Mayor Says Clean-up Week was Success Over City

The city of Slaton has employed a full-time man to clean the streets of the business district, and devote all possible time to the residence section, according to Mayor W. G. Reese. The arrangement was effective Wednesday, May 1. Charlie Yates has taken over the task and will be regularly on the job, Mr. Reese said.

In commenting upon the success of Slaton Clean-up Week, which was this week, Mayor Reese stated that the city's wagons and trucks hauled away 110 loads of rubbish, indicating that virtually the entire citizenship responded to the appeal to help make Slaton more healthful and more attractive through proper observance of Clean-up Week.

School and Social Functions

Do young people of high school age require social opportunities? If so, by whom should they be sponsored? It is our observation that very few parents are willing to go to any expense at all or trouble whatsoever to entertain the young folks in their homes. Many parties and club gatherings are provided for, for the young folks and occasionally a birthday party for the little tot in the home, but how seldom do we hear of anything along that line for our high school folks. No wonder home has lost its attractiveness, and picture shows and late at night car riding is the order for our girls and boys.

We hardly think these things are the best that can be provided—yet parents, many of them, are serenely staying in their homes with their doors closed to all formal gatherings while their young girls are prowling the streets or catching car rides with irresponsible drivers as escorts. We cannot believe that mothers are giving their consent to these things—oh, maybe you thought your girl was in the picture show with another girl companion, but somebody's girls were out wandering about the streets with boys, catching car rides very late at nights when the should have been at home with their mothers. Young people crave the society of those of their own age and will have it. Would it not be well for you, mother and father, to know a little more about what is going on?

The school is willing to do its part but it is not willing to assume all responsibility.

We have arranged occasional outings and parties for the different groups because of their insistence and what we conceived to be their social needs. It is very seldom that we are able to secure mothers as chaperones—some few mothers are very helpful, however. In the future no social function will be sponsored by the school unless in addition to faculty members there are several mothers or fathers along with the groups as chaperones. We think you will have it thus and so we are arranging it that way now.

We need your co-operation and are counting upon it.

When the monthly meeting of the 4-H boys' club was held last Saturday at the county courthouse, the program was rendered by members of the Slaton club. Also, W. P. Florence, representing the agricultural committee of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, made an address.

Several members of the Slaton boys' club were in attendance at the meeting, which convened in the district court room.

Miller-Kitten Wedding Performed Tuesday

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was held at the Catholic church on Tuesday morning, April 30th, at 8:30, when Miss Helen Kitten became the bride of Ed Miller, with the Rev. Thos. D. O'Brien officiating in his usual impressive manner.

The happy couple were attended by Miss Gusta Hoge, a cousin of the bride, as bridesmaid, and Joseph Miller, brother of the groom, as best man. Little Miss Mary Catherine Schilling, niece of the bride, carried a lovely flower basket and little J. B. Kitten, nephew of the bride and cousin of the groom, carried the ring on a white satin pillow, in the heart of a white peony.

The bride was lovely in a white flat crepe dress with veil in cap effect, and she carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaid wore a pale blue crepe dress with hat and shoes to match and carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations. The little flower girl was pretty in a peach colored dress with a poke bonnet to match and her basket flowers were white peonies.

After the ceremony the bridal party were entertained at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kitten, with an all-day reception for about one hundred and fifty invited relatives and friends, who join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Miller every good gift that a happy life may hold.

The groom is employed at the Slaton Hardware Co., and is a young man of fine qualities. For the present, the young couple will make their home with the bride's parents, four miles west of Slaton.

Smoker Will be Held by C. of C. On Tuesday Night

The quarterly "smoker," which will be held each three months this year by the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, comes next Tuesday night at the Slaton Club House, officers of that organization announced yesterday. Plans for a good program and a large attendance are being made.

An invitation has been extended to all Santa Fe employees to attend the "smoker", and they are expected to be present and take part in the evening's program, which is to be quite informal.

All Slaton business men are invited to attend and have part in the get-together, making it a city-wide affair for discussion of topics of community interest and for the purpose of more intimate association between the citizens of the city.

The meeting is to begin at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening. "Eats" will not be served.

A Forward Step in Slaton Schools

Slaton school system will now have the benefits of public school music. The board is to be commended for this forward step. All cities of the size of Slaton have placed this important work in their schools—many smaller ones have done so.

Because of the excellent musical talent among our own teachers, we are able to make this progressive move without more than a nominal expense added to our budget. So we shall be able to offer to our grade students the opportunity of laying a foundation for their musical studies later as well as the acquirement of vocal training. Further announcements will be made before the opening of our next term. At this time we may announce that the pupils will each need a small song book adopted by the music department. The cost will be borne by the pupil but it is small and we feel sure every parent will be glad to arrange for the same.

This good fortune is a "dream come true" of Miss Ramsey, head of the music department, and all other teachers of the Slaton schools. The value of music to the individual and the home is recognized by all and it is firmly believed that it will not be long until Texas will follow the educational plans of other states and make musical instruction as much required as any other.

