Odell Commercial Club Is New Organization In City

At an Interesting Meeting Here Tuesday Night, Townsmen Cooperate, Elect Officers And Outline Work For the Future

An organization which has long been needed in Odell, and one whose work hereafter is believed to result in much good for the town, was organized here Tuesday night under the name of the Odell Commercial Club.

The membership is composed up-to-date of a majority of the business men of the town, with some few of its citizens who all believe, that the only towns in the commercial world today that are a success, are the ones that make special efforts for any interest that will prove beneficial to their upbuilding.

It was an enthusiastic crowd that met at the Bank of Odell Tuesday night to assist in the organization of the town's commercial club, and to have their name registered as active members. Everyone was in bright spirits and seemed to realize that only where there is cooperation, is their strength.

J. R. Huie was made Chairman of the meeting, and a committee composed of M. A. Smith, W. T. Collins and W. B. Beach was named by the chairman to name and perfect a permanent organization and to recommend officers for the club.

The committee's report to the meeting was that the association be called the "Odell Commercial Club," with J. R. Huie, as President; C. E. Foster, Vice-President and Charles P. Ross, Secretary and Treasurer, which report was unanimously accepted by the club.

Another committee appointed by the President, whose duty it will be to draw up a form of by-laws and present them at the next meeting, is composed of the following members: W. P. Starr, C. E. Foster and W. B. Beach.

The club discussed a movement at this meeting in regard to establishing a regular Trade's Day for Odell each month. And on a day of this kind, special inducements to be made to induce the people to come to Odell to trade. Particular work with reference to the special Trade Day will be carried out by the club at a later date.

While the membership of the Club does not now include all the business men of the town, most every one have expressed a hearty approval of the Club work and have agreed to enlist as members and by thus cooperating help to make Odell a better place. Next Tuesday night the 12th, the Club will meet at the Bank of Odell to accept report of committees and outline further work.

Rain Blights Day For Doans Annual Picnic

Small Crowd Gathered In Grove That Evening—Afternoon Hours Were Ideal

Owing to the heavy rain that fell over the country early Saturday morning, and threatening clouds with a promise of more rain during the day, the attendance at the Doans annual picnic was probably the least that has been on the grounds for a number of years.

But despite the fact, that the early part of the day for this annual picnic, was interfered with by the liquid of Jupiter Pluvios, the afternoon hours were brightened by the sun, and the day ended after all in being an ideal one for a picnic. Something like four or five hundred people were on the grounds, which were principally those living in the various neighborhoods around Doans, the attendance from Vernon and Oklahoma being very small.

The proprietors of drink stands, knife racks, negro baby racks and other stands for amusements were there prepared to do business, but on account of the small crowd, we presume their profits were exceedingly light.

The White City Band boys furnished the music for the occasion, and another feature for amusement was a ball game between White City and Fargo in the evening.

Ten of the county candidates attended the picnic, who made brief announcement in the evening.

Odell Ball Boys Loses Game To Chillicothe Team

Friday Evening's Game Ends With Scores of Five and Six in Chillicothe's Favor

In a ball game here last Friday evening, the members of the local ball team met their champions who defeated them by one score. The Chillicothe boys claiming the game at the end of the ninth inning with scores standing five and six in their favor.

This was the second time for this season, that the sluggers of the two nines had crossed bats, and both teams made a desperate fight for the game.

A large crowd witnessed the two teams play ball and everybody acknowledged it being one of the most interesting games of the season.

Following this is an account of the game:

Challenge for Discussion Of Bible Subjects Accepted

Pastor of Christian Church At Doans Proposes To Meet Rev. S. A. Williams

"To The Odell Reporter:

"I'll write a few lines for you to publish in this and next week's issue of your paper. I want it published plainly, this is to the public. Bro. S. A. Williams will preach at the Maple Hill school house the first Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night. Sunday his subjects will be on "The Church of God, Typical and Real," "Baptism, Typical and Real." In other words, "Ordinance, Typical and Real."

"I have heard of some saying that they did not believe that S. A. Williams was an educated man. If he is not, he would not be hard to handle in the Bible or language. Now this is not to boast at all, but I have this much to say in regard to Bro. Williams; he will not debate at all, but he will preach sermon about with anybody for light.

