HONORED BY CHAMBER--Don Kendrick and Mrs. M.H. (Norma) Lasater hold their award plaques after being named "Man and Woman of the Year" for 1964 at the Chamber of Commerce banquet Monday night.

Don Kendrick was named "Citizen of the Year"; Mrs. M.H. (Norma) Lasater was recognized as "Woman of the Year"; the Lions Club received the "distinguished service" trophy, and Jim Hughes was installed as new president to highlight activities of the 39th annual Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development banquet here Monday night.

More than 200 persons turned out for the gala event and were treated to an entertaining and inspirational message from Lewis R. Timberlake, insurance company executive and former state Jaycee leader from Austin.

Doug Galassini closed out his tenure as president with a review of the year's activities before handing over the gavel to Hughes, and he spiced his talk with witty references to some of the controversial issues during his term.

Other officers installed were Jake Wendel, vice president; and Bob Kern, treasurer. They replaced Don Kendrick and J.S. Edwards Jr.

Chamber members also voted for five new directors during the banquet, and results were announced Tuesday. Edwards, Earl Eblen and Willie Heinrich were reelected while O.G. (Speedy) Nieman and Tommy Wallace were new directors named on the board.

Timberlake received a standing ovation after challenging his audience to keep a "positive attitude" about their city. His address was spiced with humor and highlighted by a four-point guide to positive living. These keys are (1) a tight grip on positive action, (2) put yourself last, (3) give it all you have, and (4) write your own epitaph.

The speaker, a former Texas Jaycee president, praised the Chamber as "the pulse... the heartbeat of a city." He also pointed out that outstanding people--like the ones recognized Monday night--give credit to others and work with a positive attitude for their community to repay it for the things it does for them.

"Life demands that we accept our responsibilities," Timberlake commended. He quoted Dr. Peter Marshall in reference to our span of life--"It's not the duration that counts but the donation."

He also stressed that individuals must believe in themselves and take positive action today, "don't keep putting it off until tomorrow."

Kendrick, 31-year-old insurance man and Slaton's fire chief, was cited for many civic accomplishments and his work with Slaton's Volunteer Fire Department before receiving his plaque from Ed Williams.

4 NEW DIRECTORS NAMED

Personnel Change Announced By CSB

Howard Swanner was elevated to chairman of the board and Tommy Wallace was named president of Citizens State Bank during a shareholders' meeting last Wednesday afternoon.

Four new directors of the bank were also announced. They are Harold Tucker, Robert Hall

Davis, Ed Moseley and Wilfred Kitten. Other directors remain the same.

Wallace announced that the addition of the new directors was made "to broaden our base of management in order to better serve the community."

Directors heard a favorable financial statement at the meeting, one reflecting a 5.1 percent rise in deposits over the same time a year ago. Hold-over directors are Clarence E. Basinger, J.S. Edwards Jr., Irby F. Motzall Jr., Swanner, Wallace, E.W. Williams, Jr., and T.A. Worley Jr.

Swanner has been associated with the bank since its organization here in 1932. He has been president since April 1964 when J.S. Edwards Jr. sold a major portion of his stock. Wallace moved here from Roswell, N. M. at that time to assume the post of executive vice president.

Swanner actually started doing business for CSB before its charter was granted, setting up an exchange to cash checks and give change before the bank opened in 1932.

"I've done everything from sweeping the floors to posting the general ledger," commented the veteran Slaton banker.

Swanner came to Slaton in 1922 as a civil engineer with Santa Fe Railways. He attended Oklahoma A&M College. He resigned in 1926 and operated a gin at Seagraves for one fall. In 1927 he started a general contracting firm here and built 42 houses before the depression stopped this career short in 1929 and 1930.

After another tenure as a gin manager in 1930-31, Swanner joined in reorganization of the bank and has been with the institution ever since. He is a past president of Rotary Club, former school trustee and city commissioner, and past president of the South Plains Bankers' Assn. and the seventh district president of the Texas Bankers Assn.

He and his wife, Edith, have three sons--Ted, president of Hestand Wholesale Groceries; H.T. Jr., vice president of the First National Bank of Dalhart and Lanny, who farms south of Slaton.

Wallace was senior vice president of the First National Bank in Roswell prior to moving here. The 34-year-old banker has served eight years as a National Bank Examiner, joining the force as an assistant in 1952. His banking career started at Wills Point, where he was employed for five years.

