AUDIT RECOMMENDS UP-DATING OF PROCEDURES

Era of Economy Must Give Way To Modern Municipal Systems Auditors Assert in Long Report

Modernization of the bookkeeping system for the City of Slaton, Slaton Cemetery Association and the Board of City Development was prime recommendation made by the certified public accounting firm reporting to the Slaton City Commission Monday evening.

Inconclusive reports, recommendations for further study by a CPA firm and suggestion of further legal counsel was the most striking aspect of the lengthy audit. Several weeks of time, expense in an amount not yet disclosed, and two reports (one of 36-page length) were net results of the employment of a CPA firm to audit the City of Slaton books as of March 31st.

Donald W. Dorman, Certified Public Accountant, was present at the Monday session, reading from his report and extending several remarks in oral discussion. He read from a letter from his firm, addressed to Mayor Cain, wherein seven distinct items of Slaton municipal operation were analyzed. He followed this up with memorandum in which six recommendations for further action were proposed.

Verbatim copy of the letter is reprinted on this page of the Slatonite.

In his verbal commentary, Dorman again and again "reiterated" his analysis of past city office procedures as of the "horse and buggy" variety. However, he stated that the city had operated with remarkable economy in the past, and that additional expenditures would be necessary to bring the procedures up to date, maintaining them in a form and manner suitable for best municipal accounting.

Dorman made it clear that in his opinion the multitude of exceptions in the audit report precluded any opinion on fairness of the written findings as a whole.

Safety, remedial and functionally expedient measure proposed by Dorman were:

- (1) Legal advice advisable on each financial transaction of size or major importance entered into by the City of Slaton.
- (2) That a system of accounting be established by ordinance.
- (3) That a complete analysis of the sinking fund requirements for each year be expeditious.
- (4) That more internal control of city bookkeeping be inaugurated.
- (5) That the Board of City Development books also be audited annually by a Certified Public Accountant.

LEGAL COUNCIL PRESENT

Tom Griffin, president of the Lubbock Bar Association, was present as legal counsel asked by the accounting firm and subsequently retained by the Commission. He joined with the accountant, answering pointed questions by visitors and commissioners, in maintaining that some questions of propriety possibly had existed in Slaton city procedures, whether or not this be

MURDER CHARGED IN SATURDAY NITE STABBING-BEATING

Dolphris Johnson Lang, 38, has been charged with murder with malice in the Saturday night fat stabbing of another Slaton Negro woman, Lucille Cook, 34. Bo for the accused was set over a week-end at $3,000.

Police accompanied White to the scene where the Cook woman was found lying in the street near the White home. A 6-inch steak knife was found some 4 feet from the prostrate woman. Later examination revealed the following injuries: a deep laceration on the forehead, both lip burst, top four teeth missing, bottom front teeth loose, a wound on left side parallel to backbone and apparently very deep, probably puncturing the lung; a superficial stab wound on the left side, and one deep stab wound on top of the head.

All scores were made in the first inning of the game, the remaining eight stanzas settling down into a pitcher's duel. Claude Stricklin went all the way on the mound for the locals.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

Observations and Potpourri

If a nation expects to be ignorant and free in a state of civilization, it expects what never was and never will be. . . where the press is free and every man able to read, all is safe.

—Thomas Jefferson

A Ranger, Texas, mother evidently has spent an afternoon at the baseball park; her comments, we surmise, voice the sentiments of a lot of local mothers these summer baseball days, so we pass them on to you:

The game of baseball used to be
Just faintly understood by me.
Hitter, homerun, mound and walk
Were just a lot of menfolk's talk
But since the Little League is here
I'm learning more and more each year.
And as I sit up in the stands
I hold my head and wring my hands,
And with my heart I pitch each ball
I swing the bat and hear the call,
When at homeplate the "ump" calls "out"
I plead, I rant, I stomp and shout,
Until I realize with shame
That this is just the children's game.
We start the dinner now at four,
And in and out the kitchen door
They come and go and eat and run,
Lest they be late and miss some fun.
And when I leave I must confess
My sink is sometimes quite a mess
Piled high with dinner's pots and pans
So I can be in the cheering stands.
And when the game is played and o'er
And our boys chalked the losing score
A lemon soda cold and tart,
Soon mends the loser's broken heart
Of course a win or one good hit,
Serves a big banana split.
And when I see them tucked in bed
So many times at night I've said,
When sleep has quieted all the noise,
"Thank God for baseball for our boys".

