Rockwall requires permits for alarms

by Kathy Williams

The Rockwall City Council Monday approved two motions Monday involving fire and burglar alarm systems within the city. The council voted to adopt an amendment to the City Code of Ordinances establishing alarm permit requirements for businesses and residences.

Starting Jan. 1, 2009, home and business owners in the City of Rockwall will need to apply for a permit for fire and burglar alarms. The ordinance will include existing alarm systems in place prior to Jan. 1, and new systems to be installed after that date.

The permit fees are $30 per system for a residence and $50 per system for a business. Julie Couch, Rockwall City Manager, said most businesses, and possibly a few homes, have both fire and burglar alarms. Each separate system will require a permit and payment of the fee.

The Council also awarded a contract to PMAM Corporation for fire and police alarm tracking and billing. Couch said the company will monitor alarm calls and be in touch with alarm holders to help reduce the incidence of false alarms. The City currently has penalties in place for excessive false alarms. It is hoped the monitoring will bring these numbers down and ease the burden on fire and police personnel from responding to unnecessary calls.

Couch said the city will be sending information on the new requirements in the coming weeks.

nominated for People To People because of his leadership qualities. Smith said David exhibits good leadership in many ways, including in the classroom. "David is the kind of kid that I can call on to help in the classroom. If anyone is having trouble, I can ask him to help and he will."

David was able to earn high school credit by attending the program. "The students are evaluated at the end of the trip and on the assignments," said David's mother, Beth. They were graded on their participation and on assignments given during the trip. The students also had homework to complete before leaving for Washington.

"We were given study guides and had assignments over the summer to prepare for the trip," said David. "One question was about the Changing of the Guard at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, and why the soldiers take 21 steps and pause for 21 seconds. This is all based on the 21 gun salute for fallen soldiers." David said his group was able to witness a Changing of the Guard ceremony.

The students studied the leaders represented by several of the monuments they visited, including Lincoln and Washington. "We saw all of the monuments and memorials and visited Gettysburg, Jamestown, and Colonial Williamsburg," David said.

The students also visited the Newseum, a six-story museum with multiple galleries featuring the biggest stories reported by the press over the last century. The young leaders were treated to a 3-D movie based on these 'big stories,' and viewed a September 11 exhibit.

Another exhibit that made an impression was the World War II Memorial. He said, "The World War II Memorial was really amazing. I didn't realize how many lives were lost in that war. I believe the monument had 4,000 stars on it and each star represented 100 lives lost. It was amazing to see it."

The itinerary for this particular Leadership Forum included a one and a half hour session with Sean Covey, author of "7 Habits of Highly Effective Teens." "He made it fun," said David. "I started reading his book when I found out we were going to hear him speak. He inspired me to finish it."

David's mother only had good things to say about the program. "These teachers and educators who travel with the kids, education is their passion. Not only do you feel safe they are with your children, but they make the learning fun. They take their time."

Both Shafer's explained that having a full seven days for the trip gave the students an opportunity to learn more and take part in a multitude of things that they might not otherwise have experienced. "The trip planners really help the students get the best out of it. I think the students got to see the best of the best," Beth said. "They take good care of the kids." David said he would definitely attend the program again if given the opportunity.

When asked what he learned the most about leadership during this experience, David replied, "I can apply it to when I act as a leader; not just that, but in everything I do." While discussing his leadership qualities and experiences, the question of his running for office in the future came up. "Possibly," David said with a smile. He explained he ran for treasurer of the NJHS last year. "It was fun campaigning."

President Dwight D. Eisenhower founded the People to People program in 1956 during his presidency, with the mission to "foster peace through understanding." The People to People World Leadership Forums offer an opportunity for exceptional students from around the globe to meet, have access to some of world's most fascinating people and places, and to just simply have fun with other students with similar goals. ## Youth to vote in mock presidential election at Chisholm Baptist Church Saturday

Developed to give youth a better understanding of the voting process and hands-on experience, voters will select their choice for president, senator, congressman and the Rockwall County road bond.

October is Domestic Violence Awareness Month

...minutes in the United States, someone becomes the victim of violence. In order to raise awareness of this serious issue, Domestic Violence Awareness Month.

...violence transcends all racial barriers, socio-economic status and, occasionally, gender. Men can also be victims, but social and cultural stigmas, these incidents are rarely reported.

...n Need (WIN), a non-profit organization in Rockwall, aims to break the cycle of family violence, eliminate the incidences of violence, and educate families affected by violence to live by non-violence.

...idewell, the Legal/Client Advocate for WIN, said, "According to statistics, over the last two years the cases have doubled. I see an average of three clients per day in Rockwall County."

...l added, "The incidence of domestic violence reported in Rockwall County for 2007 by the sheriff's department was 116, 186 for the Dallas Police Department, 60 for Roysse City and 17 for Heath." The Department of Human Services estimates there were nearly 100 victims of domestic violence last year nationwide. Unfortunately, there are not sufficient resources to help every victim in our state. Domestic violence programs annually serve approximately only 100 state's victims, and last year 20% of the adult victims requested could not receive it due to lack of space.

...s Council on Family Violence reports that in 2006, 120 women were killed as a result of domestic violence, the youngest being 14 and the oldest 68. The average age was 36. The unofficial number of deaths in 2007 due to domestic violence was 106.

...n Need has opened a new office in Rockwall at 102 S. First Street. Time services are offered Monday through Wednesday, and from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. WIN's phone number in Rockwall is 972-771-0000. For immediate assistance, counseling and referrals the crisis line is 903-454-HELP(4357).

...y services to victims and survivors include needs assessment, counseling, legal advocacy, case management, coordination of services and financial assistance. WIN also offers a program for teenagers called P.A.V.E., Preventing Abuse and Violence Education. Youth who live with domestic violence face special challenges at school and are at risk for acting out or hurting others, and often experience learning difficulties. Violence seen in teenage relationships usually begins after the teens are 'going out' or are involved as a couple. Children raised with domestic violence have an increased risk for becoming a victim or perpetrator as an adult. Children model the behaviors they see at home.

"I'm working hard to get into the Rockwall schools and educate (the students) because prevention is huge," said Ms. Glidewell.

Local students land state fair wins

Rockwall Independent School District was well represented at the 2008 State Fair of Agriculture. Members of Rockwall FFA organization participated in activities during the 24 days of the fair in Fort Worth, Texas.

FFA member Will Hillman, a sixth grade student at Reinhardt Elementary, received a first place award for his market project. Jimmy Hillman, a seventh grade student at Reinhardt Elementary, received a first place award in the Agriculture Mechanics Trailer Competition. The welding trailer built by RHS' Agriculture Mechanics classes withstood fierce competition. The show team met with a panel of judges and discussed the mechanics of building the trailer, including how they integrated the Pythagorean Theorem in the structure and design. The trailer was chosen third in overall competition.

Rockwall County's Clovers 4-H Club, represented by the Clover Creamers, was chosen to participate in the Texas Department of Agriculture's Home Made Ice Cream Scoop Contest at the fair's Food and Fiber Building. Team members Cale Merritt, Jacob Hillman, Will Morris and Sam Evans, all sixth grade students at Reinhardt Elementary School, presented their Funky Chunky Chocolate ice cream for judging to representatives from Blue Bell Ice Cream, Southwest Dairy Farmers and Van Zandt County. Judges awarded the Clover Creamers second place in the ice cream novelty division. After meeting with judges the 14 teams representing 4-H Clubs from across Texas served samples to approximately 200 fair goers.

The Clover Creamers won second place in the Peoples Choice contest.

The State Fair of Texas provides an annual opportunity to showcase the state's livestock industry, 4-H and agriculture mechanics projects. The State Fair of Texas attracts approximately 3,500 4-H and FFA students from across the state exhibiting more than 5,000 animals, agriculture mechanics projects and food related projects.

RHHS band fundraisers for scholarships, trip

Rockwall Heath High School band has begun several fall fundraisers to benefit the band. The proceeds will be used for student scholarships and to assist with the band trip. The award-winning band will participate in the 2009 Coast Music Festival in Corpus Christi in April 2009. Band members are once again selling fresh greenery wreaths, centerpieces and decorative swags. Orders will be accepted through the end of the school year, with delivery in time for the holidays.

The band is also fundraising for the Rockwall Dodge Hometown Scholarship Program. In this campaign, the band will give away a 2009 Ram Crew Cab 1500 truck in Texas. Supporters will receive a chance to win making a donation to a high school band.

Dodge has a truck on display at RHHS home football games. Donations for a chance to win will be taken at the stadium. Band members also have vouchers for the truck, which will be given away at the end of November.

The band recently held an all day car wash-a-thon at several locations in Rockwall, including CVS Pharmacy, Walgreen's, Community Pharmacy and O'Reilly Auto Parts. Support from the community has raised more than $6,500 towards scholarships and the band trip.

For more information about the band's programs, fundraisers, or to place an order, contact Sandra Nelson at 469-338-1864.

Woodcreek Bible Church celebrates Reformation Day on October 31

by Aaron F. Ott
Pastor, Woodcreek Bible Church

Reformation Day celebrations are growing among Christian churches in the U.S., but for us, it began three years ago.

It was with my family that I first examined the foundations for what we thought was a biblically derived philosophy of celebration. This celebration paradigm suggests that the most legitimate celebrations are those that (1) commemorate a historical event that you're glad occurred, (2) celebrates its present effects and (3) hopes those effects will carry on into the future.

Birthdays, Christmas, Easter and even Independence Day all fit this paradigm, as did the ancient Hebrew feasts of the Bible, or most other Christian rites for that matter. Halloween, however, though widely celebrated in the U.S., stood out as not fitting this model, and therefore begged for replacement.

My research into church history revealed that October 31, 1517 has been a traditional date given for when Martin Luther, a German monk and theologian, nailed his "95 Theses" to the door of his church, protesting religious abuses of Rome at the time. This act has been celebrated as symbolically launching the Protestant Reformation, though many other reformers contributed to the growing era of religious liberty that swept across Europe in the 16th century.

This great season of "protesting" religious tyranny resulted in many of the beloved aspects of Christian worship today: the Bible in our native language, empowerment of "lay people" to perform service tasks previously reserved for a "priestly class," and a resurgence of teaching orthodox Christian truths that pre-dated the rise of Roman Catholic errors.

