Remarks in this column last week concerning the designation of Dan Blocker, star of the TV Bonanza series, as Texan of the Year by the Texas Press Ass'n, brings information that a Rising Star man was a schoolmate of the huge Texan. Capt. Ben Eakin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Eakin attended Sul Ross at the time Blocker was a student at the Alpine institution.

As a student Blocker was a likeable person and had many friends, the Air Force captain said. His appearances on TV are as natural as his normal everyday action, Eaker said.

It is commendable. Anyone who can live and work in the atmosphere of a TV studio and keep sensible and sweet, is certainly entitled to a medal. From the little experience I have had in those precincts of unreality and make-believe, I judge it a feat of mind and spirit just to remain human.

Those people live in another world. They don't have to go to the moon. Most of them are already there.

But I am sure there are all sorts of people in TV just as there are differing personalities in almost any profession or walk of life you can name. And you can be pretty sure that those who are able to live and work in that cloudland of fancy and still keep a toe or two on the good soil of Mother Earth are those who get to the top and stay there the longest in that highly uncertain calling.

No doubt Blocker is one of these.

Some years ago, during the drouth, folks were saying that the earth was warming up. There was a suspicion they were a little bit scared as if they would be thinking of that dire prophecy which concerns the ultimate fate of sinners and their element and wondering if there was some truth in after all. I remember a New Yorker remarking on the gradual warming trend that seemed to be taking place and, by inference at least, yearning for the good old days of snowdrifts that a giraffe couldn't see over, as if he might feel safer in that case.

We had winters when I was a boy," he said. "This generation doesn't know what cold is. It was nothing for the temperature to drop below zero and stay there for weeks. Snow piled in drifts higher than your head and stayed on the ground all winter. We had real winter in those days."

Well, if he is still around he ought to be feeling pretty comfortable right now. I don't believe I've ever lived through a cold spell as prolonged, severe and as downright repetitious as this January we have been enjoying. I've had plenty. I'd welcome that 100-degree heat we complained about last summer even if I should have to smell a little sulphur along with it.

Speaking of cold weather, reminds of a yarn Lee Hughes was spinning at the Lions Club a while back. There was this Texan who went to Wyoming to work in the oil fields, not knowing what he was getting into. He went out on tower, and there came one of those perpetual blizzards which infest that land, and he stayed on that rig for a month or more, said Lee. When it thawed enough for him to get out of there he still had icicles on his car when he got to Texas. That's the way I heard it.

Miss Jay Childress, who teaches in Lakeview schools near San Angelo, spent the week-end with her father, H. S. Childress, here. She was accompanied by Mrs. Ray Smith, who visited relatives in Rising Star.

Mrs. Lula Hammons of Knox City, visited her sister, Mrs. M. S. Sellers, here this week.

Curry Denied Bail; 91st Court Will Hear Appeal

EASTLAND — A hearing on the appeal of Nathan Curry from a ruling of Justice of the Peace Wells Dalton denying him bail in a charge of murder, has been set for 10 a. m. Friday in 91st district court at Eastland. Justice Dalton held, in effect, that the seriousness of the crime charged was such that the teenage Ciscoan was not entitled to bail. The youth is charged with murder with malice in the 1951 stabbing of Mrs. Florence Hussey, secretary of the First Baptist Church of Cisco, at her home. The slaying occurred before Curry was 17. Until last week when a ruling of 80th district court at Odessa released him, he had been confined as a juvenile at State School for Boys at Gatesville. He has now passed his 17th birthday.

Sunday a charge of murder was filed against the youth at Eastland. The complaint was signed by Sheriff Lee Horn.

The youth was returned to the county from a hospital at Andrews by his father, Pete Curry, a Cisco groceryman. He had been under treatment at the hospital for a severe case of influenza, his attorney, John J. Watts, Odessa, said. The attorney represented the youth at the Eastland hearing.

Foundation Poured For Nursing Home

Foundations have been poured and construction was under way this week on the new nursing home being built here for elderly clients by the Golden Heritage, Inc., of Dallas.