COTTON'S CRISIS

Concern over cotton's inability to compete in price is not confined to the cotton industry alone. The cotton farmer's woes, as his markets dry up and acreage curtailment threatens, cause a chain reaction.

The impact shakes not only ginners, merchants, and those immediately involved but also fertilizer dealers, banks, machinery manufacturers, and all in the far-flung complex supplying the vast cotton industry with goods and services.

Over the past two years, and mostly because of price, cotton has lost almost a million and a half bales to rayon and other synthetics. A government program save the export market at least temporarily. But the difference in the cost of cotton to U. S. mills and their foreign competitors created serious problems in our domestic markets.

Immediate legislative action is being urged to eliminate the raw cotton cost disadvantage for U. S. mills and improve cotton's competitive position. A vastly stepped-up research effort is being sought so production costs can be reduced and farmers can meet price competition without relying on subsidies.

The right answer to cotton's sagging markets needs to be found and found quickly.

Take any two towns, of approximate equal size, and too often one of these is growing, prospering and beaming "good business" while the other lags and sometimes even stagnates.

Why the difference?

There are arguments in support of several factors — facilities, location, natural resources, and even the weather!

But this editor thinks there is another and more important reason — one that is easily recognized:

PEOPLE WHO CARE. PERIOD.

When a citizenry cares, the reflection is crystal clear in any segment of community life in which they participate. When one is interested in city government, likely his neighbor also is, and better government is the visible result.

So it is in recreation, in the churches, in the schools, in the civic clubs.

Constructive activity pays off, in rich dividends for the community, and ultimately and surely to the individual and his family.

All this is just another reason that we are proud of Slaton — as a good place in which to live and grow.

Notes from Neighbors Events and Opinions

From the Exchanges of the Slatonite

Said the Nippon to the Negro:

The editor of a large Japanese newspaper in California last week told the Negroes they should exert as much effort in improving themselves as trying to tear down the segregation barriers.

He wrote that his race had been socially segregated and even put in concentration camps, better known as relocation centers, during World War II. However, his people returned after the war and made an effort to be better citizens.

The editor said he had found many Negro leaders did not want to be reminded that much of their troubles were caused by actions of their own race.

"A man does not have to have a dime in his pocket to restrain himself from raping a woman or robbing a man," the editor pointed out.

Food For Thought

We have often thought about it, and perhaps you have to. Why are church services carried on like they were a hundred or more years ago? It seems to us they at times become hum-drum to the people, and they begin to drop off in their church going according to records that are kept. There must be some new way or program that would mean a change, yet have the same end result, that of saving souls and bringing people close to God. We are sure that preachers get tired and weary of getting up in the pulpit Sunday after Sunday and looking at the same faces Sunday after Sunday and year after year, even though they realize it is their duty to proclaim the word of God to all who will hear. It seems there could be some kind of a program arranged whereby people would meet in the sanctuary on Sunday morning, have a cup of coffee, greet friends, talk to one another, discuss local and religious problems that is of mutual interest to all. Talk of ways and means to help one another in being more neighborly, live better lives, and draw one another closer to God. Let an air of "welcome" prevail for strangers as well as old friends. Drop that "straight laced" appearance and get right down to earth with God and tell of His wondrous love for all, be he rich or poor. Let's mix and mingle more in our church services and see how people like it. It is not our intention of trying to tell anybody how to run their church affairs, but we are just making suggestions and asking questions.

On Flying the State Flag . . .

The State legislature is going to make us patriotic in spite of ourselves.

H. B. 86 provides, in part, that funds going to local districts "shall be contingent upon their regular and prompt display of the Texas flag on or about the school premises."

