Happy New Year!

Store to Reopen January 2

Fire Destroys Eastland Thrift Mart

"It was our second home," Manager Norman Whitfield says of the Thrift Mart Store of Eastland, which burned on Christmas Day.

At this time employees of Thrift Mart are among workers renovating the large old grocery building near Wal-Mart on Hwy. 80 East. Plans are for Thrift Mart to reopen in this location on Saturday, January 2, Whitfield says.

He also reports that a large new Thrift Mart will be built in Eastland within one year. Smoldering rubble is all that remains this week of the once large and well-stocked Thrift Mart at 200 E. Main. This store was particularly busy up to Christmas Eve, with people hurrying in for last-minute items. Then the store shut down for the Holidays.

The first report of a fire at Thrift Mart came over 9-1-1 to the Eastland County Dispatch at 12:49 p.m., according to Volunteer Fire Chief Phillip Arther. He was a short way outside-town, one of several firemen who were out of the city celebrating Christmas.

"I was eight or nine minutes getting to the fire, and flames were already coming through the NW corner of the building when I arrived," Arther says.

He says there was so much work going on and so much smoke that he didn't see everyone who was there, but recalls that Fireman Jim Hughes and Volunteers Jack Graham, Terry Edwards, Kelly Fron and Scott Brinkley were already present.

Other Eastland Volunteer Firemen and Cisco,

Ranger and Gorman Fire Departments arrived on the scene within minutes. They brought equipment to assist in fighting the blaze.

A strong north wind sent heavy black smoke throughout the downtown area. Traffic had to be rerouted around the site. Part of the store's walls collapsed and others had to be pushed inward.

The toxic smoke and gas overcame several of the firemen. Kelly Fron, Scott Brinkley and Raymond Threet of Eastland and Bruce Smith of Cisco suffered smoke inhalation.

All recovered quickly except Raymond Threet, who remains in Eastland Memorial Hospital for further treatment and observation. His condition is reported to be good.

"This Thrift Mart fire was the largest single fire in the City that I recall, outside of the May 24, 1985 train derailment, a different sort of fire," Arther says.

"It is probably also the most costly-I estimate in excess of $2 million, counting fixtures, groceries, the building."

Around 60 firemen and law enforcement officers worked at the fire site, and it took around 3 hours to bring the fire under control. It was quite a job to keep the flames from spreading into the town. The store building was estimated to be a total loss.

Store Manager Norman Whitfield watched the burning building and said that it was "not a good Christmas present." He also said that losing the only large grocery store in Eastland would be an inconvenience for a lot of people.

Employees of the store were shocked by news of the fire, and of course concerned about their jobs. Any concerns were put to rest when they met with Whitfield the day after the fire.

The Manager told them that they would not miss a paycheck-not to worry.

A number of them were put to work getting the new site ready for its opening, and some went to work at Cisco Thrift Mart.

By the weekend Eastland people were shopping in the Cisco store, which was remodeled and enlarged in 1992. Norman Whitfield says that he wants to thank a number of people who helped out during the fire. Special thanks go to the Fire Departments of Eastland, Cisco, Gorman and Ranger.

He also wants to show appreciation to City Officials, Eastland Chamber of Commerce, the Police Department, the Utility Companies and Citizens of Eastland.

Phillip Arther would also like to thank the Firemen, who were on duty until 3-3:30 a.m. Saturday. He wants to thank Chief Funderburgh and the Eastland Police Department, Sheriff Ronnie White and his Department, TU Electric and the Texas Highway Department.

Stock show season is right around the corner and the local annual Rising Star Livestock Show & Fair will be January 23

Children from early childhood through third grades sang carols in downtown Rising Star before the holiday began.

"The Eastland County Dispatch also helped in communications during the fire," he says.

As for the local Fire Department, "We're not through yet," Arther notes. The smoldering ruins are being observed, and when the burned-out store is cool enough the local Department will attempt to determine the cause of the blaze.

At this time there is no indication of anything but "something natural or accidental," according to persons on the scene.

County Commissioners Accept Audit Report, Approve Another Jailer

At the County Commissioners Court Monday it appeared there was more good news than bad news in the outside audit of Ken Parker.

This annual audit covered financial records of the past fiscal year-September 30, 1991 to September 30, 1992.

Parker told the Court that during this year revenues had increased, although the General Fund was only $4,000 up from last year.

There are three types of funds held by the County, he said; General (which cover most County services and expenditures), Special Revenue Funds (dedicated to special uses, such as Road and Bridge Funds) and Trust Funds (money held for other people or governing bodies).

Parker reported that the Fund Balance (General) was around $1.1 million on September 30. Expenses were also up for last year, he said. Public Transportation had the largest deficit-around $60,000. This includes funds used in the Precincts for the maintenance of County roads and bridges.

