

Personally Speaking

By E. M.

PERSONALLY SPEAKING

Sometimes it seems to me that newspaper people get all of the tough breaks as compared to people of other professions. Take for example, the making of mistakes. Lawyers' mistakes are frequently sent to prison where they are out from under the public eye at least. Doctors' mistakes are sometimes buried from sight six feet under the ground. But the newspaper man's mistake is down in black and white—more than likely in the middle of the front page—where everybody can see it.

It's funny too how hot and bothered people do get when their names are misspelled. Really, it seems that they get more excited than if the butcher weighs his thumb with the roast, or the stenographer spills ink all over the business letter, or the baby breaks the sugar bowl in the real hand-painted china set that Aunt Myrtle gave as a wedding gift OR all the Jones cousins from Podunk arrive, bag and baggage, with the announcement that they have come to visit dear cousin Henry for a month or two. Well one thing, doctors and lawyers can't claim that their mistakes are TYPOGRAPHICAL errors.

A few times in my life I have thought that, given my choice, I would have preferred living in the good old days when "specialization" was an unknown term and when living was a much slower process than in the modern rapid age.

On Monday evening, however, with the highline off on a vacation, I changed my mind. Editing the News by the dim light of a gasoline lamp, was not nearly so satisfactory as when an incandescent light bulb illuminated my typewriter and news copy.

Furthermore, imagine how provoking it would be if a trip to Perryton or some other nearby town took a day and a half instead of an hour.

And would those of us who are accustomed to daily mail service and telephone and telegraph facilities ever be satisfied with weekly or bi-weekly mail service and no such thing as a telephone or telegraph wire?

Radios and talkies are rather nice things to have also. All in all, I should imagine that the modern age is a more exciting and interesting time to live than in the previous period.

Methodist Bazaar Is Scheduled Saturday

Fancy Pillows, pillow slips, dresser scarfs, and other articles of hand work will be for sale by the Methodist Ladies Aid Society at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at Russell's store, according to Mrs. A. Blair Grubb, president.

The bazaar will be in connection with the regular monthly food sale of the order. Mrs. C. T. Phillips, social chairman, will be in charge of the sale.

Thelma Cope Becomes Follett G. S. Captain

Miss Thelma Cope will serve as captain of the Follett Girl Scout troop during the coming year, as a result of recent appointment of officials.

Miss Cope helped organize the Darrouzett Girl Scout troop here over two years ago. She served as local captain for nearly two years.

The Follett group is making plans for a party to be given December 6 in honor of the former officials.

Mrs. Walter Hill spent Monday visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hill.

Farmer Finds Leghorn Flock Profitable, Says Cottingame

A flock of white Leghorn hens owned by Floyd Farmer, who lives in the New Home district, have paid him $1.85 for every $1.00 worth of feed they have consumed during the year from Nov. 1, 1930 to Nov. 1, 1931, according to W. K. Cottingame, county agricultural agent.

Mr. Farmer started keeping a flock record on his hens a year ago. He was somewhat surprised to learn that his flock of hens had paid him that price for his feed, according to Mr. Cottingame.

Ladies' Aid Society Uses Print Shop For Workroom

A new workroom down town is being used these days by the Methodist Ladies' Aid Society for quilting and other handwork meetings.

The building, which is being loaned to the society thru the courtesy of L. D. Fiskin, is located one door south of the O. K. Barber Shop. It was formerly used as a print shop. The women have furnished the workroom with a stove, chairs and a rug.

Mrs. A. Blair Grubb called on Mrs. W. R. Hill and Miss Mittie Hill on Monday evening.

Mrs. Albert Daily has been ill this week.

Teachers Go To Amarillo Session

Examinations Over, Students Get Vacation

After racking their brains and cramping their fingers over six-weeks' examinations during the early part of the week, Darrouzett school children will be given a respite from work Thursday and Friday while faculty members attend the annual session of the Texas State Teachers' Association from Thursday to Saturday at Amarillo.

All seven teachers planned to attend the convention thruout the three days. Supt. and Mrs. J. E. Speer left Wednesday evening, planning to spend the night with Mr. Speer's brother, J. B. Speer, at Morse, Texas. The other faculty members and Hiram Wright and Ray T. Hennigh planned to leave for Amarillo early Thursday morning.

Music Planned

The opening number on the three-day convention program is a Thanksgiving address to be given by Rev. R. Thomson, pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church of Amarillo at 10:30 Thursday morning. A number of sectional meetings for teachers of various subjects are planned for the convention.

Special music for the session will be given by the All-state band, the Simmons University Cowboy band, bands, from the Amarillo College and the Texas Technological College, and the West Texas State Teacher's College orchestra.

Trip To Canyon

Banquets for former students and faculty members of the W. T. S. T. C. at Canyon and Texas Tech at Lubbock will be held Friday evening in the Crystal Ballroom of the Herring Hotel.

