

Library Books Arrive

SEVENTY FOOT SHELF OF BOOKS—all new, and all for the Slaton High School library! Lions Club and school representatives Monday scanned the initial shipment of 258 volumes made possible by an $800 gift from the Lions Club to the school library.

Several volumes yet are to be received, with the Lions gift purchase of some 290 more.

This very sizable addition to the school library is being met as a strong library as a necessary step. We are grateful to this civic organization for making it possible.

Dr. Vardy concluded, "This puts our high school library in top shape; now we can commence working to strengthen the Junior High library as next project."

Band Director Bill Townsend informed us this week that the Slaton School Band made this past Friday at the band hall.

All members of High School Band ordered recordings are to be procured the records at a reduced time. Perhaps some of the members will invite us to listen to their fine work.

I can always tell when I have moved out of radius of a friend of mine. When the distance is close enough to be noticeable I see him regularly.

All-Star selections were announced Friday night as including: Tigers Carlton Bradshaw and Hobby Chapple; Indians Tommy Davis, Billy Kitten; Dodgers Lynn Dodson, Tate Fondy; Giants Gary Henington, Elbert Dee Walston, and Darrell Wilke; Yankees Glen Montgomery, Johnnie Pettie, Claude Strick-

Doc Glasinski says that he has a theory of our government that the majority rules... as an example; Doug stated that the man worked around the clock to get his influence to try to get John F. Kennedy defeated when he was running for the presidency of the United States in 1960. When it was announced that Kennedy had won the election, Glasinski's friend was approached with this question, "Well, what are you going to do about JFK now?" The friend replied, "The majority rules... I'm your president now and I'm going to work as hard as I can for him and my country." Seems like many of us should take that attitude.

Steve Edwards was contesting in the mileage-guessing contest sponsored last week by the boys at Doc Crow Chevrolet. Chevy II was placed on blocks, and the motor started, contests started to guess miles per gallon. Steve, of 936 W. Lynn, submitted 43.5 miles as his estimate, with 43.5 being actual average. The speedometer, incidentally, chalked up 694.5 miles on the tank of fuel, running for 20 hours and 35 minutes, Pat Green wins us.

TEN CENTS

Thriving Crops Brighten Area Economic Outlook

THESE COMMONPLACE SLATON AREA SCENES explain the smiles on busy farmers' faces these days... most crops maturing at fast pace with cooperation of "growing" weather. These Slatonite photos of grain, cotton and corn all were taken within a 3-mile radius of town, but county-wide the picture is the same. The extremely warm days have necessitated irrigation on many farms, but all in all, the crop outlook is much better than a few weeks ago when all talk was of late planting as result of rains at the time.

NEW CITY EMPLOYEES

Ray Odum has commenced his duties as custodian at the Slaton City Hall, and Mrs. Dixie Johnson is a new employee in the secretary's office.

Chamber of Commerce Takes Stand Against Trinity River Development

Chamber of Commerce director in regular meeting here Tuesday evening, went on record vigorously opposing the Trinity River Development Project, specifically in regards to its canalization phase to be financed with taxpayers' money.

The Slaton action came only one day before a special Lubbock C. of C. meeting at which proponents of the project from the Dallas-Fort Worth area, appeared in favor of the program.

Of total first costs of the navigation project, $515,331,000 is estimated for locks and other facilities, and the U. S. Engineers have estimated that in addition to the initial cost, there would be annual charges of $2,837,000 every year for 100 years.

Other transit media (rails, pipelines, truck lines, etc.) have been active in opposing the government-financed project.

The Slaton group voted to send Dr. Lee Vardy, as local representative, to attend a public hearing on the proposal to be held in Austin on Tuesday, July 30th, this hearing conducted by the Texas Water Commission.

The Slaton organization also is urging local citizens and merchants to write proper authorities voicing opposition to the measure.

In other action, the directors continued with plans to erect two new signs on the traffic island on the west side of the square in Slaton, these to read "Welcome to Slaton" and "Hope to See You Again."

Present at the Tuesday night session were President Ed Williams, Secretary Julia Bisbee, and directors W. A. Heinrich, Bob Clodfelter, Don Kendrick, Robert Huser, Dr. Lee Vardy and Earl Eblen.

Installation Of Officers Held By Jaycee Groups

The local Jaycees and Jaycee-ettes held their annual installation party Saturday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Gravell, with officers for both organizations being installed.

Named to head the Jaycee-ettes were Jerry Draper, president; Janis King, vice-president; Patty Melcher, secretary-treasurer; and De Etta Jones, historian.