After giving numerous financial details, Parker spoke about County policies. He said the deposits were properly secured and he found no major deviation from state laws in the way the County handled finances.

He gave several recommendations on procedure, such as prompt deposits should be made of funds, and there should be a systemic inquiry of all County equipment.

He thanked the Auditor and Treasurer's office for help, and said that in the General Funds the "actuals and expenditures" were just about equal.

"I think you're in a lot better shape than a lot of counties and Municipalities are these days," the Auditor said.

The Commissioners voted to accept his report.

In closing, Parker apparently wished to set the record straight on another matter. He said that remarks published last year in the newspapers made it appear he was opposed to the County Ambulance Service.

"I think you should be commended for providing funds for Ambulance Service," he told the Commissioners.

Judge Bailey commented: "We've had to put off and do without to make that possible."

On another agenda item, Sheriff Ronnie White told the Court that he was coming to them in an emergency situation.

"I'm asking for one more jailer," the Sheriff said. "We're operating with up to 40 people in the jail-we've had an average of 29 for months. We have three jailers-one per 8 hour shift."

"I need another full-time person for the day shift-that's when we have to move the prisoners around, take them to Court."

He added that any Jailer would have to be certified.

When asked if he could transfer someone from the office to jail work, White replied that office personnel were overloaded with work and computer problems.

"The computer program is still not working," White said. "We've had serious problems with the booking process. It (the machine) locks down every time we go into it."

Treasurer Ruth Hart said that Computer Specialist Harley Gwynn would be at the Court-house next week, and he might be called on to as-ist.

The Commissioners turned to the jail population problem, and asked what might be done about it.

District Attorney Leslie Vance went over the current figures: 5 ready for TDC, 14 awaiting trial, 9 held on "Blue" warrants and 1 held for another county.

"On the 'awaiting trial,' that's a little different from what you think it is," the District Attorney said. "Twelve of these were arrested in December. The way they come down, they (the numbers) keep smothering us."

"We have about three people set for trial in January."

The Commissioners expressed a lot of concern on whether the State Jail Standards people would come in and force the County to enlarge the jail or build another one.

County Judge Bailey asked Sheriff White to estimate what another Jailer would cost. White estimated around $1,406 in monthly salary, with benefits bringing it up to $1,900 or more.

The matter was tabled during the morning session, but in the afternoon at the Higginbotham Center.

More information regarding classes and entries will be published at a later date.

tion. The County will put 10 percent of the bridge construction in escrow. When the bridges are rebuilt the County will pay its other 10 percent of costs.

Bids were opened for the purchase of fuel oil and lubricants by all four Precincts.

All bids were rejected, and the motion made and approved to readvertise for bids.

Pct. 2 Commissioner Calvin Ainsworth reported that he will soon repair two tall portions of the roof on the west side of the Courthouse. And on the matter of food commodities, Pct. 1 Commissioner Ken Lyerla reported that pork and green beans were the only items made available this month.

In other matters the Commissioners: Authorized the signing of an Off-System Bridge Agreement with the State Department of Transporta-

WORD of GOD

The Way - Step #4

Jesus said:

Also I say unto you, Whosoever shall confess me before men, him shall the Son of man also confess before the angels of God:

Luke 12:8

That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved.

For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation.

Twenty-Six Year Old Men Not Eligible For Draft

Young men who will turn 26 in 1993 will be reaching an important milestone according to the Selective Service System.

Beginning on Jan 1, 1993, men who were born in 1967 and were required to register with Selective Service in 12985, will be turning 26 and will no longer be eligible for induction should a draft be reinstated. Selective Service does not have the authority to accept late registrations after a man reaches his 26th birthday.

Selective Service officials warned that, with few exceptions, a man who fails to register before turning 26 will permanently forfeit his eligibility for certain programs such as federal student aid, job training and most federal employment, in addition to facing possible prosecution as a felon. Some states also require registration for state student aid, entrance to state-supported colleges and universities, state employment and permission to practice law.

Men ages 18 through 25

who have not yet registered can avoid the risk of prosecution and loss of eligibility by registering promptly at any local post office. Failure to register is a felony punishable by a fine of up to $250,000 up to five years in prison or both.

A man is exempt from registering while he is on full-time active duty in the U.S. Armed Forces. Cadets and midshipmen at the service academies are included in the exemption. Members of the National Guard and Reserve Forces not on full-time active duty must register unless they have reached age 26 or are already registered.

Those who are unable to register due to circumstance beyond their control - for example, those who are hospitalized, institutionalized or incarcerated - do not have to register until they are released. After release, they have 30 days in which to register. Handicapped men who live at home must register if they are

All registration for classes in Abilene will be held at the Abilene Educational Center, 841 North Judge Ely Blvd.