An excursion to the Palo Duro Park near Canyon is being planned for the teachers' entertainment by the Amarillo and Canyon Chambers of Commerce on Friday afternoon. A football game between the Lubbock and Amarillo high schools will be held at Amarillo on Thursday afternoon.

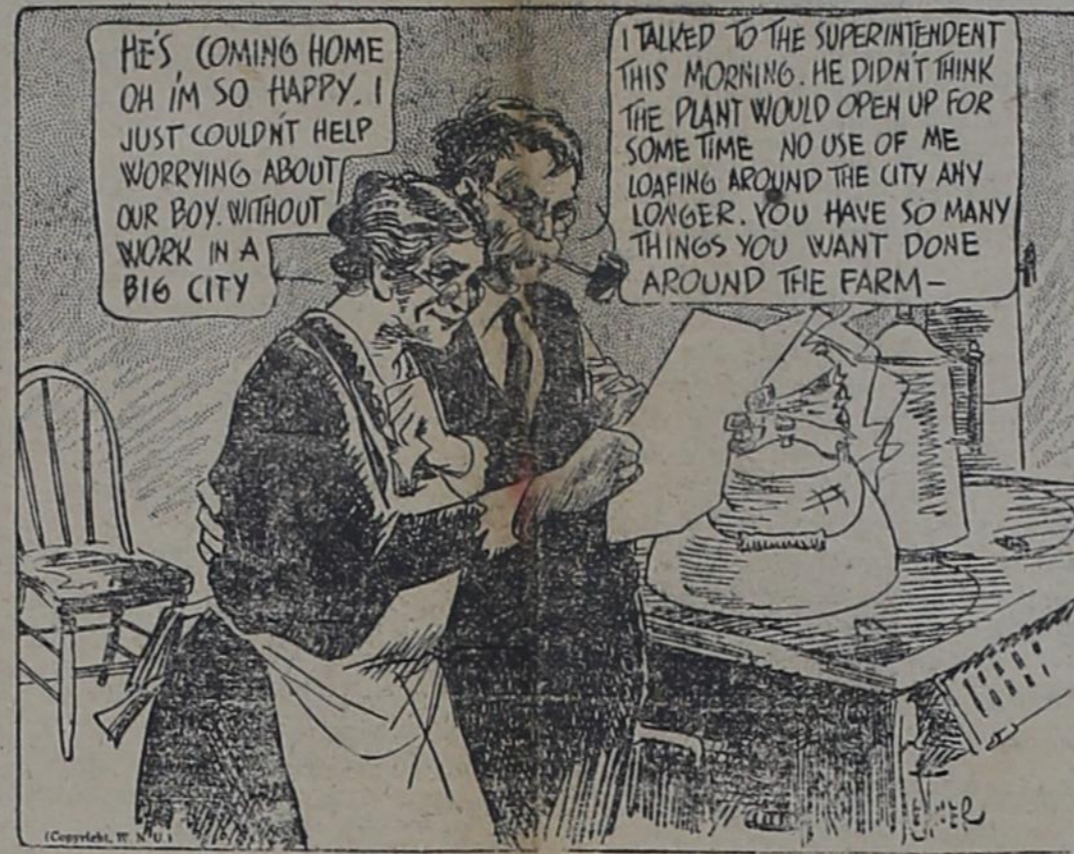

Appreciation to the Darrouzett Board members for their support in making it possible for the local faculty to take advantage of the opportunities offered during this education meeting is expressed by Superintendent Speer in behalf of the faculty.

J. H. Rhoads Shows Slight Improvement

J. H. Rhoads who has been quite ill for the past week was somewhat improved on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. Rhoads has been suffering from severe attacks of asthma and other complications. He has not been in very good health for several years.

The Silver Lining

Chamber Of Commerce Has Varied List Of Projects

Activities that have varied from starting newspapers to rounding corners on public roads have been undertaken as community projects by the local chamber of commerce since it was organized here two years ago this fall.

The Darrouzett News was established by the order last June 4 when the town found itself without a newspaper.

Probably chief among the accomplishments is the securing of the location of the recently approved state highway through Darrouzett instead of around it. Representatives of the chamber of commerce made several trips to Amarillo in order to see state officials about the matter.

Other community improvements that have been backed by the commercial group are the graveling of main street on two occasions, the opening of the road south of town, the securing of a bridge across the Kiowa south of town. The group has also endorsed the improvement of the Lipscomb road south of Darrouzett.

Members of the group have also worked on the proposition of getting more roading opening into town, and the securing of mail routes north of town.

The present board of directors consists of A. H. Montgomery, president; I. M. Roper, vice president; Otis Travis, secretary; C. H. Powell, and R. D. Hennigh. An election of officers for the coming year is scheduled for the next meeting on December 8.