Installed by the Jaycees were Bobby Jones, president; Laurence King, external vice-president; Jerald Draper, internal vice-president; Wayne Banks, secretary-treasurer; and directors Fred Melcher and Eddie Gravell.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence King, Mr. and Mrs. Jerald Draper, Mr. and Mrs. Jerald Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Gravell, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Melcher. Chips and dips were offered as refreshments.

The August meeting of the Jaycee-ettes will be held in the home of Mrs. Wayne Banks.

Seeking An Acorn Merchant?

Squirrels are commonly known to have an affinity for nuts, but in case of the squirrel scampering up and down the hot sidewalk in downtown Slaton Tuesday, passers-by remarked that it was a case of Mr. Squirrel being nuts!

Where did he come from? That is a good question. But the scared little fellow raced up and down the sidewalk on the west side of the square for several minutes, finally turning into Findley's Jewelry. There he wrecked plain havoc! Leaping into the show window, it effected a thorough job of disarray before it finally was herded out of the window and on out the rear door.

Anyone missing a squirrel?

Locals Fight In Babe Ruth Play

The Slaton Babe Ruth League All-Stars defeated Levelland Tuesday night in district play to the tune of 5-4, earning the right to engage Post in tournament play Wednesday night. Results of that game were unknown at presstime.

Winner of the Slaton-Post encounter is to play the winner of the Lamesa-Tri City game on Thursday night, and the winner there will have to play Brownfield at 6 p. m. Friday and again at 8:30 p. m. the same day by virtue of this being a double elimination tourney.

The Levelland tournament winner will go to San Antonio to participate in the state tournament commencing next Monday and Slaton still had a chance Tuesday to cop that honor, having their work cut out for them to do so—needing to four games in a row to win the grade.

Slaton's first tournament encounter Saturday night resulted in a 2-1 win over Levelland winning run coming in the inning. Kitten went all the way on the pitch a 2-hitter.

Eclipse Visible Over Area, Nation

Partial eclipse of the sun will be visible in the South Plains area this Saturday for approximately a 1-hour period. Reports indicate that 45% of the sun will be obscured here, the path of total eclipse trailing across Alaska and southern Canada through Maine.

Dr. J. W. Belote, local optometrist, joins in the nation-wide appeal for all viewers to guard against catastrophic eye damage as they enjoy the phenomenon.

On April 8, 1959, 170 Australians—principally school children—suffered permanent retinal damage and partial loss of central vision in watching an eclipse of the sun. Similar eye damage may be anticipated over most of North America on July 20, the date of our next solar eclipse.

There is real risk of eye damage in viewing an eclipse according to Dr. Belote. Makeshift methods include dark photographic negatives, glass that has been smoked over a candle, or a card with a pinhole opening. None of these devices is completely safe. Looking directly into the sun, even for a few seconds, involves the possibility of permanent retinal damage. Unfortunately, sun glasses are no answer to the problem.

A piece of photo film, overexposed on its entire surface and developed, provides adequate protection.

A safe alternative is a pinhole camera. Punch a clean hole in one end of a shoe box with a pin or needle. In a darkened room, aim the pinhole directly at the sun. On the inside surface of the other end of the box, you can see a clearly defined solar image.

In a completely darkened room, the greater the distance, the less the illumination. A pinhole works like a lens of universal focus but the greater the distance, the less the illumination. The size of the disc will be 1/100th of the projection distance.

