Commissioners Place Farm In City Limits

At its regular meeting last night, the Slaton City Commission placed a farm in city limits. The farm, located on the east side of town, is owned by the late Frank Lasater and is being sold to the city. The farm is approximately 100 acres in size and is currently used for farming. The city commission voted to purchase the farm for $100,000. The purchase will allow the city to expand its limits and provide for future development. The farm is located on the east side of town, near the intersection of Highway 101 and the railroad tracks. The city commission will be responsible for the purchase and the subsequent development of the farm. The farm is currently owned by the late Frank Lasater and is being sold to the city. road employees to change the "yield" signs on Railroad Avenue to Texas Avenue, which comes to a dead end there. It was not thought proper, and was deferred for further study. If anything, a "Stop" sign may be placed on Texas.

Irrigation Rates

Water Superintendent Baker said last year, the Slaton schools were given an irrigation water rate of 30 cents for maintaining their yards and football fields during the summer months, and that he had no authority to extend it this year. Moved by Bownds, seconded by Bollinger, and carried, that it be granted again this year.

Extra Help

Baker also asked authority to employ an extra man at $1.25 an hour to mow grass and cut weeds around the city pumps and water stations until school starts. Moved by Reasner, seconded by Bownds, that he be allowed to do this. Carried.

Bulldozer Purchased

Bids were opened and read on an advertisement for a bulldozer for city use. Service Machinery Co. of Lubbock offered a used Case Model 1000 with cab for $6,500, and a similar one without cab for $5,500. Plains Machinery Co. offered an International, serial No. 38218, at $5,500. Baker and Elder had gone to Lubbock and tested the Case, but preferred the International. Actually, the International is 5,000 pounds heavier than the Case, and has been on loan to the city for several months. It has been rebuilt and is serving the needs, and is a bargain, since it would cost about $17,000 new. Moved by Bownds, seconded by Banks, that Plains Machinery bid be accepted. Carried. Time warrants will need to be issued to pay for it, which was the reason for advertising for bids.

then presented an extensive and comprehensive study made by the Consulting Engineering firm of Parkhill, Smith & Cooper, Inc., of Lubbock and El Paso. In it, they analyzed the present situation in Slaton with regard to the water system, sanitary sewer system, storm drainage, and street improvements. They also made estimates of the population trend, the improvements that would be desirable, those that would be practical, and their probable costs.

For instance, draining the big lakes on East Division street to the best advantage might cost more than a million dollars, but other ways might be taken to cut that in half.

The chief problem that confronts Slaton today is the water supply. Our wells are failing, and the amount available to us from the Canadian River project will relieve the problem for no more than four to seven years. The obligations which Slaton has assumed in connection with Canadian River water will require higher water rates, even if all the water promised is made available, and regardless of whether or not we take it.

The Slatonite will endeavor to review the engineering studies more in detail in later issues.

Services Held Tuesday For Father Of Local Merchant

Harry W. Lasater died at his home in Idalou last Saturday evening. He was 78 and had been in failing health in recent years.

Some Slaton residents knew Mr. Lasater as the father of Haskell, who is a Slaton merchant.

Lasater was born in Tennessee. His parents moved to Texas and settled near Bonham about 1906. Lasater was ordained a Baptist deacon in the Fannin county community of Bailey, and taught Sunday School there in 1907.

He moved to Lubbock county in 1916 and farmed near Idalou. One of the first things he did there was to help organize a Baptist Church. When he died, he was the last of its charter members.

County Agent Will Resign

Lee Suther who has been County Agent of Crosby county for the past eight years, has resigned effective May 31. Suther has been very active in 4-H Club work, and some of his boys have exhibited grand champions and reserve champions at major Texas stock shows.

However, his major interest has been in boll weevil control and overall cotton insect programs, and he plans to contract cotton acreage on which he will check for insects and serve as a consulting entomologist.

Bruce Griffith, assistant Terry County Agent, has been employed by the Crosby County Commissioners to succeed Suther. He is a graduate of Texas A&M and was raised at Fort Stockton.

The Extension Service pays the County Agent $5,760 a year, and the County pays him an additional $1,600 plus $1,620 travel expenses annually. He does not receive travel expense outside the county unless on business authorized by the Commissioners Court.

Son Of Slaton's First Postmaster Visits Here; Recalls Beginning

Fred Higbee, now living at Kerrville, visited the Slatonite Friday, and told us a great deal about the early days of Slaton. Fred was born in Montgomery City, Mo., in 1895. The family moved to Slaton in November, 1909. For awhile, they stayed in one of the section houses being built for the railroad. The contractors were still working and there were no regular trains into Slaton, only construction and accommodation trains.

Then they built a house about where, Fred thinks, the Church of Christ now stands on Division Street. He isn't exactly sure, because J. W. Walter hadn't surveyed the streets then and they hadn't been named.

George F. Higbee, Fred's father, became Slaton's first postmaster, and their home was the post office.

J. C. Edwards and Dr. J. Foster Scott built the first hotel, known as the Edwards Hotel, on the corner where the Forrest Hotel later burned, and which is now occupied by Slaton Pharmacy.

The Capps Hotel, at the triangle of Garza and Texas, was built about that time also.

J. C. Paul, who was president of the Paul Bank, wanted the postoffice moved to the east side of the public square. J. S. Edwards, Sr. and Mr. Higbee were friends; Edwards donated a lot just west of the Edwards Hotel, and Higbee built a two-story house just west of the Edwards Hotel. Fred and R. H. Tudor did the work. The postoffice was on the first floor, and the Higbees also ran a notion store in connection with it. They lived on the second floor.

The elder Higbee died in 1913, and his widow, Annie F. Higbee became Slaton's second postmaster — though was called the postmistress in those days. There were seven other applicants for the position and quite a lot of bad feeling developed in the little town before Mrs. Higbee was finally appointed. She gave up the office in the early days of World War I.

