

Wildcats Win Again!

A gamble for inches that paid off with a 90-yard run and a touchdown won the score for the Rising Star Wildcats in their opening game of the season against Early Longhorns. Early Friday night, but it was the defensive play of five seniors in the line that really won the game, in the opinion of the Rising Star coaches.

With six inches to go on fourth down at the Wildcats' ten yard line the Cats elected to go for it on the last play of the opening quarter and Craig Campbell, playing his first high school football game, kept the ball on a quarterback rush, broke through and raced the length of the field for the score. Mackey Elliott ran over for two extra points to make it an 8-0 ball game.

That was the scoring for the night in a contest with the small but quick-moving Early eleven of Coach Butch Butler, a former Rising Star Wildcat himself. It was a contest which saw the Cats fumble away two excellent scoring chances, one on the Early 15 and again on the Early 20 and bog down once on the Early 18.

In all the Cats lost the ball on fumbles four times during the game and committed a number of other errors attributable to inexperience. But the play of seniors Steve Tarver, Johnny Turner, Duane Winchester, Bill Carpenter and Kenton Joyce on defense, plus some excellent work of newcomers George Webb Jr., and of James Thompson at defensive ends, held the Early Longhorns to a net of 42 yards rushing and kept the game under firm control.

Thanks to the remarkable pass defensive play of Mark Griffin, who batted away four of five pass attempts over him and saw another go out of bounds, and of Danny Mungia, the Longhorns were able to complete only four passes out of 16 attempts for short gains.

Craig Campbell who was praised by Coaches Frank Gray and Gene Woods for his performance at Quarterback, completed three of six attempts.

Despite the errors on offense, the Wildcat mentors found much to be pleased with in the play of their team which went into the game after losing two veterans counted upon to supply the defensive punch--Teco Mungia and Johnny Hubbard--who are out with injuries. The Cats, seeking to repeat last year's district win, had only a handful of starters left from the 1973 lineup, but replacements from junior and sophomore recruits did fine jobs and the hustle and spirit of the team was encouraging.

Randy Woods, a transfer from Carbon High School's six-man team, proved he could give the Cats unexpected strength in the punting department as well as in other play.

The Early Longhorns are small but exceptionally fast and were playing their first game under Coach Butler who is beginning a rebuilding job with some very good prospects.

The Wildcats go Woodson next Friday night at 8 o'clock for their second game. They will face a team just coming into eleven-man football from eight-man play, and one that has the characteristics of the more open style of six-and eight-man football--speed and aggressive defense and effective passing. As have the Wildcats, the Woodson team has played one game, a 14-all tie with the Perrin team of Jack County.

In the early game the Cats made 10 first downs to six for the Longhorns, accumulated 207 yards rushing to 42 for Early and passed for 15 yards. The Longhorns accounted for 21 yards via the air.

Campbell was the chief ground gainer for the Cats by virtue of his 90-yard touchdown run. He registered a net of 116 yards in 24 carries. Mackey Elliott netted 56 yards in 18 tries, Danny Mungia 23 yards and Johnny Turner 11.

Old Settlers Reunion - Sept. 14

The Trail Blazers Association (Old Settlers) of the Rising Star area will hold its annual reunion Saturday, September 14, at the American Legion Hall.

The reunion will be called to order by President C.M. (Mutt) Carroll at 10:00 a.m. for a program of entertainment followed by a business meeting when officers will be elected, resolutions considered and other matters of business taken up.

At noon a fried chicken lunch will be catered in the dining hall of the Legion building.

There will be a charge of $1.50 for registration. The fee includes the price of the lunch and membership in the association.

All residents and former residents of the area are invited to attend.

The reunion will be the 48th consecutive gathering since the association was founded in 1927.

New comers who have chosen Rising Star as their retirement home will be most welcome.

Attention R.S.H.S. Exes! Homecoming is slated for October 12. See you there!

Mrs. Rowena Chambers, secretary of the Rising Star School District, at her office in the Rising Star City Hall.

Mrs. Rowena Chambers - School Districts "Girl Friday"

In the five years that she has been the "girl Friday" of the Rising Star Independent School district Rowena Chambers has become involved in a massive revolution.

It is a revolution spinning out uncounted miles of computer tapes to bind the entire public school system of Texas in a common denominator of records keeping, statistical information and, ultimately, taxation. The latter development will be some time in arriving, but in the matter of bookkeeping, she said, it will be only two or three years before she will rack up her pens and close her double entry ledgers and send all her information via the Region 14 center at Abilene to a bank of computers located at Richardson, one of five such banks now set up in the State Education Agency's Frankensteinian scheme of conformity.

The revolution will only change--and add to--her responsibilities for keeping track of the growing multitude of detail now required in the management of a school system. Instead of handwriting her bookkeeping, her duties will consist in part of translating all items into a computer language, or symbols, to be fed into the electric brains that will provide the school board and Supt. Jimmy Newbury with accurate and almost instant information and much more of it--on all phases of school operation and finance.

As it now is she keeps five sets of books within the accounting program of the schools and in addition serves as tax assessor-collector. The bookkeeping system has evolved from a thin manual of five years ago into a complicated volume of scope and procedure as the requirements of the State Education Agency push toward eventual computerization and uniformity of statewide records and financial policies. Most of the larger schools are already integrated with the project and smaller schools are being added gradually.

