Hosiery With Beauty as Well as Durability

WOMEN appreciate sheer, dainty hose. But common sense urges that they should be long wearing—practical—durable.

We have found the happy combination in Black Cat Reinforced Hosiery. High spliced heels—extended toes—double soles—wide flare, run-proof garter hems—reinforced so the life of every pair is practically doubled. In many colors, sizes and weights.

Black Cat Reinforced Hosiery For All the Family

Men's Hosiery

Medium and light-weight Black Cat Sox, long wearing, smooth-fitting, fine texture—amazingly durable. All sizes and colors.

25c to $1.00

Children's Hosiery

Boys and girls, heavy or medium weight—triple reinforced at heels, toes, soles and knees—where the wear comes. Fast dyes.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BOOSTERS VISITED POST LAST MONDAY NIGHT

Acting upon an invitation from the Post Chamber of Commerce about fifty boosters from the Slaton Chamber of Commerce went down Monday night and held a joint meeting with our neighboring boosters.

J. F. Hartford, president of the Post Chamber of Commerce, opened the meeting with a few remarks, expressing pleasure at having the Slaton boosters with them, and also surprise at the large number present. Afterward the meeting was turned to B. M. Holland, president of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, who presided with his usual dignity, and kept things moving until the close of the session.

Many short, but interesting talks were heard from both Slaton and Post citizens. The principal address of the evening was delivered by Hon. R. A. Baldwin of this city, and he held the closest attention of the large crowd from beginning to end.

The object of this joint meeting was to discuss and formulate plans to improve the Colorado to Gulf Highway, which traverses this section of West Texas, and is one of the most popular and most traveled highways in West Texas. It is sought to bring the towns along this highway closer together—to get a better co-operation between the different towns and counties, with the prospect of making many substantial improvements.

A joint meeting of the Chambers of Commerce of Slaton, Post, Sweetwater and Snyder will be held at the latter place today. A large delegation will join the Post party and go down together to attend this meeting.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Slaton vs Lamesa.

In first quarter Lamesa got kick-off, Slaton receiving ball. Lamesa man made a bad kick. Abel receiving the ball, carried it almost back to kick-off point. By end runs and line bucks Slaton carried ball to within 5 yards of goal line, when ball went over to Lamesa. By forward passes and end runs Lamesa carried touchdown, after which goal was kicked.

During second quarter by forward passes and end runs Lamesa secured her second and last touchdown, but failed to make goal. Just at this time the Slaton boys began to show Lamesa what she was up against. Slaton received kick-off. Green, in his remarkable way kicked ball behind goal line; Lamesa advanced only ten yards with ball. Slaton held them for four downs when ball went over. By line bucks and end runs Green succeeded in making touchdown, after which Weaver kicked goal. During this quarter another touchdown was made by Slaton, but failed to kick goal.

At close of third quarter the score was 13 and 13. Each side put up a stiff fight. Enthusiasm ran high. It was almost impossible to keep the people off the court. Lamesa fought hard but in vain. Her team was heavier than Slaton's but "Big Boy" Brown succeeded in making a hole every time he hit the line. Green made a run of sixty or seventy yards before Lamesa succeeded in downing him.

In last quarter Lamesa attempted a long forward pass but Joe Burton in his usual way intercepted. During the game Lamesa fumbled the ball but Abel slipped through the line and recovered it for Slaton. Abel is making a fine record by slipping through lines.

At close of the game the score was 19 to 13 in favor of Slaton.

Lamesa has a good team, knows how to play, and gives a good fight. A remarkable feat is her long forward passes. Above all, she plays a clean game.

A large crowd attended the game. This fact encourages the team and school. Come help the team win next time. Following is the line-up for Slaton. We regret not knowing the line-up for Lamesa:

FREE TUITION.

Help yourself, your friends and the largest educational institution of its kind in the United States, the Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas, by taking advantage of the following liberal offer.

Fill in the names and addresses of five young people who are or might be interested in a business education, in the blank below; tear off and mail to us and we will credit you with five dollars ($5.00) tuition on any course you may enroll for with us in the next six months, either for personal attendance or correspondence (not more than one coupon can be accepted for one person.)

This is an opportunity for you to make a start toward your own education, with no cost to yourself. Though you may not even be considering a business education, if you will get our catalogue, which we will gladly send on request, and acquaint yourself with the advantages of a training in modern business methods, and realize the wonderful opportunities that the world of commerce offers to the young man or woman who is already prepared, it is easily possible that you will decide to spend a few months with us. You will make the best possible investment of your time and money enrolling with us at the earliest possible date.

By sending us the names of your friends you may start them on the road to success. Thousands of our former students are now holding responsible positions or are in business for themselves, drawing salaries as high as $40,000 a year. You are offered the same training that gave these successful people their start, and in justice to your friends you should open the same opportunity to them by giving them us their names so we can write them about it.

In addition to our most thorough and practical courses of Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Telegraphy, Business Administration and Finance, Cotton Cladding and ePnmanship, we announce a General Business Course, General Banking Course and General Railroad Telegraphy Course. These courses are especially arranged to meet a demand for specialized training in their respective lines. They cover the subjects completely but include nothing that is not practical and necessary. A special rate is made on them, and they are given in the least time consistent with thoroughness. Ask for information about them.

IN NEW CHAPEAUX

Latest in Millinery Models Are Plain and Simple.

Everything Droops in Some Little Way—Feathers Mark Season
for Their Own.

The hat is the beginning and the end of one's whole costume. Yet, observes a fashion critic, if there is any other one article of feminine apparel which is more difficult to do satisfactorily, then let us see it at once. There are cries from the feminine population of “I have looked at millions of hats, and can't find one that is becoming.” Or, a still worse fate exists for the woman who blithely thinks that they are all more or less becoming and operates on that basis.

