YOU'VE BEEN WORKING FOR GOVERNMENT!

Whom did you work for during the first four months of this year?

You'll say that you worked for yourself, or for some business or other. But, in a very real sense, you worked for government! The nation's total 1953 tax bill will be as much as the wages, rents, interest and dividends received by all of us during the January 1 to April 22 period!

Read that again—and then decide whether economical government and eventual tax reduction are in your personal interest.

CONTROL OF THE PURSE.

According to Steffan Andrews of the North American Newspaper Alliance, Comptroller General Warren said, at a closed door hearing of the House and Senate appropriations sub-committees, that Congress "has lost control of the purse."

He said further that he is appalled by wasteful spending by federal agencies without any authority of any kind from Congress. He then cited several conspicuous examples of flagrant waste, including tremendously luxurious and costly housing and recreational facilities for government personnel stationed abroad.

Congress' top-priority job now must be to get back its control of the purse, and to sternly stop unauthorized spending. The result will be a vast saving to us taxpayers—without impairing a ny worthwhile government undertaking one iota.

DECLARATION OF PRINCIPLE.

The House Appropriations Committee has made a real and dramatic start on the job of cutting waste out of the government—and in stopping the trend toward socialism.

This happened on April 23, when the Interior Department's budget came up for consideration. The committee slashed one-third—$202,473,161—from the figure submitted by President Truman before he left office. Much of this was taken from appropriations for existing and proposed socialism electric-power projects.

The committee also issued a policy declaration, which laid down certain all-important principles. One is that government should enter the power business "only with those functions or activities which private enterprise cannot or will not undertake." Another is that "in all future projects or new starts, which include transmission lines, private enterprise shall be urged to take the initiative in constructing, owning and operating such works before money is made available for federal construction." A third is that in the case of power projects now underway to build, own and operate that part of each project private enterprise should be "taken into partnership that can be handled by private ownership under conditions that protect the interest of all the people."

This stand upholds the principle that government has no business to spend our tax money on any power project so long as private enterprise is willing and able to do the job. The willingness and ability of private enterprise is beyond argument—it can handle the biggest and costliest undertakings in stride. Every taxpayer and every believer in freedom should applaud the committee's action and declaration of principle.

COURAGE AND WISDOM.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson believes that farming should be part of the free enterprise system and that government aid should be used only as an emergency measure.

Some people seem to think that this attitude will lead to political death for Mr. Benson. But a recent piece by columnist Holmes Alexander takes a different and much happier view. He interviewed the Secretary just after his return from a speaking tour and wrote: "Overflow crowds had applauded his calls to freedom. Hundreds of persons had shaken his hand and wished his efforts well. Benson's mail runs 15 to 1 in favorable responses. The serious-minded economists whom he's brought into the department can find for you statistical proof that the secretary's judgment about farm people is correct."

It looks as if more and more farmers are realizing that government should not and cannot be a source of endless largesse. And certain important segments of agriculture, it is a pleasure to report, want no part of either bureaucratic domination or coddling. The beef producers are a fine example of this. The biggest recent price breaks have taken place in beef. Some cattle raisers and feeders have been hit with very heavy cash losses. But the beef people have not run to Washington or snowed their Congressmen under with demands for government relief. Their attitude has been quite the contrary—spokesmen for major producers organizations have made it crystal clear that they prefer to take their chances in the free market.

Secretary Benson is showing both courage and wisdom. And he is getting a great deal of thoroughly earned backing.

"For the first time in years, there exists a real opportunity for more philosophy of the business executive to be applied in the operations and policies of our government . . . to achieve and hold this business viewpoint in government will not be an easy matter."—Harold F. Hammond.

"As It Looks From Here"

OMAR BURLESON
Congressman
17th District

The Foreign Affairs Committee, of which I am a member, has been holding hearings the past week in connection with military preparedness in this country and nations of the Free World who are our allies.

Testifying before the Committee have been Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, director of Mutual Security Harold Stassen, Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson, Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey, and General Omar Bradley, chairman, Joint Chiefs of Staff. These hearings will continue for several weeks to come.