"What do you dislike most about your job?" I asked her. "Taxes", she said. "I love bookkeeping. It's an exciting challenge. Especially now."

She was among the first small school district secretaries to be certified by that adjunct of the National Education Association which oversees their qualifications.

"I got in on the ground floor", she explained. "Just when the program was beginning, and I took the required training. I would certainly hate to have to begin now to learn it."

When, as eventually will happen, taxation is placed under computerized control based upon formulas uniformly graduated to similar community and economic conditions, this phase of school operation will be separated from the accounting functions, and a properly trained and certified assessor-collector will take local charge. There will be no tears shed in the accounting section. There will still be plenty to do and, Rowena thinks, a lot more fun in doing it.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Richburg and the wife of O.D. (Woody) Chambers whom she married in December 1955 shortly after the Richburg family moved here from Trent. She received her high school diploma from Trent where she made up the one-half hour she lacked of graduating from Pecos High. She then spent a year at Texas Tech at Lubbock in 1954-55.

Rowena and Woody have three daughters and a son. They are Taronna, 16, a high school senior whose pronounced feminine instincts lead her to anticipate a modelling career at Dallas; "Doddie", a junior and the tomboy of the family who pioneered "women's lib" in the Rising Star Ag classes of H.L. Geyer under whom she studied for two years and was a member of the usually all-male FFA Chapter; Tabitha, a seventh grader whose ideas of the future are just forming, and Thad who at ten years of age can operate a four-row tractor and bale hay with the best of youth. All four are members of the Rising Star 4-H Club, but Doddie was the one to "bring home the bacon" in prizes for grand champion steer at the Eastland County Livestock Show and a third place in the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show junior division last year.

The parent Chambers farm a 120 acre homestead northwest of Rising Star and an 80 acre leased farm southeast of town, raising principally livestock and peanuts.

But the children have organized responsibilities and projects of their own which they attend to under parental supervision. One of them is a 4 1/2 acre field of bell peppers which, despite some thinness of stand in spots, is flourishing and beautifully fruited. The kids did and continue to do most of the work and they expect to realize a sizeable profit on the Dallas and Fort Worth market. The harvest is just now beginning.

Much more novel is a quail-incubation project where-in the youngsters have developed two breeds of the game bird--Pharaohs and Bob Whites--into a present flock of 600. The quail are kept in community lots contrary to their natural habit of pairing in the wild, and the eggs, beautifully colored and speckled in the case of the Pharaohs and pearl white in that of the Bobs, are hatched in sixteen days in five incubators. Four weeks from hatching the Pharaoh chicks are fully grown and laying their own progeny. The Bob Whites are more conservative; they require six weeks for maturing.

All details of the project--seeing to a constant temperature of 101 degrees and a humidity of 85 percent in the hatcheries, and feeding the parent flocks--are attended to by the children, each of whom has also responsibility for a certain part of the Chambers residence.

So there is enough variety in the Chambers demesne to challenge the talents and interests of a woman who found her way in 1969 to the secretaryship of the Rising Star school district from two years spent with the Cisco Lumber and Supply Co., at Cisco, and now finds that she is a revolutionary of sorts.

President Gerald Ford with Michael Doyle - the 1974 National Poster Child of N.C.F.R.F.

President Declares September Breath Of Life Month

Michael Doyle, the 1974 National Poster child of the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation, will always remember his visit with the man who became the President of the United States. President Ford will declare the month of September the National Cystic Fibrosis Breath of Life Month.

Breathing doesn't come easy for Mike, as he has Cystic Fibrosis, a disease that clogs the lungs. It is the number one inherited killer of children. Yet Mike is just one of millions of youngsters with lung damaging diseases in America. They all need help, care and the benefits of the research supported by the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation.

So when your local Breath of Life volunteer knocks on your door, please give whatever you can. A lot of children will breathe easier for it.

City Has New Marshal

Leroy Steinman, formerly of the Eastland police force with which he served for four years, assumed his duties as city marshal of Rising Star Monday. Steinman who is 32 years of age and married, is a certified law enforcement officer.

After service with the Eastland police, from whom he comes highly recommended, Mr. Steinman went into private employment for a time and now returns to law enforcement work with his Rising Star commission. He is making arrangements to move to Rising Star.

A portrait in courage--is my friend Lucy Boase as she manipulates her walker up the curb and down the sidewalk around town, taking care of whatever details her day requires.

Lucy fell on an ice covered sidewalk last January and broke her leg--the long months since that time have been filled with pain, anxiety, tears, times of depression and defeat, but that courage and determination, so typical of Lucy, have won for her a victory, and a great deal of respect from her friends and neighbors. Welcome home, Lucy!

We would remind you of the fund raising drive on Thursday, conducted by Mrs. C.M. Carroll and a group of girls from the homemaking department of Rising Star High School--this is a benefit effort for the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation, give a "Breath of Life".

Parent's Week At Baylor U.

- Sept. 27-29

WACO-This year's Parents Weekend at Baylor University will combine entertainment and sports with the opportunity for parents to meet the people and see the places involved in their children's education.

The annual weekend, which coincides this year with Baylor's first home football game of the season against Oklahoma State University, is scheduled for Sept. 27 through 29, and is sponsored by the Baylor Parent League (BPL), the Baylor Ex-Students Association and the Baylor Chamber of Commerce, a men's service organization.

