Pullen Elementary teacher Laci Betterton and husband killed in Sunday car accident

Students and faculty are mourning the deaths of two area school teachers, who died Sunday night in a two-car accident near Caddo Mills.

Laci Betterton, 25, was a music teacher at Rockwall's Dorothy Smith Pullen Elementary School. Her husband, James, 23, was a music teacher at Freeman Elementary School in Garland.

He had been hired to work for the district at mid-term this school year and had been at Freeman for just one week before the winter break.

According to the Department of Public Safety, the couple was travelling east on State Highway 66 near Caddo Mills when their Dodge Neon was hit by an eastbound Dodge Dakota.

The driver of the Dodge Dakota was not injured.

DPS spokespersons said there was slush and snow on the road and investigators are still working to determine if the road conditions played a role in the accident.

The Rockwall ISD Executive Director of Communications Sheri Fowler said that as a music teacher, Laci Betterton had contact with every student on campus.

"The district is so saddened by the death of music teacher Laci Betterton and her husband. She touched the life of every student at Dorothy Smith Pullen Elementary School and her absence will be greatly felt on that campus and throughout the district as a whole," Fowler said in a written statement.

"On Monday, the district provided multiple counselors to talk with students and staff members as they struggled with the news of Mrs. Betterton's death. Counselors will remain on call for as long as the campus needs support. The district's foremost concern is for the well-being of the students and staff."

Fowler also said the Pullen Elementary family has received an outpouring of support from the Rockwall community. Both Kroger and CiCi's Pizza donated food for the staff and parents and community members have offered to provide any support or services needed.

"We are so grateful to be a part of such a caring community - a community that never hesitates to reach out and offer comfort and support," Fowler said.

Reavis Wortham, Director of Communications for Garland ISD said similar support has been set up for the students and staff at Freeman Elementary.

A letter was sent home Monday to all families at Freeman notifying them of the death of Mr. Betterton.

"We covered the events of Sunday night in a very light way to notify parents of the death of a staff member and suggested this was the perfect opportunity for them to talk to their students about what happened," Wortham said.

"Although he only worked at the school for a short time, Mr. Betterton had already made an impact on his students. Our prayers go out to the families of the Bettermans."

Wortham also said extra counselors were on the Freeman campus Monday to support the staff and students. He said that although the school has an on-site counselor, other counselors would be on-call in the coming days if more support is needed.

A joint funeral for the Betterton's was conducted on Thursday, Jan. 13 in Kilgore. Burial followed at the Danville Cemetery.

James graduated from high school in Kilgore and received his degree in Music Education from Texas A&M Commerce in 2009.

Laci attended school in Harmony and received her degree in Music Education from Texas A&M Commerce in 2008.

The Bettertons were music ministers at Westview United Methodist Church in Greenville.

James is survived by his parents, Danny and Susan Richter of Kilgore; grandparents, Don and Lorraine Hahne of Hemphill; aunts and uncles, David and Renate Cruce of Gilmer, Anthony and Tasha Richter of Midland; aunts, Shari Douglas of Midland, Sharon Franklin of Kilgore. He was preceded in death by his grandparents, Billy and Kay Richter and James T. Cruce.

Laci is survived by her parents, J.W. and Judy Strickland of Mineola; a brother, Jimmy Strickland of Granbury; a sister, Dianna Daniel of Henderson; nephews, James Michael Strickland of Granbury and Lance Daniel of Henderson; aunts and uncles, Donna and Hugh Fraser of Houston, Tommy and Sharon Vardeman of Holly Lake. She was preceded in death by her grandparents, Joe Vardeman, Finay Vardeman, James Wylie Strickland, Sr. and Lula Bell Strickland.

County Commissioners, new judge discuss future improvements

by Kathy Williams

Incoming County Judge Jerry Hogan began his term with the Court at a workshop meeting discussing procedures and responsibilities with the four existing commissioners.

Each commissioner outlined their duties and responsibilities, as well as special projects they are involved in, for the Judge.

As for having the discussions in a workshop as opposed to meeting individually with each commissioner to learn more about their work, Hogan explained that the Open Meetings Act states that "no more than two commissioners/judges can talk about anything without it being open to the public. So when we discuss things like this with the whole commissioner's court discussing it, it must be open to the public. We advertised it beforehand and that's why you are sitting through this now."

Hogan encouraged the commissioners, all four of whom have sat on the court for several terms, to let him know if there is something he should be doing that past judges have done or not done.

Also on the agenda were the following items:

Hogan also said he would like to begin conducting Town Hall meetings beginning as early as late February. He said the first would be held at the Rockwall Downtown Historic Courthouse, with the date and time to be announced. Hogan has talked to the mayors of other cities within the county and he said they have agreed to provide space for Town Hall meetings for their residents.