Most of these officials have returned from travels in various parts of the world to acquaint themselves with the present situation. Generally, their testimony is very much the same as that heard in previous years. It adds up to the opinion that we continue to live in dangerous times, that Russian Communism is on the march wherever there is weakness, and that the objective for world domination as announced by Marx, Lenin, and Stalin has not diminished.

All this, taken in connection with world trade, creates a picture which should be a concern to every person in the United States. It is like playing a game when the opponent has the ball, has his own signals and knows ours also. In other words, the Russians have had the initiative and been on the offensive since World War 2. We have been continuously on the defensive. The Eisenhower Administration has promised the nation that we would wrest the offensive from the Russians in the "cold war" but it is not easily done as long as there is a "hot war" in Korea. It is not going to be easy under the most favorable circumstances are made as difficult as possible.

We in this country usually think of ourselves as being self-sufficient but look at these figures.

We occupy 1/19th of the world's land area. We have a population of 158 million people. The Russians today have almost one-half of the nation's population estimated at two billion people under their control.

Our deficiencies go much farther than this. The scientists tell us that there are actually only 15 basic minerals in the world, and we are woefully lacking nine of them. We have plenty of oil, coal, iron ore, sulphur, phosphate rock, and potash, but to build a Sherman tank, we must import from foreign countries 99% of chromium, and 1915 pounds go into the building of the tank. It requires 950 pounds of manganese for each tank, and 92% of it must be imported. We import 92% of all nickel, and each tank requires 520 pounds. In each tank goes 107 pounds of tin, of which 78% must be imported. Bauxite is raw aluminum, and each tank requires 6512 pounds; we import 65% of all we use.

Likewise, copper is a requirement and we have half the amount. All industrial diamonds, not to mention uranium, which makes atomic bombs, must come from Deep Africa.

We could do without coffee and cigarettes, and the ladies could even do without cosmetics, of which 96% of the ingredients are imported, but I would hate to think we would have to do without a tank, an airplane, a ship, or a gun with which to defend ourselves.

These figures show that without imports from all over the world we could only produce 25% of the requirements for National Defense.

So we are not a self-sufficient nation by any means. Even if the defense of our nation against military aggression was not necessary, we could not maintain our standard of living without foreign imports. It requires 14 pounds of manganese to make one ton of steel. Of every 100 pounds of manganese used, 92 pounds must come from outside this country. Without steel, there would be no automobiles, no large buildings, no bridges, no railroads, and no oil wells.

We're living in a rather small world and in a sad world, because we must think in terms of defending ourselves against a power which has threatened to destroy us. By necessity we must have a global view and cannot say as did Browning, "God's in His heaven; All's right with the world."

Mrs. R. T. Jaynes was pleasantly surprised on Mother's Day when she answered the telephone and heard her son, Weldon's voice from Tacoma, Wash. She also spoke with his wife and the children.

Big leaves and bunched together like pineapples. In addition to growing a garden his milk goat gave birth to twins—both billies. Can't milk 'em said Arvin but they shore make good eats.

Flower Arrangements—Barefield Florist.

County Home Demonstration agent, Miss Mildred Daniels, gave the Pioneer H. D. Club members a very interesting and enlightening program on "Vegetable Insect Control", May 15th in the home of Mrs. Henry McCoy. Extension service slides were used to show the garden pests we have to contend with in our locality. By actually seeing the insects in color and the variety of plants on which they subsist, makes it easier to recognize them and remember which insecticide to use in the control of each pest.

Miss Daniels demonstrated types of equipment to use and how and when to apply the different insecticides for pest control.

She also gave an enlightening talk on "Eating a Good Breakfast." The round table discussion was interesting and I think we all profited by it.

On account of the wonderful rain which fell in our locality, only four members, Mmes. Dick Brown, J. W. Foster, S. O. Skinner and Bart Brown were present beside the hostess and Miss Daniels.