The home, of masonry construction, is being built on a tract out of the northeast corner of the City Park, donated for the purpose by the City.

Brucellosis Infection In Eastland County Among Lightest In State, Tests Show

Out of 11,927 cows in Eastland County tested for Brucellosis to date, only 23 out of 20 herds have shown a positive reaction, according to information from Jim Ellis, crew chief of the Brucellosis testing laboratory. The cows were in 661 herds.

Oscar Schaefer said that the figure represents, as best can be estimated, about one-half of the cow population in the county. The results so far show the county to be one of lowest in percentage of infection in the state.

Meanwhile, he said, the screw-worm finance drive is lagging in the county as it has been over the state as a whole. Mr. Schaefer, who is acting chairman of the campaign for this county, said this condition is largely due to failure to push the drive. But it is threatening the eradication program, which still requires about one million dollars to be adequately financed.

Eastland County, with a quota of $12,000, so far has contributed only about $4,500.

A meeting to spur the finance campaign in the county has been set for 7 p. m. Thursday, Jan. 31 in the former 88th district courtroom at Eastland. At this meeting the county will be reorganized with local chairmen named for each of five districts. The county has been formed into five such districts because there are five banking communities in each of which in Rising Star, the local treasurer to receive and hold the money for the benefit of the campaign.

Charles R. Tyler, vice-president of the First State Bank in Rising Star, is the local treasurer.

STRICTLY FRESH

It's strange the way most of us never make as much money as we know we're worth.

A college education never hurt anyone who was willing to learn something afterward.

A mother's patience is like a tube of tooth paste—it's never quite all gone.

You're getting pretty old when you can remember when you couldn't buy phonograph records at the grocery store.

CARE OF MEAT

Meat is best when cooked as soon as possible after purchase. If it is necessary to keep the meat for several days before cooking, here are some points to remember:

Meat is perishable and must be stored in the refrigerator immediately upon your return from the store. Keep it in the fresh food compartment or meat compartment of the refrigerator.

Pre-packaged cured or smoked meats and different kinds of sausage may remain in the original wrapper. Pre-packaged fresh meats should have the wrapper loosened before placing in the refrigerator.

Fresh meats wrapped in market paper should be unwrapped and covered loosely in the original wrapping, in waxed paper or in aluminum foil to allow circulation of air. Then store in the refrigerator.

If small cuts must be kept more than 2 or 3 days before cooking, it's best to freeze them. Separate chops, steaks and ground meat patties with freezer paper. Wrap meat to be frozen in moisture-vapor-proof paper.

COLORS WITH LONGER LIFE

A new printing process for vat dyes has opened up a whole frontier of colorfast cottons for the alert homemaker who looks for colors that will be long-lived and vibrant.

The key to the new process is "Savalux", so look for this word on fabrics tags and labels.

In Savalux fast colors, designers have found a broad palette of honest colors which can be counted on to meet the highest standards of colorfastness.

Fabric customers are demanding an ever wider choice of colors in cottons in today's world of color — and they are seeking colorfast qualities. To assure customers that they can buy these cotton fabrics with confidence that the colors are truly fast, Savalux colors must pass the most rigorous laboratory tests for fastness in four areas: Sunfastness, Washfastness, dry cleaning fastness and rub-off fastness.

The Savalux fast colors are available only to mills that agree to dye and print with them in ways that will achieve specified fastness standards. Mills also must submit finished fabrics for critical testing by technicians.

Mr. and Mrs. York Eberhart and daughter, Gwen, dropped in for a piece of the birthday cake and coffee later in the evening.

UNDERGOES SURGERY
Mrs. Tommy Holden, who has undergone surgery at Medical Center Hospital, Tyler, has improved and hopes to be released in a few days. She expects to spend some time in her son's home there before returning to Rising Star.

WHAT IS FREEDOM

Freedom in the United States means being able to worship in the church of our choice; freedom means we can read what "really happened in the newspaper. It means we can criticize the government without fear of censure from our officials. Freedom is little things like being able to listen to a satirical record, "The First Family," which pokes fun at our top official. Freedom is that for which our fathers fought and died. Freedom is all this and more — it is being able to live life to the fullest.

