the living conditions in South Viet Nam, and also of combat scenes.

MOST SINCE KOREAN WAR

Inductions Total 22 In January

By DAVID BUTLER Staff Writer

Twenty-two young men from Hereford were inducted into the armed services during the month of January, which is the largest number sent from here since the Korean War, according to Mrs. Pat Manchec, local draft board director.

Mrs. Manchec said that a year ago in January only two men were sent to the service from the same board.

For the month of February nine men will be drafted from Hereford and 30 were sent to Amarillo to take their physical "WE WERE beginning to have trouble finding enough eligible draftees until the government began taking married men without children," Mrs. Manchec said, "but now there will be no problem in getting enough registrants to call up."

About 50 per cent of those called up for physicals have been passing in the Hereford area, according to Mrs. Manchec.

THE LOCAL CALL list is now down those registrants who are 19 and single and those who are married 24 years old and have no children.

Married men are being used now to supplement the call and fill the list when there are not enough single registrants available for the call.

After one has taken his physical and has passed, he is subject to induction within 21 days. During the waiting period he can enlist in any branch he chooses.

In January all but eight of those who were inducted joined either the Army or the Marines.

IF ONE of these called up for a physical fails to cooperate with the board he is subject to immediate induction, a fine or prison sentence.

Those who are in high school or college and are not doing satisfactory work in their classes are also subject to induction. Those in college must also be fulltime students and doing satisfactory work toward a degree.

THE LOCAL board, number 18, covers four counties . . . Randall, Deaf Smith, Castro and Farmer, and calls its draftees from these counties.

Some of those who are given notices to take physicals are living in another part of the country, but still have to take the physical where they live. They are always registered through the Hereford board.

After taking the physical and mental tests the registrant is classified in one of 17 classes.

Those who are available for the draft are classed I-A and those who are permanently rejected are I-V-F while those who will only be called in a national emergency are classed I-Y.

Other classifications include I-C, I-D, I-O, I-S, I-W, II-A, II-C, II-S, III-A, III-B, III-C, III-D, III-E.

These classifications include high school students, college students, conscientious objectors, ministers, reserves and those who will only be taken in case of a national emergency.

ANYONE who was born after Aug. 30, 1922, must have a draft card in his person subject to $10,000 fine or five years in prison or both.

Mrs. Manchec said that the office has not received the number who will be called in March, but she expects it to remain higher than in the past.

Those who are called up for a physical are taken to Amarillo where they are given a mental test. One who scores high on See INDUCTIONS, Page 2

Autopsy Shows Man Dies Of Heart Attack

A 37-year-old man died in his home Friday morning after he was found unconscious on the floor.

A call was received by the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's office at 9:20 a. m. by the man's son, who said he could not wake up his father.

WHEN officers arrived at the scene, they were told that Luis Garcia Lopez had gone into the bathroom after his co-worker had come to take him to work. After about 20 minutes, the co-worker could get no answer and entered the bathroom and found him on the floor.

Lopez reportedly died soon after a doctor arrived, and Justice of the Peace C. B. Miles was called to the scene.

Judge Miles ordered the body taken to Amarillo for an autopsy, with that report showing See AUTOPSY, Page 2

ANNUAL REPORT SHOWS

County Agents Busy

Highlights of Texas Extension Service programs in this county in 1965 were a Crops Tour by 200 persons in September, Family Money Management study and training which continued through the year, and 4-H programs which stressed development of leadership, annual reports of the County Agents show.

Copies of the reports were recently given to Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court and sent to Extension Service headquarters at College Station.

They were prepared jointly by Justus McBride, Agricultural Agent; Mrs. Argen Draper, Home Demonstration Agent; Mrs. Rita Huckert, Assistant H. D. Agent; and Miss Sandra Ruebush, who served the first half of the year in the post now held by Mrs. Huckert.

THE COUNTY program Building Committee is the subject of the first section of the 62-page report, following a resume of the agricultural, industrial and general economic situation of the county.

Sub-committee studies of various county needs are listed as important accomplishments of the Program Building Committee. An added sub-committee, on aging, was organized and sponsored one public meeting with guest speakers.

Support was given the local Livestock Show through the Live Stock Committee, and weed control was voted as the program for all committees to stress. A Leadership Workshop open to all interested persons in the community was planned for early in 1966.

Programs on family money management were initiated by the Family Economic Sub-committee, which used a survey of the business practices of 100

Deaf Smith County families made by the Home Demonstration agent to study the background situation.

THE SURVEY indicated the wish of parents for aid in teaching children money management and it also showed little understanding in many families of such financial matters as interest rates, making of wills, proper use of credit and other business practices.

Programs in schools and in women's organizations were planned to fill these needs, and a Speakers Bureau provided local speakers who were well-informed on the subjects. Mrs. Draper worked with teachers of fourth grades in schools here, assisted by parents, to present teaching unit on money management to children in the fourth grade.

SURVEYS were made before and after the unit was taught, to learn learn attitudes of pupils and their parents. Replies of 259 pupils and 220 parents were analyzed and, with the opinions of participating teachers, was incorporated into a bulletin which will be made available to any school or group wishing to use it.

Stage Band Wins 'National' Contest

Hereford High School Stage Band earned the title of National Champion Stage Band for AAA High Schools at the Doc Severinsen National Stage Band contest in Pampa Saturday.

TAKING the title over six other bands from two states in the AAA bracket, Hereford's 19-member group won with a 30-minute show of modern pop big band tunes.

Second in the AAA bracket was the Stephenville, Tex., stage band.

Winning the AAAA high school stage band National Championship was the group from Paschal High School of Fort Worth.

Also competing in the class which Hereford topped were bands from Vernon, Lamesa, Monahans, Seminole, and Altus, Okla.

DIRECTOR of the Hereford stage band, Ben Gollehon, said the group gave a performance based on music similar to that typical of the Skitch Henderson "Tonight Show" television group.

Included were three original tunes written especially for the Hereford High School Stage Band.

A total of 23 bands competed in the two divisions of the contest.

JUDGES were five members of the Tonight Show band, including Severinsen.

Following the contest, clinics were staged for the bandmen See BAND, Page 2

Rogers Protests Foreign Aid To Commie Allies

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special) — Congressman Walter Rogers, long an opponent of U. S. foreign aid programs, said Saturday American assistance "should be suspended immediately to nations trading with or maintaining diplomatic relations with the Communist regime in North Viet Nam."

Congressman Rogers said he would introduce a resolution Monday in the House of Representatives "so that the sense of Congress may be expressed in this very important matter."

NOTING THAT U. S. military forces are engaged in a war of "unforeseeable duration and proportions," the Congressman urged that "all steps be taken now to hasten victory." He added, "It is a disservice to our fighting forces to fail to support them by taking steps to curb commerce to North Viet Nam."

Congressman Rogers said also he is urging Department of Defense officials to study the feasibility of (1) a naval blockade of North Viet Nam seaports, and (2) creating a 5-to-10-mile wide "defensible" buffer-zone between North and South Viet Nam — and extending across the so-called Ho Chi Minh Trail in neighboring Laos — to curtail the flow of men and equipment from the north.

"THE MAJOR problem in the war is the aggression from North Viet Nam. By a combination of bombing and land and sea blockades, the United States can move toward victory by halting North Vietnamese support," Congressman Rogers said.

Foreign assistance authorizations and appropriations acts passed by Congress for the current fiscal year permit the Administration to halt foreign aid to nations trading with North Viet Nam, if the need is apparent.

Congressman Rogers has consistently opposed foreign aid bills before the House of Representatives — both those to authorize foreign aid projects as well as those appropriating foreign aid funds. The Congressman said Saturday he would continue to oppose participation in foreign aid "because of its demonstrated, documented ineffectiveness in furthering U. S. efforts in the continuing Cold War and Hot War with Communism."

Texas Governor John Connally has proclaimed the week of Feb. 7-12 as Farm Bureau Membership Week in Texas, and local Farm Bureau officials are going all out to make the observance a success here.

Robert Jacobsen, Deaf Smith-Oldham County Farm Bureau President, said local members will be contacting people throughout the week.

The Church I Love Advocates...
UNDENOMINATIONAL CHRISTIANITY
(No. 5 in a Series)

Christianity as it was given to man by God the Father, through the Son Jesus Christ, by the guidance and indwelling of the Holy Spirit, is as beautiful as a ruby, as splendid as a flawless diamond, and as much to be desired as the "pearl of great price."

The church was the spiritual garden of Eden, and its first converts were as free of denominationalism as Adam and Eve were free of sin. The early Christians remained in this state of purity until, like our first parents, they were deceived and divided by the voice of Temptation, and yielded.

No man regardless of his color or geographical location can find anything wrong with pure Christianity. That is unless his heart is filled with hatred, and his soul is possessed by demonic darkness.

Every serious student of Christendom can see plenty wrong with denominationalism. The World Council of Churches meeting in New Delhi in December, 1961 expressed its great concern for the disastrous effect the divisions into various sects has on Christendom and the world's acceptance of the Christian religion.

Paul, the inspired Apostle, informed us, "For he (Christ) is himself our peace, Gentiles and Jews, he has made the two one, and in his own body of flesh and blood has broken down the enmity which stood like a dividing wall between them; for he annulled the law with its rules and regulations, so as to create out of the two a single new humanity in himself, thereby making peace. This was his purpose, to reconcile the two in a single body of God through the cross, on which he killed the enmity." (Eph. 2:14-16 New English Bible.) The body is the church. (Eph. 1:22, 23.)

In announcing his candidacy, Price said, "I ask the people of the Panhandle to join together in a crusade to bring a new trust and confidence in our leadership at home and in Washington."