Our regular meeting was held at the club house May 20. —Sub. Reporter

WEDDING SHOWER FOR SAMMIE HARRIS IN HICKMAN HOME

The beautiful and spacious ranch home of Mrs. B. B. Hickman, was the scene of a lovely wedding shower party last Saturday from 4 to 6 p.m. honoring Miss Sammie Lee Harrie, bride-elect of Jimmy Turner of Kermit.

The receiving suite was beautifully decorated in spring flowers carrying out the color scheme of red and pink. The dining table was beautifully laid with a lace cloth crystal and silver. A huge bowl of red roses and pink larkspur centered the table flanked by tall red cathedral candles.

Miss Mary Ira Jackson presided at the guest book. The desk also carried out the color scheme with a red planter lamp filled with red verberna.

The house party was made up of high school girls all beautifully gowned in gay formals. The honoree wore a short red formal, silver sandals and a corsage of pink carnations centered with red.

The girls, Misses Mary Ida Jackson, Harriet Spenny, Carolyn Grimes, Dorothy Murdock, Bobbie Murphy, Verilla Roberts and Vera Beth Crisp, directed the guests to the room where 200 lovely gifts were on exhibit.

Miss Harriet Spenny presided at the crystal punch bowl and served strawberry punch with the ice frozen heartshape.

Miss Carolyn Grimes served the cake and candy wedding bells made in colors of red and pink.

Around 70 guests called during the afternoon and many sent gifts, all lovely and useful. These gifts were tokens of the high esteem this young lady is held in her home community and surrounding communities.

Miss Harris is a sweet girl graduate of Rising Star high school this year. The wedding will take place May 30.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Hickman were Mesdames J. R. Bucy, Ben H. Bradley, O. R. Shults, R. L. Little, Jack Agnew and Misses Barbara Smith and Martha Childress.

Toasted Corn Bread Tops Chicken a la King Taste

Just how the name "King" came to be associated with this popular luncheon, dinner or supper dish is a matter that usually brings forth a little discussion.

Some claim that Chicken a la King was named for a Philadelphia restaurant owner who dreamed up the dish late one evening, years ago, when his supply of chicken was low and a late-evening crowd ordered chicken. Others believe it was so named because it is fast fit for a king.

Whatever its rightful origin may be, you can't beat Chicken a la King for goodness when it is served on toasted corn bread. Corn bread possesses a rich flavor that's naturally sociable with the tasty creamed chicken or turkey. A strong point in favor of this combination is that the toasted corn bread will not go limp when it's covered with the hot mixture.

Toasted corn bread makes the perfect base for the King method of using the strippings taken from the left over carcass of a holiday bird, whether it's turkey or chicken.

CHICKEN a la KING ON TOASTED CORN BREAD

1/4 cup green pepper, chopped
1/2 tablespoon onion
1/4 cup butter or margarine.
3/4 cup flour
1 cup chicken stock
1 cup cream
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon white pepper

2 tablespoons pimiento, cut
3 cups diced cooked chicken or turkey
2 egg yolks, well beaten
1/2 cup chicken or turkey stock, cold
Toasted corn bread (recipe below)
Brown green pepper and onion lightly in butter or margarine. Blend in the flour. Add stock and cream and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add salt, pepper, pimiento, and chicken, and cook, covered, 20 minutes in top of double boiler. Just before serving, stir in the well-beaten egg yolks mixed with the 1/2 cup stock. Serve on squares of corn bread which have been split and toasted in toaster or broiler. Yield: 6 servings.

CORN BREAD

1 1/4 cups corn meal
3/4 cup sifted flour
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
3 teaspoons baking powder
2 eggs, beaten slightly
1 1/4 cups milk
1/4 cup melted butter or margarine.

(If self-rising corn meal and flour are used, omit salt and baking powder.)

Mix and sift the dry ingredients together. Combine beaten egg, milk, and melted butter or margarine which has been cooled. Pour liquids over dry ingredients, mixing only until moistened. Pour into a well-greased 8- or 9-inch square pan and bake in a 400° F. oven until it shrinks from the sides of the pan, about 20 to 25 minutes.

