Slaton's American Legion Baseball Team Wins Two Games, 9-6, 11-8

Slaton's American Legion baseball team played two practice games last week against Lubbock American Legion teams, as a warm-up for their first home scheduled game with Lubbock Bell Check, Wednesday, June 17.

In the first game, Wednesday, June 10, Slaton took on the Alderson White Sox defeating them by a score of 9 to 6. Leading the hitters this game was Cummings who got a single and a three run home run. Taylor and Allen each got singles and Sumrall came up with a stand-up double.

Saturday saw Slaton meeting the Benton's Bandits taking another win by a score of 11 to 8. The big gun for Slaton in Saturday's game was Comer who got two singles and a home run. Other hitters were Vickers, Claiborne, Wheeler, Hernandez, Gregg and Allen, each with a single. These two practice games left Slaton with a three win and one loss record for the season.

Following Wednesday's game with Bell Check, Slaton will travel to Levelland for a game there, Saturday, June 20, game time 8 p. m. Wednesday, June 24, Slaton meets Denver City at PONY League Park, Slaton.

Bill Ball Gets Appointment; To Be Effective On July 1st

The Slaton Chamber of Commerce has named Bill Ball as manager of the organization, effective July 1.

Ball a veteran in local civic activities, will handle executive responsibilities of the chamber and represent it in area speaking engagements, etc. Mrs. R. D. Bisbee, who has been filling the post of chamber secretary, will continue in that job as the new appointment will not effect her work.

Ball will formulate a program, which will be announced at a later date, to be effective when his appointment matures. Numerous details must be worked out between now and July 1, he pointed out, at which time he expects to have a statement prepared for publication.

Robert Hall Davis, president of the chamber, said, "we feel fortunate in being able to obtain the services of Bill Ball, who is familiar with both the potential and problems of the community. He is acquainted with residents not only in Slaton but in the surrounding area as well. The chamber felt that, with his background of service in the community, it would be more advantageous to name him the new manager as opposed to some 'outsider'."

Ball is associated with his father in a men's wear business here and has spent a large amount of time working on various civic projects in Slaton. His activities were so outstanding in 1958, for example, that he was named Slaton's outstanding citizen.

zen by the chamber. He is married; wife's name is Evelyn, and the father of three boys, Steve, 14, Mike, 12, and Bobby, 9.

For the past few years, Ball has been chairman of the Chamber's Publicity and Advertising Committee, and before served on what is now called the Parks and Recreation Committee. He was one of the founders of Slaton's Town Value Stamps organization and has taken part in many improvement activities for the community.

Slaton To Have A Modern Bowling Club This Summer

Work was started last Monday on a 75 x 150 building at a location just north of the Pony League Park on 20th street, also known as Farm Road 400, that will, when completed, be the home of the Slaton Bowling Club.

The building will be of concrete block construction and will be modern in every way, with central air conditioning for winter and summer, and will have 12 alleys, all with automatic pin spotters and ball returns. There will be a snack bar and lockers and the latest scoring devices. The accommodations will be "second to none," according to W. C. (Dub) Williams, who will be associated with his wife in the ownership of the Club.

Williams, who also operates the Williams Buick Agency, reports that he has been encouraged by a large number of people to provide a bowling club for Slaton and this area, as there is little recreation of any kind available unless those interested in athletics go to Lubbock or some other town distant from here. He believes that people interested in bowling in Wilson and other towns, will want to come to the Slaton Bowling Club as soon as it gets into operation as there will be lots of parking space and the best of accommodations of all kinds.

The contractor expects to have the building ready for occupancy by August 15th. All the equipment is on order and will be here by the time the contractor completes his work. Williams at first considered a downtown location but after surveying other popular bowling alleys decided that one located out of the crowded section of town would be the best. "We hope to make it one of the most popular places in West Texas," said Williams. "For we intend, above everything else, to keep good order and to make it a place that the best families will want to patronize."

Mr. and Mrs. James Jinks of Lefors spent Saturday night visiting her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Combs. Mrs. Nelson W. Koscheki of Lubbock also visited in the Combs home.