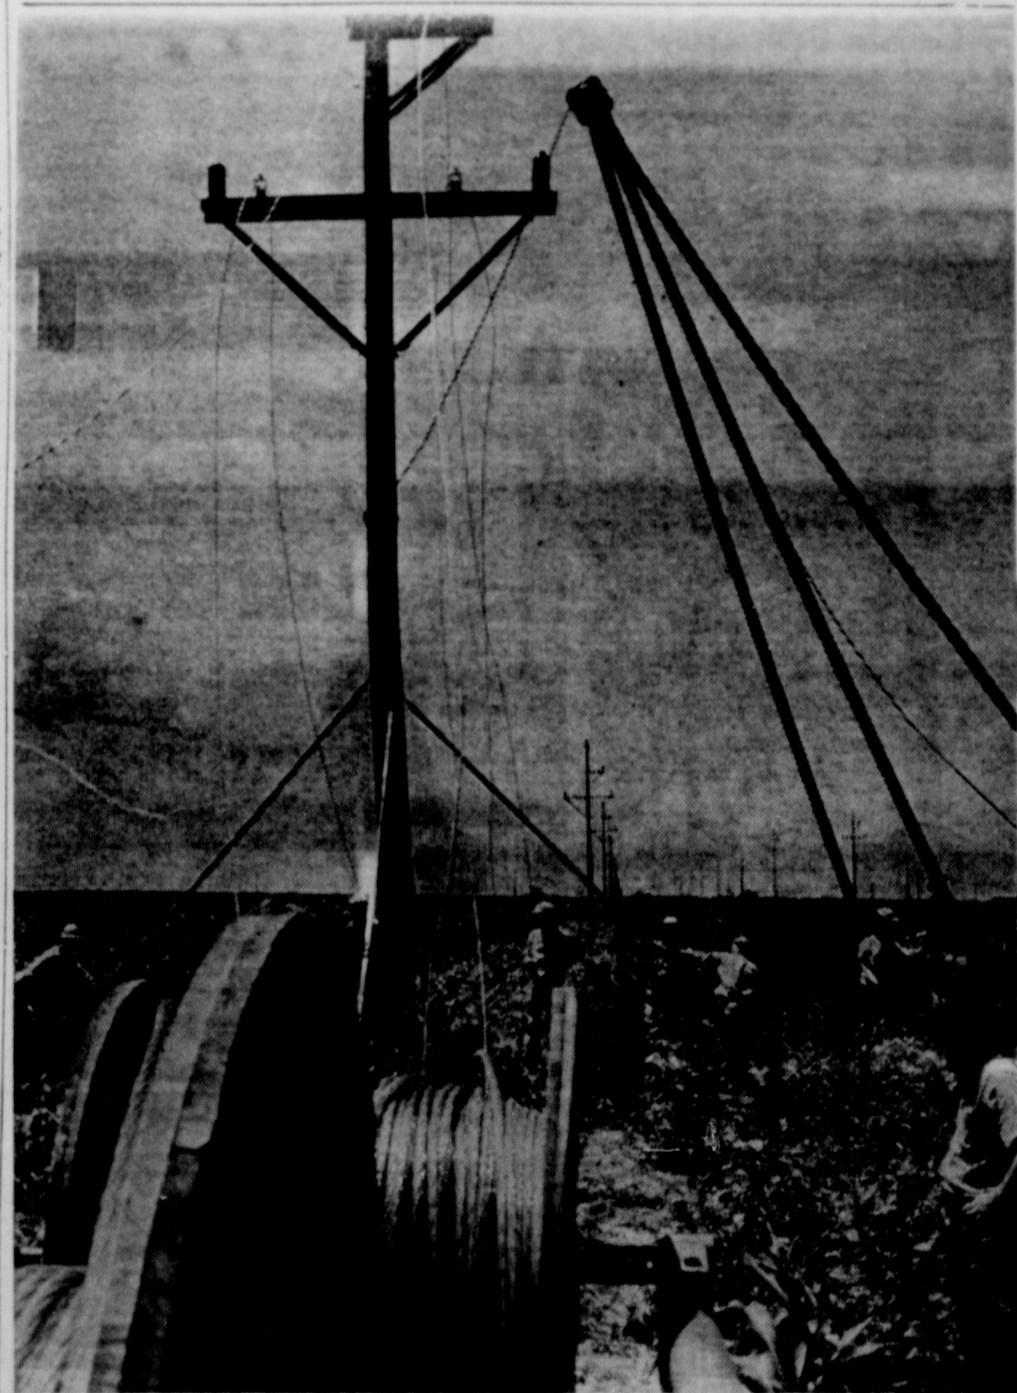

A solar eclipse has a deservedly popular appeal according to Dr. Belote. He emphasizes that it should be an opportunity for us to extend our knowledge of the universe, but not an occasion for damaging our precious vision.

-WEATHER-

Highest weekly temperature average of the season is the story this week, daytime highs averaging 95 degrees, nighttime lows averaging 70 degrees. But still the thermometer hasn't hit 100 locally!

Day to day temperature extremes, as recorded by the Pioneer Natural Gas Company, have been:

Thursday 72-96
Friday 72-94
Saturday 72-97
Sunday 66-90
Monday 70-94
Tuesday 68-98
Wednesday 73-97
Moisture in amount of .20 inch fell locally over the weekend to bring the year total to 18.40 inches.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

Observations and Potpourri

If a nation expects to be ignorant and free in a state of civilization, it expects what never was and never will be... where the press is free and every man able to read, all is safe.

—Thomas Jefferson

We maintain that most "good jobs" are accomplished because of the challenge motive. Not only do we believe this applies to the pioneers of industry and science, adventurers and discoverers, but also to the man at his daily job.

In our own profession, we can assure you that the young apprentice who experiences and recognizes a challenge is the lad whom we will aid, fully expecting to hear good reports of him throughout the years.

But how must we reconcile the "challenge" factor with the hue and cry for cradle to the grave security? On every hand we hear the latter extolled as the ultimate desire of most folks. Is this true? Wherein lies the challenge and ultimate satisfaction? Maybe the challenge is to be found in trying to find satisfaction in lifetime security!

