Lubbock County Stock Show Expected To Break Records

Strickland, director of the Lubbock County Stock Show, reports that he has received word from many members of the 4-H and FFA Club members that they expect to show their animals at the show which is scheduled for Saturday, March 16. It is to be held at the Athletic Field, just north of the Slaton Club House, where there is room to accommodate a large crowd and where the pens can be arranged better than they could on the lot on the east side of the Square, where the shows have been held in previous years.

Rotarians To Get Good Programs

The program committee for the Rotary Club, Claud Anderson, Luther Kirk and J. W. Chenoweth, report that they have arranged a very interesting program for the month.

Yesterday, at the regular meeting at noon, at the Slaton Club House, John Hood, one of the early day mayors of Slaton, spoke on Community Service. A musical program that is being prepared by Mrs. Allan Ferrel, Rotary pianist, will be next week, and one of the feature programs of the month will be on March 21, when C. B. Spencer, official of the Texas Cottonseed Crusher's Association will speak on Soil Conservation. Mr. Spencer is well qualified to discuss his subject as he has made a close study of the problem for years and his experience and knowledge fits him to give expert advice on soil conservation. Mr. Anderson said that each member of the club should bring a farmer to this particular program so that as many people as possible can get the benefit of Mr. Spencer's talk.

Money Available For Buildings

Reports have been received that the Slaton Independent School Bonds have been approved and that the money will be deposited to the credit of the Slaton schools in the near future.

Several tentative plans are being developed by an architect for submission to the Slaton school trustees but there is little prospect of actual construction of a new school building or the remodeling of the present buildings in the near future due to the shortage of both materials and labor, but as soon as conditions are right the Slaton District will put a building program into effect.

Formal Opening of New Hardware Store Is Today and Tomorrow

In step with postwar expansion and development the Johnson-Hoffman Hardware Company announce the formal opening of their new store for tomorrow.

The new hardware store is located on the south side of the Hoffman building that has been remodeled and redecorated. The fixtures are all new. While a large quantity of the stock that new store is to carry has not arrived, it has an excellent selection of many items that are needed in the home and that are exceedingly scarce on the market today.

The owners of the new business are Verne Johnson and Howard Hoffman. Mr. Johnson has recently received his discharge from the Army Air Corps and Mr. Hoffman served with the FBI during the war. Both young men have had valuable business experience that has fitted them for the line amount to over $600. The show is being sponsored by the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, the City of Slaton and the business men of the city. The shows have proven very popular in the past with the members of the FFA and 4-H Clubs and with the public, having attracted a record crowd last year and the largest number of show animals ever shown here.

Legionnaires To Meet Monday

Commander M. S. Kavanaugh of the Slaton American Legion Post reports that the next regular meeting of the organization will be next Monday night at the Legion Hall at which time all the members are being requested to bring several sandwiches and some cookies, a few more than they would consume themselves, and to bring a new member for the American Legion with them.

Commander Kavanaugh also said that any war veteran will be welcome to attend the meeting whether they are at present members of the Legion or not. A short business session will be held after which a dance will be given for those who enjoy dancing, for those who do not, some other kind of amusement will be provided.

A number of new dance records have been purchased by the Legion and the latest and best music will be provided for the dance.

"The Ring and the Look," directed by George May.

A Pantomime, directed by Martha Cudd.

The parents of any members of the class are invited to attend these plays.

At least one of these plays will be presented in assembly, and later in the month a full evening's program may be given for the public.

William R. Sewell and mother, Mrs. W. H. Sewell, were visitors in Dallas last week-end. Mrs. Sewell's cousin, Mrs. L. A. Sadler returned home with her for a several months' visit.

Thieves Active in Slaton This Week

A bold and carefully planned theft of approximately $100 worth of narcotics was committed last Monday at the Teague Drug Store at about 1 p. m. when some one unlocked the safe in which the drugs were stored.

Only two women employees were in the store at the time of the theft and while they could not identify the thief they reported that a woman had been loitering around in the back of the store at about the time the theft was committed. Charlie Walton, manager of the Teague Drug Store, was at home to lunch at the time.

