PIGGLY WIGGLY'S NEW BUILDING located between Lubbock street and Panhandle avenue is now under construction.

Piggly Wiggly Building Under Construction On Lubbock, 7th, Panhandle Triangle Here

Davis & Humphries, Inc., owners and operators of Piggly Wiggly Super Market in Slaton have announced details for construction of new store in Slaton. The building is going up in the triangle bounded by Lubbock street, 7th street, and Panhandle avenue. It will be an all-new replacement for the present quarters. The new Piggly Wiggly will be the largest food store in Slaton, measuring 80' by 160', or 12,800 square feet. It will be bordered by a parking lot which will be paved and equipped with the latest self-service equipment, included will be refrigerated fresh fruits and vegetables, frozen food displays, self-service dairy foods and a complete self-service meat department. All meats will be ready packaged for quick selection. Self Service Meat Department Behind the self-service meat cases, convenient to customers who desire special cuts of meat, will be a large cutting and packaging room. From here, the cases will be restocked without interference with shopping. This room will have its own air conditioning system, to maintain both the packing materials and the meats at the same uniform temperature. Among the other unusual features of the building will be the sound system for store-wide paging and the playing of quiet music, and the mechanical air conditioning, which will produce a comfortable atmosphere the year round. The latest in store decorations will be used to produce the most beautiful shopping area in the west, according to store officials. Store Personnel Store manager Ray Belt has been store manager of Piggly Wiggly in Slaton for the past two years, and is a veteran with Davis & Humphries. Market manager Bill Baker is another veteran with the company. The new Piggly Wiggly will use the latest type motorized check-out counters and handling equipment. Large self-service departments for specialty foods, drugs, household needs, and hardware will make the new store a truly one stop shopping center. Piggly Wiggly, the "original self-service food store" had its beginning in Memphis, Tennessee, in 1916, has revolutionized the grocery business and is rapidly making similar progress in other fields of retailing. Fireman's Circus Showing Cancelled Showing of the Free Circus, which was to be sponsored by the Slaton Volunteer Fire Department, advertised elsewhere in this week's Slatonite, has been cancelled, according to Fire Chief Elbert Wilson. Word was received in Slaton Wednesday of the cancellation of the performance, scheduled for Saturday night.

SUMMER READING

Attention has been drawn in some localities to a proposal that summer reading be made compulsory for school children. Discussion has resulted, with public opinion apparently about evenly divided. That is, among adults. Expressions heard thus far from the youngsters weigh heavily against the idea.

That is not surprising, for naturally it is difficult to get most boys and girls interested in much of anything during summer excepting play. They cannot be expected to enthuse about being forced to bury their noses in books.

Most adults would agree, though, that school pupils simply cannot do too much reading of the right sort. If they could be impelled to do some during the summer, it would be time well spent. Much might be accomplished in a program functioning on that voluntary basis.

But to attempt compelling them to do it might prove futile. American school children consider vacation time as their time, to do with as they wish. The answer is to lead them to good summer reading, not force it upon them.

USING PRESIDENTS

The suggestion has been made many times that some use be made of the talents and experience of former presidents of the United States. One proposal would make ex-presidents honorary members of the Senate, with advisory powers but without the power to vote. The idea has merit.

At present we have two living ex-presidents, Herbert Hoover and Harry Truman. Both of these men served in extremely difficult times. Both learned a great deal while they held the highest office in the land. Yet these two leaders have no continuing role in the federal government.

Men who serve as president have a unique opportunity to learn about the problems of government. They could offer invaluable assistance, but as matters stand now they have no official status, no forum in which to offer their advice. Government is difficult business. Letting the experience and knowledge of men who have served as president go to waste is a luxury we can ill afford.

SPORTS IN RUSSIA

The men of grim visage who rule Russia are likely to get suspicious and possibly alarmed if anything is done that might encourage their subjects to be cheerful and ambitious. So it was not surprising that Pravda, the Communist party daily, took a vigorous rap at a rather snappy sports feature appearing in Ogonyok, the country's picture magazine.

The colorful art layout and wording of the text bordered too near freedom of the press as it's practiced in the capitalistic West. What got under Pravda's sensitive hide the deepest were these lines appearing with the pictures: "Take up sports! There are prizes galore: Wealth, fame and applause from the girls!"

That "applause from the girls" suggestion the Pravda editor didn't like one bit. The main feature of Soviet sport, he told his readers, "is that it assists the harmonious development of youth, builds up their health and inculcates lofty moral principles." Now if "applause from the girls" wouldn't do all that for boys and young men of Russia, what on earth could?

TICKET FIXING

A medium sized city in the Midwest recently was the scene of strife between the chief of police and some members of his department who maintained that he had been guilty of "fixing" traffic tickets. The dispute ended in something of a deadlock, with one side supporting the policemen and the other maintaining that the chief is sometimes justified in pardoning violators.

Whatever the rights or wrongs of this particular situation, fixing traffic tickets is a bad thing in any community. Motorists who learn that it is possible to get out of paying a fine are inclined to violate the law again. Police who see tickets cancelled grow disgruntled and perform their duties with less enthusiasm. Perhaps more important than anything else is the fact that ticket fixing weakens observance of the law. A weakening of respect for law and order is something that no community can afford.

It must also be remembered that a politician who "fixes" a ticket expects something in return, usually the vote of the person who receives the favor. It would be well for the man who has violated the law and received a ticket to consider whether bartering his vote for such a favor is not a notably poor trade.

Harold Macmillan's cravat was not as crisp and neat as it might have been when he was received by the queen, but she didn't mind. It was an old school tie.