MERCHANT AT HEART, BUT OIL MAN BY CHOICE

Late Monday afternoon a man by the name of Tom Bryant dropped in for a visit with the editor and to leave a classified advertisement about a nine room house for sale. It was our first experience in meeting this very affable gentleman who hails from Cross Plains. While it would be impossible to write much of a story in the time we are taking on this, yet we believe volumes could be written about a man who burned down an insurance office, offered the City of Rising Star $500 to put his name on the water tower and bought out a newspaper at Cross Plains because he did not like the editor. All this in just a few short years.

Bryant is an oil man—has had a wonderful experience over the years, was in Ranger about the time the McClesky well came in. This man, tall and erect, pleasant to talk to, has never met a stranger. We would bet our last dollar that if this editor were 40 years younger and had met Tom Bryant, we would try to hook him on some sort of partnership deal in a newspaper—Tom would sell the advertising (as he sold 32 pages on the Cross Plains paper years ago) and we would do the work. Wish we had more time and space. This is to invite Mr. and Mrs. Bryant to move to Rising Star—we would love them a lot more over here than our neighbors do over the way?

Come again, Mr. Bryant.

BLACK AS NIGHT LAST FRIDAY JUST BEFORE NOON

Chickens going to roost, lights turned on all over town and people gathering in the doors wondering what in the world was going to happen. It was so dark the automatic street lights came on at one time. Naturally a bit "shaky" since the tornadoes at San Angelo and Waco, our people were watching for any sign of a bad cloud—but none showed up at this writing—11:40 Friday morning, May 15. One or two old timers came by the Record office and when asked when they had seen such a black out said many, many years. No damage reported at this time. Rainfall must have been about an inch in ten minutes. Showers of Blessing sent from Heaven—we are all so thankful for the much needed rains.

Farm Bureau Directors Hold Conference May 14

Eleven directors of Eastland county farm bureau, including A. Z. Myrick of Cisco, president of the local group, met Thursday night, May 14th, in the Christian church annex at Eastland for the regular directors conference.

A round table discussion, led by members who attended the recent AAA conference in Abilene, helped to clarify to the others present, the importance of being alert to the possible changes of price controls, crop allotments and acreage controls and being able to come up with resolutions that will be favorable to future American agriculture.

This year's study of pending charges will enable farmers to take important action in next year's referendum was Myrick's conclusive observation.

Other directors who attended were Mitchell Campbell, Earnest Weaver and Ed Harrison of Gorman; J. C. Coates, G. T. Dawkins and Lee Starr of Cisco; B. B. Freeman, John Love and Mrs. Bill Tucker of Cheaney; Ray Norris of Eastland.

Ms. John Love, service agent, Mrs. Dawkins and Mrs. Myrick accompanied their husbands to the meeting.

A committee composed of Mrs. J. C. Coates, Mrs. Ray Bullock of Cisco; Mrs. Bill Clinton of Seranton; Mrs. Floyd Eison of Gorman and Mrs. Bill Tucker were appointed to take charge of the queen's contest, which has been tentatively set August 29th.

Communities are asked to get their nominee named as soon as possible so that plans can be completed.

In the Scranton community it was reported a number of windows in the school were broken. At Cross Plains and beyond on the Brownwood hiways several trees were blown down. Heavy rains in that section.

Several communities reported light hail.

BOY, 13, KILLS HUGE RATTLESNAKE WITH ROCK

Scotty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Elliott, and James McDonald were picnicing in a pasture when they discovered a huge rattlesnake coiled and rattling.

Scotty hit him in the body with a rock and then grabbed a big flat rock and slammed it down on the snake's head and jumped up and down on it until the snake with 11 rattlers and a button was quite dead. He then wrapped the snake in a sack and brought it home for proof of his snake story.