Laubhan-Herber Case Dismissed By Judge

A demurrer filed in the case of Alex Laubhan versus George Herber was sustained and the case was thrown out of court of C. A. Dickenson in the county court session held Monday at Lipscomb.

In the case, Laubhan of Higgins, filed suit against Herber of Lipscomb for the proceeds from the wheat crop on the Laubhan property one mile west of Darrouzett. E. C. Gray of Higgins represented the plaintiff, while Hoover and Cousins, Canadian attorneys, represented the defense.

Judge W. H. Sewell of Follett represented the First National Bank at Darrouzett which held a mortgage on the wheat crop and J. O. Selman, trustee for the Sharon Grain Company in whose elevator the wheat in question had been stored.

The case of the Brown Motor Company at Shattuck versus George Kraft of Follett was continued until the next session of the county court.

Those from Darrouzett who attended the court session on Monday were Ray Altmiller, D. R. Rush, L. D. Fiskin, R. W. Perry, and A. H. Montgomery.

Thanksgiving Services Are Held at School

Thanksgiving services to be held at the school house at 10:30, Thursday morning, have been outlined by Rev. A. Blair Grubb, as follows:

Call to Worship; Song, Doxology; Prayer; Song, "This Is My Father's World"; What I Have To Be Thankful For; Song, "Come Ye Thankful People"; Responsive Reading; Song, "We Plow the Fields, and Scatter," second stanza; Scripture Reading; Song, "We Plow the Fields, and Scatter," third stanza; Benediction.

Visitors of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hill last Wednesday were Mrs. Alfred Young, Mrs. Nettie Young, and Mrs. John Paine of Booker.

Mrs. J. E. Speer Sells Magazine Christmas Story

A Christmas story written by Mrs. J. E. Speer has been accepted by The Northwestern Christian Advocate, a magazine published at Chicago, according to word received from the publishers on Monday.

The story, "He That Ploweth His Hand to the Plow," will appear in the Christmas number of the magazine, according to the publishers. The sketch is partially true, being based upon the experiences of Mrs. Speer's grandparents when they came from Louisiana to Texas to live.

Mrs. Speer has written a number of poems and short stories. Several years ago she was winner of a Christmas advertisement contest conducted by a newspaper at Lubbock, Texas.

Town Sees Winter, Lightless Days

Darrouzett Is In Dark Monday Night

With travel and communication rendered difficult by the cold weather and sleet and lighting facilities impaired by a break in the highline between here and Follett, Darrouzett citizens, from Sunday until Tuesday of this week were faced with the two fold realization that winter is really coming on and that the good old days of candles and oil lamps weren't so good after all.

Heavy sleet falling at intervals on both Sunday and Monday covered the roads, fences, telephone poles, wires, trees and other outdoor objects with a heavy coating of ice. Drivers of automobiles on both days were often forced to cut the ice from their frozen windshields with pocket knives or to burn candles inside the car to keep the windshields from freezing over.

Linesmen Busy

All country telephone lines leading into Darrouzett are down, Miss Lenna Hebbard, operator, reported on Tuesday. Toll lines between towns were also disconnected until Tuesday. Linesmen have been busy all week repairing lines.

Telegraph wires were also down in many sections. From Darrouzett it was impossible to wire any farther west than Perryton or beyond Follett on the east.

Lights Are Off

Darrouzett residents were in darkness on Monday evening, on practically all of Sunday during the day, and on part of Tuesday. The electricity was cut off at Booker while workmen repaired a break in the highline between here and Follett. Altho the power comes thru Perryton it was necessary to cut off the electricity at Booker since Darrouzett has no cut-off, Texas Louisiana employes explained.

Probably many a Darrouzett resident went to bed Wednesday night by the uncertain light of a flashlight or candle. However, the families who were dependent upon electric cooking stoves were likely the most inconvenienced by the temporary cut-off of power.

No Trace Found Of Panhandle Robbers

No trace has yet been found of the persons who robbed the Panhandle Lumber Company of nearly $150 worth of guns, ammunitions, pocket knives, and razors, last Wednesday night, C. H. Powell manager has reported.

The thieves entered the building by a window in the rear of the building.

New Mail, Train Schedules Announced By Beck, Mosley

Changes in the mail and train schedules during the winter months have been announced by M. L. Beck, postmaster, and J. T. Mosley, Santa Fe agent.

All mail going west on the early morning train must be mailed by 4:45 the previous afternoon, while mail for the east-bound train may be mailed any time before 10 a. m., according to Mr. Beck. Formerly, mail going east had to be in the office by 9:30 a. m.

The new mail regulations went into effect on Tuesday of this week.

