J. T. ROBINSON, STATE LAND COMMISSIONER PASSES OVER

After serving the State for 34 years, the Commissioner of the Land Office, received the call to evacuate, and fighting a losing battle, he died of pneumonia in the East, where he was having his first vacation with his son, Dr. J. T. Robinson, Jr., in New London, Conn. The remains will be returned to Texas, his native state, for interment.

Religious Census To be Taken by 1st Christian Church

In accordance with a state wide religious census taking, conducted by the First Christian Churches of the State, the local congregation is planning to canvass the city of Slaton during this week. The teams making the canvass will appreciate the hearty cooperation of the people in giving the information requested. This will be for state and local files and will be used for statistical purposes.

Vocal Quartets Are Features of Rotary Luncheon

A singing contest, in which two quartets took part, was the principal feature of the luncheon meeting of the Slaton Rotary Club last Friday afternoon at the Slaton Club House.

Will P. Florence, leader and member of one of the quartets, was assisted by Mrs. R. H. Todd, Mrs. Claude Anderson and Floyd C. Rector in presenting the first number, "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms". The same song was then sung by a quartet of which Lloyd A. Wilson was the leader and a member. He was assisted by Mrs. Lillian Butler, piano and voice teacher of the Slaton public school, Miss Lois Stallings, a teacher in the East Ward school, and by H. L. Henderson, of Slaton.

The first quartet then sang "Crossing the Bar," and the second quartet rendered "Grandfather's Clock". So hearty was the applause following each rendition of the two quartets that an encore number was demanded of each. The two quartets then joined in an octet, singing "Annie Laurie".

Another encore was required to give the applause, and the octet gave "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny" as the closing number.

According to the plan of the meeting, members and visitors were to

Two Slaton Teachers Hold Offices in Interscholastic Work

Slaton has the honor of having two Lubbock County Interscholastic work officers as members of the Slaton school faculty. They are L. T. Green, who is Director General of the Interscholastic work for Lubbock County, and Miss Jeannette Ramsey, who is head of the Better Music Contest work.

The interscholastic work is of great interest in the schools and has gained considerable recognition in the last few years.

We feel that the two places have been capably filled and that the selections are excellent.

Co. Superintendent At Slaton Schools

Miss Mae Murfee, County Superintendent of Lubbock County, was in Slaton Thursday visiting all of the Slaton schools.

Miss Murfee spoke exceedingly complimentary of the schools and predicts the best year for the schools in the history of Slaton. She stated that the work in each school was well-regulated and the complete programs in the schools were splendid.

This is indeed a compliment to be paid to the instructors and one which all Slaton is proud of.

Miss Murfee also stated that she attended the opening of the New Hope school Thursday morning and she predicts a good year for them.

Sunday School Rally Day, Oct. 13, at First Christian Church

The First Christian church is planning for a big day, Oct. 13, in the Bible school, under the direction of Pastor-Superintendent Dally. The school is to be re-organized by departments and teacher training classes will be organized. It is to be the aim, to enroll many children and adults who are not attending Bible school at this date.

If you live too far to send your child, or come yourself, cars will be available, it is said.

Remember the date, Sunday, October 13. Meet at the First Christian church on East Panhandle, one block from the Municipal building.

IT STILL RAINS.

The rain fall, estimated by G. H. Orr, local meteorologic observer, since Saturday, has been about 2 5/8 inches; Monday night about 3-4 of an inch fell; this morning heavy clouds are still hanging low with indications that more is in store.

While the roads are heavy, transportation by bus is practically on time, the road to Sweetwater is open, and not necessary to detour.

AMERICAN LEGION MEETING.

Dan W. Liles advises that there will be a regular business meeting of the local Post Friday evening at the Club House, members are urged to lay aside other activities and be there, as matters of importance will come before the membership. Pack up your old kit and be there.

vote secretly to determine which quartet was the winner of the singing contest. The ballots were passed and counted, after which it was declared by Roy A. Baldwin that a tie had resulted, and that another contest should be held later to definitely decide the question.

Dr. W. E. Payne was introduced as a new member of the club, and several visitors were present.

