Shores Golf Club sale falls through, city to maintain property

Landscapes Unlimited Golf Group has advised City of Rockwall officials the group will be unable to purchase The Shores Golf Course from IRI Golf Group, the property's current owner.

Landscapes Unlimited was forced to abandon its plans to purchase the facility because of financing and bonding company limitations, according to a city news release issued Friday.

The golf group, which owns and operates more than 20 golf courses nationwide, had reached a preliminary agreement with IRI and Hillcrest Bank on terms for purchasing the course. The effort was set in motion after IRI filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy in July and closed the golf course.

News that Landscapes Unlimited would walk away from its plans to make the purchase came as city officials were working with the company on lease agreement terms on that portion of The Shores located on land controlled by the City of Rockwall. That area includes the back nine holes, along with portions of another four holes.

Hillcrest Bank had filed a motion with the bankruptcy court asking to lift the stay that had prohibited its foreclosure on the property owned by IRI. Currently, however, city officials are unaware of the timeline for the court's action on the motion or the reopening of the course.

City Manager Julie Couch said the city will continue to support parties who show interest in reopening the course.

"We will also continue to ensure that the areas of the course that are currently maintained by the city will continue to be irrigated, mowed and maintained," she said. "The City Council remains committed to improving conditions at the course and to get it reopened."

Rockwall city council approves 1st reading of Harbor expansion zoning ordinance

Patricia Nolan Butts

Although the proposed expansion of the Harbor district took a detour at the Aug. 16 Rockwall City Council meeting over provisions for family housing, it moved further down the road to realization Monday night when the Rockwall City Council voted 5-2 to approve the zoning ordinance first reading.

Councilmembers David Sweet, Matthew Scott, Margo Nielsen, and Farris, as well as Mayor Bill Cecil, voted in favor of moving forward with the Harbor district mixed-use expansion as developed in cooperation with master planners Talley Associates over the past two years.

Councilmembers Mark Russo and Cliff Sevier voted against zoning necessary to pursue the current plan, which calls for 1161 residential units and 49 zero-lot line single family homes in Harbor subdistricts.

In comments to the council clarifying his position, Sevier said his concerns indicated that the number of potential units in the area expanded combined total of eight housing complexes in Rockwall is times as many as now at The Commons. He defended his position to pursue the Harbor expansion, including the spending of money developing the master plan, because "we had to have a way to see if it was something we could approve."

Sevier said that the project was "one of the most important pieces of property in Rockwall" and held a potential ad valorem tax value of $1 million. "It's absolutely crucial to Rockwall moving forward," he said. Farris thanked council members for tabling the item at the Aug. 16 meeting, at which he was not present, so that he could participate in the vote.

Sevier said, "We've always known that density in the Harbor area is undesirable. In fact it's necessary for the longterm viability of the Harbor. Simply saying no to anything that is not single family residential is dogmatic and is not smart." He referenced the Evergreen community, which "filled a need in the community".

In the Harbor, he said, "we're not talking about apartments. If we build—and there's no guarantee they'll be constructed; they're just allowed for in the PD—all of these are owner-occupied housing. The housing up there is going to be cheap. The average unit will be $100,000. The average home in Rockwall is more likely to fall into repair or become a rental than this property."

The second reading of the zoning ordinance will be voted on at the next council meeting.

In other business, the council voted to postpone the second reading of an ordinance annexing into the city of Rockwall four areas totaling 2,914.91 acres near the border of McLendon-Chisholm. Twenty-two parcels of land out of the 45 being considered for annexation are eligible for 212 agricultural exemption agreements. The city council will have a deadline of Sept. 30 for signatures on those nondevelopment agreements, which will exempt landowners from annexation for three years. The second reading on Oct. 4 will deduct those parcels from the total acreage in the annexation.

The council also unanimously approved an amendment to the Unified Development Code allowing for a winery category business permit. According to Planning and Zoning director Robert LaCroix, these businesses, unlike breweries or distilleries, will be small and will be permitted to offer wine sales by the glass. The city council will have direct oversight as to the location of the wineries. Discussion centered on the downtown historic district and the Harbor, but did not rule out local retail shopping centers.

Councilmembers approved a specific use permit (SUP) for installation of solar panels on the home of Randal Rash at #4 Soapberry Lane. The question as to why this type of installation had to be approved by the city council led Green Committee head Farris to note that "we want to move away from SUP's for solar panel installation. This is the wave of the future."