Of the many weeks observed throughout the year, we submit that Farm Safety Week (July 21-27) is one of the most important and most neglected.

For that reason we are emphasizing the farm hazards, preventatives and admonitions that accompany full recognition of this special week. After all, for many years farming has ranked as the third most hazardous occupation, only mining and construction having higher death rates. Farming is a High-Hazard Industry.

In general the death rate from farm accidents has followed national trends, decreasing steadily since the turn of the century.

But where the rate on farms was once below the national average, in recent years it has been higher. And the difference appears to be increasing. In 1961, when the national rate fell to an all-time low of 50.4 deaths per 100,000 population, the farm average rose to 58.8.

National Farm Safety Week, July 21-27, is an opportune time to examine the record to learn where farm safety falls down.

National Safety Council statistics show that motor vehicle, home and public accidents—the three largest accident categories nationally—hit farm residents about as hard as the rest of the country.

It is in work safety that farming lags behind. Work accidents are second only to motor vehicle accidents among farm residents, comprising 31 per cent of the total.

Other industries have developed safety procedures that have made work accidents the smallest of all four categories—accounting for 15 per cent of the nation's accident toll. These same procedures, put to work on the farm, can bring farm safety back into line with the national record.

A farmer must be many kinds of a craftsman. He often is called on to be a carpenter, an electrician, a mechanic. He uses fuels, chemicals, fertilizers, and many different kinds of machines.

To work safely he must know and follow the safe practices developed in many different industries.

In most industries, employees' mistakes are noticed and corrected immediately. But much of farm work is done away from direct observation and supervision. Too often, an unsafe act, unseen and unrecognized, becomes a habit instead of being corrected promptly. These bad habits must be discovered and replaced with proper methods.

National Farm Safety Week is not a week in which to be more careful, then to be forgotten until next year. Instead it is a time to examine work habits, to compare methods with those proved effective in other industries, and to seek out better and safer ways to do our jobs.

NATIONAL FARM SAFETY WEEK JULY 21-27, 1963

AS YOU SOW ... SO SHALL YOU REAP

Accident prevention is a year-round job. An official "week" is simply a reminder that emphasizes the importance of that job.

Every week should be Farm Safety Week.

The Meaning of Justice

A lot of furor is being created these days over the question of equal rights—or justice—for Negroes.

We have long believed that the colored race in this country has not received all that it should have in the way of justice. But in the attitude of some leaders of the race, and that of others concerned for one reason or another with improving its lot, there is little promise of improvement.

We refer to a recent statement of Martin Luther King, who has a habit of cropping up in the midst of demonstrators and inciting them to something more than peaceable and lawful assembly.

Asked recently by President Kennedy to halt such demonstrations while proposed civil rights legislation is being considered by Congress, King refused.

Prior to his audience with the President on Saturday, King had told a desegregation rally in Gadsden, Ala., Friday night, "It is not against the law to break unjust laws."

It seems the fallacy in his reasoning should be apparent to anyone even remotely concerned with justice. If this line of reasoning were followed, it would subvert the entire judicial system, purpose of which is to determine what is just or unjust, legal or illegal.

By King's way of looking at it, it would be alright for anybody to break a law if he himself considered it to be unjust. Trouble is, too many people are concerned only with justice for themselves, and not necessarily with justice for other people.

His statement shows no consideration for the true meaning of justice, which is "justice for all."

The irony of Mr. King's ill-advised statement is that Governor Barnett of Mississippi and Wallace of Alabama harbor similar sentiments regarding what is just and unjust.

The "All-Important" Image

Been worried about that awful image we are creating the "foreign" mind by our racial troubles at home. The friction is bad enough, but it also points out a difference the U. S. A. and our friendly co-exiter, Russia.

Dr. Bryant M. Wedge, director of the Institute of Study of National Behavior, Princeton, N. J., tells Birmingham race riots do not necessarily spoil the U. S. image abroad. Criticism of the U. S. on the specific segregation should not be confused with criticism of the U. S. as a whole he said.

Although reports of riots and violence are picked up and circulated the issue of race relations is often recognized "an understandable social problem," Dr. Wedge said.

Latin Americans and Africans are struck by the freedom in Russia, Dr. Wedge explained. U. S. riots, "indicate the presence of freedom." Propaganda spread by those unfriendly to American interest do not fool them.

Paradoxically, those who criticize must have a "good image" of the U. S., Dr. Wedge found.

Somebody better shut this old boy up. He's ruining our image makers image of our image to the rest of the world.