Students may come by the office of admissions to pick up registration permit during office hours either during the day or at night. This permit will allow the student to register at a pre-set time. Permits will be issued on a first come; first serve basis. You will not be allowed to register without a permit.

It should be noted that first-time entering freshmen are subject to a state

Department Of Public Safety Prepare For New Year's Holiday

The Department of Public Safety said, "It is with eager anticipation that we look forward to the upcoming holiday season. Hoping that 1993 will be the beginning of our economic growth and that we will have financial stability in our future. But, one thing that we must not let grow and get out of hand is the threat of the drunk driver. Our troopers will be out in force this New Year's holiday period and they will be looking for the intoxicated driver. Keeping the drunk driver off the road is not just the responsibility of our law enforcement agencies; but the responsibility of all our citizens."

The fatality and injury accidents that are a direct result of alcohol is down. However, this is still the number one senseless killer on our highways. If you are planning to celebrate this year and alcohol is a must, think about the designated driver program. The fun is at the party but the real enjoyment is knowing that your friends will get home safely and that you will be able to enjoy their friendship. If you are planning to travel our Texas highways this holiday season, make sure you give yourself plenty of time so that you can make rest stops along the way. If you see a driver that appears to be intoxicated or driving dangerously, contact the nearest law enforcement agency. If at all possible get to a phone and call 1-800-525-5555.

had to be recalled, and the U.S. Customs Service alerts CPSC to the arrival of those products.

Charles Branton, director of the TDH Product Safety Program, advised parents, "Adults should play it safe and check any toy for defective material, detachable parts, and age appropriateness. Plain common sense on the part of parent often can prevent tragedy." Branton urged parents who find toys they suspect are defective, dangerous or mislabeled to contact the TDH Product Safety Program at (512) 458-7519.

Parents Beware Of Unsafe Toys

Some new toys, bright and flashy though they may be, were not found under the Christmas tree this year. And some children may be saved from injury and even death because of toy recalls by the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) in cooperation with the Texas Department of Health (TDH).

Throughout the year, CPSC inspects and tests thousands of kinds of toys made in this country as well as overseas, and TDH verifies that the dangerous toys identified by CPSC are taken off the market. Each year, toys that contain hazardous materials such as lead paint are found. Other toys are poorly designed, with small parts that can be detached or broken off and swallowed by young children. Brittle plastic and sharp metal in other toys, and inappropriate labeling for the intended age group, add to the possibility that a child may be hurt or killed.

In 1991, some 163,000 children less than 15 years old were injured by toys in the U.S. And 25 of them died.

The majority of toys recalled as safety hazards each year are imported. American manufacturers adhere more closely to safety regulations than some overseas toy makers. Some foreign manufacturers are known for making toys that have

ROTA Virus Infections

HOUSTON—Influenza is not the only virus parents should watch for. The rotavirus also plays havoc with young children each winter.

It usually hits between November and March, said Dr. Mark A. Gilger, a pediatrician at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston. The rotavirus causes vomiting and diarrhea and is commonly transmitted at day-care centers.

It is the No. 1 cause in infants of viral diarrhea that can lead to dehydration and, in rare cases, death.

Gilger said only about 5 percent of affected children require hospitalization, but all are miserable, with symptoms lasting as long as a week.

The virus is transmitted through the fecal-oral route, Gilger said, so good hand-washing is the best defense.

EXERCISE CAN LESSEN BACK INJURIES

The chance of back injury can be lessened through back and abdominal exercises.

Dr. Martin Grabois of Baylor College of Medicine in Houston suggests:

* Lie on the floor with arms folded across the chest, knees bent. Lift the head and shoulders off the floor toward the knees.

* Sit on the floor with legs stretched, feet far apart. Reach toward the feet as far as possible and slowly return. Do not bounce.

* Lie on the stomach with a pillow under the abdomen. Clasp the hands behind the head while a partner holds down feet and lower back. Lift upper body at the waist and hold.

* Lie on the stomach with arms crossed under the chin while a partner holds down the upper body. Lift both legs.

NEW MOTHERS CONCERNED ABOUT FEEDING

Frequency of feeding is tops on the list of new mothers' concerns.

"Many new moms are surprised at the number of feedings infants seem to need each day," said Dr. Judy Hopkinson of the USDA's Children's Nutrition Research Center at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston. "They think something is wrong."

Hopkinson, who interviewed mothers two to four weeks following childbirth, said, "Perfectly happy, healthy babies, who will settle down later, may nurse 14 times in a 24-hour period for the first two weeks or so."

Bottle-fed babies almost always need to be fed more often than the "textbook" four-hour schedule, she said.