This year the hats are changing subtly. They are no longer the “round-and-round” affairs that they have been for some time past. That is, they diverge from this general rule most charmingly. And why is this? Because of the ways of the skirts. If they descend, then the hats must take on other lines in order to conform to the greater dignity of purpose.

The newer hats are plain and simple, to be sure, but they are most decidedly different, even though this difference is of so hidden an origin that one must analyze the elements of the case to be certain where the difference lies.

Everything droops in some little way at least. And if it foregoes that pleasure of trailing its long way over the shoulder, then it has a tendency to take out the season's nature by means of thin and jutting feathers or in pompons or bunches of flowers or exotic fruits of one sort or another. But the feathers are the things that

SLIP-OVER FROCKS POPULAR

Garment Easy to Make—Any Home
Needlewoman Can Turn Out Sat-

The slip-over frocks of silk or linen, serge or cotton that are worn with a blouse beneath them to supply the sleeves which they lack are tremendously popular, but they are still smart enough to pass muster. They are the easiest sort of thing to make and any home needlewoman could accomplish one satisfactorily. The edges are sometimes simply turned under and machine hemmed. Sometimes they are finished with a cording, sometimes with a binding. Sometimes a white one, for instance, of linen, will be bound with red silk braid. Such a combination could hardly be put safely through the laundry, but the color contrast is good, and that is all some designers think of, naturally. For the home dressmaker, however, it is well to think of the practical side of life, and washable colors are on the practical side.

mark the season for their own. On small hats and large hats they are the trimmings that have everything their own way, and there is absolutely no rule about the paths they trail. Now, whichever way one turns where fashionable women are gathered together, one sees a feather with a difference about its setting, but with that absolute claim to style which must be there to make it one of the season's best.

As one season slides into another there is ever a place for the black satin hat, and actually there is nothing more lovely than this sort of chapeau when it is beautifully done.

FASHION NOTES

The spangled gown in misty fabrics is rising in popularity.

Beads in strings and strands! Feathers in rosettes, and tufts, and fan formation! Such embellishments make many a belle a lovely monument to the aboriginal fashions.

The sporting plaids, checks, and stripes, much used for the composite suit all summer, continue in popularity. These rigs are shown as “coasting suits,” “skating apparel” and just plain “sport suits.”

Sweeping ostrich feathers, like long, silky black curls, trail down from the crown of a black velvet hat to the bit of white shoulder that appears above the low Eugenie neckline of a black crepe de chine frock.

Ermine is a trying fur in daytime for any but the young and lovely. A blonde debutante cannot go astray in her choice of a wrap if she chooses black crepe de chine lined with gold brocade and topped with an ermine collar, especially if the hat atop her shining curls is a black toque with crystal ornaments.

Duvelyn holds its own tenaciously in the bewildering display of new fabrics. It is very delicate in texture and rather perishable. But it is too lovely to be given escape from the modes. There are harder weaves that look a kinship to duvelyn in downy surface, including moussayne and ermine. The dove-down satin combines the dull luster of duvelyn with safin facing.

Rust From Steel.

To remove rust from steel fire irons first rub them with a piece of flannel saturated with ammonia. Then dry with powdered bathbrick and polish with a dry cloth.

Dusty Rugs.

Moisten some coarse salt with kerosene and sprinkle it freely over your soiled rug; brush a little away; let remain for five or ten minutes, then finish the rug. The oil (if you do not use too much) will gather the dust and the colors will be brightened. Moths are killed by the mixture of salt and oil, so in addition to its original work, it acts as an exterminator.

Unique Place Cards.

Paper place cards of little ladies are frequently cut so they will stand up and are dressed with a wisp of malinge or ribbon to look realistic.

Idea for a Hostess.

Tiny paper hat boxes to suggest “going away,” are appropriate nests to hold an announcement of an engagement or a trip.

Remove Paint Spots.

To remove paint spots on window panes apply a cloth dipped in hot vinegar. Use steel wool to remove splatters of paint on window panes.

YOU NEED A VITALIZER

You are not feeling fit. Your food does not seem to agree, have headaches, dizzy, tired and sleepy even after a night's rest, bowels constipated. Nothing new serious the matter, you think, but you know you are not there with the punch and the pep. The symptoms are those of systemic catarrh, which must not be neglected.

PE-RU-NA

FOR YOUNG AND OLD

Proved by half a century of service the real remedy for systemic catarrh, in action, Pe-ru-na is direct and satisfactory. It restores the appetite, enriches the blood, dispels the catarrhal poisons which are causing all the trouble and puts the various organs in prime working order. There is a prompt and pleasant return of the old vigor and healthful elasticity which make all tasks easy and life a joy. Fine after the grip or Spanish Flu. Try it and see.

SOLD EVERYWHERE. TABLETS OR LIQUID.

MOTHER! YOUR CHILD'S BOWELS NEED “CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP”

Even a sick child loves the “fruity” taste of “California Fig Syrup.” If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep “California Fig Syrup” handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine “California Fig Syrup” which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say “California” or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

COLDS

“Pape’s Cold Compound” is Quickest Relief Known

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling! A dose of “Pape's Cold Compound” taken every two hours until three doses are taken usually breaks any cold right up.

The very first dose opens clogged nostrils and the air passages of the head; stops nose running; relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness.

“Pape's Cold Compound” costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, contains no quinine—Insist upon Pape's!—Advertisement.

MRS. HAYDOCK SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

Followed Advice of Her Druggist's Wife and Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chicago, Ill.—"I was in bed with a female trouble and inflammation and had four doctors but none of them did me any good. They all said I would have to have an operation. A druggist's wife told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took 22 bottles, never missing a dose and at the end of that time I was perfectly well. I have never had occasion to take it again as I have been so well. I have a six room flat and do all my work. My two sisters are taking the Compound upon my recommendation and you may publish my letter. It is the gospel truth and I will write to any one who wants a personal letter."—Mrs. E. H. HAYDOCK, 6824 St. Lawrence Avenue, Chicago Illinois.

Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved Mrs. Haydock from an operation we cannot claim that all operations may be avoided by it,—but many women have escaped operations by the timely use of this old-fashioned root and herb medicine.

BOY SCOUTS

(Conducted by National Council of the Boy Scouts of America.)

HOW LEGION CAN CO-OPERATE

It is a source of satisfaction to the Boy Scouts of America to know that the American Legion not only officially indorses the scout movement but is willing and anxious to co-operate with scouts in their various community undertakings throughout the nation. Our boys look with the greatest respect and hero worship to those other just a little older boys who hold the front-line trenches so heroically while the younger lads at home worked gallantly at selling Liberty bonds and raising war gardens both for the same great cause and in the same high spirit.

Now that the war is over it is most fitting that the same fine energy and devotion to the nation which was shown both by the Legion and boy scouts should go on in other forms of service, and there is literally no limit to what the two organizations, working together, could accomplish by way of community and national activity.

Our patriotic holidays, such as Memorial day, Flag day, Fourth of July, Constitution day, Columbus day, Armistice day, etc., all offer fine opportunities for the Legion to co-operate with their younger but no less loyal scout brothers in holding patriotic meetings and making public dedication to the service of our great country with its ideals of liberty and justice for all as well as the renewal of acknowledgment of the debt we all owe to those who gave their lives that the nation might win its battle for the right.

Americanization work—not only of foreigners but of our own people, in laying stress upon loyal service to the nation, the flag and all it stands for—also offers opportunity for co-operation. Last year thousands of foreign-born men and women were induced through scouts to enter citizenship classes in preparation for obtaining naturalization papers, and the Legion could materially assist in carrying out this important work on an even greater scale, using newspaper and other publicity.

It is difficult to suggest in a general article specific ways by which the two organizations, working together, may accomplish worth-while results. Local conditions and needs will govern the selection of the object sought. Community swimming pools and playgrounds, founding beds in hospitals, adopting war orphans, conducting home-service bureaus, taking part in local campaigns, such as safety-first, fire prevention, city clean-ups, etc., may all be undertaken with good effect wherever there is a local scout headquarters. The executive in charge will gladly offer suggestions and ideas as to the best and most practical kinds of co-operative service and will place his groups of trained boys at the Legion's call wherever possible. Readiness to help is a boy scout's chief characteristic. If you haven't tested this fact out for yourself, try it and see what happens. Nothing could make a scout happier or prouder than to help a member of the Legion, or a Legion post, whether the good turn required is great or small.

Finally, perhaps, the very biggest opportunity for service to the community is the opportunity offered to the Legion to go in for active scout leadership. No one is better fitted than a veteran of the World war to become a scoutmaster or an instructor.

TO MAKE SWIMMING SAFE.

"The old swimming hole" is all right if you know all about it, but every year many lives are lost because people attempt to swim in uncharted lakes or rivers with dangerous holes. Out in Shelbyville, Ind., a boy scout lost his life in one of these treacherous gravel holes and the tragedy awoke the public to the dangers in its own midst. The Rotary club immediately came to the front and enlisted the willing co-operation of the boy scouts in charting and permanently marking all the danger points in the vicinity of the town. The scouts made the signs and the Rotarians sold them under the slogan of "Buy a sign and save a boy's life." Wires as well as signs were placed over these treacherous holes by the scouts and trash and dumpage were also cleared out.

How about your town? Any need of this kind of safety-first work? If so, set your scouts to work. That good old ounce of prevention of which we have all heard so often is still remarkably worth while as a substitute for the pound of cure, which is, sometimes, as it was in Shelbyville, a sad

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper. Advertisement.

FOSTER'S WEATHER BULLETIN. (Copyrighted.)

Washington, Oct. 25.—We are into a new weather deal that will continue five or six months. During first month of these weather periods not much change from the previous period, usually occurs, but two severe storms in the coming November, during the weeks centering on 14 and 28, will cause a greater change than is usual for the first month of this kind of weather period.

I am compelled to frequently repeat that all these storms move eastward and not in the direction that the wind blows. Storms are divided into warm waves, storm waves, cool waves.

First third of November temperatures will average a little above normal, second below and last third more above normal than the first; the month from about to above. Generally precipitation will be less than usual, greatest during the weeks centering on 14 and 28. Locations of moisture will not change much from average of past four months. Highest temperatures of November will reach meridian 90 near 3, 8, 13, 23, 30; lowest near 6, 11, 16, 26, Dec. 1.

Top growth of cotton is expected to suffer from severe killing frosts during week centering on Nov. 16 and northern winter grain a set-back from severe freezing. That blizzard will be inspired by a combination conspiracy against our poor little Earth by Venus, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn and Moon. These solar system captains possess long-range electromagnetic guns that shoot into our northern magnetic pole the stuff that lightning is made of, a matter composed of condensed ether of space, which radiates from our magnetic north pole, comes down thru the high, up thru the low of our storms, causing our weather changes, all for the purpose of distributing these ether conditions throughout the Earth, as this building material, on its way to feed the Sun, feeds our Earth thru vegetable and animal life, only the more refined particles passing on to the great center of the solar system.

A warm wave is due on meridian 90 near Nov. 3, followed by moderate storms and cool wave, then another similar series reaching meridian 90 near Nov. 8, then in the next series look out for the blizzard.

No change in advice to farmers and dealers.

NOTICE.

Inasmuch as I have had one steer killed and others injured by unlawful handling, I will allow no more hunting nor trespassing on my premises.

B. M. HOLLAND ELECTED VICE PRESIDENT OF SOUTH PLAINS FAIR ASSOCIATION

Curtis Keen, secretary of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, advised the Slatonite by telephone Wednesday that B. M. Holland of this city had been elected vice president of the South Plains Fair Association at a meeting held in Lubbock Monday.