Registration for Parents Weekend will be conducted on Sept. 27 from 4 to 6 p.m. in the Student Union Building and from 6 to 8 p.m. in Waco Hall. Registration will continue on Sept. 28 from 8 to 11 a.m. in the Union Building, and from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Funders Mall.

Weekend activities begin on Sept. 27 with "After Dark", a variety show featuring student and faculty talent and co-sponsored by BPL and Baylor Student Foundation, a group of 73 outstanding juniors and seniors who work in the areas of university public relations, student recruitment and student scholarships.

"After Dark" will be presented from 8 to 10 p.m. in Waco Hall, after which a dessert party honoring all parents will begin at 10:30 p.m. in the Barfield Drawing Room of the Union Building.

Tickets to "After Dark" cost $1, $2, $2.50 and $3 and may be ordered by sending a check to Baylor Parents League, Baylor University, Waco, Texas 76703. Checks for tickets should be payable to "Baylor Parents League."

The second day of Parents Weekend begins Sept. 28 with a parent-faculty coffee from 9 to 11 a.m. in the Barfield Drawing Room. At the coffee, parents will have the opportunity to meet the Baylor faculty and administration.

After the coffee, a meal will be provided from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Founders Mall. At 1 p.m. a general parents meeting will be held in Waco Hall, at which Baylor President Abner V. McCall, Grant Teaff, Baylor head football coach; Bill Neilson, Baylor student body president; the Baylor yell leaders and other Baylor representatives will speak.

Also at the meeting, one couple will be selected at random from all parents who register for the weekend to serve as representative parents. The representative parents will be recognized and honored at the football game that night.

The Baylor Bookstore will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sept. 28 for the benefit of the parents, and the dormitories and other campus buildings will be open from 2 to 4 p.m. that day for visitation.

Parents Weekend concludes officially with the football game against Oklahoma State at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 28 in Baylor Stadium. Football tickets at $7 each may be ordered by writing to Baylor Ticket office, P.O. Box 6427, Waco, Texas 76706.

TOWARD NEW HORIZONS

Life seems to be getting back into the old swing again. Our Homemaking I students are performing skits and I'm sure they are very entertaining. I have been informed that some of our Freshmen and Homemaking I students were so much in love with their Seniors that they got down on their hands and knees and told them so (right Randi).

The Home and Family Living Class is studying teenagers which is proving to be a very informative topic. Lots of luck all you teenagers.

H.E.C.E. students have completed the painting of their file cabinet and it looks very nice. We are now collecting and filing information in our cabinet. Everyone of us learned a little more about the art of painting and filing (don't worry we'll get the hang of it one of these days Mrs. Diddle.)

All of you girls who want to subscribe to CO-ED get in touch with Mrs. Diddle. Just a reminder to all you Homemaking I students, hang in there, being a fish isn't that bad.

READY FOR EVERYTHING

Hello...Hello...Hello! We finally made it through another week. Things are (finally) calming down now. We know where to go, what to expect, and last but not least where the Fish are hiding.

We are ready for Chapter three in Civics but after looking at some of the tests we took we may have to back up to chapter one. We are working hard in English Literature as Woods (better known as Forest) will tell ya. He really catches on fast.

This year, most of us are also majoring in dear 'ole study hall. We have a lot of fun and no doubt everyone will pass.

In Chemistry, (well we really don't know what you would call it) but anyway everyone is doing terrible, I mean fine. That's it for this week.

Tootles, Gwenda Lou

TODAY NOT TOMORROW

The fourth week is nearly over and that makes it news time. It is hard to believe four weeks have already past. Maybe the reason is we've been working so hard! On anything, but school work.

The Wildcats had their first game last week against the Early Longhorns. The Cats looked great. Way to go guys! This week we play at Woodson. Also, we're planning a powder puff game, soon. If you want to see some funny action, be sure to see it. The date has not been set yet.

We had our first debate in American History this week, and it went to show that we have a class full of arguers.

The English III class has finished Unit I in their Literature books and taken their test. Some test huh, Juniors. That wraps it up for this week.

From a Senior of '76 Marilyn

MOVIN' RIGHT ALONG

In the sophomore class we have been really busy. Every morning in band we march and march and march some more.

In Physical Science, Boy/That stuff is hard! English is pretty good. I think everyone is getting along really good this year, even our new Fish. (considering the initiations).

Well, that about raps it up for this week, oh yea, D.D.H., try to watch where you're going, okay?

See ya next week, Gwen

WILDCAT SPIRIT

Hey all you Wildcat fans your spirit was really great Friday! We'd like to thank all of you who came and backed the Cats! It was an exciting game! We had a very spirited pep rally before the game and would like to invite all of you to come to our next one.

Everybody come to Woodson next week and bring all the spirit you've got!

See ya' on the side line Kathy

ON THE FARM

Hello! How are all of you wonderful people? This week in Vo. Ag. I they are learning the different kinds of animals. When I say the different kinds I mean the different breeds. There are several breeds of pigs and also of cattle (mostly cattle).

The Ag. II boys are still trying to balance out feed rations. Good luck boys!

There has been a slight change in the classes of Ag. There has been four boys to sign up for Ag. III. They are studying Farm Management. How's it going T.R. and D.M.