The commissioners discussed ways to televise or live-stream their meetings to better reach the public with information. The county's IT Director, Brian Crenshaw, introduced one option for a televised meeting with an initial cost of $4,180 per year, including upgraded cameras, software, computers, monitors, licenses and other necessary equipment. Commissioners agreed to start with first investigating live-streaming audio only through the computer to see what the response from residents would be. Hogan said broadcasting the meetings would "satisfy a lot of citizen's requests for the ability to view the commissioner's court without the commissioner's court meeting at night which is what many citizens are asking the court to do so they can attend the meetings and they can see what is going on." Crenshaw also suggested putting the recordings of the commissioner court meetings on line for residents to access at their convenience. The Court also discussed whether workshop meetings would be included in the broadcasts. "All the good stuff happens at workshop," Hogan said. "If you're not here, you miss all the fun."

The Court discussed the pros and cons of developing a 10-year Strategic Plan for the county. Hogan suggested that "the fastest growing county in Texas needs a plan. In all my experience with planning, you spend lots of time and lots of energy developing a plan but generally the plan is never executed the way it's planned. But it gives you a background and a groundwork to work from. Whereas if you don't have some plan, you're just winging it." The Court agreed to give the idea more thought and continue discusses at future meetings.

The Rockwall County Commissioners meet at 9 a.m. the second and fourth Tuesday of each month at the Rockwall Downtown Historic Courthouse.

Rockwall ISD set to thank board members for service

January 2011 is School Board Recognition Month and a perfect time for the Rockwall Independent School District to show appreciation to the board trustees.

On Monday, Jan. 24, the board will be honored for their countless hours of service to the Rockwall community, students and employees of Rockwall ISD. The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in Room 600 of the Rockwall ISD Administration/Education Center located at 1050 Williams Street.

"Our school board members work tirelessly to lead our students to success. Spending aside time this month is one small way to celebrate their service to our community and say thanks for caring about the future of every child enrolled in our schools," said Rockwall ISD Superintendent Jeff Bailey.

"School board members shoulder critical responsibilities as advocates of our children. They face difficult challenges and make hard decisions with the overall goal of promoting student achievement at each of our 18 campuses," Bailey said.

The board members serving Rockwall ISD are President David Loftis, Vice President Craig Zurek, Secretary Doug Hamilton, Leigh Plagens, Stan Lowrance, Chris Cuny and Russ Childers.

Church assists in building water wells in Zimbabwe

In the fall of 2009, an international peacemaker visited First Presbyterian Church of Rockwall and shared a story people in his native Zimbabwe and their lack of clean water.

This peacemaker, Lamiel Phiri, told the church about children unable to attend school because they spent their days traveling to fetid streams, carrying filthy water back to their villages. The building of water wells had the power, he said, to significantly change lives.

This month, the church responded by sending a check for $3,200 – the cost of building one water well – to the Synod of Harare, the administrative body of the Presbyterian Church in Zimbabwe. The money was raised through memorial gifts, an anonymous donation and, most importantly, through the giving of the children of the church, who have been bringing their change to worship on Sundays and placing it in a model well, built by church member Rob Schlumpf.

"We are blessed to be able to be in mission with our brothers and sisters in Zimbabwe," said Pastor Cheryl Taylor. "And we look at this well as the first of many that we hope to be able to underwrite."

Church elder, Andrea Vanderpool, who coordinated Phiri's visit and the well donations, said, "Our mission symbolizes social justice for the children of Zimbabwe, particularly the living of little girls to learn rather than haul water. The opportunity will hopefully bring about a new direction to the lives of many."

Donations for the next well now are being collected. Anyone wishing to make a tax-deductible gift to the project may contact Taylor at pastorcheryl@rockwallpc.org or by phone at 972-771-5702.

Small Yard, Big Porch, Beautiful View!

3200 Oak Drive – This custom home in Fox Chase has been reduced from $339,900 to $299,900 to attract a quick sale.

A new home has recently been completed at 3200 Oak Drive across the street from the scenic pond at the Fox Chase Park. The large front porch literally sits up on the hill overlooking the pond.

The Fox Chase community is strategically located between Ridge Road and Horizon Road near Presbyterian Hospital. Year in and year out it is one of the most sought after neighborhoods in Rockwall.

Pre-owned homes, when they become available, are usually snapped up within weeks. There are seldom any new homes available because of the scarcity of vacant lots in Fox Chase. Rob Whittle, the developer of Fox Chase said, "over the last 20 years, Fox Chase has held its resale value extremely well."

There are probably a lot of reasons for that. The homes are priced perfectly in that Rockwall "sweet spot" of $250,000 to $350,000 that appeals to a wide range of buyers.

There are very few established custom home communities in Rockwall that can compare with that price. The location is superb. It is within a mile of I-30 via Horizon Road, Ridge Road and Summer Lee Drive. It is within walking distance to Presbyterian Hospital, the Kroger Shopping Center, Buffalo Creek Golf Course and The Harbor.

It has a fabulous neighborhood park.

