Seeks to Interest Farmers With Oil Mill Proposition

D. D. McCroskey, Farmers' Union Man Talks To Farmers Here Saturday Evening

D. D. McCroskey, a diligent worker for the Farmers Union, also President and manager of the Farmers Union Clearing House located at Vernon, was here Saturday to interest the farmers in this locality of the county, in a cooperative movement the Farmers Union is trying to bring about, for establishing some where in the union district an oil mill, which would, as told by Mr. McCroskey, more probably be located at Wichita Falls.

Owing to the fact that a number of the farmers in this part of the country were busy Saturday evening, he did not get to talk to as many of them as he desired; but however adressed quite a number that were here Saturday evening. In working for the establishment of the oil mill project, it is Mr. McCroskey's plan and others interested in the movement, that each farmer who desires an interest in the mill to subscribe so many tons of cotton seed as payment for their stock; giving such note as would guarantee the assurance of the seed.

The object the farmers have in view in seeking to establish an oil mill which could be owned and operated by them, is to try and get a better for their seed.

Wanted their Pictures

A number of Odd Fellows consisting principally of Past Noble Grands of the Odell lodge went down to Vernon Sunday, and according to arrangements that had been made were to have their pictures made; but owing to some hindrance was disappointed, among those who made the trip were: C. G. Thompson, E. M. Williams, G. B. Newton, A. T. Flowers, P. H. Biggim, E. C. Austin, I. M. Fulcher, J. H. Gobbell, W. M. Scott and John Smith, the two latter drove the other parties in their cars.

Has Jolly Good Time At Doans

Local Rebekahs Attend Ice Cream Festival, and Witnessed Initiations In Neighbor's Lodge

A number of the local Rebekahs among whom were: Rev. Leslie Reboesh and wife, Mrs. Bertha Alexander, G. F. Mabry, R. E. White, J. H. Gobbell and Miss Mary Hughes attended an ice cream supper at Doans Monday night, and witnessed the order of Rebekahs at that place, confer the degree upon about seven newly elected candidates.

The ice cream supper and this special session of lodge was given out to be Monday night week but owing to the inclemency of the weather at the time, was deferred until last Monday night.

The visitors from this lodge inform the Reporter, the occasion afforded them much pleasure.

Mrs. Ray of Vernon is visiting her daughter Mrs. B. A. Harris.

Bidder To Buy Orient

Final Decree in Receivership Road Asked For by Bondholders—Ends Long Tangle

Kansas City, June 17.—Application for a final decree in the receivership of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railway to make possible the sale of the railway was filed today before Judge Pollock in the federal court in Kansas City, Kansas, by attorneys for the United States and Mexican Trust company and the bondholders of the road. About $24,000,000 of bonds are outstanding against the road.

It was expected the road will be sold to the highest bidder. A new company to buy the Orient properties has been in the process of organization for several weeks. Today's action was expected to hasten the formation of this company.

Judge Pollock upon receipt of the application announced that a final decree in the receivership could be recorded tomorrow. There was no need now, he said, of setting a definite date for the sale of the railway and the matter would be allowed to rest with the court until such time as the reorganization committee representing the bondholders and creditors of the road were prepared to purchase the properties.

This reorganization committee has for several weeks been at work in New York arranging financial questions and details of the organization of a new company to rehabilitate the railway. It is also stated that, in addition to taking over the road's properties, several million dollars of new capital will be added.

Moon Light Picnic

A crowd consisting of G. W. Webb and wife, Ward Baker and wife, L. G. Moore and wife, and R. W. Rainey enjoyed what might be termed a moon-light picnic on the bank of the creek near town Sunday evening.

The evening lunch was prepared by them over the old style camp fire, and eaten in camp like style.

Some Real Bargains at Gibbins' Store

There never has been a time like the present time is getting to be, everybody wants to get all they can for their valuable money in reliable merchandise, and right here is the place for you to get most value received for everything you buy. We keep everything to be had in the grocery line and in a quality not to be surpassed at any other store in town.

We have 500 pounds of fresh dried apples which we are going to put on sale for one week at 7 1-2c per pound, which is much less than you can buy them elsewhere.

Remember us when in need of fine fresh meats, we handle the very finest quality of fresh Packing house beef, pork and sausage. When you get too warm and need cooling off, we always have a house full of ICE, which we mean we can freeze you in less time than it took the man to make the ice.