The program for next Friday will be in charge of Tom J. Abel, Horace G. Sanders, Jess Swint, and Abe Kessel. The first three will talk on "Five Reasons I Would Give Why Slaton Merchants Do Not Get Slaton's Share of the Purchases Made by the People of Slaton and Slaton Trade Territory." Abe Kessel will talk on his impressions of Europe, having only recently returned from a three months visit to that country.

On Friday night, Sept. 20, a ladies' night program will be held by the club, and the teachers of the public school system here will be invited guests. Lloyd A. Wilson, Floyd C. Rector and Abe Kessel are to arrange the program.

PLAINS COUNTRY VISITED WITH MOST DESTRUCTIVE STORM

The old timers are questioning as to whether for this season of the year, there has ever been quite as severe a storm as that which visited this section Saturday afternoon and night.

With heavy clouds hanging low, and the display of electricity, caused many to remark that some sections were undoubtedly getting severe storms, the rainfall was heavy in Slaton, but we escaped damaging hail. The storm appears to have taken a part of a circle in its sway, striking heavily at the Woodrow community, swinging in a circle to the southeast, striking the Wilson section and going towards Close City and off the Cap Rock. It is estimated that the damage covered an area in its path of 2 to 5 miles wide, leaving fields destitute of anything of a growing nature, in places the crops beaten into the ground with no vestige remaining of the promising returns. The hail was no respecter of any growing vegetation, fruit trees were absolutely stripped of their bearing, with water making the roads impassable in many places, lakes and ponds filled to overflowing and in all, much hardship being the part of the tenant and landlord farmer.

Other sections of the Plains did not escape, from reports, Hale Center appears to have received the heaviest fall of hail with corresponding damaged. Shallowater, Levelland, Littlefield, O'Donnell, Tahoka, Lamesa and other sections were visited.

The scope of the storm appears to have taken the entire South Plains section from the New Mexico line to the Oklahoma line on the East, with Amarillo receiving a heavy drenching, on to Quanah, covering the entire section, reaching south to Midland.

Mrs. R. H. Todd's Brother Killed in Airplane Accident

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Todd and family left Saturday afternoon for Big Spring, in response to a message received that Frank B. King, 35, brother of Mrs. Todd, had been instantly killed in an airplane crash near Tulla, Saturday morning at 8 o'clock, when enroute to Amarillo to attend the opening of the airport at that place.

According to reports, Mr. King left Big Spring Saturday morning, alone, for the Amarillo celebration, after his sister, Mrs. L. M. McKinney, of Dallas, who was visiting her brother, refused to accompany him on the trip.

M. C. Wheeler, a farmer living near the place where the plane crashed, witnessed the tragedy. He stated that he sighted the plane in a nose dive and that the pilot never seemed able to straighten it. He was flying a monoplane, of which he was part owner.

The victim had been flying for about one year, but was not a licensed pilot.

Mr. King was a prominent business man in Big Spring, where he owned and operated a laundry, he also owned several other laundries over the country.

He is survived by his wife and two children, his mother and four sisters.

Abe Kessel left Slaton Monday morning for Mineral Wells where he will visit Mrs. Kessel, who is receiving treatments there. He will also transact business in Dallas while away.

Poultry Association Here Elects Officers and Begins Planning for Fourth Annual Show, Dec. 5, 6, 7

The annual meeting of the Slaton Poultry association was held last Friday night at the Chamber of Commerce office in the city hall. Officers for the coming year were chosen and plans for the fourth annual Slaton Poultry Show were discussed. The show this year will be held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Dec. 5, 6, and 7.

Last year's officers were re-elected, as follows: E. L. Hicks, president; Pierce Youngblood, secretary; and A. A. DeVore, show superintendent.

Show officials expressed optimism relative to the outlook for the show here this year, saying they believe it will be the best one ever staged in Slaton. About 400 birds were shown last year, in spite of bad weather, and this year it is expected that the figure of last year will be far surpassed unless very bad weather should interfere again. The showrooms will be well cared for and birds will not suffer nor be injured in any degree, even if the weather should be unfavorable, it was said.

Regular premiums this year will be the same as last year. For all singles, first premium will be $2.50, second will be $1.50, third, $1.00, and fourth, ribbon. For pens, the first will be $3.00, second will be $2.00, third will be $1.50 and fourth will be a ribbon.

West Ward P. T. A. Met Thursday

The West Ward P. T. A. met Thursday afternoon in the first meeting for the new school year.