Fred Higbee attended school in 1910 at Union, boarding with the Morris family. There were 17 students in the Union school. He would drive home to Slaton Friday afternoon, and back to Union Sunday.

In 1911, the first school was started in Slaton. Fred graduated from Slaton High School in 1914, but it happened they had no forms for graduation certificates that year, so he never received his diploma. He went on to Simmons College, now Hardin - Simmons University, but was drafted into the Army in his sophomore year and never returned. While at Simmons, he played in the band and traveled all over the state.

Fred said when the Army found out he had had experience in the postoffices at Slaton and Lubbock, they put him in the censorship department, and he never knew there was a war going on.

It was while working in the postoffice at Lubbock he met Adeline Bellah. They drove to Slaton one Sunday afternoon and were married in his mother's home on the second floor of the old postoffice.

Speaking of the bands, Higbee said a band director from Lubbock was giving band lessons in a picture show here in 1915; it was located about where the Walton Drug store is now. He and Arthur Wild played cornets, and Charlie Wild the baritone.

Roy Bird, now a watchmaker in Lubbock, also played in the band, and with Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Hagerman in the Ross Edwards orchestra. Fred called on the Hagermans while here, and Mrs. Hagerman recognized him at once, though she had not seen him in several years.

Mentioning some of the old-timers, Fred said M. K. Klattenhoff, his boys and a daughter were here. George Caldwell started growing sudan seed and was selling it for 1.25 a pound. He would bring fifteen or twenty sacks to the postoffice every day to be weighed. R. A. Baldwin was "reading law" and would walk out around the lake between town and the cemetery in the evening and practice delivering speeches to a jury. He also mentioned Carl Beall, C. A. Joplin and Fred Schuey.

Fred said he had killed prairie chickens here in town, and once killed an antelope between Slaton and Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Higbee have been visiting her sisters, Mrs. W. H. Montgomery and Mrs. Mary Pinkston, at Taboka. Another sister, Mrs. Hugh Henry of Whittier, Calif., has also been with them.

Services To Be Held For O. J. Wilborn

Oscar J. Wilborn, 67, one of Slaton's most respected Negro citizens, died in Veterans' Hospital at Big Spring about 11:30 p.m. Sunday. He had been in ill health for a long time, but had been in the Veterans' Hospital only a few days. He served in the Army during World War I and came to Slaton shortly thereafter.

He had worked for the Santa Fe Railway in its maintenance of way department about forty years, and was a section foreman at the time of his retirement.

Funeral services will be held in the Second Baptist Church in South Slaton at 2:00 p.m. Friday, with burial to follow in Englewood cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, Rosie; two daughters, Mrs. Ola Lee Byrd of Clovis and Minnie Wilborn, Slaton, and four sons, Noel and Seldon of Slaton, Otis of San Francisco, and Herbert of Dallas. Two sisters and three brothers also survive.

Practice Game Scheduled For American Legion

The American Legion practice game against Plainview last Saturday night had to be called off because of conflicting engagements of the Plainview team. The Slatonite regrets it didn't learn this until after our newspaper had gone to press last week, and it couldn't be changed.

The Slaton American Legion team will play a practice game at Petersburg Monday night. This is one of three scheduled before league competition starts June 3.

There are twelve Legion teams organized in the 19th District, but because of distance and travel time, the league has been divided into two districts with six teams each. Southern division extends to Midland. Slaton may have been unfortunate in being included in the Northern division — it includes Lubbock and Plainview, which can be expected to have strong teams.

Services Pending For Mrs. James

Funeral arrangements were pending Wednesday for Mrs. Estelle Houston James, 63, who died at the family home on East Floyd Street about 11:00 a.m. Tuesday.

Mrs. James was born in Sealey Texas, and was the widow of Ivory James, who died in 1955.

She is survived by two daughters, Mary Evelyn Powell of the home, and Mrs. Pearl Ivory Cass of Clovis; and two sons, Ivory, Jr., minister in the Church of Christ at Huntington, W. Va., and John, who was to graduate from Eastern New Mexico University at Portales this week with a degree in elementary education. Both boys graduated from high school in Slaton. She is also survived by thirteen grandchildren.

Slaton Schools Graduate 161

Slaton High School graduated 56 students this year. Junior High graduated 105. It is estimated by the school people high school enrollment will be increased by about 40 students next year, taking into account those who will move away and drop out.

It is coming to be recognized that many of the high school drop outs result from early marriages — the boy and the girl learn that their parents will not or cannot support them after marriage, and that one or both must work. Neither will ever return to school if children are born to them early in marriage.

Infant Son Of Former Slaton Resident Dies

Graveside services for Douglas Todd Hampton, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hampton, Star Route 3, Brownwood, were held Monday afternoon in East Lawn Memorial Park Cemetery there. The Rev. Ben Feenster of First Methodist Church, Brownwood, officiated. The child lived only two days.

Survivors include the parents; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hampton of Brownwood, and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Bramblett of Goldthwaite.

The Hamptons are former Slaton residents. Mr. and Mrs. Alton Edwards, Judy and Jaquie, and Mr. and Mrs. Max tended the funeral. Mrs. Ed-Jackson and Don Wayne, attended the funeral. Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Jackson are sisters of Douglas Hampton.

Jaycees To Reorganize

The Slaton Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold a reorganizational meeting, Thursday at 8:00 at the Junior High School Cafeteria.

Attending the meeting will be president, Bobby Jones, state Jaycee director, of Plainview and several members of the Plainview and Hale Center Clubs.

All men of the Slaton area and their wives are cordially invited to attend this meeting. Slaton Jaycee-ettes will serve refreshments at the meeting.