The new president and his wife, Joyce, have three daughters. He has been active in civic work since coming to Slaton. He is a member of the city water advisory board and was named as a Chamber of Commerce director this week.

Poynor To Close Out Store Here

Poynor's White Auto Store will close out its operation in Slaton within 30 days, it was announced this week by manager Bobby Poynor.

Poynor said the move was being made to consolidate and expand operation of Poynor Bros. White Stores in another area. The Poynor brothers now operate stores at Hereford, Muleshoe, Friona, Earth, and Portales, N.M.

The local manager added, however, that "it is likely the Slaton store will continue operation as a White's store under different ownership. An announcement concerning this is expected within a week or two. Bobby Poynor, who has managed the store here for slightly more than five years, said that his immediate plans are to remain in Slaton and start a schedule of evangelistic appearances in area Churches of Christ.

Poynor was formerly a Church of Christ minister and has been active in the ministry while in business here.

The White's store in Slaton was the second to be opened by the Poynor brothers, starting some five years ago after the Portales store was opened. All the other stores are located in the same general area now, except for the one here.

Bobby and his wife, Patsy, have two sons and a daughter. Poynor was born in Arkansas. Moved to Weatherford at an early age and was reared in Lubbock.

Tigers, Ponies Vie For Lead

Slaton's Tigers, with a 2-0 mark in District 4-AA action, tangle with the Denver City Mustangs here Friday night in an all-important contest which will give the winner possession of first place.

The Tigers escaped with a 54-47 victory in a slow and sluggish game at Morton Tuesday night, while Denver City sounded a note of warning by trouncing the Friendship Tigers, 89-41.

The victory was the first league outing for defending champ Denver City. Slaton is 2-0, Morton 1-1, Post 0-1 and Friendship 0-2 going into tomorrow night's action. Post lost an 81-77 non-conference game at Lorenzo Tuesday.

A boy's "B" game opens action here in Tiger gym tomorrow night. Slaton carries a sparkling 15-2 season record into the fray.

Larry Smith racked up 20 points to grab individual scoring honors at Morton Tuesday night. Bobby Brake and Donnie Hatchett contributed 12 and 10 points, respectively, to the winning cause.

The Tigers, slowed by Morton's deliberate style of play, had to rally in the final quarter to record a triumph. Slaton led by a 15-14 and 27-26 in the see-saw first two periods of play.

The Indians came back to grab a 40-37 advantage going into the final stanza and led by five points at one stage. Slaton actually won it at the free-throw line, sinking 80 percent of its charity tosses in connecting on 16 of 20.

Morton, which wound up with one more field goal than Slaton, made good on 7 of 13 tries at the free-throw line. There were only 20 fouls called--nine against Slaton and 11 against Morton. The Tigers tallied 17 points in the final stanza to only 17 for the Indians.

Morton eked out an overtime 47-46 victory in the boys' "B" game. Billy Gass paced Slaton with 19 points.

AND HELP COIN SHORTAGE MOD Chairman Urges Support

"Give to the March of Dimes and help relieve the coin shortage."

This was the appeal made today by Mrs. Wayne Banks, Slaton chairman of the 1965 March of Dimes campaign as she announced the placement of coin collectors in stores, restaurants and other business establishments.

"Get that loose change out of the piggy banks and pocket-books and into our March of Dimes coin collectors," she urged. "We guarantee to put it right to work in the fight against birth defects."

Mrs. Banks, representing the Centrettes, sponsors of the drive, explained that while the March of Dimes has been steadily expanding its campaign against birth defects since 1938, the scope of the problem is so great that increased contributions are vitally necessary if this expansion is to be continued.

"We hope that more and more Americans are coming to realize that the birth of 250,000 babies each year with serious birth defects is a national emergency," said Mrs. Banks. "We believe most Americans want to do something about these dread conditions which have already condemned hundreds of thousands of children to wheel chairs and mental institutions," she added.

"The March of Dimes," said the campaign chairman, "has begun to turn the tide against birth defects through a network of treatment centers where expert medical care is giving many birth defect children new hope for a useful life. The coin you drop in the collector will help the March of Dimes to help the helpless," declared Mrs. Banks.

Buffalo Causes Injury To Man

A 39-year-old area man remained in critical condition this week in Methodist Hospital at Lubbock after he was injured in a freak accident Friday afternoon while helping load a buffalo.