PEANUT PETE PREDICTS IRRIGATION IS COMING FOR ALL THIS SECTION

Peanut Pete, a native of Comanche county, living over on the Leon river states that irrigation in his area is looking a bit under the weather at this time—but says this noted philosopher "you mark my words those fellers who is dun put in irrigation is a lot smarter than a lot us guys who is dun been depending on rain makers." "I fer one thinks this whole country and especially around "Twinkle City" believes in another five years we will see lots more of them systems than what we is got now." While in town Pete paid the Record office a pleasant visit. We hvae asked Pete to drop us a line now and then but he scratched his head and said "Let's wait and see what happens in peddicks before we start writin again for the papers."

CARD OF THANKS

It gives me great pleasure and happiness to express for the senior class and myself our sincere appreciation for the manner in which the merchants of our community congratulated the seniors in the edition of the Rising Star Record last week. It is only through this type of cooperation that a successful school community program can be carried on. Certainly our community should feel pride in the loyal support that is given to our educational program.

May we use your congratulations as only stepping stones to higher keys of learning.

One hundred and thirty eight turkeys died in a few hours time was the report of Roger Taylor Sidney last Saturday when the birds drank buttermilk from a bucket saved from the noon meal. The Taylor family had drunk freely of the milk and saved what was left for the turkeys. Every turkey that drank the milk died according to the report. This is the first time in the history of the turkey business anyone has ever reported a loss of this kind.

it's the Law

Homeowner's Liability Explained

Can a homeowner be held responsible for accidents that happen to other people while they are on his property? Lawyers say it is difficult to state a hard and fast rule about liability for such accidents because the facts differ so much from case to case. However, some conclusions can be drawn by noting how the courts have decided in specific cases which have been brought before them.

A postman delivering mail slipped on a child's roller skate one morning. He sued the homeowner for damages. The court held that the delivery of mail is for the benefit of the homeowner and that he must take care to remove any conditions on his property which would make delivery of the mail dangerous.

Then there was the case of the meter-reader who slipped and fell on the basement steps and the courts held the owner responsible because the steps were defective.

On the other hand, a guest sued her host because she slipped and fell when she stepped on some beans strewn about the owner's living room. The host's children had been playing with bean-shooters on the day she chose to visit. The court held in this case that the host was not liable for her injury.

Similar cases where social calls resulted in disaster involved a guest slipping on a small scatter rug, and another overnight guest who slipped and fell in a shower. Both cases were decided in favor of the homeowners—not the visitors.

From these cases it may be seen that the law is usually more strict about accidents befalling tradesmen and others who enter your premises in the line of duty, so to speak—postmen, laundrymen, meter-readers, delivery boys and the like—than it is in the cases of those who enter your home for purely social reasons.

This does not mean that a homeowner is absolved of all responsibility for injury to his guests. If he knows a dangerous condition exists, he has a duty to correct it and can be held liable for accidents which might happen if he doesn't. For example, a rotted tree branch fell to the sidewalk, injuring a passerby. The general rule here is that the owner was responsible because he knew of the defective condition and should have remedied it.

Fortunately, not everyone who falls down the front steps gets up and rushes off to sue his host. However, a substantial body of law has grown out of this type of negligence case. This is not surprising when you realize that more fatal accidents occur in and around that home each year than from traffic accidents on the highways.

(This column, based on state and federal law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Letters to Editor

Dear Editors:

I have had to rush to get these reports to you for today's mail, as I attended council in Comanche yesterday and didn't have time.

Mr. Jenkins spoke of your kind offer for a special write-up for our work and know they were late getting some of the information to you, so just decided to send this in and you could use it in connection with that separately or any way you see fit, as I know you both will make it interesting, as your paper is full of interest every week and I don't miss any part of it, and we certainly do appreciate the publicity for our clubs and community and hope you are among the visitors often at any meeting we have.

Sincerely yours,
Dulah Taylor

Mrs. Carl Richardson and her mother, Mrs. Dean of Terminal are visiting Mrs. Walter Hill and family and Miss Eva Richardson this week.