"Now I don't want any one to be afraid that he is not qualified in four different languages, viz: English, Greek, Latin and Spanish. Now understand the way is always open with him to preach sermon about with anybody, and if there is any one around here or anywhere else that wants to meet him the first Saturday in May, or any other time. Come.

"C. T. Carlton,
"Tolbert, Texas, R 2."

In answer to the above challenge, the editor of the Reporter has been authorized by Elder Whitaker, pastor of the Christian church at Doans, to word in his behalf his acceptance of the challenge.

In Elder Whitaker's proposal to meet the Holiness minister in a series of sermons, he desires us to state, that he will meet him on Thursday, Friday and Saturday before the first Sunday in June, at either the Maple Hill or Doans school house, and will allow him the privilege of selecting his own subjects to discuss.

While as understood from the tone of Mr. Carlton's challenge, that the proposed discussion is not to be what might be termed a debate, the time; subjects and place of discussion, can all be decided by parties interested.

Either the author of the challenge, or Rev. S. A. Williams, can get more information in regard to the proposed discussion, by conferring with members of the Christian church at Doans, or addressing Elder Whitaker at Tipton, Oklahoma.

Answers Elder M. Crowover On Unpardonable Sin

Citizen of Maple Hill Community Makes Reply To Sermon That Appeared in Reporter

Odell Reporter:

In response to Elder Crowover's views on the unpardonable sin, published in the April 2nd number of your paper. I wish to say, that as Eld. Crowover seems to be fair, gentlemanly and considerate of others rights and privileges as well as his own, that such are meritorious to our present enlightenment, etc. And as he wishes to exchange views, and has given his to the public, I think it is right to accommodate him. Therefore, such views as I have I will give liberally.

The Elder's subject is "The unpardonable sin." But instead of telling us in the outset of his write-up, what the above sin is, and how one commits it; he tells us by a lengthy argument how to get good and just how good a sinner must be, preparatory to the committing of the capital sin; for which there is no pardon. And in the final of his sermon he gives a summary of both goodness and badness, quite a compound indeed; for a definition to that sin for which there is no pardon.

Unlike that which the Apostle Paul described, that some will say: "Let us do evil that good may come."

The Elder's doctrine is a new one, i. e. Let us do good, that evil may come. According to his doctrine, an alien sinner cannot commit that awful sin; therefore is not in as much danger of eternal destruction as those who have been converted to, and been made partakers of the Elder's doctrine. I think as much, if the word eternal be left off, and just say destruction. Instead of there being salvation in the Elder's doctrine, the sinner only gets more in danger of eternal destruction.

According to his summary; one must hear and believe, prepar-

Now since the trouble in Mexico has about become quiet, we presume, election talk will run to its highest heat.

Odell needs a special trade's day, and a day of this kind could be easily instituted with very little expense to the merchants of the town.

A derrick over an oil well at Electra is reported to have been struck by lightning last Saturday morning, which ended in setting fire to the oil in the well.

Old settlers of the country say that not since 1891, has the wheat crop looked more favorable than now. If no disastrous happening befalls wheat in the neighboring counties, the harvesting of this grain will mean the employment of many idle hands.

With all old Huerta's treacherous acts in the movements he has made since he first emerged into the lime light as a producer of trouble in Mexico, we must raise our hat to the old gentleman as being a good concocter of schemes. A fully contrived plan and dream of the old Indian was to plunge his country into war with some foreign nation, issue a patriotic call for soldiers, and in this way unite the opposing elements in his own land who have been slugging each other for years.

The County Farm Demonstration agent of Jackson county, Oklahoma, is continuing to warn the farmers of that country against the planting of new cotton that have recently been introduced. Such seed as the Half and Half, Simpkin's Prolific, Dwight's Kings and Toole's are not at all adapted to climatic conditions of Southern Oklahoma, he claims, besides being cotton of very small bales, he argues it is all hard to pick and does not possess any storm proof qualities. He urges the farmers to still continue the use of Mebane, Rowden, Triumph and Lone Star, a cotton that has been tried and proved true in that country.

