It's time to think about Christmas again — especially Christmas mailing. The earlier this is done the better the service which the post office can give in getting your expressions of esteem and affection to those whom you wish to remember during the season of well wishing and good cheer.

Mrs. Cliffogene Witt, Rising Star postmistress, reminds that overseas mailing, particularly APO mailing to service men overseas should be done by the 15th of this month, and in any case no later than November 20.

The tremendous volume of mail generated by the Christmas season further complicates the problem of making timely deliveries to the service men and women and their families abroad. So give the postman a chance to deliver your gift or your good wishes on time to those who are far from home, and mail early.

Handling of the big volume of Christmas cards will also be simplified if you who mail cards will use the tie-out labels which will be placed in the boxes to designate local and out-of-town deliveries.

A full page color advertisement in this issue of the Rising Star Record carries a message about Premier gasoline and a very attractive offer of china-ware which the housewives of the Rising Star, May, Amity and other communities in which the Record circulates will not want to miss.

The china may be obtained at Freeman's Service Station, The Truck Stop Service Station in Rising Star and McCrary's service station in May.

It was a battle of two well-matched teams and the breaks told the story. Rising Star Wildcats won, and they deserve a big hand for their play and determination. But it doesn't mean they are out of the woods or that May Tigers are completely out of running for the district title. Blanket and Gorman are two teams yet to be met by both the Rising Star and May boys and the evidence is that they are pretty much on a par with the local eleven. The district standings could end in a scramble much like the Southwestern conference results in certain years.

Blanket holds a win over Gorman and we can get a pretty good idea of what the title outcome will be when the Wildcats go to Gorman Friday night of this week and the Blanket team plays May.

The standings could either be scrambled or the following week could find the title riding on the game between Rising Star and Blanket on the local field.

Worthy Matron Delegate To OES Grand Chapter

The Rising Star Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, sent their Worthy Matron, Mrs. Loree Crowell, as its delegate to the meeting of the Grand Chapter in Houston.

The daily sessions, beginning Monday night, Oct. 29, were well attended. The meeting closed Thursday night after the installation of the Grand officers. Nearly 500 members attended. Highlight of outside activities was a tour of the San Jacinto battleground during which there was a visit to the San Jacinto monument and the Battleship Texas. There were many other points of interest. Six buses holding 41 passengers each made the tour for a price of $4.25 each person. A picnic lunch was served at the Humble Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Crisp, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Fuzzell, and Mrs. Marvin West, visited one of Mrs. Fuzzell's cousins, Mrs. Dan Martin, in Eastland last Sunday.

Jack Bibby was reported doing well at Comanche Hospital following surgery Saturday of last week.

Lions Host Ladies Next Monday Eve

Members of the Rising Star Lions club will entertain their ladies at a Ladies Night program at the Elementary School cafeteria Monday evening, Nov. 12.

The Tarleton State College band will furnish the program and members of the Stephenville Lions Club, headed by Deputy Dist. Gov. Jack McCullough, will be guests.

Honor guests will be Dist. Gov. and Mrs. P. E. Shitwell of Abilene.

The dinner will begin at 6:30.

Gorman Man Is Elected President Of Livestock Group

In a meeting held at Eastland on Nov. 5, officers of the Eastland County Livestock Raisers Ass'n were elected for 1962-63 and plans for the 1963 County Livestock Show were discussed.

The following officers were elected: Ross Wilson, Gorman, president; Waverley Massengale, Eastland, vice-president; and Glyn Gilliam, Eastland, secretary-treasurer.

The 1963 County Livestock Show, which is expected to be the biggest one to date, will be held in Eastland on March 15 and 16. Last year's show attracted some 750 entries from Eastland and surrounding counties. In addition to FFA and 4-H entries in swine, dairy, beef, and sheep divisions, the 1963 show will feature an open division for breeding beef cattle. It is expected that the open show will attract many entries from registered Hereford breeders in this area.

It was reported to the group in Monday's meeting that testing for brucellosis would probably begin in Eastland County on or about January 1, 1963. The Livestock Raisers Ass'n sponsored the producer sign-up last spring and summer, petitioning the Livestock Sanitary Commission to declare Eastland County a Type II brucellosis control area.