In other words, if local schools don't fly the Texas flag in a prominent place, they won't get any state money.

The bill provides that the Texas Education Agency audit staff will check up on the schools to see they are meeting the requirement.

It used to be that Texans were proud enough of our state to go around bragging on it.

Our pride seems to have worn a little thin, though, because we aren't talking Texas as much as we used to.

Could be that the admission of Alaska as a larger state just took some of the starch out of us.

In Olton, our school flag flying is in good shape. We have been flying our national, state and school flags right along.

I don't know why anyone would kick about the state legislature suddenly making Texas flag-flying mandatory in schools.

It's just sad that such a requirement became necessary.

During the first half of 1963, the citizens of Lubbock County purchased $919,300.00 in Series E and H Savings Bonds according to a report received from Travis Shelton, chairman of the Lubbock County Savings Bond Committee. Fifty-one per cent of the county's 1963 goal has been achieved.

"It is encouraging to note that Savings Bond sales nationally are setting a new peace-time high. Parsley Given Investigation Committee Post

House Speaker Bryon Tunnell has announced the appointment of Representative Bill Parsley of Lubbock to serve as one of the five members of the House General Investigating Committee.

The authorization for this Committee in the Legislative Reorganization Act of 1961 provides that the Committee "shall have full authority to continue or initiate any and all inquiries and hearings into matters pertaining and any agency or subdivision of Government within the State of Texas, the expenditure of public funds at any and all levels of government within the State, and all other matters and things considered by said Committee to be needed for the information of the Legislature or for the welfare and protection of the citizens of the State of Texas."

In making the appointment, Tunnell said, "Representative Parsley, in his first term as legislator, distinguished himself as a legislator and in so doing earned the coveted recognition from his colleagues as 'Outstanding Freshman'."

"Acceptance of appointment to the important House General Investigating Committee," Tunnell continued, "charges Parsley with heavy responsibilities. However, his fine legislative talents, his outstanding work on the Committee on Criminal Jurisprudence, and his judicious insights into all facets of governmental problems qualify him to handle these responsibilities capably and efficiently."

Marine Cpl. Eakin With Marines In Korean Exercise

Marine Lance Corporal Ennis D. Eakin, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Eakin of Wilson, is serving with the Third Battalion of the Third Marine Division, a unit which recently participated in a joint U. S.-Republic of Korea amphibious exercise dubbed "Operation Flagpole" and conducted near Seoul, Korea.

The training exercise involved 67 ships plus numerous Marine air and ground units of both nations.

It ended June 28 as U. S. and Korean Marines secured their last objectives after four days shore combat amid driving rain. "Flagpole" is similar to other operations periodically conducted by Seventh Fleet units with armed forces of Far Eastern countries to improve proficiency in amphibious maneuvers. It is aimed at maintaining close working relationships between allied nations.

It consisted of a mock invasion force gaining limited control of parts of the Republic of Korea and requiring action by American and Korean forces to destroy the enemy and restore governmental control.

He's the Father of the Year

He's the kind of young man who stands well ahead of the competition. Bronze Star and Purple Heart in Korea. Dean's List at the University. The senior most likely to succeed :::

And he did. Today he's assistant to the president of his company. Chairman of the Community Aid Fund. Father of the Year at P.S. #12. And every other Sunday (or whenever nothing too fascinating is going on elsewhere) you'll see him leading his family into church.

A pretty good attendance record? Not for a man of his quality! He does nothing else "halfway." And his family is not slow to imitate his casual approach to religion.

Yet the strong religious training of his own childhood has helped him in life more than he can ever know. Why shouldn't his children have the same advantage? And why shouldn't yours?

Find the strength for your life—Worship together this week

Police Activity

Jail arrests for the week: 7 drunk; 1-disturbance by abusive language; 2-simple assault, 1-murder; 1-disturbance.

Three burglaries were reported since last mid-week, Wednesday night entries gained at Boyter Texaco, 855 S. 9th, and at the Dairy Bar, 1600 South 9th. Cigarette machines were pried open at both places, amount of cash and number of cigarettes taken not definitely ascertained.