Dungaree clad teen-agers mobbed a theater in New York for a "rock and roll" performance. Somehow we can't help wishing for the old fashioned music that had charms to soothe the savage breast.

DIVINE BLUEPRINT

"Likewise also the chief priests mocking him, with the scribes and elders said, He saved others; himself he cannot save." Matt. 27:21-22.

Little did the officers of the established church realize the truth of their statement. There is a legend that tells us that Jesus suffered a fourth temptation after he had subdued Satan in the wilderness. The story says that after Judas had sold him, and Peter had denied him, and the rest had fled, Satan came to him as he hung upon the cross and whispered, "They are not worth it, Lord; they are not worth it."

Then, the tale declared, as does the Bible, that Jesus cried out, "Father forgive them; for they know not what they do." Christ literally lost his life for the salvation of sinful man. There was no other way. "The cup could not pass" and God be glorified and man redeemed.

We must lose our lives to glorify God.

God once said to Moses, "tell the people that I am that I am." This was God speaking.

How often does our sinful pride and ambition cause us to want to tell the world by our words and action that "I am that I am." We do not want to lose our prestige, nor fail to nourish our self-ego and prideful nature. We want to be our own god serving our own selfish purposes. Yet, to lose ourselves for Christ's sake is to find life; or for self to be crucified on a cross is to find life and serve God. Paul said it something like this, "For me to live is Christ; I am crucified with Christ; nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me."

Many times our deep-seated, Christ-spirit convictions place us upon a cross. For example, our attitudes toward race relations, war, honesty, purity, and the many social sins of our society may cause us to lose our prestige and prideful self identity. To be the servant rather than the served may mean crucifixion upon the cross. While on the cross, the Devil and his angels still cry out, Come down! In complete dedication of ourselves to God, we can plead with Him, "Father forgive them; for they know not what they do." This is not an attitude of self-martyrdom, but the expression of a Christ-centered life.

MORE MILK PER BAG OF FEED
With AYER'S SUPREME DAIRY FEEDS

No cow can produce milk to the limit of her inherited ability when fed roughage alone. Roughage will generally take care of the maintenance needs... but the production of large quantities of milk requires that the cow receive higher levels of protein, minerals, and vitamins than the roughage supplies. When you feed AYERS SUPREME Dairy Feeds in accordance with the amount of milk each cow produces, you give them all the raw materials they need to manufacture that milk. Unless this is done, the cow takes the needed elements from her body for a time and then rapidly drops her production and loses condition. AYERS SUPREME Dairy Feeds are available with protein at 16%, 20%, and 24% levels to properly supplement good to poor roughage with greatest economy.

AIR CONDITIONING—TEMPERATURES MADE TO ORDER—AT NEW LOW COST. GET A DEMONSTRATION!
Who rates what for performance and smoother riding in the low-priced three? Chevrolet has laid the answer and the proof on the line!
First, Chevrolet won the Auto Decathlon over every car in its field, and over the higher priced cars that were tested, too. This rugged ten-way test (right, below) showed Chevrolet was the champ in handling ease, braking, acceleration, passing ability, smoothness of ride and other driving qualities you want in a car.
Then, Chevy won the Pure Oil Performance Trophy at Daytona (left, below) as "best performing U. S. automobile."
It's quite a feeling to know that you are driving a car that performs so well, responds so beautifully and is so finely built. You feel proud, of course. But you also enjoy a surer, smoother, steadier way of going, a keen cat-quick response of power, and the easiest handling you've ever experienced behind a wheel. Just try this Chevrolet (V8 or Six) and see!

Sales Technique Course Begins Monday Night

Merchants of Slaton and their employees, along with other salespeople in the city, have arranged for a week of special training dealing with effective business conversation as one of the important techniques of present-day selling and service to customers.

This training program is sponsored jointly by the Slaton Chamber of Commerce and the Distributive Education program of Slaton High Schools.

At High School
 Meetings are scheduled Monday through Friday at 7:30 p. m. in the Slaton High School.

Entitled "Tell it Well To Sell It Well," daily conferences will be directed by Arthur M. Brown, retail training specialist from the University of Texas. Brown has been active in retail and wholesale selling for a number of years and has had considerable experience with both large and small organizations.

Mrs. R. S. Boyd, distributive education coordinator, has announced that course participants will include owners, managers and employees of department stores.

Business speech in this program is approached from the basis that the best speaking is done by an able person, who has something to say and the ability to say it.

Experienced and inexperienced personnel will have an opportunity to gain understanding and practice in techniques of conversation designed to help them become better salespeople and be of greater service to their customers.

Enrollment for the course may be made through the Slaton Chamber of Commerce office, phone VA8-4111

To Mr. and Mrs. Slaton Voter:

Girl Scouts To Sell Easter Lilies for Crippled Children

The traditional Easter Lily, a symbol of hope for the many crippled children on the South Plains, will become a symbol of generosity Saturday.

Slaton Girl Scouts will sell miniature Easter Lilies at a number of downtown establishments. Proceeds will go to the Lubbock Crippled Children's Society for Crippled Children's annual Easter Seal drive which provides hospital care, transportation and appliances such as wheelchairs and braces for more than 350 crippled South Plains youngsters.

The 1957 Easter Seal drive on Easter Sunday, April 21. Goal of this year's campaign has been set at $6,000. Half of the contributions received will go to the Lubbock Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center. The greater part of the society's expenditure is for the transportation of crippled children to medical and surgical hospitalization facilities designated by the Crippled Children's Division of the Texas State Department of Health.

The activities of the Lubbock Society covers the entire area of Lubbock which is a portion of West Texas.

DRIVE SAFELY—Caution equals safety.