The association voted to request the Livestock Sanitary Commission to sponsor a big, countywide meeting of livestock raisers in the Eastland High School auditorium on the night of December 17. The purpose of the meeting would be to inform producers of the objects and methods regarding the testing of cattle for brucellosis. It is contemplated that in addition to the countywide meeting, there would be local meetings in various communities prior to testing in each community.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Swift visited their son, Wayne Swift, and their daughter, Earldene, in Abilene recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dunn were guests of the Ira Swifts during the week-end.

Darlene Swift of Denver City visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Swift during the week-end.

May Girl Named CJC Homecoming Queen

Cisco—Sue Lack of May was named homecoming queen at Cisco Junior College Saturday night during the half-time activities at the conference game between the Ranger Junior College and the CJC Wranglers. Miss Lack, a freshman, was elected in a general election held by the student body. However, the winner was not announced until the game.

Miss Lack, a 1962 graduate of May High School, was active in various phases of high school activities. She was drum major, most popular, district basketball team member, FFA sweetheart, and class favorite. She is currently a member of the Wrangler Belle drill team at CJC, and a nominee for Ag sweetheart. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Lack, Rt. 2, May.

Jarrell has reported to Howard Payne College classes following a tonsillectomy.

Wildcats Face Gorman After 6-0 Win At May

The Rising Star Wildcats won their first conference game of the season in a nip-and-tuck battle with the May Tigers at May Friday night of last week.

The game, a defensive struggle all the way between two evenly matched teams, was decided in the final minutes of the fourth period when Jimmy Rutledge broke through and recovered a May fumble on the Tigers 20-yard line. Five plays later Kenneth Nunnally went over from the one-yard line for the score. Frazier Clark's try for extra point was blocked by the hard charging May line which was a defensive standout, effectually smothering the Rising Star passing attack.

Kent Brown was outstanding for the Tigers.

Neither team was able to do much offensively, although the Wildcats had very good success in moving the ball. Mistakes and frequent penalties nullified their gains.

The Wildcats drove to the Tigers 15-yard line the first time they took possession of the ball in the first quarter. In the second quarter they also advanced to the 15, but here again penalties and miscues stymied the drive.

The third quarter was a defensive stand-off neither team being able to move against the other.

Rising Star coaches praised the work of the Wildcat line.

Friday night the Wildcats go to Gorman for a conference battle with the winless Gorman Panthers, last year's district titlist. The Panthers, despite the fact they have not won a game, are rated even with the Rising Star team and a close, hard-fought struggle is in prospect.

The following week, the Blanket team comes to Rising Star to close district play and the regular Wildcat season.

Mrs. B. H. Bettis Buried Sunday In Services At May

Funeral services for Mrs. B. H. Bettis, 85, were held at the First Methodist Church in May Sunday afternoon with the Rev. Ross Grace, Talpa, former pastor of the church, officiating. He was assisted by the Rev. Pat Cummings, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, May.

Burial was in Greenleaf Cemetery, Brownwood. A large crowd attended the services including many relatives and friends from Dallas, Fort Worth and other communities.

Mrs. Bettis was born May 13, 1877, in Tennessee and had lived in Indian Creek and Brownwood until 1907, when she moved to May. She had lived here since that time. Her husband, B. H. Bettis, a prominent pioneer Brown County businessman, died Sept. 5, 1961. She was a member of the First Methodist Church at May.

Survivors are one son, W. C. Hooper of Copperas Cove; one daughter, Mrs. Mary Scott of Dallas; four step-daughters, Mrs. Alice Finney and Mrs. R. F. Morelock, both of Brownwood; Mrs. B. H. Ludlow of Roswell, N. M., and Mrs. Gus Carey of Odessa; four step-sons, Henry Bettis of Pratt, Kan., Robert A. Bettis of Waco and Jessie Bettis and Watson Bettis, both of Brownwood; two sisters, Mrs. Annie Edwards and Mrs. Sallie Erickson, both of California; 25 grandchildren, and 30 great-grandchildren.

Recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Crisp were Mrs. Lizzie Crisp and Johnny Bryant of Littlefield, and Mrs. Alyne Churchman of Palestine.

Mr. and Mrs. Faye Rankin visited relatives in Colorado City recently.