However, the primary reason for the strong resale value in Fox Chase is the overall quality of the neighborhood. It is hard to put your finger on it until you walk or drive the neighborhood. Many different builders and architects have been active in Fox Chase throughout the years so there is not that feeling of a "cookie cutter" one builder neighborhood. The home at 3200 Oak Drive is located on a corner lot at Tubbs and Oak Drive. My brother Mike built this home and has taken a lot of care with every detail of it."

The 3 bedroom, 2.5 bath home has two living areas and a study. The kitchen has beautiful custom cabinets and granite counter tops. It has a huge dining room with a gorgeous iron chandelier. Wood plank flooring is featured in several of the rooms. The open floor plan has a stunning fireplace and crown molding. The master bedroom has a sitting area. The home has 3,075 square feet and feels even larger than that.

The home was originally priced at $339,000 but was reduced last week to $299,900 to encourage a quick sale and closing. There are only a couple of lots remaining in Fox Chase so the opportunity to own a new home is limited in this sought after neighborhood.

Mortgage interest rates are still near historic lows and it would be hard to find a better time to buy a custom home in a neighborhood like Fox Chase.

To visit the home, call Jinksie Patton at 214-477-5217 or at 972-771-5253. The home will be open this weekend from 1:00pm till 5:00pm.

Finally, Custom Homes for Empty Nesters in Heath!!

Caruth Builders has recently completed two custom homes on small lots in The Enclave at Buffalo Creek Golf Club. These golf course homes along the 3rd fairway are specifically designed for affluent "empty nesters". The majority of the rooms are on the main level. However, the architects have placed a game room and a couple of extra bedrooms on the second level.

The design criteria was specifically to target that market who have raised their children, but want to comfortably accommodate their children, grandchildren and guests when they come for long visits. The floor plans have been designed to specifically attract mature affluent adults who want to downsize in the Rockwall/Heath Area.

The market research determined that there are many homeowners who have raised their children in the Rockwall area in a large single family home. Those kids have now left for college or have families of their own. Couples wake up one day and realize that they have a large home to maintain, a huge lawn to mow and seldom is there anyone using it.

However, they love the Rockwall area and are not interested in condominium or townhome living. There is still a desire to have a small yard and to have a garage. Most importantly is the desire to still have a home with enough room that the extended family can gather for holidays and long weekends. The homes in this secluded area of Buffalo Creek are targeted specifically to this market.

Jinksie Patton, the representative for the builder said "I have been a Realtor® in the Rockwall market since 1976. Many of the young professional families that I sold homes to during the early and mid 80's have been active throughout the years serving in our community in many roles like YMCA coaches, park board members and volunteering at school functions. They are active in our areas churches and civic organizations. They loved raising their family here. They don't want to move to a condominium in Dallas, but they do want a smaller home and smaller lot in a nice custom community.

These homes built by Caruth Builders in Buffalo Creek feature kitchens with granite counter tops and custom cabinets. The master suites are spacious with beautiful views. One of the homes features a large formal dining room and the other has a more casual dining room. The game rooms are large enough to accommodate family and friends, but are not overwhelming. There is enough of a yard that you would certainly not classify these as a town home, but you can certainly maintain the yard in a short amount of time per week."

By Buffalo Creek standards, these homes are modestly priced. The homes are priced from $339,000 to 395,000. The homes are located at 1725 Weiskopf Drive and 1834 Morrish Lane. Jinksie's phone number is 214-477-5217 and 972-771-5253 to schedule a tour. The homes will be open this weekend from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Buffalo Creek Golf Course was designed by PGA legend, Tom Weiskopf and Jay Morrish. The course has been host to several major tournaments including the final qualifying site of the US Open. The community also has a private tennis club, children's playground, native wilderness area and swim complex.

1834 Morrish Lane– This golf course home is priced at $339,000 along the beautiful rolling 3rd fairway of Buffalo Creek.

The Member of the Year award was presented to Carolyn Francisco. The next HF event will be the introduction of Fowler's new book, "Rockwall: Then and Now," as part of the Town Bag Lecture Series at noon Feb. 11 at the historic courthouse. The event will be free and open to the public.

On God's Word

by Timothy W. Burnett
Believing...Without Doubt

In the Bible, when God exhorts us to believe His word, He is talking about believing without doubt. God's will is for us to be fully persuaded in our hearts, without doubt, that what He promised He is able also to perform. We know this is His word because it's in His recorded word. Let's dive into God's word about believing without doubt.

Matthew 21:21 Jesus Christ's followers marveled over how soon the fig tree had withered away so soon. The context shows that earlier they approached the tree, and they were hungry, desired to partake of the fruit of the tree. The season was right for good on the tree, but it was found with no fruit. Finding it fruitless, Jesus commanded that it would never bear fruit and immediately the tree withered away.

With all the miracles he did, Jesus did this by revelation from God. He received his word by revelation and took the believing action by making the command, and the tree withered away immediately instead of taking a longer period of time to die. Every time Jesus Christ did a miracle he followed it with a teaching. Here he taught his followers with the following, "...verily I say unto you if ye have faith, doubt not, ye shall not only do this which is done to the fig tree but also if you say unto this mountain, 'Be thou removed and be thou cast into the sea,' it shall be done."

