In the unusually interesting January, 1944, issue of the Eljier News, published by the Elgin Co., at Ford City, Pa., appears the following short-story of American pride of ownership:

"An Englishman and an American were presented to the potentate of one of the eastern countries. On looking over the Englishman's passport, the dusky monarch said: 'I see, sir, that you are a British subject.'

"Englishman (twirling his moustache with pride): 'I am, sir!'

"Monarch (looking at the American): 'And you, sir, are a subject of the United States.'

"American (gazing at the monarch in amazement): 'Subject, my eye! I own a part of the United State!'

We are not subjects of our country—we own it.

We are not the property of our government—we own it.

The Commerce Department reports that soybean oil almost caught up with cottonseed oil last year in the production of oleomargarine.

Texas was fifth in the production of crude soybean oil.

It is said soybeans grow well in Texas and our soil is well adapted to the cultivation of the plant, and our people are taking notice of the value that more extensive plantings may bring to the State.

According to recent FBI reports, serious crimes in Texas are on the increase. During the first half of this year the increase was said to have risen from four to 24 per cent.

An increase has also been noted in the number of automobiles stolen, 2,976 thefts have been reported to date for this year, which is said to be an increase of 177 per cent.

City boy: "Say, what is a heifer? Is it a hog or a sheep?"

Farm boy (reflectively): "Well, to be frank with you, buddy, I don't know much about poultry."

A hurried businessman rushed into the barber shop. "Can you cut my hair with my coat on?" he asked.

The barber, recognizing him as a regular customer whose hair grew in a low fringe around his bald pate, replied: "I sure can. I can even cut it with your hat on."

"I didn't know I had a buck in my pocket," said a voice on the crowded bus, "if it is my pocket."

Speaking of strikes and the consequences that usually follow, Henry Ford, the great automobile manufacturer has this to say of wages: "No wage is too high that is earned. Fifty dollars a day, earned, is not too high. But a dollar a day, unearned, is much too high."

Here is a bit of interesting news for the men: Longer tails for shirts are coming back.

Gracie Allen, radio comedian, says she doesn't begrudge her husband, George, a longer shirt-tail but she feels the WPB has slighted the women by not allowing them more ample garments now that the war is over.

The Duke of Windsor is back in the news. Reports are that he and the Duchess will sail soon for Paris where they expect to make their home again, now that peace has been restored. He said he plans to visit his mother, the former Queen Mary, about the first of October. The Duchess will not accompany him to England this time, he said, but probably will some time later.

Crown Princess Elizabeth, of England, who recently was thrown from a horse and seriously bruised, is said to be resting and making very satisfactory recovery. It is further reported that she is to be married sometime in the near future.

From Dublin, Ireland, comes the news that John McCormick, famous Irish tenor, died there September 9. The world famous singer was at his home and passed away at 11:15 p.m. His wife and a son, Cyril McCormick, captain in the Irish army, were at his bedside.

The singer was 61 years old.

As Cotton Goes, So Goes the South Secretary Anderson

So Goes the South.—"More farmers are affected by what happens to cotton than by what happens to any other crop. One-third of the cash farm income of the entire South comes from cotton. As cotton goes, so goes the South."—Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson.

Good Sense to Use Cotton.—"Patriotism will not develop markets for cotton products, for they must stand on their own merits. But when the proven merits of anything are as great as those of cotton, it is common sense to make the products of our own farms No. 1 on our post war shopping list."—Educational Service, National Cottonseed Products Assn.

Poor Land Becomes Best.—"I made more cotton on poor land where clover and phosphate were applied than on my best heavy land without them."—Herman L. Wendt, Lavaca County, Texas, farmer in "Acco Press."

What Made Cotton King?—"American genius and enterprise enabled this country to lead the world in the production and manufacture of cotton. That same resourcefulness and energy will go far towards insuring sound progress in the postwar era."—Advertisement of Bank of New York.

Not One-Way Street.—"Competition among fibers and fabrics is not a one-way street. Cotton goods and garment manufacturers are alive to the very real advantages that the older fiber possesses and are laying plans to exploit them to the utmost, so as to hold established markets and secure new ones."—Journal of Commerce.

