Shower Provides Break in Heat

Temperatures reached a high point of the year here Sunday when the mercury showed 106 degrees.

The thermometer climbed to 104 again on Monday, July 4th, before an afternoon shower cooled things off. Rainfall was estimated at about .25 of an inch in Slaton. Measurements ranged up to .75 of an inch around the city.

The moisture was just "what the doctor ordered" for farmers around the area, helping both the dryland and irrigated farmland.

Slaton School Board, in an informal session Tuesday at noon, authorized advertisements for bids on a football stadium project and construction of a new cafetorium addition at West Ward School.

Supt. Lee Vardy revealed Wednesday that trustees met for an informal luncheon Tuesday and went over plans for the two projects.

"It was the only business discussed," according to a statement from Vardy.

Sealed bids on the cafetorium project will be opened at 4:30 p. m. July 21 in the school business office, and bids on the stadium are to be opened at 8 p. m. on July 22. The school reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids.

The two projects are part of a $500,000 school improvement issue approved by voters earlier this year. A new high school gym and a new elementary school in southwest Slaton are also included in the bond issue.

Contract on the new gym was awarded in early June and construction is presently underway. Bid on the gym was $172,848 by Tom McAbee of Lubbock. Contract calls for the structure to be completed in 190 working days.

Plans on the stadium project call for new stands on the west side of Tiger Stadium. The plans include provisions for new dressing rooms, rest rooms, concession stand and press box with the new stands.

The new cafetorium at West Ward is to be located on the south end of the east wing and will contain some 5,000 square feet of floor space, including rest rooms.

BEHLEN MAKES INSTRUMENTS HERE

Slaton Man One of Seven Dulcimer Artists in World

Stinson R. Behlen, 930 S. 13th, could be a contestant on "I've Got A Secret" or "What's My Line?" According to Behlen, he is one of seven dulcimer craftsmen in the world.

A dulcimer is a three-stringed instrument dating back to Biblical days and 5,000 years beyond. Music produced by the instrument is similar to notes from a mountain banjo.

Behlen said he is the only dulcimer craftsman in the South. There are five others in the United States and one such craftsman in Europe, he said.

While serving as president of the Lubbock Folk Singers, Behlen discovered the Southern Highlands or Mountain Dulcimer. He described the music of the ancient instrument as "beautiful and haunting."

Behlen's interest in the instrument grew into more than a musical interest. He hit upon the idea of possibly building the instruments for public sale.

Today, Behlen Folk Dulcimers are sold in Canada, Europe and the United States. He receives queries from all parts of the world as interest revives in the ancient instrument.

Behlen's instrument, the Southern Dulcimer, is slightly larger than those mentioned in the Book of Daniel. Dulcimers that originated 5,000 years before Christ had a pentatonic scale, said Behlen. The Biblical and modern dulcimers have a diatonic scale.

The dulcimer gradually spread from the Holy Lands through Europe, Germany and England where pilgrims carried the instrument and craft to colonial America. The Dutch settlers of the Appalachians and Southern Highlands are credited with bringing the first dulcimers nearly 400 years ago.

The instrument, which Behlen said is suited to anyone age nine to 90, can be played by several methods to achieve different effects.

A wooden noter can be used to create a mountain banjo tune. The dulcimer may also be fretted with the three fingers of the left hand to create a full range of musical notes from minor to major chords.

People have learned to play the instrument in less than an hour, said Behlen.

The craftsmanship of Behlen's dulcimers represents 35 to 40 hours of hand work. His individual interest in hand making each instrument gives them a distinction of their own.

Behlen hand crafts the instruments in his small workshop. Among steps in building each dulcimer, Behlen said he applies six to seven coats of lacquer and hand rubs the instrument to a natural wood finish.

The heart shaped sound holes of the tone chambers are a part of the tradition surrounding the ancient instrument.

Poplar, hackberry, walnut, ash, pine and cypress woods are used in 1/16 and 3/32-inch thickness to craft the instrument. The different woods add to the individual instrument's tonal qualities.

Silver frets, glue, lacquer and fine metal strings are ingredients going into each dulcimer Behlen crafts.

The price of the handcrafted instrument range from $35 to $40 each, depending on the wood. With each instrument, a cloth carrying bag, pick, wooden noter, and set of instructions are included.

Behlen said Howie Mitchell, Washington, D. C.; Paul Clayton, Maryland, and A. W. Jeffreys, Stanton, Va., are largely responsible for his interest in dulcimers. He referred to them as "dulcimer artists" and noted that several recordings have been made using dulcimers.

Through national advertising in folk music magazines and the National Music Manufacturers Magazine, Behlen has seen his interest grow into an international business.

Though dulcimers are increasing in demand, Behlen is finding time for numerous other activities.

He is a member of Grace Lutheran Church and presently serves as president of the local Parents Without Partners organization.