County Voters Favor State Demo Ticket; Elect Bailey

Eastland County voters favored the Democratic candidates heavily Tuesday in preference to their Republican challengers headed by Jack Cox of Breckenridge, who was running for Governor.

In common with the State as a whole, the county—and Rising Star in particular, gave John Connally, the Democratic nominee for governor, a majority, although the Breckenridge man showed a surprising amount of strength.

Connally received 2,683 votes to 2,108 for Cox.

In the only contested race in Eastland County's state, O. H. Dick failed in his campaign for a write-in vote to defeat Scott Bailey, who was nominated for County Judge by the County Democratic executive committee after the death of County Judge John Hart, who was renominated in the primary.

Over the County as a whole, Dick received 1,496 votes to 3,495 for Bailey. It was considered a heavy vote for a write-in campaign, considering the great difficulty of inducing the average voter to cross out a printed name and write in another.

In the other contested State races, the Democratic candidates received considerably heavier majorities over their Republican opponents. There were seven of these contests exclusive of the Governor's race.

County officers, other than the County Judge, were re-elected as follows:

Roy Lane, district clerk; Johnson Smith, county clerk; Ellen Justice, county treasurer; H. R. (Pop) Garrett, county school superintendent; and R. T. Magness, county surveyor.

Results of the voting in the Rising Star box, where a total of 433 votes were cast, were:

For Governor—Connally, 261; Cox, 132; Jack Carswell, 1;

For Attorney-General—Wagoner Carr, 332; T. Everett Kennerly, 81;

For Cong.-at-Large—Joe Pool, 327; Des Barry, 89; expired term) Ben Ramsey, 339; Bernold Hanson, 67;

For Land Comm'r—Jerry Sadler, 334; Albert B. Fay, 72;

For Comm'r of Agriculture—John C. White, 340; Harry Hubbard, 80.

Forty-one Rising Star voters wrote in the name of O. H. Dick for County Judge, while 304 cast their votes for Scott Bailey.

Only one precinct office was on the ballot. It was Justice of the Peace for Pre. 7 which includes the Rising Star area. B. A. Butler was unopposed for the office.

Kittens ended grid Season With Six Wins, Two Losses

The Rising Star Kittens ended their 1962 football season with consecutive victories over the Bangs Juniors and the Comanche Juniors Thursday night of last week and, Tuesday night respectively, defeating the former 16 to 6 and the Comanche boys 12 to 6.

The Kittens have a season record of six wins and two losses, and stand just behind the Goldthwaite and Cross Plains Juniors, who are tied for first place in the district.

The Kittens' only losses were to the district leaders.

Peanut Drying Plant Being Installed In Market Building

Installation of a peanut drying plant was under way in the City Market building this week with prospect that it will be in operation before the week is out.

The plant is being installed by Gene Hill who has a small dryer in operation at his home in the Okra community where he processed his own peanuts and did custom drying for some of his neighbors.

Mr. Hill is moving the plant from his home to the market building and adding new and larger equipment. City gas will be used for processing.

The plant is the trailer system in which peanuts are hauled in trailers of 5,000-pound capacity to the dryers and processed while still in the trailers.

The equipment is fully automatic and capable of processing 50 tons of peanuts in a 24- to 36-hour period, depending upon the moisture condition of the crop at the time. Automatic heat control guards against over-drying, it was said.

It is estimated that only about one-third of the present peanut crop has been harvested, and Mr. Hill hopes to handle a large part of the Rising Star area crop in his plant here. He plans to expand the system next year.

Regular Singing Sunday At American Legion Hall

OWNERSHIP OF WOUNDED GAME

Suppose you are hunting and shoot a deer or a duck, which falls mortally wounded. Before you can get to it, another hunter beats you there and claims the fallen game as his own. What are your rights?

Jim had been hunting all day without success, and had headed for home when he finally saw a deer. He took careful aim and hit the deer with his first shot. Although mortally wounded, the deer managed to run a short distance, with Jim in hot pursuit.

Roy was also deer hunting. He heard Jim's shot and saw a deer running toward him. However, before it reached the spot where he was standing, the deer fell to the ground.