The last benefit is by far the most powerful since Protestants consider nothing greater than the liberating truth of sola fide ("faith alone"); that I am assured of salvation from sin (and punishment) "faith alone" in Christ, not by mere conformity to ritual or to fake.

With this historic event to celebrate, seeing its present knowing how it gives hope for the future, my family are celebrating Reformation Day in our home in 2005. Dressed as nuns, (all the Reformers were originally Catholic), we greeted at the door with a hearty "Happy Reformation!" out oodles of candy, but also "scrolls" to describe what we

The neighbors must have thought us odd, but came year to find even more decorations. "The Monastery" now over our front porch, with Gregorian chant music blaring (of course), posters on the front of the house to describe gans and an extra door on which trick-or-treaters could "thesis" (short sentence describing what they think should about church).

In the fall of 2007, I became the pastor of Woodcreek and our family celebration has been adopted by the church. The event grew much further, celebrating with trick-or-treaters at our home, as well as developing a reformation/mo-carnival at the church.

This year the expansion continues. On Friday, October 9 p.m., we again will not only have "The Monastery" at Woodcreek subdivision in Fate, but also our carnival at (which is far more able to accommodate the scope of such event in the Christian celebratory calendar).

It is our conviction that Christians should be the biggest also be able to explain why you do what you do. Reformation is not merely an alternative to Halloween, but a reason to bash as possible. In fact, the party should be too big to keep making it obvious that all of Rockwall County is invited.

Woodcreek Bible Church is located at 7066 W. Hwy 66. For more information, call 214-543-9836 or visit www.woodcreekbiblechurch.com

Believing ... Hebrews 11:30

Continue this series in Hebrews chapter 11. I encourage all of you to search out the scriptural stories, study them and plant them in your heart. God had a reason for bringing them to our attention. As students we can all dig into them with a believing heart. We looked at Moses and his believing to deliver God's people from the grasp of Pharaoh, king of Egypt. The next verse goes to the fall of Jericho. "By faith the walls of Jericho fell down, after compassed about seven days" (Hebrews 11:30).

Stand the story of Jericho, it helps to study the events leading to the years of Moses. Israel was influenced by unbelievers who went into the promised land. This record is found in Numbers 13:1-45. God commanded Moses to send spies into the land with certain instructions. He chose one from each son of Israel. On their return, the spies confirmed that the land was rich and flowing with milk and honey. Then they spoke of the people and cities with great big walls, seducing Israel into following the spies, Caleb followed up with the following words, "I am stronger than we" (Numbers 13:30). They told stories of how the land eats up its inhabitants, and all the people that they saw were men of great stature including the might giants who were the Anakim. Please note that these giants may have been descendants of the giant people that went back to Cain who was a builder of cities.

Joshua and Caleb both declared, "The land, which we passed to search it, is an exceeding good land. If the Lord delight in us, we will bring us into the land, and give it to us. A land which flows with milk and honey. Only rebel not against the Lord, neither fear the people of the land. For they are bread for us. Their defence is departed from them, and the Lord is with us. Fear them not" (Numbers 14:6-9).

This is the context of the Jericho reference in Hebrews. Guess who led the way in the conquest of Jericho? It was Joshua. After the spies returned with the news, God commanded Moses to tell the people of Israel, "Doubtless, you shall not come into the land, which I swear to make you dwell therein, save Caleb the son of Jephunneh, and Joshua the son of Nun" (Numbers 14:30).

Joshua and Caleb saw the exact same things as did the other spies. Yet they believed God was able to back His word and encouraged Israel to move on His word. The others believed that they would not succeed because the giants saw them as little grasshoppers to crush under their feet. Joshua and Caleb saw the same giant evil people as mere bread for Israel to consume because as they said, "The Lord is with us."

As that day approached after several years, God gave His word to Joshua as recorded in Joshua 1:2-9, "Moses my servant is dead. Now therefore arise, go over the Jordan and all this people, unto the land which I do give to them..."

"There shall not any man be able to stand before you all the days of your life. As I was with Moses, so I will be with you."

"Have not I commanded you? Be strong and of a good courage. Be not afraid, neither be dismayed. For the Lord your God is with you wherever you go."

Joshua acted on God's word and the fortress walls of Jericho fell. Although the stature of the people in the land did not change, God in heaven still gave Israel the victory.

What a great example of believing and courage. Now we have a greater example in the son of God who was given the same name as Joshua the son of Nun. Their name meant God is with us.

Correction to City of Rockwall Annexation

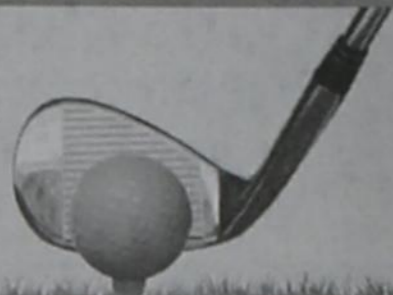

In the Oct. 9, 2008 issue of the Rockwall County News, it was reported in an article titled, "Rockwall City Council approves first stage of annexation plan," that Councilman Mark Russo voted against the annexation plan. He, in fact, voted in favor of the plan, which passed unanimously 7-0 to initiate the annexation proceedings. The Rockwall County News regrets the error.

Elementary celebrates Red Ribbon Week

marks the 20th anniversary of the first official Red Ribbon Week, which came into existence as a result of the efforts of Drug Enforcement Administration Special Agent Kiki Neri in 1985. Friends and family in his California hometown joined to honor him by pledging to live drug free. A red ribbon became the symbol of this fight against drug abuse. PTA's across the county joined in this fight and adopted the red ribbon, and in 1988 the state proclaimed Red Ribbon Week. Elementary and Rockwall ISD joins in this endeavor again this year, encouraging our students to turn away from drugs, and learning healthy choices.

Amy Parks Elementary

will have calendars for Red Ribbon Week, Oct. 27-31. Each day will be given the opportunity to say "no" to drugs. Activities include:
 - Wear red to kick off "Drug Free" week.
 - Wear your favorite jersey.
 - Wear your favorite slippers - bring tennis shoes for P.E.
 - Wear your camouflage.
 - Wear your favorite hat.

Amy Parks Elementary music program

Parks Elementary School fifth grade music students will be in history through song as they present "ROCK!" Come join us Tuesday, Oct. 28, at the school for a delightful presentation of rock and roll.

Carla Brooks recognized by U.S. Banker magazine

Heath resident Carla Jo Brooks, managing director and deputy portfolio manager at the Dallas investment banking firm Commerce Street Capital, has been ranked 13th on this year's Top 25 Nonbank Women in Finance, according to a press release received last week.

The listing is part of The 25 Most Power Women in Banking compilation in U.S. Banker magazine's sixth annual performance-based influence ranking to be published this month.

Brooks, one of 4,700 nominees, also was selected to be featured on the publication's cover along with nine other honorees.

Since 2002, Brooks has played an integral role in developing and building Commerce Street Capital's fund management business. Having built a successful career in bank regulation and oversight, she was in a unique position to help create private equity funds to invest in banks.

Brooks leads the efforts to evaluate opportunities to invest that capital in banks throughout the U.S. She has analyzed and performed due diligence on approximately 500 organizations and invested in 39 during a time when many investments in financial institutions, particularly in growth markets were well in excess of book value (at least over two times).

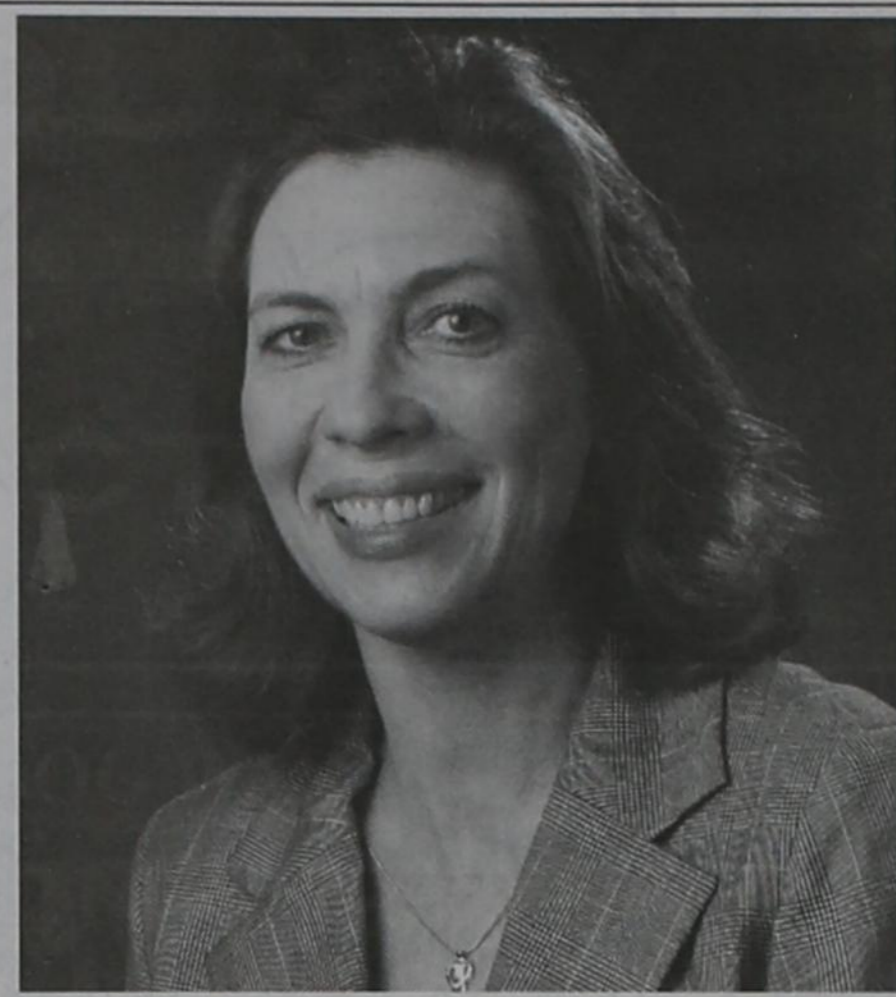

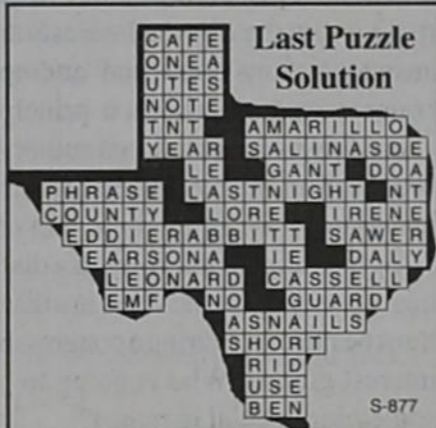

"I'm flattered," Brooks said. "I truly appreciate and enjoy working in the business of assisting and advising financial institutions and want to thank my Commerce Street Capital colleagues as well as those throughout my career who have encouraged and had confidence in me to be better-than-ever in this profession. I dedicate this honor to my father and grandfather who were both bankers, as well as to my late husband."

