The Rev. and Mrs. Lawrence Faul, missionaries of the Church of the Nazarene to Barbados. have recently returned to the United States on furlough.

He will speak Thursday, No vember 21, at 7:30 p.m. at the Church of the Nazarene in Slaton, concerning the island of Barbados, its people and industries, and the work of the Church of the Nazarene there. While on the field Faul has done evangelistic and pastoral work, served as district president of youth work, conducted the course of study classes for pastors, constructed the district tabernacle, served as mission field treasurer, and introduced vacation Bible schools and Christian service training courses.

Before going to Bardabos, Faul attended Northwest Nazarene College at Nampa, Idaho, and Seattle Pacific College in Washington. He also pastored tend and hear Rev. Mr. Faul for seven year in the Dakotas W. E. Rhodes. and Missouri.

A NEED FOR PROTEST

The Sukarno government in Indonesia has kept a writer and editor, Mochtar Lubis, under house arrest for a year or so, without having brought any charges against him. Lubis has been barred from communicating with his friends or leaving his home because he exposed corruption in the Indonesian government.

Each week, Lubis' paper carried a box reporting the number of days he had been detained under house arrest. Recently, and without legal action, the newspaper was unceremoniously shut down. This newspaper and its staff has been persecuted by the Sukarno regime because it has been honest.

The American press should give more publicity to the persecution of press and of writers abroad. The need for honest information is world-wide. A campaign beginning in this country could roll around the world and have its effect on governments and politicians which restrict the press, shut down newspapers, persecute staffs and jail editors and writers. The Indonesian embassy in Washington might not at all be insensitive to such a campaign or to letters of protest.

The American people are not protesting enough for the liberty of brave and honest men abroad who are being arrested because they try to write honestly and to tell the truth.

BACK IN SERVICE

Such dazzling achievements as moon rockets and the snorkel fountain pen should not be allowed entirely to obscure the less pretentious work of applied science in other fields. We call our readers' attention, by way of example, to the unbreakable plastic dish. This may do more for peace and tranquillity in the American home than a whole flock of fire-breathing missiles could do.

So-called unbreakable dishes have been around for some time now. The only trouble with most of them is that they break. Or if they don't break, they wilt in hot water and emerge from the dishpan resembling Salvador Dali's limp watches. But now something called melamine is going great guns as a material from which truly unbreakable, unwilting dishes may be molded.

There is only one sad note in all this. Many a husband found, in the past, that by being clumsy enough with the china he could get himself retired from the dishwashing chore. If the new lastic dishes become as popular as they seem destined to become, many a husband hitherto ousted from the kitchen is going to find himself right back in service. Oh well, at least he won't have to pay for a lot of breakage.

THE MUSICAL GAMUT

The platter-spinners are a breed apart. Sometimes they become so preoccupied with the so-called pop tunes and accompanying chatter that they seem to have lost all contact with the world outside their soundproof cubbyholes.

The other day, one of these glib fellows announced in all seriousness that he was about to favor his listeners with three selections "running the gamut of human emotions in musical form." At least one accidental (and unwary) listener pricked up his ears and wondered what works of musical genius-something by Beethoven, perhaps; a Chopin nocturne?-would be employed to make good on this rich promise. It soon developed that the "gamut of human emotions" was to be demonstrated by examples of those three really basic types of music-rock 'n roll, country and Western, and the ballad. Our listener interrupted this noble song cycle by switcheing off his radio midway through the first number.

morning. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mote

That listener may be something of a snob. Perhaps he should have given rock 'n roll, country and Western and the ballad a chance to speak their dulcet message. His retort to this notion might be that the platter-spinner was, in his ignorance, the real snob. It's all in the point of view.

Relativity: When it's 29 above zero on a November morning people say, "Ooh, isn't it cold!" but when it's 29 above in January, "Well, that January thaw is here at last."

A flow of water which obliterated a California gold mine in 1872 is now used for farm irrigation. If food prices go much higher the water may be worth far more than the mine it washed out.

It's easy to see why the Soviet government is so interested in the moon. That would be even better than Siberia or Outer Mongolia for exiling officials who fall out of favor

A FREE PRESS .... and CENSORSHIP

America is at peace. While we have men in uniform stationed over the world, we are not at war. In every way, we are working to preserve our peaceful relations with other peoples whose idealogies and aspirations differ from ours.

44.503 0350

Figuring largely in that huge undertaking is America's Free Press. Even during the peaceful years, it has become necessary that certain information regarding discoveries and inventions be protected. Security has become big business.

"Keep this out of the newspaper," are fighting words to any newspaper editor who is a conscientious craftsman. Yet editors of all newspapers, large and small, realize the responsibilities facing them, to help preserve the securities that are so important to all of us.

Government, the military, and the scientific fields, receive full cooperation from the men and women who, by training, are accustomed to dig out and know the news . . . and who, by instinct, strive to keep the people fully informed.

Americans have a right to expect that full freedom of the press be preserved, within the bounds drawn by these securities.

For a completely free press is the only safe foundation on which government of the people can build all other freedoms.

The telephone company is going to give you a chance "sound off" about its services here. to Every customer of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in Slaton will receive a post card asking for comments and criticisms of telephone service and the company that provides it, according to Manager J. C.

Oakley. "We'll mail a double post card to each customer," Oakley said. "Each card has a return section which the customers can fill out and send to me.'

Oakley said the post cards will be mailed during the month of November.

"We're not seeking compliments," the manager pointed out. "If any of our customers have criticisms we'd like to know them. Comments like these help us give customers the kind of service they want.'

"I hope that everyone will take a minute and fill out the return half of the card and mail it to me," he added.

He said that similar post card canvasses are planned for every city where Southwestern Bell Telephone Company operates in order to learn criticisms of customers so that the company can try to remove the causes for these complaints.

"Giving our customers the kind of service they want is our most important job," Oakley said.

He pointed out that everyone who returns the post card with a complaint will be contacted and every effort made to clear up the source of the dissatisfaction.

A THOUGHT FOR THANKSGIVING

Remember that old, Thanksgiving song, "... over the river and through the woods, to Grandmother's house we go?'

A short, sleigh-ride was all it took to get to Grandmother's in those days. Today, it seems as if everyone lives so far away-even when we travel by car.

This Thanksgiving, why not go "over the river and through the woods" the modern way-by telephone.

True, we won't be there to enjoy that wonderful food-the golden-brown, stuffed turkey, the cranberry sauce, the homemade bread and rolls-but we can gladden the hearts of those dear to us with a phone call.

Long Distance is a wonderful, personal way to visit during the holidays. Low Station-to-Station rates make Long Distance economical, too. And remember, call by number-it's twice as fast.

Once again it is time to give thanks for the bountiful goodness that is our material harvest. The contrast between the first Thanksgiving and this one is so vast that it's difficult to comprehend. There is, however, a sameness. The Supreme Being that gave the Pilgrims their good harvest, gives us ours. For this, let's all give thanks.