Although it was obvious that the deer was about to die, Roy walked to within three feet of it delivered the finishing shot, and quickly put his tag on it. When Jim ran up and claimed the deer, Roy said that such deer were wild animals, and belonged to no one until killed. Since he was the one that killed the deer, Roy claimed that it belonged to him.

Which hunter has legal title to the deer?

In this case the deer belongs to Jim. Jim was the first to wound it, and did so before Roy appeared on the scene. He had mortally wounded the deer, and had it in such a situation that its escape was improbable, if not impossible. The prevailing rule is that the instant a wild animal is brought under the control of a person so that actual possession is practically inevitable, a vested property interest in it accrues which cannot be divested by another's intervening and killing it, or reaching it first.

Jim had delivered the shot which so crippled the animal as to cause him to cease trying to escape, this permitting Roy to walk up to the animal and deliver the finishing shot. Jim had effectually brought the deer under his control before Roy took a hand in the matter. The deer legally belonged to Jim, and he can enforce his claim in court.

Just around the corner now are little boys with sleds and little girls with sneakers.

Also just around the corner is a lion's share of the total 25,854,000 work days lost annually due to the common cold. For youngsters, time lost on a sled or a skating rink becomes a major tragedy. For grownups, absence from work usually has an adverse effect on the bank account.

Considering the plights of both groups, and mindful of a long standing suggestion that nobody does anything about the weather, it's interesting to note on the activities of an enterprising Boston businessman.

"Granting the fact," says Leslie S. Brown of the Hook-Brown Company, "that there is no lack of foul weather gear available to the American female, it must be remembered that for certain reasons much of the gear has proved inadequate."

"The pencil-thin heels so popular of late in women's footwear have ruined thousands of rain boots. Though they are delightful in the light of a clear day," says Brown, "the heels take little time to rip through boots, leaving the user with little protection against the elements."

To help protect both the boot and its wearer, Brown's firm has produced a tiny plastic piece, a heel cup, for insertion in the overshoe. "With two of these heel cups in place," Brown asserts, "the overshoe can withstand the beating stiletto heels can administer."

To date, Brown happily reports the heel cups have been used, without complaint, by 300,000 female customers. "Certainly," he says, "customer satisfaction is reward enough for the months of painstaking research that preceded our development of the product."

He admits Hook-Brown Company experimented with many materials, including steel, before settling on a plastic material equal to rigid screening conditions.

Some of the obvious testing considerations, the average women's weight and weather in all parts of the country, were carefully studied before the plastic was accepted.

"We're not about to make any comments on a woman's weight," Brown concludes, "but we do know the heel cups will help her face the weather."

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

Texas has 90 "packaged" hospitals on hand, ready for almost instant use following enemy action or a major natural disaster. Most of them are located at least 15 miles from assumed strategic target areas.

The hospitals, costing $21,000 apiece, were provided by the federal Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization as part of a nationwide stockpile program. They are administered in Texas by the state Office of Defense and Disaster Relief, with technical cooperation from the Texas State Department of Health.

Outgrowths of the mobil army hospitals developed and tested during the Korean War, they can be completely installed by 40 or 50 people in four or five hours. In one test exercise an installation was made in 70 minutes by experienced personnel.

Local civil defense organizations in designated locations store and otherwise manage the hospitals and equipment. Emergency conditions such as the Cuban crisis are occasions for making sure the hospitals are in a high state of readiness.

Each unit — already crated for instant shipment into stricken areas, is a complete 200-bed affair with facilities for three operating rooms, a pharmacy, x-ray service, clinical laboratory, sterilizing room, central supply room, and electrical power supply.

Each hospital weighs 24,000 pounds and contains 8,000 individual pieces of equipment, including a 1500-gallon water tank and pump for emergency water supplies. There are also complete medical supplies, from surgical caps and gowns to ether and alcohol which are separately packaged and marked to avoid fire hazards.

Local civil defense authorities provide refrigeration for items such as insulin and blood derivatives. Antibiotics and other materials with expiration dates are labeled "deteriorative" to indicate they must be periodically inspected and rotated.

State civil defense and health authorities estimate that emergency hospitals will have to provide at least half the total hospital beds following a major emergency, since most conventional hospitals are located in metropolitan centers which may be targets of enemy action.

Doctors and nurses to staff emergency hospitals will be recruited from the community where the unit is installed for service, according to present planning (A weekly feature of the Health Education Division, State Department of Health.)

