Anita Perry

Texas Our Texas

by Texas First Lady Anita Perry

This summer, I finally tackled a New Year's Resolution. Like most people, our family photos were calling — make that screaming — to be put into photo albums I bought years ago. As I sorted and scanned the piles of loose pictures (and there are a ton, because Rick is quite the gifted photographer), I got to relive everything from holiday, birthday and wedding celebrations to proms, pajama parties and vacations.

Oh the memories of road trips with Griffin and Sydney when they were still in grade school. Each year, we'd pile into the car and hit the wide-open Texas highway for one last adventure to close out the summer. I wouldn't trade in even one of those moments; our car packed with games, snacks and maps, the excitement of catching sight of our final destination and countless hours tromping around creek beds in search of arrowheads.

As many times as I've traveled our beautiful state, I'm still awestruck by the great variety of things we can enjoy. Texas is one of the few places where you can drive a few hours in any direction and experience everything from dude ranches to cosmopolitan cities.

I've had the opportunity to promote Texas here at home, as well as all over the country and the world alongside representatives from many Texas cities. And I have to tell you, international travelers look to Texas as a destination. The entire state of Texas is such a desirable place to vacation in fact, that in 2008, more than 194 million domestic visitors traveled to and within Texas. Total direct travel spending in the state that year reached $ $60.6 billion.

The Gulf Coast Region alone saw total direct travel spending of $ $17 billion in 2008, which was a 7 percent increase over the previous year.

Needless to say, Texas tourism is big business, even in the state's smaller towns and cities. It has of course been affected by the slowdown in the economy, but we are blessed that it hasn't been as drastic as what we've seen in other regions of the U.S. Travel is still one of the most important export-oriented industries in Texas. Spending by visitors generates sales in areas such as lodging, food services, recreation, transportation, retail and gasoline service stations, to name a few.

The industry also provides a significant contribution to job creation. During 2008, travel spending in Texas directly supported 544,400 jobs. State and local government also benefit from travel and tourism in the form of excise taxes on the goods and services purchased by visitors.

When you live in a place as great as Texas, it's sometimes easy to forget just how much there is to do and see, right here in our own backyard. But there is truly something for everyone. So, if you have a couple of days off coming your way, I encourage you to support the amazing cities and towns in Texas that are working hard to create distinct destinations. To make it easy for you, there are great travel planning tools at www.travelstx.com, whether you want to visit the Texas Coast, the Hill Country or anywhere across the state.

Now, who's ready for a road trip?

Denison's depth superior to Rockwall in premiere scrimmage

Opponent (Friday night at Midland) didn't see much. "The scrimmage was just practice against another team," Smith said. "We weren't throwing it a lot trying to stretch the field." The player who probably impressed Midland the most was Jackets junior running back Josh Broach. He gained 113 yards in 16 carries, and caught three of Rockwall's short passes for 15 yards. No official score was kept, but Denison's starting offense scored three of its four touchdowns. The Jackets' defense caught up with Denison's substitutes with three interceptions, two by sophomore Spencer Edwards and one by Alonzo Owens. Rockwall's two TDs came from its second and third units. The starters didn't score a touchdown, but produced a field goal that was the only score during a timed quarter that ended the scrimmage. With the ball at the end of that timed scrimmage, RHS treated it as a game situation protecting a lead. Broach stayed inbounds instead of going out of bounds on two runs, and quarterback Adam Dingwell knelt with the ball on the final play. A Denison assistant commented, "We played the timed quarter like it was the first quarter; they played like it was the fourth."

Before the varsity scrimmage, the junior varsity and two freshman squads from Rockwall met their Denison counterparts. The freshman teams played at the same time on opposite ends of the field, with drives starting at the 45 yard line. Rockwall's freshmen had the upper hand, hitting hard and making a successful goal line stand on defense, and scoring rushing touchdowns on offense. Denison's junior varsity, like its varsity, showed a powerful running game. Even for the later varsity scrimmage, there was plenty of room for spectators in the expanded stadium. The former home-side seats were accessed by walking up steps to reach the top row, then down to the seats. That top row of seats now is below a ground-level concourse, with an "upper deck" stretching up from there to the top of what now appears to be Rockwall's tallest building.

Scrimmages prepare HCA for game at Tomball Rosehill

Christian Academy's football team has completed two scrimmages against three opponents, with similar results each week. The team took on Crowley Nazarene Christian and Arlington Prep on Aug. 15 in Crowley, HCA head coach Robert Pickett said, "We are young and inexperienced so we have a lot of things that started slow but got better toward the end." Pickett's statement held true after the Eagles' scrimmage Friday, August 21, against Arlington Fellowship Academy on the outdoor field at the indoor Sports Expo. The Eagles' offense started slowly. The Eagles didn't gain a first down until the fourth play, when Austin Pettit completed a pass for some yards, leading to a touchdown on the final play of the home team's drive. Rockwall came right back to score quickly on a 50-yard-plus pass to wide receiver Stang's receiver got past Pettit and ran untouched to the end zone. On that possession, though, the Eagles showed growth. Felton Williams completed a similar pass play, but Pettit ran back and knocked the ball away. One of five Eagles who played with the first team on both sides of the scrimmage. HCA had 13 players dressed for the scrimmage, which had 21. Pickett said, "They just need a lot of reps, and they will have the opportunity to learn in game situations this year." The Eagles, state runners-up last season in TAPPS 6-Man Division II, will travel south to play their opening game Friday at 7:30 p.m. at Tomball Rosehill Christian School.