See ya later, Dottie

WILDCAT COUNTRY

Hello, Wildcat fans! The Rising Star Wildcats are now nursing a 1-0 record in football this season. They beat Early Friday night 8-0 and beat ex-RHSer Butch Butler as his first game as head coach for Early. The Cats really looked good and you fans helped them out a bunch by cheering the Cats on to victory.

This week the Cats have a change of pace as they play a class B team, Woodson. Woodson is in Throckmorton County, but I'm sure you loyal fans will be there to cheer us on.

Woodson was 8-man last year and played their first 11-man game last week and tied Perrin 14-14. So they may be pretty tough. Better go now.

Cheer for the Cats, Ken Hounsel

TRUCKIN' ON

The weeks keep passing by. I can't believe that we have already started our fourth week. Guess what is coming up soon--the powder puff, for you tenderfoots out there that's when girls play football, or at least attempt to. The date has not really been confirmed yet, but it's supposed to be the fourteenth of this month. If they change the date I'll be sure and tell you in next week's news.

Basketball is getting along pretty well. Every Thursday all we have to do is get our exercises and then do some scrimmaging. As for the rest of the days of the week, that's a different story.

Now we have music to play basketball to. It really peps everyone up and keeps them on their toes.

Until next week--Keep on truckin' Pam Hill

IN THE FISH BOWL

Hi! Well it's the fourth week and all is surviving. Many of our "fish" have been threatened to do duties that were uncalled for but it seemed that usually we did them. Wow! It's great to know that you are loved by so many upper classmen. They smile so nicely at the freshmen, and one day even went as far as to walk us to the door when we got to school. (About five of them to be exact.) Isn't it nice?!

Did you know our class is so smart and full of brilliant students that Mr. Gray had to separate us into two different classes. He just could not have that many "geniuses" in one room. We're just blooming with brains. (Ha!) Well I guess I better get back to the bowl.

Bye, Jeanne

"Specs" In A New Frame

By B.A.B.

News that the State of Texas has accumulated a big surplus in its general fund recalls an incident which proved one of the most educational of my youthful newspaper career.

During the declining years of the oil boom I was at Breckenridge when officials of Stephens county proudly confided to me that they had been able to realize a large carry-over balance in the county's end-of-year bank account. I was young and full of enthusiasm for my job and I headlined the facts in an issue of the Daily American with due and expected credit to the county officials responsible.

The response was even more enthusiastic. One of the large oil companies with production offices in Breckenridge immediately filed claim for a proportionate return of its last year tax bill, contending that the county had no right to collect more taxes than were necessary to run the government.

I do not recall precisely the outcome of the business, but I found some of my sources of information become abruptly more conservative in the news they gave out and I sensed a lot of bewilderment, recrimination and angry fighting among the responsible officials. I believe the matter was settled by a reduction in the tax rate. But at the moment it was mutually embarrassing, perhaps more so for a young reporter who found himself somewhat persona non grata in the corridors and offices of the county capitol where theretofore he had been welcomed with affection.

But having mellowed to the incident, I came not to regret it. It was an experience that emphasized to me, more than any other, the real and sacred function of the press as the bearer of light in streets that otherwise might remain dark and undiscovered in community affairs. The people of Stephens county had the right to know how their taxes were being administered and the officials of the county had certainly no cause to feel condemned because their honesty and efficiency in the management of the county business was exposed. I admit to no such philosophical considerations; I was no crusader; I was simply doing my job and in doing it I served a fundamental purpose of my profession.

I think now that the State of Texas, by the efficiency with which it has managed its affairs, has placed itself in position to make a distinctive contribution to our most critical need--the decline of inflation. It can reduce taxes!

The temptation to spend the excess, to use it to buy votes and popularity with programs of questionable worth and precedent will be strong. The tendency is always to spend money that is available without pain, thereby increasing economic greed and putting further away any chance of reducing the burdens of government cost.

