LOCAL ELECTIONS NEXT WEEK

Commission Election Tuesday in Wards 2 and 4; School Board Vote is Saturday

New city commissioners will be elected in Slaton wards 2 and 4 Tuesday, then the following Saturday the annual school board election will select two trustees for three-year terms.

In ward 2, Robert Hall Davis is the only candidate on the ballot. He will succeed H. G. Stokes.

Candidates in ward 4 are T. A. Worley, Jr. and Fernando Gonzales. L. L. Dixon, the incumbent, is seeking a place on the school board.

The two new commissioners will take office at the regular board meeting Monday night, April 9, after the election ballots have been canvassed and the winners certified.

Ward 2 voters will cast their ballots in the Retail Merchants office in the city hall. Phil Brewer will be election judge there.

Ward 4 voting will be at the Stephen F. Austin school. John D. Webb, Jr., will be election judge.

The school board election and city polls will be open from 8 p. m. to 7 p. m. on respective election days. Charlie Whalen has been appointed judge of the school election.

Candidates for the two school trustee positions (at-large) are Dixon, Jonas Cain, R. E. Ayers and J. T. Kendrick. Ayers and Kendrick are incumbents.

GOVERNOR CANDIDATE VISITS SLATON — Jack Cox, Republican candidate for governor, accepts the good wishes of Bill Klattenhoff, following Cox's informal coffee session with Slaton voters Thursday afternoon at Bruce's cafe. Klattenhoff is district GOP committee chairman. The candidate is currently introducing his conservative platform in scores of West Texas communities during his whirlwind speaking tour of the area.

Coon Dogs To Compete This Weekend

"Coondawg" men from throughout the Plains area and neighboring states will bring their favorite hounds to the canyon north of Slaton Saturday and Sunday for the annual spring coon hunt, sponsored by the South Plains Coonhunters association.

The modern version of coon hunting, it was pointed out, is somewhat different from the old days when Grandpa merely filled his coal-oil lantern, shouldered his splatter-gun and whistled for Ol' Blue before setting forth for a night's sport.

The Saturday and Sunday events place more emphasis on the dog's ability to overcome a variety of handicaps to reach and conquer raccoon. Dogs will be graded on a point system and awarded accordingly.

Saturday's events will include a drag race, treeing contest, coon in tree, coon in hole and coon in keg. Sunday's competition will start with a drag race, followed by treeing contest, coon in bank, coon in barrel and coon in sacking, the sponsoring organization announced.

The hunters will meet in the area where Highway 400 crosses the canyon. Events will start at 10 a. m. each day. Prizes will be given for the first and second dog in each event and a grand champion trophy will be awarded to the dog with most points.

5 p. m. Saturday Is Tag Deadline LIONS ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Car and truck owners have until 5 p. m. Saturday to purchase their 1962 license tags before a penalty is added.

That reminder came this week from Russell Hardin, Lubbock county tax collector, who announced that three offices in the county would remain open all day Saturday for the convenience of those who have not obtained their tags. Normally, the offices close at noon Saturday.

In Slaton, car licenses may be renewed at the F. A. Drevier insurance office. In Lubbock a tag office will be open in the Municipal Auditorium, as well as the tax assessor-collector's office in the courthouse.

Hardin also reminded car owners that in order to obtain their 1962 plates they must present the certificate of title and the current registration receipt. Without those two papers the tag agent may not issue new plates, he said.

He estimated that "several hundred" car and truck owners have not yet purchased their 1962 tags and predicted a last-minute rush on all tag offices.

Mexican National Warns

U.S. Loafs While Reds Grow Strong in Mexico

"If Texans and the American people in general don't start practicing a little more of what they preach on our 'good neighbor' policy with Mexico we'll wake up some morning to find that the Communists have taken over the country south of the border — and have a door wide open to the United States — without firing a shot."

That blunt note of warning was sounded in Slaton Tuesday by Francisco Gonzales, a Mexican National who has lived and operated a successful business in Lubbock for the past six years. Gonzales is an Honor Society graduate of an Arizona border high school and attended the University of Mexico.

He later worked for Mexican Airlines in Mexico City where he met and married a Texas girl, who eventually persuaded him to move to Texas.

In his talk at the Lions club luncheon Gonzales described the University of Mexico as "reeking with communism." He admitted that through his association with Communist sympathizers there he had become thoroughly brain-washed and subtly turned against Texas and the United States during his four years there.