Officials said, however, that the condition of Erby Pollard, Rt. 2, Slaton was improving. The accident occurred when Pollard and two companions tried to load the 1,800 pound bull buffalo into a trailer near Johnson's Ranch Package Store, northwest of Slaton on FM-400. Pollard was slammed on the head by a heavy 25-foot length of pipe that the buffalo rammed. The victim, a clerk in the package store, was assisting Gordon Loving and Ike Green, both of Rt. 2, in attempting to drive the buffalo through a loading chute which was reinforced with lengths of 2 1/2 -inch pipe. The animal apparently hooked a length of pipe with its head, causing the opposite end to swing into the back of Pollard's head.

Loving said the buffalo was being loaded for delivery to a Lubbock man who had purchased the animal. Pollard is a former resident of Mineral Wells.

Medicare Benefits Bill Exaggerated, Says Mills

If the Medicare plan should be enacted under Social Security it may have the paradoxical effect of proving a disappointment to the very elderly persons it is supposed to help.

That is the opinion of Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee who insists that the provisions of the proposed legislation have been exaggerated by its supporters to the point that they wrongly picture the extent of the benefits.

"Contrary to the widespread assumption on the part of many elderly people," Chairman Mills has said, "the bill does not cover such items as doctors' visits to the home, visits to doctors' offices, surgical devices, drugs which many elderly people require, private nursing services or any nursing home services except when the patient has come out of a hospital and goes into a hospital-affiliated nursing home."

Chairman Mills added that his mail indicates that many elderly people mistakenly believe that Medicare will take care of all their hospital and medical requirements.

"This simply is not true," he said. "Unfortunately, Medicare under Social Security has become an all-embracing slogan which in my opinion has not advanced the cause of those who need it."

The latest trend to wigs and wiglets is responsible for starting a new fashion in headwear. One milliner with an interest in the wig business has combined hair and hats. Curly curls that match the wearer's own are tacked on to hats by means of sticky paper that attaches to the brims of hats. Now a girl can don a new hat and hairdo at the same time.

Hybrid Grain Tests Made At High Plains

Seventy grain sorghum hybrids were tested and compared in the research program at the High Plains Research Foundation in 1964. The tests were under the supervision of Barry Love, associate agronomist.

Thirty four of these hybrids were of equal value in any yielding ability. Yields among these 34 hybrids ranged from 7,165 to 6,286.6 pounds per acre. These 34 hybrids are the largest number to be listed as of equal in any year since research began at the Foundation. This shows an increase in the number of grain sorghum varieties found to be acceptable for high and profitable yield in West Texas.

Testing of grain sorghum for the various commercial seed companies started in 1960 with 52 hybrids and varieties. The test has grown to 70 in 1964.

The information on the 70 entries in the hybrid grain sorghum tests and the 2,3,4, and 5 year average yields will be included in the 1964 research report now being prepared for the supporters of the Foundation. The chemical composition of the grain will also be reported for each hybrid.

There were eight hybrids that had a four-year yield average of above 7,000 pounds per acre. Four hybrids also averaged above 7,000 pounds per acre in the five-year record at Halfway.

"The grain sorghum testing program is a service performed for the seed and grain industry and farmers to provide information on the hybrids best adapted for the area. If farmers will select the best adapted hybrids for their individual farming operation, it will greatly increase their profits," Dr. Earl Collister, director of the High Plains Research, said in commenting on the research results.

VA To Close Lubbock Office

The official order closing the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Lubbock has been issued by the VA Central Office in Washington, D.C., it was announced Friday by R.H. Todd Jr. of Slaton, acting manager of the Lubbock office.

The Lubbock office is to be consolidated with the Waco VA office. Todd said no definite date has yet been established for the closing of the office except that the entire reorganization is to be completed by June 30, 1965.

The Lubbock VA office, established in June, 1946, serves 79 West Texas counties. The veteran population is estimated to be 178,000. At the present time, there are approximately 200 employees at the office, Todd said.

The move is part of a nationwide reorganization in which VA includes the closing of 11 hospitals, consolidation of 17 regional offices, and phasing out of 4 domiciliary homes.

The VA reports the move is in line with the President's appeal to Government agencies to increase efficiency and reduce spending. Annual savings are estimated in excess of $23 million.