Solid foods also made the mothers' distress list.

Hopkinson said parents should not add cereal to a baby's diet until 4-6 months of age.

ATHLETIC INJURY? TRY RICE

If you suffer an athletic injury, try RICE: rest, ice, compression and elevation.

Dr. Albert C. Hergenroeder of Baylor College of Medicine in Houston recommends:

* Rest—Avoid doing anything that hurts the injured area; however, athletes should become active again as soon as possible, providing it causes no pain.

* Ice—Apply ice to the injured area for 20 minutes each hour for 48-72 hours or until swelling stops.

* Compression—Apply pressure bandages to reduce swelling. Wear the bandage at all times unless the area is blue/purple. In that case, remove the bandage and consult a physician.

* Elevation—Elevate an injured leg or arm to prevent blood from collecting in the injured area.

Tarleton State Univ. Spring Registration

Registration for evening classes for the spring 1993 semester at Tarleton State University will be held Tuesday, January 12 from 6 to 8 p. m. in the Tarleton Center. There are over 100 undergraduate and graduate classes representing nearly every academic department included on the spring night course schedule.

Registration for the evening courses will also be accepted during walk-in registration dates on Tuesday and Wednesday, January 12 and 13, during regular business hours. The special evening registration on January 12 has been set up to accommodate the non-traditional students who may not be able to participate in the phone-in or daytime registration programs.

These evening classes are fully accredited and students interested in enrolling in the night program at Tarleton for the spring semester must be accepted for admission to the University and cleared for registration by the Office of the Registrar.

A special evening college information line has been created for students with questions concerning the night class schedule or admission requirements. That number is 817-968-9125.

RRC Assesses Well Plugging RRC Sets Texas Gas And Pollution Penalties Production Allowables

The Railroad Commission assessed a total of $28,000 in administrative penalties this week to twelve oil and gas operators for violations under Commission well plugging and pollution rules.

Phoenix Oil & Gas, Inc. (A) of Hondo was ordered to pay $1,000 for one inactive and unplugged well on the James lease in Bexar County; Colstar Petroleum Corp. of Fairfax, Va. was assessed $3,000 for one well on the Luke B. Wier Jr. lease in Atascosa County; Pierce Producing, Inc. of Houston was penalized $3,000 for one well on the A. E. Bailey et al lease in Harris County; Kelley Production Company of Freer was ordered to pay $3,000 for one well on the J. F. Welder lease in Duval County; M & W Oil Explorations of Loving was assessed $3,000 for an unplugged well on the State of Texas lease in Eastland County; Outrider Oil Company of Abilene was penalized $3,000 for one well on the Parmely lease in Taylor County; Pocono Production Company of Albany was ordered to pay a total of $4,000 for two inactive and unplugged wells on the Curtis C. Jones lease in Callahan County; and, Texas West Drilling & Dev., Inc. of Breckenridge was assessed $3,000 for one well on the Buffalo Nichols lease in Runtless County.

In addition, C & C Systems, Inc. of Arlington was penalized $2,500 for one unplugged well and for a discharge of oil around the tank battery on the Paul Moss SWD lease in Ector County.

In addition, four operators agreed to pay penalties without admitting any violation of Commission rules. B-G Operating, Inc. of Luling was ordered to pay $1,000 for an unplugged well that was later brought into compliance on the G. Barnett lease in Caldwell County; Zico Energy, Inc. of Dallas was ordered to reimburse the Oilfield Cleanup Fund a total of $500 for four wells plugged with the use of state funds on the Clara Borden lease in Hardin County; and, Nortex Oil & Gas, Inc. of Houston was assessed a total of $1,000 for two inactive and unplugged wells: one on the E. A. Byers lease in Wood County, the other on the C. L. McKinney lease in Anderson County.

The Railroad Commission has assessed $1,439,216 in well plugging and pollution penalties so far in 1992, compared to $733,400 in such penalties levied during the same period last year.

Railroad Commissioners James E. (Jim) Nugent, Bob Krueger and Jim Wallace forecast Texas oil production for January at 1,723,591 barrels per day, based on purchaser nominations, and set gas production allowables for prorated fields in the state to meet market demand of 216,957,736 Mcf (thousand cubic feet).

For prorated gas fields, the January 1993 allowable represents a decrease of 25,965,504 Mcf when compared to actual production of 242,923,240 Mcf in January 1992. In setting the January 1993 allowable, the Commission used historical production figures from January 1992 and producer forecasts for January 1993 demand, then adjusted the figures to account for such factors as well capability, new wells in a field, etc.