'Learning the Hard Way' Is Predicted For Nation in Controlling of Traffic

The nation will learn to control its traffic accident problem the same way it learned to control gangsterism—through the force of stringent law enforcement—a leading traffic safety authority declared in Racine, Wis., recently.

Paul H. Blaisdell, traffic safety director of the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies, speaking at the annual meeting of the Racine County Safety Council, said experience has proved that "a rough and tough crackdown on the violator," with control of the driver license as the principal weapon, is the nation's one best answer to the traffic accident problem.

Education Not Enough
 "We have worked for years," Blaisdell said, "on the premise that with enough general public safety education we could obtain voluntary compliance with traffic laws and with the rules of common sense and good judgment. There is no longer any evidence to support this position. I am convinced that no amount of persuasion, moral or otherwise, can get people to drive safely."

"In 1957, we are at this spot in our history: there is a traffic death every 13 minutes—over 40,000 a year; there is a traffic injury every 12 seconds—over 1,400,000 a year; there is a traffic accident every four seconds—more than 11,000,000 a year; 22,000,000 drivers go to traffic court each year for some violation, and the annual economic loss from this sorry spectacle exceeds $6,500,000,000!"

Strict Enforcement
 "I am convinced that the one best answer to the traffic accident problem is enforcement—a rough and tough crackdown on the violator; an enforcement program that is fair and impartial to command respect, but designed to remove from the road permanently those who have no regard for the welfare of others. This means enforcement on three fronts: the police, the traffic court and the driver licensing authority. There are at least two reasons why licensing is the most important of these:

"First, it is the source of original determination as to who may drive. Properly operated, it will keep many of the unfit off the highways—stop them before they ever have an opportunity to become killers.

"Second, if the police and the traffic court do their jobs correctly, the ultimate decision of who may continue to drive rests with the licensing authority, except for those instances of mandatory suspension or revocation of the driver license upon conviction for certain major violations. Virtually every state has the power, already to remove any driver whose record has established unfitness to keep the driving privilege. But it isn't used, for fear that people who say they want highway safety will prove unwilling to get it through decisive control.

Weapon: License
 "There are many reasons why the driver license is our strongest weapon in highway safety. That license is an expression of freedom, mobility and independence. Too often it also is an expression of selfishness and egotism. When the license is threatened because of carelessness on the highways, the common plea is economic necessity.
 "First, we must now realize that we have already built a motor vehicle beyond the capability of the average of our 80,000,000 licensed drivers to operate safely. Our reactions and judgment cannot match the power and the speed potential of today's car.

Answer: Roads?
 "Second, we are now preparing to give today's driver the modern roads to go with his modern vehicle. I take sharp issue with those who hold out great hope for traffic accident reduction through the construction of new superhighways under the multi-billion dollar federal roads program. We are as likely to increase the probability of traffic accidents as we are to reduce them. The experience of every superhighway in the United States today, from the Hollywood Freeway to the Maine Turnpike, is living evidence that the modern road can't lower the accident record of the old roads unless enforcement 'throws the book' at the superhighway user.

"Third, we have learned that no strict enforcement program has ever failed—it has only 'died out.' The chronic violator outlasts the short-lived enforcement campaign and when pressure, growing duties or general lassitude overtake the police and traffic court, the careless driver is right there to resume his destructive ways.

"As an example, the state of Washington became nationally famous for a 40 per cent reduction in traffic deaths in a single year. The means was tight traffic law enforcement. At the end of the year the enforcement policy was softened. In six months the state record was worse than in the period before the campaign. Enforcement didn't fail—it just wasn't sustained.

Heavy Crackdown
 "In 1956, Connecticut hit the headlines when its governor ordered automatic suspension of the driver license upon conviction for speeding, including first offenders. The law had been on the books for years, but hadn't been used. As the number of such suspensions went up, the number of traffic deaths and injuries went down. In 1955, Connecticut's reduction in highway fatalities ran exactly opposite to the national trend. The program is continuing into 1957. It will produce results as long as the strong enforcement measure is applied, and not one moment longer!"

"There is no case against strong law enforcement, unless we are swayed by pat phrases about invasion of constitutional rights. We are afflicted with the protestations of special-interest groups that the use of modern enforcement measures is unfair to the motorist because they are 'sneaky' and 'un-American.' Yet, all any driver needs to do to avoid radar, chemical tests for intoxication or unmarked police cars, is to drive by the rules.

"It's true that we'll pay a price for traffic safety—a price in dollars and cents as taxpayers and a price in strict personal adherence to the traffic laws and rules. But the price we pay in dollars and cents for traffic safety will be far less than the dollars-and-cents price we are now paying for traffic carelessness, recklessness and lawlessness."

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

YOU, CITIZEN

Proud men and women, ancient and modern, who fought free of tyranny, have taken the name of citizen. Others may call themselves subjects, denizens, slaves, etc.

For the Greeks, with rare exceptions, citizenship came by blood. You had to be born a citizen's child.

But the Romans, like us, found ways to make citizens of those who came up to certain standards: As Gibbon said, the Romans sacrificed "vanity to ambition; and deemed it more prudent as well as honorable, to adopt virtue and merit for her own wherever found—among slaves, strangers, enemies or barbarians."

American citizenship is an office which carries power, privilege, and duties. Only citizens can do certain things—for example, teach in many schools and colleges, become lawyers, hold certain political or civil service offices.

You are a citizen if naturalized or born in the United States (subject to its jurisdiction); and in certain circumstances if born outside the United States to parents of whom one or both are American citizens.

As in ancient Greece, citizenship in most lands comes through blood; but American citizenship comes chiefly by place—where you were born.