Behlen has held several public concerts in the South Plains area. He expressed interest in future concerts before civic clubs and religious organizations but his limited schedule (See DULCIMER, Page 10)

Former Slaton Man In Vietnam

A letter came to the Slatonite this week from Vietnam. It was from Sp/5 Jimmie C. Hines. Hines is the son of Mrs. Roy D. Bloodworth of Slaton.

In part, the letter read: "I'm a GI stationed in Vietnam. I'm writing to you asking if I could have you send me the Slaton newspaper over here in Vietnam. Slaton used to be my home town and I would like very much to read some of the news around home."

"My parents still live in Slaton. You may know my stepfather. His name is Roy D. Bloodworth and he works for the City of Slaton."

The same day the Slatonite received the letter, Hines' mother also received a letter asking for the Slatonite, and she didn't waste any time subscribing for him.

Hines' wife and four children live in Bradford, Va. The Slatonite extends a hearty welcome to Hines as a new subscriber!

FOR THE FAMILY MANAGER

ITEM: Individual skills and abilities can be a real family resource. Labor costs add to the price of getting things done around the home. Instead of paying someone to do a particular job, consider doing it yourself if you have the skill. Many tasks about the home can be accomplished a little at a time, at your own convenience.

ITEM: Ever wonder why some items you buy at the grocery store have a complete list of ingredients while some list no ingredients at all? It's because the U.S. Food and Drug Administration has established recipes for a number of foods. If a manufacturer, of mayonnaise, for example, follows the standard recipe in making his product he does not have to list ingredients.

ITEM: Use heavy cotton terry beach towels to make covers for children's pillows, chairs, or bunk beds. They're easy to wash, and towels come in a wide range of bright colors and gay prints.

ITEM: Sweetened condensed milk is made from fresh whole milk. Part of the water is removed, and sugar is added. In the final product, the sugar accounts for 40 to 50 per cent of the total weight.

NOW HEAR THIS

According to the Hearing Aid Industry Conference most hearing losses result from one of four principal causes. They are: infection, otosclerosis (bone disorder), noise and age. Six million Americans who are suffering from hearing losses of varying degrees could be helped through medicine, surgery or the use of a hearing aid. However, they do not know they can be helped because they will not admit to or recognize their loss and seek the available help. Why not invest a little of your time one of these long Summer days and get your hearing tested? Be sure you are not one of the six million missing out on the wonderful world of sound.

First Place In State

VFW Auxiliary Wins 5 Awards

Slaton's "Outstanding Club of the Year" that received recognition at the Chamber of Commerce banquet this year, also received recognition in Houston last week at the 38th annual state convention. The Slaton VFW Auxiliary came home with five awards. The auxiliary showed a report of outstanding community service the past year.

The auxiliary received a most coveted award for winning first place in state in the Press Book Contest. It's press book will be the only press book entered from Texas in the national contest to be held in New York in August. Mrs. Louise Collins of Winters, state publicity chairman, presented the engraved plaque to Mrs. Bo Becker, publicity chairman for the Slaton auxiliary during the past year.

A national award won by the auxiliary was for reaching 100% membership by Dec. 31, 1965. The state also presented Slaton with a Citation of Merit in the same division. The auxiliary also won a loving cup for obtaining over 10% gain in membership. Mrs. Travis Mann, senior vice-president, served as membership chairman.

A commendation was received by the auxiliary for having complied with all honor roll requirements 100% during the past year.

District president, Mrs. Max Chaffin of Post, received three district awards, for having 100% and over in membership, for serving as the first president with a 100% district and for auxiliaries in the districts reaching their quotas. During the convention, Mrs. Frances Sargent was honored to serve as the department president's page and was also appointed to serve as area chairman for community service during the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Cartwright and family of Ft. Worth, and Mr. and Mrs. John Neu of Lindsey spent the weekend visiting Mr. and Mrs. Nick Neu, Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Kitten and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Grabber.

Mmes. Billie Clements, Becker and Sargent attended a special luncheon on Saturday which is given for past presidents. Auxiliary members attending the convention were Mmes. Pete Willhott, Bill Underwood, Keith Price, Pete Phillips, Sargent, Becker and Clements.

Miss Jackie Bownds of El Paso and daughter of Peggy Bownds, has been here visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Bill Bownds. She left Sunday by plane from Lubbock to return home.

Workmen Prepare For Big South Plains Fair

LUBBOCK -- Workmen are busy whipping grounds and facilities into shape for the 49th annual renewal of the Panhandle and South Plains Fair, now less than three months away. Getting primary attention is the repair of facilities damaged by a recent storm, which caused losses estimated at $6,000 to fair property. This includes damage to floodlights, windows, ticket booths, signs and a portion of the cattle barn.

But nearly $19,000 in capital improvements have been made since the 1965 event in keeping with the fair's emphasis on service and convenience to patrons and participants alike.