Veterans Administrator William J. Driver said the reorganization will be carried out without impairment of essential services and with full consideration for the personnel involved. Every employee involved will be given an offer of a job somewhere in the VA system.

VA officials pointed out that an adequate force will remain so that VA can provide any necessary direct services to veterans and their beneficiaries, schools and training establishments, mortgage lenders previous winner of the coveted award.

"What do you say at a time like this?" Kendrick asked the audience when he stepped forward to accept his plaque. "I can think of many men more worthy of this honor, but I accept it with great pride," he added.

Kendrick has served as fire chief for two years and fire marshal for two years. He is outgoing vice president of the C of C, past president of the Jaycees, past vice-president of Little League, a commissioner of Boy Scouts, a member of the rescue squad for civil defense and a member of the First Baptist Church.

A resident of Slaton for 20 years, Kendrick and his wife have been married for 13 years and have a son and daughter.

Mrs. Lasater, who expressed great surprise when Mrs. George Harlan made the "top woman" presentation, was praised for her "many years of outstanding service...not just a spectacular showing in 1964."

"She cares for others..." these were the key words used in honoring Mrs. Lasater. Her endeavors have touched many phases of community life including church and club work, helping other people and their children--from bridal showers to an old-time "pounding" for her pastor, working with various charity drives and many other activities.

Master of ceremonies Clark Self Jr., who turned in a notable task for the fete, announced the years outstanding club. Lion Boss Tommy Davis accepted the trophy on behalf of the organization--the second time the Lions have earned the award. A three-time winner earned the trophy for keeps.

The club was recognized for some 10 outstanding contributions to the community, including its important work with crippled children and the blind. Contribution of more than $400 for eye glasses for needy children and volunteer work at high school football games were top community projects.

Self noted that the committee had a difficult time in selecting the club for the distinguished service award, since several had compiled noteworthy achievements the past year.

In bowing out as proxy, Galassini outlined some of the projects completed by the Chamber during the year. These included purchase of a fire truck, a drive to help buy equipment for Mercy Hospital, working for an overpass at US-84 and FM-420, Operation Yuletide, and sponsoring the annual Farmer-Merchant barbecue.

He also had high praise for those who worked on the golf course project, getting together city and private money to build a municipal course. It is expected to be ready for play next spring.

Galassini said his tenure had both a wonderful and frustrating experience, disappointing and successful, but never dull. The retiring proxy softened some of the disappointments with touches of humor.

He recalled that almost everyone worked on one project... "half of them for it and the other half against." Before closing, he recognized his directors for their able help and cooperation, adding appreciation to Mayor Cain and the city commission, merchants, and his "right-arm"--Chamber Secretary Julia Bisbee.

An Oriental theme was carried out in the banquet decorations, prepared by the Slaton FHA Chapter under the direction of Mrs. Jerry Don Landers. Mrs. James Perkins provided dinner music and Rev. David Binkley worded the invocation.

Cotton Class Offices Close

Seasonal classing offices at Brownfield and Lamesa have closed for this season, according to W.K. Palmer, in charge of the U.S.D.A. Classing Office. Samples remaining to be classed from the territories by Lamesa and Brownfield will be closed at Lubbock.

Cotton sample receipts dropped to only 1500 daily last week at the Lubbock Office. Total samples classed at the South Plains U.S.D.A. Classing Offices this season was 1,820,100, compared with 1,973,900 by the same date last year.

The U.S.D.A. Agricultural Marketing Service reported increased trading in the Lubbock market during the past week at slightly lower prices. Prices for White grades ranged from 50 points under CCC loan levels to 65 points over the loan.

Gifts to March of Dimes Financed Promising Research Projects

Gifts to March of Dimes Financed Promising Research Projects

Nine March of Dimes-financed research studies in birth defects have shown outstanding progress in 1964. The projects were cited by Dr. Theodore E. Boyd, research director for The National Foundation-March of Dimes.

"Each year in the U.S., 250,000 babies are born seriously defective," Dr. Boyd said. "But new knowledge is being gained daily. The nine developments show that March of Dimes contributions are financing promising studies."

Dr. Boyd reported that in 1964 The National Foundation-March of Dimes appropriated almost $5,000,000 for research. In addition there are now 51 March of Dimes Birth Defect Treatment Centers across the country, he said.