What a fantastic teaching! If God gives us revelation to command a mountain to be moved and cast into a sea, and we believingly act on that revelation by making the command, it absolutely shall be done. This is not teaching God's people and children to look for mountains to command away. God was teaching us through his son that if we believe God's word without doubt, it shall absolutely be done.

The above scripture was addressed to Israel during the Gospel period of time, and it is for our learning. Now we are living in the same spiritual administration as the early Church in the book of Acts. According to Ephesians 3:2 we are living in the Administration of the Grace of God. God's word addressed to His people and children during this time can be found in the Epistles.

During the age of the Grace of God, all the promises of God are in Christ Jesus and in him guaranteed to the end that we are getting dynamically desirable results and glorifying God in heaven (2Corinthians 1:20). In the name of Jesus Christ we have the authority to give any promise found in God's word. Through Jesus Christ all God's promises are alive and work might for all who believe to receive. Gospels are packed full of examples how to believe God's word. Jesus Christ believed without doubt, gave the command, the tree immediately withered. Next he meekly did His Father's will by teaching others. Jesus Christ glorified His Father in heaven before all who witnessed the miracle.

Anytime we believe God's word without doubt, it absolutely shall be done. It's because God is the original source of His word, and He is faithful to back up anybody who believes. Just as He did His word for His first born son Jesus Christ, so also is He able to back up His word for all who believe in the name of Jesus Christ.

NOTICE OF RATE CHANGE REQUEST

Oncor Electric Delivery Company LLC (Oncor) publishes this notice that on January 7, 2011, Oncor filed with the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission) its Petition and Statement of Intent to Change Rates, a copy of which is kept at Oncor's office at 1601 Bryan St., 23rd floor, Dallas, TX 75201. This notice is being published pursuant to Commission Procedural Rule 22.51(a)(1).

Oncor's rate filing, based on the system-wide financial results for a 12-month test year ending on June 30, 2010, adjusted for known and measureable changes, supports a net increase in transmission and distribution rates of approximately $353 million over adjusted test-year revenues, or approximately a 12.6% increase over adjusted test-year revenues of $2,809.2 million. Test-year revenues have been adjusted to annualize the rate increase from Oncor's last base rate case, to normalize billing units, to remove the revenues associated with Oncor's Advanced Metering Cost Recovery Factor, Energy Efficiency Cost Recovery Factor, and Rate Case Expense surcharge, and to increase test-year revenues to reflect Transmission Cost of Service (TCOS) and Transmission Cost Recovery Factor (TCRF) adjustments approved or pending after June 30, 2010. If the approved or pending TCOS and TCRF adjustments are excluded from the adjustments to test-year revenues (and thus included in proposed base rates), the total base rate increase over adjusted test-year revenues is approximately $441 million, or approximately a 16.2% increase over adjusted test-year revenues of $2,720.6 million. If approved, the increased rates will be charged to Oncor's direct customers, all retail electric providers (REPs), in those portions of Oncor's service area under the original jurisdiction of the Commission. Each such REP is potentially affected by the proposed change. Depending on the REPs' actions, the end-use customer classes of such REPs are potentially affected by the proposed change. In addition, the result could be a change in Oncor's transmission cost of service rates, which would impact all load serving entities in the Electric Reliability Council of Texas. Oncor has requested a February 14, 2011 effective date for its proposed rate change.

Persons who wish to intervene in or comment upon these proceedings, in Docket No. 38929, Application of Oncor Electric Delivery Company LLC for Authority to Change Rates, should notify the Commission as soon as possible, as an intervention deadline will be imposed. A request to intervene or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, P.O. Box 13326, Austin, Texas 78711-3326. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Commission at (512) 936-7120 or (888) 782-8477. Hearing- and speech-impaired individuals with text telephones (TTY) may contact the Commission at (512) 936-7136. The deadline for intervention in the proceeding is 45 days after the date the application was filed with the Commission.

Republican "pledge" abandoned?