"I ask that all the aggressive, patriotic, moral and constructive citizens of this district, regardless of party affiliation, ban together and send to Washington, a congressman that will represent these views and restore to our district, a leadership in which they can take pride."

"I announce my candidacy because I believe we should elect men of principles, not of political expediency. I enter this race seeking only to serve my county and my district, not to use this office as a private preserve for personal gain. I seek this office, at the urging of thousands of friends throughout the district, with mixed emotions of humility and great pride: Not as a selfish, power seeking individual who seeks only personal power and prestige for himself, and favors for the few who support him in his own selfish interest."

Like meetings are planned for 10:30 a. m. in the First State Bank of Dimmitt, and Monday noon at the Silver Grill in Clovis, N. M.

The association directors and other officials plan to meet with Murphy Monday night at the Hereford Country Club.

Murphy was appointed director of the USDA sugar policy staff last summer after nearly 18 years with the department of agriculture. He had been deputy director of the division since 1958.

A NATIVE of Union Town, Pa. Murphy joined the USDA in October, 1945, as an accountant in the sugar division.

When US sugar policy with Cuba changed drastically and abruptly in 1960, Murphy was influential in planning for sources of off-shore sugar supplies. Also, during the intervening months, he has worked closely with congressional committees in their deliberations on stop-gap and then on longer-term legislation, compatible with the interests of farmers, processors, and consumers.

For his judgement, leadership and skills in management, Murphy earned an outstanding work performance rating for the first six months of 1961 and for the entire year was presented a sustained outstanding performance rating and a cash award.

Directors and officers of the beet growers association who will serve as hosts for the visit are: Garrison; Vigil Marsh, vice president; and board members Raymond Higginbotham, Jay Boston, Don Shipley, Daniel Larsen, Pete Davis, and Hank Williams.

Carole Clearman of Willing Workers Club and Rodney Herr of Happy Hustlers Club were presented Citizen of the Month awards at the County 4-H Council meeting Saturday evening. Norman Minks made the presentation.

Carole is president of her club and has held all its offices, has been a junior leader two years in sewing and also a leader in subject matter groups. Her projects are gardening, dress revue, bake show and recreation.

A JUNIOR in Hereford High School, she maintains a high grade average and participates in the Girls Choir, Tri-Hi-Y, Pink Angels and Camp Fire Girls. In First Methodist Church she is a member of the choir and the Bell Choir and has been a leader in youth organizations.

She is the 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Clearman, and her mother says she carries her share of family responsibilities, including supervision of younger sisters in her parents' absence. She was employed in an office last summer, using the money she earned to purchase a bedroom suite.

Rodney, 15, is a high school sophomore and a second-year 4-H member, who has been reporter and parliamentarian in his club. His subject matter groups are public speaking, electricity and cooking.

SINCE the age of 11 he has held part-time jobs and deposited his earnings in a fund for college. In addition to home chores he redecorated his bedroom last summer and repainted other rooms in his home.

He was a junior leader for a group working with an electric project at the Labor Camp last year, and is junior leader for another group this year. He was on the planning committee for the County 4-H Awards banquet in the fall, responsible for setting up tables and clearing the room afterward.

Cynthia Beene Named Winning FHA Member

Cynthia Ann Beene, Hereford High School senior, has been designated the winner here in the Betty Crocker Search for the Homemaker of Tomorrow, national competition sponsored by a foods firm.

Winners are determined by written examinations open to all high school senior girls. As the highest rated local entrant, Miss Beene will be in competition for the state award, a college scholarship. State winners are entered in a national contest.

She is active in the HHS Future Homemakers Association, and in Deaf Smith County 4-H Club work. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Beene, living north of Hereford on the Progressive Road, she is 17 years old, a third year member of the FHA in which she has held various offices.

She has also been an officer in her 4-H Club and the County 4-H Council, and at the county awards banquet last November received one of the Texas Junior Leadership awards.

Hereford High School recipients of the Betty Crocker title have ranked high in state contests of previous years. Sammie McLellan was the state winner in 1966 and a few years later Sandra Roberson was among the top ten.

members in other shows, and entrance of livestock judging teams in several contests.

Mainly through the 11 Home Demonstration Clubs of the county, continuing programs in clothing and textiles, foods and nutrition, human relations and child development have been carried out.

The closing paragraph from the report on The County Situation expresses the feeling of the Extension Service staff here:

"Deaf Smith County is an outstanding county and has a great deal of leadership among both men and women. Progress, naturally, seems slow to persons who realize the potential."

EX-RESIDENT'S BRIDE—Miss Kay Francine Council and David Harold Scott, both of Waco, were married Saturday evening in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Council of Corpus Christi. The bridegroom is a former resident of Hereford, son of Dr. and Mrs. Howard E. Scott of Cleburne. He attended Hereford schools while his father was pastor of First Baptist Church here several years ago. He is a senior radio-television major at Baylor University and news director of the Baylor FM radio station. The bride, a Baylor graduate, is a teacher in Waco schools.

Work Begins On Additions At St. Thomas

Construction has been started on a new educational wing for the St. Thomas Episcopal Church.

The new wing and remodeling will be added to the west of the present structure. Also in the building program, a new main entrance will be constructed, along with new offices on the north end of the building, and a new steeple at the front of the church.

Lindy Daniels, Hereford, has been named as general contra-tor, and expects to have the new additions complete by July 1.

Joe Hall of Whitaker and Hall, Lubbock, is the architect.

Members serving on the building committee are Bill Waldrep, Bruce Miller, Jessie Geron, Jack Bradley, Joe Smith, and James W. Rush.

Further additions are planned for the church in the next two years.

Sardinia, 120 miles west of the Italian mainland, is losing its reputation as Italy's wild and woolly frontier. Marinas, villas and luxury hotels have transformed Sardinia's bleakly beautiful northeast shoreline into the "Emerald Coast."

Although fewer than one-third of this nation's population lives in rural areas, more than half the nation's poor lives there.

Consumer-owned rural electric systems such as ours have helped to create new industries across the country which have already resulted in more than 125,000 new jobs for rural people.

Volunteering in the war on poverty, we hope to do more in the months and years to come to help develop this community.

Optimists Hear Counselor Cite College Needs

The Hereford Optimist Club heard Hereford High School Counselor Thompson at its regular luncheon meeting Thursday.

Thompson explained some of the requirements that a student needs to attend college.

"A private school," Thompson told the group, "can admit only those who meet their requirements, but a state supported school must admit anyone who has a high school diploma and the fee."

Thompson also told the Optimist, "A scholarship is not as easy to get as some think, as each scholarship has certain requirements to be filled. Actually, a scholarship is just a token, as it falls short of meeting all expenses that are encountered."

The Texas voters went to the polls last year, and voted a total of $85 million to be used in a statewide opportunity program, patterned after the plan that was first started at West Texas State University in Canyon. This program will enable almost every person who wants to go to college to go.

Club president Bill Phipps introduced the guest speaker.

Queen Elizabeth receives an annual grant of about $1,330,000 from Parliament. This includes her privy purse of $168,000 and funds for household salaries and expenses.

Herd Drops Fourth In Conference Race

Hereford Whiteface varsity players lost their ace in the hole Friday when the Perryton Rangers downed them 61-47, knocking the locals out of district contention.

During the first quarter the cards were stacked even for the two teams with the first quarter winding up in an 18-18 tie.

BUT AS THE second quarter began, lady luck seemed to move to the Perryton side of the table as they played their cards right to take a three-point lead at the halftime intermission with a 32-29 score.

Try as they might the Whitefaces could not pull the right tricks to regain the lead during the remainder of the game with the Rangers taking a 47-37 lead as the end of the third stanza rolled around.

In the fourth quarter the Rangers pulled the house down when they played a full house against the locals to take the final 14-point lead in the game.

HEREFORD PLAYERS hit well in the first quarter scoring 18 points, but were not able to rip the cords for more than 11 points per period during the they scored 11 points in the second stanza and eight in the third and 10 in the final period.

Perryton scored 18 points in the first quarter, 14 in the second and final periods and 15 in the third stanza.

Steve Hodges kept a cool head during the game plugging his way to 12 points for high man honors. He hit five shots from the floor and scored on two of two free throws.

ROBBY LEMONS was second high man as he aced 10 points scoring on three field goals and four of nine free throws. Jim Allison came in third with four field goals and one shot from the charity line which was good.

The Whitefaces hit 57.9 per cent of their shots from the charity line while the Rangers scored on 60 per cent of their shots from the free throw line. Hereford players hit 11 of 19 with the Rangers hitting nine of 15.

Mike Mitchel finessed his way to 17 points for the Rangers giving him high man honors. He scored on seven field goals and three free throws.

SECOND HIGH man honors were earned by Chris Byerly who bluffed his way in for 15 points. His points were gained from seven field goals and one free shot. Kenneth Deike was right behind Byerly with 14 points scored on five field goals and four successful shots at the charity line.

The loss gave the Whitefaces a 3-4 conference record and a 9-10 season record.

District standings still place Dumas, Tulia and Canyon near the top of the list.

Hereford will see action again Tuesday when they clash with the Canyon Eagles here. The locals were downed by the Eagles in earlier action at Canyon.

The game is slated for 8 p. m. in Whiteface Gym and will be the second to last home game for the year for the locals. The final game will be the homecoming game Friday when the locals will clash with the Muleshoe Mules here in Whiteface Gym.

Hustlers Down Amarillo Team

Hereford Hustlers downed the TV 10 Tigers from Amarillo Friday in a March of Dimes benefit basketball game 67-46.

The Hustlers was a team of players sponsored by Suits Auto Supply and Joe's Auto Clinic. Most of the cagers were employees of these two businesses.

HEREFORD TOOK an early lead, but during the first quarter the margin narrowed and the Tigers managed a tie and then took the lead. But the locals retaliated and by the end of the period they were ahead by a 12-10 margin.