The nine projects cited are as follows:

1. German Measles Test. First clinical use of a new test to tell whether someone has already had German measles—a virus disease which can damage an unborn baby when it infects the mother during early pregnancy—has shown it to be rapid and reliable. This was reported by Dr. Gordon C. Brown, epidemiologist, University of Michigan.

2. Discovery of Cell Abnormalities in Patients with Dwarfism. Dr. Andrew E. Lorincz, University of Florida, discovered something wrong with liver cells in children with the disease called Hurler's syndrome, a form of dwarfism. Enzyme-containing sacs were found missing from these cells. The clue may pinpoint the error in body chemistry responsible for this birth defect.

3. Mental Retardation and Congenital Anomalies. In mental retardation of unknown cause, research indicated something went wrong before birth, rather than at or after birth. Investigation showed that of 50 children with mental retardation of unknown cause, 42 percent also had three or more visible structural congenital defects. This association of multiple anomalies is strong evidence that retardation of this type is itself a birth defect. This was reported by Dr. David W. Smith, University of Wisconsin.

4. Knowledge About Defect of the Nervous System. Information providing clues to diagnosis of a rare hereditary disease of the involuntary nervous system was reported by Dr. Joseph Dancis, New York University. Called dysautonomia, the condition causes excessive sweating and saliva, skin blotching, hypertension and mental retardation.

5. Findings Link Birth Defect to Abnormal Immunity Mechanism. A rare inherited disease, ataxia telangiectasia, appears to belong to a group of diseases involving hereditary defects in body mechanisms which provide immunity. This was reported by Dr. Robert A. Good, University of Minnesota, who discovered that children with the disease are poor at producing antibodies, are prone to respiratory infections and lymphoid cancers and have an underdeveloped thymus gland, the master gland of immunity. Victims are unable to coordinate their movements.

6. Evidence Ties Up Autoimmunity to Chromosome Defects. First evidence connecting abnormal chromosomes with autoimmunity, a process in which the body's defense machinery gets out of kilter and antibodies are made that attack the body's own tissue, was reported by Dr. Melvin M. Grumbach, Columbia University.

7. Method for Screening Patients with Chromosome Defect. Children with an unusual syndrome involving an extra chromosome were found to have peculiar structures in certain white blood cells. Victims have multiple physical defects and usually die early. Since similar defects occur in other diseases, finding the blood cell peculiarities offers a useful method for diagnosis. This was reported by Drs. Frederick Lecht, E. R. Huehns and M. Lutzer, University of Washington.

8. Disorders Possible with Hereditary Variations of a Single Enzyme. A variant has been found of a blood enzyme which in an abnormal form affects an estimated 100,000,000 people. Called G-6-PD, it is important clinically because who have it in defective form act abnormally. Darrell I. Darrill, University of Oklahoma, discovered that children with the disease are poor at producing antibodies, are prone to respiratory infections and lymphoid cancers and have an underdeveloped thymus gland, the master gland of immunity. Victims are unable to coordinate their movements.

9. Learning Heart Defects. Successful production of embryos of the two forms of congenital heart defects found in fresh clued how they develop, normally formed by Dr. Kenneth V. K. no one in Buffalo.

here it is Monday, and I am sitting at my little punch bowl again trying to collate feeble thoughts and come up with a way to start my column that will interest you, but for some reason my little nimble mind just keeps off so hot. If any readers out this way have any of the Cooper activities or school functions that will be happening here I would be glad to hear about them as the majority of our children attend the schools and it would be a pleasure to write about them to the kids as well as their parents. I feel as though I would help our column be more interesting and I am sure enjoying reading it.

One of the local farmers, Mr. Rhea Pierce celebrated his 65th birthday Saturday. Even though he is 65, Mr. Pierce stated that he did not feel much over 94 anyway. Mrs. Pierce had a birthday get-together for him that night where guests enjoyed cake and coffee along with a 42 game. Those attending were Rev. and Mrs. Johnny Williams, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Conservation Program Aids Farmers, Ranchers

On August 7, 1956, Congress passed Public law 1201 which authorized a new, long-term conservation program for the Great Plains. Through this Great Plains Conservation Program, cost-sharing payments are made to assist farmers and ranchers plan and install, on a voluntary basis, the soil and water conservation measures and make the land use adjustments needed to achieve a more stable agriculture.