GROUND-BREAKING CEREMONY

Mayor Clark Self, representatives of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce and other interested parties took part in ground-breaking ceremonies here Tuesday for Slaton's proposed new bowling allied. W. C. "Dub" Williams, who will operate the new recreational facility, has been the community's Buick dealer for several years. Pictured above are: left to right, Malcolm Bales, who will be superintendent of the building's construction for H. C. Lewis, Lubbock contractor; Williams; Mayor Self; City Secretary J. J. Maxey; David Edwards; Ridjell Lee, architect; Dougie Williams, son of W. C. Williams; Bob Clodfelter of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, and Robert Hall Davis, president of the chamber.

BLFE Local 278 Reviews And Reports

It ain't knowing nothing that does so much harm. It's knowing too much that ain't so.

Wednesday morning, Brother Dean Gilliland and Brother A. L. Miller met with the members and prospective members of the BLFE. The new members were told to be proud to be a member of an organization like the BLFE where all the members have common goals such as job stabilization, adequate and healthy railroads, a living wage, respect, safe and sanitary working conditions. Brother Miller told the members that our hopes for hospitalization plan for the members' wives and children will soon be a reality and the best plan and very inexpensive.

Brother Gilliland, pointed out to the members that our union was blemish free, and was the instrumental factor in making the laboring man's job safe, gave him decent working hours, a right to eat and sleep between trips, adequate take home mon-

Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona—mighty swatsman of the Republican national league—will go to bat in Houston Friday in his national campaign "to unite conservatives of America in an effort to preserve our private enterprise system," according to Claude Cravens of Slaton, member of the Republican State Executive Committee.

Senator Goldwater's spectacular senate race victory over big odds last year put him into the nation's spotlight, made him the GOP "Man of the Hour," and brought him the task to take his straight-from-the-shoulder verbal wallops into other states as head of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee for the all-important 1960 races.

EDITORIALS

As Other People See Us . . .

The Slatonite some weeks ago editorialized on the fact that Slaton has shown vast improvement of its business as well as its residential appearance and now needs a new City Hall to bring the town into the 20th Century.

While resulting comments have been slow in coming in they have been regular and a number of individual have encouraged the promotion of the idea, although none of the City Commissioners have, so far as known, made comment upon the subject.

The remarks of a man whose business, over a long period, has required him to visit Slaton at various times should be interesting to some of these interested in the future of Slaton. He said that he had noticed a most remarkable change in the appearance of the business section, which makes the City Hall stand out, more than it ever did, as a relic of the past. In his mind's eye, he could still picture hitching racks around the building with watering troughs for the horses and other animals that might wander by. The musty odor and the arrangement of the main floor, with its high ceilings and corridors, impressed him, but not favorably, and he wondered why a community that had shown so much faith in the future of their town as to invest so heavily in the individual improvements, could have let the municipality rock along in such a delapidated-looking home.

The City Hall grounds are well kept and as inviting as any town could boast and while taxes are high, in comparison to the years when the building was constructed, the bite on the citizens of Slaton is not so big that each of us could not stand enough to have a modern building.

A new City Hall of the proper design could improve Slaton as nothing else could. The new bank building has added substantially but the City Hall is the outstanding location of the City. It's a nice specimen of the architecture of the gingercake era but it certainly makes one think of Rip Van Winkle.

Head For The Hills And Fast!!

The daily newspapers, radio broadcasting station and T-V have kept the public so agitated so long about the dangers of atomic bombs, the communist and the Berlin situations, as it changes from day to day, that most of us have become callous to all of it. There is no doubt a lot of danger in any and all of the world situations but to most of us it seems useless to keep the entire nation on the edge of panic.

The propaganda tells you in one story that explosion of a fair size atomic bomb would make it perilous to even breathe the air within hundreds of miles for a period of years and another broadcast of news urges every one to have an underground shelter to go to in case of a surprise attack.

Would it be asking too much to inquire what good would it do to hole up until all the food and water had been consumed and then come out only to be exterminated by the atomic poison that still contaminated the air. We are all plenty excited and most of us frightened enough but what can we do. Wolf! Wolf! A. M. J.

It was the great thinker, Thomas Carlisle, who wrote: "Give us, O God, the man who sings at his work. Be his occupation what it may, he is equal to any of those who follow the same pursuit in sullen silence. He will do more in the same time, he will do it better, and he will persevere longer. One is scarcely sensible of fatigue when he marches to music. The very stars are said to make harmony as they revolve in their spheres."