In the second again the Tigers took the lead, but the locals bounded back to take a 24-19 half time margin.

As the third quarter began the locals pulled away from the Amarillo group to take a 42-29 lead by the end of that period.

THE HUSTLERS put the icing on the cake in the fourth quarter as they scored 25 points to give them the final 67-46 lead. The locals hit 17 of 30 free throws for a 56.6 per cent shot average while the Tigers hit 14 of 27 for a 51.8 per cent average.

Lucky Carter was high man for the Hustlers, scoring 21 points. He scored on nine field goals and three free throws.

Jerry Curtsinger was second high man for the Hustlers as he tallied 19 points on seven shots from the floor and five successful hits at the charity line.

EARL JACKSON was third high man as he scored 14 points for the evening.

Filipino Traits Detailed In Talk

Characteristics of residents in the Philippines were discussed by Teresita Parba, guest speaker to Bay View Club Thursday afternoon at a meeting in First National Community Room. Mrs. W. J. Gilliland was hostess.

Miss Parba, here from the Philippines as an American Field Service student in Hereford High School, was introduced by Mrs. Will S. Kerr, who complimented the students from various countries who have attended school in Hereford as she said, "They have all been fine young people."

The young speaker said there are seven different languages spoken in the Philippines, but English is used in the schools. Many religions are followed by the islanders, with the Catholic Church predominant.

Her people generally work hard, Miss Parba said; they are highly moral and are good friends but bad enemies. Filipinos are small of stature, lovers of beauty and of art. She presented one of their dances to music titled Curacha.

She completed her program by showing colored slides of island scenes.

Plans for Bay View Club's part in entertaining the district Federated Club convention here March 24-25 were discussed in the business session, with Mrs. Ansel McDowell presiding. Mrs. Earl Holt was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. Gilliland served coffee with an assortment of cookies to Miss Parba, Mrs. Holt, Mes. D. H. Alexander, H. L. Benefield, Colby Conkwright, Francis Hardwick, Dexter Lillie, Juston McBride, E. J. McMullan, R. B. Miller, McDowell and Kerr.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. — Information in the Chattanooga Police Department's new central records bureau ranges from wanted criminals to "who has been bitten by a dog today."

The department was the first in Tennessee to adopt the new system of police reporting and records keeping recommended by the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

Each complaint called in to the police station is recorded on punched computer cards in the central information center. Information on any complaint or records of crimes can be given almost instantly to querying officers.

Meeting Set To Talk New Techniques

W. Lewis David, State Executive Director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service will speak to an open meeting of West Texas farmers at Plainview on Thursday, Feb. 10.

The meeting, which is sponsored by the High Plains Research Foundation, is to explain to the farmers what can be expected of the skip-row interplanting of cotton along with grain sorghum and castorbeans. Research at the Foundation for the past six years has proven the skip-row interplanting system to increase the yield and quality of both of the crops.

ACTIVITIES for the program will begin at 10 a. m., Feb. 10, in the Hale County Exhibition Building, located on U. S. highway 87 just south of Plainview.

David will answer questions for the farmers and will explain just how the Foundation Farming System, skip-row interplanting, will fit into the new farm program. Others on the program will tell of the research done on the system and why it works.

SEVERAL area farmers who have used skip-row interplanting on their farms during the past year will report on how the system worked for them. The basic purpose of the Foundation Farming System is to improve the quality and yield of cotton as well as reducing the amount of water necessary to make a crop. Results of the research done at Halfway have shown that water needs can be cut by 20 to 50 percent.

A free luncheon Bar-B-Que will be served at noon sponsored by Producers Grain Corporation of Amarillo, Baker Castor Oil Company, Plainview, Harvest Queen Mill, Plains Co-op, Mill, Plainview Wheat Growers Co-op; Higgins Cotton Gin of Plainview; Rowland-Gordon Farm Chemical, Inc.; and Hale County Farm Bureau.

CARD OF THANKS
We want to take this means of thanking each and everyone for all the kindnesses rendered me during my stay at the hospital. The good nurses, Dr. Mims, our good Father's, all our friends for the kind visits, cards and flowers.

Guest Speaks To L'Allegro Club

A widely-known Hereford businesswoman, Mrs. Henry N. Benson, was guest speaker for L'Allegro Study Club's program on Women in Business Thursday afternoon. Members met in the home of Mrs. Robert Viegel.

Mrs. Benson, a member of an early-day Hereford family, talked informally of growing up in the small town, of her experiences as an employed woman in the 1930's, then told of establishment of the Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union and its growth with that of the city.

She displayed copies of some Hereford High School annuals of the 1920's, which members enjoyed inspecting.

In a business session with Mrs. Dwaine Walker presiding, plans were continued for a spring style show which the club will sponsor March 17 at Hereford Country Club. Fashions from Gaston's Popular Store will be modeled as a benefit for the club fund to aid a girl at Gristtown.

Kiwanis Club Talks Activities

Members of the Hereford Kiwanis Club discussed the proper way of reporting club activities Thursday in a meeting, with Ernie Flippo narrating the program.

Flippo is the newly elected secretary of the club and each month sends in a report telling

Members present included Mmes. Wheeler Sears, Alex Schroeter, Betty Pickens, John McNeely, Dennis Lomas, Hilton Higgins, James Higgins, David Gibson, Cameron Gault, Tommy Carnahan, Jim Carnahan, Bob Sims, J. H. McCrary, Jim Conkney, Noble Ballard, Cope, Smith and Walker.

of the activities of the club and its members.

HE TOLD how personal activities will gain points for the club's record as well as planned activities by the club members.

Each month a report is sent in to officials telling of the activities and the local club is given points for their actions.

One hundred points is the perfect score for the clubs and they can only get 90 points for activities and one point per new member each month.

TWO NEW members were present at the meeting which will give the local club two points above the club activities. Flippo also suggested ways in which the local club could gain more points each month.

He urged members to hire students to work for them after school and on Saturdays. He also said that each member should report any special activities on community work.

A get well card was sent to the Rev. Gene Naugle who is a long-time member of the club. Naugle was hospitalized Sunday, but according to members he was feeling much better.

Dale Young is program chairman for the month of February.

Assault On Officer Charge Draws Stiff Fine, Sentence

A Clovis woman was charged with aggravated assault on a police officer, and her husband charged with felony driving while intoxicated Friday night, after an incident with two Hereford highway patrolmen.

CHARGED with assault was Violet Jean Smith, 39, after she reportedly attempted to strike a patrolman with a pair of 12-inch scissors. Her husband was identified as Alford C. Smith, 50. Officers gave this account of the incident:

At about 8:45 p. m. they had just stopped an auto five miles east of Friona, when they heard another car coming, but saw no headlights. Officers attempted to stop the auto, but unable to, as it passed on the wrong side of the road and the Highway Patrol began pursuit.

After the officers turned on their red lights, the driver of the auto then turned on his headlights and began weaving across the road. The auto went to the ditch and almost struck a culvert before coming to a stop. The officers then arrested the driver on the DWI charge, and placed him in the patrol car.

When one officer returned to the man's auto, the woman had taken the keys out of the ignition, and as the door was opened, she made threats against him and began to swing the scissors. The second time she lurched for the officer, she dropped her cigarette and as she looked down, he grabbed the scissors from her hand, the officer said.

Saturday morning Mrs. Smith entered in Palmer County Court, a plea of guilty to the assault charge and was given a fine of $169.30 and 30 days in the county jail. Bond was set at $1,000 on the DWI charge for Smith and he was released.

Modesty About Story Difficult

By Mrs. Argen Draper Home Demonstration Agent

The truth: I'm trying desperately to be modest about the committees' work reported in February issue of The Texas Farmer-Stockman...

as president and Mrs. T. B. Thomas as council delegate, as they are working as school nurse and teacher.

Two of our 4-H leaders, Mrs. A. J. Bezner and Mrs. Leo Witkowski, have been asked to work on an article with several pictures for a story in two widely circulated magazines...

Rita Huckert will be back in the office Monday. She has finished the two sessions of training given new agents.

All the clubs have completed their organization and have a good start on the new year. One of the most fascinating projects is each member volunteering to take bulletins and other Extension materials to non-club families and to senior citizens.

Club membership is feeling the effects of women taking jobs away from home. Westway club had to replace Mrs. Homer Rudd tal - and environment will determine how nearly that person reaches his potential. "The greater the variety of experiences provided by the parents, the more opportunity each child will have to reach his potential," says Mrs. Yates.

Each individual appears to be a composite picture of all that has gone before and hints of what is to come. Many elements and events go into making each individual what he is today and will be tomorrow.

So there is another view of thought to consider. When shopping for shoes, put your largest foot forward and remember foot measurements vary according to the time of day. It probably could be found how many person's feet aren't the same size. Isn't research interesting?

The writing or Spanish whitening in the cleansing recipes that are being used in the demonstration this month is a painters product and can be purchased by the pound where paints are sold.

The Question: How can I braid my hair with one hand? With a sling on my right arm From a sprained shoulder muscle, I'm having quite a time. It would be an ideal time to go on the much self-promised diet, but I can eat with my left hand. Almost as well as my right one. In fact, I'm ambidextrous. Its the one hand without the help of the other that has me bothered. I do wear a sling when no one is looking.

Club Told About Island Garden

Five women were welcomed to membership in Bud to Blossom Garden Club at its meeting Friday morning in Mrs. R. A. Daniel's home. Added to the club roll were names of Mrs. Lou Orleans, Mrs. Melvin May, Mrs. Bill Cozz, Mrs. Hubert Stoner and Mrs. Ray Polan.