Since that time, $199,594 has been obligated to 100 operating units in Lubbock County which cover 36,450 acres. The basic purpose of this program is not production control but rather it emphasizes land use changes and wind-control and moisture conservation and management practices that in combination will provide the most enduring conservation benefits.

The program is unique in that cost-sharing contracts are based on complete conservation plans for an entire farm or ranch unit. Also, it provides cost-sharing help for a period of years, instead of one year at a time.

Cost sharing for needed conservation measures is guaranteed by contract with the Department of Agriculture. The length of the contract (from 3-10 years) is determined by the time required to carry out the complete farm or ranch plan.

which the contract supports. The list of cost-sharing practices and the amount of cost-sharing on them is set up for each county and ranges from a high of 80% to a low of 50% of the average cost of the practice in the county. The practices and their rates of cost-share are: establishment of permanent pasture-80%; sod waterways-80%; diversions terraces-70%; level terraces-70%; windbreaks-70%; irrigation pipeline-50%; land leveling-50%; and brush control-50%. Certain of these practices supplement others and are necessary to achieve the overall goals of solving erosion problems and making yields and income more dependable.

There is a $25,000 limitation on the cost-share payments that can be earned by any farmer or rancher. Funds also will be limited on irrigation practices to $2,500 for any contract or no more than 1/4 of the total contract obligation, whichever is larger.

The law provides assurance that acreage allotments and marketing quotas will not be decreased during the contract because of changes of land use adjustment by the contract. Land in the program may be grazed or otherwise used, consistent with good management. Public Law 1021 specifically provides that this program is in addition to and not in substitution of any other program. In fact, farmers and ranchers who take part in the program will be encouraged to use other programs, that contribute to the objectives of a more stable agriculture on the Great Plains. You are eligible to participate in the Great Plains Conservation Program if you own or rent land considered as an operating unit (farm or ranch) for the period needed to carry out a plan of operations. Under the present law, contracts shall be entered into starting not later than Dec. 31, 1971, and ending not later than Dec. 31, 1981.

You will receive a cost-share payment when you have carried out a practice or an identifiable unit of your plan and have applied for payment. The contracting officer of the Soil Conservation Service must certify performance and compliance with the program before you receive payment.

When you and the Soil Conservation Service technician agree there is need for changing your schedule or plan, you and the contracting officer may reschedule a practice and modify your plan accordingly.

The law provides for transfer of interest in the contract in the event the producer sells or otherwise loses control of the farm or ranch during the contract period. For further information please contact your Soil Conservation Service technician at 1611 Avenue M, Lubbock Texas or contact your Soil Conservation District Supervisor nearest you.

Water Levels To Be Checked On High Plains

The annual water level measurements of more than 800 observation wells in the High Plains Water District will be taken this month. The wells in the High Plains District are a portion of over 1,700 observation wells to be measured in a 39-county area by personnel of the Texas Water Commission, High Plains Underground Water Conservation District and the North Plains Water District.

Lubbock County has 123 observation wells on which records are now being kept by the High Plains Water District and the Texas Water Commission. The observation wells are measured annually during the month of January. January was chosen as the measurement month because the wells are allowed to rest after the heavy summer irrigation and because the personnel are more readily available to measure the wells at this time.

The wells that are used in the observation well program are measured, the level is recorded and then the data is assembled in the Lubbock Office of the High Plains Water District for distribution. Any person who is interested in the well measurements of his county, or all the counties within the High Plains Water District can obtain a record of these measurements for the past several years through his local County Water District Office or from the High Plains Water District office.

Hot Beignets--"Dunk" 'Em In Coffee!

Late, late at night in New Orleans, after parties or the night shift, people head for the coffee stalls in the famous French Market, as they've done since 1813 when the Market opened. Recently, someone asked a New Orleansian if the coffee stalls were as popular as ever. "Popular?" was the reply. "Why, that's the first place we're going when my girls come home from college."

When you drink coffee there, you know (if you did not know before) that coffee is the great common denominator. People in evening clothes share counter space with dungareed fishermen. But then, that's the way it is with coffee, something all people can enjoy together.

At the French Market coffee stalls, fluffy square doughnuts called beignets are almost as famous as the colorful old shopping center. Actually, beignets are delicious north or south. Try them at your next kaffeeklatsch. And when you do, "dunk" them the way the New Orleansians do.