May 20 is Final Date for Entries In Lawn Contest

The last date upon which entries may be placed in the third annual "Pretty Lawn Contest" which is being staged by the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, comes on Monday, May 20, at 5 p. m., it has been announced by George Green and H. S. Riggs, chairman of the civic committee of that organization, in whose charge the contest has been placed.

A large list of entries has already been received, indicating more interest in the contest this year than has ever been shown before.

The committee hopes all who entered last year, and many others, will get their entries in before the closing date. Last year, all members of the various women's clubs of the city were entered in the contest, and Chamber of Commerce officials are hoping the clubs will make as good a record this year, they have said. Also, every other home in Slaton is invited to compete in this year's contest. Cash prizes and trees, shrubs and flowers, totaling $100 in value, are being offered in the various classes.

Uncle George Gets Long Letter From Friend in Honduras

A very appreciative and interesting letter has been received here by Uncle George Marriott, manager of the local Santa Fe reading room, from Dane Shearer, who recently went to Honduras, where he is following his profession as a locomotive engineer. Mr. Shearer was formerly a Santa Fe engineer, having been employed on the Slaton division.

Following is the letter from him:

Tela, Honduras,

April 9, 1929

Dear Uncle George and Mrs. Marriott and all the gang:

Well, how is everybody in Slaton? It is awful dry here, but no sand blowing. It hasn't rained for two months and the drouth is hurting the bananas. I understand Mr. Kness is back in Slaton so I guess he has told you a great deal about this country. I drove into New Orleans about 3 a. m., on March 13th, through rain and then more rain. I stored the car there and then sailed the 15th. The cruise across the Gulf and the Caribbean Sea was just grand. Good clean ship, jolly crew, fine staterooms and the food was wonderful, although, it was two days before I could get an appetite, however, I only missed one meal and didn't feed the fishes, but oh my, the will power it took to keep from it. We stayed twenty-four hours in Puerto Barrios, Guatemala, which gave us enough time to look over the town. Met a bunch of Americans working on the International Railway of C. A. There is a job there but you have to read and write Spanish.

We landed here Wednesday, the 20, about seven a. m., passed the custom officers o. k. and moved in. Put in two days learning the road and went to work. The job isn't bad if it just paid more money. The engines are in very bad shape, reason is they are so short of power they don't have any time to work on them. There are no air brakes on the cars except locals and passenger trains. Some of the engines have steam jam brakes. I am getting one out tonight, with forty cars and going to bring forty-two loads back. They don't flag either. The road follows a river and is very crooked, no grades to speak of. Sometimes it runs through dense (Continued on Last Page.)

WHAT FACTORS CONTRIBUTE TO CREDIT LOSSES?

Writing in the Retail Credit News, L. M. Jahn says: Classified according to occupation I found that of the accounts charged off:

20 percent were day laborers in industrial plants on an hourly basis.

25 percent were office workers or clerks on a salary basis.

21 percent were salesmen—solicitors and others working on a purely commission basis.

The balance, 34 percent, were business and professional men, students, contractors, housewives, etc., nothing of interest developing.

Now comes the hardest as well as the most interesting phase of this analysis. What reason, economic or otherwise, could I assign in each particular case for the loss of the account? My first thought was that sickness and operations would probably cover most of them. To my surprise, however, I found that only 2 percent of our losses could be assigned to continued illness.

21 percent of our customers pleaded prolonged unemployment as their reason for not being able to pay us, 4 1/2 percent went bankrupt. 2 percent went crazy (our bootleggers dispense an awful grade of hooch.) 2 1/2 percent of the losses were traced directly to family trouble. 22 percent of the accounts charged off were lost because of overbuying to such an extent that they apparently made no effort to pay out. In this class of course, is included the dead beat who would not pay if he could.

In the last column of my analysis sheet, I got the biggest eye opener of all. I found that 46 percent of the accounts charged off had left town leaving no forwarding address. One fourth of these we were never able to locate. This tremendous loss, due to the shifting of population, has taught me the absolute necessity of getting all the antecedent information possible when the account is opened.

WOMEN ARE RUNNING SUCCESSFUL MARKETS

One of the benefits of organization that can be measured in dollars and cents is the increased income that comes to farm women through the farm women's club markets, the April 15 Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman points out. There are several very successful markets run by the farm women's clubs in Oklahoma.

From the standpoint of sales and length of time that it has been continuously operating, the Garfield county market exceeds all the others in the state. Its sales for three years and three months were $50,382.23. The Canadian county market is comparatively a new market but in seven months the sales amounted to $7,000. Woods county has two sales points, Alva and Waynoka. At Alva the sales for the year were $3,464.68 and at Waynoka the sales for nine weeks amounted to $315.50. Noble county women sold $1,113 worth of products during eight months.

Smaller markets are operated in Logan, Grady, Payne and Cleveland counties. A few other counties have market days occasionally and in some others markets have been established but did not thrive.