The council allowed a fence height exception for the front yard fence at 250 Nicole. After council discussion of the height restriction of 42 inches, Mayor Cecil directed Director of Building Inspections and Code Enforcement Jeffrey Widmer to look into possible changes to the fence code that would permit a height of 42 to 48 inches.

The council approved an amendment to the Unified Development Code relative to deck and patio covers in lakeside property. When considered initially by council, the amendment had been sent to the City of Dallas, which owns the lake, for approval. "Essentially, they're approving this change, but they're telling us not to send more change requests," LaCroix told council.

John White of 1929 S. Lakeshore addressed the council during the public hearing on the proposed 2011 budget. He admonished members to plan for potential future economic downturns by adopting not just the flat budget under consideration but a reduced budget.

Church delivers shoes to area children

More than 1,000 area children received new shoes for school as part of the Shoes for Kids program reported by the First United Methodist Church of Rockwall.

On Aug. 7, the ninth annual Shoes for Kids event distributed more than 1,400 pairs of shoes, socks, toothbrushes, toothpaste, Bibles, coloring books and treat bags to underprivileged children in the area. An additional 96 families also received other social services, including immunizations. Of 445 immunizations were given.

When the program began, 170 children from the Rockwall and Royse City school districts were served.

Schools and other social service agencies identify the children in need. This year, 4,000 children were deemed eligible, according to a news release from the church.

Total cost for the program was more than $23,000.

Program donors include the FUMC-Rockwall, FUMC-Royse City, Holy Trinity by the Lake Episcopal Church, National Charity League, AMICA, Dust Free Inc., Rockwall Noon Rotary Club, Rockwall Women's League, Chiloso's, Rockwall Breakfast Rotary Club, Joe Willy's, Rockwall Inn, Rockwall Preschool Association, Chick-fil-A, Eastridge Church of Christ, Royse City Chamber of Commerce, Blue Cross Blue Shield of Texas, East Trinity Masonic Lodge No. 157, Payless Supermarket, Royse City Rotary Club, Lakeshore Church, Texas Health Presbyterian Rockwall and the Killebrew Center of Rockwall County.

"First, an enormous thanks to all our contributors because this event would not be possible without their support," said Amy Conner, Shoes for Kids chair. "Going back to school would not be complete without a new pair of shoes. But we provide more than just shoes. The shopping experience increases the joy for these children and we help decrease parents' concerns and stress about wanting their children to have new shoes."

R'wall Fire Department lands grant for equipment purchase

The Rockwall Fire Department has been selected to receive a $10,688 grant for the purchase of a thermal imaging camera for its new fire truck.

According to a news release issued this week, CRCNS Services and Fireman's Fund Insurance Co. were to have presented the donation to firefighters in a formal ceremony set for 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at Rockwall Fire Station No. 3.

The thermal imager is a device that uses technology to allow firefighters to "see" through smoke and darkness to locate individuals who might be trapped in a building during a fire, according to the release. The technology also can play a role in reducing property damage. With a thermal imaging camera in hand, firefighters can locate hot spots inside walls and extinguish them before they spread. It also allows rescuers to better scout collapsed floors and other dangerous obstructions that could result in serious injury or death.

"We are thankful for this generous donation," Fire Chief Poindexter said in the release. "We are committed to our community, and this new piece of equipment will allow Rockwall firefighters to be more efficient in fighting fires and help them stay safe while doing their job."

The Rockwall Fire Department, comprised by a small number of paid staff members and many volunteers, recently purchased a new fire truck, but were unable to purchase a thermal imager for the truck.

FM 740 project now under way

The FM 740 project, which will run from FM 3097 (Horizon Road) to FM 1140 in Heath, began this week, according to a news release issued by the City of Rockwall.

Drivers should "expect significant delays," according to the news release.

Once the detour is constructed, the roadway will have two lanes open.

Construction will be performed only on weekdays unless work gets behind schedule. The project is expected to last 476 days based on a five-day work week.

For more details, contact Kerry Lively, TXDOT project manager, at 214-893-0289 or Chuck Todd, Rockwall city engineer, at 972-771-7746.

On God's Word

by Timothy W. Burnett

King in tongues...Summary of Acts 2:1-4, 21

In 20:22 Jesus Christ instructed his disciples on what would be in the future. As noted before, the word "on" was a bad translation of the Biblical Greek word "en" that meant "in." When we allow the word to interpret itself, we learn that Jesus was teaching them about what would happen in the future. After demonstrating breathing and commanding them that they were to receive the Holy Ghost. By basic common sense and God's rightly divided word, it can be seen that Jesus' act of breathing in was representative of when they would be filled with holy spirit. It makes sense that he would then command them to receive the Holy Ghost.