Mrs. L. C. Odum, president of the organization, presided at the meeting.

Those present enjoyed a short program which consisted of the following numbers: Violin solo by Miss Frankie McAtee; piano solo by Miss Jeannette Ramsey, and a vocal solo, "I Know a Hill," by Mrs. Lillian Butler.

Miss Mildred Parrish, teacher of Public School Music, was introduced and gave a short talk on "Her Aims in Public School Music." S. A. Roberts, principal of West Ward, and Miss Minnie Lee McMurry, grade teacher in West Ward, were also introduced.

The County Superintendent, Miss Mae Murfee, of Lubbock, was present and gave a short talk on "What the P. T. A. Means to the Teachers".

After this the business was conducted and plans for raising funds for the year discussed. Mrs. Dick Ragsdale was named as manager of the Cafeteria for this year which was opened for business Monday. There will only be one meeting a month of the West Ward P. T. A., this year and it will be the first Thursday in the month.

A membership contest will be staged this month and the room that has the most paid up members by Thursday, October 3rd will be carried on a picnic.

W. R. Hall left Friday morning for Corsicana on a business trip. He was accompanied by his family.

Harley Sadler Shows Coming to Slaton Sept. 16th

Harley Sadler and His Own Company will open a week's engagement in this city Monday, Sept. 16th.

This company has been visiting Slaton regularly for several years and has won a reputation here as a clean, wholesome company and one that is always appreciated.

The opening play on Monday night will be entitled "New Brooms" by Frank Craven, featuring Harley (himself). They promise a change of programs daily, with new plays, new vaudeville and new music.

Reserved seats will be on sale daily at Teague's Drug Store.

Big Spring Will Dedicate Airport

Fifty airplanes and many prominent fliers from all parts of the country will take part in dedication ceremonies for the Big Spring airport to be held in Big Spring, Wednesday and Thursday of this week, according to word received by the Slaton Chamber of Commerce from the Big Spring Chamber.

Many special events have been planned for the big program to be held at Big Spring, and a large attendance at the dedication is expected. A complete round of entertainment for the two days has been arranged, according to announcement.

Yeggs Loot Two Business Firms Here Over Week-end

Two of Slaton's business firms were looted over the week-end, despite the rain and mud. They were Williams Auto Supply and Slaton Coal and Grain Company.

The Williams Auto Supply was robbed Sunday night of $27.96 in cash and several tires, the exact number taken is not known. Entrance was made through a rear door, by cutting a hole in the door large enough for a person to puff their hand through and turn the lock. The robbers, thinking the cash register was locked, cut the drawer.

It is not known exactly when the Slaton Coal and Grain Company was robbed, but sometime between Saturday night and Monday morning, about $43.00 was taken from this firm, including several checks and the bank book.

No trace of the yeggs has been reported.

CORONER'S INQUEST HELD.

An inquest was held over the body of Mrs. Paul Walker, Monday, Sept. 9th, 1929. The inquest was held by Judge J. H. Phillips, J. P., and Coroner for the 2nd precinct, Lubbock County, Texas. The report, as given to a reporter from The Slatonite, that the cause of death was from heart failure.

Judge Phillips, coroner, and Dr. S. H. Adams, County Physician, were called to the home of W. H. Tomy, in the Union community, where Mrs. Walker had been for some time, she being a daughter of Mr. Tomy. Poor health, caused from heart trouble, has been her affliction. Paul Walker, the husband, is an employee of the Santa Fe. Mrs. Walker decided to lie down for a time and rest. Some little time later the folks found she had passed over.

No doctor was called on the case, hence the calling of the Coroner's Inquest, and the findings as reported, after several witnesses had given evidence of the poor health for some time of the deceased.

Mrs. Walker was born July 8, 1905, being 24 years and two months old at the time of her death. She is survived by her husband and six-year old daughter, Drucilla Fern, by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tomy, three sisters and four brothers.

At the time of her death, Mrs. Walker and her husband and little daughter resided near Hart, Texas, where they moved several weeks ago. They were visiting at the home of her parents when she died.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. B. G. Holloway, at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Baptist church, of which she was a member.

The body was buried in Englewood Cemetery here.