When we think of the freedom that we have in the United States, we think of an absence of constraint. We often hear someone say, "This is a free country, and I can do as I please. That a person can be completely at liberty is a fallacy; while a person is guaranteed certain freedoms, all of the other people around him are also guaranteed the same freedoms; therefore, a person does not have the liberty to encroach upon others rights. Our freedom is relative, not complete — relative to the other persons freedoms. We have freedom of the press, but it is unlawful to print untruths. We have freedom of speech, but we can not slander anyone.

We must remember that the freedom that we experience every day in the United States does not exist in all of the world. There are two opposing forces in the world today — democracy with its Statue of Liberty and communism with its Berlin wall. Freedom means different things in Russia. It means being able to vote for the candidate of your choice; but, of course, there is only one name on the ballot. It means being able to criticize the government if you particularly like Siberia. We must remember this difference and be on guard, armed with knowledge of our foe, lest we lose the freedoms for which our fathers died.

NOT FINISHED, JUST BEGUN

Hi there,
 The thing of most importance in the minds of the Seniors at the present time is our Senior Play, which is to be given one week from tonight. Everyones working hard to get it ready.

Whos Who honors have been chosen and pictures were taken yesterday. These honors in the Senior class went to Don Donham and Kay Lewis; they are chosen according to the highest average in each subject.

The Seniors are being kept busy in their classes — what with writing one theme a week in English grammar, one unit a week in Typing, one test a week in Civics, and a few odd details thrown in between.

The Seniors want to welcome a new member to their class. Bunky Gunnels is now attending school here after moving from Perryington. Welcome to R.S.H.S., Bunky.

Here are a few of the details concerning the Seniors:
 Bunky especially likes RSHSs basketball games; he never has a bit of trouble at any of them.

Richard isn't really trying to change your methods of teaching, Mrs. C., he just likes to make suggestions.

Missive, to Ronald, is what happens when you go on by.

Kenneth is thinking about compiling a new dictionary. There's just one thing wrong — he would never find a publisher.

Oh, yes, welcome back, Covie. Were glad to see that you triumphed over the mumps.

That's it for this time.

—Bye for now,
 Katy
 P.S. Saturday night is Cynthias favorite viewing night — not TV, either.

WHY I AM PLANNING TO GO TO COLLEGE

In the world of today and the world of tomorrow a college education plays a very important part. The number of jobs requiring college graduates is increasing rapidly. Statistics show that the employee who has a college degree earns three or four times as much money as the employee who does not have a degree.

A college education can be very beneficial to everyone in his occupation. Whatever a persons goal in life may be, a college education will help him reach that goal and be successful. For example, the farmer who has gone to college and studied agriculture can produce more from his land than one who relies on his common sense or what his father has taught him.

I know a college education will help me in any field I choose. I want to go to college, major and become a teacher. If I should marry and decide to give up teaching to devote all my time to my husband and family, my education would enable me to be a better wife and mother. I believe this because college teaches on so many things besides the particular subjects he is taking. It teaches him how to get along with others and with himself. In college he learns that he is an individual and does not have to be dependent upon anyone.

These are some of the reasons why I hope so much to go to college. It will require a great deal of hard work to get a good education, but I think every struggle will be well worth my time.

"KNOWLEDGE COMES, BUT WISDOM LINGERS"

Hi, there! Welcome back to another weekly report on the Sophomores. We are still doing great things, of course, and a few not so great things; however, we are working to make the latter great also.

Our Speech Class has selected the characters for our serious play. They are: John Gerhardt, Linda Burkhalter, Robin Reeves, Sharon Stewart, Garry Duggan, Jeanette Smith, Frazier Clark, and Charlene Vermillion.

We have also selected a comedy to accompany the first; we are working on both of these to have them ready sometime in March. Speaking of plays, we are all anxiously awaiting the Seniors play. Everyone should attend to see how Rising Stars "young citizens can perform."