"I moved to Texas (Lubbock) only because I felt that I could show my American wife that I would be nothing but a second-class citizen there. I came to Lubbock with a chip on my shoulder, deliberately looking for prejudice, but after awhile I awakened to the appalling truth that I had been duped by the pro-Red propagandists in Mexico. I found that what they had instilled in my mind was a lie."

He said he intends to spend as much time as possible in talking to individuals and groups in this country and do as much as he can to convince them that Mexico's friendship must not be taken for granted.

"Look what happened in Cuba," he pointed out. "Cuba's friendship with the United States was not questioned by us until we woke up one day to find Fidel Castro — an avowed Communist — in command of that country. The same thing can and will happen in Mexico unless we quit giving lip service to our 'good neighbor' policy and actually demonstrate in actions."

Gonzales said he had retained his Mexican citizenship because he hoped someday to return to his homeland and help show his people that Texans and the United States, in general, are (See "U. S." on Back Page)

Barkley Promoted By Western Union

W. L. Barkley of Slaton has received a promotion in Western Union to the office of delivery supervisor in the company's new Lubbock office. He was formerly night manager for 13 years.

He entered Western Union service after finishing high school at Southland in 1946. He received his first assignment in the Lubbock office and has worked in several positions there since.

Barkley also is vice-president of the Commercial Telegraphers Union, local 16 of the southwestern division, which includes the Panhandle of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

Public Shows Approval Of 'Fire Radio' Project

A plan to equip all vehicles used in Slaton's volunteer fire department with two-way radios was "catching fire" this week, as demonstrated by the checks already contributed by business firms, organizations and individuals — plus the promise of sizeable amounts from others.

Fire Chief Curtis Dowell's figures showed Wednesday that $1,335 has been deposited in the radio fund — a big step toward the $4,200 needed to place a $175 two-way set in each of the 24 firemen's cars.

The radios will remain the personal property of the volunteer fire department, however, in case of personnel changes.

Dowell said the $1,335 included checks for complete units

Special Budget Meeting Set By Commission

The city commissioners have scheduled a special meeting Thursday night, at which they will thresh out, pare down and adopt a new city budget for the fiscal year beginning next Monday.

Action on the proposed budget was by-passed at the commission's regular session Monday evening, allowing the board to dispense with routine business for the last month of the fiscal year. Mayor L. O. Lemon said Thursday night's special meeting would be devoted entirely to bringing the proposed budget in line with anticipated income for the next year.

Additional water and sanitary sewer facilities were the principal matters of business before the commission Monday night, along with illegal parking problems in the downtown area.

George D. Willis, water and sewer superintendent, reported that a water line had been extended 120 feet through block 48 in the South Park addition and estimated that it would cost the city $216 to run the line all the way through the block. The commission decided that since all residents have been served by the first addition, work on the remainder could be withheld until additional water service is required on that block.

Willis also reported that he had been asked to extend the sanitary sewer through block 69 of Park View addition. Cost of the extension would be $1,148. The commission decided to wait until other such work is required in order to eliminate the move-in fee charged by a contractor — usually $160.

Police Chief Gene Martin told the commission that the majority of parking violations are on corners and in areas where parking is prohibited by ordinance. The mayor was authorized to have the street department to paint street corners red, which would remind motorists that parking is illegal in those areas. The mayor was also authorized to see that additional "no parking" signs are installed in areas covered by ordinance.

Mayor Lemon reported that the Daughters of Pioneers Study Club had requested permission to install a flag pole near the city's anniversary monument on the City Hall grounds.

The mayor said he had been advised by the club that they would furnish an American flag for the pole. The commission gave unanimous consent to the request and agreed that the building custodian should be responsible for raising and lowering the flag each day.

Present were Mayor Lemon, Commissioners Joe S. Walker, Jr., J. E. Eckhart, Jr., L. L. Dixon and City Secretary J. J. Maxey.

NEED A MAP?

The colorful new 1962 official Texas highway map is now available for free distribution, and The Slatonite has obtained a supply for your convenience.

The maps list all primary and secondary highways in the state, list the distance between all major cities, state parks and simple directions to locate any community in the state.

Rubbish Pickup Efforts Shunned By Many, Volunteer Crews Report

Slaton's community cleanup program was showing results this week, as crews from several clubs and organizations — as well as individuals — took on various beautification projects.