Quality Cleaners, 235 W. Lubbock, was victim of a burglary Sunday evening, small amount of change believed taken after entry was gained through breaking a window.

OMITTED LAST WEEK

Jail arrests since last Wednesday totaled (3) possession by minor, (10) drunk, (2) disturbance, and (3) held for other departments.

Thefts and minor infractions seemed the rule this week. James Rinnie reported Sunday that an air conditioner, 22 rifle and 410 shotgun had been taken from a barn at his former residence near the Co-op gin on the Wilson highway.

Odie Carden reported, also on Sunday, that a tire was taken from her pickup parked at Carrie's Cafe.

W. H. Walker, 1040 S. 9th, said that sometime during the night of the 13th someone pulled a guard post from the northwest corner of his drive.

Tractors are involved in more farm accidents than any other farm implement. But other machines have higher accident rates because they are used less. Based on hours of operation, the corn picker is the most dangerous farm machine.

Farm-to-Market Roads Prove Most Hazardous Routes Within The State

Texas' Farm-to-Market roads are the most dangerous roads in the state, the Texas Safety Association said today in a special bulletin released to all newspapers, radio and television stations in the state.

"Since the first of this year, traffic fatalities on FM roads in Texas have increased about 32 percent over last year," J. O. Musick, General Manager of TSA, said. "Traffic accidents on FM roads also are up about 33 percent."

Current accident statistics show the FM roads have the highest increase in traffic fatalities and accidents of any roads in the state. The overall traffic fatality increase is 12 percent. Traffic accidents on all roads are up approximately 10 percent.

Musick cited several reasons for the increase in fatalities and accidents on FM roads.

"Speed — too fast for existing conditions — is the major cause of trouble. Many drivers tend to drive as fast on FM roads as they do on four-lane divided highways," he said.

"But, it doesn't take a student of modern math to figure out these roads are not designed for high speeds. It's just simple arithmetic and common sense." "The standard FM road in Texas is 22 feet in width. This gives the driver one lane 11 feet wide for driving. The average automobile takes up eight feet of the 11-foot lane.

"This means the driver has about 15 inches on each side of his car for clearance and that is just not enough space for fast driving on roads which have many sharp curves and other hazards."

The safety director explained that there are many 60 degree angle curves on FM roads — "drivers will find few super curves on FM roads."

Among other hazards peculiar to FM roads, Musick listed slow moving farm equipment and anicommunity to get goods to markets, but now these roads are being used as "short-cut" cross-country traveling, by persons and sportsmen pulling and trailers to the nearest hole."

"And, here's where the trouble is," he continued. "Urban roads and the hazards they present fail to adjust the driving habits for rural driving."

Musick concluded that the FM roads currently hazardous in the state, still be leveled safely if the position of being "slow down" and "unexpected."

Physical Education
Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has been asked to come to the aid of hard-pressed physical education departments in the 20 state-supported universities and colleges. Commission on Higher Education asked Carr for an opinion on the legality of the "rider" in the new appropriation bill, which goes into effect on September 1. Rider declares that state funds for physical education can be used only for mass calisthenics unless the students are majoring in PE. Net effect would be special fees charged by the schools if they wanted to give instruction in games. Some schools have protested that the rider would seriously curtail physical education programs.

AFL-CIO Loses
A suit by State AFL-CIO leaders alleging improper lobbying activities by Texas Employment Commission members and four employees was dismissed in 53rd District Court at Austin.

Suit, filed last February, claimed TEC pushed 11 pro-employer bills in the Legislature. Judge Herman Jones said the union failed to prove its case.

Union said it would appeal the decision.

COTTON
Texas cotton farmers planted 670,000 fewer acres this year than in 1962, U. S. Department of Agriculture reports. Decline amounted to 9.7%, which is more than the national decrease of 9.8%. Reduction, made in compliance with the federal control program, would mean a cut of about 476,000 bales in the state's cotton production if yield-per-acre is the same as last year.

as soon as possible thereafter. Exemptions for those over 60 are free under the old law, which will be in effect at least until November 9. That's the date for the vote on repeal of the poll tax as a voting requirement.