Christ's instructions in John 20:22 first came to pass as recorded in Acts 1:4. The disciples were assembled together in the temple. Around the middle of the morning, everybody heard a sound that originated from the sky. It was like a strong rushing wind that literally filled the whole place. This sound must have been God's way to symbolize the pouring out of holy spirit immediately after holy spirit was poured out, the disciples were filled with holy spirit upon their next in-breath of air.

They were then filled with holy spirit, the disciples were next given a vision of tongues that looked like fire. The vision sat upon each of them. It was their cue to act on Jesus Christ's earlier instructions to lay-hold of the Holy Spirit. They began to speak in tongues as the spirit of God gave them the words. By rightly dividing God's word, we know that when they began to speak in tongues, they laid-hold of that holy spirit which they were recently given.

According to Acts 2:6-11, everybody in the temple heard the disciples speaking in their own languages the wonderful works of God. This was a miracle that was designed to propel the ministry of reconciliation and reconciliation dynamics. God sure knows how to get things started! The people were amazed and wondered what it meant. Some mockingly accused the disciples of being drunk.

Peter stood up with boldness and explained by the spirit what they had heard. They witnessed the beginning of a whole new administration which would end at the "great and notable day of the Lord" (Acts 1:11). He finished the words of the prophet Joel as follows, "And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved" (Acts 2:21). This came to pass for the disciples who began to speak in tongues. It also came to pass for many others as recorded in the book of Acts. And it can still come to pass for people today.

It was also witnessed the beginning of another spiritual administration as "the grace of God" (see Ephesians 3:2). This administration was secret throughout the Old Testament period, but was made known by the apostle Paul. A study of the different parallel existing administrations will show that being filled with holy spirit is associated with the administration of the Day of the Lord which is extensively spoken of throughout the Old Testament and in Revelations. Speaking in tongues, salvation and being born-again are directly associated with the administration of the Day of Christ (also referred to by Christians as the rapture).

Please note that the Old Testament and Revelations make no references to people in those time periods enjoying salvation from the great tribulation, being born-again and speaking in tongues. The Acts and Epistles address the church during the administration of the grace of God and extensively reveal that salvation, the new birth and speaking in tongues are available for all of God's saints who live during that time period.

Next we will devote more attention to the study on the parallel spiritual administrations as they relate to being filled with holy spirit and speaking in tongues.

We encourage the submission of Letters to the Editor. The publishing of letters is at the sole discretion of the editor and may be edited for brevity, grammar and accuracy. "All is good ..."

And the word of the Lord came down, through the voices of my magnificent medical team, saying, "All is good." So let those words of the Lord go out throughout the land.

Amen. Alleluia.

My first year's mammogram, nuclear scans and tests were Sept. 2, the anniversary of finding the lump and the beginning of my road to recovery. The results were what we had dared to hope and pray for each of the last 365 days.

This terrific news is totally due to God, your unending love, prayers and support, and the medical skills of the Texas Oncology offices of Stephen Boswank and Michela Caruso and their staffs, Richard Bellinger, Kenneth Bryce and Barbara Nichols at Women's Imaging Center at Presbyterian Hospital of Rockwall who found the lump, as well as Ken Teel, whose vision and policies made available to me the employees who provided Tender Loving Care and the state-of-the-art venue which included comprehensive and innovative technological resources for detection, diagnosis and treatment of cancer.

I can't omit the smiling help and encouragement as I went weekly to the Brookshire's pharmacy with new prescriptions - many replacing those we tried but, alas, were ineffective for me.

The flowers, cards, food, books, gifts, hugs, kind thoughts and prayers for my family and me were invaluable this last year -- as was the support of the many individuals, prayer groups, clubs and organizations, the entire staff and student body of Reinhardt Elementary, my incredible Secret Pal, the RISD Central Office and School Board. I could never have made the first and hardest lap of my journey without all of you.

With more love and thanks than mere words can express.... as I beg you for your continued prayers as I begin my second lap.

Spay/neuter shuttle sets initial trip for Sept. 23

The effort to make Rockwall "spay-free" will go into full swing this month when the newly organized spay/neuter shuttle service provided by the Kaufman County Animal Awareness Project and Rockwall PAWS makes its debut on Sept. 23.