We have just received this week a large assortment of fine Laces and Embroideries from New York City. Here you can find anything you could wish for in this line at prices just about half what others charge. Also a complete stock of new Taffety Ribbons.

We have received many new things in dry goods this week at bargain prices. A visit to our store will be appreciated whether you buy or not, if you trade with us we can save you money. We are going to give to every lady visiting our store Saturday, June 21, free a fan to keep cool and plenty of ice water to drink.

The week past has been a busy one with the farmers.

What doth it profit a man if he handles the best merchandise in the world and no one but himself knows it?—Moral Advertise.

The first real hot weather of this year of sizzling summer heat, was felt in the densely populated cities of the north about the 15th. of this month.

William J. Bryan has recently stated that the Wilson Administration would not intervene in any way towards protecting the Americans financial interest in Mexico, during the revolutionary troubles that are now being carried on in that country.

A farmer of this country who is known to be a very close observer of conditions regarding the spring crops of the country, made the remark recently, that the month of June was usually the period that determined the yield of the corn crop in Wilbarger, and during August cotton always showed what it would do.

Thank God! some of us have an old fashioned mother. Not a woman of the period, painted and enameld, with all her society manners and the the dresses whose whitejewal hands never felt the clasp of baby fingers, but a dear old fashioned mother with a sweet voice, eyes into whose clear depth the love light shone, and brown hair just threaded with silver, lying smooth upon her faded cheek. Those dear hands, worn with toil, gently guided our steps in childhood and smothered our cheeks in sickness, ever reaching out to us in yearning tenderness. Blessed is the memory of an old fashioned mother. It floats to us like the beautiful perfume of some wood blossoms. The music of their voices may be lost, but the enchanting memory of her will echo in our soul forever.—Lubbuck Avalanche

Home loyalty to your home town and your country's interest, is a lesson the Reporter believes cannot be to strongly impressed on the minds of the people, and should not only be preached by them, but practiced, for an advocator of any policy who does not practiced his own theme, when it is conditional for him to do so,—is a hypocrit, and merely desires other people to do as he says,—not to do as he does. The Reporter cannot determine the motive of some of the people here, especially those whose interest and dependance for a living, is centered at this place, who will insist in either sending to mail order houses, or going away from home to buy just exactly what the home merchants are selling, when nine times out of ten too, the goods they buy of mail order houses have been falsey advertised and misrepresented to them through some mail order catalog. If the practice of the policy of sending away from home for every thing anyone necessarily needs, is alright for one to do, then such a practice is alright for every body to follow; and then when every body was sending away from home for all that they needed; it would not require no close observant person to see, that it would only be a matter of time until the property of their town would be worth nothing. The truth of this is, that those here, who have been guilty of this non loyal disposition towards the interests of the town, knows their policy of dealing away from home would not do for every body to follow, and they are usually to be found among the first persons to condemn the practice.

For a Saloonless Texas

The commissioner of Internal Revenue reports that during the first seven months of the current fiscal year 8,500,000,000 cigarettes had been consumed, 5,250,000,000, more than in the same period last year, 12,000,000 lbs. of chewing tobacco in excess of last year. In the seven months 48, 864,000 barrels of beer were consumed, an increase of 1,800,000 barrels.

This seems peculiar in the face of the prohibition agitation.

Not with standing the increase in "dry" territory, there is a constant increase in the consumption, not only of beer, but of whiskey and other intoxicants as well. Isn't it about time for honest sincere people who really want to see the whiskey traffic stopped, and the editor wants it done, to wake up? Prohibition is not a success—we have never seen one poor devil afflicted with the pernicious appetite (and we have been so afflicted, and know whereof we speak) that ever stopped drinking by having prohibition voted in his town, county or state. Prohibition has been used as a stepping stone long enough for unscrupulous politicians. Every lick that has been hit at the whiskey traffic has made it worse by benefiting the dealers in the cities and taking the money out of the smaller towns and communities.

Don't rail, Mr. Prohibitionist, I'm with you one way. I want to see the pernicious stuff put out of existence, but I refuse longer to lie to myself.

"Prohibition" in isolated spots won't do it.

What will, say you?

After twelve years of study and investigation there is, to my mind, only one solution to the question, and that is:

Knock the profit out of the damnable fluid and you remove the inducements for men to engage in the business. If they can't make any money out of it they won't monkey with it. If some old toper wants to put up a still and brew his own "pizen" let him do it, but send him to the penitentiary if he sells a drop of it.