Jacob Hornberger

Within two days of being sworn into office, congressional Republicans are already breaking their promises with respect to out-of-control federal spending and borrowing. In their much-ballyhooed "Pledge to America" they promised to cut $100 billion out of non-defense discretionary spending during their first year in office. House Republican leaders, having now taken control of the House, have just announced that they are going to happen after all. Did I not tell you this, long before the election? As I have long emphasized, there isn't a dime's worth of difference between a Democrat and a Republican (or, if you will, a liberal and a conservative). Sure, Republicans use libertarian mantras (i.e., "free enterprise, private property, and limited government") and rail against excessive federal spending and borrowing, but it's all fake and false -- just a way to get the reins of power, so that they can start enriching themselves at the expense of the rest of the country. Isn't that what they did after they made similar promises with their much-ballyhooed "Contract with America" in 1994? Look at all the brouhaha over Obamacare. House Republicans are making a big deal out of plans to repeal Obamacare. Big deal. What difference would it make? Republicans know that the Senate won't go along and even if it did, everyone knows that Obama will simply veto it and that the veto won't be overridden by Congress. It's all about just putting on a show -- "Look at what we're doing about excessive spending and borrowing and federal regulation by voting to repeal Obamacare." More important, even if Obamacare were to be repealed, the country would still be left with the health-care crisis that is rooted in Medicare and Medicaid. That crisis wouldn't disappear with the repeal of Obamacare. The mainstream press would be (and already is) screaming to Republicans, "Where is your plan to fix and improve our health care system?" And since Republicans believe in Medicare and Medicaid, they would be left with coming up with some sort of interventionist fix-it reform that would simply be a variation of Obamacare and that would make the situation worse than ever.

The fundamental problem is that Republicans (conservatives), like Democrats (liberals), honestly believe that the legitimate role of the federal government is to take care of people through a welfare state. That's what Social Security, Medicare, Medicaid, food stamps, education grants, foreign aid, FDIC, bank bailouts, and other welfare-state programs are all about -- taking care of people. Republicans are not about to challenge the moral legitimacy of that paradigm or its programs.

Yet, it is these programs -- that is, it's the welfare state itself (and the warfare state) -- that is at the root of America's economic woes. Thus, the only solution is to rid our nation of the welfare-state paradigm itself (and the warfare-state paradigm).

That's what makes us libertarians so different from conservatives and liberals and other statist. We want to ditch the welfare-warfare paradigm in favor of one based on individual liberty, free markets, and a constitutional republic. That necessarily means repeal and dismantling, not reform and improvement.

Consider the title of this editorial from Tuesday's Los Angeles

Times: "Their Job is to Create Jobs." That's the mainstream mindset. It's the mindset of conservatives, liberals, and other statist. These types of people honestly believe that it's the job of the federal government to manage the economy, create jobs, and take care of people. That's the problem.

Do you see how different we libertarians are from statist? We don't believe that government has any more business managing the economy and creating jobs than it does managing religion and stimulating interest in God. The root of America's economic woes lies in the fact that the federal government is charged with the power to do such things as manage the economy, create jobs, fight poverty, take care of people, and dominate and control the world.

The solution to America's economic woes lies in removing the power of the government to manage the economy, create jobs, fight poverty, and police the world. Prosperity lies in the freedom of people to engage in enterprise freely with people all over the world (i.e., without government interference), accumulate unlimited amounts of wealth (i.e., no more federal income tax and IRS), and decide for themselves what to do with their own money (i.e., no more Social Security, Medicare, Medicaid, welfare, etcetera). The solution to America's woes lies with libertarian principles. Too bad House Republicans (with the exception of Ron Paul) are still so committed to statist.

Federal Reserve apologists fight open books

Ron Paul

Last week, the 112th Congress was sworn in. I am pleased that I will be chairing the Monetary Policy Subcommittee of the Financial Services Committee which has oversight of the Federal Reserve. Obviously, this position will facilitate my efforts to ensure the Fed provides the American people with more information about what they have been doing with and to our money. Not surprisingly, since my chairmanship was announced, apologists for the Fed have been recycling the old canard about how increased transparency threatens the Fed's so-called political independence. By 'transparency' they are referring to the Fed's ability to greatly impact the economy with virtually no meaningful oversight. We only recently learned that the bankers at the Fed were able to use the latest financial tools to bail out Wall Street cronies and foreign central banks with billions of dollars that were created and wasted instead of appropriated and voted on by representatives of the people. The Fed and its supporters in Congress vehemently fought even this small bit of transparency and without this one-time provision in the Financial Reform Act forcing disclosure we would still not have this information.

Indeed, we are in the dark on so much of what the Fed has done. This is extremely dangerous for our country, yet this power and secrecy is defended as some kind of public good, which is patently ridiculous. Our government is based on a system of checks and balances. With no check on the Fed, it is no surprise it has thrown the economy wildly off-balance. The solution is not to reinflate the bubbles the Fed created or to continue to devalue the currency or to throw billions at failing banks and corporations. The solution is to return sanity and freedom to monetary policy. Forcing the entire country to use a medium of exchange that is subject to the whims of elite bankers and their cronies on Wall Street is not sanity. Hoping that an unchecked all-powerful behemoth banking cartel will solve any economic problem is not sanity.

The problems the Fed was originally created to solve now look minuscule compared to the problems it has created. If political independence erodes the purchasing power of the currency by 98%, destabilizes the economy with radical booms and busts, all while increasing unemployment and tipping us ever closer to hyperinflation, perhaps it is time to try a little transparency and accountability instead. Better still, we should try giving the people true economic freedom.