A home on North 5th Street was entered late Sunday night by several thieves and a small amount of groceries and other supplies were stolen. The thieves attempted to carry off some bedding but were frightened away before they could get away with the bulky plunder.

Wm. R. Sanner, Y3/C, returned to Washington, D. C. after an eight-day leave at home. He is in the Communications Intelligence Dept. Bill's address is 5700 Broad Branch Rd., Washington, D. C.

FREEDOM AND DEMOCRACY

"On the continent of Europe we are yet to make sure that the simple and honorable purposes for which we entered the war are not brushed aside or overlooked in the months following our success, and that the words freedom, democracy and liberation are not distorted from their true meaning as we have understood them.

"There would be little use in punishing the Hitlerites for their crimes if law and justice did not rule, if totalitarian or police governments were to take the place of German invaders.

"We seek nothing for ourselves. But we must make sure that those causes which we fought for find recognition at the peace table in facts as well as words, and above all we must labor that the world organization which the United Nations created at San Francisco does not become a shield for the strong and a mockery for the weak.

"It is the victors who must search their hearts in their glowing hours and be worthy by their nobility of the immense forces that they yield."—Winston Churchill.

pired term of Raymond Champion who moved away from Slaton.

Mr. Green and Mr. Lilley will not be candidates as members of the board but Mr. Mack will. Petitions have been filed with the trustees for B. B. Castleberry to fill the place of Mr. Green and for W. T. Davis to fill that of Mr. Lilley. A petition has also been filed for Roy Mack as a candidate to fill the place he now holds.

Mr. Pearson pointed out that 59 and 8-10 per cent of the money that is collected in Slaton for the Red Cross will be used in this area for relief purposes. German Big Guns Brought to U. S.

Three of Germany's best artillery weapons, two 231-ton guns and a 123-ton mortar, have arrived at the Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland, after a long and difficult trip from Leipzig, Germany, according to a bulletin received from Lt. Col. Robert L. Hardy, commanding officer of the West Texas U. S. Army Recruiting District, Lubbock, Texas.

Ordnance technicians will submit all three pieces to close scrutiny, and the weapons then will be placed upon exhibition in the ordnance museum at the Proving Ground.

The two guns are a 28-centimeter K5-E and a 31-centimeter K-5 Glatt (smoothbore), both of Krupp manufacture. They are "cousins" of "Anzio Annie," the German super-range railway gun which threw 550 pound pre-rifled projectiles into the Italian beach-head from a distance of from 30 to 50 miles.

The monsters, measuring 70 feet, 8 inches in length and weighing 462,000 pounds each, were discovered at the Nazi railway artillery shops near Leipzig by a First Army Ordnance team. They have been uncrated, and Ordnance experts at Aberdeen are now carefully scrutinizing them for details of manufacture and performance.

The guns are accompanied by a special turntable, narrow gauge track which makes a circle 100 yards in diameter and weighs 110 tons; a car with an ammunition hoist, another which maintains the powder charges at constant temperature and two cars for projectiles and special equipment. The 28-centimeter weapon fires a pre-rifled projectile over 38 miles; and a rocket-assisted projectile over 50 miles with a muzzle velocity of 3,000 feet per second.

The third weapon is a monster mortar, known as "Thor." This 54-centimeter giant weighs 123 tons and hurls a projectile weighing 3,750 pounds approximately 5,000 yards.

Known as Karigerat and mounted on a self-propelled carriage, it was used for the assault against the Russians at Sevastopol and Stalingrad. Special railway cars were designed to ship this enormous carriage by rail over the long distances to the Red Army fronts. "Thor" is 96 feet overall in length and has a 24-foot barrel.

LITTLE BOY IN HIS DADDY'S SHOES...

Imitation is one of the basic impulses of human life. From earliest infancy man has learned the ways of life and the paths of progress by imitating others who possess and practice such knowledge. The child learns to walk as the fledgling learns to fly—by imitating its parents.