Special Memorial Day Services Not Planned By Veterans' Organizations

The American Legion does not plan any special services in Englewood Cemetery Decoration Day, except to place flags on the graves of all known to have been in the Armed services.

Every year, it is learned too late that this or that grave belonged to a veteran of one of the wars and was missed. It isn't intentional, and if relatives or friends will help the legion and the cemetery superintendent to identify the graves, they will be honored.

Veterans of Foreign Wars have no plans for special services on Memorial Day. They have always had difficulty, as had had the American Legion, in identifying all the veterans' graves in Slaton City Cemetery.

The Masonic Lodge, like the Elks, holds a service once a year in memory of deceased members, but they have no special arrangements for Decoration Day.

By VERN SANFORD AUSTIN, Tex. — State officials have begun the long parade before Gov. John Connally's budget staff and the Legislative Budget Board. From now until summer's end, more than 150 state agencies will give estimates on how much they will need to operate in the 1966-1967 biennium.

Permits for hospitals and other institutional buildings also increased, and $14,000,000 worth of stores and mercantile buildings were authorized for an increase of 32 per cent over March. SHRIMP SEASON CLOSE DELAYED — Close of the Gulf shrimp season was delayed 15 days — until June 15 — on order of the State Parks and Wildlife Commission.

Until three years ago, scrapped cars — complete with plates and negotiable ownership papers — could be purchased for $50. But no more. To prevent both plates and papers falling into hands of theft rings, the Legislature required each salvage yard operator to remove current plates from vehicles purchased as salvage.

Pines and Longhorn Cavern parks were specifically mentioned by former Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd of the Texas Historical Survey Committee as suitable places for the markers. VETERANS' LAND PROGRAM — The state's veterans land program will pay itself out without any pocket — digging by taxpayers, if the Veterans Land Board carries out its planned program of investing its reserves so they will earn interest while being held to retire bonds as they come due.

State Auditor C. H. Cavness took a long look at the program started by voters in 1946 and concluded: Through the end of fiscal 1963, 31,732 tracts of land were bought by the board and resold to veterans. They totaled 2,771,049 acres and cost $216,466,134, averaging $78 per acre. About 4,000 of the veterans already have paid off their debt and of the 27,893 still owing the state $150,244,291, 2,354 are delinquent on their payments.

SMALL TOWNS GETTING INDUSTRY — Texas Industrial Commission reports that small Texas cities are beginning to get a larger share of the new industrial dollar. In 1962, the big three — Dallas, Fort Worth and Houston — attracted 50 per cent of the new industry locations. But in the first quarter of 1964, they showed only 38 per cent as more industrial leaders picked smaller communities.

One of the small-town leaders — Paris — will provide a big new market for South Texas vegetable producers this winter when Campbell Soup Company opens its Paris plant.

The man claims 163 beauty shops are operating in residential districts in Lubbock. So far, the city has refused permission for the one-chair barber shop, but they may have trouble justifying their stand if the case goes to court.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Conservation — Conservation bills changed by the Texas Legislature will be two new Senate bills, Jack High, who is retiring, and Sen. Frank Owen III, who did not seek re-election, will be decided in the Senate. The bills are: (1) A bill to create a conservation commission to study and make recommendations concerning the conservation of the state's natural resources. (2) A bill to create a conservation commission to study and make recommendations concerning the conservation of the state's natural resources.

Textbook Committee — The new State Textbook Committee was sworn in on May 8. The group, which will read and evaluate 250-300 school textbooks before making recommendations to the State Board of Education, is made up of: Edzell F. Bittick, Texas City; Mrs. Edna B. Boon, Austin; Henry Bennett Cooksey, Longview; Durward Grubb, Abilene; Mrs. Steva Ross Harris, Denton; Mrs. Ruth Hicks, North East San Antonio; Fred W. Hunter, Beaumont; Mrs. Evelyn Kidwell, Mt. Vernon; Smith W. Martin, Arlington; Bruce E. Oberholzer, Mexia; Mrs. Fay Richey, Bonham; Manuel Salinas, Jr., Falfurrias; Mrs. Hester Still, Amarillo; and Kenne C. Van Orden, San Angelo.

Missing Persons Search — The State of Texas is looking for hundreds of "missing persons" who have left possessions ranging from a 50-cent piece of a $239.62 unclaimed payroll check in various depositories for seven years or more, and failed to provide forwarding addresses. In a final effort to find these people, before their property is escheated by the State, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has filed a lawsuit in the 53rd District Court of Travis County, entitled: The State of Texas vs. R. E. James Gravel Co. and others. Names of the "missing persons" filled three and one-half newspaper columns in the May 1, 1964, Austin American, to fulfill the requirement for advertising for missing owners of property subject to escheat. Persons with any claim to the property listed should file their answers to the suit in the 53rd District Court before June 8.

Opinions — The "Calculte Pool," a betting system used in some sporting events, such as horse races, golf tournaments, tennis matches, skeet and trap shooting, is illegal, according to Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr. He says the Calculte Pool system constitutes a lottery. Carr also held a district court may not commute (shorten) the sentence of a parolee, since state law vests the power to grant reprieves and commutations in the governor. In another opinion, Carr gave the state insurance board a go-ahead to prevent insurance firms from offering credit as a customer come-on.

Farm-To-Market Roads — State Highway Commission announced "a sweeping program" to build more than 1,000 miles of new farm-to-market roads in 166 Texas counties. With 37,143 miles of FM roads now in the state, the estimated $23,000,000 project would bring the total to more than 38,075 miles. The sprawling Farm-to-Market system began with a 6-mile stretch built in 1936 between Mount Enterprise and Shiloh in Rusk County. Commission's goal is 50,000 miles of FM roads.