Wilson Plans Races at Fair September 20-21

WILSON, Texas, Sept. 9.—Just what the modern high speed stock car will do when it comes to speed will be proven here Sept. 20-21, at the two days Fair, when cars from over the South Plains line up for the ten mile race, over the mile circle track that has been laid off and is being placed in condition. "A purse of $50.00 will be given first and second place winners," said Rama Grigg, chairman of the racing committee. "Already a number of drivers have signified their intention of running," he went on.

A "wreck" race promises comedy, as well as thrills, when cars of 1924 and under models line at the barrier for the 5 mile race for cash prizes. Spectators will have the pleasure of rooting for their favorite "Lizzie" as they circle the dirt track.

Both the automobile and wreck races are open to the world and a number of entries are expected. Horse races will feature the two days fair and lovers of the bangtails will have the opportunity of seeing the fastest that this section affords when the three races get under way each day. 220, 440 and 880 yard races will be run. The 220, 440 races are for community horses only, but the 880 is a sweepstake and is open to horses from anywhere.

"A croquet tournament will be staged both days of the fair and is open to croquet players from any section," stated Mr. Grigg. A large number of entries is expected from over the South Plains as this seems to be the favorite pastime just now.

"The agricultural, textile, canning and poultry exhibits are expected to surpass those of last year, which were said to equal many County Fairs," stated J. Carl Holden, Secretary of the Fair Association. He went on to say that the largest crowd ever to visit Wilson on any occasion is expected to view the races, football games, croquet tournament and exhibits.

Lubbock Co. Teachers Complimented on Institute Work

The Lubbock County teachers were complimented by Miss Mae Murfee, County Superintendent, Thursday, while she was in Slaton, in conference with a Slatonite representative, on the splendid work and co-operation done by the teachers at Institute this year. Miss Murfee has had long experience in this work and is an able judge.

Slaton Schools Enroll More Than 1,000 First Week

The 1929-30 session of the Slaton public schools began last Wednesday with the enrollment of pupils in the junior high and ward schools, which continued through Thursday and Friday. High school enrollment started the week prior.

On Thursday, the enrollment had reached 315 in high school, 455 in junior high and west ward, and 232 at east ward, reports showed. This gave a total of 1,002 pupils enrolled during the first two days. The number will quickly swell to more than 1,300, it is expected.

L. T. Green, formerly superintendent at Levelland, Wellington and Paducah, is beginning his first year as superintendent here. A. M. Sprinkle is principal of the high school. Charles W. Roberts is principal of the junior high and west ward schools, and M. S. Ledger is principal at east ward. All these men are starting their first year in school work here.

Prospects for a splendid year's work are very bright, Mr. Green believes. He is enthusiastic over the outlook and so are the other principals and the teachers in the various schools.

A new plan is being followed this year in dividing the pupils between

STILL THEY HIT AND DO DAMAGE.

The City of Slaton has ordinances covering many things that are of interest to the human family. It strikes us that most of these laws are good, and were created for the purpose of making Slaton a good place to live, without fearing the loss of life or becoming maimed in our travels around the city.

The city has gone to the expense of passing these ordinances, has expended funds in the placing of STOP signs and SLOW signs, where the heavy traffic occurs, and still with it all flagrant breaking of these ordinances abound daily, one has but to take a position on some corner and watch the automobile drivers display their agility at these signs. From Eighth street east on Texas Ave., is a common racing ground for speeding cars. They tell us we have an ordinance that 20 miles per hour in the city is the rule, still they make up to 35 and 40 from Eighth to the Santa Fe depot, nice thoroughfare for racing. At Tenth street and Lubbock, we have a slow sign. One has but to look at the street and see if the cars do actually turn around on the sign. They do not, but cut the corner. Practically every car does the same thing. Why not take the sign out so people will not break the law, and let them drive as their pleasure directs. West Lubbock is another racing ground, where there is no speed limit, with the only thought of getting there. The streets are full of school children, their lives are precious to fathers and mothers. Wonder if there is no way to protect them? No need to make new ordinances, but enforce those we have.

VALUABLE INSTRUCTION.