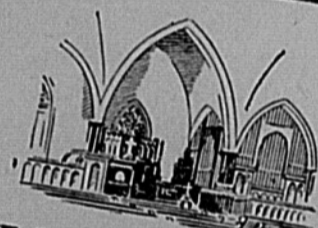

The impulse to imitate others is stronger in infancy and childhood than at any other period in life. The child is anxious to learn things and to be able to do things as grown-ups do in this great, big interesting world. That is why the little boy in the picture tries to walk in his daddy's shoes.

Children learn to walk in their parents' footsteps in many ways, during this formative period of their lives. They acquire their habits, their mental attitudes and their sense of values mainly from their elders. And these are the things that will most largely determine their characters and shape their courses in the years to come.

This makes it all-important for people to walk uprightly before their children, and lead them in the ways of strength and safety.

Above all, parents should teach their children the dependence of all life upon God, and the value of religion and the Church as the guardian of man's spiritual existence. And this must be done, line upon line and precept upon precept, in practice as well as in words.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the Church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake of his children's sake. (2) For his own sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to Church on Sunday.

By GEORGE MAHON

This is being written as I return by train from Perryopolis, Pennsylvania, where I have been to attend the funeral of Congressman Buell Snyder, who died suddenly at the age of 68. Mr. Snyder was chairman of the House Subcommittee on Military Appropriations.

Having served on this subcommittee myself with Mr. Snyder, I was one of the group appointed by Speaker Rayburn to attend the funeral. Several Pennsylvania members, including Senator Guffey, were present. The Secretary of War was also in attendance.

It was Mr. Snyder's committee that handled the atomic bomb project, appropriating the money and cooperating with the War Department on the venture. One of the highlights of my association with Mr. Snyder was in connection with this subject and the trip which we made through the atomic bomb plant in Tennessee last May. Mr. Snyder had long been a resident of Perryopolis, a little town of 1,500 people in an agricultural and coal mining area of Pennsylvania. There was character and kindness in the faces of the people at the funeral. I was reminded once again that the rural areas and little towns make a large contribution to the greatness of America.

Today the House Appropriations Committee put the final touches on the Annual Agricultural Appropriations Bill. The bill is scheduled to be voted on in the House March 6 and go to the Senate for action there.

Some of the provisions which we have put in the bill which will interest West Texans are the following:

AAA funds which are paid to producers for cooperating with the soil conservation program will be about the same as last year — $300,000,000. This is, of course, the largest single item in the entire bill.

An additional $250,000,000 is provided for the REA for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1946. When this is added to other funds recently made available, it will insure a tremendous expansion in rural electrification.

The sum of $25,000,000 is proposed for loans to veterans who wish to buy farms under the Farm Security Administration. An additional sum of the same amount is proposed for the regular loan program to farmers seeking to purchase farms under the F. S. A.

The sum of $1,000,000 is provided for the purchase of surplus dirt-moving equipment by the Soil Conservation Service for loan to the Soil Conservation Districts.

Months ago I thought we were going to be able to get large quantities of surplus dirt-moving equipment transferred from the Armed Forces to the Soil Conservation Service for the use of local Soil Conservation Districts. Unfortunately, our efforts in that direction have thus far been blocked.

The Appropriations Committee, in my judgment, made a serious mistake in failing to grant the total sum requested by the Department of Agriculture to combat the pink bollworm. (The pink bollworm has a firm foothold in the Rio Grande Valley and Old Mexico, and is the most dangerous pest known to cotton production.)

A few pink bollworms have been discovered from time to time in our 19th Congressional District, and certain precautions have been taken. However, our winters are sufficiently cold that the threat to the West Texas-Plains area is not so great as in the milder climate in East Texas and the Old South.

If the major cotton producing areas of the South should become infested with the pink bollworm, the consequences would be disastrous, according to officials of the Department of Agriculture.

FARMERS NEED BETTER DELIVERY FACILITIES

College Station — Farmers want more facilities for delinting and chemical treatment of cottonseed, according to E. A. Miller, agronomist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, who believes that this equipment could be operated profitably on a commercial basis in many sections of the cotton belt.

Many farmers know the advantages of planting delinted seed, he pointed out, but not much is offered for sale and there is not enough volume to justify operation of a delinting plant on anything except the larger farms. A good many farmers, he thinks, would bring seed to a custom delinting plant if one were available nearby.