A guest presented the program, keyed to the year's theme of International Flower Garden. Teresita Parba, exchange student from the Philippines who is attending Hereford High School this year, was the speaker.

She told of plants and flowers native to the Philippines or cultivated in gardens there, and gave the Philippine names of a number of flowers. Colored slides with scenes of her native islands showed the luxuri-ance of vegetation.

In addition to information of particular interest to gardeners, she gave facts about the geography, population and everyday life of the country. She was introduced by Mrs. W. H. Gentry, program chairman, who presented a bracelet charm to Miss Parba as the club's gift.

Mrs. R. N. Yarbro, first vice, was in the chair in the absence of Mrs. Sam Long, president. Also present were Mmes. Wayne Newsom, Bill Nelson, Ernest Kendall, Calvin Edwards, Melvin Cordray, Bob Cooper, Jim Conkright, Bruce Brown, Al Brown and Frann Battenfield.

Teenage Club Announces Plans Names Officers

Officers of the Hereford Teenage Club will be elected today in the third meeting of the new organization.

A nominating committee will submit its nominations to the club at 2:30 p. m. in the Community Room of the First National Bank.

SOME 35 teenagers have signed up for the new club, whose main objective at this time will be to work towards traffic safety and more activities for the young people in the Hereford area.

Also at today's meeting, a list of by-laws will be presented and the dues set. Several club names that have been suggested will also be presented to the club.

ALL PERSONS interested in joining the club, parents, or other adults interested in working with the club are urged to attend.

A special meeting was held

Thursday night, and a club spokesman asked that it be pointed out that no person had been elected or authorized by this club to solicit donations, either of money or materials, to be used to construct an oval race track.

"The oval race track is not, and will not be a project of this teenage club," the spokesman continued, "as the main objective of the club at this time will be to promote safety education and more activities, with a possible drag strip in the future."

Sophomore Garrett Ford of West Virginia made runs of 67, 67, 63 and 58 yards in his first three games this fall.

Quarterback Feliz Bazzi of West Babylon, N. Y., wears No. 13 with the Navy football team. He's No. 3 quarterback for the Midshipmen.

SIMON REWRITES 'CHARITY'

NEW YORK (AP) — Neil Simon, author of the two current Broadway comedy hits, "Barefoot in the Park" and "The Odd Couple," now officially receives credit for the book of the upcoming musical, "Sweet Charity."

PREVIEW of Spring Fashions

STROLLING IN THE PARK—Barbara Rhodes steps out in a textured cotton knit suit perfect for spectator sports. In colors perennially popular for spring, it is in navy with white and touches of red, set off by brass buttons down the jacket front and at the cuff line. With the straight skirt and Chanel jacket she wears a high-neck white knit blouse to complete the ensemble from Little's. Red piping outlines the white trim on the jacket.

...with the spotlight on soft, shaped silhouettes

FASHION IS A LADY AGAIN!—Gone, for spring 1966, the tough, hard chic. In, the pretty, feminine touches that turn male heads. Pretty Hereford girls wear costumes from several downtown stores, in a variety of city settings, to demonstrate that spring is near and spring styles are already here!

The Sunday Brand

The Sunday Brand, Hereford, Texas, Sunday Feb. 6, 1966

CHARMINGLY FEMINE—Keeping to the currently favored slim silhouette, minus frills, the formal gown blonde Edith Davis wears in the foyer of Hereford Country Club is as pretty as springtime in blush pink and a lacy skirt. The shell bodice is circled at the waistline with a band and flat bow of the shiny pink fabric, and the tulle skirt is embroidered with row on row of tiny flowers. It is from the collection of after-dark dresses at Gaston's Popular Store.

(Staff Photos)

CHIC IN BLACK AND WHITE—Nothing welcomes spring more smartly than a tailored costume in stark black and white, such as JoAnne Ferguson wears for Main Street window shopping. Her three-piece Betty Rose suit has a black wool knit skirt and matching top with a tie scarf, and a three-quarter coat of black and white basketweave tweed, flared in the back. Brimmed hat, gloves, alligator bag and patent pumps are all in black, all from Harman's.

YOUTHFUL VERVE—Just the dress for the teen set's spring dances at Community Center, this one has white tucked bodice and box-pleated navy skirt joined by a narrow band of polka-dotted tangerine silk at the hipline. A row of minute brass buttons marches gaily down the bodice front. The Howard Wolf dress of dacron and cotton sharkskin is from The Vogue, and is worn by brown-haired Nancy Howard.

ROUTINE BRIGHTENER—Giving a lift to schoolday routine is the long-waisted dress with flowers embroidered on its striped bodice, worn by Cynthia Leasure as she takes books from her locker at Hereford High. The slim skirt is gray sharkskin, the round-necked bodice of the same material striped in white and embroidered with perky red lazy-daises. A band with a small bow on the side marks the hipline. This dress is from Rutherford's spring fashions.

Miss Haiduk Of Pampa Is Bride Of A. Brorman

Wedding vows for Miss Myrna Catherine Haiduk of Pampa and Alphonse Brorman of Hereford were exchanged at a nuptial high mass in Sacred Heart Catholic Church in White Deer Saturday. The Rev. Jerome Hancock officiated for the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haiduk of Groom and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brorman of Hereford. After a trip to New Orleans and Florida Mr. Brorman and his bride will be at home on Route 4, Hereford.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Mrs. Lewis Rogers of Pampa, matron of honor, Mrs. Harry Haiduk of Canyon, her sister-in-law and Mrs. Edgar Frerich of Hereford, sister of the groom, bridesmatrons.

Jimmy Brorman served his brother as best man. James Paetzold of Hereford and Harry Haiduk were groomsmen; ushers were Johnny and Raymond Brorman of Vega, cousins of the groom, Bert Haiduk of White Deer and Adrian Haiduk of Amarillo, uncles of the bride.

Tall arrangements of white gladiolas decorated the church altars and white satin bows marked honor pews.

Mrs. Laddie Kotara, organist, played processional music. Mrs. John Garcia, director of the choir, sang Ave Maria (Gounod) during the mass and as the couple knelt before the Blessed Mother's altar she sang the traditional solo, "On This Day O Beautiful Mother." Flowers from the bride's bouquet were placed on this altar.

Assisting as acolytes in the service were Eric and Leroy Haiduk, cousins of the bride.

Miss Haiduk was dressed in candlelight satin, the fitted bodice with cameo neckline and sleeves pointed at the wrist. Over the long A-line skirt, a detachable chapel train fell from the back waistline. The gown and train were decorated with Alencon lace re-embroidered with seed pearls.

Double tiers of scalloped illusion formed the shoulder-length veil, held by a seed pearl coronet. The bride wore a single strand of pearls and carried a white cascade of stephanotis and feathered carnations surrounding a cattilya orchid.

Attendants of the bride wore mint green crepe dresses accented by emerald satin, floor length. Their pillbox hats were of the satin with circles of illusion, and shoes were dyed mint green. Their cascade bouquets were green-tinted, carnations with emerald velvet ribbon.

For the wedding and the reception afterward in the parish hall, the bride's mother chose an emerald silk dress accessorized with butternut. Mrs. Henry Brorman's costume was an aqua wool knit suit with matching accessories. Both had corsages of cymbidium orchids.

Guests received by the couple and their parents were entertained with a buffet supper and dance. A three-tiered wedding cake topped with bride-and-groom figurines centered the bride's table. Mrs. Kenneth Herbert of Beaumont, sister of the groom, registered guests. An orchestra played for dancing.

Mrs. Brorman changed from her wedding gown to a champagne lace knit suit for travel, with all accessories in the same shade. The orchid from her bouquet was her corsage.

A registered nurse who has been employed at the clinic of Drs. Falkenstein and Elder at Pampa, Mrs. Brorman is a graduate of St. Anthony's School of Nursing in Amarillo. She completed her high school education in Pampa, where she was vice president of Les Cresas social club.

Brorman, a graduate of Hereford High School is engaged in farming eight miles south of Vega.

Pre-nuptial courtesies for the couple included a bridal shower in White Deer Jan. 16 and a stag party for Brorman in Vega Jan. 30.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Furthermore, while I'm airing complaints about our American speech being standardized by broadcasters, there is one more pet peeve to add. It is the new-fangled or downright affected pronunciation of words like negotiate and initiate, which end with the syllables "tiate."

ESPECIALLY NOTICEABLE now that there is so much talk of negotiation in labor troubles or international disputes, almost every broadcaster pronounces the word as though it were spelled "negociate."

The dictionaries to which I have access indicate that it should still be "negoshiate," as it generally was until a few years ago. Maybe the current pronunciation is favored by some new dictionaries, or maybe it is a Briticism, but it sounds to me like a mistake.

Makes me wonder if some highly-rated announcer let his tongue slip and produced the sissy-sounding word, and others, taking him for an authority, followed suit.

WITH SUNSHINE punctuating the wintry spell at midweek, although there may be snow again by the time this gets in print, dirt gardeners begin to think of spring flowers — and spring work — as something just around the corner.

Crocus, jonquils, tulips — the very names are a pleasure to think of while it's still cold, and it won't be long until their colors show up. I'm looking forward to spring bulbs blooming in Mothers Park, planted by Pioneer Club members.

At a meeting of the club last fall, members were praising Mrs. W. C. Hromas for her work in the park. Real work, they said, because she personally put bulbs in the ground in addition to directing workmen.

"It was easier than telling someone else how to do it," she averred, and there speaks the true gardener. Mrs. Hromas heads the club's community improvement committee and care of the park is one of its duties.

Well, the way to improve the community is to get to work, and not just talk about it.

FICTION BOOKS REVIEW

The past year under the heading of fiction in the Deaf Smith County Library, there are two novels which we would recommend to you. Not that there were not other good ones but we picked these as entertaining, clean books.