The Silo

Silo agents are laboring hard to introduce the silos in this part of the country. The hardest proposition an agent finds who is introducing a new process in a neighborhood is to get some to see its advantages and take hold. After that, if what he is selling proves a success, it advertises itself.—Odell Reporter.

The silo has proved its value and repeated the proof ten thousand times. As a class, farmers are more reluctant to adopt modern improvements than is good for them. Manufacturers as a class are eager to add to their equipment every contrivance which improves their product or cheapens the cost of operation. Every year progressive manufacturers scrap thousands of dollars' worth of comparatively new machinery in order to install improved machines, and this continuous process is reflected in bettered dividends. When there shall be a silo on every considerable farm, and live stock to justify the silo, increased efficiency will be the rule throughout the agricultural districts, and increased efficiency will be reflected in increased prosperity. This condition can not come about in a day. Rome was centuries in building.—State Press, in Dallas News.

Country Credit Conversation
By Peter Radford

Credit is the breath of the farmer's life.

The farmer is constantly in the money market.

The average farmer regards debt as a natural heritage.

Interest is the worst buy that eats the farmer's crops.

Credit is as oil to the farmer's income producing machine.

The farmer must have financial help or agriculture will perish.

Give the agriculturist ample working capital and you increase the national stability.

Farming is the least profitable business in America and pays the highest interest rate.

If city borrowers had to pay the same interest as country borrowers, most urban enterprises would throw up the sponge.

Half Million Mexicans in Texas

San Antonio, Tex., April 30.—There are 234,179 persons in Texas whose mother tongue is Spanish and practically all of them came here direct from Mexico, according to a census report just issued. This number represents approximately 7 per cent of the total white population of the state. The information contained in this report was gathered in 1920 and it is claimed by local authorities that this number has doubled in the past semi decade.

Sidelights on Human Nature

A professor of Columbia University has just completed a test of character of 1000 working men of different sections of the United States and his report reveals some interesting tendencies of the average laborer.

Prominent among his discoveries was the revelation that nine men in every ten laborers occupy a large amount of their spare time in reading the newspapers and that this number of them are subscribers to their local publications.

Next to the time spent with his family, the American laborer divides his spare moments in visiting friends and in reading newspapers.

Of the thousand men investigated, 29 nationalities and 164 occupations were represented, and 300 of them belonged to trade unions. There were 580 church members, while 420 did not profess religion. Six men in every ten are regular patrons of the picture shows and only 3 in ten used intoxicants in any form.

Taking the one thousand men investigated as a fair example of the average laborer, the American workman reveals the strongest social spirit of that civilized nation on the globe.

And For Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Housework.

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last time, was my worst.

I had dreadful nervous headaches and prostration, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my housework.

I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides and when one of those weak, sinking spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down, until it wore off.

I was certainly in a dreadful state of health, when I finally decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I firmly believe I would have died if I hadn't taken it.

After I began taking Cardui, I was greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely.

I fattened up, and grew so much stronger in three months, I felt like another person altogether."

Cardui is purely vegetable and gentle-acting. Its ingredients have a mild, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui makes for increased strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallow cheeks, fresh and rosy.

Cardui has helped more than a million weak women, during the past 50 years. It will surely do for you, what it has done for them. Try Cardui today.

atory to the above sin. Jesus said: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, he that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, has everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life." John 5:24. One must repent, he says. The Apostle Paul said: "The gifts and calling of God are without repentance." Rom. 11:29. That the promise is to you and your children, and to them who are afar off even to as many as the Lord, ysur God shall call. So all may see, to harmonize the two above scriptures I conclude, that the promise is to those who are called of God, that those who are called, are the recipience of the gift, and calling, and that the gift and calling are without repentance. Again the Apostle said, "The gift of God is eternal life."

Therefore the above scriptures has reference to eternal salvation, which is the eternal and perfect gift of God, and which cometh down from heaven, and like him, is neither veritable or any shadow of turning. Therefore, those who are the recipience of eternal life, are kept by the power of God unto salvation, ready to be revealed at the last day.