A GOOD SCHOOL MEANS A GOOD COMMUNITY

Have you ever been to a school that had the atmosphere of friendliness — whose appearance was clean, neat, and well-organized, showing great co-operation? Seeing this, you might wonder if it reflected the spirit of the community. The answer is definitely yes; a good school means a good community.

One of the reasons is because of the families living in the community. The life of a student at home is reflected in the way he takes part at school. If his family works together, shares, and sacrifices in order to give pleasure to someone else, it will be reflected in that student's behavior at school.

A school also reflects the interest a community has in it. In a good school, you will find that the entire town is backing it. There is a great deal of interest in the school sports; the people support school-sponsored programs. They are interested in the appearance of the buildings where their children spend so much of a year's time; they want good educational equipment provided to help in teaching their children. When you find these things in the atmosphere of a school, you know you are living in a good community.

If a school rates scholastically you know the community is the reason. In the evenings there is a quiet time for study and relaxation in the homes. Parents give cheerful help when they can and are interested in what their children are studying. Lastly, the Parent Teachers' Association of a school shows the relationship between a school and the community. On PTA days you will find many parents there, participating in the school in a way which will benefit their children.

In conclusion, there are four points you can find in the community where you find a good school. They are a pleasant family life, adult interest in school activities, parental help academically, and adult participation in school. Whenever you find a good school, you will find a good community and vice-versa, for they go hand-in-hand.

NOT FINISHED; JUST BEGUN

Hi there,
 We Seniors are back in the swing of things once again — meaning, of course, that we are back to backing our Wildcats. Not that we didn't enjoy the Powder Puff Game, but it seems our Cats are a little better organized. A word of praise on a job well done to our boys cheerleaders, Darwin Cain and Ronald Bond.

I hear the Seniors had a good time last week out trick or treating on Hallowe'en night. Some of them took advantage of the Carnival organized by the Band Parents. They said it was very nice and provided fun and entertainment for all.

The Seniors have now completed the study of "Macbeth" and William Shakespeare and are now studying other English authors. It seems our themes were a success — anyway, we finished them.

Speaking of successes, we took a bookkeeping test last week that was not such a success. I think Mr. Hill was disappointed in us, and I can't say that I blame him. Come on, students, we might have to keep books some day.