An Echo, Not a Choice

by Sheldon Richman

Both major presidential candidates support the taxpayer bailout. They are just arguing over how to do it.

If anyone hoped the presidential campaign would be a debate about philosophy, the role of government, and such things — forget it. The only choice over which man — John McCain or Barack Obama — should be given unlimited power to run our lives.

That's not the kind of debate in which freedom-loving people rather, they say to both candidates, "Thanks, but no thanks. I'm looking for a leader. I'm looking for liberty."

For two men who claim they are dramatically different in outlook, amazingly alike. Take the current economy turmoil. McCain and Obama voted for the $700 billion Wall Street welfare program, which includes $150 billion more in entitlements to House members who voted bailout previously. Mr. No More Earmarks apparently had no objection.

With McCain trailing badly in key states, he needed to find a way to win himself favorably with Obama. So he came up with a plan that made him a champion of homeowners while portraying Obama as a champion of Finance.

McCain would force the taxpayers to spend $300 billion to devalue mortgages from banks at face value — that sounds like a good idea — and then change the terms for the mortgagors so the payments are the same. Of course, the taxpayers would be stuck with the difference.

This plan seems strange coming from a member of the party that favors free markets. But as Ayn Rand used to say, "Check your party's rhetoric, free-market rhetoric is something that is brought out in times of crisis."

Right now it's not useful, because people have been convinced that the current problems are market failures. That's why McCain and Obama are obsessed with Wall Street's "greed and corruption" and the perverse incentives Republican and Democratic regimes create for lenders through the "too big to fail" doctrine and easy home ownership.

Republicans talk about the burdens of regulation, which leaves them open to the free market. But this is wrong. Free markets are not a panacea; they are also free of subsidies, privileges, and special treatment. Lightening up on regulation may please business, but if it is done without the subsidies, privileges, and the guarantees in place, it is not a free market.

To see this point, imagine that you offer to cover someone's illegal gambling junket to Las Vegas and as a measure of protection, you restrict the size of the bets, the games played, and the time of the evening. If you were to remove those restrictions later without a guarantee in place, we'd hardly describe it as a move toward self-reliance. Quite the opposite, in fact.

This is analogous to what has happened in the American financial markets were deregulated to some extent in the 1980s, though not during the Bush years. Looked at in isolation, the deregulation was good; it permitted diversification and broader participation in the global marketplace.

But we must remember that the regulations were part of a system of implied guarantees of rescue if big financial institutions got into trouble. The upshot is that deregulation under these circumstances did a genuine move toward the free market, but rather toward greater taxpayer burden by the corporate state.

Real free-market advocates don't want mere deregulation. They want the removal of all types of privileges, as well as restriction of government power. Most people naively believe that regulation is needed to protect against greed and irresponsibility. But bureaucratic and often corrupt regulation is the only protection available is the discipline of profit-and-loss system.

A really great economic "stimulus" plan

by Wesley W. Burnett

Here's an economic "development" or "stimulus" plan we government officials will implement: Lower the property tax rate to get ready for the biggest economic boom this county has ever seen.

All it takes is a little planning from budgeteers, replacing the property taxes with fair and reasonable charges for government services. Every adjoining county in North Texas would be forced to follow to keep their industrial and business foundation intact. It's a business and industry seek the lowest costs available (like water and electricity).

Who wouldn't want to live and work in a "tax free" county? In addition to the economic benefits, creating a "tax free" county would be the right thing to do. Instead of stealing from each other, government, we'd be paying individually for services rendered by the government.

The first city, county or school district which seizes this idea and implements it, will spark a wildfire of copy-cats throughout Texas without property taxes ... whether you rent or own, everyone benefits from a big "tax free" zone.

No more worry about the appraisal district raising property values ... it won't matter what the value is, except for buying and selling. Forget about Wall Street and welfare from D.C., Rockwall County can have its own economic improvement without borrowing one thin dime. Elected officials willing to relieve property owners of the current taxation system.

Wesley W. Burnett is a writer and speaker on economic development and property tax reform.

A means of oppression

Quotes from a speech by Charles Adams. When popular support for a law, especially a tax law, disappears, the state has to fall back on what Montesquieu called, "means of oppression." That seems to be the case in our country today.

And even then, we should remember this: The likelihood of a major tax change may depend on just how fed-up the people are with the current tax system. With the "evil empire" tolerance for a bad tax law may completely disappear and better tax law. But beware, don't expect someone comes up with a much better tax law. And even then, we should remember this: The likelihood of a major tax change may depend on just how fed-up the people are with the current tax system.

Who ever hopes a faultless tax system will ever be established? Hopes what ne'er was, is not, and never will be. Charles Adams is the author of Course of Human Events: Arguing the Case for American Independence, Those Dirty Rotten Tax Revolts That Built America, and *Much of this more on this subject can be found in his book Evil: The Impact of Taxes on the Course of Civilization.*

Political monopoly power

by Walter E. Williams

The Federalist Papers, written by James Madison, John Jay and Alexander Hamilton, is the document most frequently referred to when trying to get a feel for the original intent of the framers of the Constitution. One such intention is found in Federalist 56 where Madison says, "...it seems to give the fullest assurance, that a representative for every thirty thousand inhabitants will render the (House of Representatives) both a safe and competent guardian of the interests which will be confided to it."

Excellent research, found at <http://www.thirty-thousand.org/index.htm>, shows that in 1804 each representative represented about 40,000 people. Today, each representative represents close to 700,000. If we lived up to the vision of our founders, given today's population, we would have about 7,500 congressmen in the House of Representatives. It turns out that in 1929 Congress passed a bill fixing the number of representatives at 435. Prior to that, the number of congressional districts was increased every 10 years, from 1790 to 1910, except one, after a population census was taken.

We might ask what's so sacrosanct about 435 representatives? Why not 600, or 1,000, or 7,500? Here's part of the answer and, by the way, I never cease to be amazed by the insight and wisdom of our founders: James Madison, the acknowledged father of the Constitution, argued that the smaller the House of Representatives relative to the nation's population, the greater is the risk of unethical collusion. He said, "Numerous bodies ... are less subject to venality and corruption." In a word, he saw competition in the political arena as the best means for protecting our liberties. If Madison were around today to see today's venal and corrupt Congress, he'd probably say, "See, I told you so!"

In addition to venality and corruption, restricting the number of representatives confers significant monopoly power that goes a long way toward explaining the stranglehold the two parties have and the high incumbent success rates. It might also explain the power of vested interest groups to influence congressional decisions. They only have to bribe, cajole or threaten a relatively small number of representatives. Imagine the challenge to a lobbyist, if there were 7,500 representatives, trying to get a majority of 3,813 to vote for this or that special privilege versus having to get only a 218 majority in today's Congress.

Another problem of a small number of congressmen, with large districts, has to do with representing their constituents. How in the world is one congressman to represent the diverse interests and values of 700,000 people? The practical answer is they don't and attempt to be all things to all people. Thus, a congressman who takes a principled stand against the federal government exceeding its constitutional authority — whether it be government involvement in education, business welfare and bailouts and $2 trillion dollars worth of other handouts — is not likely to win office.

Appealing for the votes in a district of 700,000 is a more difficult challenge than appealing for the votes in a district of 40,000 or 60,000 people. Larger sums must be raised requiring a congressman to be wealthy or raise money from vested interest groups. Who is going to give a congressman money and not expect something special in return?

One should not be optimistic about increasing the size of Congress to make it more representative of the American people. There are powerful forces that benefit from the status quo. Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac lobbyists get Congress to look the other way. Hundreds of other lobbyists get Congress to rig the market, or confer special privileges, to benefit one class of Americans at the expense of another class. I guarantee you that the vested interest groups, who now have a strong grip on Washington, at the detriment of the nation's well-being, wouldn't as easily get their way if they had to scrounge for 3,813 votes as opposed to 218.

The Betrayal Factor ...

by Bill O'Reilly

Outside of violent crime, one of the worst things a person can experience is betrayal; that is, believing in someone or something and then being hurt by the sincere belief.

Up until a few weeks ago, millions of hardworking Americans who play by the rules thought they were doing the responsible thing by investing in U.S. companies. Many of these folks were saving for retirement or for their child's education by buying stocks and bonds from what they thought were responsible institutions. No one mentioned that a massive fraud was occurring in many of those brokerage houses and banks. No one told the folks that the system was rigged.

So, when their investments suddenly vanished in the chaos of subprime mortgage corruption, many Americans felt the sting of betrayal and it has left them bitter. After all, they did the right thing and got punished because the federal government, which is supposed to provide strict oversight, allowed corruption and greed to go unchecked.

That is the backdrop of the presidential vote this year. On September 21, John McCain was tied with Barack Obama in many national polls and running ahead of Obama in most battleground states. Three weeks later, McCain was well behind.

It's not that Obama is picking up steam. According to the Gallup Daily tracking polls, Obama's numbers have stayed about the same since mid-September. But McCain's polling has fallen apart. He's getting pounded primarily because he's a Republican and the party holding the White House when the economy implodes always gets hammered. Just ask Jimmy Carter and Herbert Hoover.

What is somewhat inexplicable is that neither McCain nor Obama seems to understand the betrayal factor. Neither of them mentioned it in the debates. They both campaign as though the financial chaos is just another in a long line of problems. But it's not. People will remember this debacle as long as they live. It's like their money was stolen from them.