Nugent, Krueger, and Wallace also reviewed oil companies' January 1993 nominations to buy a total of 1,723,591 barrels of Texas oil per day. The nomination total, an increase of 2,134 barrels daily when compared to December 1992 purchaser nominations, estimates Texas oil purchases in the coming month. January 1992 nominations totaled 1,774,301 barrels daily. Major purchasers filed these January 1993 nominations from the floor at the hearing: Texaco Trading and Transp. Inc., 110,600 barrels per day, unchanged.

Nugent, Krueger and Wallace reported that crude oil and petroleum products imported into the U.S. averaged 8,814,000 barrels per day for the month of October 1992. This was an increase of 1,347,000 barrels per day from the same period a year ago.

The next statewide oil and gas production allowable hearing will begin at 4:00 p.m., on Wednesday, January 20, 1993, at the Railroad Commission in the William B. Travis Bldg., 1701 N. Congress Avenue, in Austin.

Angel Food Basics

• Beat egg whites in a clean, dry bowl with a clean beater. Any yolk in the whites will prevent them from beating properly. A beaten white should more than triple in volume. Beat on high speed until stiff peaks form but the whites are not dry. Egg whites at room temperature beat to higher volume.

• Place any remaining egg yolks in cold water just enough to cover, and store in the refrigerator two to four days. Drain water before using yolks.

• To fold, cut down through center of egg whites, along bottom and up side of bowl; rotate bowl a quarter turn. Repeat.

• Use a knife to cut through batter and break large air pockets and to seal batter against side of pan and tube.

• Cool cake upside down in pan by placing tube on heatproof funnel or bottle so cake does not touch counter.

Among the baseball celebrities scheduled to appear are Hall of Fame pitcher Ferguson Jenkins from the Texas Rangers, Ranger catcher Geno Petralli, and former Ranger pitchers Jeff Russell and Bobby Witt from the Oakland As and Danny Darwin from the Boston Red Sox.

Rick Rhodes, mayor of Sweetwater, is coordinating the celebrity quail hunt on leases near Sweetwater for native west Texas quail. The guided hunt is limited to the first 30 hunters at a donation of $1,000 each.

Rhodes said plans call for three paid hunters to hunt with a celebrity in groups of four during the weekend.

Also scheduled to appear at the hunt are former Ranger manager

The tentative schedule for the hunt includes sporting clay competition Friday afternoon at Red Bluff Hunting Camp and bird dog hunting with bird dogs Saturday morning and afternoon. Chuck wagon meals will be available for paid hunters, and an awards ceremony is scheduled at Brooks Ranch.

'Dracula' To Show at Majestic

Winona Ryder stars as Mina Murray/Elisabeta in Bram Stoker's "Dracula," a Columbia Pictures release. This horror/romance, originally written by Bram Stoker, was first published in 1897. This latest version is uncommonly true to the source material. It will open at the Majestic in Eastland on Friday, Jan. 1, 7:30 p.m.

Dangerous and disturbing, Dracula is a character who has haunted the literary and dramatic landscape for almost a century. There have been several versions on stage and screen, but the "Bram Stoker's Dracula" coming to the Majestic this weekend is probably the most faithful to the original writing. This Gothic epic was written by Brad Stoker and published in 1897, and has been an enduring novel. "Brad Stoker's Dracula" follows the tortured journey of the seductive Transylvanian prince as he moves from Eastern Europe to 19th Century London.

After centuries alone in his crumbling castle, his taste for humanity has grown bold with desire. Touching that humanity, and having lost his own, is a tale of damnation, horror and romance, re-nunciation and sacrifice. Gary Oldman, who recently portrayed Lee Harvey Oswald in Oliver Stone's JFK, appears as Dracula - whose yearning for human love ultimately proves his undoing. Winona Ryder is the young woman who appears to be the reincarnation of Dracula's lost love. Jonathan Harker, who is forced to fight the dark forces of Dracula for the love of Mina, is played by Keanu Reeves. This Columbia Pictures release is powerful, gripping. It can be seen at the Majestic Friday, Jan. 1 through Monday, Jan. 4 with curtain time at 7:30 each evening. Admission is $3.50 at the box office.

Host Families Needed For Exchange Students

ASSE International Student Exchange Programs (ASSE) is seeking local host families for boys and girls from Scandinavia, France, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Germany, Holland, Great Britain, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Estonia, Switzerland, Mexico, Japan, Canada, Australia and New Zealand, 15 to 18 years of age, coming to this area for the upcoming high school year. These personable and academically select exchange students speak English, are bright, curious and anxious to learn about this country through living as part of a family, attending high school and sharing their own culture and language with their newly adopted host family.

The students are sponsored by ASSE, a non-profit, public benefit organization, affiliated with the Swedish and Finnish Departments of Education. ASSE also cooperates with the Canadian Provincial Ministries of Education and is approved by the Australian and New Zealand Departments of Education. ASSE is the only organization with these credentials.