FARM NEWS

Manager Charles Bragg of the Lubbock County Agriculture and Conservation Service announced Friday that the deadline for farmers signing up to cooperate, the Department of Agriculture reported Saturday. There are only about 50 farms in Lubbock county having allotments of more than 15 acres, and 30 of them were reported other allotments in the county to have signed up. About 400 other allotments in the county are for 15 acres or less, and are used mostly for grazing.

In Mexico City last week, the National Migrant Farm Laborers Alliance asked President Lopez Mateos to try to prevent the United States from ending the bracero agreement, under which many Mexican nationals have worked here each year. They said the present agrarian system in Mexico has resulted in small farmers renting out their land, or abandoning it to work for wages. They come to the U.S. because their land allotments are too small, they lack money and farm machinery, and get no guarantees. The alliance said termination of the bracero arrangement might mean starvation for many Mexican farmers.

Directors of the Texas Farmers Union, meeting in Waco last week, adopted resolutions calling on both political parties to include planks in their platforms providing 100 percent parity price supports for FAMILY farmers. They recommended strengthening the Rural Area Development programs, and use of farm surplus products in President Johnson's war against poverty. It is being recognized that there are two classes of farmers — the large land owners and corporations composed of city farmers not dependent on farming, and the small and tenant farmers who are being forced off the farms by high land prices and inability to obtain allotments large enough to support families.

Department of Agriculture officials said net farm income this year will be slightly lower than last year's $12.3 billion, but because of a further decline in the number of farms, the average income per farm is expected to be about the same as $3,420 last year.

American Cotton Congress Schedules Its 5th Meeting

COLLEGE STATION — The American Cotton Congress will hold its Silver Anniversary meeting June 5-6 at the Raleigh Hotel in Waco. Theme of the conference is "Cotton's Past, Present and Future." Burriss C. Jackson of Hillsboro, Congress chairman, said meetings are divided into three areas — production and marketing, research other than with production problems, and foreign trade and outlook. Among speakers on Friday will be Dr. M. K. Horne, National Cotton Council economist, who will speak on the current economic status and outlook for the cotton industry. Undersecretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy also will be on the Friday program. His subject will be "The New Cotton Program and a Look at the Future."

J. D. Prewitt, associate director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at College Station and sub-committee chairman for Saturday's program, said the final session will deal with production and marketing. He said topics and speakers are: "Advanced Technology and What It Means to Efficient Cotton Production" by Dr. Grady B. Crowe, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Stoneville, Miss.; and "Contributions of Research Associate Director, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas A&M University. Others are "Contributions of Education," John E. Hutchinson, director, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University; and "Contributions of Processing for Maximum Utilization," Vernon Moore of the United States Cotton Ginning Laboratory, Leland, Mississippi.

The Retirement House
Dear Helen: We have $11,500 to buy a house in a retiree area. What should we look for, in a good house? My wife and I have to be careful of our health. Your answer awaited.

THOUGHTFUL
Dear Thoughtful: Let's switch this question to something more thoughtful. If you both have to watch your health, shouldn't your first assurance be not of a house, but of a nearby doctor? In this column I am constantly urging that retirees pay keener attention to picking the right community! What is the right community? It's a place that has ALL services one may need all along the line from: shopping center to a hospital! Today's experts plead that you keep your eye on the community. They're right! I have a great deal of information I have been collecting on this subject. If you want to study it, all you have to do is ask for it. Just write to me at National Senior Center, Lehigh Acres, Fla. 33936. It may keep you from making a mistake, probably!

HOW TO BE AN ACTIVE CITIZEN
Dear Helen: You sent me your list of Eleven Best Books on Useful Living. I hunted around and got "How to be an Active Citizen." I am so impressed with it and so glad you recommended it. It's an inspiration to Americans. To boil it down, the book gives 8 strong points. An "Active Citizen" should be informed on issues; discuss them; talk and write about politics; belong to organizations that take stands; work for a political party and a candidate. Next: vote; and hold office. I hope you publish this for all your readers. I stay young through vigorous citizenship. It's great to be an American!

C.M.T.
Dear Helen: We read your column constantly. I notice that one of the best ways you help people is to show them exactly how to see or to reach for honest, accurate information. Hope you can do this for me and my wife. We filed a claim with our insurance company over 6 months ago. No answer, not even a word. We wrote twice, but they ignore us. What is our next step? Isn't this unfair? We paid our premiums promptly every month for over 30 years. I bet if we failed to remit we'd hear plenty fast.

CLAIMANT
Dear Claimant: Maybe you failed to fill out the form properly. This often causes delays. Even so, a six month delay sounds more like decay, to me! Write or send a telegram immediately to the State Insurance Commissioner in your state. Outline the problem. Write once more to your insurance company, telling them you've taken your appeal to the Commissioner. It will intrigue you to hear that the Florida State Insurance Commissioner J. Edwin Larson recently set up a string of 20 field offices whose purpose is to give aid and counsel to older persons on their insurance problems and perplexities. He recovered over a million dollars in due claims for folks. Florida is the only state in the union furnishing this remarkable insurance service for citizens. Don't you think it should be launched in every state?

EVERY WEEK?
Dear Helen: I follow your column but it doesn't appear regularly in our paper here. Is it all right if I and my neighbors ask the editor to print it more regularly?

NNE.
Dear Anne: I'd love it! Many newspapers never know readers' reaction. In my case, almost all letters are written directly to me, I see, rather than being forwarded by the newspapers. Several editors would be amazed to know that almost everybody in their hometowns has written me privately. Yep, a galloping correspondence! 'Swonderful!'