If Texans vote FOR the repeal, those over 60 who live in towns above 10,000 population then will have to pay a 25-cent registration fee. Ditto for all voters under 60.

Those past 60 who live in rural areas or in towns under 10,000 population will not be affected by the change. They can vote without paying under both the old and the new law.

The attorney general informed tax assessor-collectors that they must accept the $1.75 poll tax payments, starting on October 1, from those who insist on paying rather than waiting to see if the 25 cents be the November 9 vote.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY
Governor Connally has appointed Calvin (Pete) Burnett of Crane to replace Dan Sullivan as district attorney of Andrews, Crane and Winkler Counties. Sullivan resigned to head up Sen. Ralph Yarborough's state office in Austin.

FINAL MEETING
At the Game and Fish Commission's last meeting, the tight remaining commissioners were presented with engraved plaques by the 2,700-member Bayshore Rod, Reel and Gun Club. Those receiving the awards were Ben F. Vaughan Jr., of Corpus Christi, chairman, Howard Carney of Atlanta, Morris Higley of Childress, H. A. Walsh of El Paso, and Carl DuPuy of Lufkin.

Ninth member, Wilson Southwell of San Antonio, resigned last spring.

Commissioners are making way for the new 3-man Parks and Wildlife Commission. It will handle both State Parks and Game and Fish matters under the merger of the two agencies.

SHORT SNORTS
Texas railroads, trying to block federal court approval of the $511,000,000 Trinity River canal project, have asked the State Water Commission to delay its feasibility hearing from July 30 to August 26.

U. S. Bureau of Roads has released $33,438,664 in federal road funds to Texas to speed up current highway projects, aiding both the interstate highway system and other federal-aid construction projects.

Texas Commission on Higher Education elected Dr. Lester E. Harrell Jr. as its director. Harrell has been acting director since Dr. Ralph Green resigned a year ago.

Encased Water Reservoir, Replenished By Rainfall, Points to Conservation Need

BY BERT NEELLEY

Graphically illustrating the imperative need of water conservation on the southern high plains of Texas, the above drawing points out how the underlying Ogallala fresh water-bearing formation is cut off in all directions from underground connection with any replenishing supply of water.

The Ogallala formation is a vast reservoir of sand and gravel containing fresh water—but it gets its only replenishment from the downward seepage of precipitation that falls on the local surface, adding an annual average of only a fraction of an inch of water to the reservoir.

Because this replenishment is negligible, as water in storage in the formation is pumped out of the ground for the extensive irrigation in farming, and other uses the conservation of the supply gains importance with every season. The High Plains Underground Water Conservation District, together with research groups, farmers and others, are spending more and more time and thought on ultimate solution, present aid, of course, being conservation.

One big step in the conservation effort is the program to legally establish ground water in this area as a depletable, natural deposit, and as such, eligible for a federal income tax deduction under the cost-depletion portion of the tax laws.

Re-charging from dry weather lakes, run-off and excess is being practiced on wider scale each year in the Slaton and South Plains area, also aiding in maintaining supply.

Anyone desiring a more comprehensive picture of the water and irrigation situation is invited to check the information sources at the Water District office in Lubbock, records there revealing acre-feet pumped, precipitation, acres irrigated, number of wells, etc.

The importance of individuals participating in politics will be emphasized at the Texas Farm Bureau Institute convening in Dallas July 30-August 2.

The Institute this year is promoting a design to develop more individual participation by farmers and ranchers in the 1964 general election, the Farm Bureau president has advised. He further explained that his organization does not participate in partisan politics, but that individual members are encouraged to be active in the party of their choice.

Anyway, representatives of the two major political parties in the state will speak at the general session of the Institute!

We'll mention again that this is Farm Safety Week. The public should be well aware of this, with considerable editorial space given to the subject last week, together with messages from many Slatonite advertisers.

Farm safety, the year round, cannot be over-emphasized, we maintain. Perhaps our viewpoint is brought about in large part by having a close relative fatally injured only this year in a tractor accident. Tractors are involved in more farm accidents than any other farm implement, the Texas Safety Association reports.