The exchange students arrive from their home country shortly before school begins and return at the end of the school year. Each ASSE student is fully insured, brings his or her own personal spending money and expects to bear his or her share of household responsibilities, as well as being included in normal family activities and lifestyles.

The students are well screened and qualified by ASSE. Families may select the youngster of their choice from extensive student applications, family photos and biographical essays. Students and families are encouraged to begin corresponding prior to the student's arrival.

ASSE is also seeking local high school students to become ASSE exchange students abroad. Students should be between 15 and 18 years old and interested in living with a host family, attending school and learning about the lands and people of Scandinavia, France, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Germany, Holland, Britain, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Switzerland, Canada, Mexico, Japan, Australia or New Zealand. Students should have a good academic record and desire to experience another culture and language through living with a warm and giving volunteer family. Academic year and shorter term summer vacation programs are available.

Those persons interested in obtaining more information about becoming a host family or becoming an exchange student should contact ASSE's local representative, EULA MIEARS at 817/734-2517 or call 1-800-473-0696.

Poem

A Child

The sweetest voice you may ever hear
Is the voice of a child kneeling in prayer
Seeking Jesus that seems so near
To protect mom and dad they love so dear.
If we had the faith of a child
What mountains we could climb
Each day would be a new experience
That each could seek and find.
There is a special blessing
That comes from Heaven above
It's clothed in joy and happiness
And completed with a mother's love.
So when we count our blessings
Let's just stop and think awhile
The Lord must have been smiling
When He sent to us a little child.

MORAN NEWS

By Mrs. Luke Huskey

Hallmark, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Hawkins and Dean Tollefson of San Antonio spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Tollefson.

The weather continues to be disagreeable in Moran. The days are first warm then cool. Very little moisture has fallen, but the temperature is warm. With weather like this, it did not seem too much like Christmas, with the temperature being warm and the sun shining. Your correspondent wishes that you had a very Merry Christmas and the New Year will be a good one for each of you. If you travel for the New Years weekend, take care, for with a three day weekend, a number of people will be traveling.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hudman visited with Mrs. Viola Dennis, Joy Whitson and Mrs. Amy Smith and family in Carbon last Tuesday.

The annual Carr Christmas dinner was held Sunday, Dec. 27, 1992, at the Moran Community Center. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Carr, Mrs. Hazel Foster, Delores Boles, all of Cisco; Raby J. Carr, Raymond Carr, Peggy Dillingham, Mr. and Mrs. David Brown, Michael Davis, all of Breckenridge; Kippi Brown of Austin; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Wiloth of Moran; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wilhoit of Perrin, Mr. and Doctors at the National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute treated a child with a hereditary disease by inserting new genes into her blood. Though unwilling to announce a complete cure, researchers were certain she was better off after 10 months of treatment.

Administering the drug cyclosporin A along with chemotherapy made the treatment more effective for patients with a type of leukemia usually resistant to chemotherapy, doctors at the Arizona Cancer Center in Tucson found.

Study at Boston University School of Medicine suggests that adequate calcium intake keeps blood pressure lower in children. Next step, say the scientists: learning how to prevent high blood pressure later.

California company has developed a small, portable device to test newborns for hearing impairment quickly and inexpensively. One baby in 300 has a hearing problem, but few are tested, so it may be years before the impairment can be corrected.

ARE YOU PROTECTED?

DON'T BE HALF INSURED

QUESTION: My brother's home was destroyed by fire and his insurance was nowhere near large enough to replace it at current value. Are many homeowners in this predicament?

ANSWER: More than 55 percent of all single family homes do not have sufficient insurance coverage. The average insurance on all homes today is 69 percent of replacement cost.

The major reason is that insurance values are not revised to reflect the increasing cost of replacing homes today. Another common reason for this is the failure to obtain added coverage for additions and improvements. Don't be half insured!

MEDICAL RESEARCH SUPPORTS CHIROPRACTIC

The British Medical Journal reports that Chiropractic treatment of low back pain, which affects 75 million Americans, is superior to the standard regimen administered by medical doctors.

The study, published in the summer of 1990, indicated that chiropractic manipulation can relieve severe back pain quicker and at lower cost than medical treatment. Chiropractic patients experienced less pain and disability and missed fewer days work.

we are committed to not only getting you free of back pain but treating those conditions which cause your pain. Don't delay treatment when help is readily available.

High tech hope for small towns

By ROGER CLAWSON
FITS IN PIECES

Technology's worm has turned. Again.

Progress's parade once boosted the stock of small towns and rural counties. Railroads in their infancy opened the West to settlers, linked Kansas prairies with major grain ports, siphoned tourists into remote resorts and delivered butter churned in Wisconsin to New York City tables.