(So dig out your birth certificates or naturalization papers if you can find them, and put them away safely; you may need them for many reasons, for example, to travel in foreign lands under U. S. protection.)

The Fourteenth Amendment holds that place of birth fixes native citizenship—all persons born in the United States. Your birth in this country automatically makes you a citizen unless you are not subject to U. S. jurisdiction, as in the case with Diplomats' families and certain travelers.

In 1898 Chinese parents who themselves could then not become citizens, became parents in San Francisco of a son, Wong Kim Ark. Years later this fact settled the whole thing for the U. S. Supreme Court—he was a citizen. Nothing else mattered: not his parentage nor blood, nor his race, color, creed or ancestry.

Not all American Indians used to be citizens—only those whose tribal treaties with the federal government included citizenship. But in 1924 Congress made all American Indians, no matter what tribes, United States citizens.

THERE'S AN ELECTRIC HEATING METHOD FOR EVERY HOME NEED!

Electric Heating is CLEAN, MODERN, AND SAFE!

Now, instantaneous, comfortable heating—of course, it's electric! Whether you are building your new home, remodeling or adding a room to your present home, you can use electric heating. The advantages you have with your electric work-saving appliances are also yours with electric heating. Electric heating is the cleanest form of heating known. Now is the time to solve your heating problems for next winter and years to come. For information, without obligation, see your Public Service Company manager.

- YOUR PRESENT HOME
- THAT ROOM YOU'RE ADDING ON
- YOUR NEW HOME

- CEILING HEATING UNIT WITH CIRCULATING FAN
Ceiling heating units are ideal for bath-rooms, hallways or kitchens. They can be used as the main heat source or as auxiliary heating. A flip of the switch gives you heat where you want it and, if desired, a controlling thermostat can be added for automatic operation.
- RADIANT-CONVECTION WALL HEATERS
This type of electric heating gives you warm rays either in portable heaters or in wall-mounted units. Such electric heating units are inexpensive, can be thermostatically controlled and are easily installed. One answer to the problem of heating a room added on.
- RADIANT GLASS, METAL or CERAMIC PANELS
Mount them to the wall or ceiling of the room's natural heat rays in electric radiant heat. Heating coils are embedded in a heat conducting material which, through radiation, warms your family, floors, furniture. These units, mounted on wall, over door, come in various sizes, up to 30" inches long.
- HEAT LAMPS
Heat lamps are used where quick spot heating is desired—over work benches in garages, working on the family car, etc. A heat lamp can be mounted in place of a regular lighting bulb, or it can be installed permanently in bathroom ceilings, etc.
- BASEBOARD HEATING UNITS
Electric baseboard heating is completely inconspicuous since it can be painted to match or contrast with wall colors. It practically all houses the heating requirement is met by installation along outside walls only. Radiators can be placed anywhere without interfering with your heating.
- EMBEDDED CEILING CABLES OR PANELS
As in all electric heating your furnace is miles away (at the electric power plant). You turn on a switch and get completely clean electric heat. Connections are run back and forth across ceiling using wire and then covered with plaster or service panel material. Heating system is completely out of sight.
- THE AMAZING NEW HEAT PUMP
Here's the amazing "heat pump" which uses the principle employed in your electric refrigerator to "pump" heat to you in winter and cool air in the summer. It's a combination central unit which costs approximately the same as the central heating and cooling units in conventional use. No matter the outside weather, the "heat pump" adjusts immediately to give you the weather you want inside your home.

FROM WARM SPRINGS

FACT AND FANCY

by Walter H. Gentry

(Wherein the director of public relations at the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation tells of Texas' own physical rehab center and also throws in a little tongue-in-cheek palaver for which, incidentally, the management is not responsible.)

Every day or so a fellow who keeps his eyes and ears open can learn something. For example, I have just learned that the local lads who are building a Little League baseball diamond are planning to place a layer of salt under the ground in the infield so that the grass won't grow.

I understand that ice cream salt is considered ideal for this operation, although it is more costly than ordinary salt. However, they tell me that plain old stock salt will do in a pinch.

I'm sure that this particular procedure for inhibiting grass-growing has been going on for some time, but nobody ever told me. It doesn't really matter except that I might have been saving you guys a wad of money.

Just think what it would mean to apply this technique to lawns. "As ye mow, so shall ye weep" has always characterized my attitude toward grass cutting, and I know a lot of other mower manipulators who feel the same way.

Also, imagine the cost and effort that could be spared in a no-weeding, no-sodding, no-fertilizing, no-watering yard situation. On top of that, a grassless surface is much better for marbles, baseball, and

J. B. Potts, Lubbock, assistant secretary-treasurer; John R. McFarland, Lubbock, assistant secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Eloise Maynard and Miss Joyce Meeks, assistant treasurers.

Field representatives of the association include P. J. Marcom, Levelland; Hugh Snodgrass, Brownfield; and Derwood Howard, Tahoka.

croquet. And hop-scotch.

I am convinced that there would be a great demand for grassless and weedless yards (unsalted flower beds could be permitted if mother agrees to keep them up). Therefore, I am seriously considering establishing a yard degreasing service which, I firmly believe, will be openly embraced by every man who each year does physical and financial homage to the lawn god.

It would be called "Walt's Salt-of-the-Earth Yard Plan" and would feature the following slogan: "Your lawn's real gone with salt from Walt."

Let me know what you think.

At the annual meeting of the membership of the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation for Crippled Children, the members voted to change the name of this physical rehabilitation center to the Gonzales Warm Springs Rehabilitation Foundation. This will become effective when filed with the Secretary of State.