We are sorry to say that we have lost one of our finest Sophomores, Jan Shults, who has been a very good student as well as a fine friend to us all, has moved to Abilene. Since she came to R.S.H.S. from Cross Plains last year, she has built up an excellent name for herself.

She played in the Wildcat Band both years, being a major-ette this year; she participated in basketball both years; she has also maintained high averages in all of her courses. Jan was a wholesome, all-around girl; we really hated to lose her. Good luck to her, wherever she may go!

Donnie F. has taken up a new hobby — writing letters. The only thing wrong is that he does not sign his own name.

John has changed his name again; he just cant make up his mind. He thinks he has finally decided to use "Something."

Terry has become such an agreeable person. "I don't care," and "It's up to you." Surely doesnt sound like Terry, does it?

James came to school just furious; the milkman ran over his bicycle!

We are happy to see Linda Duggan back in her place here at R.S.H.S. She has been sick for about two and a half weeks; she really had a battle but is back on her feet again. Its great to have you back, Linda! This seems to be all the harm I can do for this week.

 Charlene

"LIVE AND LEARN"

The freshmen are down to some good hard study before our next tests.

The Biology students are studying the transportation (?). We are also observing the reactions of fellow students under 33 degree weather in the Biology rooms. We are blowing up stoves, right, Mr. Gray?

In Algebra I, we are in the unit "Special Products and Factoring. It is easier than graphing but even some of our more intelligent students are having trouble adding fractions.

The Ag. I. boys are studying "Soil Conservation. Bobby, you must learn to conserve all the soil you can!

In English I we are studying nouns and pronouns.

Last week we got the returns from our Aptitude Tests. Some of us found out what we are going to be.

Kenny is going to be a nurse. Brenda is going to be an organic chemist.

Julie is going to be a machinist.

Until next week — Marcia

"UPWARD AND ONWARD"

February is here already; the time certainly is flying along. Spring will be here before long but with this weather changing its hard to believe.

We are selling chances again on a box of Valentine candy. So all of you boys who have a sweetheart take a chance and "maybe save some money."

Boy, all the chemistry students are just tickled green that Mr. Gray has assigned research themes. We do have two months, if thats a consolation.

The school is planning another "Career Day and Dress-Up Day combined. Last year it was very enjoyable and I am sure it will be again.

J.R. Whom did you call one day at dinner? By the way, readers, did you know Jimmy looks like a farmer but is really a lover — so he says!

R.L. Is back to tearing things up — sentences in English.

P.B.s all smiles again! Rober, we surely are glad we arent losing you.

L.H. is very lonesome and Rising Star.

smiles several days a week. H.C. You could stop this if youd come more often??

Mrs. Nowlin — Pray tell — why do you always carry a wrench in your purse?

"TOWARD NEW HORIZONS"

The name of our goal in F.H.A. this year is "You and Your Values. Last week Mrs. Nowlin read the Freshmen a story. "The Voice of Room 102 really made us think about our goals. We truly realize the importance of F.H.A. and we hope our program will be very successful.

The Juniors have been studying equipment for the home. The Sophomores have started their foods lab by studying yeast bread.

The Freshmen are studying colors and those that are the most becoming to each of us; also, we are picking out material and patterns so that we can start sewing. We will compose a notebook on color this six weeks.

Until next week.

CHURCHES SOCIETY AND CLUB'S

MRS. FRED ROBERDS

MRS. FORREST McDONALD

Becky Lyon and Forrest McDonald Exchange Vows at Church of Christ

Rebecca (Becky) Ann Lyon became the bride of Forrest Eugene McDonald, Thursday, Jan. 24 at 2 p. m. in the Church of Christ. The father of the groom, Herschel McDonald, read the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe M. Lyon of Lusaka, N. Rhodesia, Africa. Mr. and Mrs. McDonald are of Rising Star where Mr. McDonald is minister of the local church. Given in marriage by her grandfather, Wayne Earl Young of Colton, Calif., the bride wore a gown of antique white tulle lace over bridal satin and tulle sent from Africa by her mother. The bodice neckline featured an accent of fabric roses with pearl centers, repeated the front of the skirt. A bustle fed, enhanced by the fabric flowers, was formed at the fitted back waistline and fell into a chapel train.