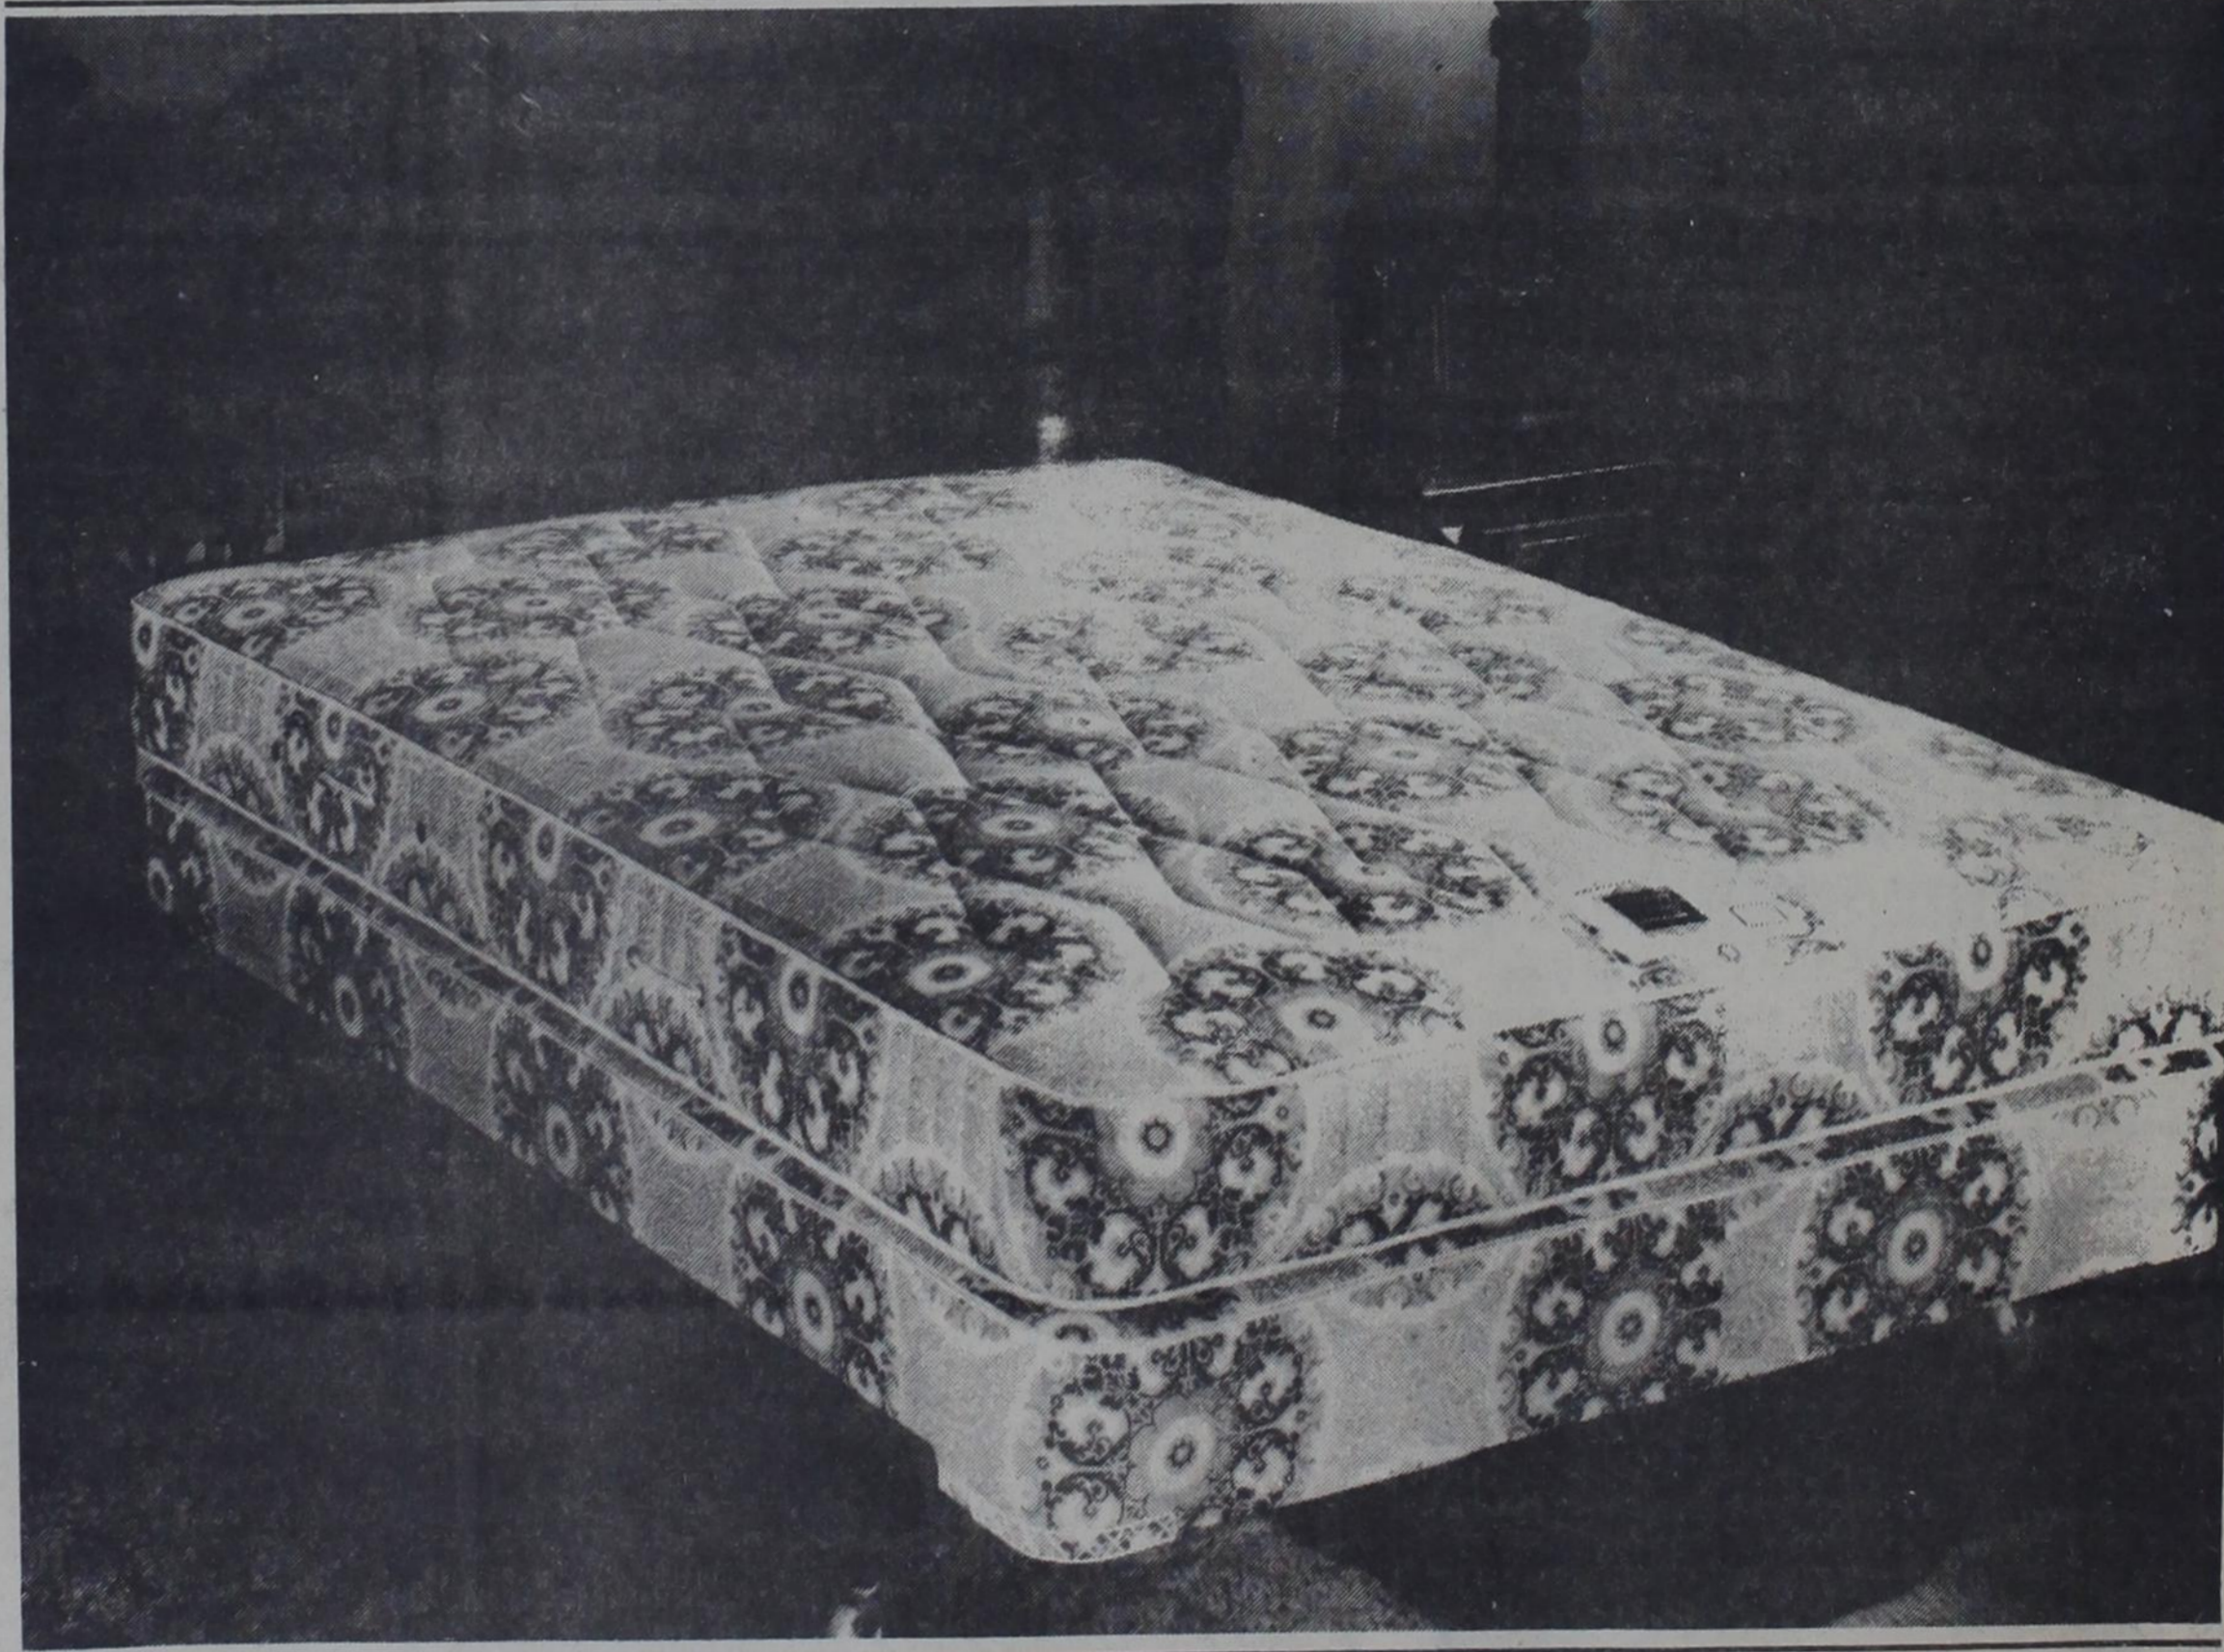

To spend the surplus would benefit a few; to use it to reduce taxes would benefit all. What a really distinctive contribution that would be in this day of headstrong government spending and relentless inflation. It could be a play to turn the game around!