The successful market is based upon business principles. The organization is complete with definite rules governing the privileges and the obligations of each member. Officers are elected who act as a board of directors. A manager, usually one of the club members, is employed, who has general oversight of the market, sees that rules are obeyed, keeps a record of sales, makes the purchase of wrapping materials and collects fees.

The products offered for sale are of standard quality. Customers who buy one time know that they will get a product of the same quality the next time and often leave their orders. The woman who does not prepare her product carefully, either loses out because her product does not sell, or profits by the example of other women and raises the standard of her product.

The supply of products is steady. There are usually several women who contribute the same product regularly. This is an important feature of the successful market because customers must know that they can depend upon the market to furnish what they want of the right quality or they will quit coming.

Stomach trouble, backache and constipation often caused by Rupture promptly disappear.

Truly remarkable and prompt results have been obtained not only with recent and not fully developed ruptures but also with old, long neglected ones.

Ingenious, recently perfected devices are now holding ruptures firmly which heretofore never had been retained.

No elastic belts nor filthy legstraps are used.

D. 1929, the same being the 27th day of May, A. D. 1929, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 23rd day of April, A. D. 1929, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 3689, wherein Thurbur Briek Company, a Texas corporation, is Plaintiff, and Calvin Doherty, Morgan Skyles, A. L. Solberg, James Enos and John A. Rixeval are Defendants, and said petition alleging that the City of Slaton, Texas, a municipal corporation, on November 17, 1925, by ordinance, after holding election for the purpose, adopted and accepted the benefits of the State Paving Lien Law, being now Chap. 9, Title 28, of the Texas 1925 Code; and thereafter L. H. Howard, Contractor, under contract with said City, improved Lot 3, Block 65, Original Town of Slaton, Lubbock County, Texas, in which defendant Calvin Doherty owned an undivided one-third interest, by paving Texas Avenue on which said lot abutts, in accordance with the plans and specifications for said improvement on file in the office of the City Secretary of Slaton, Texas, and made a part of plaintiff's petition, which improvement was accepted by said City, and on December 10, 1926 said City, acting through its Mayor and City Secretary, executed and delivered to L. H. Howard Certificate of Special Assessment No. 243, issued by said City against Calvin Doherty and against his undivided one-third interest in Lot 3, Block 65, Original Town of Slaton, Lubbock County, Texas, for said paving. That all proceedings with reference to making said improvement and assessment and fixing the lien against said property and claim of personal liability were had in accordance with the law, and Charter of said City, and prior to the issuance of said Certificate, whereby L. H. Howard acquired lawful lien against said property and personal obligation against Calvin Doherty as owner thereof for payment of the cost of said improvement.

L. H. Howard sold and assigned said Certificate to plaintiff, who is now the owner and holder thereof and entitled to collect same.

There is owing unpaid on said Certificate $62.90 principal, 8% interest on said sum from December 10, 1926, interest on past due interest at 8% from the annual maturity thereof, reasonable attorney's fees, and costs of collection, as provided for in said Certificate, which certificate is payable in six installments. Installment due December 10, 1926 for $12.60 has been paid; installment due December 10, 1927, for $12.58 and installment due December 12, 1928, for $12.58, were not paid, after demand, and plaintiff has exercised its right to declare the whole debt due because of default, and because of said default it has been necessary to place said obligation in hands of attorney for collection and suit, and reasonable attorney's fee of $100.00 has been incurred, for which defendant is liable.

Defendants Morgan Skyles, A. L. Solberg, James Enos and John A. Rixeval claim some sort of interest in said property, which interest, if any, is inferior and subordinate to plaintiff's first, prior and superior lien, claim and demand on said property, and plaintiff is entitled to foreclosure of its lien against all defendants.

Plaintiff prays for judgment for its debt as pleaded against Calvin Doherty, with attorney's fees and costs, and foreclosure of its liens against all defendants, for order of sale of said property and application of the proceeds of sale as the law directs, for execution against Calvin Doherty for any balance remaining unpaid, and for general and special relief in law and equity.

Herein Fail Not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

ARTICLE VII THE NEW A-B-C OF POULTRY RAISING

The Question of Vitamines and Their Value in Poultry Feeding is of Paramount Importance.

Editor's Note—This is another story in a series of 52 stories on poultry raising written by the well known national poultry authority, Dr. L. D. LeGear, V. S., of St. Louis. The entire series will appear in this paper. Our readers are urged to read them carefully and clip them out for future reference.

"Professor," inquired a student in one of our agricultural colleges, "you say we don't know what vitamines are; then, how do we know there are any?" "Do you know what life is?" retaliated the instructor. When the pupil admitted that he did not, the professor crisply retorted, "Still, you are reasonably sure that you're living, aren't you?" In that reply lies the key to a proper understanding of the subject of vitamines by poultry raisers. True, we don't know what they are, but we know what they will accomplish and that is the main thing after all.

Of the four known vitamines, A, B, C and D, proper understanding of the functions of the first and fourth is of paramount importance to poultry raisers. The other two may be ignored, as B is present in the outer covering of all grains and chickens do not seem to need vitamine C at all.