The bride's shoulder-length veil, designed with embroidered edging, was held by a fabric rose headdress. Her bouquet was a white orchid surrounded by white carnations and mounted on a white Bible belonging to the bridegroom. The bride's jewelry was a pearl necklace, gift of her aunt, Mrs. Lela Lyon of Denver, Colo.

Betty Ewing of Bulawayo, S. Rhodesia, Africa, student at Abilene Christian College, was maid of honor, and Sandy Trussell of Clyde was bridesmaid. Attendants wore dresses of lavender wool fashioned with cowl necklines, gathered skirts and tie belts. They wore matching pillboxes and carried long stemmed white carnations on white Bibles.

Henry Ring of De Leon was best man and Skipper Ezzell and Kenneth Nunnally ushered wedding guests.

The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Bailey.

For a wedding trip to San Antonio, the bride selected a suit in red wool.

The bride, who attended Rose High School for Girls in Lusaka, N. Rhodesia, is a former student of George Pepperdine College. She is a junior student at ACC where she is a member of the Choralaires and a Cappella choir.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Cross Plains High School, is also a junior at ACC. He is a member of the ACC Big Purple Band and the Mens Glee Club.

The bride is employed by the public relations office at ACC and the bridegroom is an employee of Mead's Bakery.

The couple are at home at 316 NE 18th, Abilene.

Former Rising Star Girl Marries May Man

The bride attended ward school in Rising Star and was valedictorian of her class when she graduated. She is a graduate of Brownwood High School and attended Howard Payne College for two years.

Mrs. Ida Montgomery has returned from a six weeks visit with her children and sisters in Hobbs and Jal, N. Mex., and in Odessa, Imperial and Kermit.

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

By Omar Burleson, M. C. 17th

WASHINGTON, D. C. — IN MANY WORKS OF Ralph Waldo Emerson is reflected his concern with people, as opposed to a concern with simply material things.

IF MR. EMERSON WERE WRITING in the present day, we might wonder what he would say about present conditions. Certainly he would have many more people to be concerned about.

THE POPULATION REFERENCE BUREAU, a private research institution, has just released a report based on 1961 studies. The foreword of the report says, "It is essential today that people everywhere come to understand the effects of population change on the well being of individuals, their families, their nations and the world."

ACCORDING TO THE REPORT, the population of the world is now 3,115,000,000 people. During the last two years, human beings have increased England could be created if by 50 million people. This means that another nation the size of England could be created if there was a place to put it.

POPULATION INCREASE ITSELF MAY NOT BE of the greatest importance, but where the increase is taking place adds immensely to the problem. APPROXIMATELY 57 PER CENT of the world's people are in Asia. Europe and the Soviet Union together have 21 per cent. North and South Central America have another 14 per cent, almost equally. Since 1956 Latin America has been the fastest growing major region in the world. The remaining 8 per cent of the world's people live in Africa.

ACCORDING TO THE REPORT, in all human history the world's population has never grown so fast as today. Although some backward countries have no central system for registration of births and deaths, and some have never taken a census, fairly accurate figures indicate the growth rate is now 1.8 per cent a year. It is estimated that about a third of the world's total population has been added only since World War II. Should today's growth trend continue unchanged, and there is seemingly no reason to expect it to be otherwise, the number of people on earth will double to over six billion in only 40 years.

THESE STATISTICS SHOW THAT GREAT BRITAIN is growing by only 0.5 per cent a year, while Brazil is growing at an astounding 3.4 per cent annually. At this rate Brazil's population will double in 21 years.

INDIA AND PAKISTAN ARE each growing at the rate of 1.9 per cent, while Japan's growth is 1 per cent.

SIGNIFICANTLY THE INCREASE in population is occurring in those countries less industrialized and undeveloped. As is the case all over the world, but to a greater percentage in these countries, the death rate has declined while the birth rate has increased. Doubtless the assistance of the United States to these backward na-