And in a way it was. When a guy like Stanley O'Neal can run Merrill Lynch into the ground and walk away with $100 million while stockholders see their investments evaporate, that is a moral crime. When Congressman Barney Frank, House Financial Services Committee chairman, tells the country in July that Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac are "fundamentally sound" and two months later they collapse, that needs to be investigated.

When Sen. Christopher Dodd, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, accepts a sweetheart mortgage from Countrywide Financial and shortly afterward that company implodes, well, maybe some legal authority should investigate. Or am I wrong?

Betrayal is a terrible thing, and the folks were badly betrayed by the American financial system. My question is: Who's gonna do something about it?

Pumpkin decorating for youth at the Patch

The Rockwall Police Officers Association will sponsor its second annual pumpkin decorating contest Saturday at the Pumpkin Patch.

The event, open to all children, will be divided into same-age groups. Josh Stamper, president of RPOA and head of the Patch Project, will work with patch volunteer Sheri Mueller to ensure everything goes smoothly.

The Patch, located in the Brookshire's parking lot on Ridge Road, opens at 9 a.m.

Each participating child will receive a glow-in-the-dark necklace to wear during trick-or-treating to make him or her more visible, according to RPOA officials.

Registration forms and schedule details are available at the Patch or may be downloaded at rockwallpumpkinpatch.com.

Check-in times begin with pre-school and kindergarten at 9 a.m. and will run every half-hour according to age groups. The adults check-in time will be at 11:30 a.m. Judging times will be 20 minutes after each check-in.

Decorated pumpkins not picked up after the close of judging will be donated to local hospitals and nursing homes.

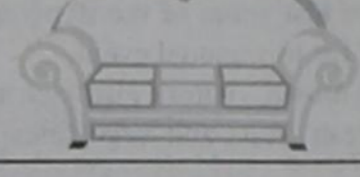

To date, the Patch has attracted visitors not only from Rockwall County, but also from all over the Metroplex and from out of state. Some of last week's visitors, according to Patch workers, were from as far away as San Diego and Portland. Other visitors were from Kingston, Okla., Plano, Terrell, Mesquite, Garland, Allen and Dallas.

In response to the economic woes and to ensure the Patch inventory is depleted, prices were reduced last week.

The Patch will remain open from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. daily through Oct. 31.

The Pumpkin Patch, a joint volunteer effort by Friends of the Library and the Council of Catholic Women, is celebrating its 20th year as a Rockwall fall tradition.

Minter Mortgage Matters

Mortgage Trolling, Don't Get Caught!

Lenders and lead generation companies have ramped up their trolling by email, snail mail and phone. Dragging baits that all sound too good to be true, these marketers lure in many unsuspecting homeowners. Even worse, if you've taken the rancid bait just once you may find countless solicitors all trying to reel you in. Here are some of the popular common trolling techniques and how to identify them so you do not find yourself caught in their net.

- Mail that is made to look like it's from your mortgage lender, but it not. For example, if the return address says "re: Elite Lending" it is not from Elite Lending, but is designed to make you think so. They get the name of your mortgage company from public records.
- "You have been selected for an exclusive interest rate reduction program."
- TRANSLATION: You are next on our list of people to harass into refinancing.
- And correspondence that refers to renegotiating or restructuring is a disguise for a refinance solicitation.
- 1% Mortgages of "Cut Your House Payments in Half" - A misrepresentation of an Option ARM. o YOU CANNOT BORROW MONEY AT A RATE OF 1%
- Any advertisement that currently discloses an Annual Percentage Rate (APR) less than 5.5% is a blatant falsehood.
- Here's my personal favorite - "This property qualifies for the Economic Advantage Effective Interest Rate Reduction Program."

Of course, I respond to these advertisements and solicitations just to hear the sales pitch. In most cases the person that answers the phone knows nothing about mortgages and is working off a script to pry personal information from me and turn it into a mortgage application. These companies have one goal - get you to apply!

If you provide a social security number you will learn what shooting fish in a barrel is like ... when you're the fish! There are companies that are immediately notified as soon as anyone does a mortgage credit report and you will be bombarded by phone calls and mail. Once the blood is in the water the "loan sharks" come out. It's called purchasing "trigger leads" and it's perfectly legal. You must opt-out if you do not want the credit repositories to be able to sell your credit report info.

Tired of sitting in traffic?

VOTE YES FOR THE ROAD BOND INITIATIVE

For more information on the Rockwall County Road Bond Initiative go to: www.buildingbetterroads.com

"The future of the City of Rockwall and Rockwall County depends upon our ability to safely and efficiently get to our homes, schools, and businesses. As part of the Transportation Consortium, all cities and officials within the county worked together with TxDOT to formulate a plan for major improvements. We absolutely need these road improvements to keep traffic flowing through our county."

- Bill Cecil, Mayor of Rockwall

"Our traffic congestion affects our quality of life in terms of safety, health, economic development and convenience. Improvements to FM 740 and FM 552 are essential to ensuring positive growth in Heath, and all four roadways are critical to the entire county. In addition, bike and walking trails will be accommodated on each these roads, which will add a valued amenity for our community."

- John Ratcliffe, Mayor of Heath

"Rockwall Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors voted unanimously to support the Road Bond issue on behalf of the business owners in our community. These road enhancements are critical to the continued positive growth of our community."

- Margie Hooper, President of the Rockwall Area Chamber of Commerce

"The Road Bond Initiative enhances public safety in regards to response time not only within our individual cities, but the county at large. This is especially critical when we provide mutual aid to other cities within our county."

- Mark Moeller, Chief of Police, City of Rockwall

"Rockwall County's population will increase by 240%, or from 75,000 to 250,000 in a short period of time. We are already behind in terms of infrastructure, and we cannot afford to let the situation get worse. I believe Rockwall County voters will invest in our future and VOTE YES to improve our roadways."

- Kevin Fowler, Chairman of the Building Better Roads Citizens Committee

"Response time in a medical, fire or law enforcement emergency is essential to public safety. Our emergency responders are already dealing with congestion. The ability to quickly respond will continue to decline without road improvements."

- Harold Eavenson, Rockwall County Sheriff

"I am absolutely in favor of the 2008 Road Bond, for it will increase accountability within our county and improve everyone's quality of life."

- Joe Pool, Senior Pastor, First United Methodist Church of Rockwall

Read's 6 TD passes carry Heritage Christian past Lakehill Warriors

Zach Read celebrated Homecoming by throwing six touchdown passes to send Rockwall Heritage Christian Academy's alumni home happy with a 68-24 victory over Lakehill Preparatory Academy.

HCA jumped out to a 24-0 lead in the first quarter. After Kevin Prater ran 3 yards for a touchdown, Read threw scoring passes of 58 yards to Josh Points and 41 to Noah Ward.

The Eagles broke away from a 32-8 halftime lead by outscoring Lakehill 28-8 in the third quarter.

The senior quarterback completed 11 of 12 passes for 278 yards, and threw two touchdown passes apiece to classmates Points, Ward and Josh Peschell. Read also intercepted two passes and ran one back for a touchdown.

Prater, another senior, ran for two touchdowns. Sophomore kicker Aaron Mateer added 14 points on seven of nine extra-point kicks.

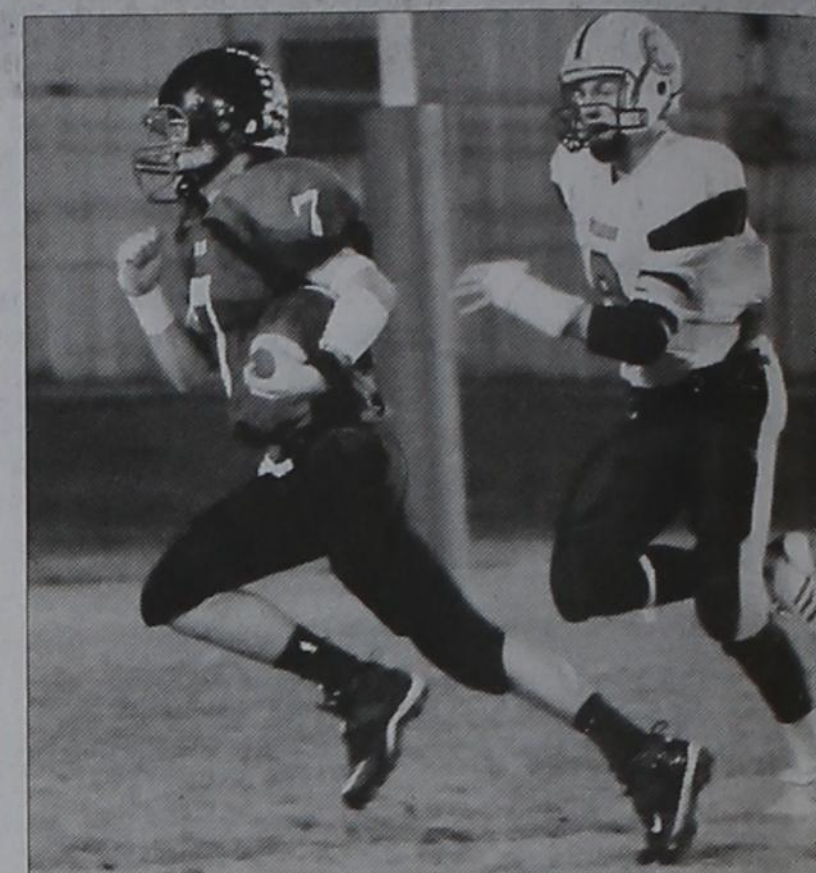

The Eagles (6-1), ranked first in TAPPS six-man football, faces a challenge within its district Saturday. HCA will visit The Covenant School of Dallas (5-2) at 2 p.m.

Rockwall Varsity Hockey Blanks Bishop Lynch 2-0

Goalie Landon Cain notched a shut out and Chris Thirion scored two goals to highlight a hard fought victory by the Rockwall Ice Hockey varsity team against Bishop Lynch Oct. 16 at the Ice Teaming Center in Richardson. The victory sets up a battle of undefeated teams as 3-0-0 Rockwall will face Arlington Martin, also 3-0-0, Oct. 23 in Duncanville.

"Tonight was a much faster game," said Mark Thirion, assistant coach.

The fast game put Rockwall's short bench to the test early as Bishop Lynch kept the pressure up, out shooting the Yellowjackets in the first period. Hard hitting put Rockwall in the penalty box early adding more pressure on the defense. But Cain was firm in the net and the first period ended with no score.