To have a cat or dog spayed or neutered, call the KCAAP at 972-723-3500 and set up an appointment. Remember to tell the KCAAP representative you are a resident of Rockwall.

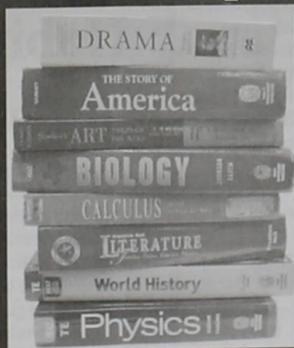

Fees, which are determined by species, sex and weight, may be viewed at spayneuternet.org. Assistance is available, if needed, through Rockwall PAWS.

A $20 down payment will be required at the time the appointment is made.

Animals will be checked in under the streetlight at the southeast corner of the large Wal-Mart parking lot at 7:30 p.m. and transported in a specially equipped van to the KCAAP Spay/Neuter Clinic in Rockwall for the procedure. Following recovery, the animal will be returned back to the parking lot location where the owners should be waiting at 6:30 p.m.

Texas law requires current rabies vaccination at the time of surgery. Individuals who cannot show proof of rabies vaccination can have their animals vaccinated at a cost of $8.80. Any local businesses interested in supporting this effort should contact Rockwall PAWS' Sandra Johnson at 972-771-0700.

Hospital brings big band sound to Saturday's RCAA Gala event

"It's all about the kids," said Kathleen Morrow, president of the Rockwall County Alliance for the Arts, "whether it's the funds raised at the Gala, the monies paid to the dance band, Nobles of Note, or the donations that come in from our sponsors like Texas Health Presbyterian Hospital. We all do what we do for kids."

Every dollar donated to the RCAA Gala goes to further the arts in Rockwall County and provide professional training for those students who have been identified as having talent in either visual or performing arts. No one in the RCAA is paid. Every member is a volunteer. RCAA relies on donations like the one from Texas Health Presbyterian to pay Gala costs so funds raised go to work in the community and for local youths.

Likewise, the Nobles of Note, a 17-piece dance band and a female vocalist, with the "big band sound" reminiscent of the famed Glen Miller or Tommy Dorsey bands, gives its entire fee to children.

"We charge for our performances," says Gary Zervas, band member, "but every dollar goes right to the Shriner's Hospital network - hospitals for children. Most of our monies collected go to the Burns Hospital in Galveston.

"We do private parties, public events, large and small," he said. "We work with the groups to set a rate they can afford because if we are not performing three to four times a month, we are not making money for the children in the Shriner's hospitals."

Since the band's inception in 1984, the players have donated their talent and time to benefit needy organizations and charities. To date they have donated more than $300,000.

The band will provide the musical backdrop for the Gala, the annual fundraiser for the RCAA. The event will feature a dance competition of local "celebrities" judged by "celebrity" judges - much like "Dancing With the Stars." Dinner will be served, and an art show and auction of pieces designed by "celebrity" artists is planned.

This year's celebration includes dancers Dave and Julie Cutcombe, Lowell and Bobbi Jack Oglvie and Dr. Stephen and his daughter, Stephanie Browning; artists Leanne Tom Maglisceau, the late Tom Stroope and Dr. Joan Stroope; judges Mayor Bill Cejo, Mayor Alma Howard, City of Rockwall Mayor Carolyn Wright and Creative

All funds raised will be used to support the work of the RCAA, an organization created to provide education for Rockwall County children.

The RCAA Gala is set for Saturday at the Bella Hill Hotel in Rockwall. Reservations made or tickets can be purchased at rockwallarts.org or by calling 972-772-1111.

For more information, visit rockwallarts.org.

When: 7:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 10
Where: Weatherford Christian
Records: Fulton is an unprecedented 2-0 after Friday's 56-25 decision over the Weatherford Christian Lions. The Lions are 0-2, but fell just short in a 67-64 loss to Irving Faustina.
Injuries: Hasan Rabah is expected to miss this week's game because of a concussion. Falcons quarterback Brett Steffen returned last week from a knee injury. He'll share time taking snaps with fellow senior Kendall Johnson.
What to expect: Fulton and the Lions, a TCAF Division II team, have not met before. However, head coaches Josh Johnson of the Falcons and Alan Weaver coached at Arlington Fellowship Academy.
What to expect: Weatherford has a young team, but its key players are experienced. Junior quarterback Justin Hunn is in his second year as a starter, and sophomore running back Austin Fuller is the biggest threat. Coach Johnson said, "Fuller is the type of running back/receiver who can do it all. He's a go-to guy."
What to expect: Fulton wants to keep our offense on the field and our defense off the field. We want to run the football and get the ball in Milan Rabah's hands and Dylan Steffen's hands and pound the ball.
Records: The Lions' porous defense has allowed 127 points in two games. Fulton scored 100 in its games.