Fall. The first promise of frosty nights is here. And every evening, with the close of school we see Coach Wright and his future football stars out on the field getting ready for the big games that will be here soon. It's great. We like the game and feel that it is very much worth while. In many respects the lessons being taught on the gridiron are as valuable as those expounded in the class room. We find several good reasons for the existence of high school football. First, football is instruction in team work. The boys will not work long before they will learn that a well organized machine wins the games, not the spectacular work of individual stars. Second, football brings out a sort of group loyalty that is invaluable. Think of the fellows on the second team, who know they will never share in the honors of representing the school, and yet who go out night after night, have their faces rubbed in the dirt and get generally mauled about, in order to give the first string men the scrimmage practice they need. Third, football breeds good sportsmanship or should do so. It teaches the boys the importance of the game for the game's sake. They come to feel that it is better to play a good, clean game and lose rather than a dirty game and win. Fourth, football produces a sort of physical and mental hardihood. A rough game it is, but so is all life for that matter. The man we admire is the one who can stand hard knocks without whimpering. So here's our applause for the team and approval of the educational work being advanced under the direction of Coach Wright.

Bedspreads—Lost? Or Strayed?

Nearly two months ago, some sprightly youths canvassed Slaton homes, with a bedspread, lustrous and beautifully fringed, across their shoulders, and bringing with them glad tidings to the ladies of Slaton. The Publishing Co., which they represented, would, for the small sum of 99c, not only send their two magazines for twelve months but would give the bedspread absolutely free. To the sceptical woman who wanted to know "how these things could be," they kindly explained that by buying the spreads in large lots in Italy, and by not paying the exorbitant prices charged by magazines for advertising, they could give their customers a portion of the monumental saving, and that it was dead easy. Well, nobody can deny that it was a bargain, a chance that might not come again in a long lifetime, so it is not hard to understand that, in numerous instances, the obliging gentleman bowed himself out with another 99c in his jeans, leaving behind only a cute little printed "contract" which reads, in part, as follows: "I hereby subscribe for..... and..... for a period of 12 months at a total cost of 99 cents. I agree to pay agent 99 cents for one year's subscription."

"As a special introductory offer we are giving away one bedspread with each new 12 months subscription. This spread is guaranteed to be fast colors and if not perfectly satisfactory may be returned and total amount will be refunded. Premium to be delivered with first copy of magazine," etc., and perhaps it will be, the first copy of the magazine not having arrived yet, but as it was scheduled to be delivered in about ten days, it forces many of our women to endure a cruel suspense as week after weary week goes by.

Busy housewives who have hitherto practiced daylight saving by the simple expedient of not going to the door when an agent knocked, now rush hospitably to the front at every faintest tap, hoping to see, standing apologetically on the threshold, a delayed messenger with a bedspread in his hand.

But alas! Only silence, inscrutable, yet prophetic, broods over the fate of the 99c sent on its hopeful way. Was it squandered by the enterprising youths in riotous living? Did they send it to assist aged parents, drop it into the contribution plate to help in the enlightenment of the heathen, or to make up a batch of home brew? Nobody knows.

In the meantime their patrons take much comfort in the fact that, at last, it was only 99c and not a dollar.

J. P. Clements Makes Poultry Pay Near Slaton

By R. B. Galloway, Poultry Service Dept., Panhandle Lbr. Co.

The American hen, the little domestic feathered creature, to a great extent neglected and left to hustle for herself in the past has, at last won her place, by demonstrating her worth on the farm-yards of our great Panhandle and South Plains country.

The time is past when everyone who manifests a liking for poultry is considered and called a "crank". The farmer who brings a big basket of fresh eggs to market, or the poultryman who is succeeding and is surrounded by a pure-bred flock of beautiful birds is now looked upon with envy. The extent and importance of the industry is now recognized by practically every Plains farmer, and the government agricultural reports estimate the total poultry products of the United States to be over $1,000,000,000.

The territory surrounding Slaton, with its sandy soil and gradual slopes, which insures proper air and surface drainage, is ideal for poultry keeping.

J. P. Clements, who resides near Slaton, made a profit of approximately $500.00 from January 1st, to May 31st, (four months) from 225 S. C. White Leghorns. This profit was made from the sale of eggs alone that were sold to a local hatchery in Slaton for which a premium was paid.