I KID YOU NOT
Dear Madam: Please send me at once your booklets on Wills, Dissolved Partnerships, Lawsuits, low-cost drugs.
OLD PAL
Dear Old Pal: I've got a pamphlet on low-cost drugs and honest vitamins, with price

Screwworms Still Threat

COLLEGE STATION, — The "Titanic" was unsinkable, but it sank. Livestock producers must continue to keep a watch for possible screwworm cases or the entire screwworm eradication program may go the way of the "Titanic," warns Weldon H. Newton, assistant entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

As many cattlemen will testify, the screwworm eradication program is proving to be one of the most worthwhile efforts ever put forth by the livestock industry, but critical days do lie ahead.

Reports being received from across the state show that too many producers may be relaxing their vigilance. Because of the tremendous success of the program, cattlemen are letting many wounds and cuts go untreated. Many producers seem to feel the screwworm is a thing of the past, Newton says, but this is not so. There is still much work to be done. One undetected or untreated case in an area can result in a population explosion of the pest which could get out of hand and re-infest large areas of the state, causing a tremendous setback to the program.

Another fallacy which a few producers believe is that they can accurately distinguish between blowfly maggots and screwworms, and do not bother to collect and submit larvae to screwworm officials. One point to consider: even trained technicians rely on the microscope for positive identification of the maggots.

Every livestock producer should do his utmost in helping protect the investment in the screwworm eradication program, says Newton. He recommends that all wounds be protected until they heal by using a preventive smear such as ECG 335 or Smear 52 or preventive sprays of 0.25 percent Col-Ral or 0.5 percent Korlan following any working of the livestock from which open wounds result.

Consumer spending for food in 1964 is expected to increase by more than the 3 percent gain of a year earlier. Gains also are expected in domestic spending for textiles and other farm products. Population gains, higher incomes and a prospective increase in retail prices all contribute to the gain.

If you can pay $19 per month, you can qualify for a $320 loan

ONE WORD SECRET
Dear Helen Every day, people write thousands of words about the elderly. Maybe I'm asking an impossible question. But if you were asked to describe IN ONE WORD the best solution to problems of the aged, what would that word be? I'm not taunting you. I'd really like to know.

SINCERE
Dear Sincere: You made me think, and that's good for me. My one-word-answer is Motivation. Good motivation is the gold key to success at any age! Do you agree?

Except for every other Sunday...
He's the Father of the Year
He's the kind of young man who stands well ahead of the competition. Bronze Star and Purple Heart in Korea. Dean's List at the University. The senior most likely to succeed... And he did. Today he's assistant to the president of his company. Chairman of the Community Aid Fund. Father of the Year at P.S. #12. And every other Sunday (or whenever nothing too fascinating is going on elsewhere) you'll see him leading his family into church.
A pretty good attendance record? Not for a man of his quality! He does nothing else "halfway." And his family is not slow to imitate his casual approach to religion.
Yet the strong religious training of his own childhood has helped him in life more than he can ever know. Why shouldn't his children have the same advantage? And why shouldn't yours?

"Tenderizers"
Dear Helen: My wife and I are suspicious about those advertised meat "tenderizers". They're wonderful on cheap meats as shown us by our neighbors. But what do they do to our stomachs?
SKEPTICAL.
Dear Skeptical: It's healthy to be suspicious and skeptical. Let's all be more aware of adulterated foods and bad food additives. But the truth is that the "tenderizer" is only a natural papaya enzyme called papain. It is absolutely safe on foods which are subsequently cooked. Papain is readily destroyed by cooking heat. So don't worry. And enjoy yourself!

We love them. They live hundreds of miles away. When they visit us their children destroy our flowers and scatter dirt and crumbs through the house. How can we enjoy these visits? What do other grandparents do?
WRECKED.
Dear Wrecked: Some grandparents save wear and tear on nerves and property by visiting the children, until the little ones grow up. Other grandparents encourage families to check into a nearby motel, not their house. These decisions were made not in the throes of exasperation, but in kindly understanding by all! In contrast, one pair of grandparents accepts the commotion - destruction and spends the next 2 weeks in good-humored repair. Devise your own family plan!

Food Chemical?
Dear Helen: I'm confused by all these fancy chemical names on canned food labels. One sounds especially bad: monosodium glutamate. I am on a no-salt diet and I never know what I'm eating anymore. I hate to keep telephoning my doctor.
MARS.
Dear Mary: Most people are under the impression that monosodium glutamate (usually printed MSG) is a preservative or a tenderizer. It is not. It's merely a flavoring catalyst made from the protein in soybeans, wheat, corn, yeast. It is used to enhance the natural flavor of foods. You can quit phoning your doctor if you write to the Food and Drug Administration, U.S. Dept. of Health, Education, and Welfare, Washington, D. C. and ask to be put on their FREE mailing list for their FDA Memo to Consumers. It's tops for food help!

Best Books
Dear Friend: I'm a librarian. Several people said you have a list of Eleven Best Books on Useful Living. May I please have 4 copies of this list?
GRATEFUL
Dear Grateful: They were put in the mail today?
No Young Folk, Please
Dear Helen: What is your absolutely frank opinion of the retirement communities which advertise that they are for retirees exclusively, no younger folk at all are eligible. The editor of our newspaper tells me you lived in a retirement community for a year and a half. This makes you most unusual as a writer on such problems. From your experience, what do you say?
TWO COUPLES
Dear Two Couples: My absolutely frank opinion of this kind of retiree life is based on disapproval. Personally I would not relish being solely with persons of my own age, day and night. This type of "segregation" can easily lack the stimulation and zippy cross-currents you get from all ages, all interests. I lived in a retirement community ranging from infants and teenagers to folks over 90. Normally we all live among all ages. Why not be normal? If you care to ask me some direct and confidential questions, I'll be glad to answer them. Please write to me at National Senior Center, Lehigh Acres, Fla. 33936. Mark it Confidential.