Results of Texas Agricultural Experiment Station tests over a period of years have proven that treatment of seed with an inexpensive commercial fungicide will improve stands and increase yields.

Many Texas farmers are treating seed with a rotary type home mixer, but the few commercial plants in operation are doing a good business. If more were established, a big increase in the volume of cottonseed treated for control of angular leaf spot, sooty blotch and other seed-borne diseases would follow, Miller says.

He pointed out that no one would expect a gin, cottonseed crusher or seed dealer to put in a cotton seed treating plant merely as a means of demonstrating good will to his customers. "The equipment can be made from scrap and is economical in operation, especially if used during the off-season in connection with other enterprises for which power and building space are available," he said. "Such plants would pay their own way wherever the volume of seed planted in the locality is large enough to support two or three gins."

Partial insurance protection is now available on cotton crops under a new plan announced by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation. This is in addition to the regular coverage already available.

The new co-insurance plan is designed to make it possible for producers to insure even though they do not want to carry in full either the 50 per cent or 75 per cent coverage. Now they can take out partial protection of 60, 70, 80, or 90 per cent of either the 50 or 75 per cent insurance coverage.

Here's how it works, according to Donald L. Cothran, State Crop Insurance Director: If the insured percentage is 75 per cent of the average yield, and the producer elects to obtain 60 per cent partial protection, the premium will be 60 per cent of that determined for 75 per cent insurance. Then, any indemnity payable will be 60 per cent of that which would have been payable if the producer had obtained full protection on the basis of 75 per cent of the average yield.

But, Cothran continues, since it all may sound a little complicated, the best thing to do is go to your county AAA office and discuss your crop insurance problems with the officials there.

Colorful Salad

Diced beets provide flavor in this attractive, oil-dressed ring mold.

A fine salad ingredient, diced beets are particularly attractive in a colorful ring mold.

Glassed diced beets, ready to use, are called for in this Jellied Beet Salad. The beet juice from the duraglas jar is used as part of the liquid in the smoothly blended gelatin base.

Jellied Beet Salad

- (4 servings)
1 tablespoon gelatin, dissolved in 1/4 cup cold water
1 1/2 cups beet juice and water, boiling
1 1/2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/4 cup vinegar
1 tablespoon horseradish
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
1 tablespoon grated onion
1 1/2 cups glassed diced beets, drained

Add boiling water-beet juice combination to dissolved gelatin. Add lemon juice, vinegar, horseradish, salt, sugar and onion. Chill until mixture begins to jell. Add beets and pour into cold ring molds. Chill until firm.

Chiffonade Dressing: (Makes 2/3 cup) Combine 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1/2 cup bottled salad oil, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, 1/2 teaspoon sugar, 1 teaspoon chopped parsley, 1 teaspoon chopped green pepper, 1 teaspoon chopped hard cooked egg and 1/2 teaspoon minced onion. Shake or beat until thoroughly combined. Chill before using.

For "Jittery" Tractors

FARMERS are thinking up new jobs for their tractors every day to increase the use of this expensive piece of machinery and decrease labor costs. But the light tractor that won't "stay put" when it is being used for belt work can be the source of a great deal of irritation and extra work to the farmer who has to stop frequently to tighten the belt and get the tractor back in line.

Even on firm ground a light tractor often moves from vibration and a heavy load. And on muddy ground it may do a lot of slipping and sliding around. This problem can be serious enough to discourage use of the tractor on some belt jobs.

If you are having such "jittery" troubles with your tractor, here's a tip from a Montana farmer which may help make your tasks a lot easier. Set a heavy stake or fence post firmly in the ground about 10 feet behind the spot where the tractor is to be placed. Then attach a tackle block or a wire stretcher to the drawbar and the post. This will hold the tractor steady on any kind of ground and the belt can be tightened easily by pulling up the tackle block or wire stretcher.

JUST TALK by A.M.J.

Spring has come . . . the brim of my ink splattered hat, that I felt so dressed up in last September, is being held off my shoulders only by my ears, the zipper on my four-year-old suit has jumped the track and the small change pocket sprung a leak and let out 15 cents, a stub of a pencil and my key ring, my left shoe sole is so thin that I can feel a penny when I step on it and my wife has bought a new straw hat.