MARK TWAIN SAID:

OLD SAWS: "It is the early bird that catches the worm." Don't be fooled by this absurd saw; I once knew a man who tried it. He got up at sunrise and a horse bit him.

LOVE: When you fish for love, bait with your heart, not your brain.

MAN: Man is the only animal that blushes. Or needs to.

EDUCATION: Training is everything. The peach was once a bitter almond; cauliflower is nothing but cabbage with a college education.

FOREIGNERS: They spell it Vinci and pronounce it Vinchy; foreigners always spell better than they pronounce.

THE CAT: Of all of God's creatures there is only one that cannot be made the slave of the lash. That one is the cat. If man could be crossed with the cat it would improve man, but it would deteriorate the cat.

James L. Russell in The Belton Journal: One type of reducing pill you might try. I forget the name, but when you finish the bottle you have lost about 15 pounds. One slight drawback, you get real nervous and go crazy. Take your pick: be waddly and wise or slim and sappy. Speak in pills, and I insist on doing so because I'm short on subject matter this week, a current drug directory lists 794 new pharmaceuticals ("pills and potions" in our lay language) for 1958. That's a new record there were only 112 new drug combos in the previous record year of 1957.

Unless you regularly take some sort of pills these days you just aren't fashionable. Eventually, I predict, pills taking may replace cigarette smoking as a nervous habit. They may come out with pastel pills to match millady's ensemble, and during a social evening she can placate her palate whenever the occasion seems appropriate or there is a lull in the conversation.

Seriously, I don't mean to detract from the wonderful advance in medicine thru recent drugs, but the necessity for some of this 1958 crop is not entirely clear to me.

One drug fights mental depression (so far, nothing to combat financial depression, or I'd order a bucketful). That's fine, but I understand too much of this makes you "high" then you have to take another drug to depress you again . . . and there you are.

Another 1958 pill is supposed to change the chemistry of your skin and give you a "suntan" without going near the sun. That's cheaper than a vacation, but if everybody can buy these pills and everybody get a tan, nobody is different. Back where we all started, except full of pills.

An oral remedy for itch is a 1958 innovation. To me, that is entirely too vague. Old-fashioned scratching has always been the most satisfactory way to handle an itch. Sometimes scratching is not socially acceptable, depending on the location of the itch, yet there is a certain quiet feeling of self-accomplishment that a general oral remedy would not fulfil. Besides, the average itcher wants quick action. On the other hand, if you simply itch all over, maybe this new drug is advisable, especially if you haven't any friends to help scratch. Not everybody is as fortunate as my Polk County uncle who had the seven-year itch — his wife pitched right in, and they scratched it out in 3 1/2 years.

The Fort Stockton Pioneer quotes figures: There are 35,178 employees of the U. S. State Department—roughly the combined population of Pecos, Reeves and Terrell Counties. The State Department last year had more than $200 million given it by Congress.

Official reports show the care with which this money is spent:

Brain Jewels in The Petersburg Journal: In her troubles with the Communists, Tibet is receiving sympathy from some other nations, but little help. In this respect she is unfortunate in that she has no oil wells or oil deposits.

The crew of our atomic submarine Skate, who roamed around under the North Pole for days, weren't looking for Santa Claus. People who look for him cruise around in Washington. And more's the pity, a lot of them succeed in finding him.

County Agents work to improve production. Government trying to reduce it according to the Ballinger Ledger: County Agent C. T. Parker is conducting a number of experimental tests in this county which should prove to be very interesting. In the past all new crops have been tested at some experiment station and in most cases they are far removed from Rannels county. This year tests are being made on some 20 new varieties of maize, 10 varieties of new cotton and two in sesame. Some of the seed are so new that they will not be on the market for a number of years yet. The tests have been placed on farms in different sections of the county and observers will be able to see first hand just how they grow and produce in Rannels County. The county agent has the cooperation of Extension Service specialists in planting, cultivating and harvesting of the new crops. Strict records will be kept on each variety and during the growing season a number of field trips will be made with all farmers who are interested going along. Fields have been selected that have good roads leading near the new crops and every effort will be put forth to have people show an interest. Every farmer wants the best seed possible and these tests will make it possible for them to see the new variety actually growing side by side with others and also to observe the results at harvest time. Sounds like a good project and one that should pay off in years to come.