If feed is deficient in vitamine A, a disease called nutritional roup may develop. Mature birds affected in this way will die in from four to twelve months and young chicks in from four to eight weeks. Since feeding the proper ration of vitamine A means a very considerable protection against this disease, it may be seen that a proper understanding of the sources of this important vitamine is something worth considering.

Vitamine A is produced in all plants that grow in sunlight and is stored in the part that shows a green or yellow color, the outer leaves of cabbage, the leaves of alfalfa and similar plants, in yellow carrots and in sprouted oats, if they are sprouted in the presence of enough sunlight to insure a good green color. Any other kind are valueless. These are not the only sources of vitamine A, but they are the ones principally used in poultry feeding. Strangely enough, drying does not affect the vitamine content of vegetable products, a fact which accounts for the value of alfalfa hay, and meal, when used for winter feeding.

Another valuable source of vitamine A is Cod Liver Oil. When a sufficient quantity of the products mentioned above cannot be obtained, Cod Liver Oil at the rate of about 2 per cent may be added to the mash to provide the necessary vitamine A content and also the equally valuable vitamine D.

Vitamine D, just mentioned, is important because without it the mineral elements of the fowls' ration intended to supply bone and egg shell will simply pass through the system unused. In young chicks this appears as "leg weakness" or, more properly, rickets. Older fowls show a similar weakness when they are not getting enough vitamine D. They will also lay eggs with soft or extremely thin shells. Their eggs will also prove deficient in hatching qualities.

A peculiarity of vitamine D is that it can be formed both in the feed or in the bodies of the birds themselves when exposed to direct sunlight, however, as only the ultra-violet rays produce vitamine D and they cannot pass through ordinary window glass. The part played by ultra-violet rays in developing this necessary vitamine has been definitely established by experiments in the University of Kansas. Hens which were kept away from natural sunlight but exposed 20 minutes daily to artificially produced ultra-violet rays laid a normal number of eggs with satisfactory hatchability.

As previously mentioned, Cod Liver Oil contains vitamine D and if mixed in the same proportion as recommended for supplying vitamine A, it will supply the other one also. The oil is not an altogether dependable source of vitamine D, however. Some grades do not contain enough of it to be of any real value. So, whether you feed oil or not, see that your fowls get as much sunshine as possible. Let them out in the open whenever possible. Shelter them in the open front type of house and keep it open as much as the weather will permit. When the house must be closed totally or in part, instead of glass use the new glass substitutes, which allow the ultra violet rays to pass through. Then your hens will be healthy and strong. They will lay more plentifully; then eggs will hatch better and the chicks will be free from many weaknesses.

Thus it appears that the subject of vitamines is a fairly simple one, after all. Even if nobody does know anything about their chemical make-up, it is easy to see how they work and how to utilize their valuable properties in the proper nourishing of the poultry flock.

WOMEN CHAMPIONS PREFER CHAMPIONS

When Miss Elinor Smith brought her LeLanca plane to earth at Roosevelt field April 24, she not only wrote a new vivid chapter into the spectacular history of women aviators but she added still another to the long list of triumphs already to the credit of Champion spark plugs, officials of the Champion Spark Plug Company point out.

Long Island's 17-year old "flying flapper" recaptured for the east the women's solo endurance flight record by staying 26 hours, 21 minutes and 32 seconds in the air, and beating by 4 hours, 18 minutes and 20 seconds the time made earlier this year by Louise McPhetridge, of California, who in turn had taken from Bobbie Trout, Golden State aviatrix, the laurels first won by Viola Gentry, Long Island's flying cashier. All these flyers have used planes powered with Champion spark plugs. Miss Smith lost no time after her landing on Wednesday in wiring the Champion Spark Plug Company her appreciation of the part Champions played in the feat she had just performed. Her telegram read:

"Broke world's women's solo endurance flight. In air 26 hours, 21 minutes, 32 seconds. Average eight gallons of gas used hourly. Champion spark plugs used and performed perfectly. Not least sign of trouble, not even a miss. Elinor Smith."

The recent record flights by women have given unusual pleasure to the makers of Champion spark plugs.

"For the last five years, Champions have been making records in cars, boats and planes driven by men, and we have become well accustomed to the thrill of victory on land and water and in the air, but nothing in the long series of triumphs we have scored has given us more gratification than we feel in the contribution our product is making to feminine conquest of the art of flight," said R. A. Stranahan, President of the Champion Spark Plug Company, on receipt of Miss Smith's telegram. "It gives a feeling of real pleasure to find that Champion spark plugs, so long the choice of masculine leaders in every field of automotive effort, are also unanimously favored by the plucky women who are challenging the supremacy of their male rivals in aviation."

Compliments.

It is rumored that two local women were chatting over the back fence.

Said the first: "We're going to live in a better neighborhood soon, we're moving next month."

Second: "So are we going to live in a better neighborhood."

First: "What, you movin' too?"

Second: "No. We're staying here."

CHURCHES

VOCATION DAY.