For some time now, the old name has been a misnomer, since the Foundation has long been treating adult patients, and as the patient load shifts more and more from polio to other handicapping conditions, the percentage of adult patients is almost certain to increase.

Plans are under consideration to incorporate vocational rehabilitation training into the program.

Here's what makes it a new kind of Ford

The frame is wider . . . wheels are lower (Lets you ride sweet and low)

Never before has a low-priced car hugged the road so well. Partly, it's because the frame is sturdier. Partly, it's because the wheels are smaller. Partly, it's the way front and rear suspensions take tilt out of turns. Mostly, it's because there's a whole new smoother-riding quieting—"Inner Ford."

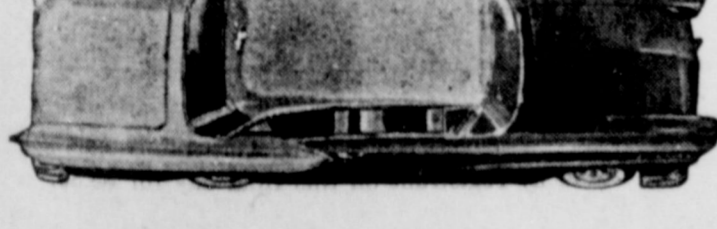

The power is bigger
(Most power in Ford's 25 years of V-8 leadership)

And what a V-8 engine! You can have the kind of Thunderbird power that smashed records at Daytona . . . set a new stock car mark at Indianapolis . . . traveled 50,000 miles in just 20 days at Bonneville, Utah!

The comfort is greater
(You've never had it so plush)

You sit in the lap of luxury. There's head room, hip room, leg room galore. And wait till you get a load of those new upholstery and color schemes!

The body is "beefier"
(Up to 9 inches longer, 4 inches lower, with full head room, full road clearance)

From top to floor, front to rear, this body is built like a "battleship." You ride surrounded by new strength.

...and best of all it's the lowest priced of the low-price three!

Recently, Purina research workers asked poultry staff men in 9 leading poultry states to estimate the total amount of feed required—on the average—to grow a pullet in their states. Shown here is the average of the figures they supplied, compared with Purina feed requirements based on records of thousands of pullets raised at the Purina Research Farms.

FEED REQUIRED TO GROW OUT PULLETS*	Light Breeds		Heavy Breeds
	Light Breeds	Heavy Breeds	Heavy Breeds
9-state average	23.1 lbs.	28.0 lbs.	28.0 lbs.
Purina Program average . . .	19.3 lbs.	23.8 lbs.	23.8 lbs.
Saving per pullet on Purina . .	3.8 lbs.	4.2 lbs.	4.2 lbs.
Saving per 100	380.0 lbs.	420.0 lbs.	420.0 lbs.

*From day-old to laying here's how to grow 100 sturdy, big-framed Purina pullets on 250 pounds less feed

Most poultry raisers recognize that Purina Growing Chows have the quality and ingredients to grow sturdy, big-framed pullets. But not all realize that Purina Chow efficiency often makes it much lower in feeding cost than feeds with cheaper price tags.

The table above shows the important difference in number of pounds of feed needed to grow out Purina pullets, compared with the average in 9 leading poultry states. The Purina Research staff rounded off the figures to 250 pounds less Purina Chow for light breeds, and 400 for heavy breeds.

This saving of feed increases the value of Purina complete Growing Chows by 30¢ to 40¢ per bag (50 lbs.) . . . or 60¢ to 80¢ a bag more for Growing Chow fed with scratch grain.

Thousands of poultrymen have found that they can use high-quality feed . . . and make money doing it. We know this. And, we're anxious to show you how you may cut feed costs with your pullets.

Pullet Health Hint—Now, with Purina Liquid Poultry Wormer, you can worm each 100 pullets for less than 25¢! Best time is when they are 10 to 12 weeks old, with a second treatment just before housing if your ranges are used heavily. It takes only one dose in the drinking water. Order Purina Liquid Poultry Wormer right here at the Store with the red-and-white Checkerboard Sign.

History of Home Furniture Co.

On January 1, 1947, Bland Tomlinson and Victor Hudman called Mr. Self away from a domino game and bought all of the inventory and accounts of the firm then known as Self Furniture. We opened the doors January 2, 1947, doing business as Home Furniture Co. at the 112 Texas Ave. location. The only help we had was a young boy who worked Saturdays, washing windows and such, until the fall of that first year. Then we employed a full time man. We began to outgrow the old location about a year later and began looking around for a suitable location for a larger building. We bought the land where our building now stands from Mr. Porter. It had a little ice house on it then. Building materials were still scarce and our credit was about the same so that another year elapsed before we could arrange credit and start building. The walls and floor went up fast, but just when we got ready for steel beams the big steel strike struck and we waited months for these so the building was over a year in construction.

In April, 1951, we announced the opening of our new building and pulled one of the largest crowds into Slaton the town has ever had. Almost 8,500 names were registered for the various prizes we awarded that day. We used up 1,500 orchids before 4 o'clock.

In 1953 we felt the need for additional space so we added about 1,000 square feet to our building in warehouse space. Growing pains continued so in 1954 we built a balcony which added about 2,000 square feet of floor space to our display.

Now we are a little over 10 years old and our growth and expansion has come about because you have favored us with your patronage.

This history would not be complete without a word of deep appreciation to the fine people who have worked with us. The employees who are with us now and those who have moved to other places of employment. The jobbers and manufacturers, the roadrunners (salesmen), the freight people. The people who handle our advertising and the people who service our delivery equipment, our competitors who keep us alert and at the same time exchange merchandise and information with us. Our sincere thanks goes out to all these people and to our many good customers in Slaton and surrounding area, in Post and quite a few in Lubbock.