Myth-Takes!
Dear Helen: I'm 49, married, and soon our last child will marry and leave us. My husband and I feel grim about heading into old age, because our whole society puts greatest emphasis on youthfulness. How did all this start. How to combat it?
UNHAPPY
Dear Unhappy: It started back in the days of frontier life when everything was geared to youth, work, strength, muscle. That's what was necessary for survival. Even so, people didn't survive. Today, medical science has prolonged our life-span. Urgent is a new system of values spotlighting individual worth and creativity of our older people. How to combat the old, myth-taken values? Do what all of us are doing—exalt the ability to live fully and richly as a Senior, not a Junior!

Wrecked Our House
Dear Helen: We have a beautiful home on a half acre lawn of trees and flowers in a retirement community. My widowed sister lives with us. She has a daughter, we have a son.

TOASTING CAKE FOR ANNIVERSARY

Most people go all-out for bridal celebrations—but few folks provide such thoughtful consideration when it's time for an anniversary party. Here's a new way to dramatize that important anniversary celebration—a cake crowned with glasses of cordial set aflame just before serving!

A two-tiered sponge cake may be made by using a 12" pan for the larger layer, a 9" pan for the smaller. Make four layers by splitting each layer crosswise and spreading with cream filling. Put cream filling in center of larger cake and press the small cake on top of the larger one. Now you're ready for the touches that make this cake unique!

PEACH GLAZE

Mix 1/4 cup peach preserves and 1 tablespoon lemon juice and heat till thick and syrupy. Strain and coat top of cake while glaze is still warm. Allow to cool and set before spreading Orange Dream Frosting over glaze.

ORANGE DREAM FROSTING

3 packages instant whipped topping
1/2 cup heavy cream
1/2 cup frozen orange juice concentrate
1/2 cup water
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped (for decoration)
1/4-1 cup desired liqueur or liquor (for serving)

Blend cream into instant whipped topping powder. Mix 1/4 cup of water with orange juice concentrate; blend other 1/4 cup into cream mixture, then very gradually beat in orange mixture just until smooth and thick enough to spread. Put over top and sides of cake, reserving 1/4 cup for decoration. Put reserve in pastry bag with rose nozzle and pipe continuous border at cake base to make neat edge. Set liqueur glasses in circle on top layer of cake about 1" from edge. Press down into icing to keep firm. Pipe small rosettes around base of each glass. Put whipped cream into pastry bag with rose nozzle and pipe lettering around sides of both tiers. Before serving, heat desired liquor and fill glasses 3/4 full. Light and bring to table, flaming. Pour a little flaming liquor over each slice before serving. Serves 20 generously.

GIN CUP NO. 1

2 bottles (4/5 each) gin
1 1/2 cups lemon juice
1 cup raspberry syrup
6 large bottles (26 oz.) lemon-lime soda, chilled
Mint sprigs

Pour gin, lemon juice and raspberry syrup into punch bowl and chill in refrigerator as long as possible to blend flavors. Fill up with soda and serve immediately, with mint garnish for each glass. Serves 25 long drinks.

POLICE BLOTTER

Fifteen people had paid fines Monday for traffic and offenses in Mrs. Frank Lawrence's Justice of the Peace Court. Some were for not having a fishing license, some for not having a driver's license, but at least three were for exceeding the new 70-mile speed limit on the highways. Probably if it were made 100 miles per hour, somebody would still try to exceed the limit.

Police arrests in Slaton over the weekend were a little below normal. Six people, mostly youngsters, paid fines for being drunk or drunk and disorderly. No major offenses were reported.

Three Slaton Men Sentenced

Three Slaton men were given penitentiary sentences by Judge Robert H. Bean in 140th District court at Lubbock Friday.

Lin Gallegos, 21, pleaded guilty to burglary of Earl's Grocery in southeast Slaton April 24. He was sentenced to two years. Gallegos was apprehended when he attempted to sell trading stamps taken, along with money and cigarettes, in the burglary.

Robert Vasquez Parra, 22, received a four year sentence on a plea of guilty to a burglary charge.

Eleno Riojas, 42, charged with forging a $10 check on a Slaton man last February, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to two years.

Judge Bean had 89 criminal cases set for trial as of last Monday. He dismissed the first jury panel last Wednesday, and had another summoned to report Tuesday of this week. Pleas of guilty were to be heard Monday.

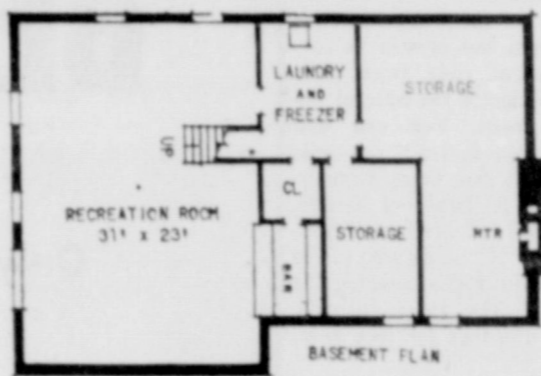

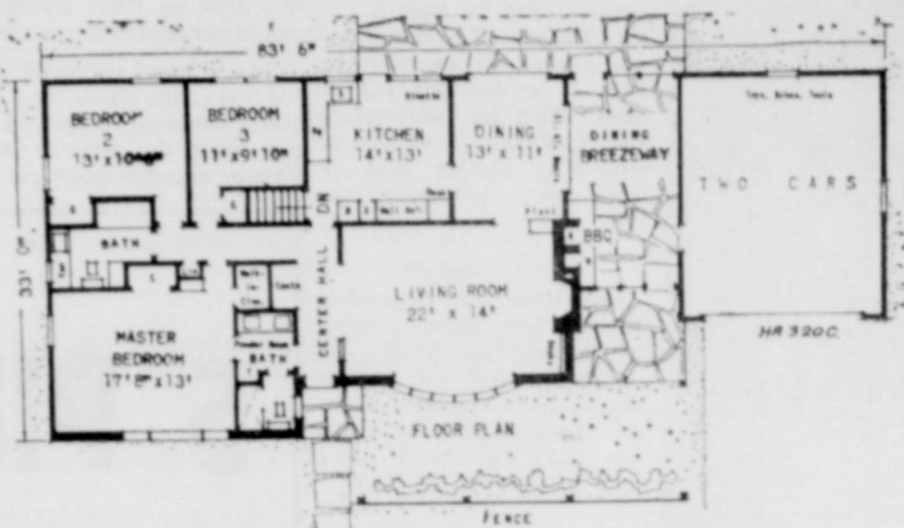

Tuesday trial of Jan Clawson, a Lubbock man, was to start on two counts of forgery in connection with home loan applications.