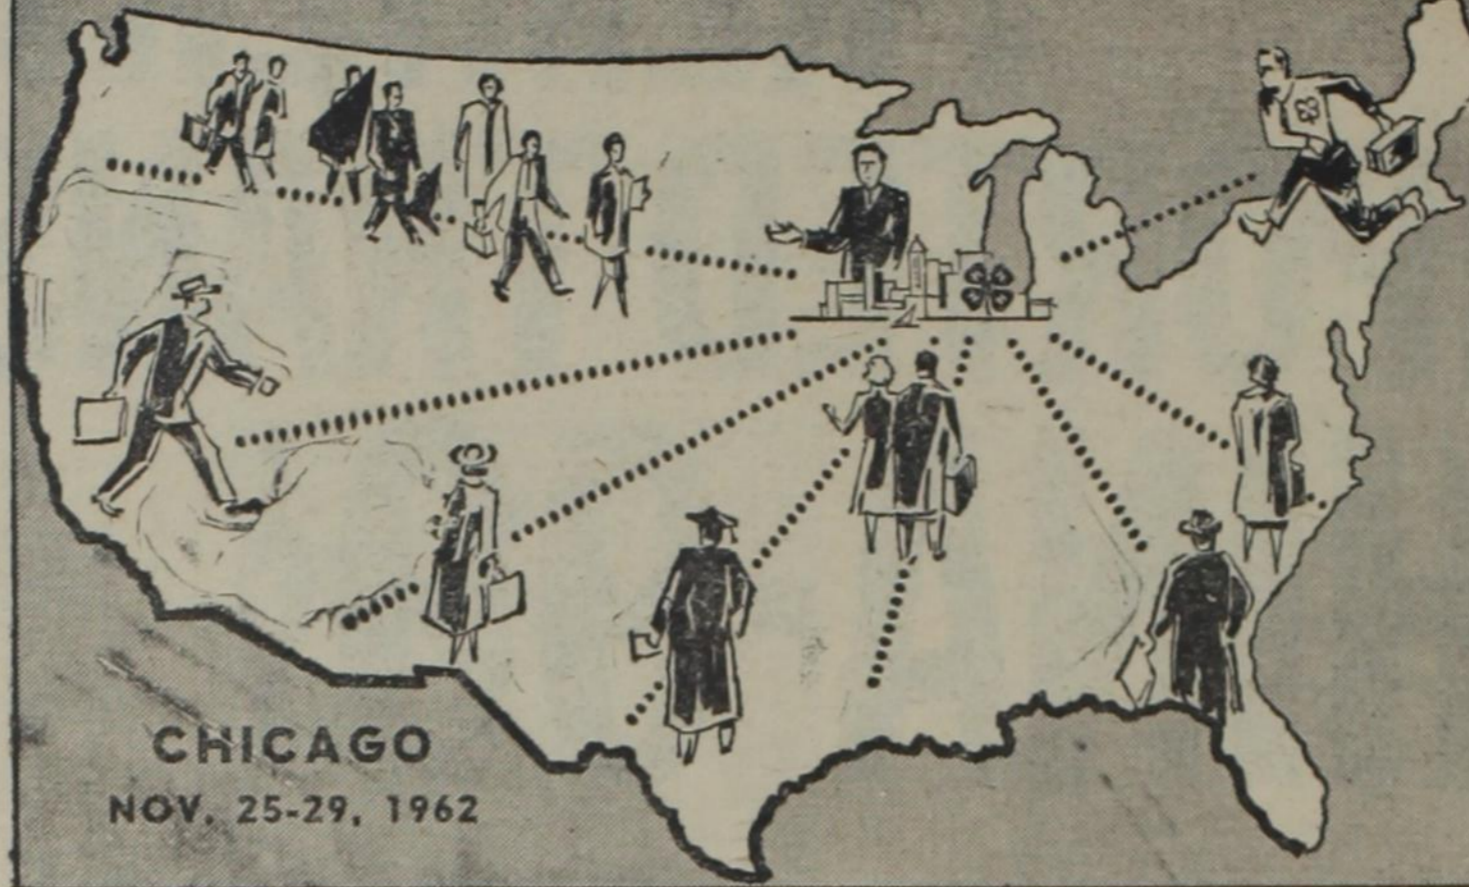

Our class pins which we ordered recently were shipped the fifth, and we are anxiously awaiting their arrival; we are also expecting our pictures anytime now.

The Seniors are all getting ready for the Football Banquet being given next week by the cheerleaders. We know it will be a good one.

That's it for this time.
 — Bye for now,
 Katy

All Roads Lead to National 4-H Club Congress

BIG 4-H DELEGATION COMES FROM 50 STATES AND ABROAD FOR WEEK OF MEMORABLE EVENTS

An estimated 1,500 of the nation's best 4-H youths travel to Chicago right after Thanksgiving to participate in the 41st National 4-H Club Congress. They are joined by 500 4-H Club leaders, educators, business officials and guests from abroad.

The congress convenes on Sunday, November 25, in the Grand Ballroom of the Conrad Hilton Hotel, headquarters for the week-long event. But delegates begin to arrive as early as Friday. They travel by bus, plane, train, and come from all 50 states, Puerto Rico and a dozen foreign countries.

Keynote at the Sunday afternoon session is a former 4-H Club member, and one who this year is honored nationally as a 4-H alumnus. He is the Honorable Buford E. Ellington, governor of Tennessee.

"Citizenship in Action" is the 1962 congress theme. The principle speaker on the theme is Dr. Glenn Olds, president of Springfield College (Massachusetts).

Also talking on the subject is a panel of leaders in agriculture, business and labor. Questions to be answered come from the 4-H'ers themselves. The moderator is Dr. Russell Mawby, assistant director of extension at Michigan State University.

Expect Many Firsts

The young people have a week crammed with many "firsts" such as meeting prominent U.S. citizens, seeing the internationally-known museums of Chicago, listening to the 106-piece Chicago Symphony Orchestra, enjoying the companionship of fellow 4-H'ers from north, south, east and west.