These novels have only one thing in common: the heroines are school teachers. One is set in the early days in the west and the other in a contemporary big city school. There all resemblance ends.

"The Revolt of Sarah Perkins," by Marian Cockrell, brings requests to the Deaf Smith County Library for others written by this author. It is a fast-moving novel of the early-day adventures of a school teacher from Massachusetts. She taught in the Colorado territory, a country with few single women.

ALL INCIDENTS are logical and interesting and at times, even hilarious. Only one incident seems a little far-fetched but even this is not improbable. As always happens in a community where there is a shortage of women, she finds herself for the first time in her life with a number of suitors. She had never before had even one.

Of the most amusing slants is that in the past the teachers only lasted one school year — they changed their status from Miss to Mrs. so quickly. And in those days married women were not allowed to teach.

HEADING the school board was a widower, who decided they should choose the most homely and unlikely-to-become-married applicant. There hangs the tale which you should read to enjoy.

The second book "Up the Down Staircase" is written by Bel Kaufman. The teacher, Sylvia Barrett, is attractive and young, teaching in a very tough, mixed, and "mixed up" city school.

Only the title is old fashioned. (Remember when we had two-story school buildings and those going up used one stairway and those coming down used the other? Hence the name of the book.) The theme deals with how this unusual, conscientious, teacher sought to solve the problems of her pupils, especially one of the older boys. The book has been quoted or used in excerpts in several magazines for the past year. It gives insight to present day teacher problems which, we feel sure, happen to be not only in city schools.

Mrs. Lee Newman (Lorene), Deaf Smith County Librarian, recommends both of these novels for your enjoyment.

C OF C MANAGER

Housewife Now, She Had Unique Job In 1930's

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Back in the early 1930's, before Hereford became noted as the town without a toothache, it had considerable publicity because it was the only city in Texas with a woman serving as Chamber of Commerce manager. The title at that time was Chamber of Commerce secretary, and attractive, brown-eyed Annis Greer filled the office here for several months.

NOT TOO MANY of today's residents associate Mrs. Paul Corbett, housewife, mother and club woman, with that job, but she is the former Miss Greer, who likes to recall her experience with depression-era Hereford business men, who were "wonderful to work with."

Her choice for the job was not the result of a publicity stunt, but a practical solution to a problem. She had been working half-days as office assistant in the Chamber of Commerce when Roy Arnold and then Joe Pope served as secretary.

In addition to her experience in the local office, she had been employed two years by the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce before she came to Hereford.

That was during the Panhandle oil boom which centered in Borger and brought a rush of business and growth to Amarillo, so the Chamber there was a busy one and her duties were varied.

AS BUSINESSES here felt the effects of the national depression, the Chamber of Commerce budget suffered also and when the secretary's office was vacated the board of directors decided the office assistant could handle the job, at least temporarily.

"I was strictly an economy measure," Mrs. Corbett laughs.

Party Is Eighth Birthday Event

Betty Banks was honoree on her eighth birthday Tuesday at an after-school party in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Banks, in the Frio community.

Eight guests were present for games and refreshments featuring a candle-light cake. In addition to the honoree they were Jodie Autry, Kiska Hodges, Patti Robbins, Jill Stephens, Shannon Watson, Debbie and Shan Banks.

"but by practicing economy the Hereford businessmen kept their Chamber of Commerce operating throughout the depression years, when many in towns the same size or larger were forced to close.

"Judge John P. Slaton was president of the Chamber when I became secretary; T. E. Seigler Sr. and W. E. Dameron were other presidents in that period. It wasn't easy to keep the organization going, and for a time the office was open only on half-day basis, but it survived.

"MANY BUSINESSES paid dues of a dollar a month, and it was often hard for them to manage that."

Chamber of Commerce offices were in the City Hall, then moved to the courthouse.

The young secretary became accustomed to startled looks on the faces of callers at the Chamber office, when they asked to see the man in charge and she responded. She also got used to attending meetings with the speaker began his address, "Lady and gentlemen."

At a conference of Chamber of Commerce secretaries in Amarillo, she was chosen because she was the only woman present, as recipient of a traditional white-flower from Bones Hooks, pioneer negro cowboy of the Panhandle who made it his habit for years to give such a flower to the honored guest at conventions in Amarillo.

WHILE SHE WAS serving as Chamber secretary here, the first federal welfare and crop loan programs were begun to meet economic needs of the period, and the Chamber of Commerce was called upon to administer them.

From this, she moved into welfare work when a separate office was set up for that. She worked in this county for a time then was transferred to Hartley County.

It was a number of years before she returned to reside in Hereford, as she married Paul Corbett in 1935 and they lived for a time at Plainview, then at Amarillo. They came to the farm home three miles west of town, where they now live, about 18 years ago.

Their children are Paula Beth, now Mrs. Richard Price of Easter; Ronald, at present in military service; and James, a student in West Texas State University.

MRS. CORBETT is a member of Cultural Home Demonstration Club, serving this year

Sponsorship of a 4-H Club in this county will be a project of Young Homemakers Home Demonstration Club, members voted at a meeting this week in Mrs. Dean Bryant's home. They will assist a club which needs adult leaders.

Mrs. Stan Kropff, foods demonstrator, is in charge of programs this month. She demonstrated the making of two-crust pies, and served the apple pie she made. She advised that pastry for this type of pie be rolled very thin, approximately 1/8 inch, and that the top crust be extended a half inch over the lower.

She will give the recipe and make batter rolls at the next meeting, at 9:30 a. m. Feb. 15 in the home of Mrs. LeRoy Burges.

Mrs. Charles Brown, president, read committee recommendations made at the recent County H. D. Council meeting.

Other members present were Mmes. Kenneth Hammett, Huey Lowrie, Carl Armstrong, Lloyd Smith, Tom Crawford, Jesse Jackson, Bill Page and J. R. Watson.

AFS Students Present La Plata Club Program

Students from abroad who are attending Hereford High School this term under the American Field Service program, were guest speakers to La Plata Study Club Tuesday evening at a meeting in Mrs. Raymond White's home.

Teresita Parba, whose home is in the Philippines, wore the traditional island costume as she presented native dances to recorded music, and told of home and social life. Lief Nellenman, from Denmark, spoke of economic and industrial aspects of that nation.

Both showed scenes from their homelands on slides, and both compared schools and school systems of their lands with those of the United States.

Club members who heard the program included Mmes. Elmer Patterson, Louis Woodford, Urline Streu, Phillip Shook, Kenneth Rogers, Dennie Richardson, Frank Prowell, Lloyd McGee, Bill Michael, E. D. Hopson, Roy Harris, Clint Formby, Emil Dettman, Eugene Campbell, Jack Brown, Jay Boston and Milton Adams.

County Appreciation Luncheon Set For Feb. 28 By H. D. Clubs

Plans are under way for the annual appreciation luncheon of County Home Demonstration Clubs, scheduled at noon Feb. 28 in the Bull Barn. Selection of the County H. D. Club Woman of the Year will be a feature of the program.

Each H. D. Club in the county is being asked to choose its Woman of the Year, and from these nominations the county honoree will be chosen.

All club members over the age of 65 will be introduced at the luncheon and a brief tribute paid them.

Mrs. J. D. Gilbert Jr., chairman of the education committee of Deaf Smith County H. D. Council, is directing arrangements for the luncheon and has slated a planning session for next Thursday to complete program details.

Members of the County Commissioners Court and others who are concerned with the Home Demonstration Club program in this county will be guests of the club women at the annual event.

ELECTRICITY POWERS PROGRESS!

This is National Electrical Week, marking the 119th anniversary of the birth of Thomas Alva Edison. It was Edison's invention of the first practical incandescent lamp that gave birth to an industry that now employs more than three million men and women, or 1 out of every 20 American workers. Almost every industry owes its progress to the power produced by electricity for, truly, electricity powers progress.

We Reserve The Right To Limit Quantities

By MELVIN YOUNG
The other fellow's pasture is always greener, especially if you loaned him money.

The cost of living went up two percent in 1965, according to information we received this past week. Last month alone it went up four-tenths of one percent. It is up 11 percent since 1959. This means it now costs Americans a dollar more to buy goods and services that sold for $10 just seven years ago. If this keeps up, we'll be reduced to wieners and sauerkraut.

And speaking of wieners and sauerkraut, brings to mind an incident that happened a few years ago during the charter banquet of the Adrian Lions Club.

The whole thing started when a group of local Lions decided they would impress their neighbors at Adrian with an unusual program for their charter night. The Adrian club was organized by the Hereford club, and naturally the parent club wanted to make quite an impression. They asked for a spot on the program — and then proceeded to concoct a story about a visiting Lion governor from Germany. This was really to be something, and the local fellows were well represented. In reality, the visiting 'German dignitary' was none other than our own Ed Skypala. Being the descendant of old country immigrants, and speaking the native tongue fluently, Skypala was the perfect man for the part. But fearing that his West Texas drawl would foul the whole deal, the Lions told their host that Ed could not speak a word of English. He would speak to the club through an interpreter.

Everything went fine. Ed shook hands all around — spoke cordially to all the local big-wigs — in German of course, and all seemed well until the group sat down to eat. That's when the trouble started.

Not being able to speak in English for fear of revealing the hoax, Ed could only sit and wince as some of the Hereford Lions took it upon themselves to order his meal.

Oh no! The gentleman from Germany would eat only wieners and sauerkraut. The steak would not do. And no amount of protest (in German of course) from Skypala could alter the events of the evening.

The cook went to a great deal of trouble to fix up a mess of wieners and sauerkraut. Nothing was too good for their guest. Ed ate it all.

Actually he carried off his part like a trouper — but he was never quite forgiven that bunch of Lions for making him eat wieners and sauerkraut while everyone else enjoyed a big thick steak. Somehow, it just didn't seem fair.