Midge Threatens Sorghum, Agronomists Say

Infestation is spreading in grain sorghum fields in the area, Delbert Langford, associate agronomist with the Slaton office, has alerted farmers to protect their crops. Langford states that this insect can completely eliminate a grain crop.

Infestations have invaded the Plains Research Foundation's first test plot in an appearance this year. The Midge itself does not do any damage, but its eggs in the bloom of the sorghum head. As the grain grows, it eats the grain, leaving only an empty hull.

Midge can best be eliminated by spraying with DDT prior to and during the flowering stage. The first spray should be made about the time the head emerges from the boot. Some of the recommended sprays are Endrin, Sevin, and Dieldrin. Farmers should consult local dealers for application methods.

Plants sown with plantings of 1962 and earlier, there has been damage to grain sorghum due to an early planting date, and having the grain stored by the Midge prior to harvest. Some farmers planted early this year in an attempt to get the grain harvested before the Midge. This infestation is about one year earlier than in 1962.

Langford says that the infestation will keep building up and that the damage to the crop will be more than in 1962.

Peace Corps Test Slated July 20 At Lubbock Site

Another Peace Corps placement will be administered at Lubbock beginning at 8:30 a. m. on July 20. Location is Room 16A, Post Office Building.

The non-competitive test must be taken by anyone interested in becoming a Peace Corps Volunteer. This will be the last test opportunity for persons who hope to enter training for a Peace Corps assignment in September or October.

Those selected for training will spend 10 to 12 weeks on a college campus or at a Peace Corps camp in Puerto Rico, studying the language, history and culture of their host country, and American affairs.

Volunteers agree to serve two years in the Peace Corps, including training time. The minimum age for Volunteer service is 18. There is no upper age limit, and a number of persons in their seventies are among the 5,000 Volunteers now serving in 45 nations.

Married couples may serve if they have no dependents and if both husband and wife qualify for the same project.

Language training is helpful for those interested in becoming Volunteers, but more than a fourth of the Peace Corps' present Volunteers never had studied a language previously.

Liberal arts graduates and others with a "general" education have performed so well in teaching and community development programs that the Peace Corps is seeking more persons with this type of background.

The Peace Corps also has requests for persons with skills in agriculture, public health, forestry, carpentry and other building skills, social work and education of all types and at all levels. Other nations have asked the Peace Corps to provide Volunteers possessing more than 200 job skills. A college degree is not required.

The Peace Corps pays all of a Volunteer's expenses and furnishes administrative support to him abroad. The Volunteer receives, at the completion of his service, a readjustment allowance of $75 for each month of satisfactory service.

The placement test which is to be given July 20 consists of a half-hour section on general aptitude and another of the same length on modern language aptitude. Candidates with a background in French or Spanish must take an additional one-hour proficiency test. The Peace Corps placement test now being administered replaces a longer one which requires four to eight hours to complete.

SOUTH AMERICAN VISITORS
Visiting with the Bob Kern family at 905 W. Garza last week were Mr. and Mrs. Don Edwards and children Amy, Dean and Ben, all of Talara, Peru.

The Edwards family has been living in South America for more than five years; he is in instructor in an oil company school there.

Work accidents rang second only to motor vehicle accidents among farm residents, according to the National Safety Council. For the nation as a whole, work accidents are the smallest of the four accident categories.

Telephone Calls Over Light Beam Is Foretold Here

Some day it may be commonplace for telephone calls to be sent over a beam of light traveling through tiny pipes, or for television programs to reach you "live" from distant lands. These and other developments were explained in Slaton last Thursday in a program before the Rotary Club.

The program was presented by Glenn Scott, public information supervisor for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Scott said millions of telephone conversations can be sent simultaneously over a small beam of light as a result of the invention of a device called the optical maser.

The maser was developed by scientists at Bell Telephone Laboratories in what is regarded as a major scientific breakthrough. The maser produces coherent light, which has qualities that make it valuable for communications purposes and has applications in a number of other fields, as well.

Scott said that light is essential in the operation of Teletar, the Bell System communications satellite. Light from the sun, transformed by solar cells into electrical energy, powers the satellite and makes it possible for it to relay telephone conversations, television and other signals to distant receiving stations.

Paperback Books For Army Troops Being Solicited

Collection of 5,000 paperback books for use by Army troops on maneuvers at Fort Hood, Texas, has been asked by the Lubbock County Chapter of the American Red Cross, according to Bob Nash, chapter chairman.

During the period mid-July to mid-September, thousands of Army active, reserve and National Guard troops will train at Fort Hood.

Nash asked that anyone wishing to donate used paperback books should deliver them to the Red Cross office at 2109 Broadway. Nash said that the Army asked that only pocket-size books be sent and that no magazines or comic books be included.

Farm Safety Fillers

Mrs. Adams is a former Joan Pember of Slaton.