RCA vs. RHS likely to come down to turnovers

Who: Roysse City Bulldogs vs. Rockwall Yellowjackets
When: 7:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 10
Where: Wilkerson-Sanders Memorial Stadium
Radio: WHYI FM 95.3 and whyi.com
Records: The new non-district opponents both are 0-2. This will be the first non-district game for the Jackets. RC is in a seven-team district, so the Bulldogs will have another tough non-district game against Frisco Liberty.
What to expect: Friday, Roysse City lost at Frisco 22-7 and RHS fell 38-14 at Rowlett. Injuries: None reported.
History: Roysse City and Rockwall played each other annually until the 1960s, when RHS' enrollment dwarfed RC's. The teams both played in District 10-4A the last two seasons, and agreed to keep the Rockwall rivalry together after the Bulldogs moved to District 13-4A. The series is tied.
What to expect: Neither team expected to come into this contest without a win, and neither wants to be winless as district play approaches.
What to expect: Roysse City shored up its pass defense after giving up 354 yards through the air in an opening 40-19 loss at home to Mesquite Poteet, but Frisco scored three rushing touchdowns.
What to expect: The Dawgs would like to get their own ground game going with Jonathan Smith, whom Frisco held to 31 rushing yards. Rockwall has had three different 100-yard rushers — Josh Broach, Spencer Edwards and Alan Reed — and a 100-yard receiver (Wesley Davis) in its first two games.
What to expect: Turnovers hurt both teams last week. Roysse City lost the ball on five interceptions, and RHS turned the ball over three times. It's a simple truth that the team with fewer turnovers usually wins, and it's a truth likely to play in this game.
What to expect: The Jackets will have their bye during the following week.

What's new: Fulton Middle School volleyball

Who: Fulton Middle School vs. Heritage Christian Academy
When: 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 9
Where: Heritage Christian Academy
Records: Fulton Middle School has made a commitment to expand its students' athletic participation. The first outward sign of that commitment was scheduled to debut Thursday when the new middle school girls' volleyball team hosted Heritage Christian at the Forney Sports Center.
What to expect: Fulton said a girls' varsity sports program would be developed as middle school athletes moved up to high school.

Unbeaten RCA, Carlisle face off Friday

Who: Price Carlisle Indians vs. Rockwall Christian Academy Warriors
When: 7:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 10
Where: Dobbs Field
Records: RCA is 2-0 after winning at home Friday 12-7 over Cumby. On the same night, Carlisle improved to 2-0 by defeating visiting Boles 28-15.
Injuries: None reported.
History: The teams have not met in recent years. This is the Warriors' third consecutive home game and second in a row against a public-school team.
What to expect: Rockwall Christian has reinvented itself from the big-play offense of a year ago to a more conservative, play-it-safe running attack that includes a passing component with quarterback Justo Garcia.
What to expect: The Warriors have significantly shored up their defense, allowing just 14 points in two games.
What to expect: However, the Indians pose a more determined threat. Jared Poncho, a wide receiver turned running back, has run for four touchdowns and 175 yards. He also scored last week on an interception. Erick Hernandez — who gained 1,300 rushing yards in his first two seasons, is Carlisle's do-everything player. He has scored only one touchdown, but has kicked 10 extra points. Hernandez also has kicked off, punted and returned punts, and as a strong safety leads his team with 17 tackles.

Lady Hawks split 2 matches entering district play

Rockwall-Heath enters District 10-4A play Friday off a loss, but still with an impressive 21-4 record to show for non-district play.
 The Lady Hawks can't dwell long on their early success. They will be tested immediately when they travel to Highland Park for the opening district match against the perennial-contender Lady Highlanders.
 In Tuesday's match, RHHS faced North Mesquite, a team the Lady Hawks already had defeated in the Garland ISD and Lewisville/The Colony tournaments. They weren't able to win this time; the Lady Stallions went home with a 25-21, 25-19, 25-19 victory. That dropped Rockwall-Heath's home record to 2-1 this season. RHHS' 21 wins are just three behind the school record set last year.
 On Friday, Sept. 3, the Lady Hawks had won their third consecutive match, sweeping first-year program Frisco Lone Star 25-21, 25-12, 25-17.