"Landon faced a lot of shots," said Thirion. "He really came up with the big plays."

The middle frame began much like the first period with Rockwall on the defense. Midway in to the period, Morgan Cook fought through the Friar defense to put a strong shot on goal only to be stopped by the goalie.

A short power play that followed allowed the sluggish Rockwall offense to finally come alive. Great defensive efforts, including a block by Rockwall senior Zack Jones that averted a Bishop Lynch goal kept the momentum going.

Late in the period, Chris Thirion stole a pass near the blue line in the Bishop Lynch zone and fired a wrist shot high stick side past the unprepared goalie for the lead.

With the Friars appearing to tire in the waning moments of the period, Rockwall kept the pressure up and was rewarded. With less than a minute remaining, Rockwall junior Joey Ullmann's slap shot from the blue line was deflected by Thirion for the netter and a two goal lead.

"Joey had a great shot from the point," said Thirion. "I was screening the goalie and deflected the puck before it could be blocked."

The third period saw a strong Bishop Lynch surge aided by a long two man advantage. Cain's netminding and strong defense by Ullmann, Jones and Rockwall senior Matt Kinnear and Rockwall freshman Nick Ziebell kept the Friars off the board.

"The defense really helped when it counted the most," said Cain.

Jones, who played the second and third periods on a borrowed skate after breaking a blade, was particularly impressive.

The game ended on a fitting note, with the Friars on a two man advantage with Cain and the Rockwall defense holding them out of the net.

Rockwall will next face undefeated Arlington Martin Oct. 23 at the Duncanville Star Center.

Cowboys win faculty softball fund

The Cullins-Lake Pointe Cowboys and Howard Dobbs Lit observed their first faculty softball game on Sept. 30 at the High School baseball field.

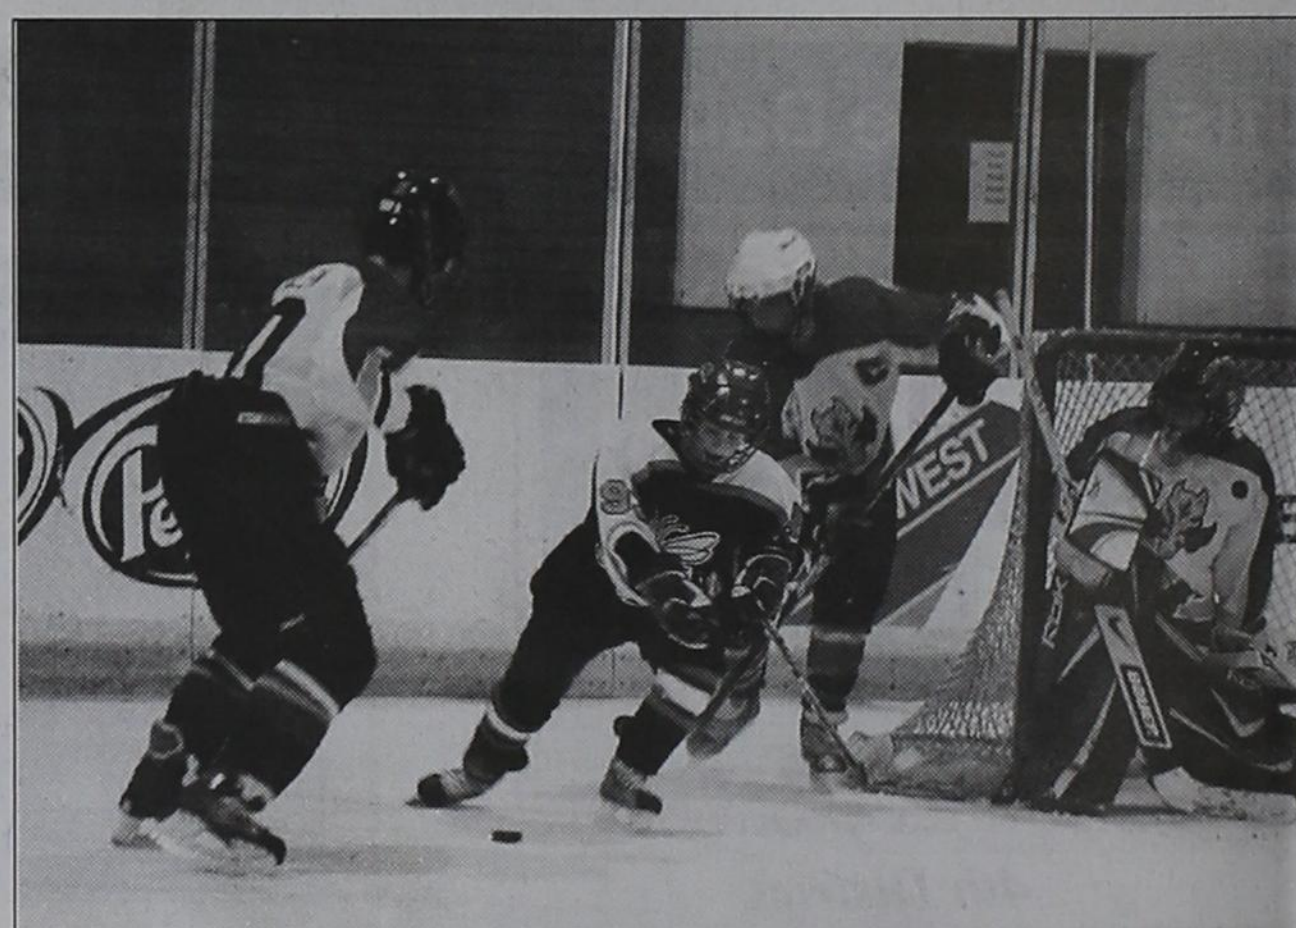

The students and their families cheered on the teachers and joyed concessions and got up close to the horses from the County Sheriff's Posse during the fundraising event.

Brad Lamberth, a member of the Rockwall Independent District Board of Trustees, threw out the first pitch. The Rockwall team umpired the game.

The Cowboys won the game, but both teams' members indicate they are looking forward to a rematch next year.

Rockwall Hockey JV skates past Garland 5

The Rockwall Ice Hockey Junior Varsity team held off the Garland team to improve their record to 3-0-0 in league play at the Eless Star Center.

Cole Burack recorded 33 saves holding off a furious Garland team that had them erasing a three-goal Rockwall lead late in the third period.

"Cole saw a lot of shots," said Mark Burack, head coach. "I went cold after we got ahead and Cole kept us in the game."

Morgan Cook scored twice and Nick Ziebell scored once in the first period to put Rockwall up early. Rockwall outshot the Stars 10-4.

But Garland caught fire in the middle frame scoring once shooting Rockwall 23 to 14. The Garland surge continued in the second period, with Garland pulling even with less than four minutes in the game. Rockwall responded less than a minute later with a drive capped by Cain MS eighth grader Zack Barham's goal on the left side of the slot.

"Zack played well and came up big when we needed it most," said Burack.

Cook added an insurance goal with time expiring, final 5-3. Rockwall outshot Rockwall 36 to 16.

The Rockwall junior varsity will next face Richardson (2-1-1) at the Farmers Branch Star Center.

Yellowjackets fall short at Richardson Pearce

Bump
 The Yellowjackets' defense allowed five second-half runs in a 51-35 loss to Richardson Pearce.

The game at Eagle-Mustang Stadium in Richardson was the final playoff spot, in District 10-4A. Pearce (2-2 in the district, 3-4 overall) and Carrollton Smith have a one-game lead over Rockwall (1-3, 2-5) with a head-to-head tiebreaker over Newman.

Those teams are a combined 3-11 overall, in between is a scary Halloween night visit to Highland Park.

Rockwall thinks about stopping an HP offense that has at least 40 points in every game, it must fix a defense that gave up 51 points were the most the Jackets have allowed during the last four years as head coach.

Friday's game, Rockwall was the team that had played more defensive-minded football and Pearce was both allowing lots of points.

Controlling the ball for 44 plays to 25 for the Mustangs in half, did the Jackets allowed Pearce's hurry-up no-huddle dictate the tempo?

Smith said, "If they score 51 points, we have to score 52. It's me."

They had a chance to score more points and take over the game after halftime.

The Jackets led 21-14 at halftime anyway – but that score could have been 24-14, if not 28-14, with Rockwall receiving the second-half kickoff. A 30-yard pass from Adam Dingwell to Will Beasley and a 14-yard run by Josh Broach moved RHS in to Pearce's 2 yard line. Two running plays lost two yards, then Scott Loy came in at quarterback and threw a pass toward the back of the end zone. Officials waived off a pass interference call against the Mustangs because the pass sailed high and deemed accessible.

On fourth down, Grant Gunderson, who now has made 16 consecutive extra points, attempted a 24-yard field goal. He pushed it wide right.

After halftime, Rockwall's offense went three and out on its first possession. Dingwell then punted 55 yards to pin Pearce back at its 25. However, the Mustangs converted a third and six into a first down, then two plays later tied the game on Caleb Lewis' 62-yard touchdown pass to Blake Jumonville.

The Jackets punted again. It took Pearce only one play to score, on Michael Webb's 59-yard pass to Jumonville.

Rockwell then scored on Dingwell's 55-yard pass to Beasley to tie the game for the third time at 28-28.

On the Mustangs' first play, a pass lost one yard, so the Jackets declined a holding penalty. Second and 11 was no obstacle; Lewis threw down the middle to Josh Gold, who added five touchdowns to the two Jumonville scored.

During the third quarter, Pearce had just 11 plays, but didn't need many to gain 222 yards and score three TDs.

One factor in the defensive collapse was linebacker Aaron Arterburn's absence for more than three quarters. Smith said, "He got hurt in one part of his body, then came back and got another part hurt."

Despite his limited playing time, Arterburn had four tackles, hit Pearce's quarterbacks twice and broke up two passes.

The Rockwall offense had some weapons. Broach, selected as their Offensive Player of the Game, had the Jackets' first 100-yard rushing game, with 118 yards in 15 carries, and Beasley caught eight of Dingwell's passes for 107 yards.