New train schedules which will begin on Monday of next week announce that the west-bound train will now

Sunday School Convention To Be At Booker

MEETING IS SUNDAY

Mrs. Grubb Makes Announcement Of Program

Program for the meeting of the Lipscomb County Sunday School Association which will be held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, November 29, at the Full Gospel Tabernacle at Booker has been announced by Mrs. A. Blair Grubb, secretary.

The convention will open with songs by the congregation. Rev. J. O. Hims, pastor of the Follett Methodist Episcopal Church, will conduct the devotional service. Special music will be provided by the Baptist Sunday School of Booker.

Contest Planned

A 'Tiny Tot Bible Story Telling Contest' will follow the musical numbers. Judges will be Mesdames John Willis and W. T. Lackey, and Judge C. A. Dickenson. Dean Terrel will represent Darrouzett in this contest. Beulah McGee serves as alternate from the local Sunday school. The two children were trained by Mrs. George Russell.

"What Can the Sunday School Do in Prevention of Crime," will be the topic of a talk by Judge W. H. Sewell of Follett. The Follett Methodist Sunday School will discuss the topic: "How Shall a Teacher in Sunday School Be Chosen?"

Orchestra to Play

Additional musical numbers will be supplied by the Booker Christian Sunday School and the Playmores, Booker orchestra.

A business meeting will follow the program.

Rev. E. A. Caywood, of the Baptist Church at Booker will pronounce the benediction.

Unfavorable Weather Postpones Clean-Up

Because of the unfavorable weather this week the Clean-up Day scheduled for Wednesday, November 25, has been postponed until next week, according to an announcement made by the high school and town clean-up committee.

Announcement of the exact day for the clean-up next week will be made later, committee members reported.

All citizens in town are asked to have their trash raked up and piled ready for removal by students and business men in trucks when the definite day is set.

Those on the high school committee are Doris Montgomery, Lewis Woods, and O. C. Elfers. The chamber of commerce committee consists of William Erts, R. W. Perry, and Glen Phillips.

Teacher Announces Changes In Recital

A few changes in the recital program to be given by music pupils at 7:30 Friday evening at the school auditorium have been announced by Mrs. A. Blair Grubb, music teacher.

J. T. Mosley will accompany Mrs. Mosley's vocal solo with a violin obligato. Other numbers that were not included on the program in last week's News are to be given by P. J. Gheen, violin; Gertrude Stranske, guitar; and E. J. Stranske, violin.

The numbers announced to be played by Teresa Frass will be omitted since she has gone to Wichita for the Thanksgiving holidays, Mrs. Grubb said.

School Press Club From Darrouzett Visits Print Shop

Members of the Darrouzett Press Club, a high school honorary organization which has charge of the Longhorn school section in The Darrouzett News, visited the print shop last Thursday in order to see a newspaper in the making.

The students assisted in proof-reading on the Thanksgiving issue of The Darrouzett News that was being printed at the time. John Merriam and Woodrow Dunkle showed them how advertising cuts are cast and mounted, and how the type-setting machine is operated.

Those who made the trip were: O. C. Elfers, editor-in-chief on the Longhorn staff; Doris Montgomery, assistant editor; Alberta Reger, class editor; Eva Greenfield, girls' sports writer; Thelma Carter and Olive Carter, special writers; Glenn Balch, boys' sports writer; Lewis Woods, Humor editor; and Miss Elsie Montgomery, editor of the Darrouzett News—The Booker News.

Band Organization Is Complete Here

Organization of a band has been completed and practice will be held regularly on Tuesday evenings, according to band members and E. J. Stranske, who will serve as director.

Those who will play in the band are: Mrs. M. L. Beck and Willard Smith, tubas; Fiss Rubye Messner, Melvin Beck, Marion Carter, and Walter Messner, cornets; Kenneth Jenkins and Rev. A. Blair Grubb, clarinets; C. H. Powell, trombone; M. L. Beck, baritone; Lloyd Mosley, bass drum; and J. T. Mosley, snare drum.

The last meeting of the group was held on Tuesday night at the W. J. Cessna building. A definite meeting place has not yet been decided upon.

College Paper Lists Phillips As Teacher

Mrs. G. W. Phillips, formerly Miss Gladys Lawry, is teaching the senior public speaking class two days each week.

Mrs. Phillips attended W. T. in 1924 and 25, and again in 1928. She taught in the Higgins and Follett schools in 1926-27; however, she has come to W. T. this year from the Darrouzett High School, where she was superintendent and public speaking teacher.

Mrs. Phillips will receive her degree in the spring; she intends to continue teaching public speaking after her graduation.—The Prairie (W. T. S. T. C. at Canyon.)

Teresa, Betty Jane and Ella Mae Frass, accompanied by Bill Frass went to Wichita, Kas., on Tuesday to spend the Thanksgiving holidays visiting relatives.