Then science's blessing turned curse and the machine age maggot gnawed at America's hinterland. Mechanized farming thinned the ranks of hired hands and shrunk the number farmers.

Modern highways body punched small towns, draining Main Street of profit. Small town and rural residents warmed the super slab to trade with major chain stores making billions on volume and cut-throat margins. Yellow school buses followed shoppers to the cities and many small towns lost not only their schools but their identities.

Railroads, after creating thousands of small towns near the turn of the century, began to starve and strand their children. The train that once stopped for two passengers a few letters or 10 gallons of cream, now whistles past with 100 identical cars filled with coal or grain.

Then, just as technology seemed poised to deliver its coup de grace to small town America, the worm turned. Again. America's shift from pig iron to silicon cost the cities their advantage. Computers have made office buildings obsolete. Employees who work with computers -- most of the white collar work force -- need no longer be captives of those warrens filled with warm bodies.

A secretary in an office overlooking Chicago's loop no longer needs access to file cabinets. All the information she needs is at her finger tips. She can deliver work to her boss and take orders without leaving her seat. If she can do all that with a keyboard, the keyboard can be anywhere, even in a different state.

A copy editor at the New York Times could do his job from a cabin the Ozarks.

A draftsman from Los Angeles might work in his Tennessee hometown. Keeping track of a Detroit warehouse's inventory from a farm house in Vermont would be no problem. An accountant for a firm in Atlanta could feed the birds outside his desert home-office in West Texas.

Computers make possible the shift of hundreds of thousands of jobs from crowded and polluted cities to more amenable locations. Today's worker can have his cake and eat it, can enjoy country living and a liveable wage.

The urban-to-rural migration won't be sudden, but it has already begun and will continue. Look for today's managers to resist. The revolution will threaten those who rose to power in an age when status was linked to the number of live bodies under their command.

In the end, major corporations will yield to the inevitable for the same reasons they do most things -- money. The telephone network needed to link scattered employees is cheaper than construction and maintenance of office buildings.

Computerized decentralization means better fishing in the talent pool. Stay-at-home farm wives with college degrees can be hired cheaper than high school grads forced to pay big city rents.

A job that allows a person to live in the Minnesota north woods, beside a Wyoming trout stream or in a small Oregon fishing port is more attractive -- even at a lower salary -- than one that confines the employee to one acre of asphalt jungle.

The symbol of the 21st Century will not be another sky scraper rising from the bedrock of Manhattan but a General Motors executive moving his job to Possum Trot, Tenn. or Ketchum, Idaho.

Or (you fill in the company name), an international corporation, operating from Eastland County, Texas, because the quality of life is better than any other.

Workers' Compensation

Is Workers' Compensation Reform Working?

Workers' compensation is intended to provide compensation for medical costs and lost wages for workers injured on the job. The Texas system is voluntary and employers choosing to participate in the system do so to eliminate their financial exposure in lawsuits for ordinary negligence. However, many companies were forced to drop their coverage during the 1980's due to exorbitant premium increases.

In December 1989, the Texas Workers' Compensation Act was passed. This act was intended to provide stability to the system and slow the accelerating annual rate increases. Even today, Texas businesses continue to face unacceptably high rates and many argue that all the problems with the system have not been worked out. To accurately measure the success of the reforms, however, you really need to put the new law in the context of where we were under the old law.

Where we were
Prior to the 1989 reform legislation, workers' comp rates increased well over 200 percent from 1985 to 1990. These increases caused Texas employers to choose between going out of business or going bare for workers' comp, leaving the employer and his employees unprotected.

Employers were frustrated with a system they saw as irrational, while benefits to injured workers were unfair and inadequate for those with serious, debilitating injuries. The old law fostered controversy and abuse.

Reform brought stability

The new law took effect Jan. 1, 1991, and it is doing its job-lowering costs and getting higher weekly benefits to injured workers more quickly. The system is more understandable, eliminates the old law abuses, and decreases controversy.

Challenges still ahead

Sound good? Unfortunately, there are still threats to our achievements. The constitutional challenge continues through the appeals process and will ultimately be determined by the Texas Supreme Court. This is a continuing threat to stabilization of the Texas comp market: insurance carriers and employers cannot return to the old system with its attendant costs and problems. And, those who opposed the law are building steam for the 1993 Legislature even as you read this.

What's happening in other states?

Other states are experiencing major workers' comp problems and are trying to pass real reform legislation. Unfortunately, most of the other states have not been as successful as Texas. Here are some examples of 1991 rate increases:

- Alabama-18 percent increase in April 1991, and 30 percent in November 1991.