Probably as it sounds, a new chemical means of removing harmful alkaline salts from the soil is showing great promise, and it involves removal of the unwanted salts by the use of salt water itself!

The details are too complicated for us to fathom, but if you want more information, the Texas Department of Agriculture has it!

Texas newspapermen at a recent Fort Worth meeting were introduced to a genuine, pure-dee "Texas Cut Steak" placed on the market by a leading packing firm.

Expansion of feed lot operations within the state on a major scale, enabling an ever-increasing supply of Texas feed and finished beef, was cited as enabling introduction of the local quality cut steaks.

The Texas Cut is designed for restaurant, club, hotel and other dining facilities, coming in 10 to 16 oz. portions. One inch or more in thickness, it is advertised as scientifically aged for a minimum of 221 days, and is cut from the rib section with bone removed.

Development are not included in this report. The terms of our engagement did not include an audit of the Board of City Development. Since this board receives tax funds as provided by the city charter and further since tax funds are limited to public purposes only, as distinguished from private purposes, we feel a report on the financial condition of the City of Slaton should include a report on the financial condition of the Board of City Development.

In view of the exceptions listed above which include lack of adequate internal control, possible sinking fund deficiencies, possible unauthorized commitments regarding purchase of equipment and city hall remodeling, lack of adequate accounting records regarding each fund of the city and lack of review of prior year figures which affect the current financial statements, we are unable to express an opinion on the fairness of these statements taken as a whole.

Effective date of termination here was asked by Martin to be as of August 10th.

The chief continued in his resignation letter, "I have enjoyed working with everyone in Slaton, and I have received the very best of cooperation from every city official as well as each and every fellow city employee."

Martin, a veteran of 13 years police activity, came to Slaton to head the local department on February 9, 1959. Previous tenures of service had been held at Irving, Hereford and Amarillo. He was with the Amarillo police force from 1951 until 1958, serving in a number of capacities including, patrolman, motorcycle patrolman, detective, patrol sergeant and desk sergeant.

In being selected to head the Pecos department (at least eight other applications considered there), Martin's record both in enforcement of his duties and his special training were pointed out. He is a graduate of the Amarillo Police Academy, completed the Institute of Training in Municipal Administration conducted by the International City Management Association in Chicago, attended three courses conducted by the Texas Department of Public Safety, receiving special schooling in police training, police supervision, police and public relations, criminal investigation, accident investigation and evidence preservation; he also has attended two homicide seminars at the University of Texas and has completed several short courses relating to police activity.

Martin has been active in civic and area affairs while in Slaton, presently serving as neighborhood commissioner for the Boy Scout organization, is a member and past director of the Rotary Club, a past vice president of the Jaycees, a member of the South Plains District of the Boy Scouts, and is a member of the Texas and International Police Chiefs' association. He and his family are members of the Westview Baptist Church.

Brewer Attended National P. G. A. Golf Tournament

Phil Brewer attended the PGA golf tournament at Dallas over the week-end, reporting it as one of the most enjoyable experiences he could recount.

Brewer followed the top players for two entire days of the matches, despite the humidity and heat ranging from 103 to 110 degrees. (Editor's Note: Brewer inadvertently left both umbrella and hat in his car on his first day, and followed progress of play from 7:30 a.m. til late afternoon minus protection from the sun... the results can be seen?)

The Brewer family visited relatives at Garland, only a few miles distant from the beautiful Dallas Athletic Club country club where the matches were held. Phil reported the greens as fabulous, a real manicuring job having left them smooth as carpet on the floor.

Sam Houston Shrine Recommended On Any Tour of Texas Landmarks

SAM HOUSTON'S HOME—Thousands of visitors to historic Huntsville each year make a pilgrimage through this white cottage which was once the home of the famous Texas statesman. The house is part of the Sam Houston Shrine located across from Sam Houston State College. Other points of interest here include a museum containing clothing, weapons, books and rare documents owned by Houston. Nearby is his old log law office and the frame building shaped like a steamboat in which he died.