Make no mistake, the Fed is not truly independent of political pressure. Its chair is appointed by the president and it is a creature of Congress. Congress has a duty, albeit a neglected one, to exercise oversight of the Fed. However, even if it was politically independent, it is not independent of the influence of Wall Street. One only has to look at the revolving door between the Fed and the big banks to know that. Disclosure of TARP funds confirm this. It is nothing short of cruel and criminal for Congress to stand idly by while the life savings of Americans are inflated away to nothing. It is high time Congress insists on getting complete information on what the Fed has been doing and for whom.

My hope is that exposing the truth will demonstrate the insanity of the status quo and more people will call for sensible changes, such as legalizing competing currencies.

Deficit spending and paying what we owe

Wesley W. Burnett

Sometimes we all have to borrow money ... that's completely understandable ... but we also know that borrowing to pay old loans is never a good idea. Eventually that practice will result in bankruptcy. It's the situation our national political leaders have created for our country. This misuse of our national treasure must stop, and sooner, not later. Our congress has a long history of borrowing money to pay interest on our debt. Is there any one of us who can go to a bank and borrow money that bank the interest on a loan upon which the principle has not been paid? It's absolutely incomprehensible that our elected representatives allow this ridiculous practice to continue. How the argument I've heard lately against the refusal to raise the federal credit limit another one trillion dollars is quite remarkable: "It'll be calamity, a total collapse, a world wide disaster, we can't default on our debt!"

Who said anything about defaulting on the debt? Congress can refuse to raise the debt limit and still pay the nation's obligations to those who loaned the U.S. government money. The two issues are not the same.

By cutting spending, the congress could continue making payments to the debt, without additional borrowing.

Our simple-minded demand to congress: Stop spending more than is available.

Here's an idea for congressional consideration: Repeal all federal agencies, boards, and commissions etc., which were created without constitutional authority. Not surprisingly, the total amount that would be saved is incalculable; because the federal government is so massive no one can put an actual number as to the total current cost.

By operating within the confines of our constitution, there would be no need to borrow money. For too many years (almost 100) our national "leaders" have plundered the wealth of this great republic, without regard for the limits imposed by our constitution.

Each and every government agent, elected or appointed, takes an oath to protect and defend the constitution ... from all enemies both foreign and domestic.

I contend that the most dangerous enemies of the constitution today are domestic ones ... and they are the very people who solemnly swear to uphold and defend our constitution.

How do they defend it? By ignoring it and showing utter disdain toward the principles upon which this great nation was founded.

We must reclaim our republic and our constitution by electing those citizens who unashamedly believe in and support our state and national constitutions. And they must demand loyalty to our constitutions by those whom are appointed to serve the people.

I pray that process has begun, and will continue in future elections. The peaceful installation of constitutional defenders will save us from the destruction of our republic and our individual rights of life, liberty and property.

Fulton defeats Parkview for 1st time

Tim Borgen scored 22 points and grabbed nine rebounds to lead The Fulton School to a 44-41 boys' basketball victory over Waco Parkview Christian Tuesday night at the Forney Sports Center.

The victory was Fulton's first over Parkview after five losses in the all-time series. It boosted the Falcons' record to 5-2 overall and 3-1 in the district.

"We were up by 11 points, but they hit some threes. We were able to grind it out at the end," said Fulton head coach Brian Peters.

Borgen, a junior, was a first-team All-District performer as a sophomore. Helping him against Parkview were senior Dylan Leverett, with 10 points and seven rebounds, and freshman Hayden Leverett, who keyed the defensive effort at the top of a 1-3-1 zone.

Peters noted improvement in his team. He said, "We're more versatile. Our man defense is much better, and we can match up and play a variety of zones. Last year, it was just a 2-3 or a 3-2."

Hawks' 4th-quarter comeback leads to 2 losses

Brown leads Hawks in triangular meet

Sophomore Andrew Brown had the best individual performance for the Rockwall-Heath swimming team in its meet against Rockwall and Highland Park Thursday, Jan. 6, at the RISD Aquatic Center.

Brown won the boys' 100-meter freestyle with a time of 53.51 seconds. He also led off the 200 free relay team that placed third by swimming his 50-meter leg in 24.68. Austin Griesbach, Chase Nelson and Marvin Gutierrez followed Brown into the pool. He also swam the opening leg for the Hawks' 400 free relay team in 53.89.

Jon Sherwin placed second in the 200 freestyle for RHHS. In the boys' 50 free, Cole Perltz was second and Nelson third.

For the Rockwall-Heath girls, Morgan Madrig placed second in the 100 freestyle and third in the 200 free, and swam the first leg for the third-place medley relay team ahead of Nina Jaimes, Katie Chandler and Maddie Kipphut. The 200 free relay team of Katie Langdon, Chandler, Jaimes and Breana Williams also was third.

Lady Bulldogs roll to 8th win in a row

During the two previous seasons, every time Roysie City went on a roll in district girls' basketball games, there was Rockwall to stall the Lady Bulldogs' momentum.

This year, after moving to District 13-4A without the Lady Jackets, RC lost its first district game, by two points. Since then, the Lady Bulldogs have won eight consecutive games.