- Oklahoma-22.8 percent increase, followed by a requested increase of more than 43 percent for 1992.

- Arkansas-15 percent increase.

- New Mexico-27.1 percent increase.

WAL-MART DENIES NBC 'DATELINE' ALLEGATIONS

Bentonville, Ark., Dec. 22, 1992 - Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., today described as "inaccurate" and "misleading" allegations made against the company in press releases issued by NBC-TV's "Dateline" program.

David Glass, Wal-Mart President and Chief Executive Officer, said "sensational" allegations made against Wal-Mart by NBC are simply not true.

Among the allegations made was that Wal-Mart imports private label clothes made in factories employing child labor. Wal-Mart maintains that in the 11 months the company has directly imported from Bangladesh, manufacturers have certified that no illegal child labor has ever been used in manufacturing Wal-Mart merchandise. This was confirmed in a recent surprise visit made by a Wal-Mart executive to the same Bangladesh factory referred to in the NBC story. Wal-Mart has video tapes and signed statements from the plant manager in question stating that absolutely no illegal child labor has ever been used to make merchandise for Wal-Mart.

In addition, Wal-Mart unequivocally denies that it has ever engaged in any criminal scheme to transship or smuggle garments from any foreign country or that it has ever been informed that it was the subject of any such criminal investigation.

Regarding the allegation that Wal-Mart was responsible for putting a North Carolina manufacturer out of business, Wal-Mart, in fact, continued to support the troubled plant in an effort to keep it in business. And when the plant finally declared bankruptcy, Wal-Mart was left with unfilled orders. Furthermore, no replacement merchandise from the plant was ever sourced overseas. And the knitting machines from the bankrupt plant were sold to a New Jersey manufacturer and are used to make cardigan sweaters for Wal-Mart which were previously imported.

Finally, in response to the charge that imports have dramatically increased since Wal-Mart instituted its Buy American program in 1985, the company states that during a period of rapidly rising U.S. imports they have kept the ratio of imports at about 6%. That ratio has experienced very little change.

Glass said, "We really apologize to our customers that merchandise in some of our stores has been signed incorrectly as 'Made in U.S.A.' even though labels on each garment were clearly marked as imported items. We have also removed from sale a jacket whose label read, 'Made in Bangladesh' yet shows an American flag. In both of these instances no intention was made to deceive our customers and steps have been taken to prevent a recurrence."

"It's a tragedy that NBC News and some labor unions feel obligated to attack a program aimed at providing jobs for Americans," said Mr. Glass. "We remain more committed than ever to aggressively continue to set the example to all American companies to bring products and jobs home to the U.S.A."

Letter to the Editor

Please renew my subscription to the Rising Star newspaper.

In answer to your inquiry regarding changing the format of the paper, we enjoy the Rising Star Record a lot. I always read the local news first (and would like to see more of it), but I also enjoy reading the county news too. Keep up with what is going on there. I am sure a lot of people who live out of town and try to keep up with the activities of the "oldhometown" agree that news of the surrounding communities makes it a better paper. Thanks.

Virginia McBride
Dallas

I am opposed to combining The Rising Star with other local newspapers to create one county-wide newspaper.

A local newspaper has the luxury of devoting space to local issues, interests and advertisements.

Many of the local news items would not be of interest to readers outside of the immediate local area. It is for this reason that I feel Rising Star and other communities in Eastland County would benefit more from an individual local newspaper.

As a subscriber to The Rising Star for over 70 years, I feel it is one of the best local newspapers I have ever read. Our local editor, Carolyn Ratliff, has helped to develop The Rising Star into a useful, enjoyable and entertaining community source for information and announcements specifically affecting the people of Rising Star. Mrs. Ratliff does an excellent job of personally covering local newsworthy events and capturing them with photographs. Her personal contribution to The Rising Star makes it a first class local newspaper.

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as the result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate.

A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, even before it can be felt.

Guidelines For Screening Mammography Established by the American Cancer Society.

- I. 35-40 years of age - One baseline mammogram.
- II. 40-50 years of age - A mammogram every 1-2 years depending on breast type and risk factor.
- III. 50 years of age and over - An annual physical examination and annual mammogram.
- IV. Asymptomatic women under 50 years of age with significant high risk factors should be examined at appropriate intervals. These risk factors include previous breast cancer and family history of cancer.

V. A symptomatic woman should have a mammogram at any age when she experiences a mass, nipple discharge, skin changes or unexplained breast pain.

A screening mammogram is an x-ray of the breast using extremely low dosages of radiation (usually comparable to dental x-rays) and is designed to find very early cancers.

A female technologist who is highly trained in mammography will perform the examination.

The charge for the screening mammogram is $70.00. The Unit accepts cash, check, Visa, Mastercard and American Express.