Every boy and girl should decide early in life what they are going to be. Decide what your life career is to be, and then as Napoleon said when told that he could not cross the Alps, "I'll find a way or make one," let that be your motto. Fortify yourself with a burning, conquering determination to reach your goal, and nothing can stop you from attaining it.

Sunday, May 5th, is set apart by the Presbyterian churches as Vocation Day. Every Presbyterian church in the U. S. A. will observe this day with a special program in the Sunday school, and each pastor will preach a special sermon on Vocational Guidance.

The Presbyterian Church in Slaton will observe this day. An invitation is extended the young people, to meet with us on this day and enjoy this service. The pastor has already announced he will give us this special sermon, and we know you will not be disappointed.

CHURCH OF CHRIST.

The law of habit is well understood. The habit of attending Church is in harmony with this general law of human character. In the assembly on Lord's day, we are drawn closer to each other, and to God. It is a law of nature that we form attachments for those with whom we associate, and hence we find that the more we serve our Maker, the higher we will ascend; and the oftener we attend church services, the more we will cultivate Godliness. Get the habit, come to the services next Lord's day.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION.

THE STATE OF TEXAS.
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Lubbock County—Greeting:

You are Hereby Commanded to summon Morgan Skyles, A. L. Solberg, James Enos, and John A. Rixeval, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, to appear at the next regular term of the 72nd District Court of Lubbock County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Lubbock, Texas, on the fourth Monday in May, A. D. 1929, the same being the 27th day of May, A. D. 1929, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 23rd day of April, A. D. 1929, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 3691, wherein Thurber Brick Company, a Texas corporation, is plaintiff, and A. B. Zook, Morgan Skyles, A. L. Solberg, James Enos and John A. Rixeval are Defendants, and said petition alleging that the City of Slaton, Texas, a municipal corporation, on November 17, 1925, by ordinance, after holding election for the purpose, adopted and accepted the benefits of the State Paving Lien Law, being now Chap. 9, Title 28, of the Texas 1925 Code; and thereafter L. H. Howard, Contractor, under contract with said city, improved Lot 3, Block 65 in the Original Town of Slaton, Lubbock County, Texas, a one-third undivided interest thereof was owned by defendant A. B. Zook, by paving Texas Avenue on which said lot abutts, in accordance with the plans and specifications for said improvement on file in the office of the City Secretary of Slaton, Texas, and made a part of plaintiff's petition, which improvement was accepted by said City on December 10, 1926, and on said date said City, acting through its Mayor and Secretary, executed and delivered to L. H. Howard Certificate of Special Assessment No. 242, issued by said City against A. B. Zook and against his undivided one-third interest in Lot 3, Block 65, Original Town of Slaton, Lubbock County, Texas, for said paving. That all proceedings with reference to making said improvement and assessment and fixing the lien against said property and claim of personal liability were had in accordance with the law, and Charter of said City, and prior to issuance of said Certificate, whereby L. H. Howard acquired lawful lien against said property and personal obligation against A. B. Zook as owner thereof for the payment of the cost of said improvement.

L. H. Howard sold and assigned said Certificate to Plaintiff, who is now the owner and holder thereof, and entitled to collect same.
There is owing unpaid on said Certificate $75.50 principal, 8% interest on said sum from December 10, 1926, interest on past due interest at 8% from the annual maturity thereof, reasonable attorney's fees, and costs of collection, as provided for in said Certificate, which Certificate is payable in six installments. Installment due December 10, 1926, for $12.60, and installment due December 10, 1927, for $12.58, and installment due December 10, 1928, for $12.58, were not paid, after demand, and plaintiff has exercised its right to declare the whole debt due because of such default, and because of said default it has been necessary to place said obligation in hands of attorney for collection and suit, and reasonable attorney's fee of $100.00 has been incurred, for which defendant is liable.

Defendants Morgan Skyles, A. L. Solberg, James Enos and John A. Rixeval claim some sort of interest in said property, which interest, if any, is inferior and subordinate to plaintiff's first, prior and superior lien, claim and demand on said property, and plaintiff is entitled to foreclosure of its lien against all defendants.
Plaintiff prays for judgment for its debt as pleaded against A. B. Zook, and no attorney's fees and costs, and foreclosure of its liens against all defendants, or order of sale of said property and application of the proceeds of sale as the law directs, for execution against A. B. Zook for any balance remaining unpaid, and for general and special relief in law and equity.

Herein Fail Not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given Under my Hand and the Seal of Said Court, at office in Lubbock, Texas, this, the 23rd day of April, A. D. 1929.

Your MODEL T FORD is still a good car

THE Model T Ford led the motor industry for twenty years because of its sturdy worth, reliability and economy. Those same reasons continue to make it a good car.

As a matter of fact, nearly one-fourth of all the automobiles in use today are Model T Fords. Millions of them can be driven two, three and even five more years with reasonable care and proper replacements. Figures show that the average life is seven years.

Don't sacrifice your Model T, therefore, but take it to the Ford dealer and have him estimate on the cost of putting it in A1 shape. A very small expenditure may be the means of giving you thousands of miles of additional service.