However, volunteer workers on a free hauling service reported Wednesday many residential property owners are not taking advantage of their service, while others collected rubbish and junk from their homes and yards and had it ready for the pickup crews when they came by.

Trucks were furnished by the city, as well as members of the Lions club and Jaycees, who canvassed approximately three-fourths of the city during their three-afternoon trash hauling service.

The Knights of Columbus offered to take care of cleanup services in ward 1, which is the southeast quarter of town.

One of the most obvious improvements in the much-publicized community beautification project is at the tennis courts in the city park, where a committee of Rotarians and several Boy Scouts have spruced up the area, repainted net posts and the framework for the high net fences along each side of the courts. They plan to replace nets and backstops, too.

Similar work is being planned by other organizations.

It was pointed out that even though many failed to take advantage of the hauling service furnished by the volunteer crews Monday through Wednesday, city trucks will pick up rubbish every week — if it is placed conveniently in the alley.

Strength of The Week

REV. WELDON THOMAS
Trinity Evangelical Methodist Church

Our Lord gave many clear and wonderful lessons during his earthly ministry. We talk of these and of the relationship we should have with our fellow man as taught in many of these.

Yet He spoke much concerning the eternal relationship that we should have with the Tribune Godhead.

As we plan and make preparations for many activities in this life often little consideration is given to the things of eternity. Jesus spoke not only of the eternal life that one could enjoy through the provisions that have been made for us but He spoke more of the eternal punishment of those who are not willing to be partakers of the Divine gift.

Often He spoke with clearness as to the agonies, torments, and sufferings of that punishment. Many today do not like to talk of death because of an uneasiness which comes to them; uneasiness resulting from not having made adequate preparation for eternity.

The Word speaks of a time when people will have itching ears. A time when people will be lovers of self more than lovers of God.

Certainly it helps give moral support and encouragement to be patted on the back occasionally. Although in the spiritual realm many want their virtues praised and lauded with never a word said concerning the vices, transgressions, and iniquities that evolve from their lives. Many would be desirous to hear of the glories and beauties of heaven and of a way that made entry into it easy condoning all sorts of practices.

The requirements set forth in the Bible are disregarded and often scorned. Hatred, envy, greed, and lust are excused on the grounds of human frailty. Personal desires seek refuge in trite phrases foreign to the Bible. The concern is selfish and related only to the immediate present or the future of the physical, not of the eternal. The regard for the soul is a secondary recourse to many and to others there is no concern or thought of the eternal destiny facing them.

Certainly "There is a way which is right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death."

Knox County Farmer Gets Hero's Award

A Knox county farmer who pulled his 7-year-old son from an ice-covered farm pond and saved his life with artificial respiration today received the Texas Rural Heroism award.

Alonso (Al) Cartwright, who farm five miles from Munday in northwest Texas, was presented a plaque in ceremonies at the annual meeting of the Texas Safety association. Bud Flechte, assistant editor of the Progressive Farmer, made the presentation.

Cartwright received the award for the bravery he exhibited Jan. 27, 1961, in saving the life of his son, Pat. The elder Cartwright was mending fences when he heard screams from his son who had fallen through thin ice in a nearby stock tank. The boy tried to swim to shore, but was prevented from doing so by the ice which had formed in the sub-freezing temperatures.

Rushing to the boy's aid, Al Cartwright saw his son couldn't make it to shore, so he plunged into the icy, 20-foot deep water in an effort to rescue him. Prevented by heavy clothing from reaching his son, Cartwright returned to shore and shed his boots and heavy coveralls, then leaped into the icy water once more to pull the now-unconscious lad to safety.

The father applied mouth-to-mouth artificial respiration until his son showed signs of life. Then, he drove the boy to Munday and a doctor.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Sexton spent the week end with Mrs. Sexton's sister, Mrs. F. E. Sipe in the Lawlace community near Merkel. They attended church services at First Methodist Church in Merkel.

Francis Perry made a business trip to Austin last Thursday.

Read Luke 22:39-46

Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me: nevertheless my will, but thine, be done. (Luke 22:42)

During my sister's illness, I learned the importance of obedience. She was in bed, she obeyed the doctor's orders completely. She did not fuse the shots. She ate only the food the doctor recommended, she did not care for it.