Lady Jackets head into district play off 4-3

The Rockwall volleyball team went a long way — nearly 300 miles — to make the final preparations for their District 10-4A schedule.
 The trip, which took the Lady Jackets close enough to smell the Gulf waters, resulted in four wins in six games at the Santa Fe Varsity Tournament and a four-game loss in a match at Barbers Hill in Mont Belvieu.
 RHS won two matches and lost one on both Thursday, Sept. 2, and Saturday. In between was the close 25-23, 26-24, 21-25, 25-13 loss to Barbers Hill Friday.
 The biggest indicator of progress was that the Lady Jackets (13-10) came back Saturday to defeat Port Neches-Groves 25-20, 26-24 after PNG handed them their only loss Thursday 25-22, 25-22.
 Rockwall's two victories Thursday were against Freeport Brazosport 25-9, 25-13 and Bridge City 25-13, 25-13.
 On Saturday, the Lady Jackets lost to host Santa Fe 25-11, 25-12, then rallied to defeat Crosby 25-15, 28-26.
 The district season will begin Friday at home against McKinney North. The varsity competition is scheduled for 6:30 p.m.

HCA could be tested if Abilene extends game

Who: Abilene Christian School Panthers vs. Heritage Christian Academy Eagles
When: 7:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 10
Where: Rockwall-Heath High School
Records: HCA is 2-0 following a 60-13 rout of Fannindel Friday. The same night, the Panthers lost to Sidney 43-34 to fall to 1-1.
Injuries: None reported.
History: The teams have had a short, but high-profile, relationship. They last played in a 2006 state semifinal game that Heritage Christian won 56-16 on the way to its only state championship. That victory avenged a 38-16 loss to Abilene Christian in the '05 title game. Each team finished 4-6 in 2009.
What to expect: The Eagles have outscored their two opponents 108-13, but don't expect them to have such an easy time against Abilene, which has played two closer games and outscored its opponents 80-69.
What to expect: HCA might have some difficulty if the game lasts four quarters. The Eagles' first two games extended just a few plays into the second half before winning by six-man football's 45-point mercy rule. Heritage Christian's coaches insist the team is much better conditioned this season; this game could be the first test of that conditioning.
What to expect: The home team features a strong running offense with just enough passes to keep defenders off balance.
What to expect: Abilene Christian's top returning offensive players are running back Trey Tyson, who scored 12 touchdowns last season, and QB Shea Beltran, who threw for nine scores. The '09 defense missed defensive end Gabe Espinoza, who's back in this year's lineup.

Hawks' heroics overcome Wakeland's late score

By Lary Bump

It appeared that there was little chance for Rockwall-Heath after Frisco Wakeland took the lead with 33 seconds remaining Friday, Sept. 3.

Little time remained, Hawks quarterback Ross Hudson had passed for fewer than 100 yards and on the kickoff Amaris Fields was about to be tackled some 70 yards from the goal line.

Twenty-six seconds of football time later, and what must have seemed like an eternity to Wakeland, Fields was taking a 13-yard pass from Hudson in the end zone for the winning touchdown. Trevor Pinkston's extra point made the final score 40-36.

So what happened during that time?

Fields, who had trouble handling the Wolverines' short kickoff, secured the ball. Then he turned and pitched it back to regular kickoff returner Parker Wood. He front room down the left sideline and carried the ball into Wakeland territory.

The Wolverines kicked off short in part because Tyler McLoughlin already had returned a kickoff for an 85-yard TD.

Still, there was a chance that the Hawks had too many yards and too few seconds for even a game-tying field goal.

That's when Hudson and Fields worked the clock like seasoned veterans. First came a pass to Fields along the left sideline, good for a first down and better because he went out of bounds to stop the clock. Next was a pass along the right sideline to Fields, who again went out of bounds with a first down.

Another short pass to the sideline could have put RHHS in better position for a field goal. If that's what Wakeland was thinking, Hudson and the Hawks' coaches must have read their minds. Instead of a short sideline pattern, Fields ran a fade pattern toward the end zone's back right corner and Hudson lofted the ball over a defender for their second touchdown hookup of the game.