When advised of this by a representative of the Slatonite, Mr. Holland did not state whether or not he would accept the office, even though he appreciated the honor conferred on him by that body.

The capital stock of this association will be raised from ten to twenty-five thousand dollars, and it was stated by Mr. Keen that a large agricultural hall, additional stock sheds, new race track and grand stand would be built at an early date.

The association will also select one man from each town in the district served by this fair to serve as a member of the advisory committee.

When asked about the finances of the fair Mr. Keen stated that there was a deficit of $700 due for materials used in buildings on the fair grounds.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION.

The State of Texas.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Lubbock County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Velma Agnew by making publication of this Citation once each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 72nd Judicial District; but if there be no newspaper published in said Judicial District, then in a newspaper published in the nearest district to said 72nd Judicial District, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Lubbock County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Lubbock, Texas, on the second Monday in December, A. D. 1921, the same being the 12th day of December, A. D. 1921, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 25th day of October, A. D. 1921, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 1489, wherein E. E. Agnew is Plaintiff, and Velma Agnew is defendant, and said petition alleging that plaintiff has been an actual bona fide inhabitant of Texas, more than twelve months and a resident of Lubbock county more than six months prior to filing his petition herein. That he was lawfully married to defendant July 18th, 1917, and lived together thereafter as husband and wife until about the 15th day of December, A. D. 1917, when she voluntarily left his bed and board, with the intention of abandonment and said abandonment has continued for more than three full years, prior to the filing of this suit.

Plaintiff prays that upon final trial hereof, that he be granted a divorce from the defendant, and that the bonds of matrimony heretofore existing between them be dissolved, and for general and special relief, in law or in equity to which he may be entitled, etc.

Herein fail not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the Seal of Said Court, at office in Lubbock, Texas, this the 25th day of October, A. D. 1921.

(Seal) LOUIE F. MOORE,
Clerk, District Court, Lubbock Co., Texas.

The One-Ton Truck

The Ford One-Ton Truck first made its appeal to the farmer and the merchant because of the merits of Ford Cars. And it made its wonderful reputation and great sales record because it lived up to every claim made for it.

The reliable Ford Motor, the special Ford steel chassis, the aluminum bronze worm-drive, all combine to produce a truck of unusual power, capacity and strength—a truck that lasts in service; a truck that solves the haulage problem at a very small operating and upkeep expense. Hence the demand for the Ford One-Ton Truck is constantly on the increase.

For the good of your business, whether it be farming, merchandising or manufacturing, you should come in and look over the Ford One-Ton Truck—NOW!

IMPORTANT

We are prepared to furnish the Ford Truck equipped either with Standard or Special Gearing. The Standard Gearing gives the truck a maximum of power. The Special Gearing increases the speed of the truck from five to seven miles an hour, converting it into a Fast Delivery Car.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL Sunday School Lesson

By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (Copyright, 1921, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 30 STRONG DRINK IN A NATION'S LIFE—WORLD'S TEMPERANCE SUNDAY.

LESSON TEXT—Isa. 28:1-13. GOLDEN TEXT—Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink.—Hab. 2:15. REFERENCE MATERIAL—Isa. 5:11-13, 28:27; Amos 4:1, 2. PRIMARY TOPIC—Story of the Rechabites. JUNIOR TOPIC—The Faithful Rechabites. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Enforcing Prohibition. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—World Prohibition.

I. God's Judgment Upon Israel (vv. 1-4).

1. The sin for which Israel was judged (v. 1). It was drunkenness, which seems to have been a national sin. (See Isa. 5:11, 12; 7:5; Amos 2:9, 8, 12; 4:1; 6, 6.) Samaria's position was an enviable one. The whole nation was proud of her. The crown of pride whose glorious beauty had been so marked was fading through the blighting effects of drunkenness. 2. The instrument by which the punishment was effected (v. 2). It was to be by the strong hand of the Assyrians. The imagery of this verse shows that this destruction was to be sudden, swift and irresistible.

Some of the evils wrought by drunkenness:

- (a) Strength is wasted by it (v. 1). "Are overcome with wine." Man's manifold strength, physical, mental and spiritual, is soon mastered by strong drink. (b) Honor brought into the dust. "Shall be trodden under feet" (vv. 1, 3). Just as this proud city was humbled through intemperance, so does drunkenness bring down into the dust those high in educational, social and business circles. (c) It despoils beauty (vv. 1, 4). "Beauty is a fading flower." Beauty soon departs from the form and spirit of men and women who indulge in the intoxicating cup. (d) Wisdom is turned aside (v. 7). "They have erred through wine and strong drink." As a consequence they were groping in darkness instead of walking in the light of the Lord.

II. The Lord's Promise to the Remnant (vv. 5, 6).

Out of this awful darkness shines a ray of brightness, for following the destruction of the proud city the Lord of Hosts is promised for a crown of glory to the remnant of His people. This pointed forward to the coming of the Savior (Zech. 6:13). Their hopes were partially fulfilled at the first coming of the Savior, but the real fulfillment shall be when drunkenness, pride and all unrighteousness shall disappear before the glaring light of the Sun of Righteousness (Mal. 4:2; 1 Pet. 5:4).

III. The Sinfulness of Judah (vv. 7-10).

1. Drunkenness (v. 7). Judah had also erred through strong drink. Even their priests and prophets had fallen through the blighting effects of wine. It was a violation of God's law for a priest to take wine before entering the tabernacle. The drunkards of both Judah and Ephraim are denounced. The message is a fitting one for this day, for the Scriptures declare that no drunkard shall enter the kingdom (1 Cor. 5:11; 6:10).

2. Unnamable filth (v. 8). This description shows a condition which is deplorable indeed. Filth and drunkenness go hand in hand.