Most recently, they defeated Denison 55-38 Friday, Jan. 7, and Sherman 47-34 Tuesday to improve their record to 15-9 overall and 4-1 in the district.

Roysie City will complete the first half of its 13-4A schedule Friday at Greenville, then will return home to begin the second half against Mount Pleasant. The Lady Tigers defeated RC 34-32 in the district opener.

Sophomore Krystal Pickron again led RC's scoring in both of the last week's games, with 18 points against Denison and 12 against Sherman. Dezary Gardner added 11 Friday against the Lady Yellowjackets.

At Denison, the Lady Bulldogs rolled to a 39-21 lead after three quarters.

RCHS (14-9, 3-1) – Krystal Pickron 18, Dezary Gardner 11, Sydnie Erbe 8, Jennifer Null 7, Nina Gaines 6, Taylor Jordan 3, Lauren Dusek 2.

Denison (N/A) – Iciss Finley 14, Maraiha Scally 10, Lamonica Finley 6, Allen 3, Jordan Nallon 3, Clarissa Moore 2.

Sherman (N/A) – Bennett 9, Crockett 8, Jones 6, Softley 4, Hunter 3, Arias 2, Brown 2.

RCHS (15-9, 4-1) – Krystal Pickron 12, Nina Gaines 8, Dezary Gardner 8, Jennifer Null 8, Taylor Jordan 6, Sydnie Erbe 5.

At Rockwall, the Lady Bulldogs rolled to a 39-21 lead after three quarters.

RHS (20-6, 5-1) – Kayla Smith 20, Paige Turner 15, Hannah Hughes 13, Alyssa Lang 11, Morghen Day 3, Mariah Roof 2.

Lady Hawks not offensive enough in 2 losses

Next for the Rockwall-Heath girls' basketball team could be trying to prove it possible to win without scoring.

In their two most recent games, the Lady Hawks have held Hebron to 35 points Tuesday, Dec. 28, and Rockwall to 40 a week later.

"That was excellent defense, which has been a hallmark this season. However, RHHS' offense hasn't been so good. They scored just 30 points in each of those games, and lost both.

The Hebron game was Rockwall-Heath's third in two days at the Dallas ISU Coca-Cola Invention Tournament. Head coach Devin Gabbard said, "We looked really sluggish and tired. Defensively, we were a step slow coming out of the (holiday) break and probably two slower today."

Brianna Richardson scored 14 points and Brooke Eddy added 11 against Hebron, but the remainder of the team totaled just five.

The offense was distributed better Tuesday's game at Rockwall-Heath. Six Lady Hawks scored, but the highest scorers – Richardson, Eddy and McKenzie White – had just seven.

RHHS has exceeded 40 points in just 4 of 20 games this season. The Lady Hawks will have to do better to reach the playoffs, but they can take solace in the fact that their three District 10-4A losses have been to its top three teams – McKinney North (4-0) and McKinney and Rockwall (both 3-1).

	1st	2nd	3rd	4th	Final
RHHS	6	9	6	9	30
Hebron	11	10	3	11	35

Hebron (8-12) – Rachel Beaty 9, Rayvon Christian 9, Kayley Walker 6, Cam Ayers 4, Sarah Anderson 3, Alyneisha Bowie 2, Emenderlyn Iwuji 2.

RHS (18-6, 3-1) – Kayla Smith 16, Hannah Hughes 7, Alyssa Lang 7, Paige Turner 5, Mariah Roof 3, Morghen Day 2.

RHHS (7-14, 1-3) – Brooke Eddy 7, Brianna Richardson 7, McKenzie White 7, Aly Coughlin 5, Jordan Mitchell 3, Willette Rankin 1.

Jackets split two games, now 2-2 in district

When the Rockwall boys' basketball team defeated Wylie East 57-38 Friday, it meant the Yellowjackets won two of their first three District 10-4A games this season.

RHS was off to a good start to improve that record to 3-1, leading 13-12 after the first quarter at McKinney North.

Then the Bulldogs came back to take a 33-26 halftime lead, which they stretched to a 60-44 final margin. That put both Rockwall and McKinney North in a four-way tie for the district's final two playoff berths. Overall, 15-17 and the Jackets 10-11.

Blake Sandlin led RHS with 15 points at MNHS.

Against Wylie East, a strong finish made the difference. The Raiders led 13-11 after the first quarter and still were within six points at 39-33 entering the final period. Rockwall then outscored East 18-5 over the final 8 minutes.

Griffin Fraser's 20 points led the Jackets. Jared Ragland and Wesley Davis helped with 14 and 13 points.

Smith's shooting helps RHS regain 1st-place tie

By Lary Bump
McKinney North started out according to plan Tuesday in its attempt to remain undefeated in District 10-4A girls' basketball.

The Lady Bulldogs surrounded Rockwall's Alyssa Lang and held her scoreless in the first quarter. Meanwhile, MNHS star Aundrea Gamble was having her season scoring six points to help produce a 14-12 lead over the Lady Jackets.