Before that drive, Hudson had been more effective running the ball, with 147 yards and a touchdown on the ground.

Fields and Jeffrey Irokwe each scored two touchdowns for RHHS.

Wakeland's Tyler Kirkindoll shredded a Hawks secondary depleted by injuries. He threw for 356 yards and three touchdowns. Two of those were to Dan Harrington, including the 29-yard pass that gave the Wolverines what proved to be a surmountable lead.

The Hawks (2-0) expected a tougher-than-it-might-appear test against Garland Lakeview Centennial (0-2) in Thursday night's scheduled game. The Patriots' losses were against traditional powers Plano and Sulphur Springs.

Frisco rallies to upset Royse City

Eric Allen wasn't expected to play quarterback, and Frisco wasn't expected to win.

But both of those unexpected happenings took place, enabling Frisco to defeat Royse City 22-7 and snap a 23-game losing streak Friday, Sept. 3, at Frisco ISD Memorial Stadium.

The Raccoons' starting quarterback, Jeff Davis, was injured in the second quarter. With the Bulldogs leading 7-0, Allen entered the game.

He ran for two touchdowns and led Frisco (1-1) to a third, all in the third quarter.

The Bulldogs (0-2) took a first-quarter lead on Taylor Corbin's 37-yard touchdown pass to Torrell McQueen.

That play proved to be more productive than RC's running game, which gained just 36 yards for the night.

As a result, the Dawgs' offense became one-dimensional, and the Raccoons were able to pressure Corbin and blanket his potential pass receivers. Corbin completed 18 of 32 passes for a mere 136 yards, but was intercepted four times. Frisco also picked off a pass by RC running back Jonathan Burns.

Altogether, it was a defensive struggle. Allen didn't complete a pass. Both Corbin and Davis had been forced to throw outlet passes to backs; two receivers on each team finished the game with negative yardage.

One of Royse City's interceptions contributed to the Raccoons' big third quarter. Allen ran eight yards for his team's first touchdown. A 2-point conversion put Frisco ahead 8-7.

After the kickoff, the Raccoons intercepted a pass. On the next play, Allen ran 22 yards for another score. The last touchdown came on Austin Allen's 40-yard run.

Frisco's losing streak dated back to Nov. 2, 2007, when the Raccoons defeated McKinney North 31-13.

Turnovers help Rowlett take a win over Rockwall

Rockwall's offense outgained Rowlett by 78 yards, 417-339, but also turned the ball over three times Friday, Sept. 3. One of the 5A Eagles' two fumble recoveries was returned for a touchdown, contributing to their 38-14 victory at Homer B. Johnson Stadium in Rowlett.

"We shot ourselves in the foot," said Yellowjackets head coach Scott Smith. "We're not hitting on all cylinders right now."

In addition to giving Rowlett a touchdown, the takeaways also gave the Eagles favorable field position.

Smith said, "Our kicking game was not really good. That was one reason we didn't finish the first half again. They get the kickoff, go three plays and they averaged the 43 (yard line) as a starting point and we were about the 27."

The Jackets trailed just 10-7 after Josh Broach ran 9 yards for a touchdown in 1 minute, 19 seconds before halftime.

"We didn't finish the first half again. They get the kickoff, go three plays and score. A lot of things we're doing are correctable, and that's one of our goals," Smith said.

That drive consumed just 38 seconds. It culminated in a 35-yard scoring drive by Treyvon Green, one of his three touchdowns in the game.

After Alex Barrientos returned a Rockwall fumble 60 yards for a touchdown and a 24-7 lead 5 1/2 minutes into the third quarter, the game was over.

The Jackets did score later in the quarter when quarterback Alan Reed handed a handoff and kept the ball to run 14 yards for a touchdown. That proved little; Rowlett scored two fourth-quarter TDs.

The Eagles held Josh Broach, the Jackets' leading rusher, to 63 yards but Spencer Edwards ran for 102 and Reed for 110 in the team's 277-yard rushing effort.

Reed passed for 140 yards, 83 of those on seven passes to Wesley Davis. Rockwall's record fell to 0-2.

HCA goes to 2-0 with 60-13 romp

In its opening home game, Heritage Christian Academy merely followed up on its season-opening road win.

Coming off a 48-0 victory over Hill School of Fort Worth a week earlier, HCA rolled over Fannindel 60-13 Friday, Sept. 3, at Rockwall High School.