Almighty God is a spiritual doctor for us. He created us and everything about us, what is wrong with us, and what we are capable of if we yield our lives to Him. Sometimes the things He asks of us are almost impossible, yet we must obey God even if it puts us in uncomfortable circumstances. Jesus himself was willing to suffer death that might be saved.

When we surrender our wills to God and obey His commands He uses us in helping many others. At the same time He will remove whatever may be wrong in our own lives.

PRAYER: O Father, we thank Thee that Christ was willing to go self on the cross for our sins, that we might be reconciled to Thee this day to say, "Not my will, but thine," and to obey Thy commands they are revealed to us. We ask this in the name of Christ our Lord.

We are hopeful that local exes will invite their town ex and their families to come and spend the weekend with them on the date of our reunion. We have good motel facilities but not nearly enough to accommodate the number that will come. We do not have a particular friend that is an ex write to them that you will kill a chicken and bake a cake. We will expect them the weekend of June 13.

Remember this is your reunion and make it as enjoyable as you can make it.

IL-FOR FARMERS??

The federal government can't run the nation's farms, its ineptitude has been brilliantly demonstrated by failure of one farm program after another for the past 30 years. The taxpayers now have a $2.7 billion investment, not counting storage and handling charges, 1.4 billion bushels of wheat and feed grains — almost a three-year domestic supply.
 It has been estimated that the administration's new farm program could cut wheat surpluses 225 million bushels a year. If accepted by Congress and the farmers, the new plan will enforce rigid production controls and marketing quotas on both wheat and feed grains.
 The Secretary of Agriculture has said that a provision providing jail sentences for farmers who fail to keep proper records will strengthen the program. This highlights an interesting point about benefits from government that all groups seeking or accepting federal largesse should take to heart. Federal control follows federal money. One thing is sure. If you accept political favors, you had better control enough votes to put the control of the polls into the politicians granting them. Otherwise the road may become rocky, indeed. And jail is suggested as an indoctrination method — the U.S.A!
 There can't be free farmers when government controls eliminate the free market system — agriculture will wind up as some form of communal project, under the thumb of a political boss.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS SAY

OKABENA, MINN., PRESS: "One Big Trouble with American public these days is that they have come to believe that it is easier to vote for something they want than to work for it."
TERRE HAUTE, IND., TRIBUNE: "Great numbers of Americans who think they enjoy the full advantages of a civilized society are badly short-changing themselves when it comes to use of their cultural heritage. Many of them go for weeks, perhaps even much longer, without listening to first-rate music; many of them rely on a book more rewarding than the latest paperback sensation; many have not spent an hour in an art gallery since they were school children... But pity those who confine themselves to valid popular music, empty TV drama and low-grade whodunits and calendar art. No intellectual effort is required of them; they can be mere sponges to absorb cheap sensations. If their cultural heritage is passing them by."
GRANTS, N. M., BEACON: "The inclusive character of tax collecting operations brought a cynical comment from a taxpayer who was called in to account for some 50% of his income. 'I don't know who will be our first on the moon,' he observed ironically, 'but I do know who will be the second. He will be an income tax collector.'"
HAMPTON, N. H., GAZETTE: "During the past three decades, a one-time obedient servant of the American people, the Federal government, has grown into a giant. This giant is fast becoming the master of its creators and whether we admit it or not, it was created through our own selfishness, greed, and ignorance. Like the tentacles of a giant octopus, bureaus, departments, agencies and commissions are slowly but surely imprinting the American people."
HELPER, UTAH, JOURNAL: "The conflict between communism and freedom is the problem of our time. It overshadows all other problems, this conflict mirrors our age, its toils, its tension, its troubles, and tasks, on the outcome of this conflict depends the future of Mankind."
BENTON, MO., DEMOCRAT: "Up until recently, one of the many things which has made this country great has been the way we handled our local problems here at home. Here we all know what's going on, and we maintain control of them, not leaving it to a group of bubble-headed bureaucrats in Washington to tell us how to run our community. If we strive, slave and work, and till can't solve our community problems, we try the next best thing. Let's tell our senators and congressmen we want them to choke off this latest move of big central federal government getting into our home town affairs, and stop this Department of Urban Affairs!"

WARD'S Wanderings

By LDW

A nice lady told me she read my introductory column last week and enjoyed it. I could tell right off that she was a gal of extraordinary intelligence and a rare discerning eye for literary gems.

If this week's offering appears a bit lengthy and somewhat wild in spots — just blame it on my complimentary reader.