Facelifting and construction projects include new wire hog pens which can accommodate 1,000 head, new swine and cattle wash racks and adjacent concrete service alleys. Several large trash receptacles also have been purchased to enhance sanitary conditions. New trees beautify the landscape.

The biggest single money item was re-roofing Fair Park Coliseum, where Tennessee Ernie Ford will present twice-daily performances throughout the six-day fair run, Sept. 26-Oct. 1.

In addition, fair offices have been moved to more convenient quarters in the old Texas Highway Department offices, located at 105 E. Broadway.

These improvements are just a small part of the year-around activities at the fairgrounds -- one of the main reasons why the Lubbock event remains highly regarded in fair circles. During 1965, $28,300 in improvements were added.

The only fair in Texas still running when the Panhandle South Plains exposition made its maiden bow is the State Fair. The Lubbock event is ranked 46th in attendance among 3,000 fairs held annually in the nation.

Most of the fairs with higher attendance are state fairs running from eight to 16 days, compared to the six-day stand for the Hub City exposition, which is expected to draw 250,000 persons this year.

Officials proudly point to the fact that more than $1 million in improvements have been made down through the years, including structures, paving, utilities, etc., on an 80-acre tract leased from the county. The fair is not subsidized by any level of government.

Last year all facilities were taxed to the limit with a near-record number of displays and exhibits entered. New attractions added for the 1966 event will make it one of the largest in its history.

But while activities of the fair association come into focus only during the fair season, there are many other business operations conducted throughout the year.

For example, spacious facilities are contracted to many groups and individuals for various uses. At least eight different livestock shows are held on the fairgrounds, along with wrestling, dances, Boy Scout events, conventions, sports shows and go-kart races.

In addition to the fair, other events already scheduled for this year include: July 3, regional go-kart endurance races; July 30, Southwestern Spotted Swine Breeders Show and Sale; Aug. 13, West Texas Duroc Breeders Show and Sale; Aug. 25 - 27, Southwestern Barrow Show; Aug. 28, Catholic convention; Sept. 13, stockholders' meeting, South Plains Electric Co-Op.

Major fair attractions this year include Tennessee Ernie and the Young American Singers, the National Wool Needlework contest, World's Our Little Miss preliminary pageant, Texas State Jersey Cattle Show, Junior parachute jump, the 13th annual West Texas Twirling Festival, creative pottery display, industrial arts and hobby shows, military and space exhibits and the popular Parade of Bands and Children's Barnyard.

Learners & Teachers

More than 55 million Americans are engaged full-time in the Nation's educational enterprise as students, teachers, or administrators. Nearly another 180,000 make education a time-consuming advocacy as trustees of local school systems, state boards of education, or institutions of higher learning, according to estimates from the U. S. Office of Education and the National Education Association.

RULES TO EMPLOYEES

The store must be open from 6:00 A.M. to 9:00 P.M. the year 'round
Store must be swept; counters, base shelves and showcases dusted; lamps trimmed, filled, and chimneys cleaned; pans made; doors and windows opened; a pail of water, also a bucket of coal brought in before breakfast if there is time to do so and attend to customers who call.

Store must not be opened on the Sabbath unless necessary and then for only a few minutes.

The employee who is in the habit of smoking Spanish cigars, being shaved at the barber's, going to dances and other places of amusement will rarely give his employer reasons to be suspicious of his integrity and honesty.

Each employee must not pay less than $5.00 per year to the church and must attend Sunday School regularly.

Men employees are given one evening a week for courting, and two if they go to prayer meeting.

After 14 hours of work in the store, the leisure hours should be spent mostly in reading.

SIGNED: The Management

WOULD YOU BELIEVE? -- These rules might be hard for the modern-day employee to follow. The copy was contributed by Alex Webb, who thought -- as we did -- that Slatonite readers might find it interesting.

Gilliland Now Manager At Wilson Lumber

Old Port

Bremen, Germany was one of the most important transhipment centers between Northern and Southern Europe in the Middle Ages. In 1358, the German port became a member of the Hanseatic League, a type of common market of large trading houses, affiliating merchants from England to Russia.

Water City

Bangkok, capital of Thailand, has many streets which are actually wandering waterways called "klongs." City engineers are gradually filling them in to improve housing and health conditions for the "water people," but a network of the picturesque canals will be preserved as a tourist attraction.

LET'S LOOK AT THE RECORDS

BY LINDA NORRIS

A great many Easterners have fond memories of sitting at the Mall in New York's Central Park on a warm summer evening listening to the Goldman band (founded by composer-conductor Edwin Franko Goldman) which has served for more than half a century as a vital part of America's concert life. In Greatest Band in the Land the Goldman Band is conducted by Richard Franko Goldman, son of the founder and the collection of stirring band music by the Goldman band traverses the length and breadth of American history from Chester, a popular song of the American Revolution; and The Federal March, performed on July 4, 1788, to celebrate the ratification of the Federal Constitution by New Hampshire and American Salute by Morton Gould (based on the most famous of all Civil War songs, When Johnny Comes Marching Home).