The total sales for the four months reached the sum of $619.41. Feed cost for the four months was approximately $180.00, leaving a net profit of $439.41, or $2.22 per hen. The above record was made possible by keeping a quality flock of pure-bred chickens that were properly cared for. The birds were housed in a 16x40 ft. house. A well balanced mash, oyster shells and plenty of fresh, clean water was kept before the hens at all times. Grain was fed in the afternoon just before roosting time. Of course the premises were kept in a sanitary condition and the birds free from parasites. Mr. Clements contemplates increasing his present flock for this winter production. His pullet crop is developing out nicely.

The above results obtained by Mr. Clements is only one of the many examples of profitable poultry keeping to be found in Lubbock County.

Television to be in Your Home Soon

The following paragraphs are taken from an article written by C. Frank Jenkins, the inventor of television, in the Saturday Evening Post:

Today it is possible to state rather than to prophesy that by the presidential election in 1932 men and women from Maine to California can, in the comfort of their homes watch the fact of the President-elect as he delivers his inaugural address; witness the Yale-Harvard football game in the bowl and the final game of the World Series.

This is a near future, but there is still a nearer one. By the autumn of 1929 television will be in the home in the form of moving pictures to be received on an apparatus included in a cabinet similar to the present radio

The programs will at first be very simple black and white moving pictures arranged in much the same form as the average moving picture program, that is, a comedy, a long feature, and variation of television shorts, that is a special entertainment executed by living artists in the television broadcasting studios.

Wild West Rodeo At West Texas Fair

ABILENE, Texas.—A Wild West Rodeo with bucking horses, untamed steers and elusive goats and calves along with a horse show and polo game will be presented by the West Texas Fair on the afternoon of September 24 in front of the grandstand as one of the items on the entertainment program of the fair for this season.

Willis Cox, member of the fair executive board, will direct the rodeo and horse show program. He already has a good assortment of four-footed performers lined up for the affair and with the sizable cash prizes that will be offered to the winners of the various events he anticipates a large list of talented leather and hemp artists taking part in the different contests on the program.

Instructions have been given Mr. Cox and his assistants by the executive board of the exposition, to put forth every effort and to spare neither time nor expense in preparing for the rodeo program at the fair.

Arrangements for the military program to be staged at the fair on the afternoon of September 26 under direction of Capt. Earl Hoppe, and to be participated in by the three National Guard units in Abilene and militia units from nearby towns, are going forward satisfactorily.

Featuring that event will be the actual firing of several thousand shells by the artillery companies; in-

SENIOR CLASS ORGANIZES.

The Seniors of '30 met with a large enrollment on Friday, September 6th, in order to elect officers for this year. The following were chosen: Demp Cannon, president. Choice Rucker, vice president. Frances Eubank, secretary. Joseph Brewer, treasurer. Bonnie Thomas, reporter. Leonard Lott, sergeant-at-arms. Flora Mae Cook and Lawrence Evans, yell leaders.

We are hoping to make this class one of the peppiest and most capable that has ever gone out of Slaton High.

We want our town and our school to know that we are behind them and everything they undertake. Our purpose is to uphold the name and honor of our school, and to make it the best and most highly regarded on the Plains.

Here's to the Tigers and the class of '30, may it forever live.

advertising of any nature, being devoted entirely to the premium list. In this way, show officials pointed out, local business men will not be asked to buy advertising space in the catalog and at the same time to contribute to a fund for the show's expenses. It will only be necessary to raise funds for the show's regular expenses, officials said.

Careful calculations by the officers of the show reveal that an expense fund of only $350 will be necessary this year to meet the cost of holding the show. This fund will be sought before the show is held, it was decided. Last year, the show had $200 on hand when the show was opened, a fund that had been left over from the previous year, due to having raised more funds that year than were needed for the show expenses two years ago. However, a deficit of $100 was experienced with the 1928 show, which has since been paid off.

With only an expense fund of $350 needed, show officers expressed the belief that there would be no difficulty in raising the needed amount. They said the value of the poultry show here each year is recognized by every Slaton business man, and it is thought all of them will assist in making this year's show possible by contributing their share of the expense fund. An unreasonable amount will not be required from anyone, and the actual value of the show will be more than come back in tangible ways to all business interests of the city, it was declared by show officers.

Dates for the Slaton show are so arranged that they will not conflict with the show to be held at Littlefield, which has been set for Nov. 28, 29 and 30. Poultrymen here and at Littlefield may exhibit at both shows as a result of this arrangement. It is hoped other shows of this section will be held upon dates which will not conflict with the Slaton show dates.