3. Mockery (vv. 9, 10). In addition to their drunkenness and filth they scornfully mock God's prophets. These prophets had become so hardened by their drunken debauchery that they set at naught Isaiah's instructions and scorned God's messengers. The questioned their authority and gave back the answer of ridicule as if to say, "We are teachers, what do you mean to teach us? Are we babes that have just been weaned? You come to us with your line upon line, line upon line." They were not only unwilling to receive the message, but tired of the way in which it was delivered. Not being willing to receive the message, they complained of the manner in which it is delivered. The doctrine of salvation by blood alone is not a very popular one; the preaching of the cross is foolishness to some (1 Cor. 1:18-21; 2:14).

IV. Judah's Punishment. (vv. 11-13). The prophet replies to these drunken scoffers that their very drunken questions should be answered by the Lord in judgment. God had repeatedly offered them rest, but they had as repeatedly refused it. Their scorn and contempt are answered with the bitterest sarcasm. The bloody conqueror would come upon them and cause them to be snared and taken.

SCHOOL LUNCHEES.

The day of the school lunch has returned and the mother who thinks will realize how important it is that her child should have good nourishing food. The undernourished child may be one from a "well-to-do" family, and no child can do good work in mind or body without proper food.

To start the day right there should be plenty of time for a good wholesome breakfast, which will "stay by" until the noon lunch.

A good-sized dish of some well-cooked cereal, with top milk, with no sugar, is preferable; add a few dates, prunes, figs or raisins for the sweetening. An egg with toast or muffin and a big glass of milk with a cookie will make a good breakfast for any growing child. A cupful of hot cocoa in cold weather, or have the milk heated, will make a change in the drink.

There are many cereal coffees on the market which are both agreeable and nourishing, but the real coffee should never be given to growing children, even in small quantities. Tea and all highly seasoned foods and condiments should be omitted from the children's food.

Lack of appetite in the morning is often the result of sleeping in an ill-ventilated room. The bad taste in the mouth should be attended to at once. An adult may miss a meal, often to his betterment, but a child who uses all his energy in building tissue cannot omit a meal.

Children are hungry more often than adults because their digestive organs are very active. A lunch between meals is often necessary, but the habit of continuous lunching is very bad.

In packing the school lunch care should be taken to appeal to the taste of the child; make it good to look at first, then it will not be hard to make it appetizing.

Never try to bear more than one kind of trouble at once. Some people bear three kinds—all they have had, all they have now, and all they expect to have.—Edward Everett Hale.

TRY THESE.

For a nice little cake to serve at tea or with a cup of hot chocolate or cocoa there is nothing more satisfying than:

Date Bars.—Take one cupful each of nuts and sugar, two well-beaten eggs and one cupful of flour with two level spoonfuls of the flour removed. Add one-half teaspoonful of baking powder, the same of cinnamon and one cupful of dates which have been washed, dried, stoned and quartered. Mix all together and bake in two small dripping pans or square cake tins. Dust the tins after greasing well with flour, spread the mixture evenly over the tins and bake in a slow oven twenty-five minutes.

Baked Ham.—Parboil a thick slice of ham from the center of the ham, place in a deep dish or in a fireless cooker dish, cover with one-half cupful of brown sugar mixed with one teaspoonful of mustard and pour around it milk enough to cover the sides of the ham. Bake in a moderate oven for an hour or in the cooker for four or five hours.

Round Steak Birds.—Cut strips of round steak, flatten by pounding until quite thin. Place upon each strip a slice of bacon, a slice of pickle and a slice of onion. Roll up and tie with a string. Dust with salted and peppered flour and brown in a little hot fat. Simmer until tender, never allowing the meat to boil. Serve with the gravy poured around the rolls, after removing the string.

Cream Prune Pie.—Put through a sieve a cupful of stewed prunes, add a cupful of milk, one teaspoonful of cornstarch, a third of a cupful of sugar, the yolks of two eggs well beaten, a pinch of salt, mix well and pour into a pastry-lined pie plate. Cover with a meringue and bake all together or cook the filling, bake the crust and cover with a meringue and brown in the oven.

Graham Bread.—Take two cupfuls of sour milk, two teaspoonfuls of soda, three cupfuls of graham flour, two-thirds of a cupful of brown sugar, a pinch of salt. Mix all together and bake in a slow oven one hour.

Lofty Monument in Delhi, India, Erected After a Meteorite Fell Near the Spot.

The idea that the earth is not a flat disk, but a globe, does not seem to have "caught on" in India, for they still talk about a certain place being the "center of the world."

In Delhi stands a lofty monument that goes by name of Kutub Minor, a structure towering high above the temple of which it is a part.

The appearance of this curious piece of architecture is that of a number of tiers of columns, seemingly tied together in bundles. At big intervals there are balconies.

The Kutub Minor is of special interest and note in the world over which the religion of the teacher Buddha holds sway. Here, long ago, tradition has it a meteorite fell, sent by the ruling powers in the mystic world beyond this life to mark in the exact center of the world.

In commemoration of this miraculous event the Kutub Minor was erected on the spot, that mankind might never forget it.—London Answers.

New York Proprietor Thinks Patrons Should Know Who is Operating on Them.

The proprietor of a barber shop in New York believes it is a good thing for his business to have his patrons call each barber by name. To this end he has had one of his 15 employees who is handy at lettering scroll the first name of each barber in soap on the mirror in front of each chair.

When a patron enters he sees a row of names—"Tom," "Adam," "Anthony," "Rob," "James"—on either side of the mirrored shop. Below each name is an arrow and a number.

The Voice of the Pack

By EDISON MARSHALL

"We'll rest now," Dan told them at ten o'clock. "The sun is warm enough so that we won't need much of a fire. And we'll try to get five hours' sleep."

"Too long, if we're going to make it out," Lennox objected.