That was about as far as the plan went. Lang scored on a three-point play to open the second quarter, and RHS never trailed again. Paige Turner held Gamble to just two more points until 3 minutes remained to play, and scored 15 points herself. Rockwall's 64-41 victory moved the Lady Jackets into a three-way tie for first place with McKinney North and McKinney, all 5-1 in the district.

In the end, it was RHS' game plan that prevailed, working even better than expected.

"Paige guarded (Gamble). We played a man (defense). We were all going to help, but she didn't need the help," said Lady Jackets head coach Jill McDill.

"I'm really proud of the way the girls played. I was really proud of our defense. We really executed our game plan well."

When Rockwall realized it couldn't go inside to the 6-foot-1 Lang, the game plan adjusted.

Junior Kayla Smith, who finished with a career-high 21 points, made her third (of four) 3-point shots to stretch the Lady Jackets' lead to 20-16 with 3 minutes, 11 seconds left in the second quarter.

That also began a 7-0 run. Gamble scored her only basket in either the second or third quarters. Turner beat the halftime buzzer by throwing the ball off the backboard and in for a 3-point and a 27-18 lead. That shot began a 10-0 spurt completed by Smith's final 3-point shot for a 34-18 bulge.

McDill said, "We had that 16-point lead, but they cut it to eight. We called a timeout, got focused and got going again."

Mariah Roof scored her only basket to end the Lady Bulldogs' 8-0 run, and baskets by Lang and Turner made the score 42-30 after three quarters.

North had one more rally to pull within 43-34, but Turner turned two of her team's high five steals into baskets. Hannah Hughes scored 6 of the 10 points as RHS built its lead to 53-34.

MNHS' last resort was fouling a team that had made just two of six free throws. That strategy didn't work either. Smith made eight consecutive foul shots, and Morghen Day hit three of four.

Hughes finished with 13 points and Day had 11. Unofficially, Turner also led the Lady Jackets with five rebounds and Lang with four assists.

Rockwall hit more than half of its shots from the field. McDill said, "We got some great shots. Kayla hit some great shots, and was great on her foul shots."

That victory followed the Lady Jackets' 60-18 romp Friday past Wylie East, playing its first year of varsity basketball.

The 13th-ranked team in the TABC 2010 4A poll took a 19-7 first-quarter lead. Lang was the high scorer with 16 points, followed by Hughes' 15 and Turner's 12.

Single resident speaks at county road map hearing

Rockwall County voters held a public hearing on the adoption of a county road map, with one resident offering comments at the Jan. 5 meeting.

County Judge Jerry Hogan said at the start of the meeting that the county's claim of its right to continue maintenance.

Rockwall resident Kenneth Baker was the lone speaker, not objecting to the maintenance issue but suggesting an unpaved stretch of North Country Lane be temporarily blocked off to prevent further illicit activity from continuing.

Baker said the winding road, which stretches from FM 549 to Hwy. 66 into the city of Fate, is the site of vandalism, public dumping, burning of rubbish and bon fires during burn bans and public sex.

Baker owns property bordering Ben Payne road and leases land bordering North Country Lane.

"It is a hazard to the public," he said. "The road doesn't serve any other purpose."

Baker said the properties that border the road are accessible from other directions and there are no occupied houses in the area. He said there is one abandoned house in the vicinity.

He also said the dirt road becomes a favorite spot for "mudding" after it rains. He said cars have slid off the road and into fences, allowing livestock to wander out of pastureland and cause a "public hazard."

Baker also addressed the illegal dumping that takes place along the road.

"Last week, we found three dead hogs. It's a dumping ground for mattresses and garbage," he said.

Lastly, he said people gather at the abandoned house at night for bonfires and other possibly illegal activities.

"I have gone up there and found burning logs and bonfires and drug paraphernalia," Baker said.

Baker asked the Court to consider temporarily barricading the stretch of road for further discussion.

"I'm not asking for it to be permanently blocked but temporarily until further notice. You may never be able to prevent all of it but you can make it harder to get cars up there," he said.

Judge Hogan took Baker's phone number for future discussions and the meeting was adjourned in less than 15 minutes.

Flu shots offered Saturday at HH Health Center

The Health Center of Helping Hands will hold a walk-in flu shot clinic from 8:30 a.m. to 12 p.m. on Saturday, Jan. 22.

Flu vaccine is still available at the Health Center until March. Prices range from $14 to $20.

For an appointment call 972-772-8194, or make an appointment in person at the Health Center, located at 102 S First Street in Rockwall.

Correction ...

A photo in the Dec. 31, 2010 issue of the Rockwall County News stated that Rockwall resident Raymond Cameron had lived in the community since 1936, when he has been a resident since 1946. Rockwall's Caruth Lake was renamed Raymond Cameron Lake recently by the City of Rockwall in recognition of his civic contributions. The Rockwall County News regrets the error.