But that offense also missed Arterburn. He carried the ball four times for 31 yards, including an 18-yard touchdown run that put the Jackets ahead 7-0. That followed Chase Lawshe's interception, one of Rockwall's three takeaways. On the Mustangs' second possession, Walt Garrett recovered a fumble. That led to Dingwell's 15-yard touchdown pass to Beasley and a short-lived 14-0 lead.

The last of RHS' takeaways backfired on the Jackets. They trailed 35-28 when Gunderson intercepted a tipped pass as Pearce was driving for another score. Gunderson began running the ball out of the zone, but the intended receiver reached up to trip Gunderson at the Rockwall 2.

On the next play, the Mustangs swarmed Dingwell in the end zone for a safety and a 37-28 lead. Gold scored two more touchdowns to give Pearce its 51-35 lead with 10 seconds remaining.

Langer wins all 3 matches for second-place U.S. team

Kathy Langer of Rockwall won all three of her doubles matches with Roz King of San Diego in Antalya, Turkey, but didn't play on the final day when South Africa took the Althea Gibson Cup away from the United States team.

On Friday, Langer and King defeated Joy Rigger and Joyce Rogers of Australia 6-3, 6-1 to complete a 3-0 sweep for the U.S.

In its 11th year, the Althea Gibson Cup goes to the winners of a week-long competition among national teams of women 70 or older. It was part of the 28th International Tennis Federation Seniors and Super-Seniors World Team Championships.

That set up Saturday's match against South Africa. Each team had defeated Australia in the round-robin finals among the winners of the three groups in the qualifying round.

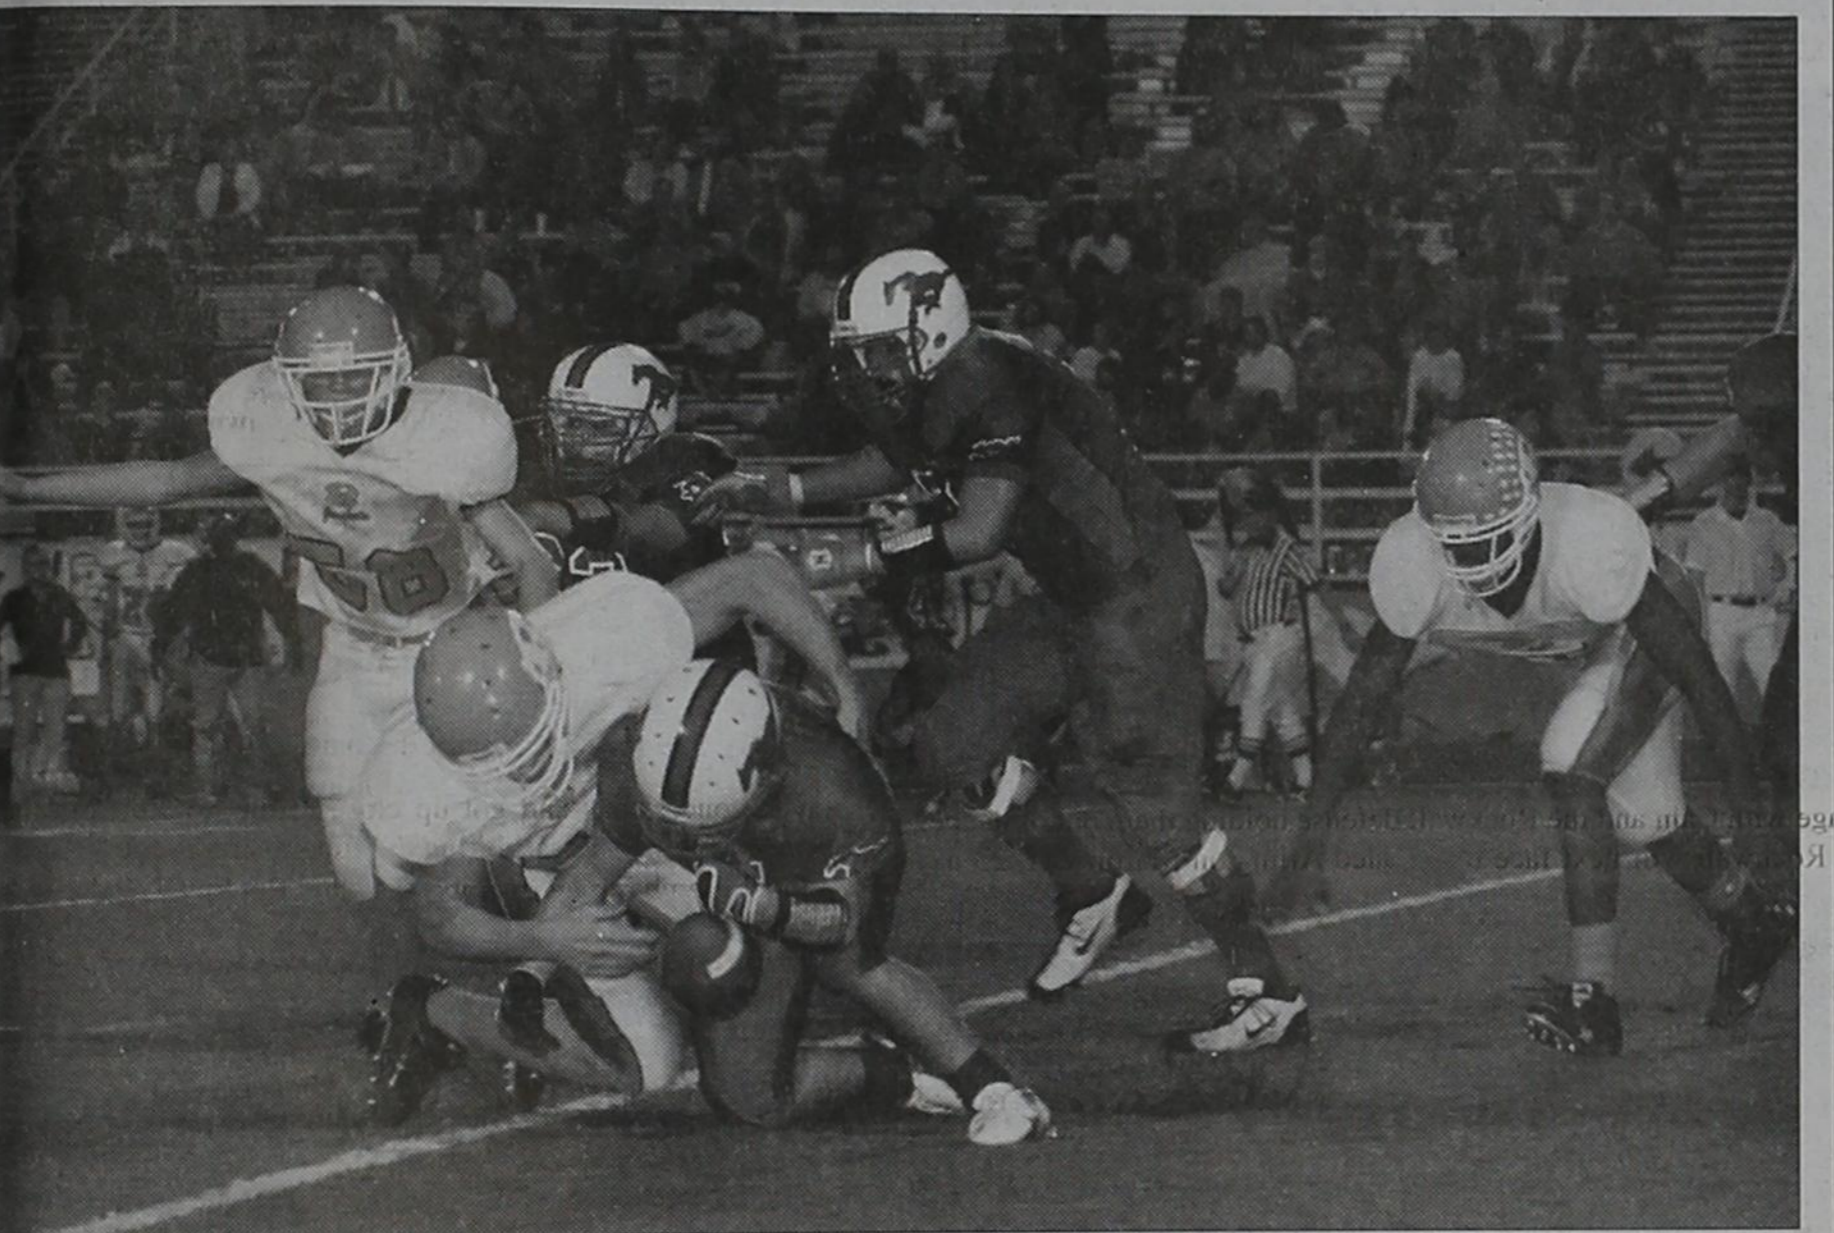

Dorothy Matthieson of Pasadena, Calif., won the first singles match 6-4, 6-0, but Dori De Vries of Reno, Nevada, lost in three sets at second singles. DeVries then paired with King in a tough 7-6, 6-3 loss to the South African doubles team.

It was not clear at press time why Langer did not play Saturday.

Lady Jackets close in on playoff berth

Rockwall came a step closer to its quest for the school's first volleyball victory Tuesday when the Lady Jackets won at Royse City 25-17, 25-17.

The win moved RHS into a tie with the Lady Bulldogs for third place in District 10-4A. Each team has a 7-5 district record.

Either of their two remaining district matches would guarantee a playoff berth for the Lady Jackets (23-14-1 overall). Two victories would clinch third place, because they have defeated Royse City and the Lady Bulldogs also have to face the top two teams in 10-4A, Newman Pearce and Highland Park, in their final two matches.

Rockwall is scheduled to play at home against Carrollton Newman Pearce (6 in the district) Friday and Rockwall-Heath (5-7) Tuesday. The regular-season home match, against the Lady Hawks, will be on Friday Night. The Lady Jackets will honor the 10 seniors on their 12-player roster.

A victory over Newman Smith is important because the Lady Trojans won three games to two at home against RHS. They'll finish the season in an intra-city rivalry against Carrollton R.L. Turner (0-12).

The Lady Jackets had been unable to win a game Friday against district champion Pearce (12-0). The first game was close at 25-22, but then the Lady Mustangs took the final two games 25-9 and 25-17.