That's the one thing that sets me up on cloud No. 9 and spurs me on to bigger and better things.

One "well done," is worth a dozen gripes any day, ain't it?

—ldw

The "discount" shopping fad has pretty well moved into all sections of the country — something like canasta did a few years back.

Nowadays, it seems that it's smart to save, but it's not smart to be smart — if that makes sense.

Regardless of their current splash, I can't see that sort of cut-rate merchandising as a permanent fixture on the American business scene, and I'll give you a couple of reasons why:

In the first place, there's nothing really "discount" about them in the overall picture. Yep, you're right, some items are priced considerably lower than in the store across the square, but if you'll make a closer inventory it's a good bet you'll see as many other items being grabbed up that the customer could buy right here in Slaton with less money.

Secondly, before you bring home that "discounted" washer, teevie or newfangled coffee pot, think! Who's going to guarantee that it's serviceable and be as near as your telephone when it goes on the fritz? That's no small item to consider while we're being smart and economical.

Okay, so I'm bitter! You bet your last year's slim-jims I am, sister. I bought a couple windshield wiper blades for my car (nearly half price) during my only brief visit to a "discount" emporium.

They won't work.

Can't even fasten the damp-hoop things where they're supposed to go. Can't exchange them where they were bought and haven't got the gall to take them to a local dealer and ask for a trade.

Two times seventy-nine cents is a dollar fifty-eight. That's the cheapest lesson I ever got.

—ldw—

Tub-thumpers for the American Medical Association took time out this week from their current pastime of needling President Kennedy's so-called Health Plan For The Aged to offer a few hints on how to stay popular with a sick friend.

It just never dawned on me that there was any set of special manners one practiced in the sickroom. Always figured you were supposed to walk in, say "howdy", fidget around a bit then whomp up a good excuse to be on your way. But, after reading the AMA's recommendations, it appears that I've committed many a faux pas, as the stethoscope set would say it.

Hereafter, I'll try to remember to:

1. Be cheerful, but not silly.
2. Not ask to see the stitches, but wait until my bed-fast friend volunteers to describe his operation.
3. Refrain from criticizing the room service.
4. Keep my medical advice to myself — even though I'm a whiz in the home cure department.
5. (This is a dilly) Don't lie. Don't tell a man he looks marvelous, but still don't tell him he looks half dead. Be honest, but discreet.

I don't quite dig that last bit about being "honest but discreet." That's a neat trick. Maybe they mean shut up and leave!??

Come to think about it, I never could get by with the old "sitting up with a sick friend" dodge.

I've found it's better to look her in the eye and admit I had to work late at the office.

—ldw—

We got 'em at The Slatonite.

You're invited to pick up your free copy of the new 1962 Texas highway map. It's a beaut. Not only does it designate the location of every community in the state — from Abilene to Zapata, but it furnishes colorful pictures of what you're likely to find in those places, if you're a tourist.

And, it just happens to have room for a nice multi-color picture of Governor Price Daniel and the three state highway commissioners.

Might as well get your copy while our supply lasts. After all, you probably paid for it.

ABOUT OUR NEIGHBORS...

POST — The teacher salary bonus in the Post Independent School district was reduced from $500 to $300 for the 1962-63 school year and to $300 for the 1963-64 school year by the board of trustees at a special meeting Monday night.

RALLS — All school teachers were reemployed by the Ralls school board Tuesday night, according to Superintendent C. O. Gregory. Also employed was health nurse, Mrs. Bud Comber.

FLOYADA — The Floyd County Pioneer's reunion will be held Monday, May 28, and the outline of former programs will be followed, according to Hollums, president of the organization, announced.

CROSBYTON — Crosbyton's planning and development commission has recommended to the city council a complete revamping of the city street design. They suggest Fourth street be changed to Main street and Main street to North street.

HAMLIN — Jose Santiago, a resident of Hamlin county for the past 34 years, observed his 103rd birthday Monday, March 19. He is the youngest of 12 children and only known survivor in his family.

JUNCTION CITY, ORE., TIMES: "Secretary of State Rusk is making an all-out effort to swing the American nations into line in an effort to halt the spread of Communism in the western hemisphere... which is a most commendable objective, one of the serious errors toward Communism is being pushed more and more into the discard. This is the time-honored policy of a nation operating on a basis of free enterprise and private ownership of property."