SOUNDING BOARD
Sidewalks too wide says the Floyd County Hesperian: Sidewalks too wide. Floydada sidewalks, which in the business district measure upward to 15 feet take up room which should be given the streets, or so we think. One time it was the custom of people to congregate on the streets, chat and talk, and watch the bright lights. Saturday afternoon and during election campaigns you couldn't get down the streets. When the sidewalk ordinance was passed that required walks to be more than 15 feet wide it was good business and logical. But that day has passed. People have too many other interests to take up their time. They do not stand around in groups and chat nor do they have to gather at the bright spots to relieve the ennui. Ten feet, even eight feet is sufficient width for walks now. The remainder of the space taken up with walks could well be put into the streets, make more room for traffic and add to safety and convenience to the public.

into his enterprises knowing that "he who expects nothing shall not be disappointed." Last week he invited me into his garden spot and showed me about two dozen tomato plants that had gone through the hail storm. They looked like roosters with the colic; tails drooping and heads on the ground.

"See those tomatoes," he said, "I gave the ground a thorough treatment of dope that is guaranteed to knock out nematodes, sod web worm and root rot, the soil has been treated with iron, sulphur, solid gold and epsom salts and the plants are extra high-red direct descendants of some tne Queen of Sheba used to have in her garden. Some of the stuff I have mixed and poured on the soil and plants were recommended for one thing and some for other improvements. It is probable that I have spent over fifty cents for each tomato I am going to get, that is if I get tomatoes at all. As I have been trying to raise tomatoes every year for the past ten and have had good crops only three times I do not have any hopes this year, particularly after all the storms, but if I can get some big plants with lots of foliage I'll be happy. To tell the truth I don't care too much for tomatoes and neither does my wife."

Mr. Pack is a gardener of my ilk, only I am concentrating on midget sweet corn. I have no idea what epsom salts will do to tomatoes, but I am contemplating dosing my corn with some. The plants look as if they need some kind of medicine.

One night last week I got so sleepy about nine o'clock I could not hold my eye lids open so I flopped in bed and went into sweet dreams only to wake up at twelve and start twisting and turning. Counting sheep, mules, red-headed women, pop-eyed men and ten dollar bills did no good whatever so I got to telling myself old jokes I had heard in the past. Those about unfortunate people or making fun of misfortunes are not my favorites but I could not help but smile a little to myself, there in the dark, about the one I remembered from years ago about a man who was in the insane asylum. The physician in charge came around one morning and after examining him, told him that he had improved a lot and could write his people he would be allowed to come home in two weeks.

The poor fellow sat down at a table, wrote his letter, addressed his envelope, sealed it and licked his stamp. As he brought it down from his lips a cockroach ran across the envelope and instead of sticking the stamp on the letter he plastered it on the back of the cockroach. When he lifted his finger the stamp ran across the table, down to the floor, up the wall and into a crack. Watching his stamp disappear he said to himself, "go home in two weeks, why I'll be lucky to get there in two years."

If you will take checks for a hundred dollars or more for deposit over to the Citizen State Bank any morning while the cashier looks it over, smells it and tastes it to see if it is good, you may get an invitation to the back if you sniff the air and mention that you smell coffee brewing. At first when they started this service the local monied folks seemed greatly pleased to be greeted with such generous gestures, but now T. A. Worley tells me that some of them want bacon and eggs as well as doughnuts and brownies. They are considering adding such accommodations with the hope of attracting accounts as far away as Lubbock. Things like this are what make Slaton grow, not so much in number, but in bulk.