If our politicians but had the guts to deny their instincts!

When Roger Bacon, in the 14th century, predicted that the day would come when "we will be able to propel carriages with incredible speed without the assistance of animals," he was accused of being in league with the devil and put into prison.

Call us if we can be of help or encouragement to you. Have a good week.

---Owen Aikin

There is far more truth in the following Old Testament statement than sometimes we realize. "One man gives freely, yet grows all the richer; another withholds what he should give, and only suffers want." --Prov. 11:24.

David Dunn tells a story about his Uncle Ed who owned a left-handed mustache cup. A collector wanted it. But Uncle Ed refused to part with the cup even though he had no use for it. Time passed and Uncle Ed was taken very ill. He then sent for the collector and gave him the cup which had gathered dust in the cup for years. Said he, "I've hated myself for holding out all these years. I realize now I have been cheating myself as well as you."

That's the way it is. We think we are smart in our self-serving ways. But the truth of the fact is, we are only cheating ourselves. We don't know what we're missing? We like to get but not give. We like to own but not share. We like to keep but not give away. This goes for our love, our time, our influence, our talents, and our money. But life won't work that way! We get all tangled up in ourselves. When we withhold what we should give, we only stand in our own light and defeat our own best ends. The giving life is the enriched life.

Greatly to be pitied among us are the close-fisted people who think only of getting, who measure every activity or proposal by what they can get out of it. They miss much of the fun of living. Let's not set too much store by our mustache cups; we can't take them with us. There are no mustache cups in heaven.

"Eternal God, Our Father, make us wise enough that we shall not cheat ourselves," this is my prayer to God for all of us.

We are sorry to report that Joe Bobeen is in the VA Hospital in Temple, Texas; and Mrs. Kelsey Starks is in the Abilene Hospital; both are reported to be improving and should be home soon.

Several others have been reported ill recently, but are now on the improvement list. May God give a speedy recovery to all.

Several from the First Baptist Church visited with us Sunday evening in the absence of their pastor. May each of you know we rejoice in the privilege of sharing with others of another faith. It is refreshing to know we can share in a common fellowship.

An open invitation is extended to all about to unit with us in worship of Our Lord any time you are able.

CHANGE YOUR TOOTHBRUSHING HABITS

Today most dentists recommend brushing with a soft toothbrush. A well-designed brush, they advise, has double-headed bristles to clean well in crevices and between teeth and gums. A short, narrow head also makes it easier to reach all parts of the mouth.

Dentists report that some of their older patients are reluctant to change their ideas about toothbrushes and toothbrushing techniques.

For those who believe that having a full set of their own teeth and healthy gums are worth the effort of learning to brush teeth effectively, the following basic course in toothbrushing is offered by the Block Drug Company, Inc., makers of the Py-Co-Pay Softex toothbrush:

Brush outside of and between all teeth; brush biting surfaces of back teeth; brush tongue-side of back teeth; brush tongue-side of front teeth. Include upper and lower.

Mrs. Ronnie Alford Guest Speaker

The United Methodist Women met Monday afternoon in fellowship hall with ten present.

Mrs. Helen Switzer presided over the meeting. The opening song was "Blessed Assurance". Mrs. Maggie Smith gave the opening prayer. Mrs. Ronnie Alford was guest speaker on the program, telling of her experiences of living in Algeria, North Africa, its religions, dress customs, the food, languages and she displayed clothing worn by the natives and children while there.

Refreshments of cookies and pink lemonade were served by Mrs. Switzer and Mrs. J.R. Bucy.

Child Care Study Underway

Late last year, reports were reaxching Governor Dolph Briscoe's desk which clearly convinced him that there was a critical need in Texas to upgrade the quality of all residential child care and rehabilitative services for juvenile delinquents and pre-delinquents.

To determine the state's exact needs, the governor signed an executive order October 10, 1973, calling for the development of a comprehensive master plan for juvenile corrections for Texas.

The plan is to contain recommendations for the "development of the most effective, economical, and humanitarian programs of social services in all appropriate state agencies."

The governor asked that another avenue of research offer direction on how community-based programs could best be established for our youth who might otherwise be committed to a correctional facility such as Gatesville.

Other portions of the order asked for a study on the possible use of trained personnel to advise judges of the best treatment and care available to each youth brought before the court; create an Office of Inspections to investigate any charges of youth mistreatment; coordinate all funding programs for maximum use and eliminate duplication; review all licensing procedures to require prelicensing for any agency offering child care; and develop a comprehensive program of child abuse prevention.

To review the overall quality of the study results, Governor Briscoe named an interagency task force composed of the commissioners of the Texas Department of Welfare, Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, Texas State Department of Health, Texas Education Agency and the executive directors of the Texas Youth Council and the Texas Rehabilitation Commission.

Under the governor's direct supervision, the task force will assist in the final formulation of the procedure to be adopted to upgrade the juvenile corrections system.

The major challenge issue by the governor was the quick, but orderly development of a Master Plan for Juvenile Corrections in Texas. This plan is said to be progressing on schedule according to Jim Kester, plan coordinator.

Kester, a former juvenile parole officer and director of planning for the Oklahoma Crime Commission, began his tough assignment when the Governor's Criminal Justice Division received a grant of $321,768 in February, 1974, for the juvenile corrections plan.