The music of Edvard Grieg is romantic, whether in its classical form or in the beautiful adaptations which were done for the Broadway show Song of Norway. Now, in the LP I Love You, taken from the title of one of Grieg's most popular songs, nine of his most memorable melodies are heard in their original form, including Solveig's Song from the Peer Gynt Suites Nos. 1 and 2. Leonard Pennario is featured in the concerto with the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of Erich Leinsdorf. The Hollywood Bowl Symphony and Capitol Symphony perform the remaining themes with Roger Wagner, Earl Bernard Murray and Carmen Dragon conducting.

Farm & City

Farm families spend about $3,600 on living expenses in 1961, reports the U.S. Department of Agriculture. This is one-third less than spent by urban families that year. Farm families spent less than city folks for housing and food, spent more for clothing, transportation and medical care.

ADULTS NEED BOOSTER SHOTS.
Even though during childhood some adults were vaccinated against communicable diseases, this protection does not last forever.

TETANUS IMMUNITY ABOUT THREE YEARS.
Five years is considered the utmost limit for protection against this most dangerous killer. Any accident or opening in the skin exposes you. Booster shots every three to five years are an absolute must.

TIME OF POLIO IMMUNIZATION UNCERTAIN.
Salk shots or Sabin oral vaccine give adequate protection for some years. But, both types require a booster about a year after the initial protection series.

INFLUENZA PROTECTION ONLY A YEAR.
A booster shot may be required after about a month. If an epidemic is predicted and routinely each fall, a flu vaccination is considered helpful by many physicians.

FOREIGN TRAVELERS BE CAREFUL.

Travel Map Ready For Texas Tour

AUSTIN, Texas. -- The immense variety of Texas pleasure travel is portrayed in an entirely new edition of the popular travel brochure, "TEXAS - America's Fun-tier," released today by the Texas Highway Department.

The 32-page color brochure incorporates maps, photographs and art work in glossy, magazine-style format. It provides the traveler with a short, vivid course in Texas geography, spiced with colorful pictorial glimpses of things to see and do in the "Friendship State."

So vast is Texas, the new brochure divides the state into six recreational regions, focusing on attractions which are depicted by caricature maps, drawings and photos. Designed to give equal representation to all parts of the state, the new publication illustrates a cross section of Texas vacation variety. Historical, amusement and recreational features are portrayed in each section, outlining a brand of fun for everyone.

Also included are informational sections on hunting and fishing, highway regulations and tourist services provided by the Texas Highway Department.

Nearly a million free copies of an earlier edition have been distributed since its introduction some three years ago. Demand for the new publication is expected to be even larger.

The new brochure joins other pieces of travel-oriented literature which are now being distributed by the Highway Department. More than three million pieces are annually provided free to Texas travelers. Supplemental literature includes the Official State Highway Map, Texas Calendar of Events, State Capitol Guide, Texas Facts Sheet, State Parks Guide and an invitation to visit

Highway Department Bureaus.

Those Tourist Bureaus located at major entrances to the state in the State Capitol serviced more than 200,000 travelers last year.

Travel literature, travel literature, travel literature, longer in Texas, a 1st Bureau is under way in Amarillo. Additional travel literature was rendered in more than 224,000 mailings handled by the Department last year.

Augmenting literature directly to other Highway Department promotional efforts, colorful travel posters at convention centers, half-hour motor shows, a Spanish language that popular travel literature circulating in Mexico, French and German are in production.

Such travel promotion were instrumental in many of the record lion out-of-state who toured Texas in 1965. Those motorists spent more than a million while in the state.

Family Reunion Held

June was a very pleasant month except for the storms we had in the early part. You could sleep so good these cool nights, and I felt for all that had to go to work early.

The farmers are planning to start irrigating the cotton soon if it doesn't rain this week, however the cotton sure is pretty, also the truck patches. You have to make good on the cotton to make any profit as the cotton acreage has been cut down so much, and it doesn't bring much either, so folks that aren't farmers don't think we get rich on cotton.

Cotton is one of the oldest fibers known to man.

Southland Man Ends Training

Seaman Recruit Delbert J. Wartes, 20, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Wartes of Southland, has completed seven weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center in Great Lakes, Ill.

In the first weeks of his naval service he studied military subjects and lived and worked under conditions similar to those he will encounter on his first ship or at his first shore station.

In making the transition from civilian to sailor, he was taught and supervised by experienced Navy petty officers. He learned the basic skills of seamanship, as well as survival techniques, military drill and other basic subjects.

Upon completion of his recruit training, he was assigned to a school, shore station or ship, according to the results of his Navy classification tests, his own desires, and the needs of the Navy.

Lucy Myrl Manly of Houston visited her mother, Mrs. Bert Hastings over the weekend.