By doing this you have answered Mr. Personal Liberty Howler and killed the whiskey traffic—and it can be done if every sincere prohibitionist will demand of their representatives that it be done.

Now comes on Mr. Politician, who has his political interest at stake and says: "Gentlemen, that is rank Socialism." That is the way Socialist say they would handle the whiskey traffic and if the democrats wish to remain in control of the machinery of the state and nation they are going to be forced to adopt this plank regardless of whether they want to or not, just as they were forced to adopt the initiative and referendum in Oklahoma and other states and will be forced to adopt it in the nation as well.

Any man who is sincere reformer and a true man at heart will never consider the source Patron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

The Real Truth On Cost of Lumber

Makes the talk of some look exceedingly amateurish. Like jewelery, there's lots of difference in grades. If you buy a 14kt gold ring you pay a 14kt price, and if you buy B & Btr Siding you naturally expect to pay the price for specially selected stock—and in either case you trust a lot to the dealer you patronize.

We've known of people buying No. 1 siding at a shade lower than our price for B & Btr, thinking they were beating our price, when in reality our No. 1 siding was as cheap as the price they paid but they had confused B & Btr with No. 1. We wont misrepresent to make a sale, for we buy our lumber from mills that use Manufacturer's Standard Grading Rules and the quality we offer is 100 cents to every dollar. Better investigate.

For a Saloonless Texas

so long as the thing its self is good. That the Socialists had sense enough to advocate the only scientific and sensible solution of the whiskey traffic, should make no sincere prohibitionist angry. We should all rather demand of the next candidate for representative that comes and ask us to vote for him and says he's a prohibitionist, that he introduce such a bill in the Texas house of representatives. He will probably answer you that the Federal Government would license "stills" in this state and these fellows would sell it. Well, doubtless that would be the case for a while, but if a fellow has still which would be for his individual use, it would be much easier to catch him and send him to the pen than it would be to catch the hip pocket bootlegger that sells cocaine and choral and calls it whiskey.

Mr. Prohibitionist of Texas: If you will lay aside your political prejudices that are bred in your bones and make this demand of your representative you will have saloonless state with in three years and you never will have until you do.

Mark the prophecy.

The writer has approached this question with hesitancy for the reason that we do not desire nor will we have a prohibition discussion in our columns. In conversing with three of my best friends (and they are democrats and prohibitionist also) I stated my position on the question. They requested me to write the editorial I have written with the hope that the ball would be started in grand old Young County that would make future generations rise up and call us blessed. Men, study this question. If you are sincere, forget that the Socialist started it, and help us get this needed reform.

You never refuse to pin the rose on your coat, that springs from the thorn patch. You hate the thorns but love the rose.

Why should you let a senseless prejudice keep you from doing right and using the common sense that God gave you?

Any man that has not experienced the heartaches and sorrows caused by drunkenness cannot realize how the hatred for whiskey can permeate the bosom of one who has gone through the seething hell caused by the poison. The writer never had a trouble he could not trace directly to the stuff. I know what it is to awaken in the still watches of the night with aching head, burning brow, parched lips and seared throat, and worst of all the frequent reproaches of conscience I know what it is to wish and pray for relief from the craving for the hellish fluid that makes brutes of men and devils of angelic women. I know what it is to wish for anything—to wish for and be glad to welcome death itself. Knowing all this—and having not only studied, but put to the test every possible solution that has been tried and seeing them all fail, I ask those who, like me, want to see a saloonless Texas to give these thoughts due consideration, and I believe if you will you will decide that the suggested remedy is the only way.

Heavy Immigration In Year's Time—A Number Are Wilbarger Citizens

Emerald Isle is sending a steady stream of jovial, sturdy and honest citizens to Texas. According to Uncle Sam, who is now acting as gate keeper on our immigration, the Irish are coming to Texas at the rate of five per day, and Pat is well pleased with our opportunities. There are no snakes in Texas, and the earth is covered with a carpet of green the whole year 'round and we all celebrate Saint Patrick's Day.

In Wilbarger County there are 29 persons of Irish decent and of this number 15 were born in Ireland and later moved to Texas and 14 have parents that were both born in Ireland.

The Federal Census Reports which have just been issued, show that in 1910 there were 5,355 persons living in Texas that were born in Ireland and 7,752 residents of this State are of Irish parentage.