Seniors' Annual Production to Be Directed by Truett Babb

The senior play to be presented April 23, is "The Inner Willy," by Bettye Knapp. In the story, Wiloughby Adams (Donnie Marsh) has been given a very protected and sheltered life by his three aunts—Hster (Judy Allen), Olga (Kay Sain), and Louise (Winnie McGraw).

When Willie is faced with the possibility of taking Marybelle Turner (Neutie Nan Watson) to the school dance, Inner Willy (Gregory Tomlinson) arrives on the scene just in time to get Willy into trouble with his aunts and into a fight with Stanley Clark (Dickie Thomas). Willy is aided by Stanley's good friend, Mike (Roland German).

When Willy thinks Marybelle has the mumps, he asks Carol Martin (Charlotte Muse), whom he has been admiring for years, to the dance. Carol refuses, and Trudy (Helen Anne Norris) and Janet Marshall (Shirley Forson) offer their assistance. Willy ends up with three dates for the evening to the confusion of his three aunts.
Seeing how Willy gets out of the mess, and whom he finally goes to the dance with should provide an interesting evening for the audience.

The performance will be 35 cents for grade school students, 50 cents for all above grade school, and 60 cents for reserved seats. The play will be directed by Truett Babb, the class sponsor.

Amazed television audiences have been watching the youngster as he handles difficult problems on "The $64,000 Question." Despite his genius tendencies, Robert's interests, like any other boy's, range from baseball to popular music. The telescope is a prize he won on another TV show.

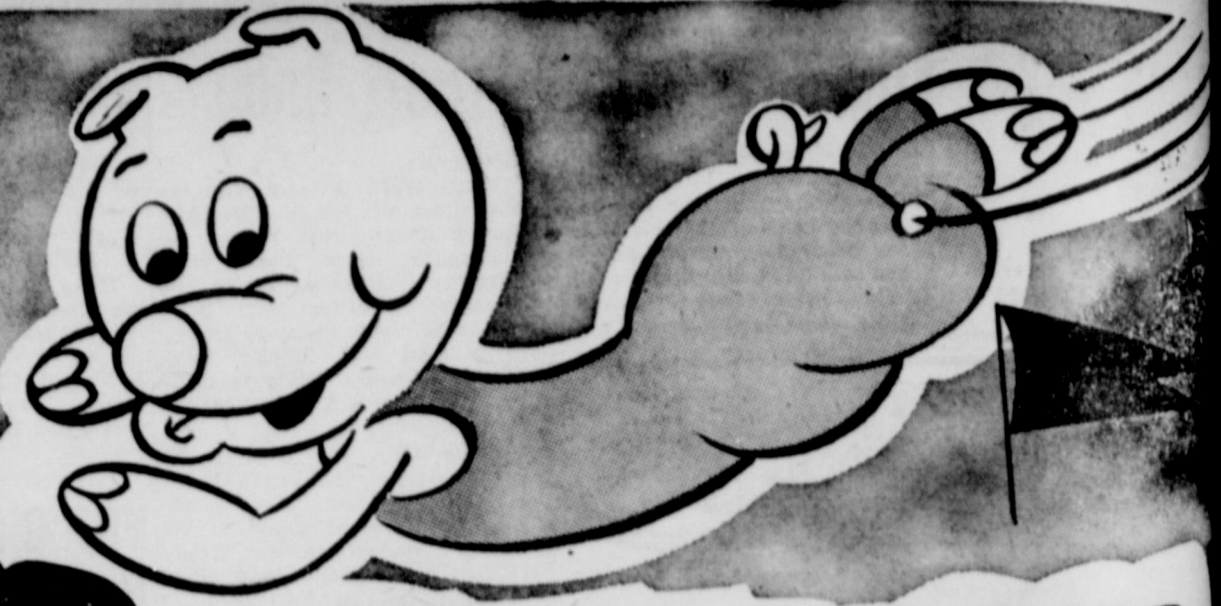

HAD TO HAPPEN — Women have been jamming so much into their purses all these years that it isn't the least surprising to find one that can hold the whole woman. English film star Susan Beaumont smiles prettily from her position inside this six-by-two-and-one-half-foot leather purse at Leather Goods Industries' Fair in London.

DON'T TOUCH — From the predatory look the Persian cat is giving the two parakeets, it would seem that the birds are about to breathe their last. But there's no need for worry as the three Paris, France, residents all live together in harmony. The owner of the feline, which, by the way, is a prize winner, says it has a passion for fennel, a plant of the carrot family.

'Grow Old Along With Me, The Best Is yet To Be' Proven Philosophy for Slaton Octogenarian

Mrs. W. I. Scudder, one of Slaton's "Golden Age" citizens has not let the years rob her of her interests in life. She is about one of the busiest little women in Slaton, keeping house, knitting for her grand and great grandchildren, and keeping up with the daily happenings on her television. With all her activities she still finds time to strike up a tune on her dulcimer, one of the oldest known instruments.

Mrs. Scudder came to Slaton to make her home last November after having lived with her children since the death of her husband in 1955. She is the mother of Mrs. Webber Williams of this city. Mrs. Scudder lives alone in her cozy little three room house.

Interests

It isn't difficult to find what her main interests are for she has one room and her entire yard devoted to raising flowers. There are beds of roses, sweet peas, forget-me-nots, and a few of most any yard flower one might name which almost cover her yard. Ivy, geraniums and other potted plants are growing inside. Other interests she is proud to talk about are her music, her children and her church. She is a member of First Presbyterian Church and seldom misses a service. She is looking forward to summer when she can have an outdoor living room under a spreading catalpa tree.