At Royse City, the Lady Jackets dominated at the net. Kim Grinnan and Maggie Brindock provided 10 kills apiece, and Stephanie Shaw and McKenna Abbott each had six. Anna Thomas set them up with 11 assists. Libero Sarah Hubbins led the defense with 15 digs.

Over the weekend, Brindock teamed with Taylor Story of Plano in a successful defense of their AVPNext beach volleyball 18-and-under national championship in Siesta Key, Fla.

Bulldogs fall to Heath 42-28 as high-power offense goes silent for final 20 minutes

by Matt McGillen

It had all the makings of great story line: up-and-coming underdog team, led by a scrambling, gun-slinging quarterback, upends undefeated team on homecoming night in a glorious new stadium.

And with Royse City seemingly in control with an eight-point lead over Rockwall-Heath in the third quarter of their District 10-4A game Oct. 17 at Royse City ISD Stadium, a Hollywood ending seemed to be unfolding.

Unfortunately for the Bulldogs, the Hawks' script had an alternative ending, as they not only held Richard Morrison and Royse City's normally potent offense scoreless for the final 20 minutes, they showed their offense is more than just the Kendial Lawrence Show, rallying behind Everett Gilbert's two fourth-quarter touchdown dashes for a 42-28 win.

"It was a tough loss, real tough," said Royse City coach Greg Strahm. "The kids took it real hard because they really played well. We just let it get away from us a little bit there at the end. Heath is a very good team." Royse City, which fell to 5-2 overall and to 3-1 in the district, took a 28-20 lead four minutes into the second half, when Morrison led the Bulldogs on a 74 yard, six-play drive. The senior signal caller was 4-for-4 passing for 65 yards during the drive, with the score coming on a five-yard strike to JT Thompson in the right front corner of the end zone.

Heath, now 7-0 for the year and 4-0 in the district, came right back, traveling 73 yards in 13 plays, with Lawrence pounding his way in for the score - his fourth of the game - on his second try from the one-yard line to cut the lead to 28-26 at the 3:16 mark of third period.

The 5-10, 180-pound senior then tied the game by taking a direct snap and converting the two-point conversion.

Following a stalled drive by the Bulldogs, Heath faced a fourth-and-three from their own 48 and appeared to opt to punt the ball away. The Hawks faked the kick, however, with Heath's punter-quarterback Drew Hollingshead - lofting a soft pass to tight end Abston Cole for seven yards and a first down at the RC 45.

Five plays later, Gilbert, wearing number 20 instead of his usual number 14 after his normal jersey was ripped apart in the first half, raced 21 yards to give Heath the lead for good, as it turned out, 35-28, with 9:37 left in the game.

"The fake punt was a great call, it wasn't something they had shown before," Strahm said. "If it hadn't worked out it might have changed the momentum back to us. In a close game between two good teams, it usually comes down to a couple of plays."

On Royse City's next possession, Morrison was hit from behind by the Hawks' David Tanner while desperately looking for a receiver on third-and-13, fumbling the ball away to Heath with 8:28 to go.

Taking over at the Bulldogs 49, the Hawks kept the ball exclusively on the ground in an effort to burn up some of the clock. On their seventh consecutive run, the speedy Gilbert squirted around right end for 23 yards for a back-breaking touchdown with just 5:00 remaining.

"They caught us in a blitz to stop (Kendial) Lawrence," said Strahm. "They made the right call at the right time."

Morrison tried to rally the Bulldogs, but with the Hawks' defensive backs playing 30 yards off the line of scrimmage, he was forced to throw short, connecting six times while managing to get the ball down to the Heath 18 before his fourth-and-four pass fell incomplete with 58 seconds to play.

"They just intensified the pressure," Strahm said, about his team's inability to score in the last 20 minutes. "With a little less time, he (Morrison) had a harder time locating his receivers. We just didn't quite make the adjustments."

Morrison ended the game 24-for-39 for 310 yards and three scores without an interception, but did have the one fumble, the game's only turnover. In addition to his scoring pass to Thompson, Morrison also connected with Ryan Fedric from 27 yards out and Devin Bryant from three.

Royse City's Justin Jacobs had game highs in catches (10) and receiving yards (170) to lead all receivers.

Lawrence scored on runs of one, five and 56 yards and also caught a 20-yard TD pass from Hollingshead on a well-executed reverse while rushing for a game-high 248 yards on 26 carries.

Gilbert finished with 107 yards on 15 rushes as the Hawks totaled 355 yards on the ground but only 59 through the air as Heath who has yet throw an interception this year, wound up 6-for-14.

Things get no easier for the Bulldogs, as they take to the field the second-ranked Highland Scots (7-0, 4-0) Oct. 24.

"We feel kind of a like we have the University of Texas level of success," Strahm said. "They (Highland Park) do execute very, very well. They've had a lot of success."

Royse City continues 'sweep or be swept' string, beating Heath, falling to Rockwall

Running their streak of either sweeping or being swept to eight matches in a row, the Royse City Lady Bulldogs blanked Rockwall-Heath 25-6, 25-12, 25-18 Oct. 17 before being blanked by Rockwall, losing all three games by the same 25-17 score Oct. 21.

Despite the loss, the Lady Bulldogs maintained a share of third place in District 10-4A with a 7-5 mark and are 16-13 overall. The top four teams will advance to the postseason.

Skyler Strahm had five kills, 14 digs, three aces and two blocks against the Lady Hawks, while Kellie Wyrick had eight kills, four aces, four digs and two blocks.

Fayrina Merrick added seven kills, eight digs, one block and three aces. Setter Autumn Landers had 17 assists as well four digs. Shelby Pille had four kills and 10 digs. "Tonight we came out hitting on all cylinders and it all started with our passing," said Royse City coach Trent Sharp about the Heath match. "The girls know that every game that we have left is basically a playoff game and tonight's game was a must-win for us to stay in the playoffs."

The loss to Rockwall was the second of the season for the Lady Bulldogs. They had previously lost to Rockwall in a virtual three-way tie for two playoff spots.