Other sure sign of spring: Charlie Austin has crawled out of his long handles, E. R. Lezz is side-walk farming, the birds are nesting in inconvenient places, dried onions are getting scarce, new potato stomach ache is a common ailment, Leo Henzler is greasy from head to foot and wants to go fishing, Pete Pearson is thinking about going fishing and I feel sure J. W. Bagby has gone or will go fishing real soon.

The idea of a telephone strike is something to cogitate about. Just think what a strain it is going to be on a lot of women to think up something to do with the time that they have been putting in at the instrument; what a mess it will make in the love life of the bobby soxers; what a lot of loose conversation will be saved, and by the way, will the telephone company deduct the time they are out of business, if they do shut down service, from the monthly charge? The women folks on the rural phones will miss a lot of gossip and what will the girls at the central office do to find out about what is going on? It seems to me instead of the new postwar improvements in communication and transportation we have been told to expect, we will all soon be back in the horse and buggy days with grocery salesmen and other sales representatives making calls at the back door to get orders for food deliveries instead of taking them over the phone. Unless more tires are available soon we will all have to travel on foot or on a horse.

Some days here at the office I hope that the telephone will get out of fix and sometimes I feel like jerking it loose from the desk and throwing it through the plate glass window, but the dear old thing has become a part of my life and I must admit that it could become a serious problem to get along without it over a long period of time.

What Slaton and most every other town in the nation needs most of all is more and better housing, and until it is available no town can expand and grow in population.

Even with the very stringent shortages of building materials new homes are going up in nearly all of the larger towns. A few are under construction here but we'll have to get a move on if we are to take advantage of the prosperity that will most surely come as soon as the present industrial strife quiets down. Some private or public organizations should investigate the building possibilities for Slaton at once and make some plans for building homes both for rental and private ownership, at least for financing the homes.

There is no rule that I have ever heard of that tells how a town gets to be prosperous, but from my meager experience it seems that they become prosperous because some one or two men with a lot of vision and intestinal fortitude get out and do things that the timid people are afraid to tackle.

LAFF-A-DAY

"It was only one of her loose eyelashes that fell, Sir!"

A lot of the success of a town or an individual depends on luck. This has been proven time and time again. The man for whom Post, Texas, was named was a Texas man who did not do so well until he sold people on some stuff that tastes like malt flavored gravel, he called Grape Nuts, and personally I think a person must be nuts that eats it. He had to leave Texas to get rich but he did it. Another man who was a flop in Texas but afterwards got rich was Gail Borden, who was the first man to make condensed milk. He started his business in Austin but had to go east to get people to accept his product.

What most towns need are men with imagination and the ability to talk the timid folks who have made considerable money into putting some of it into factories to make square doughnuts or condensed chicken dumplings.

The only difference between a genius who makes a fortune and a man who is looked upon as a dope with screwy ideas is some good luck and the ability to sell his fool ideas.

Last Saturday afternoon I went home and got all steamed up over watering flowers and the fruit trees. After I had cut my finger on the plastic hose connection, dug the hose about a quarter of a mile and connected the squirter my wife came screaming out of the house with the information that she had just read in the paper not to water this time of the year.

According to the newspaper authority, who are usually wrong, the vegetation will be encouraged to bloom out if water is given them and as two or three hard freezes are due here soon, the worst one on Easter Sunday, it seems that the plants should be left to die of thirst. It will be months before I will have the stored up energy to want to water the lawn again and by that time it will be dead from lack of moisture and from being frozen a couple of times.

Mr. Martin, the butcher over at Berkley & Haddock's says that the people in this area have no idea how thankful we should be for the fresh meats that are so abundant on the South Plains. Mr. Martin came here from Kansas City and he said up there the folks felt lucky when they got a few cans of salmon or some dried meat.