Strength, Long-Life and Easy Care.—"Strength, long-life and easy care are why America demands more than four times as much cotton as the total of all other fibers combined."—Betty Lou Turner, student, Clayton, North Carolina.

Senate Defeats $25 Week Pay by 51 to 29 Vote

Washington, September 19.—The United States Senate turned thumbs down Tuesday on the administration's proposal to pay war workers $25 per week for 26 weeks by a vote of 51 to 29. This was on Berkeley's amendment to restore the $25 week provision to the bill.

It was the second Senate defeat of the day for the President. Earlier in the day the Senate voted 56 to 23 to return the facilities of the United States Employment Service to the States in 90 days, an action which Truman requested to be postponed until June, 1947.

The vote was on an amendment which came as a surprise to democratic leaders. There is no valid reason why a bill paying war workers $25 per week as unemployment insurance should have ever been introduced. Every person can be employed at the present time at reasonable wages. Many workers who have been laid off have been offered employment but they expect to continue to draw inflated wages as they have done during the war and refused to go to work from the standpoint of low wages. Should Congress pass a law paying $25 per week there would be many workers who would take the $25 and would not accept employment at any wage.

R. B. George Company Erecting New Home South of Abilene

One of the largest road machinery houses in Texas to build permanent home in Abilene. A postwar project costing $60,000 for the R. B. George Equipment Co., is now under construction on the Abilene-San Angelo highway, just north of the country club at Abilene.

The actual construction was started about September 1. The new building is to be 85 by 200 feet in dimensions of prefabricated steel with brick front. The company expects to move in the new home about November 1.

The company is distributors for Catapillar tractors and does a general business. Head offices are in Dallas. The company serves about 21 counties out of Abilene.

Everyone Like to Earn a Little More Than Actually Needed

We are all made of about the same material. All of us want the security of mind that comes from earning a little more than we need, so that we can provide for our loved ones, save for a rainy day and plan for retirement when our work days are over.

All of us want the sort of fair stake we can get from our own talents, our own capacities, confident that there is no monopoly anywhere in our economy except those regulated by government in the public interest.

The reason we all want the same thing lies within the makeup of our free democratic system. All of our workers, consumers and employers every day, all of these different people at different times.

It takes all of us to keep the system running well. When any part of our economic system stops or takes a nose dive, regardless of reason, all of us take it on the chin. Industrial strife, conflict between management and labor is no exception.

Industries Proposing Research Foundation For the Pacific Coast

The tire situation at a glance. OPA Administrator Bowles estimated Monday by September 30, there would be outstanding certificates for tires amounting to more than a million tires as compared with certificates outstanding the first of September of only 517,715,000.

A joint OPA and War Production Board statement said that the demand for tires is so far ahead of current production that it will be many months before motorists needs can be filled.

Bowles said that the million requests are applications for which ration boards cannot issue certificates because their monthly quotas have been exhausted.

Anyone could have seen this condition was in the making when the workers were calling so many strikes in the tire industry a few months back.

Congress and the administration who are always wanting to give the executive more power to control strikes and other things, it might not be a miss that they go back and study a little history made by President Cleveland during his administration. It only took Cleveland a few hours to control strikes. He stepped in guaranteed to protect all who worked and the strike was over. That is all that is necessary at present. Protect the person who wants to work and most workers will return to their jobs and go to work. Under present conditions they are afraid to return on account of not having any protection.

Baird Celebrates Fifth Year of Municipal Lights

The fifth anniversary of the Baird municipal light plant was celebrated Thursday night, September 20, by a number of citizens of Baird and the surrounding communities. After inspecting the plant refreshments were served to the crowd that assembled. Citizens and visitors were conducted through the plant.

The plant was first planned by the city council in 1938. Construction was started in December, 1939, delayed by litigation, but was finished and in operation by September 20, 1940.

The plant represented a cost of $170,000. Outstanding bonds are $96,000. During the years there have been $4,000 worth of the bonds retired.