Perhaps the most valued personal reward is the fact that every single one of the 1,500 boys and girls has all expenses paid. This highly regarded prize is theirs for having achieved an excellent 4-H Club record. In addition, more than 200 delegates go home the richer by a college scholarship.

And how is all this made possible? By the generous donations of more than half a hundred American business enterprises which have consistently supported the 4-H Club program.

Business Helps

"KNOWLEDGE COMES BUT WISDOM LINGERS"

The girls have gone back to being girls again; while the places on the football field. We are glad to report that we had no injuries greater than a few bruises. Thanks to all of you who came to our "Powder Puff" game to support the girls! We would like to congratulate our Sophomore cheerleaders, James Cox and John Gerhardt, for our Powder Puff game; you did a fine job, boys. Thanks!

In English we have completed the study of "Julius Caesar" and are working on short stories; we plan to take up the study of "Silas Marner" soon. The biology classes have their knives out again, cutting on those "poor little" crabs. The homemaking girls have completed their garments—all of these being very attractive.

The P.T.A. and Band Parents sponsored the Hallowe'en Carnival last week; it was very well-organized and created much interest. Everyone enjoyed it; we want to thank you for a job well done.

Our boys are back on the gridiron again for district play; we would like to see everyone of you backing the Wildcats!

The F.F.A. picnic was not held last week because of conflict with a ballgame. The boys have decided to wait and hold a Christmas party for us. We appreciate your good intentions and are anxiously awaiting Christmas! And Santa Claus!

That seems to be about all the activity the Sophomores have been involved in this week. Watch for us next week.

Charlene

DO-BA-MI

After their night on the town, the spooks have gone back to their holes, and we want to thank the Band Parents for making Hallowe'en a big success with lots of spooks and goblins; even the three Witches escaped from "Macbeth" and were seen around their charmed pot.

They had a wonderful carnival with a fishing pond, cake walk, fortune teller, and other events. Many of the town people

"TOWARD NEW HORIZONS"

The First Aid and Civil Defense classes taught by Miss Martha Graves, adult teacher from Cisco Jr. College, met in the Homemaking department at 1:30 p. m. Thursday. Two films were shown. One was on mouth to mouth artificial respiration; one was on NORAD, our defense system against missiles. Eighteen adults were present.

The next meeting, November 8, will be a field trip to Breckenridge to inspect two fall-out shelters. Anyone wishing to make the trip should plan to leave Rising Star at 1:00 p. m.

UPWARD AND ONWARD

We're ready for our second big conference game with the Blanket Tigers here.

In English III we are studying democracy in American literature.

The Home Ec. girls are almost finished with their suits, and they surely do look nice.

The basketball girls are having some rough workouts, but it will be worth it in these games coming up very soon. Last year our class sold candy; we have had so many requests for it that we are going to sell it again this year — so get prepared; the juniors will be out selling again.

The Hallowe'en Carnival that the Band Parents put on was a success, besides a lot of fun. I liked "Sock the Band Director" best!

Most of us have our term themes back and are either satisfied or dissatisfied — just depending how much time we spent on them.

Mexico Subject of WMS at Meeting On November 1st

The WMS of the First Baptist Church met for a mission study of Mexico Thursday, Nov. 1. The theme was "A Vigorous Minority in Mexico."

Mrs. B. B. Morris planned and presented the program as a seven-league boot tour of Mexico. Each speaker received a miniature boot and a map of Mexico was studied.

Speakers were Mrs. B. B. Morris, Mrs. W. G. Reed, Mrs. C. E. Baker, Mrs. Lee Clark, Mrs. F. J. Maynard, Mrs. Everett Parker. Prayer was led by Mrs. C. M. Cox.

working in basketball, as the suits will be handed out within the next two weeks. We are all looking forward to our game with Olden.

"LIVE AND LEARN"

This is a big week at Rising Star High School because our boys go to Gorman for one of our district football games. We would like for everyone to come to our game there and back the Wildcats.

In Biology I, we are studying about crayfish and other members of the class, Crustaceans. During our health, we are studying about the human body and how to take care of it.

In Algebra I these questions are getting us down but not all the way.

English I is very interesting, but I think Mrs. Claborn is becoming annoyed with John and his questioning mind; also she has been complimenting Larry on his bright colored shirts.