Life nor death, principales nor powers, nor any other creature shall ever separate them from the love of God. Away goes the above sin without any power to overcome the recipience of the above gift, viz. eternal life.

Again the scriptures say, A Godly sorrow for sin, worketh repentance unto Salvation, that needeth not to be repenteth of.

Well we now come to the laying on of hands. We find that the laying on of hands, is preparatory to a certain special work in righteousness, and not preparatory to unrighteousness, for prot read, 1 Tim. 4:14, 1 Tim. 5:22, and 2nd. Tim. 1:16, Act. 6, 13:13. Neither is baptism preparatory to sin, neither is it unto eternal life; is not, putting away the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience toward God, and not to the end of a bad conscience, because of sin.

Lastly, the Elder says, in his way, that one must have all the above good things and be in possession of the Holy Ghost, fall away from speaking reproachful of it, and the graces of the gospel in order to the committing of the unpardonable sin and resorts for proof to Paul to the Hebrews, 6:4, 6, of which I will quote the latter only, "seeing they crucified to themselves the son of God airen." This would be sinning against the son of God, which Jesus says shall be forgiven unto men. More over such would be impossible. For one to crucify the son of God he would have to first assend into the heavens to bring him down from above. So this expression with in it's self proves the impossibility of the sons of God finally falling away. The apostle was teaching the Hebrews who were accustomed to the often and continual offering unto the precepts of the law, that the principal of the doctrine of Christ was not so. And used this argument to show them impossibility of same. He says in the end: "But beloved I am persuaded better things of you, things that accompany salvation though I thus speak."

He shows that it would be impossible to renew the children of God, again unto repentance if they should finely fall away. Which would be necessary, else the purpose of God would be of no effect. He says, "Nevertheless the foundation of God standeth sure, having this seal, "The Lord knoweth them that are his" 2 Tim. 2:19. And according to Eph. 1:19, quoted by the Elder. Even the seal of God would be of no effect.

Joe Crownover and Miss Fannie Stalcup, both popular young people of the Plain View community, were married at Altus, Oklahoma, last Friday morning.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Crownover of near town, and is an industrious young man of good habits.

The bride who has been making her home with her mother and two brothers, is a popular young lady with a large circle of friends in her neighborhood.

The Reporter joins the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Crownover in wishing for them a happy life.

Notice To The Public
The people of the Odell community should remember that Saturday, May 9th, is the day for the annual meeting of the Pleasant Valley Cemetery Association. The Association will meet at the cemetery on that day, and besides their regular business, which includes the election of a president this year, the yard is to be cleaned of all weeds and all necessary work be done to put the yard in a respectable condition.

Everybody of the Odell community, who possible can, should attend this important gathering, as the work to be done at the cemetery is not the work of no certain few, but tis the duty of everybody in this part of the country to feel themselves a member of the Association and attend the meeting.

B. D. Smith and wife drove through the country to Quanah in their car Tuesday, where the former went to have his eyes treated by a specialist.

W. T. Gibbins, manager of the Round Timbers Ranch, returned Sunday from Carlsbad, New Mexico, where he went with his wife who will be there for some time for the benefit of her health.

Walter L. Ferguson, candidate for Public Weigher of the county, was here Wednesday evening getting acquainted with the people.

Messers S. F. White of Leady Oklahoma, and John White of Dodsenville, who were here at the bedside of their sick mother Mrs. White the last of week, have returned home; Mrs. White having greatly improved.

Cookies! Cookies!!