For the fiscal year revenue was $29,667. Operating expense, $16,627; interest and depreciation, $8,472—a total of $25,099, leaving a net profit of $4,568 for the past year.

System fund shows cash and warrant bonds $9,522; in depreciation fund $10,475; and bond fund $15,837. Total of all funds and cash assets is $35,834. The city furnishes the high school football athletic field, with lights—a total of 48,000 watts.

City officials are: Hugh W. Ross, mayor; Alderman C. W. Sutphen, J. T. Lawrence, D. J. Anderson and W. L. Ray. Earl Johnson is not on city council but the writer is not advised who succeeded him.

G. B. Dealy With Dallas News 72 Years, October 12

Something very unusual, Geo. B. Dealy celebrated his 86th birthday last Tuesday at his desk at the Dallas Morning News.

The desk was crowded with flowers from old friends, with a stack of messages and congratulations to the veteran publisher, who on October 12, begins his 72nd year with the News.

Think of being employed and holding one position for 72 years! It is something very few people can say. However, just a short time ago one of the teachers in the Dallas school resigned after teaching in the Dallas school for 52 years. This is some record, also. As no large per cent of the people are active in any position for more than a half century.

Air Medal Awarded Lt. Roberts Presented Mrs. Margaret Roberts

The Air Medal, posthumously awarded to her husband, Second Lt. William Robert Roberts, was presented to Mrs. Margaret J. Roberts at her home north of Cross Plains last Wednesday afternoon. Major Robert S. Johnson, veteran ace pilot of the Abilene Army Air Field, made the presentation. The citation was read by First Lt. John W. Wallace, as assistant public relations officer at the field and a veteran pilot.

Lt. Roberts, the son of Robt. R. Roberts, Sr., of Baird, earned the Air Medal "for meritorious service in aerial flight while participating in sustained operational activities against the enemy on 25 April 1945," as a bombardier in the 15th Air Force.

He was born at Rising Star, Texas, and graduated from the Rising Star high school and continued his education at Texas A. and M. College, where he graduated in 1941. Immediately after he graduated from college he entered the service.

SCRANTON BASKETBALL GIRLS TEAM ORGANIZE SEPTEMBER 20 FOR 1945

It Appears Honeymoon Over at Washington Between Two Factions

It looks like the honeymoon is over between Congress and the President. Contributing to these difficulties is that the legislative body is nervous after a back-home visit with constituents who complain about the draft, military service, OPA policy and rationing. The end of the war has removed much restraint from Congressional speaking, and state ments will be sharp.

A WPB report that the nation's key industries expect production by year end to be slightly more than the pre-war average, dollar value, with industrial employment 96 per cent of pre-war average, has increased uncertainty over the future of unemployment compensation legislation. Some on Capitol Hill question the need for increasing federal payments.

Many members of Congress also will turn attention to OPA's 1942 hold-the-line policy. Believing maximum production is essential to provide jobs and avert inflation threats, they regard OPA as the main bottleneck to full peace time production. OPA favors continued controls to bolster its price program, whereas WPB wants to get rid of all controls at the earliest possible moment.

M. E. Frye & Sons Sell Hereford Bull For $1,000 Cash

M. E. Frye and Sons, who own large ranch holdings in the Putnam territory and are breeders of polled Herefords, did some trading recently in which they sold to Venable & Henry of Monroe, La., nine head of Polled Herefords at $250 and three bulls at $200, and one bull from the Frye show herd was sold for $1,000. They have one of the finest herds of thoroughbred cattle of any ranchers in the Putnam trade territory. It would pay anyone interested in breeding fine cattle to visit the Frye ranch and inspect their herds.

3,714 Texans Asking For Unemployment Insurance Payments

According to reports out of Austin, there were a total of 3,714 Texans started claims for unemployment compensation in the week ending September 15, the Unemployment Compensation Department announced Wednesday.

The new claims were filed by 2,033 men and 1,681 women. Dallas county carried the heaviest load with 1,108 claimants.

Under state law persons claiming benefits must be registered for new jobs with the United States Unemployment Service which refers them to suitable jobs when they are available.