Like a lot of folks who are shaky in the knees, stiff in the back and mean in disposition, I am more in the habit of looking back to the good old days and thinking about how good fried pies used to taste along with good old lye hominy, sweet potatoes roasted in ashes, sweet pickles made of little onions, cauliflower and tiny cucumbers that came in a keg at the grocery store and cost a nickle a little boat full, and milk shakes made in a fruit jar. But lately I have been giving sad thought to what folks will have to look forward to. From present indications nothing will be brought to the table that has not been frozen for at least two years. Nourishment will be given in the form of vitamins pumped through a hypodermic needle, there will be no use for teeth, either false or real, and legs will be of little use to anyone except women who show themselves off strolling around the square with short, short, shorts. The automobiles will be so thick that there will be only standing room and children three years old will know more about the birds and bees than I do now. Personally I don't think it is worth waiting for—sour grapes perhaps.

The Slatonite has installed another linotype machine and Joel Combs, the publisher is as proud as his wife would be of wall to wall carpeting. In fact, she has been suggesting carpeting for several weeks. There are many advantages to wall to wall carpeting. It never breaks down once you get it installed, it is soft and luxurious to your feet when you get up in the morning, it makes a good impression on visitors and what in the world can you say for another linotype. No doubt Mrs. Combs is right and what'll you bet that there is not some carpeting sold before long.

No rest for this Chevy... round the clock the engine never stops!

At Washington's bustling National Airport, Allied Aviation Fueling counts on its radio-equipped Chevy to get crews and tank trucks to the right planes at just the right time. Aside from occasional time out for the usual service, its Thrift-master 6-cylinder engine has been running 24 hours a day for the past 9 months!

Once you've got that kind of endurance working you don't worry much about lost job time. Breakdowns go out of style the day your Chevy goes into action.

The fact is, Chevrolet trucks are dead set on dropping the word "downtime" right out of the English language. And they just might, if precision engineering and top-quality materials have anything to say about it. Chevy trucks are put together to stay together—incorporating the most advanced chassis developments, the most efficient 6-cylinder and V8 engine designs. Rural Traffic Accidents In May Summarized

The rural traffic accident summary for Lubbock county for the month of May, 1959, was released today by Sergeant E. L. Stroud, Highway Patrol Service, Texas Department of Public Safety.

The Highway Patrol investigated a total of 22 accidents of which 12 were property damage, 10 personal injury, and 0 fatal accidents. These accidents caused a total property damage of $13,375 with no persons killed and 19 injured.

"Traffic accidents take no vacation," the Sergeant said, "and with the Texas and national traffic toll on the climb, to stay safe we must step up our vigilance on the road." "During the vacation months, thousands of motorists are on the highways, and too many of them are intent on cramming as much activity as they can into one brief vacation," Sergeant Stroud said. "The result is often tragedy."

He cautioned vacationers to be on their guard against speeders, drinking drivers, and drivers who disregard traffic laws. Above all, he warned them to make sure they are never guilty of such offenses themselves.

STRENGTH FOR THE WEEK

WHO IS "CULTURED"?

It is high time that we had a fresh examination of that word, "culture." Too long has culture meant college degrees, ability to talk about art and literature, seaborne trips abroad, and proficiency in etiquette. Now all these are perfectly desirable and profitable, but they do not constitute culture. Two of the most highly litenate nations of the world have lately plunged it into an agony of blood and tears. And plenty of individuals who have all the assets listed above are grand recals and crooks supreme.

set forth a different standard of culture: "He that ruleth his spirit (is better) than he that taketh a city" (Prov. 16-32). Now we still glory in taking a city, the spectacular, the sensational things. It makes the headlines. It summons the news reporters. It gets into the news reels. But God rates highest the man who rules his spirit.

The really cultured person is the person with a cultivated soul. "The soul of progress is the progress of the soul." God would have us prosper only as our soul prosper. III John 2: "Beloved, I wish above all things that thou mayest prosper and be in good health, even as thy soul prospereth. There are plain poor people who cross our paths to shame us along this line. They have none of our proud marks of culture but they are cultured. It is possible that the shine boy is more cultured than the majority of his customers; or the elevator girl who has more culture than most of the mortals she hauls up and down in the hotel. Many would be insulted if told this, but their culture won't begin to compare. Some of them are very smart and can talk about subjects supposed to require intelligence, but they are not cultured. Their souls are measly and undernourished and some of them are vicious and evil-tempered and selfish and sour. They may talk some of the language of the cultured but they are ignorant and coarse in their souls. But the shine boy or the elevator girl may have the right spirit of culture. Their hearts are high and their manners declare a deeper loveliness than education, money, or travel can ever bestow.