Miss Rubye Messner and Alfred Fausset visited at the home of B. F. Green on Sunday afternoon.

Recent Developments In Education

Fifteen years ago the school building was a place attended by "scholars" and ruled by the iron hand method. Germany, during the World War, made us acutely aware of the results of this type of training.

"Under this system the individual had scant chance of regulating his activities in harmony with group action. For eleven or twelve years of his life he was told how and when to control his actions. At the end of that period, when he had finished high school, he was suddenly released from authority and was expected to develop his own initiative and "act the man" because he had been told how to do so hundreds of times thruout his school life.

In that system lay the fallacy. He had now to learn to adjust himself to group thought and action, without the aid of a "master."

The "telling of students to do something" is all right, but today, we believe that more than mere telling is needed. If a boy or girl is to become a good citizen, one of material value to his community, then he must have some training to assist him in becoming the most efficient type of citizen.

Citizenship is fast becoming one of the major objectives of every worthwhile school. The good teacher manages to incorporate some plan of training for this important life problem while teaching "readin'", "ritin'", and "rithmetic."

J. E. SPEER, Superintendent of Schools.

Autumn Is Dead

By AVIS LUDLUM KNOX

Slowly the mist o'er the meadow is creeping;
Softly the dark o'er the heaven is deepening;
Swiftly the birds to the south land are winging;
Sadly the brook in the meadow is singing,
Autumn is dead

I Am But A Brook In A Forest

By JULIA KINGSLEY

I am but a brook in a forest
Beneath the o'er hanging trees,
But I hear the whispered stories
Told by the wandering breeze.

I hear the lone lovers bewailing
The loss of the loved, cherished one;
And I hear the willows mourning
Lovers who've left them and gone.

I am but a brook in a forest
But mine are the tales to tell
Of the wind and the breeze and the birdlings
Who there in the forest to dwell.

I am only a brook in a forest
But I know the history
Of the lives of those who're waiting
Lovers long lost ones to see;
Dwelling beside the small brooklet—
Dwelling by me.

("Autumn Is Dead" was written in 1920 by Mrs. Knox, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Ludlum
Miss Kingsley, who lives at Windsor, Ontario, Canada, recently won a prize for the best poem in a contest among the schools in the Province of Ontario.)

Road Work to Start

Machinery for putting in the concrete on highway No. 33 was unloaded at Glazier on Sunday, and it is expected that pouring concrete in the direction of Higgins will commence in the near future.

It is reported that water pipes from Glazier are being laid in this direction for the conveyance of water to be used in the work.

THE ELLIS COUNTY NEWS

Poultry Show Planned

The 18th Annual Ellis County Poultry Show will open its doors in Shattuck at 8 A. M. on Monday November 30th, according to announcement received from President J. L. Curlee. All arrangements have been made for the four day Show of some of the best poultry in western Oklahoma and indications point to new records in both the number and quality shown.

BEAVER HERALD-DEMOCRAT

To Hold Poultry Show

Starting Wednesday, December 2, and continuing through the rest of the week, the Beaver County Branch of the Oklahoma State Poultry Federation will hold its Tenth Annual Show, in the display room of the Chevrolet garage in Beaver, Oklahoma.

Every person raising poultry of any kind should select an exhibit and bring to the show. The premium list has been increased to include all worthy poultry and native game and water fowls. The cost of showing is very small compared to the benefits received. The prizes offered this year in every class will offset the entrance fee many times.

THE FOLLETT TIMES

Paper Starts 20th Year

This week the Follett Times is beginning Volume 20, No. 1—which means we ended another milestone last week and this week, Nov. 19th, we are beginning a brand new year. The Times has been published weekly for the past 13 years and we trust to continue with you good folks another year which we hope will be full of good luck and prosperity for each and every one in Follett and vicinity.

Miss Bernice Russell of Follett, visited her grandmother, Mrs. Emma Lash, and other relatives from Thursday of last week until Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Walker who have been living in the old tourist cafe building moved to Follett on Saturday.

The L. M. Tobin house is being plastered this week by H. F. Ludlum and George Thompson.

Judge M. A. Dickenson of Lipscomb was in Darrouzett on Thursday afternoon.

Sheriff E. B. Roberts of Lipscomb was in town on Thursday and Friday.

Mrs. George McVicker and infant son, Milton Duane, returned from the Beaver hospital last Thursday.

Next Sunday is the regular meeting of the Lipscomb County Sunday School convention. It is to be held at the Full Gospel Church at Booker at 2:00. May we have a good representation from Darrouzett.

"O Jesus thou art knocking,
And lo! that hand is scarred,
And thorns thy brow encircle,
And tears thy face have marred.
O love that passeth knowledge,
So patiently wait!
O sin that hath no equal,
So fast to bar the gate."