Coon Dog Casey came in the office Monday and he was all excited because he said he had seen Luther Kirk out working. Coon Dog, who admits he has gotten his snoot full on rare occasions in the past, says he was greatly shocked at the sight of a preacher out working on the hedge. The preacher was leisurely clipping a twig here and there and Coon says that if sights like that occur again he is going to get on the wagon with a long white ribbon.

Santa Fe Chief Topics

Chicago, March 7—Some time this year, according to announcement made today by President Fred G. Gurley, Santa Fe passenger trains will be equipped with radio, wire reproducer, and public address systems to give Santa Fe passengers the benefit of the latest developments in train radio, wire reproduction of music, and public address system. Forerunner of this innovation in railway passenger service will be Santa Fe dining car 1450, which will be placed into transcontinental service on March 10, equipped with wire reproducing units which will provide programs of popular and semi-classical music during the luncheon and dinner hours. This will be the first railroad car equipped with wire recorders for the reproduction of music. Dining cars, both new and old will be so equipped, the installation being made as fast as equipment and labor are available.

A sufficient number of speakers will be installed in the ceiling of dining, club-lounge and chair cars to provide an even distribution of low-level sound throughout the car which will not interfere with conversations, but at the same time will be sufficiently loud to be heard and enjoyed by those who wish to listen.

All new Santa Fe sleeping, chair and club-lounge cars, will be equipped with special radio equipment designed specifically for use on trains; wire reproducing units which will furnish popular and semi-classical music, and public address system for train announcements. Similar installations will be made in present Santa Fe sleeping, chair and club-lounge cars as soon as materials and labor are available.

In the club-lounge and chair cars a push-button selector unit will be provided so that the club-lounge chair car attendant may connect either the radio, the popular music channel, or the semi-classical music channel to the speakers.

When the public address system is used, the radio or musical program will be automatically interrupted and the public address system connected to the speakers.

In sleeping, cars, each roomette, bedroom, compartment and drawing room will be equipped with push-button selector, a loud speaker, and volume control, so that the occupants may have their choice of radio or wire-reproduced popular or semi-classical music. The push-button selector in the room accommodations will be equipped with a pilot lamp which will light automatically when the train announcement system is in use so that the occupant may hear train announcements if desired.

Farnsworth Television and Radio Corp., Fort Wayne, Indiana, designed the overall integrated system being used in dining car 1450. It consists of a radio-tuning unit, amplifiers and control unit; a wire reproducing unit and amplifier which will provide a program of semi-classical music; and a microphone and amplifier for use in station calling and train announcements.

The wire reproducers used in the diner are of special design developed by the Brush Development Co., Cleveland, Ohio, and the musical programs will be recorded by the Muzak Corporation, New York City.

This whole program is one phase of the Santa Fe's continuous research in the technique of communication as applied to railway operations.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to express our sincere and heartfelt thanks to our many friends for their words of encouragement and assisting us in the many ways they did, during my sickness and serious operation. I've thought many times of friends and their deeds. I am back at home and will soon be strong and well again. May God's richest blessings rest on each of you.

Navy Ships To Get New Skins

Orange, Texas, March 7 — An unusual new protective coating for the "outer skin" of ships of the inactive fleet which will be berthed here will kill barnacles or any other life that attempts to cling to the vessel, and is good for five years in salt water and 15 years in fresh water, the navy disclosed today.

This application will be applied to the "ships in mothballs" of the Sixteenth Fleet, and ships out of commission can be made ready for sea within 30 days.

The navy also disclosed that one or more ships in each berthing area will be left in commission, with a skeleton crew aboard, for maintenance of the other ships in the unit. The reserve ships left in commission can be returned to active service in 10 days.

The poisonous hot plastic paint will be applied to all ships of the inactive fleet for protection of the hull. The topside equipment will consist of weaving of a moisture proof web by spray gun. Entire gun mounts are covered by means of these webs, giving a weird appearance to inactivated ships. The vessels will be grouped by types and moored to piers so that greater protection can be provided at minimum cost.

Ship preservation is being insured for a period of 20 years or longer, the navy said. Deterioration is due almost entirely to the effects of moisture. Preservation methods consist chiefly of dehumidifying the entire ship's interior. The dry condition is maintained in all spaces that can be served with dry aid by means of an automatic dehumidifying machine.