By the way, we understand that Paul Abalos and Joe Soto have taken it upon themselves to organize a Spanish Lions Club for this community. We think it's a marvelous idea and wish them every success.

Now they know how it feels. Postoffice employees at Little Rock were three days late getting their pay checks because in being mailed from St. Louis some clerk put the bundle into parcel post shipments instead of in the first class shipments. We'd bet somebody caught heck.

Apparently the coming Democratic primary is going to be a dud. Not only do we have a record number of poll taxes paid, but apparently we're going to have a record number of candidates (and rumors of more).

Deadline for filing for the state and county offices is February 7.

To date we have two candidates for District Judge, two for County Judge, two for Commissioner, Pct. 4 and three for Peace Justice. Filing for the post of JP are Berry Miles, Earnest Wade and Charlie Sewell. District Judge Harry Schultz will be opposed by Archie McDonald of Dumas and County Judge Hank Williams will also have an opponent, L. B. Russell, former high school principle and football coach is seeking the county judge spot. We also understand that Commissioner Donald Hicks has picked up an opponent.

Also coming up this year is a school board election and a city commission election. All incumbents have announced for reelection. No opponents as of this date. The school and city election will be conducted about a month later than the county and state.

Well, anyway, one thing we won't have to worry about for a couple of months is topless bathing suits.

16 Amendments On Ballot For General Election

Texans will have a heavier general election ballot next November than usual with the appearance of 16 proposed Constitutional Amendments on the voting agenda.

In a public drawing in Austin, Secretary of State Crawford C. Martin drew numbers from a hat to determine the sequence in which the amendments will appear on the November 8 ballot.

At the top of the ballot, getting the Number One designation, is the amendment "to provide that all land owned by natural persons designated for agricultural use shall be assessed for all tax purposes on the consideration of only those factors relative to such agricultural use."

Other proposed amendments are less confusing in their text. Some of the others, and their number on the ballot, are:

Abolishment of the poll tax (Number 7), allowing members of the Armed Forces who are residents of Texas to vote (Number 14) and $200,000,000 in water development bonds (Number 11).

All together, the proposed amendments contain about 14,300 words.

To help Texans understand the proposed Amendments, they will be published in Texas newspapers beginning in August.

Hereford Has 37th Accident For New Year

The Hereford Police Department recorded a total of 37 accidents for the first month of this year.

The last accident occurred Monday, Jan. 31, at 2:45 p. m. at the intersection of Park Ave. and Ave. F.

Police identified the drivers of the two autos involved as Donnie Welty, Hereford, and Helen Guthrie, Rt. 3.

Damage was estimated at $75 to the Welty auto, and $500 to the Guthrie auto. No injuries were reported.

The federal government operates 88 fish hatcheries and 35 wildlife refuges to aid more than 30 million fishermen and hunters.

Years Of Age Added In Hurry

Years of age were added to the face of J. R. (Monk) Johnson Monday at the regular meeting of the Hereford Rotary Club.

The years were added to Johnson by guest speaker Mrs. Chuck Everitt, as she displayed the method that is used by young actors when they play the part of older people. Despite the protest of other club members, Mrs. Everitt removed he make-up from Johnson, restoring him to his youthful age.

Letters written by the club members were collected by President Gwynne Owens, and will be sent to a brother Rotary club in Switzerland.

Alfred E. Swan was introduced as a visiting Rotarian from Devils Lake, North Dakota, and was presented a wall flag noting the Hereford Club to take back to his home club. Swan is visiting Mrs. D. W. Palmer in Hereford.

Other visiting Rotarians introduced were H. R. King, Canyon, and Judge Harry Schultz, Dalhart.

Also at the meeting, President Owen read a letter to the club from Peru, noting the appreciation of money that the Hereford club had sent to be used at a children's home.

New Supply For Product Announced

Officials at Bravo Smokes announced that all stores and vending machines in the Hereford area have been supplied with a completely new supply of smokes.

Spokesmen said Bravos now on sale are "greatly improved" over the initial supply of the lettuce smokes. Puzant Torrigian, Bravo president, said that recent improvements in processing methods have improved the quality of the company's product as compare to the Bravos produced earlier.

To test a yeast loaf (regular or sweet dough) to see whether it is fully baked, turn it over and tap the bottom; if you hear a hollow sound, the loaf is ready to take out of the oven.

Mrs. Lloyd Hostess For Simms Club

Medical language, which often confuses the patient and his family, was the subject of an informative program in Simms Study Craft Club Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Robert Lloyd was hostess in her home.

Mrs. J. M. Boothe was the speaker who discussed the meaning of terms, most derived from Greek or Latin, used in the medical profession, and the meaning of prefixes and suffixes often seen in names of diseases or drugs.

The business period was a brief one, with Mrs. Boothe presiding. Announcement was made that Mrs. E. L. Young and Mrs. Leland Burns will present the program in the latter's home Feb. 16, when the subject will be Sewing Tips.

Other members present were Mmes. Jim Cavin, Allen Ehresman, Edwin Morrison, Jim Perrin and Julian Perrin.

NOBODY PAYS DOCTORS' BILLS?
RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Journal do Brasil reports that American technicians trying to help Brazil improve its tax collection system have set themselves an ambitious goal; to convince the recalcitrant taxpayer that paying taxes is a good thing. Their main target is going to be professionals who apparently are most loath to declare their income. The paper says audit of 40 doctors' returns showed that only four declared taxable income. The others claimed to be penniless.

Supreme Court Ruling Vague

The United States Supreme Court, in a series of decisions, has held that law enforcement officers and trial courts must respect scrupulously the constitutional rights of defendants in criminal cases. It has ruled that a number of practices widely followed in the past violate these rights and are therefore illegal under the basic law of the land.

The court did not say, however, at what point in time its rulings should be generally effective. Should they be applied retroactively? Its failure to answer this question has caused law enforcement and many judicial officials a great deal of concern.

Retroactive application would mean that many persons convicted of crimes in the past by use of illegal procedures would have to be retried, and the practical difficulties of this are so great that a very large percentage of them would go free.

Necessarily, the court is having to come to grips with this difficult problem. It now has before it several cases that touch on the question.

A decision given in one case a few days ago has raised the hopes of law enforcement and judicial officers they will not be required to retry many persons who under the court's ruling were convicted illegally.

Cities Searching For New Revenue

Texas cities must find new sources of revenue. This is the word from Texas Municipal League, which makes a strong case for this plea.

Ad valorem taxes, designed for a land-based economy, no longer can sustain the growing financial needs of cities. This has caused 1,700 U.S. cities to levy retail sales taxes. It is pushing many municipalities into financial dependence upon the federal government. Inadequacy of property taxes is behind the plan of Texas Municipal League to seek authorization from the 1967 Texas Legislature to levy municipal sales and income taxes.

Texas cities, among the nation's fastest-growing, face rapidly rising costs. By 1970, forecasts TML executive director Steve Matthews, they must provide 12 billion gallons more water, 4,600 more firemen and policemen, 700 new jail cells, far more parks, sewers and other facilities.

Difficulties of many municipalities are compounded by the flight to the suburbs. Both individuals and industries require services within city limits which they do not help pay for because they are located outside of the taxing unit. Tourists, too, increase the need for services without contributing adequately to city incomes where taxation is solely based upon property.

Texas' rigid Constitution and a rural-dominated Legislature have restricted city changes in the past. In 1965, two TML proposals for legislative relief failed. But the makeup of the 1967 Legislature will include a much higher percentage of urban legislators, no matter how the 3-judge federal court in Houston rules on the case now before it.

Legislative permission will not mean that every Texas city must or will levy sales or income taxes. It will merely give residents of cities the right to decide how they want to pay for the services they demand. This is the only sensible way to keep cities solvent. It can help to prevent greater dependence upon the federal government.

Coinciding with sweeping plans announced in Washington for federal aid to cities, proposals of the Texas Municipal League deserve careful evaluation as an alternative that should appeal to those who still believe in do-it-yourself at the local level.

—The Dallas Morning News

In the past. In this decision, despite the objections of Justices Hugo L. Black and William O. Douglas, the court prohibited retroactive application of a ruling it rendered last April prohibiting state courts from allowing the judge or prosecutor in a trial to remind the jury that the defendant did not take the witness stand, which he has a right not to do.

The officials are hopeful that the court will base retroactivity with respect to some of its other decisions, notably that in the Escobedo case of 1964, when it was held that suspects in a criminal case have a right to legal counsel at the police station. This particular murder conviction in Illinois was thrown out because the police had refused to let the defendant see his lawyer before making a confession.

If it should be necessary to retry everyone who has been denied this right in the past and later convicted on the basis of a confession, very few people might be left in the penitentiaries.

Yet, if those persons were illegally convicted, are they not entitled to new trials? Would it not be discriminatory against them if the court's ruling should be made to apply only to cases after the date of the ruling? The problem has moral as well as legal aspects.

In the case recently decided, Justice Potter Stewart's opinion suggests that the court may decide to use practical considerations as a basis for refusing to make its decisions retroactive. It was pointed out that Ohio, California and four other states have permitted the outlawed comment to juries in the past.

"To require all of those states now to void the conviction of every person who did not testify at his trial," Justice Stewart said, "would have an impact upon the administration of their criminal law so devastating as to need no elaboration."

It thus appears possible that a majority of the court might decide that the Escobedo and other rulings also should not be made retroactive because to do so would disrupt the system for the administration of justice. But this would not change the fact that many people have been convicted in the past and are now in prison because of the use of procedures which, the court now says, were illegal.

