

Crop Figures Do Injustice

J. E. Hill Says HARM TO FARMERS

Hill Predicts Splendid Average Wheat Yield For This Year

Chambers of commerce and newspapers were scored for overestimating Panhandle wheat crops by John E. Hill, general manager of the Panhandle Lumber Company in a talk made before the Amarillo Real Estate Board, according to an Amarillo News-Globe report.

Making a plea for accuracy in such estimates, Mr. Hill challenged the accuracy of the estimate of this year's wheat crop as published in a recent issue of the Dallas News. He also questioned the statement in which the Dallas News is said to have inferred that harvesting of the Panhandle crop would begin this week, declaring that such over estimates and misstatements are injurious to wheat farmers.

Hill Expects Good Yield

Mr. Hill who has just returned from a survey of the Panhandle wheat belt, predicts that, barring unforeseen happenings, there will be a splendid average yield this year.

"However, the constant publishing of guesses to the effect that the Panhandle will produce such an amount of wheat, when such figures are not properly compiled, is doing a serious harm to the producers," he stated.

Too Much Territory Is Included

"The basic reason for these mistakes lies in the fact that we here in the Panhandle frequently take in too much territory. When talking about 'our' wheat yield we frequently include the territory of Oklahoma and a section of Eastern New Mexico," he continued. "Then when each of these states makes estimates, it likewise includes its own territory, resulting in an overestimated yield when the figures are added up at Washington."

Overestimate Is Injustice

"The prediction that Oklahoma will have a yield of 55 to 70 million bushels and that the Panhandle region will have a 45 to 50 million bushel yield causes an injustice to the farmer," he concluded.

Miss Hazel Lowry Visits Points Of Historical Interest On Trip

Battlefields, Mississippi River, Chattanooga and Many Other Places of Historical Fame Are Seen by Omnibus Group

Visiting parks and art galleries in Memphis and Civil War battlefields near Chattanooga, Tenn., watching freight barges on the Mississippi river, driving by the capitol of Arkansas at Little Rock, travelling thru the Tennessee Mountains, and seeing the Wilson dam at Tusculum, Ala., are but a few of the interesting experiences of Miss Hazel Lowry who is on the six-weeks Omnibus tour sponsored by the Southwestern College at Winfield, Kans.

Her letter, loaned thru the courtesy of her sister, Mrs. Glen Phillips, follows: "Ft. Smith, Ark., where we spent the first night. We left Ft. Smith Sunday morning singing religious songs. People along the streets looked in our direction wondering just what we represented—four 36-passenger busses filled with enthusiastic young people."

"Monday morning found a jolly party leaving Little Rock, Ark. We drove by the state capitol and the new high school building which is said to be the most beautiful in the United States. At Judsonia, Ark.,

the president of the Fruit Growers' association brought out a crate of strawberries for our lunch.

"Memphis, Tenn., is the city of parks! The Mississippi river bridge is three miles long. From it one can get an excellent view of the river with its freight barges and tug boats. Riverside Park built along the river is full of large native trees and undergrowth.

"De Soto Park contains an old Indian mound on which De Soto stood when he first viewed the Mississippi. During the Civil War, a tunnel was built thru the mound and ammunition stored there.

"Probably the most popular park is Overton Park where one finds all kinds of trees, a zoo filled with almost every species of birds and animals, and an art gallery of paintings by many famous Southern artists.

"Pink Palace, formerly the home of Clarence Saunders, the Piggy Wiggly man, but now a museum presented to Memphis by his creditors, was the most interesting thing we found in

Darrouzett Is Preparing For Harvest Days

EMPTY CARS READY

Good Wheat Yields Are Predicted By C. of C. President

With the wheat harvest predicted to begin June 24th or 25th and the entire community busy with preparations for the activities of the next few weeks, Darrouzett promises to be a scene of activity 16 hours or more a day from now on instead of only eight.

Elevators operated by the Sharon Grain Company and the Darrouzett Co-operative Association are hustling to make last minute repairs on machinery and to check scales in readiness for the thousands of bushels of wheat that will be brought in for shipment.

Workmen Repair Bridge

Long lines of empty freight cars are standing on the tracks waiting to be filled with wheat. Workmen are busy repairing the Santa Fe bridge to withstand the strain of the countless cars will pass over it within the next few weeks.

Merchants are adding harvest supplies to their stocks and are planning specials to meet the needs of the farmers.

Hitch-hikers seeking jobs in the harvest fields pass thru almost hourly, many of them young fellows with brightly colored collegiate sweaters flung over one shoulder.

Farmers Have Trucks Ready

Farmers are making every last minute preparation. Many of them even have their trucks, filled with oil, gasoline and water, and tires tested, standing in their yards ready for wheat hauling.