For those who are fascinated with Texas history—and who isn't—nothing could be more rewarding than a visit to the Sam Houston Shrine at Huntsville. The former home of Sam Houston, winner of Texas independence at San Jacinto and first elected president of the Texas

F. F. A. Members At State Meet

Alan Reasoner and Travis McCormick, members of the Slaton Future Farmers of America Chapter, among those at the State FFA Convention in Lubbock, July 17-19, according to Reasoner, president of the chapter. The three day meeting of representatives of over 900 FFA chapters throughout the state included the awarding of advanced degrees, scholarships and awards to outstanding members of the organization. Reasoner had been selected by chapter members as delegate of the Slaton chapter to the state convention. Travis McCormick served as alternate delegate. Among the important business being transacted at the convention is the election of a state president from the ten state officer nominees, who have been elected by members in the ten areas of the state. Voting delegates to the National FFA Convention in Kansas City in October were elected. In addition was the election of a state heart from the ten candidates elected by the area.

Nearly 800 members from the 38,000 membership of the organization received the state's highest award, the Lone Star Farmer Degree. The membership conferred Honorary Degrees on adults who have contributed in an outstanding way to the accomplishments of the organization. A Vesper Service was conducted on Tuesday evening, preceding the convention session. Vern France of Gooding, Idaho, National FFA Student Secretary and R. C. Irwin of Ford Motor Company, Birmingham, Michigan, were among the speakers to address the 3000 farm youth convened in Lubbock.

Beryl Robertson and Don Mitchell, Vocational Agriculture Teachers accompanied the FFA members to the Lubbock convention. Poets Shelley and Keats, and the composer Chopin had tuberculosis and for a time, popular opinion viewed the disease as an accomplishment if not an origin of genius.

GALA BLUEBERRY PIE

Elegant looking and elegant tasting is this excellent Gala Blueberry Pie. It is a perfect ending for any celebration... formal or otherwise. Make it early—then at serving time, bring it to the table uncut. If you serve it with scoops of ice cream, prepare these ahead and freeze them... put them in a glass bowl and put this bowl into another larger bowl filled with ice cubes. Serve at table.

- For the less formal dinner, try garlic-broiled chicken, baked potatoes with melted cheese... and a bright salad of sliced pickled beets, onion slices, ripe olives, garnished with sieved egg yolks, and served with a dressing. Serve plenty of iced, or hot, coffee with the pie.
- Gala Blueberry Pie
 - 1 package (3 oz.) black raspberry or black cherry flavor gelatin
 - 1 cup boiling water
 - 1 cup cold water
 - 1/2 teaspoon almond flavoring
 - 1 pint fresh cultivated blueberries
 - 1 baked 9-inch pie shell
 - Vanilla ice cream or Sweetened whipped cream

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add cold water and almond extract. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in blueberries. Spoon into pie shell. Chill until firm. Serve with a scoop of vanilla ice cream, or whipped cream.

Eastern Star Observes 48th Anniversary

Audrea Thompson, worthy matron, and Wade Thompson, worthy patron, presided when Slaton Chapter 585, Order of the Eastern Star, observed the 48th birthday anniversary of the founding of the local organization. The celebration was held Tuesday evening, July 9.

Leader Birdie Culver introduced Mabel Vaughn, a past matron, who reviewed "Grandpa" Kuykendall's efforts in establishing and nourishing the local chapter, organized in 1915. From the humble chapter room which was lighted by coal oil lamps and with only a charter and minutes, progress was traced to the now beautiful chapter hall with all the proper paraphernalia and accouterments.

From a very small number, the local chapter has grown to 147 resident members and 48 non-resident members.

Each past matron, assisted by her worthy patron, recalled the accomplishments during their respective tenures.

The refreshment table, appointed with crystal, featured a decorated birthday cake. The worthy matron served, assisted by other members.

Hostesses for the occasion included Amanda Cook, Roberta Clark, Lessie Castleberry, Mable Adkins, Hulda Clifton, Jeffie Dowell and Vera Drewry.