"That leaves a workday of nineteen hours," Dan persisted. "Not any too little. Five hours it will be."

He found where the snow had drifted against a great, dead log, leaving the white covering only a foot in depth on the lee side. He began to scrape the snow away, then backed at the log with his ax until he had procured a piece of comparatively dry wood from its center. They all stood breathless while he lighted the little pile of kindling and heaped it with green wood—the only wood procurable. But it didn't burn freely. It smoked fitfully, threatening to die out, and emitting very little heat.

But they didn't particularly care. The sun was warm above, as always in the mountain winters of southern Oregon. Snowbird and Dan cleared spaces beside the fire and slept. Lennox, who had rested on the journey, lay on his sled and with his uninjured arm tried to hack enough wood from the saplings that Dan had cut to keep the fire burning.

At three they got up, still tired and aching in their bones from exposure. Twenty-four hours had passed since they had tasted food, and their unaccustomed systems complained. There was no better engine in the wide world than the human body. It will stand more neglect and abuse than the finest steel motors ever made by the hands of craftsmen. A man may fast many days if he lies quietly in one place and keeps warm. But fasting is a deadly proposition while pulling sledges over the snow.

Dan was less hopeful now. His face told what his words did not. The lines cleft deeper about his lips and eyes; and Snowbird's heart ached when he tried to encourage her with a smile. It was a wan, strange smile that couldn't quite hide the first sickness of despair.

The shadows quickly lengthened—simply leaping over the snow from the fast-falling sun. The twilight deepened, the snow turned gray, and then, in a vague way, the journey began to partake of a quality of unreality. It was not that the cold and the snow and their hunger were not entirely real, or that the wilderness was no longer naked to their eyes. It was just that their whole effort seemed like some dreadful, unburdened journey in a dream—a stumbling advance under difficulties too many and real to be true.

The first sign was the far-off cry of the wolf pack. It was very faint, simply a stir in the eardrums, yet it was entirely clear. That clear, cold mountain air was a perfect telephone system, conveying a message distinctly, no matter how faintly. There were no tall buildings or cities to disturb the ether waves. And all three of them knew at the same instant it was not exactly the cry they had heard before.

They couldn't have told just why, even if they had wished to talk about it. In some dim way, it had lost the strange quality of despair it had held before. It was as if the pack were running with renewed life, that each wolf was calling to another with a dreadful sort of exultation. It was an excited cry, too—not the long, sad song they had learned to listen for. It sounded immediately behind them.

They couldn't help but listen. No human ears could have shut out the sound. But none of them pretended that they had heard. And this was the worst sign of all. Each one of the three was hoping against hope in his very heart; and at the same time, hoping that the others did not understand.

For a long time, as the darkness deepened about them, the forests were still. Perhaps, Dan thought, he had been mistaken after all. His shoulders straightened. Then the chorus blared again.

The man looked back at the girl, smiling into her eyes. Lennox lay as if asleep, the lines of his dark face seriously pronounced. And the girl, because she was of the mountains, body and soul, answered Dan's smile. Then they knew that all of them knew the truth. Not even an inexperienced ear could have any delusions about the pack song now. It was that oldest of wilderness songs, the hunting-cry—that frenzied song of blood-just that the wolf pack utters when it is running on the trail of game. It had found the track of living flesh at last. "There's no use stopping, or trying to climb a tree," Dan told them simply. "In the first place, Lennox can't do it. In the second, we've got to take a chance—for cold and hunger can get up a tree where the wolf pack can't." He spoke wholly without emotion. Once more he tightened the traces of the sled.

"I've heard that sometimes the pack will chase a man for days without attacking," Lennox void them. "It all depends on how long they've gone without food. Keep on and try to forget 'em. Maybe we can keep 'em bluffed."

But as the hours passed, it became increasingly difficult to forget the wolf pack. It was only a matter of turning the head and peering for an instant into the shadows to catch a glimpse of one of the creatures. Their usual fear of men, always their first emotion, had given way wholly to a hunting cunning; an effort to procure their game without too great risk of their own lives. In the desperation of their hunger they could not remember such things as the fear of men. They spread out farther, and at last Dan looked up to find one of the gray beasts waiting, like a shadow himself, in the shadow of a tree not one hundred feet from the sled. Snowbird whipped out her pistol.

"Don't dare!" Dan's voice cracked out to her. He didn't speak loudly; yet the words came so sharp and commanding, so like pistol fire itself, that they penetrated into her consciousness and choked back the nervous reflexes that in an instant might have lost them one of their three precious shells. She caught herself with a sob. Dan shouted at the wolf, and it melted into the shadows.

"You won't do it again, Snowbird?" he asked her very humbly. But his meaning was clear. He was not as skilled with a pistol as she; but if her nerves were breaking, the gun must be taken from her hands. The three shells must be saved to the moment of utmost need.

"No," she told him, looking straight into his eyes. "I won't do it again."

He believed her. He knew that she spoke the truth. He met her eyes with a half smile. Then, wholly without warning, Fate played its last trump. Again the wilderness reminded them of its might, and their brave spirits were almost broken by the utter remorselessness of the blow. The girl went on her face with a crack of wood. Her snow shoe had been cracked by her fall of the day before, when running to the fire, and whether she struck some other obstruction in the snow, or whether the cracked wood had simply given way under her weight, mattered not even enough for them to investigate. As in all great disasters, only the result remained. The result in this case was that her snowshoe, without which she could not walk at all in the snow, was irreparably broken.

"Fate has stacked the cards against us," Lennox told them, after the first moment's horror from the broken snowshoe.

But no one answered him. The girl, white-faced, kept her wide eyes on Dan. He seemed to be peering into the shadows beside the trail, as if he were watching for the gray forms that now and then glided from tree to tree. In reality, he was not looking for wolves. He was gazing down into his own soul, measuring his own spirit for the trial that lay before him.