For a labor charge of $20 to $25 you can have your motor and transmission completely overhauled. This price includes new bearings, reboring cylinders and any other work necessary. Parts are extra.

Valves can be ground and carbon removed for $3 to $4. The cost of tightening all main bearings is only $6. The labor charge for overhauling the front axle is $4.50 to $5—rear axle assembly, $5.75 to $7.

New universal joint will be installed for a labor charge of $3. Brake shoes relined for $1.50. Rear spring and perches rebushed for $1.75. The cost of overhauling the starting motor is $3. A labor charge of approximately $2.50 covers the overhauling of the generator.

It will pay you, therefore, to see your Ford dealer and have him put your Model T in good running order. By doing so you will protect and maintain the investment you have in your car and get months and years of reliable transportation at a very low cost per mile.

Betty Compson and Milton Sills in "The Barker"

LOCK THE DOORS, THE CARNIVAL HAS COME TO TOWN!

Old Time Tent Show of the Middle West "Hick" Town in Depicted in "The Barker," First National's Screen Version of the Play, With Talking and Vitaphone Sound Accompaniment.

On the side street of a middle western college town an eight-piece band is blaring "In the Good Old Summer Time." Any musician can tell from a distance of half a mile that it is a colored band, for the musicians are slurring their tones.

Gay banners flap in the breeze in front of a row of dirty tents. Barkers proclaim the wonders to be seen within the canvas shelters, and on a rude platform that trembles with her every move, "The Girl from Albany" gives just a suggestion of the dance she will do within, after the suckers have laid their money on the line.

Spring has come to the middle west, and the carnivals are blossoming out, with the apple orchards and the peach groves. The "grifters," of operators of "two-way" or crooked games, have set up their stands. The "shills" or "coppers" are ready to make their marvelous winnings. The "dips" or pickpockets are working through the crowd and the show is about to begin.

A local lodge has been named as sponsor for the show. A portion of the proceeds go to the building fund. The local authorities have been "seen" and the show will run unmolested until Saturday night when the constable will stop the "cotech" dance and halt the shill games. And the vigilant officers will be commended for doing their duty—after the carnival has cleaned up.

This is the story of the typical American street carnival, as it ran in the "old days". And times have not changed greatly at that, for the "racket" is still being played by a few traveling organizations, at pleasure parks and beach resorts.

The old games have been replaced by new. The shell game is gone, but the "flash" games have taken the place—those dazzling lights that flash from globe to globe and stop on the one that nobody played.

The percentage is still to the operator—if there is any percentage. In the carnival racket the customer is always wrong.

It is such a small tent show or carnival as this that Kenyon Nicholson depicted in his play, "The Barker," the big Broadway hit which First National has made into a special motion picture production, starring Milton Sills and Dorothy Mackaill and with Betty Compson featured as a hula dancer. It is coming to the Palace Theatre on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, and patrons are assured of a dramatic entertainment which reflects the life, the color, the picturequeness, the sordidness and the glitter of carnival life. George Fitzmaurice directed the picture, which will be shown with Vitaphone talking, singing and sound reproduction.

Notes, News and Nonsense.

She is well dressed—
But ever dressing better;
Powdered,
Waved and tinted;
Getting all she asks for,—
With never an end to the asking;
Poised,
Efficient, chic;
With time for everything,—
But what needs to be done.
I watch

Will it never end?
Never.

Trying to hold my own, in spite of odds;
Manfully trying to look like a man,—
But secretly glad
If she don't get my job.
"Mother's Day," yes.

I experimented in free verse, and the above was the result; I will add that it was submitted to both "Life" and "Judge" and they both returned it, which further proves that "Life," like the rest of us, wants only the best things in life, and that there is nothing wrong with "Judge's" judgment.

FELT BAD AFTER EATING

"FOUR YEARS ago, I suffered with heartburn and bilious indigestion. Whatever I ate disagreed with me. Gas on my stomach made me very uncomfortable. My tongue was coated and my color was bad. I needed a good laxative, and so my mother-in-law gave me some Black-Draught and told me to take it. I found it helped me very much, so I bought it for myself. Seems it was the very thing I needed. It is a fine family remedy, and I use it when I need something for constipation.

"I also give Black-Draught to my children whenever they need something for colds or upset stomachs. Our whole family takes Black-Draught."—Mrs. G. C. Leary, 103 North Alston Ave., Durham, N. C.

Doctor Found Women and Children Sick More Often than Men

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

J. B. Caldwell M.D.
AT AGE 83

In the course of Dr. Caldwell's 47 years' practice (he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1875), he found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with pepsin. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year his prescription was first placed on the market.

The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in Dr. Caldwell's private practice. Now, the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it. Millions of bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are being used a year.

Its great success is based on merit, on repeated buying, on one satisfied user telling another. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and we have gotten many hundreds of letters from grateful people telling us that it helped them when everything else failed.

While women, children and elderly people are especially benefited by Dr.

Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, it is promptly effective on the most robust constitution and in the most obstinate cases. It is mild and gentle in its action and does not cause griping and strain. Containing neither opiates nor narcotics, it is safe for the tiniest baby. Children like it and take it willingly.

Every drug store sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Keep a bottle in your home,—where many live someone is sure to need it quickly.

We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.

MONTAGUE LOVE and LILLIAN GISH in "THE WIND"

PORK AND BEANS ADD REALISM TO SOUTHWEST FILM

At Palace Friday and Saturday.

Lillian Gish, ethereal and wistful, can hardly be imagined dining on a platter of salt pork and beans—but this is exactly what she had to do in her latest starring vehicle, "The Wind", at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

Furthermore, the meal wasn't daintily served, either—a great slab of salt pork and a rough-looking collection of beans—such as would be found in a cowman's shack in the wilderness, was the course.

This occurred during the scenes showing her arrival as a delicately nurtured Southern girl, into the windswept wastes of the Texas prairies, where she was forced, in the story, through the death of her mother. The meal is her first experience with the hardships of the cow country.

"As a matter of fact," she confessed after the gastronomic ordeal, "I rather enjoyed it."

Lars Hanson, her leading man, said that it reminded him of his early days in the Swedish army—except that lentils took the place of beans—"and sometimes we had salt herrings."

The picture, which comes to the Palace Theatre, Friday and Saturday, is a vivid filmization of Dorothy Scarborough's famous novel of the Texas plains, directed by Victor Seastrom, with a notable cast that includes Montague Love, William Orlamond, Dorothy Cummings, Edward Earle, and others of note.

MODEL A FORD GIVEN FOREIGN TESTING

An official test of the Model A Ford motor in Switzerland, with the Alps as the proving ground, has demonstrated that the new Ford could be operated for a long, continuous period over abrupt, steep hills, without lifting the hood. Reports of the test have just been received by the Ford Motor Company.

The Ford motor was kept running for a period of six days and during virtually all of that time the car was enroute over the Alpine passes, a relief taking over the operation while the driver rested. Day and night the test continued. No attempt was made for distance or speed, the sole object being to determine the reliability and power of the automobile.

The fact that the trip was made when roads and climate conditions in the mountains were bad is cited as further evidence of the stability of the Ford car. A strictly standard Model A Ford with Tudor body was used. Zurich was the starting point. The hood of the car was sealed officially by a representative of the township. Two persons occupied the car, the driver and his relief.

Passing through Lucerne and the Grimsel Pass, the car took the Furka Pass at an altitude of 2,431 meters, then the St. Gothard Pass down the Italian lakes through all the large Swiss towns and back to Zurich. On its return the seals were examined by the official who first placed them on the hood and were found intact.

In each town the car was stopped, but not the motor. The motor ran constantly from the time the car was started in Zurich until the return six days later.

CREWLESS TRAINS.

Crewless trains of 33 cars, without a human being on board, are operated under the streets of London to speed the mails from collection boxes to delivery points in the city.

About 23,000 bags of mail are carried daily by these electrically operated and electrically controlled underground lines. Dispatchers, at the various subterranean stations, guide the cars by throwing switches, and automatic safety cut-outs prevent collisions.

Verdict Guilty.

Counsel—"Now, sir, tell me, are you well acquainted with the prisoner?"

Witness—"I've known him for twenty years."

Counsel—"Have you ever known him to be a disturber of the public peace?"

Witness—"Well—er—he used to belong to a band."

Another Record!

 New Six Cylinder
CHEVROLETS
since Jan. 1st

Sweeping constantly ahead to greater and greater heights of popularity... making and breaking new records of success with impressive regularity... the new Chevrolet Six has established one of the most remarkable records in automotive history—more than 500,000 on the road since January 1st!

Not only does this brilliant accomplishment surpass the greatest record that Chevrolet has ever achieved in the past—but it brings to Chevrolet the significant honor of having built in only four months a greater number of six-cylinder cars than any other manufacturer has ever produced in an entire year!

Even with such a record to focus attention upon the outstanding value of the Chevrolet Six—many people still do not appreciate what “a Six in the price range of the four” actually means!

To such persons, consideration of the features responsible for this tremendous popularity will prove a revelation. So read the adjoining column carefully—and then come in and ask for a ride in this sensational six-cylinder car.

COMPARE the delivered price as well as the list price in considering automobile values. Chevrolet's delivered prices include only reasonable charges for delivery and financing.

Outstanding Features of the New Chevrolet Six that have created this Tremendous Popularity—

6-Cylinder Smoothness

Due to the finer inherent balance of its six-cylinder motor—the new Chevrolet Six provides that smooth, quiet, flexible performance which is characteristic of the truly fine automobile. At every speed, the power is delivered easily, freely and without annoying vibration.

6-Cylinder Getaway

In sheer brilliance of performance, as well as in smoothness and quietness of operation, the new Chevrolet Six is a revelation. Acceleration is remarkably fast. And a new non-detonating cylinder head eliminates every trace of “lugging.”