GI Bill Gives CS Preference

While most of the interest shown in the so-called new GI Bill of Rights has been concerned with educational benefits, there are certain little-noted provisions that give the 4-million veterans affected under the new law certain Civil Service job preferences.

They get five points added to their scores in Civil Service tests and 10 points if they were disabled or were awarded the Purple Heart, according to Jack Coker, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco, Texas.

In addition to the actual 5 or 10 points being added to their Civil Service test score, those veterans who have served since January, 1955, thus become eligible for veterans preference in job selection.

Prior to the enactment of the new GI Bill, veterans who served since 1955 did not receive veterans job preference even though they rated high on the tests, Coker said.

Visitors last Thursday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Streck were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Norton of San Bernardino, Calif. Visiting Friday in the Streck home were Dr. and Mrs. Larry File and daughter, Laurie, of Austin.

Ferguson In Viet Nam Duty

Army PFC Albert D. Ferguson, whose wife, Diana, lives at 240 N. 11th, was assigned to the 173rd Airborne Brigade in Vietnam, June 23.

Ferguson entered the Army in December 1965 and completed basic training at Fort Polk, La.

The 21-year-old soldier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron A. Ferguson, 316 Fifty-third, Lubbock, attended Lubbock High School.

They have a well trained group of employees who work hard to do a good job. However, they get a lot of help from the American taxpayer. Our nation's taxpayers pay 97% of their tax bills through taxes withheld or voluntary compliance.

Only 3% of our taxes are collected through the enforcement efforts of the Internal Revenue people. The voluntary compliance record of the American people is one of which we can all be proud. No other country can equal this record.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

How often does it happen that first impressions are wrong? How often have we remarked, "I didn't like him when we met. Now that I know him better, I think he is a wonderful person?"

There are individuals who are able, regardless of personal troubles or sickness, to constantly put forth a cheerful smile and a pleasant appearance. Unfortunately, we are not all of us so blessed.

Many of us wear our troubles on our sleeve and become grimaced when things just aren't going our way. Those with whom we come in contact conclude that this is our natural appearance and attitude.

Many words have been written about the worth of a smile. We'll not quote any of the old familiar sayings. We do suggest, however, that while the world may not always smile with you, a smile will chip away at the corners of whatever problems may beset you.

When things just aren't going your way, smile even though you think it will hurt. It won't. You'll feel better. Speak a kind word or a simple "hello" to those you meet. Their cheerful response will probably serve to remind you that things aren't really so bad as they seem.

When using a pesticide, apply only the amount recommended on the label. An over-dose won't kill more insects, but it may injure plants.

God's Will

"I delight to do thy will, O God, thy law is within my heart." -- Psalms 40:8

God is neither "boss", supervisor. When we temptation face-to-face we do not turn to God with a question and expect an answer to be written in the clouds. God does not direct our movements with signs or symbols.

We find God's will in Commandments and in principles of Christianity, the practicing Christian. In God becomes a source of strength in the face of temptation. There is, in obedience to the will of God, a meaningful continuing strength and personal satisfaction.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

How Much Religious Liberty?

"The crowning glory of American freedom," wrote one exultant judge, "is absolute religious liberty."

Yet, is "absolute" the right word? Are there really no limits at all to our religious liberty?

The great historic test of this question arose a century ago when a Mormon was arrested for polygamy. In his defense he relied on the constitutional guarantee of religious freedom.

But the Supreme Court drew a momentous line dividing that freedom into two parts: freedom of belief and freedom of practice. The Court said freedom of belief has no limits, but freedom of practice must necessarily have limits if society is going to function successfully.

Otherwise, said the Court, any anti-social act—including even human sacrifice—would be lawful if it bore a religious label.

"Every citizen (would) become a law unto himself. Government could exist only in name."

Thus, in assorted test cases, courts have held it illegal—even for religious reasons—to use child labor, to violate a liquor law, to curse a policeman, or to handle snakes dangerously in church. However sincere the defendant's religious belief, his religious practice went beyond what society could fairly permit.

Nevertheless, in each one of these cases, the court acted only because the need for setting limits seemed very clear indeed. By and large, the law has bent over backward to avoid putting limits on religious practice.

For instance, courts have upheld the right of religious partisans to ring doorbells (even if that might annoy some folk) and to hand out leaflets (even if that might cause litter).

Furthermore, under the sturdy constitutional shelter, unusual forms of worship continue to sprout and flourish.

So our religious freedom, if not quite "absolute," is reassuringly close to it—just as the Founding Fathers intended.

"They fashioned a charter of government," the Supreme Court has said, "which envisaged the widest possible toleration of conflicting views. Man's relation to his God was made no concern of the state."

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN -- Everyone in the State, from Gov. John Connally on down to each rookie patrolman, did his best to hold down July 4th holiday deaths and accidents.

Now, with the long, tensioned weekend behind, the State is taking a look at what's ahead for the 1967 Legislative session.