Caleb Cathey, Krys Harbor and Travis Arterburn scored two touchdowns apiece. For the second consecutive week, the Eagles finished the game in the third quarter because of six-man football's 45-point mercy rule.

As impressive as Heritage Christian's offense was in accumulating 369 yards, HCA's defense was even better. The visitors from Ladonia lost six yards rushing on their 19 carries, and managed just 86 yards passing.

Austin Pettit led the defense with 10 tackles, and recovered two fumbles. Playing linebacker, Arterburn had five tackles and an interception that he returned for one of his touchdowns.

Cathey led the Eagles with 116 rushing yards, including both of his scores.

Defense, Garcia's TD passes pace RCA's win

Justo Garcia threw two first-half touchdown passes, then Rockwall Christian Academy's defense took over to preserve a 12-7 victory over Cumby Friday night.

Garcia's passing accounted for 128 of the Warriors' 197 yards. He connected with Raymon Stewart on a 28-yard touchdown pass in the first quarter and with Aaron Eastin for a 25-yard score in the second quarter. That was the third Garcia-Eastin TD pass this season for RCA (2-0).

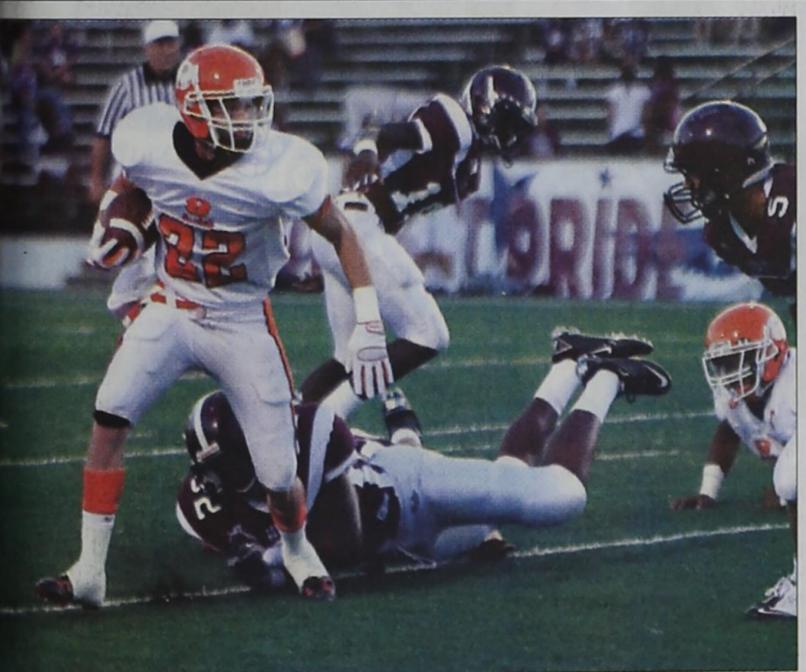

On the strength of seven takeaways, the Warriors' defense has held two opponents to a total of 14 points. Against Cumby, RCA recovered a fumble and intercepted two passes while holding the visitors' offense to 170 yards.

Sandknop Family Practice Now Offering Life Changing Medifast Program

I am 39-years-old and live in Sacramento, CA. At the height of my weight gain, I was 368 pounds. At that time, I suffered a myriad of medical problems, including high blood pressure, heart palpitations, and back spasms.

I have attempted virtually every diet available though the years, including the Scarsdale Diet, Jenny Craig, Weight Watchers, Slim Fast, Body for Life, Atkins and even a professional dietician. These diets worked for a brief period, but I soon found that I could not keep up with the program and not only gained the weight back, but more. The future looked hopeless, and I thought that gastric bypass was the only option.

However, in researching gastric bypass options, I stumbled upon the Medifast site on the Internet. After reading the material, I decided to give the Medifast program a try before committing to surgery.

The Medifast program is absolutely unbelievable! The food is outstanding, nutritious and satisfying. It is also extremely easy to follow and the meals are quick to prepare. It is also relatively inexpensive. The thing I like about the plan the most is its simplicity – five Medifast Meals a day from a large variety of choices and one sensible meal. It virtually eliminates the shopping and preparation factor that is prevalent in most other diets.

Since beginning my diet, I have lost approximately 163 pounds. I went from a size 54L suit to a 44L.

In addition, each and every medical problem I had prior to losing the weight is now gone.

And I did it all on Medifast and did not have to resort to surgery! I can very sincerely say that Medifast has changed my life.

The whole world is watching.