The girl, unable to step with the broken snowshoe, rested her weight on one foot and hobbled like a bird with broken wings across to him. No sight of all this terrible journey had been more dreadful in her father's eyes than this. It seemed to split open the strong heart of the man. She touched her hand to his arm.

"I'm sorry, Dan," she told him. "You tried so hard—"

Just one little sound broke from his throat—a strange, deep gasp that could not be suppressed. Then he caught her hand in his and kissed it—again and again. "Do you think I care about that?" he asked her. "I only wish I could have done more—and what I have done doesn't count. Just as in my fight with Cranston, nothing counts because I didn't win. It's just fate, Snowbird. It's no one's fault, but maybe, in this world, nothing is ever anyone's fault." For in the twilight of those winter woods, in the shadow of death itself, perhaps he was catching glimpsings of eternal truths that are hidden from all but the most far-seeing eyes.

Copyright, 1920, by Little, Brown & Co.

"And this is the end?" she asked him. She spoke very bravely.

"No!" His hand tightened on hers. "No, so long as an ounce of strength remains. To fight—never to give up—may God give me spirit for it till I die."

And this was no idle prayer. His eyes raised to the starry sky as he spoke.

"But, son," Lennox asked him rather quietly, "what can you do? The wolves aren't going to wait a great deal longer, and we can't go on."

"There's one thing more—one more trial to make," Dan answered. "I thought about it at first, but it was too long a chance to try if there was any other way. And I suppose you thought of it too."

"Overtaking Cranston?"

"Of course. And it sounds like a crazy dream. But listen, both of you. If we have got to die, up here in the snow—and it looks like we had—what is the thing you want done worst before we go?"

Lennox's hands clasped, and he leaned forward on the sled. "Pay Cranston!" he said.

"Yes!" Dan's voice rang. "Cranston's never going to be paid unless we do it. There will be no signs of incediarism, at the house, and no proofs. They'll find our bodies in the snow, and we'll just be a mystery, with no one made to pay. The evidence in my pocket will be taken by Cranston, some time this winter. If I don't make him pay, he never will pay. And that's one reason why I'm going to try to carry out this plan I've got.

"The second reason is that it's the one hope we have left. I take it that none of us are deceived on that point. And no man can die tamely—if he is a man—while there's a chance. I mean a young man, like me—not one who is old and tired. It sounds perfectly silly to talk about finding Cranston's winter quarters, and then, with my bare hands, conquering him, taking his food and his blankets and his snowshoes and his rifle, to fight away these wolves, and bringing 'em back here."

RULED KING IN SUCCESSION

Three Sisters of Noble Family Who Became the Favorites of Great French Monarch.

King Louis XIV of France fell in love with three sisters, one after the other, the daughters of the marquis of Nesle. The first was not a beauty, but she was a clever woman and a good dresser. Her reign ended after three years, when her younger sister appeared. The king's devotion to the first sister was a secret until Louis, after indulging too heavily in champagne, paid a call upon his wife, who was so disgusted by his condition that she ordered him to leave her presence. He was bitterly angered, and a few days later he publicly acknowledged his devotion to Mme. de Mally.

Her younger sister, Pauline, came to the palace with the firm intent of winning the king from her sister. She did, but died suddenly shortly after her success. Then the third

"You wouldn't be barehanded," the girl reminded him. "You could have the pistol."

He didn't even seem to hear her. "I've been thinking about it. It's a long, long chance—much worse than the chance we had of getting out by straight walking. I think we could have made it, if the wolves had kept off and the snowshoe hadn't broken. It would have nearly killed us, but I believe we could have got out. That's why I didn't try this other way first. A man with his bare hands hasn't much of a chance against another with a rifle, and I don't want you to be too hopeful. And of course, the hardest problem is finding his camp."

"But I do feel sure of one thing: that he is back to his old trapping line on the North Fork—somewhere south of here—and his camp is somewhere on the river. I think he would have gone there so that he could cut off any attempt I might make to get through with those letters. My plan is to start back at an angle that will carry me between the North Fork and our old house. Somewhere in there I'll find his tracks, the tracks he made when he first came over to burn up the house. I suppose he was careful to mix 'em up after once he arrived here, but the first part of the way he likely walked straight toward the house from his camp. Somewhere, if I go that way, I'll cross his trail—with in 10 miles at least. Then I'll back-track him to his camp."

"And never come back!" the girl cried.

"Maybe not. But at least everything that can be done will be done. Nothing will be left. No regrets. We will have made the last trial. I'm not going to waste any time, Snowbird. The sooner we get your fire built the better."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Make Love and Live Long.

The act of love-making has a direct influence on the heart and blood, says a medical correspondent. It stimulates the working capacity of the former organ, and keeps it up to concert pitch. As a result, the blood circulates with greater strength, and every part of the body is accordingly strengthened. Love-making, moreover, has a very decided influence in stimulating the working of the liver. Patent medicines would have to go out of business to a considerable extent if the world were more generally given to the art of making love with genuine feeling. Perhaps the most striking proof of the immunity of lovers from one form of ill, viz., colds and chills, is afforded by the fact that a pair of Cupid's devotees will sit on a damp bench for hours and take no harm.

Wanted Larger Back Yard.

Speaking of cramped space for a clothes yard, a woman who was looking for a place to rent gave this experience: "Yes, I liked the house all right," she said, "but there was mighty little yard room. Of course that wouldn't have troubled me much, for I do not care for gardening, but the only place you could hang your clothes was so close to the back door that no one could get in or out by that door when the clothes were drying. When I thought of the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker, to say nothing of the gas man, the electricity man and the ice man having to trip in the front door on Monday mornings the rent did not look so attractive to me."—Springfield Union.

Dreaming of Lions.