"The Texas Youth Council, which is responsible for the custody, care and rehabilitation of juvenile delinquents, and the Criminal Justice Division of the Governor's Office have established strict guidelines to guarantee development of an in-depth review of the current corrections system with an eye on improvement," Kester notes.

"We have appointed a citizens advisory council and have contracted the services of a well-respected consulting firm," he added. "This allows for a broad cross-section of input representing all parts of our state."

The full advisory council, chaired by Robert Lanier of Houston, held its first meeting in Gatesville August 29 and 30 in order to tour the juvenile

Reddy's consumer tips on ... lighting

Edison's light bulb has come a long way since it first lit up the night in 1879; today, lighting is such a natural part of our lives we hardly give it a thought. But the fact is, the more choice we have in how we can use light, the more attention we should pay to how we buy and use light bulbs and lighting fixtures. Put a little more light in your life by following Reddy's money-saving, energy-conserving lighting tips:

CARE FOR LIGHTING EQUIPMENT

Dust and dirt alone cause substantial losses in the amount of light produced. Systematic cleaning is important. Clean lamp bulbs (when they are cool) with a damp cloth.

Check frequently for defective cords or plugs. Replace or repair them immediately if they are faulty.

LESS IS MORE

Generally, you'll get more light for your money if you use the least amount of bulbs that give the light you need. For instance, one 100-watt bulb gives more light than three 40-watt bulbs—and costs about one-third less to buy and replace.

READ THE LABEL

Speaking of "lumens," you'll find that all light bulbs have three ratings on their packaging. Lumens tell you what the light output or performance of the bulb is. "Watts" tell you how much electricity is needed to produce that light, and "bulb life" is the estimated length of time it will take the filament inside the bulb to burn out. When brightness is more important than bulb life—for reading, studying or working—choose the "standard" life bulb that gives you the most lumens for its wattage.

Remember, Reddy supplies the energy, but only you can use it wisely!

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Despite the rich bounty provided to us by the land, Texans and Americans in general are described as nutritional illiterates.

Nutrition is a relatively new science. For this reason there is room for misunderstanding, and even intentional misrepresentation. Although much malnutrition is the result of poverty, a full pocket doesn't mean a nourished body, says the State Health Department.

The focus on the high price of meat has made Texans more aware of their eating habits. But one group of individuals - the food faddists - are willing to pay through the nose (and sometimes through their health) for items no better than those offered in supermarkets.

Like hula - hoops and Nehru jackets, fads come and go. But for some the memory may linger on, since food fads can affect health and the quality of living for a long time.

A big fad at the moment is the weight reduction kick, which is tied in by food faddists with better health and some particular foodstuff which they say can cure all the ills of the believers. Some reducing diets, when followed too long, can lead to permanent health problems.

Nutritionists say there is no one particular cure - all food, and they have scientific proof. Faddists, on the other hand, push hundreds of different contradictory food systems, including the current "organic" food theory. Many diet or nutrition advocates are opportunists whose major motivations are economic. Some of these persons appear to be sincere, albeit misguided and close-minded in their nutritional beliefs.

A look at some highly publicized diets gives you an idea of the perplexing situations greeting those interested in dieting - either for weight loss or other health reasons.

The drinking man's diet, Zen diet, grapefruit and egg diet, vegetarian diet, cereal diet, low - protein, high - protein, low carbohydrate diet - are all a part of the present - day food craze, says the Health Department. Some, such as the Zen macrobiotic diet, can result in malnutrition.

And, there are the vitamin and food supplement faddists who push all types of supplement concoctions off on the willing indulger. Vitamin E and Vitamin C, both essential to the body, are among the vitamins being pushed at the present.

Dr. Linus Pauling advocated great amounts of Vitamin C to prevent the common cold. Research has failed to substantiate his claim.

The State Health Department says you can get all the required nutrients, including Vitamins C and E, through a wise selection of foods. Selecting foods properly will also ensure efficient utilization of the food dollar - something that can shrink rapidly in today's supermarkets. Supplements generally are expensive and unnecessary, unless prescribed by a physician.

The Nutrition Program of the State Health Department says the basic food groups still are the best guide for the average person who needs strength and vitality to meet each day's challenges. These are divided into the milk group, meat and protein group, fruits and vegetables group, and the bread and cereal group. While giving you sufficient energy, these basic food groups also supply the trace elements of minerals which your body needs.

If these basic food groups remain unchallenged scientifically, why do people succumb to faddism?

Nutritional quackery appeals to desperate people who want to believe in the impossible and the incredible. In the case of weight - reducers, they want to believe in something simply and easy, in a cure - all calling for no effort on their part. Traditional calorie counting is too slow, too limiting for their appetites. People with illnesses want a miracle to help them.

An Ohio State nutritionist writes, "Compared to the exotic nutritional advice, which borders on the occult or is rendered with spiritual fervor, normal everyday nutritional education lacks pizzazz. That is why the voices of the home economists - the dietitian - the nutritionist - food technologist - are not heard when they contradict the often untrue and sensational health claims being made by those who so avidly degrade the American food supply."

Significant progress has been made in the science of diet and its relationship to health, but science advances by slow, difficult steps which are much too slow for impatient, desperate people who want immediate solutions.