New Orleans Beignets

1/4 cup milk	1/4 cup very warm water (110°-115°)
1/4 cup sugar	1 egg, beaten
1 teaspoon salt	3 cups sifted flour (about)
1/4 cup shortening
1 package active dry yeast

Scald milk; stir in sugar, salt and shortening; cool to lukewarm. Sprinkle yeast into very warm water; stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture, egg and half the flour. Beat well with mixer or spoon for one minute. Add remaining flour and more if needed to make soft dough. Turn out onto lightly floured surface; knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl; cover and let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled, about 1 hour. Punch down and let rise again about 1/2 hour. Roll out into square a scant 1/4-inch thick. Cut into 2 1/2 x 3 inch squares. Place on greased baking sheet; let rise until light, about 1 hour. Do not handle while rising or they will fall. Fry in deep fat, heated to 375°, for 2 minutes or until brown on each side; drain on absorbent paper. Serve piping hot, sprinkled generously with confectioners sugar. Makes about 2 dozen.

Slaton Student To Get Baptist Scholarship

RAMON MAGALLANES JR.
DALLAS--Ramon Magallanes Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Magallanes, 225 S. Second St., Slaton, has been named recipient of a Latin American Scholarship, according to Charles P. McLaughlin, state missions secretary for the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

A freshman at Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, Magallanes' scholarship will begin with the spring semester.

Latin American Scholarships are a joint project of the Baptist Convention and Baptist Women's Missionary Union. Funds for the project are made possible through the annual Mary Hill Davis offering for state missions.

Three other students received scholarships to begin this semester.

Women who are watching their weight should note that, although vegetables have always been counted among dieters' best friends, some are a good deal friendlier than others. Mushrooms, parsley, spinach and green beans are high in nutrition and low in calories. Green peppers and celery make the best between meal snacks. Peppers are particularly good since they are a rich source of Vitamin C. On the other hand, calory counters should limit their intake of artichokes, beets, eggplant and squash, all of which are high in calories and provide less nutrition.

If you count all your assets, you always show a profit.

Slaton K of C To Help Tiggers

Slaton Knights of Columbus will take part in playing host to state officers of the Catholic men's order for their mid-year meeting in Lubbock Feb. 5-7.

Kitten disclosed that a clearer understanding of Protestant faiths through addresses by their ministers will be among programs discussed at the convocation, as well as ways and means of increasing active and assistance to priests by laymen and building the organization's contributions to the ecumenical, liturgical and social changes decreed by recent Vatican Councils in Rome.

"We are delighted so many Protestant ministers and Jewish rabbis have accepted invitations from our councils over the state to address our members," said Kitten. "This movement was begun quietly in Texas last summer and, to date, more than 7,000 Catholic men and their wives have heard informal talks by Church of Christ, Lutheran, Congregationalist, Episcopal, Methodist, Mormon, Presbyterian and Baptist ministers and a number of Rabbis."

"The Knights of Columbus have always regarded themselves as the 'strong right arm of the Church,' and this meeting, with more than 300 third degree members in the South Plains area invited, will concern itself largely with strengthening that arm through statewide movements inaugurated last summer."

Forced To Close But NLRB
Plants Action 'Unfair'
 The fact that his property by condemnation if the company declined to sell. The owner was permitted to stay on the premises on a month-to-month tenancy, but with the understanding that the plant would have to be surrendered at the end of six months.

With that in mind the employer refused new orders and began liquidating his business, gradually laying off employees. In three months the plant was closed.

The NLRB ruled, however, that the company should have remained in business until the very last moment in the "hope that seemingly insoluble problems" facing the company could be solved "however remote the possibility."

Posey News

BY MARTHA HADDOCK

Well, since we don't have any school to talk about in this community, and I've already mentioned the weather and the different illnesses the different ones have had in the past papers I suppose I'll have to start off this week mentioning something about the car wreck one of our local ladies had in town last week. Mrs. Guy Gentry had taken her children to school and was returning home when a car ran into her and her little three-year-old daughter, Laurie. Luckily, no-one was hurt from the accident. And as the general procedure goes you go home and tell your husband how it happened, but little Laurie got to help tell the story to Daddy!

She ended the conversation with, "My mother sure is a dangerous driver!" Kids think of the darndest things. But I often think of a plaque I once saw when I hear of a woman being in the wrong or in a wreck and it went something like this, "A woman driver drives like a man but gets blamed for it." By the way Mrs. Gentry was not at fault.

Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. R.D. Hooper was Mr. Gary Sterling of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Wilke have just returned from a visit to the Canal Zone where they have been visiting with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dennie Kincer since the 17th of December. They certainly had a wonderful time.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Willis were visited last week by Opal Willis of Lubbock and Doug Carey of Lubbock. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Willis of Seminole visited them Friday and Saturday. The Willis' son, Aldon visited by Randall Wright of Slaton last week.

A surprise 84 party was given to Mrs. Anna Gentry Friday night. Those there were Mr. and Mrs. G.R. Johnson

Green Thumb Tips

Some annual plants may be removed from the garden with a ball of earth around the roots and potted for indoor use. Even if the plants are full grown, nasturtiums, small-flowered marigolds and flowering tobacco may be treated in this manner. Water them thoroughly after potting and leave the plants outside in a partly shaded location for a week or more. Then bring them indoors before the heat is on in the house. Place in a sunny window. Water every other day, often if necessary, and you'll have flowers on the plants for many weeks.

If you are planning to store winter squash and pumpkins, leave them on the vines until they are thoroughly ripe. They will keep better if they are fully ripe before harvesting. Select the storage place for its moderately warm temperature.

September is the time to control weeds in the lawn so you'll have a weed-free lawn in spring. Spray with 2, 4-D or spread a granular form of the same chemical over the infested areas. Remember that granular weed killers must be applied to moist leaves so they will adhere.

All spraying should be done on a windless day lest the spray drift to nearby ornamentals which are as readily killed as broad-leaved weeds by a chemical which does not discriminate between them.

The few weeds not controlled with 2, 4-D alone usually will succumb to a combination of 2, 4-D and 2, 4, 5-T. Ask your garden supply store operator for such a material.

The sprayer used for any 2, 4-D product should be kept for weed killing only as it is almost impossible to clean the sprayer completely and even a tiny bit of this chemical will injure broad-leaved plants.

If you would like colorful annual vines in your winter window garden, plant seeds now of morning glories and black-eyed Susan vine (Thunbergia). Sow three seeds to a 4" pot.

Let's Go Fishing!

WEED INSURANCE
 Some lures are designed to be lost. At least it seems that way when working stretches of water that are both filled with fish and choked with submerged brush.
 When snags threaten your arsenal of tackle, it's time to make some changes. Here's a tip from the fishing authorities at Mercury outdoors that will turn the conventional plug into a dandy weedless.
 Obtain a supply of the appropriate size treble hooks that come equipped with wire weed guards. These are then substituted for the original hooks, converting a branch-grabbing lure into one whose shielded bars harmlessly glance off most obstacles.
 Although practical, this alteration may be frowned on. Some manufacturers claim the actions of their lures are affected and the guard causes strikes to be missed. This may be true; but no plug is going to catch fish when it's firmly imbedded in a log or trailing a length of vegetation.
 Obtaining plugs with weed guards may present some problems, depending on the locality. If unavailable at local tackle shops, they can be procured through any of the mail order outfits that advertise in the national outdoor magazines.
 It's also possible to purchase these hooks in bucktail models, note the Mercury folks. This extra decoration is particularly effective when used with metal spoons.
 When your object is catching fish—not weeds—don't switch lures, switch hooks. Saves a lot of trouble.

WILSON NEWS

BY MRS. TED MELUGIN

Since Wilson is a farming community, this article will probably be found to be quite amusing. A new bride was transplanted to the country from the city to live and gave her true report recently about some questions that confronted her. She wondered about farm talk, like whether John Deere and "Alice Chalmers were tractors? Was a turn row called that, or turn road? Section horrors or horrors? Was the bib put upon the calf in order to keep it from dribbling milk? Which end of the egg should be stored up? Could listing and bedding be called creasing and corrugating? Is a rotary hoe the machine that has the spurs? What kind of dogs are in the planter boxes? The bride also wrote that she knew her husband had a temper, but when he came in and mentioned that he had put a dead man down at the corner fence, that was ridiculous! The trailers at the gin yard were always hard for her to find so she asked the Mr. to put their initials on them. When she arrived to mount their trailer she was amazed to find that in three foot high letters, on the side of the trailers were written, "HERE 'TIS"!
