DRAFT CARD BURNERS

.....Ted Dotts

There are at least two reasons currently being given which aim at explaining why young men burn their draft cards.

First, some proclaim that they are Communists. This is rather doubtful, since a trained member of the Communist Party would not throw away five years of his life in a prison on so menial an instance.

Now I do not give Communism that much ability. In some instances Communists may be able to dupe ignorant young men into burning their cards.

Secondly, some proclaim that the young men are Pacifists. This is probably closer to the truth, since that is what the young men themselves proclaim.

Pacifism is a high ideal and like all high ideals it attracts the young people and it is impossible to attain.

Young people are anxious to give their lives to something worthwhile and meaningful. Thus high ideals like Pacifism attract them.

Pacifism is impossible to attain. The whole basis for Pacifism grows out of Liberal Theology. Liberal Theology proclaims that, when educated, man will grow into a perfect being.

This assumes that when men know the good, they will do it. This assumption is not born out by the history of our own times.

This assumption is not born out by the psychology of our own minds. Each day we Ropes people are shown the good and we constantly choose the evil.

Georgana Snider Is Homecoming Queen

At halftime ceremonies this past Friday night Miss Georgana Snider was crowned Homecoming Queen. She is a freshman and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Crate Snider.

Runners-up were Mary Lee Gregg, Gladys Pinkert and Louella Means.

Junior High Band Sweetheart was Miss G.G. McKee, while Miss Louella Means was chosen Senior High Band Sweetheart.

Chuck Braden was declared "Mr. Football."

Ex-Drum Majors and ex-twirlers of the Ropes Eagle Band were presented, and the fans were treated to a twirling duet by ex's Mary (Jackson) Johnson and Sara Cato.

One of the highlights of the evening was head twirler Louella Means when she twirled a baton of fire. We believe this is the first time we have seen this feat accomplished without the performer dropping the baton at least one time.

It would be presumptuous of us to tell you how to vote—you are an intelligent person; you have studied the issues, and on November 2 you will, of you should go to the polls, to vote on ten amendments to the Constitution of Texas.

We don't think this amendment should pass. We don't believe any one man should be elected for more than a two year term to any State office, and especially that of governor. In passing such an amendment the governor would serve for eight years, and with an eight year term all but insured, we would wind up with little less than a dictatorship in our state government.

This also applies to the bill which would give the House members four years—it would give them longer terms than Congressmen. The people of the State have a right to rule on their State Representative every two years.

We make this appeal—go to the polls and vote. Through lack of interest we allowed the labor unions to take over control of the State when the amendment to make our Senate 39 members was defeated—the CIO and AFL leaders turned handsprings of joy—because it puts the Texas Senate in the hands of Labor.

That is easy: The members of the Senate will be elected from metropolitan areas, where labor is the strongest—in short, when that amendment carried it placed rural Texas on the little end of the deal.

Remember this, if you stay at home and allow these two propositions to become law you are selling out yourself and your State.

AMENDMENTS TO BE VOTED ON NOVEMBER 2

Amendment No. 1: Increasing state ad valorem tax by five cents on the $100 valuation, to be used for building construction for state institutions of higher learning. Amends Section 17, Article 7.

Amendment No. 2: Authorizing an increase of $200 million in bonds or obligations that may be issued by the Veterans' Land Board, and extending program for eight years. Amends Section 49-b, Article III.

Amendment No. 3: Providing that the Legislature shall enact appropriate legislation to enable the State of Texas to continue cooperating with the Federal Government.

Nola Knows

By Nola White

Dear Readers: I don't believe just a whole lot of you are going to send me money for my advice, but since one man did, let me make it clear that I cannot accept it. Your newspaper pays me, and if you like what I say, your editor is the one to thank.

Dear Nola - Two months ago I went on vacation and broke my ankle. Now I'm sitting in a cast. I have been a private duty nurse for years. My first husband died. Been married to this man for 7 years. He doesn't think he should be out one penny on me. I have kept myself up until now. He works all time, but thinks his money should just be his. Is there any way I could go for help? would it be alright to call his boss? He is 60 years. I am 54 years.

A Lonely Nurse

Dear Nurse - In my opinion one of the most important functions of marriage is to have a travelling companion for the journey through life... someone to lean on when you need him, and someone to help when he's the one in need. Obviously your husband doesn't feel this way, even tho' at 60 he faces the day when he may need your help and support as much as you need him now. But you can't change him. The only person on earth you can change is you. And perhaps if you change, he'll change, too. Always be pleasant and cheerful and serve him as if he were an honored guest in your home. This may seem unfair, but remember you're being selfish. You're doing these things in order to get him to change into a more reasonable person with whom you can live happily. In time, your ankle will heal and you can go back to work. Your husband is legally obligated to pay the bills, but if he will not, pay them yourself. If you call his boss you'll make your husband angry and do more damage to your marriage.

Dear Nola - I am 26 years old, but my parents say I'm too young to date and think about marriage. I've met a widower whose wife died two years ago. He says he loves me and wants to marry me. How can I tell my parents?

Mary

Dear Mary - Why don't you phone them long distance right after the wedding.

Dear Nola - I am 16 and going with a boy who is in love with me. I'm not in love with him, but I don't want to hurt him. Should I marry him or not?

Tender-hearted

Dear Tender - The two principal ingredients for a happy marriage are love and maturity and you don't have either. Can you think of any thing that could possibly hurt this boy more than realizing some fine day that his wife doesn't love him? You shouldn't be thinking about marrying anyone for at least five years.