Komodo dragons, largest of all living lizards, are found only on the steep-sloped island of Komodo in the Lesser Sunda chain of Indonesia and nearby Rintja, Padar and Flores.

While the immediate Slaton vicinity benefitted immensely from the two to three inch rain which fell May 15, the Agricultural Extension Service at College Station says general rains are urgently needed over all the state except the extreme southern part.

Ranges and pastures are fair to good in the North Central part but livestock feeding is continuing in the drier western and southwestern sections.

Wheat fields are being cut out in some counties the west and north.

Only about 30 per cent of the cotton acreage has been planted on the South Plains, and this is mostly irrigated. About 40 per cent of the grain sorghum acreage is estimated planted, but still blowing badly where there has been little rain.

New Prometryne herbicide works wonders for Texas cotton

Prometryne® 80W brings a new dimension to cotton weed control in the South Plains. It offers a one-herbicide program that will take care of most weeds from planting to picking. Apply Prometryne preemergence or post-emergence or at layby, or at all three times if weed conditions so dictate. Gets tough weeds...including carelessness weed. Three years of research by State and Federal researchers in Texas proved the effectiveness of Prometryne in controlling most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses in cotton. It does an outstanding job, for example, in handling carelessness weed (pigweed). Versatility of application Prometryne is extremely versatile. You can use it as preemergence spray at planting. You can use it as a directed postemergence spray after both weeds and cotton are up. You can spray it at layby to control weeds through the rest of the season. Use it once, twice, three times...whatever weed conditions dictate. How Prometryne works Applied preemergence, Prometryne is carried into the soil by rainfall or overhead irrigation. It is absorbed by germinating weed roots and soon after weeds break ground, they die. No need to work Prometryne into soil. Applied after weeds are up, Prometryne kills by direct action on weed foliage and through roots. Safe to use Prometryne is safe to cotton when used according to label directions. It leaves no residues in cotton seed. It is safe to handle and non-irritating to humans and animals. A fall seeded crop should not be planted in the same year following the application of Prometryne 80W. Available this spring Since this is the introductory year for Prometryne, only limited quantities are available. Plan to make a preemergence application to at least a portion of your acreage at planting. Then follow through with postemergence and/or layby treatments if necessary. See what outstanding, economical weed control you can have. To order Prometryne, or for more information, contact your supplier, or Geigy Agricultural Chemicals, Division of Geigy Chemical Corporation, Saw Mill River Road, Ardsley, N.Y. 10502. Styling Boosts Cargo, Passenger Space

The stylists literally "raised the roof" on this new Skylark sports wagon which Buick will introduce to the public at the Chicago Automobile Show. The roof over the second and third seat passengers has been raised nearly four inches to provide additional headroom so the third seat can face forward and also to create additional cargo space. Roof glass is specially tinted and heat resistant to protect passengers from the sun. Mounted on a 120-inch wheelbase, five inches longer than regular Skylark models, the Skylark wagon has 87.9 cubic feet of cargo space when the seats are folded down, nearly 11.5 cubic feet more than the Special wagon. It is powered by a 210-horsepower V-8 engine with a 220-horsepower engine optional. It is available in either a two-seat or three-seat model.

The warehouse is 80 by 220 er heard of again. None of feet. There are spots for six them, or identifiable parts of freight cars, eighteen Trailways them, have ever turned up in Texas or the adjacent states.

Quite a few stolen cars are finally located in Mexico, but these 1,300 just disappear.

Nor can they be located in wrecking yards and junk yards. Current plates on wrecked automobiles are destroyed by the Department of Public Safety to prevent their being transferred to stolen cars.

New freight offices and warehouse facilities were opened in Lubbock Saturday with ceremonies attended by a number of city and railroad officials.

The old freight house, built in 1910, burned two years ago. The new building cost about $300,000 and is of concrete construction, faced with brick to match the passenger depot.

The office section of the building is 95 by 90 feet and is air conditioned. The agent's force, yard office, switchmen's lockers, and offices for the special

We've read lately about an epidemic of skunks in Post and Crowell, about an armadillo being captured inside Crosbyton, and the Lubbock police looking for a rabid racoon. We see many more dead porcupines and skunks on our highways than rabbits. Maybe we rabbits are scared to cross a highway these days. The rattlesnakes seem to have learned their lesson. You seldom see one that has been run over.

Coast-to-Coast NEWSPAPERS SELL THE MOST!

It's the Law in TEXAS

More and more taxpayers are getting audited as a part of the government's revenue collection. If selected, you may well ask, "Why pick on me?"

Well, you may have made an arithmetic mistake, deducted too much, claimed a large refund compared to your income, had a big income, had too small an income. Or, you may have been picked out by chance.

There are many audits. An auditor may ask you to bring in your records to talk over your return. Often one talk is enough. Again you may have several talks before the matter is closed. You may bring your lawyer along if you like or anyone who helped you make out your last return.