The excitement and activity of the harvest has even reached the younger group. High school girls are making plans to help their mothers or neighbor women cook meals for harvest hands. Even the younger children play at harvesting wheat.

As for the wheat crop itself, a splendid average yield is predicted. A rather good crop much better than last year's, with an average yield of 15 to 20 bushels, is estimated by A. H. Montgomery, president of the Darrouzett Chamber of Commerce.

Prices of 40 to 45 cents per bushel were quoted this week by Amarillo market.

"A town is known to the outside world chiefly thru its newspaper," a Darrouzett citizen commented recently, adding that this newspaper is really the voice of the community.

People in Darrouzett are, on the whole, unusually public-minded. They are anxious to see progress in everything tending to make this community a better place in which to live. Many of them have stated that there is no reason why Darrouzett should not have a really good weekly newspaper alive to progress, full of news, and a constructive influence in the community.

Such a newspaper is possible if the co-operation of every person living in town and nearby is enlisted. Co-operation is essential both in news gathering and in advertising.

A newspaper of the type that Darrouzett needs and wants is not the output of one individual. It is a creative force that the entire community has a part in shaping.

The wheels of justice grind slowly!

For nearly a dozen years, "Scarface" Al Capone has been engaged in liquor traffic in Chicago uninterfered with by municipal authorities.

Now, after nearly two years of investigation by federal officers, the gangster king faces an arraignment on federal indictments charging violation of the liquor and income tax laws. Nothing in the arraignment refers to murder nor the myriad other crimes with which he has been credited.

After 12 years of Capone racketeering, more than two years and many men have been required to trail Alphonse to secure evidence leading to his indictment.

Verily, the wheels of justice grind slowly!

The Federal Farm Board's stabilization wheat will be sold abroad so long as it does not disturb the world market, Chairman Stone announced Monday.

If a good foreign demand continues, wheat will be offered in keeping with the board's policy of disposing of its huge surplus stocks in a manner that will impose the minimum burden on other competitors, Stone declared.

Sales on the domestic market will be handled carefully by the board, the chairman promised.

Even farmers are beginning to understand "sucrose" and "dextrose."

Lesson for June 21

THE SIN OF CAUSING OTHERS TO STUMBLE
(Temperance Lesson)

GOLDEN TEXT—It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor anything whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or is made weak.
LESSON TEXT—Romans 14:13-23.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Helping Others (Health Emphasis).
JUNIOR TOPIC—My Responsibility for Others (Health Emphasis).
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Abstaining for the Sake of Others.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Liquor Traffic a Stumbling-block.

This lesson sets forth fraternal duties in matters of conscience. The background for these obligations is found in the fact that there were some in the church at Rome who were very conscientious with reference to eating flesh. Others were without these scruples. They ate what was set before them without question. Then there were some who had particular regard for fast days and holy days, as the Sabbath, etc. There were still others who had made no distinction, regarding every day alike. It is readily seen in this light how differences and disputes would arise. The sure preventive of strife under such circumstances is Christian love and forbearance. The biblical unit embracing this discussion covers chapters 14:1 to 15:13. It will be seen that it is taken from the practical portion of the Epistle. These practical exhortations are based upon the great truths of saving grace set forth in the doctrinal portion of Romans.

I. Neither Party is to Sit in Judgment Upon the Other (Rom. 14:1-13). This instruction applies to things indifferent in themselves. It would be a mistake to apply these principles to such actions as are inherently wrong. Concerning things which are morally indifferent, passing judgment on another is wrong because:

1. Each man is responsible to God alone (v. 4). Each man belongs to God.
2. Each man must decide for himself what is right for him to do (vv. 5, 6). Touching matters indifferent in themselves, an action which is right for one may be sinful for another.
3. Each man lives not to himself, but unto the Lord (vv. 7-9). The one joined to Jesus Christ is to be governed by the Spirit of Christ.
4. Each man must give an account of himself to God (vv. 10-13).
 - a. Each one must stand before the judgment seat of Christ (v. 10).
 - b. Account must be rendered unto God (v. 12). Nothing can be concealed from him, for he is omniscient.