Claimants who filed application for benefits last week must serve a waiting period of one additional week. If they return regularly to a commission field office or itinerant service point to file their claims their first benefit check will be received approximately four weeks after starting the claim series.

Editorial taken from the Fort Worth Press: "Herbert Hoover's warning for the United States to stop, look and listen before it goes too fast in financing the post war world should be heeded.

He sneaks with double authority. As a government official during and after World War I, he had a hand in the war and relief loans and later as President he fathered and followed the international moratorium. He also handled the European relief problems before. So his experience in these matters is equal to, if not greater, than that of anyone living.

Mr. Hoover points out that the net results of the defaulted war and post war debts was that the American taxpayer held the bag, and was cursed as a shylock for his trouble. There was no lack of good intentions on the part of the United States before, and there is not now, but we have learned, have we, that a lot more than good will and idealistic impulses is required to keep these financial transactions from doing more harm than good abroad and at home.

Mr. Hoover, after making specific suggestions, summarizes as follows: "We must help. We should use common sense. We should limit our help to what our taxpayers can afford. We should consider our own employment situation. We should limit our aid to the minimum necessary. We should limit to direct purpose of restoring their domestic needs through commodities; we should organize it so as to minimize the ill will of repayment. We should do it with the knowledge that we are doing it at a loss to ourselves but to aid mankind to recover from the greatest disaster of all history.

"In general, it seems to us, the results will be best if gifts are limited to emergency human relief and all other credits are on a fair but realistic business basis in which the borrower puts up assets."

Raise in Pensions Depends on Attorney General's Ruling

A formal ruling has been asked of the Attorney General on the power of the Texas Board of Public Welfare to increase maximum old age grants without further action by the Legislature, was made last week.

The request from the chairman Thomas H. Taylor of the Welfare Board after a meeting of the board Saturday afternoon and at which doubt was expressed if the constitutional amendment to authorize an increase of the month-ceiling from $15 to $20, were self-enacting. Meanwhile Executive Director John Winters, has obtained tentative approval from the Federal Security Board for matching above the present $20 state maximum, it was expected the first such grant may be effective with the November check if the attorney general decides no further legislative action is necessary.

A constitutional amendment is not a law but only authorizes the legislature to pass laws putting the amendment into law. Therefore, it appears that the legislature would have to enact laws of enforcement before money could

M. D. Heist Receives Message of Death Brother at Salt Lake

M. D. Heist, owner of a number of leases in the North Putnam shallow oil field, received a message this week that his brother, Harvey Heist had died at Salt Lake City, Saturday, after a lingering illness.

Mr. Heist was in town Tuesday and stated that there were three of the brothers and that one was killed during World War I and since Harvey had died he is the only one left.

The three of them were in the engineering business for themselves for a number of years and Harvey went to Salt Lake City where he opened an engineering office and entered business where he remained until his death recently.

SCHOOL NOTES

Next week we plan to get back in line with our time. We will go back to the suns rising and setting. The President has asked that we run the clock back one hour and we are going to do just that. We will then operate according to the same clock hour as at present which will allow us to remain at home one hour longer in the morning. School will begin at nine o'clock next week, first bell at 8:30.

Football fans enjoyed a good game last Friday night, even though the favorites (Bulldogs) were defeated 13 to 6. Coach Odell is confident of a strong comeback this week when we invade the Panthers field. This week's expedition will open the conference play and will find every one in good condition and ready with the exception of Junior Williams and Gene Thomas who may not see much action. Bad colds and flu which handicapped the Bulldogs last Friday night have cleared up and the boys are feeling good and are, according to Coach Odell, really going to be ready for those Panthers.