Antique Instrument

Mrs. Scudder has one of the few remaining dulcimers in America. This instrument dates back to Old Testament times, having been referred to in the book of Daniel. It is the predecessor of the harpsichord which preceded the piano. According to history, the dulcimer was first known in Asia and was brought to Europe during the Crusades. From Europe to England it then came to this country when the country was first settled. This was one of the instruments played at court during Queen Victoria's reign.

The instrument Mrs. Scudder has was bought by her father at the factory in Sedalia, Mo., a number of years before she was born. She says she cannot remember when she learned to play it as her older sisters and brothers played it and she learned to play by ear from hearing them. It is played with two mallets and sounds somewhat like the Scotch Bagpipe.

Type Music

The old time dance music, marches and folk music is best suited to the dulcimer, according to Mrs. Scudder. She has been invited to play before school chapel, club meetings and at many other public meetings, one of which was the Music Festival at Hardin-Simmons in Abilene. On this particular occasion she represented the Victorian period and played music of that age.

Plays for Club

The dulcimer was the feature attraction at the meeting of the Civic and Culture Club at its meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Francis Perry. Mrs. Scudder was accompanied on the piano by her daughter, Mrs. Williams. Others appearing on the program were Misses Dorothy Heaton and Jennie Lee Chriesman, soloists in the recent choral contest in Brownfield. They were accompanied by Mrs. M. G. Davis.

MANY CENTURIES HAVE PASSED between the era of the Dulcimer, shown here played by Mrs. W. I. Scudder, 82, and the modern 21-in television in the picture. This Dulcimer has been a prized possession in Mrs. Scudder's family for almost 100 years.

Highlights and Sidelights From Your State Capitol

By—Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex.—Travis County grand jurors are going to be busy. Legislative investigating committees have dumped into their laps bales of testimony about the two biggest news developments of the year.

House ICT panel asked the jury to consider evidence suggesting that (1) Insurance Department employees received payments from ICT and (2) company officials may have violated state law prohibiting political campaign contributions by corporations.

Committee called acceptance of ICT money by former Insurance Commission J. Byron Saunders and Max Rychlik, son-in-law of former Chairman Garland Smith, evidence of "a gross breach of public trust." It also recommended the jury look into whether funds made available by ICT to the Texas Federation of Labor were used for political purposes. It pinpointed a legislative campaign contribution as having been charged to the corporation.

All in all, committee report showed some $50,000 in ICT funds went to persons who were in public office when they received the money. It said "propriety of some of these payments was highly questionable."

Also sent to the grand jury was a "new major development" by the House bribery investigating group. Nature of the development was a closely guarded secret.

One informant disclosed was that "new evidence" had been obtained from a witness who had been under Department of Public Safety questioning. Witness was not a state official or employe, said the district attorney.

NEW LAWS, STUDIES—Besides providing grand jury evidence, House ICT Committee had three other recommendations.

They were: (1) that a law be passed giving the Insurance Commission authority to regulate management contracts, such as one BenJack Cage had with ICT, (2) that the Texas Research League be requested to study Commission operation and (3) that further investigation be made into the tangled history of ICT's financial "deals."

NEW SENATOR—Ralph Yarborough will take office as junior U. S. Senator from Texas on or sometime after April 19.

Yarborough was defeated in four previous races—three for governor, one for attorney general. His victory meant that for the first time in years a spokesman for the liberal wing of the Democratic party will go into a major Texas office.

Republican hopes for a two-party Texas plummeted. In the high-man-wins race Yarborough got approximately 37 per cent of the votes. Conservative Democrat Martin Dies, 30 per cent; Republican Thad Hutcheson, 23.8 per cent.

MONEY BILL PASSED—Legislative blueprint for state spending during the next two years has reached the conference committee stage.

An economy-minded Senate passed the general appropriations bill at a figure some $2,000,000 less than the House-approved version. Sponsors managed to scotch all efforts to tack on amendments for additional spending. Among items sought were raises for county agents and home demonstration agents and increases in judges' salaries.

Total of the Senate appropriation bill is $2,084,949,515. Both House and Senate recommendations are some twenty-five to twenty-seven million dollars less than the comptroller's estimate of income.

INSURANCE BILLS—A bill to allow "flexible rates" for casualty insurance is given little chance of passage.

Senate Insurance Committee refused to vote out the measure which would abolish Texas' system of statewide uniform rates. The proposed bill would set a rate based on each individual's accident record.

A House committee weighed the possibility of Insurance Commission reorganization from the viewpoint of present Chairman John Osorio. Governor Daniel had appeared earlier urging passage of the bill.

Osorio said board reorganization already is under way. He said he felt it could be successfully carried out under present laws.

Real difficulty of the commission, he said, is not top level organization, but need for more examiners. He recommended a 150-man staff, rather than the present 39, and higher pay.

SECURITIES DEPARTMENT—Creation of a new state agency to regulate both insurance securities and other types has Senate committee approval.

Presently, insurance securities are handled by the Insurance Commission, general securities by the secretary of state's office.

Sen. Jimmy Phillips introduced a bill putting insurance securities under the secretary of state. That's just in case the consolidation bill doesn't pass, he said.

WATER BILL SIGNED—Governor Daniel signed into law a measure allowing the Water Board to cancel unused water permits.

Water conservation program leaders had claimed the new rule would solve "75 per cent of Texas' water problems." Some cities had protested it would allow the board to take from them water they needed for future expansion.

Proponents said Texas now has outstanding permits for more water than is available, but all of it is not being used. Cancellation of unused permits, they said, would allow the water board to reassign water for beneficial use.