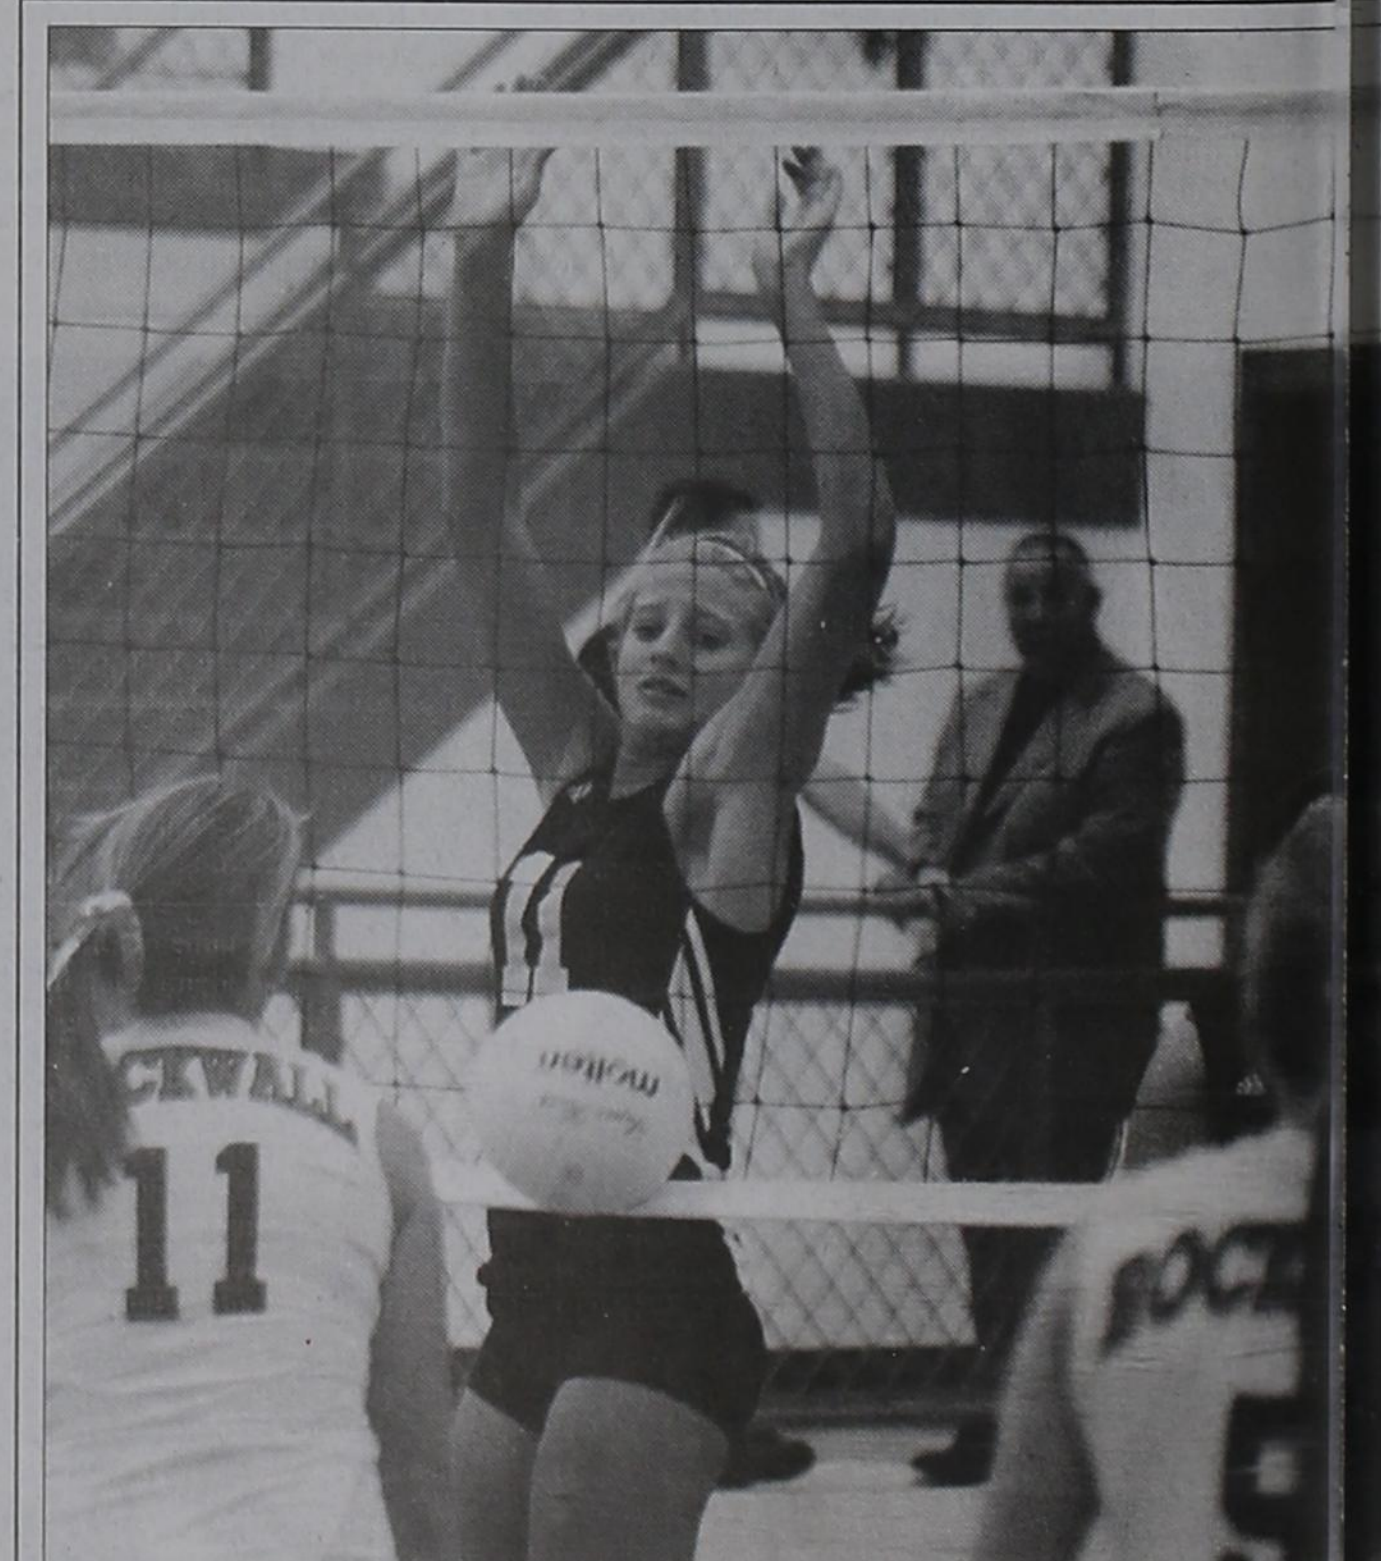

Royse City must face Rockwall, Highland Park (9-2) and first place Richardson (10, 25-4), on the road Oct. 28, respectively.

Hawks unleash 'secret' weapon on Bulldogs, improve to 7-0 with 42-28 win over RC

...the jersey, or maybe it was the adjustments his coaches...
 ...was, once Rockwall-Heath's Everett Gilbert replaced...
 ...14 jersey with number 20 for the second half of the...
 ...10-4A showdown with Roysse City this much is known:...

...would likely have been near enough.
 Although Morrison recorded his fourth 300-yard passing performance...
 ...game of the year by completing 24-of-39 passes for 310 yards and three...
 ...touchdowns, the Hawks held the Bulldogs scoreless for the last 20...
 ...minutes of the game after Roysse City had taken a 28-20 lead midway...
 ...through the third period.
 And they did it by constantly applying pressure to Morrison in the last...
 ...quarter and a half, sacking him twice.
 "We worked on just a little different matchup to bring pressure from a...
 ...different direction," Moss said. "I thought they (Roysse City) did a really...
 ...good job, they went with something they really hadn't done before, go-...
 ...ing with an empty (backfield) formation. They had us back on our heels...
 ...in the first half. But Morrison is one of the best quarterbacks in the...
 ...state of Texas. He is a very talented young man."

And in perhaps the defense's finest moment, David Tanner drilled the...
 ...scrambling Morrison from behind, jarring the ball loose, which Brian...
 ...Foster recovered with 8:28 to play and the Hawks' leading 35-28.
 Tanner not only caused that key fumble, but also sacked Morrison...
 ...twice while George Bamfo had 11 total tackles and a sack. Austin Moss...
 ...led all tacklers with 12.
 Seven plays later Gilbert scooted in from 21 yards away to make it...
 ...42-28 with 5:00 on the clock and let the Hawks' defensive backs simply...
 ...roam the secondary like a group of outfielders the rest of the game.
 Heath took the early lead 7-0 when Lawrence, in an all-too-familiar...
 ...scene, took a direct snap and headed directly for the Bulldogs' goal line...
 ...56 yards away with 4:02 left in the first quarter.
 The Bulldogs tied the game at seven when Morrison found Ryan...
 ...Fedric at the Heath 10, with the junior wide receiver faking his would-be Hawks' tackler pretty much out of his shoes enroute to completing the 27-yard catch-and-run.

 After Lawrence and Morrison traded touchdown runs of five and one yards, respectively, the Hawks dipped into their bag of tricks on third-and-12 from the Roysse City 20. Taking a direct snap, Lawrence handed off to Gilbert who handed it back to Hollingshead, who found Lawrence down the right sideline for a touchdown with 2:33 remaining in the second quarter to make the score 20-14.
 The extra point was wide, though, and the Bulldogs came right back, covering 88 yards in 12 plays, with Morrison connecting with a diving Devin Bryant for a three-yard TD with only 16 seconds remaining in the first half to give Roysse City a 21-20 lead at intermission.
 Morrison's third and final TD pass went to JT Thompson for a five-yard score to put the Bulldogs up by eight, 28-20, four minutes into the third quarter. The Bulldogs' Justin Jacobs caught 10 passes for 170 yards to lead all receivers in both categories.
 Hollingshead finished just 6-for-13 for only 59 yards but extended his interception free streak to 114 passes.

Lady Hawks volleyball keeps slim playoff hopes alive with sweep of Lady Lions

...playoff hopes all but extinguished after being swept by...
 ...a District 10-4A match Oct. 17, the Rockwall-Heath Lady...
 ...ged to rekindle their fading postseason dreams by downing...
 ...Senior Night in three straight games, 25-9, 25-21, 26-24...

 ...11-11 and 5-21.

 ...Maggie Younger. "And winning tonight was one of them."

The Lady Hawks had little trouble with the Lady Lions, despite the...
 ...seemingly close scores in the last two games.
 Led by senior Jordan Hill's five kills and four blocks in the opener,
 Heath broke open a 10-7 game by going on a 12-1 run, with Jordan fit-...
 ...tingly ending the game with an ace.
 The Lady Hawks overcame a 20-18 deficit in the second game, closing...
 ...out the set on a 7-1 tear. In the third game, Heath watched a 16-12 lead...
 ...turn into a 23-20 disadvantage, before rallying all the way back, with...
 ...Rachel Short finished off the match with back-to-back kills.

Against Roysse City, who barely slipped by the Lady Hawks in a tiebreaker earlier in the season, Heath failed to score more than two points in a row in any of the three games, falling 25-6, 25-12, 25-18.

"It just wasn't our night," Younger said. "We just couldn't get in a rhythm. They came out strong. They surprised us."

The Lady Hawks host district-leading Richardson Pearce (12-0, 27-4) Oct. 24.

Jackets Tennis team faces rugged road enroute to district

Rockwall head tennis coach Lana Fulkerson spares no love for her team.

"I am so proud of our team for competing so well and playing with such heart," she said.

Continuing on her positive note, Fulkerson said, "I am looking for a great tournament," as the Yellowjackets headed into the District 10-4A team tournament Thursday and Friday.

That optimism is important because advancing to the Region II tournament from 10-4A isn't easy. The top two teams qualify for the regionals. Rockwall placed third in the district dual matches at 4-2 - losing to Highland Park and Richardson School, which finished in the district's top two spots.

Highland Park has won 21 state championships, and Fulkerson pointed out, "J.J. Pearce also has a powerful team."

It's likely that the Jackets will find out just how powerful the Mustangs are on Thursday afternoon.

Those two teams are in the bracket playing at the Samuel Grand Tennis Center in Dallas. Play is scheduled to begin at 9 a.m., with Rockwall playing sixth-seeded Carrollton R.L. Turner and Pearce meeting seventh-seeded Greenville. The winners would play at 1:30 p.m.

two-time State qualifier Coral Davenport, who placed first place in the 100-yard butterfly and second in the 100-yard backstroke, and 2007-2008 State qualifier Morgan Madrid, who took third in both the 100-yard backstroke and 100-yard breaststroke.

The remaining Hawk women stepped up to the challenge on relays, taking second place in the 200-Yard Medley Relay (Hodan, Rosie Hughes, Davenport and 2007-2008 State qualifier Katie Langdon), third in the 200-yard freestyle relay (Catrina Lewis, Danielle Muniz, Brooke Wagner and Astrea Sait), and coming back from behind in the last two legs of the race to tie Bishop Lynch for first in the 400-yard freestyle relay (Langdon, Madrid, Davenport, Hodan).

The relay team was brought home in a thunderous show of support from their Hawk teammates.

The Hawk men's team was led by 2007-2008 State qualifier Mitchell Foster, who took first in the 200-yard individual medley and 100-yard backstroke, team captain Zach Crumpley who finished second in the 100-yard butterfly, and Casey Hamilton who placed third in the 200-yard freestyle.

The Hawk men also scored well in relays, taking second place in the 200-yard medley relay (Foster, Taylor Prothro, Crumpley and Josh Swiercinsky) and third place in both the 200-yard freestyle relay (Hamilton, Swiercinsky, Nick Daniels and Nick Eskalis), as well as the 400-yard freestyle relay (Prothro, Tyler Fassett, Crumpley and Foster). Other swimmers competing for the Hawk men included Jonathan Sherwin, Matt Morrison, Sean Wong, Dalton Irwin, Michael Lossing and Brandon Bamburg.

The format for each team match calls for up to 19 sets - six singles and three doubles each for boys and girls, with the overall matchup ending then.

On Friday, the winners in each bracket are scheduled to meet at Highland Park. The losing teams in Thursday afternoon would play for third place at the same time. Fulkerson said Rockwall and fourth-seeded Rockwall-Heath are the best, they would meet at Heath.