Among other things, Governor Connally wants a new, tough code of traffic laws -- somewhat like the uniform traffic code. He wants money for more highway patrolmen, the present force of 725 being about one-third the number needed.

He also wants stringent penalties for convictions of driving while intoxicated, speeding and reckless driving -- and a one-year license suspension "without opportunity for redemption" on second offense.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr says the 1967 Legislature may want to take another look at the 1965 law change in college building appropriations.

As it now stands, seven state colleges will receive less revenue from the new 10-cent per $100 ad valorem tax allocation for college construction than they did under the old five-cent rate.

These are Texas A&I, Texas Southern, Texas Woman's University, East Texas State, Sam Houston, West Texas State and Sul Ross. None can start new buildings in the next two years with what's now allocated to them.

State Water Pollution Control Board approved a committee of the Cattle Feeders Division, Texas and Southwest Cattle Raisers Association, which plans to ask the 1967 Legislature for a feed lot licensing law, tying in with water pollution control.

Committee members are Grady Shepard, Hale Center; James W. Witherspoon, Hereford; Alfred Negley, San Antonio; Fred Wulf, Brady; and Jack Curruthers, Friona.

Hereford Feed Yards, Inc., with which Witherspoon is associated, just received the first Water Pollution Control Board permit for disposal of wastes from cattle feed lot. It provides that the company retain waste runoff waters from all rainfalls of two inches or less in a day, and lots must provide for dewatering retention facilities before rainfalls by spray irrigation.

OTHER POLLUTION PLANS -- Pollution - Multiple Use Legislative Study Committee, headed by Sen. Culp Krueger of El Campo, will hold public hearings in early fall to check into salt water disposal problems in oil and gas fields -- and pollution problems resulting from feed lot operations, plus septic tank problems that could lead to water pollution.

LIVESTOCK WORLD HIGH - LIGHTS -- Animal health in Texas comes to the front ranks in agricultural - livestock concern nowadays.

Screwworm eradication workers at the sterile fly plant in Mission stepped up eradication efforts in the Brooks - Goliad - Beeville area where six cases were reported last week and in the stretch from Culberson County to Eddy, N. M., where 12 cases were confirmed.

Dr. B. B. Vail Jr. told the Animal Health Commission that they need more reports from ranchers.

Dr. S. B. Walker of the Commission and Dr. S. C. Gartman of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Animal Health Division asked livestock producers also to report promptly any signs of sore mouth condition or blister - like sores on udders or above hooves of animals to combat a recent outbreak of vesicular stomatitis.

In similar farm reports, State Agriculture Comm. John C. White announced an emergency quarantine on movement of some fruits and vegetables from Cameron County -- to prevent spread of Mediterranean Fruit Fly.

Dr. Walker recommended a more flexible program for accepting petitions for Type II control testing for brucellosis -- now done only from counties next to test counties after a break from the "contiguous county" requirement has been tested. He said it worked hardships on area veterinarians.

STUDENT BONDS TOP RATED -- Learning that two top national investor services rate Texas College Student Loan Bonds, authorized by voters last fall, as "triple A" investments (highest rating possible), the Coordinating Board for Texas College and University System decided to sell $10,000,000 of the $85,000,000 authorized bonds at its July 18 meeting.

Institutional agreements now are being prepared by the Board so loans will be available to students in September.

HEAD START WATCH -- Regional OEO Director Bill Crook of Austin cautioned Head Start administrators that they will be under "continuous review" by his Austin offices, "to remedy any program deficiencies that might be identified by on-site evaluations."

Crook said so far not one single bad audit, case of misappropriation or mishandling of funds has been produced by Texas' program. He says he is very interested in keeping that good record.

OEO has contracted with the Texas Education Foundation, private corporation administering Camp Gary Job Corps Center for men, for $3,200,000 to develop and operate a Job Corps center for women at McKinney. First 100 women students are scheduled to enroll at McKinney in March, 1967.

SHORT SNORTS -- Weldon Watson has resigned as executive director of the Parks and Wildlife Department. Texas Industrial Commission reports record 327 new plants were located in the state last year and prospects for '67 look even better. Texas Highway Department officials say it cost the State 3.4 cents of every dollar spent on highway maintenance to clean up after vandalism and litterbugs last year (some $1,526,582). Wm. L. Ferguson of Henderson is new Texas Liquor Control Board Assistant Administrator. Texas Aeronautics Commission will hold hearings July 14 on proposed community air service between Houston and Laredo via Alice by a new firm called Houston Commuter Airlines. State Land Comm. Jerry Sadler said sealed bids for oil and gas leases on state-owned property will be accepted by School Land Board August 2. Attorney General Carr ruled that beer sales are illegal in four precincts of Cooke County, since State Constitutional Amendment allowing wet precincts in dry counties was passed in 1935 after the local - option elections. U. S. Government says more than $3,000,000 is available to Texas this year for half the cost of state and local recreation proposals.