But I do not speak of near self-control. Some rule themselves with an iron will, live very decently, make themselves shun the wrong and do the right, but it is not culture. When Jesus was on earth, His bitterest enemies were religious folk who thought themselves very cultured spiritually. They knew the Scriptures, were steeped in tradition, kept a strict code of morals, prayed in public, gave a tenth of their income to God, and were so rigorously correct that they could not even eat an egg that had been laid on the Sabbath. But their spirits were all wrong. They thought they saw, but were blind. Then Jesus came with a different sort of culture. And He reminded His hearers that unless their righteousness exceeded that of these scribes and Pharisees, they could not enter into the kingdom of heaven.

The truly cultured are those who have come to Jesus for salvation and are following Him. He lives in their hearts, and as they yield to and obey Him, His Spirit controls them, and they become daily more like Him. The Holy Spirit produces in them love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance, which are the marks of culture. Will you notice that there is nothing very sensational about these graces. They do not make the headlines.

The Book of Books

Does the Bible mean to you all that its Author desires for it to mean?

Why not seek the answer to this question by reading a portion of it each day, and by going to church regularly where you may study it with others and hear its message declared from the pulpit? If you will do this, soon life will have a marvellous new meaning for you.

Alice Freeman Palmer once stated three rules for happiness, which everyone can understand and follow. Here they are:

1. Learn something useful every day—a great hymn, a lovely poem, a Bible verse. Nourishment for life comes from enduring words.
2. See something beautiful every day. There is more beauty in the world than ugliness if our eyes become trained to see it. One day last summer I stopped to gather some roadside flowers, which many people had passed as common weeds. A young girl in the car remarked, "I never saw anything beautiful in them before."
3. Do something helpful every day. Opportunities for kind words and deeds are all about us; our lives must be trained to accept them.

We do our best to be useful beyond the call of duty—and we feel a sincere call of duty to you when you bring your car to us for service... washing, lubrication, tire service and Phillips 66

Around and About Slaton

At last report, Clarence Voight is convalescing well at home from the injury to his left hand which he sustained several weeks ago when all four fingers were amputated by a power lawn mower he was working on.

Dane Shearer was returned home last week from a Lubbock Hospital where he underwent a gall bladder operation.

Last week this column reported that Merle Carrigues is a Lieutenant Colonel in the U. S. Army. We are in serious trouble he is a member of the U. S. Air Force.

All of the Insurance Companies in Slaton are still bogged down with reports and payments on hail and storm losses from the trouble three weeks ago. It is easy to recognize an insurance man by his step ladder limp, caused by climbing on roofs.

An inspection over town shows that more trees have been removed near sidewalk locations than in any season. In fact sidewalks are fast going out of style. To make a call on the next door neighbor requires an automobile these days.

Mrs. Don Crow reports that she has enjoyed some of the features of a vacation, her two older sons have been visiting their grandparents in Fort Worth.

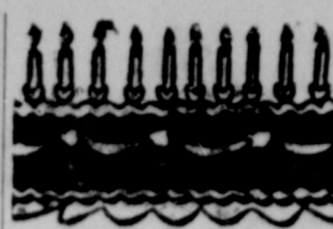

Mature women report a scarcity of summer dresses on the market and many of them look with fear and trembling on the prospect that they will have to appear on the hottest days in winter dresses or in torredor pants or short shorts. Its a frightening situation.

Another fashion trend is in men's shirts. Reports are that dress shirts are not selling in the stores in Slaton near as well as in former years and that sport shirts, some of the most lurid flavors, are gaining fast in the favor of the snappy dressers.

Mr. Will Rogers, former manager and part owner of Buffalo Lakes, reports that he is planting a number of acres of his land in grass and is fertilizing the ground with the assurance that it will yield a good profit for cattle feeding purposes. He looks for this to become a paying industry in the near future. Mrs. Rogers is a niece of L. B. Wootton, former Mayor of Slaton, and the Rogers are frequent visitors at the Wootton home.

Little League Baseball is the big deal down town these days and if you don't know the score you're a pretty ignorant sort of person.

Alex Webb and family have now moved into their new home on 17th street. A. M. J.