—The Houston Post

The Other Shoe

Having heard one shoe drop with a thud when the President asked for a Cabinet level Department of Transportation, the transport industry is now awaiting with varying degrees of interest and apprehension the fall of the other. That will come with a special transportation message that will treat in greater detail with what he actually has in mind.

It will not be until after Mr. Johnson has set forth the whys and wherefores that any meaningful judgement can be passed on what is at this point only a general statement of intent to reorganize some of the existing Federal transport agencies, and to put into the Cabinet a man charged with over-all responsibility for all transport, even though he would presumably have no authority over certain regulatory functions of ICC, CAB and the like.

The object of this change — like that of the numerous such proposals that have been advanced in the past two decades — is co-ordination of Federal policies. This is a goal to which little exception can normally be taken.

But, as we have noted previously, co-ordination only means something if there is something that needs coordinating that is not being coordinated now. And if the President wants to make his plans acceptable both to business and Congress, he will do well to set forth in precise detail just what he expects a department of transportation to accomplish and how he expects to accomplish it.

Average Is Low

It is well known that most car drivers think they drive much better than, in fact, they do. For some reason, otherwise modest people, who claim no special talents in other areas, feel they are distinctly superior to their fellows in their ability to handle a car. If their number were smaller, this inflated impression of personal skill could be described as conceit. But the false impression is so widespread that it amounts to a mass delusion, says the Ontario Safety League.

It seems to be a sort of spell, brought on by the sensation of controlling a powerful machine. Millions of level-headed people get a mild Superman complex along with their driving license. Consider the facts. A recent Gallup poll showed that 62 percent of drivers questioned rated themselves as average drivers, 36 percent thought they were better-than-average and only 2 percent judged themselves as not-up-to-average.

The male ego is particularly buoyant in this area. Forty percent of the men rated themselves above average, while 30 percent of the women put themselves in this category. Since "average" is the middle point, there must be exactly as many people below average as above. Yet, to repeat, only 2 percent consider themselves below average as drivers, whereas 36 percent think they are above average.

MAIN STREET, USA

LBJ Asks For Federal Rural Area Benefits

By BERT MILLS

Washington, D. C. — President Johnson has asked Congress to bring the "benefits of creative Federalism" to rural citizens, both on the farm and in small cities.

Cornerstone of the program is the creation of a number of "Community Development Districts," each with a population of 75,000 to 150,000 probably including a small central city surrounded by a commuting area extending 40 to 50 miles.

IN A SPECIAL message to Congress on what the White House calls its "Rural Life Program," the President laid heavy stress on the need for "coordinated planning" by representatives of each county or municipal government in a particular area.

The Department of Agriculture would certify those "Community Development Districts" found eligible for Federal grants. A number of pilot projects are planned in the next fiscal year to gain experience under a variety of local conditions. It is expected that the total subsidy for planning grants would not exceed $5 million in the first year.

A federally-supported "Community Development District" would prepare "a comprehensive survey of resources and needs within the district, such as labor skills, industrial sites, land and water resources, health care, education, cultural opportunities, and public services."

TEN YEARS AGO

Hereford and Vicinity Prepare for Snowfall

Deaf Smith County readied itself for more snow and "Severe Weather" Wednesday afternoon as the Weather Bureau issued new storm warnings and reports came in from the northern Panhandle.

Members of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce have lashed out at testimony given by Walter B. Garver, manager of the United States Chamber of Commerce Agricultural Department, before the Senate Committee of Agriculture and Forestry.

One of the few victims of the snowfall here in Hereford was Mrs. W. A. Campbell of 608 Grand. She slipped on a slick sidewalk, resulting in a broken leg.

Mail delivery in Hereford and surrounding areas was not yet back to normal Wednesday, but postal workers said, "We are getting it delivered."

County, City and State workers, along with other volunteers were praised this week for all their outstanding work in getting streets, roads and highways cleared in record time following the recent three day snow storm.

A four year prison term was given Paul Hunter Carter in Deaf Smith County district Court here Tuesday by Judge Harry Schultz following a plea of guilty to forgery and passing a forged instrument.

Annual fund-raising project for the March of Dimes by the Westway Community a Negro minstrel and pie auction sale netted close to two hundred dollars for the polio fund this year.

Hereford had about "an average month" so far as the Volunteer Fire Department here is concerned.

Subsidies to Rural Doctors Asked

The President's program calls for Federal subsidies to rural doctors. This would take the form of a "loan forgiveness" system for medical students who establish their practice in poor rural areas. A precedent for this was established in the National Defense Education Act Amendments of 1965.

THE MESSAGE deplored the lack of modern medical services in rural areas. The President said that "infant mortality and infectious disease rates are higher, life expectancy is lower, and the need for chronic illness care" just as great among rural families as with the urban poor.

"Yet rural families have had less access to physicians, with rural states averaging only a third the number of physicians per person as the heavily populated urban states," the President said, and the continuing decline in the per capita number of physicians strikes harder at rural families.

LBJ claimed the doctor shortage at the crossroads will be eased by recent legislation which allows more extensive professional relationships between rural hospitals and urban medical centers, by improved schools that "will soon be available in rural areas," and by better roads.

Without spelling out what he has in mind, the President spoke of "a financial incentive" what will make it possible for the children (of the urban and rural poor) to undertake a medical career. This appeared to be a hint of a new scholarship program which he promised to prepare soon as part of the "loan forgiveness" plan.

COMMISSION TO BE NAMED

Also on the horizon is a Presidential "Commission on Rural Poverty." This group would make a one-year study and submit its recommendations to the White House. Its mission will be to find "the most efficient and promising means of sharing America's abundance with those who have been too often forgotten people."

President Johnson acknowledged that the study group will (See LBJ on Page 18)

Unfortunate are parents who have children who can't be content at home, who would never stay home unless forced to do so.

All of us like to go, all like to tread on the greener grass across the road . . . this is normal. But it is also normal to want to come home at the end of the day.

The atmosphere of a home should be such that members of the family can be happy and contented. What is worse than a home beset with parents who scream at each other and at their children, where beds go unmade and dishes unwashed, where members of the family have to shout at each other because Johnny is watching television and likes it nice and loud!

Wonder why we never hear the immortal "Home, Sweet, Home" any more.

I get a little exasperated at people in the newspapers and on television, begging other people to pay their poll tax. Sure, it's fine and dandy to give ample notice of taxpaying deadline, and emphasize it over and over, but to plead and insist that people pay their poll tax is a little too much. By the time a person in the United States becomes of voting age he should know the importance of voting, and it should not be necessary to plead with him to qualify. I wonder if the ones that have to have their arms twisted to get them to qualify to vote would go to the trouble of going to the polls on election day. Instead of keeping people up until twelve o'clock, midnight, on January 31, so that laggards can pay their poll tax, I would favor a law making the deadline at regular office closing time on that date. People shouldn't have to be pampered into being good citizens.

Dig that crazy mixed-up weather!

Monday in Denver City dawned as a nice spring day, but things changed.

At 10:40 a.m. a sandstorm whipped into the area on 40-miles-per-hour wind gusts. Sandstorm halted in the afternoon and at 4 p.m. the city received sleet, snow and rain—all at the same time!

Then, the sun shone brightly, resuming the fine spring day.

Monday's weather merely proves the old maxim: if you don't like Texas weather, just wait a few minutes and it will change.

"Today, our priceless heritage of freedom is under relentless attack both at home and abroad." The words are those of J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, taken from an address recently made on his being awarded the Grand Cross of the Scottish Rite.

He went on to detail where attacks of various kinds are in being — in southeast Asia, in Europe and the Near East, Central and South America. In all these vast areas, it has been necessary to use American power in efforts to stem the communist tide.

And here at home the communist problem is not, Mr. Hoover obviously believes, a small one. "Communism," he says, "is a vast international conspiracy, which today dominates one-third of the earth's people. Here, in our own country, that conspiracy is represented by the communist Party, U.S.A., a bold and defiant band of anti-American turncoats whose operations are directed and controlled by the Kremlin in Moscow."

President Johnson is catching old news for figures quoted on budget needs in his state of the union address. "Since figures don't lie but liars figure, the President is being accused of doing a Houdini act with the budget and misleading the taxpayer."

Well, this is one taxpayer who isn't being misled. Outside of being "oodles of money," a billion dollars doesn't mean anything to me.

I know Johnson is playing fast and loose with figures and I know that all this double talk means that I can expect to pay more taxes this year. It also means that I'm going to look around for somebody to send to Congress with fiscal responsibility as well as a social consciousness.

THE BOOTLEG

—Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm reviews the national budget this week, more or less.

Dear Editor:

I don't like to advise the President, there ought to be somebody left in this country who isn't always saying what the President ought to do, or shouldn't do, or should have done or shouldn't have done, but last night I was reading in a newspaper which I hauled off and bought in town, people think I just sit around out here and wait till a paper shows up but this isn't the first time I've bought one, I did the same thing once year before last, at any rate, according to this paper which I bought and paid for and now own outright, President Johnson has proposed a record-breaking budget for this year of 112.8 billion dollars.

However, he pointed out, this will come within 1.8 billion of being balanced, because while we have to spend more, the country is booming so its income will increase so much that tax revenues will make it come out almost even.

Now this may work for the nation, the President has more economic advisers than I do and they keep in closer touch with the economic index — in fact, I'm out of touch altogether with the economic index, I had one for this bindweed farm but I mislaid it, well I didn't really mislay it, I filed it under the E's — but it never does work out that way with me.

Every time I figure I can spend more because I anticipate making more, something happens and I wind up making less and therefore owing more. I don't know about Washington, but with me anticipated income is one of the most unreliable sources of revenue I've ever tried to operate on. A calf born in January ought to be worth around $100 in September, and it would have been if it hadn't died.