New GI Bill Explained

Veterans with more than 180 days of active military duty discharged from the service since January 31, 1955, have at least until March 3, 1976, to complete a GI home or farm loan under the new GI Bill, the Veterans Administration pointed out today.

The new law, bringing to veterans of the post-Korean period GI loan privileges hitherto available only to veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict, carries its own minimum deadline of ten years after the actual signing of the bill on March 3, 1966, Jack Coker, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco said.

A maximum eligibility date of twenty years after discharge from the qualifying active service is also in the law. Veterans discharged because of service-connected disabilities will have the maximum 20-year entitlement.

Between those minimum and maximum periods, individual veterans will reach the termination of their eligibility according to the following formula:

Add ten years to the date of the last discharge from active service plus one year for each three-month period of that service.

The veteran must hold a discharge other than dishonorable. If released because of a service-connected disability, the service time may be less than the stipulated 180-plus days period.

The new law also benefits those servicemen who remain on active duty after completing at least two years of service. They may obtain VA-guaranteed loans while still in the armed forces.

For a post-Korean veteran or serviceman, VA may guarantee a home loan made by a private lender up to $7,500 or 60 percent of the loan, whichever is less.

For a farm real estate loan other than for the acquisition of a home, the guaranty may not exceed $4,000, or 50 percent of the loan; and for non-real estate farm loans, the guaranty may not exceed $2,000, or 50 percent of the loan.

This means that a lending institution will receive the Government's guaranty which is intended to be in lieu of a down payment or to reduce the down payment which the lender normally requires.

The maximum amounts of entitlement apply to each person who qualifies under the new law. In other words, an individual who is eligible as a serviceman will not gain additional entitlement when he is released or separated from the service; further, an individual who can qualify as a post-Korean veteran and who later serves for 181 or more days will not receive additional entitlement for the later periods of service.

Loans may be for the purchase of homes; to make alterations, repairs or improvements in homes already owned and occupied; to purchase farms or farm supplies or equipment; to obtain farm working capital; or to refinance delinquent indebtedness on property to be used or occupied by the veteran as a home or for farming purposes.

The new GI Bill offers only guaranteed loans to post-Korean veterans and servicemen; insured loans are not authorized for such veterans and servicemen. Also, business loans are not authorized for individuals who qualify under the new GI Bill.

VA direct home loans will be available only for the purchase of homes and farmhouses in areas where such loans have been authorized. The maximum direct loan possible has been raised from $15,000 to $17,500.

There is no maximum on the amount of a guaranteed loan. All loans made or guaranteed by VA will bear interest at 5 1/2 percent.

Under the new law, a one-time non-recurring fee, not to exceed one-half of one percent of the loan amount must be paid to the VA before a guaranty certificate may be issued or before a direct loan is made. However, it may be included in the loan, but it cannot increase the maximum direct loan above $17,500.

Veterans eligible under the new law who still have unused and unexpired World War II or Korean Conflict entitlement will have their previous entitlement cancelled. However, should they obtain a guaranteed or direct loan during the period their cancelled entitlement would have been effective, they need not pay the statutory fee. They may also secure business loans during the period.

The entitlement of a post-Korean veteran or serviceman may be reduced if he has already used his World War II or Korean Conflict entitlement. However, under certain circumstances, entitlement previously used can be restored. VA does not require a down payment. Lenders, however, may require down payments. Certificates of Eligibility or additional information may be secured from any VA regional office.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

LUBBOCK - Perhaps more than ever before, cotton producers on the High Plains are searching for ways to get maximum value from fertilizers, irrigation water and acres in 1966. Here are some of the reasons.

For all practical purposes every farmer's cotton acreage will be reduced from 12 1/2 to 35 percent under the new cotton program, and reports show that over 95 percent of them are electing to divert or lay out a full 35 percent in 1966.

Rules for skip-row planting of cotton and other crops have been changed to the effect that farmers utilizing any skip row pattern which leaves less than four blank rows are penalized from 18 to 23 percent of their permissible 1966 acreage.

Exclusive of government payments, which are based on projected yield instead of the cotton actually produced, the farmer will get approximately eight cents per pound or $40 per bale less for the cotton he takes to the gin in 1966. The loan price in 1966 is to be 21 cents per pound, basis middling-inch cotton, as compared to 29 cents in 1965. While this does not necessarily set the price at which cotton will be sold, in the past the loan value has pretty well established the market range, so the comparison for the two years should not be far off center.

With these facts in mind, and mindful as well that the amount of government payments in future years will be contingent on keeping per acre yields at a high level, producers are forced to cut every corner possible to keep production up without jeopardizing 1966 net profits.

According to reports from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, interest is running high in the results of research and demonstrations which tend to show the way to maintaining or increasing production without a corresponding increase in production costs.

Extension information Specialist Mike Hood says: "County agents across the High Plains are reporting heavy inquiries from producers seeking ways to minimize or if possible avoid entirely the effects of reduced acreage and new skip-row rulings."