6-Cylinder Speed

The new Chevrolet Six has speed in abundance—but even more important than its speed is the smooth, quiet, restful comfort you experience at every point on the speedometer. You can open the throttle wide with a feeling of complete security.

Better Than 20 Miles Per Gallon

The marvelous performance of the Chevrolet Six would be exceptional in any car. But in the new Chevrolet Six it is actually sensational—for here it is combined with an economy of better than 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline!

Exceptional Riding Comfort

Another vital factor that has influenced over a half-million people in their selection of the new Chevrolet Six is its marvelous riding comfort. It travels smoothly over rough roads—and its balance on turns and corners is exceptional.

Beautiful Fisher Bodies

Longer, lower and roomier—finished in attractive, long-lasting colors—and upholstered in rich, deep-tufted fabrics—the new Fisher bodies on the Chevrolet Six introduce into the low-price field an entirely new measure of style and distinction.

Proved Dependability

Tested for more than a million miles on the roads of the General Motors Proving Ground—the new Chevrolet Six went into the hands of its owners thoroughly proved in every detail. And now reports of its performance on the highways of the nation pay glowing tribute to its endurance and dependability.

Amazing Low Prices

An achievement that surpasses even the brilliant performance qualities of this sensational six-cylinder car are the prices at which it is offered. Study these prices, and compare them with any other car and you will recognize the remarkable value represented in this Six in the price range of the four!

jungles and then you run through banana farms where the bananas reach over the cars. They have very good headlights, both front and back. Business was good last week and I found out there is no sixteen hour law here, as I worked twenty-seven hours with only two breaks of two hours each. However, this week we are idle. I worked three hours Sunday, missed Monday, will work about six tonight and miss tomorrow. Work by the month, so what do I care. I have had a Carib negro for a fireman that talked both Spanish and English, but I am getting another fireman now. Not supposed to run over 15 miles per hour. I lost my caboose and six cars the other night and had to go back three kilometers before I found them. There are no time tables here, no book of rules, don't have to carry a watch and no Rule G. The company sells liquor on credit if you want it.

It isn't hot here, not near as hot as Kansas is sometimes. Have cool nights and a good sea breeze, quarters are fine, private rooms that are large, have high ceilings with screens in porches, well ventilated, with shower bath and laboratories to every two rooms. The meals are just fair, not near as good as Mother Hill's and Fred Harvey's.

Tela is situated on the beach with the Caribbean Sea in front and a range of mountains of about 1500 feet high in the back. They have water and sewer system, electric lights and it is very sanitary. Have tennis courts, base ball diamonds, golf courses and a fine beach to swim. The drinking water comes from the mountains and is sure fine, it is soft water, too.

I am having an awful time with my Spanish. I went into a native barber shop to have my hair cut and tried to show him how I wanted about two inches cut off of the top. Well, he understood the two inches alright, but he cut it off two inches from my head, so now I have a pompadour. Took me twenty-nine years to raise that head of hair, and it took him 29 seconds to cut it off.

How is business on the Slaton line? Have they ever received permission to build the Seagraves extension? Where is Ray Wersinger working?

I sure do get a "kick" out of watching these people and seeing their customs. Nobody gets in a hurry. I think here is where slow motion was discovered, except for the brakemen and when they are switching and spotting cars they sure do move. It would kill an American to get off like they do. They switch by speed, the faster you go the better they work. They all have a copy of the switch list and they know how to do the work. Brakemen and firemen are good to work with, they all speak some English and are good to show and help you. The natives here are a mixture of everything, Indian, Chinese, negroes and God knows what. Most of them carry machets, a kind of a corn knife, and they don't hesitate on using them on each other, especially when they are drunk on what they call "white-eye". I have seen children 10 years old carrying machets. Nearly all the other natives carry a gun on them somewhere or else a knife. On the farms and outside of town nearly all the Americans carry guns with them. A 45-caliber will sell for $60 here. I sure was foolish for not bringing two down here and selling them.

On April 1st, I had the pay car out. Had an engine that I could just about stand in and oil all of it. Had a caboose next to the engine and the pay car next. Carried a commander and about ten soldiers and paid out about $100,000 in twelve hours. This was in cash, too, United States currency. When the men go in the pay car to get their pay they have to park their guns and machets outside. The day we arrived two natives were killed in fights with machets. I saw one of the bodies at the commander's office. About the first of this month a native engineer (Alvarado, by name) killed his fireman with a machet. The commander (Chief of Peliec) caught him last week. The commander told me that he was going to "bump" him off today. He said he was going to carry him over to the county seat in our country and on the way over there Alvarado was going to try to get away and he was going to shoot him down. Some way of dealing out justice but that is better than going through their courts.

However, the most I am scared of is the dogs. They must think "gringo" meat is good to eat for they are sure partial to gringos.

I must close and go mail this so it will get off on this boat. Anyone asks about me tell them I'm enjoying life and am not sorry I came to see this country, but one thing is sure, you are not under the Stars and Stripes here.

Best regards to all,
DANE SHEARER.