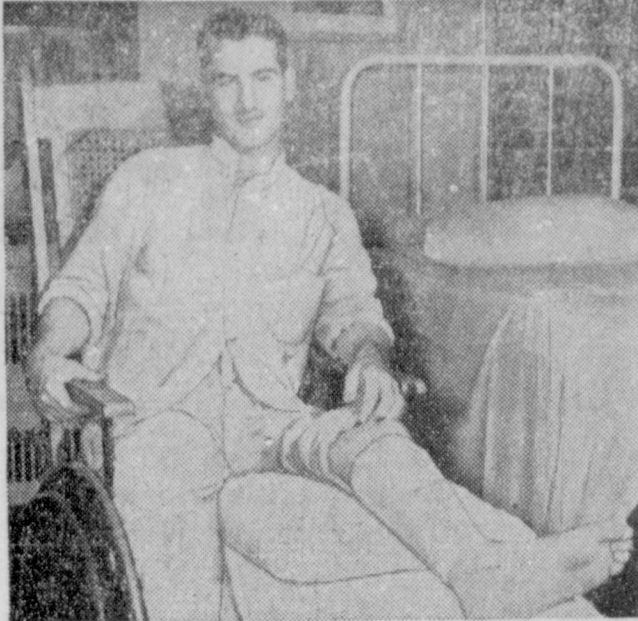

FOLLOW THE BULLDOGS TO PUTNAM FRIDAY.

The Squad
The Moran high pep squad have about 50 members this year, more than Moran high has had in 2 or 3 years.

We have found it a very hard situation in getting our suits this year. We had planned on purple skirts and gold blouses. The leaders are to dress in purple.

Machine-gunned by the Germans, Pvt. Charles Whittier, 21, Augusta, Me., smiles because War Bond funds have helped his recovery from a fractured tibia and fibula. An infantryman, he was airborne in a glider to the fighting in the Rhine river area. Landing in a field under Nazi mortar and machine gun fire, he was hit instantly and then removed to an overseas hospital and finally to Halloran General Hospital at Staten Island, N. Y. He faced a long fight courageously, but most advanced medical care and equipment are mending his bones better than ever before was possible.

While driving an Army tank at St. Vith, Belgium, Pvt. John Chester, 25, of Geneva, N. Y., suffered a broken leg. Enemy heavy fire knocked over the advancing vehicle and the driver has been under medical care ever since. Pvt. Chester urges investment in Victory Bonds to help provide funds to equip hospitals, supply medicine and proper food for men wounded in action.

Still suffering from multiple fracture of his hands and feet, Cpl. Vincent Jacianes, 29, New York City, says Americans must buy Victory Bonds to assure proper care for the boys that were injured. Healing such wounds as Cpl. Jacianes sustained when struck by a land mine while advancing with the combat engineers in the Ardennes Forest is a slow process.

Lower Clear Fork Soil Conservation District News

Much talk has been circulating about the value of vetch in combination with small grains for grazing and soil improvement, especially on the sandy and reddish prairie soils of this locality. It is no longer necessary to look to other areas for first hand information since the crop has been successfully grown and harvested on the Rock House Hereford ranch of John H. Sedwick & Son of Albany.

A light mixture of vetch was seeded with oats on 20 acres last fall. It was grazed through the winter, later harvested for seed and the latter was chopped into the soil with a tandem disc. Recently this area was plowed with a sub-surface tiller and it was noted that the soil was more mellow and darker in color. Moisture was evident as compared to adjacent land that was hard and dry. Mr. Sedwick has finished dry planting 16 acres of vetch and oats and has kept back enough seed to replant the original 20 acres if a volunteer stand does not come up.

In addition to his own needs, he has distributed 845 pounds of vetch seed to District Cooperators Max Anderson and H. Garlitz of Moran, J. Frank Browning of Baird, Bill Adams and D. B. Rainey of Stephens county and E. E. Jones and J. F. Sedwick of Albany. Orders were turned back from Merkel buyers in order that local needs could be supplied.

Mr. Sedwick has been active in farm and ranch improvement by the use of soil and water conservation measures, having formed the Inex conservation group of the Lower Clear Fork Soil Conservation District.

Soil improvement by the use of vetch is only a part of the coordinated conservation plan developed by Mr. Sedwick with the assistance of soil conservation service personnel for his ranch. Other measures are, working crop residue into the soil, breaking up the underlying soil layer sometimes known as "hardpan," terracing eroding fields, contour planting, crop rotation, phosphate application under legumes, proper stocking of range land, rotation grazing, ranch roads, fire squads, fish stocking, water distribution, and eradication of mesquite trees.