Poultrymen around Slaton are requested by show officers to begin getting their fowls in splendid condition for the show in December, it was announced. It is hoped that a much larger number of birds will be displayed this year than were shown last year.

Poultrymen Hear Problems Talked At Meeting Here

Twenty-five poultrymen of this section attended the meeting held last Friday afternoon at the Slaton Club House, at which speakers discussed the problems involved in profitable poultry-raising.

The meeting was in charge of County Agent D. F. Eaton, and was called by E. L. Hicks, president of the Slaton Poultry Association. Letters announcing the meeting were sent out last week by the Slaton Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting was opened Friday afternoon by a few brief introductory remarks by L. A. Wilson, secretary of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, who then introduced Mr. Eaton, Lubbock County farm agent. Mr. Eaton spoke on "Selection," principally as it relates to choosing and keeping the best layers of the flock, instead of trusting to luck in having a productive flock of hens. He said this is the best time of year to make these selections and to dispose of the unprofitable fowls.

R. B. Galloway, of Amarillo, who is doing poultry extension work throughout the Plains section while in the employ of the Panhandle Lumber company, was introduced by County Agent Eaton. He spoke on "Growing Young Pullets into Profitable Layers", and also discussed the problems of "Housing". The poultry house, he said, should be large enough to allow from two and one-half to three square feet of floor space for each fowl. Crowding is poor economy in raising chickens, he said. Perches should be not less than eight inches apart. A square house is better, and should not be too high, Galloway said. Five feet for the rear and eight in front are ideal heights, he said. A 20 by 20 building is considered best for average needs.

Mrs. Ed Schroeder, of Wolfarth, twenty miles west of here, was at the meeting, and made an address, giving some of her experiences in the poultry industry. She began raising poultry in this county in 1917. Since then she has marketed produce amounting to $10,194.34, up to Sept. 1, this year, she said. Her profits on poultry always double her feed bill for the fowls, she said. These figures take into consideration the value of feed grown on her farm, too, she declared.

Mrs. Schroeder also discussed problems of breeding and selection, and said she always keeps the best of her fowls, and follows systematic plans to keep an accurate check upon them through the year. Good stock are less expensive than poor breeds, she said.

Another address was given by H. J. Bowers, head of the agronomy department of Tech College, who told of his experiences in poultry raising. He said poultry-growing is better adapted to this climate and the general conditions here than it is in his native state of Kansas, and that poultry has become a tremendously important factor in the farm prosperity of Kansas. Much larger volume in the poultry industry around Slaton and over the South Plains section was predicted for the future by Mr. Bowers.

After the addresses, a roundtable discussion was held, many of those present asking questions pertaining to their own individual problems, while others gave experiences they have had, thus answering questions propounded by others present.

Those attending the meeting declared it to have been very profitable for them, and said it would benefit the poultry industry of this section.

west ward and east ward, Mr. Green said, and it is believed this will work for greater efficiency throughout the school system. Heretofore, Tenth Street has been the dividing line, and those pupils on the east side of that street went to east ward, and those west went to west ward. This year, an effort is being made to divide the pupils of the entire city so as to have a better balanced attendance in the various grades in the two ward schools. Hence, some pupils east of Tenth are going to west ward, and some west of Tenth are going to east ward. It is thought by school officials that this plan will prove more satisfactory for the school and that the children will get better attention, because it will prevent crowding some teachers and leaving others with very few pupils, Mr. Green pointed out. He expressed the hope and belief that the parents of all children affected by this new plan will be well pleased with it after they have seen the real purpose and value of it.

RECEPTION FOR TEACHERS.

On Friday evening, Sept. 13, at the Club house, the Parent-Teacher organizations of high school, east and west ward schools will hold open house for the teachers and patrons of Slaton schools. A very interesting program, which will be published in Friday's issue of The Slatonite, is being planned for this occasion.

Bancroft Speaks From the Screen

George Bancroft will be heard as well as seen for the first time at the Palace theatre Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, when the Paramount All-Talking picture, "The Wolf of Wall Street," is presented, it was announced today. The picture is 100 per cent talking, augmented by startling sound effects.