In effect, these machines cause the vessel to breathe, inhaling dry air into the compartments and expelling moist air. Each machine costs approximately $1,500 and no more than six are needed for a large vessel. Barring failure of dehumidifying equipment, a piece of polished brass can be expected to maintain high gloss for 10 to 15 years.

The period of time allowed for decommissioning to a reserve status after arrival at a berthing area is four months for battleships and carriers; three months for smaller warships and auxiliaries; and two months for landing craft, patrol, salvage and mine vessels.

For the first month after arrival at a yard, 70 per cent of wartime personnel allowance is retained. This is then cut to 35 per cent until the ship is inactivated. If a ship is also decommissioned no personnel remain aboard. Vessels left in commission have a severely reduced complement.

There will be 1,125 ships in the inactivated Sixteenth Fleet which is under command of Admiral Thomas C. Kinkaid, USN.

The eight permanent berthing areas for the Sixteenth Fleet are located at Boston, New London, Norfolk, Charleston, Green Grove Springs, Fla.; Bayonne, N. J., and Orange, Texas.

The berthing area being constructed at Orange will be used for smaller type vessels.

THIS WEEK'S LESSON

"Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 10.

The Golden Text is: "The steps of a good man are ordered by the Lord; and he delighteth in his way" (Psalms 37:23).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Know ye that the Lord he is God; it is he that made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture" (Psalms 100:3).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man reflects infinite Truth, Life, and Love. The nature of man, thus understood, includes all that is implied by the terms 'image' and 'likeness' as used in Scripture (page 94).

Barry Fitzgerald as

"His Honor the Barber" says —

MARRIAGE is a wonderful institution... it should combine into one home the best from both people. There are trials and tribulations but bless you, life would be an insipid thing indeed, were it not for the knocks and the bumps that feel so good when they stop hurting.

And another thing, one shouldn't become disillusioned and embittered when the first glory wears off the honeymoon. Some morning they're each going to wake up and find they aren't married to the person they thought they were marrying at all. But they shouldn't be scared, because if they look closely they'll probably find that the real person is much finer and nicer to live with than the illusion they married.

My old Uncle Joe used to say "to be happy all your life always keep handy a good conscience, a clean handkerchief, and a comfortable pair of old shoes."

When you feel a case of intolerance creeping over you, just remember one thing—you and the other fellow are pretty much alike after all. It's just that you're ignorant on different subjects.

The world is full of willing people, those willing to do all the work, and those willing to let them.

Give a pessimist a piece of rope and he'll hang himself. Give an optimist a piece of rope and he'll start a cigar factory.

TEXAS CATTLE BRANDS MUST BE RE-REGISTERED

Austin, Texas, March 7—Books in which cattle brands were first registered in Texas—now no longer in use because of a legislative act—are being sought by the State Historical Association for preservation in the University of Texas Archives.

Two years ago the legislature voided all existing county brand books, and decreed that all cattle brands must be re-registered in each county by October 1, 1945.

Dr. H. Bailey Carroll, acting director of the association and an associate professor of history at the University, wrote to county officials asking that the books be sent to the association for permanent keeping.

Uvalde County has been the first to respond, he reported. Two leather-bound, hand-written books with records dating back to 1856 have been received from County Clerk H. H. Carmichael.

"These books should be kept in the University's archives, not only to preserve the historical value, but also to aid in research and study," Dr. Carroll said.

Howdy Folks; A customer gave us a shock, the other day. She asked us why we never advertised. Imagine our surprise, as our ads have run more or less regularly.

When we told her we did advertise and showed her an ad to prove it, she said, "Yes, but they look so much like all the rest, why don't you doll them up a bit so they'll be easier to catch?"

That set us to thinking. Maybe she was right. We thought of a lot of ways to make the ads sensational, but decided that columnists got more readers than most writers, so we decided to try our hand as a columnist.

Now, we don't expect to be a Bugs Baer or a Winchell, but we'll try to give you a few smiles now and then, and yes, you're right, we'll talk a bit about our Magnolia Gas and Oil business.

So Wait for our literary efforts to follow each week.