"He holds the key of all unknown,
And I am glad,
If other hands should hold the key
Or if He trusted it to me,
I might be sad.

"What if tomorrows cares were here
Without its rest?
And as its hours swung open, say,
'My will is best'."

"Life is real! Life is earnest—
And the grave is not the goal,
Dust thou art, to dust returneth,
Was not spoken of the soul."

FAVORITE RECIPES

By Doris E. Montgomery

One of the very best beverages that the housewife can prepare for her family on cold winter days is hot cocoa. Cocoa is a very nutritious and tasty drink of high food value. It is especially good this time of year for the school child. If his lunch box contains a thermos bottle, hot cocoa may be used daily for his luncheon beverage.

A few drops of vanilla added to the usual cocoa recipe varies it deliciously. Cocoa is also well liked when served with marshmallows, either whole or beaten to form a marshmallow whip. Whipped cream topping is also good.

Hot chocolate is also a delicious drink, but it is not so simple to make.

Cocoa is best prepared by mixing the cocoa and sugar with a small amount of water and bringing to a boiling point. Add the milk and heat to boiling. Beat to form foam on top.

Another form in which cocoa is used which especially appeals to children is chocolate fudge. The following recipe has been contributed by Miss Veda Mahaffey of Logan, Okla. Clip it out now and paste it in your cook book, for the days of making Christmas candies are not far away.

COLLEGE FUDGE

Two cups sugar
Two tablespoons corn syrup
One cup milk
One square chocolate or four level tablespoons cocoa
One teaspoon vanilla
Cook the sugar, milk, chocolate and syrup slowly, stirring until the sugar is dissolved. Continue cooking, stirring often enough to prevent burning, until it forms a soft ball. Remove from the fire, add butter, and put aside to cool. When the candy has cooled, add vanilla and begin to beat. Continue beating until the fudge loses its shiny look and begins to harden. Mold the fudge into balls.

Famous Pictures Are Portrayed By Pupils

Students in the fifth, sixth, and eighth grades were guests at a private program presented by seventh grade art students last Thursday morning in the high school auditorium.

The program consisted of representations of famous pictures. The pupils portrayed the figures in the pictures, under the direction of Miss Elsie Montgomery, art teacher, and Miss Ruth Friend.

As the curtain was raised upon the representation of each picture, students in the audience guessed what famous picture the scene represented. They were successful in guessing all eight pictures shown.

The masterpieces and the students who portrayed them were as follows:

Betty Bowles by Reynolds, Mae Kemp; Feeding Her Bird, by Millet, Opal Lourwood, Helen Hanschu, Mae Kemp, and Marjorie Daily; The Artist's Mother by Whistler, Marjorie Daily; The Artist and Her Daughter, by Lebrun, Ramah Reger and Mae Kemp; The Angelus, by Millet, George Settles and Kenneth Fausset; The Melon Eaters by Murillo, Dan Kirschman and Marvin Jones; The Song of the Lark by Breton, Helen Hanschu; and End of Day by Adan, Russell Ertz.

Mrs. Hennigh's Room Appears in Assembly

The assembly program last Thursday morning was given by the third and fourth grades, sponsored by Mrs. Ray T. Hennigh.

Numbers on the program were: Reading by Jewell Fiskin; song, "The Rheumatiz" sung by Richard Rush, Charley Hennigh, Ross Montgomery, Wayne Lash, G. A. Jenkins, and Lowell Hennigh; reading by Dean Terrel; "Thanksgiving Song," third grade; music by Mr. E. J. Stranske, Roy and Arthur Helfenbein; and a play, "The Friendly Indians," given by students from both grades.

Jack Phillips announced the program. A. M. R.

Longhorns Vanquish Boys From Lipscomb

The Darrouzett Longhorns defeated the Lipscomb basketball boys on the home court at 3:00 p. m., last Friday. The first part of the game showed Lipscomb in the lead. However, at the close of the game the score was 16-17 in favor of the Longhorns.

This was the third game played between Darrouzett and Lipscomb this year. Two were played at Darrouzett, and one at Lipscomb. The two played at Darrouzett were won, and the one played at Lipscomb was lost. It appears that being at home is some advantage.

The boys who played on each side were:

Lipscomb—Kelly, Page, Theison, Hurley, Sell, F. Dage.

Darrouzett—Woods, Bellah, Gilger, Hanschu, Carter.

Seniors Pick Play To Be Given Soon

"All a Mistake," a three-act comedy, will be presented by the senior class, sometime in December, according to Doris Montgomery, president of the class.

Eight books were ordered Tuesday, and practice will start as soon as the books arrive. A.M.R.

The Darrouzett Longhorn girls would like to attend the tournament at Perryton held December 11 and 12. If we do not get to play, we hope to attend one day in order to watch some real basketball playing. E. G.