In Homemaking I the girls made some demonstrations on cooking breakfasts; we could eat early in the A.M. if we would take time.

In P. E. we are having fun running up and down bleachers and running across the gym getting in shape for basketball training. It's rough, but if they can do it, we can do better. Right, girls?

Hints On Care of Wild Game For Table Use Given

COLLEGE STATION — What kind of a reception do you receive, Mr. Hunter, when you take home your bag of game? Does your wife throw up her hands in disgust?

If she does, says Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist, the fault may rest with the hunter. The mishandling of game after the kill often makes impossible a tasty preparation job in the kitchen, and the putting of meat on the family table as you would like it.

Immediate and proper bleeding of game animals is most important in improving meat flavor, points out Cooper. The same is true, he adds, for ducks and geese and most other game species. This practice will do much, Cooper says, to remove the strong, gamey flavor which some people dislike.

The specialist recommends field dressing immediately after the kill especially if the weather is extremely warm. The sooner the animal is dressed the better, for immediate dressing means fewer chances for meat spoilage or undesirable flavor or odor.

Keep the game clean, advises Cooper. Avoid letting hair, feathers, dirt or other trash or debris come into contact with the meat. Before the blood dries, wipe the body cavity clean with either a dry or slightly moistened cloth rather than by washing with water, explains the specialist.

If the weather is warm, game should be put into cold storage as soon as possible. If it is held just above freezing for several days, the meat will become more tender and have less of the undesirable 'gamey' flavor. A deer, adds Cooper, should be aged in cold storage much the same as the carcass of a beef animal. Omit the aging process, he says, and your wife will have good reason for hoping you don't bag a deer this year.

Cooper suggest that hunters contact their local county extension office for a copy of B-987 "Game Care and Cooking." Copies are also available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. It's chuckful of helpful hints for hunters and wild game cooks.

YOUNG TEXAN FOR NOVEMBER — Russell Stanley Wilkinson, Jr., of Lubbock has been named "Young Texan of the Month" for November by the 5,000 Optimist Club members of Texas and the Troy V. Post Foundation. Wilkinson, an outstanding student and athlete during his high school years, now is enrolled on a four-year basketball scholarship as a freshman student at Texas Technological College in Lubbock. He plans a career in teaching and coaching athletics. As a result of his selection as "Young Texan of the Month," Wilkinson will receive the state's highest youth recognition award — The Troy V. Post Award. Wilkinson was chosen for the honor in competition with hundreds of other nominees by a panel of state leaders headed by Governor Price Daniel.

By Mrs. Beverly Nicholson

When frozen food thaws in your home, is it always necessary to discard it?

Research studies reveal that if temperature of the food has not risen above ordinary refrigerator temperatures (40 degrees F.), then you may consider refreezing it — provided it has acceptable odor, texture and color.

The process of refreezing itself introduces no hazard: if safe to eat, it is safe to re-freeze.

A rise in a food's temperature up to thawing impairs color, flavor, and texture, and the refreezing period causes further loss of quality. If the time involved is short enough, there may be quality left to justify refreezing.

A health hazard is involved if the temperature of the food has not risen above ordinary refrigerator temperature. Food poisoning bacteria have never been found to grow at temperature below 38 degrees F., and they grow very slowly between 38 and 45 degrees. Other bacteria can grow slowly at these or even lower temperatures, and they cause off-odors and off-flavors that spoil foods but do not cause food poisoning.

Rapid freezing of steaks make them lighter and brighter and more tender. An impartial taste panel rated frozen steaks better than not-frozen steaks — in flavor, tenderness and overall satisfaction. The only thing the tasters did not like about the frozen beef was the amount of juiciness.

Doss Alexander has returned to his home at Pioneer from Veterans Hospital at Temple where he has been under treatment.

Native LAMBS are now being processed in the Center of the Southwest

Here, in the very heart of the Nation's largest sheep-producing area, a famous packer has established a lamb processing plant.

Any new industry contributes to the economy. But a new industry which processes a product of the area is doubly important.

We are convinced that this is a growing trend. It has become an important part of our continuing efforts to inform America's business leaders about our industrial advantages.

It is another reason why we say that we face GROWTH UNLIMITED here in the Center of the Southwest.