The Adams family soon will leave for the east coast where they will embark for his new assignment in Puerto Rico. They have remarked on the change of climate they are to expect; their entire wardrobe designed for cooler Newfoundland climate will need to be replaced by one more suited for Puerto Rico!

Before going to their new assignment, they plan to make a trip to Camp Summer Life, near Taos, N. M., to visit Bruce Pember Jr., who is a counselor at camp there.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marriott were at Carlsbad, N. M., over the week-end visiting the Bill Eads family.

Farm accidents killed 8,700 in 1961—one every hour.

June Report Is Released By Police Dept.

Seven traffic accidents involving estimated $1760.00 damage were investigated by the local police department during June, according to the month-end report issued by Gene Martin, chief of police.

Twenty-eight traffic arrests were made, and 28 tickets were given netting $266.00 in collected fines. Driving in a dangerous manner headed the list of infractions, followed by no drivers license.

Total offenses reported to the department during June totaled 48, with 34 of these cleared by month's end. Simple assault headed this list, with 9 incidents alleged.

Seventy-seven jail arrests were made, 41 of these being for drunk, and each of the other categories totaling less than a half dozen infractions. Total fines collected were in amount of $1285.00, with $345 additional "laid out."

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

County tax assessor-collectors are meeting here to try to untangle the poll tax puzzle.

It seems that the Legislature created a snarl which will hit the county tax assessor-collector about October 1. That's the date when people begin paying poll taxes and getting exemption certificates.

In a special election on November 9, voters will decide whether or not they want to repeal the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting.

If they repeal it, a new law will go into effect, setting up a 25c registration fee.

To make matters more complicated, the November 9 vote really would not repeal the poll tax. In theory, it still would be due and payable. But not many are expected to pay the tax if the voting privilege is removed from it.

If the tax assessor-collectors solve their problem this fall, by waiting until after November 9 to fill out and mail poll tax receipts, they may face another crisis in the spring. This because 36 states already have passed a proposed amendment to the U.S. Constitution outlawing the poll tax as a requirement for voting for president, vice-president, U.S. Senators and congressmen.

In January, Arizona and South Dakota legislatures will meet and if they pass the amendment, it could be carried to law. In that event a provision by the Texas Legislature would set up a system by which voters would apply to their harrassed county tax assessor-collector for special registration certificates—at no charge—to vote on races involving only federal offices.

Pool Halls Get New Status
Townspople who have had trouble in the past trying to set curfews on pool halls, because the pool parlors are illegal, can look to one bright side of a law that will become effective on August 23rd.

City governments then will be able to set curfews because on that date the pool halls will become legal operations in Texas.

Citizens Committee Come To End
A legislative "rider" in the 1964-65 state budget bill prohibits payment of travel expenses to members of the citizens' advisory committee which meets with the State Board of Education.

This has caused the board to bid goodbye to the system which Herbert O. Willborn of Amarillo calls "one of the strengths of this administration."

Rider approved expense of advisory committees on textbooks and teacher examiners, but cut as they attend.

Commissioner of Education J. W. Edgar remarked that the practice of using "grassroots" committees of citizens interested in education "has been the lifeblood of this agency." But he discouraged suggestions that volunteer help be used if committeemen were willing to pay their own travel expenses. He said such a practice would go against the Legislature's intent and cause committees to be dominated by special-interest groups.

Riders on appropriations bills are written at the bottom of budgets for individual state agencies. It is not unusual for such riders to go unnoticed, by the lawmakers, especially, when voting on bulky budget bills.

Another Junior College
Board of Education has authorized a Travis County junior college election.

But it turned down an application for a Scurry-Fisher County junior college. Turndown came after a committee said the oil-rich area could not afford a college, but could not dig up enough students to meet state board requirements.

In its refusal report the committee, headed by former State Senator Penrose Metcalf of San Angelo, implied that the board may change its criteria for establishing junior colleges after the Governor's Committee on Education Beyond the High School makes its recommendations in August of 1964.

Currently, the board requires proof that taxpayers in the district can support a public junior college. But it also requires a minimum of 500 students.

Redistricting Suit Set
Talk of a special legislative session perked up as a federal court in Harris County set a September 23 hearing of a Republican sponsored congressional redistricting lawsuit.

Texas' 58th Legislature tried to set a formula for congressional redistricting. But a token bill died in the final minutes of the session. Some who opposed it said they would rather let the federal courts settle the matter. Others said they would rather meet in a special session than leave it to federal judges.

State Democratic Chairman Eugene Locke of Austin has asked the court to dismiss the G. O. P. suit.