Rev. A. Blair Grubb has contributed several copies of The Defender, a magazine devoted to the prohibition cause, to the library. The school wishes to thank him for his donation.

Mrs. John Woods visited school on Wednesday afternoon.

Fifth, Sixth Grade Notes

By MRS. RUTH WRIGHT

The beginner's History class made two cut Pilgrim posters during class period. "Over the River and Thru the Woods," and "Pilgrim's Going to Church" were the titles for each poster. Log cabins, trees, windmills, Pilgrims, a miniature sleigh and falling snow each formed part of the project.

Lionel and George Settles brought two beautiful ferns and a sea onion for our room. We are very grateful to the boys for these flowers.

During our art class Monday afternoon we made a study of Pilgrims. "The Embarkment of the Pilgrims" and other scenes of colonial life was dwelt upon.

Mrs. H. F. Ludlum visited our room Thursday morning and Mrs. Grubb visited edus Monday afternoon.

After the regular meeting of our Good English Club Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Wright let us play a game called "Blackboard Relay for Good English."

We were divided into two groups and each group wrote a sentence on the blackboard by each person adding one word.

The sentence when completed, was graded on neatness of writing, spelling, punctuation and speed. Both sides tied as their score was the same.

Rachel Littau brought a bouquet of chrysanthemums to school Thursday.

At recess Monday afternoon the seventh grade came into our room and we enjoyed a Thanksgiving game called "Turkey Throw."

Third, Fourth Grades Activities

By Mrs. Lela Hennigh

This is examination week and the students of the third and fourth grade room spent most of Monday and Tuesday taking tests. Believe it or not most of the third graders have expressed their opinions of tests by saying they wished every day to be examination day.

Charlie Hennigh is health inspector for the fourth grade this week and Don James is inspector for the third grade.

To the parents and patrons of the school the students and teacher wish to express their appreciation of the large crowd who attended the assembly program last Thursday and also, of the large number of visitors to the room after assembly, and the first of this week.

Those who visited the room were Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Stranske, Mrs. A. B. Grubb, Mrs. Fred Hennigh, G. H. Helfenbein, and Alpha Mae Hennigh.

Logan Walker, who has gone to Follett, dropped school Monday after an attendance of two weeks. The room regrets losing Logan very much. He had proved a very valuable student and had gained many friends the few days he was here.

Dorothy Stranske is dinner pail monitor this week.

Both grades made Puritan Dolls with movable eyes in art periods Monday and Tuesday. Some of these were made so well that the class decided they would be worth ten cents at any toy counter.

The story of Thanksgiving is being emphasized in many different ways. Something pertaining to the Pilgrim and Thanksgiving is brought out in almost every class a Thanksgiving sand table was made Tuesday and Wednesday. The third grade used half the sand table on which they showed "The Landing of the Mayflower." On the other half the fourth grade showed the "Pilgrims Going To Church."

Roy and Arthur Helfenbein, Claudia Hamilton and Manuel Kirschman were absent Monday on account of bad weather.

The story of the Pilgrims in America was told to the class Monday with pictures to illustrate it which had been loaned by Mrs. Speer's and Mrs. Wright's room, and some of which had been mounted by pupils in the room.

Primary Room Notes

By MRS. J. E. SPEER

The primary room has the model store in their room this week. Monday was spent in a discussion of how to act in a store both as clerk and customer. Tuesday Viola Fausset and Patty Powell served as clerks in the store and all the students in the room were allowed to buy one thing. On Wednesday Robert Mills and Betty Jane Frass are to be clerks in the store.

The primary room has spent this week in talking about Thanksgiving, and in making booklets and posters about Thanksgiving. A picture of the Mayflower was drawn on the board Monday, and Tuesday each student colored a picture of the Mayflower.

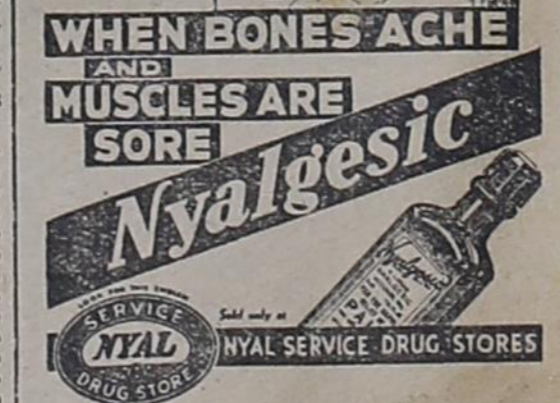

Three new books have been brought to the room by Lela Beth Mcvicker and Patty and Delores Powell. These books have many pictures in them and are of interest to both grades.