II. A Stumbling Block Should Not Be Placed in the Way of Another (Rom. 14:14-23).

A properly enlightened Christian may have perfect liberty to act in a given way as far as he himself is concerned, but the exercise of his liberty may become an occasion of stumbling to another. The urgent reasons for abridgment of liberties are:

1. We may destroy the weak brother for whom Christ died (v. 15). If it was worth while for Christ to die for a man surely it is worth while that the Christian should deny himself some privilege for his brother's sake.
2. We should not allow our good to be evil spoken of (vv. 16-18). Liberty in Christ is a precious thing which only love knows how to use. That one is in the Kingdom of God and, therefore, ruled by the Holy Spirit is proved by daily living the love life which is characterized as follows:
 - a. Righteousness, honesty and integrity in all things.
 - b. Living in peace with each other.
 - c. Joy in the Holy Ghost. The Holy Ghost is represented as the "oil of gladness" (Heb. 1:9).
3. We should follow after things that make for peace and edify one another (v. 19). To ignore the conscientious scruples of a weak brother is to destroy the work of God—to pull down the gracious work which God is doing in him.
4. We should exercise our faith in God and abstain from things which offend the weak brother (vv. 21-23).

III. We Should Please Our Neighbor and Not Ourselves (Rom. 15:1-13).

The infirmities of the weak are real burdens which are to be borne by the strong.

1. Because of Christ's example (vv. 1-3). He is our supreme pattern. His supreme thought and purpose was to help and save others.
2. Because of the Scripture testimony (vv. 4-13). The Old Testament Scriptures abound with examples of self-denying sacrifices for the good of others, having their culmination of meaning in the action of Christ.

Organization Will Protect Live Game

AMERICAN LEGION, LIONS CLUB AND BOY SCOUTS TO HELP WILD LIFE

The American Legion, the Lions Club and a deputy game warden at Toledo, Oregon, may have started a national movement among Boy Scouts, according to announcement of the American Game Association, when they enrolled the Boy Scouts of that vicinity in a wild-life conservation plan. Seth Gordon, president of the American Game Association, said that the plan is so sound that he is confident it will spread nationally, taking in every state.

There are two Scout troops—and friendly rivalry has started between them. One troop is to major in forestry and the other in Game and Fish Conservation. Tests of knowledge and practice are to be held each month, it is reported. The troops will switch from Forestry to Game and Fish Conservation and vice versa, thus each fields.

Each Scout majoring in Forestry is to be made an Honorary Forest and Fire Warden, and each one majoring in Game and Fish Conservation is to be rewarded with the position of Honorary Game Warden.

Each Scout takes the following pledge:

"Upon my honor as a nature guardian, I promise to take care of natural friends—the birds, fish and all useful dumb animals, the flowers, the trees and the forest. I will do my best to protect them from abuse and hard usage.

"I promise not to rob a bird's nest, nor to willfully kill a bird, an animal or a fish in violation of the law, nor to abuse or bully a dumb animal; and I will strive to keep others from doing these things, to the best of my ability. I will endeavor to prove myself a friend to all living things that are harmless.

"I will put out camp fires started by myself or others, and I will do my utmost to protect forests from destruction because forest fires not only destroy the trees and underbrush, but also burn birds and animals or their nests and dens.

"I will familiarize myself with the Game and Fish and Fire laws of my State so as to be able to govern my conduct and advise others, and in every way possible, I will do my best to protect the inhabitants of the great outdoors.

the city. Built of pink stone with the inside finished with marble from 38 states, it contains 22 rooms and was erected at a cost of $2,000,000.

"A very interesting visit was that to Shiloh National Park near Corinth, Miss. The battlefield is marked to show the most important divisions of the battle. In the National cemetery are buried Union soldiers with the exception of two graves in which are buried Confederate prisoners of war. The Confederates are buried in trenches marked with a cement curb and topped with cannon balls.

"The famous Bloody Pond is now a quiet little pool bordered with flowers and with a cement curb and an iron fence around it. Just below the cemetery is Pittsburg Landing which is still in use as a landing for ferry boats.

"The Tennessee river runs thru one side of Shiloh battlefield. The field incidentally, was named Shilow because Shiloh Church stood almost in the center. The keepers live within the park. A well-equipped school building is maintained for the benefit of their children.

"Our next stop was at Tuscomb, Ala. The superintendent of the Wilson dam which is eight miles north of Tuscomb was kind enough to open the gates and fill the locks for us to see.

"Travelling thru the Tennessee mountains, we crossed Signal mountain of Civil War fame and viewed the Portland cement mine at the foot. Chattanooga is a beautiful city snuggling amidst the foothills.

"We spent one day sight-seeing in Chattanooga. We went to the top of Lookout mountain on the steepest incline railroad in the world. Lookout, Tenn., a city of 3,000, is located on top of the mountain. From the summit, one gets an excellent view of Chattanooga and the Missionary Ridge. From the 120-ft tower, we had a view of Chattanooga from the east. Our trip thru Chickamauga Park was very much like that near Shiloh.

"There are so many places of historical interest near this city that our day has been well-filled."

—HAZEL LOWRY.