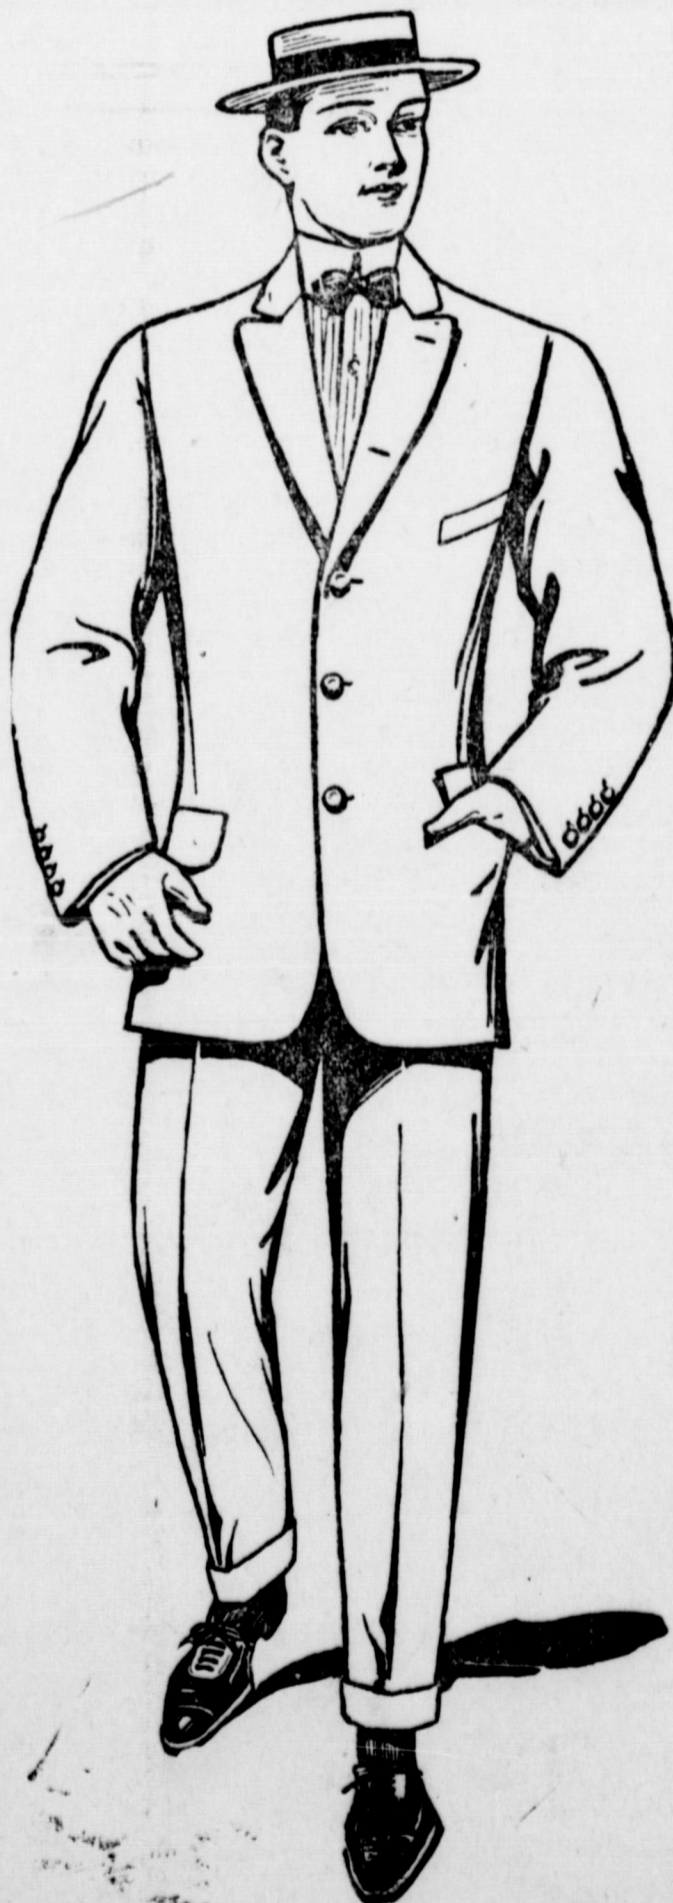

Why go to the expense and trouble of baking cakes and cookies for picnics and ice cream suppers when you can buy these things and save money and work by doing it? If you will let us show you what we have in this line, we are sure that you will begin buying goodies of this kind and quit tiring and worrying yourself to death on hot days baking cakes over a hot stove.

We would be glad for all the women in this country to visit our store and look at our goods. We try to keep good stuff, because it is a pleasure to us to sell goods that we know will please.

Let us supply your wants.

Yours to Serve,