However, this isn't to say Washington can't do it. It's got more calves to depend on.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Club Is Dinner Hostess

Amusing recollections of boyhood as told by Robert Paul Smith in his book, "Where Did You Go? Out?" entertained guests at a dinner in the Calson House Thursday evening, when Summerfield Study Club members were hostesses to their husbands.

Mrs. W. C. Beene, Hereford School faculty member, reviewed the humorous book after an introduction by Mrs. Mack Noland. The invocation was by the Rev. James Arnold, pastor of Summerfield Baptist Church. Mrs. R. E. Lance Jr., club president, welcomed guests.

Valentine decorations brightened the dinner tables, arranged by Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill Sr.

Places were laid for the Rev. and Mrs. Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Beene, special guests; Messrs. and Mrs. Thurman Atchley, R. B. Baker, J. C. Clearman, George DeLozier, J. R. Euler, Earl Lance, R. E. Lance Jr., Harry Lookingbill, L. B. Lookingbill, L. H. Lookingbill Sr., J. B. Noland, Mack Noland and Guy Walser.

Sun helmets worn by United States naval officers in the Pacific's Palau Islands became status symbols after the Americans left. The chiefs forbade storekeepers to sell them to com-

Lake Recreation Approval Forseen

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special)—Congressman Walter Rogers said today he expects Congress to approve without change a $510,000 requested appropriation for developing recreation facilities at Lake Meredith in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The expenditure would complete a two-year program authorized by the Rogers Canadian River Recreation Bill passed in 1964 to provide $1.1 million in recreation facilities development at sites around the reservoir. In the current fiscal year, $590,000 is being expended, the Congressman said.

"FULL RECREATION development will be pushed in the years ahead," Congressman Rogers said. "The National Park Service is going to give its full cooperation for the proper development of Lake Meredith recreation, carrying out the intent of Congress as expressed in the Rogers Bill."

Meanwhile, the National Park will receive by February 15 bids from prospective concession operators who wish to develop facilities in the Fritch-Fortress area of the reservoir. The concessioner chosen by the Park Service will be required to invest approximately $865,000 to develop, in a two-phase program, such facilities as a motel, restaurant, marina, and golf course.

Congressman Rogers said the proposed budget for Fiscal Year 1967 calls for an expenditure by the Park Service of $67,000 for initial development of facilities at the Alibates Flint Quarries and Texas Panhandle-Pueblo Culture National Monument. The site adjacent to the Alibates recreation area on the south shore of the reservoir was made a National Monument—the first ever designated in Texas—under legislation introduced and pushed through to enactment by Congressman Rogers. His bill to name the reservoir "Lake Meredith" also was approved.

IN ADDITION to funds to begin work on the Alibates National Monument, the Park Service budget also calls for $123,000 to support work of the service in administering and enhancing facilities at the lake. The Park Service, under an agreement with the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority, began active supervision of recreation development early last year.

Fourteen million dollars has been requested by the Bureau of Reclamation for Fiscal Year 1967 to complete work on Sanford Dam and aqueducts carrying water to 11 Panhandle-South Plains CRMWA cities, including $11,733,809 for pipelines; $980,681 for pumping plants; $550,000 for regulating reservoirs; and $227,510 for permanent operating facilities, according to Congressman Rogers.

If Columbus had been born earlier, he probably could not have made his voyage to America. Boats were small; seamen could not sail into the wind and so stayed close to land. The compass was not available, and the stars had not been charted accurately. It was not until the mid-15th Century that ocean navigation was established as a science.

Local Students Have WT Roles

Two Hereford students will be featured in West Texas State University's spring musical, "Carousel," according to Royal Brantley, director of the opera workshop.

Joe Ella Casner will perform in a leading role in the musical and Ken Betzen will be a member of the cast.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McGee, 426 Star, Mrs.

Casner was also recently initiated into Mu Phi Epsilon, women's national honorary and professional music sorority. She is a sophomore student majoring in music.

Ken Betzen, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Betzen, is a senior student majoring in music education.

"Carousel" will be a combined production of the music and speech departments. It is scheduled for April 19-23 and 26-30 in the Branding Iron Theatre at WTSU.

have no easy task. "Rural poverty," he said, "has proved an almost intractable problem in past decades. Its abolition may require a journey of a thousand miles."

In urging planning at the local level, the President said "it signifies the willingness of rural men and women to make their part of America a place of hope.

"Rural America," he added, "need not be a wasteland from which the young, how ever ill-prepared, flee to the cities. It does not have to be a place where live only those too old, too poor, too defeated to seek other horizons."

Grain Sorghum Producers Discuss Current Problems

Eighty Grain Sorghum Producers Association directors and related industry leaders from the Tri-State area of Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico met in Amarillo last week. Elbert Harp of Abernathy and President of GSPA called the special session of the organization's Board of Directors, composed of grain producers elected from individual counties throughout the area. Purpose of the all day session was to "take a look at the current and changing situations affecting the whole grain sorghum production, marketing and utilization industry."

CLIMAX of the confab came when the group adopted, in order of preference, steps that U. S. Department of Agriculture should be requested to enact in implementing the 1966 feed grain program in order to restore farm income which is eminent under current provisions as announced by the Secretary of Agriculture. The steps adopted after hearing a recorded telephone conversation between Rogers in Washington and GSPA

Executive Vice President, Bill Nelson, were:

1. INCREASE price support loan rate.
2. Restore diversion payments on all or part of the 20% of sorghum acres that are now diverted without pay, provided a participant diverts 50% of his base acres.
3. Allow sorghum producers to plant oilseed or non-allotted crop on the 20% of the acres being diverted now without payment.
4. Allow a 50% participant to divert another 10%, receive feed grain payments on it, provided it is planted to soybeans of which U. S. D. A. wants a larger supply. In other matters, Nelson reported to the group that an analysis of President Johnson's budget for agricultural research reveals that all funds related to insect resistance in sorghums, wheat and corn have been removed from the ARS budget and this work will be stopped at research stations across the country.

THE BIGGEST effect to sorghum growers will be the discontinuation of sorghum midge resistance research headed at Oklahoma State University, but conducted throughout the sorghum area. This prompts fear of a return to situations such as occurred in the High Plains three years ago when over $10 million damage was encountered. GSPA will attempt to get the research funds restored and head-off deactivation of the projects.

Secretary Freeman's statement regarding spring wheat planting released while the meeting was in session was viewed by some GSPA officers as a possible forerunner of what may be expected in the way of a wheat-feed grain program for 1967. The release indicated that "spring wheat farmers would not have to comply with acreage diversion requirements in order to receive support benefits on their 1966 production." Previously, a 10% reduction was required.

Leo Witkowski, President of the Texas Wheat Growers Association, present at the meeting said that "some early indications are that there will be strong support in some areas for wheat farmers to plant all of their allotment which they want to, to wheat, provided they divert a similar amount of acres from feed grains."

GSPA officials will learn more about this and other current thinking on 1967 programs during conference in Washington in early February. In a formal presentation, GSPA President Elbert Harp pointed out that many adverse government decisions affecting grain sorghum producers and the grain trade are directly related to the continued increase in grain sorghum production, adding to current and carryover supplies while domestic and export use is not expanding at the fast rate of other feed grains.

HE SAID corn production is 7 times larger than grain sorghum, yet carry over stocks of corn are only 2 times more than sorghum. Corn exports have increased 300% the past five years, while grain sorghum exports increased only 30%. Harp surmised that as long as these situations of disparity between the grains exist, grain sorghum producers and the related industries serving them will continue to have difficulty in maintaining equitable treatment in administrative decisions affecting acres, price stocks management, research and other areas of development.

Other formal presentations included "The Current and Changing High Plains Economic Situation" Dr. Wayland Bennett, assoc. Dean of Agri., Texas Tech.

"The Current and Changing Farm and Rural Legislative Situation" Representative Bill Clayton, Springlake.

"The Current and Changing Country Elevator Situation" Bill Waldrep, Director, West Texas Grain Elevators Assn., Community Grain, Easter.

"The Current and Changing Grain Trade Situation" Harold Priddy, President, Panhandle Grain & Feed Dealers Assn., Shell Grain Co., Ralls.

"The Current and Changing Grain Transportation Situation" Bill Hollan Traffic Committee, Texas Grain & Feed Assn. Traffic Manager, Producers Grain Corporation, Amarillo.

The first scheduled passenger air service across a major ocean was started in 1935 when a Pan American World Airways flying boat made the trip from San Francisco to Manila in 59 hours and 48 minutes. Stops were made at Honolulu, Midway, Wake Island and Guam.

Club Endorses Its Woman Of Year As Candidate For THDA Office

Mrs. A. E. Hodges was named Woman of the Year in North Hereford Home Demonstration Club Thursday, as her fellow members also endorsed her candidacy for the treasurer's office in Texas H. D. Association.

Now serving as district THDA chairman, Mrs. Hodges has been an active member of North Hereford Club, holding various offices and chairmanships. Mrs. O. L. Williams, North Hereford president, was chosen as its nominee for county delegate to the spring convention of the district THDA, to be held in Dalhart. Three delegates are to be selected in the county from club nominees.

Mrs. Clinton Ward was hostess in her home Thursday, when Mrs. Paul Hoff presented the demonstration on making batter rolls and two-crust pies. Mrs. W. J. Lueb and Mrs. Roger Williams were new members present. Others included Mmes. Tony Hoffman, C. L. Whitehead, Otto Massie and R. A. Fullwood. The latter two members will be hostesses at 113 Ranger for the next meeting, Feb. 17.

CRAZY! ALL OF THEM! ONE MAN TELLS A STORY.. NOW EVERYBODY THINKS HE SEES FIRE LIZARDS!

LIVING SO CLOSE TO VESUVIUS MAY AFFECT THE BRAIN, GIORGIO!