Followers of the legitimate drama will recall George Bancroft's name blazoned along Broadway for several years as one of the outstanding stars of the stage. Paramount was reluctant to present the star in an all-talking picture until the right kind of story could be secured for him. "The Wolf of Wall Street" was considered ideal, inasmuch as the plot includes all the elements that the star has been accustomed to be seen in, with the additional feature of being easily adaptable to dialogue. The story was written by Doris Anderson; the film directed by Rowland V. Lee.

The story centers around the New York Stock Exchange, which has captured the interest of the public so much in the past year. Bancroft portrays the role of a stock broker who brings ruin upon himself voluntarily when his domestic life is dashed on the rocks of unhappiness. The story offers innumerable opportunities for gripping drama and dialogue throughout which have been captured in an exceptional manner by action and voice on the part of the star and his supporting cast, which, incidentally, is made up of players who have had previous stage experience. The supporting players include Baclanov, Nancy Carroll, Arthur Rankin, Paul Lukas, Brandon Hurst and Crauford Kent.

Safety First.

As We See It From The Trains.

Safety, are you doing it? If not, make Peace with God.

Forty persons were killed last month because they did not read about Safety First and the danger you are in when driving a car.

Trains cannot stop at all road crossings, if they did, your merchandise and eats would never reach their destination.

So Stop—Look—Listen before crossing railroad tracks.

If you are going to a party or a dance, do not let it take all your time in a car. Give it a Safety thought and no accident will happen.

All accidents, which you read of, that occur at railroad crossings are either when persons are going or coming from a party and do not have their mind on Safety First.

All trains whistle for these crossings and give you plenty of time to stop. Bear in mind that trains have the right-of-way. Safety First.

I notice lots of car drivers run right up to the crossing and then stop and laugh at the engineer. They may make fun, but they will lose in the "long run", as sometime their brakes will fail and then it will be too late to think about Safety First.

When you go out driving, just think of what you have read on Safety and it will help you and help others.

Always when out driving, let some of the windows of your car down so you can hear from the outside as well as from the inside.

I notice some of the drivers of cars are speeding with the trains. You may think you are out-running them, but you are putting yourself and your friends in the place they call "Heaven".

Don't take the chance as you see others do, because you may lose.

All railroad crossings have signs up and can be seen for a long distance off by day and by night. If you do not happen to see them just Stop—Look—Listen.

Your time is not so fast that you cannot stop for a minute. This may save the lives of yourself and others. It's not you the railroad companies care for when you are killed, but it's your family.

Places along the track where the view is taken away from you, it is always safe to Stop—Look—Listen.

Miss Nora Sealy Becomes Bride of C. E. Hicks

C. E. Hicks, of Lubbock, and Miss Nora Sealy, of this city, were united in marriage last Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the First Baptist parsonage here, with the Rev. B. G. Holloway performing the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of W. A. Sealy, of this city, having moved here with her father and sister about a year ago. She was a teacher in the West Ward school last year and was re-elected for this year, but resigned recently.

Mr. Hicks is manager of the Panhandle Lumber Company yard at Lubbock, formerly manager of the company's yard here until the transfer to Lubbock some two months ago.

The bride is a sister of Mrs. L. B. Wootton of this city.

Those witnessing the ceremony were Miss Ethel Hicks, of Lubbock, sister of the groom, and Miss Cora Sealy, twin sister of the bride. The happy couple left immediately following the ceremony for Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Hicks are now at home at 2306 Tenth Street.

Mrs. W. B. Hestand Entertained Club

The Tuesday Bridge club met with Mrs. W. B. Hestand, 600 South 11th Street, the past Tuesday, at three o'clock, and enjoyed five games of bridge.

A two-course plate lunch was served to the following: Mesdames Badgley, Gillies, Leinhart, Hightower, Ragsdale, Brewer, Scudder, Cobb, and Brown, and three guests, Mesdames Minor, Staggs and McAtee.

Mmes. Brewer and Savage Entertain

Mesdames J. H. Brewer and Katrina Savage entertained with a moonlight picnic last Tuesday night honoring their brother, E. O. Terry and family of Dallas.

Supper was served in the canyon to the following: Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Ragsdale, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tomlinson, and Bill Sewell, after which the party returned to the home of Mrs. Brewer, where games were played and watermelon was served on the lawn of the Brewer home.