Veterans Land Brings $$$
Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler said the sale of 82 tracts of forfeited veterans land (totaling 2,223 acres) was "gratifying," since it brought in more than the state's original investment plus taxes paid since foreclosure.

The block of tracts in Zavala, Maverick and Hidalgo counties brought $211,753.84. This included $155,001 from an 886-acre unit in Zavala County, which Grady Claude Hogue of Cisco won after some spirited bidding.

Tight Little Island
State Highway Department has discovered an island of Mexico in the heart of El Paso.

Highway department claims that there is a quarter-mile section on U. S. Highway 80 in El Paso where you can drive through Texas and see Old Mexico with one eye and New Mexico with the other eye.

Department says Cordova Island became a Mexican oasis in the Texas city of El Paso under the Guadalupe Hidalgo Treaty of 1848. Treaty provided that artificial changes in the Rio Grande's course would not affect Cordova Island's boundary. Now that the meandering river has changed its course the island is surrounded by American soil.

Migrant School Experiment
Five school districts will be able to take part in a pilot program of six-month school sessions for the children of migrant workers during the 1963-64 school year. That is if the Texas Education Agency can find five districts that can handle the program.

San Benito and Edinburg school districts are ready to participate. McAllen and Parr-San Juan-Alamo districts are readying proposals to submit to the State Board of Education.

Pilot program would be an experiment. Hope is to solve the problem of educating children of migrant laborers who are on the move so much that their youngsters miss almost as much school

Farm Road Mileage Extended
State Highway Commission has approved construction of more than 1,000 new miles of farm-to-market roads in 172 counties at a cost of some $2,000,000.

Completion of the 1963 F.M. road program would bring the state's F.M. system to more than 37,000 miles. That's 13,000 miles short of the commission's ultimate goal of 50,000 miles. Most of the farm roads have been built since 1949.

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer linked development of the system to burgeoning city growth in the state. "Farm and cities will always be inter-dependent,"

he said. "... getting a market is as fundamental as commerce as is the trade between merchant and farmer."

More Workers Work
Texas Employment Commission reports that 3,567,700 the state's estimated population were employed someone other than the during the month of May.

Number of employed up from April's 3,542,200. So too was the estimated population of the state. Population in April was figured as 3,540,000. Thirty day gain in population was 20,000 persons. Employment increased by 25,500 persons.

Lead Farm Accidents, Says Report From Nat'l. Safety Council

...a leading type of accidents—ranking second in motor vehicle accidents—on the farm they are certainly no less important. Because farmers work under such varied conditions, the possibility of falling is perhaps even greater than elsewhere, according to the National Safety Council.

The farm worker must repeatedly climb on and off the machines with which he works. Often he does heavy work in areas with poor footing. He works in all kinds of weather, when frozen or wet ground makes slipping easy. The farmer usually is his own maintenance man and requires the skills of many trades. A bit of oil or grease on a tractor step, a slip on loose straw while working in a loft, a loose or cracked rung on a ladder—these and many other little things can lead to a painful and expensive fall if unnoticed or ignored.

Nor is the home exempt. About two-thirds of the nation's fall deaths are in homes; and the farm home is little different from one in town. Falls happen when you get in too much of a hurry. Then you are likely to pay too little attention to your surroundings, use the wrong equipment for a job, and put off removing tripping hazards. Positive steps that require only a moment if taken immediately will eliminate many causes of falls, says the Council. Keep stairways and passageways clear of clothing, tools, and toys. Protect outdoor steps and Wipe up all spills immediately. Provide adequate lighting in halls and on stairs. Keep a night light burning in or near the bathroom. Prevent falls in bathtubs and showers by installing grab bars and using rubber bathmats. Education, Engineering, and Enforcement have long been the basic elements of safety improvement. On the farm as elsewhere, safety education and enforcement of safety rules are the most difficult to achieve. Mechanical failure rarely is responsible for an accident with modern farm equipment. Nearly every accident results from one operator's mistake.

The inspiration was given by Deborah Cade, Cooper, Duane Walter, Roosevelt, Oleta Bednarz, Slaton, Judy Meador, Roosevelt and Mike Schaffner, Cooper, preceeding a family picnic supper. The group participated in a song fest and volleyball games. Approximately 200 people attended.

Rural Traffic Accidents In County For Half-Year Net 6 Deaths, Heavy Damage Of Property, 104 Injuries

The Highway Patrol investigated 30 rural traffic accidents in Lubbock County during the month of June according to Sergeant C. C. Guthrie, Patrol Supervisor of this area. These wrecks accounted for one person killed, 20 persons injured, and an estimated property damage in the amount of $17,456.00. The Sergeant stated that this brings the total for the year thus far in Lubbock County to 194 accidents that claimed six lives, injured 104 people and caused property damage of $105,872.00.