COTTON PREMIUM

Moran business men made up a premium for the first bale of cotton to be ginned at the Moran gin, September, 1945. L. S. Sugg, who lives in the Colony neighborhood on the Dock Isenhower farm, was given $30.00 in cash and the free ginning of the bale by the gin company. Mr. Sugg has brought in several bales and stated that he intends to put in a large crop of wheat and cotton next year. He was well pleased with Moran.

Contributors to the premium were: Moran Ginning Co., W. M. Freeman Grocery & Market, George Oakley Feed Store, A. T. Grace Highway Service Station, F. R. Raymond Grocery & Market, Taylor Furniture Store, Marcus H. Ward Hardware, O. W. Cochran Tailor Shop, Lawrence Martin Drug Store, Rockwell Bros. & Co., Lumber, Carroll Ludder Garage, West Texas Utilities, Moran National Bank, Oscar Parrish Feed Store, Mrs. C. C. Cady, newspaper.

TEXAS STATE GUARD NEWS—COMPANY C—MORAN

There is a matter to which we would call the attention of the readers of this column, which we feel should be done. The Texas State Guard is a military organization, and has regular army equipment, furnished by the State, manned by local citizens, and the Company Commander and his staff of commissioned officers are veterans of World War I, and know their business. We have also in our ranks, men discharged from the second World War, who feel that they can do their state and country a service by remaining in uniform, so they cast their lots with Company C.

Few people are aware of the fact that in case of emergency there is available a well trained military company in Moran who could be mobilized instantly to protect life and property. The men are well trained because they have devoted their extra time to drill and practice for emergencies. The Guard is not a marching society, nor is it a "Home Guard," it is not a group of men who like to wear a uniform and "play soldier." Surely this would be folly for the Federal Government to turn over to the State millions of dollars worth of equipment for men just to play with. The Texas State Guard is a deadly earnest army, staffed by competent officers, equipped with real weapons handled by men who mean business. The personnel of Company C is made up of executives, preachers, business owners, salesmen, clerks, farmers, and the everyday man you meet on the street.

All enlistees receive the regular army basic training—Military Courtesy, discipline, sanitation, first aid, scouting, in fact, everything a soldier is taught. The Guardsmen are issued regular Army uniforms and equipment. The uniforms are distinguished by the T.S.G. shoulder patch on the left shoulder, and is a distinguishing mark of which all members are proud. We will stand Federal inspection right here in Moran in October, and we would like for the public to see this. We will let you know the date. The officers of Company C, 10th Battalion T.S.G. are: Captain, Geo. L. McCargo, 1st Lt. John W. Booth, 2nd Lt. Walter McCollum.

The name of the organization TEXAS STATE GUARD, and not "Home Guards," please.

The Jet Plane Not to Be Used For Many Months

The war caused many people to think they would soon be riding in a jet-propelled plane. But the research department of the Standard Oil Co., of Indiana says "Jet planes, even with their ability to use heavy fuels, will probably not come into use for private or commercial planes for a long time, if ever."

The survey was part of the company's study of future fuels and requirements, and dealt entirely with civil craft. It said, "A jet plane must fly high and fast, since high altitude, high speed flight is expensive no matter what kind of an engine is used the experts feel the jet plane will hardly fit into the economic picture. Most experts feel that the large airplane of tomorrow will use propellers, but that the propellers will be driven by gas turbines, particularly as planes are built that need engines of greater than 3,000 horsepower."

Every radical change in engine design means that the oil industry must develop lubricants and fuels that will make the operation of such engines practical and fool-proof. The American oil industry has always kept pace with or been one jump ahead of demands. That is one reason why the United States leads the world in its use of all types of motor equipment for pleasure and business.

Private enterprise seeks new fields to conquer in methods of production and distribution, for that is the life blood of success. And that is why a nation profits so greatly where individual opportunity and incentive for advancement is the driving force in industries. Nowhere is this better illustrated than in the laboratories of the oil companies whose job it is to keep American citizens on wings as well as wheels.