EL DORADO, KANSAS, TIMES: "Senator Goldwater of Arizona... told the Republican committee that the GOP will have to offer voters something different if it hopes to beat the Democrats in 1964. The answer to 'something different' is right under the party's nose if it would only take a deep breath. A platform based on solid government solutions to present day problems that don't lead to chaotic bankruptcy, a cleansing of waste from government departments and a return to sensible management to throw good money after bad, is the soundest different for which the senator yearns."

CHICAGO, ILL., AMA NEWS: "There is always a mousetrap — but you have never seen a happy mouse there."

BROOKVILLE, PA., JEFFERSONIAN DEMOCRAT: "In some kind of an economy(?) drive the United States Post Office Department is clamping down in new terms on mailing technicalities that will practically prevent every citizen in the country and cause them inconvenience and annoyance. But Mr. Khrushchev's Communist propaganda, by the millions of pounds, is still being distributed throughout the United States... Kennedy says we shouldn't stop it... doing so may be an obstacle to the distribution of U. S. mail in the Union! My, oh my!"

THIS IS THE COMMITTEE which will select the winners for the academic awards given by the Daughters of the Pioneer Club. Standing, left to right, W. A. Carnes, science teacher; M. W. Kerr, principal; Dr. Lee Vardy, superintendent; T. W. Kurz, counselor. Seated in the same order, Mrs. L. O. Kenney, math teacher; Mrs. R. H. Todd Jr., chairman and club representative; Mrs. Matha Brown, social sciences; and Mrs. T. C. Martin, English.

Daughters of the Pioneer Study Club to Give 16 Academic Awards

Daughters of the Pioneer Study Club will be awarding 16 sweater awards annually, beginning next September to students of high academic standing.

Eight awards will be given to boys and eight to girls and will be in four fields, mathematics, science, English and social sciences. Four of these awards will go to sophomores and four to members of the junior class.

Winners of these awards will be determined only on the basis of the results of a standardized achievement test in the chosen subject. In this way, the pressure will be taken off the teacher and the committee as well as avoid a possible personality clash and any unfairness to any one student.

The projects committee of the club composed of Mrs. Cecil Scott, Mrs. Earl Reasoner and Mrs. Martha Brown presented the project to the club to be voted on after much study and planning had been made.

A committee composed of one club member to act as chairman, the superintendent of the school, the principal, counselor and one representative from each of the four departments of the high school, the representatives were designated by the superintendent, will select the winners.

Awards will be made by the club at an assembly program and in case there is a tie, two sweaters will be awarded.

These sweaters will cost approximately $15 each, making a total cost of $240 annually.

of "the softening phone" the Communist have made them to believe.

"What my people need in Mexico is not money, but the knowledge of America, and the American people are not being told about our democratic way of life, but at the same time they are being harassed with Communist propaganda," he declared.

"The Russians are coming 15,000 miles to find Mexico with their propaganda and Communist doctrines, and the American people — right or wrong — are doing nothing to counteract their work.

"Not only are the people of this great country doing nothing to repel the Mexican propaganda, but you are actually aiding the Communist cause every time a newspaper headline in Mexico — and there are many — reports a prejudiced act against a Mexican citizen here," Gomez said.

The speaker described a movement to start in Mexico to help the Mexican people find out for themselves that people of the United States really mean to be good neighbors and not to be harassed by the Communists there.

"And don't think the Mexicans are able to read the books you send," he concluded. "They are taught in all the schools here. They are taught to be accepted by the United States as good neighbors, because I know — and the time you all should realize — that if Mexico goes into Communist hands, they will be able open for their final move into the United States."

Revival Scheduled for Fall Week At Slalom First Baptist Church

Revival services will be conducted at the First Baptist church in Slalom during the week beginning Sunday April 11. Rev. Charles Wood, pastor, announced this week.

He said the guest speaker would be Dr. Ralph M. Smith, pastor of the First Baptist church in Austin, Virgil Cole, former minister of music at the Slalom First Baptist church, will lead the song services and will conduct the choir in special music for each of the revival services. He is currently minister of music at the First Baptist church in Andrews.

Morning services will be conducted Monday through Friday at 10 a. m. and evening services during the revival will begin at 7:30 each evening during the week, Rev. Smith said.

A nursery will be provided for each service.

The pastor said the First Baptist church has set a goal of 400 in Sunday School and