Attracting a lot of attention at Muleshoe has been a fertilizer demonstration on cotton which illustrates how profits can be increased by following soil test plant food recommendations. Conducted on the Pat Childress farm, the test was set up to show if new fertilizer mixes containing sulphur would prove profitable or Portales high lime soil.

Soil test recommendations from the South Plains Research and Extension Center near Lubbock called for applications of nitrogen alone at the rate of 60 pounds per acre. According to Bailey County Agent J. K. Adams this produced 63 pounds lint per acre more than either of two other plots, each of which received fertilizer mixes containing sulphur. And 60 pounds of nitrogen alone produced 254 pounds more lint than a check plot which was not fertilized at all.

More important is the fact that the best yield, 654 pounds, was produced with only $5 per acre worth of fertilizer while the next best yield, 591 pounds, came from a plot to which $25 worth of fertilizer was applied. Adams said the demonstration also indicated that late square and early bloom stage may be the most ideal time to apply nitrogen to the Portales high lime soils in that area.

From Tahoka where irrigation water is generally light comes news of some unusual combinations or row spacing and watering methods.

W. B. Griffin, County Agent, says several of the local farmers will be trying a system in which cotton will be planted four-in-four-out (under which the four blank rows can be counted as diverted acreage under the new cotton program). The farmers will then attempt to take maximum advantage of weak irrigation wells by a pre-plant watering that will be applied just to two of the three furrows inside the area where cotton is planted. Then summer irrigation will be applied only down the previously unwatered middle-furrow.

Griffin says the farmers figure that the outside rows will draw enough moisture from the skipped rows to make fairly good yields. He points out, however, that not enough is known of this system to make it a recommended practice. But it will be interesting to see how it works.

The need to conserve water is more than something necessary to keep pumping costs down under the new cotton program. Irrigation specialists and hydrologists have for years been cautioning that our underground supply of water is not unlimited and that every practice that can be utilized to save water will prolong the life of extensive irrigation on the Plains.

To this end, Irrigation Specialist Bill Lyle and others have been investigating various levels of pre-plant irrigation. The conclusion is that in gen-

Behlen is also gathering material for a book he hopes to write about the Southern Dulcimer. From the history of Behlen Folk Dulcimers and his association with the ancient instrument, a fitting title might well be "The Dulcimer And I."

then collided with the patrol car.
John Neuman, 3410 S. 18th, Lubbock, and Thomas Lee Ethridge, 550 W. Lynn, were involved in the first accident. Carlos Martinez was driver of the third vehicle involved. Officer Ted Jones, investigating the accident at the time of the second collision, said damage to the patrol car was minor.
A radar set up in the city limits accounted for 14 traffic tickets issued over the holiday weekend. A total of 28 tickets were issued in Slaton for traffic violations.
Jail arrests for the week numbered 23, including arrests for drunkenness, minors in possession of alcoholic beverages, making alcoholic beverages available, and other law violations.

eral too much water is applied during pre-plant irrigation in this region.
Lyle says there are instances where as much as 12 inches are applied when four inches will bring the soil to its field capacity throughout the root zone. And he says farmers should plan their first watering so they apply no more than the amount which can be effectively stored in the soil's root zone.
While the amount of water necessary to saturate the root zone varies with soil type, Lyle thinks watering deeper than four feet is usually inefficient and results in considerable wasted water through deep percolation.
He defines "field capacity" as the maximum amount of water a soil can retain for crop use, and describes the water holding ability of the common soil types on the South Plains as follows:
Hardlands -- such as Pullman clay loams -- hold an average of 2 to 2 1/2 inches per foot of soil. A six-inch pre-plant irrigation should bring the root zone to field capacity.
Sandylands -- such as Brownfield loamy sand -- hold an average of one inch of water per foot of soil. An application in excess of four inches is probably wasteful.
Especially in the case of those with limited irrigation water a pre-plant watering that does not bring the entire root zone to field capacity may sometimes be advisable, Lyle points out.
He cites studies at the South Plains Research and Extension Center which indicate that average summer rains with light pre-plant irrigation will produce yields comparable to those with heavier pre-plant waterings. However, he says that in years of less than average rainfall the same studies show significant yield losses with lighter pre-plant irrigations.

Meet the "Hot Stick" brigade

In spite of constant improvements, service interruptions are at an absolute minimum in the territory served by South Plains Electric Cooperative. Expert cooperative electricians use "hot sticks" to transfer high tension lines from one pole to another without interrupting service. In some instances, bucket trucks allow the lineman to handle these "hot" wires with gloved hands. Constant system improvements, continual upgrading of service with no interruptions... these are the aims of the electric cooperative crews.

Your member-owned South Plains Electric Cooperative with modern tools and techniques is providing a dependable, low-cost electric system that is Helping Texas Grow.