To dream of seeing a lion portends a speedy audience with some important person which will prove very fortunate for the dreamer. To see your lion chained means some enemy of yours will come to deserved grief. To dream of mounting a lion's back foretells the favor of some influential person. To be frightened by a lion in your dream means danger from some powerful source that will have no disastrous effects for you. To fight with a lion foretells a dangerous quarrel; to vanquish him a happy termination. To see a lioness and her cubs indicates happiness for your home circle.—Chicago Herald and Examiner.

sister, Marie Anne, the young widow of the marquis of Tournelle, the most able, the most unscrupulous and the most beautiful of the family, appeared. Mme. de la Tournelle, in love with a young nobleman, refused to listen to the king. Louis sent his rival to war, but the young man came back wounded, and a hero. A young woman of great beauty was instructed to woo the king's rival, which she did so effectively that his passionate letters to her were sent to the king, who promptly showed them to Mme. de la Tournelle.

This crafty plot was successful, and the ambitious favorite, after insisting that her sister should be sent away, was given an official place at court and the title of the duchess of Chateauroux.

Herring Fisheries.

The herring forms the chief fisheries of the British Isles, and it is estimated that 2,200,000,000 herrings are landed in Britain during one season.

CALOMEL IS A DANGEROUS DRUG

Next Dose May Salivate You, Loosen Teeth or Start Rheumatism.

Calomel is mercury; quicksilver. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.—Advertisement.

Free Kindling Wood.

The city of Lynn, Mass., has established a dumping ground for broken boxes, barrels, etc., from which citizens are permitted to help themselves to kindling wood.

A Beautiful Woman is Always a Well Woman

San Antonio, Tex.—"After a serious illness, when my strength seemed as tho' it would not come back to me, I decided to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a tonic. I had seen it recommended so highly that I felt I could not go far astray. This medicine did all for me that could be desired. It restored me to perfect health and strength in a comparatively short time and I am just as strong and well as can be. 'Favorite Prescription' is a splendid tonic and builder for women and it is a pleasure to recommend it." Mrs. Hettie McLane, 308 Bowie St.

The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has made many women happy by making them healthy. Get it at once from your nearest druggist in either tablets or liquid; or send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for a trial pkg. tablets and write for free medical advice.

A THING TO FEAR

is fire's approach. Perhaps you've labored all your life to obtain a house or build up a business that might be swept away any instant through external causes. Are you prepared to withstand the loss? Why not take the burden from your shoulders and place it upon others? A small premium payment will do it and relieve you of responsibility and worry. We'd like to tell you how, face to face.

WILSON.

Mrs. J. S. Johnson and children came in Thursday from Aztec, N. M.
We are glad to welcome these people to our town. Bro. Johnson filled the pulpit here Sunday morning and night. The fourth Sunday will be his regular appointment here.

Mrs. A. L. Foster spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. M. A. Evans of Slaton.

Charlie Logan has accepted a position with Wilson Mercantile Co.

Messrs. Arlo Knight and B. W. Baker and Misses Clara and Celia May visited friends in Slaton Sunday evening.

Our B. Y. P. U. has received several new members in the last few services. All the young people of the town and adjoining country are invited to come and join us, and help make the programs even more interesting than they have been in the past. Regular services every Sunday at 7:15 p. m.

Miss Fay Dawson spent Saturday night and Sunday in Slaton.

Both gins are kept pretty busy now as lots of cotton comes in here every

HOGVILLE.

The Hogville railroad announces that the passenger train will not stop any more at the station in the Calf Ribs neighborhood. A feather bed will be placed on the platform there for those who wish to jump off.

Gander creek got on a big tear night before last and after overflowing its banks washed away a nice pig trough for Fletcher Henstep.

Clab Hancock and wife, who got mad at each other and divided the furniture yesterday, put it back in place this morning.

Things seem awful quiet around here since the autumn rains have set in and tightened up all the buggy and wagon wheels.

Yam Sims, who has been putting off going to the dentist for the past several months, got half way up the steps
this morning.

Tobe Mosely, who has raised one,
says there is but small difference between a little family and a big one, as all you have to do is to make a little different arrangements.

A couple residing on Musket Ridge announce that they were secretly married about three months ago. It is not known why they wanted it kept a secret, as nobody cared much about it one way or the other.

The trustees of the Wild Onion school held a business session yesterday afternoon on the big stump on the school grounds, and decided to request the teacher not to dismiss school any more every time a stranger is seen coming down the road.

Slim Pickens fell out of a tree while gathering possum grapes Tuesday morning, and when picked up he did not know anything. His condition however was not considered serious as he never did know very much.

Salem Barlow is in receipt of a matrimonial paper called the Lovers Home Journal, and has made up his mind to marry rich and ugly.

Slim Pickens, whose striped pants were the talk of the neighborhood last season, is going to turn them around so that the stripes will run the other way.

Atlas Peck has been busily occupied this week trying to trace back the family history of Luke Mathews's corn cob pipe.

Several attended the speaking in the Calf Ribs neighborhood Wednesday night. It was a prohibition lecture, and during the course of his remarks the man drank nearly a bucket of water.

Frisby Hancock was at preaching
last Sunday all shaved up so that nobody knew him hardly. You can tell that Frisby shaves himself because he always leaves some lather on the bottom of each ear.

"They Satisfy"

TO OUR PATIENTS

—There are but two rules necessary in this office for the best results—and they are:

NO MEDICINE AND REGULAR ADJUSTMENTS.

—When either of these rules are broken the patient may consider his or her case hopeless.

—Nature is no respecter of PERSONS, and when you begin to think that nature has made a special dispensation in your favor, or when your health becomes a secondary matter to YOU, your case is of no interest to me.

—When you and I assume the relationship of patient and Chiropractor there are but two things involved, viz: Your HEALTH and my REPUTA-TION, and neither of us can afford to let anything interfere with either of these.

—LET US CO-OPERATE TO SAVE BOTH.