Sometimes a federal agent may come to your home or place of business to check your records in person. Just showing the agent your records may satisfy him. But he may "adjust" your return. You then must take steps to pay, or to challenge his conclusions.

When a special agency comes to see your records, it may be well to have your lawyer on hand.

As a rule most honest differences over taxes are settled without suits. But not always. Whenever taxes are challenged, take prompt steps to protect your interests. People have lost defenses or claims by failing to act within the times set by law.

The workload of the tax offices has brought on automatic date processing. Magnetic tape and other devices may store and analyze returns on each taxpayer, say, by 1970 or sooner. Then more audits.

(This newfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

It's a good idea to give written consent for necessary medical care if your child leaves home for a visit or a camping trip, or if you plan to be away for any length of time.

For example, a summer camp nurse may bring a boy into a hospital with an acute case of appendicitis. But the doctor may well hesitate to go ahead and operate without the parents' consent.

Is the doctor arbitrary, and is such permission just a legal technicality? No, he is well within his rights, though he may give first aid — but only for emergency treatment where a child's health or life may be at stake. He is likely to put off follow-up care until he can reach the child's parents. A relative or baby sitter generally cannot grant consent for a child's treatment.

Even an adult must request treatment and grant consent to medical care on his own before a doctor can give it to him. Children cannot do this.

By going to your doctor you show your willingness and consent to accept his treatment. Your consent is assumed also when you ask for a house call by the doctor, or if as a result of an accident, the doctor may well give you emergency care, yet later he should get your consent to further treatment.

Minors cannot consent to medical treatment, and except in dire emergencies their parents or guardians must give it for them.

The consent should not be

From One President to Another

Lions International President Aubrey D. Green and Mrs. Green of York, Alabama, are shown reporting to President Lyndon Johnson at the White House on results of President Green's recently completed 200,000 mile good-will trip around the world. The growth and peace-seeking efforts of the world's largest service organization were discussed.

Lion President Green reported to President Johnson on the 400,000 service projects completed by some 18,000 Lions Clubs throughout the world last year. Projects ranged from sponsoring 5200 Boy Scout troops to a youth exchange program, under which youngsters live briefly in a foreign country. Lions International actively supports C.A.R.E. and the Peace Corps.

After the briefing President Johnson was presented with the Lions International Head of State Medal and an honorary membership in his home town Lions Club in Johnson City, Texas.

Accent On Health

AUSTIN — Suppose you had $25,000 to invest . . . where would you turn for advice? You have two choices — an amateur or a professional advisor.

The same goes for your health, whether you realize it or not. Good health, the experts say, is worthy of a $25,000 price tag.

Where will you turn for advice about your health investment. . . your neighbor, a health quack or a physician? Undoubtedly, your neighbor is both interested and concerned about your health and welfare. But beware words such as "I know someone who had just the same thing you do and she . . ."

Stop listening right there. Only your doctor can diagnose your case, or Mrs. Jones'. Different diseases may have similar symptoms.

Whatever the source, always question a cure-all or sure-fire remedy. Carrot juice will not cure varicose veins or gout. Yeast flakes will not rehabilitate weary and worn body cells. And wheat germ oil will not cure arthritis, gallstones, cirrhosis of the liver or epilepsy.

Above all, beware of the health quack. This self-designated health authority is a fake. He is intensely interested in you . . . not in your welfare, but your money.

The old-time medicine show pitchman has given way to a much more suave and impressive scientific operator. Today the bogus health expert usually drabbles impressive scientific language into his spoken and written come-ons.

The quack may be selling copper bracelets to cure arthritis or a serum to cure cancer. The cancer quack imposes a two-fold problem. Not only is he wasting the money of the hopeful patient, but he is wasting time. And time, spent on a false cancer cure, may cost the person his life.

Pay no attention to oral promises or a friend's advice about health products or devices. Read the product's label before you buy. False claims on labels are subject to prosecution; they therefore tend to be much more subdued than unpoliceable sales talk.

In any case, remember, your good health is worth $25,000. Be wise, use only your physician's advice on your investment.

Thunderbirds Return To Area

Introducing its new F-105 Thunderchief aircraft to the South Plains, the Air Force's Thunderbirds precision aerial demonstration team will present its fast-moving display of flying skill at 3 p.m. on Memorial Day, May 30, at Roose Air Force Base. Open House will be held from 1 to 5 p.m.

The Thunderbirds, who have appeared three times previously at Reese, flew their first demonstration in the F-105 at Norfolk, Va., April 27. The display includes a specially tailored flying routine to make maximum use of Thunderchief power and versatility.

Among new maneuvers are two which graphically illustrate the brute force of the Mach-2 fighter. In a high-speed versus slow-speed pass, one of the hunderbirds' two solo pilots flies the length of the show area at minimum air speed such as might be used in a close air support role while the other flashes by at 700 mph. All maneuvers are flown at subsonic speeds to prevent sonic booms.

The added thrust from the Republic's F-105's afterburner comes into play in the slow-speed half Cuban eight in which, with an entry speed of only 275 mph, the 15-ton Thunderchief literally stands on its tail as it pulls up and goes over the top at 3,000 feet.

To demonstrate further the skill of Air Force pilots, coupled with performance of the aircraft, the Thunderbirds t Reese will use five and six ship formations.

In the five-card loop, the aircraft are positioned like the playing cards. Both of the basic four-plane formation for the six-pass and victory roll. The public is being invited to attend the Thunderbirds' demonstration and to see the of aerospace aircraft flightline. A variety of bombers and transporters are expected to be on hand.

The Thunderbirds' pre-planned loops, rolls, whiffling screw changeovers and leaf turns, climaxed famous "bomb-bag" which the planes in a round formation climb in front of the stadium break away to the four smoke like a bursting et, each airplane streak ground to cross, head speed directly in front of a five in a deck of crowd.