Last year the second grade played for the P. T. A. a play called "The Extra Pig." This year the second grade divided the story into five scenes and made these in the sand-table; then the group divided the table; then the group invited the former second grade in and they were asked to guess what story was portrayed. Everyone in the Third Grade recognized the story.

Robert Mills is health inspector for the second grade this week, and Lela Beth McVicker for the first grade.

Patty and Delores Powell sang a

A WEEKLY SERMONETTE

DEPRESSION AND PRAYER

"How is business?" I asked a merchant in the bank. The next moment I almost apologized for the platitude. Besides, the question must be annoying in these days. The merchant, however, did not seem to think so. In fact, he became confidential, as we stepped outside and stood at his car. He did not gloss over conditions with the cheap optimism that says, "Business is fine; never better." He faced facts.

"Do you know," he said, coming a little closer. "I prayed last night."

After that, we had a talk that lasted longer than five minutes.

Well, if the depression will make us pray, then let us be thankful for the depression. We are gifted with no faculty more precious than prayer, but we never really use it until we feel the need of God's help. How well the Hebrew singer under stood the human heart when he chanted, "Out of the depths have I cried unto Thee, O Lord."

Men that live with God always feel the need of God, and they always pray. But many are in dire distress. Then they pray, and as they pray new fountains are opened up within them. Hidden resources are revealed to them and they look at life with new eyes and new courage. They begin to say, "I will fear no evil, for Thou art with me."

Man comes to himself as he comes to God, and he comes to God as he comes to himself. We are most real when we pray. We must be, for only the honest heart can come in touch with the heart of God. And when we are our real selves, we are mighty for then we are one with the Almighty.

We shall gain immensely through the depression if it will make us pray, and we shall lose immensely if it does not make us pray.

MAAA,hs d yhsfla'e ae eta etah

The strength of any community depends on the prosperity of that community.

In most cities the local retailers and manufacturers do not get the whole support they should have.

In most instances it does not seem to be lack of home pride or lack of willingness to buy home products, but it seems to be a lack of knowledge about what is made and sold at home.

In such cases it is generally the fault of the manufacturers. They work the outside trade and overlook the home trade.

A display of products manufactured or sold by local dealers would be a revelation to the people of the home city.

In most cities it would be a never-ending source of surprise to learn to what extent the home city has progressed in the way of industrial growth.

Manufacturers' exhibits should be held in every city.

They will show the diversity of their industries.

It will give prestige to local industries.

It will thoroughly acquaint the citizens with every production of the home city.

CITIZENS SHOULD BE MADE TO REALIZE THE IMPORTANCE OF HOME INDUSTRIES, WHAT THEY MEAN TO THEIR CITY, AND THE IMPORTANCE OF THEIR BUYING HOME SOLD AND HOME MANUFACTURED PRODUCTS.

In order to grow, the home city must receive the united support of every citizen.

Natural advantages alone won't build a city.

Community enthusiasm alone won't build a city.

The business interests must work out a plan for civic and industrial advancement.

Every citizen must get behind that plan.

A combination of natural advantages and community enthusiasm behind well-thought out plans will get a city somewhere.

Many opportunities for development present themselves to every city.

Some of them seize them. Some cities wear blinders and let them pass by.

Good plans for development, properly carried out, bring an increase in population and industrial growth.

IN THE RACE FOR NEW INDUSTRIES, THE CITY THAT IS AWAKE GETS THEM.

CITIES THAT ARE ASLEEP WILL ONLY CREEP AND CRAWL ALONG GETTING NOWHERE AND WILL SOON BECOME ANCIENT HISTORY.

Refugio—New Zaraky building expected to be ready for occupancy by

of a billion dollars," writes T. C. Richardson, in his article on Texas which is published in the December issue of Holland's, The Magazine of the South. In further reference to Texas, Mr. Richardson says, "The greatest manufacturing enterprise in the state, very naturally, is the refining of petroleum. Standing at the top of the list as an oil producing state—the average for 1929-30 was 293,000,000 barrels—refined products ran approximately half a billion dollars. The East Texas oil field, of now stormy history, has been called by geologists the greatest proved field in the world, with a potential production of about 1,300,000,000 barrels. Naturally, new refineries have sprung up in the shadow of derricks, and pipe-line connections have been made from the new field to the greatest refining district in the world, among the Houston-Beaumont-Port Arthur deep-water facilities, whence the refined products go all over the globe."

Texas has long been a billion-dollar state in agricultural and ranch products; and, about 1924 she topped the billion-dollar mark in manufactures. Next to petroleum refining, in the order of total value of the products, come meat packing, eighty-five million dollars; cottonseed products, eighty millions; flour and other grain mill products, forty-nine millions; lumber and timber products, forty-four millions. Car construction and repairs, foundry and machine shops, printing and publishing, wood preserving, cotton goods, bread and other bakery products each contributes from twenty to forty million dollars to the total."