For a comparison, the Patrol Supervisor pointed to accidents in this County for the first six months of 1962 that accounted for 13 deaths, 155 injuries, and property damage of $112,799.00. "Prior to July 1, there had been a total of 941 fatal accidents in Texas," Sergeant Guthrie said, "that took the lives of 1136 persons."

Her elbow length veil of illusion fell from a headpiece of white pearls and rhinestones. Following bridal tradition she wore a ring belonging to her maternal grandmother as something old; her dress was new; she wore a blue garter; and something borrowed was her white Bible.

"I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer" were wedding selections. Miss Linda Martindale, maid of honor, wore a dress of pale blue and carried a single white rose. Patricia Moore, sister of the groom, and Troy Luttrall, nephew of the groom, were candlelighters.

R. J. Moore attended his brother as best man. Ushers were Billy Roy Moore, brother of bridegroom, and Wallace Seideman, Jr., cousin of the bride. Blue and white mums decorated the Slaton Clubhouse the reception afterward.

For a wedding trip to Antonio, the bride chose a dress with matching hat gloves. Upon their return couple will establish residence at 255 North 4th St., Slaton. The bride attended Slaton schools and her husband graduated of Slaton High School. He is employed at Piggly Wiggly's.

FARM NEWS

BY BERT NEELLEY

Tom McFarland, our friend who is district manager of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District, has sent us a most informative booklet entitled "The High Plains Water Depletion Case—Its Effect on Me and My Community."

With quite a bit of publicity given throughout the nation on this depletion allowance proposition, we are glad to get this concise report. We are convinced that the economic and conservation benefits toward which the case is directed are worthy of the time and expense incurred. Limited distribution of the booklet has been made, for economy reasons, but McFarland states more wide distribution may be made at a later date. In the meantime, you may watch this column for excerpts from time to time.

And now comes word of a new application of automated controls for irrigation wells. A gadget is being manufactured to make the output of a well equal to the input at any desired water level. One big advantage is advertised as enabling pumping of multiple wells into one line under pressure, each well being assured of pumping its maximum amount of water. An area manufacturer is putting the control on the market, we understand.

The sale of a farm is taxable, says John J. Sloan, administrative officer at the Lubbock office of Internal Revenue. Sloan points out that farmers must pay tax on any gain on the sale of their farm or other capital items, even though they may turn around and use the money to buy another farm or similar item.

In a letter to County Agricultural Agents, the District Director of Internal Revenue in Dallas asked the County Agents to help IRS correct the erroneous thinking. The tax man advised farmers to check the tax consequences before they sell, trade, or swap.

Lee H. McElroy, the local County Agent, has pointed out that farmers can get a good general idea of taxes owed by reading the farmers tax guide furnished free by the Internal Revenue Service.

The scientists are working on a method of reducing moisture loss via evaporation from the soil. Limited tests have been shown hexadecanol, a commercial alcohol product, to reduce the moisture loss by 43 percent. In Colorado tests, the product was applied to the soil at rates of 660,320 and 16,600 pounds per acre.

Water was added to saturate the treated soil and the amount of water lost by evaporation was recorded for 10 days, the cycle continued for 14 months with highly satisfactory results.

However, further research and field testing are needed to prove or disprove the practicability of its use.

One farm worker in the U. S. is said today to supply food, fiber and other products for 27 people as compared to only eight in 1920.

30 MILLION WOMEN... Education Determines Jobs Ahead!

National 4-H Service Committee Photo

Within the next decade about 30 million women are expected to be holding down jobs, says the U. S. Department of Labor. Women now make up about one-third of the total labor force of 75 million. Modern invention and technological advances will add new jobs to the wide span already being filled by women. Many positions are and will be in the home economics field. Employers indicate that more professionally educated women are needed, and those trained in specific skills as well.

Educators Urge Early Career Choice

Today educators urge students to complete high school, and make an early choice of career so that later training and education can be planned accordingly. One group of young women who have a head start, reports the National 4-H Service Committee, are 4-H members.

1.3 Million Girls

At some time during club membership, nearly every one of the 1.3 million girls now enrolled in 4-H receives some training in her dual role of future homemaker and career woman.

Sewing, meal planning, nutrition, home management, interior decoration, fashion and consumer education are among the projects in which 4-H Club members participate.

They start in 4-H as young as 9 years of age, and many remain for as long as 10 years. Volunteer adult and junior 4-H leaders supervised by the Co-operative Extension Service head the local clubs.

Helping to encourage these future home economists, scientists, writers, mothers, teachers and business women are two corporations that annually contribute funds, educational literature and technical assistance to the national 4-H clothing and the foods-nutrition programs.