ARCHIVES-LAND BUILDING—Governor Daniel has given his blessing to a plan for a new building for the State Library and Archives and the General Land Office.

A bill providing $2,500,000 for such a building is before the Legislature. Funds would come from a surplus in the drivers license fee fund.

AD BILL PASSED—House added an industry-matching amendment before passing a Senate measure to allow state advertising.

Proposed constitutional amendment would allow use of state funds for advertising as long as they are matched by private interests.

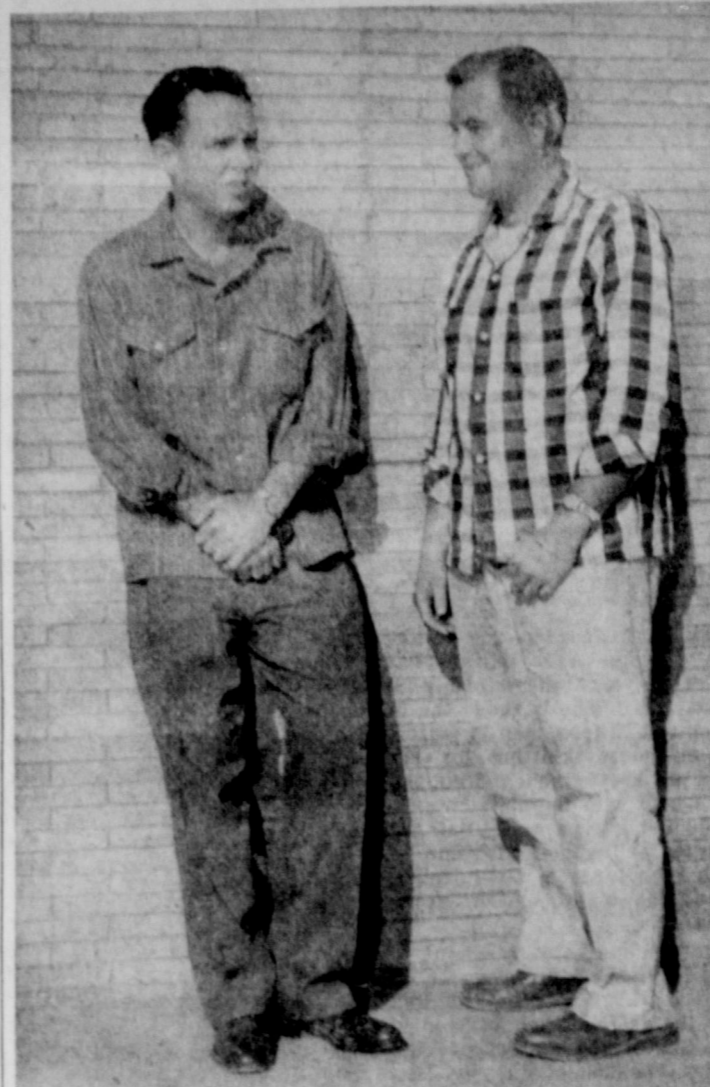

House sponsors said they hoped the conference committee would eliminate this feature.

SHORT SNORTS—Time is running out to have cars safety inspected, warns the Department of Public Safety. Deadline is April 15. . . . House passed a bill to regulate egg labeling and license dealers. Senate already has passed, so measure needs only minor adjustments and the governor's signature. . . .

Senate Transportation Committee Chairman Jep Fuller had to break a 5-to-5 tie to allow the committee to vote out a bill to increase truck load limits. Highly controversial measure is backed by truckers, opposed by railroads. . . . Irked by the Building Commission's failure to air condition their chambers. Legislators have passed a resolution to put in temporary air conditioning.

Monty Dickson entertained with a slumber party Saturday night. Those attending were Charlotte Muse, Marilyn Boyce, Barbara Wilke, Nancy Mosley, and Monty. The girls popped popcorn, had sandwiches and Cokes.

Hippopotamus means river horse.

Senator Preston Smith

The ever-present "pressure groups" of almost every legislature are not missing from the 55th.

In fact, recent years have seen new methods developed by these groups in their attempts to encourage action on bills favorable to their own purposes.

One of the current pressure groups working on the House and Senate is the representation of the municipal policemen and firemen. This group has presented a strong front by entering the legislative halls in goodly numbers, persistently plugging for the flood of wage, longevity and hour bills introduced in both the House and Senate.

Opposing these efforts on the part of the policemen and firemen is the League of Texas Municipalities. The municipalities claim that favorable response by the legislature to the pressure group on wage and hour bills would place the lawmakers in the position of dictating to home rule cities, at the expense of municipal workers other than those who would benefit under the bills.

Harold R. Downs, president of the League of Texas Municipalities, has charged that Legislative sponsors of the firemen and policemen bills "are setting themselves up as super-duper city councilmen at a five million dollar annual expense to the taxpayers of 71 cities."

He listed the probable cost of the major bills to 51 cities as follows:

SB 50, by Senator Doyle Willis, Fort Worth—$3 per month for each year of service for firemen and policemen, $924,768.

SB 125, Willis, Maximum hours for policemen, $1,862,247.

SB 82, by Senator Jep Fuller of Port Arthur (same as HB 36 by Representative Charles E. Hughes of Sherman) minimum wages for firemen and policemen, $409,374.

SB 103, by Senator A. M. Aikin of Paris (same as HB 66 by Representatives Don Kennard and Warren C. Cowen of Fort Worth) maximum hours for firemen, $2,285,832.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Butler and sons of Seminole spent the week end with Mr. Butler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Butler Sr. and with Mrs. Butler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Boyce.
